Commander Peary Cables That He, Too, Has Reached the North Pole

Boy in Drunken Carriage Fires Rifle at Playmate

Johnny Kelly, Aged 13, May Die From Bullet in Intestine—Claude Browncombe Shot in Thigh—Labor Day Casualties.

Johnny Kelly, a lad of 13 years, of 211 Lansdowne-avenue, is lying at the point of death in the Hospital for Sick Children as the result of drunken daredevilness on the part of one of his companions. He was shot with a 22-calibre rifle near the Lansdowne-avenue railway bridge at 2.30 yesterday afternoon.

The slain is apparently a rendezvous of a number of young boys who were there, eight men secured a keg of beer early yesterday morning and carried it, covered with a bag, to an empty box car on the siding. The crowd of boys went over and some of the oldest were given liquor. Among them were Clifton Fuller, aged about 17, of 28 Wyndham-street and John Travers, aged 16, of 38 St. Clarendon-avenue. Cullen is the owner of a 22-calibre rifle.

At about 2.30 the Kelly boy said he was going home. With several of his boy friends he turned and walked away.

After he had got about fifty feet from the other group, Travers, who had the rifle, called after him, "If you go home, I'll kill you."

Kelly and his companions turned. When he saw Travers point the gun at him he stopped. The other boys ducked. Then Travers pulled the trigger and Kelly dropped.

The boys ran to his assistance and picked him up. They wanted to carry him home when they found he had been shot, but he would not let them. "No, I don't want to be carried," he said. White-faced and supported by his friends, he walked home.

Dr. J. H. McConnell of 625 Dundas-street, was called in and he administered the first aid. He thought the wound he ordered the boy to be removed to the hospital.

Kelly was put under an anesthetic at the hospital and Dr. Charles B. Shuttlecock of East Bloor-street removed the bullet. It was found that it had twice penetrated the small intestine and had finally lodged in the osseum. At first it was feared that it had passed through the kidney, as it entered the back near the kidney.

The doctors think he has but small chance for recovering.

Travers and Cullen were arrested last night by Detectives Cronin and Murray in connection with the shooting.

Boy Shot in the Thigh
Claude Browncombe, aged 12, son of Albert P. Browncombe, 2 Kensington-avenue, was shot in the thigh while out near the Humber River yesterday afternoon.

A party of about a dozen boys went into the bush to spend the day. They went with them a 22-calibre rifle. Several of the older boys held the rifle standing against a tree, and one of the smaller boys picked up the rifle. He tried to eject the shell, but operated the wrong mechanism, namely, the trigger. The cartridge exploded and the bullet lodged in Claude's thigh.

Skull May Be Fractured
On the way from the exhibition last night Charles Swales, of 9 West Murray-street, Hamilton, was struck from a car at the corner of Simcoe and King-streets, and badly injured.

At Simcoe-street Swales stood up before the car had started, and was struck by the motorist throwing on the air-brakes full force. Swales was not hanging on and consequently was thrown forward to the pavement on his face. He was picked up in an ambulance and removed to St. Michael's Hospital in the police ambulance.

He was accompanied by his wife. Six stitches were put into the scalp wound. It is not known yet whether his skull was fractured or not. The doctors think his injury will not prove serious, tho he is suffering from shock.

Ex Visitor Run Down
Mrs. Sarah Gamble, of Paris, Ont., an exhibition visitor, was run down by a rig at College and Teravauy-streets, Hamilton, last afternoon and received a scalp wound.

She alighted from a car and walked in front of the rig, which was going at a fair rate in a street yesterday afternoon. She was struck by the rig and was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in the police ambulance.

Breaks Arm at Play
Robert Watt, aged 22, living at the Evangeline Settlement, and member of the Evangeline Rugby team, fractured his left arm in a game yesterday afternoon. He was attended at the General Hospital.

Falls From Ladder
Alexander Moffat, 126 Argyle-st., aged 44, caretaker of McCaul School, fell off a ten-foot ladder at the school yesterday afternoon and fractured one of the small bones in his left foot. He was taken to the General Hospital in the police ambulance.

WOMAN IN WHITE IS WANTED
May Be Able to Explain a Chicago Shooting.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Frank P. Arnold was probably fatally shot last night after being held up by three men near Washington Park, and a mysterious woman in being sought as a possible principal in the case.

When persons in the park heard the one shot fired at 11 o'clock and ran toward the place where Arnold lay, they saw a white dressed woman in white bending over him. She fled as they approached, but it is said to have called the police by telephone.

Altho Arnold said that one of the hold-up men shot him, he is known to have been with a woman answering the description of the missing one in white an hour before the shooting.

LABOR DAY ACCIDENTS

Charles Swales, Hamilton, knocked from car; skull may be fractured.
Mrs. Sarah Gamble, Paris; run down by rig; scalp wound.
Robert Watt, Evangeline Settlement, arm broken in football practice, arm broken in football practice.
John Kelly, 211 Lansdowne-avenue, shot in intestines during carnival; may not recover.
Claude Browncombe, 2 Kensington-avenue, shot in thigh by boy playing with rifle.
Alex. Moffat, caretaker, McCaul-school, fell down ladder; two bones in foot broken.

"LAURENTIAN" A TOTAL WRECK

Allan Liner Runs Ashore in Fog Off Newfoundland, and Breaks in Two.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 6.—The Allan liner steamer Laurentian, from Boston, Sept. 3, for Glasgow, is a wreck off Cape Race.

The steamer ran ashore at daylight, in a dense fog, and Nos. 1 and 2 holds soon filled with water.

The 60 passengers were safely landed. During the forenoon the steamer broke in two, which renders hopeless a chance of refloating her.

The Laurentian belongs to the Allan Line Steamship Company, Limited, of Glasgow, and ran regularly between Boston and Glasgow. The steamer was 400 feet long, 42 feet beam and had a tonnage of 2837. She was built at Greenock in 1872.

She was laden with flour in sacks and corn in bulk.

YACHT'S BOILER BURSTS

HALLIFAX, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—The steam yacht Ende, owned by J. C. and W. F. Larder of Sydney, while cruising off the coast to-day, had her boiler bursted at the time of the accident, was severely scalded by escaping steam and practically killed.

