18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain, there shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite the heathen, that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem, and in Judah, shall be holiness unto the Lord of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.

MALACHI.

CHAPTER I.

1 Malachi complaineth of Israel's unkindness, 6 of their irreligiousness, 12 and profaneness.

THE burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the Lord: yet I loved Jacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the Lord hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The Lord will be magnified from the border of Israel.

CHAPTER II.....III.

for their treachery and impiety.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law.

10 Have we not all "one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal "treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 "Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the Lord which he loved, and hath "married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will "cut off the man that doeth this, the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that "offereth an offering unto the Lord of hosts.

13 And this have ye done "again, covering the altar of the Lord with "tears, with weeping, and with crying out, inasmuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been "witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he "make one? Yet had he the residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly "seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none "deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the Lord, the God of Israel saith, that he hateth "putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the Lord of hosts; therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 Ye have "wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that "doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of "judgment?

CHAPTER III.

1 Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ....7 Of the rebellion, sacrifice, and infidelity of the people.

BEHOOLD, I will send my "messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his "temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he "shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.

2 But who may "abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:

3 And he shall sit "as a refiner and purifier of silver; and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5 And I will "come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and "fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 For I am the Lord, "I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are "not consumed.

Of the Years and Times from Adam unto Christ, proved by the Scriptures, from the collation of divers Authors.

From the re-edifying of the city, unto the coming of Christ, are 463 years, as this chronology.
It is mentioned in the ninth chapter of Daniel, that Jerusalem should be built up again, and that from that time unto the coming of Christ are 69 weeks, and every week is reckoned for 7 years. So 69 weeks amount to 483 years; for from the 52d year of Darius unto the 42d year of Artaxerxes, in which year our Saviour Christ was born, are just and complete so many years whereupon we reckon, that from Adam unto Christ are 3974 years, 6 months, and ten days; and from the birth of Christ unto this present year, 1423.

Then the whole sun and number of years, from the beginning of the world unto this present year, is 5397 years, 6 months, and 10 years, and the said old new days.

a 2 Kings
24, 25.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

1 Josiah's charge to the priests and Levites.—7 A great passover is kept.—32 His death is much lamented.—53 His successors.—56 The temple, city, and many people are destroyed.—56 The rest are carried unto Babylon.

AND Josiah held the feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month ;

2 Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake unto the Levites, the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built :

4 And said, Ye shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders : now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds.

5 According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son : and standing in the temple according to the several dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7 And unto the people that was found there Josiah gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves : these things were given of the king's allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

1 Or, Jehiel.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and || Syelus, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

9 And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and || seven hundred calves.

1 Or, five hundred calves.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

10 And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds.

11 And according to the several dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses : and thus did they in the morning.

1 Or, with good speech, or, willing-ly.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

12 And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth : as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brass pots, and pans, with a good savour, 13 And set them before all the people : and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

1 Or, with good speech, or, willing-ly.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

14 For the priests offered the fat until night : and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

1 Or, with good speech, or, willing-ly.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

15 The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jeduthun, who was of the king's retinue.

1 Or, with good speech, or, willing-ly.
2 Chr. 35, 36.

16 Moreover, the porters were at every gate ; it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service ; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover, 18 And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

19 So the children of Israel which were present held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days.

20 And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josiah, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah was this passover kept.

23 And the works of Josiah were upright before his Lord, with a heart full of godliness.

24 As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him || exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25 Now after all these acts of Josiah it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchamis upon Euphrates : and Josiah went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judea ?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee ; for my war is upon Euphrates : and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hasting me forward : depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Josiah did not turn back his chariot from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy, spoken by the mouth of the Lord :

29 But joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came against king Josiah.

30 Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle ; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants took him away out of the battle.

31 Then gat he up upon his second chariot : and being brought back to Jerusalem died, and was buried in his father's sepulchre.

32 And in all Jewry they mourned for Josiah, yea, Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josiah, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him unto this day : and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel.

33 These things are written in the book of the stories of the kings of Judah, and every one of the acts that Josiah did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judea.

34 And the people took Joachaz the son of Josiah, and made him king instead of Josiah his father, when he was twenty and three years old.

35 And he reigned in Judea and in Jerusalem three months : and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem.

36 And he set a tax upon the land of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold.

37 The king of Egypt also made king Joacim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem.

38 And he bound Joacim and the nobles : but Zaracces his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Egypt.

39 Five and twenty years old was Joacim when he was made king in the land of Judea and Jerusalem ; and he did evil before the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him into Babylon.

41 (Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them in his own temple at Babylon.)

42 But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joacim his son reigned in his stead : he was made king being eighteen years old ;

44 And reigned but three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought into Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord,

46 And made Zedechias king of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: 47 And he did evil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken unto him by the prophet Jeremy from the mouth of the Lord.

48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself and rebelled, and hardening his neck and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The governors also of the people and of the priests did many things against the laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

50 Nevertheless, the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derision; and look, when the Lord spake unto them, they made a sport of his prophets:

52 So far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded the kings of the Chaldees to come up against them;

53 Who slew their young men with the sword, yea, even within the compass of their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child, among them; for he delivered all into their hands.

54 And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of God, and the king's treasures, and carried them away into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they burnt it, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and set fire upon her towers:

56 And as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had consumed and brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword, he carried unto Babylon:

1 Cyrus is moved by God to build the temple, and give leave to the Jews to return and contribute to it. 11 He delivereth again the vessels which had been taken thence.

2 Artaxerxes forbiddeth the Jews to build any more. 12 The first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord might be accomplished, that he had promised by the mouth of Jeremy;

2 The Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus the king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus, king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the most high Lord, hath made me king of the whole world,

4 And commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem in Jewry.

Or, this.

5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: for he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 Whosoever then dwell in the places about, let them help him (those I say that are his neighbours) with gold, and with silver,

7 With gifts, with horses, and with cattle, and other things, which have been set forth by vow, for the temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then the chief of the families at Judea and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up: the priests also and the Levites, and all they whose mind the Lord had moved to go up, and to build a house for the Lord at Jerusalem.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which were carried away, were five thousand four hundred three score and nine.

15 These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belshazzar, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, Belshazzar, and Semellius the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwell in Judea and Jerusalem these letters following;

17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants Rathumus the story writer, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest of thy council, and the judges that are in Celosyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now known to the lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem, (that rebellious and wicked city) do build the market-places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the temple.

19 Now if this city and the walls thereof be made up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.

20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter,

21 But to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the books of thy fathers:

22 And thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities:

23 And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein; for the which cause even this city was made desolate.

24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, (O lord the king) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Celosyria and Phenice.

25 Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the story-writer, to Belshazzar, to Semellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner;

26 I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me; therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it hath been found, that that city was from the beginning practising against kings;

27 And the men therein were given to rebellion and war: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tributes in Celosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it;

29 And that those wicked workers proceed no further to the annoyance of kings.

30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them removing in haste toward Jerusalem with a troop of horsemen, and a multitude of people in battle-array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAPTER III.

4 Three strive to exceed each other in wise speeches. 13 They refer themselves to the judgment of the king. 18 The first declared the strength of wine.

NOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the governors, and captains, and lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of a hundred twenty and seven provinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber and slept, and soon after awaked.

4 Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the king's body, spake one to another;

5 Let every one of us speak a sentence: he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall the king Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory:

6 As, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-piece of fine linen, and a chain about his neck:

7 And he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin.

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under king Darius his pillow,

9 And said that, when the king is risen, some will give him the writings; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed;

10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest.

11 The second wrote, The king is the strongest.

12 The third wrote, Women are strongest: But above all things truth beareth away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings and delivered them unto him, and so he read them:

14 And sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and Media, and the governors, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers;

15 And sat him down in the || royal seat of judgment; and the writings were read before them.

16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.

17 And he said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine;

18 And he said thus, O ye men, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it:

19 It maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one: of the bondman and of the free man, of the poor man, and of the rich:

20 It turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt:

21 And it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor governor; and it maketh to speak all things by talents:

22 And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords;

23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The seven I declare the power of a king, the third the force of women, and of truth.

41 The O'ist's judged to be wisest, not obtaining letters of the king to build Jerusalem.

58 He won-eth God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

THEN the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, do not men excel in strength, that || bear rule over sea and land, and all things in them?

3 But yet the king is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them; and whatsoever he commandeth them they do.

4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it; if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and break down mountains, walls, and towers.

5 They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else.

6 Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king.

7 And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare;

8 If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build;

9 If he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest:

11 And these keep watch round about him, neither || may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in any thing.

12 O ye men, how should not the king be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his tongue.

13 || Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that || excelleth: who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women?

15 Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land.

16 Even of them came they; and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men: and without women cannot men be.

1 Or, counsel.

1 Or, have the command.

1 Or, can.

1 Heb. is of force.

18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely in favour and beauty?

19 And letting all those things go, do they not gape, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast upon her; and have not all men more desire unto her than unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.

21 He sticketh not to spend his life with his wife, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country.

22 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to the woman?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob and to steal, to sail upon the sea and upon rivers;

24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother.

26 Yea, many there be that have || run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.

27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned, for women.

28 And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the admirable || Bartaneus, sitting at the right hand of the king.

30 And taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; she also struck the king with her left hand.

31 And yet || for all this the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth; if she laughed || on him, he laughed also; but if she took any displeasure at him, the king was fain to bluster, that she might || be reconciled to him again.

32 O ye men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one upon another: so he began to speak of the truth.

34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in our day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is the truth, and stronger than all things.

36 All the earth || calleth upon the truth, and the heaven blesseth it: all works shake and trouble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works; and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish.

38 As for the truth, it endureth, and is always strong; it liveth and conquereth for evermore.

39 With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unjust and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works.

40 Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, kingdom, power, and majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.

41 And with that he held his peace. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and mighty above all things.

42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in the writing, and we will give it thee, because thou art found wisest; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin.

43 Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou hast vowed to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou comest to thy kingdom.

44 And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them again thither.

45 Thou also hast vowed to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned, when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldees.

46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from thyself: I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou hast vowed to the King of heaven.

47 Then Darius the king stood up and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers, and lieutenants, and captains, and governors, that they should safely convey on their way both him, and all those that go up with him to build Jerusalem.

48 He wrote letters also unto the lieutenants that were in Celosyria, and Phenice, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.

49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor || treasurer should forcibly enter into their doors :

50 And that all the country which they hold should be free without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held :

51 Yea, that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple; until the time that it were built :

52 And other ten talents yearly, to maintain the burnt-offerings upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen :

53 And that all they that went from Babylon to build the city should have free liberty, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister ;

55 And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them, until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up.

56 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city || pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven, toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, 59 And said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant.

60 Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom; for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

61 And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty families, the ancients who had seen the former house, came to the building of this with weeping and great crying.

63 To go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name; and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice,

65 Inasmuch that the trumpets might not be || heard for the weeping of the people: yet the multitude sounded naivelyously, so that it was heard afar off.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you.

69 For we likewise as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of || Azbarezeth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus, and the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together a house unto the Lord our God:

71 We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us.

72 But the henthien of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindered their building.

73 And by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived; so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, || until the reign of Darius.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The prophets stir up the people to build the temple.—2 Darius is solicited to hinder it, but he doth further it by all means, and threateth those that shall hinder it.

NOW in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggeus, and Zacharias the son of || Addo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews, in Jewry and Jerusalem, in the name of the Lord God of Israel which was upon them.

2 Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedeac, and began to build the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 At the same time came unto them || Sisinnes, the governor of Syria and Phenice, with || Sathrabuzanes, and his companions, and said unto them,

4 By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the workmen that perform these things?

5 Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity.

6 And they were not hindered from building until such time as signification was given unto Darius concerning them, and an answer received.

7 The copy of the letters which Sisinnes, governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, ruled in Syria and Phenice, wrote and sent unto Darius; To king Darius greeting;

8 Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that bein come into the country of Judea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the ancients of the Jews that were of the captivity, 9 Building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.

10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence it is made.

11 Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of the principal men.

13 So they gave us this answer. We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over unto the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon of the Chaldees:

16 Who pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 But in the first year that king Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to Sanabassarus the ruler, 19 With commandment that he should carry away the same vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.

20 Then the same Sanabassarus, being come thither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem: and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, if it seem good unto the king, let search be made among the records of king Cyrus:

22 And if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signify unto us thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seek among the records at Babylon: and so at Ecbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a roll wherein these things were recorded.

24 In the first year of the reign of Cyrus, king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again, where they do sacrifice with continual fire:

25 Whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus:

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.

27 And so he commanded that Sisimmes the governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again, and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Celosyria, and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs;

30 And also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent:

31 That offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king, and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.

32 And he commanded that whosoever should transgress, yea, or make light of any thing afore spoken or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.

33 The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Sisimmes and others help forward the building.—5 The temple is finished and dedicated.
10 The passover is kept.

THEN Sisimmes the governor of Celosyria, and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius,

2 Did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the ancients of the Jews and governors of the temple.

3 And so the holy works prospered when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied.

4 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and others that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; 8 And twelve goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the chief of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, in the service of the Lord God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

10 And the children of Israel that were of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, after that the priests and the Levites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captivity were not all sanctified together: but the Levites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord.

15 For that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Esdras bringeth the king's commission to build.—8 The copy of it.—20 He declareth the names and number of those that came with him, and his journey.—31 He laudeth the law of his people, and exhorteth the priests to put away their strange wives.

AND after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Esdras the son of Saraias, the son of Ezerias, the son of Helchiah, the son of Salum,

2 The son of Saddle, the son of Achitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ezias, the son of Meremoth, the son of Zarias, the son of Saviar, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisum, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the chief priest.

3 This Esdras went up from Babylon, as a scribe, being very ready in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel.

4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the priests, of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, unto Jerusalem.

6 In the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year: for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them.

7 For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

8 Now the copy of the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, and came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, is this that followeth;

9 King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord sendeth greeting:

10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem.

11 As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors;

12 That they may look up to the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord:

13 And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the country of Babylon can be found, to the Lord in Jerusalem.

14 With that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord thy God at Jerusalem: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining;

15 To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord thy God, which is in Jerusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do with the silver and gold, that do, according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury.

19 And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and the reader of the law of the most high God shall send for, they should give it him with speed, 20 To the sum of n hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat, even to a hundred || cors, and a hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.

22 I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition of any of the priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of any that have doings in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.

23 And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice || all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach.

24 And * whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

25 || Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem:

26 And hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends, and nobles.

27 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together men of Israel to go up with me.

28 And these are the chief according to their families and several dignities, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes:

29 Of the sons of Phinees, Gerson; of the sons of Ithamar,
|| Gamael: of the sons of David, || Lettus * the son of Sechenias:

30 Of the sons of Pharez, Zecharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men:

31 Of the sons of Pahatib Moab, Eliaonias, the son of || Za-raias, and with him two hundred men:

32 || Of the sons of Zathoe, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him three hundred men; of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him || two hundred and fifty men:

33 Of the sons of Elam, Josias son of || Gotholias, and with him seventy men:

34 Of the sons of Saphatias, || Zariaias son of Michael, and with him || threescore and ten men:

35 Of the sons of Joab, || Abadiah son of || Jezelus, and with him two hundred and || twelve men:

36 || Of the sons of Banid, Assalimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and threescore men:

37 Of the sons of Babi, Zecharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men:

38 Of the sons of || Astath, Johannes son of || Acatan, and with him a hundred and ten men:

39 Of the sons of Adoniam the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and || Samaias, and with them || seventy men:

40 Of the sons of || Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

41 And these I gathered together || to the river called Theras, where we pitched our tents three days: and then I surveyed them.

42 But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites,

43 Then sent I unto Eleazar, and || Iduel, and || Masman,

44 And Anathan, and Manaias, and || Joribas, and Nathan, Eumatan, Zecharias, and Mosollumoni, principal men and learned.

45 And I bade them that they should go unto || Sadeus the captain, || who was in the place of || the treasury:

46 And commanded them that they should speak unto Daddens, and to || his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priest's office in the house of the Lord.

47 And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us skilful men of the sons of || Moli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, || Asebebia, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen.

48 || And Asebia, and Anmus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Channunens, and their sons, were twenty men.

49 And of the servants of the temple whom David had ordained, and the principal men for the service of the Levites (to wit) the servants of the temple, two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were shewed.

50 And there I || vowed a fast unto the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and them that were with us, for our children, and for the || cattle:

51 For I was ashamed to ask the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries.

52 For we had said unto the king, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways.

53 And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us.

54 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, || Eseebrius, and Assanias, and ten men of their brethren with them:

55 And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his council, and the princes, and all Israel, had given.

56 And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and sixty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and n hundred talents of gold,

57 And twenty golden vessels, and || twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold.

58 And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver is a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

59 Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of our God.

60 So the priests and the Levites, who had received the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, brought them unto Jerusalem into the temple of the Lord.

61 And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord, which was with us; and from the || beginning of our journey the Lord delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem.

62 And when we had been there three days, the gold and silver that was weighed, was delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day || unto Marmoth the priest the son of Iri.

63 And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabab the son of Jesu and || Moeth the son of Sabban, Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight.

64 And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.

65 Moreover, they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifice unto the Lord God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams,

66 || Threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace-offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord.

67 And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Celosyria and Phenice; and they honoured the people and the temple of God.

68 Now when these things were done, the rulers came unto me and said,

69 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priests, and Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pheresites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites.

70 * For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land: and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the great men have been partakers of this iniquity.

71 And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and very heavy.

72 So all they that were then moved at the word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice.

73 Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord,

74 I said, O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face;

75 For our sins || are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up unto heaven.

76 For ever since the time of our fathers, we have been and are in great sin, even unto this day.

77 And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this day.

83 That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

84 Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons.

85 Moreover, ye shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

86 And all that is befallen, is done unto us for our wicked works, and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light.

87 And didst give unto us such a root; but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, and to mingle ourselves with the uncleanness of the nations of the land.

88 ^{||} Mightest not thou be angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name?

89 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.

90 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer by reason of these things before thee.

91 And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great multitude of men, and women, and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.

92 Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the nations of the land, and now is all Israel ^{||} aloft.

93 Let us make an oath to the Lord, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the heathen, with their children, 94 Like as thou hast decreed, and as many as do obey the law of the Lord.

95 Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee: do valiantly.

96 So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites [†] of all Israel to do after these things; and so they swore.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Esdras assembleth all the people. 10 They promise to put away their strange wives. 20 The names and number of them that did so. 40 The law of Moses is read and declared before all the people. 50 They weep, and are put in mind of the first day.

THEN Esdras, rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joanan the son of Eliashib,

2 And remained there, and did eat no meat, nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem:

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself ^{||} cast out from them that were of the captivity.

5 And in three days were all they of the tribe of Juda and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem the twentieth day of the ninth month.

6 And all the multitude sat trembling in the broad court of the temple because of the present foul weather.

7 So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel.

8 And now by confession give glory unto the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But forasmuch as the people are many, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of a day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far:

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude ^{||} stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed,

13 And with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan the son of Azazel, and Ezechias the son of Theocanus, accordingly took this matter upon them: and Mossolam, and Levis, and Sabbatheus helped them.

15 And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the priest chose unto him the principal men of their families, all by name; and in the first day of the tenth month they sat together to examine the matter.

17 So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end in the first day of the first month.

18 And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found;

19 Of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren: ^{||} Mathelias, and Eleazar, and ^{||} Joribus, and ^{||} Joadaams.

20 And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer [†] rams to make reconciliation for their ^{||} errors.

21 And of the sons of Emmer: Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Eanes, [†] Sameus, and [†] Hierel, and [†] Azarias.

22 And of the sons of [†] Phaisur: Elionas, Massias, Ismael, and Nathanael, and [†] Ocideilus, and [†] Talsas.

23 And of the Levites: Josabad, and Semis, and [†] Colius, who was called [†] Calitas, and [†] Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy singers: [†] Eleazurus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters: Sallamus, and [†] Tollanes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sons of [†] Phoros: [†] Hiermas, and [†] Eddias, and Melchias, and [†] Maelus, and Eleazar, and [†] Asibias, and Baanias.

27 Of the sons of Ela: Matthanias, Zecharias, and [†] Hiericlus, and Hieremoth, and [†] Aedias.

28 And of the sons of [†] Zamoth: [†] Eliadas, [†] Elisimus, [†] Othomias, Jarimoth, and [†] Sabatus, and [†] Sardeus.

29 Of the sons of Bebai: Johanes, and Ananias, and [†] Josabad, and [†] Amatheis.

30 Of the sons of [†] Mani: [†] Olanus, [†] Manuclius, [†] Jedeus, Jasubus, [†] Jasael, and Hieremoth.

31 [†] And of the sons of Addi: Naathus, and Moosias, Lammus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Sesthel, Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sons of Annas: Elionas, and Ascas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon Chosameus.

33 And of the sons of Asom: [†] Altaneus, and [†] Mathias, and [†] Bannaia, Eliphalat, and Manasseas, and Semei.

34 And of the sons of Maani: Jeremias, Mondis, Omaerus, Juel, Mabdai, and Pelias, and Anos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mammitanaimus, Eliasis, Baunus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanas: and of the sons of Ozora: Sesis, Esril, Asaelus, Samatus, Zambis, Josephus.

36 All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children.

37 And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel, dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, in the first day of the seventh month: so the children of Israel were in their ^{||} habitations.

38 [†] And the whole multitude came together with one accord into the broad place of the holy porch towards the east:

39 And they spake unto Esdras the priest and reader, that he would bring the law of Moses, that was given of the Lord God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the chief priest brought the law unto the whole multitude from man to woman, and to all the priests, to hear the law in the first day of the seventh month.

41 And he read in the broad court before the holy porch from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave heed unto the law.

42 And Esdras the priest, and reader of the law, stood up upon a pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose.

43 And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, ^{||} Ezechias, ^{||} Balasamus, upon the right hand:

45 Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multi-

II. ESDRAS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Esdras is commanded to reprove the people.—24 God threatneth to cast them off, and to give their house to people of more grace than they.

1 Esdras 7, 1. THE second book of the prophet * Esdras, the son of Sarabias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son of ¶ Sadanias, the son of Sadoe, the son of Achitob,

2 The son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziel, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar,

3 The son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
5 Go thy way, and ¶ shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children;

6 Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.
7 Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pull thou off then the hair of thy head, and cast all evil upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people.

9 How long shall I forbear them unto whom I have done so much good?

10 Many kings have I destroyed for their sakes; * Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power, have I smitten down.

11 ¶ All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.

12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord, 13 ¶ I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe ¶ passage: ¶ I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest.

14 ¶ I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, the ¶ quails were as a token to you; I gave you tents for your safeguard; nevertheless ye murmured there, 16 And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.

17 Where are the benefits that I have done for you? When ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, ¶ did ye not cry unto me, 18 Saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness.

19 Then had I pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna to eat; ¶ so ye did eat angels' bread.

20 ¶ When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out ¶ to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees.

21 I divided among you a fruitful land, I east out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: ¶ what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When ye were in the wilderness, ¶ in the river of the Amorites, being athirst, and blaspheming my name, 23 I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou * Juda wouldst not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto those will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes.

25 Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also; when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have no mercy upon you.

26 ¶ Whensoever ye shall call upon me, I will not hear you: ¶ for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter.

27 Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes, 29 That ye would be my people, ¶ and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father?

30 ¶ I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will east you out from my face.

31 ¶ When ye offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: ¶ for your solemn feast-days, your new moons, and your circumcisions have I forsaken.

32 I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house is desolate, I will east you out as the wind doth stubble.

34 And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evil before me.

35 Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me yet shall believe me: to whom I have shewed no signs, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

36 They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance, and acknowledge them.

37 I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoice in gladness: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the thing that I say.

38 And now, brother, behold what glory; and see the people that come from the east:

39 Unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Miehias, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abaue, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also an ¶ angel of the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

1 God complaineth of his people.—10 Yet Esdras is willing to comfort them.—34 Because they refused, the Gentiles are called.—43 Esdras seeth the Son of God, and those that are crowned by him.

THUS saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith unto them, Go your way, ye children; for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladness; but with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evil before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, which would not keep my covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them.

1 Or, instrument, or, oath.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my || covenant.

h Gen. 13, 24.

8 Wo be unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous in thee! O thou wicked people, remember * what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah:

9 Whose land lieth in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that hear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people, that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you: watch.

1 Or, bring them up with gladness, as a dove; make their feet fast: for, &c.

14 Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the evil in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

1 Or, thy name, O Israel.

15 Alather, embrace thy children, and || bring them up with gladness, make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have || known my name in Israel.

17 Fear not, thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help will I send my servants, Esay and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee twelve trees laden with divers fruits, 19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow, judge for the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, 21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come into the sight of my clearness.

b Tobit 1, 5, 17.

22 Keep the old and young within thy walls.

1 signifying, bury them.

23 Whosoever thou findest the dead, † take them and bury them, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come.

25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse; stablish their feet.

26 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heaviness cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry, and have abundance.

28 The heathen shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.

30 Be joyful, O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty.

1 Or, preach.

32 Embrace thy children until I come, and || shew mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

33 I Esdras received a charge of the Lord upon the mount Oreb, that I should go unto Israel; but when I came unto them they set me at nought, and despised the commandment of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say unto you, O ye heathen, that hear and understand, Look for your Shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is nigh at hand, that shall come in the end of the world.

35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore.

36 Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory; I testify my Saviour openly.

37 O receive the gift that is given you, and be glad, giving thanks unto him that hath called you to the heavenly kingdom.

1 Or, for.

38 Arise up and stand, behold the number of those that be sealed || in the feast of the Lord;

39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and have received glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut up those of thine that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord.

1 Lnt. conclude.

41 The number of thy children whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

42 * I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

h Rev. 7, 9.

43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; which I marvelled at greatly.

44 So I asked the angel, and said, || Sir, what are these? 1 Or, Lord

45 He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and receive palms.

46 Then said I unto the angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and giveth them palms in his hands?

47 So he answered and said unto me, It is the Son of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stilly for the name of the Lord.

48 Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seen.

CHAPTER III.

1 Esdras is troubled, and acknowledgeth the sins of the people.—23 Yet complueth that the heathen were lords over them, being more wicked than they.

IN the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city, I was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart:

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most High, and said,

4 O Lord, who bearest rule, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou didst plant the earth (and that thyself alone) and commandedst the people,

5 * And gavest a body unto Adam without soul, which was the workmanship of thy hands, and didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee.

a Gen. 2, 7.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.

7 And unto him thou gavest commandment to love thy way, which he transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst death in him and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindreds, out of number.

8 * And every people walked after their own will, and did wonderful things before thee, and despised thy commandments.

11 Nevertheless, one of them thou ledest, namely, † Noah with his household, of whom came all righteous men.

d 1 Pet. 3, 2.

12 And it happened that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly than the first.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed and was overcome; and so he all they that are born of him.

22 Thus iniquity was made permanent; and the law (also) in the heart of the people with the malignity of the root; so that the good departed away, and the evil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then didst thou raise thee up a servant, called David: 1 Samuel 16, 13.

24 Whom thou commandedst to build a city unto thy name, and to offer incense and oblations unto thee therein. 2 Samuel 5, 2, 3, 7, 8, 13.

25 When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city forsook thee.

26 And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart:

27 And so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies.

28 Are their deeds then any better that inhabit Babylon, that they should therefore have the dominion over Zion?

29 For when I came thither, and had seen impieties without number, then my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me.

30 For I have seen how thou suffereest them sinning, and hast spared wicked doers; and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies, and hast not signified it.

31 I do not remember how this way may be left: Are they then of Babylon better than they of Zion? 1 Cor. 1 conciev.

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so believed thy covenants as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they || flow in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments. 1 Cor. 10, 10.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickedness now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world: and so shall thy name no where be found but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandments?

36 Thou shalt find that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts; but not the heathen.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The angel declareth the ignorance of Edras in God's judgments, and adviseth him not to meddle with things above his reach.—23 Nevertheless Edras asketh divers questions, and receiveth answers to them.

AND the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer,

2 And said, Thy heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High?

3 Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he unto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me again the day that is past.

6 Then answered I and said, What man is able to do that, that thou shouldest ask such things of me?

7 And he said unto me, If I should ask thee how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise:

8 Peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven.

9 Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day wherethrough thou hast passed, and of things from which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me no answer of them.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, and such as are grown up with thee, canst thou not know;

11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the Highest, and the world being now outwardly corrupted, to understand the || corruption that is evident in my sight?

12 Then said I unto him, It were better that we were not at all, than that we should live still in wickedness, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 He answered me, and said, I went into a forest into a plain, and the trees took counsel, 14 And said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. 2 Chron. 25, 13.

Or, incorruption.

Or, and to all the generation of Israel, that they should keep it with diligence.

15 The floods of the sea also in like manner took counsel, and said, Come, let us go up and subvert the woods of the plain, that there also we may make us another country.

16 The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought, for the sand stood up and stopped them.

18 If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou begin to justify? or whom wouldest thou condemn?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both have devised, for || the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to bear his || floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgment, but why judgest thou not thyself also? 1 Or, the land. 1 Or, waters.

21 For like as || the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his floods; even so || they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon || earth: and he that dwelleth above the heavens may only understand the things that are above the height of the heavens. 1 Or, the land. 1 Or, the land. 1 Isa. 55, 9, 10. John 3, 31, 1 Cor. 2, 14.

22 Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me have understanding:

23 For it was not my mind to be curious of the high things, but of such us pass by us daily, namely, wherefore Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loved is given over unto ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written covenants come || to none effect.

24 And we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is astonishment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy. 1 Or, no where.

25 What will he then do unto his name whereby we are called? of these things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou senkest, the more thou shalt marvel; for the world hasteth fast to pass away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousness and infirmities.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good.

30 For the grain of evil seed hath been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodliness hath it brought up unto this time? and how much shall it yet bring forth until the || time of threshing come? 1 Or, floor.

31 Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness the grain of evil seed hath brought forth.

32 And when the ears shall be cut down, which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill?

33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

34 And he answered me, saying, Do not thou hasten above the Most Highest: for thy haste is in vain to be above him, for thou hast much exceeded.

35 Did not the souls also of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when cometh the fruit of the floor of our reward?

36 And unto these things || Uriel the archangel gave them answer, and said, Even when the number of seeds is filled in yon: for he hath weighed the world in the balance. 1 Or, Jerusalem.

37 By measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbered the times; and he doth not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, even we all are full of impiety.

39 And for our sakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, lord, that can she not. And he said unto me, In the grave the chambers of souls are like the womb of a woman;

42 For like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the necessity of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them.

43 From the beginning, look, what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee.

44 Then answered I and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, 45 Shew me then whether there be more to come than is past, or more past than is to come.

46 What is past I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

48 So I stood, and saw, and behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and behold, the smoke remained still.

49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm: and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke; but the drops and the smoke remain behind: so the quantity which is past did more exceed.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or || what shall happen in those days?

52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou asketh me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I win not sent to shew thee; for I do not know it.

CHAPTER V.

1 The signs of the times to come.—23 He asketh why God, choosing but one people, did cast them off.—29 He is taught that God's judgments are unsearchable, and that it is vain to seek not all at once.

NEVERTHELESS as concerning the tokens, behold, the days shall come, that they which dwell upon the earth || shall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith.

2 But iniquity shall be increased above that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago.

3 And the land, || that thou seest now to have root, shalt thou see wasted suddenly.

4 But if the Most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see after the third trumpet that the sun shall suddenly shine again in the night, and the moon thrice in the day:

5 And blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled:

6 And even he shall rule, whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowls shall take their flight away together.

7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but they shall all hear the voice thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and fire shall be oft || sent out again, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and menstuous women shall bring forth monsters:

9 And salt water shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into his secret chamber.

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall unrighteousness and incontinency be multiplied upon earth.

11 One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that maketh a man righteous gone through thee? and it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not || prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I have leave; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and an extreme fearfulness went through all my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted.

15 So the angel that was come to talk with me, held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.

16 And in the second night it came to pass, that Salathiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been? and why is thy countenance so heavy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity?

18 Up then, and eat bread, and forsake is not, as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves.

19 Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

20 And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.

21 And after seven days so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again,

22 And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to talk with the Most High again,

23 And said, O Lord that bearest rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee only one vine:

24 And of all lands of the whole world thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all the flowers thereof one lily:

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river: and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself:

26 And of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee one dove: and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one sheep:

27 And among all the multitude of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people: and onto this people, whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many? and || upon the one root hast thou prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thee only one people among many?

29 And they which did gainsay thy promises, and believed not thy covenants, have trodden thee down.

30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldst thou punish them with thine own hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, 32 And said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

34 And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgment.

35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord? wherunto was I born then? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

36 And he said unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to know.

38 And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgment, or in the end the love that I have promised unto my people.

41 And I said, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that be reserved till the end: and what shall they do that have been before me, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?

42 And he said unto me, I will liken my judgment unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, even so there is no swiftness of the first.

43 So I answered and said, couldest thou not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once; that thou mightest shew thy judgment the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the maker; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast said unto thy servant, that thou which givest life to all, hast given life at once to the creature that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: even so it might now also bear them that now be present at once.

46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown in it in their times.

49 For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked and said, Seeing thou hast now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast told me that she is young, draweth now nigh unto age.

1 Or, measure.

1 Or, who shall be? Manuscript.

1 Or, shall be found with great wealth.

a Mat. 21, 12.

1 Or, that thou treadest upon and scilicet.

1 Or, naked.

1 Or, be distressed.

51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that heareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before, but less of stature?

53 And she shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise.

54 Consider thou therefore also, how that ye are less of stature than those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you less than ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou visitest thy creature.

CHAPTER VI

1 God's purpose is eternal.—2 The next world shall follow this immediately.—3 What shall fall out at the last.—4 He is promised more knowledge.—5 He reckoneth up the works of the creation, and complaineth that they have no part in the world for whom it was made.

¶ Or, circle of the earth.

AND he said unto me, In the beginning, when the || earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew,

2 Before it thundered and lightened, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid,

3 Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the moveable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together,

4 Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Sion were hot,

5 And ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin were turned, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure:

6 Then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times: or when shall he the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said unto me, From Abraham unto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were born of him, * Jacob's hand held || first the heel of Esau.

a Gen. 25, 26.

9 For Esau is the end of the world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

¶ Or, from the beginning.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand: other question, Esdras, ask thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewdest me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice.

¶ Or, earthquake.

14 And it shall be as it were a great || motion; but the place where thou standest shall not be moved.

15 And therefore when it speaketh be not afraid; for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.

16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.

17 And it happened that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold, the days come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled;

¶ Or, sealed.

20 And when the world, that shall begin to vanish away, shall be || finished, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together:

21 And the children of a yearold shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children of three or four months old, and they shall live, and be raised up:

22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty:

23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me; I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven days again, I shall tell thee greater things || by day than I have heard.

¶ See chap. 13, verse 32.

32 For thy voice is heard before the Most High: for the Mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen also thy elasticity, which thou hast had ever since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to pass after this, that I went again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me.

36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and saidst thus; * Let heaven b Gen. 1, 1 and earth be made; and thy word was a perfect work.

39 And then was the spirit, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy work might appear.

41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth: six parts hast thou dried up, and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of God and tilled, might serve thee.

43 For as soon as thy word went forth the work was made.

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smell: and this was done the third day.

45 * Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun c Gen. 1, 14 should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in order:

46 And gavest them a charge to do d service unto man, that was to be made.

c Gen. 1, 14

47 Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto the seventh part, * where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth e Gen. 1, 20 living creatures, fowls and fishes; and so it came to pass.

48 For the dumb water and without life brought forth living things at the commandment of God, that all people might praise thy wondrous works.

49 Then didst thou ordain two living creatures, the one thou caldest || Enoch, and the other Leviathan;

d Gen. 1, 15. Deut. 4, 19.

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both.

51 Unto Enoch thou gavest one part, which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills:

e Gen. 1, 20.

52 But unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely, the moist; and hast kept him to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattle, and creeping things:

54 And after these, Adam also, whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen.

¶ Behemoth.

55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou madest the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like unto spittle: and most likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen, which have ever been reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devour us.

58 But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy first born, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess an inheritance with the world? how long shall this endure?

CHAPTER VII.

¹ The way is narrow...¹² When it was made narrow...²⁰ All shall die, and rise again.
³³ Christ shall sit in judgment...⁴⁰ God hath not made paradise in vain...⁴² He is merciful.

AND when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore:

2 And he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speak on, my God. Then said he unto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.

4 But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river;

5 Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it? if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing; A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and set in a || dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water:

8 And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.

9 If this city now were given unto a man for an inheritance, if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion.

11 Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travail: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and very painful.

13 For the entrances of the || elder world were wide and sure, and brought immortal fruit.

14 If then they that live, labour not to enter these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.

15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal?

16 Why hast thou not considered in thy mind this thing that is to come, rather than that which is present?

17 Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy || law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish.

18 Nevertheless, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said unto me, There is no judge above God, and none that hath understanding above the Highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the law of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait commandment to such as came, what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined vain things;

23 And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds; and said of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways:

24 But his law have they despised, and denied his covenant; in his statutes have they not been faithful, and have not performed his works.

25 And therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee shall come to pass, and the bride shall appear, and she coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.

27 And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils shall see my wonders.

28 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoice within four hundred years.

29 After these years shall my son Christ die, and all men that have life.

30 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the || former judgments: so that no man shall remain.

31 And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them.

33 And the Most High shall appear upon the seat of judgment, and misery shall pass away, and the long-suffering shall have an end:

34 But judgment only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong:

35 And the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.

36 Then said I, ^b Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and ^c Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness:

37 And Jesus after him for Israel, in the time of || Achaz:

38 And Samuel and ^d David for the destruction: and ^e Solomon for them that should come to the sanctuary:

39 And ^f Elias for those that received rain; and for the dead, that he might live:

40 And ^g Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib: and many for many.

41 Even so now, seeing corruption is grown up, and wickedness is increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly; wherefore shall it not be so now also?

42 He answered me, and said, This present life is not the end where much glory doth abide; therefore have they prayed for the weak.

43 But the day of doom shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past, 44 Intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, righteousness is grown, and truth is springing up.

45 Then shall no man be able to save him that is destroyed, nor to oppress him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better not to have given the earth unto Adam: or else, when it was given him, to have restrained him from sinning.

47 For what profit is it for men now in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done! for though it was ^b thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death?

50 And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves being most wicked are made vain?

51 And that there are laid up for us dwellings of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly?

52 And that the glory of the Most High is kept to defend them which have led || a wary life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all?

53 And that there should be shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth for ever, wherein is || security and medicine, since we shall not enter into it?

54 (For we have walked in unpleasant places.)

55 And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness?

56 For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not that we should begin to suffer for it after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the || condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight;

58 That, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said; but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, ^c Choose thee life, that thou mayest live.

60 Nevertheless, they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken unto them.

61 That there should not be such heaviness in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

High is called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world,
63 And upon those also that turn to his law ;
64 And that ¹ he is patient, and long suffereth those that have sinned, as his creatures ;
65 And that he is bountiful, for he is ready to give where it needeth ;
66 And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come.
67 For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherit therein.
68 And he pardoneth : for if he did not so of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men should not remain living.
69 And being judge, if he should not forgive them that are || cured with his word, and put on the multitude of || contentions.
70 There should be very few left peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Many created, but few saved. ² He asked why God destroyeth his own work, and praiseth God to look upon the people which only serve him. || God answered, that all seed cometh not to good, and that glory is prepared for him, and such like.
AND he answered me, saying, The Most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few.
2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras : As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold cometh of :
even so is the course of this present world.
3 * There be many created, but few shall be saved.
4 So answered I and said, Swallow then down, O my soul, understanding, and devour wisdom.
5 For thou hast agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesy :
for thou hast no longer space than only to live.
6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and || thou give us seed into our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it ; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who heareth the place of a man ?
7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thy hands, like as thou hast said.
8 For || when the body is fashioned now in the mother's womb, and thou givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her.
9 But that which keepeth and is kept shall both be preserved :
and when the time cometh, the womb preserved delivereth up the things that grew in it.
10 For thou hast commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts.
11 That the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercy.
12 Thou broughtest it up with thy righteousness, and nurtured it in thy law, and reformedst it with thy judgment.
13 And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work.
14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned, it is an easy thing to be ordained by thy commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved.
15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speak ; touching man in general, thou knowest best ; but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sorry ;
16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn ; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy ; and for Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled ;
17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them : for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land.
18 But I have heard the swiftness of the judge which is to come.
19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I shall speak before thee. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up : and I said, 20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in everlastingness, which beholdest from above things in the heaven and in the air ; 21 Whose throne is inestimable : whose glory may not be comprehended : before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, 22 Whose service is conversant in wind and fire ; whose word is true, and sayings constant ; whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearful ;
23 Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation maketh the mountains to melt away ; which the truth witnesseth :

24 O hear the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature.
25 For while I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer.
26 O look not upon the sins of thy people ; but on them which serve thee in truth.
27 Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep thy testimonies in afflictions.
28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee : but remember them, which according to thy will have known thy fear.
29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like beasts ; but to look upon them that have clearly taught thy law.
30 Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts ; but love them that always put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.
31 For we and our fathers || do languish of such diseases : ¹ Ours are such.
32 For if thou || hast a desire to have mercy upon us, thou ² Ours shalt be called merciful, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness.
33 For the just, which have many good works laid up with thee, shall out of their own deeds receive reward.
34 For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him ? or what is a corruptible generation, that thou shouldst be so bitter toward it ?
35 * For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly ; and among the faithful there is none which hath not done amiss.
36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have not the || confidence of good works.
37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words it shall be.
38 For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgment, before destruction ; 39 But ³ I will rejoice over the disposition of the righteous, ⁴ d Gen. 4, 6 and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have.
40 Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to pass.
41 For as the husbandman saweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season cometh not up, neither doth all that is planted take root : even so is it of them that are sown in the world ;
they shall not all be saved.
42 I answered then and said, If I have found grace, let me speak.
43 Like as the husbandman's seed perisheth, if it come not up, and receive not thy rain in due season : or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it :
44 Even so perisheth man also, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because thou art like unto him, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him unto the husbandman's seed.
45 Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine own inheritance : for thou art merciful unto thy creature.
46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come for such as be to come.
47 For thou ⁵ comest far short that thou shouldst be able to ⁶ e Rom. 5, 7 love my creature more than I : but I have oft-times drawn nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unrighteous.
48 In this also thou art marvellous before the Most High :
49 In that thou hast ⁷ humbled thyself, as it becometh ⁸ f James 4, thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.
50 For many great miseries shall be done to them that in the ⁹ latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have ¹⁰ g 2 Tim. 3, walked in great pride.
51 But understand thou for thyself, and seek out the glory for such as be like thee.
52 For unto you is paradise ¹¹ opened, the tree of life is planted, ¹² h Isaiah 22, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect goodness and wisdom.

k 2 Tim. 2, 23. 55 And therefore ask thou no more ^k questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.
56 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.

m Prov. 16, 4. 59 For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain are prepared for them: for it was not his will ^m that men should come to nought:
n Rev. 1, 7. 60 But they which he created have defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful unto him which prepared life for them.
61 And therefore is my judgment ⁿ now at hand.
62 These things have I not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered I and said, 63 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt begin to do in the last times:
o Acts 1, 7. ^o but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

CHAPTER IX.

7 Who shall be saved, and who not. 19 All the world is now corrupted. 22 Yet God doth save a few. 33 Esdras complaineth that those perish which keep God's law. 34 He seeth a woman lamenting in a field.
a Mat. 24, 15. HE answered me then, and said, Measure thou the time diligently in itself; and when thou ^a seest part of the signs past, which I have told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou understand, that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit the world which he made.

b Mat. 24, 7. 3 Therefore when there shall be seen ^b earthquakes and uproars of the people ^b in the world:

c Jude 14. 4 Then shalt thou well understand, that the Most High spake of those things ^c from the days that were before thee, even from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the world hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest:

d Isa. 46, 9, 10. 6 ^d Even so the times also of the Highest have plain beginnings in wonders and powerful works, and endings in effects and signs.

7 And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, and by faith, whereby ye have believed, e 1 Pet. 1, 3, 9. 8 Shall be ^e preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders: for I have sanctified them for me from the beginning.

9 Then ^g shall they be in pitiful case, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell ^g in torments.

f Rev. 14, 11, & 19, 3. 10 For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me;

11 And they that have loathed my law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised it;

g Mat. 25, 46. 12 ^g The same must know it after death by pain.

2 Thess. 1, 9. 13 And therefore be thou not curious how the ungodly shall be punished, and when: ^h but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, whose the world is, and for whom the world is created.

14 Then answered I, and said, i Mat. 7, 13, 44. 15 I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, ⁱ that there be many more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved:

k Prov. 8, 26, 27. 16 Like as a wave is greater than a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; as the flowers be, such are the colours also; such as the workman is, such also is the work; and as the husbandman is himself, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

18 ^l And now when I prepared the world which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that now live, no man spake against me.

19 For then every one obeyed: ^l but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made are corrupted by a perpetual seed, and by a law which is unsearchable rid themselves.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was peril because of the devices that were come into it.

21 And I saw, and spared it greatly, and have kept me a ^l grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain: and let my ^l grape be kept, and my plant; for with great labour have I made it perfect.

23 Nevertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seven days more (but thou shalt not fast in them, 24 But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only.)

25 And pray unto the ^l Highest continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

26 So I went my way into the field which is called Ardath, ^m like as he commanded me; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 After seven days I sat upon the grass and my heart was vexed within me, ⁿ like as before:

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the Most High, and said, 29 O Lord, thou that shewest thyself unto us, thou wast ^o shewed unto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man ^o treadeth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt.

30 And thou spakest, saying, ^o I hear me, O Israel; and mark my words, thou seed of Jacob.

31 For behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for ever.

32 But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not thine ordinances: and thou the fruit of thy law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine;

33 Yet they that received it ^o perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And lo, it is a custom, when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, that, that being perished wherein it was sown or cast into,

35 That thing also which was sown, or cast therein, or received, doth perish, and remaineth not with us: but with us it hath not happened so.

36 For we that have received the law ^r perish by sin, and our heart also which receiveth it.

37 Notwithstanding, ^r the law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things ^r in my heart, I looked back with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a ^r woman, and behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me unto her, 40 And said unto her, ^r Wherefore weepeth thou? why art thou so grieved in thy mind?

41 And she said unto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me.

43 She said unto me, I thy servant have been barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years.

44 And those thirty years I did nothing else ^r day and night, and every hour, but make my prayer to the Highest.

45 After thirty years God heard me, thy handmaid, looked upon my misery, considered my trouble, ^r and gave me a son: and I was very ^r glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travail.

47 So when he grew up, and came to the time that he should have a wife, ^r I made a feast.

CHAPTER X.

48 He comforteth the woman in the field. 49 She vanisheth away, and a city appeareth in her place. 40 The angel declineth these visions in the field.

AN D it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his ^r wedding ^r chamber, he fell down, and died.

2 ^r And when I threw the lights, and all my ^r neighbours rose up to comfort me: so I took my rest unto the second day at ^r night.

3 ^r And when I came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to ^r comfort me might be quiet; then rose I up by night, and fled, as I came hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 ^r And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, ^r neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

5 Then left I the ^r meditations wherein I was, and spake to her in anger, saying,

8 And now, seeing we all mourn and are sad, for we are all in heaviness, art thou grieved for one son?
9 For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for the fall of so many that grow upon her.
10 For she out of her came all at the first, and out of her shall all others come, and behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is utterly rooted out.
11 Who then should make more mourning than she that hath lost so great a multitude; and not thou, which art sorry but for one?
12 But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, because I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows;
13 But the earth not so: for the multitude present in it, according to the course of the earth, is gone, as it came.
14 Then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with labour; even so the earth also hath given her fruit namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made her.
15 Now therefore keep thy sorrow to thyself, and hear with a good courage that which hath befallen thee.
16 For if thou shalt acknowledge the determination of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be commended among women.
17 Go thy way then into the city to thy husband.
18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.
19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said, 20 Do not so, but be counselled by me: for how many are the adversaries of Zion? be comforted in regard of the sorrow of Jerusalem.
21 For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed;
22 Our psalter is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon is almost profaned:
our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak;
23 And which is the greatest of all, the seal of Zion hath now lost her honour; for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.
24 And therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away the multitude of sorrows, that the mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Highest shall give thee rest and ease from thy labour.
25 And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.
26 And behold, suddenly she made a great cry, very fearful;
so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.
27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place shewed itself from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, 28 Where is Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.
29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came unto me, and looked upon me.
30 And lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me, 31 What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thy heart?
32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and yet I did according to thy words, and I went into the field, and lo, I have seen, and yet see, that I am not able to express.
33 And he said unto me, Stand up manfully, and I will advise thee.
34 Then said I, Speak on, my lord, in me; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope.
35 For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know.
36 Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream?
37 Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy servant of this vision.

38 He answered me then, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the Highest will reveal many secret things unto thee.
39 He hath seen that thy way is right: for that thou sor-rowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Zion.
40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision which thou hast seen:
41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganst to comfort her:
42 But now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city builded.
43 And whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the solution:
44 This woman, whom thou sawest, is Zion: and whereas she said unto thee, even she whom thou seest as a city builded,
45 Whereas, I say, she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren: these are the thirty years wherein there was no offering made in her.
46 But after thirty years Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a son.
47 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem.
48 But whereas she said unto thee, That my son coming into his marriage chamber happened to have a fall, and died:
this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem.
49 And behold, thou sawest her likeness, and because she mourned for her son, thou beganst to comfort her: and of these things which have chanced, these are to be opened unto thee.
50 For now the Most High seeth that thou art grieved immeasurably, and sittest from thy whole heart for her, so hath he shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty:
51 And therefore I bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded:
52 For I knew that the Highest would shew this unto thee.
53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was.
54 For in the place wherein the Highest beginneth to shew his city, there can no man's building be able to stand.
55 And therefore fear not, let not thy heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see: 56 And then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend.
57 For thou art blessed above many other, and art called with the Highest; and so are but few.
58 But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain here;
59 And so shall the Highest shew thee visions of the high things, which the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

CHAPTER XI.

1 He seeth in his dream an eagle coming out of the sea, and a lion out of a wood talking to the eagle.
2 THEN saw I a dream, and behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.
3 And I saw, and behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.
4 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers; and they became little feathers and small.
5 But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested it with the residue.
6 Moreover I beheld, and lo, the eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned upon earth, and over them that dwell therein.
7 And I saw that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth.
8 And I beheld, and lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and spoke to her feathers, saying, 9 Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course:
10 But let the heads be preserved for the last.
11 And I beheld, and lo, the voice went not out of her mouth, but from the midst of her body.
12 And I numbered her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned over all the earth;
 13 And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came; and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood up, and reigned, and had a great time;
 14 And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.
 15 Then came there a voice unto it, and said,
 16 Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth so long: this I say unto thee, before thou beginnest to appear no more.
 17 There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof.
 18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before, and appeared no more also.
 19 So went it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.
 20 Then I beheld, and lo, in process of time the feathers that followed stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more:
 21 For some of them were set up, but ruled not.
 22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers:
 23 And there was no more upon the eagle's body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.
 24 Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: for the four continued in their place.
 25 And I beheld, and lo, the feathers that were under the wing thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.
 26 And I beheld, and lo, there was one set up, but shortly it appeared no more.
 27 And the second was sooner away than the first.
 28 And I beheld, and lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign:
 29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads.
 30 And then I saw that the two other heads were joined with it.
 31 And behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two feathers under the wing that would have reigned.
 32 But this head put the whole earth in fear, and bare rule in it over all those that dwell upon the earth with much oppression: and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been.
 33 And after this I beheld, and lo, the head that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.
 34 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort ruled upon the earth, and over those that dwell therein.
 35 And I beheld, and lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.
 36 Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.
 37 And I beheld, and lo as it were a roaring lion chased out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and said, 38 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Highest shall say unto thee, 39 Art not thou it that remainest of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of their times might come through them?
 40 And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and had power over the world with great fearfulness, and over the whole compass of the earth with much wicked oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit.
 41 For the earth hast thou not judged with truth.
 42 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm.
 43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come up unto the Highest, and thy pride unto the Mighty.
 44 The Highest also hath looked upon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and his abominations are fulfilled.
 45 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, nor thy hurtful claws, nor all thy vain body:
 46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and may return, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgment and mercy of him that made her.

CHAPTER XII.

The eagle which he saw, is destroyed. The vision is interpreted. He is bid to write his visions, and to fast, that he may see more. He doth comfort those that were grieved for his absence.

AND it came to pass, while the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I saw,

2 And, behold, the head that remained, and the four wings appeared no more, and the two went unto it, and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small and full of uproar.

3 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Highest.

5 Lo yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; and little strength is there in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night.

6 Therefore will I now beseech the Highest, that he will comfort me unto the end.

7 And I said, Lord, that bearest rule, if I have found grace before thy sight, and if I am justified with thee before many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face;

8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy servant the interpretation and plain difference of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul.

9 For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the last times.

10 And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of the vision:

11 The eagle whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is the kingdom which was seen in the vision of thy brother Daniel.

12 But it was not expounded unto him, therefore now I declare it unto thee.

13 Behold, the days will come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it.

14 In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another:

15 Whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have more time than any of the twelve.

16 And this do the twelve wings signify, which thou sawest.

17 As for the voice which thou heardest speak, and that thou sawest not to go out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation:

18 That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless, it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning.

19 And whereas thou sawest the eight small underfeathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation:

20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift.

21 And two of them shall perish, the middle time approaching: four shall be kept until their end begin to approach: but two shall be kept unto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation:

23 In his last days shall the Most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall have the dominion of the earth, 24 And of those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle.

25 For these are they that shall accomplish his wickedness, and that shall finish his last end.

26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain.

27 For the two that remain shall be slain with the sword.

28 For the sword of the one shall devour the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himself.

29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers under the wings passing over the head that is on the right side;

30 It signifieth that these are they whom the Highest hath kept unto their end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest.

31 And the lion, whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness with all the words which thou hast heard:

32 This is the pointed, which the Highest hath kept for 33 For he shall set them before him alive in judgment, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

 34 For the rest of my people shall he ^c deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning.
 35 This is ^c the dream that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.
 36 Thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Highest.
 37 Therefore ^c write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and hide them:
 38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keep these secrets.
 39 But wait thou here thyself: yet ^c seven days more, that it may be shewed thee, whatsoever it pleaseth the Highest to declare unto thee. And with that he went his way.
 40 And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again unto the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and said, 41 What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou forsakest us, and sittest here in this place?
 42 For of all the ^c prophets thou ^c only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candle in a dark place, and as a haven or ship preserved from the tempest.
 43 Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient?
 44 If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had ^c been burned in the midst of Sion?
 45 For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Jacob:
 47 For the Highest hath you ^c in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.
 48 As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the ^c low estate of your sanctuary.
 49 And now go your way home every man, and after these days will I come unto you.
 50 So the people went their way into the city, like as I commanded them:
 51 But I remained still in the field seven days, as ^b the angel commanded me: and did eat only in those days of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 He seeth in his dream a man coming out of the sea.—25 The declaration of his dream.—
 51 He is praised, and promised to see more.
 a ch. 11, 1. AND it came to pass after seven days, I ^a dreamed a dream by night:
 2 And lo, there arose ^c wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof.
 3 And I beheld, and lo, that man waxed strong with the ^c thousands of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, ^b all the things trembled that were seen under him.
 4 And whensoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.
 5 And after this I beheld, and lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from ^c the four winds of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea.
 6 But I beheld, and lo, he had graven himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it.
 7 But I would have seen the region or place whereout the hill was graven, and I could not.
 8 And after this I beheld, and lo, all they which were gathered together to ^d subdue him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight.
 9 And lo, as he saw the violence of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held sword, nor any instrument of war:
 10 But only I saw that he sent ^c out of his mouth as it had been a blast of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and tempests.
 11 And they were all mixed together; the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest; and fell with violence upon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an ^c innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was afraid.

 12 Afterward I saw the same man come down ^c from the mountain, and called unto him another peaceable multitude.
 13 And there came much people unto him, ^b whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought ^c of them that were offered: then was I sick through great fear, and I awaked, and said,
 14 Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldst receive my prayer:
 15 Shew me now yet ^c the interpretation of this dream.
 16 For as I conceived in mine understanding, wo unto them that shall be left in those days! and much more wo unto them that are not left behind!
 17 For they that were not left were in ^c heaviness.
 18 Now understand I the things that are laid up in the latter days, which shall happen unto them, and to those that are left behind.
 19 Therefore are they come into great ^c perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare.
 20 Yet is it easier for him that is in danger to come into these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that happen in the last days. And he answered unto me, and said, 21 ^a The interpretation of the vision shall I shew thee, and I will open unto thee the thing that thou hast required.
 22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation:
 23 He that shall ^a endure the peril in that time hath kept himself: they that be fallen into danger are such as have works, and faith toward the Almighty.
 24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead.
 25 ^c This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea:
 26 The same is he whom God the Highest ^c hath kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.
 27 And whereas thou sawest, ^c that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wind, and fire, and storm:
 28 And that he held ^c neither sword, nor any instrument of war, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him; this is the interpretation:
 29 Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.
 30 And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.
 31 And ^c one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.
 32 And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall ^c my Son be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.
 33 And when all the people hear his voice, every man shall in their own land leave the battle they have one against another.
 34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest them, willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.
 35 But he shall ^c stand upon the top of the mount Sion.
 36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill graven without hands.
 37 And this my Son shall ^c rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest:
 38 And shall lay before them their ^c evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like unto fire.
 39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another ^c peaceable multitude unto him:
 40 Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Osean the king, whom ^c Salmanassar the king of Assyria led away captive, and he carried them over the ^c waters, and so came they into another land.
 41 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, 42 That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land.

43 And they entered into ^e Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river.

44 For the Most High then shewed ^d signs for them, and held still the flood, till they were passed over.

45 For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called ^{||} Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they shall begin to come,

47 The Highest shall ^e stay the springs of the stream again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But those that be left behind of thy people, are they that are found within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, ^f he shall defend his people that remain.

50 And then shall he shew them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: Wherefore have I seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea?

52 And he said unto me, ^g Like as thou canst neither seek out nor know the things that are in the deep of the sea: even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the day time.

53 This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and whereby thou ^h only art here lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine own way, and applied thy diligence unto my law, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called understanding thy mother.

56 And therefore have I shewed thee the treasures of the Highest: after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things.

57 Then went I forth into ⁱ the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, which he did in time;

58 And because he governeth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons; and there I sat ^k three days.

CHAPTER XIV.

2 A voice out of a bush calleth Esdras, and telleth him that the world wazeth old—

22 He deserveth, because the law was burnt, to write all again, and is bid to get swift writers.—23 He and they are filled with understanding.—24 But he is charged not to publish all that is written.

AND it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and behold, there came a voice ^a out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord. And I stood up upon my feet.

3 Then said he unto me, ^b In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself unto Moses, and talked with him, when my people served in Egypt:

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him up to the ^c mount of Sinai, where I held him by me a long season,

5 And told him many ^d wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end; and commanded him, saying,

6 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say unto thee,

8 That thou lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the ^e dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard:

9 For thou shalt be ^f taken away from all, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with my Son, and with such as be like thee, until the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, ^g and the times begin to wax old.

11 For the world is divided into twelve parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and half of a tenth part:

12 And there remaineth that which is after the half of the tenth part:

13 Now therefore ^h set thy house in order, and reprove thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption.

14 Let go from thee mortal thoughts, cast away the burdens of man, put off now the weak nature, 15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heavy unto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times.

16 For ⁱ yet greater evils than those which thou hast seen happen shall be done hereafter.

17 For look how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein.

18 For the truth is fled far away, and leasing is hard at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come ^k which thou hast seen.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said,

20 Behold, Lord, I will go, as thou hast commanded me and reprove the people which are present: but they that shall be born afterward, ^l who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall begin.

22 But if I have found grace before thee, ^m send the Holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, which were written in thy law, that men may find thy path, and that they which will live in the latter days may live.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, that they seek thee not ⁿ for forty days.

24 But look thou prepare thee many ^{||} box-trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria Selemia, ^{||} Ecanus, and Asiel, these five which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And ^o come hither, and I shall light a candle of understanding in thy heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish, and some things shalt thou shew secretly to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin ^p to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commanded, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Hear these words, ^q O Israel.

29 ^r Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were delivered:

30 ^s And received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, even the land of Sion, ^t parted among you by lot: but your fathers, and ye yourselves, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Highest commanded you.

32 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you in time the thing that he had given you.

33 And now ^u are ye here and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your own understanding, and reform your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall ^v obtain mercy.

35 For after death shall the judgment come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared.

36 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these ^w forty days.

37 So I took ^x the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 And the next day, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, ^y open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory:

41 And my ^z mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The Highest gave understanding unto the five men, ^{aa} and they wrote the wonderful visions of the night that were told, which they knew not: and they sat ^{ab} forty days, and they wrote in the day, and at night they ate bread.

43 As for me, I spake in the day, ^{ac} and I held not my tongue by night.

44 In forty days they wrote ^{ad} two hundred and four books.

45 And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written ^{ae} I publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may read it:

46 But keep the seventy last, ^{af} that thou mayest deliver them only to such as be ^{ag} wise among the people:

47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and ^{ah} the stream of knowledge.

48 And I did so.

CHAPTER XV.

1 This prophecy is certain... 5 God will take vengeance upon the wicked, and upon Egypt... 23 An horrible vision... 43 Babylon and Asia are threatened.

BEHOOLD, speak thou in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord: 2 And cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true.

3 Fear not the imaginations against thee; let not the incredulity of them trouble thee, that speak against thee. 4 For all the unfaithful shall die in their unfaithfulness.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring down plagues upon the world; the sword, famine, death, and destruction.

6 For wickedness hath exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtful works are fulfilled.

7 Therefore saith the Lord, 8 I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things in which they wickedly exercise themselves: behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the just complain continually.

9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is as led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:

11 But I will bring them with a mighty hand and a stretched-out arm, and I will smite Egypt with plagues, as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring upon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fail through the blasting and hail, and with a fearful constellation.

14 Wo to the world and them that dwell therein! 15 For the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand up to fight against another, and swords in their hands.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and invading one another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power. 17 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid. 19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.

21 Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God.

22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth.

23 The fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled.

24 Wo to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord:

25 I will not spare them: go your way, ye children, from the power, defile not my sanctuary.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sin against him, and therefore delivereth he them unto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold a horrible vision, and the appearance thereof from the east:

29 Where the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the wind upon earth, that all they which hear them may fear and tremble.

30 Also the Carmanians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, 32 Then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall flee.

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be fear and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm.

35 They shall smite one upon another, and they shall smite down a great multitude of stars upon the earth, even their own star; and blood shall be from the sword unto the belly, 36 And dung of men unto the camel's hough.

37 And there shall be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.

38 And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.

39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open it; and the cloud which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear toward the east and west wind, shall be destroyed.

40 The great and mighty clouds shall be lifted up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent place a horrible star, 41 Fire, and hail, and tiding swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.

43 And they shall go steadfastly unto Babylon, and make her afraid.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail her.

45 And they that remain under her shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.

46 And thou, Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Wo be unto thee, thou wretched, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; and hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired to commit whoredom with thee!

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues upon thee; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.

51 Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive thee.

52 Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord.

53 If thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, and saying over their dead, when thou wast drunken.

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?

55 The reward of thy whoredom shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompense.

56 Like as thou hast done unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief.

57 Thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.

58 They that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou as unhappy shalt come through the sea, and receive plagues again.

