BANKS REOPENED AT FIRE SWEEP TOWN

Manager Eason of the Bank of N.S. Returns from Campbellton—More Subscriptions Received

Times' Special Cable

St. John, N. B., July 15.—The banks of this town were reopened today after being closed for several days by the fire which swept through the town on Friday. The bank of Mr. Eason, which was the only one to be damaged, has been reopened and is now in operation.

Mr. Eason, manager of the bank of St. John, N. B., has returned from Campbellton, where he has been in connection with the affairs of the bank's branch in the stricken town. To a Times-Star reporter Mr. Eason said that they had opened a temporary branch on Friday. It was the intention, he said, to rebuild at once in order that the new structure, which would be of brick and stone, would be ready before the cold weather set in. Unless there were some changes in the street layout, which had been spoken of, the branch would be on the former site. When the safe of the burned bank had been opened everything was found intact. The opening process was without the aid of a locksmith as the combination worked perfectly.

The Royal Bank opened their bank on Friday also, and with the banks opened a number of the insurance companies started paying their claims. The light building rushed up by the bank, is fitted with oak counters, which were forwarded by express from Toronto.

Manager Eason said that a number of the persons who had spoken to him were greatly concerned about the town's safety, and he mounted more than $300,000, and Mr. Eason expressed the opinion that, under the present circumstances, the town would be able to stand. Forty or fifty temporary buildings had already gone up and Mr. Eason said that he thought there was no question but that the town would be rebuilt.

W. G. Pugsley Gives $100

The Times and the Telegraph received today a cheque for $100 from William G. Pugsley, at Montreal, in aid of the Campbellton fire sufferers. It has been turned over to Mayor Fink.

Premier Hazen and Hon. Robert McLaughlin left for Campbellton at noon and they will be joined there by Governor Tweedie who will go over from Chatham. Just what will be the result of their visit cannot be said until they look over the ground, at least that was what Hon. Mr. Hazen said.

CRAWFORD DISMISSED

Mayor Murray Notifies Former St. John Man That His Services as Chief of Police are No Longer Required—Insurance Being Paid

Times' Special Cable

Campbellton, N. B., July 15.—(Special)—Today will see the first movement of the provincial board of health towards improving the sanitary conditions of the ruined town of Campbellton, which are in a dangerous state and apt at any time, unless proper care is taken to cause an outbreak of contagious disease. Col. Robert Malby of the board will remain in town for a few days superintending the work.

Letters and notices are to be placed in various sections of the town particularly in the tented colony on the hill. The Colon Times reporter said that conditions in this place were not so bad as they were about the ruins of the town, where much property was stored, and thousands of men, women and children lived. Amid the ruins of many of the stores the great quantities of stale and decayed food including fish and meat and canned goods. The burnt bodies of some animals also included, while piles of stagnant water are also to be seen. These will have to be eliminated, and it is for that that measures are forcibly taken by Colonel Malby and a staff of men from the town who will assist him.

On the fact that several inspections are being practiced on the men in charge of the relief stations, many schemes are being considered to eradicate this matter, and it is altogether probable that tickets will have to be issued to those who are entitled to obtain the hospital assistance bestowed on the unfortunate from people in realms beyond. These tickets will be given only to those who are in the benefit of the fire victims, and unless a man can produce one at the relief station no meal will be forthcoming.

Many of the citizens have been for some time agitating a change in the management of police affairs in Campbellton, and this has now come about with the dismissal of Robert Crawford, chief of police, who took place by Mayor Murray yesterday. The discharge is subject to the ratification of the council, but it is thought that this will be granted unanimously.

A woman came to Campbellton yesterday bringing with her a party which had a copy of the by-laws of the town, which had evidently been stolen from the town by the high wind on the day of the fire. Pieces of shingles blackened and charred were taken up at Balmoral, sixteen miles below the fire-wreath town, and it is said that other light articles were borne by the breeze to places further down the line.

The adjusters of the several insurance companies interested in the fire have not as yet made any large adjustments, owing to the fact that the safes of the larger business houses have not yet been opened and they contain the books and valuable papers of these firms. Several smaller cases are being paid each day, however, many of the adjustments being for the full insurance, and others well up to the limit.

The post office will be transferred today from the baggage car, where it has been kept formerly, to the temporary quarters near the site of the old building. Postmaster McKendrick has been a very busy official since the fire, and has handled great quantities of mail in a very creditable manner.

The work of clearing away the debris from the J. C. R. round house is well advanced and engines are now being turned on the table inside. The seven engines which were badly damaged by the fire will be taken to the repair shops at Moncton where mechanics will inspect them to decide as to their future use.

Four cases of diphtheria have broken out in houses on the outskirts of the town, but every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease among the destitute, within the confines of the crumbling walls of Campbellton.

A meeting of citizens was held this morning, the spirit of which was remarkably optimistic, those present being struck by the idea that the bond of indebtedness, the chief source of worry, will be settled satisfactorily. Mayor Murray presided. A change was made in some of the committees, J. R. MacKenna was added to the poor committee, and E. F. Matheson as well; F. M. Murray was placed on the building committee instead of F. E. Matheson, and W. W. Doherty replaced F. G. Kerr on the emergency committee. The committees are proceeding as rapidly as possible with the work in hand and have a headquarters in the relief shed lately erected.