His whole object in visiting the west is to look into the field for immigration and investment, his papers strongly advocating the claims of Canada along these lines. He made the following significant statement:

"Let me make the suggestion to some of you who are investing your money and your labor, who are building railroads and elevators, etc., that you keep an eye on European affairs and figure out why German ship-sliding yards are turning out under pressure rapid cruisers and first-class battleships, why it is that Krupp's works have increased their hands to over one hundred thousand, and the population of Winnipeg, and exactly what would be the effect on your farmers, your railways, your Winnipeg or your Port William, if, about harvest time, as happened in France in 1870, you got a cable in Winnipeg one night that all your stuff was held up in the Atlantic.

"I should like to know what would then be the price of No. 1 hard."

AN HISTORIC FUR STORE

Buying Pelts and Making Them Into Garments Since 1864

After all there is one thing that should tempt you in making the choice of a furrier it would be the experience the furrier has in selecting fur. Expert knowledge is the one great thing necessary in the fur business and if any man in Toronto has a record to back the goods he sells, it is Dineen.

It was away back in 1864 that Dineen commenced business in Toronto. Since that year the firm has grown until to-day furrier has in selecting fur. Expert knowledge is the one great thing necessary in the fur business and if any man in Toronto has a record to back the goods he sells, it is Dineen.

The collection of foreign and native in the showrooms at Yonge and Temperance-streets is worth going miles to see. This display is particularly remarkable for the costly exhibit of Canadian skins, Hudson Bay sable, etc.

ALFRED H. MARSH IS DROWNED IN LAKE

Body Found Upright in Twelve Feet of Water at Centre Island, and Efforts to Restore Animation Are Unavailing.

Alfred H. Marsh, C. C. of the legal firm of Marsh and Cameron, 23 Toronto-street, was drowned whilst bathing at Centre Island yesterday evening.

The deceased gentleman, who was well-known throughout the city, resided at 164 Jarvis-street, and had a summer residence at 3 Clarendon-avenue, Centre Island, at which latter address he left home for a swim in the lake at the foot of Clarendon-avenue, a short distance away. Altho there were a number of people about at the time and workmen were employed 50 feet away, nothing unusual was noticed until 6.30, when his body was seen floating upright in 12 feet of water, about 25 feet from the shore. A man named McGarry, in the employ of Miller & Cummings, brought the body ashore, and J. M. Whitfield of 804 Lakefront applied the usual methods to restore animation, for half an hour, but without success.

When a doctor arrived he pronounced life extinct. Mr. Marsh, who was 58 years of age, was a strong swimmer, and knew the well of the spot where he met his death; in fact, it was a frequent practice of his to bathe there in the evenings.

He is survived by his wife (nee Miss Proudfoot, daughter of the late Chief Justice Proudfoot), a sister, Mrs. Frank Roberts of Lake Charles, Louisiana, and five daughters, Miss Mary G. Ottawa; Mrs. Jessie M. Brewer, New York; Miss Jessie K., at home; Miss Louise, at St. Luke's Hospital, N.Y.; and Miss Mildred, at home.

The late Mr. Marsh was well-known in Ontario legal circles and was for many years lecturer in equity at the Law Society in Osgoode Hall. He was a prominent member of the Lonic Lodge A.P.A. and A.M. He was in partnership successively with Sir John A. Macdonald, James D. Stewart, and the late Judge Lount. Mr. Marsh took silk in 1889. He was born at Trenton.

DETROIT MYSTERY WOMAN THE VICTIM

Torso Found in Sack in Marsh—Experts Say Limbs Were Amputated Before Death.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—The headless, armless, and legless body of an unidentified woman, enclosed in a coarse coffee sack, was found in Ecorse Creek, at the city limits early this morning. The body was badly decomposed, but it is judged to be that of a woman of about thirty years. The torso was naked.

The body is that of a woman between five feet two inches and five feet five inches in height, weighing between 120 and 130 pounds, and well developed. Two bricks were enclosed with the torso, holding it down.

The head and limbs of the victim had been cut cleanly from the torso. A sharp instrument was used, and evidently by an expert. The head and neck were cut from the shoulders, the arms cleanly taken off and the legs cut off so far up that the intestines protruded.

The woman was alive when cut up, establishing the fact that murder was committed.

The body had lain among the rushes in shallow water within sight of the passengers of passing street cars evidently for several days. The discovery of the contents of the bag was made by John D. Jones and Benjamin Duffour of Ford City, who went close to it in a rowboat and then a slit in the bag were horrified to find a human body.

The bag was an ordinary one, and the top had been well sewn after the bleeding torso was placed in it. The creek is now being dragged for fragments of the body, and Sheriff Gaston and a posse of deputies are scouring the country in the neighborhood for possible clues.

4000 WALK AT OTTAWA

Biggest Labor Day Parade Yet—A Woman Drowns.

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Ideal weather conditions prevailed, and the Labor Day was enjoyed to the utmost by several thousand union men. The procession was the largest yet, numbering about 4000 men, and included five hundred visiting longshoremen from Ogdensburg, N.Y., the American flag being much in evidence. Excursion trains brought several thousands visitors.

Mrs. W. Seabrook, an elderly and near-sighted lady, started to-day a daughter living in Hull. By mistake, she took a street which did not lead to the bridge, and when she reached the river she fell in and was drowned.

COOK'S RIVAL ARRIVES AT THE FROZEN GOAL APRIL 6, 1909

"I have the pole, April 6th. Stars and Stripes nailed to the pole. Pole reached; 'Roosevelt' safe. Have made good at last. I have the old pole."

In the above brief fashion, Commander Robert Peary, U.S.N., cabling from Indian Harbor, Labrador, yesterday, sprang a sensation on the civilized world, hardly less profound than had been the first explorer to declare himself the conqueror of the frozen north. That two men—rivals—should within a few days make an announcement that the world has awaited for centuries is dramatic in the extreme.

Peary is expected at Chateau Bay, Newfoundland, to-day, and he promises a "big story." It is probable that he has still to learn that Dr. Cook has preceded him—unless, indeed, he found the flag which the Brooklyn adventurer says he placed at the top of the world. Peary is almost a year behind his rival in his time of discovery.

Dr. Cook, at Copenhagen, said: "I hope the news is correct. If Peary has reached the pole, his descriptions of that region will confirm mine."

BRIEFLY BUT TO POINT PEARY FLASHES TIDINGS

Cables the News of His Success to Press Associates, Manager and Wife—Details To-day.

Peary has reached the North Pole, but the details won't be known until the intrepid explorer reaches Chateau Bay, Nfld., to-day.

The first announcement was flashed from Indian Harbor, Labrador, by wireless via Cape Ray and Port aux Basques, Nfld; Canso, N.S., and New York, to the Associated Press, being received at 12.30 p.m., saying:

"Stars and Stripes nailed to the pole. The despatch was duplicated to Reuters' News Agency, London.

