THE WEATHER. Fair and cold predicted for tomorrow.

ONE CENT.

ALL DAY LONG THE BATTLE RAGED

St. Petersburg, Mar. 6.—2.50 p. m.—The result of the greatest battle of modern times is expected to be known to-day or tomorrow. Two of the largest armies of recent times, both in men and guns, are now locked in a death struggle, and although General Kuropatkin has made every preparation to cover his retreat, by removing his accumulated stores and munitions northward, it is held in the opinion of military men here, that one side or the other cannot escape overwhelming disaster.

Russians Admit Losses of 23,500 Men --- Kuropatkin Launches Attack on Oyama's Left Centre---The Fighting Is Desperate---Nogi's Men Fight For Two Days Without Food --- Terrible Battle All Day Sunday --- Mukden the Objective Point.

With both wings bent backward Kuropatkin's position appears to be desperate, but the issue is still in the balance. News of a victory for him is regarded as only possible by his breaking through the enveloping lines, and news of a concentrated offensive is now hourly awaiting. Unless General Kuropatkin can strike hard, it is realized that he must lose.

Field Marshal Oyama's strategy in this battle is now clear. He started and amazed the war office by the marvelous daring of Kuroki's advance against the extreme Russian line, and the series of blows delivered at the centre, where no less than fifteen separate attacks were launched by the imperial guards ten miles east of Poutouff Hill.

It was a ruse. But it is now realized that the heavy blows at the left were intended to mask the real turning movement, which came like a bolt from a clear sky out of the west where Kuropatkin fell into the trap. The situation seemed an exact duplicate of that at Liao Yang, and the Russian commander-in-chief hastened to mass forces to meet Kuroki.

Kuropatkin's Chance. But the latest advices are to the effect that the Japanese, exhausted by their tremendous efforts, have everywhere, stopped, and now, if ever, Kuropatkin's hour has come. Japanese lines are extended over sixty miles, while Kuropatkin's are constantly contracting. Besides he has the advantage for the offensive not operating in the interior of his lines.

Military critics declare Oyama has not great enough superiority to take risks. According to the war office, Oyama has not over 70,000 men in excess of Kuropatkin, whose forces total about 540,000.

A Russian Report. Mukden, March 5. (Delayed in transmission.)—An official report, as the Army Messenger says: "The Northern position is unchanged so far as Siberia is concerned. After acknowledging that the central army had fallen back from Shiching, in order to contract the length of the line of battle, connecting the inner positions, the Army Messengers adds: 'The spirits of the men are excellent. Marvellous composure is being displayed considering the approaching crisis.'"

Japanese Daring. General Kuroki's quarters in the field, via Fusan, March 5. (Delayed in transmission.)—The Russians are today using siege guns placed in position opposite Witosan, and are shelling the Japanese artillery positions, the village on the plain occupied by troops, and the roads where on the supply trains are passing, to the front, but with no results.

Have Ceased Work. Hamburg, Mar. 6.—(The fitting-out of the Hamburg-American steamer, Bolegia, Phenicia, Valeria, and other vessels chartered by Russia, or owned by the Russian East Asiatic Line, has recently ceased. No explanation has been furnished of this cessation of work.)

It was a ruse. But it is now realized that the heavy blows at the left were intended to mask the real turning movement, which came like a bolt from a clear sky out of the west where Kuropatkin fell into the trap. The situation seemed an exact duplicate of that at Liao Yang, and the Russian commander-in-chief hastened to mass forces to meet Kuroki.

Mukden, March 4. (Delayed in transmission.)—The eastern Russian army is reported to be contending aggressively for the ground lost to the mountain. There are rumors that Japanese cavalry has been sighted north of Fushan and gone west.

Fighting Like Bull Dogs. Mukden, Sunday, March 5. (Delayed in transmission.)—All day long the battle raged ceaselessly. The Japanese have been concentrating their energies on Machiapu, for the possession of which they have been struggling for ten days, but have so far been unable to dislodge the Russians, who are clinging to the works with bulldog tenacity.

Warship on Patrol. Aden, Arabia, March 6.—A Russian warship is reported to be patrolling work.

THIS WAS A BIG DAY.

Three Trans-Atlantic Liners Reached Port This Morning.

Bavarian Had 1087 Passengers—Busy Day With Immigration Officials --- Many New Settlers for the West.

Three steamers arrived in port this morning, the Bavarian, Montrose and Dunmore Head. The Manchester Trader came in yesterday afternoon. The Allan liner Bavarian, Captain John Brown, arrived off the island at 2 o'clock and docked at No. 2 berth about 10 o'clock this morning.

There were 15 saloon, 116 second cabin and 100 steerage passengers aboard the Bavarian. Nearly all were English people and those which landed here were a good, healthy looking lot. The steamer brought out a good general cargo for this port and the west.

The C. P. R. steamer Montrose, Capt. R. H. McNeill, also arrived off the island about 2 o'clock and docked at No. 3 berth, Sand Point. The Montrose left Antwerp on the 21st of February. Capt. McNeill reports a good passage, with the exception of one day when they had quite a gale to contend with.

