In the board of control contest vote polled. From the time the first batch of returns were received, there was no doubt as to the election of Maguire, McBride and Cameron, while the fate of Robbins and Gibbons hung for some time in the balance. Mc-Brien and Archibald were never in the running. The vote polled by Mc-Bride was remarkable when his attitude during the year to the civic employes is considered. The large vote polled by Robbins and Gibbons showed what a strong factor labor has become in civic affairs.

270 Sailors Are Drowned In Wreck of British Yacht

London, Jan. 1.—Two hundred and seventy sailors were drowned today as the result of the loss of the British steam yacht Iolaire off Stornoway, Scotland. The yacht had 300 sailors on board. They were on a New Year's holiday leave.

The vessel struck on the dangerous rocks known as "The Beasts of Helm," near Stornoway harbor, and only about 30 of them were saved. Many of these were terribly injured in their efforts to reach the shore. All the officers and crew of the Iolaire were lost. The Iolaire was a vessel of 362 tons. She was built in 1902, and before the war belonged to the estate of the late Sir Donald Currie.

KING AND PRINCE OF WALES TO VISIT CANADA THIS SPRING

To Review Fleet at Quebec and After a Flying Visit to Washington Will Make Tour of British Dominions.

Ottawa, Jan. 1.-King George and the Prince of Wales are to visit Canada. Such is the statement made here on high authority.

According to the present arrangement, the King and his heir will make a tour of the overseas dominions, and Canada will be the first to receive the honor of the royal visit.

The date of their arrival in the Dominion is more or less contingent on the settlement of European affairs at the peace conference, but if matters are cleared up sufficiently to permit the King leaving England the visit will take place in the late spring.

The present tentative arrangement is that the King will visit Canada in time to hold a review of the touring British fleet at Quebec on Empire Day, May 23. What other chief cities of the Dominion he may visit is at present unsettled. From Canada he will pay a flying visit to the president of the United TO BECOME EARLS States at Washington, having, it is generally understood, received a pressing invitation from him on the occasion of the president's visit to London a few days ago.

> The review of the British fleet off Quebec City by the King will be the second time that Canada has been so honored; the first occasion being in 1908, at the Quebec tercentenary celebration.

the day to complete relaxation and repose came in the afternoon, when he received a New Year's call from President and Madame Poincare and later visited Col. Edward M. House, with whom he had a conference. Beyond this he had no appointments.

The conferences in Rome with the Italian statesmen will, in a sense, be a continuation of those held here when King Victor Emmanuel visited Paris and the president also talked with Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sanino. The results of President Wilson's conferences with the British premier, David Lloyd George, and Foreign Minister Balfour, which have not yet be a fully disclosed, probably will have an important relation to the continuation of the conferences with the Italian leaders.

Ready for Business.

The working machinery of the American commission has been thoroly organized during the presidents absence in England, and everything is practically ready to begin business when he returns from Italy. There appears no reason for altering the forecast made four weeks ago that President Wilson intends to be back in Washington before the closing of the American Congress on March 4, or that, if necessary, he will return to France early in the spring to continue his work.

There are, however, some indications that the president's hope that his return will not be necessary may be realized.

Pay-As-You-Enter cars, which are to operate on the College route on Monday, are built on "Safety First" principles. In fact, they are fool-proof.

The car cannot start until both doors are closed and the steps folded up. The doors cannot open and the steps be let down until the car stops. Nobody can be hurt by jumping on or off. Both motormen and conductors, therefore, are relieved of the constant worry that this jumping on and off practice imposes on them.

This fact suggests to passengers that they should enter and leave the cars as quickly as possible, for until the door is closed and the step folded up the car cannot move.

This co-operation is requested in order that, in addition to greater safety and comfort, the passengers may have the benefit of a fast service.

DRIZZLE AND SLUSH DAMP ENTHUSIASM

Election Results on Screens.

"PEOPLE'S VICTORY"

"Notwithstanding Unjust Criticism, Have Elected a Good Council, Says Church.

Toronto heard with keen interest the results of the municipal elections last night, but the usual enthusiasm which is a characteristic of election night was absent. The drizzling rain and the slushy streets which kept many from the polling booths during the day from the polling booths during the day did not prevent large crowds gathering in the vicinity of the newspaper offices last night. The cheering was intermittent, however, and lacked enthusiasm, not because of disappointment in the candidates returned, but because the weather conditions were depressing and dampened the ardor of the enthusiasts.

Newspaper offices had made elaborate preparations to convey the election returns to the public. Motion picture is not presented ward one last year will continue to discharge their duties only four running for the three seats. This year's vote was fully six thousand less than that of 1918. The total this year is 14,669 and last year's 20, the most interest in the fight centred between Johnston and Mogridge for second and third positions, there were only four running for the three seats. Newspaper offices had made elaborate preparations to convey the election returns to the public. Motion picture machines were installed in each office and the returns cast on screens suspended in the open air. Large crowds gathered at an early hour and were kept informed of the latest returns. During the intervals motion pictures were displayed on the screen, thereby relieving the monotony of the wait. The first return was received at 5.18, and the final of the mayoralty contest was announced about 9.30.