60 And in the passage they shall rush on the idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and consume part of thy glory, and shall return to Babylon that was destroyed.

61 And thou shalt be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire;

62 And ϵ shall consume thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carry away captive, and look what thou hast, they shall spoil it, and $\parallel$ mar the beauty of thy face.

CHAPTER XVI.

¹ Babylon and other places are threatened with plagues that cannot be avoided, and with desolation. ⁴⁰ The servants of the Lord must look for troubles; and not hide their sins, but leave them, and they shall be delivered.

WO be unto thee, ^a Babylon, and ^b Asia! wo be unto thee, ^c Egypt, and ^d Syria!

2 ϵ Gird up yourselves with cloths of sack and hair, bewail your children, and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?

5 ϵ Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?

6 May any man drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn?

7 May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer? 8 The ϵ mighty Lord sendeth the plagues, and who is he that can drive them away?

9 A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?

10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; ^b the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, ^c and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth.

15 The fire is kindled, ^d and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundation of the earth.

16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward: even so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth shall not return again.

17 Wo is me! wo is me! who will deliver me in those days?

18 ^a The beginning of sorrows and great mournings; the beginning of famine and great death; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils! what shall I do when these evils shall come?

19 Behold, famine and plague, ^b tribulation and anguish, are sent as scourges for amendment.

20 But for all these things they shall not turn from their wickedness, nor be always mindful of thy scourges.

21 Behold, victuals shall be so good, cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall $\parallel$ evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.

22 ϵ For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the others that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy.

23 And the dead shall ϵ be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast down.

24 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.

25 The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them?

26 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? ^a for all places shall be desolate of men;

27 So that one man shall desire to see another, and to hear his voice.

28 For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thick groves, ^c and in the clefts of the rocks.

29 As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there are left three or four olives;

30 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some clusters of them that diligently seek through the vineyard:

31 Even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword.

32 And the earth shall be laid waste, and the fields thereof shall wax old, and her ways and all her paths shall grow full of thorns, because no man shall travel there-through.

33 ϵ The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers.

34 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ^a ye servants of the Lord. ^b Ps. 135, 1.

36 Behold the word of the Lord, receive it: believe not the gods of whom the Lord spake.

37 Behold, the ϵ plagues draw nigh, and are not slack. ^c verse 8.

38 As when a woman with child in the ninth month bringeth forth her son, within two or three hours of her birth great pains compass her womb, which pains, when the child cometh forth, they slack not a moment:

39 Even so shall not the plagues be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall mourn, ^d and sorrows shall come upon it on every side. ^e verses 18, 19.

40 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even ϵ as pilgrims upon the earth.

41 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:

42 He that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

43 He that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that planteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

44 ϵ They that marry, as they that shall get no children: and they that marry not, as the widowers. ^f 1 Cor. 7, 26.

45 And therefore they that labour, labour in vain:

46 ϵ For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, ^g and take their children captives, for in captivity and famine shall they get children. ^h Deut. 28, 41.

47 And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons:

48 The more will I be angry with them for their sin, saith the Lord.

49 Like as a whore envieth a right honest and virtuous woman:

50 So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when she cometh that shall defend him that diligently ϵ searcheth out every sin upon earth. ⁱ Jer. 17, 10.

51 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof.

52 For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.

53 Let not the sinner say ϵ that he hath not sinned: for God shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith before the Lord God and his glory, I have not sinned. ^j 1 John 1, 10.

54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, ^k their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts: ^l 1 Cor. 15, 15.

55 Which spake but the word, Let the earth be made: ^m and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was created. ⁿ Gen. 1, 1.

56 In his word were the stars made, and he knoweth the number of them.

57 He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth. ^o Ps. 147, 4.

58 He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he ϵ hanged the earth upon the waters. ^p Job 26, 7.

59 He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it.

60 In ϵ the desert hath he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth. ^q 1 Cor. 11, 18.

61 ϵ He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding. ^r 1 Cor. 11, 18.

62 Yea, and the ϵ Spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, ^s and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth, ^t 1 Cor. 2, 10.

63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what ye think in your hearts, even them that sin, ^u and would hide their sin. ^v Job 31, 22.

64 Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame.

65 And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.

66 What will ye do? ϵ or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels? ^w Ps. 159, 9.

67 Behold, ϵ God himself is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble. ^x Ps. 55, 6, 75, 7.

CHAPTER I.

1 Tobit's stock and devotion in his youth... 13 His marriage and captivity... 13 His prophet, him and charity in burying the dead; for which he is accused and fleeth, and after returned to Nineve.

THE book of the || words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Ananai, the son of Adiel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe * of Nephthali;

2 Who in the time of * Enemessar king of the Assyrians was led captive out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called || properly Nephthali in Galilee above Aser.

3 I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the way of truth and justice, and I did many alms-deeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine own country in the land of Israel, being but young, * all the tribe of Nephthali my father fell from the house of Jerusalem, * which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the Most High was consecrated and built for all ages.

5 Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali, sacrificed || unto the * heifer Baal.

6 But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree,
 * having the first-fruits and tenths of increase, with that which was first shorn; and them gave I at the altar to the priests the children of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of || Aaron, who ministered at Jerusalem: another tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it every year at Jerusalem:

8 And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, * as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father.

9 Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine * own kindred, and of her I begat Tobias.

10 And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred, did eat of the * bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept * myself from eating;

12 Because I remembered God with all my heart.

13 And the Most High gave me grace and favour before Enemessar, so that I was his * purveyor.

14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, || at Rages, a city of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 Now when Enemessar was dead, Semachorih his son reigned in his stead; * whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Media.

16 And in the time of Enemessar I gave many alms to my brethren, * and gave my bread to the hungry,

17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast || about the walls of Nineve, I buried him.

18 And if the king Semachorih had slain any, when he was come, and I fled from Judea, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he killed many; but the bodies were not found, when they were sought for of the king.

19 And when one of the Ninevites went and complained of me to the king, that I buried them, and hid myself; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, * I withdrew myself for fear.

20 Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there any thing left me, besides my wife Anna and my son Tobias.

21 And there passed not five and fifty days before two of his sons * killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath;

74 Hear, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord; behold the days of trouble are at hand, but I will deliver you from the same.
 75 Be ye not afraid, neither doubt; for God is your * Isa. 41, 10.
 guide. t Ps. 35, 14.
 76 And the * guide of them who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God: let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.
 77 We be unto them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through!
 78 It is || left undressed, and is cast into the fire * to be consumed therewith. o Heb. 6, 8.

TOBIT.

and || Sarchedonius his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his fathers accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiachar-us my brother Anael's son.

22 And Achiacharus entreating for me, I returned to * Nineve.
 Now Achiacharus was * cup-bearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward and overseer of the accounts: and || Sarchedonius appointed him next unto him; and he was my brother's son.

CHAPTER II.

1 Tobit leaveth his meat to bury the dead, and becometh blind... 11 His wife taketh in work to get her living... 14 Her husband and she fall out about a kid.

NOW when I was come home again, and * my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is * the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in which I sat down to eat.

2 And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go and bring what * poor man soever thou shalt find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and lo, I tarry for thee.

3 But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market-place.

4 Then before I had tasted of my meat, I started up, and took him up into a room until the going down of the sun.

5 Then I returned, and washed myself, and ate my meat in heaviness.

6 Remembering that prophecy of * Amos, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.

7 Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun
 I went * and made a grave, and buried him.

8 But my neighbours mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this matter: * who fled away;
 and yet lo, he buryeth the dead again.

9 The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my court-yard, * being polluted, and my face was uncovered:

10 And I knew not that there were || sparrows in the wall, and mine eyes being open, the sparrows nested warm dung into mine eyes, and || a whiteness came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, but they helped me not: moreover, Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elymais.

11 And my wife Anna || did take women's works to do.

12 And when she had sent || ther: home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid.

13 And when it was in my house, and began to cry, I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stolen? render it to the owners; * for it is not lawful to eat any thing that is stolen.

14 But she replied upon me, It was given for a gift more than the wages. Howbeit I did not believe her, but bade her render it to the owners: and I was abashed at her. But she replied upon me, * Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds? || behold, thou and all thy works are known.

CHAPTER III.

1 Tobit grieved with his wife's taunts, prayeth... 7 Sara, reproached by her father's unids, prayeth also... 17 An angel is sent to help them both.

WHEN I being grieved * did weep, and in my sorrow prayed, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art just, * and all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest truly and justly for ever.

3 Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sins and ignorances, * and the sins of my fathers, who have sinned before thee:

4 For they obeyed not thy commandments; wherefore thou hast delivered us for a spoil, and unto captivity, and unto death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

^e Rev. 13.
2. 5 And now thy judgments are many and true : deal with me according to my sins and my fathers : because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

^f 1 Sam. 3.
18. 6 Now therefore deal with me as seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be dissolved, and become earth : for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow : command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place : turn not thy face away from me.

^g Luke 16.
9. 7 It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane a city of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel was also reproached by her father's maids :

ⁿ See Mat.
22, 23, 26. 8 Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evil spirit had killed before they had lien with her. Dost thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thy husbands ? thou hast had already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

ⁱ ver. c. 8. 9 Wherefore dost thou heat us for them ? if they be dead, go thy ways after them, let us never see of thee either. on or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was very sorrowful, so that she thought to have strangled herself ; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring his old age with sorrow into the grave.

^k Dan. 6, 10. 11 Then she prayed towards the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and thy holy and glorious name is blessed and honourable for ever : let all thy works praise thee for ever.

12 And now, O Lord, I set mine eyes and my face towards thee.

^m Jonah 4.
3, 6. 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may hear no more the reproach.

ⁿ ver. 10. 14 Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, 15 And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity ; I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to be his heir, neither any near kinsman, nor any son of his alive, to whom I may keep myself for a wife : my seven husbands are already dead ; and why should I live ? but if it please not thee that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.

^p Ps. 65, 2. 16 So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great God.

^q ch. 2, 10.

The self-same time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

³ Tobit giveth instructions to his son Tobias, and telleth him of money left with Gabael in Media.

^b ch. 3, 13, 15. IN that day Tobit remembered the money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media,

^m Ecclus. 35, 10. 7 Give alms of thy substance ; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious, neither turn thy face from any poor, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.

8 If thou hast abundance, give alms accordingly : if thou have but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little :

ⁿ Mat. 5, 20. 9 For thou hast up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity.

10 Because that alms do deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness.

11 For alms is a good gift unto all that give it in the sight of the Most High.

12 Beware of all whoredom, my son, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy father's tribe : for we are the children of the prophets, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob : remember, my son, that our fathers from the beginning, even that they all married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.

13 Now therefore, my son, love thy brethren, and despise not in thy heart thy brethren, the sons and daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them : for in pride is destruction and much trouble, and in lewdness is decay and great want : for lewdness is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tarry with thee, but give him it out of hand : for if thou serve God, he will also repay thee : be circumspect, my son, in all things thou doest, and be wise in all thy conversation.

15 Do that to no man which thou hatest : drink not wine to make thee drunken : neither let drunkenness go with thee in thy journey.

16 Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked ; and according to thine abundance give alms ; and let not thine eye be envious, when thou givest alms.

17 Pour out thy bread on the burial of the just, but give nothing to the wicked.

18 Ask counsel of all that are wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable.

19 Bless the Lord thy God always, and desire of him that thy ways may be directed, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper : for every nation hath not counsel ; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will ; now therefore, my son, remember my commandments, neither let them be put out of thy mind.

20 And now I signify this to thee, that I committed ten talents to Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

21 And fear not, my son, that we are made poor : for thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

CHAPTER V.

⁴ Young Tobias seeketh a guide into Media. The angel will go with him, and smith he is his kinsman. Tobias and the angel depart together. Tobias his mother is grieved for her son's departing.

TOBIAS then answered and said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me :

2 But how can I receive the money, seeing I know him not ?

3 Then he gave him the hand-writing, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which may go with thee, while I yet live, and I will give him wages : and go and receive the money.

4 Therefore when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.

5 But he knew not ; and he said unto him, Canst thou go with me to Rages ? and knowest thou those places well ?

6 To whom the angel said, I will go with thee, and I know the way well : for I have lodged with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias said unto him, tarry for me, till I tell my father.

8 Then he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.

10 Then Tobit said unto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.

11 To whom he said, Dost thou seek for a tribe or family, or a hired man to go with thy son ? Then Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and name.

12 Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

13 Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother ; be not now angry with me, because I have inquired to know thy tribe and thy family : for thou art my brother, of an honest and good stock : for I know Ananias and Jonathas, sons of that great Sumaias, as we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first-born, and the tenths of the fruits : and they were not seduced with the error of our brethren : my brother, thou art of a good stock.

14 But tell me, what wages shall I give thee ? wilt thou a drachm a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son ?

16 So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, prepare thyself for the journey, * and God send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God, which dwelleth in heaven, prosper your journey, and the ¹ angel of God keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young man's dog with them.

17 But ^m Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobias, Why hast thou sent away our son? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?

18 ^h Be not greedy to add money to money, but let it be as refuse in respect of our child.

19 ^h For that which the Lord hath given us to live with, doth suffice us.

20 Then said Tohit to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return in safety, and thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good angel will keep him company, and his journey shall be prosperous, * and he shall return safe.

22 Then she made an end of weeping.

CHAPTER VI.

⁴ The angel Rabbeth Taddas to take the liver, heart, and gall out of a fish, and to marry Sam the daughter of Raguel. ¹⁶ He teacheth how to drive the wicked spirit away.

AND as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, * and they lodged there.

2 And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.

3 Then the ¹ angel said unto him, Take the fish. And the young man laid hold of the fish, ^h and drew it to land.

4 To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely.

5 So the young man did as the angel commanded him; and when they had roasted the fish, they did eat it: then they both went on their way, till they drew near to ^o Ecbatane.

6 Then the young man said to the angel, Brother ⁴ Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish?

7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath ^o whiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 And when they were come near to Rages,

10 The angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with ^o Raguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter, named ^o Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doth the ^h right of her appertain, seeing thou only art of her kindred.

12 And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another according to the law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance doth rather appertain to thee than to any other.

13 Then the young man answered the angel, I have heard, brother Azarias, ¹ that this maid hath been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber.

14 ^h And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest, if I go in unto her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit loveth her, which hurteth no body, but those which come unto her: wherefore I also fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life, because of me, to the grave with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.

15 Then the angel said unto him, ^m Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine own kindred? wherefore hear me, O my brother; for she shall be given thee to wife; and make thou no reckoning of the ^o evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt come into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take the ^h ashes of perfume, * and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke with it:

17 And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, ^h and pray to God ^o which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning; and thou shalt preserve her, and

^r she shall go with thee. Moreover, I suppose that she shall bear thee children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was || effectually joined to her.

 CHAPTER VII.
 1 Raguel desired Tobias what had happened to his daughter.—12 He giveth her in marriage unto Edna.—17 She is conveyed to her chamber, and weepeth.—18 Her mother comforteth her.
AND when they were come to ¹ Ecabate, they came to the house of Raguel, ² and Sara met them; and || after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.
 2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin!
 3 And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren?
 To whom they said, We are of the sons of ⁴ Nephthali, ⁵ which are captives in Nineve.
 4 Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman?
 And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?
 5 And they said, He is both alive and in good health: and Tobias said, ⁶ He is my father.
 6 Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept, 7 And blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful, and wept.
 8 And likewise ⁹ Edna his wife and Sara his daughter wept.
 Moreover, they entertained them cheerfully; and || after that they had killed ¹⁰ a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to ¹¹ Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let this business be despatched.
 9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry:
 10 For it is meet that thou shouldst marry my daughter nevertheless, I will declare unto thee the truth.
 11 I have given my daughter in marriage to ¹² seven men who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless, for this present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here till we agree and swear one to another.
 12 Raguel said, Then take her from henceforth according to the manner, for thou art her cousin, and she is thine, and the merciful God give you good success in all things.
 13 Then he ¹⁴ called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after ¹⁵ the law of Moses and lead her away to thy father. ¹⁶ And he blessed them; 14 And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of ¹⁷ covenants, ¹⁸ and sealed it.
 15 Then they began to eat.
 16 After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare another ¹⁹ chamber, and bring her in thither.
 17 Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: and she wept, and she || received the tear of her daughter, and said unto her, 18 Be of good comfort, my daughter; ¹⁹ the Lord of heaven and earth give thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort my daughter.
 CHAPTER VIII.
 1 Tobias driveth the wicked spirit away, as he was taught.—4 He and his wife rise to pray.—10 Raguel thought he was dead, but finding him alive, praiseth God, and maketh a wedding feast.
AND when they had ² supped, they brought Tobias in under her.
 2 And as he went he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the || ashes of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, ³ and made a smoke therewith.
 3 The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he flew into the utmost parts of Egypt, and ⁴ the angel bound him.
 4 And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, ⁵ and let us pray that God would have pity on us.
 5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures.
 6 ⁷ Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for helper and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone; let us make unto him a like unto himself.
 7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, ⁸ but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain that we may be considered together.
 8 And she said with him, ⁹ Amen.
 9 So they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and made a grave,
 10 Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.

- 11 But when Raguel was come into his house, 12 He said unto his ^b wife Edna, Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive : if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.
 13 So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep.
 14 And came forth, and told them that he was alive.
 15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise ; and therefore let thy saints praise thee with all thy creatures ; and let all thine angels and thine elect praise thee for ever.
 16 Thou art to be praised, ^a for thou hast made me joyful ; and that is not come to me, which I suspected ; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.
 17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of ¹ two that were the only-begotten children of their fathers : grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.
 18 Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.
 19 And he kept the ^m wedding-feast fourteen days.
 20 For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raguel had said unto him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired ; 21 And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father ; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

CHAPTER IX.

¹ Tobias sendeth the angel unto Gabael for the money. ^{2, 6} The angel bringeth it and Gabael to the wedding.

- ^a ch. 5, 4. THEN Tobias called ^a Raphael, and said unto him, 2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to ^b Rages of Media, to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.
 3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.
 4 But my father counteth the days ; and if I tarry long, he will be very sorry.
 5 So Raphael went out, and lodged with ^c Gabael, and gave him the hand-writing : who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.
 6 And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding : and ^{||} Tobias blessed his wife.

CHAPTER X.

¹ Tobit and his wife long for their son. ⁷ She will not be comforted by her husband.
 10 Raguel sendeth Tobias and his wife away with half his goods, and blesseth them.

- ⁿ chap. 9, 4. NOW Tobit his father ^a counted every day : and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, 2 Then Tobit said, Are they detained ? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money ?
 3 Therefore he was very sorry.
 4 Then his wife said unto him, My son is dead, seeing he stayeth long ; and she began to bewail him, and said, 5 Now ^b I care for nothing, my son, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes.
 6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, ^c take no care, for he is safe.
 7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not ; my son is dead. And she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the day time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until ^d the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, 8 Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.
 9 But his father-in-law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee.
 10 But Tobias said, No ; but let me go to my father.
 11 Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money :
 12 And he blessed them, and ^e sent them away, saying,
 The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.
 13 And he said to his daughter, ^f Honour thy father and thy mother-in-law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee. And he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, my dear brother, and grant that I may see thy children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoice before the Lord : behold, I commit my daughter unto thee ^{||} of special trust : wherefore do not entreat her evil.

CHAPTER XI.

- ⁸ Tobias's mother sleeth her son coming. ¹⁰ His father meeteth him at the door, and receiveth his sight. ¹¹ He praiseth God, and welcome his daughter-in-law.
AFTER these things Tobias ^a went his way, praising God that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near unto ^b Nineve.
 2 Then ^c Raphael said to Tobias, thou knowest, brother, how thou didst leave thy father :
 3 Let us haste before thy wife, and prepare the house.
 4 And take in thy hand the gill of the fish. So they went their way, ^d and the dog went after them.
 5 Now Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son.
 6 And when she espied him coming, she said to his father,
 Behold, thy son cometh, and ^e the man that went with him.
 7 Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes.
 8 Therefore anoint thou his eyes with the gill, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and ^f the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see thee.
 9 Then Anna ran forth, and ^g fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, Seeing I have seen thee, my son, from henceforth ^h I am content to die. And they wept both.
 10 Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled ;
 but his son ran unto him, 11 And took hold of his father ; and he strake of the gill on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good hope my father.
 12 And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them ; 13 And ⁱ the whiteness pilled away from the corners of his eyes : and when he saw his son, he fell upon his neck.
 14 And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever ; and blessed are all thy holy angels : 15 For thou hast scourged, ^j and hast taken pity on me : for behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.
 16 Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of ^k Nineve, rejoicing, and praising God : and they which saw him go marvelled ^l because he had received his sight.
 17 But Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter :
 God be blessed, which hath brought thee unto us, and ^m blessed be thy father and thy mother. And there was joy among all his brethren which were at Nineve.
 18 And Achiacharus, ⁿ and Nasbas his brother's son, came :
 19 And Tobias's wedding was kept ^o seven days with great joy.
CHAPTER XII.
⁵ Tobit offereth half to the angel for his pains. ⁶ But he calleth them both aside, and exhorteth them. ¹⁵ He telleth them that he was an angel, and was seen no more.
THEN Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, My son, ^a see that the man have his wages, which went with thee, and thou must give him more.
 2 And Tobias said unto him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought :
 3 For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, ^b and made whole my wife, ^c and brought me the money, and likewise healed thee.
 4 Then the old man said, It is due unto him.
 5 So he called the angel, and he said unto him, ^d Take half of all that ye have brought, and go away in safety.
 6 Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him, and magnify him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all that live. ^e
 It is good to praise God, and exalt his name, and ^f honourably to shew forth the works of God ; therefore be not slack to praise him.
 7 It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you.
 8 Prayer is good with fasting, and alms, and righteousness.
 9 A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold :
 9 For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life :
 10 But they that sin ^h are enemies to their own life.
 11 Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.

15 I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One.
16 Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces:
for they feared.
17 But he said unto them, Fear not, for it shall go well with you; praise God therefore.
18 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God
I came: wherefore praise him for ever.
19 * All these days I did appear unto you; but I did neither 22 Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

CHAPTER XIII.

The thinking upon God, which Tobit wrote.

1 WHEN Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing, and said, Blessed be God that liveth for ever, and blessed be his kingdom.
2 * For he doth scourge, and hath mercy: he leadeth down to hell, and bringeth up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand.
3 * Confess him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel:
for he hath scattered us among them.
4 There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Lord, and he is the God our Father for ever.
5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.
6 * Hye turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a sinful nation. O ye sinners, turn and do justice before him: * who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?
7 I will extol my God, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoice in his greatness.
8 Let all men speak, * and let all praise him for his righteousness.
9 O Jerusalem, the holy city, || he will scourge thee for thy children's works, and will have mercy again on the sons of the righteous.
10 Give praise to the Lord, † for he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy, and || let him make joyful there in thee those that are captives, and love in thee for ever those that are miserable.
11 * Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; all generations shall praise thee with great joy.
12 Cursed are all they which hate thee, and blessed shall all be which love thee for ever.
13 Rejoice and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Lord of the just.
14 O blessed are they which love thee, for they shall rejoice in thy || peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowful for all thy scourges; for they shall rejoice for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.

15 Let * my soul bless God the great King.
16 For Jerusalem shall be built up with * sapphires, and emerals, and precious stone: thy walls, and towers, and battlements, with pure gold.

17 And * the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl, and carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Alleluia; and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God, which hath extolled it for ever.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 TOBIT wrote instructions to his son, specially to leave Nineve...11 He and his wife die, and are buried...12 Tobit is removed to Ecabane, and there dieeth, after he had heard of the destruction of Nineve.

SO Tobit made an end of praising God.
2 And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight years: * and he gave alms, and he || increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him.

3 And when he was very aged, he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take thy children; for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.

4 Go into Media, my son, for I surely believe those things which * Jonas the prophet spake of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown; and that for a time peace shall rather be in * Media; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land: and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time.

5 * And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, † but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled: and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it || for ever with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof.

6 And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truly,
* and shall bury their idols.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confess God and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice shall rejoice, shew-ing mercy to our brethren.

8 And now, my son, * depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to pass.

9 But keep thou the law and the commandments, † and shew thyself merciful and just, that it may go well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; but tarry no longer at Nineve. Remember, my son, how Aman handled

* Achicharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achicharus was || saved, but the other had his reward: for he went down into darkness. || Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death || which they had set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished.

11 Wherefore now, my son, † consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being a hundred and eight and fifty years old: and || he buried him honourably.

12 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to
* Ecabane to * Raguel his father-in-law,

13 Where he became old with honour, and he buried his father and mother-in-law honourably, and he || inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.

14 And he died at Ecabane in Media, * being a hundred and seven and twenty years old.

15 But before he died, he heard of † the destruction of Nineve, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus: and before his death he rejoiced over Nineve.

JUDITH.

CHAPTER I.

2 Arphaxad doth fortify Ecabane...3 Nabuchodonosor maketh war against him, and craveth aid...4 He liveth until those that would not aid him, and killeth Arphaxad, and returneth to Nineve.

IN the twelfth year of the reign of * Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve, † the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecabane,

2 And built in Ecabane * walls round about of stones hewn three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:

3 And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation three-score cubits:

4 And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen:

5 Even in those days king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.

6 And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill-

^c Dan. 10, 1. 7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwell in ^c Persia, and to all that dwell westward, and to those that dwell in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwell upon the sea coast,

^f John 4, 3. 8 And to those among the nations that were of Carmel, and Galad, and the higher ^f Galilee, and the great plain of Esdrelon,

^g John 4, 4. 9 And to all that were in ^g Samaria, and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Ch-lus, and Kades; ^h and the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem, ⁱ Gen. 15, 18. 10 Until ye come beyond Tais and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, until ye come to the borders of ⁱ Ethiopia.

^k Acts 8, 27. 11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battle; for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.

^l Acts 22, 3. 12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of ^l Cilicia, and ^m Damascus, and ⁿ Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till ye come to the borders of the two seas.

^o Isa. 7, 1. 13 Then he marched in battle-array with his power against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots,

^p verse 3. 14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the ^p towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

^q verse 13. 15 He took also ^q Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

^r verse 1. 16 So he returned afterward to ^r Nineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations, being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army, a hundred and twenty days.

CHAPTER II.

^a See ch. 1, 1. 1 Holofernes is appointed general, and charged to spare none that will not yield.—15 His army and provision.—23 The places which he won and wasted as he went.

^b ch. 1, 12. AND ^b in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should, ^c as he said, avenge himself on all the earth.

^c 1 Sam. 20, 7. & 25, 17. 2 So he called unto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and ^d concluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth.

^d verse 1. 3 Then they decreed to destroy ^d all flesh that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.

^e Gr. accom. 4 And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, which was ^e next unto him, and said unto him,

^f After the manner of the kings of Persia, to whose earth and water were wont to be given, to acknowledge that they were lords of land and sea. Herodotus. 5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen a hundred and twenty thousand; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand:

^g Exod. 15, 9. 6 And thou shalt go against all the west country, because they disobeyed my commandment.

^h 1 Sam. 17, 47. 7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare for me ^h earth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them:

ⁱ Gen. 15, 16. 8 So that their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow:

^j Gen. 15, 16. 9 And ^j I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.

^k Gen. 15, 16. 10 Thou therefore shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts: and if they will yield themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.

^l Gen. 15, 16. 11 But concerning them that rebel, let not thine eye spare them; but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.

^m chap. 1, 12. 12 For ^m as I live, and ⁿ by the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by my hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgress none of the commandments of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and defer not to do them.

^h ver. 2. 14 Then Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called ^h all the governors and captains, and the officers of the army of Assur;

ⁱ ver. 5. 15 And he mustered the chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback;

^k Judges 6, 5. 16 And he ranged them, as a great army is ordered for the war. 17 ^k And he took camels and asses for their carriages, a very great number; and sheep, and oxen, and goats without number, for their provision:

^l ver. 7. 18 And plenty of victual for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the king's house.

19 Then he went forth and all his power to go before king Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and ^l to cover all the face of the earth westward with the chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for the multitude was ^m without number.

ⁿ Gen. 10, 6. 22 Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen, and chariots, and went from thence into the hill-country;

^o Gen. 10, 22. 23 And destroyed ^o Phud and ^p Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of ^q Ismael, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians.

^p Gen. 16, 15. 24 Then he went over Euphrates, and went through ^r Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the ^s cities that were upon the river Ardonai, till ye come to the sea.

^q Acts 7, 2. 25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were towards the south, over against Arabia.

^r Exod. 2, 15. 26 He compassed also all the children of ^t Madian, and burned up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-cotes.

^s Ruth 2, 23. 27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascus in the time of ^u wheat harvest, and burned up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

^t Isa. 23, 4, 15. 28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, which were in ^v Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwell in Sur and Ceina, and all that dwell in Jemnaan; and they that dwell in ^w Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAPTER III.

^u They of the sea-coast feared for peace.—7 Holofernes is received there, yet he destroyed their gods, that they might worship only Nabuchodonosor.—9 He counth near to Judea.

^v 2 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor ^v the great king lie before thee; use us as shall be good in thy sight.

^w ch. 2, 27. 3 Behold, our houses, and all our places, ^w and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents, lie before thy face; use them as it pleaseth thee.

^x ch. 2, 1. 4 Behold, even our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy servants; come and deal with them as seemeth good unto thee.

5 So the men came to ^y Holofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.

^y Acts 11, 13. 6 Then came he down toward the sea-coast, both he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.

^z Ps. 150, 1. 7 So they and all the country round about received them with ^z garlands, with ^a dances, and with timbrels.

^a Or, Dotea, Dichea, Jannan, Gen. 37, 17. 8 Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

9 Also he came over against ^b Esdrelon near unto ^c Judea, over against the ^d great strait of Judea.

10 And he pitched between Geba and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole month, that he might gather together all the carriages of his array.

CHAPTER IV.

^b The Jews are afraid of Holofernes, and fortify the hill.—6 They of Bethulia take charge of the messengers.—9 All Israel fall to fasting and prayer.

^c ch. 4, 3. NOW the children of Israel that dwell in Judea, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, ^d and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

 5 And possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the 12 And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and truction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.

 tions: for the people fasted many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

 before the Lord, and they which ministered unto the Lord, and their loins girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt-offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people, 15 And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

CHAPTER V.

1 Achior telleth Holofernes what the Jews are, and what their God had done for them.
 21 He adviseth not to meddle with them. 22 All that heard him were offended at him.
THEN was it declared to Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill-country, and had fortified all the tops of the high-hills, and had laid impediments in the champaign countries:
 2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea-coast,
 3 And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Chanaan, who this people is that dwelleth in the hill-country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army;

 5 Then said Achior, the captain of all the sons of Ammon.
 Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will declare unto thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth near thee, and inhabiteth the hill-countries: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.
 6 This people are descended of the Chaldeans:
 7 And they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldaea.
 8 For they || left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days.
 9 Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan: where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low with labouring in brick, and made them slaves.

12 Then they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And God dried the Red Sea before them, 14 And brought them to mount Sina, and Cades-Barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Esehon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill-country.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, and the Sychemite, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that country many days.

17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hateth iniquity was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were lead captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were scattered, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill-country; for it was desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error in this people, and they sin against their God, let us consider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.

21 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea-side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.

23 For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that have no strength nor power for a strong battle.

24 Now therefore, lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Holofernes despiseth God; he threatneth Achior, and smelleth him away. 11 The Bethulians receive and hear him. 13 They fall to prayer, and comfort Achior.
AND when the tumult of men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Assur said unto Achior and all the Moabites before all the company of other nations,

2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the people of Israel, because their God will defend them? and who is God but Nahbuchodonosor?

3 He will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our horses.

4 For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, saith king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth: for he said,
 None of my words shall be in vain.

5 And thou, Achior, a hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.

6 And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I return.

7 Now therefore my servants shall bring thee back into the hill-country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the passages:
 8 And thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.
 9 And if thou persuade thyself in thy mind that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall : I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.

10 Then Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain into the hill-country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill, and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up by casting of stones against them.

13 Nevertheless, having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the city :

15 Which were in those days Ozias the son of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women, to the assembly, and they sat Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried unto God, saying, 19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.

21 And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders ; and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Holofernes besegeth Bethulia, and stoppeth the water from them. 22 They faint and murmur against the governors, who promise to yield within five days.

THE next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill-country, and to make war against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, besides the baggage, and other men that were about among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmāim, and in length from Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against Esdracelom.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, Now will these men lick up the face of the earth ; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, are able to bear their weight.

5 Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia ;

7 And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed toward his people.

8 Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the governors of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea-coast, and said, 9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine army.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle-array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain :

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence : so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.

14 So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrowen in the streets where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward ; because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill-country over against Dothaim : and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur ; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land ; and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty days, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day ; for they gave them drink by measure.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, 24 God be judge between us and you : for ye have done us great injury, in that ye have not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we have no helper : but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.

27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, than to die for thirst : for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives nor our children to die.

28 We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly ; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy toward us ; for he will not forsake us utterly.

31 And if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people, every one to their own charge ; and they went unto the walls and towers of their city, and sent the women and children into their houses : and they were very low brought in the city.

CHAPTER VIII.

The state and behaviour of Judith in widowhood. 12 She blameth the governors for their promise to yield, and adviseth them to trust in God. 22 They excuse their promise.

NOW at that time Judith heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari, the son of Oxi, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of stripe, who have purposed cruel things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel but thou.

CHAPTER X.

3 Judith setteth forth herself unto Sis and her maid go forth into the camp. 17 The watch take and conduct her to Holofernes.

NOW after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she abode in the sabbath days, and in her feast-days,

3 And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her ear-rings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread; so she folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the ancients of the city, Chabris and Charimis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers, give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye have spoken with me. So they commanded the young men to open unto her as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Judith went out, she, and her maid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,

12 And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:

13 And I am coming before Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth: and I will shew him a way whereby he shall go, and win all the hill-country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thy heart, but shew unto him according to thy word; and he will entreat thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them a hundred men to accompany her and her maid; and they brought her to the tent of Holofernes.

18 Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, till they told him of her.

19 And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay near Holofernes went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Holofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy, which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her; and he came out before his tent with silver lamps going before him.

23 And when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

CHAPTER XI.

3 Holofernes asketh Judith the cause of her coming. 20 He is much pleased with her wisdom and beauty.

JUDITH said Holofernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, the king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore, if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for safeguard; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter:

4 For none shall hurt thee, but endure thee well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judith said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thy handmaid to speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thy handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to pass by thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing; for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air, shall live by thy power under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou only art excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war.

9 Now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee.

10 Therefore, O Lord and governor, reject not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true; for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword prevail against them, except they sin against thy God.

11 And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke thy God to anger, whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done:

12 For their victuals fail them, and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things, that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws:

13 And are resolved to spend the first-fruits of the corn, and the tenths of wine and oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem before the face of our God; the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.

14 For they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a license from the senate.

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thy handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their persecuce; and God hath sent me to work things with thee, whereto all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall bear it.

17 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins:

18 And I will come and shew it unto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee through the midst of Judea, until thou come before Jerusalem; and I will set thy throne in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at thee: for if these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee.

20 Then her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said.
 21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.
 22 Likewise Holofernes said unto her, God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.
 23 And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.
CHAPTER XII.
 1 Judith will not eat of Holofernes' meat. 7 She tarrieth three days in the camp, and every night prayeth for the people. 13 Bagoas moveth her to be merry with Holofernes, who for joy of her company drinketh much.
THEN he commanded to bring her in, where his plate was set; and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.
 2 And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence: but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.
 3 Then Holofernes said unto her, If thy provision should fail, how should we give thee the like? for there be none within of thy nation.
 4 Then said Judith unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy handmaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined.
 5 Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was toward the morning watch.
 6 And sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that thy handmaid may go forth unto prayer.
 7 Then Holofernes commanded his guard that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three days, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself in a fountain of water by the camp.
 8 And when she came out, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.
 9 So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she did eat her meat at evening.
 10 And in the fourth day Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.
 11 Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.
 12 For lo, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she will laugh us to scorn.
 13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Holofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us, and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.
 14 Then said Judith unto him, Who am I now, that I should gainsay my lord? surely whatsoever pleaseth him I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy unto the day of my death.
 15 So she arose, and decked herself with her apparel, and all her women's attire, and her maid went and laid soft skins on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.
 16 Now when Judith came in and sat down, Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his mind was moved, and he desired greatly her company; for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.
 17 Then said Holofernes unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us.
 18 So Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born.
 19 Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.
 20 And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank much more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.
CHAPTER XIII.
 1 Judith is refrained with Holofernes in his tent. 13 She prayeth God to give her strength. 7 She cutteth off his head while he slept, and returneth with it to Bethulia. 17 They see her, and commend her.
 NOW when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord; and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.

 2 And Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying alone upon his bed: for he was filled with wine.
 3 Now Judith had commanded her maid to stand without her bed-chamber, and to wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.
 4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bed-chamber, neither little nor great. Then Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look at this present upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.
 5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.
 6 Then she came to the pillar of the bed which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his faction from thence.
 7 And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.
 8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him,
 9 And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid;
 10 And she put it in her bag of meat: so they twain went together according to their custom unto prayer: and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.
 11 Then said Judith afar off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God, is with us, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.
 12 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.
 13 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.
 14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise God, praise God, I say, for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hands this night.
 15 So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, and behold the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.
 16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.
 17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.
 18 Then said Ozias unto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women upon the earth: and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.
 19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.
 20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our ruin, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.
CHAPTER XIV.
 1 Achior heareth Judith shew what she had done, and is circumcised. 11 The head of Holofernes is hanged up. 15 He is found dead, and much lamented.
THEN said Judith unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.
 2 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take ye every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set ye a captain over them, as though ye would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians; but go not down.
 3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and they shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So ye, and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.

5 But before ye do these things, call me: Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; and when he was come, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and revered her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. Then Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all that she had done, from the day that she went forth until that hour she spake unto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.

10 And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel unto this day.

11 And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the straits of the mountain.

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, so that they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then went in Bagons, and knocked at the door of the tent; for he thought that he had slept with Judith.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cried with a loud voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After, he went into the tent where Judith lodged: and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried, 18 These slaves have dealt treacherously; one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground without a head.

19 When the captains of the Assyrians' army heard these words, they rent their coats, and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry and a very great noise throughout the camp.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The Assyrians are chased and slain. The high priest cometh to see Judith. The stuff of Holofernes is given to Judith. The women crown her with a garland. AND when they that were in the tents heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.

2 And fear and trembling fell upon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out all together, they fled into every way of the plain, and of the hill-country.

3 They also that had camped in the mountains round about Bethulia fled away. Then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Betonasthen, and to Bethai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coasts of Israel, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell upon them with one consent, and slew them unto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem, and from all the hill-country, (for men had told them what things were done in the camp of their enemies,) and they that were in Galad, and in Galilee, chased them with a great slaughter, until they were passed Damascus and the borders thereof.

6 And the residue, that dwelt in Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Assur, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the mountains and in the plain, gat many spoils; for the multitude was very great.

8 Then Joachim the high priest, and the ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things that God had showed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her.

9 And when they came unto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our nation:

10 Thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the camp the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuff: and she took it, and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.

13 And they put a garland of olive upon her and her maid that was with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

CHAPTER XVI.

2 The song of Judith. She dedicateth the stuff of Holofernes. She dieth at Bethulia, a widow of great honour. All Israel lament her death.

THEN Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.

2 And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with cymbals: tune unto him a new psalm: sing exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For God breaketh the battles: for among the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.

4 Assur came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.

5 He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.

6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans smite him, nor high giants set upon him: but Judith, the daughter of Merari, weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the garment of her widowhood for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a tire, and took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the fashion passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her boldness, and the Medes were daunted at her hardness.

11 Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud; but they were astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.

12 The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives' children: they perished by the battle of the Lord.

13 I will sing unto the Lord a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderful in strength, and invincible.

14 Let all creatures serve thee: for thou spakest, and they were made, thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for thy burnt-offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.

17 Wo to the nations that rise up against my kindred! the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh: and they shall feel them, and weep for ever.

18 Now as soon as they entered into Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord: and as soon as the people were purified, they 19 * Judith also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken out of his bed-chamber, for a gift unto the Lord.

20 So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them.

21 After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time * honourable in all the country.

22 And many desired her, but none * knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But * she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husband's house, being a hundred and five years old, and made her maid free ; so she died in Bethulia : and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses.

24 And the house of Israel lamented her seven days : and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

¶ The rest of the Chapters of the Book of ESTHER, which are found neither in the Hebrew, nor in the Chaldee.

Part of the Tenth Chapter after the Greek.

Mardocheus remembereth and expoundeth his dream of the river and the two dragons.

THEN Mardocheus said, * God hath done these things. 5 For I remember a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.

6 * A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water : this river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen.

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the nations were those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews :

9 And my nation is this Israel, which cried to God, * and were saved : for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all those evils, * and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made * two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgment, before God among all nations.

12 So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, according to the generations for ever among his people.

CHAPTER XI.

3 The stock and quality of Mardocheus. 6 He dreameth of two dragons coming forth to fight, and of a little fountain which became a great water.

IN the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemus his son, brought this epistle of Phurim, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemus, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2 In the second year of the reign of * Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, * Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semel, the son of Cisai of the tribe of Benjamin, * had a dream ;

3 Who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the king's court.

4 He was also one of the captives, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jeconias king of Judea ; and this was his dream.

5 Behold, a noise of a tumult, with thunder, and earthquakes, and uproar in the land :

6 And behold, * two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their cry was great.

7 And at their cry all nations were prepared to battle, that they might fight against * the righteous people.

8 And lo, a day of * darkness and obscurity, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar, upon the earth.

9 And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.

10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, * as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.

11 * The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare this dream in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it.

CHAPTER XII.

2 The conspiracy of the two eunuchs is discovered by Mardocheus, for which he is entertained by the king, and rewarded.

AND Mardocheus took his rest in the court * with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.

2 * And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king ; and so he certified the king of them.

3 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, * they were strangled.

4 And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.

5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, * and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit * Aman the son of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 The copy of the king's letters to destroy the Jews. 8 The prayer of Mardocheus for them.

THE copy of the letters was this : The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and governors that are under him from * India unto Ethiopia, in a hundred and seven and twenty provinces.

2 After that I became lord * over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom || peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace which is desired of all men.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, * Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and steadfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom,

4 Declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered * a certain malicious people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot || go forward.

5 Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition unto all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evil-affected to our state, * working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established :

6 Therefore have we commanded, that all they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is || next unto us, shall all with their wives and children be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month * Adar of this present year :

7 That they who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into the grave, and so ever hereafter cease our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

8 Then Mardocheus * thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, the King Almighty : for the whole world * is in thy power, and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee :

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, * that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman.

13 For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet.

14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I worship any but thee, O God, neither will I do it in pride.

15 And now, O Lord God and King, * spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought; yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance, that hath been thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not * the portion which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self.

17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: turn our sorrow unto joy, that we may live, O Lord, * and praise thy name; and || destroy not the mouths of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 All Israel in like manner cried most * earnestly unto the Lord, because their death was before their eyes.

CHAPTER XIV.

The prayer of queen Esther for herself and her people.

QUEEN Esther also being in fear of death, * resorted unto the Lord:

2 * And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.

3 And * she prayed unto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me, desolate woman, which have no helper but thee:

4 * For my danger is in my hand.

5 * From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from all their predecessors, for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast performed whatsoever thou didst promise them.

6 And now we have sinned before thee: therefore hast thou given us into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols,

9 That they will abolish the thing * that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy * thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and of thine altar,

10 And open the mouths of the heathen * to set forth the praises of the * idols, and to magnify a fleshly king for ever.

11 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that * be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us.

12 * Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the || nations, and Lord of all power.

13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of all that are like minded to him: 14 But deliver us with thy hand, and help me that * am desolate, and which have no other helper but thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord; thou knowest * that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of * all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessity: for I abhor the sign of my * high estate, which is upon my head in the days wherein I shew myself, and that I abhor it as a menstuous rag, and that I wear it not when I am * private by myself.

17 And that thy handmaid hath not eaten at * Aman's table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink-offerings.

18 Neither had thy handmaid any joy since the day * that I was brought: hither to this present, * but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mighty God above all, hear the voice of the * forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

CHAPTER XV.

6 Esther cometh into the king's presence....7 He looked angrily, and she fainted....8 The king taketh her up and comforteth her.

AND * upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, * she laid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.

2 And being gloriously adorned, * after she had called upon God, who is the beholder and saviour of all things, she took two maids with her:

3 And upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself || daintily; 4 And the other followed, bearing up her train.

5 And she was || ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and || very amiable: * but her heart was in anguish for fear.

6 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, * who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful.

7 Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her: and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went || before her.

8 Then * God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who * in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with loving words, and said unto her,

9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer:

10 Thou shalt not die, though * our commandment be || general: come near.

11 And * so he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, 12 And embraced her, and said, Speak unto me.

13 Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, * and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.

14 For wonderful art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.

15 And as she was speaking, || she fell down for faintness.

16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants * comforted her.

CHAPTER XVI.

The letter of Artaxerxes, wherein he taxeth Aman, and revoketh the decree procured by Aman to destroy the Jews, and commandeth the day of their deliverance to be kept holy.

THE great king Artaxerxes unto the princes and governors of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto all || our faithful subjects, greeting.

2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of * thy gracious princes, the more proud they are waxen,

3 And endeavour * to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practise also against those that do them good:

4 And take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the glorious words of || lewd persons, || that were never good, they think to escape the justice of God, that seeth all things, and hateth evil.

5 Oftentimes also fair speech || of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remediless calamities:

6 Beguiling with the falsehood and deceit of their lewd disposition * the innocency and goodness of princes.

7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilential behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.

8 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be * quiet and peaceable for all men, 9 Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident with more equal proceeding.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, and as a stranger received of us, 11 * Had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the king.

12 But he, not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and lie:

13 * Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blameless Esther, partaker of our kingdom, with their whole nation.

15 But we find that the Jews, whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, * are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws :
16 And that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath || ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner.
17 Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution * the letters sent unto you by Anan the son of Anadatha.
18 For he, that was the worker of these things, * is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family : God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.
19 * Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.

20 And ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirtieth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.
21 For Almighty God hath turned to joy unto them * the day wherein the chosen people should have perished.
22 Ye shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it a high day with all feasting :
23 That both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well-affected Persians ; * but to those which do conspire against us, a memorial of destruction.
24 * Therefore every city and country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy, with fire and sword, and shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

¶ The WISDOM of SOLOMON.

CHAPTER I.

2 To whom God sheweth himself, and wisdom herself. An evil speaker cannot lie.
2 LOVE * righteousness, ye that he judges of the earth : think of the Lord with a good (heart), and in simplicity of heart seek him.
2 For he will be found of them * that tempt him not ; and sheweth himself unto such as do not * distrust him.
3 For froward thoughts separate from God : and his power, when it is tried, || reproveh the unwise.
4 For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter ; nor dwell in the body that is subject unto sin.
5 * For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and || will not abide when unrighteousness cometh in.
6 For wisdom is a * loving spirit ; and will not acquit a blasphemer of his || words ; for God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.
7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth the world : and that which || containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.
8 Therefore he that speaketh unrighteous things * cannot be hid : neither shall vengeance, when it punisheth, pass by him.
9 For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly : and the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord for the || manifestation of his wicked deeds.
10 For the ear of jealousy heareth all things : and the noise of murmurings is not hid.
11 Therefore beware of * murmuring, which is unprofitable ; and refrain your tongue from backbiting : for there is no word so secret, that shall go for nought : and the mouth that || believeth, slayeth the soul.
12 Seek not death in the error of your life : and pull not upon yourselves * destruction with the works of your hands.
13 For God made not death : * neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.
14 For * he created all things, that they might have their being : and the generations of the world were healthful : and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdom of death upon the earth :
15 (For righteousness is immortal :)
16 * But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them : for when they thought to have it their friend, they consumed to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.

CHAPTER II.

1 The wicked think this life short, and of no other after this....⁶ Therefore they will take their pleasure in this, and conspire against the just....²¹ What that is which doth blind them.
FOR the ungodly said, reasoning with themselves, but not aright, * Our life is short and tedious, * and in the death of a man there is no remedy : neither was there any man known to have returned from the grave.
2 For we are born at all adventure : and we shall be hereafter as though we had never been : for the breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our heart :
3 Which being extinguished, * our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the || soft air,
4 And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as the mist that is driven away with the beams of the sun, and || overcome with the heat thereof.

5 * For our time is a very shadow that passeth away ; and after our end there is no returning : for || it is fast sealed, so that no man cometh again.
6 Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good things * that are present : and let us || speedily use the creatures like as in youth.
7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and ointments : and let no flower of the spring pass by us :
8 Let us crown ourselves with rose-buds, * before they be withered.
9 Let none of us go without his part of our || voluptuousness : let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place : * for this is our portion, and our lot is this.
10 * Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.
11 Let our strength be the law of justice : for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.
12 Therefore * let us lie in wait for the righteous ; because he is not for our turn, and he is clean contrary to our doings : he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressions of our education.
13 * He professeth to have the knowledge of God : and he calleth himself the child of the Lord.
14 He was made to * reprove our thoughts.
15 * He is grievous unto us even to behold : for his life is not like other men's, his ways are of another fashion.
16 We are esteemed of him as || counterfeits : he abstaineth from our ways as from filthiness : he pronounceth * the end of the just to be blessed, and maketh his boast that God is his father.
17 Let us see if his words be true : and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him.
18 For if the just man be the * son of God, he will help him, and deliver him from the hand of his enemies.
19 Let us * examine him with despitefulness and torture, that we may know his meekness, and prove his patience.
20 Let us condemn him with a shameful death : for by his own saying he shall be respected.
21 Such things they did imagine, * and were deceived : for their own wickedness hath blinded them.
22 As for the mysteries of God, * they knew them not : neither hoped they for the wages of righteousness, nor * discerned a reward for blameless souls.
23 For God created man to be immortal, and made him to be an * image of his own eternity.
24 * Nevertheless, through envy of the devil came death into the world : and they that do hold of his side do find it.
CHAPTER III.
1 The godly are happy in their deaths, and in their troubles : the wicked are not, nor their children....³³ But they that are pure, are happy, though they have no children :
BUT * the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.
2 * In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die : and their departure is taken for misery,
3 And their going from us to the utter destruction : but they are in peace.
4 For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their * hope full of immortality.
5 And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly || rewarded : for God * proved them, and found them || worthy for himself.
6 * As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt-offering.

f Mat. 13, 43. 7 And in the time of their visitation, they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.

g Mat. 19, 28. 8 They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.

h Cor. 6, 2. 9 They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth; and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.

i Or, and such as be faithful shall remain with him in love. 10 But the ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

j Mat. 25, 41. 11 For whose despiseth wisdom and nurture, he is miserable, and their hope is vain, their labours unfruitful, and their works unprofitable:

k Isa. 55, 2. 12 Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked:

l Or, light, or, suckle. 13 Their offspring is cursed. Wherefore blessed is the barren that is undefiled, which hath not known the sinful bed: she shall have fruit in the visitation of souls.

m Isa. 56, 4, 5. 14 And blessed is the eunuch, which with his hands hath wrought no iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against God: for unto him shall be given the special gift of faith, and an inheritance in the temple of the Lord more acceptable to his mind.

n Or, among the people. 15 For as glorious is the fruit of good labours: and the root of wisdom shall never fall away.

o Ps. 119, 11. 16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.

p Or, he partaker of holy things. 17 For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded: and their last age shall be without honour;

q Prov. 14, 32. 18 Or, if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.

r Or, hearing. 19 For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

CHAPTER IV.

s The chaste man shall be crowned. 3 Bastard slips shall not thrive. 6 They shall witness against their parents. 7 The just die young, and are happy. 19 The miserable end of the wicked.

a 2 Pet. 1, 5. BETTER it is to have no children, and to have virtue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: because it is known with God, and with men.

b Or, approved. 2 When it is present, men take example at it; and when it is gone, they desire it: it weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.

c 2 Tim. 4, 8. 3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.

d Mat. 7, 19. 4 For though they flourish in branches for a time; yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

e Rom. 11, 17. 5 The imperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea, meet for nothing.

f Or, steps. 6 For children begotten of unlawful beds, are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.

g 1m. 57, 2. 7 But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be at rest.

h Ps. 15, 4. 8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.

i Gen. 5, 24. 9 But wisdom is the grey hair unto men, and an unspotted life is oldage.

j Heb. 11, 5. 10 He pleased God, and was beloved of him: so that living among sinners he was translated.

k Gal. 3, 1. 11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

l Or, pervert. 12 For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest; and the waundering of concupiscence doth determine the simple mind.

m Or, sanctified, or, consummated. 13 He, being made perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time:

n Heb. 12, 23. 14 For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.

o Ps. 103, 17, 18, chap. 3, 9. 15 Thus the people saw, and understood it not, neither laid they up this in their minds, that his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.

p Mat. 12, 41, 42. 16 Thus the righteous that is dead shall condemn the ungodly which are living; and youth that is soon perfected, the many years and old age of the unrighteous.

q Ps. 2, 4, & 57, 13. 17 For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsel hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety.

r Prov. 1, 26. 18 They shall see him, and despise him; but God shall laugh them to scorn: and they shall hereafter be a vile carcase, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.

s For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechless; and he shall shake them from the foundation; and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow; and their memorial shall perish.

t Or, to the cutting up of the account. 20 And when they cast up the accounts of their sins, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

CHAPTER V.

u The wicked shall wail at the godly, and confess their error, and the vanity of their lives. 15 God will reward the just, and war against the wicked.

v 1 Tim. 3, 13. THEN shall the righteous man stand in great boldness before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

w Ps. 11, 6. 2 When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the strangeness of his salvation, so far beyond all that they looked for.

x Or, parable. 3 And they repenting and groaning for anguish of spirit shall say within themselves, This was he, whom we had sometimes in derision, and a proverb of reproach:

y e ch. 3, 2. 4 We fools accounted his life madness, and his end to be without honour:

z 2 John 1, 12. 5 How is he numbered among the children of God, and his lot is among the saints!

a Mal. 4, 2. 6 Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined unto us, and the sun of righteousness rose not upon us.

b Or, filled ourselves, or, exulted. 7 We wearied ourselves in the way of wickedness and destruction: yea, we have gone through deserts, where there lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.

c James 4, 6. 8 What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

d 1 Chr. 29, 15, chap. 2, &. 9 All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a post that hasteth by; e Or, filled ourselves, or, exulted. 10 And as a ship that passeth over the waves of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the pathway of the keel in the waves;

f Prov. 30, 19. 11 Or as when a bird hath flown through the air, there is no token of her way to be found, but the light air being beaten with the stroke of her wings, and parted with the violent noise and motion of them, is passed through, and therein afterward no sign where she went is to be found:

g Or, filled ourselves, or, exulted. 12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the air, which immediately cometh together again, so that a man cannot know where it went through:

h Ps. 59, 3. 13 Even so we in like manner, as soon as we were born, began to draw to our end, and had no sign of virtue to shew; but were consumed in our own wickedness.

i Job 8, 9. 14 For the hope of the ungodly is like dust that is blown away with the wind; like a thin froth that is driven away with the storm; like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with a tempest, and passeth away as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

j Ps. 1, 4, & 103, 14. 15 But the righteous live for evermore; their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the Most High.

k Or, palm, unless the word be taken improperly. 16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand: for with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he protect them.

l 2 Mac. 2, 17. 17 He shall take to him his jealousy for complete armour, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies.

m 1sa. 59, 16, 17. 18 He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, and true judgment instead of a helmet.

n Or, equipt. 19 He shall take holiness for an invincible shield.

o Ps. 60, 11. 20 His severe wrath shall he sharpen for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise.

p Job 38, 22, 23. 21 Then shall the right-aiming thunderbolts go abroad; and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark.

q Ps. 11, 6. 22 And hailstones full of wrath shall be cast as out of a stone-bow, and the water of the sea shall rage against them, and the floods shall cruelly drown them.

r 2 Mac. 2, 17. 23 Yea, a mighty wind shall stand up against them, and like a storm shall blow them away: thus iniquity shall lay waste the whole earth, and ill-dealing shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty.

from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.
4 Because, being ministers of his kingdom, ye have not judged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the counsel of God;
5 Horribly and speedily shall he come upon you: for a sharp judgment shall be to them that be in high places.
6 For mercy will soon pardon the meaneſt: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.
7 For he which is Lord over all shall fear no man's person, neither shall he stand in awe of any man's greatness: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.
8 But a sore trial shall come upon the mighty.
9 Unto you therefore, O kings, do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away:
10 For they that keep holiness holily, shall be judged holy: and they that have learned such things shall find what to answer.
11 Wherefore set your affection upon my words; desire them, and ye shall be instructed.
12 Wisdom is glorious, and never fideth away: yea, she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.
13 She preventeth them that desire her, in making herself first known unto them.
14 Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail: for he shall find her sitting at his doors.
15 To think therefore upon her is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her shall quickly be without cure.
16 For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth herself favourably unto them in the ways, and meeteth them in every thought.
17 For the very true beginning of her is the desire of discipline; and the care of discipline is love:
18 And love is the keeping of her laws; and the giving heed unto her laws is the assurance of incorruption;
19 And incorruption maketh us near unto God:
20 Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.
21 If your delight be then in thrones and sceptres, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.
22 As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not pass over the truth.
23 Neither will I go with consuming envy; for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.
24 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.
25 Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAPTER VII.

1 All men have their beginning and end alike: the preferred wisdom before all things else. 15 God gave him all the knowledge which he had. 22 The praise of wisdom.
I MYSELF also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of lim: that was first made of the earth;
2 And in my mother's womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleep.
3 And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth, which is of like nature, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.
4 I was nursed in swaddling-clothes, and that with cares.
5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.
6 For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.
7 Wherefore I prayed, and understanding was given me: I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.
8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.
9 Neither compared I unto her any precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.
10 I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light: for the light that cometh from her never goeth out.
11 All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.
12 And I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.
13 I learned diligently, and do communicate her liberally: I do not hide her riches.
14 For she is a treasure unto men, that never faileth: which they that use become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.

15 God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as it meet for the things that are given me: because it is he that leadeth unto wisdom, and directeth the wise.
16 For in his hand are both we and our words; all wisdom also, and knowledge of workmanship.
17 For he hath given me continually knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements:
18 The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: the alterations of the turnings of the earth, and the change of seasons:
19 The circuits of years, and the positions of stars:
20 The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wild beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants, and the virtues of roots:
21 And all such things as are either secret or manifest, them I know.
22 For wisdom, which is the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit, holy, true only, manifold, subtil, lively, clear, undefiled, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good, quick, which cannot be letted, ready to do good,
23 Kind to man, steadfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understanding, pure and most subtil spirits.
24 For wisdom is more moving than any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.
25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no deceitful thing fall into her.
26 For she is the brightness of the everlasting light, the unspotted mirror of the power of God, and the image of his goodness.
27 And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in herself, she maketh all things new: and in all ages entering into holy souls, she maketh them friends of God and prophets.
28 For God loveth none but him that dwelleth with wisdom.
29 For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.
30 For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdom.

CHAPTER VIII.

2 He is in love with wisdom: for he that hath it, hath every good thing. 21 It cannot be had but from God.
WISDOM reacheth from one end to another mightily: and sweetly doth she order all things.
2 I loved her, and sought her out from my youth: I desired to make her my spouse, and I was a lover of her beauty.
3 In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himself loved her.
4 For she is privy to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a lover of his works.
5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life; what is richer than wisdom, that worketh all things?
6 And if prudence work; who of all that are, is a more cunning workman than she?
7 And if a man love righteousness, her labours are virtues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude: which are such things as men can have nothing more profitable in their life.
8 If a man desire much experience, she knoweth things of old, and conjectureth aright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foreseeeth signs and wonders, and the events of seasons and times.
9 Therefore I purposed to take her to me to live with me, knowing that she would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.
10 For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the elders, though I be young.
11 I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgment, and shall be admired in the sight of great men.
12 When I hold my tongue, they shall abide my silence, and when I speak, they shall give good ear unto me: if I talk much, they shall lay their hands upon their mouth.
13 Moreover by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behind me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me.
14 I shall set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.

24. & 39, 7
Acts 7, 10. 13 When the righteous was sold, she forsook him not, but delivered him from sin : she went down with him into the pit, 14 And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the scaptre of the kingdom, and || power against those that oppressed him : as for them that had accused him, she shewed them to be liars, and gave him perpetual glory.
^o Or, holy.
15 She delivered the || righteous people and blameless seed from the nation that oppressed them.
^p Ex. 1, 12. 16 She entered into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and withstood dreadful kings in wonders and signs ; ^q Ex. 5, 1. 17 Rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a covert by day, and a || light of stars in the night season ;
^r Ex. 14, 21
22. 18 " Brought them through the Red Sea, and led them through much water : ^s Ps. 78, 13. 19 But " she drowned their enemies, and cast them up out of the bottom of the deep.
^t Ex. 15, 1. 20 Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly, and " praised thy holy name, O Lord, and magnified with one accord thy hand that fought for them.
^u Isa. 35, 6. 21 For wisdom " opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of them that cannot speak eloquent.

CHAPTER XI.

The Egyptians were punished, and the Israelites reserved in the same thing. 15 They were plagued by the same things wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, but he is merciful to all.

^a Acts 7,
37. SHE prospered their works in the hand of " the holy prophet.
^b Ex. 16, 1. 2 " They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.
^c Ex. 17, 19, 11, 13. 3 " They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.
^d Ex. 17, 6. 4 When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, " and water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.
^e Ex. 7, 17. 5 For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.
^f Ex. 14, 23. 6 For instead of a fountain of a perpetual running river " they were troubled with foul blood, ^g Ex. 14, 23. 7 For a manifest reproof of that commandment, " whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for :
^h Ex. 7, 23. 8 Declaring by that thirst " how thou hadst punished their adversaries.
ⁱ Ex. 24, 22. 9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner than the just.
^j Ex. 24, 23. 10 For these thou didst admonish and try, " as a father : but the other, as a severe king, thou didst condemn and punish.
11 Whether they were absent or present, they were vexed alike.
12 For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.
13 For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they " had some feeling of the Lord.
14 For whom they rejected with scorn, when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to pass, they admired.

15 But for the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance;
16 That they might know, that wherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.
17 For thine Almighty hand, that made the world of water without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions, 18 Or unknown wild beasts, full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoke, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes; 19 Whereof not only the harm might despatch them at once, but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.
20 Yea, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power: but thou hast ordered all things in measure and number and weight.
21 For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt; and who may withstand the power of thine arm?
22 For the whole world before thee is as a little grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.
23 But thou hast mercy upon all; for thou canst do all things, and winkest at the sins of men, because they should amend.
24 For thou lovest all the things that are, and abhorrest nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldest thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.
25 And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?
26 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, thou lover of souls.

CHAPTER XII.

