Pay of Foremen Being Much Criticised. May Lead to a New System Of Salary Increases for Deserving Men.

A majority of the aldermen are said to be strongly opposed to any of the clerks receiving extras from the independent boards or the city for acting as secretaries.

Some of the aldermen stated to-day that they were not aware that the ward and cement foremen were receiving as much as they have been.

THE HAMILTON TIMES THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1908.

HON. MR. BRODEUR'S PART.

It is rumored that sooner or later Mr. Brodeur will leave the Ministry and become a judge of the Supreme Court. And no one seems to see that such a proposal is in any degree objectionable.

As usual, the most unjust and unwarranted attacks made upon Hon. Mr. Brodeur come from those professing independent organs which pretend to a high standard of morality.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur assumed office on February 5, 1906, and, far from neglecting the care of his office, the evidence exists to prove that he was indefatigable in endeavoring to raise the standard of the work of the Department.

Take this passage from the evidence of Colonel Bourdieu, the Deputy Minister, as given before the Commission (Pages 643 and 650):

Q. When you have a supply granted by Parliament to your officers, try to live within that supply?—A. Yes, under the present Minister. There is an order which has been adhered to. First of all, an account is received. That has to go to the clerk who looks after the estimates.

Q. You are trying to keep within the estimates of the year?—A. Yes. The present Minister said he would hold the accountant responsible if anything was paid for that was not estimated for.

Q. The present Minister has taken steps to keep the expenditure of the department within the appropriations?—A. Absolutely, and is particular in exacting a monthly statement showing how the appropriations stand.

Q. There was a certain amount of laxity previous to his assumption of office?—A. It was a continuation of what had been the practice under every Government. When they had to spend money they spent it.

Q. You think they were probably encumbered?—A. Well, I think they had to ascertain things for themselves.

Q. At whose instance were they brought in?—A. They were brought in by the Minister.

Q. The officials should not fight against him surely?—A. Well, there are different ways of fighting.

by officials whom he inherited from a past Government, or because he set on foot the very inquiry which led to their traitorous conduct.

BURLINGTON BEACH.

The discussion in the Local Legislature last evening brought on by Mr. Daniel Reid, the member for South Wentworth, on the management of Burlington Beach, more especially in regard to the Local Option vote, showed a strange indifference on the part of the Ministers to the interests of the Beach people.

IT PROTECTS THE VOTER.

On the strength of statements made by Hon. Robt. Rogers, of Manitoba, some Conservative contemporaries are enjoying the luxury of a spasm of indignation and grief at an alleged outrage perpetrated on Manitoba in the new act referring to the preparation of voters' lists.

The new grievance is due to ignorance, or disregard of the truth on Rogers' part, and too great eagerness on the part of the Tory organs to assail the Liberals. It will be remembered that in a former election, much fuss was made about the alleged "thin red line" outrage.

Q. When you have a supply granted by Parliament to your officers, try to live within that supply?—A. Yes, under the present Minister.

Q. You are trying to keep within the estimates of the year?—A. Yes. The present Minister said he would hold the accountant responsible if anything was paid for that was not estimated for.

Q. The present Minister has taken steps to keep the expenditure of the department within the appropriations?—A. Absolutely, and is particular in exacting a monthly statement showing how the appropriations stand.

Q. There was a certain amount of laxity previous to his assumption of office?—A. It was a continuation of what had been the practice under every Government.

Q. You think they were probably encumbered?—A. Well, I think they had to ascertain things for themselves.

UPHOLD THE LAW.

The temperance deputation that waited upon the commissioners the other day, made the request that license holders found guilty of disregarding the law should be put out of business.

Q. You think probably that was one of the reasons why they took so much time for it?—A. I think that is one of the reasons it took them so long.

of forfeiture for such conduct decided upon by the commissioners, they would have the approval, not only of the temperance element, and the public in general, but also of the law-abiding men engaged in the traffic.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Keep your eye on the operation of fixing up this electric light distribution system. The tinkering has been begun.