Offices Besieged.

The newspaper offices were besieged with telephone calls, those who were forced to remain at home seeking to obtain information in this manner. Extra newspapers also assisted in the dissemination of the results to the residential districts, and by a late hour last night the whole city was fully aware of the complete returns.

The various successful candidates aware of the complete returns.

The various successful candidates seized the opportunity of expressing thanks for the support received. Speaking from the windows of newspaper offices, they were received with enthusiasm by the crowds below.

Mayor Church described his victory as "the people's" victory. He thanked all his friends and supporters for the magnificent vote which had been returned, despite the fact that he had no organization. "Notwithstanding just and unjust criticism," he said, "we have elected a good council which should work for the good of the city. The coming year will be a critical one and there are many problems to be and there are many problems to be faced. We hope for the united support of the press and public for the problems will prove difficult enough solve without division."

With the return of the soldiers the mayor prophesied a slight period of dislocation of business which would soon be readjusted, with an era of Ward 2 in a very strenuous fight, in ownership council that had been returned and the absorption of the hydro system and the Toronto Street Railway was now assured. There would be a continuation, he concluding a continuation, he concluding the street with a continuation with a continuation of the concluding a continuation of the concluding accordance with a continuation of the con

THE WIFE By JANE PHELPS

Ruth is Happy in Reviewing Brian's Letter.

CHAPTER CXXVII. Brian had said he would fight all the better, all the harder, because of the baby. That meant to Ruth that he would be in still more danger. But he also had said that now he must be he also had said that now he must be extra careful of himself because of his desire to come back to her and the baby. How she was to reconcile his "going gunning for the Huns" and his care for himself, she didn't quite understand. Yet, in a way, she was more than a little thrilled at the thought that Brian was not only fighting for his country, but for her and Brian Jr.—the boy the father never had seen. Buth knew there were many such Ruth knew there were many such babies—babies born after the father had gone "over there" to do his utmost to save the world from the frightful slavery that a Hun triumph meant. Her heart went out in sympathy to the mothers of those babies, the wives of the absent soldiers, and she determined to search some of them out and see if she could not help them in some way.

"They must need help—some of them," she said to her aunt.

"Of course. A great many of them are poor. It will be hard for them to get along on a soldier's pay. Especially those with very young babes. We will see what can be done about looking after a few of them, at least." Ruth was happier than she had been

Ruth was happier than she had been in a long time. Brian knew about the baby, and had not blamed her for hiding from him her coming mother-hood. Yet before she slept, that night, after she had read again the letter which had so comforted her, she thought of Mollie King.

Brian had taken his joy directly to her. He had said he HAD to tell agreen where woman. That the someone—some woman. That the woman happened to be Mollie was bitter to Ruth. She wondered if there were no other women, older women, nurses perhaps, to whom Brian could have gone. It seemed that Mollie was always in evidence when anything concerning Brian or his affairs were discussed. Aknost feverishly she wished that Mollie King was somewhere away from Brian. That he had shared his news with her had the effect in some way of making them nurses perhaps, to whom Brian could attack.

It is possible that if more troops are sent to Lemberg, the expedition against Vilna, reported in Bolshevist hands, will be embarrassed. There are not men enough for both operations. TROOPSHIP ASHORE _ AT FIRE ISLAND

Over 2400 Aboard, But No Lives Are in Danger.

New York, Jan. 1 .- The troopship Northern Pacific with 2,400 American officers and soldiers, including 1,700 sick or wounded, returning from France went aground early today at Fire Island, Long Island.

After trying vainly all day to reach the stranded vessel, a crew of the coast guard reached her in a lifeboat shortly before 3 p.m. A heavy surf was rolling, and a strong inshore wind and intermittent rain and snowfalls and a thick fog comprised the weather situation. Navy officials announced at o'clock this evening that no attempt would be made before tomorrow morning to remove the troops. The naval authorities are taking every precaution. A breeches buoy has been rigged from the shore to the vessel,-ready for use at any time, while thirteen destroyers and naval tugs are standing by to lend assistance in emergencies. Coast guards declared tonight that had the vessel struck certain other bars in the vicinity, she would have been smashed to pieces in a relatively short time. The shore is dotted with hulks of other ships which ended their career in the "graveyard of the

Ruth is Happy in Reviewing Brian's Letter.