2 And did not destroy those of Chanaan all at once. 12 If he had done so, who could control him? 19 But by sparing them, he taught us. 27 They were punished with their gods.

power, thou shewest thy strength, and among them that know it thou makest their boldness manifest.
18 But thou mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and orderest us with great favour: for thou mayest use power when thou wilt.
19 But by such works hast thou taught thy people that the just man should be merciful, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope that thou givest repentance for sins.
20 For if thou didst punish the enemies of thy children, and the condemned to death, with such deliberation, giving them time and place, whereby they might be delivered from their malice:
21 With how great circumspection didst thou judge thine own sons, into whose fathers thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?
22 Therefore, whereas thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that, when we judge we should carefully think of thy goodness, and when we ourselves are judged, we should look for mercy.
23 Wherefore, whereas men have lived dissolutely and unrighteously, thou hast tormented them with their own abomi-nations.
24 For they went astray very far in the ways of error, and held them for gods, which even among the beasts of thy enemies were despised, being deceived, as children of no understanding.
25 Therefore unto them, as to children without the use of reason, thou didst send a judgment to mock them.
26 But they that would not be reformed by that correction, wherein he dallied with them, shall feel a judgment worthy of God.
27 For, look, for what things they grudged, when they were punished, that is, for them whom they thought to be gods; [now] being punished in them, when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied to know; and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 They were not excused that worshipped any of God's works. 10 But most wretched are they that worship the works of men's hands.
SURELY vain are all men by nature, who are ignorant of God, and could not out of the good things that are seen know him that is: neither, by considering the works, did they acknowledge the work-master;
2 But deemed either fire, or wind, or the swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the violent water, or the lights of heaven, to be the gods which govern the world.
3 With whose beauty if they being delighted took them to be gods; let them know how much better the Lord of them is:
for the first author of beauty hath created them.
4 But if they were astonished at their power and virtue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.
5 For by the greatness and beauty of the creatures, propor-tionably the maker of them is seen.
6 But yet for this they are the less to be blamed: for they peradventure err, seeking God, and desirous to find him.
7 For being conversant in his works, they search him diligently, and believe their sight: because the things are beautiful that are seen.
8 Howbeit, neither are they to be pardoned.
9 For if they were able to know so much, that they could aim at the world; how did they not sooner find out the Lord thereof?
10 But miserable are they, and in dead things is their hope, who called them gods which are the works of men's hands, gold and silver, to shew art in, and resemblances of beasts, or a stone good for nothing, the work of an ancient hand.
11 Now a carpenter that felleth timber, after he hath sawn down a tree meet for the purpose, and taken off all the bark skillfully round about, and hath wrought it handsomely, and made a vessel thereof fit for the service of man's life; 12 And after spending the refuse of his work to dress his meat, hath filled himself; 13 And taking the very refuse among those which served to no use, being a crooked piece of wood, and full of knots, hath carved it diligently, when he had nothing else to do, and formed it by the skill of his understanding, and fashioned it to the image of a man;
14 Or made it like some vile beast, laying it over with vermilion, and with paint colouring it red, and covering every spot therein;

15 And when he had made a convenient room for it, set it in a wall, and made it fast with iron :
 16 For he provided for it that it might not fall, knowing that it was unable to help itself ; for it is an image, and hath need of help :
 17 Then maketh he prayer for his goods, for his wife and children, and is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life.
 18 For health, he called upon that which is weak : for life, prayeth to that which is dead : for aid, humbly beseecheth that which hath least means to help : and for a good journey, he asketh of that which cannot set a foot forward :
 19 And for gaining and getting, and for good success of his hands, asketh ability to do, of him that is most unable to do any thing.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Though men do not pray to their ships, yet are they saved rather by them, than by their idols. Idols are accused, and so are the makers of them. 11 The beginning of idolatry, and the effects thereof. 20 God will punish them that swear falsely by their idols.

AGAIN, one preparing himself to sail, and about to pass through the raging waves, calleth upon a piece of wood, more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him.

2 For verily desire of gain devised || that, and the workman built it by his skill.

3 But thy providence, O Father, governeth it : for thou hast made a way in the sea, and a safe path in the waves ;

4 Shewing that thou canst save from all danger : yea, though a man went to sea without art.

5 Nevertheless thou wouldest not that the works of thy wisdom should be idle, and therefore do men commit their lives to a small piece of wood, and passing the rough sea in a weak vessel are saved.

6 For in the old time also, when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world, governed by thy hand, escaped in a weak vessel, and left to all ages a seed of generation.

7 For blessed is the wood whereby righteousness cometh.

8 But that which is made with hands is cursed, as well it, as that he made it : he, because he made it ; and it, because being corruptible, it was called God.

9 For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God.

10 For that which is made shall be punished together with him that made it.

11 Therefore even || upon the idols of the Gentiles shall there be a visitation : because in the creature of God they are become an abomination, and stumbling-blocks to the souls of men, and a snare to the feet of the unwise.

12 For the devising of idols was the beginning of spiritual fornication, and the invention of them the corruption of life.

13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.

14 For by the vain glory of men they entered into the world, and therefore shall they come shortly to an end.

15 For a father afflicted with untimely mourning, when he hath made an image of his child soon taken away, now honoured him as a god, which was then a dead man, and delivered to those that were under him ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Thus in process of time an ungodly custom grown strong was kept as a law, and graven images were worshipped by the commandments of kings.

17 Whom men could not honour in presence, because they dwelt far off, they took the counterfeit of his visage from far, and made an express image of a king whom they honoured, to the end that by this their forwardness they might flatter him that was absent, as if he were present.

18 Also the singular diligence of the artificer did help to set forward the ignorant to more superstition.

19 For he, peradventure, willing to please one in authority, forced all his skill to make the resemblance of the best fashion.

20 And so the multitude, allured by the grace of the work, took him for a god, which a little before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was an occasion to deceive the world : for men, serving either calamity or tyranny, did ascribe unto stones and stocks the incommunicable name.

22 Moreover, this was not enough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God : but whereas they lived in the great war of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

23 For whilst they slew their children in sacrifices, or used secret ceremonies, or made revellings of strange rites :

24 They kept neither lives nor marriages any longer undefiled : but either one slew another traitorously, or grieved him by adultery.

25 So that there reigned in all men || without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, and dissimulation, corruption, unfaithfulness, tumults, perjury,

26 Disquieting of good men, forgetfulness of good turns, defiling of souls, changing of kind, disorder in marriages, adultery, and shameless uncleanness.

27 For the worshipping of idols not to be named is the beginning, the cause, and the end, of all evil.

28 For either they are mad when they be merry, or prophesy lies, or live unjustly, or else lightly forswear themselves.

29 For inasmuch as their trust is in idols which have no life ; though they swear falsely, yet they look not to be hurt.

30 Howbeit, for both causes shall they be justly punished : both because they thought not well of God, giving heed unto idols, and also unjustly swore in deceit, despising holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they swear : but it is the just vengeance of sinners, that punisheth always the offence of the ungodly.

CHAPTER XV.

We do acknowledge the true God. 7 The folly of idol-makers, and of the enemies of God's people ; because, besides the idols of the Gentiles, they worshipped wild beasts.

BUT a thou, O God, art gracious and true, long-suffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy power : but we will not sin, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee is perfect righteousness : yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality.

4 For neither did the mischievous invention of men deceive us, nor an image spotted with divers colours, the painter's fruitless labour ;

5 The sight whereof enticeth fools to lust after it, and so they desired the form of a dead image, that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, are lovers of evil things, and are worthy to have such things to trust upon.

7 For the potter, tempering soft earth, fashioneth every vessel with much labour for our service : yea, of the same clay he maketh both the vessels that serve for clean uses, and likewise also all such as serve to the contrary : but what is the use of either sort, the potter himself is the judge.

8 And employing his labours lewdly, he maketh a vain god of the same clay, even he which a little before was made of earth himself, and within a little while after returneth to the same, out of the which he was taken, when his life which was lent him shall be demanded.

9 Notwithstanding his care is, not that he shall have much labour, nor that his life is short : but striveth to excel goldsmiths and silversmiths, and endeavoureth to do like the workers in brass, and counteth it his glory to make counterfeit things.

10 His heart is ashes, his hope is more vile than earth, and his life of less value than clay :

11 Forasmuch as he knew not his Maker, and him that inspired into him an active soul, and breathed in a living spirit.

12 But they counted our life a pasture, and our time here a market for gain : for, say they, we must be getting every way, though it be by evil means.

13 For this man, that of earthly matter maketh brittle vessels and graven images, knoweth himself to offend above all others.

14 And all the enemies of thy people, that hold them in subjection, are most foolish, and are more miserable than very babes.

15 For they counted all the idols of the heathen to be gods : which neither have the use of eyes to see, nor noses to draw || breath, nor ears to hear, nor fingers of hands to handle ; and as for their feet, they are slow to go.

16 For man made them, and he that borrowed his own spirit fashioned them : but no man can make a god like unto himself.

17 For being mortal, he worketh a dead thing with wicked hands : for he himself is better than the things which he worshippeth : whereas he lived once, but they never.

18 Yea, they worshipped those beasts also that are most hateful for : being compared together, some are worse than others.

19 Neither are they beautiful, so much as to be desired in respect of beasts : but they went without the praise of God and his blessing.

CHAPTER XVI.

2 God gave strange meat to his people, to stir up their appetite, and vile beasts to enemies, to take it from them. 5 He stung them with his serpents, but soon healed them by his word only. 17 The creatures altered their nature to pleasure God's people, and to offend their enemies.

THEREFORE by the like were they punished worthily, and by the multitude of beasts tormented.

2 Instead of which punishment, dealing graciously with thine own people, thou preparedst for them meat of a strange taste, even ' quails to stir up their appetite :
 3 To the end that they, desiring food, might, ' for the ugly sight of the beasts sent among them, loathe even that which they must needs desire ; but these, suffering penalty for a short space, might be made partakers of a strange taste.
 4 For it was requisite, that upon them exercising tyranny should come penalty, which they could not avoid : but to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.
 5 For when the horrible fierceness of beasts came upon || these, and they perished with the ' strings of crooked serpents, thy wrath endured not for ever :
 6 But they were troubled for a small season, that they might be admonished, having a ' sign of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law.
 7 For he that turned himself toward it was not saved by the thing that he saw, but by thee, ' that art the Saviour of all.
 8 And in this thou madest thine enemies confess, that it is thou who deliverest from all evil ;
 9 For ' them the bitings of grasshoppers and flies killed, neither was there found any remedy for their life : for they were worthy to be punished by such.
 10 But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame : for thy mercy was ever by them, ' and healed them.
 11 For they were ' pricked, that they should remember thy words : and were quickly saved, that not falling into deep forgetfulness, they might be || continually mindful of thy goodness.
 12 For it was neither herb, nor mollifying plaster that restored them to health : but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.
 13 For thou hast power of life and death : thou ' ledest to the gates of hell, and bringest up again.
 14 A man indeed killeth through his malice : and the spirit, when it is gone forth, returneth not ; neither the soul revived up cometh again.
 15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.
 16 ' For the ungodly, that denied to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thine arm : with strange rains, hails, and showers, were they persecuted, that they could not avoid ; and through fire most to be wondered at, the fire had more force in the water, that quencheth all things : for the world ' fighteth for the righteous.
 18 For some time the flame was mitigated, that it might not burn up ' the beasts that were sent against the ungodly ;
 but themselves might see and perceive that they were persecuted with the judgment of God.
 19 And at another time it burneth even in the midst of water above the power of fire, that it might destroy the fruits of an unjust land.
 20 ' Instead whereof thou feddest thine own people with angels' food, and didst send them from heaven bread prepared without their labour, able to content every man's delight, and agreeing to every taste.
 21 For thy ' || sustenance declaring thy sweetness unto thy children, and serving to the appetite of the eater || tempered itself to every man's liking.
 22 ' But snow and ice endured the fire, and melt'd not, that they might know that fire burning in the hail, and sparkling in the rain, did destroy the fruits of the enemies.
 23 But this again did even forget his own strength, that ' the righteous might be nourished.
 24 For the creature that serveth thee, who art the Maker, increaseth his strength against the unrighteous for their punishment, and abateth his strength for the benefit of such as put their trust in thee.
 25 Therefore even then was it altered into all || fashions and was obedient to thy grace, that nourisheth all things, according to the desire || of them that had need :
 26 That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovest, might know, that ' it is not the growing of fruits that nourisheth man ; but that it is thy word, which preserveth them that put their trust in thee.
 27 For that which was not destroyed of the fire, ' being warmed with a little sun-beam, soon melted away :
 28 That it might be known, ' that we must prevent the sun to give thee thanks, and at the day-spring pray unto thee.
 29 For the hope of the unthankful shall melt away as the winter's hoar frost, and shall run away as unprofitable water.

1 Why the Egyptians were punished with darkness...4 The terrors of that darkness.
 11 The terrors of an ill conscience.
 FOR ' great are thy judgments, and cannot be expressed :
 therefore || unnumbered souls have erred.
 2 For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation ; they being shut up || in their houses, ' the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bonds of a long night, lay [there] || exiled from the eternal providence.
 3 For while they supposed to lie hid in their secret sites, they were scattered || under a dark veil of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with [strange] || apparitions.
 4 For ' neither might the corner that held them keep them from fear : but noises [as of waters] falling down sounded about them, and ' sad visions appeared unto them with heavy countenances.
 5 No power of the fire might give them light : ' neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.
 6 Only there appeared unto them a fire kindled of itself, very dreadful : for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw to be worse than the sight they saw not.
 7 ' As for the illusions of art magic, they were put down, and their vaunting in wisdom was removed with disgrace.
 8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear, worthy to be laughed at.
 9 For though no terrible thing did fear them, yet being seared ' with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents, 10 They died for fear, || denying that they saw the air, which could of no side be avoided.
 11 For wickedness, condemned by her own witness, ' is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forecast-eth grievous things.
 12 For fear is nothing else but a betraying of the successors which reason offereth.
 13 And the expectation from within, being less, counteth the ignorance more than the cause which bringeth the torment.
 14 But they sleeping the same sleep that night, || which was indeed intolerable, and which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell, 15 Were partly vexed with ' monstrous apparitions, and partly faint, ' their heart failing them : for a sudden fear, and not looked for, came upon them.
 16 So then whosoever there fell down was straitly kept, shut up in a prison without iron bars.
 17 For whether he were husbandman, or shepherd, or a labourer in the || field, he was overtaken, and endured that necessity, which could not be avoided : for they were all bound with ' one chain of darkness.
 18 Whether it were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of water running violently.
 19 Or a || terrible sound of stones cast down, or a running that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roaring voice of ' most savage wild beasts, or a rebounding echo from the hollow mountains ; ' these things made them to swoon for fear.
 20 For the whole world shined with clear light, and none were hindered in their labour :
 21 Over them only was spread ' a heavy night, an image of that darkness which should afterward receive them : but yet were they unto themselves more grievous than the darkness.

4 Why Egypt was punished with darkness, and with the death of their children...18
 They themselves saw the cause thereof...20 God also plagued his own people...21 By what means that plague was stayed.
 NOTWITHSTANDING thy saints had a very great ' light.
 ' whose voice they hearing, and not seeing their shape, because they also had not suffered the same things, they counted them ' happy.
 2 But for that they did not hurt them now, of whom they had been wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon for that they had been enemies.
 3 ' Instead whereof thou gavest them a burning pillar of fire,

6 ^a Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that assuredly knowing unto what oaths they had given credence, they might afterward be of good cheer.

7 ^b So of thy people was accepted both ^c the salvation of the righteous, and ^d destruction of the enemies.

8 For wherewith thou didst punish our adversaries, by the same thou didst glorify us, whom thou hadst called.

9 ^e For the righteous children of good men did sacrifice secretly, and with one consent made ^f a holy law, that the saints should be alike partakers of the same good and evil, the fathers now singing out the songs of praise.

10 But on the other side there sounded an ill-according cry of the enemies, ^g and a lamentable noise was carried abroad for children that were bewailed.

11 ^h The master and the servant were punished after one manner; and like as the king, so suffered the common person.

12 So they all together ⁱ had innumerable dead with one kind of death; neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in a moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whereas they would not believe any thing by reason of ^j the enchantments; upon the destruction of the first-born, they acknowledged this people to be the sons of God.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course,

15 Thine Almighty word leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne, as a fierce ^k man of war into the midst of a land of destruction, 16 And brought thine unforgotten commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up filled all things with death; and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.

17 ^l Then suddenly ^m visions of horrible dreams troubled them sore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.

18 And one thrown here, and another there, half dead, shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the dreams that troubled them did ⁿ foreshew this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.

20 Yea, the tasting of death touched the righteous also, and there was a destruction of the ^o multitude in the wilderness: but ^p the wrath endured not long.

21 For then the blameless man made haste, and stood forth to defend them; and bringing the shield of his proper ministry, even prayer, and the propitiation of incense, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamity to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.

22 So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of body, nor force of arms, but with a word subdued he him that punished, ^q alleging the oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

23 For when the dead were now fallen down by heaps one upon another, ^r standing between, he stayed the wrath, and ^s parted the way to the living.

24 ^t For in the long garment was the whole world, and in the four rows of the stones was the glory of the fathers graven, and thy Majesty upon the diadem of his head.

25 Unto these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for it was enough that they only tasted of ^u the wrath.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Why God shewed no mercy to the Egyptians, and how wonderfully he dealt with his people.—11 The Egyptians were worse than the Sodomites.—12 The wonderful agreement of the creatures to serve God's people.

2 ^v As for the ungodly, ^w wrath came upon them without mercy unto the end: for he knew before what they would do.

3 How that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, ^x they would repent, and pursue them.

3 For whilst they were ^y yet mourning and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had ^z entreated to be gone.

4 For the destiny, whereof they were worthy, drew them unto this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfil the punishment which was wanting to their torments:

5 And that thy people might pass ^a a wonderful way: but they might find a strange death.

6 For ^b the whole creature in his proper kind was fashioned again anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 ^c As namely, ^d a cloud shadowing the camp; and where water stood before, dry land appeared; and out of the Red Sea ^e a way without impediment; and out of the violent stream a green field:

8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.

9 For they went at large like horses, and leaped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.

10 For they were yet mindful of the things that were done while they sojourned in the strange land, how the ground brought forth ^f flies instead of cattle, and how ^g the river cast up a multitude of frogs instead of fishes.

11 But afterward they saw a new generation of fowls, when, being led with their appetite, they asked delicate meats.

12 For quails came up unto them from the sea, for their ^h contentment.

13 And punishments came upon the sinners, not without former signs by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly according to their own wickedness, inasmuch as they used a more hard and hateful behaviour toward strangers.

14 For ⁱ the Sodomites did not receive those, whom they knew not when they came; but these brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.

15 And not only so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly:

16 But these very grievously afflicted them, whom they had received with feastings, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.

17 Therefore even with blindness were these stricken, ^j as those were at the doors of the righteous man: when, being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doors.

18 For the elements were changed ^k in themselves by a kind of harmony, like as, in a psalter, notes change the name of the tune, and yet are always sounds; which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done.

19 ^l For earthly things were turned into watery, and the things that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.

20 ^m The fire had power in the water, forgetting his own virtue: and the water forgot his own quenching nature.

21 On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of the corruptible living things, though they walked therein; ⁿ neither melted they the icy kind of heavenly meat, that was of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst ^o magnify thy people, and glorify them, neither didst thou lightly regard them: but didst assist them in every time and place.

† The Wisdom of JESUS the Son of SIRACH, OR, ECCLESIASTICUS.

A Prologue made by an uncertain Author.

^b Or, collected.

THIS Jesus was the son of Sirach, and grandchild to Jesus of the same name with him: this man therefore lived in the latter times, after the people had been led away captive, and called home again, and almost after all the prophets. Now his grandfather, Jesus, as he himself witnesseth, was a man of great diligence and wisdom among the Hebrews: who did not only gather the grave and short sentences of wise men, that had been before him, but himself also uttered some of his own, full of receiving it after him, left it to his own son Jesus, who having gotten it into his hands, compiled it all orderly into one volume, and called it Wisdom, entitling it both by his own name, his father's name, and his grandfather's: alluring the hearer by the very name of Wisdom, to have a greater love to the study of this book. It containeth therefore wise sayings, dark sentences, and parables, and certain particular ancient godly stories of men that pleased God; also his prayer and song; moreover, what benefits God had vouchsafed his people, and what plagues he had heaped upon their enemies. This Jesus did imitate Solomon, and was no less famous for wisdom and learning, both being indeed a man of great learning, and so reputed also.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of JESUS, the Son of SIRACH.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by others that have followed their steps, for the which things Israel ought to be commended for learning and wisdom ; and whereof not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that desire to learn be able to profit them which are || without, both by speaking and writing : my grandfather Jesus, when he had much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and other books of our fathers, and had gotten therein good judgment, was drawn on also himself to write something pertaining to learning and wisdom : to the intent that those which are desirous to learn, and are addicted to these things, might profit much more in living according to the law. Wherefore let me entreat you to read it with favour and attention, and to pardon us, wherein we may seem to come short of some words which we have laboured to interpret. For the same things uttered in Hebrew, and translated into another tongue, have not the same force in them, and not only these things, but the law itself, and the || prophets, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their own language. For in the eight and thirtieth year coming into Egypt, when Energetes was king, and continuing there some time, I found a || book of no small learning : therefore I thought it most necessary for me to bestow some diligence and travail to interpret it : using great watchfulness and skill in that space to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, which in a strange country are willing to learn, being prepared before in numbers to live after the law.

CHAPTER I.

1 All wisdom is from God...10 He giveth it to them that love him...11 The fear of God is full of many blessings...28 To fear God without hypocrisy.

ALL wisdom cometh from the Lord, and is with him for ever. 2 Who can number the sand of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the days of eternity ?

3 Who can find out the height of heaven, and the breadth of the earth, and the deep, and wisdom ?

4 Wisdom hath been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting.

5 The word of God most high is the fountain of wisdom ; and her ways are everlasting commandments.

6 To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed ? or who hath known her wise counsels ?

7 [Unto whom hath the knowledge of wisdom been made manifest ? and who hath understood her great experience ?]

8 There is * one wise and greatly to be feared, the Lord sitting upon his throne.

9 He created her, and saw her, and numbered her, and poured her out upon all his works.

10 She is with all flesh according to his gift, * and he hath given her to them that love him.

11 The fear of the Lord is honour, and glory, and gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.

12 The fear of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giveth joy, and gladness, and a long life.

13 Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last, and he || shall find favour in the day of his death.

14 * To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom : and it was created with the faithful in the womb.

15 She hath built an everlasting foundation with men, and she shall continue * with their seed.

16 To fear the Lord is fulness of wisdom, and fillet men with her fruits.

17 She filleth all their house with things desirable, and the garners with her increase.

18 The fear of the Lord is * a crown of wisdom, making peace and perfect health to flourish ; both which are the gifts of God : and it enlargeth their rejoicing that love him.

19 Wisdom raineth down skill and knowledge of understanding, and exalteth them to honour that hold her fast.

20 The root of wisdom is * to fear the Lord, and the branches thereof are long life.

21 The fear of the Lord driveth away sins : and where it is present, it turneth away wrath.

22 A furious man cannot || be justified ; for the sway of his fury shall be his destruction.

23 * A patient man will bear for a time, and afterward joy shall spring up into him.

24 He will hide his words for a time, and the lips of many shall declare his wisdom.

25 The parables of knowledge are in the treasures of wisdom ; but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

26 If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments, * and the Lord shall give her unto thee.

27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction : and faith and meekness are his delight.

28 || Distrust not the fear of the Lord when thou art poor, and come not unto him with a double heart.

29 Be not a hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heed what thou speakest.

30 Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall, and bring dishonour upon thy soul, and so God discover thy secrets, and cast thee down in the midst of the congregation, because thou camest not in truth to the fear of the Lord, but thy heart is full of deceit.

CHAPTER II.

1 God's servants must look for trouble, and be patient, and trust in him...12 For to them that do not...13 But they that fear the Lord will do so.

MY son, if thou come to serve the Lord, prepare thy soul * for temptation.

2 Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure, and || make not haste in time of trouble.

3 Cleave unto him, and depart not away, * that thou mayest be increased at thy last end.

4 Whatsoever is brought upon thee, take cheerfully, and be patient when thou art changed to a low estate.

5 For gold is tried in the fire, and acceptable men in the furnace of adversity.

6 Believe in him, and he will help thee ; order thy way aright, * and trust in him.

7 Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy ; and go not aside, lest ye fall.

8 Ye that fear the Lord, believe him ; and your reward shall not fail.

9 Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good, and for everlasting joy and mercy.

10 Look at the generations of old, and see : * did ever any trust in the Lord, and was confounded ? or did any abide in his fear, and was forsaken ? or whom did he ever despise, that called upon him ?

11 For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy, long-suffering, and very pitiful, and forgiveth sins, * and saveth in time of affliction.

12 Wo be to fearful hearts, and faint hands, and the sinner that goeth two ways !

13 Wo unto him that is faint-hearted ! * for he believeth not ; therefore shall he not be defended.

14 Wo unto you that have lost patience ! and what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you ?

15 They that fear the Lord will not disobey his word ; and they that love him will keep his ways.

16 They that fear the Lord will seek that which is well pleasing unto him ; and they that love him * shall be filled with the law.

17 They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and humble their souls in his sight.

18 Saying, * We will fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men : for as his majesty is, so is his mercy.

CHAPTER III.

2 Children must honour and help both their parents...21 We may not desire to know all things...22 The heavenly life must needs be paid...23 And are rewarded.

HEAR me your father, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.

2 For the Lord hath given the * father honour over the children, and hath confirmed the || authority of the mother over the sons.

3 Whoso honoureth his father maketh an atonement for his sins :

4 And he that honoureth his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.

5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his own children : and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.

6 He that honoureth his father * shall have a long life ; and he that is obedient unto the Lord shall be a comfort to his mother.

7 He that teacheth the Lord * will honour his father, and will do service unto his parents, as to his masters.

8 * Honour thy father and mother both in word and deed, that a blessing may come upon thee from them.

CHAPTER IV.

1 We may not despise the poor or fatherless, but seek for wisdom, and not be ashamed of some things, nor gain say the truth, nor be as lions in our houses.

a James 5, 4. MY son, * defraud not the poor of his living, and make not the needy eyes to wait long. 2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful; neither provoke a man in his distress. 3 Add not more trouble to a heart that's vexed; ^b and defer not to give to him that is in need. 4 Reject not the supplication of the afflicted; neither turn away thy face from a poor man. 5 Turn not away thine eye from || the needy, and give him none occasion to curse thee: 6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, ^c his prayer shall be heard of him that made him. 7 Get thyself the love of the congregation, and bow thy head to a great man. 8 Let it not grieve thee to bow down thine ear to the poor, and give him a friendly answer with meekness. 9 ^d Deliver him that suffereth wrong from the hand of the oppressor; and be not faint-hearted when thou sittest in judgment. 10 Be as a father unto the fatherless, and instead of a husband unto their mother: so shalt thou be ^e as a son of the Most High, and he shall love thee more than thy mother doth. 11 Wisdom exalteth her children, and layeth hold of them that seek her. 12 He that loveth her loveth life; and they that seek to her early shall be filled with joy. 13 He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory; and whosoever she entereth, the Lord will bless. 14 They that serve her shall minister || to the Holy One: and them that love her the Lord doth love. 15 Whoso giveth ear unto her, ^f shall judge the nations: and he that attendeth unto her shall dwell securely.

16 If a man commit himself unto her he shall inherit her; and his generation shall hold her in possession. 17 For at the first she will walk with him by crooked ways, and bring fear and dread upon him, and torment him with her discipline, until she may trust his soul, ^g and try him by her laws. 18 Then will she return the straight way unto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets. 19 But if he go wrong, she will forsake him, and ^h give him over to his own ruin. 20 Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil; and be not ashamed when it concerneth thy soul. 21 For there is a shame that bringeth sin; ⁱ and there is a shame which is glory and grace. 22 Accept no person against thy soul, and let not the reverence of any man cause thee to fall. 23 And refrain not to speak, ^j when there is occasion to do good, and hide not thy wisdom in her beauty. 24 For by speech wisdom shall be known: and learning by the word of the tongue. 25 In no wise speak against the truth; but be abashed of the error of thine ignorance. 26 Be not ashamed ^k to confess thy sins; || and force not the course of the river. 27 Make not thyself an underling to a foolish man; neither accept the person of the mighty. 28 Strive for the truth ^l unto death, and the Lord shall fight for thee. 29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, and in thy deeds slack and remiss. 30 Be not as a lion in thy house, nor frantic among thy servants. 31 Let not thy hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldst || repay.

CHAPTER V.

1 We must not presume of our wealth and strength, nor of the mercy of God, to sin. 2 We must not be double tongued, nor answer without knowledge.

SET not thy heart upon thy goods; and say not, ^a I have enough for my life. 2 Follow not thine own mind and thy strength, to walk in the ways of thy heart: 3 And say not, ^b Who shall control me for my works? for the Lord will surely revenge thy pride. 4 Say not, I have sinned, ^c and what harm hath happened unto me? for the Lord is long-suffering, he will in no wise let thee go. 5 Concerning propitiation, ^d be not without fear to add sin unto sin: 6 And say not, His mercy is great; he will be pacified for the multitude of my sins: ^e for mercy and wrath come from him, and his indignation resteth upon sinners. 7 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord, and put not off from day to day: ^f for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and perish in the day of vengeance. 8 ^g Set not thy heart upon goods unjustly gotten: for they shall not profit thee in the day of calamity. 9 Winnow not with every wind, and go not into every way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue. 10 ^h Be steadfast in thine understanding; and let thy word be the same. 11 ⁱ Be swift to hear; and let thy life be sincere; and with patience give answer. 12 If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour; if not, ^j lay thy hand upon thy mouth. 13 Honour and shame is in talk: and the tongue of man is his fall. 14 Be not called a whisperer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for a foul shame is upon the thief, and an evil condemnation ^k upon the double tongue. 15 Be not ignorant of any thing in a great matter or a small.

CHAPTER VI.

2 Do not exalt thine own conceit, but make choice of a friend. 3 Seek wisdom sometimes: 20 It is grievous to some, yet the fruits thereof are pleasant. 35 Be ready to hear wise men.

INSTEAD of a friend become not an enemy; [for thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame, and reproach: even so shall a sinner ^a that hath a double tongue. 2 Exult not thyself in the counsel of thine own heart; that thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull [straying alone.] 3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and lose thy fruit, and leave thyself as a dry tree. 4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and shall make him to be laughed to scorn of his enemies.

5 + Sweet language will multiply friends : and a fair-speaking tongue will increase kind greetings.
6 Be in peace with many : nevertheless have but one counsellor of a thousand.
7 If thou wouldest get a friend, || prove him first, and be not hasty to credit him.
8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.
9 And there is a friend, who, being turned to enmity and strife, will discover thy reproach.
10 * Again, some friend is a companion at the table, and will not continue in the day of thine affliction.
11 But in thy prosperity he will be as thyself, and will be bold over thy servants.
12 If thou be brought low, * he will be against thee, and will hide himself from thy face.
13 Separate thyself from thine enemies, and take heed of thy friends.
14 A faithful friend is a strong defence : and he that hath found such a one hath found a treasure.
15 Nothing doth countervail a faithful friend, and his excellency is invaluable.
16 A faithful friend is the medicine of life ; and * they that fear the Lord shall find him.
17 Whoso fenceh the Lord shall direct his friendship aright :
for as he is, so shall his neighbour be also.
18 My son, gather instruction from thy youth up : so shalt thou find wisdom till thine old age.
19 Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth, * and wait for her good fruits : for thou shalt not toil much in labouring about her, but thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.
20 She is very unpleasant to the unlearned : he that is without || understanding will not remain with her.
21 She will lie upon him as a * mighty stone of trial ; and he will cast : * for him ere it be long.
22 For wisdom is according to her name, and she is not manifest unto many.
23 Give ear, my son, receive mine advice, and refuse not my counsel.
24 And put thy feet into her fetters, and thy neck into her chain.
25 Bow down thy shoulder, and bear her, and be not grieved with her bonds.
26 Come unto her with thy whole heart, and keep her ways with all thy power.
27 * Search, and seek, and she shall be made known unto thee : and when thou hast got hold of her, let her not go.
28 For at the last thou shalt find her rest, and that shall be turned to thy joy.
29 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her chains a robe of glory.
30 For there is a golden ornament upon her, and her bands are || purple lace.
31 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crown of joy.
32 My son, * if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught : and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be prudent.
33 If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive understanding : and if thou bow thine ear, thou shalt be wise.
34 Stand in the multitude of the * elders ; and cleave unto him that is wise.
35 Be willing to hear every godly discourse ; and let not the parables of understanding escape thee.
36 And if thou seeest a man of understanding, get thee betimes unto him, and let thy foot wear the steps of his door.
37 Let thy mind be upon the ordinances of the Lord, and meditate continually in his commandments : he shall establish thy heart, and give thee wisdom at thine own desire.

7 * Offend not against the multitude of a city, and then thou shalt not cast thyself down among the people.
8 Bind not one sin upon another : for in one thou shalt not be unpunished.
9 Say not, God will look upon the * multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.
10 Be * not faint-hearted when thou makest thy prayer, and neglect not to give alms.
11 Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul : for there is one which humbleth and exalteth.
12 * Devise not a lie against thy brother : neither do the like to thy friend.
13 Use not to make any manner of lie : for the custom thereof is not good.
14 Use not many words in a multitude of elders, * and make not || much babbling when thou prayest.
15 Hate not laborious work, neither husbandry, which the Most High hath * ordained.
16 Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners, but remember that wrath will not tarry long.
17 Humble thy soul greatly : * for the vengeance of the un-godly is fire and worms.
18 Change not a friend for any good, by no means ; neither a faithful brother for * the gold of Ophir.
19 Forego not a wise and good woman : for her grace is above gold.
20 * Whereas thy servant worketh truly, entreat him not evil, nor the hireling that bestoweth himself wholly for thee.
21 Let thy soul love a good servant, and defraud him not of liberty.
22 * Hast thou cattle ? have an eye to them : and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.
23 Hast thou children ? * instruct them, and bow down their neck from their youth.
24 Hast thou daughters ? have a care of their body, and shew not thyself cheerful toward them.
25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou have performed a weighty matter : but give her to a man of understanding.
26 Hast thou a wife after thy mind ? * forsake her not : but give not thyself over to a || light woman.
27 * Honour thy father with thy whole heart, and forget not the sorrows of thy mother.
28 Remember that thou wast begotten of them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they have done for thee ?
29 Fear the Lord with all thy soul, and reverence his priests.
30 * Love him that made thee with all thy strength, and forsake not his ministers.
31 Fear the Lord, and honour the priest : and give him his portion, as it is commanded thee : the first-fruits, and the tresp-pass-offering, and the gift of the shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the first-fruits of the holy things.
32 * And stretch thy hand unto the poor, that || thy blessing may be perfected.
33 A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living, and for the dead detain it not.
34 Fail not to be with them that weep, and mourn with them that mourn.
35 * Be not slow to visit the sick : for that shall make thee to be beloved.
36 Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.
CHAPTER VIII.
1 Whom we may not strive with, nor despise, nor provoke, nor have to do with.
STRIVE not with a mighty man, lest thou fall into his hands.
2 * Be not at variance with a rich man, lest he overweigh thee : for gold * hath destroyed many, and perverted the hearts of kings.
3 Strive not with a man that is || full of tongue, and heap not wood upon his fire.
4 Jest not with a rude man, lest thine ancestors be disgraced.
5 * Reproach not a man that turneth from sin, but remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
6 * Dishonour not a man in his old age : for even some of us wax old.
7 * Rejoice not over thy greatest enemy being dead, but remember that we die all.
8 Despise not the discourse of the wise, but acquaint thyself with their * proverbs : for of them thou shalt learn instruction, and how to serve great men with ease.

9 * Miss not the discourse of the elders : for they also learned of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learn understanding, and to give answer as need requireth.
10 Kindle not the coals of a sinner, lest thou be burnt with the flame of his fire.
11 Rise not up [in anger] at the presence of an injurious person, lest he lie in wait, to outtrap thee in thy words.
12 Lend not unto him that is mightier than thyself : for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.
13 * Be not surety above thy power : for if thou be surety, take care to pay it.
14 Go not to law with a judge, for they will judge for him according to his honour.
15 * Travel not by the way with a bold fellow, lest he become grievous unto thee : for he will do according to his own will, and thou shalt perish with him through his folly.
16 * Strive not with an angry man, and go not with him into a solitary place : for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.
17 Consult not with a fool, for he cannot keep counsel.
18 Do no secret thing before a stranger : for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.
19 * Open not thy heart to every man, lest he requite thee with a shrewd turn.

CHAPTER IX.

1 We are advised how to use our wives; what women to avoid; and not to change an old friend; not to be familiar with men in authority; but to know our neighbours; and to converse with wise men.
2 * Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom, and teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.
3 Give not thy soul unto a woman to set her foot upon thy substance.
4 Meet not with a harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.
5 Use not much the company of a woman that is a singer, lest thou be taken with her attempts.
6 Gaze not on a maid, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.
7 Give not thy soul unto harlots, that thou lose not thine inheritance.
8 Look not round about thee in the streets of the city, neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.
9 * Turn away thine eye from a beautiful woman, and look not upon another's beauty : for many have been deceived by the beauty of a woman ; for herewith love is kindled as a fire.
10 Sit not at all with another man's wife, nor sit down with her in thine arms, and spend not thy money with her at thine wine ; lest thy heart incline unto her, and so through thy desire thou fall into destruction.
11 Forsake not an old friend ; for the new is not comparable to him : a new friend is as new wine ; when it is old, thou shalt drink it with pleasure.
12 Envy not the glory of a sinner : * for thou knowest not what shall be his end.
13 Delight not in the thing that the ungodly have pleasure in : but remember they shall not go unpunished unto their grave.
14 * Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill ; so shalt thou not doubt the fear of death : and if thou come unto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life presently : remember that thou goest in the midst of snares, and that thou walkest upon the battlements of the city.
15 As near as thou canst, guess at thy neighbour, and * consult with the wise.
16 Let thy talk be with the wise, and all thy communication in the law of the Most High.
17 And let just men eat and drink with thee : and let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.
18 For the hand of the artificer the work shall be commended : and the wise ruler of the people for his speech.
19 * A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his city ; and he that is rash in his talk shall be hated.

CHAPTER X.

1 The advantages of a wise ruler, and God's gifts to him. 2 The inconveniences of pride, injustice, and covetousness. 3 What God hath done to the proud.
A WISE judge will instruct his people ; and the government of a prudent man is well ordered.
2 As the judge of the people is himself, so are his officers ; and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.
3 An unwise king destroyeth his people ; but through the prudence of them which are in authority, the city shall be inhabited.
4 * The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time he will set over it one that is profitable.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperity of man : and upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.
6 Bear not hatred to thy neighbour for every wrong ; and do nothing at all by injurious practices.
7 * Pride is hateful before God and man : and by both doth one commit iniquity.
8 Because of unrighteous dealings, injuries, and riches got by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.
9 * Why is earth and ashes proud ? There is not a more wicked thing than a covetous man : for such a one setteth his own soul to sale ; because while he liveth, he casteth away his bowels.
10 The physician cutteth off a long disease ; and he that is to-day a king, to-morrow shall die.
11 For when a man is dead, he shall inherit creeping things, beasts, and worms.
12 The beginning of pride is when one departeth from God, and his heart is turned away from his Maker.
13 For pride is the beginning of sin, and he that hath it shall pour out abomination : and therefore the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrew them utterly.
14 * The Lord hath cast down the thrones of proud princes, and set up the meek in their stead.
15 The Lord hath plucked up the roots of the proud nations, and planted the lowly in their place.
16 * The Lord overthrew countries of the heathen, and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.
17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their memorial to cease from the earth.
18 Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them that are born of a woman.
19 They that fear the Lord are a sure seed, and they that love him * an honourable plant : they that regard not the law are a dishonourable seed ; they that transgress the commandments are a deceivable seed.
20 Among brethren he that is chief is honourable ; * so are they that fear the Lord, in his eyes.
21 The fear of the Lord goeth before the obtaining of authority : but roughness and pride is the losing thereof.
22 Whether he be rich, noble, or poor, their glory is the fear of the Lord.
23 * It is not meet to despise the poor man that hath understanding ; neither is it convenient to magnify a sinful man.
24 * Great men, and judges, and potentates, shall be honoured ; yet is there none of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.
25 * Unto the servant that is wise shall they that are free do service ; and he that hath knowledge * will not grudge when he is reformed.
26 Be not overwise in doing thy business ; and boast not thyself in the time of thy distress.
27 * Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things, than he that boasteth himself, and wanteth bread.
28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness, and give it honour according to the dignity thereof.
29 Who will justify him * that sinneth against his own soul ? and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own life ?
30 The poor man is honoured for his skill, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.
31 He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches ? and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty ?

CHAPTER XI.

1 We may not vaunt nor set forth ourselves, nor answer evildeeds, nor meddle with many matters. 2 We have to do with all things else are from God. 3 Bring not a tiny wealth, nor bring every man into thy house.
WISDOM lifted up the head of him that is of low degree, and * maketh him to sit among great men.
2 Commend not a man for his beauty, neither abhor a man for his outward appearance.
3 The bee is little among such as fly ; but her fruit is the chief of sweet things.
4 * Boast not of thy clothing and raiment, and exalt not thyself in the day of honour : for the works of the Lord are wonderful, and his works among men are hidden.
5 Many * kings have sat down upon the ground ; and one that was never thought of hath worn the crown.
6 * Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced ; and the honourable delivered into other men's hands.
7 * Blame not before thou hast examined the truth : understand first, and then rebuke.

10 My son, meddle not with many matters : for if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be innocent : and if thou follow after,
thou shalt not obtain, neither shalt thou || escape by fleeing.
11 * There is one that laboureth, and taketh pains, and naketh haste, and is so much the more behind.
12 Again, there is another that is slow, and hath need of help, wanting ability, and full of poverty ; * yet the eye of the Lord looked upon him for good ; and set him up from his low estate.
13 And lifted up his head from misery ; so that many that saw it marvelled at him.
14 * Prosperity and adversity, life and death, poverty and riches, come of the Lord.
15 * Wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of the law, are of the Lord : love, and the way of good works, are from him.
16 Error and darkness, had their beginning together with sinners ; and evil shall wax old with them that glory therein.
17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly, and his favour bringeth prosperity for ever.
18 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching, and this is the portion of his reward :
19 Whereas he saith, * I have found rest, and now will eat continually of my goods ; and yet he knoweth not what time shall || come upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die.
20 * Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, and wax old in thy work.
21 Marvel not at the works of sinners ; but trust in the Lord, * and abide in thy labour : for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord, on the sudden to make a poor man rich.
22 The blessing of the Lord is || in the reward of the godly,
and suddenly he maketh his blessing to flourish.
23 Say not, * What profit is there of my service ? and what good things shall I have hereafter ?
24 Again, say not, I have enough, and possess many things, and what evil can come to me hereafter ?
25 * In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of afflic-tion : and in the day of affliction there is no more remembrance of prosperity.
26 For it is an easy thing unto the Lord in the day of death
* to reward a man according to his ways.
27 The affliction of an hour maketh a man forget pleasure :
and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.
28 Judge * none blessed before his death : for a man shall be known in his children.
29 Bring not every man into thy house : for the deceitful man hath many trains.
30 Like as a partridge taken [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the proud ; and like as a spy, watcheth he for thy fall : 31 For he lieth in wait, and turneth good into evil, and in things worthy praise will lay blame upon thee.
32 * Of a spark of fire, a heap of coals is kindled : and a sinful man layeth wait for blood.
33 Take heed of a mischievous man, * for he worketh wickedness ; lest he bring upon thee a perpetual blot.
34 Receive a stranger into thy house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.
CHAPTER XII.
2 Be not liberal to the ungodly. * 10 Trust not thine enemy, nor the wicked.
WHEN thou wilt do good, * know to whom thou doest it ;
so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefits.
2 Do good to the godly man, and thou shalt find a reconpense ; and if not from him, * yet from the Most High.
3 There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil, nor to him that giveth no alms.
4 Give to the * godly man, and help not a sinner.
5 Do well unto him that is lovely, but give not to the ungodly :
hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he overmaster thee thereby : for [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.
6 For the Most High hateth sinners, * and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, * and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.
7 Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.
8 * A friend cannot be known in prosperity : and an enemy cannot be hid in adversity.
9 In the prosperity of a man, enemies will be grieved : but in his adversity, even a friend will depart.
10 Never trust thine enemy : for like as || iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.
11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed and beware of him, and thou shalt be unto him as if thou hadst wiped a looking-glass, and thou shalt know that his rust hath not been altogether wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, lest, when he hath overthrow thee, he stand up in thy place ; neither let him * sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked therewith.
13 Who will pity the charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any such as come night wild beasts ?
14 So one that goeth to a sinner, and is || defiled with him in his sins, who will pity ?
15 For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.
16 * An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit : he will * weep with his eyes, but if he find opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.
17 * If adversity come upon thee, thou shalt find him there first ; and though he pretend to help thee, yet shall he || undermine thee.
18 He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.
CHAPTER XIII.
1 Keep not company with the proud, or a mightier than thyself. * 15 Like will to like.
21 The difference between the rich and the poor. * 25 A man's heart will change his counsels.
HE that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith ; and * he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall be like unto him.
2 * Burden not thyself above thy power while thou livest ; and have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself : for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together ?
for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.
3 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threateth wiltal : the poor is wronged, and he must entreat also.
4 If thou be for his profit, he will use thee : but if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.
5 If thou have any thing, he will live with thee : yea, he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry for it.
6 If he have need of thee, * he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope ; he will speak thee fair, and say, What wastest thou ?
7 And he will shame thee by his meats, until he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn : afterward, when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.
8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought down || in thy jollity.
9 If thou be invited of a mighty man, withdraw thyself, and so much the more will he invite thee.
10 Press thou not upon him, lest thou be put back ; stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.
11 || Affect not to be made equal unto him in talk, || and believe not his many words : for with much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets :
12 But cruelly he will lay up thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.
13 * Observe, and take good heed, for thou walkest in peril of thy overthrowing : when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleep.
14 * Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.
15 Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour.
16 All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.
17 What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb ? * so the sinner with the godly.
18 What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog ?
and what peace between the rich and the poor ?
19 As the wild ass is the lion's prey in the wilderness ; * so the rich eat up the poor.
20 As the proud hate humility : so doth the rich abhor the poor.
21 A rich man beginning to fall is held up of his friends : but a poor man being down is thrust also away by his friends.
22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers : he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justify him : the poor man slipped, and yet they rebuked him too ; * he spake wisely, and could have no place.
23 * When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and look, what he saith, they extol it to the clouds ; but if the poor man speak, they say, What fellow is this ? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are ¹ good unto him that hath no sin, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

25 ^m The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil : and a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.

26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity ; and the finding out of paradoxes is a wearisome labour of the mind.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 A good conscience make him ¹ wise : ² but a bad one doeth good to none. ³ That doeth good, ⁴ thou art happy that draw near to wisdom.

BLESSED is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth, and is not pricked with the multitude of sins.

2 Blessed is he whose conscience hath not condemned him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard : and what should an envious man do with money ?

4 He that gathereth by defrauding his own soul, ⁵ gathereth for others, that shall spend his goods riotously.

5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good ? he shall not take pleasure in his goods.

6 There is none worse than he that envieveth himself ; and this is a recompense of his wickedness.

7 And if he doeth good, he doeth it unwillingly ; and at the last he will declare his wickedness.

8 ^a The envious man hath a wicked eye ; he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A ^c covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion ; and the iniquity of the wicked drieth up his soul.

10 ^d A wicked eye envieveth [his] bread, and he is a niggard at his table.

11 My son, according to thy ability do good to thyself, and give the Lord his due offering.

12 Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.

13 ^e Do good unto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.

14 Deceit not thyself of ¹ the good day, and let not the part of a good desire overpass thee.

15 ^b Shalt thou not leave thy travails unto another ? and thy labours to be divided by lot ?

16 Give, and take, and sanctify thy soul ; for there is no seeking of dainties in the grave.

17 ^f All flesh waxeth old as a garment : ² for the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.

18 As of the green leaves on a thick tree, some fall, and some grow ; so is the generation of flesh and blood, ³ one cometh to an end, and another is born.

19 Every work rotteth and consumeth away, and the worker thereof shall go withal.

20 ^g Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his understanding.

21 He that considereth her ways in his heart shall also have understanding in her secrets.

22 Go after her as one that traceth, ⁴ and lie in wait in her ways.

23 He that pryeth in at her windows shall also hearken at her doors.

24 He that doth lodge near ⁵ her house shall also fasten a ¹ pin in her walls.

25 He shall pitch his tent nigh unto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

26 He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches.

27 By her he shall be ⁶ covered from heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAPTER XV.

2 Wisdom ensheweth those that fear God. ⁷ The wicked shall not gather. ⁸ We may not change God with our faults ; for he made, and left us to ourselves.

HE that feareth the Lord ⁹ will do good ; and he that hath the knowledge of the law shall obtain her.

2 And as a mother shall she meet him, and receive him as a wife married of a virgin.

3 With ¹⁰ the bread of understanding shall she feed him, and give him the water of wisdom to drink.

4 He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved ; and shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.

5 ¹¹ She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.

6 He shall find joy and a crown of gladness, and she shall cause him to inherit ¹² an everlasting name.

7 But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is far from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.

9 ¹³ Praise is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner, for ¹⁴ it was not sent him of the Lord.

10 For ¹⁵ praise shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away : for thou oughtest not to do the things ¹⁶ that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to err : for he hath no need of the sinful man.

13 The Lord hateth all abomination ; and they that fear God love it not.

14 He himself ¹⁷ made man from the beginning, ¹⁸ and left him in the hand of his counsel ;

15 If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.

16 ¹⁹ He hath set fire and water before thee : stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.

17 ²⁰ Before man is life and death ; and whether him liketh shall be given him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things ;

19 And ²¹ his eyes are upon them that fear him, and he knoweth every work of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, neither hath he given any man license to sin.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 It is better to have none, than many lowly children. ² The wicked are not spared for their number. ³ Both the wrath and the mercy of the Lord are great. ⁴ The wicked cannot be hid. ⁵ God's works are unsearchable.

DESIRE not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly sons.

2 Though they multiply, rejoice not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.

3 Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude : for one that is just is better than a thousand ; and better it is to die without children, than to have them that are ungodly.

4 For by one that hath understanding shall the city be replenished : but the ⁶ kindred of the wicked shall speedily become desolate.

5 Many such things have I seen with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things than these.

6 ⁷ In the congregation of the ungodly shall a fire be kindled ; and in a rebellious nation wrath ⁸ is set on fire.

7 ⁹ He was not pacified toward the old giants who fell away in the strength of their foolishness.

8 ¹⁰ Neither spared he the place where Lot sojourneth, but abhorred them for their pride.

9 He pitied not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their sins :

10 ¹¹ Nor the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

11 And if there be one stiff-necked among the people, it is marvel if he escape unpunished : for ¹² mercy and wrath are with him ; he is mighty to forgive, and to pour out displeasure.

12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also : he judgeth a man according to his works.

13 The sinner shall not escape with his spoils : and the patience of the godly shall not be frustrated.

14 Make way for every work of mercy : for every man shall find according to his works.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, that his powerful works might be known to the world.

16 His mercy is manifest to every creature ; and he hath separated his light from the darkness with an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide myself from the Lord : shall any remember me from above ? I shall not be remembered among so many people : for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures ?

18 ¹⁷ Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, the deep, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visit.

19 The mountains also and foundations of the earth shall be shaken with trembling, when the Lord looketh upon them.

20 No heart can think upon these things worthily, and who is able to conceive his ways ?

21 It is a tempest which no man can see : for the most part of his works are hid.

22 Who can declare the works of his justice ? or who can endure them ? for his covenant is afar off, and the trial of all things is in the end.

23 He that wanteth understanding, will think upon vain things : and a foolish man erring, imagineth follies.

24 My son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge, and mark my words with thy heart.

25 I will shew forth doctrine in weight, and declare his knowledge exactly.

26 The works of the Lord are done in judgment from the beginning: and from the time he made them he disposed the parts thereof.

27 He garnished his works for ever, and in his hand are the || chief of them unto all generations: they neither labour, nor are weary, nor cease from their works.

28 None of them hindereth another, and they shall never disolsey his word.

29 After this the Lord looked upon the earth, and filled it with his blessings.

30 With all manner of living things hath he covered the face thereof; and they shall return into it again.

CHAPTER XVII.

How God created and furnished man...11 Avoid all sin; for God seeth all things. 25 Turn to him while thou livest.

THE Lord created man of the earth, and turned him into it again.

2 He gave them few days, and a short time, and power also over the things therein.

3 He ended them with strength by themselves, and made them according to his image,

4 And put the fear || of man upon all flesh, and gave him dominion over beasts and fowls.

5 [They received the use of the five operations of the Lord, and in the sixth place he imparted them understanding, and in the seventh speech, an interpreter of the cogitations thereof.]

6 Counsel, and a tongue, and eyes, ears, and a heart, gave he them to understand.

7 Withal he filled them with the knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil.

8 He set his eye upon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatness of his works.

9 He gave them to glory in his marvellous acts for ever, that they might declare his works with understanding.

10 And the elect shall praise his holy name.

11 Besides this, he gave them knowledge, and the law of life for a heritage.

12 He made an everlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his judgments.

13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice.

14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness; and he gave every man commandment concerning his neighbour.

15 Their ways are ever before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.

16 Every man from his youth is given to evil; neither could they make to themselves fleshly hearts for stony.

17 For in the division of the nations of the whole earth, he set a ruler over every people; but Israel is the Lord's portion.

18 Whom, being his first-born, he nourisheth with discipline, and giving him the light of his love, doth not forsake him.

19 Therefore all their works are as the sun before him, and his eyes are continually upon their ways.

20 None of their unrighteous deeds are hid from him, but all their sins are before the Lord.

21 But the Lord being gracious, and knowing his workmanship, neither left nor forsook them, but spared them.

22 The souls of a man is as a signet with him, and he will keep the good deeds of man as the apple of the eye, and give repentance to his sons and daughters.

23 Afterward he will rise up and reward them, and render their recompense upon their heads.

24 But unto them that repent, he granted them return, and comforted those that failed in patience.

25 Return unto the Lord, and forsake thy sins, make thy prayer before his face, and || offend less.

26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the || light of health: and hate thou abomination vehemently.

27 Who shall praise the Most High in the grave, instead of them which live and give thanks?

28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: the living and sound in heart shall praise the Lord.

29 How great is the loving-kindness of the Lord our God and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness!

30 For all things cannot be in men, because the soul of man is not immortal.

31 What is brighter than the sun? yet the light thereof faileth: and flesh and blood will imagine evil.

32 He vieweth the power of the height of heaven, and all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAPTER XVIII.

God's works are to be wondered at...3 Man's life is short...11 God is merciful...15 Do not blemish thy good deeds with ill words...22 Heir not to be justified...30 Follow not thy lusts.

HE that liveth for ever created all things in general.

2 The Lord only is righteous, and there is none other but he.

3 Who governeth the world with the palm of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he is the King of all, by his power dividing holy things among them from profane.

4 To whom hath he given power to declare his works? and who shall find out his noble acts?

5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?

6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither may any thing be put unto them, neither can the ground of them be found out.

7 When a man hath done, then he beginneth; and when he leaveth off, then he shall be doubtful.

8 What is man, and whereto serveth he? what is his good, and what is his evil?

9 The number of a man's days at the most are a hundred years.

10 As a drop of water into the sea, and a gravel-stone in comparison of the sand; so are a thousand years to the days of eternity.

11 Therefore is God patient with them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.

12 He saw and perceived their end to be evil; therefore he multiplied his compassion.

13 The mercy of man is toward his neighbour; but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he reproveth, and nurtureth, and teacheth, and bringeth again, as a shepherd his flock.

14 He hath mercy on them that receive discipline, and that diligently seek after his judgments.

15 My son, blemish not thy good deeds, neither use uncomfortable words when thou givest any thing.

16 Shall not the dew assuage the heat? so is a word better than a gift.

17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift? but both are with a gracious man.

18 A fool will upbraid churlishly, and a gift of the envious consumeth the eyes.

19 Learn before thou speak, and use physic or ever thou be sick.

20 Before judgment examine thyself, and in the day of visitation thou shalt find mercy.

21 Humble thyself before thou be sick, and in the time of sins shew repentance.

22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time, and defer not until death to be justified.

23 Before thou prayest, prepare thyself; and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

24 Think upon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the time of vengeance, when he shall turn away his face.

25 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, think upon poverty and need.

26 From the morning until the evening the time is changed, and all things are soon done before the Lord.

27 A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a fool will not observe time.

28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise unto him that found her.

29 They that were of understanding in sayings, became also wise themselves, and poured forth exquisite parables.

30 Go not after thy lusts, but refrain thyself from thine appetites.

31 If thou givest thy soul the desire that please her, she will make thee a laughing-stock to thine enemies that malign thee.

32 Take not pleasure in much good cheer, neither be tied to the expense thereof.

33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt be in wait for thine own life, and be talked on.

CHAPTER XIX.

Wine and women seduce wise men...7 Say not all thou hearest...17 Reprove thy friend without anger...22 There is no wisdom in wickedness.

LABOURING man that is given to drunkenness shall not be rich: and he that contemneth small things shall fall by little and little.

2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away : and he that cleaveth to harlots will become impudent.
3 Moths and worms shall have him to heritage, and a bold man shall be taken away.
4 He that is hasty to give credit is light-minded ; and he that smeth shall offend against his own soul.
5 Whoso taketh pleasure in wickedness shall be condemned : but he that resisteth pleasures crowneth his life.
6 He that can rule his tongue shall live without strife ; and he that hateth babbling shall have less evil.
7 Rehearse not unto another that which is told unto thee, and thou shalt fare never the worse.
8 Whether it be to a friend or foe, talk not of other men's lives ; and if thou canst without offence, reveal them not.
9 For he heard and observed thee, and when time cometh he will hate thee.
10 If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee ; and be bold, it will not hurt thee.

23 There is a wickedness, and the same an abomination ; and there is a fool wanting in wisdom.
24 He that hath small understanding, and feareth God, is better than one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the law of the Most High.
25 There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust ; and there is one that turneth aside to make judgment appear ; and there is a wise man that justifieth in judgment.
26 There is a wicked man that langueth down his head sadly ; but inwardly he is full of deceit.
27 Casting down his countenance, and making as if he heard not : where he is not known, he will do thee a mischief before thou be aware.
28 And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning, yet when he findeth opportunity he will do evil.
29 A man may be known by his look, and one that hath understanding by his countenance, when thou meetest him.
30 A man's attire, and excessive laughter, and gait, shew what he is.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Of silence and speaking. 10 Of gifts and gain. 15 Of slippeth by the tongue. 24 Of lying. 27 Of divers cautions.

THERE is a reproof that is not comely : again, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.
2 It is much better to reprove, than to be angry secretly : and he that confesseth his fault shall be preserved from hurt.
3 How good is it, when thou art reprov'd, to shew repentance ! for so shalt thou escape wilful sin.
4 As is the lust of a cunuch to devour a virgin ; so is he that executeth judgment with violence.
5 There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise : and another by much babbling becometh hateful.
6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer : and some keepeth silence, knowing his time.
7 A wise man will hold his tongue till he see opportunity : but a babler and a fool will regard no time.
8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred ; and he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.

9 There is a sinner that hath good success in evil things ; and there is a gain that turneth to loss.
10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee ; and there is a gift whose recompense is double.
11 There is an abusement because of glory ; and there is that lieth up his head from a low estate.
12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and repayeth it seven-fold.
13 A wise man by his words maketh himself beloved : but the graces of fools shall be poured out.
14 The gift of a fool shall do thee no good when thou hast it ; neither yet of the envious for his necessity : for he looketh to receive many things for one.
15 He giveth little, and upbraideth much ; he openeth his mouth like a crier ; to-day he lendeth, and to-morrow will he ask it again : such a one is to be hated of God and man.
16 The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thanks for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread speak evil of me.
17 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn ! for he knoweth not aright what it is to have ; and it is all one unto him as if he had it not.
18 To slip upon a pavement is better than to slip with the tongue : so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.
19 An unreasonable tale will always be in the mouth of the unwise.
20 A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fool's mouth ; for he will not speak it in due season.
21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want : and when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.
22 There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons overthroweth himself.
23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.
24 A lie is a foul blot in a man, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untaught.
25 A thief is better than a man that is accustomed to lie : but they both shall have destruction to heritage.
26 The disposition of a liar is dishonourable, and his shame is ever with him.
27 A wise man shall promote himself to honour with his words ; and he that hath understanding will please great men.
28 He that tilleth his land shall increase his heap : and he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.
29 Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and stop up his mouth that he cannot reprove.
30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both ?
31 Better is he that hideth his folly than a man that hideth his wisdom.
32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord is better than he that leadeth his life without a guide.

CHAPTER XXI.

2 Flee from sin as from a serpent. 11 His oppression will undo the rich. 12 The end of the unjust shall be brought. 12 The difference between the fool and the wise.

MY son, hast thou sinned ? do so no more, but ask pardon for thy former sins.
2 Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent : for if thou comest too near it, it will bite thee : the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, slaying the souls of men.
3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.
4 To terrify and do wrong will waste riches : thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.
5 A prayer out of a poor man's mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgment cometh speedily.
6 He that hateth to be reprov'd is in the way of sinners ; but he that feareth the Lord will report from his heart.
7 An eloquent man is known far and near ; but a man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.
8 He that buildeth his house with other men's money is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his burial.
9 The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together : and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.
10 The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.
11 He that keepeth the law of the Lord getteth the understanding thereof : and the perfection of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.
12 He that is not wise will not be taught : but there is a wisdom which multiplieth bitterness.
13 The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood ; and his counsel is like a pure fountain of life.

14 * The inner parts of a fool are like a broken vessel, and he will hold no knowledge as long as he liveth.

15 If a skilful man hear a wise word, he will commend it, and / add unto it; but as soon as one of no understanding hear-eth it, it displeaseth him, and he casteth it behind his back.

16 The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.

17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk without sense.

19 Doctrine unto fools is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

20 * A fool lieth up his voice with laughter; but a wise man doth scarce smile a little.

21 Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 A foolish man's foot is soon in his [neighbour's] house: but a man of experience is ashamed of him.

23 A fool will peep in at the door into the house: but he that is well nurtured will stand without.

24 It is the rudeness of a man to hearken at the door: but a wise man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertain not unto them: but the words of such as have understanding are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth Satan, he curseth his own soul.

28 * A whisperer defileth his own soul, and is hated where-soever he dwelleth.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Of the foolish man, and a foolish daughter. 2 Weep rather for foods, than for the dead.

3 Slothful man is compared to a filthy stone, and every one will hiss him out to his disgrace.

4 A slothful man is compared to the fifth of a dunghill: every man that takes it up will shake his hand.

5 An evil-nurtured son is the dishonour of his father that begetteth him: and a [foolish] daughter is born to his loss.

6 * A wise daughter / shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but she that liveth dishonestly is her father's heaviness.

7 She that is bold dishonoureth both her father and her husband, but they both shall despise her.

8 A tale out of season [is as] musick in mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are never out of time.

9 Whoso teacheth a fool is as one that glueh a potsherd together, and as he that wakketh one from a sound sleep.

10 He that telleth a tale to a fool speaketh to one in a slumber: when he hath told his tale he will say, What is the matter?

11 If children live honestly, and have / wherewithal, they shall cover the baseness of their parents.

12 But children, being haughty, through disdain and want of nurture do stain the nobility of their kindred.

13 * Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light: and weep for the fool, for he wanteth understanding: make little weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the fool is worse than death.

14 Seven days do men mourn for him that is dead; but for a fool and an ungodly man all the days of his life.

15 Talk not much with a fool, and go not to him that hath no understanding: / beware of him, lest thou have trouble, and thou shalt never be defiled / with his fooleries: depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and never be / disquieted with madness.

16 What is heavier than lead? and what is the name thereof, but a / Sand?

17 * Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear than a man without understanding.

18 As timber girt and bound together in a building cannot be loosed with shaking: so the heart that is established by advised counsel shall fear at no time.

19 A heart settled upon a thought of understanding is as a fair plastering / on the wall of a gallery.

20 Pales set on a high place will never stand against the wind: so a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool cannot stand against any fear.

21 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall: and he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew her knowledge.