Whew! Chicago grafters in the water bureau $9,500,000 ahead of the ratepayers! That is a municipal ownership success surely!

It is highly creditable to the Dominion Railway Commission, which has such a vast volume of business to transact, that the death of Judge Killam leaves only three cases in doubt, probably requiring a re-hearing.

We heard a great deal about the New Brunswick Provincial elections a short time ago, and the Ontario Tory press was in ecstasies of delight over the utter annihilation of the Liberals in that contest.

If the aldermen cannot afford to make provision for the accommodation of contagious disease patients, they should not waste thousands of dollars in blowing municipal ownership bubbles, or in making unnecessary official berths for high-salaried engineers who may happen to have a pull.

Any Tories who may have thought that Mr. C. N. Smith, M. P. P., had been struck dumb for me je ne sais in daring to mention the payment of such a large sum for the transportation of the Beck horses to the London show may have their minds disabused by reading the report of his speech at Dundas the other night.

The Independent Labor party, of Toronto, has nominated four candidates for the Provincial elections. The "Independent" Tory party has put A. W. Wright in nomination.

Mr. L. G. Reed, of Montreal, paid his compliments to the Hydro-Electric "experts" who were given the task of writing down producer gas engines. From these experts' own report he demonstrates that with even so small an engine as 100 horse-power, a rate of $27.32 for horse-power per annum may be realized.

So all Whitney's froth and bluster over the danger to provincial rights of the Ontario-Michigan Power Company Bill went for nothing. It was mere show, like the performance of the fire-eater at a circus.

In quashing Collingwood's $2,500 license by-law, Justice Britton chose to regard the amount of the fee as being equivalent to prohibition.

This new Rogers "outrage" is another of the "thin red line" class. What the new measure does is to provide for the preparation of the Manitoba lists under judicial supervision.

Respect for the law and regard for constitutional methods of amending the law are being ground in democratic countries," says the Toronto World.

For $500 a fifty-mile limit on Cedar Lake was acquired in the name of A. W. Fraser, and that property was subsequently put up for sale for $500,000.

When a Tory administration distributed timber limits as largesses to its supporters, this particular limit found its way, through a second party, into the hands of Mr. Perley, one of the present Tory members.

other, the strong and unscrupulous corrupters and administrators. We want less meddling and muddling with law, and more efficient enforcement thereof.

Hon. Adam Beck and the Provincial Treasurer have an excellent opportunity to confound Mr. C. N. Smith, M. P. P., if it can be done, by a full and frank statement of where that $1,710, appearing in the public accounts as expended for transportation of horses to the London Horse Show went to, if it did not really go to cover the expenses of one of these days, some aldermanic statesman may propose that a license be required before a citizen is allowed to eat his meals.

Mr. L. G. Reed, of Montreal, paid his compliments to the Hydro-Electric "experts" who were given the task of writing down producer gas engines. From these experts' own report he demonstrates that with even so small an engine as 100 horse-power, a rate of $27.32 for horse-power per annum may be realized.

Mr. Lucas, M. P. P., together with a number of other legislators, is hedging now on the three-fifths provision for local option. The other day he declared that he himself would not have adopted it, and admitted that the clause did not strike one as fair.

OUR EXCHANGES Libes Dan (Dundas Star.) Dan Reed, the present member, is a good fellow. See Him Smile. (Dundas Banner.) Mr. J. T. H. Regan was re-elected Conservative candidate for South Wentworth on Saturday last.

And now the Hamilton Times (Free Press) is going after the "trade" in this part of the Province to "such an extent that they are outliving Canadian dealers." What do you think of that admission?

Our congratulations are extended to the Star man for not writing as he feels in regard to Mr. Wilson's re-election as candidate for the Conservatives.

Who's Wife Was It, Jim? (Grimsby Independent.) I know a man, I said, whose wife would not go to church on Thanksgiving Sunday because her husband would not put $17.98 for a new fall hat and the same woman kicked over the traces six months later and refused to go to church unless he bought her a new Easter hat marked down from $27.99 to $19.48.