Sad circumstances surrounded the birth of a child last night in a coal shed at the end of the town. The family was burnt out in the awful calamity of Monday last and for some time before had been in delicate circumstances, being supported mainly by the town. The father had been ill and out of work for a lengthy period. Every care possible is being given the mother and child both of whom are progressing well.

DOWIEITES ARE AGAIN IN ZION CITY

REVIVAL OF OLD DAYS

Followers March Through City and Take Control of Buildings as a Result of Receivership Having Been Dissolved by Federal Court.

Times' Special Cable

Chicago, July 15.—Silver coins and bills a foot and a half deep were thrown into a tri-colored barrel placed before the pupils at Zion City Tabernacle yesterday by the followers of Wilbur (Glen) Voliva, general overseer of the Christian (Catholic) Apostolic church of Zion and successor to John Alexander Dowie, who marched over the north shore city and took formal possession of the buildings "which" last week again came into their control, through the action of the federal court in dissolving the receivership.

It was a revival of the old days of the '60s. The call for the free will offering preceded the march about the city, and thousands of men, women and children filed past the tri-colored barrel that stood before the pupil and deck, throwing their offerings ranging from five-cent pieces to twenty dollar bills. The Zion band took its place at the head of the column. The former outside the tabernacle into a march to the town. After the band came Overseer Voliva and the elders of the church and behind these came the hundreds who compose the "White Robert Choir."

These in turn were followed by the "Junior Serenaders," the "Intermediate Serenaders" and the "Senior Serenaders." Those who were to lead the three-mile walk were allowed to ride in automobiles.

Botnar's wife and five children were witnesses of the slaying and his 11-year-old son Peter, proved a hero by dashing at top speed after the fleeing foreigners, causing the flood of two in them.

POLICE OF FRANCE ARE ON LOOKOUT

They Believe Dr. Crippen May Be There in Guise of Woman

NEW TURN IN CASE

Sister of Ethel Leneve Issues Statement Saying She Believes the Latter Was With Him When He Disappeared

Times' Special Cable

Paris, July 15.—H. Leprieux, prefect of police, today issued instructions to the police of France to watch for and arrest upon discovery Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American, who is wanted in London on the charge of having slain his wife, known in the theatrical world as Belle Elmore.

The French search for the fugitive has taken an original turn. The police here believe that Crippen is masquerading as a woman and the descriptions sent out to include this probable disguise. The authorities of Dieppe, Calais, Cherbourg and other coast towns have been warned especially to be on the alert as it is thought quite likely that if Crippen is not already in this country he will take advantage of the first opportunity to enter a port on the continent. The police are also learning what they can of the suspect's visit to France in recent years, and also what is known here regarding his supposed companion, Ethel Clara Leneve, who was employed by him as stenographer and later, according to the British police, supplanted Mrs. Crippen in his affections. The case with its shroud of mystery had excited much interest in this country.

London, July 15.—According to the published statement of her sister, Ethel Leneve is believed to be Dr. Crippen's companion when he disappeared from his home. In a hurried visit to her on July 5 she professed the greatest anxiety over the possibility that she was not Crippen's legal wife.

After the announcement of the death of Belle Elmore, Dr. Crippen introduced the Leneve woman as his wife, although there is no proof to this effect. The statement that she was his wife, the statement of the sister throws a new light on the subject. It is believed that Crippen and Belle Elmore had had just discovered that Belle Elmore was still living and he proposed to go to America to clear up the matter.

FRENCH'S REPORT CONDEMNS CANADIAN MILITIA, SAYS TIMES

Times' Special Cable

London, July 15.—A correspondent of the Times understands that if Gen. French's report is published it will disclose a state of military inefficiency in the dominion that will probably be a revelation to most Canadians. The correspondent of the Times adds:

"I believe it will be found that Gen. French in the first place condemns the whole existing conception of strategical requirements of the Canadian Militia. This is coupled with the non-existence of a sound peace organization and effective staff, suggested from the very outset that the dominion defence forces are in a bad way if such a staff exists does not understand report is published it will disclose a state of military inefficiency in the dominion that will probably be a revelation to most Canadians. The correspondent of the Times adds:

ENGINEERS ARE SECURING DATA

For International St. John River Commission

MEET IN VAN BUREN

Investigation Will be Continued Tomorrow—Much Important Work Has Been Done and is Being Done at the Present Time

Times' Special Cable

Bangor, Me., July 15.—Tomorrow morning the International St. John River commission, which is conducting a thorough investigation of the conditions and uses of the St. John river, together with the question of the advisability of methodical conservation of the waters of the tributaries, meets for an important session in Van Buren. All the commissioners for both the American and Canadian governments, together with counsel and stenographers, will be present, and it is understood that considerable testimony will be taken. Among other things expected to come up at this session of the commission is the matter of the development of power purposes of Grand Falls on the St. John, which has its effect on the investigation of the river.