The first belief that someone was attempting a hoax was dispelled when Herbert L. Brigham, secretary of the Arctic Club, New York, received a private cipher message, saying:

"The Roosevelt was the vessel which the exploring party utilized for the expedition. Another message to The New York Times said:

"I have the pole, April 6. Expect to arrive Chateau Bay, Sept. 7. Secure communication with my wife and arrange expedite transmission on big story. A message to his wife at South Harpswell, Maine, said:

"Have made good at last. I have the old pole. Am well. Love. Will wire again from Chateau.

To this she replied: "All well. Best love. God bless you. Hurry home. (Sgd.) J."

He left Sydney, N.S., July 17, 1908, on the steamer Roosevelt, on his third attempt to reach the North Pole. His last remark as he went on board the steamer was: "I expect to reach the pole. I shall be glad to see you when I reach the pole."

LIFE'S AMBITION REALIZED

Commander Peary Has Had His Eyes Constantly to the North.

In reaching the North Pole, Commander Robert Edwin Peary has achieved the ambition of a lifetime. As a boy his day dreams were of an unexplored land far to the northward, and such printed matter concerning the polar regions as fell into his hands was read with absorbing interest. He was born at Cresson, Pa., May 6, 1856, but in his early youth the family removed to Maine. He graduated from Bowdoin College in 1877, and entered the United States navy as civil engineer. Oct. 26, 1881. Three years later he was appointed an assistant engineer on the board which surveyed the route of the Nicaragua Ship Canal.

In 1888 he was granted leave of absence to visit Greenland, on what proved to be the first of seven expeditions to the north, which challenged the admiration of the world, and brought him the title of "commander."

In 1894 he was made president of the American Geographical Society. Commander Peary's domestic life has been so happy that absence from his family has been one of his greatest hardships. In 1888, two years after the return from his first visit to Greenland, he married Miss Josephine Dietrich, who upon different occasions

NEWFOUNDLAND CONGRATULATED

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 6.—Commander Peary has just wired the Government of Newfoundland, by wireless from Indian Harbor, Labrador, announcing he has discovered the North Pole, and congratulating Newfoundland on its part in this discovery, seeing that the captain and crew of Peary's steamer are Newfoundlanders.

DR. COOK IS PLEASED SAYS PEARY WILL CONFIRM HIM

accompanied her husband for a considerable distance northward. Upon one of these trips a daughter was born to them, who has always been called by her father "The Snow Maiden," and held for a time a notoriety rivaling that of the commander, as the only white child known to have been born within the Arctic circle.

In 1892, after Peary has been absent four years and hope of his return had been abandoned by many, Mrs. Peary accompanied a relief expedition which met and brought him home.

When asked if he would try again, he replied: "Undoubtedly, I have made my last attempt. My time is up and I am going back to my work in this navy."

However, the wanderer lost again griped that he would be returning to his last and successful expedition may now be anticipated. In fact, it was announced more than a year ago that he would attempt a national American expedition for the exploration of the south polar regions, but that his interest was only in getting it under way.

PEARY'S "FARTHEST NORTH"

Perils Which He Faced on His Previous Expedition.

How well Peary's ideas have worked out is shown in his successes, each giving him nearer the goal, and each giving the world more information concerning the polar regions. Each time he has followed the same general route, that of the north coast of Cape Kennedy Channel and Robeson Channel into Nares Sea. In 1884-5 he got almost to the 78th parallel, on the west Greenland coast, in 1889-90 he went to the east coast of Ellesmere Land; in 1891-2 he discovered Peary Strait, on the north coast of Greenland, and following the coast to Academy Land, at about the 30th meridian, gave to the world the first chart of this unknown territory.

On this trip he penetrated above the 82nd parallel; in 1900 he took the east coast of Grinnell Land, reaching the 82nd parallel; in 1905-6 he skirted the north coast of Ginnell Land, made his winter quarters at Cape Sheridan, Grant Land, and when ready to start for the pole moved past Cape Hecla, on the west, and from there to Cape Moss, from which he started his attack on the pole.

All of these expeditions led over what has since become known as the American route, and which seems to offer the best foundation for a polar expedition, as it is approximately one hundred miles nearer the goal than the Spitzbergen base, which has been used so often heretofore, and which, curiously enough, is being made the base to-day for a balloon expedition by Walter Wellman.

With remarkable directness. The advantages of the American route are proved by Peary's trip in 1906, when he attained the highest point ever reached by man—87 degrees 6 minutes, at about the 49th meridian of longitude west. This was attained on April 21, and the engineer's journey was thru remarkable directness, his path being almost a straight line from Cape Moss to latitude 84 degrees 38 minutes, when he discovered what he called the "meridian of longitude." Peary planned to make first for a new found island northwest of Grant Land and to strike from there. This, they computed, would give the most constant advantage, when compelled to wait at the open lanes, of being able to go with the drift and still keep close to the direct line instead of being carried far east and then forced to the west.

Headed to the West. This year his route and that followed by Dr. Cook lay in general way from Grant Land out to the west, and not direct north, the explorers heading their parties almost as far as the eighth meridian of longitude. ### PEARY MOST PERSISTENT OF MANY SEEKERS OF THE POLE were over when a heavy gale sprang up and opened the young ice again. The greater part of their provisions were on the south side of the wide expanse, and there was nothing to do but to push on without them. Comparatively smooth traveling was found from here until the latitude of 85 degrees 12 minutes, where they encountered a terrific storm.

There was no way of making progress against it, and Peary was forced into storm camp. The driving ice and snow precluded any reconnaissance, and for six days again they remained motionless. During this time the ice on which they were held prisoner drifted 70 miles to the east, and when Peary took up his journey once more he was about the 49th meridian.

Reached Highest North. Provisions were running low, but on would allowance and by feeding the weakening dogs to the strongest of the party was able to make good headway. Over the constantly widening lanes, hummocks and snowbanks, until at noon on April 21, Peary reckoned that they had gone as far as they dared. To have ventured ahead on that day would have meant death by starvation to all of them, and Peary was too long-headed to let the lure of the north drag him into destruction and defeat the very ambition that he had nurtured for years.

He stopped, took careful stock of his provisions and figured that he could reach 87 degrees and 8 minutes and that he would be able to get back to Cape Morris Jesup. He took observations, and found that he had reached 87 degrees and 8 minutes and that he would be able to get back to Cape Morris Jesup. He took observations, and found that he had reached 87 degrees and 8 minutes and that he would be able to get back to Cape Morris Jesup.