Wouldn't Dare. (Dundas Banner.) Our congratulations are extended to the Star man for not writing as he feels in regard to Mr. Wilson's re-election as candidate for the Conservatives.

Scott, of Arkell, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. McIrvine, pastor of the Methodist Church, in the presence of a few relatives. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. E. D. Sherwood, the bride, becomingly attired in white silk with lace insertion, entered the parlor leaning upon the arm of her father.

(Continued from page 1.) Finding the Minister that the Premier said they should be, and were divided. Hon. Mr. Whitney, amid Opposition laughter, sought to explain that he had not so understood it, and had not expressed an opinion as to the bill's intention.

"I put it as plainly as English could put it," replied Mr. Reed, "and all the members, I am satisfied, understand it." (Liberal applause.)

Some Correspondence. The Provincial Secretary read the following letter addressed by Mr. Erland Lee, clerk of the Township of Saltspring:

Dear Sir,—Your favor of the 18th instant, addressed to me, Mr. Cochran, was handed to me for me to enclose you a copy of the memo on the subject prepared by the chief clerk of the department. While forwarding you this memo, I must ask you to bear in mind that the department does not assume any liability with regard to the opinion expressed. You say you will likely be legal proceedings instituted against the township on the point as to whether Burlington Beach is a part of Saltspring or otherwise, and you ask as to what steps you could, you as township clerk, take in this respect, so as to make the by-law legal if carried and to leave no loophole which might cause expense to the township. As to the safe course you could take to the advice of a lawyer selected by the municipality for that purpose. I mention this because it has happened in times past that where the department has given an opinion on matters submitted to it, which it did not meet the views of the court, it has been urged that liabilities should attach to the reason of such opinion where no such liability was contemplated.

I am sending you, by concurrent mail, a copy of the liquor license act that you may refer to the sections mentioned therein. This letter to the clerk was accompanied by the following memorandum as the legal aspect of that case.

MACASSA ON SEASON'S TRIPS.

WAVES DID DAMAGE ALONG THE BEACH YESTERDAY. Radial Company Has Gang of Men at Work Along Its Submerged Track.

The steamer Macassa, looking as if she had just come out of a handbox, and carrying a hundred and fifty passengers, opened navigation in Hamilton harbor this morning, leaving for Toronto at 9 o'clock. The Macassa was the first boat to go through the canal this year.

The officials of the Hamilton Steamboat Company say the lake is not very rough to-day, and notwithstanding the snow flurries, the passengers were promised a pleasant voyage. The Macassa will make one trip each way a day.

The 24-hour gale from the east made things very wild at the beach last night. The waves rolled high up on the lake shore, and scooped the usually sloping beach out in great caves. The water ran very high, and completely washed away all the post and wire fencing which the Toronto & Niagara Railway Company erected, from the beach road to beyond Dynes. Had there been a railway on this right of way the tracks would have been undermined.

Proteus, who was attired as an "April Fool" and he looked a veritable knave of the "Weary Willie" fraternity.

CAUSING A STIR.

Conkle Having Troubles of His Own In Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 2.—Having failed to arrange a match with Charlie Conkle, who claims to offer to meet all comers at a local theatre this week, Walter Willoughby, who was refused a match by Conkle, called at the Courier office last night and deposited a forfeit of $50 for a match with Conkle. Willoughby says he has been refused an engagement twice since Conkle opened his engagement at the theatre on Monday afternoon. Willoughby is willing to meet Conkle subject to the following conditions: The match to run one fall to a finish or two falls to a finish. If Conkle does not desire to take on Willoughby at the theatre at which he is now appearing, Willoughby is willing to meet him at any local gymnasium before the termination of his engagement in Buffalo. When Conkle began his engagement here he stated that he would meet all comers. Willoughby twice applied for a match, and was refused. Inasmuch as Conkle has, according to his statement, refused him twice, Willoughby desires to force him into a match. Willoughby is willing to meet Conkle any place in Buffalo this week for the purse he has deposited at this office or for any amount which Conkle may name. Tommy Hoy stayed the limit with Charlie Conkle, in their wrestling match at a local theatre last night. The match was exciting from start to finish. Conkle realized from the start that he had a hard proposition to go up against. Conkle had challenged all comers to a fifteen-minute match. Hoy, while he knew that he was against a hard man, took the aggressive from the start. The men mixed it well for the first eight minutes and then Hoy was on top throughout the remainder of the bout.