When the commission was originally appointed it was given authority to investigate the St. John only as far as the prevailing conditions and uses of the river, the appointment of the commission growing out of difficulties among the lumbermen on the river. Since that time the authority has been extended. First the commission was given the added power to investigate the feasibility of creating storage basins for the storage of water for the driving of logs, and now it has received authority to investigate the storage question in relation to the development of the river for power purposes as well as the lumber industry.

At one of the general meetings of the commission, Harvey S. Ferguson, of Millinocket, one of Maine's leading hydraulic engineers, and S. J. Chapman, of Ottawa, Ont., of the department of Public Works, were appointed as a board of consulting engineers to carry with the commission. Under the direction of this board much important work has been done and is being done at the present time.

Two competent engineers have been sent in on the St. John and are following along with the log drive, observing points in the river where the conditions for log driving are the worst, with the view of reporting on the commission's part to the board. The manner in which they may be improved. They are also to secure from the lumbermen practical data concerning other points and other features of value to the commission in its work.

The St. John river is practically a native state and beyond the bridge piers and boom piers of the lumber companies operating along its shores, it is without artificial works of any kind to control or regulate the flow of the river. There has never been any improvement in the channel to speak of, and because of the lack of artificial works to control the flow the water runs off so rapidly that the force of the flow is not utilized to the best advantage. When the rains come the water flows right off there being no means for holding it in storage, and consequently in the dry season the water in the river gets to a low point.

The board of consulting engineers has several parties of civil engineers in the field now in that section, and they are engaged in making a complete survey of the river and its storage basins. They will obtain in the course of their work a possible plan of the river at high and low water for the use of the commission.

The Grand Falls Power company has obtained many gaugings of the river at an ideal section above the falls giving the complete discharge curve between the limits of high and low water for many years. This curve with other data, which the company has obtained will save the commission's engineers much time, as there will be no necessity of duplicating data.

"An exploring party of engineers is to be sent to the upper waters of the St. John and tributaries and catch basins to determine what may be used as reservoirs by damming their outlets.

The board of engineers have opened headquarters at Van Buren and M. H. Lanney, C. E., is in charge, their work being carried on from there.

MARINE NEWS.
The Furness line steamship Uluda arrived at Halifax last Friday after a very boisterous passage of 94 days from Liverpool. The Uluda left Liverpool on Wednesday, June 29th, and at the outset encountered strong head winds and seas which at times raged with hurricane force so that the ship was badly buffeted. There was practically no diminishing in the force of the weather during the entire voyage. On Wednesday the 6th inst. a violent storm prevailed, and the ship was holed for eight hours. For the remainder of the passage to St. John's Newfoundland, dense fog was met and up to noon on Saturday there was no let up. The ship sustained some little damage about the decks, but nothing serious.

Successor to General Lake—Grand Trunk Men Favor Strike
Continental
Ottawa, July 17-Sir Frederick Borden is in communication with the imperial war office relative to the selection of an imperial officer to Major General Sir Percy Lake's return to England in September. It has been suggested that a Canadian might take the position of chief of staff here in Sir Percy Lake's withdrawal, is slated for the position of inspector general. But for the present at least it is deemed desirable that the experience and training of a prominent imperial officer should be obtained.

FATHER MORRISCY'S WAY

Of Curing Catarrh is Simple and Effective.

In treating catarrh, the doctors recommend internal remedies, while others pin their faith to external applications. Internal medicine does not produce immediate relief, and external do not reach the seat of the trouble. Father Morriscy's medicine, which supplements one's own strength, consists of tablets and live, easy-to-skiffly agents. The latter purify the blood, purify the blood, and restore the health and vitality. The antiseptic salve, applied inside the nostrils, soothes and heals the passages and destroys the germs therein. Attacking the disease from within and without, and working together, the two treatments known as No. 26 quickly cure catarrh and prevent future trouble. FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

HEROES OF THE SEVEN YEARS' WAR
By Edward Everett

From a Fourth of July address at Worcester in 1853.

BUT in the war of 1756 the military efforts of the colonies were still more surprising. If it is said that they were upheld by the resources of the mother country, let it not be forgotten in making the comparison of their exertions in this war, with those in the revolution, that in the latter they have the powerful support of France. The seven years' war was carried on in America at the same time in the extreme south against the Cherokee Indians, then a formidable enemy in the western part of Virginia, and Pennsylvania, at Niagara, on the whole frontier line from Albany to the St. Lawrence and Quebec, in the extreme north-eastern part of the country where Nova Scotia and Cape Breton were taken, in the West Indies and on the Spanish main. The regiments of New England and New York in this war fought on lake Ontario and lake George at Quebec, in Nova Scotia, in Martinique, Porto Bello, and at Havana. From the year 1754 to 1762 there were raised by the single province of Massachusetts 35,000 men; and for three years, successively, 7,000 men each year. This was an addition to large numbers of the seafaring inhabitants who enlisted or were impressed into the British Navy; and in addition to those who enlisted in the regular British army who amounted in one year to near a thousand. Napoleon at the summit of his power did not carry an equal number of the French people into the field.