It was a perilous journey, the return, and Peary and his Eskimo companions were not only saved from starvation by the mere chance discovery of a narrow musk ox trail, but came within a fraction of an inch of losing their lives on a stretch of thin ice. As soon as they had started back they found all the ice moving freely, and many open lanes were encountered.

The Open Lane Again. At the eighty-fourth parallel Peary again came upon the open lane, and while waiting for a chance to cross the ice on which they camped, separated from the main floe and they drifted out on it for five days. At last a cold snap bridged over the wide, blank stretch with a crust, barely enough for a schooboy to risk wetting by playing "toklak bender" on it. Peary saw it was now or never. The explorers set their sleds on the ice, and Peary, even then they did not dare lift past the feet, but merely slid one foot past the other. The dogs were sitting far apart and the sledges lightened as much as possible, but they sent before them a rolling wave of ice that threatened to give way any moment. Had any part of the meagre provisions been lost nothing could have saved the men. Had any of the men themselves gone thru the ice any attempt at rescue would have been fatal, for to have stopped an instant in any one place would have been to break thru. In silence the party made the two miles.

Dangerous as this wide lane proved to Peary, it taught him a very important lesson about polar ice, which the explorer used to advantage in the present expedition, and which Dr. Cook also made use of. It was noticed that when they were in the storm camp the ice on the southern side of a large mass of snow was that nearer the pole and traveled east. Peary found that after he had drifted the seventy miles he not only had to work his way north but had also to point a little west to overcome the flow of the ice.

GREATEST EVER AT FEAR

All Records Ruthlessly Slaughtered on Labor's Holiday—Runaway Horse Knocks Down Woman—Minor Mishaps.

Attendance—1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909. Citizens' Day ... 125,000 150,000 First attendance because the grounds are so much larger than last year, but it must have been at least 25,000 greater than for Citizens' Day of 1908. My brother from Chicago tells me that he never saw such a crowd at the World's Fair. The people came early and there were as many on the grounds at 10 a.m. as at noon last year.

Manager J. O. Orr: "We've never had a day like it before. I can't estimate the attendance because the grounds are so much larger than last year, but it must have been at least 25,000 greater than for Citizens' Day of 1908. My brother from Chicago tells me that he never saw such a crowd at the World's Fair. The people came early and there were as many on the grounds at 10 a.m. as at noon last year."

One hundred and fifty thousand men, women and children swept over the fair grounds yesterday, establishing an attendance record which gives the most significant proof that the greatest permanent exhibition in the world is marching on with the times, and that, before many years are over, it will be not a national but a world's exposition.

The statement of the attendance is official, having been given at 10:30 p.m. by Treasurer Frank Beantall, and is based upon the record of gate receipts with an estimate of the number of passholders, including the army of exhibitors, concessionaries and attendants in general.

The grandstand attendance at night was about 21,000, another high record, which would probably have exceeded thousands higher were the accommodations adequate. The stand seats 15,400, and the event is a record. A great mass of humanity. There was a precipitate rush for the cars afterwards, but the police handled the throngs in splendid order. The street railway making herculean efforts to provide cars every body reached home by midnight. The need of a fast train, a new record, was again emphasized, especially during the afternoon, when a car blockade from Dufferin-street nearly to Bathurst-street occurred.

The emergency hospital tent proved its usefulness. No less than fifty patients were taken to the hospital, a great majority trivial cases, however. A fire in a tent outside the process building gave the firemen a busy few minutes shortly after 11 p.m. A gasoline lamp ignited to the top of the tent, and $50 damage was done.

Despite the immenseness of the crowd there were only four arrests. One of the victims had imbibed other than local option beer, and the fourth was "discovery." Several of the loss of pocketbooks, but no definite case of pocket picking was reported.

YOUR LAST AND BEST CHANCE FOR A SUBURBAN HOME WITH AN ACRE OF LAND

Glenavey Heights, the last and best chance to get a building lot that fits your idea of size, location and possibilities.

Glenavey Heights comprise 60 acres that will be broken into lots of an acre and more to suit purchasers.

Glenavey Heights are approached by the best thoroughfare in North Toronto—recently extended thru this property—Broadway Avenue. On the east is Bayview Avenue.

Glenavey Heights are 300 feet above the lake level and command an unsurpassed view of Toronto and the surrounding country.

Glenavey Heights, by reason of their ideal location, will be restricted moderately and maintained as a high-class building section.

Glenavey Heights will be the Rosedale of a newer and larger Toronto when the railways complete their plans now under way in regard to their new terminals at the north end of the city.

Glenavey Heights, as an investment, will bear the inspection of all citizens who see the mighty development along Yonge, the metropolitan highway of Toronto and York County.

Glenavey Heights will be sold in acre lots, from $1500 an acre to $2500 an acre. Compared with prices of other parcels of suburban property these prices are persuasive.

LORD CHARLES TO LABOR MAKES LAST SPEECH HERE

Many Strikes Would Not Occur if Capitalists Would Face Their Men, He Says.

Labor and labor views were well ventilated, intelligently presented and warmly supported at the exhibition directors' luncheon yesterday.

After Lord Charles Berosford, President Bruce of the Federated Building Trades, was the guest of honor. Next to Mayor Oliver sat Dave Carey and James Simpson. Ex-Controller Hubbard made his first appearance this year at the fair, and there was a good attendance of notabilities, among whom Edmund Bristol, M.P., Hon. Thomas Crawford, Nelson Monieith and R. J. Fleming were prominent.

President Gooderham congratulated the directors upon the good weather and anticipated a record-breaking attendance for Labor Day. Everybody in Canada, he said, had to work for a living and perhaps that was what made all Canadians so happy and contented. He called on Lord Charles for his last speech in Toronto.

"This year," interposed W. K. George, and the suggestion was approved.

Lord Charles' Last Address.

"What does Lord Charles Berosford mean when he says that the men who are in charge of the administration of this country should face their men? It means that they should face the men who are in charge of the administration of this country."

should not fail to be intimate with labor problems. One thing he knew well: "It is impossible for a man in any class to succeed unless he works and works hard."

"To the organization of labor all countries owe a debt of gratitude. On those who labored for the progress of the country depended. Efforts to divorce capital and labor had been ineffective. Labor could not get along without capital and it was absolutely certain that capital could not do without labor." He remembered very well when those who did the labor did not get their share of the output. The trades unions had altered that. There was a tendency to think in some quarters that the capitalists were more for their share than the capitalists could afford. But the labor men who studied the question knew that capital must have a fair return or no capital would be invested. He thought that, taking it all round, the average return on capital was about 5 per cent.