The South African steamer Melville left New York yesterday for this port, and the steamer Canada Cape left Barry for this port also. Both steamers will take away to Cape Town and the Cape of Good Hope.

The immigration quarters presented an animated appearance with the large number of passengers which were waiting for the various officials to pass them. It was amusing to watch the Galicians and Russians with their odd costumes and quaint ways. Every time they were accosted by an official they would very politely doff their hats and listen attentively to whatever was said to them.

A TRAVELLER'S COMPLAINT.

A prominent commercial traveller, who makes his headquarters in St. John, today spoke in no uncertain tones of what he alleges is simply injustice on the part of a city police officer. In his own words he said: "On Saturday evening about 7 o'clock as my wife and myself were proceeding along Charlotte St., when in front of Nelson's book store, my wife went in to purchase a book. While she was doing so, I stood looking in the window. Suddenly a policeman arrested by a policeman, who stopped me to move on. I informed him I was waiting for my wife, but he abruptly retorted that if I did not move he would soon make me. I walked to the edge of the sidewalk and he again ordered me to keep moving. About this time my wife came out and I joined her."

CONCERNING INSURANCE.

New Law, Proposed to Protect the Policy Holders.

Would Mutualize All Life Companies --- Radical Change Proposed in the Equitable in the Interest of Policy-Holders.

New York, March 4.—A committee of policy holders of the Equitable Life Assurance Society has held a meeting with John D. Crimmins and a bill for submission to the Legislature and providing for the mutualization of the Equitable Society on radical lines, was discussed. After the meeting Mr. Crimmins issued a statement to the effect that plans for securing the right of voting for directors by the policy holders were discussed.

Another meeting will be held, the committee stating that a large representation of policy-holders will be present. Mr. Crimmins says that it is the intention of the committee to permit the holder of a large amount of stock to have just as much a voice in the management of affairs as the holder of a large amount of shares. In a formal statement he said the committee would ask the society for a list of policy-holders, particularly in New York State. This request, he believed, would be acceded to. He also indicated that the policy-holders who met yesterday were in favor of the mutualization of the company. He said further:

"We interpret the resolution of the board of directors as contemplating the mutualization of the society substantially and in good faith. We deplore the failure of this much-to-be-desired result through the conflict of interests within the society or through a fractional postponement of necessary measures owing to an unnecessary protraction of the discussion or negotiation which now seems to be all that is going on within the society.

"If there is anything in the management of the society, or in the operation of the stock controlled, which either in fact or in tendency is hurtful to the society and threatening to the interests of the policy-holders, we propose to know it. If, to ascertain this, an investigation is necessary, we propose to ask for it. It may be that the course of the committee will be the best refutation of the suggestion, now also, and from inspired sources, that this committee is organized in the interests of any faction."

A bill to make mutualization compulsory for all life insurance companies now in force which cannot be drafted by the firm of Boardman, Platt & Seligman and is now in the hands of E. J. Esselstyn, who is the secretary of the committee. Mr. Crimmins, talking of the matter today, says: "We need a hard and fast law to govern insurance companies and give protection to the policy-holders. I believe we have the majority of the directors with us in this matter, but at the same time I do not want to depend on them. What we need is a law which cannot be gone behind. This is a duty that we owe to our children. There are big investments being made all the time with big returns, but we know nothing of them. The fortunes do not come to us. Auxiliary concerns are created to handle investments which the mother society dare not make, but all this should be made illegal. There should be no speculation, and conservatism should rule. There are certain laws against speculation, but they are being evaded all the time. The thing is to make it impossible to evade the law."

"Why, I know a president of a large insurance company, and he told me of some extraordinary things he had to do to keep within the law, and yet place the funds of the company in investments that brought large returns at large risks. It was a case all the time of trying to keep out of jail."

The bill will be presented immediately to the Legislature and Mr. Crimmins believes it will at once become law.

Charles B. Hubbell, who was authorized to speak for the committee, says: "Many plans were discussed at the meeting whereby the Equitable could be restrained from interfering with the interests of the policy-holders, but no decided opinion was reached. The idea of the meeting was to have the policy holders represented in some fair manner, either on the board of directors or in some other way; and this is the result which we hope to accomplish.

"I am not able to tell you how many policyholders have united with this committee in this movement, but they make a very large number. The committee has received many letters from influential men who hold policies in the Equitable, indicating their willingness to join us. Of course, as this would show, the movement while it has become public only within the last few days, was started some time ago."

IMPLEMENT MEN PLAYED SHARP GAME SATURDAY.

Massey-Harris Hockeyists Defeated by International Harvester Company's Braves--Young Corbett to Retire from the Ring--Carleton Curlers Win a Game.

HOCKEY.

Farm Implement Men Play.

There was a game of hockey (7) played at the Queen's rink, Saturday night, and if you should ask any of the players, it was the fastest exhibition of the season. The competing teams were the clerks of the Massey, Harris Co., and the International Harvester Co. The players on the I. H. C. team point to their harvest of goals, (six in number), as evidence of the fact that they have a superior harvesting machine.