An army of 7,000 compared with the population of Massachusetts in the middle of the last century is considerably greater than an army of 1,000,000 for France in the time of Napoleon. If I were to repeat the names of all the distinguished pupils in this great school of war I should have to run over the list of a large proportion of the officers of the revolutionary army. Among them were Prescott, Putnam, Stark, Gridley, Pomroy, Gates, Montgomery, Mercer, Lee, and above all, Washington. If I were to undertake to recount the heroic adventures, the incredible hardships, the privations and exposures that were endured in the frontier wilderness, in the warfare with the savage foe—in the weary scouting parties in midwinter—I should unfold a tale of human fortitude and human suffering to which it would make the heart bleed to listen.

Disastrous Monorail Trip

New York, July 16—Twenty persons were injured, only one seriously, in the first trip on the monorail service today. Howard Tunia, the inventor, who was motorman, broke a rib, and one passenger broke a leg.

Epworth Park was, on Saturday, the scene of the United Sunday school picnic of the Congregational and Calvin Presbyterian churches. There was a large turnout. Some very exciting races and other sports took place. The following were the winners: Boys' race, Alfred Clark; girls' race, Mabel Carney; ladies' race, Mrs. Stratton; three-legged race, Smith and Elliot; air gun, Archie McArthur. There was a base ball game between teams representing the two churches, which resulted in a score of 11 to 9 in favor of Calvin.

SIR WILFRID AND OTHERS

Speaking at Fort William concerning Canada's place in the empire, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:
"We glory in our parliament, our own laws, our constitution, our own navy, our own navy, call it a 'tin pot navy' if you will. But if the time ever comes, and may God forbid it, that the old home is in danger, our hearts and brains will be ranged at her side against any enemy, no matter what she foemen hail."
This statement is sufficiently strong to prevent any misunderstanding. It is in line with former statements made by the premier, though we find Conservative newspapers asserting that the action of parliament in regard to the Canadian navy proves that Sir Wilfrid does not propose to range the navy on the side of England in the hour of danger. However, the government is not afraid to submit its naval policy to the people of Canada. Sir Wilfrid said at Fort William that the federal elections would not be brought off this year, and one of the reasons was that they did not want the naval policy obscured. They wanted it discussed and clearly presented to the people of Canada. It is worthy of note in this connection that the London Standard, a stalwart Conservative journal, does not adversely criticize the Canadian naval policy. It says the Canadian navy has the great advantage of being what we may hope may be an enduring and glorious record, as a time when the science of warfare has been brought to a perfection unknown since the Napoleonic wars. The Standard quotes a resolution adopted by the Canadian parliament in March, 1909, to the effect that whenever the need arises the Canadian people will be found ready and willing to make any sacrifice that is required to give the imperial authorities the most loyal and hearty co-operation in every movement for the maintenance of the integrity and honor of the empire, and it makes this comment:
"There could be no more explicit declaration of the relation of Canada to the Empire and of her sentiment towards that relation."
The Standard further points out that Canada recognizes that the extension of sea-borne commerce involves its armed protection, and says it is in the power of the United Empire to hold the highways of the world against all comers.
The attitude of the Conservative party on the naval question is one of the reasons why that party cannot possess the confidence of the people of Canada. One section of the party is utterly opposed to a navy, and the other is so divided in its views that the people turn with relief to a party which knows its own mind, and which has a definite policy, satisfactory alike from the national and imperial standpoint.

THE GLOOMY GLOBE

Conservative papers are quoting with great satisfaction an editorial from the St. John Globe which concludes as follows:
"To the ordinary reader it must appear strange that at this very moment while there are apparently feints at getting a harbor in St. John by the digging of mysterious holes in the bed of Courtney Bay, the Grand Trunk Railway Company is rigorously at work securing and enlarging its railway lines and their adjuncts in New England in order to do the business at those ports which we are assuming will be done here."
It is not surprising that the Globe should print a statement of this kind. It has always been pessimistic so far as the affairs of St. John are concerned. Its views are always gloomy views. It can see no ray of light. It is not impressed by the fact that the Grand Trunk Pacific has secured a site for its terminals at St. John, nor by the statement made by President Hays concerning the business to be done by the company at this port. Fortunately the citizens of St. John have ceased to be influenced by the Globe. They have seen those developments take place which the Globe said would not occur. The years have proved the Globe to be a false prophet. Moreover, it does not admire the minister of public works, and would not "mit itself to confess that a work of development with which he is in any way connected, could possibly result in advancing the constituency which he represents in parliament."

FAREWARD
(Clinton Scollard in "Pro Patria.")
We have known war and its enanguished sighs
Pain's pallid harvest, Death's divine release;
Hushed are the guns; sheathed is the sword that smites;
Let us give thanks for peace!
We have known Want—the lean wolf—at the door;
Aye, we have known him at the hearth's intense;
Let us give thanks from shore to utmost shore
That there is Plenty here!
We have known Sorrow—haply know it still;
Let us give reverent thanks that there is One
Whose strength unflinching and whose loving will
We all may lean upon.