WORKMAN WON.

Big Betting in Third Race at Bennings Yesterday.

Washington, April 2.—The third race, scratched down to five horses, was the betting event of the day at Bennings. A tip on Beggarman that spread like a prairie fire, loaded the bookmakers with money to the guards as soon as the prices were posted. Workman, opening an even money favorite, went up to 8 to 5 before the real money showed, but when it did come in it came in $100 bills. The books did not know what was "it," when as if to further perplex them, the yellowbacks were distributed on Clements. Many of the wise set, including Plunger Eddie McDonald and Joe Vendig, went to the latter. When the barrier was sprung, the tip tip, Beggarman, was flat-footed and almost fell. McCarthy sent Workman into the lead right away, but after the first eighth, Belle of the Bay took command and led into the stretch, where Workman again took command. Clements finished second and Belle of the Bay third. THE NORTHWEST CIRCUIT. A general meeting of the association will be held in Calgary April 3, when the circuit dates will be completed. The only clash in sight is between Winnipeg and Brandon, and so far it has been found impossible to induce either to change.

Naming the New Baseball Team.

Many names for the new Hamilton baseball team, which will play in the International League has been suggested by Times readers. "Tigers" seems to be the favorite name, however, and the name which heretofore has stood for the great Rugby players of this fair city, may be the one chosen by Manager Paige. Mr. Paige will consider the suggestions made through the sporting department of the Times and announce his decision in a few days.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Who says this city will not support a good professional ball team? A large number of members of the National A. C. will go to Brantford tomorrow night to attend the boxing and wrestling entertainment to be held there by the Klondike Club. Among the National artists who will take part in the programme are: Roy Smith, Sam Cox, J. A. Devine, H. Devine, Joe McMahon, K. Hart, A. Fair and J. Berlinghoff. U. Z. To the police Dr. Arman admitted that his attentions to Mrs. Griffin had repeatedly aroused the anger of his wife, and though he insisted that he had only treated Mrs. Griffin as an acquaintance of the track, his spouse refused to believe him. Willie Shaw was suspended for three days by the stewards after the first race at Washington on Tuesday. He rode Oranulum and the horse bore in against Yorkie, on Winning Star. HOW THE WOODS BOYS HELPED A BALL GAME.

Interesting Story Regarding a Contest on the Diamond in 1884.