The International forwards "plowed" through their opponents every time they got the disc. Tench was evidently not used to the style of machine he was guarding. Stinson made a number of fine rumbles. He worked like one of the famous "self-feeding reapers."

Coombs played like a horse and mowed his opponents down a number of times. The M. H. forwards were like a spring tooth harrow, very unsteady, although Farmer endeavored to throw everyone who came his way.

Nearly all the players showed a lack of drill, and played like a lot of scuffers or rakes. Arrangements have been made for the Sackville hockey team and the Neptunes, to play on Friday evening next, at the Queen's rink.

At the Queen's rink, tomorrow night, there will be a novel attraction. In addition to the regular bank program, there will be a game of hockey between a team of bank clerks, who will wear skirts, and the latter hockey team.

MacKelvie had an easy time, although the goal was "wide open," he had only one or two shots to stop. Foster found the puck two or three times and "kicked" it to the side. Terry's playing showed the result of cultivation. He played all styles.

Amherst, March 6.—After advertising during the whole season, their ability to do up the Ramblers, Sackville, the champions of the New Brunswick League, who challenged for the Starr trophy, yesterday, advised the Ramblers that they would not be able to come. The Ramblers had waived certain conditions so that they might meet the New Brunswick champions, and they say it looks like a case of funk.

Stanley Cup Matches. The Ramblers of Amherst, have received a wire from the trustees of the Stanley cup, accepting their challenge and naming the 14th as the date for the first game. The Ramblers intend going after the cup and have wired suggesting the 17th for the first game.

Montreal, March 5.—The Victoria's, which won the Canadian amateur hockey league championship by defeating Westmont, 11-5, has decided to challenge for the Stanley cup. The seven is composed of Fry, goal; Bellingham, point; Kent, cover point; Bowie, Howard, Gilbert and Russell, forwards.

Carleton Defeats Hampton. Four rinks of Carleton curlers went to Hampton Saturday and defeated the Hampton curlers by eight points. Three of the Carleton skips were victorious and one lost. Skip H. Belva defeated Skip R. March by 12 points; Skip George Bais defeated Skip Wilson by six points; Skip P. Wetmore defeated Skip Brown by one point; and Skip Dunham, of Carleton was defeated by eleven points by Mr.

March. The west side curlers returned home Saturday night.

THE RING.

Young Corbett to Retire.

San Francisco, Mar. 1.—I am through with the fighting game, says Young Corbett's sad announcement last night as he left the arena of Woodward's Pavilion, a badly battered pugilist after being for nine rounds the receiving end of an awful fusillade of wallops at the hands of Battling Nelson.

Of those who saw the fight there is hardly one to doubt the Denver boy's wisdom in retiring from the roped arena, at least so far as the Battling Dane is concerned.

Notwithstanding the report of Corbett's superior condition as compared with his form when he met Nelson last November, last night's fight was almost a repetition of the previous encounter between the two.

Both times Corbett realized that he must win quickly and started in to make a hurricane fight of it. Both times the rugged lad from Hegewisch, Ill., withstood Corbett's aggressive tactics with ease. Both times Corbett's handlers and friends realized in the early rounds that, barring accidents, their man was doomed to defeat. Last night it was evident at the end of the third round that Nelson was Corbett's master in every wrinkle of the game. By that time the Denver lad had shot his bolts and Nelson was the fierce aggressor until the end.

Jeffries On Osler.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—James J. Jeffries, champion of the ring, who is here playing in the melodrama Davy Crockett, has spoken. "What do you think of Dr. Osler's dictum about a man being no good after 40?" he was asked. "Osler is half right; that's the dope. A man don't get any better physically after he is 40. He goes back then; but a man don't get real intelligent until he is past 40. Physically, Osler is right; mentally he is wrong."

THE TURF.

Noted Pacer Dead.

Robert J., the noted champion pacer of former years, died at Village Farm, East Aurora, N. Y., Wednesday night. Nathan Straus, owner of the side wheeler, shot last November, Robert J., has had the run of the Village Farm paddocks. Ed Goers, "the silent man from Tennessee," raced Robert J. and gained for him a mark of 2:01, reducing the pacing record from 2:19. He was foaled in 1888, and was purchased in 1892 by the late C. J. Hamill for $5000. A base case of hooves developed, after Robert J., with John R. Gentry as mate, made the world's record of 2:08 to pole. Then he was used on the Speedway by G. L. Tewksbury, who purchased the horse for $7500. At the last Old Glory sale, Mr. Straus gave $1000 for Robert J., simply to give him a home for the rest of his life.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Much earnestness and fervency of spirit prevailed amongst the large congregations assembled at the afternoon and evening services, conducted by Rev. William H. Reed, in Berryman's Hall, yesterday.

The singing by Mrs. Abbie J. Lawrence, was an inspiration. The preaching of Mr. Reed was in the power of the Spirit, and the altar services were seasons of much blessing.

A piano and organ are being used in combination with excellent effect, and the services of yesterday were certainly the beginning of a most successful revival.

The death occurred at Westville, N. S., yesterday morning of John A. McDonald, merchant, after several weeks' illness. He was about 60 and leaves a widow and three sons.