FOR AN ALBUM
(John Greenleaf Whittier.)
I have before me an album for which Whittier wrote upon its first page these dedicatory lines fifty-seven years ago. They were written for a young lady, a neighbor and distant relative of the poet, and they have never appeared in print—S. T. Dickard.

Like a virgin heart, unwritten
By the pen of passion,
By familiar touch or look
Unprofaned, lie the blank pages?
What shall fill the blank pages?
Lovers' vows and thoughts of aches?
Shall it Friendship's altar prove,
Or the burning shrine of Love?
Human love, I give thee warning:
In the shadow of the Morning
On the meadow, on the water,
Ever growing short and shorter,
Narrowing in the sun, and gone
Ere the weary noon comes on.
Human Friendship in the shadow
Of the evening on the meadow
Ever deepening, ever growing,
While the sun is upward going
Till o'er all the way light
Flow the silent waves of night.

Love of God is more than these—
Shade of Eden's holy trees—
Palms that storm has never tossed,
Sacred shelter never lost.
In thy duty's little round,
Seek it while it may be found,
While the path of life is wet,
With the dew of morning yet
Ere the night of death shall fall
And the darkness cover all!

"I have it, girls," exclaimed the lady with the sharp nose and the cold eyes, rising in the suffrage meeting. "I have a plan that will show the men we are in earnest in our fight for the ballot."
"Let us resolve that we will not marry them unless they give us the vote," cries a militant sister.
"No!" exclaims the sharp-nosed one. "I say, let us declare that if they do not give us the ballot we will marry them!"
—Chicago Post.

VERY MUCH SURPRISED.
"You look surprised, Mrs. Mangle; what's the matter?"
"Why, my son, Tom, came in just now full of an airy news he had seen. He told me some news of the fights in the air that were absolutely incredible, and so surprised me as to leave me almost in a state of prostration."

A fool there was, and he went away
Even as you and I.
His home was pleasant to stay
A dandy place for a holiday—
But a fool was a fool, and he went away.
Even as you and I.

Oh, the wits we've lacked and the grips we've packed
In the summer time and fall.
And the times when having had our fling
We've come home grumpy wondering
Just why we went away!
A fool there was, and his savings spent—
Even as you and I.
The roof of a Pullman for his tent,
And lived the life of an emigrant—
But a fool will follow his natural bent—
Even as you and I.

Oh, the fools we meet, and the dust we eat,
And the tendency to roam;
The hardships that we all adore—
And the rest that we are looking for
Awaiting us at home.

Stole to Buy Bread

(Toronto Telegram).
A weeping wife and three little tots of children looked pleadingly up in the face of the magistrate on behalf of the husband and father, Alfred Cooper, at the bar charged with theft.
"This is a very sad case," said Aubrey Bond, appearing for defendant. "His wife says the goods he stole were bought for bread for the children. He has a wife and three children to keep on $7 a week, and there is no food or money in the house."
"I'm very sorry," the magistrate commented.
"For the sake of the babies," pleaded the weeping wife, "don't be too hard."
Away in the rear benches many men blew their noses loudly—a mere bluff to hide their moistening eyes.
The magistrate for some reason did not like to look up, but left it was his duty to be just and the sentence was thirty days in jail.
"There are many here who have heard your case and will likely help you," said the bench in conclusion.
And the sad quartette were led away.

Better Class of Immigrants

(Montreal Star).
Colonel Davidson, president of the Canadian Northern Land Company, was one of the passengers on board the Royal Edward, which arrived at Montreal Friday evening. He has been in England for the past four months on the company's business. Speaking on the subject to a representative of the Star, regarding the new line, he said:
"The passenger and freight returns have justified the Royal Line, and it is noteworthy that while we have done so much more money than the other lines have suffered. In fact, there seems to have been an all-around progress. That shows there is enough trade for us all, and we are all helping in the development of the country. Our company has organized a good improved class of settlers that is now coming to Canada. Many of these are men with a certain amount of capital who are coming with a determination to settle here permanently, and others are manifestly workers and not shirkers. I look for a large increase in the number of immigrants next year, and I think the Canadian Northerners will be in shape to bring its fair share of them. Mr. Scott Griffin has gone over to London to manage that end of the line."

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE

Halifax Police are Puzzled to Know How Fred W. Cox Escaped From Jail

Concerning the escape of Frederick W. Cox, of St. John, from the Halifax jail, where he was held on a charge of theft, in Kentville (N. S.), the Halifax Record says—"The man, when taken into custody, was searched, and all of his personal effects, including 20 cents, removed from his pockets. A thorough search was made and nothing but a package of cigarettes was left with him. It had been the intention of Detective Kennedy to take him to Kentville on this morning's express, which left Halifax at 7:30 o'clock. The officers on station duty, Policemen L. Nickerson and T. Cooke, went to the iron bars and told Cox to get ready as he was to be taken back to Kentville and would leave in about 10 minutes. This happened at 5 minutes to 7 o'clock, and when Detective Kennedy arrived at the station about seven minutes later to get his prisoner, the latter could not be found. The big iron lock had been turned and the gate was unfastened. The station was searched and the streets in the vicinity also, but there was no sign of the man. The prisoner must have picked the lock, as it was fastened at 6:35 o'clock, but the question is how and what with, as he had nothing in his pockets with which he could do the job. Then, when he had opened the door the query is how he managed to leave the station without being seen. It is just possible that after getting past the iron gate that he entered the officer's lavatory and escaped through the window.