Dr. Fred Wood, the well-known horseman, and his brother, Dr. Jeff Wood, the crack lawn bowler and all-around sportsman, can lay claim to being among the best known of local veteran ball tossers, says the London Advertiser. The former carries a mark of his prowess on the diamond of the "good old days" in the form of a broken digit, and with it there goes a story. The former carries a mark of his prowess on the diamond of the "good old days" in the form of a broken digit, and with it there goes a story. The two gentlemen named, as well as Dr. Peter Wood, of Hamilton, a brother, were all members of the Clippers, who made themselves famous "way back" in the eighties. Perhaps the most notable worthy game in which the Clippers participated was the one with Toronto in October, 1884. A Hamilton paper of Oct. 6 in that year gave an extended account of the game, and said in part as follows: "Toronto fully sustained its well-earned reputation for being the crookiest sport town in America in the game between the Clippers and Toronto on Saturday. No matter how man or how small a thing may be, nothing is too mean, too small or too contemptible for Toronto. In fact, the meaner it is the better Toronto seems to like it. And the city of crooks always comes to the front and does its wicked best to keep up its unenviable notoriety." The Toronto attempted to use Buffington (who died in the United States about two weeks ago) and Hackett, the famous Boston battery, but they were not allowed to do so. The story continues: When the discovery came in Toronto, Andrus, the Toronto's captain, their manager and Jeffers wanted to go right on and play, but the Clippers wouldn't have it. They couldn't see the point. "Put on your regular team," they said, "and we'll play you. But we won't play with Buffington and Hackett on the field." Dyson, the umpire, had called the game at 3:30, but no game would the Clippers play with the bean-eaters on Purvis, the Guelph catcher, who, together with Andrus and Connors, the Toronto, had rung in a series in which it was agreed only local men should play, had been wandering around with his right hand dove up in rags, sections of a kid glove, and a sling. The Clippers backed up their bats. "What are you going to do with all these people?" asked the Toronto manager. His voice was wild, his face white, and the perspiration stood out in drops. "Give them back their money," said Fred. "We won't lose anything." Some of the Clippers began to put their clothes on. "Hold on," shouted Toronto, in agony. "Let's see if this thing can't be arranged." After three-quarters of an hour of kicking, the matter was arranged. Purvis' hand got well with paralyzing rapidity. He found, when the Toronto discovered the Clippers were inexorable with regard to the Boston bean-eaters, that his hand was all right again; astonishing how these little matters do adjust themselves in cases of necessity. Shortly after 4 o'clock the game was called, and resulted in a tie. It was just ten minutes to six when the Toronto boys went in for their seventh inning. Two men got out, and one man reached home. The ball was almost invisible in the gathering dusk. To the spectators it was quite invisible. Macklin was at bat, Pete Wood sent in a high one. Fred Wood reached up for it, and the ball caught him on the index finger of the right hand, knocking it out of joint. The umpire called time, and Fred's finger was attended to. But it grew dark so quickly that after waiting a few minutes it was seen that it would be impossible to play more, and as the game went by the last inning, and the fact was a tie, the contest was declared a draw, with all bets off.

Tommy Burns "In" With Lords and Earls.

London, April 2.—(Canadian A. P.)—Lord Alverstone, the Lord Chief Justice of England; Earl Kinnaird, the President of the Football Association, and Tommy Burns, the Canadian, who holds the boxing championship of the world, were the guests of the Sphinx Club last night, when publicity and sport were discussed. Burns said he couldn't hope to beat Lord Alverstone as a speaker, but would not mind taking him on with the gloves. Burns declared that if there was no publicity there would be no sport, and he considered the pressmen his best friends. At the conclusion of the Canadian's speech Lord Alverstone warmly shook the pugilist's hand. Billy Neil, manager of Tommy Burns,

WHAT CAN BE CALLED SACRIFICE HITS.

Memphis, Tenn., March 31.—Diverses who earn—or are paid whether earned or not—salaries for scoring ball games during the summer time, gained sweet satisfaction out of an argument that raged around Little Rock on the last day of Boston's stay in that town, and that involved all of the major and minor league ball tossers then gathered in the Arkansas capital. The satisfaction came in that a majority of the players were in wrong on a scoring rule of the game, and that some of them paid their oaths to learn the proper answer to the question propounded. During the summer, if a player's batting average happens to be somewhat enfeebled, it is the custom for said player to glance scornfully at the scorer's pen and to transmit to his friends and admirers the information that lack of knowledge of the proper way in which to score, or utter absence of judgment of what constitutes a base hit, is robbing him of many hard earned points. In this particular case, the beauty of the upset came on the fact that most of the players were arguing for a construction of the sacrifice hit rule that would give them occasional times at bat which should not really be charged against them, thereby cutting down their points in the batting table. The part of the code under discussion is section 5 of rule 85. How the debate started no one knows, but within a few minutes from the time it was started a hundred persons were involved and some Welsemschneider who had the wrong end of it was offering to bet money. He got out of sight before a bunch of Detroit newspaper men who saw a chance to get some expense money had heard about him and could get to him. When a man makes a sacrifice bunt, but is safe at first because of an error,

Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near.