Should Get Together.

"My hope for my own country is that we shall never have any real stress or strain between capital and labor," said his lordship. In cases where there had been strikes the men had fought, as they had a right to fight, for themselves. But he believed these strikes would never have occurred had the managers and capitalists gone down and faced the men and had it out fair and square with them, and found out what they wanted. Very often third parties had interfered and made trouble. In ships discipline was necessary, strict, but the men were happier on a strict ship where they knew exactly what they had to do, than on a slack ship, where they did what they liked one day and were hauled up for it the next.

He had been round the Exhibition and seen the exhibits, and they could not be exceeded. He had examined the fittings for steamships, and the old country could not produce anything better, for style, finish and efficiency. One thing he would impress upon the people at home.

"I don't understand why the old country hasn't got a large building here. You have a large trade with a neighboring

LONDON PRESS DUBIOUS ABOUT COOK'S SUCCESS

Dissatisfaction Expressed at Explorer's Unconvincing Statements Since Return to Denmark.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—"Dr. Cook's statements in Denmark, in support of his claim, have rather strengthened than otherwise the doubts as to the value of his observations."

This sentence from The Morning Post is representative of the attitude still held by a section of the London daily newspapers, which express some surprise that the explorer sent his scientific observations and diaries to the United States instead of bringing them with him for immediate production.

The Daily Telegraph, which hitherto has been a wholehearted defender of Dr. Cook, says now that his reticence is both reasonable and discreet, but confesses that any delay, however inevitable, is bound to act detrimentally to the explorer's immediate position.

The Daily News, in an editorial, strongly supports Dr. Cook. "Unless Dr. Cook's power of judgment has been impaired by cold, hardships and loneliness," says that paper, "the evidence for the truth of his story seems stronger than the possibility either that his observations were wrong or that he had deliberately chosen to make an April fool of the whole civilized world."

The Daily Chronicle in a highly skeptical article, asks how Cook sent his diaries to America, and why, if he was able to send them to America from Greenland, he did not go to America first himself.

The Chronicle further wants to know what kind of an artificial horizon Dr. Cook used. If it was of mercury, it would freeze, and if not frozen, would tremble so violently as to be useless for observation purposes. If, as he relates, there was a moving sea under the ice.

A despatch from Copenhagen to The Daily Mail says Commander Hvegaard, a well-known sailor, very renowned and popular in Denmark, when asked, as Dr. Cook says, he has kept a record of his observations, they will afford absolute proof one way or the other, replied:

"No, certainly not. There is nothing to prevent imaginary observations being written down. I could invent any number of things with the greatest ease in my own study."

Commander Hvegaard was among those who proposed Dr. Cook's health at Saturday night's banquet, but his first words cast rather a chill upon the company.

"I candidly admit," he said, "that when I first heard the news I did not believe it and," he said, after a pause, "we have not heard many details."

German Recognition

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Two of the leading societies of geographers of Germany, the Berlin and the Hamburg Associations, have congratulated Dr. Cook on his discovery of the North Pole.

C. Albert Sittenfeld, a German writer on technical and scientific subjects, said today:

"Even the most impatient must await a decisive answer as to whether or not Dr. Cook has discovered the North Pole until such time as the scientific observations of his expedition are laid before the masters of physical geography."

"When one considers the circumstances under which Dr. Cook's observations were made, that the thickness of the atmosphere, the visibility of the sun, and the clearness of the sky all contribute to the results, and that the best chronometers are affected by climatic conditions, there is sufficient reason to realize the possibility of a theoretical error. This, however, need not in the least affect our respect for the individual."

It has been established that Dr. Nansen was not able to avoid minor errors in his reckonings, and geographical scholars were obliged to affirm that Nansen did not get as far north as he said, and as he honestly believed he did."

Two Nightriders Caught.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—John Strobel of Rochester, N.Y., and Arthur Thomas of California were arrested at the Sheephead Bay race track today charged with grand larceny in taking from his stable and riding last night, Ostand, a gelding entered for the last race at Sheephead Bay to-day. It is alleged that the horse was driven at top speed on the track during the night, thereby endangering his chance of winning the race to-day. Strobel and Thomas pleaded not guilty and were held in $5000 bail.

NO DUST WHEN YOU SHAKE A "PEASE" FURNACE

ALWAYS INSTAL A PEASE "ECONOMY" FURNACE

That is another strong point about a "Pease." There is absolutely no dirt—none in the cellar when you shake it. None in the air reservoir because all horizontal joints are "cup" joints, and the cement lies in the "cup" — so the cement cannot fall away. All perpendicular joints are riveted steel plates.

If you are building, or your present heat is not satisfactory—write us. All we want is a chance to tell you about our furnace—and leave the judgment to you.

URGED TO TILL LAND

Italian Professor of Genoa University Speaks to Italians.

Prof. Peter Pisani, of the University of Genoa, Italy, delivered a lecture in the Grand Opera House Sunday night to a large gathering of his countrymen. His address in Italian was illustrated by stereopticon views. His object in lecturing on this continent is to direct Italians to the agricultural districts.

"Of the 2,000,000 Italians in Canada and the United States, only 40,000 are engaged in agriculture," he said.

"We think Canada is offering the best opportunities for immigrants. But these opportunities lie not in the cities, but in the agricultural districts.

"Italians in the cities spend their lives in selling bananas, peanuts, ice cream, etc. They would make greater advancement and become more useful citizens if they would go and till the land."

Prof. Pisani is here under the auspices of the Italian Society for the Protection of Immigrants.

'STAR' BEER AND PROHIBITION

Temperance Workers Should Encourage Sale of O'Keefe's New Beverage

The Sunday World reprinted an interesting editorial from Hearst's New York Evening Journal which goes far to show that legislative prohibition, in so far as it aims to produce sobriety among the masses, has failed.

"Men will drink," says the editorial, "if they want to. You cannot prevent them from drinking by saying 'you shall not.' Among the successful races the vast majority have always taken stimulating drinks. With free sale of light wines and beer and discouragement of whiskey, the country would be as temperate, on the average, as Italy, France or Germany, where everybody is a temperate drinker and where nobody gets drunk."

We cannot read an article like the foregoing without instinctively thinking of O'Keefe's "Star" beer. If the Journal's editorial writer only knew of how the O'Keefe Brewery Company is catering to the people in the matter of beverages containing a low percentage of alcohol, he would have probably paid a visit to Toronto and got acquainted.