The description of the missing man is given by the Chief of Police as follows: bushy hair; dark complexion; smooth shaven; with a large brown scar on the cheek near the left eye; dressed in a Broadway tweed suit; green hat with band a little lighter in color than the hat; tan shoes; and about 23 to 25 years of age."

Fashion Hints for Times Readers

Madame Cecel Sorel

Two fine lion cubs with green eyes are kept as pets by this lady, the "Grand Coquette" of the Comedie Francaise, Paris in her flat in the Avenue des Champs Elysees. Miss Sorel has taken up amateur taming as a hobby, and is enthusiastic about the appearance of her new companion. She even pretends that society is that of men, when, in comparison with the big cats, she holds in very low esteem. She recently declared that $20,000 a year is the lowest sum on which a woman can clothe herself without loss of self-respect. She is described as the best dressed woman in Paris.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By BUTH CAMERON

CHIT-chatting, Christmas or any other kind—that shows no thought or individuality, seems to me almost like an insult, because it seems to say, I must give you something. I don't want to bother to think about it and so I have just gotten this to cover the law.

And what a lot of that kind of gift every wedding calls out. And how comparatively few of the other kind that are the result of real thoughtfulness and real attempts on the part of the donors to put themselves in the recipient's place and imagine just what they would like best.

I visited one of the June brides in her new home the other day. In her dining room cabinet she had thirty-nine pieces of gift glass. Eleven of them were looking like a. She also had several dozen odd pieces of silver of which she confessed she did not know the use.

After walls on the other hand were almost bare. There had been but four pictures among her wedding gifts. A china pitcher pressed into service to hold the cards I brought her, showed her lack of taste or flower love. There was but one clock in the house and the only lamp was one she had just bought.

There are so many things, both expensive and inexpensive, that would just fit into niches in the new household, and make the bride bless you every time she used or looked at them, that it is simply incomprehensible to me that so many people seem unable to think of anything except the conventional little things of which there are sure to be a surplus.

Pictures, for instance, are a splendid gift and one that it is next to impossible for a bride to have too many of. "But I am not a good judge of pictures and I don't know just what to get," protests someone.

I anticipated that protest made in times past myself. My artistic friend has furnished me with a list of several that are thoroughly safe and desirable. "The Hanging of the Crane" heads the list, of course. I know a man who gave over a dozen copies of that to different brides in kind and he used to be afraid to get married for fear they would rebuke in kind and he would have to furnish his home with the "Hanging of the Crane."

The Madonnas are always beautiful pictures. In give. The Sitting Madonna, the Madonna of the Chair, and the Madonna of the Arbour are particularly beautiful ones. Sir Galahad, any of the Corot or Innes landscapes, Millet's "Angels" or "The Sowers," "The Death of the Artist" is a magnificent animal picture, are all prints that you would be safe in giving the most exacting.

Flower vases and bowls are another beautiful, eminently desirable gift. A tall crystal vase, a quaint Japanese affair, or a bowl of some of the new potteries and sheets are beginning to appear on many of the bride's gift lists. There are many personal and individualized than a conventional bit of silver or cut glass or any similar bric-a-brac?

Daily Hints for the Cook

PINEAPPLES AND STRAWBERRIES. To serve pineapples and strawberries together, pare, core and remove the eyes from one small pineapple and cut into small cubes. Pick over, wash and hull one cup of strawberries. Fill a glass serving dish with alternating layers of cubes of pineapple and strawberries, sprinkling each layer liberally with powdered sugar. Garnish the edges and centre of the dish with a few unhalved berries and serve.

COMPUTE OF GOOSEBERRIES. Top and tail one quart of gooseberries, which should not be very ripe, Make a pint of syrup and when it boils put in the gooseberries; simmer until the fruit is nicely pulped and tender without being broken; then dish the gooseberries on a glass dish, boil down the syrup for four minutes, pour over the gooseberries and serve cold.

FRUIT PUNCH. Melt two cups of sugar in six cups of boiling water and let it come to a boil. Cool, add one cup of orange juice, one cup of lemon juice, one cup of syrup drained from preserved berries of any kind. Have one half cup of preserved fruit and one quarter cup of fresh pineapple cut in dice and chilled. Put the fruit in a punch bowl, pour on the cold syrup, and it is ready to serve; if too strong, add a pinch of sugar.

QUIET SUNDAY AT CAMPBELLTON

Services Held in The Open Air—Shives Will Not Rebuild—Health Officers Arrive—Deaths

Campbellton, July 11—Services were held today in the open air by both Protestant and Catholic congregations. All were well attended, though there were scarcely more than 60 people now left, the others having sought shelter elsewhere. Rain fell several times during the day, adding to the discomfort of the populace in their shivers.