CHAPTER CXXVII. Brian had said he would fight all the better, all the harder, because of the baby. That meant to Ruth that he would be in still more danger. But he also had said that now he must be extra careful of himself because of his desire to come back to her and the baby. How she was to reconcile his "going gunning for the Huns" and his "going gunning for the Huns" and his care for himself, she didn't quite understand. Yet, in a way, she was more than a little thrilled at the thought that Brian was not only fighting for his country, but for her and Brian Jr. the boy the father never had seen.

"Of course. A great many of them are poor. It will be hard for them to get along on a soldier's pay. Especially those with very young babes.

We will see what can be done about looking after a few of them, at least."
Ruth was happier than she had been in a long time. Brian knew about the baby, and had not blamed her for hiding from him her coming motherhiding from him her coming mother-hood. Yet before she slept, that night, after she had read again the letter which had so comforted her, she thought of Mollie King.

Brian had taken his joy directly to her. He had said he HAD to tell someone—some woman. That the woman happened to be Mollie was bitter to Ruth. She wondered if there were no other women, older women.

We recall that some weeks ago a real Bolshevik meeting was held in the assembly hall of the Labor Temple. Even in the best organized communi-ties, you see, disorder may creep in and chaos may temporarily sway the situation, but only for a short-lived period. Well, shortly after that disgraceful occasion the Toronto division of the International Union of Street Railwaymen held a meeting to protest against the sentiments expressed at that other meeting, and the meeting was largely attended. When the vote of protest was taken only one the appointment of Justav Noske and Schools of 3,345 weekly.

TROOPSHIP ASHORE - AT FIRE ISLAND

Over 2400 Aboard, But No Lives Are in Danger.

New York, Jan. 1.-The troopship Northern Pacific with 2,400 American officers and soldiers, including 1,700 sick or wounded, returning from France went aground early today at Fire Island, Long Island.

After trying vainly all day to reach the stranded vessel, a crew of the coast guard reached her in a lifeboat shortly before 2 p.m. A heavy surf was rolling, and a strong inshore wind and intermittent rain and snowfalls and a thick fog omprised the weather situation. Navy officials announced at five 'clock this evening that no attempt would be made before tomorrow morning to remove the troops. The naval authorities are taking every precaution. A breeches buoy has been rigged from the shore to the vessel, ready for use at any time, while thirteen destroyers and naval tugs are standing by to lend assistance in emergencies.

Coast guards declared tonight that had the vessel struck certain other bars in the vicinity, she would have een smashed to pieces in a relatively short time. The shore is dotted with the hulks of other ships which ended their career in the "graveyard of the Philadeiphia, Jan. 1.—Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, defeated Paul Doyle, New York, in a slow six-round bout here today.

Jeff Smith, boxing instructor at Camp Dix knocked out Billy Kramer, Milwaukee, in the third round.

Other bouts at the New Year's boxing matinees resulted; Jimmy McHale. Philadelphia, defeated Paul Sampson. Brooklyn: Bartley Madden, New York beat Larry Williams Philadelphia; Ralph Brady, Syracuse, had the better of the bout with Denny Whalen, Philadelphia. The bout between Jack Thompson, Missouri, and Jeff. Clark, Atlantic City, was stopped in the sixth round because Clark would not make a fight.

Columbus O., Jan. 1.—Brown Downey, Columbus welterweight, and Ted Lewis, New York, went 15 rounds even ha rather uninteresting bout here this afternoon. Both left the ring as good as they entered. Apparently at no phase of the game did either boxer have an advantage.

MAKES PROGRESS PLAIN TALKS ON Number of Producing Wells / NVESTMENTS By Mark Harris

According to the Commercial Handbook of Canada, we import more than 250,000,000 gallons of oil every year, nearly all of which comes from our neighbor, the United States.

This is really an absurd condition, because it is a well-known fact that Canada has plenty of oil, although up to date it has not been available.

Why not? Simply because we have neglected our natural oil resources. No one realizes this more than our government, and to overcome this condition the government has placed a bounty of 521/2 cents a barrel on all oil produced in the Dominion.

This has naturally resulted in stimulating development in many Canadian oil fields, and, although I don't profess to be a prophet, I have no hesitation in predicting that Canada will export oil instead of importing it before another ten years goes by.

The one great industry of Canada that has scarcely been scratched is the oil industry, and it is therefore as plain as two and two make four that money invested with legitimate companies that are honestly developing Canadian oil leases must be returned many, many times in profits as the company

Personally I think it very foolish for Canadians to invest in foreign companies, because under present conditions the Canadian companies can earn profits and pay dividends on a gross business that would just about pay expenses for the company operating across the border.

For instance, the Canadian oil company not only receives a bounty of 521/2 cents a barrel, but in addition there is our tariff, which more than doubles this profit.

A majority of the big companies operating in the United States do not figure on a net profit as large as the Canadian royalty of 521/2 cents a barrel, so it is plain that the average Canadian company should earn profits even when American companies could not do so.