"Star" beer will not intoxicate anybody. It contains less than 1.2 per cent. of alcohol, and at the same time has the delicious flavor of the best of lagers. This famous beer is to be had nearly everywhere. All thru the exhibition grounds booths have been erected by the O'Keefe Brewery Company, and visitors should make it a point to taste the "star" when such a favorable opportunity to do so is afforded.

Hon. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, will speak at Berlin to-day, and Hon. Chas. Murphy, secretary of state, at London.

Webb's Dining Hall.

The high character of the meals served at Webb's Dining Hall has made it the most popular restaurant on the grounds. The service is always good and the menu is varied. It is the consensus of opinion that dining at Webb's adds to the enjoyment of the fair.

The Glass Blowers.

No one should fail to visit John's famous troupe of glass blowers on the midway, for it is an education in itself. It is wonderful to see the expert blowers manipulate the glass and shape it into wonderfully beautiful souvenirs.

Highest Art of Piano Making

The very highest art in the manufacture of pianos is exemplified in the Newcombe instruments, which are shown in the manufacturers' building, as usual. The Newcombe Piano Company, which manufactures these instruments, holds the sounding-board so rigid that it is impossible to even jar the board, thus ensuring the better and more even tone. This device has attracted wide attention, and after an examination of the instrument, one of the largest piano dealers in Nova Scotia made arrangements to purchase the Newcombe pianos in Nova Scotia.

A Run on Fire-Proof Safes.

Practically the whole exhibit of fire-proof safes have been already sold from the exhibit of Ford & Featherstone in the Manufacturers' building. These safes have been tested in all the great Canadian cities last year and their fireproof qualities demonstrated. Messrs. Ford & Featherstone are the sole agents for Canada.

Meals of Full Satisfaction.

There are eating places on the exhibition grounds where they will serve you with a repeat meal or dessert order. Bird's is one of the few. Nobody should leave the grounds without a good meal. Price 25 cents.

Christie's Biscuits.

The name of Christie is familiar to every household in Canada, and it is not to be wondered at that the thousands of visitors to the fair stand and admire the biscuits which are made in the manufacturers' building. There are about five hundred varieties in the biscuits, which are made by the makers of the Christie biscuits. Everything in the exhibit is very neatly arranged and there are obliging attendants to answer enquiries.

"Wireless Telephoning a Fact."

Long telephones have been for a long time a thing of the past. The wireless telephoning, however, is a fact. The Collins Wireless Telephone Co. has installed in the Manufacturers' building a complete wireless telephoning system. The company has installed in the main entrance to the transportation building, a complete wireless telephoning system, which has been demonstrated to thousands of exhibition visitors and those interested in the latest inventions. The company is now holding a conversation across the hall or thru the walls of the building.

Berlin Bedding Co.

One of the big industrial exhibits in the centre wing of the process building is the Berlin Bedding Co. Ltd. There are several fine points in the manufacture of the Berlin bedding. The Berlin bedding is made of the finest materials and is of the highest quality. The Berlin bedding is made of the finest materials and is of the highest quality. ### "Paddle Your Own Canoe."

But let it be your "Own" and your canoe have a safety assured. Dean canoes have always been the highest reputation for stability, workmanship and excellence of finish. Notable among the exhibits in the transportation building is a 14-foot sailing dinghy which won the Georgian Bay championship with a 14-year-old boy at the helm.

"The Seal With Brains."

Without springs and yet automatic in the new principle involved in the manufacture of the Toledo Seals, which are on exhibition in the process building. Over 60,000 of them are now in use and every user is an enthusiastic endorser. It is a scale with brains.

Women, Listen to This.

There is being exhibited at the fair a scientifically prepared compound that makes sweeping possible without dust. It kills it, it makes dust impossible. It kills it, it makes dust impossible. It kills it, it makes dust impossible.

A Model Tent.

An exhibit, unique in character and well worth seeing, is the tent display of J. J. Turner & Son of Peterboro, noted 12 foot double-roofed, waterproof, collapsible tent, between north wings of horticultural building. This tent can be made all sizes and is one of the most original and complete of its kind, having eight inches of front space between the roof and with front extension to raise up to form awning. Their Wash window for the treatment of tuberculosis is worth a careful examination. This firm are extensive dealers in surveyors and camping tents, canoes and general equipment.

Has it got you yet? If it hasn't, it will. Most everyone has had a touch of it in a great or greater degree. When you're not sneezing, you're coughing, or your throat burns, or your nose runs.

Leaving all jokes aside, there is a troublesome epidemic of some kind that is fairly tearing the bronchial tubes out of everybody. Spasms of coughing will seize you that will put you back in the face. So try to explain it as the result of a cold. Many a cough has been burnt on the grounds during the past week. Others—oh they are mostly strangers—say it's the oil which Dr. Sheard has dispensed about the grounds.

Brinton Carpet Co. Exhibit.

It is only once a year that Canadians have an opportunity of learning the extent of the manufacturing industries of their country. The Brinton Carpet Co. of Peterboro, Ont., many pleasing expressions of admiration from those interested in the carpet business. This exhibit is one of the best ever shown here and is well worth a visit to this noted carpet booth.

"Tires That Don't Tire."

The Spring Hoop Cushion Tire Co. has an exhibit which is attracting great attention from all who have had tire troubles. This tire is a perfect tire. It is a perfect tire. It is a perfect tire.

Famous Scotch Whiskey.

There is only one whiskey exhibit at the fair, located in the manufacturers' building, which is a most attractive display not only from the tasteful arrangement, but from the fact that a practical demonstration is given, showing the whole method of distilling whisky from a pot still. Samples of malt are shown as well as the pete used for drying it.

STORY OF BEN-HUR

Subject of First of Massey Hall Sunday Night Series.

Two thousand five hundred people attended the opening meeting of the people's Sunday series in Massey Hall. The service was very impressive. The congregational singing of old hymns such as "Praise Ye the Lord," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Abide With Me," was splendid. This is the most striking feature of the service to date. Mr. Wilkinson announced several days ago that there are some stains on his clothing which may not be from blood. He was re-examined next Monday on the valet's charge. Detective Miller, in examining the man's apparel, concluded that he had been an inmate of some institution, and as he was plainly insane, the detective communicated with Supt. Clark of the asylum, and identified the man.

That Bunyon was not killed for robbery is evident as it was found in his pocket. A man, said to have been in his company, lately, will be hunted up. Inquest to-day; which will be resumed next Monday. Meantime a post mortem will be performed to make certain that death was due to a bullet wound. There are some bruises on the man's forehead and his clothing was still wet with blood when he was found.