The militia were given no rest today, but were kept busy in protecting the interests of the fire victims. There were plenty of provisions on a car of liquor consigned to a man named McIntyre, which they seized and placed in custody. It is useless to try to sell the stuff in Campbellton, openly, as all licenses have been cancelled by Premier Hazen at the request of Mayor Murray.

The destitute people, as usual, thronged the supply depots and ate long and hearty. There seems to be plenty of provisions on hand for present consumption. Yesterday clothing donated by the Women's Council of St. John, they being given out by Mrs. J. H. Murray and Mrs. G. G. McKenzie.

The work of permanent rebuilding on the part of the people is still in the early stages and does not depend upon the problem of the bonded indebtedness is disposed of. F. J. Anderson, superintendent of the Shives Lumber Co., said today that that concern would not rebuild in Campbellton.

The steamer Senlac is being utilized as a boarding house, the rates ranging from $4 to $5 a day, or $25 to $35 a week. A number of people have been forced to accept these figures, having no place else to go.

The health situation at Campbellton remains unchanged, but efforts are being made to prevent another outbreak of typhoid disease, and for this purpose two members of the provincial board of health, Dr. E. B. Fisher, of Marysville, and Col. Malby, of Newcastle, arrived in town this morning to see the situation.

The political yearning had his reward. The premier paid him a graceful compliment. Hon. Mr. Graham expressed the hope that so good a man would see the error of his party ways, while Mr. Parlee told the people that few parliamentarians were more popular. When the diets had been accorded the king and the premier, a strong language called for three o'clock.

Bill Staples and Sir Wilfrid, stepping to the front of the platform, waved his hat with the rest. And Mr. Staples, still peering over his rimless glasses, smiled.

There is no losing oneself in the west. It is peopled with old friends. No matter how small the hamlet, no matter how remote or inconsequential the community, some old time voice, ringing with new optimism, will hail the eastern visitor.

Sir Wilfrid shook hands with his second cousin, L. Casen, a pioneer settler from Quebec, who renewed an acquaintance of thirty years ago. Tall, vigorous, white haired, a veteran of eighty-three years drove in nineteen miles and inquired for the minister of railways. He was John Graham, uncle of the Hon. George, brother of the minister's father. "I'm proud of you," was his greeting to his distinguished nephew.

T. C. Norris, leader of the provincial Liberal party, has journeyed to the province of the Manitoba trip and took part in today's welcome. Somerset lies 80 miles southwest of Winnipeg where one leaves the prairie and passes through a rolling and hilly country. The community is largely French and the premier spoke both in French and English. Among the interested spectators were six youthful priests in black lustrous coats over cream colored robes. They were members of the Brotherhood of L'Esperance Blanche, who were expelled from France at the time of the ecclesiastical suppression. They nodded a smiling approval of Hon. Mr. Graham's happy allusions to Canada as a country of religious fraternity and freedom.

A little boy presented to the premier a bunch of wild pink prairie roses. "And what is your name my little man?" inquired Sir Wilfrid. "Francois Xavier Jean Baptiste Thomas," replied the little fellow without hesitation. He got his kiss.

J. P. H. LeBlanc, president of the Liberal Association, presented an address of welcome. He asked the premier to deal liberally with the Manitoba boundaries and the canal elevator situation.

Sir Wilfrid spoke on Canadian citizenship and expansion and development of the west. He referred to the address, stating he would, before leaving the province, probably discuss the grain situation. Of the boundary embargo he said: "If Mr. Roblin and his party join hands with me, we can settle that question in a few days. God spare me and Mr. Roblin is willing, Manitoba will be generously dealt."

CONSERVATIVE M. P. JOINS IN WELCOME TO SIR WILFRID

W. D. Staples Organizes Rousing Reception for Canada's Prime Minister—T. C. Norris Joins the Party on Their Tour

Somerset, Man., July 12—W. D. Staples, Conservative M. P. for MacDonald, is the political David Harum of Manitoba. His constituents call him "Bill Staples." Hero of the official Conservative has held some what sourly aloof from the enthusiastic receptions accorded Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but not so Mr. Staples.

When the train pulled in here this afternoon, a tall spare figure crowned with a wide crash straw hat drawn down at a striking angle, under which keen grey eyes peered over rimless glasses, was the first man to board the premier's car and extend his hand.

When Mr. Staples learned that Sir Wilfrid was to visit his constituency and the people were debating how best to entertain him, he drove over from his farm eighteen miles away and took charge. He organized a reception, helped to construct a temporary speaking stand, assisted in erecting non-political banners of welcome, contributed towards bringing a band of ten miles at a cost of $100, and then proceeded to sound the outlying portions of the riding and drive in six veteran Liberals anxious to meet their distinguished leader, who could not otherwise have made an appearance.

When, at the suggestion of the premier, he was called upon to speak, the quiet farmer climbed out from the back of the platform. "We can't always agree in parliament," he told his people, "but it is my privilege to have a visit from an honored and distinguished statesman. We welcome him heartily and hope he will bring us good news from Ottawa. It is a rare and happy occasion for Somerset, and we hope Sir Wilfrid will come again."