22 Whoso casteth a stone at the birds frayeth them away: and he that upbraids his friend breaketh friendship.

23 Though thou drestest a sword at thy friend, yet despair not: for there may be a returning [to favour].

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against thy friend, fear not; for there may be a reconciliation: except for upbraiding, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for, for these things every friend will depart.

23 Be faithful to thy neighbour in his poverty, that thou mayest rejoice in his prosperity: abide steadfast unto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heir with him in his heritage: for a mean estate is not always to be contemned: nor the rich that is foolish to be had in admiration.

24 As the vapour and smoke of a furnace goeth before the fire: so reviling before blood.

25 I will not be ashamed to defend a friend: neither will I hide myself from him.

26 And if any evil happen unto me by him, every one that heareth it will beware of him.

27 * Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a seal of wisdom upon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 A panger for grace in the sinners. 2 We may not use swearing, but remember our parents.

3 Of three sorts of sinners. 4 The adulterers will be smooth many ways.

5 LORD, Father and Governor of all my whole life, leave me not to their comels, and let me not fall by them.

6 Who will set scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom over my heart? that they spare me not for mine ignorances, and it pass not by my sins:

7 Lest mine ignorances increase, and my sins abound to my destruction, and I fall before mine adversaries, and mine enemy rejoice over me, whose hope is far from thy mercy.

8 O Lord, Father and God of my life, give me not a proud look, but turn away from thy servants always: a haughty mind.

9 Turn away from me vain hopes and concupiscence, and thou shalt hold him up that is desirous always to serve thee.

10 Let not the greediness of the belly nor lust of the flesh take hold of me; and give not over me thy servant into an impudent mind.

11 Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: he that keepeth it shall never be taken in his lips.

12 The sinner shall be left in his foolishness: both the evil speaker and the proud shall fall thereby.

13 * Accustom not thy mouth to swearing: neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One.

14 For as a servant that is continually beaten shall not be without a blue mark: so be that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be faultless.

15 A man that useth much swearing shall be filled with iniquity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him: and if he acknowledge not his sin, he maketh a double offence; and if he swear in vain, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of calamities.

16 There is a word that is clothed about with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob; for all such things shall be far from the godly, and they shall not wallow in their sins.

17 Use not thy mouth to intemperate swearing, for therein is the word of sin.

18 Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou sittest among great men. Be not forgetful before them, and so thou by thy custom become a fool, and wish that thou hadst not been born, and curse the day of thy nativity.

19 * The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words will never be reformed all the days of his life.

20 Two sorts of men multiply sin, and the third will bring wrath: a hot mind is as a burning fire, it will never be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath kindled a fire.

21 * All bread is sweet to a whoremonger, he will not leave off till he die.

22 A man that breaketh wedlock, saying thus in his heart, Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkness, the walls cover me, and no body seeth me: what need I to fear? the Most High will not remember my sins:

23 Such a man only feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, beholding all the ways of men, and considering the most secret parts.

24 He knew all things ere ever they were created; so also after they were perfected he looked upon them all.

25 * This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and where he suspecteth not he shall be taken.

26 Thus shall it go also with the wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by another.

25 Her children shall not take root, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.

26 She shall leave her memory to be cursed, and her reproach shall not be blotted out.

28 It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be received of him is long life.

CHAPTER XXIV.

WISDOM shall praise herself, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

2 In the congregation of the Most High shall she open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 I came out of the mouth of the Most High, and covered the earth as a cloud.

4 I dwell in high places, and my throne is in a cloudy pillar.

5 I alone compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the bottom of the deep.

6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people and nation, I got a possession.

7 With all these I sought rest: and in whose inheritance shall I abide?

8 So the Creator of all things gave me a commendment, and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

9 He created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail.

10 In the holy tabernacle I served before him; and so was I established in Zion.

11 Likewise in the beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.

12 And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lord's inheritance.

13 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress-tree upon the mountains of Hermon.

14 I was exalted like a palm-tree in Engaddi, and as a rose-plank in Jericho, as a fair olive-tree in a pleasant field, and grew up as a pine-tree by the water.

15 I gave a sweet smell like cinnamon and aspalathus, and I yielded a pleasant odour like the best myrrh, as galbannu, and onyx, and sweet storax, and as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.

16 As the turpentine-tree I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

17 As the vine brought forth a pleasant savour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

18 I am the mother of fair love, and fear, and knowledge, and holy hope: I therefore, being eternal, am given to all my children which are named of him.

19 Come unto me, all ye that be desirous of me, and fill yourselves with my fruits.

20 For my memorial is sweeter than honey, and mine inheritance than the honey-comb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry, and they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

22 He that obeyeth me shall never be confounded, and they that work by me shall not do amiss.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the most high God, even the law which Moses commanded for a heritage unto the congregations of Jacob.

24 Faint not to be strong in the Lord: that he may confirm you, cleave unto him: for the Lord Almighty is God alone, and besides him there is no other Saviour.

25 He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Phison and as Tigris in the time of the new fruits.

26 He maketh the understanding to abound like Euphrates, and as Jordan in the time of the harvest.

27 He maketh the doctrine of knowledge appear as the light, and as Geon in the time of vintage.

28 The first man knew her not perfectly: no more shall the last find her out.

29 For her thoughts are more than the sea, and her counsels profounder than the great deep.

30 I also came out as a brook from a river, and as a conduit into a garden.

31 I said, I will water my best garden, and will water abundantly my garden-bed: and lo, my brook became a river, and my river became a sea.

32 I will yet make doctrine to shine as the morning, and will send forth her light afar off.

33 I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, and leave it to all ages for ever.

34 Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, but for all them that seek wisdom.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 What things are beautiful, and what profitable? What is the crown of age? What things make man happy? Nothing worse than a wicked woman.

2 Three things I was beautified, and stood up beautiful both before God and men: the unity of brethren, the love of neighbours, a man and a wife that agree together.

3 Three sorts of men my soul hateth, and I am greatly offended at their life: a poor man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doth.

4 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, how canst thou find any thing in thine age?

5 O how comely a thing is judgment for gray hairs, and for ancient men to know counsel!

6 O how comely is the wisdom of old men, and understanding and counsel to men of honour!

7 Much experience is the crown of old men, and the fear of God is their glory.

8 There be nine things which I have judged in my heart to be happy, and the tenth I will utter with my tongue: A man that hath joy of his children; and he that liveth to see the fall of his enemy:

9 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of understanding, and that hath not slipped with his tongue, and that hath not served a man more unworthy than himself:

10 Well is him that hath found prudence, and he that speaketh in the ears of them that will hear:

11 O how great is he that findeth wisdom! yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

12 The fear of the Lord passeth all things for illumination: he that holdeth it, whereto shall he be likened?

13 [Give me] any plague, but the plague of the heart: and any wickedness, but the wickedness of a woman:

14 And any affliction, but the affliction from them that hate me: and any revenge, but the revenge of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent; and there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 I had rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, than to keep house with a wicked woman.

17 The wickedness of a woman cangeth her face, and darkeneth her countenance like sackcloth.

18 Her husband shall sit among his neighbours; and when he heareth it shall sigh bitterly.

19 All wickedness is but little to the wickedness of a woman: let the portion of a sinner fall upon her.

20 As the clabbing of a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

21 Stumble not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for pleasure.

22 A woman, if she maintain her husband, is full of anger, impudence, and much reproach.

23 A wicked woman abateth the courage, maketh a heavy countenance and a wounded heart: a woman that will not comfort her husband in distress maketh weak hands and feeble knees.

24 Of the woman came the beginning of sin, and through her we all die.

25 Give the water no passage; neither a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.

26 If she go not as thou wouldst have her, cut her off from thy flesh, and give her a bill of divorce, and let her go.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 A good wife, and a good concubine do children men. A wicked wife is a fearful thing. Of good and bad wives, of three things that are grievous, the first is a wicked wife, and the second is a wicked concubine, and the third is a wicked maid.

2 A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and he shall fulfil the years of his life in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion, which shall be given in the portion of them that fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor, he have a good heart toward the Lord, he shall at all times rejoice with a cheerful countenance.
5 There be three things that stay a heart foureth; and for the fourth I was sore afraid: the slander of a city, and gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation: all these are worse than death.
6 But a grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous over another woman, and a scourge of the tongue which com-muneeth with all.
7 An evil wife is as a yoke shaken to and fro: he that hath hold of her is as though he held a scorpion.
8 A drunken woman and a gadder abroad causeth great anger, and she will not cover her own shame.
9 The whoredom of a woman may be known in her haughty looks and eyelids.
10 If thy daughter be shameless, keep her in straitly, lest she abuse herself through overmuch liberty.
11 Watch over an incontinent eye: and marvel not if she trespass against thee.
12 She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller when he hath found a fountain, and drink of every water near her: by every hedge she will sit down, and open her quiver against every arrow.
13 The grace of a wife delighteth her husband, and her discretion will fatten his bones.
14 A silent and loving woman is a gift of the Lord; and there is nothing so much worth as a mind well instructed.
15 A shamefaced and a faithful woman is a double grace, and her continent mind cannot be valued.
16 As the sun when it riseth in the high heaven; so is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of her house.
17 As the clear light is upon the holy candlestick; so is the beauty of the face in ripe age.
18 As the golden pillars are upon the sockets of silver; so are the feet with a constant sign.
19 My son, keep the flower of thine age sound; and give not thy strength to strangers.
20 When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the field, sow it with thine own seed, trusting in the goodness of thy stock.
21 So thy race which thou leavest shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.
22 A harlot shall be accounted as spittle, but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.
23 A wicked woman is given as a portion to a wicked man:
but a godly woman is given to him that feareth the Lord.
24 A dishonest woman contemneth shame: but an honest woman will reverence her husband.
25 A shameless woman shall be accounted as a dog; but she that is shamefaced will fear the Lord.
26 A woman that honoureth her husband shall be judged wise of all; but she that dishonoureth him in her pride shall be counted ungodly of all.
27 A loud crying woman and a scold shall be sought out to drive away the enemies.
28 There be two things that grieve my heart; and the third maketh me angry: a man of war that suffereth poverty; and men of understanding that are not set by; and one that returneth from righteousness to sin; the Lord prepareth such a one for the sword.
29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong;
and a huckster shall not be freed from sin.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Of sins in selling and buying...7 Our speech will tell what is in us...10 A friend is lost by discovering his secrets...25 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it.

MANY have sinned for a small matter; and he that seeketh for abundance will turn his eyes away.
2 As a nail sticketh fast between the joinings of the stones;
so doth sin stick close between buying and selling.
3 Unless a man hold himself diligently in the fear of the Lord, his house shall soon be overthrown.
4 As when one sifteth with a sieve, the refuse remaineth; so the filth of man in his talk.
5 The furnace proveth the potter's vessels; so the trial of man is in his reasoning.
6 The fruit declareth if the tree have been dressed; so is the utterance of a conceit in the heart of man.
7 Praise no man before thou hearst him speak; for this is the trial of men.
8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her, and put her on; as a glorious long robe

9 The birds will resort unto their like; so will truth return unto them that practise in her.
10 As the lion lieth in wait for the prey; so sin for them that work iniquity.
11 The discourse of a godly man is always with wisdom; but a fool changeth as the moon.
12 If thou be among the foolish, observe the time; but be continually among men of understanding.
13 The discourse of fools is irksome, and their sport is in the wantonness of sin.
14 The talk of him that sweareth much maketh the hair stand upright; and their brawls make one stop his ears.
15 The strife of the proud is bloodshedding, and their revil-ings are grievous to the ear.
16 Whoso discovereth secrets loseth his credit: and shall never find a friend to his mind.
17 Love thy friend, and be faithful unto him: but if thou betrayest his secrets, follow no more after him.
18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy; so hast thou lost the love of thy neighbour.
19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and shalt not get him again.
20 Follow after him no more, for he is too far off; he is as a roo escaped out of the snare.
21 As for a wound, it may be bound up; and after reviling there may be reconciliation; but he that betrayeth secrets is without hope.
22 He that winketh with the eyes worketh evil: and he that knoweth him will depart from him.
23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly, and will adorn thy words; but at the last he will write his mouth, and slander thy sayings.
24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him; for the Lord will hate him.
25 Whoso casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head; and a deceitful stroke shall make wounds.
26 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and he that setteth a trap shall be taken therein.
27 He that worketh mischief, it shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.
28 Mockery and reproach are from the proud; but vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for them.
29 They that rejoice at the fall of the righteous shall be taken in the snare; and anguish shall consume them before they die.
30 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations; and the sinful man shall have them both.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Against revenge, quarrelling, anger, and backbiting.

HE that revegeth shall find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sins [in remembrance].
2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done unto thee, so shall thy sins also be forgiven when thou prayest.
3 One man beareth hatred against another, and doth he seek pardon from the Lord?
4 He sheweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself; and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sins?
5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who will entreat for pardon of his sins?
6 Remember thy end, and let enmity cease; [remember] corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.
7 Remember the commandments, and bear no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.
8 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: for a furious man will kindle strife.
9 A sinful man disquieteth friends, and maketh debate among them that be at peace.
10 As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth; and as a man's strength is, so is his wrath; and according to his riches his anger riseth; and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.
11 A hasty contention kindleth a fire; and a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.
12 If thou slow the spark, it shall burn: if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched; and both these come out of thy mouth.
13 Curse the whisperer and double-tongued; for such have destroyed many that were at peace.
14 A backbiting tongue hath disquieted many, and driven them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it pillaged, and overthrown the houses of great men.

15 A ¹ backbiting tongue hath cast out virtuous women, and deprived them of their labours.

16 Whoso hearkeneth unto it shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the whip maketh marks in the flesh : but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword : but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is he ¹ that is defended from it, and hath not passed through ² the venom thereof : who hath not drawn the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of brass.

21 The death thereof is an evil death, the grave were better than it.

22 ¹ It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burned with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forsake the Lord shall fall into it ; and it shall burn in them, and not be quenched ; it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and devour them as a leopard.

24 Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns, and bind up thy silver and gold :

25 And weigh thy words in a balance, ² and make a door and ³ for thy mouth.

26 Beware thou slide not by it, ⁴ lest thou fall before him that lieth in wait.

CHAPTER XXIX.

¹ We must shew mercy and lend ; ² but the borrower must not defraud the lender.... Give him.... ³ A good man will lend unto his surety.... ⁴ To be surety, and underlink for others, is dangerous.... ⁵ It is better to live at home, than to sojourn.

⁶ HE that is merciful will lend unto his neighbour ; and he that strengtheneth his hand keepeth the commandments.

⁷ Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.

⁸ Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him, and thou shalt always find the thing that is necessary for thee.

⁹ Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.

¹⁰ Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hand ; and for his neighbour's money he will speak submissively : ¹¹ but when he should repay, he will prolong the time, and return words of grief, and complain of the time.

¹² If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half, and he will count as if he had found it : if not, he hath deprived him of his money, and he hath gotten him an enemy without cause : ¹³ he payeth him with cursings and railings ; and for honour he will pay him disgrace.

¹⁴ Many therefore have refused to lend for other men's ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.

¹⁵ Yet have thou patience with a man in poor estate, and delay not to shew him mercy.

¹⁶ Help the poor for the commandment's sake, and turn him not away because of his poverty.

¹⁷ Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend, ¹⁸ and let it not rust under a stone to be lost.

¹⁹ Lay up thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High, and it shall bring thee more profit than gold.

²⁰ Shut up alms in thy ²¹ storehouses ; and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.

²² It shall fight for thee against thine enemies better than a mighty shield and strong spear.

²³ An honest man is surety for his neighbour : but he that is impudent will ²⁴ forsake him.

²⁵ Forget not the friendship of thy surety, for he hath given his life for thee.

²⁶ A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety :

²⁷ And he that is of an unthankful mind will leave him [in danger] that delivered him.

²⁸ Suretyship hath undone many of good estate, and shaken them as a wave of the sea : mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandered among strange nations.

²⁹ A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord shall fall into suretyship : and he that undertaketh and followeth other men's business for gain shall fall into suits.

³⁰ Help thy neighbour ³¹ according to thy power, and beware that thou thyself fall not into the same.

³² The ³³ chief thing for life is water, and bread, and clothing, and a house to cover shame.

³⁴ Better is the life of a poor man in a mean cottage, than delicate fare in another man's house.

³⁵ Be it little or much, ³⁶ hold thee contented, that thou hear not the reproach of thy house.

24 For it is a miserable life to go from house to house : for where thou art a stranger, thou dardest not open thy mouth.

25 Thou shalt entertain, and feast, and have no thanks : moreover, ²⁶ thou shalt hear bitter words.

26 Come, thou stranger, and furnish a table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.

27 ²⁸ Give place, thou stranger, to an honourable man ; my brother cometh to be lodged, and I have need of my house.

28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding ; the upbraiding of house-room, and reproaching of the lender.

CHAPTER XXX.

¹ It is good to correct our children, and not to correct them.... ² Health is better than wealth.... ³ Health and life are shortened by grief.

⁴ HE ⁵ that loveth his son causeth him off to feel the rod, that he may have joy of him in the end.

⁶ He that chastiseth his son shall have ⁷ joy in him, and shall rejoice in him among his ⁸ acquaintance.

⁹ He that ¹⁰ teacheth his son grieveth the enemy : and before his friends he shall rejoice of him.

¹¹ Though his father die, yet he is as though he were not dead : for he hath left one behind him that is like himself.

¹² While he liveth, he ¹³ saw and rejoiced in him : and when he died, he was not sorrowful.

¹⁴ He left behind him an avenger against his enemies, and one that shall ¹⁵ requite kindness to his friends.

¹⁶ He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds ; and his bowels will be troubled at every cry.

¹⁷ A horse not broken becometh headstrong ; and a child left to himself will be wilful.

¹⁸ Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee ¹⁹ afraid : play with him, and he will bring thee to heaviness.

²⁰ Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.

²¹ Give him no liberty in his youth, and wink not at his follies.

²² Bow down his neck while he is young, and heat him on the sides while he is a child, lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee, ²³ and so bring sorrow to thy heart.

²⁴ Chastise thy son, and hold him to labour, lest his lewd behaviour be an offence unto thee.

²⁵ Better is the poor, being sound and strong of constitution, than a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

²⁶ Health and good estate of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.

²⁷ There is no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart.

²⁸ Death is better than a bitter life or continual sickness.

²⁹ Delicacies poured upon a mouth shut up, are as messes of meat set upon a grave.

³⁰ What good doeth the offering unto an idol ? for neither can it eat nor smell : so is he that is ³¹ persecuted of the Lord.

³² He seeth with his eyes and groaneth, ³³ as a eunuch that embraceth a virgin and sigheth.

³⁴ Give not over thy mind to heaviness, and afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

³⁵ The gladness of the heart is the life of man, and the ³⁶ joyfulness of a man prolongeth his days.

³⁷ Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart, remove sorrow far from thee : ³⁸ for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.

³⁹ Envy and wrath shorten the life, and carefulness bringeth age before the time.

⁴⁰ A cheerful and good heart will have a care of his meat and diet.

CHAPTER XXXI.

¹ Of the desire of riches.... ² Of moderation and excess in eating, or drinking wine.

³ WATCHING for ⁴ riches consumeth the flesh, and the care thereof driveth away sleep.

⁵ Watching care will not let a man slumber, as a sore disease breaketh sleep.

⁶ The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together ; and when he resteth, he is filled with his delicacies.

⁷ The poor laboureth in his poor estate ; and when he leaveth off, he is still needy.

⁸ He that loveth gold shall not be justified, and he that followeth corruption shall have enough thereof.

⁹ Gold hath been the ruin of many, and their destruction was present.

¹⁰ It is a stumbling-block unto them that sacrifice unto it, and every fool shall be taken therewith.

¹¹ Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish, and hath ¹² gone after gold.

9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed: for wonderful things hath he done among his people.
10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect? then let him glory. Who might offend, and hath not offended? or done evil, and hath not done it?
11 His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his alms.
12 If thou sit at a bountiful table, & be not greedy upon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.
13 Remember that a wicked eye is an evil thing: and what is created more wicked than an eye? therefore it weepeth upon every occasion.
14 Stretch not thy hand whithersoever it looketh, and thrust it not with him into the dish.
15 Judge of thy neighbour by thyself: and be discreet in every point.
16 Eat, as it becometh a man, those things which are set before thee: and devour not, lest thou be hated.
17 Leave off first for manners' sake; and be not unsatiable, lest thou offend.
18 When thou sittest among many, reach not thy hand out first of all.
19 A very little is sufficient for a man well nurtured, and he fetcheth not his wind short upon his bed.
20 Sound sleep cometh of moderate eating: he riseth early, and his wits are with him; but the pain of watching, and choler, and pangs of the belly, are with an unsatiable man.
21 And if thou hast been forced to eat, arise, go forth, vomit, and thou shalt have rest.
22 My son, hear me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt find as I told thee: in all thy works be quick, so shall there no sickness come unto thee.
23 Whoso is liberal of his meat, men shall speak well of him; and the report of his good house-keeping will be believed.
24 But against him that is a niggard of his meat the whole city shall murmur: and the testimonies of his niggardness shall not be doubted of.
25 Shew not thy valiantness in wine; for wine hath destroyed many.
26 The furnace proveth the edge by dipping: so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkenness.
27 A Wine is as good as life to a man, if it be drunk moderately: what is life then to a man that is without wine? for it was made to make men glad.
28 Wine measurably drunk and in season, bringeth gladness of the heart, and cheerfulness of the mind:
29 But wine drunken with excess maketh bitterness of the mind, with brawling and quarrelling.
30 Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend: it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.
31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: give him no spiteful words, and press not upon him with urging him [to drink].
CHAPTER XXXII.
1 Of his duty that is chief or master in a feast... 11 Of the fear of God... 12 Of counsel.
20 Of a rugged and smooth way... 23 Trust not to any but to thyself, and to God.
24 Thou be made the master [of a feast,] bid not thyself up, but be among them as one of the rest, take diligent care for them, and so sit down.
2 And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place, that thou mayest be merry with them, and receive a crown for thy well-ordering of the feast.
3 Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment; and hinder not music.
4 Pout not out words where there is a musician, and shew not forth wisdom out of time.
5 A concert of music in a banquet of wine is as a signet of carbuncle set in gold.
6 As a signet of an emerald set in a work of gold, so is the melody of music with pleasant wine.
7 Speak, young man, if there be need of thee: and yet scarcely when thou art twice asked.
8 Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words; be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.
9 If thou be among great men, make not thyself equal with them: and when ancient men are in place use not many words.
10 Before the thunder goeth lightning; and before a shame-faced man shall go favour.
11 Rise up betimes, and he not the last; but get thee home without delay.
12 There take thy pastime, and do what thou wilt: but sin not by proud speech.

13 And for these things bless him that made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.
14 Whoso feareth the Lord will receive his discipline; and they that seek him early shall find favour.
15 He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.
16 They that fear the Lord shall find judgment, and shall kindle justice as a light.
17 A sinful man will not be reproved, but findeth an excuse according to his will.
18 A man of counsel will be considerate; but a strange and proud man is not daunted with fear, even when of himself he hath done without counsel.
19 Do nothing without advice; and when thou hast once done, repent not.
20 Go not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, and stumble not among the stones.
21 Be not confident in a plain way.
22 And beware of thy own children.
23 In every good work trust thy own soul; for this is the keeping of the commandments.
24 He that believeth in the Lord taketh heed to the commandment, and he that trusteth in him shall have never the worse.
CHAPTER XXXIII.
1 The safety of him that feareth the Lord... 2 The wise and the foolish... 7 Times and seasons are of God... 10 Men are as his hands as clay in the hands of the potter.
11 WHERE shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord; but in temptation even again he will deliver him.
2 A wise man hateth not the law; but he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.
3 A man of understanding trusteth in the law; and the law is faithful unto him, as an oracle.
4 Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard: and bind up instruction, and then make answer.
5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart-wheel; and his thoughts are like a rolling axle-tree.
6 A stallion horse is as a mocking friend, he neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.
7 Why doth one day excel another, when as all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?
8 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished: and he altered seasons and feasts.
9 Some of them hath he made high days, and hallowed them, and some of them hath he made ordinary days.
10 And all men are from the ground, and Adam was created of earth.
11 In much knowledge the Lord hath divided them, and made their ways diverse.
12 Some of them hath he blessed and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and set near himself: but some of them hath he cursed and brought low, and turned out of their places.
13 As the clay is in the potter's hand, to fashion it at his pleasure; so man is in the hand of him that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.
14 Good is set against evil, and life against death: so is the godly against the sinner, and the sinner against the godly.
15 So look upon all the works of the Most High; and there are two and two, one against another.
16 I awaked up last of all, as one that gathereth after the grape-gatherers: by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and filled me wine-press like a gatherer of grapes.
17 Consider that I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning.
18 Hear me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.
19 Give not thy son and wife, thy brother and friend, power over thee while thou livest, and give not thy goods to another: lest it repent thee, and thou entreat for the same again.
20 As long as thou livest and hast breath in thee, give not thyself over to any.
21 For better it is that thy children should seek to thee, than that thou shouldst stand to their contumacy.
22 In all thy works keep to thyself the pre-eminence; leave not a stain in thine honour.
23 At the time when thou shalt end thy days, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.
24 Fodder, a wand, and burdens, are for the ass; and bread, correction, and work, for a servant.
25 If thou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt find rest; but if thou let him go idle, he shall seek liberty.
26 A yoke and a collar do bow the neck: so are tortures and torments for an evil servant.

28 Set him to work, as is fit for him: if he be not obedient, put on more heavy fetters.

29 But be not excessive toward any; and without discretion do nothing.

30 If thou have a servant, let him be unto thee as thyself, because thou hast bought him with a price.

31 If thou have a servant, entreat him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine own soul: if thou entreat him evil, and he run from thee, which way wilt thou go to seek him?

CHAPTER XXXIV.

1 Of dreams.—13 The praise and blessing of them that fear the Lord.—18 The offering of the ancient, and prayer of the poor innocent.

THE hopes of a man void of understanding are vain and false: and dreams lift up fools.

2 Whoso regardeth dreams is like him that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind.

3 The vision of dreams is the resemblance of one thing to another, even as the likeness of a face to a face.

4 Of an unclean thing what can be cleansed? and from that thing which is false what truth can come?

5 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain: and the heart fancieth, as a woman's heart in travail.

6 If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, set not thy heart upon them.

7 For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.

8 The law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

9 A man that hath travelled knoweth many things; and he that hath much experience will declare wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth little: but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.

11 When I travelled, I saw many things; and I understood more than I can express.

12 I was oft-times in danger of death: yet I was delivered because of these things.

13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live; for their hope is in him that saveth them.

14 Whoso feareth the Lord shall not fear nor be afraid; for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him: he is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling.

17 He raiseth up the soul, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth health, life, and blessing.

18 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous; and the gifts of unjust men are not accepted.

19 The Most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked; neither is he pacified for sin by the multitude of sacrifices.

20 Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor doeth as one that killeth the son before his father's eyes.

21 The bread of the needy is their life: he that defraudeth him thereof is a man of blood.

22 He that taketh away his neighbour's living slayeth him; and he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire is a blood-shedder.

23 When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?

24 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord hear?

25 He that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availeth his washing?

26 So it is with a man that fasteth for his sins, and goeth again, and doeth the same: who will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAPTER XXXV.

1 Sacrifices pleasing to God.—14 The prayer of the fatherless, of the widow, and of the humble in spirit.—23 Acceptable mercy.

HE that keepeth the law bringeth offerings enough: he that taketh heed to the commandment offereth a peace-offering.

2 He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour; and he that giveth alms sacrificeth praise.

3 To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord; and to forsake unrighteousness is a propitiation.

4 Thou shalt not appear empty before the Lord.

5 For all these things [are to be done] because of the commandment.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.

7 The sacrifice of a just man is acceptable, and the memorial thereof shall never be forgotten.

8 Give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the first-fruits of thy hands.

9 In all thy gifts shew a cheerful countenance, and dedicate thy tithes with gladness.

10 Give unto the Most High according as he hath enriched thee; and as thou hast gotten, give with a cheerful eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth, and will give thee seven times as much.

12 Do not think to corrupt with gifts; for such he will not receive: and trust not to unrighteous sacrifices; for the Lord is judge, and with him is no respect of persons.

13 He will not accept any person against a poor man, but will hear the prayer of the oppressed.

14 He will not despise the supplication of the fatherless; nor the widow, when she poureth out her complaint.

15 Do not the tears run down the widow's cheeks? and is not her cry against him that causeth them to fall?

16 He that serveth the Lord shall be accepted with favour, and his prayer shall reach unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds: and till it come night, he will not be comforted; and will not depart, till the Most High shall behold to judge righteously, and execute judgment.

18 For the Lord will not be slack, neither will the Mighty be patient toward them, till he have smitten in under the joins of the unmerciful, and repaid vengeance to the heaven; till he have taken away the multitude of the proud, and broken the sceptre of the unrighteous;

19 Till he have rendered to every man according to his deeds, and to the works of men according to their devices: till he have judged the cause of his people, and made them to rejoice in his mercy.

20 Mercy is reasonable in the time of affliction, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

1 A prayer for the church against the enemies thereof.—18 A good heart and a froward heart.—21 Of a good wife.

HAVE mercy upon us, O Lord God of all, and behold us: and send thy fear upon all the nations that seek not after thee.

2 Lift up thy hand against the strange nations, and let them see thy power.

3 As thou wast sanctified in us before them: so be thou magnified among them before us.

4 Let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God but thou, O God.

5 Shew new signs, and make other strange wonders: glorify thy hand and thy arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works.

6 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath: take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

7 Make the time short, remember the covenant, and let them declare thy wonderful works.

8 Let him that escaped be consumed by the rage of the fire; and let them perish that oppress the people.

9 Smite in under the heads of the rulers of the heathen, that say, There is none other but we.

10 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and inherit thou them, as from the beginning.

11 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name, and upon Israel, whom thou hast named thy first-born.

12 O be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, the place of thy rest.

13 Fill Zion with thine unspeakable oracles, and thy people with thy glory.

14 Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy name.

15 Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.

16 O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

17 The belly devoureth all meats, yet is one meat better than another.

18 As the palate tasteth divers kinds of venison: so doth a heart of understanding false speeches.

19 A froward heart causeth heaviness: but a man of experience will recompense him.

21 A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.
22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.
23 If there be kindness, meekness, and comfort in her tongue, there is not her husband || like other men.
24 He that getteth a wife, beginneth || a possession, * a help like unto himself, and a pillar of rest.
25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife will wander up and down mourning.
26 Who will trust a thief well appointed, that skippeth from city to city? so [who will believe] a man that hath no house, and lodgeth wheresoever the night taketh him?

CHAPTER XXXVII.

1 How to know friends and counsellors... 12 The discretion and wisdom of a godly man honesty him... 27 Learn to refrain thine appetite.

EVERY friend saith, I am his friend also, but there is a friend * which is only a friend in name.
2 Is it not a grief unto death, * when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?
3 O wicked imagination, whence comest thou in to cover the earth with deceit?
4 * There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the prosperity of a friend, but in the time of trouble will be against him.
5 There is a companion, which helpeth his friend for the belly,
and taketh up the buckler || against the enemy.
6 Forget not thy friend in thy mind, and be not unmindful of him in thy riches.
7 Every counsellor extollet counsel; but there is some that counselteth for himself.
8 Beware of a counsellor, and know before || what need he hath: for he will counsel for himself; lest he cast the lot upon thee.
9 And say unto thee, Thy way is good: and afterward he stand on the other side, to see what shall befall thee.
10 Consult not with one that suspecteth thee: and hide thy counsel from such as envy thee.

11 Neither consult with a woman touching her of whom she is jealous; neither with a coward in matters of war; nor with a merchant concerning exchange; nor with a buyer of selling; nor with an envious man of thankfulness; nor with an unmerciful man touching kindness; nor with the slothful for any work; nor with a hireling for a year of finishing work; nor with an idle servant of much business: hearken not unto these in any matter of counsel.

12 But be continually with a godly man, whom thou knowest to keep the commandments of the Lord, whose mind is according to thy mind, and will sorrow with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.
13 And let the counsel of thine own heart stand: for there is no man more faithful unto thee than it.

14 For a man's mind is sometime wont to tell him more than seven watchmen, that sit above in a high tower.

15 And above all this pray to the Most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason go before every enterprise, and counsel before every action.

17 The countenance is a sign of changing of the heart.
18 Four manner of things appear: * good and evil, life and death: but the tongue ruleth over them continually.

19 There is one that is wise and teacheth many, and yet is unprofitable to himself.

20 There is one that sheweth wisdom in words, and is hated;
he shall be destitute of all || food.

21 * For grace is not given him from the Lord; because he is deprived of all wisdom.

22 A mother is wise to herself; and the fruits of understanding are commendable in his mouth.

23 A wise man instructeth his people: * and the fruits of his understanding fall not.

24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing; and all they that see him shall count him happy.

25 The days of the life of man may be numbered: but the days of Israel are innumerable.

26 * A wise man shall inherit * glory among his people; and his name shall be perpetual.

27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life, and see what is evil for thee, and give not that unto it.

28 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.

29 Be not insatiable in any dainty thing, nor too greedily upon meats:

30 For excess of meats bringeth sickness, and surfeiting will turn into cholera.

31 * By surfeiting have many perished; but he that taketh heed prolongeth his life.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 Honour due to the physician, and why... 2 How to weep and mourn for the dead.
3 The wisdom of the learned man, and of the labourer and artificer: with the use of them both.

HONOUR a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the Most High cometh healing, and he shall receive honour of the king.

3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head: and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

4 * The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth; and he that is wise will not abhor them.

5 * Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the virtue thereof might be known?

6 And he hath given men skill, that he might be honoured in his marvellous works.

7 With such * doth he heal [men], and taketh away their pains.

8 Of such doth the apothecary make a confection: and of his works there is no end; and from him is peace over all the earth.

9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent: but pray unto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

10 Leave off from sin, and order thy hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickedness.

11 Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour; and make a fat offering, || as not being.

12 Then give place to the physician, * for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 There is a time when in their hands there is good success.

14 For they shall also pray unto the Lord, that he would prosper that which they give for ease and || remedy to prolong life.

15 He that sinneth before his Maker, let him fall into the hand of the physician.

16 My son, * let tears fall down over the dead, and begin to lament, as if thou hadst suffered great harm thyself: and then cover his body according to the custom, and neglect not his burial.

17 Weep bitterly, and make great moan, and use lamentation, as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of: and then comfort thyself for thy heaviness.

18 For of heaviness cometh death, and the heaviness of the heart breaketh strength.

19 In affliction also sorrow remaineth: and the life of the poor is the curse of the heart.

20 * Take no heaviness to heart: drive it away, and remember the last end.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning again: then shalt not do him good, but hurt thyself.

22 Remember || my judgment: for thine also shall be so;
yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.

23 * When the dead is * at rest, let his remembrance rest; and be comforted for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisdom of a learner * cometh by opportunity of leisure: and he that hath little business shall become wise.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plow, and that laboureth in the field, that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and whose talk is of bullock?

26 * He giveth his mind to make furrows; and is diligent to give the line fadder.

27 So every carpenter and workman, that laboureth night and day; and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work:

28 The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering * the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh: he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly:

29 So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is always carefully set at his work, and maketh all his work by number:

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arm, and * howeth down the vessel, before his feet: he applyeth himself to lead it over;
and is diligent to make clean the furnace:

31 All these trust to their hands: and every one is wise in his work.

32 * But these cannot * stay: they be * deluded; and they shall not dwell with them: they will, nor go up and down:

33 * A voice shall not be sought for in public council, nor sit high in the congregation: they shall not sit on the judges' seat, nor in the council: and the sentence of judgment: they cannot 5 He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray before the Most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make supplication for his sins.

26 The principal things for the whole use of man's life are water, fire, iron, and salt, flour of wheat, honey, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

s Rom. 8, 28.

27 All these things are for good to the godly: so to the sinners they are turned into evil.

t Tim. 4, 4.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on sore strokes: in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fire, and hail, and tamine, and death, all these were created for vengeance.

31 They shall rejoice in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth, when need is; and when their time is come, they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.

33 All the works of the Lord are good: and he will give every needful thing in due season.

34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse than that: for in time they shall all be well approved.

35 And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XL.

1 Many miseries in a man's life... 12 The reward of unrighteousness, and the fruit of true dealing... 17 A virtuous wife, and an honest friend rejoice the heart, but the fear of the Lord is above all... 28 A beggar's life is hateful.

GREAT travail is created for every man, and a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mother's womb, till the day that they return to the mother of all things.

2 Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death, [trouble] their thoughts, and [cause] fear of heart:

3 From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;

4 From him that weareth purple and a crown, unto him that is clothed with a linen frock.

5 Wrath, and envy, trouble, and inquietness, fear of death, and anger, and strife, and in the time of rest upon his bed, his night-sleep, do change his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward he is in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battle.

7 When all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the fear was nothing.

8 [Such things happen] unto all flesh, both man and beast, and that is seven-fold more upon sinners.

9 Death, and bloodshed, strife, and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;

10 These things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood.

11 All things that are of the earth shall turn to the earth again: and that which is of the waters doth return into the sea.

12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out: but true dealing shall endure for ever.

13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall vanish with noise, like a great thunder in rain.

14 While he openeth his hand he shall rejoice: so shall transgressors come to nought.

15 The children of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches: but are as unclean roots upon a hard rock.

16 The weed growing upon every water and bank of a river, shall be pulled up before all grass.

17 Bonntiffulness is as a most fruitful garden, and mercifulness endureth for ever.

18 To labour, and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweet life: but he that findeth a treasure is above them both.

19 Children and the building of a city continue a man's name: but a blameless wife is counted above them both.

20 Wine and music rejoice the heart: but the love of wisdom is above them both.

21 The pipe and the psaltery make sweet melody: but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

22 Thine eye desireth favour and beauty: but more than both, corn while it is green.

23 A friend and companion never meet amiss: but above both is a wife with her husband.

24 Brethren and help are against time of trouble: but above both deliver more than them both.

25 Gold and silver make the foot stand sure: but counsel is esteemed above them both.

26 Riches and strength lift up the heart: but the fear of the Lord is above them both: there is no want in the fear of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek help.

27 The fear of the Lord is as a fruitful garden, and covereth him above all glory.

28 My son, lead not a beggar's life: for better it is to die than to beg.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another man's table is not to be counted for a life: for he pollutech himself with other men's meat: but a wise man well nurtured will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shameless: but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things :
yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat !
2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the needy, and unto him whose strength failed, that is now in the last age, and || is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience !
3 Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that come after ; for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.
4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the Most High :
there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years.
5 The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.
6 The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish, and their posterity shall have a perpetual reproach.
7 The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.
8 Wo be unto you, ungodly men, which have forsaken the law of the most high God ! for if ye increase, it shall be to your destruction :
9 And if ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse : and if ye die, a curse shall be your portion.
10 All that ace of the earth, shall turn to earth again : so the ungodly shall go from a curse to destruction.
11 The mourning of men is about their bodies : but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out.
12 Have regard to thy name ; for that shall continue with thee above a thousand great treasures of gold.
13 A good life hath but few days : but a good name endureth for ever.
14 My children, keep discipline in peace : for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is in them both :
15 A man that hideth his foolishness is better than a man that hideth his wisdom.
16 Therefore be shamefaced according to my word : for it is not good to retain all shamefacedness : neither is it altogether approved in every thing.
17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother : and of a lie before a prince and a mighty man ; 18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler ; of iniquity before a congregation and people ; of unjust dealing before thy partner and friend ;
19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest, and in regard of the truth of God and his covenant : and to lean with thine elbow upon the meat ; and of scorning to give and take.
20 And of silence before them that salute thee ; and to look upon a harlot ;
21 And to turn away thy face from thy kinsman ; or to take away a portion or a gift ; or to gaze upon another man's wife :
22 Or to be over-busy with his maid, and come not near her bed ; or of upbraiding speeches before friends ; and after thou hast given, upbraid not ;
23 Or of iterating and speaking again that which thou hast heard ; and of revealing of secrets.
24 So shalt thou be truly shamefaced, and find favour before all men.

CHAPTER XLIII.

Whereof we should not be ashamed, but the counsel of thy daughter, and the counsel of thy son.

Of these things he not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sin thereby ;
2 Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant ; and of judgment to justify the ungodly :
3 Of reckoning with thy partners and || travellers ; or of the gift of the heritage of friends ;
4 Of exactness of balance and weights ; or of getting much or little ;
5 And of merchants' indifferent selling ; of much correction of children ; and to make the side of an evil servant to bleed.
6 Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is ; and shut up, where many hands are.
7 Deliver all things in number and weight ; and put all in writing that thou givest out, or receivest in.
8 Be not ashamed to inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged : that contendeth with those that are young, thou shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living.
9 The father waketh for the daughter, when no man knoweth ; and the care for her taketh away sleep : when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age ; and being married, lest she should be hated ;
10 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled and gotten with child in her father's house ; and having a husband, lest she should misbehave herself ; and when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 Keep a sure watch over a shameless daughter, lest she make thee a laughing-stock to thine enemies, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude.
12 Behold not every body's beauty, and sit not in the midst of women.
13 For from garments cometh a moth, and from women wickedness.
14 Better is the || churlishness of a man than a courteous woman, a woman, I say, which bringeth shame and reproach.
15 I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen : in the words of the Lord are his works.
16 The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.
17 The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works, which the Almighty Lord finally settled, that whatsoever is, might be established for his glory.
18 He seeketh out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their crafty devices : for the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signs of the world.
19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.
20 No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.
21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting : unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.
22 O how desirable are all his works ! and that a man may see even to a spark.
23 All these things live and remain for ever for all uses and they are all obedient.
24 All things are double one against another : and he hath made nothing imperfect.
25 One thing establisheth the good of another : and who shall be filled with beholding his glory ?

CHAPTER XLIII.

The works of God in heaven, and in earth, and in the sea, are exceeding glorious and wonderful. Yet God himself in his power and wisdom is above all.

THE pride of the height, the clear firmament, the beauty of heaven, with his glorious show :
2 The sun when it appeareth, declaring at his rising a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High :
3 At noon it parcheth the country, and who can abide the burning heat thereof ?
4 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat, but the sun burneth the mountains three times more ; breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beams, it dimmeth the eyes.
5 Great is the Lord that made it ; and at his commandment it runneth hastily.
6 He made the moon also to serve in her season for a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.
7 From the moon is the sign of feasts, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.
8 The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her changing, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven ;
9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
10 At the commandment of the Holy One they will stand in their order, and never faint in their watches.
11 Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it :
very beautiful it is in the brightness thereof.
12 It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the Most High have bended it.
13 By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace and sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.
14 Through this the treasures are opened : and clouds fly forth as fowls.
15 By his great power he maketh the clouds firm, and the hailstones are broken small.
16 At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the south wind bloweth.
17 The noise of the thunder maketh the earth to tremble :
so doth the northern storm and the whirlwind : as birds flying scattereth the snow, and the falling down thereof is as the fighting of grasshoppers :
18 The eye marvelleth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.

27 We may speak much, and yet come short: wherefore in sum, he is all.

29 * The Lord is terrible and very great, and marvellous is his power.

30 When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can; for even yet will he far exceed: and when ye exalt him, put forth all your strength, and he not weary; for ye can never go far enough.

31 * Who hath seen him that he might tell us? and who can magnify him as he is?

32 There are yet hid greater things than these be, for we have seen but a few of his works.

33 For the Lord hath made all things; and to the godly hath he given wisdom.

CHAPTER XLIV.

1 The praise of certain holy men; 16 of Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies:

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions:

5 Such as found out musical tunes, and recited || verses in writing:

6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:

7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.

8 There be of them, that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported.

9 And some there be, which have no memorial; * who are perished, as though they had never been; and are become as though they had never been born; and their children after them.

10 But these were merciful men, whose righteousness both not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant.

12 Their seed standeth fast, and their children || for their sakes.

13 Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.

15 * The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.

16 * Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 * Noah was found perfect and righteous; in the time of wrath he was taken in exchange [for the world:]; therefore was he left as a remnant unto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An everlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.

19 Abraham was a great father of many people: in glory was there none like unto him;

20 Who kept the law of the Most High, and was in covenant with him; he established the covenant in * his flesh; and when he was proved, he was found faithful.

21 Therefore he assured him by an oath, that he would bless the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river unto the utmost part of the land.

22 With Isaac did he establish likewise [for Abraham his father's sake] the blessing of all men, and the covenant, 23 And made it rest upon the head of Jacob. He acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him a heritage, and divided his portions; among the twelve tribes did he part them.

CHAPTER XLV.

The praise of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phineas.

AND he brought out of him a merciful man, which found favour in the sight of all flesh, even * Moses, beloved of God and men, whose memorial is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious saints, and magnified him so that his enemies stood in fear of him.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him part of his glory.

4 * He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men.

5 He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and * gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob his covenants, and Israel his judgments.

6 He * exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him, even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

7 An everlasting covenant he made with him, and gave him the priesthood among the people; * he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.

8 He put upon him perfect glory; and strengthened him with rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe, and the ephod.

9 And he compassed him with pomegranates, and with many golden bells round about, that as he went there might be a sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple, for a memorial to the children of his people:

10 With a holy garment, with gold, and blue silk, and purple, the work of the embroiderer, with a breastplate of judgment, and with Urin and Thummin;

11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the cunning workman, with precious stones graven like seals, and set in gold, the work of the jeweller, with a writing engraved for a memorial, after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 He set a crown of gold upon the mitre, wherein was engraved Holiness, an ornament of honour, a costly work, the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

13 Before him there were none such, neither did ever any stranger put them on, but only his children and his children's children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices shall he wholly consumed every day twice continually.

15 Moses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oil: this was appointed unto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed, so long as the heavens should remain, that they should minister unto him, and execute the office of the priesthood, and bless the people in his name.

16 He chose him out of all men living to offer sacrifice to the Lord, incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial, to make reconciliation for his people.

17 * He gave unto him his commandments, and authority in the statutes of judgments, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and inform Israel in his laws.

18 * Strangers conspired together against him, and malign'd him in the wilderness, even the men that were of Dathan's and Abiron's side, and the congregation of Core, with fury and wrath.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed; he did wonders upon them, to consume them with the fiery flame.

20 * But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him a heritage, and divided unto him the first-fruits of the increase; especially he prepared bread in abundance:

21 For they ate of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave unto him and his seed.

22 * Howbeit, in the land of the people he had no inheritance, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord himself is his portion and inheritance.

23 * The third in glory is Phineas the son of Eleazar, because he had zeal in the fear of the Lord, and stood up with good courage of heart when the people were turned back, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chief of the sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever;

12, 7.

JESUS the son of Nave was valiant in the wars, and was the successor of Moses in prophecies, who according to his name was made great for the saving of the elect of God, and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them, that he might set Israel in their inheritance.

2 How great glory gat he, when he did lift up his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities!

3 Who before him stood to it? for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

4 Did not the sun go back by his means? and was not one day as long as two?

5 He called upon the most high Lord, when the enemies pressed upon him on every side: and the great Lord heard him.

6 And with hailstones of mighty power he made the battle to fall violently upon the nations, and in the descent (of Beth-horon) he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the Mighty One.

7 In the time of Moses also he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb the son of Jephthame, in that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sin, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

8 And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two were preserved to bring them into the heritage, even unto the land that doeth with milk and honey.

9 The Lord gave strength also unto Caleb, which remained with him unto his old age: so that he entered upon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for a heritage:

10 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 And concerning the judges, every one by name, whose heart went not a whirling, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed!

12 Let their bones flourish out of their place, and let the name of them that were honoured be continued upon their children.

13 Sammel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord had respect unto Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was found a true prophet, and by his word he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 He called upon the mighty Lord, when his enemies pressed upon him on every side, when he offered the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.

18 And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians, and all the princes of the Philistines.

19 And before his long sleep he made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe: and no man did accuse him.

20 And after his death he prophesied, and shewed the king his end, and lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.

CHAPTER XLVII.

The praise of Nathan, David, and Solomon: his glory and infirmities... 23 Of his end and punishment.

a 2 Sam. 12, 1.

AND after him rose up Nathan to prophesy in the time of David.

2 As is the fat taken away from the peace-offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with lions as with kids, and with bears as with lambs.

4 Slew he not a giant, when he was yet but young? and did he not take away reproach from the people, when he lifted up his hand with the stone in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the most high Lord: and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set up the horn of his people.

6 So the people honoured him with ten thousands, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gave him a crown of glory.

7 For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and brought in nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their horn in sunder unto this day.

8 In all his works he praised the Holy One most high with words of glory: with his whole heart he sang songs, and loved him that made him.

9 He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

10 He beautified their feasts, and set in order the solemn times until the end, that they might praise his holy name, and that the temple might sound from morning.

11 The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his horn for ever: he gave him a covenant of kings, and the throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose up a wise son, and for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was honoured: for God made all quiet round about him, that he might build a house in his name, and prepare his sanctuary for ever.

14 How wise wast thou in thy youth, and, as a flood, filled with understanding!

15 Thy soul covered the whole earth, and thou filledst it with dark parables.

16 Thy name went far into the islands; and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 The countries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations.

18 By the name of the Lord God, which is called the Lord God of Israel, thou didst gather gold as tin, and didst multiply silver as lead.

19 Thou didst bow thy loins unto women, and by thy body thou wast brought into subjection.

20 Thou didst stain thy honour, and pollute thy seed: so that thou broughtest wrath upon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.

21 So the kingdom was divided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdom.

22 But the Lord will never leave off his mercy, neither shall any of his works perish, neither will he abolish the posterity of his elect, and the seed of him that loveth him he will not take away: wherefore he gave a remnant unto Jacob, and out of him a root unto David.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him Roboam, even the foolishness of the people, and me that had no understanding, who turned away the people through his counsel. There was also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, and shewed Ephraim the way of sin:

24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driven out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickedness, till the vengeance came upon them.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, and Ezebias.

THEN stood up Elias the prophet as fire, and his word burned like a lamp.

2 He brought a sore famine upon them, and by his zeal he diminished their number.

3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven, and also three times brought down fire.

4 O Elias, how wast thou honoured in thy wondrous deeds! and who may glory like unto thee!

5 Who didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:

6 Who broughtest kings to destruction, and honourable men from their bed:

7 Who heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and in Horeb the judgment of vengeance:

8 Who anointedst kings to take revenge, and prophets to succeed after him:

9 Who wast taken up in a whirlwind of fire, and in a chariot of fiery horses:

10 Who wast ordained for reproofs in their times, to pacify the wrath of the Lord's judgment, before it brake forth into fury, and to turn the heart of the father unto the son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.

11 Blessed are they that saw thee, and slept in love: for we shall surely live.

12 Elias it was, who was covered with a whirlwind: and Eliseus was filled with his spirit: whilst he lived, he was not moved with the presence of any prince, neither could any bring him into subjection.

13 || No word could overcome him; ^k and after his death his body prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, and at his death he his works marvellous.

15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sins, ^l till they were spoiled and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth: yet there remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of David:

16 Of whom some did that which was pleasing to God, and some multiplied sins.

17 Ezekias fortified his city, and ^m brought in water into the midst thereof: he digged the hard rock with iron, and made wells for waters.

18 In his time ⁿ Sennacherib came up, and sent Rabsaces, and lifted up his hand against Zion, and boasted proudly.

19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, and they were in pain, as women in travail.

20 But they called upon the Lord which is merciful, and stretched out their hands toward him: and immediately the Holy One heard them out of heaven, and delivered them by the || ministry of Esay.

21 ^o He smote the host of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

22 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and was strong in the ways of David his father, as Esay the prophet, who was great and faithful in his vision, had commanded him.

23 ^p In his time the sun went backward, and he lengthened the king's life.

24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last, and he comforted them that mourned in Zion.

25 He shewed what should come to pass for ever, and secret things or ever they came.

CHAPTER XLIX.

The praise of Josias, of David and Ezekias, of Jeremias, of Ezekiel, Zorobabel, Jesus the son of Josedec: of Neemias, Enoch, Seth, Sem, and Adam.

THE remembrance of ^a Josias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the art of the apothecary: it is sweet as honey in all months, and as music at a banquet of wine.

2 He || behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people, and took away the abominations of iniquity.

3 ^b He directed his heart unto the Lord, and in the time of the ungodly he established the worship of God.

4 All, except David, and Ezekias, and Josias, were defective: for they forsook the law of the Most High, even the kings of Juda failed.

5 Therefore he gave their || power unto others, and their glory to a strange nation.

6 ^c They burnt the chosen city of the sanctuary, and made the streets desolate, || according to the prophecy of Jeremias.

7 For they ^d entreated him evil, who nevertheless was a prophet, ^e sanctified in his mother's womb, that he might root out, and afflict, and destroy: and that he might build up also, and plant.

8 ^f It was Ezekiel who saw the glorious vision, which was shewed him upon the chariot of the cherubims.

9 For he ^g made mention of the enemies under the figure of the rain, and || directed them that went right.

10 And of the twelve prophets let the memorial be blessed, and ^h let their bones flourish again out of their place: for they comforted Jacob, and delivered them by assured hope.

11 How shall we magnify ⁱ Zorobabel? even he was as a signet on the right hand:

12 So was ^j Jesus the son of Josedec: who in their time builded the house, and set up a holy temple to the Lord, which was prepared for everlasting glory.

13 ^k And among the elect was Neemias, whose renown is great, who raised up for us the walls that were fallen, and set up the gates and the bars, and raised up our ruins again.

14 But upon the earth was no man created like ^l Enoch; for he was taken from the earth.

15 Neither was there a man born like unto ^m Joseph, a governor of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.

16 ⁿ Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam above every living thing in the creation.

CHAPTER L.

1 Of Simon the son of Onias....22 How the people were taught to praise God, and pray.

SIMON the high priest, the son of Onias, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his days fortified the temple:

2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple:

3 In his days the ^a cistern to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass:

4 He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging:

5 How was he honoured in the midst of the people in his coming out of ^b the sanctuary!

6 He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full:

7 As the sun shining upon the temple of the Most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds:

8 And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense-tree in the time of summer:

9 As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of heaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:

10 And as a fair olive-tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypress-tree which groweth up to the clouds.

11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.

12 When he took the portions out of the priests' hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus; and as palm-trees compassed they him round about.

13 So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altar, that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty, 15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape: he poured out at the foot of the altar a sweet-smelling savour unto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the || silver trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the Most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, the Most High.

18 The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord, the Most High, by prayer before him that is merciful, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his service.

20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to rejoice in his name.

21 And they bowed themselves down to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the Most High.

22 Now therefore bless ye the God of all, which only doeth wondrous things every where, which exalteth our days from the womb, and dealeth with us according to his mercy.

23 He grant us joyfulness of heart, and that peace may be in our days in Israel for ever:

24 That he would confirm his mercy with us, and deliver us at his time!

25 There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation:

26 They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and they that dwell among the Philistines, and that foolish people that dwell in Sichem.

27 Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem hath written in this book the || tradition of understanding and knowledge, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things; and he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.

29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giveth wisdom to the godly. Blessed be the Lord for ever. Amen, Amen.

CHAPTER LI.

A prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

I WILL thank thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I do give praise unto thy name:

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast been my helper against mine adversaries:

3 And hast delivered me, according to the multitude of thy mercies and greatness of thy name, from ^b the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had:

5 From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unclean tongue, and from lying words.

6 By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue, my soul drew near even unto death, my life was near to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me : I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thine acts of old, how thou deliverest such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9 Then lifted I up my supplication from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the days of my trouble, and in the time of the proud, when there was no help.

11 I will praise thy name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving ; || and so my prayer was heard :

BARUCH.

CHAPTER I.

1 Baruch wrote a book in Babylon...5 The Jews there wept at the reading of it.

6 And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the son of Sedecias, the son of Asadaias, the son of Chelcias, wrote in Babylon.

7 In the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

8 And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jeconias the son of || Joachim king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book.

9 And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the king's sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwell at Babylon by the river Sud.

10 Whereupon they wept, fasted, || and prayed before the Lord.

11 They made also a collection of money according to every man's power :

12 And they sent it to Jerusalem unto || Joachim the high priest, the son of Chelcias, son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem.

13 At the same time when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord, that were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Juda, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Juda had made,

14 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jeconias, and the princes, and the || captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon.

15 And they said, Behold, we have sent you money to buy you burnt-offerings, and sin-offerings, and incense, and prepare ye * manna, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God ;

16 * And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Balthasar his son, that their days may be upon earth as the days of heaven :

17 And the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live * under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Balthasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight.

18 Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God ; and unto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from us.

19 And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the feasts and solemn days.

20 And ye shall say, * To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us the confusion of faces, as it is come to pass this day, unto them of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

16 And to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers :

17 For we have * sinned before the Lord,

18 And disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments that he gave us openly :

19 * Since the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.

20 * Wherefore the evils cleaved unto us, and the curse, which the Lord appointed by Moses his servant at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, like as it is to see this day.

21 Nevertheless we have * not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us :

22 But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAPTER II.

The prayer and confession which the Jews at Babylon made, and sent in that book unto the brethren in Jerusalem.

THEREFORE the Lord hath * made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Juda.

2 To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses ;

3 That a man should * eat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter.

4 Moreover he hath delivered them to be * in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be as * a reproach and desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus we * were cast down, and not exalted, because we have sinned against the Lord our God, and have not been obedient unto his voice.

6 * To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness : but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come upon us, * which the Lord hath pronounced against us.

8 * Yet have we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord, that he hath set before us.

^a Dan. 9, 18. 11 ^b And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arm, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thyself a name, as appeareth this day:

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances.

^c Dan. 9, 16. 13 ^d Let thy wrath turn from us: ^e for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us.

^f Jer. 42, 2. 14 Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away:

^g Isa. 37, 20. 15 ^h That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because ⁱ m Israel and his posterity is called by thy name.

^j Jer. 17, 1. 16 O Lord, ^k look down from thy holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.

^l Dan. 9, 12. 17 Open thine eyes and behold; for the ^m dead that are in the graves, whose ⁿ souls are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:

^o Deut. 26, 15. 18 But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

^p Ps. 6, 5, & 115, 17. 19 ^q Therefore we do not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.

^r Jer. 31, 1. 20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

^s Jer. 27, 11. 21 ^t Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers.

^u Jer. 27, 11. 22 But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, ^v Jer. 27, 34. & 16, 9, & 25, 10. 23 ^w I will cause to cease out of the cities of Juda, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

^x Jer. 1, 2. 24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: ^y therefore hast thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places.

^z Jer. 36, 30. 25 And lo, they are cast out ^a to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as it is to be seen this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Juda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine,

^b Heb. 3, 5. 28 As thou spakest by thy ^c servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying,

^d Lev. 26, 14. 29 ^e If ye will not hear my voice, surely ^f this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them.

^g Jer. 32, 40. 30 For I knew that they would not hear me, because it is a stiff-necked people: but in the land of their captivities they shall remember themselves,

^h Jer. 32, 40. 31 And shall know that I am the Lord their God: for I will give them a heart, and ears to hear:

ⁱ Mal. 3, 16. 32 And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and ^j think upon my name, ^k Jer. 32, 40. 33 And return from their stiff ^l neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

^m Jer. 32, 40. 34 And I will bring them again into the land which I promised with an oath unto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

ⁿ Heb. 8, 13. 35 ^o And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drive my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

CHAPTER III.

^a Ps. 73, 1. 3 The rest of their prayer and confession contained in that book which Baruch wrote and sent to Jerusalem. Wisdom was shewed first to Jacob, and was seen upon the earth.

^b Ps. 73, 1. LORD Almighty, God of ^c Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee.

2 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art merciful: and have pity upon us, because we have sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for ever, and we perish utterly.

4 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayers of ^d the dead Israelites, and of their children, which have sinned before thee, and not hearkened unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues cleave unto us.

5 ^e Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but think upon thy power and thy name now at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity: for ^f we have called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for ^g a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear, Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom.

10 How happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead, 11 ^h That thou art counted with them that go down into the grave?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom.

13 For ⁱ if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst have dwelled in peace for ever.

14 Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding: that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

15 ^j Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth?

17 They that had their pasture with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?

18 For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable, 19 They are vanished and gone down to the grave, ^k and others are come up in their steads.

20 Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known, 21 Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were far off from that way.

22 It hath not been heard of in Chanaan, neither hath it been seen in ^l Theman.

23 The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the merchants of Aleran and of Theman, the ^m authors of fables, and searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.

24 O Israel, ⁿ how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession!

25 Great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable.

26 There were the ^o giants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war.

27 Those did not the Lord choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them:

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.

29 Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?

31 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

32 But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with four-footed beasts:

33 He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth, calleth it again, and it obeyeth him with fear.

34 The stars shined in their watches, and rejoiced: when he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerfulness they shewed light unto him that made them.

35 ^p This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him.

36 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.

37 ^q Afterward did he shew himself upon earth, and conversed with men.

CHAPTER IV.

¹ The book of commandments is that wisdom which was commended in the former chapter.
²⁵ The Jews are moved to patience, and to hope for their deliverance.

^a 1 John 5, 21
THIS is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever : all they that keep it shall come to life ; but such as leave it shall die.
² Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it : walk [†] in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.
³ Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee, to a strange nation.
⁴ O Israel, happy are we : ^b for things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.
⁵ Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel.
⁶ * Ye were sold to the nations, not for [your] destruction : but because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies.
⁷ For ye provoked him that made you by [†] sacrificing unto devils, and not to God.
⁸ Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up ; and ye have grieved Jerusalem, that nursed you.
⁹ For when she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sien : God hath brought upon me great mourning ;
¹⁰ For I saw the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the [†] Everlasting brought upon them.
¹¹ With joy did I nourish them ; but sent them away with weeping and mourning.
¹² Let no man rejoice over me, [†] a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sins of my children am left desolate ; because they departed from the law of God.
¹³ They knew not his statutes, nor walked in the ways of his commandments, nor trode in the paths of discipline in his righteousness.
¹⁴ Let them that dwell about Sien come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.
¹⁵ For [†] he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child.
¹⁶ These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate without daughters.
¹⁷ But what can I help you ?
¹⁸ For [†] he that brought these plagues upon you, will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.
¹⁹ Go your way, O my children, go your way : for I am left desolate.
²⁰ I have put off the clothing of ^{||} peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer : I will cry unto the Everlasting ^{||} in my days.
²¹ Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.
²² For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you ; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from [†] the Everlasting our Saviour.
²³ For I sent you out with mourning and weeping : [†] but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.
²⁴ Like as now the neighbours of Sien have seen your captivity : so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.
²⁵ My children, [†] suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God : for thine enemy hath persecuted thee ; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treat upon his neck.
²⁶ ^{||} My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.
²⁷ * Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto God : for ye shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.
²⁸ For as it was your mind to go astray from God : so, being returned, seek him ten times more.
²⁹ For he that hath brought these plagues upon you [†] shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation.
³⁰ Take a good heart, O Jerusalem : for he that gave thee that name will comfort thee.
³¹ Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall.
³² Miserable are the cities which thy children served : miserable is she that received thy sons.
³³ For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall ; so shall she be grieved for her own desolation

³⁴ For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.
³⁵ For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure ; and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.
³⁶ [†] Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and [†] behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.
³⁷ Lo, [†] thy sons come, whom thou sentest away ; they come gathered together from the east to the west by the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

CHAPTER V.

[†] Jerusalem is moved to rejoice, and to behold their return out of captivity with glory.
PUT off, O Jerusalem, [†] the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.

² Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God ; and set a diadem on thy head of the glory of the Everlasting.
³ For God will shew thy brightness unto every country under heaven.
⁴ For thy name shall be called of God for ever, The peace of righteousness, and The glory of God's worship.
⁵ * Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and look about toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east, by the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the remembrance of God.
⁶ For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies : but God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory, [†] as children of the kingdom.
⁷ For God hath appointed [†] that every high hill, and banks of long continuance, should be cast down, and valleys filled up, to make even the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God.

