

GOOD THEATRES COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

"CHIN CHIN" SALE STARTS ON MONDAY

Dillingham's Own Great Company in The Musical Comedy Hit of the Decade

Charles A. Gittler of New York, contracting representative of Charles Dillingham, the musical comedy impresario, is in the city completing details for the appearance here next Thursday and Friday, October 3 and 4, of Ivan Caryll's tawful work Chin Chin, the biggest musical comedy success of ten years back. This will be the first big musical show to play the Imperial and St. John has been looking for just such a diversion for months.

Chin Chin will be put on here by a large company of singers, dancers and comedians, and the piece will be handsomely mounted and in keeping with the genuine Dillingham idea of thoroughness and slip. To accommodate the crowd of performers and their wardrobe, musical and stage properties are making additional temporary dressing rooms.

The sale of seats will be opened at the Imperial box office on Monday next at ten o'clock. The price scale is to be as follows: Front half of orchestra, $1.50; first two rows in the balcony, $1.00; balance of the first balcony, $1; the whole of the rear balcony, 50c; box chairs, 25c.

THE OPERA HOUSE

Present Good Bill Last Times Tonight—Features of The New One

One of the best arranged vaudeville programmes of the season is at the Opera House this week—with lots of good singing, dancing, a good magical feature to please the children and the grown-ups, instrumental novelties, sensational bicycle riding, a host of good laughs, all blended into a clean, diversified entertainment to please the most critical. In addition to the vaudeville, the programme offers the Universal Weekly with the latest world news, readings and a good comedy picture. Evenings at 7:30 and 9, afternoons at 2:30. Popular prices. Tonight is the closing night of the present programme.

The regular change of programme, opening tomorrow night, offers Alma and the Merriman Sisters in a classy xylophone oddity; La Mase Trio, comedy acrobats; Al Leighton, character songs, stories and whistling; Scott and Kane, in a novelty skit "Chemists of Comedy"; The Owners in a comedy juggling novelty, and the usual chapter of "The Lion's Claw" serial drama.

CHAPLIN IN "THE RINK," UNIQUE TONIGHT

Chaplin grows more versatile with each new release. You have seen him in all sorts of situations—but this is his first opportunity to demonstrate his ability as a roller skater. He surely makes the most of it and the very thought of seeing him on roller skates will delight a large number who frequently admire the well known comedian. In conjunction with this big comedy "The House of Hate" and "Stingaree" will be shown, among other very interesting reels, Mack Sennett at 2 and 3:30; evening 7 and 8:30. Prices five and ten cents.

POWERFULLY EMOTIONAL DRAMA BY MRS. HUMPHREY WARD TONIGHT

The tender war story "Missing" at the Imperial tonight is going to create a great deal of interest and most favorable comment. It is a story that begins with and touches upon a subject very familiar to thousands of homes. The story is not harrowing or unedifying but stirs the emotions deeply and sends everybody away happy and hopeful. It is one of those beautiful, heart-rending dramas—the man who created "The Battle Cry of Peace," "The Girl Phillipa" and others. A straight English and Irish cast assumes the various roles and the British army scenes, the English homes and costumes, the trench scenes and last but not least, the recurring strains of "Bonnie Sweet Beesie The Maid O'Dundee" will make the production long to be sweetly remembered.

BIG AT THE GEM

Three vaudeville acts and five reel screen drama of gripping interest, Gladys Brockwell in "The Devil's Wheel," an absorbing story of Paris underworld, tonight at 7:15 and 8:45. Five and ten cents with a few reserved at fifteen.

MADE STAND AT MOUNT CARMEL

Among the prisoners is a German major who wanted to leave Haifa with other German troops on the day previous to our entry into the town, but was compelled by the Turks to take part in the fighting. He spoke of German mechanics working at Nazareth who might have escaped but preferred to be taken prisoner rather than continue serving with the Turks.

Everything is orderly in Haifa. The administration was taken over without the slightest hitch. The disposal of the thousands of prisoners is a real problem. The number is constantly swelling and fugitives are coming in from everywhere to surrender. The body is incalculable and includes a horry filled with cases of Turkish treasury notes, which is a serious loss to the enemy, though useless to us.