The political yearning had his reward. The premier paid him a graceful compliment. Hon. Mr. Graham expressed the hope that so good a man would see the error of his party ways, while Mr. Parlee told the people that few parliamentarians were more popular. When the diets had been accorded the king and the premier, a strong language called for three o'clock.

Pain in Heart

"For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side. Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and any little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nervine. I took about thirteen bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."

MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart trouble because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of angina it has frequently been found to give up all hope, and by thousands of patients we have received from grateful people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Wilkinson's Views
 Indiantown, July 17.

Dear Editor--I believe that a very appropriate and deserving commendation should be given to the closing of public drinking saloons in the city of St. John. It is a fact that in the city of St. John, before its incorporation, it was always possible to know and see who were indulging because their saloons were invariably in the public eye; then it was that workers for the cause of teetotalism had actual opportunities to preach their much needed views on intemperance, because they knew where to find their "victims" or their patients if you will.

Every night, just as in the past, one runs up against just as many intoxicated individuals, but now they are apparently delighted because they have got the best of the law. They consume just as much liquor, etc., as before, but what is worse, they take it in dark corners, where friends and advice fail to find them. Only last night I had to haul a maimed man off the sidewalk square, who was so utterly drunk that he had no more effect on him than a prohibitionist's advice and laws. He offered a delightfully comical and pleasing picture, indeed, but this would be impossible in a bar-room because a bar-tender would stop serving a man long before he got to such a disgusting state. Bar-tenders are more Christian-like than pessimists are aware of, and would be only too glad, I believe, were they entrusted with the power to judge when a man has had enough, and then by law to be empowered to refuse him outdoors.

On again and we shall seek our less fortunate fellow-men.

The R. K. Y. C. yacht race at Millidgeville Saturday afternoon was won on time allowance by the Vagabond, owned by Dr. A. H. Merrill. The Possum, owned by H. B. Robinson, was the first to cross the line, however, with the Vagabond second and the Savitar third. The race started in front of the club house at 2:45 p.m., the course being a buoy off Appleby's wharf at Riverside and return, a distance of fourteen miles. Five boats lined up the Possum, Vagabond, F. Yuen, Savitar and the Louisa. There was a large gathering of spectators and during the afternoon luncheon was served by the St. John club.

BALFOUR AND GOLF

Leader of The Opposition Wins in Parliamentary Golf Handicap For The Third Time

London, July 18--Arthur Balfour, leader of the Opposition, has achieved the distinction of winning the parliamentary golf handicap for the third time on the Royal St. George Club's links at Sandwich. His previous victories were in 1894 and 1897. No other player has secured the handicap winning three times.

Almost any member of parliament will say that to win this tournament is better than to enter the cabinet.

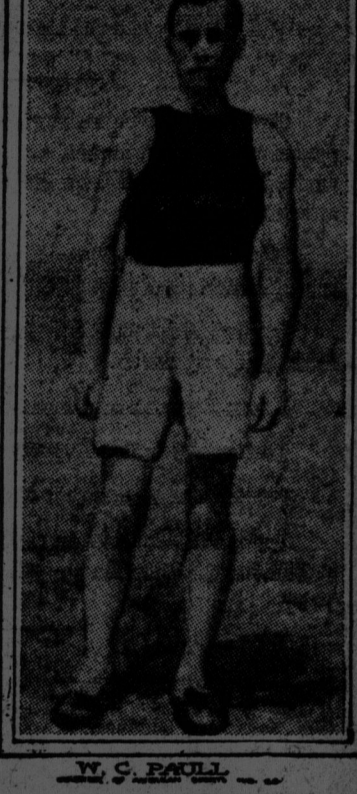

Mr. Churchill has won his way into office, but he has not yet mastered the art of playing golf. However, he is trying hard. When he was elected premier at Dundee he found time to play several rounds, and his handicap is now 24. From this figure it is a little difficult to exactly estimate the form, for 24, in the case of the majority of the club, is the biggest handicap allowed.

Mr. Asquith is a keen golfer, whose good intentions are not invariably fraught with good results on the links.

There were seventy-eight players in the tournament at Deal, and in the qualifying round of eighteen holes against Lloyd George, returned a card of 17, having, with a handicap of 24, succeeded in halving one hole. His score pointed to a fondness for big figures that one might expect of a chancellor of the exchequer. But Lloyd George knew very well that this kind of play would never get him into high office, so off he went to Nice, where he did the seventeenth hole in 1.

A REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE

World's Champion High Jumper

W. S. PEARL

New York, July 18--Wilton C. Pearl, former intercollegiate champion and present record holder, with a mark of 4m. 17.4cm, made athletic sharp sit up and take notice on Saturday by covering 26 miles less 26 yards, in the remarkable time of 4m. 16.5cm. This performance marked the classic of the year, and on all sides claim was made that it was as good as "forty-two" all the way.

The track on which the capital work was done, Celtic Park, is far from being considered fast, and Pearl's performance probably beat the next best work ever done on it by four seconds.