⁸ Moreover even the woods and every sweet-smelling tree shall overshadow Israel by the commandment of God.
⁹ For God shall [†] lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

CHAPTER VI.

¹ The cause of their captivity is their sin...⁵ The place wherein they were carried is Babylon : the vanity of whose idols and idolatry is set forth at large in this chapter.

[†] A copy of an epistle which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them as it was commanded him of God.

BECAUSE of the sins which ye have committed before God, [†] ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

³ So when ye be come unto Babylon, [†] ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, namely, seven generations : and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

⁴ * Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nation to fear.
⁵ Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like to strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them.

⁶ But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, [†] we must worship thee.
⁷ For [†] mine angel is with you, and I myself caring for your souls.

⁸ As for their tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are gilded and laid over with gold ; yet are they but false, [†] and cannot speak.

⁹ And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.

¹⁰ Sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves.

¹¹ Yea, they will give thereof to the [†] common harlots, and deck them as men with garments, [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood.

¹² Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment.

¹³ They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them.

¹⁴ And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him, holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a judge of the country.

¹⁵ He hath also in his right hand a dagger and an axe : [†] but cannot deliver himself from war and thieves.

¹⁶ Whereby they are known not to be gods : therefore fear them not.

¹⁸ And as the [†] doors are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death :

even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.
 19 They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one.
 20 They are as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth; and when they eat them and their clothes, they feel it not.
 21 Their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple.
 22 Upon their bodies and heads sit bats, swallows, and birds, and the cats also.
 23 By this ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.
 24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten did they feel it.
 25 The things wherein there is no breath are bought for a most high price.
 26 They are borne upon shoulders, having no feet, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth.
 27 They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them, as unto dead men.
 28 As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and abuse; in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and impotent they give nothing of it.
 29 Menstruous women, and women in child-bed, eat their sacrifices: yea these things ye may know that they are no gods: fear them not.
 30 For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.
 31 And the priests sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.
 32 They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.
 33 The priests also take off their garments, and clothe their wives and children.
 34 Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down.
 35 In like manner they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will not require it.
 36 They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.
 37 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any man in his distress.
 38 They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.
 39 Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them shall be confounded.
 40 How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them?
 41 Who, if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they will bring him, and entreat him that he may speak, as though he were able to understand.
 42 Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no knowledge.
 43 The women also with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn bran for perfume: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken.
 44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be.
 46 And they themselves that made them can never continue long; how should then the things that are made of them be gods?
 47 For they left lies and reproaches to them that come after.
 48 For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.
 49 How then cannot men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war nor from plague?
 50 For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false:
 51 And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them.
 52 Who then may not know that they are no gods?
 53 For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.
 54 Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.
 55 Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape; but they themselves shall be burned asunder like beams.
 56 Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?
 57 Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.
 58 Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take, and go away withal: neither are they able to help themselves.
 59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in a house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods; or to be a door in a house, to keep such things safe as be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.
 60 For sun, moon, and stars, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient.
 61 In like manner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easy to be seen; and after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country.
 62 And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden.
 63 And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.
 64 Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men.
 65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.
 66 For they can neither curse nor bless kings:
 67 Neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the heathen, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.
 68 The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.
 69 It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.
 70 For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.
 71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body that is cast into the dark.
 72 And ye shall know them to be no gods by the bright purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country.
 73 Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

¶ The SONG of the Three Holy Children,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place....fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked....unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar....verse 24.

2 Azarias his prayer and confession in the flame, wherewith the Chaldeans about the oven were consumed, but the three children within it were not hurt....23 The song of the three children in the oven.

AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.

2 Then Azarias stood up, and prayed in this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said,

3 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore:

4 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy ways are right, and thy judgments truth.

the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment didst thou bring all these things upon us because of our sins.
6 For we ^d have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from thee.
7 In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.
8 Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, ^e thou hast done in true judgment.
9 And thou hast delivered us into the hands of lawless ^e enemies, the most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.
10 And now we cannot open our mouths, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.
11 Yet deliver us not up wholly, for thy name's sake, ^e neither disannul thou thy covenant:
12 And cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abraham's sake, for thy servant Isaac's sake and for thy holy Israel's sake;
13 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed ^b as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the sea-shore.
14 For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins.
15 Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt-offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy.
16 Nevertheless in a ^a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted.
17 Like as in the burnt-offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee: ^k for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.
18 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.
19 Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy loving-kindness, and according to the ^l multitude of thy mercies.
20 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be ashamed;
21 And let them be confounded || in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken;
22 And let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious ^m over the whole world.
23 And the kings' servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with || rosin, pitch, tow, and small wood;
24 So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits.
25 And it passed through, and ⁿ burned those Chaldeans it found about the furnace.
26 But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven;
27 And made the midst of the furnace as it had been a || moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.
28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, 29 O Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
30 And ^t blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
31 Blessed art thou in the ^u temple of thy holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.
32 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and ^v sittest upon the cherubims: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
33 Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.
34 Blessed art thou in the ^w firmament of heaven and above all to be praised and glorified for ever.

¶ The History of SUSANNA.

Set apart from the Beginning of Daniel, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of † Bel and the Dragon.

† Gr. Bel's dragon.

Two Judges hid themselves in the garden of Susanna to have their pleasure of her: which when they could not obtain, they accuse, and cause her to be condemned for adultery: but Daniel examineth the matter again, and findeth the two Judges false.

THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim:

a Gen. 24,
 16. & 26, 7.

2 And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.

b Luke 1, 6.

3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.

4 Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others.

c Ezek. 8, 11.

5 The same year were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to govern the people.

6 These kept much at Joacim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk.

d Mat. 5, 28.

8 And the two elders saw her going in every day, and walking; so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

9 And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments.

10 And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner-time.

e verse 11.

14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.

15 And it fell out, as they watched a fit time, she went in as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot.

g Or, as yesterday and the day before.

16 And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her.

h 2 Sam. 11,

17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing-balls, and shut the garden-doors, that I may wash me.

i Or, side doors.

18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden-doors, and went out themselves at the privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: but they saw not the elders, because they were hid.

k verse 16.

19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, 20 Behold, the garden-doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us.

 11.

21 If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.

m Ezek. 9, 4.

22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.

n Gen. 38, 8.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not to do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her.

25 Then ran the one, and opened the garden-door.

o verse 18.

26 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at a privy door to see what was done unto her.

27 But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there never was such a report made of Susanna.

28 And it came to pass the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of a mischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death:

p Ps. 52, 2.

29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Joacim's wife. And so they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and a beauteous to behold.

32 And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face, (for she was covered) that they might be filled with her beauty.

33 Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept.

34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head.

q Deut. 17

35 And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

36 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden-doors, and sent the maids away.

37 Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her.

38 Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, ran unto them.

r Gen. 3, 12.

39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the door, and leaped out.

40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify.

s Ex. 20, 16

41 Then the assembly believed them, as those that were the elders and judges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:

t Ps. 80, 16

43 Thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

u 1 Sam. 19, 1, 2

45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel:

46 Who cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman.

v Mat. 27, 24

47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken?

48 So he standing in the midst of them, said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?

x Prov. 14, 16

49 Return again to the place of judgment: for they have borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder.

y Ex. 20, 10

51 Then said Daniel unto them, Put these two aside one far from another, and I will examine them.

z Prov. 18, 20, & 18, 17

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now thy sins which thou hast committed aforetime are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false judgment, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

a Ex. 23, 7

54 Now then, if thou hast seen her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick-tree.

55 And Daniel said, Very well; thou hast lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two.

b See Mark 14, 56

56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thy heart.

57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companyed with you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.

c ver. 6, 14

58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm-tree.

59 Then said Daniel unto him, Well; thou hast also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you.

60 With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him.

d See Mark 14, 56

61 And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth.

62 And according to the law of Moses [†] they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.

63 Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joacim her husband, and all the kindred, [†] because there was no dishonesty found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel held in great reputation in the sight of the people.

† The History of the Destruction of † Bel and the Dragon, cut off from the end of Daniel.

10 The fraud of Bel's priests is discovered by Daniel, and the dragon slain which was worshipped. 33 Daniel is preserved in the lions' den. 42 The king doth acknowledge the God of Daniel, and casteth his enemies into the same den.

AND king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and [†] Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom.

2 And Daniel ^{||} conversed with the king, and was honoured above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six vessels of wine.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, [†] who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh.

6 Then said the king unto him, Thinkst thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never [†] eat or drink any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth [†] these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certify me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, besides their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bel's priests said, Lo, we go out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and [†] seal it with thine own signet:

12 And to-morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us.

13 And they little regarded it: [†] for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the priests [†] with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all.

16 In the morning betimes the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, are the [†] seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, [†] Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps [†] of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, 21 And took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, [†] who destroyed him and his temple.

23 ^{||} And in that same place there was a great [†] dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

24 And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? [†] he liveth, he eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel unto the king, [†] I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

26 But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff: The king said, I give thee leave.

27 Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, ^{||} Lo, these are the gods ye worship.

28 When they of Babylon heard that, [†] they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thy house.

30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, [†] he delivered Daniel unto them:

31 [†] Who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days.

32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day ^{||} two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

33 Now there was in Jewry [†] a prophet, called Habbauc, who had ^{||} made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But [†] the angel of the Lord said unto Habbauc, Go, carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions' den.

35 And Habbauc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is.

36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den.

37 And Habbauc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner [†] which God hath sent thee.

38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee and love thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habbauc in his own place again immediately.

40 Upon the [†] seventh day the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting.

41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 [†] And he drew him out, and [†] cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

† The Prayer of MANASSES, king of Judah, when he was holden captive in Babylon.

O LORD, Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable; but thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very merciful, and repentest of the evils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up my head, neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Antiochus gave leave to set up the fashions of the Gentiles in Jerusalem, and spoiled it, and the temple in it, and set up therein the abomination of desolation, and slew those that did circumcise their children.

AND it happened, after that Alexander son of Philip, the Macedonian, who came out of the land of Chetium, had smitten Darius king of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece,

2 And made many wars, and won many strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth,

3 And went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him; whereupon he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.

4 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled over countries, and nations, and kings, who became tributaries unto him.

5 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die.

6 Wherefore he called his servants, such as were honourable, and had been brought up with him from his youth, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

7 So Alexander reigned twelve years, and then died.

8 And his servants bare rule every one in his place.

9 And after his death they all put crowns upon themselves; so did their sons after them many years: and evils were multiplied in the earth.

10 And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those days went there out of Israel wicked men, who persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about us; for since we departed from them, we have had much sorrow.

12 So this device pleased them well.

13 Then certain of the people were so forward herein, that they went to the king, who gave them license to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

14 Whereupon they built a place of exercise at Jerusalem according to the customs of the heathen:

15 And made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief.

16 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have the dominion of two realms.

17 Wherefore he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great navy, 18 And made war against Ptolemee king of Egypt: but Ptolemee was afraid of him, and fled; and many were wounded to death.

19 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.

20 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in the hundred forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude,

21 And entered proudly into the sanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof.

22 And the table of the shew-bread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the vail, and the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple, all which he pulled off.

23 He took also the silver and the gold, and the precious vessels: also he took the hidden treasures which he found.

24 And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, having made a great massacre, and spoke very proudly.

25 Therefore there was a great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were;

26 So that the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed.

27 Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage-chamber was in heaviness.

28 The land also was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

29 And after two years fully expired, the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude;

30 And spake peaceable words unto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

31 And when he had taken the spoils of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side.

32 But the women and children took they captive, and possessed the cattle.

33 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, and with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a sinful nation, wicked men, and fortified themselves therein.

35 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and so they became a sore snare:

36 For it was a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.

37 Thus they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:

38 Insomuch that the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them: whereupon the city was made a habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her; and her own children left her.

39 Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.

40 As had been her glory, so was her dishonour increased, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

41 Moreover king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, 42 And every one should leave his laws: so all the heathen agreed according to the commandment of the king.

43 Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the sabbath.

44 For the king had sent letters by messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, that they should follow the strange laws of the land,

45 And forbid burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and drink-offerings, in the temple; and that they should profane the sabbaths and festival days:

46 And pollute the sanctuary and holy people:

47 Set up altars, and groves, and chapels of idols, and sacrifice swine's flesh, and unclean beasts:

48 That they should also leave their children uncircumcised, and make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation:

49 To the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances.

50 And whosoever would not do according to the commandment of the king, he should die.

51 In the self-same manner wrote he to his whole kingdom, and appointed overseers over all the people, commanding the cities of Juda to sacrifice, * city by city.

52 Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law; and so they committed evils in the land;

53 || And drove the Israelites into secret places, even where-soever they could flee for succour.

54 Now the fifteenth day of the month Caslen, in the hundred forty and fifth year, * they set up the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and builded idol-altars throughout the cities of Juda on every side;

55 And burnt incense at the doors of their houses, and in the streets.

56 And when they had rent in pieces the hooks of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

57 And whosoever was found with any book of the testament, or if any consented to the law, * the king's commandment was, that they should put him to death.

58 Thus did they by their authority unto the Israelites every month, to as many as were found in the cities.

59 Now the five and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice upon the idol-altar, which was upon the altar of God.

60 At which time according to the commandment they put to death certain women, * that had caused their children to be circumcised.

61 And they hanged the infants about their necks, and rifled their houses, and slew them that had circumcised them.

62 Howbeit many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in their ornaments not to eat any unclean thing.

63 Wherefore they chose rather to die, that they might not be defiled with meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant : so then they died.

64 And there was very great wrath upon Israel.

CHAPTER II.

6 Mattathias lamenteth the ease of Jerusalem. 21 He sheweth a Jew that did sacrifice to idols in his presence, and the king's messenger also. 31 He and his are assailed on the sabbath, and make no resistance. 39 He instructeth his sons, maketh their brother Judas Maccabeus general, and dieth.

IN those days || arose Mattathias, the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sons, Joannan, || called || Caddis :

3 Simon, called Thassi :

4 Judas, who was called Maccabeus :

5 Eleazar, called || Avaran : and Jonathan, whose surname was Applias.

6 And when he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Juda and Jerusalem,

7 He said, Wo is me ! wherefore was I born to see this misery of my people, and of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the sanctuary into the hand of strangers ?

8 Her temple is become as a man * without glory.

9 * Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in the streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy.

10 What nation hath not had a part in her kingdom, and gotten of her spoils ?

11 All her ornaments are taken away ; of a free woman she is become a bond slave.

12 And behold, our || sanctuary, even our beauty and our glory, is laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned it.

13 To what end therefore shall we live any longer ?

14 Then Mattathias and his sons * rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned very sore.

15 In the mean while the king's officers, such as compelled the people to revolt, came into the city Modin, to make them sacrifice.

16 And when many of Israel came unto them, Mattathias also and his sons came together.

17 Then answered the king's officers, and said to Mattathias on this wise, Thou art a ruler, and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren :

18 Now therefore come thou first, and fulfill the king's commandment, like as all the heathen have done, yea, and the men of Juda also, and such as remain at Jerusalem : so shalt thou and thy house be in the number of the king's friends, and thou and thy children shall be honoured with silver and gold, and many rewards.

19 Then Mattathias answered and spake with * a loud voice.
Though all the nations that are under the king's dominion obey him, and fall away every one from the religion of their fathers, and give consent to his commandments :

20 Yet will I * and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God forbid that we should forsake * the law and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken to the king's words, to go from our religion, either on the right hand, or the left.

23 Now when he had left speaking these words, there came one of the Jews in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's commandment.

24 Which thing when Mattathias saw, he was * inflamed with zeal, and his reins trembled, neither could he forbear to show his anger according to judgment : wherefore he ran, * and slew him upon the altar.

25 Also the king's commissioner, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and the altar he pulled down.

26 Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as * Phi-nices did unto Zambri the son of Salom.

27 And Mattathias cried throughout the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow me.

28 So he and his sons fled into * the mountains, and left all that ever they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgment went down into the wilderness, to * dwell there :

30 Both they, and their children, and their wives, and their cattle ; because * afflictions increased sore upon them.

31 Now when it was told the king's servants, and * the host that was at Jerusalem, in the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness,

32 They pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made war against them on the sabbath-day.

33 And they said unto them, Let that which ye have done hitherto suffice ; come forth, and do according to the commandment of the king, and ye shall live.

34 But they said, * We will not come forth, neither will we do the king's commandment, to profane the sabbath-day.

35 So then they gave || them the battle with all speed.

36 Howbeit they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped the places where they lay hid ;

37 But said, Let us die all in our * innocency : heaven and earth shall testify for us, that ye put us to death wrongfully.

38 So they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath,
* and they slew them, with their wives and children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand * people.

39 Now when Mattathias and his friends understood hereof, they mourned for them right sore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly * root us out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battle with us on the sabbath-day, we will fight against him ; neither will we die all, as our brethren that were murdered in * the secret places.

42 Then came there unto him a company of Assideans, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law.

43 Also all they that * fled for persecution joined themselves unto them, and were a stay unto them.

44 So they joined their forces, and smote sinful men in their anger, and wicked men in their wrath : but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down * the altars :

46 And what children soever they found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised || valiantly.

47 They pursued also after the proud men, and the work prospered in their hand.

48 So they recovered * the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, neither * suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 Now when the time drew near that Mattathias should die, he said unto his sons, Now hath pride and rebuke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation :

50 Now therefore, my sons, be ye zealous for the law, * and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time : so shall ye receive great honour and an everlasting name.

52 Was not * Abraham found faithful in temptation, * and it was imputed unto him for righteousness ?

53 Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment,

55 Jesus for fulfilling the word was made a judge in Israel.

56 Caleb for bearing witness before the congregation received the heritage of the land.

57 David for being merciful possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

58 Elias for being zealous and fervent for the law was taken up into heaven.

59 Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, by believing were saved out of the flame.

60 Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions.

61 And thus consider ye throughout all ages, that none that put their trust in him shall be overcome.

62 Fear not then the words of a sinful man: for his glory shall be dung and worms.

63 To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall not be found, because he is returned into his dust, and his thought is come to nothing.

64 Wherefore, ye my sons, be valiant, and shew yourselves men in the behalf of the law; for by it shall ye obtain glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsel, give ear unto him always: he shall be a father unto you.

66 As for Judas Maccabeus, he hath been mighty and strong, even from his youth up: let him be your captain, and fight the battle of the people.

67 Take also unto you all those that observe the law, and avenge ye the wrong of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

69 So he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers.

70 And he died in the hundred forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAPTER III.

1 The valour and fame of Judas Maccabeus. 10 He overthrew the forces of Samaria and Syria. 27 Antiochus sendeth a great power against him. 41 He, and his, fall to fasting and prayer, and are encouraged.

THEN his son Judas, called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and they fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel.

3 So he gat his people great honour, and put on a breast-plate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and he made battles, protecting the host with his sword.

4 In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people.

6 Wherefore the wicked shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled, because salvation prospered in his hand.

7 He grieved also many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever.

8 Moreover he went through the cities of Juda, destroying the ungodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel:

9 So that he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he received unto him such as were ready to perish.

10 Then Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him, and slew him: many also fell down slain, but the rest fled.

12 Wherefore Judas took their spoils, and Apollonius' sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

13 Now when Seron, a prince of the army of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a multitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to war;

14 He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdom; for I will go fight with Judas and them that are with him, who displease the king's commandment.

15 So he made him ready to go up, and there went with him a mighty host of the ungodly to help him, and to be avenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came near to the going up of Beth-horon,
Judas went forth to meet him with a small company:

17 Who, when they saw the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

18 Unto whom Judas answered, It is no hard matter for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with the God of heaven it is all one, to deliver with a great multitude, or a small company:

19 For the victory of battle standeth not in the multitude of a host: but strength cometh from heaven.

20 They come against us in much pride and iniquity to destroy us, and our wives and children, and to spoil us:

21 But we fight for our lives and our laws.

22 Wherefore the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face: and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now as soon as he had left off speaking, he leaped suddenly upon them, and so Seron and his host was overthrown before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, where were slain about eight hundred men of them: and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then began the fear of Judas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread, to fall upon the nations round about them:

26 Inasmuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the battles of Judas.

27 Now when king Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation: wherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, even a very strong army.

28 He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldiers pay for a year, commanding them to be ready whensoever he should need them.

29 Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, in taking away the laws which had been of old time;

30 He feared that he should not be able to bear the charges any longer, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally as he did before: for he had abounded above the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore, being greatly perplexed in his mind, he determined to go into Persia, there to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias, a nobleman, and one of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again.

34 Moreover he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem:

35 To wit, that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from that place;

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king took the half of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch, his royal city, the hundred forty and seventh year: and having passed the river Euphrates, he went through the high countries.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plain country.

41 And the merchants of the country, hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with servants, and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves: a power also of Syria and of the land of the Philistines joined themselves unto them.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that miseries were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders; for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them;

43 They said one to another, Let us restore the decayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people and the sanctuary.

44 Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45 Now Jerusalem lay void as a wilderness, there was none of her children that went in or out: the sanctuary also was trodden down, and aliens kept the strong hold; the heathen had their habitation in that place; and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with the harp ceased.

 46 Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to || Maspha, over against Jerusalem; for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.
 47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes,
 48 And laid open the hook of the law, || wherein the heathen had sought to paint the likeness of their images.
 49 They brought also the priest's garments, and the first-fruits, and the tithes: and the ⁷ Nazarites they stirred up, who had accomplished their days.
 50 Then cried they with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away?
 51 For thy sanctuary is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low.
 52 And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us: what things they imagine against us, thou knowest.
 53 How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou, O God, be our help?
 54 Then sounded they with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.
 55 And after this Judas ordained captains over the people, even captains over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.
 56 But as for such as ^b were building houses, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or ^c were fearful, those he commanded that they should return, every man to his own house, according to the law.
 57 So the camp removed, and pitched upon the south side of Emmaus.
 58 And Judas said, Arm yourselves, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations, that are assembled together against us to destroy us and our sanctuary:
 59 For it is better for us to die in battle, than to behold the calamities of our people and our sanctuary.
 60 Nevertheless, ^d as the will of God is in heaven, so let him do.

CHAPTER IV.

6 Judas defeated the plot, and forces of Gorgias, and spoiled their tents, and overthrew Lysias. 40 He pulled down the altar which the heathen had profaned, and set up a new one: and made a wall about Zion.

THEN took Gorgias five thousand footmen, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of the camp by night;
 2 To the end he might rush in upon the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the fortress were his guides.
 3 Now when Judas heard thereof, he himself removed, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite the king's army which was at Emmaus,
 4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp.
 5 In the mean season came Gorgias by night into the camp of Judas: and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains: for, said he, These fellows flee from us.
 6 But as soon as it was day, Judas shewed himself in the plain with three thousand men, who nevertheless had neither armour nor swords to their minds.
 7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong and well harnesses, and compassed round about with horsemen; and these were expert of war.
 8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.
 9 Remember how our fathers were delivered in the Red Sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army.
 10 Now therefore let us cry unto heaven, if peradventure the Lord will have mercy upon us, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this host before our face this day:
 11 That so all the heathen may know that there is one who delivereth and saveth Israel.
 12 Then the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them.
 13 Wherefore they went out of the camp to battle; but they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets.
 14 So they joined battle, and the heathen being discomfited fled into the plain.
 15 Howbeit all the hindmost of them were slain with the sword: for they pursued them unto ^f Gazera, and unto the plains of Idmen, and Azotas, and Jamnia, so that there were slain of them about three thousand men.
 16 This done, Judas returned again with his host from pursuing them,

17 And said to the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us,
 18 And Gorgias and his host are here by us in the mountain: but stand ye now against our enemies, and overcome them, and after this ye may boldly take the spoils.
 19 As Judas was yet speaking these words, there appeared a part of them looking out of the mountain:
 20 Who when they perceived that the Jews had put their host to flight, and were burning the tents; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done:
 21 When therefore they perceived these things, they were sore afraid, and seeing also the host of Judas in the plain ready to fight, 22 They fled every one into the land of strangers.
 23 Then Judas returned to spoil the tents, where they got much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.
 24 After this they went home, and sung a song of thanksgiving, and praised the Lord in heaven: because it is good, because his mercy endureth for ever.
 25 Thus Israel had a great deliverance that day.
 26 Now all the strangers that had escaped came and told Lysias what had happened:
 27 Who, when he heard thereof, was confounded and discouraged, because neither such things as he would were done unto Israel, nor such things as the king commanded him were come to pass.
 28 The next year therefore following, Lysias gathered together threescore thousand choice men of foot, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.
 29 So they came into Idmen, and pitched their tents at Bethsura, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.
 30 And when he saw that mighty army, he prayed, and said, Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the violence of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and gavest the host of || strangers into the hands of ^g Jonathan the son of Saul, and his armour-bearer;
 31 Shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their power and horsemen:
 32 Make them to be of no courage, and cause the boldness of their strength to fall away, and let them quake at their destruction:
 33 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all those that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.
 34 So they joined battle; and there were slain of the host of Lysias about five thousand men, even before them they were slain.
 35 Now when Lysias saw his army put to flight, and the manliness of Judas' soldiers, and how they were ready either to live or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered together a company of strangers, and having made his army greater than it was, he purposed to come again into Judea.
 36 Then said Judas and his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse and || dedicate the sanctuary.
 37 Upon this all the host assembled themselves together, and went up into mount Zion.
 38 And when they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates turned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest, or in one of the mountains, yea, and the priests' chambers pulled down;
 39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes upon their heads, 40 And fell down flat to the ground upon their faces, and blew an alarm with the trumpets, and cried toward heaven.
 41 Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the fortress, until he had cleansed the sanctuary.
 42 So he chose priests of blameless conversation, such as had pleasure in the law:
 43 Who cleansed the sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones unto an unclean place.
 44 And when as they consulted what to do with the altar of burnt-offerings, which was profaned;
 45 They thought it best to pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the heathen had defiled it: wherefore they pulled it down, 46 And laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to shew what should be done with them.
 47 Then they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former;

48 And made up the sanctuary, and the things that were within the temple, and hallowed the courts.

49 They made also new holy vessels, and into the temple they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt-offerings, and of incense, and the table.

50 And upon the altar they burned incense, and the lamps that were upon the candlestick they lighted, that they might give light in the temple.

51 Furthermore they set the loaves upon the table, and ^{|| Or, spread abroad the hangings, or, hanged up the veils.} spread out the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 Now on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is called the month Casleu, in the hundred forty and eighth year, they rose up betimes in the morning, 53 And offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt-offerings, which they had made.

54 Look, at what time and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.

55 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praising the God of heaven, who had given them good success.

56 And so they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt-offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrifice of || deliverance and praise.

57 They decked also the fore-front of the temple with crowns of gold, and with shields; and the gates and the chambers they || renewed, and || hanged doors upon them.

58 Thus was there very great gladness among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.

59 Moreover, Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Casleu, with mirth and gladness.

60 At that time also they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it down, as they had done before.

61 And they set there a garrison to keep it, and fortified Bethsura to preserve it; that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

CHAPTER V.

§ Judas smiteth the children of Esau, Idume, and Ammon.—17 Simon is sent into Galilee.
25 The exploits of Judas in Galilee: he destroyeth Ephron for denying him to pass through it.—26 Divers, that in Judas' absence would fight with their enemies, are slain.

NOW when the nations round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary renewed as before, it displeased them very much.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and thereupon they began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at || Arabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoils.

4 Also he remembered the || injury of the children of || Bean, who had been a snare and an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the ways.

5 He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

6 Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, with Timotheus their captain.

7 So he fought many battles with them, till at length they were discomfited before him; and he smote them.

8 And when he had taken Jazar, with the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judea.

9 Then the heathen that were at Galaad assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them, but they fled to the fortress of Dathema.

10 And sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, The heathen that are round about us are assembled together against us to destroy us:

11 And they are preparing to come and take the fortress whereunto we are fled, Timotheus being captain of their host.

12 Come now therefore, and deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain:

13 Yea, all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie are put to death: their wives and their children also they have carried away captives, and borne away their stuff; and they have destroyed there about a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet reading, behold there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise, 15 And said, They of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, are assembled together against us to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled a great congregation together, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and assaulted of them.

17 Then said Judas unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, for I and Jonathan my brother will go into the country of Galaad.

18 So he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the people, with the remnant of the host in Judea to keep it.

19 Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and see that ye make not war against the heathen until the time that we come again.

20 Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for the country of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, where he fought many battles with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

23 And || those that were in Galilee, and in Arbattis, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, took he away with him, and brought them into Judea with great joy.

24 Judas Maccabeus also and his brother Jonathan went over Jordan, and travelled three days journey in the wilderness,

25 Where they met with the Nabatites, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad:

26 And how that many of them were shut up in || Bosora, and Bavor, and Alema, || Casphor, Maked, and Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great:

27 And that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the country of Galaad, and that against to-morrow || they had appointed to bring their hosts against the forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 Hereupon Judas and his host turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto || Bosora; and when he had won the city, he slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire.

29 From whence he removed by night, and went till he came to the fortress.

30 And betimes in the morning they || looked up, and behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other engines of war, to take the fortress: for || they assaulted them.

31 When Judas therefore saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 He said unto his host, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behind them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the host of Timotheus, knowing that it was Maccabeus, fled from him: wherefore he smote them with a great slaughter; so that there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

35 This done, Judas turned aside to Maspha; and after he had assaulted it, he took it, and slew all the males therein, and received the spoils thereof, and burnt it with fire.

36 From thence went he, and took Casphon, Maged, Bosor, and the other cities of the country of Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another host, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brook.

38 So Judas sent men to spy the host, who brought him word, saying, All the heathen that be round about us are assembled unto them, even a very great host.

39 He hath also hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the brook, ready to come and fight against thee. Upon this Judas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, When Judas and his host come near the brook, if he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us:

41 But if he be afraid, and camp beyond the river, we shall go over unto him, and prevail against him.

42 Now when Judas came near the brook, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook : unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Suffer no man to remain in the camp, but let all come to the battle.

43 So he went first over unto them, and all the people after him: then all the heathen, being discomfited before him, cast away their weapons, and fled unto the temple that was at Carnaim.

44 But || they took the city, and burned the temple with all that were therein. Thus was Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the country of Galad, from the least unto the greatest, even their wives, and their children, and their stuff, a very great host, to the end they might come into the land of Judea.

46 Now when they came unto Ephron, (this was a great city in the way as they should go, very well fortified) they could not turn from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.

47 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.

48 Whereupon Judas sent unto them in peaceable manner, saying, Let us pass through your land to go into our own country, and none shall do you any hurt; we will only pass through on foot : howbeit they would not open unto him.

49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

50 So the soldiers pitched, and assailed the city all that day and all that night, till at length the city was delivered into his hands.

51 Who then slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and raised the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain.

52 After this went they over Jordan into the great plain before Bethsura.

53 And Judas gathered together those that || came behind, and || exhorted the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Judea.

54 So they went up to mount Sion with joy and gladness, where they offered || burnt-offerings, because not one of them were slain until they had returned in peace.

55 Now what time as Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemæis, 56 Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the garrisons, heard of the valiant acts and warlike deeds which they had done.

57 Wherefore they said, Let us also get us a name, and go fight against the heathen that are round about us.

58 So when they had given charge unto the garrison that was with them, they went toward Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city † to fight against them.

60 And so it was, that Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued unto the borders of Judea : and there were slain that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men.

61 Thus was there a great overthrow among the children of Israel, because they were not obedient unto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant act.

62 Moreover these men came not of the seed of those, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

63 Howbeit the man Judas and his brethren were greatly renowned in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, where-soever their name was heard of;

64 Inasmuch as the people assembled unto them with joyful acclamations.

65 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south, where he smote Hebron, and the † towns thereof, and pulled down the fortress of it, and burned the towers thereof round about.

66 From thence he removed to go into the land of † the Philistines, and passed through Samaria.

67 At that time certain priests, desirous to shew their valour, were slain in battle, for that they went to fight unadvisedly.

68 So Judas turned to Azotus in the land of the Philistines, and when he had pulled down their altars, and burned their carved images with fire, and spoiled their cities, he returned into the land of Judea.

CHAPTER VI.

8 Antiochus dieth, and confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Jerusalem.
29 Jona besiegeth those in the tower at Jerusalem. 32 They procure Antiochus the younger to come into Judea: he besiegeth Jerusalem, and maketh peace with Israel; yet overthroweth the wall of Sion.

ABOUT that time king Antiochus travelling through the high countries heard say, that Elymais in the country of Persia was a city greatly renowned for riches, silver, and gold;

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, wherein were || coverings of gold, and breastplates, and shields, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Grecians, had left there.

3 Wherefore he came and sought to take the city, and to spoil it; but he was not able, because they of the city, having had warning thereof,

4 Rose up against him in battle : so he fled, and departed thence with great heaviness, and returned to Babylon.

5 Moreover there came one who brought him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judea, were put to flight :

6 And that Lysias, who went forth first with a great power, was driven away of the Jews ; and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and store of spoils, which they had gotten of the armies, whom they had destroyed :

7 Also that they had pulled down the abomination, which he had set up upon the altar in Jerusalem, and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and his city Bethsura.

8 Now when the king heard these words, he was astonished and sore moved : whereupon he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for.

9 And there he continued many days : for his grief was ever more and more, and he made account that he should die.

10 Wherefore he called for all his friends, and said unto them, The sleep is gone from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thought with myself, Into what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood of misery is it, wherein now I am ! for I was bountiful and beloved in my power.

12 But now I remember the evils that I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of gold and silver that were therein, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judea without a cause.

13 I perceive therefore that for this cause these troubles are come upon me, and behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler over all his realm,

15 And gave him the crown, and his robe, and his signet, to the end || he should bring up his son Antiochus, and nourish him up for the kingdom.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundred forty and ninth year.

17 Now when Lysias knew that the king was dead, he set up Antiochus his son, whom he had brought up, being young, to reign in his stead, and his name he called Eupator.

18 About this time they that were in the tower shut up the Israelites round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Judas, purposing to destroy them, called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounts for shot against them, and other engines.

21 Howbeit, certain of them that were besieged got forth, unto whom some ungodly men of Israel joined themselves :

22 And they went unto the king, and said, How long will it be ere thou execute judgment, and avenge our brethren ?

23 We have been willing to serve thy father, and to do as he would have us, and to obey his commandments ;

24 For which cause they of our nation besiege the tower, and are alienated from us : moreover, as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritance.

25 Neither have they stretched out their hand against us only, but also against all their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the tower at Jerusalem, to take it : the sanctuary also and Bethsura have they fortified.

27 Wherefore, if thou dost not prevent them quickly, they will do greater things than these, neither shalt thou be able to rule them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the horse.

29 There came also unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers.

30 So that the number of his army was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants exercised in battle.

31 These went through Idumea, and pitched against Bethsura, which they assaulted many days, making engines of war; but they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Upon this Judas removed from the tower, and pitched in Bathzacharias, over against the king's camp.

33 Then the king rising very early marched fiercely with his host toward Bathzacharias, where his armies made them ready to battle, and sounded the trumpets.

34 And to the end they might provoke the elephants to fight, they showed them the blood of grapes and mulberries.

35 Moreover they divided the beasts among the armies, and for every elephant they appointed a thousand men, armed with coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads; and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at every occasion: wheresoever the beast was, and whithersoever the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him.

37 And upon the beasts were there strong towers of wood, which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men, that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side and that side at the two parts of the host, giving them signs what to do, and being harnessed all over amidst the ranks.

39 Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains glistened therewith, and shined like lamps of fire.

40 So part of the king's army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Judas and his host drew near, and entered into battle, and there were slain of the king's army six hundred men.

43 Eleazar also, surnamed Savaran, perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royal harness, was higher than all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him,

44 Put himself in jeopardy, to the end he might deliver his people, and get him a perpetual name:

45 Wherefore he ran upon him courageously through the midst of the battle, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they were divided from him on both sides.

46 Which done, he crept under the elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him: whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died.

47 Howbeit, the rest of the Jews seeing the strength of the king, and the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

48 ¶ Then the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents against Judea, and against mount Zion.

49 But with them that were in Bethsura he made peace: for they came out of the city, because they had no victuals there to endure the siege, it being a year of rest to the land.

50 So the king took Bethsura, and set a garrison there to keep it.

51 As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many days: and he set there artillery with engines and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

52 Whereupon they also made engines against their engines, and held them battle a long season.

53 Yet at the last, their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was the seventh year, and they in Judea that were delivered from the Gentiles, had eaten up the residue of the store;)

54 There were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were fain to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

55 At that time Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he lived, had appointed to bring up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 56 Was returned out of Persia and Media, and the king's host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto him the ruling of the affairs.

57 Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king and the captains of the host and the company, We decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege unto is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us:

58 Now therefore let us be friends with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation;

59 And covenant with them, that they shall live after their laws, as they did before: for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things, because we abolished their laws.

60 So the king and the princes were content: wherefore he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof.

61 Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them: whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

62 Then the king entered into mount Zion; but when he saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about.

63 Afterward departed he in all haste, and returned unto Antiochia, where he found Philip to be master of the city: so he fought against him, and took the city by force.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Antiochus is slain, and Demetrius reigneth in his stead.—5 Alcimus would be high priest, and complaineth of Judas to the king.—10 He sleayeth threescore Assidians. 43 Nicanor is slain, and the king's forces are defeated by Judas.—49 The day of this victory is kept holy every year.

1 In the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus departed from Rome, and came up with a few men unto a city of the sea-coast, and reigned there.

2 And as he entered into the palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him.

3 Wherefore, when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So his host slew them. Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom,

5 There came unto him all the wicked and ungodly men of Israel, having Alcimus, who was desirous to be high priest, for their captain:

6 And they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what havoc he hath made among us, and in the king's land, and let him punish them with all them that aid them.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides, a friend of the king, who ruled beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king.

9 And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judea, where they sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11 But they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great power.

12 Then did there assemble unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of scribes, to require justice.

13 Now the Assidians were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them:

14 For said they, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong.

15 So he spake unto them peaceably, and swore unto them, saying, We will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends.

16 Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which he wrote, 17 The flesh of thy saints have they cast out, and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

18 Wherefore the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them; for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made.

19 After this removed Bacchides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethzeth, where he sent and took many of the men that had forsaken him, and certain of the people also, and when he had slain them, he cast them into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with him a power to aid him: so Bacchides went to the king.

21 But Alcimus contended for the high priesthood.

22 And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, who, after they had gotten the land of Juda into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heathen, 24 He went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance of them that had revolted from him, so that they durst no more go forth into the country.

25 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company had gotten the upper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide their force, he went again to the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

26 Then the king sent Nicenor, one of his honourable princes, a man that bare deadly hate unto Israel, with commandment to destroy the people.

27 So Nicenor came to Jerusalem with a great force; and sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying, 28 Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see you in peace.

29 He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by violence.

30 Which thing after it was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more.

31 Nicenor also, when he saw that his counsel was discovered, went out to fight against Judas beside the Caparsalama.

32 Where there were slain of Nicenor's side about five thousand men, and the rest fled into the city of David.

33 After this went Nicenor up to mount Sion, and there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests and certain of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt-sacrifice that was offered for the king.

34 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and rebuked them shamefully, and spake proudly, 35 And swore in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again in safety, I will burn up this house: and with that he went out in a great rage.

36 Then the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Thou, O Lord, didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people.

38 Be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

39 So Nicenor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Beth-horon, where a host out of Syria met him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, and there he prayed, saying, 41 O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote a hundred fourscore and five thousand of them.

42 Even so destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that he hath spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness.

43 So the thirteenth day of the month Adar the hosts joined battle: but Nicenor's host was discomfited, and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44 Now when Nicenor's host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 Then they pursued after them a day's journey, from Adasa unto Gazera, sounding an alarm after them with their trumpets.

46 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Judea round about, and closed them in; so that they, turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left.

47 Afterward they took the spoils and the prey, and smote off Nicenor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so proudly, and brought them away, and hanged them up toward Jerusalem.

48 For this cause the people rejoiced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladness.

49 Moreover, they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of Adar.

50 Thus the land of Judas was in rest a little while.

CHAPTER VIII.

Judas is informed of the power and policy of the Romans, and maketh a league with them. The articles of that league.

NOW Judas had heard of the fame of the Romans, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joined themselves unto them, and make a league of amity with all that came unto them;

2 And that they were men of great valour. It was told him also of their wars and noble acts which they had done among the Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute;

3 And what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there;

4 And that by their policy and patience they had conquered all the place, though it were very far from them; and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthrow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year:

5 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battle Philip, and Perseus king of the Citiums, with others that lifted up themselves against them, and had overcome them:

6 How also Antiochus, the great king of Asia, that came against them in battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them;

7 And how they took him alive, and covenanted that he and such as reigned after him should pay a great tribute, and give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,

8 And the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to king Eumenes:

9 Moreover how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them;

10 And that they, having knowledge thereof, sent them a certain captain, and fighting with them, slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day:

11 It was told him besides, how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and isles that at any time resisted them;

12 But with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and nigh, insomuch as all that heard of their name were afraid of them:

13 Also that, whom they would help to a kingdom, these reign; and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted:

14 Yet for all this none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby:

15 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a senate-house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in council daily, consulting always for the people, to the end they may be well ordered:

16 And that they committed their government to one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envy nor emulation among them.

17 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them.

18 And to entreat them that they would take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.

19 They went therefore to Rome, which was a very great journey, and came into the senate, where they spake and said, 20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

21 So that matter pleased the Romans well.

22 And this is the copy of the epistle which the senate wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that there they might have by them a memorial of peace and confederacy:

23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the people of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enemy be far from them.

24 If there come first any war upon the Romans or any of their confederates throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Jews shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart:

26 Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make war upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romans: but they shall keep their covenants without taking any thing thereof.

27 In the same manner also, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them:

28 Neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants, and that without deceit.

29 According to these articles did the Romans make a covenant with the people of the Jews.

30 Howbeit, if hereafter the one party or the other shall think meet to add or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the evils that Demetrius doeth to the Jews, we have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews?

32 If therefore they complain any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Alcimus and Bacchides come again with new forces into Judea...7 The army of Judas flee from him, and he is slain...30 Jonathan is in his place, and revengeth his brother John's quarrel...55 Alcimus is plagued, and dieth...70 Bacchides maketh peace with Jonathan.

FURTHERMORE, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his host were slain in battle, he sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea the second time, and with them || the chief strength of his host:

2 Who went forth by the way that leadeth to || Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth, which is in Arbela, and after they had won it, they slew much people.

3 Also the first month of the hundred fifty and second year they encamped before Jerusalem:

4 From whence they moved and went to || Berea, with twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him:

6 Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid; whereupon many conveyed themselves out of the host, inasmuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

7 When Judas therefore saw that his host slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

8 Nevertheless, unto them that remained, he said, Let us arise and go up against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they deborted him, saying, We shall never be able: || let us now rather save our lives, and hereafter we will return with our brethren, and fight against them: for we are but few.

10 Then Judas said, God forbid that I should do this thing, and flee away from them; if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not stain our honour.

11 With that the host of Bacchides removed out of their tents, and stood over against || them, their horsemen being divided into two troops, and their slingers and archers going before the host, and they that marched in the foreward were all mighty men.

12 As for Bacchides, he was in the right wing: so the host drew near on the two parts, and sounded their trumpets.

13 They also of Judas' side, even they sounded their trumpets also, so that the earth shook at the noise of the armies, and the battle continued from morning till night.

14 Now when Judas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, he took with him all the hardy men, 15 Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them unto the mount Azotus.

16 But when they of the left wing saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed upon Judas and those that were with him hard at the heels from behind:

17 Whereupon there was a sore battle, inasmuch as many were slain on both parts.

18 Judas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in || Modin.

20 Moreover they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, saying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen, that delivered Israel!

22 As for the other things concerning Judas and his wars, and the noble acts which he did, and his greatness, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 Now after the death of Judas, the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose up all such as wrought iniquity.

24 In those days there was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the country revolted and went with || them.

25 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country.

26 And they made inquiry and search for Judas' friends, and brought them unto Bacchides, who took vengeance of them, and used them despitefully.

27 So was there a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that a prophet was not seen among them.

28 For this cause all Judas' friends came together, and said unto || Jonathan,

29 Since thy brother Judas died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are adversaries to us.

30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and captain in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles.

31 Upon this Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up instead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides gat knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan, and || Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Asphar.

34 Which when Bacchides understood, he came near to Jordan with all his host upon the sabbath-day.

35 Now Jonathan had sent his brother || John, a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they might leave with them their carriage, which was much.

36 But the children of || Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

37 After this came word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from || Nadabatha with a great train, as being the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan.

38 Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain:

39 Where they lifted up their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much ado and a great carriage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and brethren, to meet them with || drums, and || instruments of music, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathan and they that were with him rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell down dead, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils.

41 Thus was the marriage turned into mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned again to the marsh of Jordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard hereof, he came on the sabbath-day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.

44 Then Jonathan said to his company, Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to-day, as in time past:

45 For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, the marsh likewise and wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside.

46 Wherefore cry ye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

47 With that they joined battle, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him leaped into Jordan, and swam over unto the farther bank: howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them.

49 So there were slain of Bacchides' side that day about || a thousand men.

50 Afterward returned Bacchides to Jerusalem, and repaired the strong cities in Judea: the fort in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Thannatha, Pharathon, and || Taphon, these did he strengthen with high walls, with gates, and with bars.

51 And in them he set a garrison, that they might work malice upon Israel.

52 He fortified also the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the tower, and put forces in them, and provision of victuals.

53 Besides, he took the chief men's sons in the country for hostages, and put them into the tower at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Moreover in the hundred fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner

Or, of the Holy things.

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be joined with Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority than the high priest's.

39 As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I give it as a free gift to the sanctuary at Jerusalem for the necessary expenses of the sanctuary.

40 Moreover I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the king's accounts from the places appertaining. 41 And all the overplus, which the officers payed not in as in former time, from henceforth shall be given toward the works of the temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they took from the uses of the temple out of the accounts year by year, even those things shall be released, because they appertain to the priests that minister.

43 And whosoever they be that flee unto the temple at Jerusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the king, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty, and all that they have in my realm.

44 For the building also and repairing of the works of the sanctuary, expenses shall be given of the king's accounts.

45 Yea, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, expenses shall be given out of the king's accounts, as also for the building of the walls in Judea.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil that he had done in Israel; for he had afflicted them very sore.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entreated of true peace with them, and they were confederate with him always.

48 Then gathered king Alexander great forces, and camped over against Demetrius.

49 And after the two kings had joined battle, Demetrius' host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and prevailed against them.

50 And he continued the battle very sore until the sun went down: and that day was Demetrius slain.

51 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt with a message to this effect:

52 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and have gotten the dominion, and overthrown Demetrius, and recovered our country:

53 For after I had joined battle with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in the throne of his kingdom:

54 Now therefore let us make a league of amity together, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy son-in-law, and will give both thee and her gifts according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptolemy the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemy went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemais in the hundredth score and second year.

58 Where king Alexander meeting him, gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander had written unto Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 Who thereupon went honourably to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found favour in their sight.

61 At that time certain pestilent fellows of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the king would not hear them.

62 Yea more than that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple; and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himself, and said unto his princes, Go with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 Now when his accusers saw that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the king honoured him, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterward Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 Furthermore in the hundred threescore and fifth year came Demetrius son of Demetrius out of Crete into the land of his fathers:

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard tell, he was right sorry, and returned into Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the governor of Celsyria his general, who gathered together a great host, and camped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying, 70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, and I am laughed to scorn for thy sake, and reproached: and why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

71 Now therefore, if thou trustest in thine own strength, come down to us into the plain field, and there let us try the matter together: for with me is the power of the cities.

72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shall tell thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide the horsemen and so great a power in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 So when Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and choosing ten thousand men, he went out of Jerusalem, where Simon his brother met him for to help him.

75 And he pitched his tents against Joppe: but they of Joppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garrison there.

76 Then Jonathan laid siege unto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for fear: and so Jonathan won Joppe.

77 Whereof when Apollonius heard, he took three thousand horsemen, with a great host of footmen, and went to Azotus as one that journeyed, and therewithal drew him forth into the plain, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies joined battle.

79 Now Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him; for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them: and so the enemies' horses were tired.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footmen (for the horsemen were spent,) who were discomfited by him, and fled.

83 The horsemen also, being scattered in the field, fled to Azotus, and went into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, for safety.

84 But Jonathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils: and the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burned with fire.

85 Thus there were burned and slain with the sword well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Jonathan removed his host, and camped against Ascodon, where the men of the city came forth, and met him with great pomp.

87 After this returned Jonathan and his host unto Jerusalem, having many spoils.

88 Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89 And sent him a buckle of gold, as the use is to be given to such as are of the king's blood: he gave him also Accaron with the borders thereof in possession.

manner, so as they of the cities opened unto him and met him :
for king Alexander had commanded them so to do, ^b because he was his father-in-law.

3 Now as Ptolemy entered into the cities, he set in every one of them a garrison of soldiers to keep it.

4 And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battle; for they had made heaps of them by the way where he should pass.

5 Also they told the king whatsoever Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the king held his peace.

6 Then Jonathan met the king ^d with great pomp at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and ^f lodged.

7 Afterward Jonathan, when he had gone with the king to the river called Eleutherus, returned again to Jerusalem.

8 King Ptolemy therefore, having gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea unto Seleucia upon the sea-coast, imagined ^a wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 Whereupon he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a league betwixt us, and I will give thee ^c my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in thy father's kingdom:

10 For I repeat that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me.

11 Thus did he ^e slander him, because he was desirous of his kingdom.

12 Wherefore he took his daughter from him, and gave her to Demetrius, and forsook Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known.

13 Then Ptolemy entered into Antioch, where he set two crowns upon his head, the crown of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the mean season was king Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwelt in those parts had revolted from him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to war against him: whereupon king Ptolemy brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 So Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be defended;
but king Ptolemy was exalted:

17 For Zabdiel the Arabian, took off Alexander's head, and sent it unto Ptolemy.

18 King Ptolemy also died the third day after, ^f and they that were in the strong holds were slain one of another.

19 By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred three-score and seventh year.

20 At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judea, to take the ^b tower that was in Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it.

21 Then certain ungodly persons, who hated their own people, went unto the king, and told him that Jonathan besieged the tower.

22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately removing, he came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais, in great haste.

23 Nevertheless, Jonathan, when he heard this, commanded to besiege it ^a still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himself in peril;

24 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais unto the king, ^c where he found favour in his sight.

25 And though certain ^a ungodly men of the people had made complaints against him,

26 Yet the king entreated him as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in ^a the high priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him pre-eminence among his chief friends.

28 Then Jonathan desired the king, that he would make Judea free from tribute, as also the ^a three governments, with the country of Samaria; and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 So the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan of all these things after this manner:

30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting:

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write unto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye might see it.

32 King Demetrius unto his father Lasthenes sendeth greeting:

33 We are determined to do good to the people of the Jews, who are our friends, and keep covenants with us, because of their good will toward us.

34 Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Judea, with the three governments of Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathem, that are added unto Judea from the country of Samaria, ^a and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments which the king received of them yearly aforetime out of the fruits of the earth and of trees.

35 And as for other things that belong unto us, of the tithes and customs pertaining unto us, as also the salt-pits, and the crown-taxes, which are due unto us, we discharge them of them all for their relief.

36 And nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and set upon ^a the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 After this, when king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom he had gathered from the isles of the heathen: wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

39 Moreover, there was one Tryphon, that had been of Alexander's part afore, who, seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcus the Arabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander,

40 And lay sore upon him to deliver him this young Anti-ochus, that he might reign in his father's stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at enmity with him; and there he remained a long season.

41 In the mean time Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he would cast those of ^a the tower out of Jerusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will ^a greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve.

43 Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men to help me; for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Upon this Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men unto Antioch: and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming.

45 Howbeit, they that were of the city gathered themselves together, into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, ^a and would have slain the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and, dispersing themselves through the city, slew that day in the city to the number of a hundred thousand.

48 Also they set fire on the city, and gat many spoils that day, ^a and delivered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying,

50 Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease from assaulting us and the city.

51 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace; and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm; and they returned to Jerusalem, ^a having great spoils.

52 So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Nevertheless, he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned ^a Tryphon, and with him the ^a young child Antiochus, who reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 Moreover, Tryphon took the ^a elephants, and won Antioch.

57 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying,
I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the king's friends.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle.

59 His brother Simon also he made captain from the place called, The ladder of Tyrus, unto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him: and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably.

61 From whence he went to Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Afterward, when they of Gaza made supplication unto Jonathan, he made peace with them, and took the sons of their chief men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and passed through the country unto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing to remove him out of the country,

64 He went to meet them, and left Simon his brother in the country.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up:

66 But they desired to have peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and took the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 As for Jonathan and his host, they pitched at the water of Genesar, from whence betimes in the morning they gat them to the plain of Nasor.

68 And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle, all that were of Jonathan's side fled;

70 Inasmuch as there was not one of them left, except Matthias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Calphi, the captains of the host.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterward turning again to battle, he put them to flight, and so they ran away.

73 Now when his own men that were fled saw this, they turned again unto him, and with him pursued them to Cades, even unto their own tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slain of the heathen that day about three thousand men: but Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jonathan reneweth his league with the Romans and Lacedemonians. 23 The forces of Demetrius, thinking to surprise Jonathan, flee away for fear. 35 Jonathan forthwith fleeth the castles in Judaea, and is shut up by the fraud of Tryphon in Ptolemais.

NOW when Jonathan saw that the time served him, he chose certain men, and sent them to Rome, for to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them.

2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the people of the Jews, sent us unto you, to the end ye should renew the friendship which ye had with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Upon this the Romans gave them letters unto the governors of every place, that they should bring them into the land of Judaea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote unto the Lacedemonians:

6 Jonathan the high priest, and the elders of the nation, and the priests, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacede-monians their brethren send greeting:

7 There were letters sent in times past unto Onias the high priest from Darius, who reigned then among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten doth specify.

8 At which time Onias entreated the ambassador that was sent honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the league and friendship.

9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that we have the holy books of scripture in our hands to comfort us,

10 Have nevertheless attempted to send unto you for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since ye sent unto us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh us to think upon our brethren:

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for ourselves, we have had great troubles and wars on every side, forso much as the kings that are round about us have fought against us.

14 Howbeit, we would not be troublesome unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends, in these wars:

15 For we have help from heaven that succoureth us, so as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought under foot.

16 For this cause we chose Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and sent them unto the Romans, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them also to go unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye shall do well to give us an answer thereto.
19 And this is the copy of the letters which Onias sent unto Arcus king of the Lacedemonians to Onias the high priest, greeting:

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and Jews are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham:

22 Now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity.

23 We do write back again to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore our ambassadors to make report unto you on this wise.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to fight against him with a greater host than afore, 25 He removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Amathis: for he gave them no respite to enter his country.

26 He sent spies also unto their tents, who came again, and told him that they were appointed to come upon them in the night-season.

27 Wherefore so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight; also he sent forth centinels round about the host.

28 But when the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp.

29 Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Jonathan turned to the Arabians, who were called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils.

32 And removing thence, he came to Damascus, and so passed through all the country.

33 Simon also went forth, and passed through the country unto Ascalon, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to Joppe, and won it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto them that took Demetrius' part; wherefore he set a garrison there to keep it.

35 After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Judaea.

36 And making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Upon this they came together to build up the city, so asmuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down; and they repaired that which was called Caphenatha.

38 Simon also set up Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and bars.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own head.

40 Howbeit, he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to Bethsan.

41 Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the battle, and came to Bethsan.

1 ch. 7, 10.

42 Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him ;

43 But received him honourably, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as to himself.

44 Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us ?

45 Therefore send them now home again, and choose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge : as for me, I will return and depart : for this is the cause of my coming.

46 So Jonathan, believing him, did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Judea.

47 And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

48 Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him they slew with the sword.

49 Then sent Tryphon a host of footmen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's company.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together, prepared to fight.

51 They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Judea peacefully, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid ; wherefore all Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them : for, said they, They have no captain, nor any to help them : now therefore let us make war upon them, and take away their memorial from among men.

CHAPTER XIII.

8 Simon is made captain in his brother Jonathan's room.—10 Tryphon getteth two of Jonathan's sons into his hands, and slayeth Jonathan's mother.—27 The tomb of Jonathan.—36 Simon is favoured by Demetrius, and winneth Gaza, and the tower of Jerusalem.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great host to invade the land of Judea, and destroy it, and saw that the people was in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye yourselves know what great things I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slain for Israel's sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble : for I am no better than my brethren.

6 Doubtless I will avenge my nation, and the sanctuary, and our wives, and our children : for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very malice.

7 Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived.

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother.

9 Fight thou our battles, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about.

11 Also he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great power, to Joppe : who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and Jonathan was with him in ward.

13 But Simon pitched his tents at Adida, over against the plain.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying,

15 Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the king's treasure, || concerning the business that was committed unto him.

16 Wherefore now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go.

17 Hereupon Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people :

18 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So he sent them the children and the hundred talents : howbeit Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go.

20 And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora : but Simon and his host marched against him in every place, wheresoever he went.

21 Now they that were in the tower sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night : but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came into the country of Galaad.

23 And when he came near to Basenaa, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned and went into his own land.

25 Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin, the city of his fathers.

26 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many days.

27 Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewn stone, behind and before.

28 Moreover, he set up seven pyramids, one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren.

29 And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made all their armour for a perpetual memory, and by the armour ships carved, that they might be seen of all that sail on the sea.

30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it standeth yet unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him.

32 And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land.

33 Then Simon built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars, and laid up victuals therein.

34 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because all that Tryphon did was to spoil.

35 Unto whom king Demetrius answered and wrote after this manner :

36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting :

37 The golden crown, and the scarlet robe, which ye sent unto us, we have received : and we are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to confirm the immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you shall stand ; and the strong holds, which ye have builded, shall be your own.

39 As for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown tax also, which ye owe us : and if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel in the hundred and seventieth year.

42 Then the people of Israel began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews.

43 In those days Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about ; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

44 And they that were in the engine leaped into the city ; whereupon there was a great uproar in the city :

45 Inasmuch as the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased toward them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with songs and with thanksgiving.

43 Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling-place for himself.

44 They also of the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come forth, nor go into the country, nor buy, nor sell : wherefore they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him || to be at one with them : which thing he granted them ; and when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the tower from pollutions :

51 And entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred seventy and first year, with thanksgiving, and branches of palm-trees, and with harps, and cymbals, and with viols, and hymns, and songs : because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover, the hill of the temple that was by the tower he made stronger than it was, and there he dwelt himself with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts ; and he dwelt in Gazara.

CHAPTER XIV.

5 Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia.—4 The good deeds of Simon to his country.—18 The Lacedemonians and Romans renew their league with him.—26 A memorial of his acts is set up in Zion.

141. NOW in the hundred threescore and twelfth year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive :

3 Who went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, by whom he was put in ward.

4 As for the land of Judea, that was quiet all the days of Simon ; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

5 And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea,

6 And enlarged the bounds of his nation, and recovered the country,

7 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the tower, out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat all in the streets, communing together of || good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel.

10 He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy :

12 For every man sat under his vine and his fig-tree, and there was none to fray them :

13 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them : yea, the kings themselves were overthrown in those days.

14 Moreover, he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low : the law he searched out ; and every counterpane of the law and wicked person he took away.

15 He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

16 Now when it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorry.

17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein :

18 They wrote unto him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren :

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem.

20 And this is the copy of the letters that the Lacedemonians sent ; The rulers of the Lacedemonians, with the city, unto Simon the high priest, and the elders, and priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, send greeting :

21 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people certified us of your glory and honour : wherefore we were glad of their coming,

22 And did register the things that they spake in the council of the people in this manner, Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us.

23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their ambassage in public records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof : furthermore, we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, to confirm the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons ?

26 For he and his brethren and the house of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from the land, and confirmed their liberty.

27 So then they wrote it in tables of brass, which they set upon pillars in mount Zion : and this is the copy of the writing ; The eighteenth day of the month Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being the third year of Simon the high priest,

28 At || Saramel in the great congregation of the priests, and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us.

29 Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, Simon the son of Mattathias, of the posterity of Jarib, together with his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation, did their nation great honour :

30 For after that Jonathan, having gathered his nation together, and been their high priest, was added to his people,

31 Their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the sanctuary :

32 At which time Simon rose up, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed || the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages,

33 And fortified the cities of Judea, together with Bethsura, that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the || armour of the enemies had been before ; but he set a garrison of Jews there :

34 Moreover, he fortified Joppe, which lieth upon the sea, and || Gazara, that bordereth upon Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before : but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.)

35 The people therefore, seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governor and chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people.

36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a tower, out of which they issued, and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did much hurt || in the holy place :

37 But he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high priesthood according to those things, 39 And made him one of his friends, and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that the Romans had called the Jews their friends and confederates and brethren ; and that they had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably :

41 Also that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governor and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet ;

42 Moreover, that he should be their captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that, I say, he should take charge of the sanctuary ;

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold :

44 Also that it should be lawful for none of the people or priests to break any of these things, or to gainsay his words, 46 Thus it liked all the people to deal with Simon, and do as hath been said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof, and was well pleased to be high priest, and captain and governor of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place ;

49 Also that the copies thereof should be laid up in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

CHAPTER XV.

4 Antiochus desired leave to pass through Judea, and granteth great honour to Simon, and the Jews. 18 The Romans write to divers kings and nations to favour the Jews.

cir. 130.

MOREOVER Antiochus, son of Demetrius the king, sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and prince of the Jews, and to all the people ;

2 The contents whereof were these : King Antiochus to Simon the high priest and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews, greeting :

3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together, and prepared ships of war ;

4 My meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdom desolate ;

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

6 I give thee leave also to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp.

7 And as concerning Jerusalem and the sanctuary, let them be free ; and all the armour that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thy hands, let them remain unto thee.

8 And if any thing be, or shall be, owing to the king, let it be forgiven thee from this time forth for evermore.

9 Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple, with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth year went Antiochus unto the land of his fathers : at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Wherefore, being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled unto Dora, which lieth by the sea-side :

12 For he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora, having with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 And when he had compassed the city round about, and joined ships close to the town on the sea-side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to go out or in.

15 In the mean season came Numenius and his company from Rome, having letters to the kings and countries ; wherein were written these things :

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto king Ptolemee, greeting :

17 The Jews' ambassadors, our friends and confederates, came unto us to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews :

18 And they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound.

19 We thought it good therefore to write unto the kings and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries, nor yet aid their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their own law.

22 The same things wrote he likewise unto Demetrius the king, and Attalus, to || Ariarathes, and Arsaces,

23 And to all the countries, and to || Sampasames, and the Lacedemonians, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and Rhodus, and || Phaselis, and Cos, and Side, and Arundus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dora the second day, assaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither go out nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him ; silver also, and gold, and much armour.

27 Nevertheless he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

28 Furthermore he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, Ye withhold Joppe and Gazara, with the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm.

29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdom.

30 Now therefore deliver the cities which ye have taken, and the tributaries of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion || without the borders of Judea :

31 Or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver ; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributaries of the cities, other five hundred talents : if not, we will come and || fight against you.

|| Or, borders,

&c.

32 So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem : and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the king's message.

|| Or, submit
you to fight

33 Then answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other men's land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certain time.

34 Wherefore we, having opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou demandest Joppe and Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give a hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word ;

36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen : whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the mean time fled Tryphon by ship unto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captain of the sea-coast, and gave him a host of footmen and horsemen, 39 And commanded him to remove his host toward Judea, also he commanded him to build up Cedron, and to fortify the gates, and to war against the people ; but as for the king himself, he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when he had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and a host of footmen, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAPTER XVI.

3 Judas and John prevail against the forces sent by Antiochus. 11 The captain of Jericho inviteth Simon and two of his sons into his castle, and there treacherously murdereth them. 19 John is sought for, and escapeth, and killeth those that sought for him.