A Typewriter Exhibit

We are holding every day, during the progress of the Fair, a special exhibition of the famous Light-Touch, Long-Wearing Monarch Visible Typewriter at our store, 98 King Street West.

We shall be glad to explain in detail to all visitors the many essential and sensible devices on the Monarch for the rapid and accurate handling of all office detail.

We especially invite an examination of the special machine we are showing, which writes every possible office detail, and which is really two typewriters in one.

We shall be glad to have all our customers, who are visiting the city, make our store their headquarters. A stenographer is always at their disposal.

We have some special bargains in second-hand typewriters of all makes.

Exciting Animal Show.

At the east end of the midway is an animal show which no one should fail to visit. J. S. Edwards is showing for the first time his collection of wild animals, snakes and monkeys. The man apes "Joe" and "Sal" are well trained and do all sorts of stunts besides eating with a knife and fork and smoking pipes. In an enclosure in the centre of the tent are to be seen some of the largest snakes in captivity. Ranged around the sides of the tent are the cages containing the wild animals. One of the most curious sights to be seen is Congo, the man ape, who looks more like a human being than a chimpanzee. A lady and two gentlemen explain the habits and haunts of all the animals.

COBALT---Silver Leaf now Controlled by Crown Reserve Directors---COBALT

PERMANENCY OF COBALT PROVEN BY THE CAMP

Area of Producing Property is Constantly Broadening—Results Are Astonishing.

Cobalt is a continuous revelation. Its size and wealth-producing possibilities appear fresh and greater to the frequent visitor and much more so to those whose visits are divided by months instead of days.

The real Cobalt enthusiast is one who is constantly in touch with the life. He sees day by day the material expansion in buildings and commerce; hears first hand the strikes and the important properties on which they occur, and has, the second-hand in most instances, that optimism without which undeveloped mineral wealth would be undeveloped.

Many in the outside world would be unjust to Ontario's concentrated money maker. They have expected to become wealthy over night, by the purchase of a few shares in a company. Patience is an essential in mining, and more so than in most other businesses. "Give the property a chance," is an excellent motto that might be adopted by Cobalt investors. If investments have been wisely selected, wait until hard work has shown their value before passing immature judgment. Investments have and will continue to occur in which the future has been discounted, but this is only an error of enthusiasm. It does not prove that mining investments are bad, but only reveal a side of the stock market which at times runs out of control.

It has frequently been asserted that the mineral area of Cobalt has only been scratched. There are men of high standing among mining engineers who make this unqualified statement. The truth of such a statement is constantly being verified.

Three years ago the bounds of the silver district were meted out. It was thought by experts who had book knowledge of the geology of the Cobalt camp that the silver did not go down to depth. Both of these ideas have been so palpably refuted that the originators have left for other fields where their technical knowledge may receive more respect.

The fallacy of the first theory has been disproved this year in many instances. Away down in the southwest district workings at the Ophir, Gifford, Gifford Extension, Pan Silver and Beaver have demonstrated the widening of mineral area in that direction. To the north the territory is broadened by the discovery of the Cobalt vein, while to the south, the find on the Waldman, a slight angle to almost anything in the camp, has brought the much despised "dip" into respected prominence.

Values With Depth. In the matter of depth of values, Cobalt has also strikingly disappointed the theories of mineralogists. The present values at 300 feet in the La Rose gave the first kick to these pedants. This was supplemented by workings at 400 feet on the Kerr Lake, but it remained for the Timiskaming to disrupt the whole system of theorizing.

At the Timiskaming, which was made a mine only by the indomitable pick of Burr E. Cartwright, who sank 75 feet into cold rock before striking a ray of sympathy, better results are being taken out at the 900 foot level than at any depth in the mine. The same spirit of enterprise which made a mine in what was an unknown district will now proceed to deepen the shaft on this property to 700 feet and who can say that rich mineral values will not be met at this level and even lower?

It was on high grade ore (practically silver) that Cobalt made its reputation, but the low grade ore is to give the camp permanency. Concentrators are being erected at many of the mines and from these thousands of dollars a day will be ground out for generations to come.

GROWING RESERVE OBTAIN CONTROL OF SILVER LEAF

Verification of Deal Handed Out at Annual Meeting of Silver Leaf Shareholders.

The rumor which was abroad on Friday to the effect that the Crown Reserve people were in control of the Silver Leaf property received verification yesterday, when at the annual meeting of the Silver Leaf shareholders a practically new directorate was elected. The following is a list of the gentlemen appointed: Lt.-Col. John Carson, president; William I. Gear, vice-president; Charles E. Potter, S. C. Smoke, D. M. Robertson, J. P. R. Laurendeau, J. G. Ross, D. F. Maguire, James Cooper, secretary-treasurer. Of the nine less than six are members of the Crown Reserve, while Lt.-Col. Carson is now president of both companies.

The meeting, which was held at McConkey's hall, was thoroughly harmonious, and was attended by a large number of the shareholders, but as no contest was raised in any of the motions, there was no necessity for a scrutiny of the voting power of the meeting. Lt.-Col. Carson, after the meeting adjourned, stated that he and some of the other directors were leaving for Cobalt last night to inspect the Silver Leaf property. He said that Engineer Cohen, who is now in charge of the Crown Reserve, will also act as consulting engineer of the Silver Leaf, and that after his visit he may be prepared to make a statement in regard to the Silver Leaf mine itself.

The effect on Silver Leaf stock has been quite apparent. The shares advanced between Wednesday and Friday from 15 to 16 1/2 cents, and yesterday large transactions in the stock took place as high as 20 1/2 cents. The news of the change of ownership is expected to have a further influence on the market for Silver Leaf stock and will probably give a tendency for similar fireworks to those which occurred in the Crown Reserve shares which a little over a year ago sold as low as ten cents and are now in the neighborhood of four dollars.

The financial statement presented at the meeting follows: Revenue and expenditure account for 14 months period, ended June 30, 1909: Net proceeds realized $45,506.58; Interest on deposits $2,929.30; Expenses—Office expenses, including traveling and general expenses, directors' fees, assaying, insurance, salaries, office rent, taxes, transport, etc. $4,490.28; Legal expenses re Douglas, Laury, Lacey & Co. $215.55; Written off plant, machinery and office furniture $3,985.12; Written off development expenditure $23,000.00.