Naturally, the tariff and the bounty do not help even the Canadian company until they reach the producing stage, and for that reason it is a good policy to invest funds with Canadian companies that have already made good to the extent of producing oil in substantial quantities.

Such companies are not plentiful, but I know of one Canadian company that answers all these requirements, and more—in fact this particular company has so far advanced that it has already paid a dividend of 41/2 per cent. a short time ago, and is expected to pay another when the quarterly period arrives.

As this company has accomplished this by development in one district in Ontario, and as this is only one of four districts where the company is operating, it is only logical to anticipate some really big things as the development proceeds.

Less than five months ago this company had eight producing wells at Mosa, Ontario-today the company has no less than sixteen producing wells in this one district.

In addition, there are now drilling two new wells at Mosa, two more at Shetland and one that is practically finished in Louisiana.

Until these five new wells are "brought in" it is impossible to say what the result will be, but even under the most adverse circumstances the company is sure of three or four new producing wells, so if there is one oil company in or out of the Dominion where future dividends look assured, it is this Canadian company.

The best part of the whole story, however, is the large acreage held by the company. With holdings that aggregate more than 19,000 acres, out of which only a few hundred have as yet been drilled, it gives the company a future such as can only be classed as practically unlimited as far as profits are concerned.

I say this because the expenses of a company are practically the same with 100 producing wells as they are with 15 or 20; therefore, as the new wells are finished, it does not take many to double or triple the net earnings, and as these have already been large enough for the regular dividend requirement, it goes without saying that future payments should steadily increase.

A call at my office, a post card or a phone message will bring you full and complete information regarding what I consider an unusual investment opportunity with unlimited future possibilities-and best of all, it is Canadian through and through.

Faithfully,

THURSDAY MORNING JANUARY 2 1919

J. E. Dalrymple Reaches Fiftieth Birthday and Receives Congratulations.

Montreal, Jan. 1.—J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president in charge of traffic, Grand Trunk System, today received the congratulations of his railway associates and of the leaders in the business world upon the occasion of his fiftieth birthday. The anniversary was a double one, as it marked also the completion by Mr. Dalrymple of thirty-five and a half years of service with the Grand Trunk.

Mr. Dalrymple's record in the railway service is a splendid one. He has worked his way upward in the one company from a junior clerkship to an office of high executive responsibility, where he directs the traffic on the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, Grand Trunk Pacific Coast Steamship lines and subsidiaries of the system, These rail and water lines serve eighty-nine per cent of Canada's urban popu-lation grouped in its forty principal sinhe per cent of Canada's urban population grouped in its forty principal cities.

In addition to holding these offices. Mr. Dalrymple is a member of the board of directors of other large organizations, such as the Canada's Steamship Lines, and is regarded as one of the most able officers in the Transportation field on this continent. Born at Montreal, it was in the treasurer's office of the Grand Trunk in that city that he had his first raffroad experience. Later, he occupied the positions of secretary to the freight traffic manager of the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway, and secretary to the general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway system. After doing notable work as division freight agent of the company at Hamilton and at Detroit, he was appointed general freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway to handle the growing freight traffic of that road. His stocess in that position led to his being chosen in 1905 as general freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System. After doing notable work as division freight agent of the Central Vermont Railway. In 1900, He was assistant to the general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway System. STOCKS ARE ABOLISHED

Minimum prices no longer prevail on the Toronto Exchange, after having been in effect more than a year. The following statement was given out yesterday:

The committee of the Toronto Stock Exchange, at a meeting held Tuesday evening, decided to remove all minimum prices, commencing Thursday morning. The financial situation has shown such rapid improvement that it is felt that all restrictions to trading can now/be removed.

BANK BRANCHES IN CANADA.

The Monetary Times Annual points out that the two bank amalgamations which took place during the year reduced the number of Canadian chartered banks to nineteen. At the end of October there were 3217 bank branches in Canada. These were dis-

PROBE LOW SELLING OF LIBERTY BONDS

New York, Jan. 1 .- An investigation intended to determine why liberty bonds are selling so far below par will be undertaken tomorrow by the county district attorney's office, it was announced today.

"There is nothing to indicate any attempt an the part of financiers to force down the prices so they can buy them at lower figures, but in view of the fact that another issue is to be floated soon I shall investigate," said Edward S. Brogan, an assistant prosecutor, who will conduct the inquiry "It is plain that to insure the success of the next loan the market price of the bonds outstanding should be kept as high as possible.

"The last 4 1-4 per cents. has sold as low as 94 and it is suspected that holders in need of immediate cash are privately selling at discounts ranging from $10 to $14 on a $100 bond, thus influencing the price downwards," Mr. Brogan said, adding that if this was found to be so the prosecutor's office would confer with the liberty loan committee with a view to appealing to holders to retain their bonds both in their own interest and for patriotic