THEN came up John from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel ; and things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 But now I am old, and ye, by God's mercy, are of a sufficient age : be ye instead of me and my brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help from heaven be with you.

4 So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

5 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen came against them : howbeit there was a water-brook betwixt them.

6 So he and his people pitched over against them : and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water-brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 That done, he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies' horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy trumpets: whereupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that many of them were slain, and the remnant gat them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Judas, John's brother, wounded; but John still followed after them, until he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 || So they fled even unto the towers in the fields of Azotus; wherefore he burned it with fire: so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judea in peace.

11 Moreover, in the plain of Jericho was Ptolemeus the son of Abubus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold:

12 For he was the high priest's son-in-law.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself, and thereupon consulted deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; at which time he came down himself to Jericho with his sons, Mattathias and Judas, in the hundred threescore and seventeenth year, in the eleventh month called Sabat:

The Second Book of the MACCABEES.

CHAPTER I.

1 A letter of the Jews from Jerusalem to them of Egypt, to thank God for the death of Antiochus... 19 Of the fire that was hidden in the pit... 24 The prayer of Neemias.

1 THE brethren, the Jews that be at Jerusalem and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and peace:

2 God be gracious unto you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants;

3 And give you all a heart to serve him, and to do his will, with a good courage and a willing mind;

4 And open your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace;

5 And hear your prayers, and be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble that came upon us in those years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and kingdom,

8 And burned the porch, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard: we offered also sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now see that ye keep the feast of tabernacles in the month Caslen.

10 In the hundred fourscore and eighth year, the people that were at Jerusalem and in Judea, and the council, and Judas, sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemeus master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt:

11 Inasmuch as God hath delivered us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battle against a king.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea by the deceit of Nanea's priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry.

15 Which when the priests of Nanea had set forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as Antiochus was come in:

16 And opening a privy door of the roof, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and struck down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.

a Lev. 23, 34.

into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons had drunk largely, Ptolemeus and his men rose up, and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting-place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants.

17 In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.

18 Then Ptolemeus wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him a host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.

19 He sent others also to Gazara to kill John: and unto the 7 tribunes he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one had run afore to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and, quoth he, Ptolemeus hath sent to slay thee also.

22 Hereof when he heard, he was sore astonished: so he laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them; for he knew that they sought to make him away.

23 As concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his wars, and worthy deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings, 24 Behold, these are written in the chronicles of his priesthood, from the time he was made high priest after his father.

18 Therefore wherens we are now purposed to keep the purification of the temple upon the five and twentieth day of the month Caslen, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that ye also might keep it, as the feast of the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when Neemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the temple and the altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that were then devout took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sore, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias, being sent from the king of Persia, did send of the posterity of those priests, that had hid it, to the fire: but when they told us they found no fire, but thick water;

21 Then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood and the things laid thereupon with the water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, I say, both the priests, and all the rest, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto, as Neemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this manner; O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art fearful and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King,

25 The only giver of all things, the only just, almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers, and sanctify them:

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve thine own portion, and sanctify it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered from us, deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppress us, and with pride do us wrong.

29 Plant thy people again in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoke.

30 And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left to be poured on the great stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was known, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place, where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

18 Others ran flocking out of their houses || to the general supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.
19 And the women, girt with sackcloth under their breasts, abounded in the streets; and the virgins that were kept in, ran, some to the gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.
20 And all holding their hands toward heaven, made supplication.
21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the fear of the high priest, being in such an agony.
22 They then called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things committed of trust safe and sure for those that had committed them.
23 Nevertheless, Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.
24 Now as he was there present himself with his guard about the treasury, the || Lord of spirits, and the Prince of all power, caused a great apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid.
25 For there appeared unto them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fair covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore-feet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete harness of gold.
26 Moreover, two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gave him many sore stripes.
27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him took him up, and put him into a litter.
28 Thus him, that lately came with a great train and with all his guard into the said treasury, they carried out, being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power of God:
29 For he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechless without all hope of life.
30 But they praised the Lord, that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple, which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.
31 Then straightway certain of Heliodorus' friends prayed Onias, that he would call upon the Most High, to grant him his life, who lay ready to give up the ghost.
32 So the high priest, suspecting lest the king should misconceive that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.
33 Now as the high priest was making an atonement, the same young men in the same clothing appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, inasmuch as for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life:
34 And seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God. And when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.
35 So Heliodorus, after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king.
36 Then testified he to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his eyes.
37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy or traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is an especial power of God.
39 For he that dwelleth in heaven hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it; and he beatech and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.
40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out on this sort.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Simon slandereth Onias... 7 Jason, by corrupting the king, obtaineth the office of the high priest... 24 Menelaus got (4th) the same from Jason by the like corruption... 34 Heliodorus traitorously murdereth Onias... 36 The king being informed thereof, causeth Andronicus to be put to death... 39 The wickedness of Lysimachus, by the instigation of Menelaus.

THIS Simon now, of whom we spake afore, having been a betrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils.

2 Thus was he hold to call him a traitor, that had deserved well of the city, and tendered his own nation, and was so zealous of the laws.

3 But when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simon's faction murders were committed,

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as being the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simon's malice,

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both public and private:

6 For he saw that it was impossible that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, unless the king did look thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, took the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias laboured underhand to be high priest,

8 Promising unto the king by intercession three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue eighty talents:

9 Besides this, he promised to assign a hundred and fifty more, if he might have license to set him up a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith brought his own nation to the Greekish fashion.

11 And the royal privileges granted of special favour to the Jews by the means of John the father of Enpolemus, who went ambassador to Rome for amity and aid, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law:

12 For he built gladly a place of exercise under the tower itself, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greek fashions, and increase of heathenish manners, through the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly wretch, and not high priest;

14 That the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but despising the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of || Discus called them forth;

15 Not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 By reason whereof sore calamity came upon them: for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose custom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year was kept at Tyrus, the king being present,

19 This ungracious Jason sent || special messengers from Jerusalem, who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred drachms of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not convenient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then, in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules' sacrifice; but because of the bearers thereof, it was employed to the making of galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the || coronation of king Ptolemy Philometor, Antiochus, understanding him not to be well-affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to Joppe, and from thence to Jerusalem:

22 Where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the city, and was brought in with torch-light, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto Phenice.

23 Three years afterward Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to put him in mind of certain necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So he came with the king's mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being undetermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it:

28 For unto him appertained the gathering of the customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was governor of the Cyprians.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tarsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the king's concubine, called Antiochia.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyrus and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reproved him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being persuaded thereunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths; and though he were suspected by him, yet persuaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice.

35 For the which cause not only the Jews, but many also of other nations, took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man.

36 And when the king was come again from the places about Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slain without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there slew he the cursed murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and the bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

40 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence; one Auranus being the leader, a man far gone in years, and no less in folly.

41 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them all together upon Lysimachus, and those that set upon them.

42 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee; but as for the church-robber himself, him they killed beside the treasury.

43 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Menelaus.

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate pleaded the cause before him:

45 But Menelaus, being now convicted, promised Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, to give him much money, if he would pacify the king toward him.

46 Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind:

47 Inasmuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and those poor men, who, if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, should have been judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even they of Tyrus, moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably buried.

50 And so, through the covetousness of them that were of power, Menelaus remained still in authority, increasing in malice, and being a great traitor to the citizens.

2 Of the signs and tokens seen in Jerusalem... 6 Of the end and wickedness of Jason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Jews... 13 The spoiling of the temple... 27 Mac-cabeus fleeth into the wilderness.

ABOUT the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers,

3 And troops of horsemen in array, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts.

4 Wherefore every man prayed that that apparition might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls being put back, and the city at length taken, Menelaus fled into the castle:

6 But Jason slew his own citizens without mercy, not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation would be a most unhappy day for him; but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen, whom he conquered.

7 Howbeit, for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore he had an unhappy return, being accused before Aretas the king of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination as an open enemy of his country and countrymen, he was cast out into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Laecedemonians, and thinking there to find succour by reason of his kindred:

10 And he that had cast out many unburied had none to mourn for him, nor any solemn funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

11 Now when this that was done came to the king's ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon removing out of Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, 12 And commanded his men of war not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon the houses.

13 Thus there was killing of young and old, making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within three whole days fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no fewer sold than slain.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world; Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his own country, being his guide:

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place, he gave them away.

17 And so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that he considered not that the Lord was angry for a while for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore his eye was not upon the place.

18 For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sins, this man, as soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasury.

19 Nevertheless, God did not choose the people for the place's sake, but the place for the people's sake.

20 And therefore the place itself, that was partaker with them of the adversity that happened to the nation, did afterward communiat in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so again, the great Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antiochia, weening in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

22 And he left governors to vex the nation: at Jerusalem, Philip, for his country a Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous than he that set him there;

23 And at Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest, bare a heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the Jews.

CHRIST

24 He sent also that detestable ringleader Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women and the younger sort :

25 Who coming to Jerusalem, and pretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy day, he commanded his men to arm themselves.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone to the celebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons slew great multitudes.

27 But Judas Maccabeus with nine others, or thereabout, withdrew himself into the wilderness, and lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The Jews are compelled to leave the use of God's temple. 2 The temple is defiled. 3 Cruelty upon the people and the women. 4 An exhortation to bear affliction by the example of the valiant courage of Eleazar, who is cruelly tortured.

NOT long after this the king sent an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God :

2 And to pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius ; and that in Garizim, of Jupiter the Defender of strangers, as they did desire that dwell in the place.

3 The coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people :

4 For the temple was filled with riot and revelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that brought in things that were not lawful.

5 The altar also was filled with profane things, which the law forbiddeth.

6 Neither was it lawful for a man to keep sabbath-days or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew.

7 And in the day of the king's birth, every month they were brought by bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices ; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to Bacchus, carrying ivy.

8 Moreover, there went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the heathen, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, against the Jews, that they should observe the same fashions, and be partakers of their sacrifices :

9 And whom would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles should he put to death. Then might a man have seen the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought, who had circumcised their children ; whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them down headlong from the wall.

11 And others, that had run together into caves near by, to keep the sabbath-day secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made a conscience to help themselves for the honour of the most sacred day.

12 Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations, whom the Lord patiently forbearth to punish, till they be come to the fulness of their sins, so dealth he with us, 15 Lest that, being come to the height of sin, afterward he should take vengeance of us.

16 And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us : and though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

et 167

17 But let this that we have spoken be for a warning unto us. And now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well-favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swine's flesh.

19 But he, choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment,

20 As it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make us if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king :

22 That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find favour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his grey head, wherunto he was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God : therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave.

24 For it becometh not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion.

25 And so they, through mine hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time, and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men : yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive, nor dead.

27 Wherefore now, manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such an one as mine age requireth.

28 And leave a notable example to such as be young, to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment :

29 They that led him changing the good will they bare him a little before into hatred, because the aforesaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from a desperate mind.

30 But when he was ready to die with stripes, he groaned, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I now endure sore pains in body by being beaten : but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

CHAPTER VII.

The constancy and cruel death of seven brethren and their mother to one day, because they would not eat swine's flesh at the king's commandment.

IT came to pass also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king against the law to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them that spake first said thus, What wouldest thou ask or learn of us ? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers.

3 Then the king, being in a rage, commanded pans and caldrons to be made hot :

4 Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.

5 Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan : and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother to die manfully, saying thus,

6 The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as Moses in his song, which witnessed to their faces, declared, saying, And he shall be comforted in his servants.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking-stock : and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body ?

8 But he answered in his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received the next torment in order, as the former did.

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury takest us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his laws, unto everlasting life.

10 After him was the third made a mocking-stock : and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soon, holding forth his hands manfully, 11 And said courageously, These I had from heaven ; and for his laws I despise them ; and from him I hope to receive them again.

12 Inasmuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young man's courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

13 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.

14 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God to be raised up again by him : as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him. 16 Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt ; yet think not that our nation is forsaken of God :

17 But abide awhile, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seed.

18 After him also they brought the sixth, who, being ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause : for we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God : therefore nervellous things are done unto us.

19 But think not thou, that takest in hand to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous above all, and worthy of honourable memory : for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted every one of them in her own language, filled with courageous spirits ; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them,

22 I cannot tell how ye came into my womb ; for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you ;

23 But doubtless the Creator of the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy give you breath and life again, as ye now regard not your yourselves for his laws' sake.

24 Now Antiochus, thinking himself despised, and suspecting it to be a reproachful speech, whilst the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers ; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affairs.

25 But when the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the young man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son.

27 But she bowing herself toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake in her country language on this manner : O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

28 I beseech thee, my son, look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not ; and so was mankind made likewise.

29 Fear not this tormentor, but, being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said, Whom wait ye for ? I will not obey the king's commandment : but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

31 And thou, that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hands of God.

32 For we suffer because of our sins.

33 And though the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall he be at one again with his servants.

34 But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God :

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of Almighty God, who seeth all things.

36 For our brethren, who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under God's covenant of everlasting life : but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

37 But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation ; and that thou by torments and plagues mayest confess, that he alone is God :

38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king, being in a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, and took it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all, after the sons, the mother died.

42 Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning the idolatrous feasts, and the extreme tortures.

CHAPTER VIII.

Judas gatheredeth an host. Antiochus is slain. Nicanor is slain. Judas gathereth an host. Antiochus is slain. Nicanor is slain. Judas gathereth an host. Antiochus is slain. Nicanor is slain.

1 WHEN Judas Maccabæus, and they that were with him, went privily into the towns, and called their kinsfolk together, and took unto them all such as continued in the Jews' religion, and assembled about six thousand men.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon the people that was trodden down at all ; and also pity the temple profaned of ungodly men :

3 And that he would have compassion upon the city, sore defaced, and ready to be made even with the ground ; and hear the blood that cried unto him.

4 And remember the wicked slaughter of blameless infants, and the blasphemies committed against his name ; and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabæus had his company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen : for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at unawares, and turned up towns and cities, and got into his hands the most communications places, and overcame and put to flight no small number of his enemies.

7 But specially took he advantage of the night for such privy attempts, inasmuch that the bruit of his manliness was spread every where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still more and more, he wrote unto Ptolemæus, the governor of Cælsyria and Phœnicie, to yield more aid to the king's affairs.

9 Then forthwith choosing Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, he sent him with no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations under him, to root out the whole generation of the Jews ; and with him he joined also Gorgias a captain, who in matters of war had great experience.

10 So Nicanor undertook to make so much money of the captive Jews, as should defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to the Romans.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea-coast, proclaiming a sale of the captive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten bodies for one talent ; not expecting the vengeance that was to follow upon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought unto Judas of Nicanor's coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him that the army was at hand, 13 They that were fearful, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together :

15 And if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious name's sake, by which they were called.

16 So Maccabæus called his men together, unto the number of six thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them ; but to fight manfully,

17 And to set before their eyes the injury that they had unjustly done to the holy place, and the cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their forefathers :

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons and holdness ; but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the world.

19 Moreover, he recounted unto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were delivered, when under Sennacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.

20 And he told them of the battle that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help that they had from heaven, and so received a great booty.

21 Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws and the country, he divided his army into four parts :

Before

22 And joined with himself his own brethren, lenders of each band, to wit, Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving each one fifteen hundred men.

23 Also he appointed Eleazar to read the holy book : and when he had given them this watchword, The help of God ; himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor.

24 And by the help of the Almighty they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanor's host, and so put all to flight ;

25 And took their money that came to buy them, and persuaded them far : but lacking time they returned :

26 For it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

† That is, the enemies'
armours.

27 So when they had gathered || their armour together, and spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, yielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy distilling upon them.

28 And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the || maimed, and the widows, and orphans, the residue they divided among themselves and their servants.

† Or, lamed with torments.

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

30 Moreover, of those that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided among themselves many spoils more, and made the || maimed, orphans, widows, yea, and the aged also, equal in spoils with themselves.

† Or, lamed.

31 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in convenient places, and the remnant of the spoils they brought to Jerusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, who was with Timotheus, and had annoyed the Jews many ways.

33 Furthermore, at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their country, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire upon the holy gates, who had fled into a little house ; and so he received a reward meet for his wickedness.

34 As for that most ungracious Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to hny the Jews, 35 He was, through the help of the Lord, brought down by them of whom he made least account ; and putting off his glorious apparel, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant through the midland unto Antioch, having very great dishonour, for that his host was destroyed.

36 Thus he, that took upon him to make good to the Romans their tribute by means of the captives in Jerusalem, told abroad, that the Jews had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws that he gave them.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Antiochus is chased from Persepolis. 5 He is stricken with a sore disease, and promiseth to become a Jew. 20 He dieth miserably.

cir. 164.
† Or, dishonour.

ABOUT that time came Antiochus || with dishonour out of the country of Persia.

2 For he had entered the city called Persepolis, and went about to rob the temple, and to hold the city ; whereupon the multitude, running to defend themselves with their weapons, put them to flight ; and so it happened, that Antiochus, being put to flight of the inhabitants, returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatane, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Then swelling with anger, he thought to avenge upon the Jews the disgrace done unto him by those that made him flee. Therefore commanded he his chariot-man to drive without ceasing, and to despatch the journey, the judgment of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, That he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying-place of the Jews.

5 But the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and invisible plague : for as soon as he had spoken these words, a pain of the bowels that was remediless came upon him, and sore torments of the inner parts ;

6 And that most justly : for he had tormented other men's souls with many and strange torments.

7 Howbeit, he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but was filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey : but it came to pass that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently ; so that having a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained.

8 And thus he that a little afore thought he might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and weigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in a horse-litter, shewing forth unto all the manifest power of God.

9 So that the worms rose up out of the body of this wicked man, and while he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell away, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to all his army.

10 And the man, that thought a little afore he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intolerable stink.

11 Here therefore being plagued, he began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge of himself by the scourge of God, his pain increasing every moment.

12 And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words, It is meet to be subject unto God, and that a man that is mortal should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed also unto the Lord (who now no more would have mercy upon him) saying thus,

14 That the holy city (to the which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place,) he would set at liberty :

15 And as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy to be so much as buried, but to be cast out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals with the citizens of || Athens :

† Or, Antioch.

16 And the holy temple, which before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and out of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices :

17 Yea, and that also he would become a Jew himself, and go through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this his pains would not cease : for the just judgment of God was come upon him : therefore despairing of his health, he wrote unto the Jews the letters underwritten, containing the form of a supplication, after this manner :

19 Antiochus, king and governor, to the good Jews his citizens, wisheth much joy, health, and prosperity :

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affairs be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven.

21 As for me, I was weak, or else I would have remembered kindly your honour and good will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all :

22 Not distrusting my health, but having great hope to escape this sickness.

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into the high countries, appointed a successor,

24 To the end that, if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land, knowing to whom || the state was left, might not be troubled :

† Or, common affairs.

25 Again, considering how that the princes, that are borders and neighbours unto my kingdom wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often committed and commended unto many of you, when I went up into the high provinces ; to whom I have written as followeth :

26 Therefore I pray and request you to remember the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me and my son.

27 For I am persuaded that he, || understanding my mind, will favourably and graciously yield to your desires.

† Or, following.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemous having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, so died he a miserable death in a strange country in the mountains.

29 And Philip, that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also, fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemus Philometor.

1 Julius recovereth the city, and purifieth the temple. 14 Gorgias vexeth the Jews. 16 Julius winneth their holds. 20 Timotheus and his men are discomfited. 33 Gorgias is taken, and Timotheus slain.

NOW Maccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, recovered the temple and the city :

open street, and also the chapels, they pulled down.

3 And having cleansed the temple, they made another altar, and striking stones they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two years, and set forth incense, and lights, and shew-bread.

4 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles ; but if they sinned any more against him, that he himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5 Now upon the same day that the strangers profaned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight days with gladness, as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountains and dens like beasts.

7 Therefore they bare branches, and fair boughs, and palms also, and sang psalms unto him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8 They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every year those days should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews.

cir. 164.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

10 Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, who was the son of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the wars.

11 So when he was come to the crown, he set one Lysias over the affairs of his realm, and appointed him chief governor, of Celosyria and Phenice.

12 For Ptolemens, that was called Macron, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews for the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of the king's friends before Eupator, and called traitor at every word, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had committed unto him, and departed unto Antiochus Epiphanes, and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that he poisoned himself and died.

1 Or, and and so.

14 But when Gorgias was governor of the || holds, he hired soldiers, and nourished war continually with the Jews :

15 And therewithal the Idumeans, having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to nourish war.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper ; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And assaulting them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand.

18 And because certain, who were no less than nine thousand, were fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege, 19 Maccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enough to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help.

3 Or, Simon.

20 Now || they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for money through certain of those that were in the castle, and took seventy thousand drachms, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took the two castles.

23 And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Jews had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms.

25 But when he drew near, || they that were with Maccabeus turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their loins with sackcloth,

26 And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

Before
cir. 164.

27 So after the prayer, they took their weapons, and went on further from the city, and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

28 Now the sun being newly risen, they joined both together ; the one part having together with their virtue, their refuge also unto the Lord, for a || pledge of their success and victory : the other side making their rage leader of their battle.

29 But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared unto the enemies, from heaven, five comely men upon horses, with bridles of gold, and two of them led the Jews,

30 And took Maccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies : so that being confounded with blindness and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slain of footmen twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gazara, where Cherens was governor.

33 But they that were with Maccabeus laid siege against the fortress courageously four days.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered wicked words.

35 Nevertheless upon the fifth day, early, twenty young men of Maccabeus' company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withal.

36 Others likewise ascending after them, while they were busied with them that were within, burned the towers, and kindling fires, burned the blasphemers alive ; and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, took the city.

37 And killed Timotheus, that was hid in a certain pit, and Cherens his brother, with Apollonians.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAPTER XI.

3 Lysias, thinking to get Jerusalem, is put to flight. 16 The letters of Lysias to the Jews. 22 Of the king unto Lysias, and to the Jews. 31 Of the Romans to the Jews.

NOT long after this, Lysias the king's || protector and cousin, who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

1 Or, tutor

2 And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a habitation of the || Gentiles,

1 Or, Governor.

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other chapels of the heathen, and to set the high priesthood to sale every year :

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5 So he came to Judea, and drew near to Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs ; and he laid sore siege unto it.

6 Now when they that || were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send a good angel to deliver Israel.

1 Or, Maccabeus and his company

7 Then Maccabeus himself first of all took weapons, exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren : so they went forth together with a willing mind.

8 And as they were at Jerusalem, there appeared before them on horseback one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the merciful God all together, and took heart, inasmuch that they were ready not only to fight with men, but with most cruel beasts, and to pierce through walls of iron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, having a helper from heaven : for the Lord was merciful unto them.

11 And giving a charge upon their enemies like lions, they slew eleven thousand footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked ; and Lysias himself fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who, as he was a man of understanding, casting with himself what loss he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto them,

14 And persuaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and promised that he would persuade the king that he must needs be a friend unto them.

15 Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being careful of the common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lysias concerning the Jews, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lysias to this effect: Lysias unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting:

17 John and Absalom, who were sent from you, delivered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soever were meet to be reported to the king, I have declared them, and he hath granted as much as might be.

cir. 163.

19 If then ye will keep yourselves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.

20 But of the particulars I have given order both to these, and the others that came from me, to commune with you.

¶ Or, Dioscorus.

21 Fare ye well. The hundred and eight and fortieth year, the four and twentieth day of the month (Dioscorinius).

22 Now the king's letter contained these words: King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting:

23 Since our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm live quietly, that every one may attend upon his own affairs.

24 We understand also that the Jews would not consent to our father, for to be brought into the custom of the Gentiles, but had rather keep their own manner of living: for the which cause they require of us, that we should suffer them to live after their own laws.

25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined to restore them their temple, that they may live according to the customs of their forefathers.

¶ Or, give them assistance.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to send unto them, and grant them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully about their own affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting unto the council, and the rest of the Jews:

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire; we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared unto us, that your desire was to return home, and to follow your own business:

30 Wherefore they that will depart shall have safe conduct till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus with security.

31 And the Jews shall use their own kind of meats and laws as before; and none of them any manner of ways shall be molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I have sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

¶ Or, April.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred forty and eighth year, and in the fifteenth day of the month (Xanthicus).

¶ Or, November.

34 The Romans also sent unto them a letter containing these words: Quintus Memmius and Titus Manlius ambassadors of the Romans, send greeting unto the people of the Jews.

35 Whatsoever Lysias the king's cousin hath granted, thereafter we also are well pleased.

36 But touching such things as he judged to be offered to the king, after ye have advised thereof, send one forthwith, that we may declare as it is convenient for you: for we are now going to Antioch.

37 Therefore send some with speed, that we may know what is your mind.

38 Farewell. This hundred and eight and fortieth year, the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus.

CHAPTER XII.

1 The king's lieutenants vex the Jews. 2 They of Joppa drive two hundred Jews. 3 Judas is avenged upon them. 4 He maketh peace with the Arabians, and taketh Casarea. 5 Timotheus' armies overcome them.

cir. 164.

WHEN these covenants were made, Lysias went unto the king, and the Jews were about their husbandry.

2 But of the governors of several places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the son of Gennius, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicenor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

3 The men of Joppa also did such an ungodly deed: they prayed the Jews that dwell among them to go with their wives and children into the houses which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Who accepted of it according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nota-ing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no less than two hundred of them.

5 When Judas heard of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready.

6 And calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and hurried the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew.

7 And when the town was shut up, he went backward, as if he would return to root out all them of the city of Joppa.

¶ Or, with a purpose to return.

8 But when he heard that the Jamnites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwell among them,

9 He came upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire on the haven and the navy, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their journey toward Timotheus, no fewer than five thousand men on foot and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battle: but Judas' side, by the help of God, got the victory: so that the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising both to give him cattle, and to pleasure him otherwise.

12 Then Judas, thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands, and so they departed to their tents.

¶ Or, some from place to place with their families and cattle.

13 He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countries: and the name of it was Caspis.

14 But they that were within it put such trust in the strength of the walls and provision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely toward them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 Wherefore Judas with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua, gave a fierce assault against the walls.

16 And took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, inasmuch that a lake two furlongs broad near adjoining thereunto, being filled full, was seen running with blood.

17 Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa unto the Jews that are called Tuhieni.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in the places: for before he had despatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold.

19 Howbeit, Dosithicus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus' captains, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortress, above ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set ¶ them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him a hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

¶ Dosithicus and Sosipater.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas' coming, he sent the women and children and the other baggage unto a fortress called Carnion: for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasy to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places.

22 But when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies, being smitten with fear and terror through the appearing of him that seeth all things, fled again, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men.

24 Moreover Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dosithicus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews' parents, and the brethren of some of them, who if they had put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when he had assured them with many words that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of ¶ Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host toward Ephron, a strong city, wherein Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily :

wherein also was great provision of engines and darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God, who with his power breketh the strength of his enemies, they won the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity :

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them : and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching.

32 And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the governor of Idumea,

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and four hundred horsemen.

34 And it happened, in their fighting together, a few of the Jews were slain.

35 At which time, Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat drew him by force ; and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him || smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Marisa.

36 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would show himself to be their helper and leader of the battle.

37 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias' men, he put them to flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city Odol-lam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39 And upon the day following, || as the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' graves.

40 Now under the coats of every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jannites, which is forbidden the Jews by * the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord, the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance.
Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the sins of those that were slain.

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand drachms of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin-offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection :

44 For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead.

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that died godly. (It was a holy and good thought.) Whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Eupator invadeth Judea... 15 Judas by night slayeth many... 18 Eupator's purpose is defeated... 23 He maketh peace with Judas.

cir. 163.

IN the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea,

2 And with him Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having either of them a Grecian power, of footmen a hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menechus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor.

4 But the King of kings moved Antiochus' mind against this wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

CHRIST

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes ; and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth ; and that most justly :

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple :

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that || had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three days long, Judas, having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness.

13 And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed all to the || Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he camped by Modin :

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God ; with the most valiant and choice young men, he went into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the holds by policy,

19 And marched toward Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews : but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men :

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies ; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with Judas, was overcome ;

23 Heard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in Antioch, || was desperately beat, contounded, entreated the Jews, submitted himself, and swore to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place,

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from Ptolemais unto the Gerhemenians ;

25 Came to Ptolemais : the people there were grieved for the covenants ; for they stormed, because they would make their covenants void :

26 Lysias went up to the judgment-seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well-affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the king's coming and departing.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Alcimus accuseth Judas... 18 Nisemor maketh peace with Judas... 23 He seeketh to take Batis, who, to escape his hands, killeth himself.

cir. 162

AFTER three years was Judas informed, that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having entered by the haven of Tripolis with a great power and navy,

3 Had taken the country, and killed Antiochus, and Lysias his protector.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been high priest, and had defied himself wilfully in the times of their mingling with the

 13. Demetrius placing unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and
 14. Demetrius the things which were used solemnly in the temple:
 15. Demetrius that day he held his peace.

16. Demetrius having gotten opportunity to further his foolish
 17. Demetrius and being called into council by Demetrius, and
 18. Demetrius asked how the Jews called offered, and what they intended, he
 19. Demetrius answered them into:

20. Those of the Jews that he called Assideans, whose cap-
 21. Assideans it is Judas Maccabees, nourish war, and are seditious, and
 22. Assideans will not let the realm be at peace.

23. Therefore I, being deprived of mine ancestors' honour, I
 24. Assideans mean the high priesthood, am now come hither:

25. First, verily for the unfeigned care I have of things per-
 26. Assideans taining to the king: and secondly, even for that I intend the
 27. Assideans good of mine own country men: for all our nation is in no
 28. Assideans small misery through the unadvised dealing of them afore-
 29. Assideans said.

30. Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things,
 31. Assideans be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on
 32. Assideans every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest
 33. Assideans unto all.

34. For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the
 35. Assideans state should be quiet.

36. This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the
 37. Assideans king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more
 38. Assideans incense Demetrius.

39. And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of 40. Nicanor the elephants, and making him governor over Judea, he sent
 41. Nicanor him forth,

42. Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that
 43. Nicanor were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great
 44. Nicanor temple.

45. Then the heathen, that had fled out of Judea from Judas, 46. Nicanor came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of
 47. Nicanor the Jews to be their welfare.

48. Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that
 49. Nicanor the heathen were up against them, they cast earth upon their
 50. Nicanor heads, and made supplication to him that had established his
 51. Nicanor people for ever, and who always helpeth his portion with man-
 52. *Nicanor*ifestation of his presence.

53. So at the commandment of the captain they removed
 54. Nicanor straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town
 55. Nicanor of Dessan.

56. Now Simon, Judas' brother, had joined battle with Nica-
 57. Simon nor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence
 58. Simon of his enemies.

59. Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them
 60. Nicanor that were with Judas, and the courageousness that they had
 61. Nicanor to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.

62. Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodorus, and Man-
 63. Posidonius tathias, to make peace.

64. So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and
 65. Posidonius the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and
 66. Posidonius it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to
 67. Posidonius the covenants,

68. And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves:
 69. Posidonius and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them.

70. Posidonius Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest
 71. Posidonius some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies:
 72. Posidonius so they made a peaceable conference.

73. Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no hurt, but
 74. Nicanor sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

75. And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight:
 76. Nicanor for he loved the man from his heart.

77. He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children:
 78. Nicanor so he married, was quiet, and took part of this life.

79. But Alcimus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them,
 80. Alcimus and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, 81. Alcimus and told him that Nicanor was not well affected toward
 82. Alcimus the state; for that he had ordained Judas, a traitor to his realm,
 83. Alcimus to be the king's successor.

84. Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the
 85. Alcimus accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signify-
 86. Alcimus ing that he was much displeased with the covenants, and com-
 87. Alcimus manding him that he should send Maccabees prisoner in all
 88. Alcimus haste unto Antioch.

89. When this came to Nicanor's hearing, he was much con-
 90. Nicanor founded in himself, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no 91. Nicanor fault.

92. But because there was no dealing against the king, he
 93. Nicanor watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

94. Notwithstanding, when Maccabees saw that Nicanor
 95. Nicanor began to be crafty unto him, and that he entreated him more
 96. Nicanor roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such sour behaviour
 97. Nicanor came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men,
 98. Nicanor and withdrew himself from Nicanor.

99. But the other, knowing that he was notably prevented
 100. Nicanor by Judas' policy, came into the great and holy temple, and
 101. Nicanor commanded the priests, that were offering their usual sacrific-
 102. Nicanor es, to deliver him the man.

103. And when they swore that they could not tell where the
 104. Nicanor man was whom he sought,

105. He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and
 106. Nicanor made an oath in this manner: If ye will not deliver me Judas
 107. Nicanor as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the
 108. Nicanor ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable 109. Nicanor temple unto Bacchus.

110. After these words he departed. Then the priests lifted
 111. Nicanor up their hands toward heaven, and besought him that was ever
 112. Nicanor a defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

113. Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing,
 114. Nicanor wast pleased that the temple of thy habitation should be among us:

115. Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this
 116. Nicanor house ever undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop every
 117. Nicanor unrighteous mouth.

118. Now was there accused unto Nicanor one Razis, one of
 119. Nicanor the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man
 120. Nicanor of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father 121. Nicanor of the Jews.

122. For in the former times, when they mingled not them-
 123. Nicanor selves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and
 124. Nicanor did boldly jeopard his body and life with all vehemency for
 125. Nicanor the religion of the Jews.

126. So Nicanor, willing to declare the hate that he bare unto
 127. Nicanor the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him:

128. For he thought by taking him to do the Jews much
 129. Nicanor hurt.

130. Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and 131. Nicanor violently broken into the outer door, and bade that fire should
 132. Nicanor be brought to burn in, he being ready to be taken on every side,
 133. Nicanor fell upon his sword:

134. Choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the 135. Nicanor hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise than becometh his
 136. Nicanor noble birth:

137. But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also
 138. Nicanor rushing within the doors, he ran boldly up to the wall, and cast
 139. Nicanor himself down manfully among the thickest of them.

140. But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he
 141. Nicanor fell down into the midst of the void place.

142. Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, be-
 143. Nicanor ing inflamed with anger, he rose up; and though his blood
 144. Nicanor gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, 145. Nicanor yet he ran through the midst of the throng; and standing upon
 146. Nicanor a steep rock,

147. When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out
 148. Nicanor his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them
 149. Nicanor upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to 150. Nicanor restore him those again, he thus died.

CHAPTER XV.

1. Nicanor's blasphemy... 2. Judas encourageth his men by his dream... 3. Nicanor is slain.
 4. Nicanor Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in
 5. Nicanor the strong places about Samaria, resolved without any
 6. Nicanor danger to set upon them on the sabbath day.

7. Nevertheless the Jews that were compelled to go with him
 8. Nicanor said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour
 9. Nicanor to that day, which he, that seeth all things, hath honoured with
 10. Nicanor holiness above other days.

11. Then the most migracious wretch demanded, if there were 12. Nicanor a Mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day
 13. Nicanor to be kept,

14. And when they said, There is in heaven a living Lord,
 15. Nicanor and mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept:

16. Then said the other, And I also am mighty upon earth,
 17. Nicanor and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business.
 18. Nicanor Yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done.

19. So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtiness determined
 20. Nicanor to set up a public monument of his victory over Judas and them
 21. Nicanor that were with him.

Before CHRIST
cir. 162.

7 But Maccabeus had ever sure confidence that the Lord would help him :

8 Wherefore he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid, which should come unto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful.

10 And when he had stirred up their minds, he gave them the charge, shewing them therewithal the falsehood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with comfortable and good words ; and besides that, he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoice them.

12 And this was his vision : That Onias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well-spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands, prayed for the whole body of the Jews.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, to wit, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Jeremias holding forth his right hand, gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it, spake thus, 16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they took for their wives, and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolk, was in least account with them : but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple.

19 Also they that were in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad.

20 And now, when as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies were already come near, and the army was set in array, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wines,

21 Maccabeus, seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands toward heaven, and called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy :

Before
cir. 161.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner ; O Lord, thou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judas, and didst slay in the host of Sennacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand :

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them ;

24 And through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men : for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love toward his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

32 And shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syriac tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardocheus' day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor : and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired : but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone ; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste : even so speech finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

THE

OF OUR LORD AND SAVIOUR
JESUS CHRIST,

¶ The GOSPEL according to St. MATTHEW.

CHAPTER I.

1 The genealogy of Jesus Christ....18 Mary's miraculous conception; Jesus is born....21, 23 His names, with their interpretation.

• THE book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 ^a Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren;

3 ^c And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4 ^d And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon;

5 ^e And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse;

6 ^f And Jesse begat David the King; and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias;

7 ^g And Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa;

8 ^h And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias;

9 ⁱ And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias;

10 ^j And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amos; and Amos begat Josias;

11 ^k And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to || Babylon;

12 ^l And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel;

13 And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor;

14 And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud;

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob;

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

19 ^o Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 ^p But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 ^q And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 ^r Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel; which being interpreted, is, God with us.

24 Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son: and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER II.

1 Wise men inquire after Christ....11 They worship him, and offer presents....13 Joseph fleeth into Egypt with Jesus and Mary....16 Herod slayeth the children at Bethlehem ..19 Christ brought out of Egypt.

• NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem,

2 ^a Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 ^b And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem; and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 ¶ When they had heard the king, they departed: and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 ¶ And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child, to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 ^c And was there until the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying,

18 ¹In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¹But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt.

20 ²Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelais did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:

23 ³And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAPTER III.

1 John preacheth his office, 5 and baptism....7 He rebuketh the Pharisees....13 Christ baptized by John in Jordan.

¹In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea,

2 ²And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 ³For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 ⁴And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins: and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

5 ⁵Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 ⁶And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 ⁷But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 ⁸Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance:

9 ⁹And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 ¹⁰And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 ¹¹I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

12 ¹²Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner: but will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¹³Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 ¹⁶And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:

17 ¹⁷And, lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted....17 He beginneth to preach. 18 He calleth Peter and Andrew....23 He teacheth in the synagogue, and healeth the diseased.

¹THEN was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.

2 ²And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward a hungered.

3 ³And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 ⁴But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 ⁵Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 ⁶And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, I will give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 ⁷Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 ⁸Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9 ⁹And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 ¹⁰Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 ¹¹Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¹²Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee:

13 ¹³And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali:

14 ¹⁴That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 ¹⁵The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;

16 ¹⁶The people which sat in darkness saw great light: and to them that sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 ¹⁷From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¹⁸And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

19 ¹⁹And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 ²⁰And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 ²¹And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 ²²And they immediately left the ship and their father and followed him.

kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

21 * And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were limatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

22 * And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER V.

3 Who are blessed... 13 The disciples called the salt of the earth, and light of the world; Christ urgeth on them a good example, &c.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 * Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 * Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 * Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 * Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 * Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 * Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 * Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 * Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 * Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 * Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 * Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 * Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

15 * Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 * Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 * Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 * For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 * Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 * For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 * Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 * But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 * Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee, 24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 * Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 * Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 * Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 * But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 * And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 * And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 * It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:

32 * But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery; and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 * Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

34 * But I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is God's throne:

35 * Nor by the earth: for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem: for it is the city of the great King.

36 * Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black:

37 * But let your communication be, Yea, yea; nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil.

38 * Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

39 * But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 * And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 * And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 * Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 * Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy:

44 ^a But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you;

45 ^b That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 ^c For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 ^d And if ye salute your brethren only, what do you more than others? do not even the publicans so?

48 ^e Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Of alms, 5 prayer, 14 forgiveness....19 Our treasure....24 Of God and mammon.

TAKE heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 ^a Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 ^b That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, himself shall reward thee openly.

5 ^c And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 ^d But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 ^e But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 ^f After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name:

10 ^g Thy kingdom come: thy will be done, in earth as it is in heaven:

11 ^h Give us this day our daily bread:

12 ⁱ And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors:

13 ^k And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 ^l For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 ^m But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ⁿ Moreover, when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ^o Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 ^p But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 ^q For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ^r The light of the body is the eye: If therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light:

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 ^s No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon.

25 ^t Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 ^u Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 ^v Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 ^w And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 ^x Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 ^y (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 ^z But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 ^{aa} Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ, ending his sermon on the mount, reproveth rash judgment, 6 forbiddeth to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the strait gate, &c.

JUDGE not, that ye be not judged.

2 ^a For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 ^b And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 ^c Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye: and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first east out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ^d Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and tread you.

7 ¹ Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:

8 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life; and few there be that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves:

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

23 And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

24 Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine:

29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5 healeth the centurion's servant, 14 Peter's mother-in-law, 16 and many other diseased; 19 sheweth how he is to be followed; 23 stilleth the tempest on the sea; &c.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

CHAPTER VIII.

Christ healeth the centurion's servant.

2 And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean: And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded for a testimony unto them.

5 And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

11 And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the self-same hour.

14 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

16 When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

23 And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea: and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, they met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And, behold, they cried out saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? Art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters:

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their way into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Christ cureth the palsy, 9 calleth Matthew, 10 justifieth himself for eating with publicans and sinners: 20 he healeth the bloody issue; 23 raiseth to life the ruler's daughter; 27 giveth sight to two blind men, &c.

¶ And he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

¶ And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer: thy sins be forgiven thee.

3 ¶ And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

9 ¶ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

11 ¶ And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

12 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 ¶ But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 ¶ And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment: for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 ¶ And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jesus turned him about; and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 ¶ And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise, 24 He said unto them, Give place; for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

27 ¶ And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened: and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 ¶ As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 ¶ And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

34 ¶ But the Pharisees said, He casteth out the devils through the prince of the devils.

35 ¶ And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 ¶ But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

37 ¶ Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few:

the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6^a And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

7^a And, as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? a prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.

10^a For this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11^a Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12^a And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13^a For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.

14^a And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come.

15^a He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16^a But wherunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18^a For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say, He hath a devil.

19^a The Son of man came eating and drinking; and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But Wisdom is justified of her children.

20^a Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:

21 Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23^a And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works which have been done in thee had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24^a But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25^a At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

26^a Even so, Father: for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27^a All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

28^a Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29^a Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30^a For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ reproveth the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the sabbath...9 He healeth the withered hand, &c.

AT that time Jesus went on the sabbath-day through the corn; and his disciples were a-hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath-day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did when he was a-hungred, and they that were with him;

4^a How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?

5^a Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath-days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6^a But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple.

7^a But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath-day.

9^a And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10^a And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-days? that they might accense him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath-days.

13^a Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14^a Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence; and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the prophet, saying,

18^a I will hold my servant, whom I have chosen; I will lead him, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles.

19^a He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20^a A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. 23 * And all the people were amazed, and said, Is this the son of David?

24 * But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

25 * And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 * But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 * Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 * He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

31 * Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 * And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 * Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 * O generation of vipers! how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.

36 * But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 * Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 * But he answered and said to them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

40 * For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 * The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

42 * The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

43 * When the nuclear spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

46 * While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER XIII.

3 Of the sower and the seed... 10 Why Christ spake in parables... 18 The exposition of the parable of the sower 24 Divers other parables, &c.

THE same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea-side.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow:

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up.

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth; and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them.

8 * But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold.

9 * Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 * He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 * For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because they seeing, see not; and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand.

14 * And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 * For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 * But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear.

Col. 1, 26.

17^b For verily I say unto you, Tha many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18¹ Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower. 19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the wayside.

20^a But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it:

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while; for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22¹ He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty.

24¹ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27^a So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30^b Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31¹ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33¹ Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34^a All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35^r That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36¹ Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man:

38¹ The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdom: but the tares are the children of the wicked one:

39¹ The enemy that sowed them is the devil: the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41^a The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42^a And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43¹ Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44¹ Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45¹ Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant-man seeking goodly pearls:

46^a Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47¹ Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49^b So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

50^c And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52^d Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53¹ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54¹ And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, inasmuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55^f Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57^g And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58^h And he did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

AT that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus;

2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist: he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

3¹ For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.

4 * For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 ^d And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.

9 * And the king was sorry : nevertheless, for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel : and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

13 ^f When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart : and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 * And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ^f And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past ; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 ^b But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart ; give ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 ⁱ And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass ; and took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled : and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

22 ^f And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 * And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray : and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves : for the wind was contrary.

25 ^l And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit ; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer ; for it is I ; be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

30 But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was 35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased ;

CHAPTER XV.

1 Of God's commandments, and men's traditions.... 10 Christ sheweth what defileth a man.... 30 He healeth great multitudes, &c.

^f THEN came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders ? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition ?

4 ^b For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother : and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me ;

6 ^c And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites ! well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,

8 ^d This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips ; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ^e And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand :

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man ; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying ?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 ^h Let them alone : they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 ⁱ Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 ^j And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding ?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught ?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart ; and they defile the man.

19 ^m For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies :

20 * These are the things which defile a man : but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David ! my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away ; for she crieth after us.

24 * But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me !

26 ¶ He answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord : yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith : be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 ¶ And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee ; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 * And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet ; and he healed them :

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see : and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat : and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 * And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude ?

34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye ? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were filled : and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, besides women and children.

39 And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a sign... 5 Of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees, &c.

THE Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and tempting, desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather, for the sky is red :

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to- day ; for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites ! ye can discern the face of the sky ; but can ye not discern the signs of the times ?

4 * A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign ; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 ¶ And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed, and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread ?

9 * Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up ?

10 * Neither these seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up ?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees ?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

13 ¶ When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am ?

14 * And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist ; some, Elias ; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am ?

16 * And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 * And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona : for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 * And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter ; and upon this rock I will build my church ; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 * And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven : and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven ; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 * Then charged he his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 * Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord : this shall not be unto thee.

23 * But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan : thou art an offence unto me : for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 * For whosoever will save his life shall lose it : and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 * For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 * For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 * Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ....14 He healeth the lunatic.

24 He payeth tribute.

* AND after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain, apart,

2 * And was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 * While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and, behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7 * And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 * And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 * And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.

12 * But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 * And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sore vexed: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 * And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 * And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men;

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 * And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute-money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Christ teacheth to be humble....7 Touching offences, 21 and forgiving one another.

* AT the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 * And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 * Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 * And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

6 * But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 * Wo unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but wo to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8 * Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands, or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.

10 * Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

11 * For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 * How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, He rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so, it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¶ Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

16 ^m But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 ^a And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican.

18 ^a Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 ^a Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ¶ Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until seventy times seven.

23 ¶ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him which owed him ten thousand talents:

25 ^a But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants which owed him || a hundred pence; and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 ^a So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

1 Christ heareth the sick....3 He answereth the Pharisees touching divorcement....16 He instructeth how to attain everlasting life, &c.

^a AND it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea beyond Jordan: 2 And great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 ¶ The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 ^b And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female;

5 ^c And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 ^d They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 ^e And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whose marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 ^f His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 ^g But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 ^h For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 ⁱ But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ^j And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17 ^k And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 ^l He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness;

19 ^m Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 ⁿ Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.
24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?
26 ¶ But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.
27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall we have therefore?
28 ¶ And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
29 ¶ And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundred-fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.
30 ¶ But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.

CHAPTER XX.

Of the labourers in the vineyard, &c.

¶ FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.
2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a-day, he sent them into his vineyard.
3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market-place,
4 ¶ And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.
5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.
6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?
7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.
8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.
9 ¶ And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.
10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.
11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house, 12 ¶ Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.
13 But he answered one of them, and said, ¶ Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?
14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last even as unto thee.
15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?
16 ¶ So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,
18 ¶ Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, 19 ¶ And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.
20 ¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.
21 ¶ And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.
22 ¶ But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.
23 ¶ And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with; but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.
24 ¶ And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.
25 ¶ But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them.
26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister;
27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:
28 ¶ Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.
29 ¶ And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.
30 ¶ And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David!
31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David!
32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?
33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.
34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.
CHAPTER XXI.
Christ rideth into Jerusalem on an ass, &c.
¶ AND when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,
2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.
3 And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.
4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,
5 ¶ Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest!

10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus, the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves;

13 And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David! they were sore displeased, 16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany; and he lodged there.

18 Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 And when he saw a fig-tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig-tree withered away.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away!

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig-tree, but also, if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was 't? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son go work to-day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him; and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the lord, therefore, of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

AND Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said, them which are bidden, Behold I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5^b But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7^c But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8^d Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9^e Go ye, therefore, into the highways; and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all, as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11^f And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13^g Then said the king to his servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14^h For many are called, but few are chosen.

15ⁱ Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men.

17^k Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21^l They say unto him, Cesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23^m The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24ⁿ Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren; and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29^o Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30^p For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Christ confuteth the Pharisees.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32^q I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33^r And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34^s But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37^t Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39^u And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41^v While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43^w He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord? saying, 44^x The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46^y And no man was able to answer him a word; neither durst any man, from that day forth, ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Of the scribes and Pharisees' good doctrine, but evil examples of life....34 The destruction of Jerusalem foretold.

THEN spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2^a Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

3 All, therefore, whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4^b For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5^c But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6^d And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8^e But he not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9^f And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11^g But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12^h And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13ⁱ But wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved; but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 ¶ Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 ¶ For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: Behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 ¶ For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 ¶ And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 ¶ And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet; and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 ¶ Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 ¶ So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

34 ¶ Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass till all these things be fulfilled.

35 ¶ Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ But of that day and hour knoweth no man, neither the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

37 ¶ But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, 39 And knew not, until the flood came and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 ¶ Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 ¶ But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 ¶ Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

45 ¶ Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

46 ¶ Blessed is that servant whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing

CHAPTER XXV.

The parable of the ten virgins.

47 ¶ Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow-servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken;

50 The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 ¶ And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgins; 14 of the talents, and the reward to those who improved them....31 Of the last judgment.

¶ THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 ¶ And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 ¶ While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 ¶ And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 ¶ Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 ¶ And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

11 ¶ Afterward came also the other virgins, saying,
Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 ¶ But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 ¶ Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 ¶ For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 ¶ And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 ¶ Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents; behold, I have gained besides them five talents more.

21 ¶ His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things:
enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

verse 21.

22 He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliverest unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall he given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:

42 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

CHAPTER XXVI

3 The rulers conspire against Christ... 14 Judas selieth him. 17 Christ eateth the passover.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, 15 And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them: and they made ready the passover.

20 Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, He that dippereth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth, as it is written of him: but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 * Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 * And, as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

27 * And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it :

28 * For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

29 * But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 * And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 * Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night : for it is written,
I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 * But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 * Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 * Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee,
That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 * Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 * And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 * Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death : tarry ye here and watch with me.

39 * And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me : nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What! could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation : the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again :
for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest : behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going : behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 * And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 * Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he :
hold him fast.

49 * And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said,
Hail, Master ; and kissed him.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 * And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear.

52 * Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place : for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

53 * Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?

54 * But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?

55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 * But all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 * And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afar off, unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 * Now the chief priests and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death ;

60 * But found none : yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses,

61 * And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witnesses against thee?

63 * But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

64 * Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said : nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65 * Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying,
He hath spoken blasphemy ; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 * What think ye? They answered and said,
He is guilty of death.

67 * Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him ; and others smote him with the palms of their hands,

68 * Saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 * Now Peter sat without in the palace : and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Christ delivered bound to Pilate....3 Judas hangeth himself. 27 Christ is mocked, 33 crucified, 39 and reviled....51 The astonishing events which attended his death, &c.

WHEN the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value;

10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word; inasmuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

19 When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all said unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why? what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.

29 And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, A place of a skull, 34 They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting down, they watched him there;

37 And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by reviled him wagging their heads, 40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others, himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 ¹And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani ? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me ?

47 ¹Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.

48 ^mAnd straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50 ¹Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 ^oAnd, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom ; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent ;

52 And the graves were opened ; and many bodies of saints which slept arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 ^pNow when the centurion and they that were with him watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 ^qAnd many women were there, beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him ;

56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children.

57 ¹When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple :

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 ^rAnd laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock : and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¹Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 ^sSaying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead : so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch : go your way, make it as sure as you can.

66 ^tSo they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Christ's resurrection declared : 9 he appeareth to the women, 16 and to his disciples, 18 and sendeth them to teach and baptize.

¹IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there was a great earthquake : for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 ^bHis countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow :

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye : for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 ^cHe is not here ; for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay :

7 ^dAnd go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead ; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee ; there shall ye see him : lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ^eAnd as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 ^fThen said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid : go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¹Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 ^gAnd if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught : and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

16 ^hThen the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him : but some doubted.

18 ⁱAnd Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

19 ^jGo ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost ;

20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you : and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

4^a John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
5^a And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.
6^a And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;
7^a And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.
8^a I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.
9^a And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.
10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit, like a dove, descending upon him:
11^a And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
12^a And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness.
13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.
14^a Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, 15^a And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent ye, and believe the gospel.
16^a Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.
17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.
18^a And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.
19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.
20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.
21^a And they went into Capernaum: and straightway on the sabbath-day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.
22^a And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.
23^a And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24^a Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.
25^a And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.
26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.
27 And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.
28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

29^a And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.
30 But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her.
31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up: and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.
32^a And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.
33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.
34^a And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.
35^a And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.
36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him.
37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.
38^a And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.
39 And he preached in their synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.
40^a And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.
42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.
43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;
44^a And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.
45^a But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ followed by multitudes; 3 he healeth the palsy, 14 calleth Levi, 15 justifieth himself for eating with publicans and sinners, 18 excuseth his disciples for not fasting, &c.
2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.
3^a And they came unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.
4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.
5^a When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

The withered hand healed.

Anno

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ healeth the withered hand; 6 the Pharisees conspire his death; 13 he chooseth twelve apostles; 22 he confuteh the Pharisees' blasphemy, &c.

2 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

3 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath-day; that they might accuse him.

4 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

5 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath-days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

6 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

7 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

8 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea, 9 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

10 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

11 For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

12 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

13 And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

14 And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

15 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach.

16 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

17 And Simon he surnamed Peter;

18 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them || Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder;

19 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the Canaanite, 20 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into a house.

21 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

22 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.

23 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

24 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

25 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

28 Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies whereby soever they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation:

30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him; and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The parable of the sower; 14 the meaning thereof....26 Of the seed growing secretly, &c.

AND he began again to teach by the sea-side; and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables.

12 That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way-side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word, 19 And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty-fold, some sixty, and some a hundred.

21 And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take heed what you hear; with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you; and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 For he that hath, to him shall he given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ casteth out the legion of devils....21 Jairus's suit for his daughter....25 The bloody issue healed, &c.

AND they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there, nigh unto the mountains, a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it told them how it befel to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him; and he was nigh unto the sea.

CHAPTER V....VI

The bloody issue healed.

22 And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24 And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years,

26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment:

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi: which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

2^b And when the sabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3^c Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and of Joseph, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4^d But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5^e And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6^f And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages teaching.

7^g And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8^h And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9ⁱ But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10^k And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11^l And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

12^m And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

13ⁿ And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14^o And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15^p Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17^q For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her.

18^r For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19^s Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not.

20^t For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21^u And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23^v And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother,

What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.

26^y And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27^z And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30^a And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31^b And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest awhile: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32^c And they departed into a desert place by a ship privately.

33^d And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34^e And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

35^f And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37^g He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38^h He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all to sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41ⁱ And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45^j And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47^k And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out :

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer : it is I ; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship ; and the wind ceased : and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves : for their heart was $\dagger$ hardened.

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment : and as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAPTER VII.

The Pharisees find fault with the disciples for eating with unwashen hands, &c.

THEN came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands $\dagger$ oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash they eat not. And many other things there be which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brazen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands ?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit, in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups : and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, $\parallel$ Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother ; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death :

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is $\parallel$ Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me ; he shall be free.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother ;

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered : and many such like things ye do.

14 And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand.

15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him, can defile him : but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said unto them, Are ye so without understanding also ? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him ;

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats ?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness :

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

24 And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it ; but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet.

26 The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation : and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled : for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord : yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way ; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech ; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue ;

34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he charged them that they should tell no man : but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it ;

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well : he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Christ feedeth the people miraculously : 22 he giveth a blind man his sight, &c.

IN those days, the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

Anno

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from afar.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10 And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? Verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.

13 And he left them, and, entering into the ship again, departed to the other side.

14 Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.

16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.

17 And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

21 And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

22 And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town: and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought?

24 And he looked up, and said, I see men, as trees, walking.

25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

27 And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.

29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed; and after three days rise again.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savorest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 And when he had called the people unto him, with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

35 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.

36 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38 Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Jesus transfigured; 11 he instructeth his disciples concerning the coming of Elias, &c.

AND he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

1 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 ¹ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come ?

12 ² And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things ; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 ³ But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

14 ⁴ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them ?

17 ⁵ And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit :

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him ; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away : and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out ; and they could not.

19 He answereth him and saith, O faithless generation ! how long shall I be with you ? how long shall I suffer you ? Bring him unto me.

20 ⁶ And they brought him unto him : and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him ; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him ? And he said, Of a child :

22 And oft-times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him : but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 ⁷ Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe ; help thou mine unbelief.

25 ⁸ When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him : and he was as one dead ; insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up ; and he arose.

28 ⁹ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out ?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¹⁰ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee ; and he would not that any man should know it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him ; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¹¹ And he came to Capernaum : and being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way ?

34 But they held their peace : for by the way they had disputed among themselves who should be the greatest.

35 ¹² And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 ¹³ And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them : and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, 37 ¹⁴ Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me : and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 ¹⁵ And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us : and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not : for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 ¹⁶ For he that is not against us is on our part.

41 ¹⁷ For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, He shall not lose his reward.

42 ¹⁸ And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 ¹⁹ And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off : it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched ;

44 ²⁰ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off : it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched ;

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out : it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire ;

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 ²¹ For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 ²² Salt is good : but if the salt have lost his salt-ness, wherewith will ye season it ? have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

CHAPTER X.

2 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement :

13 blesseth the children that are brought unto him, &c.

And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan :

and the people resort unto him again ; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¹ And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife ? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you ?

4 ² And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept :

6 ³ But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7^d For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife

8 And they twain shall be one flesh : so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9^e What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the nouse his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13^f And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them : and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14^g But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not ; for of such is the kingdom of God.

15^h Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16^k And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

17^k And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life ?

18^m And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good ? there is none good, but one, that is God.

19ⁿ Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21^o Then Jesus beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest : go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven : and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved ; for he had great possessions.

23^p And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God !

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God !

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved ?

27^q And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God : for with God all things are possible.

28^r Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29^s And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's,

30 But he shall receive a hundred-fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions ; and in the world to come eternal life.

ST. MARK.

31^t But many that are first shall be last ; and the last first.

32^u And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem : and Jesus went before them : and they were amazed ; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,

33^v Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem ; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes ; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles :

34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him ; and the third day he shall rise again.

35^w And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

36^x And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you ?

37 They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38^y But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the cup that I drink of ? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with ?

39^z And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of, and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized :

40^a But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give ; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41^b And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42^c But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them ; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

43^d But so shall it not be among you : but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister :

44^e And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45^f For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

46^g And they came to Jericho : and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway-side, begging.

47^h And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace : but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise ; he calleth thee.

50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee ? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight :

52ⁱ And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way ; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

Bartimeus receiveth his sight.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ rideth into Jerusalem: 12 he curseth a fruitless fig-tree: 27 he silenceth the priests who question his authority.

AND when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without, in a place where two ways met; and they loose him.

5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let him go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way; and others cut down branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord:

10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.

11 And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the even-tide was come, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry:

13 And seeing a fig-tree afar off, having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

14 And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves;

16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.

17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves.

18 And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

19 And when even was come, he went out of the city.

20 And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

21 And Peter calling to remembrance, saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is withered away!

22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.

23 For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.

24 Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

25 And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

27 And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there came to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders, 28 And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32 But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John that he was a prophet indeed.

33 And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAPTER XII.

1 The parable of the vineyard....13 Touching the paying of tribute....18 The Sadducees confuted....35 A difficulty proposed to the scribes, &c.

AND he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the wine-fat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one son, his well-beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes?

13 ^b And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

14 ^c And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cesar's.

17 ^d And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Cesar the things that are Cesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

18 ^e Then come unto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,

19 ^f Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died; neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 ^g And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 ^h For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage; but are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 ⁱ And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

28 ^j And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 ^k And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandment.

31 ^l And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

32 ^m And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ⁿ And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David?

36 ^o For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 ^p And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts;

40 ^q Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ^r And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich east in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 ^s And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath east more in than all they which have east into the treasury:

44 For all they did east in of their abundance; but she of her want did east in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 3 he sheweth what signs should go before, 24 and what should happen at the time of his coming, &c.

AND as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!

2 ^a And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ^b And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him privately, 4 ^c Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 ^d And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you:

6 ^e For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 ^f For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 ^g But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 ^h And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 ⁱ But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12^a Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.
13^a And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.
14^a But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains:
15 And let him that is on the house-top not go down into the house, neither enter therein: to take any thing out of his house:
16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.
17^a But wo to them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days!
18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.
19^a For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, unto this time, neither shall be.
20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.
21^a And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not:
22^a For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.
23^a But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.
24^a But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light;
25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.
26^a And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.
27^a And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.
28^a Now learn a parable of the fig-tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:
29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.
30^a Verily I say unto you, That this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.
31^a Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.
32^a But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.
33^a Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.
34^a For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.
35^a Watch ye therefore; for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning;

36 Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.
37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.
CHAPTER XIV.
1 A conspiracy against Christ: 3 a woman poureth ointment on his head....10 Judas covenanteth to betray him: 12 he eateth the passover: 22 he instituteth his last supper: 66 Peter thrice denieth him, &c.
AFTER two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.
2^b But they said, † Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar of the people.
3^a And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster-box of ointment of spikenard, very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.
4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?
5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.
6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.
7^a For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.
8 She hath done † what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.
9 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever touch this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
10^a And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.
11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.
12^a And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?
13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.
14 And whosoever he shall go in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?
15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.
16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.
17^a And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.
18^a And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.
19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?
20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.
21^a The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

22 ¶ And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

23 ¶ And he took the cup; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

25 ¶ Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 ¶ And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 ¶ And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 ¶ But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 ¶ But Peter said unto him. Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 ¶ And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 ¶ But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 ¶ And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 ¶ And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

35 ¶ And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 ¶ And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 ¶ And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 ¶ Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again; for their eyes were heavy: neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come: behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: take him, and lead him away safely.

45 ¶ And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, † Master, Master; and kissed him.

46 And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

49 ¶ I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 ¶ And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him:

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 ¶ And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 ¶ We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 ¶ And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 ¶ But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 ¶ And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 ¶ And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

66 ¶ And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew.

69 ¶ And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 ¶ And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him,

CHAPTER XV.

1 Jesus is brought bound and accused before Pilate....6 Pilate prevailed on by the people, giveth up Jesus to be crucified 17 he is crowned with thorns, 27 hangeth between two thieves: 43 he is honourably buried.

AND straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing.

4 And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 But Jesus yet answered nothing; so that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.

7 And there was one, named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.

8 And the multitude, crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.

9 But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.

11 But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them.

12 And Pilate answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?

13 And they cried out again, Crucify him.

14 Then Pilate said unto them, why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.

15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the soldiers led him away into the hall called Pretorium; and they call together the whole band.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head;

18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!

19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and, bowing their knees, worshipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.

21 And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.

22 And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.

23 And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.

25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.

26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over. THE KING OF THE JEWS.

CHAPTER XV...XVI.

His crucifixion and burial.

27 And with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors.

29 And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, 30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.

31 Likewise also the chief priests, mocking, said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

38 And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

39 And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

40 There were also women looking on afar off; among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less, and of Josès, and Salome 41 (Who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him;) and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead; and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre

47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Josès beheld where he was laid.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 An angel declareth the resurrection of Christ to three women: 9 he appeareth to Mary Magdalene, &c. 19 his ascension into heaven; the gospel is preached, &c.

AND when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted. Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre: for they trembled and were amazed:
neither said they any thing to any man: for they were afraid.

9 ¶ Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 ¶ After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue;
neither believed they them.

14 ¶ Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe:
In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;

18 They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 ¶ So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

¶ The GOSPEL according to St. LUKE.

CHAPTER I.