Net profits for period $24,565.93; Balance Sheet, 30th June, 1909: Silver Leaf Mine $4,966,839.72; Development A.C., April $26,861.24; Development for period $58,710.70; Less written off $23,000.00; Net profits $32,000.00; Less dividends $6,371.35; Balance $25,628.65.

Plant, machinery, buildings and furnishings $2,640.97; Less depreciation $1,837.78; Mining stores and supplies $1,707.14; Boarding camp supplies $490.90; Mine and head office furniture $61.58; Less depreciation $17.12; Accounts receivable $54.44; Dominion bank current account $7,919.44; Dominion Bank trust account $746.20; Petty cash on hand $38,956.54; Mining Co. $187.04; Insurance paid in advance $30,627.28; Douglas & Lacey Co. $392.33; 1909 $156,237.62; Liabilities: To the public $2,974.20; Wages and pay roll $2,974.20; Accounts payable $4,372.41; To the shareholders: Capital stock $500,000.00; Shares issued and authorized and issued $5,000,000.00; Trust fund $30,000.00; Revenue account, April 30, 1909 $475,720.10; 1900 $2,239.30; 1901 $39,949.49; Suspense account, Douglas, Lacey Company $156,237.62; $5,015,934.91.

Accident, Not Arson. On Saturday last The World published a statement received thru the usual channels stating that William Hawkins, a Barnardo boy, admitted that he wilfully set fire to the straw stack of Fred Ilett, farmer, on the Paris road, Bramford, and that he would be deported. It is now stated that the boy, who is only 13 years of age, coming out of the house, shot and killed a policeman in the yard. Burning his fingers he dropped the match, which caught fire to some straw, and the boy in alarm ran back to the house immediately and reported what had taken place. Hawkins, physically and mentally a despicable being, and as there is no doubt that this was an accident, the authorities have no intention of deporting him.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY A MOB FOR HIS BROTHER'S CRIME. SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 6.—By being delayed at Washington Court House, a northbound excursion train returning from Jackson to Lima on the Toledo and Ironton Railroad, was probably prevented from being wrecked at Royal Sidings, five miles north of here last night. Unidentified persons placed ten ties, a large post and a huge boarder across the tracks. An engine on the southbound train discovered the obstruction and removed it.

RICH SURFACE SHOWINGS AROUND MAPLE MOUNTAIN. Nicollite Vein Picked up on Lucky Coon Property—Other News of District.

The latest news from Maple Mountain says that a fine looking nicollite vein has been picked up on the Lucky Coon property on Bergeron Lake. This is very gratifying to the management, which also controls the Gillies claim adjoining. On the Gillies native silver has been found, and there are many other fine leads, but hitherto the Lucky Coon has not looked so well as the former.

The owners of these claims are Messrs. David St. Eloi and John Cahill of Elk Lake, both of whom are old prospector, and who have been identified with Cobalt and its outlying districts from the time of its inception. The Gillies and Lucky Coon are located in close proximity to the great White Reservoir mine, and practically the same formation is found on the two.

Fair in Silverland. Legislators in Time to See What North Country Produces. Quite an extensive prize list has been issued in connection with the first fair of the English District Agricultural Society, to be held on Wednesday.

WALDMAN AGAIN Vein Running 10,000 Ounces Struck at Thirty Foot Level. COBALT, Sept. 6.—(Special).—Big vein on Waldman encountered at 30 foot level on Saturday morning. Samples run as high as 10,000 ounces of silver to the ton.

A SALE NOW A BUY Several months ago, in our advertisements, we told our clients to sell Timiskaming. The price was then 1.50. We did this because we knew the dividends could not be maintained in the development at that time. We now say: Buy Timiskaming and wait for big profits. This advice is given after a careful inspection of the mine, and an assured belief that dividends will be paid again and become permanent. The shares are now selling around 92 cents. Watch its gradual rise to at least $1.25.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 7.

The Store Beautiful is En Fete for Toronto's Visitors

Great Showing of Furs Ready

THIS store always was noted for its furs, and its moderate prices on really good furs. This season has already proceeded far enough to demonstrate that Simpson's furs will win a still warmer appreciation this year. The department is busy as can be since Exhibition opened. Following are some of the effects for Autumn, 1909, now on display here.

- Genuine Alaska Seal Garments, in new and attractive designs.
- Persian Lamb Coats, in the popular lengths; new shapes.
- Handsome and exclusive designs in the new French seal garments, now so popular in New York.
- Paris models and their duplicates, in Chapell's French-dyed Russian pony coats.
- New and pretty shapes in Royal Sitka Fox Furs, plain or silver pointed. Lovely soft, fluffy black lynx furs.
- Genuine Alaska Seal Garments, in guaranteed Lapsic dye; styles that are exclusive.
- Mink Furs, in every conceivable shape, made from Labrador and the finest Ottawa valley mink.
- Royal Russian Ermine, in dainty neck pieces and pretty muffs.

New Fall Overcoats

THE Men's Store is ready with fall overcoats—and the weather seems to be ready also. Drop in and have a look at yourself in a new fall coat—that much costs nothing but your own time.

Men's Fine Imported Black English Cheviot Fall Overcoats, made in the newest fashion, with silk facings, good trimmings, perfect fitting, $10.50.

Men's New Fall Overcoats, in dark Oxford grey, and also black, vicuna cloth, a purely all wool material, with soft undrained surface, made up in 47-inch Chesterfield style, with silk faced lapels, silk finished black twill linings, finest trimmings, very special value, $12.00.

Men's High Grade Black Imported English Cheviot Overcoats, "our own make," made up with plain lapels perfect fitting, and nicely finished in every detail, $15.00.

Men's Raincoats, in imported English Venetian finished covert cloth, very fine quality material, also thoroughly shower proof, coat 52 inches long and made in the newest style, with neat Prussian collar, to button close to throat. This coat comes in assorted greys and olive green shades, nicely tailored and made up with good linings, $12.00.

A Coat Chance for $9.95

WHILE you are in the city, make a point of using the city advantages, one of which is the opportunity to pick up a "bargain." Don't leave town without looking at these coats for $9.95. They are particularly worthy of attention, because if they had come to us in the regular way we would have marked them at from $12.50 to $20.00.

Wednesday $9.95 takes any one of about the hundred.

Made in rich broadcloths, fine kersey cloths and handsome Scotch and Irish tweeds; colors are chiefly in black, navy and green; lined and half lined with silks and satins and Italian; all stylish coats; some have strapings of self or satins, others trimmed with buttons. In both semi-fitting and close fitting styles.