Montreal, April 2.—At a meeting of the Montreal Police A. A. A. this afternoon it was decided to withdraw from the Canadian Police A. A. A. and to apply for affiliation to the Amateur Athletic Federation. The reason for withdrawal from an association which embraces the police athletes of Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Hamilton was because that body was affiliated to the C. A. A. U., which had professionalized Desmarreau, the crack athlete of the Montreal force. Desmarreau was declared out of the ban by the U. A. A. U. because he had competed at a Federation meet. Toronto, April 2.—Trenton is the first Canadian Lacrosse Association club to send in its delegates' credentials to Secretary Hall. If others will follow this good example much time will be saved on the day of the convention. The demands of the rink people in Berlin were too much for the hockey clubs last winter, and they say they will not put in another season working to make a profit for the rink proprietors and a deficit for themselves. At a recent meeting of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club it was decided to nominate R. B. Powell and Bernard Schwengers to the Canadian Olympic Committee as the two players from Victoria best qualified to represent British Columbia in the trials for the London games. The Montreal Hockey Club lost $1,000 last winter, and had a deficit of $1,000 from the previous season. The professional ventures of the Montreal A. A. are so far from successful that the movement to return to amateurism is likely to prevail. The original argument for running its teams on the professional M. A. A. would lose a lot of money by remaining amateur. The Granites A. C. will hold a meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Fred H. Skerrett's sporting goods store. All members are requested to attend the meeting, and any new ones that wish to join the club.—W. G. McAndrew, manager. All members of the Hamilton Cricket Club are requested to attend the semi-annual meeting of the club in the Thistle Club hall at 8.15 this evening. A meeting to re-organize the Junior Baseball League for the coming season will be held to-morrow evening at Skerrett's sporting goods store. Representatives of the Alerts, Broadviews, Big Three, Two in One and Crescents, are requested to attend if they intend staying again. Robert Cantwell, the Chicago attorney, who is talked of for referee of the Haackenschmidt-Goth wrestling match of Friday night, is a prominent follower of the Chicago White Sox, he having just returned from a trip with Comiskey and the American League team. Mr. Cantwell was amateur wrestling champion for several years. The farmers' gym exhibition which will be put on by the young men of the Y. M. C. A. assisted by the best gymnasts on April 10 and 11th, promises to be the most enjoyable entertainment of its kind ever attempted in the city, plan opens at Y. M. C. A. office Saturday morning. The West End Thistles will challenge the Erskine Indoor Baseball team to a game of indoor baseball next week, of this week, of the age 14 years. Answer to James Martin, manager, 224 Rowson street west, Hamilton. COST OF BURYING ANIMALS. You Can Get a Plot in a Regular Cemetery for From $10 to $50. The home and cemetery for animals in Westchester county, which was started in the summer of 1906, has proved that there are enough persons hereabouts who wish to give their pet deers burial to make such an institution pay. London and Paris found it out years ago. It will not only bury your cat or dog in a decent and orderly manner, but will furnish it with a comfortable home in its declining years. There is always a good number of decrepit horses and cats and dogs waiting peacefully for the end in pleasant surroundings, and the cemetery are hundreds of small headstones marking the last resting place of those who have passed on to the happy hunting grounds or whatever is the animal equivalent for heaven. No animals deserving of the other place are admitted. It's a regular cemetery, conducted with as much ceremony as if it were intended for human bodies. You can get plots of assorted shapes and sizes and at assorted prices. A burial in a single grave in one section costs $10 on a three years lease; in another $15 on a five years' lease. Then there are plots which lease for five years at $20 and $25, and larger plots which you can get for ten years for $40 and $50. The price of all is $50. The company will not sell a plot outright. It will care for a plot and the graves in it without extra charge for the term of the lease, and after the lease has expired the graves can be kept on in order upon payment of a small amount annually or for nothing if ornamental headstones or monuments have been erected. "Don't you think, darling, that out of respect for your dead husband we ought to wait a year before we are married?" The Widow—"But don't you think, dear, we should have the usual allowance for good behavior?"—Boston Globe. Would-be Tenant—"But there are holes in the roof." Landlord—"Well, I can't help that. If you can't afford a few umbrellas don't take the house."—Chips.