1 Luke's preface....5 The conception of John Baptist, 26 and of Christ....57 The nativity and circumcision of John.
64 The mouth of Zacharias opened: 67 his prophecy.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word;

3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus, 4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

¶ THERE was, in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zache-arias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 ¶ And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answering, said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and mar-velled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 ¶ To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David ; and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 ¶ And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee : blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 ¶ And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary : for thou hast found favour with God.

31 ¶ And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

32 ¶ He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest : and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David :

33 ¶ And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever ; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man ?

35 ¶ And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee ; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

36 And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age : and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren.

37 ¶ For with God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord ; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, into a city of Juda ;

40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb ; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost :

42 ¶ And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women ; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me ?

44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 ¶ And blessed is she that believed ; for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 ¶ And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 ¶ For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden : for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 ¶ For he that is mighty hath done to me great things ; and holy is his name.

50 ¶ And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation.

51 ¶ He hath shewed strength with his arm ; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 ¶ He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 ¶ He hath filled the hungry with good things ; and the rich he hath sent empty away.

CHAPTER II.

54 ¶ He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy ;

55 ¶ As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

57 ¶ Now Elisabeth's full time came, that she should be delivered ; and she brought forth a son.

58 ¶ And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her ; and they rejoiced with her.

59 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child ; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 ¶ And his mother answered and said, Not so ; but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them : and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill-country of Judea :

66 And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be ? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 ¶ And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 ¶ Blessed be the Lord God of Israel ; for he hath visited and redeemed his people, 69 ¶ And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David ;

70 ¶ As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began :

71 ¶ That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us ;

72 ¶ To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant,

73 ¶ The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,

74 ¶ That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, 75 ¶ In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

76 ¶ And thou, child, shalt be called The Prophet of the Highest : for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways ;

77 ¶ To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins,

78 ¶ Through the tender mercy of our God ; whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us, 79 ¶ To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 ¶ And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be for all people.

11 For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying, 14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

25 And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon: and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

23 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

35 (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanneel, of the tribe of Aser; she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem: and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to

CHAPTER III.

1 John's preaching and baptism: 15 his testimony of Christ. 19 Herod imprisoneth John....21 Christ is baptized: 23 his genealogy.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene,

2^a Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3^b And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins;

4^c As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6^d And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7^e Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers! who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth, therefore, fruits worthy of repentance: and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9^f And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree, therefore, which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10^g And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11^h He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12ⁱ Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

13^j And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

14^k And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages.

15^l And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ or not;

16^m John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:

17ⁿ Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things, in his exhortation, preached he unto the people.

19^o But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by aim for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21^p Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22^q And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him; and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

23^r And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,

24^s Which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Janna, which was the son of Joseph,

25 Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Amos, which was the son of Naum, which was the son of Esi, which was the son of Nagge,

26 Which was the son of Maath, which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Semei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Juda,

33 Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda,

35 Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragan, which was the son of Phalec, which was the son of Heber, which was the son of Sala,

37 Which was the son of Mathusala, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleleel, which was the son of Cainan, those days he did eat nothing; and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 ° And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 ° And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 ° And the devil taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it.

7 If thou, therefore, wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8 ° And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 ° And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:

10 ° For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee;

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 ° And Jesus answering, said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 ° And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 ° And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 ° And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

18 ° The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor: he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 ° To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 ° And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son?

23 ° And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

24 ° And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 ° But I tell you of a truth, Many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land:

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 ° And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisens the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong.

30 ° But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way, 31 ° And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath-days.

32 ° And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with power.

33 ° And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 ° Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ° And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her.

39 ° And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 ° Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 ° And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he, rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 ° And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ teacheth out of Peter's ship... 4 A miraculous draught of fishes... 12 A leper cleansed... 18 The palsy healed. 27 Levi called from the receipt of custom.

AND it came to pass, that as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesaret,

2 ° And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ° Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had this done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

12 And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling, with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thy house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

CHAPTER VI.

Christ calleth Levi.

Anno DOMINI 31.

27 And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?

35 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

36 And he spake also a parable unto them: No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Touching the ears of corn that were plucked by the disciples on the sabbath.... 13 Christ chooseth the twelve, 17 healeth divers diseases, 20 pronounceth blessings, &c.

AND it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn-fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days?

3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was a hungered, and they which were with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat, but for the priests alone?

5 And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught; and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day, that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing: Is it lawful on the sabbath-days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10^h And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness; and consumed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12¹ And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13^a And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named Apostles;

14¹ Simon (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew, 15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

17^m And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea-coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.

19^a And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

20¹ And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21^p Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22^a Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23^r Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24^q But wo unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation.

25¹ Wo unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Wo unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26^a Wo unto you when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27¹ But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you;

28^r Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.

29^a And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also.

30^a Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again.

31^b And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

32^c For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same.

34^d And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again 35^b But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

36¹ Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37^a Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38^b Give, and it shall be given unto you: good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again.

39¹ And he spake a parable unto them: Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40^k The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.

41¹ And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42^m Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite! cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

43^a For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44^a For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.

45^p A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46¹ And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47^r Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like:

48 He is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock; and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it; for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2^a And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4^b And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Devout women minister unto Christ....4 The parable of the sower, 16 and of the candle....26 The legion of the devils cast out, &c.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,

2 And certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 ¶ And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable :

5 A sower went out to sow his seed : and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side ; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock ; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns ; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundred-fold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 ¶ And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be ?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God : but to others in parables ; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 ¶ Now the parable is this : The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way-side are they that hear ; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy ; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground are they, which, in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed ; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 For nothing is secret that shall not be made manifest ; neither any thing hid that shall not be known and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear : for whosoever hath, to him shall be given ; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples : and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed he fell asleep : and there came down a storm of wind on the lake ; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish ! Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water : and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith ? And they being afraid, wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this ? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God most high ? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him : and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters ; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name ? And he said, Legion : because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain ; and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them : and he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine : and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done ; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind : and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them ; for they were taken with great fear : and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him : but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

40 And it came to pass, that when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him : for they were all waiting for him.

44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stancheth.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.

z Mark 5, 33.

49 ¶ While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master.

50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 ¶ And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 (For they were about five thousand men.) And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 ¶ Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes; and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples ¶ were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 ¶ They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, That one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 ¶ He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The Christ of God.

21 And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing:

22 ¶ Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 ¶ For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 ¶ For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 ¶ For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.

27 ¶ But I tell you of a truth, There he some standing here which shall not taste of death till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ And it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistening.

30 And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias.

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ sendeth out seventy disciples...13 Woes against Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum...38 Mary commended, &c.

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

9 And heal the sick that are therein; and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, 11 Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city.

13 Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you.

15 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.

John 4, 9.

Act. 10, 28.

33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again I will repay thee.36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him.

Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone?

bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha,

Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER XI.

2 Christ teacheth to pray; 14 he casteth out a dumb devil;

27 he sheweth who are truly blessed; 29 he preacheth to the people, 37 and reproveth the Pharisees' outward shew of holiness, &c.

AND it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say,
Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name: Thy kingdom come: Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us: And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

11 ¶ If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he be for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 ¶ And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them,

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house, falleth.

18 If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:

22 But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour, wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

27 And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

32 The men of Nineveh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

33 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Wo unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Wo unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute;

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;

51 From the blood of Abel, unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: Verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Wo unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things;

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accense him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 To avoid hypocrisy....13 To beware of covetousness....41 The faithful and wise steward.

IN the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2 For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear, in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops.

4 And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom you shall fear: Fear him which, after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 ^a Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:

9 But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 ^a And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 ^a And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:

12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 ^a And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 ^a And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?

15 ^a And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 ^a And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

20 ^a But God said unto him, Thou fool! this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?

21 ^a So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

22 ^a And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 ^a Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have store-house nor barn; and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 ^a And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not: and yet I say unto you, That Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither he ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ^a But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 ^a Fear not, ^a little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 ^a Sell that ye have, and give alms: provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 ^a Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 ^a Blessed are those servants whom the lord, when he cometh, shall find watching: verily I say unto you, That he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 ^a And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 ^a And this know, that if the good man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 ^a Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ^a Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 ^a And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing.

44 ^a Of a truth I say unto you, That he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the men-servants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 ^a The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 ^a And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ^a I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I if it be already kindled?

50 ^a But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I ^a straitened till it be accomplished!

51 ^a Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division:

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 ^a The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

54 ^a And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower: and so it is.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance by the calamity upon the Galileans and others....6 The fruitless fig-tree cursed. 24 The strait gate.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 ¶ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath:

11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 ¶ And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

15 ¶ The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite! doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 ¶ And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 ¶ And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

23 ¶ Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 ¶ When once the Master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 ¶ But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28 ¶ There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

29 ¶ And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

30 And, behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 ¶ The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Herod will kill thee.

32 ¶ And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

33 Nevertheless I must walk to-day, and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 ¶ O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

35 ¶ Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XIV.

2 Christ healeth the dropsy on the sabbath-day; 7 teacheth humility; 12 to feed the poor....16 The parable of the great supper....25 What is required to be Christ's disciples.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watched him.

2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 ¶ And Jesus answering, spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took him and healed him, and let him go:

5 ^b And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath-day?

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

7 ^a And he put forth a parable to those which were [†] bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,

8 ^c When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him;

9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher; then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 ^d For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 ^e ^f Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind;

14 And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

15 ^g ^h And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

16 ⁱ Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many:

17 ^j And sent his servant at supper-time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.

18 ^k And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it; I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 ^l So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded and yet there is room.

23 And the lord said unto his servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and [†] compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 ^m For I say unto you, That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 ⁿ And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned and said unto them, 26 ^o If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27 ^p And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?

29 Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

31 ^q Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

34 ^r Salt is good; but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill: but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The parable of the lost sheep: 8 of the piece of silver: 11 of the prodigal son.

THEN drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners, for to hear him.

2 ^a And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 ^b And he spake this parable unto them, saying,

4 ^c What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 ^d And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7 ^e I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons which need no repentance.

8 ^f Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me: for I have found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise, I say unto you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ^g And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise, and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of thy hired servants.

f Acts 2, 33.
Eph. 2, 12,
17.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat and be merry:

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing:

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

32 It was meet that we should make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Of the unjust steward....14 The hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees reproved, &c.

AND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do, for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship? I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, A hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat.

And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write four-score.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other: or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16 The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23 And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom:

24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed; so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house;

28 For I have five brethren: that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 To avoid occasions of offence, 3 to forgive one another.

5 The power of faith, &c.

THEN said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: but wo unto him through whom they come!

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ^{1b} Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 ^b And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 ¹ And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 ^c And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say unto this sycaminate-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

7 But which of you, having a servant plowing, or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 ^d So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 ^e And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12 ^f And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 ^g And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God;

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 ^h And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ⁱ And when he was demanded of the Pharisees when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

21 ^j Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, Lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is || within you.

22 ^k And he said unto the disciples, The days will come when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 ^a And they shall say to you, See here; or, See there: go not after them, nor follow them.

24 ^b For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day.

25 ^c But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 ^d And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

28 ^e Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded;

29 ^f But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.

31 ^g In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 ^h Remember Lot's wife.

33 ⁱ Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34 ^j I tell you, In that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The importunate widow....9 The Pharisee and publican.

15 Children brought to Christ....28 All to be left for the gospel's sake.

AND he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint:

2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 ^b Yet, because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 ^c And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 ^d And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 ^e The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself: God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 ¶ And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 ¶ And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

28 ¶ Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.

32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.

34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ And it came to pass, that as he was coming nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way-side, begging:

36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they told him that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

39 And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Of Zaccheus the publican... 13 The ten pieces of money. 41 Christ weepeth over Jerusalem, &c.

AND Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. 2 And, behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is the son of Abraham.

10 For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 ¹ And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 ^a And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth wilt I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knowest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 ^b For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ^c And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

29 ^d And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you: in the which, at your entering, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 ^e And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38 ^f Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord; peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 ^g And he answered and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace? but now they are hid from thine eyes.

44 ^b And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 ^c And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;

46 ^d Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 ^e And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes, and the chief of the people, sought to destroy him;

48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people ^f were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Christ silenceth those who questioned his authority....9 The parable of the vineyard....27 The Sadducees confuted, &c.

^a AND it came to pass that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, By what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 ^b The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, That they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 ^c Then began he to speak to the people this parable; A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen, beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also; and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him, when they see him.

14 ^d But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 ^e So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 Then came to him certain of the Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:

36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.

39 Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 And he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son?

42 And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord: how is he then his son?

45 Then in the audience of all the people, he said unto his disciples,

46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts;

47 Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAPTER XXI

1 Christ commendeth the poor widow... 5 The destruction of the temple and city foretold, &c.

AND he looked up, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast in more than they all:

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said,

6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?

8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.

9 But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by.

10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:

11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.

12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.

13 And it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

16 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

18 But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

19 In your patience possess ye your souls.

20 And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

23 ^b But wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 ^c And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 ^d And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 ^e And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 ^f And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

29 ^g And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the fig-tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away till all be fulfilled.

33 ^h Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

34 ⁱ And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 ^j For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 ^k Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 ^l And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple: and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The Jews conspire against Christ....3 Judas covenanteth to betray him, &c.

^a NOW the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.

2 ^b And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ^c Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 ^d And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 ^e Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room, furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 ^f And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:

16 ^g For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:

18 ^h For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ⁱ And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ^j But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 ^k And truly the Son of man goeth as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 ^l And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 ^m And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25 And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.

26 ⁿ But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 ^o For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

28 ^p Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations:

29 ^q And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

30 ^r That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 ^s And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:

32 ^t But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison and to death.

34 ^u And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 ^v And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip : and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one.

37 * For I say unto you, That this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors : for the things concerning me have an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 I * And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives ; and his disciples also followed him.

40 b And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41 c And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 d Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me : nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

43 e And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.

44 f And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly : and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow.

46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye ? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 I * And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.

48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss ?

49 When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword ?

50 I * And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 I * Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves ?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me : but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 I * Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off.

55 I * And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him ; for he is a Galilean.

60 m And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 n And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter.

And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 I * And the men that held Jesus mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee ?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 I * And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying,

67 a Art thou the Christ ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, you will not believe :

68 And if I also ask you, you will not answer me nor let me go.

69 Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God ? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am.

71 And they said, What need we any further witness ? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAPTER XXIII.

2 Jesus is accused before Pilate, 7 and sent to Herod : 11 he is mocked, and sent back to Pilate : 23 he is delivered to be crucified, &c.

A ND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 b And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying that he himself is Christ a King.

3 c And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews ? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 d Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 e And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time.

8 I * And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad : for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him : and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words ; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 f And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 I * And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together : for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 I * And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me as one that perverteth the people ; and behold, I having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man, touching those things whereof ye accuse him ;

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him: and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 ^a I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 ^a (For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 ^a And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was east into prison.)

20 Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 ^a And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 ^a And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 ^a For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 ^a Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 ^a For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 ^a And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 ^a And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors; one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ^a Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 ^a And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 ^a And a superscription also was written over him, in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ^a And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 ^a And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 ^a And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit; and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 ^a Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 ^a And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ^a And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 ^a (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them: ^b) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 ^a And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in the sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 ^a And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 ^a And the women also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 ^a And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Christ's resurrection declared to the women: 9 they report it to others....13 Christ himself appeareth: 51 his ascension.

^a NOW upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 ^a And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 ^a And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And, as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6 ^a He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 ^a And they remembered his words,

9 ^a And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 ^a It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 ^h And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 ⁱ Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ^j And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 ^m But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 ⁿ And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 ^o And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 ^p But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.

22 ^q Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre:

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, That they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said; but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!

26 ^r Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 ^s And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 ^t But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 ^u Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ^v And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and said unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 ^w Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 ^x And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a honey-comb.

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 ^y And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

45 ^z Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 ^a And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 ^b And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48 ^c And ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ^d And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ^e And he led them out as far as to Bethany; and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51 ^f And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy:

53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

CHAPTER I.

1 The divinity of Christ....14 The incarnation of the Word.
15 John's testimony of Christ....39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

^a In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2 ^b The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 In him was life; and the life was the light of men.

5 ^c And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 ^d There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 ^e The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

Acts 1, 5.

9 That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only-begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

15 John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only-begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 He it is, who coming after me, is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara, beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

35 I Agam, the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, The Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is, by interpretation, A stone.

43 The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!

48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ turneth water into wine; 12 he departeth into Capernaum, &c.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 And both Jesus was called and his disciples to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days.

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up.

18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast-day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men;

25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration.

18 Condemnation for unbelief, &c.

THERE was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man, which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up;

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18 He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only-begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved:

21 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest that they are wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized.

23 And John also was baptizing in Enon, near to Salim, because there was much water there; and they came, and were baptized:

24 For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews, about purifying.

26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all.

things unto his hand.

life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and revealeth himself unto her; 27 his disciples marvel.... 31 Christ's zeal for God's glory.

WHEN therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John,

2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)

3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well;
and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him,
How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? (for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.)

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of waters springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

CHAPTER IV.

Christ's zeal for God's glory.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this came his disciples, and mar-velled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water-pot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,

29 Come, see a man which told me all things that ever I did: Is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another,
Hath any man brought him ought to eat?

34 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.

36 And he that reapeth receiveth wage, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them:
and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed because of his own word;

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then, when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way: thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Jesus, on the sabbath-day, cureth an impotent man at the pool of Bethesda; 10 the Jews persecute him for it; 17 he justifieth himself, and asserteth his power, &c.

a Lev. 24, 2.
Deut. 19, 1.

AFTER this there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

b Neh. 8, 1.
4, 12, 30.

2 Now there is at Jerusalem, by the sheep-market, a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the troubling of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

h 2 Kings 2, 21.
23, 16.

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

i g Mat. 12, 43.
chap. 8, 11.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

b verse 10.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, 29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 But I have greater witness than that of John; for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand with five loaves and two fishes; 2 the multitude flocking unto him, he reproveth their carnal views, &c.

A. D. 32.

5 When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

1 2 Kings 4, 42.

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

e 1 Sam. 9, 15.
Mat. 26, 27.

11 And Jesus took the loaves: and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley-loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, 17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks;)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, That ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, That of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, That every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven? 43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 ^aNo man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 ^bIt is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father cometh unto me.

46 ^cNot that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God; he hath seen the Father.

47 ^dVerily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 ^eI am that bread of life.

49 ^fYour fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 ^gI am the living bread which came down from heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 ^hThe Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 ⁱThen Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 ^kWhoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 ^lFor my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 ^mHe that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 ⁿAs the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father; so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 ^oThis is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 ^pMany therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 ^qWhat and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 ^rIt is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 ^sBut there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 ^tAnd he said, Therefore said I unto you, That no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 ^uFrom that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 ^vThen Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

69 ^wAnd we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 ^xJesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Jesus, exhorted by his unbelieving kinsmen to shew himself, goeth secretly to the feast; 14 he teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions concerning Christ... 45 The Pharisees are angry at their officers, &c.

^aAFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 ^bNow the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 ^cHis brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 ^dFor there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.

5 ^eFor neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 ^fThen Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 ^gThe world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 ^hGo ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 ⁱBut when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 ^jThen the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 ^kAnd there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man; others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13 ^lHowbeit no man spake openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14 ^mNow about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

16 ⁿJesus answered them, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 ^oIf any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18 ^pHe that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 ^qDid not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20 ^rThe people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 ^sMoses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day?

24 ^tJudge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 ^uThen said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 * Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 * Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 * But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 * Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 * And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 * The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 * Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 * Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 * In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 * He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 * (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

40 * Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41 * Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 * Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?

43 * So there was a division among the people because of him:

44 * And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 * Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 * Have any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees believed on him?

49 But this people, who knoweth not the law, are cursed.

50 * Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)

51 * Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doeth?

52 * They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Sear, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

1 Christ delivereth a woman taken in adultery; 21 he preacheth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, 4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 * Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 * So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 * And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 * She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12 * Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 * The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 * Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 * It is also written in your law, That the testimony of two men is true.

18 * I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 * Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 * These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

21 * Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 * And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, That ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 * Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 ^a I have many things to say and to judge of you : but he that sent me is true ; and I speak of the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 ^b Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself ; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 ^c And he that sent me is with me ; the Father hath not left me alone ; for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31 ^d Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed :

32 ^e And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 ^f They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man : how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free ?

34 ^g Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin.

35 ^h And the servant abideth not in the house for ever : but the Son abideth ever.

36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 ⁱ I know that ye are Abraham's seed : but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 ^j I speak that which I have seen with my Father ; and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 ^k They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 ^l But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God : this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication ; we have one Father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me : for I proceeded forth and came from God ; neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my speech ? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 ^m Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own : for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin ? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me ?

47 ⁿ He that is of God heareth God's words ; ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 ^o Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil ?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil : but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 ^p And I seek not mine own glory : there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 ^q Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 ^r Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets ; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead ? and the prophets are dead : whom makest thou thyself ?

54 ^s Jesus answered, If I honour myself, mine honour is nothing : it is my Father that honoureth me ; of whom ye say, That he is your God :

55 ^t Yet ye have not known him : but I know him : and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you : but I know him, and keep his saying.

56 ^u Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day : and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham ?

58 ^v Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 ^w Then took they up stones to cast at him : but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER IX.

1 A man that was born blind is restored to sight ; 13 he is brought to the Pharisees ; 34 they excommunicate him, 35 Christ receiveth him, &c.

AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 ^a And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind ?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents ; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 ^b I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day : the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 ^c As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is, by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 ^d The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged ?

9 Some said, This is he : others said, He is like him : but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened ?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash : and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he ? He said, I know not.

13 ^e They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath-day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 ^f Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

1 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd: 25 he proveth by his works that he is Christ, and asserteth his unity with the Father.

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

believed not : the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26^m But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27^a My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me :

28^o And I give unto them eternal life ; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

29^p My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all ; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30^q I and my Father are one.

31^r Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father ; for which of those works do ye stone me ?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not ; but for blasphemy ; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34^s Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods ?

35^t If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken ;

36^u Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest ; because I said, I am the Son of God ?

38^v But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works ; that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39^w Therefore they sought again to take him ; but he escaped out of their hand ;

40^x And went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized ; and there abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle : but all things that John spake of this man were true.

42 And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The sickness and death of Lazarus ; Jesus raiseth him to life. 47 The Pharisees hold a council against Christ ; Caiaphas prophesieth.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha.

2^a (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4^b When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee ; and goest thou thither again ?

9^c Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day ? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10^d But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he : and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth ; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death ; but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14^e Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead :

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe ; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off.

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him : but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22^f But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24^g Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25^h Jesus saith unto her, I am the resurrection and the life ; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live :

26ⁱ And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this ?

27^j She saith unto him, Yea, Lord : I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31^k The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32^l Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled ;

34 And said, Where have ye laid him ? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him !

37^m And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died ?

38 Jesus therefore, again groaning in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh : for he hath been dead four days.

40^o Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God ?
41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.
42 And I knew that thou hearest me always : but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.
43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth !
44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes ; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.
45^p Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.
46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.
47^{1a} Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we ? for this man doeth many miracles.
48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him ; and the Romans shall come, and take away both our place and nation.
49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,
50^r Nor consider that it is expedient for us that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.
51 And this spake he not of himself : but, being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation ;
52^r And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.
53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.
54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews ; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.
55^{1f} And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand : and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves.
56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast ?
57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

wiped his feet with her hair : and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.
4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor ?
6^d This he said, not that he cared for the poor ; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.
7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone : against the day of my burying hath she kept this.
3^e For the poor always ye have with you ; but me ye have not always.
9¹ Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there : and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.
10 But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death ;
11 Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away and believed on Jesus.

15^b Fear not, daughter of Sion : behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.
16 These things understood not his disciples at the first : but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.
17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.
18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.
19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing ? behold, the world is gone after him.
20¹ And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast :
21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.
22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew : and again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.
23¹ And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.
24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone ; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.
25^k He that loveth his life shall lose it ; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.
26¹ If any man serve me, let him follow me ; and where I am, there shall also my servant be : if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.
27^a Now is my soul troubled ; and what shall I say ? Father, save me from this hour : but for this cause came I unto this hour.
28 Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.
29 The people therefore that stood by and heard it, said that it thundered : others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world : now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

33 This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever : and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up ? who is this Son of man ?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you : for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.

37 But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him :

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report ? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed ?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, 40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart ; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him ; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue :

43 For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not : for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him : the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For I have not spoken of myself ; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting : whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Jesus washeth his disciples' feet, 14 and exhorteth them to humility and charity.

NOW before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 And supper being ended, (the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him,)

3 Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God ;

4 He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments ; and took a towel, and girded himself :

5 After that, he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash his disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter : and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet ?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now ; but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit : and ye are clean, but not all.

11 For he knew who should betray him : therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you ?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord : and ye say well ; for so I am.

14 If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet ; ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord ; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 I speak not of you all ; I know whom I have chosen : but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 Now I tell you before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me ; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then, lying on Jesus' breast, saith unto him, Lord, who is it ?

26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a sop when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 And after the sop, Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast ; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then, having received the sop, went immediately out : and it was night.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that you should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it unto you.

17 These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.

21 But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin.

23 He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to pass, that the world might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me:

27 And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Christ warneth his disciples of their sufferings: 29 they profess their faith in him.

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But these things have I told you, that, when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Nevertheless; I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, A little while, and ye shall see me; because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, A little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? We cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, A little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it unto you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you that I will pray the Father for you:

27 For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

ZARETH, ews: for the

Christ's death and burial :

place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city:
and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.
21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.
22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23 ¹ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout:

24 ^a They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vestment they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 ^a When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!

27 ^b Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 ^c After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 ^d Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 ^e The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day, (for that sabbath-day was a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:

34 ^f But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came thereout blood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 ^g For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 ^h And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 ⁱ And after this, Joseph of Arimathea, (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

39 ^j And there came also Nicodemus, (which at the first came to Jesus by night,) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 ^k Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore, because of the

CHAPTER XX.

Jews' preparation-day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Mary cometh to the sepulchre; 11 she seeth two angels; Jesus himself appeareth to her.

^a THE first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 ^b Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 ^c Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he, stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie;

7 ^d And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ^e But Mary ¹ stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 ^f And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 ^g And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabbouni; which is to say, Master.

17 ^h Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ⁱ Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus, and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 ^j And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 ^k Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 ^l And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost.

23 ^a Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them ; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ^a But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 ^a The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ^a And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands ; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side : and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

29 ^a Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed : blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ^a And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book :

31 ^a But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God ; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples ; 15 his charge to Peter, and foretelleth his death.

^a AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias : and on this wise shewed he himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately ; and that night they caught nothing.

4 ^a But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore : but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat ? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 ^a Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three : and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou ? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 ^a Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples after that he was risen from the dead.

15 ^a So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these ? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord : thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 ^a He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord : thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 ^a He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me ? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things ; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 ^a Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest : but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 ^a This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 ^a Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee ?

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do ?

22 ^a Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee ? follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die : yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die ; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee ?

24 ^a This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things : and we know that his testimony is true.

25 ^a And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots: and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

1 The apostles, filled with the Holy Ghost, speak divers languages.... 14 Peter's sermon.

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing, mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them:

4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed, and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak, Galileans?

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Lybia about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel:

17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, (saith God,) I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out, in those days, of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:

19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles, wonders, and signs, which God did, by him, in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

verse 30.

23 ^a Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken; and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 ^e Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 ^f For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 ^g Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 ^h Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne, 31 ⁱ He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 ^j This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 ^k Therefore, being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 ^l For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ^m Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 ⁿ Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39 ^o For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 ^p Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 ^q And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 ^r And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 ^s And all that believed were together, and had all things common;

45 ^t And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 ^u And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,

47 ^v Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER III.

Peter preacheth to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet, &c.

^a NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2 And a certain man, lame from his mother's womb, was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ancle-bones received strength.

8 ^b And he leaping up, stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 ^c And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 ^d And, as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them, in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

12 ^e And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 ^f The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

14 ^g But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 ^h And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses.

16 ⁱ And his name, through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 ^j And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 ^k But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ^l Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

20 ^m And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 ⁿ Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began.

23 And it shall come to pass, that every soul which will not hear that Prophet shall be destroyed from among the people.
24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel, and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.
25 ^a Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.
26 ^r Unto thy first, God having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Peter and John are imprisoned....8 Peter's boldness....18 The apostles are threatened.
2 ^b AND as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them,
3 ^b Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
4 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now even-tide.
5 ^c Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.
6 ^d And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,
7 ^d And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.
8 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?
9 ^e Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, 9 If we this day he examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;
10 ^f Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.
11 ^g This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.
12 ^h Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.
13 ⁱ Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.
14 ^j And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.
15 ^k But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 ^l Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.
17 ^m But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

CHAPTER IV....V.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.
19 ⁿ But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.
20 ^o For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.
21 ^p So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.
22 ^q For the man was above forty years old on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.
23 ^r And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.
24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is;
25 ^s Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?
26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together, against the Lord, and against his Christ.
27 ^t For of a truth, against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, were gathered together, 28 ^u For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.
29 ^v And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word, 30 ^w By stretching forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.
31 ^x And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.
32 ^y And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.
33 ^z And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.
34 ^a Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,
35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.
36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

2 * And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 * But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 * And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 * Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 * And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 * And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people: (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 * And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 * And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women:)

15 Inasmuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 * Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation, 18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 * But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison-doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 * Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 * And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 * Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 * Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 * Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them, 28 * Saying, Did not we straitly command you that you should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

29 * Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 * The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 * Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32 * And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 * When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 * Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Jadas of Galilee, in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 * And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 * But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40 * And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 * And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 * And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach, and preach Jesus Christ.

Stephen, being falsely accused,
4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.
5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:
6 ¶ Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.
7 ¶ And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.
8 ¶ And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.
9 ¶ Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.
10 ¶ And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.
11 ¶ Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.
12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,
13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place and the law:
14 ¶ For we have heard him say, That this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.
15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.
CHAPTER VII.
1 Stephen being called, answereth to his accusation; 54 they stoned him to death.
THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?
2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; the God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,
3 ¶ And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.
4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.
5 ¶ And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.
6 ¶ And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.
7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.
8 ¶ And he gave him the covenant of circumcision.
9 ¶ And so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.
10 ¶ And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him, 10 ¶ And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 ¶ Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.
12 ¶ But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.
13 ¶ And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.
14 ¶ Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.
15 ¶ So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers, 16 ¶ And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.
17 ¶ But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.
19 The same dealt subtly with our kindred, and evil-entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.
20 ¶ In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:
21 ¶ And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.
22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.
23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.
24 ¶ And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:
25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them; but they understood not.
26 ¶ And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?
27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?
28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?
29 ¶ Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.
30 ¶ And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord, in a flame of fire in a bush.
31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.
33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground.
34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.
35 ¶ This Moses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer, by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 * He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37 ¶ This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38 * This is he that was in the church in the wilderness, with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers; who received the lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt, 40 * Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 ¶ Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven: as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 * Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 ¶ Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David;

46 * Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 ¶ But Solomon built him a house.

48 * Howbeit, the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, 49 ¶ Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 ¶ Ye stiff-necked, and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 ¶ Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One, of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 ¶ Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 ¶ When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 ¶ But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, 58 * And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59 ¶ And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.

5 Philip planteth the church in Samaria; 25 he baptizeth an Ethiopian eunuch.

¶ AND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 ¶ And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 ¶ As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house; and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4 ¶ Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 ¶ Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 ¶ But there was a certain man called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 ¶ But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 ¶ Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 For as yet he was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw, that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

Saul called to the apostleship.

Anno DOMINI
34.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness ; and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 ¶ And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went : and, behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning ; and, sitting in his chariot, read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou reade-st ?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me ? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

1 Isc. 55, 7.

32 ¶ The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter ; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth :

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away : and who shall declare his generation ? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this ? of himself, or of some other man ?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water : and the eunuch said, See, here is water ; what doth hinder me to be baptized ?

h. Mat. 23, 19.
Mark 16, 16.

37 ¶ And Philip said, If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still : and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch ; and he baptized him.

1 Kings 18, 12.

39 ¶ And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more : and he went on his way rejoicing.

nc. ch. 21, 8.

40 ¶ But Philip was found at Azotus : and passing through, he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Saul, going towards Damascus, is called by Christ : 10 Ananias sent to him, and he is baptized, 20 and boldly preacheth Christ.

¶ AND Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus ; and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven :

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord ? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest : it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he, trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do ? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 ¶ And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth ; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man : but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias : and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 ¶ And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus : for, behold, he prayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 ¶ Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem :

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 ¶ But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way : for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel :

16 ¶ For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 ¶ And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house ; and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales ; and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 ¶ And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 ¶ But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests ?

22 ¶ But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him.

24 ¶ But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall, in a basket.

27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians : but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

32 ¹ And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Eneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole ; arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt in Lydda and Sarou saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 ¹ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas : this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died : whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber : and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed : and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes : and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up : and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa : and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa, with one Simon a tanner.

CHAPTER XI.

Peter maketh his defence.

CHAPTER XI.

Anno DOMINI 41.
1 Peter accused for going to the Gentiles....19 The gospel is preached in many places....27 Agabus prophesieth of a great dearth.
2 AND the apostles and brethren that were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.
3 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,
4 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.
5 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,
6 I was in the city of Joppa, praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descending, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:
7 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.
8 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay, and eat.
9 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.
10 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.
11 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.
12 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Caesarea unto me.
13 And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover, these six brethren accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house:
14 And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter:
15 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.
16 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.
17 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.
18 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, what was I, that I could withstand God?
19 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.
20 Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen, travelled as far as Phoenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.
21 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.
22 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.
23 Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.
24 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.
25 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith : and much people was added unto the Lord.

25¹ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul :

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27¹ And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world : which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar.

29¹ Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea :

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Herod persecuteth the Christians ; 20 his pride, and miserable death.

NOW about that time, Herod the king stretched forth his hands, to vex certain of the church.

2^a And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were the days of unleavened bread.

4^b And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him ; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison ; but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains : and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison : and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals : and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him ; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel ; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord : and they went out, and passed on through one street ; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12^c And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark ; where many were gathered together, praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15^d And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking : and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckoning unto them with the hand, to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go, shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20^e And Herod was highly displeased with them : of Tyre and Sidon : but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace ; because their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day, Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory : and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24^f But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25^g And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas sent to the Gentiles....42 The Gentiles believe....45 The Jews blaspheme, and raise a persecution.

NOW there were in the church that was at Antioch, certain prophets and teachers ; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2^h As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work wherunto I have called them.

3ⁱ And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4^j So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia ; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5^k And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews : and they had also John to their minister.

6^l And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus :

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man ; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8^m But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul (who also is called Paul), filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him, 10ⁿ And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord ?

thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about, seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that, he gave unto them judges, about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

21 And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 Of this man's seed hath God, according to his promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus:

24 When John had first preached, before his coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Who think ye that I am? I am not he: but, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him from the dead:

31 And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Gentiles believe.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

36 For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 And by him, all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath-day came almost the whole city together, to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted.... 8 Paul, healing a cripple at Lystra, they are reputed as gods by the people.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude, both of the Jews and also of the Greeks, believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil-affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided : and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made, both of the Gentiles and also of the Jews, with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lyeaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about :

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked :

9 The same heard Paul speak : who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lyeaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter ; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things ? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities, unto the living God, which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein :

16 Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 Nevertheless, he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city : and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, 22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia :

26 And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples

CHAPTER XV.

1 Dissension about circumcision : 6 the apostles consult about it : 22 their determination....36 Paul and Barnabas contend, and part.

AND certain men which came down from Judea, taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem, unto the apostles and elders, about this question.

3 And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles : and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders ; and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us ;

9 And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear ?

11 But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me :

14 Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets : as it is written,

16 After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down ; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up :

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works, from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God :

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.

22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:

23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles and elders, and brethren, send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia:

24 Forasmuch as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul;

26 Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things:

29 That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 And some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

theus, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and circumcised him, because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia;

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mysia, came down to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis;

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony. And we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made: and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying:

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ, to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.

19 And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market-place, unto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, 21 And teach customs which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon

Armo DOMINI 86.
 them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely :

24 Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 ¹ And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God : and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken : and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison-doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm ; for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas ;

30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved ?

31 And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes ; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God, with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men go.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The magistrates have sent to let you go : now therefore depart, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, being Romans, and have cast us into prison ; and now do they thrust us out privily ? nay verily ; but let them come themselves, and fetch us out.

38 And the sergeants told these words unto the magistrates : and they feared, when they heard that they were Romans.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the city.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia : and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica, 10 and at Berea : 32 some mock, others believe.

NOW when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath-days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead : and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and Silas ; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned the world upside down, are come hither also ;

7 Whom Jason hath received : and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea : who coming thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed : also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea : but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Athens : and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say ? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods : because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him and brought him unto Arcopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is ?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears : we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians, and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.)

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars-hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands ; men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth; and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation;

27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Diogenes the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Paul, labouring with his hands, and preaching at Corinth, is encouraged in a vision, &c.

AFTER these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth:

2 And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome;) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tent-makers.

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.

6 And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord, with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee, to hurt thee: for I have many people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

CHAPTER XVIII....XIX.

He is accused before Gallio.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment-seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment-seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace:

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

6 The Holy Ghost given by the laying on of Paul's hands. 17 Many believe the gospel.

AND it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus; and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 ^a And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing, and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.9 ^b But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.10 ^c And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwell in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.11 ^d And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:12 ^e So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.13 ^f Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 ^g And many that believed, came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many also of them which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 ^h So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.21 ⁱ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.22 ^j So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.23 ^k And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.24 ^l For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 ^m Moreover, ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another; for the assembly was confused: and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice, about the space of two hours, cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia; 7 he celebrateth the Lord's supper, and preacheth... 9 Eutychus, falling down dead, 10 is raised to life.

AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed, for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus; and of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These going before, tarried for us at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up; dead.

10 And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him, said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go about.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia; for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to beat Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the laying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy: and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men;

27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28 Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing, shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Ye yourselves know that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak: and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said,
It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him;

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Paul, journeying to Jerusalem, cometh to Philip's house, whose daughters prophesied....17 Paul, at Jerusalem, 27 is apprehended, 31 but rescued by the chief captain.

AND it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way: and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 ch. 15, 13.
19 ch. 1, 19.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James ; and all the elders were present.

19 ch. 20, 24.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe ; and they are all zealous of the law :

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying, That they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

24 ch. 15, 18.

22 What is it therefore ? the multitude must needs come together : for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee : We have four men which have a vow on them ;

24 These take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads : and all may know, that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 ch. 15, 23, 25.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written, and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Num. 6, 2.
27 ch. 21, 18.

26 Then Paul took the men ; and the next day purifying himself with them, entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 ch. 21, 3.

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help : this is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place ; and further, brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 ch. 20, 4.
30 1 Tim. 1, 20.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, Trophimus, an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

31 ch. 28, 21.

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together : and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple : and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar :

32 Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them : and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 ch. 20, 23.
34 & 21, 11.

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains ; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude : and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him !

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee ? who said, Canst thou speak Greek ?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers ?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city : and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people : and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Paul declareth how he was converted ; 25 he escapeth scourging, being a Roman citizen.

MEN, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence, which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence : and he saith,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders : from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid ; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord ? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus ; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

16 ¹ And now, why tarryest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 ^a And it came to pass, that when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 ^a And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 ^a And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 ^a And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence, unto the Gentiles.

22 ^a And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth; for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 24 ^a The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 ^a And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Paul pleadeth his cause; 7 dissension among his accusers; 10 he is again imprisoned; 23 he is sent to Felix the governor.

^a AND Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 ^b And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.

3 ^c Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 ^d Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 ^e But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 ^f For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

9 ^g And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 ^h And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 ⁱ And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 ^k Now therefore ye, with the council, signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain; for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 ^l And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Caesare, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

27 ^m This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.

28 ^a And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

29 ^a Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 ^p And when it was told me, how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 ¹ Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cesarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia:

35 ¹ I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's || judgment-hall.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Tertullus accuseth Paul; 10 he answereth for himself; 24 preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife; 27 is left in prison.

^a AND after five days, Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 ^b For we have found this man a † pestilent fel- low, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands.

8 ^c Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom, thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 ¹ Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 ^a Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12 ^a And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city.

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 ^a But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets;

15 ^a And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 ^b And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God and toward men.

17 ¹ Now after many years, I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 ^a Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

19 ¹ Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had aught against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil-doing in me, while I stood before the council:

21 ^a Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead, I am called in question by you this day.

22 ¹ And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 ^a And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 ¹ And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 ^a But after two years, Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 ^a Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 ^b And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

21 * For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 ¹ Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come :

23 ^m That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 ¹ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 * For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely : for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him ; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets ? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 ^p And Paul said, I would to God that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 ¹ And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31 * And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Paul, shipping towards Rome, 10 foretelleth the danger of the voyage, but is not believed, &c.

^a AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 ^b And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia ; one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 * And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy ; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone ;

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The Fair Havens ; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 ¹ Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them ;

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless, the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter ; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south-west and north-west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat :

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship ; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship ;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 ¹ But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer : for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 ^a For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 * Saying, Fear not, Paul ; thou must be brought before Cesar : and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 ^c Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer ; for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 ^b Howbeit, we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country :

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms : and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 ^b And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 ¹ Wherefore I pray you to take some meat ; for this is for your health : for there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law;
13^a (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.
14^a For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:
15^a Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another.)
16^a In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.
17^a Behold, thou art called a Jew, and restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God, 18^a And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,
19^a And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,
20^a An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law:
21^a Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest, A man should not steal, dost thou steal?
22^a Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?
23^a Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?
24^a For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.
25^a For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.
26^a Therefore if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?
27^a And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?
28^a For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:
29^a But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

1^a The Jews' prerogative not made void by the unbelief of some... 20 None justified by the law, but all by God's grace through faith in Christ without difference, &c.

2^a What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?
3^a Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.
4^a For what, if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?
5^a God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.
6^a But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man.)
7^a God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?
8^a For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory, why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

9^a And not rather (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.
10^a What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin:
11^a As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:
12^a There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.
13^a They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
14^a Their throat is an open sepulchre: with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:
15^a Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
16^a Their feet are swift to shed blood:
17^a Destruction and misery are in their ways:
18^a And the way of peace have they not known:
19^a There is no fear of God before their eyes.
20^a Now we know, that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.
21^a Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.
22^a But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;
23^a Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference:
24^a For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;
25^a Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:
26^a Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;
27^a To declare, I say, at this time, his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.
28^a Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.
29^a Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.
30^a Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:
31^a Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.
32^a Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Abraham justified by faith: 18 his faith recorded for the sake of those who believe.

2^a What shall we then say, that Abraham, our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?
3^a For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory: but not before God.
4^a For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4^a Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5^e But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6^f Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works.

7^g Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11^h And he received the sign of circumcision; a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had, yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had, being yet uncircumcised.

13ⁱ For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

15^j Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16^k Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17^l (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18^m Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.

19ⁿ And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20^o He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21^p And being fully persuaded that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23^q Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24^r But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25^s Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God....12 Sin and death came by Adam, 17 righteousness and life by Jesus Christ.

THEREFORE, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2^b By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3^c And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4^d And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5^e And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6^f For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7^g For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9^h Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10ⁱ For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12^j Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

13^k (For until the law, sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14^l Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

15^m But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead:

much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation; but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17ⁿ For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ:)

18 Therefore, as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

19^o For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20^p Moreover, the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign, through righteousness, unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

1 We must not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it; 12 nor let sin reign in us....21 The end and wages of sin is death, &c.

WHAT shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2^b God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3^e Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?

4^a Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death ; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5^e For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection :

6^f Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7^g For he that is dead is freed from sin.

8^h Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him :

9ⁱ Knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more ; death hath no more dominion over him.

10^k For in that he died, he died unto sin once :
but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11^l Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12^m Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13ⁿ Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin : but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14^o For sin shall not have dominion over you :
for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15^p What then ? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace ? God forbid.

16^q Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey ; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness ?

17^r But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin : but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18^s Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh : for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity, unto iniquity ; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness.

20^t For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21^u What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed ? for the end of those things is death.

22^x But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness ; and the end, everlasting life.

23^y For the wages of sin is death ; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth....7 The law is not sin, 12 but holy, just, and good.

K NOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth ?

2^b For the woman which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband, so long as he liveth ; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3^c So then, if, while her husband liveth, she be

CHAPTER VII....VIII.

The law is holy, just, and good.

married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress ; but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law ; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4^d Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5^e For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6^f But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held ; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7^g What shall we say then ? Is the law sin ? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law :
for I had not known lust, except the law had said,
Thou shalt not covet.

8^h But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law, sin was dead.

9ⁱ For I was alive without the law once : but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10^k And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11^l For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12^m Wherefore the law is holy ; and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13ⁿ Was then that which is good made death unto me ? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good ; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14^o For we know that the law is spiritual ; but I am carnal, sold under sin.

15^p For that which I do, I find not : for what I would, that do I not ; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18^q For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing ; for to will is present with me ; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not : but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22^r For I delight in the law of God after the inward man :

23^s But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am ! who shall deliver me from the body of this death ?

25^t I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord.
So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin.

of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit, 17 and what

THERE is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4^a But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the mage of Baal.

5^a Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6^a And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7^a What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded,

8^a (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9^a And David saith, Let their table be made a snare and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back always.

11^a I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more their fulness?

13^a For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office;

14^a If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

15^a For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16^a For if the first-fruit be holy, the lump is also holy; and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17^a And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive-tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive-tree;

18^a Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20^a Well; because of unbelief they were broken off; and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22^a Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness; if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23^a And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24^a For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25^a For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits: that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26^a And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27^a For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28^a As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29^a For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30^a For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief;

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32^a For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33^a O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

34^a For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?

35^a Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36^a For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Holiness and conformity to God's will enjoined....6 Gifts to be used for the common benefit....9 Sundry practical duties recommended....19 Revenge specially forbidden.

I BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2^a And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3^a For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4^a For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office;

5^a So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6^a Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7^a Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or he that teacheth, on teaching;

8^a Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9^a Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10^a Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another;

11^a Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12^a Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer;

13^a Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality.

14^a Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15^a Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

18^a If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19^a Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves; but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20^a Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21^a Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Of subjection to magistrates....8 Love is a debt we always owe, and virtually containeth the whole law....11 Against gluttony, &c.

LET every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2^b Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3^a For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4^a For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5^a Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

6 For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7^a Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8^a Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9^b For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10^a Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11^a And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12^a The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13^a Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

14^a But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

How to treat a weak brother, and not to censure one another for things indifferent, &c.

HIM that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

2^b For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3^a Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4^a Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Ye, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5^a One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6^a He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord; for he giveth God thanks: and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not; and giveth God thanks.

7^a For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9^b But to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10^a But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11^a For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12^a So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13^a Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14^a I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15^a But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16^a Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17^a For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19^a Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

20^a For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21^a It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22^a Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23^a And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The strong ought to bear with the weak....2 We may not please ourselves, 7 but receive one another, as Christ also received us, &c.

WE then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2^b Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.

3^c For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4^d For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5^e Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one toward another, according to Christ Jesus;

6^f That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7^g Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.

8^h Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers;

9ⁱ And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

10^k And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11^l And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12^m And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13ⁿ Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace, in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

14^o And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15^p Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God, 16^q That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God.

18^r For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, 19^s Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20^t Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21^u But, as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22^v For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23^w But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24^x Wheresoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.

25^y But now I go unto Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

26^z For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27^a It hath pleased them, verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28^b When, therefore, I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29^c And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30^d Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31^e That I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judea; and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be accepted of the saints;

32^f That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33^g Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul sendeth salutations to many, 25 and endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I COMMEND unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea:

2^a That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you; for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3^b Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus:

4^c Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.

5^d Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my well-beloved Epnetus, who is the first-fruits of Achaia unto Christ.

6 Greet Mary; who bestowed much labour on us.

7^e Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles; who also were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane, our helper in Christ; and Stachys my beloved.

10^f Salute Apelles, approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus' household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13^g Salute Rufus, chosen in the Lord; and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.

16^h Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17ⁱ Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.

18^j For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly, and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

Anno DOMINI 61

19 ¹ For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf : but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil.

20 ^m And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

21 ^a Timotheus my work-fellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul, after salutation and thanksgiving, 10 exhorteth to unity, 11 and reproveth their dissensions...26 God, to take away boasting, rejecteth the wisdom of the wise.

PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,

2 ^b Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours :

3 ^c Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 ^d I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ ;

5 ^e That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge ;

6 ^f Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you :

7 ^g So that ye come behind in no gift ; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ :

8 ^h Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 ⁱ God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 ^k Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you ; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11 ^l For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 ^m Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul ; and I of Apollos ; and I of Cephas ; and I of Christ.

13 ⁿ Is Christ divided ? was Paul crucified for you ? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul ?

14 ^o I thank God that I baptized none of you but Crispus and Gaius ;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 ^p And I baptized also the household of Stephanas : besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 ^q For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel : not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 ^r For the preaching of the cross is to them that ER I...II.

24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25 ^P Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, (according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,

26 ^a But now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith;) and 27 ^t To God only wise, be glory, through Jesus Christ, for ever. Amen.

¶ Written to the Romans from Corinthus, and sent by Phiebe, servant of the church at Cenchrea.

Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.

19 ^a For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 ^a Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 ^a For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 ^a For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 ^v But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness; and 24 ^b But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 ^a For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27 ^b But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty;

28 ^a And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 ^a That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 ^a But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 ^a That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

1 How Paul preached the gospel; 6 which is God's wise counsel for men's salvation.

^a AND I, brethren, when I came to you, did come with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God:

2 ^a For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 ^a And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 ^a And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

5 ° That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 ° Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect : yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world that come to nought :

7 ° But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory :

8 ° Which none of the princes of this world knew : for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 ° But, as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 ° But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit : for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 ° For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him ? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 ° Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God ; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 ° Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth ; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 ° But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God : for they are foolishness unto him : neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 ° But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.

16 ° For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him ? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

1 How Paul dealt with weak believers....5 The most eminent preachers only instruments, &c.

A ND I, brethren, could not speak unto you, as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.

2 ° I have fed you with milk, and not with meat : for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 ° For ye are yet carnal : for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men ?

4 ° For while one saith, I am of Paul ; and another, I am of Apollos ; are ye not carnal ?

5 ° Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man ?

6 ° I have planted, Apollos watered ; but God gave the increase.

7 ° So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth ; but God that giveth the increase.

8 ° Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one : and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 ° For we are labourers together with God : ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10 ° According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 ° For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

12 ° Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble ;

13 ° Every man's work shall be made manifest : for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire ; and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14 ° If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15 ° If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss : but he himself shall be saved ; yet so as by fire.

16 ° Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you ?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy ; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 ° Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 ° For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God : for it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 ° And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 ° Therefore let no man glory in men : for all things are yours ;

22 ° Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come ; all are yours :

23 ° And ye are Christ's ; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

1 How to account of Christ's ministers....8 To a self-sufficient vanity Paul opposeth his own afflicted state, &c.

LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 ° Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be faithful.

3 ° But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment ; yea, I judge not mine own self :

4 ° For I know nothing by myself ; yet am I not hereby justified : but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 ° Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts : and then shall every man have praise of God.

6 ° And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes ; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7 ° For who maketh thee to differ from another ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive ? Now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it ?

8 ° Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us : and I would to God ye did reign ; that we also might reign with you.

9 ° For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death : for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 ° We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ ; we are weak, but ye are strong ; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

Of the incestuous person.

11 ¹ Even unto this present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;
12 ² And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it;
13 ³ Being defamed, we entreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.
14 ⁴ I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.
15 ⁵ For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for, in Christ Jesus, I have begotten you through the gospel.
16 ⁶ Wherefore, I beseech you, be ye followers of me.
17 ⁷ For this cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.
18 ⁸ Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.
19 ⁹ But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.
20 ¹⁰ For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.
21 ¹¹ What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

1 ¹ Of the incestuous person....6 Of necessity the old leaven must be purged out, &c.
² IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.
2 ³ And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.
3 ⁴ For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed;
4 ⁵ In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,
5 ⁶ To deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.
6 ⁷ Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?
7 ⁸ Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:
8 ⁹ Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.
9 ¹⁰ I wrote unto you in an epistle, not to company with fornicators:
10 ¹¹ Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world.
11 ¹² But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no not to eat.
12 ¹³ For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?

CHAPTER V....VI....VII.

13 ¹ But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER VI.

1 ¹ Of bringing controversies before heathen judges....7 How lawsuits may be avoided.
DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?
2 ² Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?
3 ³ Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?
4 ⁴ If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.
5 ⁵ I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?
6 ⁶ But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.
7 ⁷ Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?
8 ⁸ Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren.
9 ⁹ Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, 10 ¹⁰ Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.
11 ¹¹ And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.
12 ¹² All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.
13 ¹³ Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.
14 ¹⁴ And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.
15 ¹⁵ Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid.
16 ¹⁶ What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.
17 ¹⁷ But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.
18 ¹⁸ Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.
19 ¹⁹ What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?
20 ²⁰ For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER VII.

1 ¹ The use of marriage....10 Christ hath forbidden to dissolve the bond thereof, &c.
NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.

7 For I would that all men were even as I myself. But every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.

23 Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord, yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress; I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carehness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not. let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 So then, he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39 The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Charity preferable to knowledge... 4 An idol is nothing to those who rightly know God.

NOW as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many.)

6 But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 ^a Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge : for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as a thing offered unto an idol ; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8 ^b But meat commendeth us not to God : for neither, if we eat, are we the better ; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.

9 ^c But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10 ^d For if any man see thee, which hast knowledge, sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols ;

11 ^e And though thy knowledge shall the weak brother whom Christ died ?

12 ^f When ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 ^g Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Paul asserteth his apostolical character, 3 and right to a maintenance : 24 he striveth to obtain an incorruptible crown.

A ^h M I not an apostle ? am I not free ? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord ? are not ye my work in the Lord ?

2 ⁱ If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless
I am to you : for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 ^j Mine answer to them that do examine me is this ;
4 ^k Have we not power to eat and to drink ?

5 ^l Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas ?

6 ^m Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working ?

7 ⁿ Who goeth a warfare at any time at his own charges ? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof ? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock ?

8 ^o Say I these things as a man ? or saith not the law the same also ?

9 ^p For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen ?

10 ^q Or saith he it altogether for our sakes ? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written : that he that ploweth should plow in hope ; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11 ^r If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things ?

12 ^s If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather ? Nevertheless we have not used this power ; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 ^t Doye not know, that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple ? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar ?

14 ^u Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 ^v But I have used none of these things : neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me : for it were better for me to die than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 ^w For though I preach the gospel, I have noth-

CHAPTER IX....X.

Life compared to a race.

ing to glory of : for necessity is laid upon me ; yea, wo is unto me if I preach not the gospel !

17 ^x For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward : but if against my will, a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 ^y What is my reward then ? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge ; that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 ^z For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.

20 ^{aa} And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews ; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law ;

21 ^{ab} To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 ^{ac} To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak : I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I may be partaker thereof with you.

24 ^{ad} Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize ? So run, that ye may obtain.

25 ^{ae} And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown ; but we an incorruptible.

26 ^{af} I therefore so run, not as uncertainly ; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air ;

27 ^{ag} But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection ; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.

CHAPTER X.

1 The Jews had sacraments typical of ours....6 Christians must not hasten after evil things : 7 they must avoid idolatry ; 13 God will in affliction make a way for them to escape, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea ;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea ;

3 ^b And did all eat the same spiritual meat ;

4 ^c And did all drink the same spiritual drink ; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them : and that Rock was Christ.

5 ^d But with many of them God was not well pleased ; for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 ^e Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

7 ^f Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them ;
as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 ^g Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day, three and twenty thousand.

9 ^h Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 ⁱ Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 ^j Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples : and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 ^k Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 ^a There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 ^a Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

15 ^a I speak as to wise men; judge ye what I say.

16 ^a The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 ^a For we, being many, are one bread, and one body; for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 ^a Behold Israel after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 ^a What say I then? that the idol is any thing? or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 ^a But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God; and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 ^a Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22 ^a Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?

23 ^a All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24 ^a Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25 ^a Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake:

26 ^a For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 ^a If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go: whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience' sake.

28 ^a But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols; eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience' sake: for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:

29 ^a Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other: for why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience?

30 ^a For, if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of, for that for which I give thanks?

31 ^a Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 ^a Be ye none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

33 ^a Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

1 He exhorteth them, 3 and forbiddeth men to pray or prophesy with their heads covered, and women with their heads uncovered... 23 Of the Lord's supper.

^a Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 ^a Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 ^a But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God.

4 ^a Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 ^a But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were shaven.

6 ^a For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 ^a For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 ^a For the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man:

9 Neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 ^a For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 ^a For as the church is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering.

16 ^a But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 ^a For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 ^a For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 ^a For in eating, every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 ^a What! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 ^a For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 ^a For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

27 ^a Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 ^a But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 ^a For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 ^a For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

Diversity of spiritual gifts.
32^a But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.
33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.
34^a And if any man hunger, let him eat at home ; that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest will I set in order when I come.
CHAPTER XII.
1 Spiritual gifts are diverse, 7 yet to profit withal, 8 and to that end are all diversely bestowed of God for the general good.
NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.
2^b Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away into these dumb idols, even as ye were led.
3^c Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed ; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.
4^d Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.
5^e And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.
6^f And there are diversities of operations ; but it is the same God which worketh all in all.
7^g But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.
8^h For to one is given, by the Spirit, the word of wisdom ; to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit ;
9ⁱ To another faith, by the same Spirit ; to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit ;
10^k To another the working of miracles ; to another prophecy ; to another discerning of spirits ; to another divers kinds of tongues ; to another the interpretation of tongues :
11^l But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.
12^m For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body, so also is Christ.
13ⁿ For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free ; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.
14 For the body is not one member, but many.
15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body ; is it therefore not of the body ?
16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body ; is it therefore not of the body ?
17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing ? if the whole were hearing, where were the smelling ?
18^o But now hath God set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.
19 And if they were all one member, where were the body ?
20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.
21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee : nor again, the head to the feet, I have no need of you.
22 Nay, much more, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble, are necessary :

CHAPTER XII....XIII....XIV.

The praise of charity.

23 And those members of the body which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour ; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.
24 For our comely parts have no need ; but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked :
25 That there should be no schism in the body ; but that the members should have the same care one for another.
26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it ; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.
27^p Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.
28^q And God hath set some in the church ; first, apostles ; secondarily, prophets ; thirdly, teachers ; after that, miracles ; then gifts of healings, helps in governments, diversities of tongues.
29 Are all apostles ? are all prophets ? are all teachers ? are all workers of miracles ?
30 Have all the gifts of healing ? do all speak with tongues ? do all interpret ?
31^r But covet earnestly the best gifts : and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.
CHAPTER XIII.
1 All gifts, however excellent, are nothing without charity ; the praise thereof.
THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.
2^s And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge ; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
3^t And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4^u Charity suffereth long, and is kind ; charity envieth not ; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,
5^v Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil ;
6^w Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth ;
7^x Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
8^y Charity never faileth : but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail ; whether there be tongues, they shall cease ; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.
9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in part :
10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.
11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child ; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.
12^z For now we see through a glass, darkly ; but then face to face : now I know in part : but then shall I know even as also I am known.
13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three ; but the greatest of these is charity.
CHAPTER XIV.

speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3^e But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6^a Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore, if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian; and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12^e Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13^f Wherefore, let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14^g For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth; but my understanding is unfruitful.

15^h What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

16ⁱ Else, when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18^k I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20^l Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children; but in understanding be men.

21^m In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?

24ⁿ But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25^o And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so, falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26^p How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29^q Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31^r For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32^s And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33^t For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

34^u Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What! came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37^v If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38^w But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39^x Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40^y Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection the apostle inferreth the necessity of our resurrection....23 Christ the first-fruits....35 The manner of the resurrection, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand:

2^b By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3^c For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures;

4^d And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:

5^e And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve:

6^f After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7^g After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.

8^h And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.

9ⁱ For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10^h But by the grace of God I am what I am :
and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all:
yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.
11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.
12ⁱ Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13^j But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen:
14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.
15^k Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God:
because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:
17^l And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain:
ye are yet in your sins.
18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.
19^m If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.
20ⁿ But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.
21^o For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.
22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.
23^p But every man in his own order; Christ the first-fruits; afterward they that are Christ's, at his coming.
24^q Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father:
when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.
25^r For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26^s The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27^t For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him; it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28^u And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30^v And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31^w I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32^x If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34^y Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35^z But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36^a Thou fool! that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die:
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not

CHAPTER XVI.

An exhortation to steadfast faith.

that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41^b There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars:
for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory:
it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45^c And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47^d The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48^e As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49^f And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50^g Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51^h Behold, I shew you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52ⁱ In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53^j For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54^k So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55^l O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56^m The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57ⁿ But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58^o Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I

8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

me, and there are many adversaries.

10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me;
for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

† The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 The apostle encourageth against troubles, 12 sheweth the sincerity of his preaching, 15 and excuseth his not coming to them.

a PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer:
or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 Who delivered us from so great a death, and cloth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

11 Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that 14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints,)

16 That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours:
therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with a holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maran atha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

† The first epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit:

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which establisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God;

22 Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that, to spare you, I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER II.

1 The reasons of Paul's not coming unto them....6 Of the excommunicated person.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2^b For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4^c For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5^b But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6^a Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7^c So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you, that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9^a For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10^b To whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also: for if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgive it, for your sakes forgive I it in the person of Christ;

11^a Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12^a Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord, 13^a I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14^a Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15^a For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:

16^a To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?

17^a For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

CHAPTER III.

He sheweth that their gifts and graces were a sufficient commendation of his ministry.

DO we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2^b Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3^a Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4^a And such trust have we through Christ to Godward:

5^a Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

6^a Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

7^a But if the ministration of death, written and engraved in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away;

8 How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be rather glorious?

9^b For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12^a Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:

13^a And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

14^a But their minds were blinded; for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament: which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16^a Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17^a Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18^a But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Paul's unwearied diligence and zeal in preaching; 7 his troubles for the same.

THEREFORE, seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2^b But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth, commanding ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3^a But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4^a In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5^a For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.

6^a For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7^a But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8^a We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9^a Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10^a Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11^a For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 ^a So then death worketh in us, but life in you. 13 ^a We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 ^a Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15 ^a For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might, through the thanksgiving of many, redound to the glory of God.

16 ^a For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 ^a For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 ^a While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER V.

Paul, in assured hope of immortal glory, laboureth to approve himself to Christ, &c.

^a FOR we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 ^a For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 ^a If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 ^a For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 ^a Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 ^a Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord;

7 ^a (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8 ^a We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 ^a Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 ^a For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 ^a Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 ^a For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13 ^a For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 ^a For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 ^a And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 ^a Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 ^a Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 ^a And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 ^a To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 ^a Now then we are ambassadors for Christ; as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 ^a For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Paul's sufferings and patience in the ministry.... 14 Exhortation to avoid idolaters, &c.

^a WE then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 ^a (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 ^a Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 ^a But in all things approving ourselves, as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 ^a In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 ^a By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 ^a By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 ^a By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9 ^a As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10 ^a As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 ^a O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12 ^a Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13 ^a Now for a recompense in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 ^a Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 ^a And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16 ^a And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 ^a Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you;

Exhortation to holiness.

18 * And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER VII.

1 He exhorteth to purity of life, 3 and sheweth the source of his comfort in afflictions.

HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 ^b Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 ^c I speak not this to condemn you; for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 ^d Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 ^e For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side: without were fightings, within were fears.

6 ^f Nevertheless God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 ^g For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 ^h Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance, for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 ⁱ For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 ^j For behold this self-same thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 ^k Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 ^l For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so your boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 ^m And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 ⁿ I rejoice, therefore, that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to contribute to the saints: 16 he commendeth Titus and others, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 ^a How that, in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power (I bear record) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing of themselves;

4 ^c Praying us with much entreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God:

6 ^d Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 ^e Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 ^f I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 ^g For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 ^h And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 ⁱ For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 ^j For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality:

15 ^k As it is written, He that had gathered much had nothing over: and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 ^l For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 ^m And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 ⁿ Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 ^o Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 ^p Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren, be inquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ

24 ^q Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

Exhortations to liberality.

CHAPTER IX.

Anno
1600

1 He sheweth why he sent the brethren, 6 and stirreth them up to give bountifully, as a likely means to increase their store, &c.

FOR as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

2^b For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3^c Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4^d Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5^e Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your ^f bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6^f But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7^g Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver.

8^h And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all-sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

9ⁱ (As it is written, He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10^k Now he that ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness;)

11^l Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12^m For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13ⁿ While by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men;

14^o And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER X.

Paul wisheth for no cause to exert his spiritual power and authority, &c.

NOW I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2^b But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3^c For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4^d (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5^e Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

6^f And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7^g Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8^h For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed:

9ⁱ That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10^k For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11^l Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also indeed when we are present.

12^m For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13ⁿ But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14^o For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ:

15^p Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly, 16^q To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17^r But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18^s For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Paul unwillingly entereth into a commendation of himself with the other apostles; 7 he declineth being chargeable; 23 he sheweth his sufferings for the gospel.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly: and indeed bear with me.

2^b For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3^c But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4^d For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5^e For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6^f But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7^g Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?

8 ^h I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.
9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man : for that which was lacking to me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied : and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.
10 ⁱ As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.
11 ^k Wherefore ? because I love you not ? God knoweth.
12 ^l But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion ; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.
13 ^m For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.
14 And no marvel ; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.
15 ⁿ Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness ; whose end shall be according to their works.
16 ^o I say again, Let no man think me a fool ; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.
17 ^p That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.
18 ^q Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.
19 ^r For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.
20 ^s For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.
21 ^t I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.
22 ^u Are they Hebrews ? so am I. Are they Israelites ? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham ? so am I.
23 ^v Are they ministers of Christ ? (I speak as a fool) I am more ; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.
24 ^w Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one.
25 ^x Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep ;
26 ^y In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren ;
27 ^z In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.
28 ^a Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.
29 ^b Who is weak, and I am not weak ? who is offended, and I burn not ?
30 ^c If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.
31 ^d The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.
32 ^e In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me :

CHAPTER XII.

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.
CHAPTER XII.
1 He chooseth to commend his apostleship, not by revelations, but by his infirmities, blaming them for forcing his boasting.
2 ^f It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.
3 ^g I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body I cannot tell ; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ;) such a one caught up to the third heaven.
4 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ;) how that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter.
5 ^h Of such a one will I glory : yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.
6 ⁱ For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool ; for I will say the truth : but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.
7 ^j And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan, to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.
8 ^k For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.
9 ^l And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee : for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.
10 ^m Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake : for when I am weak, then am I strong.
11 ⁿ I am become a fool in glorying ; ye have compelled me : for I ought to have been commended of you : for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.
12 ^o Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.
13 ^p For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you ? forgive me this wrong.
14 ^q Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you ; and I will not be burdensome to you : for I seek not yours, but you : for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.
15 ^r And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you ; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.
16 But be it so, I did not burden you ; nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.
17 ^s Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you ?
18 ^t I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother ; did Titus make a gain of you ? walked we not in the same spirit ? walked we not in the same steps ?
19 ^u Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you ? we speak before God in Christ : but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.
20 ^v For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not : lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults :

21 And lest, when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness, and fornication, and lasciviousness which they have committed.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 He threateneth obstinate sinners: 5 He adviseth them to a trial of their faith.

THIS is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2^o I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

3^o Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4^o For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5^o Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's salutation: 6 He wonders that they had so soon left the truth of the gospel, &c.

PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead:)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3^o Grace be to you, and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4^o Who gave himself for our sias, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6^o I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7^o Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8^o But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9^o As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10^o For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11^o But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12^o For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13^o For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it;

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15^o But when it pleased God, who separated me

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7^o Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8^o For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9^o For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.

10^o Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11^o Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12^o Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace, 16^o To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18^o Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19^o But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother.

20^o Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21^o Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth when and for what purpose he went up to Jerusalem.... 14 Of justification by faith, and not by works: 20 they that are so justified live not in sin.

THEN, || fourteen years after, I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2^o And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles; but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.

3^o But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4^o And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

Of justification by faith.

5 * To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 * But of those who † seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me:

7 * But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the incircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8 * (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles;)

9 * And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor: the same which I also was forward to do.

11 * But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed. 12 * For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 * But when I saw that they || walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15 * We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, 16 * Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 * But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I † destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 * For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

20 * I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 * I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER III.

1 He asketh what moved them to depend on the law, having received the Spirit through faith... 6 Abraham being justified by faith, so they who are of faith inherit his blessing.

* FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 * This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

CHAPTER III.

Abraham justified by faith.

3 * Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4 * Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 * He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 * Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

7 * Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 * And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 * For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 * But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

12 * And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13 * Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 * That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 * Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant: yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 * Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17 * And this I say, That the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 * For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 * Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 * But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 * Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26 * For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, 20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,
21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.
22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, 23 Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.
24 And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.
25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.
26 Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.
CHAPTER VI.
1 He willeth them to reform the faulty with gentleness, and to bear one another's burdens; 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not to be weary in well-doing.
Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.
2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.
3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.
4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another:
5 For every man shall bear his own burden.

CHAPTER 1.

6 Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.
7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
8 For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.
9 And let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.
10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.
11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.
12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.
13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.
14 But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.
15 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.
16 And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.
17 From henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.
18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
1 Unto the Galatians, written from Rome.

Well-doing recommended.

The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul blesseth God for spiritual blessings...4 Of election, 5 and adoption, 11 which is the proper fountain of man's salvation, &c.
PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:
2 Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:
4 According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy, and without blame before him in love:
5 Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,
6 To the praise of the glory of his grace wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved:
7 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace:
8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;
9 Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself:
10 That in the dispensation of the fulness of times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven and which are on earth; even in him:

11 In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:
12 That we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.
13 In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.
15 Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, 16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;
17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:
18 The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints.
19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, 20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised our mouth, but that which is good to the use of edi-

26 * That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word :

27 * That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies : he that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh ; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church :

30 ^b For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 ^a For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery : but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 ^a Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself ; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The relative duties of children ; 4 of parents ; 5 of servants ; 9 of masters.... 13 He exhorteth to resist spiritual enemies by putting on the Christian armour.

^a CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord : for this is right.

2 ^b Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise.)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 ^a And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath : but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 ^d Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters, according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ ;

6 ^a Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers ; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart ;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men :

8 ^a Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 ^a And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening : knowing that your Master also is in heaven ; neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 ^b Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 ^a Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 ^a For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

13 ^a Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 ^a Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness ;

15 ^a And your feet shod, with the preparation of the gospel of peace ;

16 ^a Above all, taking the shield of faith, whereby ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 ^a And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God :

18 ^a Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints ;

19 ^a And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel.

20 ^a For which I am an ambassador in bonds ; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 ^a But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things :

22 ^a Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

† The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 Paul's thankfulness and prayer to God for them : 21 his readiness to suffer : 27 he exhorteth them to walk worthily.

^a PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons :

2 ^a Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^a I thank my God upon every remembrance of you,

4 (Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,)

5 ^a For your fellowship in the gospel, from the first day until now ;

6 ^a Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ :

7 ^a Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart : inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.

8 ^a For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 ^a And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment ;

10 ^a That ye may approve things that are excellent ; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ ;

11 ^a Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel :

13 ^a So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in in all other places ;

14 ^a And many of the brethren in the Lord, wax-

The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul thanketh God for their faith, 9 prayeth for their increase in grace, 15 and describeth the exalted nature and office of Christ.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,
2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints ;

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel ;

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world ; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth :

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ ;

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding ;

10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God ;

11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness ;

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light :

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son :

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins ;

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature :

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers : all things were created by him, and for him :

17 And he is before all things, and by him all things consist :

18 And he is the head of the body, the church, who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead, that in all things he might have the pre-eminence :

19 For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell :

20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself ; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy, and unblameable, and unproveable in his sight ;

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven ; whereof I Paul am made a minister ;

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church ;

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God ;

26 Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints :

27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles ; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory :

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom ; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus :

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhortheth them to constancy in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy and human traditions, 16 not to submit to legal ordinances, worshipping of angels, &c.

1 FOR I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh ;

2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ ;

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him :

7 Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ :

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power ;

11 In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ ;

12 Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses ;

14 Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross ;

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16^a Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a holy-day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath-days;

17^a Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18^a Let us not beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind;

19^a And not holding the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20^a Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21^a (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

22^a Which all are to perish with the using,) after the commandments and doctrines of men?

23^a Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER III.

1 He exhorteth to be heavenly minded; 5 to mortify corrupt lusts, and all malice; 12 to put on kindness, charity, &c. 18 Sundry other relative duties.

1^a If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2^a Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3^a For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4^a When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

5^a Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:

6^a For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:

7^a In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye lived in them.

8^a But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9^a Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10^a And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:

11^a Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

12^a Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering;

13^a Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14^a And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

15^a And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.

16^a Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17^a And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18^a Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.

19^a Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20^a Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well-pleasing unto the Lord.

21^a Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22^a Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23^a And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24^a Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25^a But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely, 6 and with well-ordered speech; 7 he commendeth Tychicus and Onesimus.... 10 Sundry salutations.

1^a MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2^a Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

3^a Withal, praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

4^a That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5^a Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6^a Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7^a All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord;

8^a Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9^a With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10^a Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him:)

11^a And Jesus, which is called Justus; who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12^a Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13^a For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14^a Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, greet you.

15^a Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, ye recommended.

and Nymphas, and the church which is in his house.
16^a And when this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye likewise read the epistle from Laodicea.
17^a And say to Archippus, Take heed to the
The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.
CHAPTER I.
Paul sheweth his remembrance of them in thanksgiving and prayer, 5 and approveth their exemplary reception of the gospel.
PAUL, and Silvanns, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
2^b We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;
3^c Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;
4^d Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.
5^e For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.
6^f And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost;
7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.
8^g For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.
9^h For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God;
10ⁱ And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.
CHAPTER II.
In what manner the gospel was preached unto them, and how they received it; 17 he sheweth his desire of coming to them, &c.
FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:
2^b But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.
3^c For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of meanness, nor in guile:
4^d But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
5^e For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness:
6^f Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.
7^g But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.
18^a The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

5^e For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.

6^a But now, when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you;

7^e Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you, in all our affliction and distress, by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10^f Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12^g And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13^h To the end he may establish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to go on in godliness, 7 to holiness, 9 to love, 11 to quietness.... 15 The saints' resurrection, and Christ's second coming.

FURTHERMORE then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus. that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3^b For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4^c That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5^d Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

6^e That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7^f For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8^g He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his Holy Spirit.

9^h But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10ⁱ And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11^k And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12^l That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13^m But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

14ⁿ For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15^o For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16^p For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17^q Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18^r Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

1 He sheweth that Christ's second coming will be sudden, and exhorteth to watch; 14 he giveth divers precepts, &c.

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2^a For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3^b For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4^c But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5^d Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6^e Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7^f For they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8^g But let us who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9^h For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ.

10ⁱ Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11^j Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12^k And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and to admonish you;

13^l And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

14^m Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15ⁿ See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16^o Rejoice evermore.

17^p Pray without ceasing.

18^q In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19^r Quench not the Spirit.

20^s Despise not prophesyings.

21^t Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.

22^u Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23^v And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24^w Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25^x Brethren, pray for us.

26^y Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27^z I charge you by the Lord, that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28^a The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13^a But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing.

15^a Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

† The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

3 Paul remindeth Timothy of his charge....5 The end of the commandment is charity....8 The scope of the law was to condemn wickedness, which is also the design of the gospel.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope;

2^b Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3^c As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine, 4^d Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying, which is in faith; so do.

5^e Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6^f From which some having swerved, have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7^g Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8^h But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9ⁱ Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10^k For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine;

11^l According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12^m And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry;

13ⁿ Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief:

14^o And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15^p This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16^q Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, for a pattern to them, which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17^r Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18^s This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on 16^a Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17^a The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18^a The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

1^a The second epistle to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare:

19^a Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwreck:

20^a Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhorteth to pray and give thanks for all men, 4 for God willett the salvation of all men; 7 his commission to the Gentiles...9 How women ought to be attired, &c.

I EXHORT therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men:

2^a For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3^b For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

4^c Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5^d For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6^e Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.

7^f Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not,) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8^g I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9^h In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10ⁱ But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11^j Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12^k But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13^k For Adam was first formed, then Eve.

14^l And Adam was not deceived; but the woman being deceived, was in the transgression.

15^m Notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith, and charity, and holiness, with sobriety.

CHAPTER III.

1 How bishops and deacons, and their wives, should be qualified: 14 and to what end St. Paul wrote to Timothy of these things...16 The important truths of the Christian revelation.

THIS is a true saying. If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.

2^a A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach:

ought to be attired.

CHAPTER IV....V.

Of widows and elders.

example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in clarity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13¹ Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14^a Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all.

16^a Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Rules to be observed in reproving....3 Of widows and elders.

23 A precept for Timothy's health.

REBUKE not an elder, but entreat him as a father: and the younger men as brethren;

2^b The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3^c Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4^d But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5^e Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7^f And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8^g But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,

10^h Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13ⁱ And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14^k I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16^l If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17^m Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18ⁿ For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19^o Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

20^p Them that sin rebuke before all; that others also may fear.

3^a Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7^a Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach, and the snare of the devil.

8^b Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9^c Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.

13^d For they that have used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14^e These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15^f But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16^g And, without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He foretelleth and describeth a great apostasy....6 Directions to Timothy.

NOW the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;

2^b Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3^c Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4^d For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6^e If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7^f But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8^g For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9^h This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation.

10ⁱ For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

3^c For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

4^d And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

5^e But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

6^f For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7^g I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8^h Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9ⁱ Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10^k For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11^l Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee; for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12^m And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14ⁿ Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16^o At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17^p Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me: that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18^q And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

1 The second epistle unto Timotheus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was brought before Nero the second time.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, to TITUS.

CHAPTER I.

5 Why Titus was left at Crete, 10 Of evil-doers.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness;

2^b In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began;

3^c But hath in due time manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4^d To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5^e For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6^f If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7^g For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8^h But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate:

9ⁱ Holding fast the faithful word, as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10^k For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision:

11^l Whose mouths must be stopped; who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13^m This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply; that they may be sound in the faith:

14ⁿ Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turn from the truth.

15^o Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16^p They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, &c.

BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience;

3^b The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5^c To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober-minded.

7^d In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8^e Sound speech that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9^f Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again;

Heretics to be rejected.

10^s Not burloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11^h For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,

12^t Teaching us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world:

13^k Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

14^l Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

15^m These things speak, and exhort; and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach, &c.

PUT them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,

2^o To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

3^e For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4^d But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5^e Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;

6^t Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

7^s That, being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

8^h This is a faithful saying; and these things I will that thou affirm constantly; that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9^l But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

10^k A man that is a heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject;

11 Knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.

12^t When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.

13^u Bring Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14^v And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ It was written to Titus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL to PHILEMON.

1 Paul's joy in hearing of the faith and love of Philemon. Onesimus entreated for.

PAUL, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2^a And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house:

3 Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4^c I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5^d Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;

6^e That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7^f For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8^g Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient, 9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10^h I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is mine own bowels:

13ⁱ Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:

14^j But without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15^k For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16^l Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, especially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account;

19^m I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21ⁿ Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22^o But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23^p There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus;

24^q Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the HEBREWS.

CHAPTER I.

1 The essential dignity of the Son, by whom God hath revealed himself in these last days : 4 his pre-eminence above the angels in office.

GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds ;

3 Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high ;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee ? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son ?

6 And again, when he bringeth in the first-begotten unto the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever : a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom :

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity ; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth ; and the heavens are the works of thy hands :

11 They shall perish, but thou remainest ; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment ;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed : but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool ?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation ?

CHAPTER II.

1 Our obligation to give earnest heed to the gospel... 5 The dominion of the world not granted to angels, but to the Son, &c.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward ;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation ; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him ;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will ?

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him ? or the son of man, that thou visitest him ?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels ; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands ;

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him :

9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour ; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one ; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren ;

12 Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren ; in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I, and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same : that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil ;

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels : but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people :

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ is shewed to be more worthy than Moses : 7 therefore we must be careful not to follow the example of the obstinate and unbelieving Israelites, &c.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus ;

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man ; but he that built all things is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after :

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house ; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To-day, if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness ;

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

CHAPTER IV....V.

Of Christ's priesthood.

10^a Wherefore I was grieved with that generation; and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11^a So I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

12^a Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13^a But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14^a For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end:

15^a While it is said, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16^a For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17^a But with whom was he grieved forty years? as it is not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

18^a And to whom swore he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19^a So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The Christian's rest to be attained by faith.... 12 The power of God's word, &c.

LET us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2^b For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3^c For we which have believed do enter into it; as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4^d For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6^e Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7^f Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To-day, after so long a time; (as it is said) To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9^g Therefore remaineth for a rest to the people of God.

10^h For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11ⁱ Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

12^j For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13^k Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14^l Seeing then that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15^m For we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16ⁿ Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

Of the high priests taken from among men; wherewith Christ's priesthood is compared, and its privileges set forth.

THEREFORE every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2^b Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3^c And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4^d And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5^e So also Christ glorified not himself to be made a high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

6^f As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec.

7^g Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared;

8^h Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

9ⁱ And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10^j Called of God a high priest, after the order of Melchisedec.

11^k Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be entered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12^l For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13^m For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14ⁿ But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use, have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The higher doctrines of Christianity proposed to be treated of.... 10 Of charitable deeds, &c.

THEREFORE, leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2^b Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

3^c And this will we do, if God permit.

4^d For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5^e And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6^f If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God :

8 ^B But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing ; whose end is to be burned.

9 ^B beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10 ^B For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 ^B And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end :

12 ^B That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 ^B For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he swore by himself, 14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 ^B And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 ^B For men verily swear by the greater : and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 ^B Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath :

18 ^B That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us :

19 ^B Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that which is within the veil ;

20 ^B Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made a high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ, a priest after the order of Melchisedec, is proved to be far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

2 ^FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him ;

3 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all : first being, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and after that also, King of Salem, which is, King of peace ;

4 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life ; but, made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually.

5 ^Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

6 ^B And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham :

7 ^B But he, whose descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

8 ^B And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

9 ^B And here men that die receive tithes ; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

10 ^B For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11 ^B If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron ?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity, a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 ^B For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda ; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 ^B And it is yet far more evident : for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 ^B For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 ^B For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof :

19 ^B For the law made nothing perfect ; but the bringing in of a better hope did ; by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest ;

21 ^B (For those priests were made without an oath ; but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec ;)

22 ^B By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23 ^B And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death :

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25 ^B Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 ^B For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens ;

27 ^B Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's : for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28 ^B For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity ; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 The excellency of Christ's ministry, 6 being the mediator of a better covenant.

2 ^NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum : We have such a high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens ;

3 ^B A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

4 ^B For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices : wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin, thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law:

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having a high priest over the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised);

24 And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is: but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins.

27 But certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries:

28 He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazing-stock, both by reproaches and afflictions: and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience; that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The nature of faith....6 Without faith we cannot please God: the fruits of faith.

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he, being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16^a Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright;

17^a For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18^a For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19^a And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard, entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20^a (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22^a But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,

23^a To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, 24^a And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

25^a See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26^a Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27^a And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28^a Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29^a For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Exhortations to charity, 2 to hospitality, 3 pity to the afflicted, 4 chastity, 5 contentment, 7 to regard God's preachers, 9 to avoid strange doctrines, &c.

LET brotherly love continue.

2^b Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

3^c Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4^d Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5^e Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee.

6^f So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7^g Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8^h Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

9ⁱ Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace: not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10^k We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11^l For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12^m Wherefore Jesus also that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

13ⁿ Let us go forth therefore unto him, without the camp, bearing his reproach:

14^o For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15^p By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name.

16^q But to do good, and to communicate, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17^r Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account; that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18^s Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19^t But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20^u Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, 21^v Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23^w Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ Written to the Hebrews from Italy by Timothy.

¶ The general Epistle of JAMES.

CHAPTER I.

1 The Apostle's address: he exhorteth to patience in affliction, 6 to pray in faith... 14 Our lusts tempt us to sin.

JAMES, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2^a My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations;

3^b Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4^c But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5^d If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven by the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted;

10 But the rich in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof withereth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whose looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

1 We must not regard the rich, and despise the poor....10 The guilt of any one breach of the law....17 Faith without works is dead.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel; and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool.

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Harken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not work? Can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER III.

1 We must not rashly or arrogantly reprove others....2 The importance of governing the tongue....13 How true wisdom will manifest itself, in opposition to strife and envy.

MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 ^c Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 ^d Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 ^e And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:

8 ^f But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9 ^g Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive-berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 ^h Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 ⁱ But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 ^k This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16 ^l For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

18 ^m And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Our evil lusts cause contention: 7 how we may overcome them, and gain God's favour.

FROM whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?

2 ^b Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 ^c Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4 ^d Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5 ^e Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?

6 ^f But he giveth more grace: wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 ^g Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 ^h Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.

Cleanse your hands, ye sinners: and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

9 ⁱ Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 ^k Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 ^l Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 ^m There is one Lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13 ⁿ Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14 ^o Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 ^p For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 ^q But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17 ^r Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER V.

1 Wicked rich men warned of God's judgments....7 Of patience. 13 To pray in adversity.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 ^b Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten.

3 ^c Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 ^d Behold, the hire of the labourers which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5 ^e Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 ^f Ye have condemned and killed the just: and he doth not resist you.

7 ^g Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

8 ^h Be ye also patient; establish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 ⁱ Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge standeth before the door.

10 ^k Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 ^l Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 ^m But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15^a Moreover, I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16^a For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

17^a For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18^a And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19^a We have also a more sure word of prophecy: whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts:

20^a Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21^a For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER II.

He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment of them and their followers, &c.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3^a And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4^a For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5^a And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6^a And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7^a And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8^a (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)

9^a The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10^a But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government: presumptuous are they, self-willed; they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11^a Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12^a But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption:

13^a And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you;

14^a Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: a heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15^a Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16^a But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, forbade the madness of the prophet.

17^a These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18^a For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

19^a While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20^a For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21^a For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22^a But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

1 The certainty of Christ's coming to judgment... 11 An exhortation to godliness.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2^a That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3^a Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4^a And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5^a For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6^a Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7^a But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8^a But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9^a The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

10^a But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the works that are therein, shall be burned up.

11^a Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness;

12^a Looking for and hastening unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13^a Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14^a Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless:

15^a And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16^a As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17^a Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness:

18^a But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory, both now and for ever. Amen.

The First Epistle general of JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 He declareth what he had seen and known of the Word of life....5 The necessity of holiness, in order to fellowship with God.

2^a THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

3^a (For the Life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal Life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

4^a That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

5^a And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

6^a This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

7^a If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

8^a But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

9^a If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

10^a If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

11^a If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ our advocate and propitiation....3 To know God aright is to keep his commandments, and love our brethren....18 To beware of seducers.

2^a MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

3^a And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

4^a And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

5^a He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

6^a But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

7^a He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

8^a Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

9^a Again, a new commandment I write unto you; which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

10^a He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

11^a He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

12^a But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

13^a I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

14^a I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

15^a I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

16^a Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

17^a For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

18^a And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

19^a Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 ^a They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 ^a But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 ^a Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 ^a Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.]

24 ^a Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 ^a These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

27 ^a But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 ^a And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 ^b If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God toward us in making us his sons; 3 we therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments, &c.

BEHOOLD, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 ^b Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3 ^a And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 ^a Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 ^a And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.

6 ^a Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 ^a Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous even as he is righteous.

8 ^a He that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 ^a Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 ^a In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 ^a For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12 ^a Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 ^a Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 ^a We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 ^a Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 ^a Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 ^a But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 ^a My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 ^a And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 ^a Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God:

22 ^a And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 ^a And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 ^a And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the catholic faith; 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

BELOVED, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 ^b Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3 ^a And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4 ^a Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5 ^a They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 ^a We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 ^a Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 ^a He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love.

9 ^a In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10 ^a Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 ^b Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 ^m No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13 ^a Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 ^a And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 ^b Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 ^a And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 ^a Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20 ^a If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21 ^a And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

1 He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments....4 True faith will overcome the world....11 Believers have eternal life through Christ; 18 they are distinguished from the world by abstaining from sin, and by a right knowledge of God.

^a WHOSOEVER believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 ^b By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 ^a For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

4 ^a For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

¶ The Second E

He testifieth his regard for a certain pious matron and her children; 5 he exhorteth them to persevere in Christian love and belief, that they lose not their full reward; 10 and to have nothing to do with seducers.

THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2 ^b For the truth's sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us ever.

3 ^a Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

¶ The Second Epistle of JOHN.

5 * Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God ?
6 * This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.
7 * For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost : and these three are one.
8 * And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood : and these three agree in one.
9 * If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater : for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.
10 * He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself : he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar ; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.
11 * And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.
12 * He that hath the Son, hath life ; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.
13 * These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God ; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.
14 * And this is the confidencee that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us :
15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.
16 * If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death : I do not say that he shall pray for it.
17 * All unrighteousness is sin : and there is a sin not unto death.
18 * We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not ; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.
19 * And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.
20 * And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true : and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.
21 * Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 ¹ I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich,) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 ² Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried: and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

11 ³ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 ⁴ And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 ⁵ I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 ⁶ But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15 ⁷ So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16 ⁸ Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 ⁹ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18 ¹⁰ And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19 ¹¹ I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 ¹² Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 ¹³ And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 ¹⁴ Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 ¹⁵ And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 ¹⁶ But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden:

25 ¹⁷ But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26 ¹⁸ And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations

27 ¹⁹ (And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers:) even as I received of my Father.

28 ²⁰ And I will give him the morning star.

29 ²¹ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER III.

1 What John was commanded to write to the angels of the churches of Sardis, 7 Philadelphia, 14 and Laodicea.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 ² Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard; and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 ³ Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 ⁴ He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 ⁵ And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 ⁶ I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 ⁷ Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 ⁸ Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 ⁹ Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12 ¹⁰ Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God; and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 ¹¹ And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

15 ¹² I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17 ¹³ Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest

6 * And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 ^d And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 * And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 * And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 * And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also, and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 ^b And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind:

14 * And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places:

15 * And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 ^a And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER VII.

2 An angel cometh to seal the servants of God in their foreheads: 4 the number of them that were sealed out of each of the tribes of Israel, &c.

^a AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 ^b Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 * After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 ^d And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 * And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 * Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

16 * They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more: neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 ^b For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels have seven trumpets given them.... 6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow, &c.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 * And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 ^b And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 * And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 ^d And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became blood;

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood; and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound.

CHAPTER IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth angel, a star falleth from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomless pit: 2 he openeth the pit, and there come forth locusts like scorpions: 12 the first wo is past, &c.

AND the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 ^b And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree: but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when he striketh a man.

6 ^c And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 ^d And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 ^e And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 ^f And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 ^g And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon.

12 ^h One wo is || past and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 ⁱ Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were || loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 ^k And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions: and out of their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 ^l For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 ^m And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

A mighty strong angel appeareth with a book open in his hand: 6 he sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time...9 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud; and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 ⁿ And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 ^o And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 ^p And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer:

7 ^q But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 ^r And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 ^s And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesy... 6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not... 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them, &c.

AND there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months.

3 And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies; and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and a half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth.

11 And after three days and a half the spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand; and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second wo is past; and, behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded: and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God.

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth: 4 the great red dragon standeth before her, ready to devour her child: 5 she is delivered, and fleeth into the wilderness, &c.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth; and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony: and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns.

11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth, which supporteth the worship of the former beast.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a month speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men.

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Sion with his company, 6 an angel preacheth the gospel; 8 another proclaimeth the fall of Babylon, 15 the harvest of the world, &c.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints; here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15^a And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap: for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18^a And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire: and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19^a And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20^a And the wine-press was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues....3 The song of them that overcome the beast....7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues: for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2^a And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire; and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3^a And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty: just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4^a Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5^a And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6^a And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7^a And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God who liveth for ever and ever.

8^a And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Seven angels commanded to pour out their vials on the earth: 2 great plagues follow thereupon....15 Christ cometh suddenly.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2^a And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, as it were upon them which worshipped his image.

3^b And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5^a And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6^a For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7^a And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9^a And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12^a And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13^a And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14^a For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15^a Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

17^a And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18^a And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20^a And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21^a And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints....7 The marriage of the Lamb....10 The angel will not be worshipped....17 The fowls called to the great slaughter.

* AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 * For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 * And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 * And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 * And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 * And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 * Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 * And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 * And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage-supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 * And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 * And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True; and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 * His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himself.

13 * And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

14 * And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 * And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron; and he treadeth the wine-press and the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 * And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 * And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 * That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 * And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 * And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 * And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years....5 The first resurrection: 6 they blessed that have part therein....7 Satan let loose again....10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 11 The general resurrection.

* AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2 * And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 * And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 * And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 * But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 * Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 * And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8^a And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10^a And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11^a And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them.

12^a And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them; and they were judged every man according to their works.

14^a And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 A new heaven and a new earth....3 The blessedness of God's people....8 The judgment of the wicked....10 A description of the heavenly Jerusalem.

AND I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2^a And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3^a And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4^a And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5^a And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write; for these words are true and faithful.

6^a And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7^a He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8^a But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9^a And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10^a And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12^a And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14^a And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15^a And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16^a And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth; and he measured the city with the reed, || twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19^a And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcidony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl; and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it.

23^a And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24^a And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25^a And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27^a And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life....2 The tree of life....5 The high of the city of God is himself....9 The angel will not be worshipped....18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2^a In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

Before Christ 1619.	Exodus VI. 16.	Levi dieth in Egypt, aged 137 years; he was grandfather to Moses and Aaron. Here begins the bondage of the children of Israel, when a king rose up in Egypt, who was not Joseph.
1619.	I. 8.	Aaron born three years before his brother Moses, 88 years before the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.
1677.	VII. 7.	Pharaoh having in vain commanded the Hebrew midwives to destroy all the males of the Israelites, sets forth an edict, charging that they beall cast into the river.
1573.	I. 15, 22.	Moses is born, who, being laid in the flags by the river's side, is found by Pharaoh's daughter, and becomes her adopted son.
1571.	II. 1, 5.	Moses, in the 40th year of his age, having slain an Egyptian, whom he saw contending with a Hebrew, fleeth into Midian, where he marrieth Zipporah the daughter of Jethro, a priest, and liveth with his four years.
1490.	Exodus XIV. 7, 10.	While Moses keeps his father-in-law's sheep at mount Horeb, God appeareth to him in a burning bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.
1491.	Ex. III. 1, 2, &c.	Moses and Aaron having declined to Pharaoh the message on which they are sent unto him, from God, are charged by him as heads of a nation, and sent away with many bad words; and more grievous labours are forthwith laid upon the Israelites.
1491.	V.	Moses being now 60, and Aaron 83 years of age, urged thenceforth by God, return again unto Pharaoh, where the magicians by their sorcery, imitating the miracles of Aaron's rod turned into a serpent, smite Pharaoh more obstinate than he was before. Wherefore God by the hand of Moses lays ten plagues upon the Egyptian.
Exodus XII. 11.	XXV. 40.	UPON the fourteenth day of the first month (which was May the fourth, upon Monday with us) in the evening, the passover is instituted.
Numbers XXXIII.		Upon the fifteenth of the same month, at midnight, the first-born of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites; and they, the selfsame day wherein they were let go, of bondage, begin their complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their ancestors, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charran, take their journey, and march away, being 600,000 men, besides children, and come to the Red Sea, from whence by several encampings they come to the Red Sea, the land conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. They carry Joseph's bones with them.
Exodus XIV.		At the Red Sea Pharaoh, with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground into the desert of Etham; whom, when Pharaoh and his army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the waters coming together in the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcasses when they are floating all the sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
XXV.		Upon the fifteenth of the second month (our June the 4th, being Thursday) the Israelites come to the wilderness of Zin, which lieth between Elyma and Sinai, where, for want of food, they murmur against God and their leaders; about the even-tide God sends them quails, and the next morning rains upon them manna from heaven; and upon the third day they have manna upon the space of fifty years, even till they come to the borders of the land of promise. An omer of it is preserved for a memorial.
XVII. 1.		At Be Midian, which was the eleventh place of their encamping, the people murmur for want of water; Moses gives them water by striking the hard rock in Horeb with his rod.
8, 9, &c.		The Anakites falling upon the rear of the Israelites are discomfited by Joshua, whilst Moses holds up his hands to God in prayer.
XX.		God publisheth his Law, contained in the Ten Commandments, with a terrible voice from mount Sinai.
XXI.		The people being in great fear, God gives them sundry other laws, all which being written in the book of the covenant, Moses propoundeth them to the people; which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up 12 statues, according to the 12 tribes of Israel, and sends 12 young men of the first-born, (whom the Lord hath consecrated to himself as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical priesthood was ordained) which offer sacrifice, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving, to the Lord; and when Moses had read the book of the covenant, he takes the blood of the calves and goats so offered, and with water, hyssop, wool, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, or those 12 statues representing them; and so performs a solemn covenant between God and his people.
8, 16.		Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and 70 men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God at the rest returning. Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues 40 days and 40 nights (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord) eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water; and he delivereth to the people God's command touching the frame of the tabernacle, the priests' garments, their consecration, sacrifices, and other things comprised in this and the six following chapters.
XXV. &c.		At the end of 40 days God gives Moses the two tables of the Law in stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him whith quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten calf to worship. Moses by prayer purifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their idol in the camp, he breaks the tables of the law in the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day.
XXXII.		Moses, having burnt and defaced the idol, puts 3000 of the idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites.
20, 28.		God commands Moses to frame new tables of stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and while he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and sheweth him a glimpse of his glory.
XXXIV.		God renews his covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his laws again.
10.		In the first six months of this year, the tabernacle, the ark of the covenant, the altar, the table of show-bread, the priests' garments, the holy ointments, the candlestick, and other utensils and vessels belonging to the sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses.
1490.	XL.	The tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy oil. Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the priesthood.
Lev. X.		Nadab and Abihu, for offering strange fire, are struck dead in the place by fire from heaven.
Num. VII.		The princes of the tribes present their offerings toward the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the mercy-seat.
IX.		The second passover is instituted.
X. 23.		Jethro, who is also called Hophi, brings his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershom and Eliezer, which were left with him, to his son-in-law Moses; and having congratulated him and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion toward the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the people to some others, and ordains magistrates for the judging of lesser causes.
Exodus XVIII.		Moses complains to God of the overgreat burden of his government; God, in case him of his charge, gives him for assistance the credit of 70 elders.
Numbers XI.		The people lust for flesh. God gives them quails in wrath; and sends withal a most grievous plague among them.
61.		God rebukes the sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintaineth Moses his right.
XXII.		From the wilderness of Paran, near Kadesh-barnea, 12 men are sent (among whom were Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a bunch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; it is of the twelve sent upon the discovery of the country, declare the beauty and fertility of the land; and magnify the cities for their strength, and the plenty of the inhabitants.
XIII.		The people, terrified with this relation, are about to return into Egypt, from

Before Christ 1490.	Deut. I. 46.	which Caleb and Joshua endeavouring to dissuade them are like to be stoned. At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses his prayors to spare them. Nevertheless he denunceth that all who are now 20 years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some, endeavouring to enter upon the promised land, contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Anakites and Canaanites.
1493.	Numbers XXXIII.	In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but then in some places they continued many years, appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years there were 17 encampments mentioned.
1471.	XXVI.	To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampments from thence, all that we find delivered in the xvth and four next ensuing chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Kaleb, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 other associates; and how the people, murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God in the number of 14,700 men; and how 12 men being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budied, and brought forth almonds, and was laid up before the ark, for a memorial to those who should afterward be given to rebellion.
1452.	XX.	In these 37 years, the Israelites, by 17 encampments, having compassed the hill country of Seir and Edom, they come to the wilderness of Zin in the first month of the 40th year after their departure out of Egypt.
1.		Here Miriam, the sister of Moses and Aaron, dieth.
2.		The people again for want of water murmur against Moses and Aaron, whom when God had commanded to call water out of the rock only by speaking to it, Moses, being moved in his mind through impudence and diffidence of the thing, speaks something, whatever was, unadvisedly with his lips, and strikes the rock three or four times, and thereby draws water from it; but for raising against God's command, they are both debarred from entering into the land of Canaan.
12.		In the twelfth month of this year Aaron dieth at Moses, on the top of mount Horeb, at the age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the high priesthood.
25, 26.		The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die upon their foreheads; and a cobrae serpent he made and lifted up upon a pole, that as many as look on it may live.
XXI. 5, 9.		About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God, and were swallowed alive and dead, the Israelites upon over Zared, and come to the borders of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Baniath, a valley in the country of the Moab, and pitch at mount Pisgah.
John III. 14.		Sihon, king of the Amorites, refusing them passage through his country, is slain by the Israelites, who protest his blood.
1 Cor. XV.		Og, the king of Bashan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his people, not one left alive, and his country possessed by the Israelites.
Numbers XXXI. 1, 2.		After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.
Jo-hua XXIV. 3.		Balaak, king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest, under pretence of passing through his country, they should possess it, and he sends Balak, king of Moab, to consult with the princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and kind of Balak a sacrifice to Baalam a soothsayer, to come and curse the Israelites, promising him great rewards for his labour; purposing afterward to make war upon them.
Numbers XXI. 7, 8.		Balaak, foreseeing the good of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel; but God, offended thereat, makes the dumb ass of his wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.
2 Pet. II. 15, 16.		Balaak twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balaak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he blesseth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what woe befell him.
XXII. 1.		By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are sent on work to turn the Israelites away to idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ringleaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the sun, and then gives order to the judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baal-peor. Last of all, God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 24,000 men in one day; which, ascribed to them which were bawled and killed with the sword, amount in all to 24,000.
Jo-hua XXIV. 3.		Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family, and Cozbi the daughter of Zur, a prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth. God therefore setteth the high priesthood for ever upon the house of Phinehas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.
Deut. XXII. 1.		Moses and Eleazar, by God's command, in the plain of Moab, near unto Jordan, over against Jericho, number the people from twenty years old and upward, and find that there are 600,000 men besides the women, and that the number of them from one month old and upwards, comes to 25,000; and then Moses receives command for the parting the land of promise among the Israelites.
Numbers XXV. 15, 17.		The daughters of Zelophehad have their father's land parted among them, for want of male male; at this occasion the law for succession in heritages to be made.
XXVI. 1, 2.		God signifies to Moses that he shall die, and Joshua is thereupon declared to be his successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.
Deut. XXVII. 1, 2.		Twelve thousand of the Israelites under the command of Phinehas vaughly the Midianites, and put to the sword all the men among them, with their five princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaak the wizard; but they save the women alive; at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child, and all the women, except such as are virgins, be killed.
Numbers XXVI. 1.		The land which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely, all from the river Arnon to mount Hermon, Moses divides and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless, they assist the rest of the tribes in all their wars, till they have subdued the promised land.
Deut. II. 14.		Moses commands the people, that in their passage over Jordan they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on mount Ebal; according to what is observed in the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benedict that would ensue thereon.
Deut. XXVIII. 1.		He also renews the covenant made by God with them and their children on mount Horeb, and again persuades them to keep that covenant by all the blessings, and curses which would immediately follow the keepers or breakers of it; yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time, having broken it, they shall repent them of their sin; and tells them further, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto him, to the end that none hereafter offending should pretend ignorance.
Numbers XXXI. 1.		Moses, having written this law, delivers it to the priests the sons of Levi, and the elders of the people, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches it to the children of Israel, and he sung it and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.
Numbers XXXII. 1.		Moses, now drawing near to his end, blesseth every tribe in particular by way of prophecy, save only the tribe of Simeon.
XXXIV. 1.		In the 12th month of this year he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there, died, aged 120 years; the body of Moses God translated out of the place where he died, into a star, and hid it up in the desert, over against Beth-peor, and there heurieth it; nor doth any man know the place where he laid it up unto this day. The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.
Numbers XXXIII. 1.		Here ends the Pentateuch, or five books of Moses, containing the history of 2555 years, and half, from the beginning of the world, and the birth of Joshua begins with the fifty-first year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Gani a Shechemite conspires against him; which being discovered to him by Zelut, he utterly destroys the city of Shechem, and puts all the inhabitants in the sword, and burns the temple of their god Berith with fire; from thence he goeth and lieth siege to Thebez, where he is knocked on the head with a piece of a millstone, sent upon him by the son of the walls, and then killed outright by his armour-bearer.

1137. XIV. 4. Whilst Eli the high priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and told many of the secret things of his heart.

The seventh Age.
Cesar Octavius, nephew to Julius Cesar, in his fifth consulship, with the assent of the senate and people of Rome, assumes the title of emperor; at which time the government among the Romans was legally changed from a republic into a monarchy. The next year following he is by the senate crowned with a Herod this year begins to enlarge, or rather to rebuild, the temple at Jerusalem, 48 years before the first passover of the ministry of Christ, and in nine years and a half finisheth that magnificent structure.

The angel Gabriel appears to Zachary the priest, as he is offering incense in the temple, telling him that a son shall be born unto him, whom he shall call John; who also shall be a Nazarite, and the forerunner of the Lord in the spirit and power of Elias.

by God to Nazareth in Galilee, to the most blessed Virgin Mary (responded to Joseph, a person of the house and lineage of David); the angel declares unto her, that she shall conceive by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost, and bring forth a son, and call his name JESUS.

CHRIST our Lord and Saviour in the fulness of time is 'born of the blessed Virgin Mary at Bethlehem, and told in many

On the eighth day after his nativity he is circumcised, and named JESUS. The wise men of the east bring presents to the new-born king of the Jews. Joseph flees into Egypt with the child Jesus, and Mary his mother. Herod commands the infants in and about Bethlehem to be slain.

Herod dieth, and his son Archelaus is by Cesar made tetrarch of Iudæa; other dominions, which belonged to Herod, are divided among his sons.
Christ, by God's appointment, is brought back out of Egypt into Nazareth.

By occasion of the passover our Lord goes up with his parents to Jerusalem, and there disputes with the doctors in the temple.

John the Baptist begins to preach and to baptize in the desert of Judea, there.

by preparing the way of the Lord, and doing his endeavour that Christ coming after him may be made known unto Israel. Unto John, God gives a sign whereby he may know the Lord's Christ, that upon whom he shall see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which shall baptize with the Holy Ghost.

Jesus, entering upon the thirtieth year of his age, comes from Galilee to Jordan, and is baptized of John; at which time a most illustrious manifestation is made of the blessed Trinity; for the Son of God ascending out of the water, and praying, the heavens are opened, and the Spirit of God in the shape of a dove

John sees it and bears record that this is the Son of God.

After this our Lord returns into Galilee.

The first passover of Christ's public ministry, from which the first year of the seven-

JESUS cometh to Jerusalem at the time of the passover, and entering into the temple, scourgeth out those that bought and sold there. The Jews require a sign of his authority: Christ bideth them destroy that temple, understanding it not.

Herod the tetrarch casteth John the Baptist into prison for reprehending his incest with his brother Philip's wife, and other evils doon by him.

The second pattern of Christ's ministry: Jesus not only taught, but also worked miracles.

JESUS comes up to Jerusalem at the time of the feast, and heals on the Sabbath-day a man that had an infirmity 38 years, lying at the pool of Bethesda. He makes a most divine apology to the Jews that sought to kill him, because he testified of the Father.

Christ out of the multitude of his disciples chooseth 12, whom he called Apostles: namely, Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Simoa called Zelotes, Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot.

Jesus sends his 12 apostles by two and two to preach, and heal the sick.
John the Baptist is beheaded in prison by Herod's command.
Jesus feeds 5000 men, besides women and children, with five barley loaves.

The third passover of Christ's ministry, John iv. 4, from which the third year of the seventieth week of Daniel begins.

JESUS is transfigured on the mount; Moses and Elias are seen to talk with him; and a voice from heaven is heard a second time, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

A certain village of the Samaritans refuseth our Saviour entrance in his way to Jerusalem: the disciples, desiring to call for fire from heaven to consume them, are severely reprehended.

The seventy disciples are sent out by two and two to work miracle, and to preach.

Christ teacheth his disciples to pray.
Christ raiseth Lazarus, that had been buried four days.
Calaphas, high priest of the Jews, propheseth concerning the death of Christ.
Zaccheus a publican converted.

Christ restoreth to blind Bartimeus his sight.
Mary the sister of Lazarus anoints our Saviour's feet with costly spikenard, and wipeth them with the hair of her head.
Christ rieth in triumph into Jerusalem; the multitude spread their garments in the way, and cry, Hosanna to the Son of David.

He curseth the fruitless fig-tree, and the next morning it is found dried up and withered. Thence he takes occasion to shew the power of faith.

The fourth passover, in which Christ our passover was sacrificed, 1 Cor. v. 7, and so an end is put to illegal sacrifice prefiguring this great expiation. The 50th or middle year of Daniel's last week begins, Dan. ix. 27.

ON the first day of unleavened bread, when the passover of the Jews was to be slain, (April 2) In the evening, Jesus eateth the passover with his disciples, and institutes the sacrament of his body and blood in bread and wine. Christ washeth his disciples' feet, and exhorteth them to humility and charity.

- After Christ
 XXVII. In the same night Christ is betrayed by Judas, mocked, buffeted and spit upon, by the soldiers.
 Mark XV. Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the sun during the crucifixion is darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst. Christ prays for his enemies given up the ghost. Joseph of Arimathea begs the body, and lays it in a new sepulchre.
 XXIII. On the third day, the next after the Jewish sabbath, (April 5) Christ riseth from the dead; his resurrection is declared by angels to the women that came to the sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene, and afterward to his disciples, and dwells with them.
 XXVIII. Christ inviteth his apostles to mount Olivet; commaneth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost: sends them to teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold, he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his ascension the disciples are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias to be an apostle in the place of Judas.
 XXVIII. On the day of Pentecost (May 24) the Holy Ghost descended on the apostles in the form of cloven tongues, like as of fire, and enabled them to speak all languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the resurrection, and about 3000 believers are added to the church.
 Peter by faith in Christ's name healeth a lame man.
 The rulers of the Jews, offended at Peter's sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison; upon their examination they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. After this the Jews forbid them to speak any more in that name; but the apostles answer, that it is fit they should obey God rather than man. They are threatened, and let go.
 Ananias and his wife Sapphira for their hypocrisy are suddenly struck dead.
 The apostles are again cast into prison by the high priest; but an angel sets them at liberty, and bids them preach the gospel to the people without fear: being taken again teaching in the temple, they are brought before the council; where by the advice of Gamaliel, a Pharisee, and doctor of the law, they are delivered.
 The number of believers increasing at Jerusalem, the apostles ordain seven deacons, who should distribute the alms of the whole church to the widows and poorer sort of believers. Stephen, one of these deacons, having confounded some that disputed with him, is by them falsely accused of blasphemy, and brought before the council, where he reprehends their rebellion, and murdering of Christ. Whereupon they cast him out of the city, and stone him; he is the meane time praying for them.
 A great persecution of the Church at Jerusalem follows after the death of the first martyr Stephen.
 5. Philly, one of the seven deacons, preacheth at Samaria, and converteth many; worketh miracles, and healeth the sick. Simon the sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philly, believeth, and is baptized.
 The apostles at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The apostles by prayer and imposition of hands confer the Holy Ghost on all believers. Simon Magus offers them money, that he may receive the power of conferring the same, whose impiry is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem.
 An angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.
 Saul, who is persecutor of all that call on the name of Jesus, and one who conspired to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus with commission from the high priest and the council to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preacheth the gospel of Christ with great boldness, to the astonishment of those that knew upon what design he was sent thither.
 Saul having preached the gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem; there he sees Peter, and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek tongue. These also consult how they may kill him.
 While Saul prays in the temple, he is in a trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding, that he will send him to the Gentiles.
 Saul leaving Jerusalem goes to his own country Tarsus, and from thence travels into Syria and Cilicia.
 Peter visits the churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. At Lydda he cures Eneas of the palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life.
 At Cesarea, Cornelius, a centurion, by prayers and alms finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an angel to send for Peter now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles. Peter, being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him and a great company that wait met at his house; while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the apostle baptizeth them.
 Peter, at his return to Jerusalem, is accused by some of the circumcision for conversing with the Gentiles; but he declares to them his vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius; and they glorify God for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life.
 The believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen, and the persecution therupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the gospel to the Greeks there, having before preached to none but the Jews. The Church at Jerusalem understanding this, and that the number of believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them; he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the disciples were first called Christians.
 About this time James the brother of John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivers upon the prayers of the church. This same Herod, not long after, speaking to the people at Cesarea, some of them cry out, that it is the voice of God, and not of man; and immediately an angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he is eaten of worms, and dieth.
 Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the gospel to Sergius Paulus, governor of that country; Elymas, a sorcerer, withstanding them, and endeavouring to turn away Sergius from the faith, is at Saul's rebuke struck blind. From this time Saul is always called by his new name Paul; he preacheth at Antioch; the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gainsay and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium.
 At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lyconia. At Lystra, Paul healing a cripple, the multitude cry out, that the gods are come down, and call Barnabas, Jupiter, and Paul, Mercurius; and would have sacrificed to them, had not the apostles with clothes rent run in among them, and assured them that they were men 46. 2 Cor. XI 25. like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who excite the people against them. Paul is by the furious multitude stoned, and drawn dead; but whilst the disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe.

 XII. 2. In this year, perhaps at this very time, Paul was caught up into the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words, fourteen years before he wrote his second epistle to the Corinthians.
 2 Tim. I. 2, 5. About this time Timothy, though a child, with his mother Eunice, and his grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian faith preached by Paul.
 Acts XV. Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judaea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the apostles and others at Jerusalem to determine this controversy. The decrees of the synod are sent to the churches.
 53. 56. Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder: Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia.
 XVI. At coming to Derbe finds there Timothy, whom because his mother was a believing Jew, though his father a Gentile, he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia (coming to Philippi, the chief city of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia; casteth out of a certain maid-servant a spirit of divinity, whose master losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the magistrates; these cause them to be whipt and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed; the jailer, ready to kill himself, is converted to the faith, and baptized the same night with his whole family. Next day the magistrates come themselves, and permit Paul and Silas to depart the city.
 XVII. From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Apollonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a synagogue of the Jews; there he preacheth three sabbath-days, some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica, they come to Beroea, and soon after arrive at Athens, amongst wild philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD, whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence comes to Corinth.
 XVIII. Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished Rome by the decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians.
 55. Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, provincial of Achaia, who refuseth to judge in a controversy about religion, and so drives them away from the judgment-seat.
 56. 18. Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out towards Jerusalem, that he may be at the feast; he lands at Cesarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the disciples in all those places.
 XIX. Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the school of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the parts thereof.
 60. He writes his epistle to the Galatians.
 At Ephesus, Demetrius a silversmith, jealous of his gain, raises a tumult against Paul, who is expressed by the town-clerk.
 1 Cor. I. XI. 2. At about this time a schism arises in the church at Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first epistle to the Corinthians.
 Acts XX. VIII. 1. Paul departs from Ephesus, and comes into Macedonia, and gathers a contribution for the relief of the saints at Jerusalem.
 2 Cor. VIII. 1. The apostle, having learnt from Titus the success of his first, writes now his second epistle to the Corinthians. Out of Macedonia he goes into Greece, and comes to Corinth, where he writes his epistle to the Romans.
 Acts XX. 3, 4, 6. Paul purposing to go directly from thence into Syria, that he may carry the collections to Jerusalem, the Jews lay wait for him; he understanding this, thinks it best to return into Macedonia the same way he came, and thence to pass into Asia.
 After the days of unleavened bread Paul sails from Philippi, and comes to Troas; there he restores Eutychus to life. Having passed through several cities of Greece, he arrives at Miletus; from thence he sends to call the elders of the Church of Ephesus, whom he earnestly exhorteth to the performance of their duty.
 XXI. Paul comes to Jerusalem, is apprehended in the temple, and secured in war castle; he claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging.
 XXII. Paul pleadeth his cause before Ananias the high priest. The chief captain, understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they had killed him, sends him to Felix the governor of the province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cæsarea.
 XXIV. Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullus the orator: Felix goes out of his office, and to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in prison. Porcius Festus succeeds him in the government.
 Acts XXV. The Jews come to Cæsarea, and accuse Paul before Festus. He answereth for himself, and appeals unto Cæsar. King Agrippa comes to Cæsarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him.
 XXVI. Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa; by whom he is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent.
 XXVIII. Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years.
 Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by St. Luke, St. Paul's beloved companion in his travels.
 64. Saint Paul from Rome writes his letters, To the Philippians. To the Thimotheum. To the Colossians. To the Ephesians.
 65. Ileb. XII. 24. Tit. I. 3. About the latter end of this year St. Paul is set at liberty; and a little before he departs out of Italy into Asia he writes his epistle to the Hebrews.
 63. He preacheth the gospel in the Isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order amongst others in every city.
 St. Paul writes his epistles, To Timothy I. To Timothy II. To Titus.
 About this time the epistles of St. Peter, St. John, and St. Jude, seem to be written.
 67. Euseb. Hist. Ec. I. 2 c. 24. St. Peter and St. Paul are said to have suffered martyrdom at Rome towards the latter end of Nero's reign.
 Luke XIX. 43, 44. This year Jerusalem (according to Christ's prophecy) is besieged, taken, sacked, and burnt, by Titus, 1,000,000 of the Jews perished, 67,000 are taken prisoners; besides an immense slave company that in other places of Judaea kill themselves, or perish through famine, banishment, or other miseries.
 St. John is banished into the Isle of Patmos by Domitian, and there receives and writes his Revelation.
 After the death of Domitian St. John returns to Ephesus, and at the request of the Church writes his Gospel.

Acres, nor it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of yoke, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Ephraim, and of the Jeru, to measure out private men's inheritances by a line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of this line will measure one side of an Aroura, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of this line, and its half, and 6 Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark on a knot or a ring. And by this line they might easily lay any number of Arouras together, all of one rectangular and parallel to each other. Much lines I suppose for measure of inheritances are hit upon, Psalm lxxviii. 25. and xvi. 6, &c.

The Levites' Tithes.

6. I shall conclude with an example, amounting after reduction to a number of English Acres, which measure we have not yet reached. This I take from Psalm lxxviii. 3, 4, 5. verses. These Mosses describes what measure of land the Levites were to be allowed for their cattle, their goods, and all their beasts, on the north, east, south, and west sides of each of their cities. So that the city was to be in the midst of the land belonging to it. This land in our translation is called suburbia, because it is nearest to all their cities. But we must not there imagine that Mosses has plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of cattle to feed in, such as might also be orchards, or gardens for fruits, or perhaps for a little corn, considered in the words, their goats. These fields by limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an eastern mile, but amounts on more length 15600 yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English mile by 1560 yards in length. But it is certain that cattle cannot feed upon more length, but this must signify the side of some surface of land bounding thereon, and we must have two sides of that surface given, before we can run the Area, or surface contained. Therefore Mosses, ver. 5, tells us, that on each side of each city they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no surface, unless we understand it to mean that the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other will produce a square that contains just a million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Arouras; and this shows that the 2000 Cubits mentioned ver. 5 are the two sides of that square, whereas the 1000 mentioned ver. 4 is one, and may be called the root of the square. This shows the agreement of the two different numbers. The reduction of this million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method I have used before. Therefore, first, I express 1000 Jewish Cubits by 184 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the principles owned in Declaratio Arithmetica; and the square of that number will be 339,276, without a separatrix. Secondly, I divide this number by 45,360, which are the square Feet of an Aroura, and find the quote to be 7,479, which signify 7 entire Acres, and 378,854 Decimals of an Aroura. Thirdly, to find what Roods are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roods in an Aroura, and find the quote to be 3,035,456, which proves that there is but one fourth of an Aroura in the Decimals of the Aroura; therefore, to find what Perches are in these Decimals, I multiply them by 40, which is the number of Perches contained in a Rood. The product is 30,354,560; hereby I find there are 20 entire Perches, leaving the Decimals of a Perch about after the Separatrix. Fourthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 27,225, which are the square Feet and Decimals in 1 Perch. The product is 90,975,904, which is 89 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square foot are inconsiderable in measure of area. Thus we have found that this land very often square on each side of every Levitical City, was prescribed to be 70 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 10 square Feet in our measure, but was just a million of square Cubits in their measure.

To add the four squares belonging to one Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first quote that we found in Acres measure, viz. 7,479,258, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four squares together to amount to 300 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch; we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case. We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 cities of the Levites, and many other improvements in this kind of measuring surface. But I leave them to the industry of others.

JUDEA, PALESTINE, OR THE HOLY LAND.

PALESTINE is bounded on the north, by Mount Libanus, or Lebanon, which separates it from that part of Syria, anciently called Phœnicia; on the east by Mount Hermon, which divides it from Arabia Deserta; on the south by Arabia Petrea; and on the west by the Mediterranean Sea, or sea of Syria.

This country received the name of Palestine from the Philistines, who dwelt on the sea-coast: it was called Judæa, from Judah; and it is termed the Holy Land, being the country where Jesus Christ was born, preached his holy doctrines, confirmed them by miracles, and laid down his life for mankind. Palestine is about one hundred and eighty five miles in length, and generally eighty in breadth; it is situated between 31° and 33° 40' north latitude.

The climate of Palestine is, during great part of the year, very hot. The easterly winds are usually dry, though they are sometimes tempestuous; and those which are westerly, are attended with rain. The heat here might be expected to be excessive; yet Mount Libanus, from its uncommon height, is covered all the winter with snow.

The first rains are they are called, generally fall about the beginning of November; and the latter rains, in the month of April. In the country round Jerusalem, if moderate quantity of snow falls in the beginning of February, and the frosts soon after overflow their banks, it is thought to forebode a fruitful year; and the inhabitants make rejoicings upon this occasion, as the Egyptians do with respect to the Nile; this country is seldom refreshed with rain during the summer season.

The rocks of Judæa are, in many places, covered with a soft chalky substance, in which is enclosed a great variety of shells and conchs. The greatest part of the mountains of Carmel, and those of Jerusalem and Bethlehem, are overspread with a white chalky stratum. In mount Carmel, are gathered many stones, which, being in the form of olives, melons, peaches, and other fruit, are imposed upon pilgrims, not only as those fruits petrified, but as mimicks against several diseases.

With respect to the rivers of the country, the Jordan, called by the Arabs Serhal, is not only the most considerable, but, next to the Nile, is the largest, either in the Levant or in Italy. It has its source at the bottom of Mount Libanus or Lebanon, and is formed from the waters of two fountains, which are about a mile distant from each other. One of them lies to the east, and is called Qad; the other, which is exposed to the south, is named Dan. The confluence of the two streams is found near the ancient city of Cesarea Philippi, which is at present only a village, and called Belus. The river takes a course between the E. and S. and after running seven miles, falls into the lake near the city of Tiberias, at present called Ulnephras, about six miles in length, from north to south, and nearly four in breadth, from east to west. The Jordan issues from a great plain, passing under a stone bridge called Jacob's Bridge, consisting of three arches, well constructed. The river then continues its course as far as the lake of Tiberias, near the ancient city of Tiberias, where it mingles with its waters. When it issues from this lake, which is about eighteen miles in length, and eight in breadth, it takes the name of Jordan Major, dividing Peren from Samaria, the plains of the Moabites from Judæa, and receiving the waters of the Dibon, the Jazer, the Jabbok, and the Carib; after being augmented by these streams, in a course of sixty-five miles from the lake of Tiberias, or sea of Galilee, it discharges itself into the Dead Sea. The Jordan, in the rainy seasons, overflows its banks, to the distance of more than four miles; and on account of the inequality of the ground, turns two or three channels. Its current is extremely rapid, and the water always suddenly, but without taking from the river, and put into any kind of vessel, if very soon clarified, and is sweet.

The Dead Sea is a name of modern date; the ancients called it the lake of Asphaltitis. The sea of Sodom, the Salt Sea, the lake of Sidon, the Arabs name it Al-Baher el-Lut; that is, the sea of Lot. It is about fifty miles in length, and ten in breadth. The lofty mountains of the country of the Moabites are on the eastern side, and discharge into it the waters of Arnon and the Jaret. On the west and south it is bounded by very high mountains also. It is likewise on the west limit the brook Cedron, which rises at Jerusalem, empties into this sea.

We are informed that this vast lake was covered formerly with fruit-trees and abundant crops, and that from the bosom of the earth, new buried under its waters, arose the superb cities of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, Zebellon, and Segor. No plants of any kind grow in this lake. The bottom of it is a black mud, which, when it is dried, becomes petrified, and is used by the Jews as a kind of bitumen, which may be found floating on the surface, like large lumps of earth. This bitumen is a sulphurous substance, mixed with salt; it is as brittle as black pitch, is combustible, and exhales, while burning, a strong and penetrating smell. The ancient Arabs used it for anointing and embalming their dead, to preserve them from perishing. The mountain near this sea produce a kind of black stone, which, when polished, has a beautiful lustre.

Acra, or Acra, (now called St. John de Acra, and which the Arabs call Acra, or Akka) is one of the places from which the Israelites could not expel the ancient Canaanites, and was formerly reckoned among the ancient cities of Palestine. It is also known by the name of Ptolemais. The situation is advantageous; on the north and east, it is encompassed by a fertile plain; on the west it is washed by the Mediterranean; and on the south by a large bay, which extends from the city as far as Mount Carmel. It contains little more than a few cottages, and heaps of ruins. The residence of the bishop of the province is at this place.

To the south of Acra, is Sebastia, the ancient Samaria, the capital of the ten tribes after their removal from the house of David. It is seated on a long mountain, which rises in a fruitful valley, and its soil is converted into gardens.

A little farther in the south is Nephthali, the ancient Sychem, which stands in a narrow valley, between Mount Elai on the north, and Gerizim on the south. At a small distance from Nephthali, is Jacob's well, famous for Christ's conference with the woman of Samaria. Jerusalem is encompassed with hills, so that the city seems as if situated in an amphitheatre: there are few remains of the city, as it happened in Christ's time; the situation being changed; for Mount Sion, the highest part of ancient Jerusalem, is almost extinct: while the places adjoining to Mount Calvary, are nearly in the centre. This city, which is about three miles in circumference, is situated on rocky mountains, on all sides of which are steep ascents, except toward the north. The walls are not strong, nor have they any bastions. The city has six gates. There are supposed to be about twelve or fourteen thousand inhabitants in Jerusalem.

The ancient Joppa, is the port where the pilgrims disembark. They generally arrive in November, and repair without delay to Jerusalem.

Bethlehem, also called Ephrata, and the city of David, is famous for being the birth-place of Christ. It is about two miles to the S. E. of Jerusalem, on the ridge of a hill; at present only an inconsiderable village.

Rama, the ancient Jericho, is eighteen miles N. E. of Jerusalem, situated in a plain six or seven leagues long, by three wide, surrounded by a number of barren mountains. Hainroun, or Hebron, is twenty-four miles S. of Jericho. The Arabs call it El-Kadi the well of David. It is situated on the foot of an embankment, on which some remains of an ancient castle.

Nazareth, now only a small village, is on the top of a high hill.

Cana of Galilee, otherwise called Cana Minor, celebrated for the miracle wrought by Christ, of changing the water into wine, is nothing more than a small village, with very few inhabitants. The Arabs call it Turk Esra, it is situated on the sea-coast. It was anciently a place of great strength, and had a very extensive commerce. Though it is still populous, and a place of considerable trade, it lies fallen from its ancient grandeur. Its exports consist in silks, with raw and spun cotton, the manufacturing of which employs many of the inhabitants, amounting to above five thousand. The city is defended by an old castle, built in the sea.

Tyre, called by the Turks Sour, is about twenty miles to the south of Sidon. It was once very celebrated for its purple, called the Tyrian dye, produced from a shell-fish. This city was, by its situation, the centre of an immense commerce and navigation and the nurse of arts and sciences. The

Mount Tubor is most delightfully situated, rising amidst the plains of Galilee, distant about twel miles from the city of Tiberias; it is distinguished by different names, as Habyrion, Tawernan, and by the Arabs (Jil-el-Tor). It is in appearance like a sugar-loaf, and is covered from the top to the bottom with small trees.