Among the prisoners were ninety-five Italians who were captured in the Isonzo drive and had been enrolled for forced labor.

The difficulties of the Turks retreating north of Haifa have been increased by the destruction of the railway near Deraa. Our airmen are also concentrating their attention on their line of retreat.

H. COLBY SMITH ON STAND THIS MORNING

The shortage which the government had determined to conceal.

Mr. Smith added to the mystery surrounding the Manzer letters, while clearing up his own part in the transactions, Manzer acknowledging receipt of shipping documents for the potatoes and undertaking to pay amounts collected from their sales. Mr. Smith also testified that he had received remittances from Mr. Manzer, and said this could be confirmed by the bank records.

Another interesting feature of Mr. Smith's evidence was his announcement that he had given a renewal note before the first note in settlement of the account came due. When the matter was not cleared up he appealed to Hon. Mr. Murray, who sent him to Mr. Daggett and the latter returned the second note.

Mr. Smith told of large shipments of potatoes being received from B. F. Smith after the overseas shipments had been closed. He denied a statement made by Mr. Daggett that these surplus potatoes were in any way due to a misundertaking by his partner, Mr. Daggett. The only instructions he had given to B. F. Smith were to ease up a bit.

Mr. Taylor, C. counsel for Hon. J. A. Murray, withdrew from the proceedings this morning, giving as an excuse his objection to the admission of a document.

H. Colby Smith.
H. Colby Smith was called to the stand when the inquiry opened this morning. He testified that he was a member of the firm of A. C. Smith & Co. which handled the potato business. His mother, Sarah E. Smith, was the other member of the firm. They looked after the showing of the potatoes in St. John. He produced a letter, dated Sept. 25, 1918, from the department of agriculture signed by J. B. Daggett. Previous to receiving the letter they had been told to go ahead, and the letter was in conformity with the instructions.

The instructions were to look after the surplus potatoes, and if needed, for packing, transferring and delivering to stevedores. Mr. Smith said he had received a letter from Mr. Daggett, dated Sept. 20th and 27th, Emerson & Fisher, Ltd.

The Sunday trains to and from Montreal have been eliminated. The Montreal express will leave St. John at 12:30 p.m. on Thursdays and will arrive at 1:30 p.m. local, which is an hour later than at present. The Sunday train to Boston, which was considerably later than at present, and will be due at 1:50 p.m. local, with the change effective September 29, the present suburban service will be discontinued. 9-28.

records of the shipments. These shipments were 9,501 1/2 barrels and 8,293 sacks, according to the lists given the witness by Mr. Clements. They were: A. B. Crosby, Halifax, 100 barrels, 100 sacks (180 pounds) to Llamas & Rins, Havana; 400 barrels to A. Perez & Perez, Havana; 500 barrels to Milan Onilo, 100 sacks to Ramas & Lina, 1,988 sacks to J. C. Manzer, 100 sacks to 200 barrels to Romanah and OJ9, 200 barrels to Martinez & Co, 200 barrels to Corleto & Co, 200 barrels to W. B. Mansel, 4,900 barrels to R. G. Waite, 3,075 barrels to Sejebara & A. Presalu. Says Some Shipped to Manzer to J. C. Manzer. Who is he?

A.—He was Canadian trade commissioner in Cuba.

Q.—Are you sure you shipped potatoes to him?

A.—Sure.

Q.—Could you identify his signature?

A.—Yes. The witness identified Mr. Manzer's signature on a letter produced by Mr. Hughes who offered it in evidence.

Mr. Taylor objected to their introduction on the grounds that they had nothing to do with the transaction and that a party to a proceeding would not be permitted to manufacture evidence.

The commissioner ruled that the letters were admissible.

Mr. Taylor Leaves Court.
I do not see that there is any excuse for my remaining if Mr. Hughes is to conduct the proceedings in this way," said Mr. Taylor, as he gathered up his papers.

"You may leave if you wish, but without insolence, please," said the commissioner.

"There is no insolence in my statement that I see no point in a party to such proceedings," said Mr. Taylor as he left the court.

Mr. Manzer to Premier Foster denied having received any of the surplus potatoes and that none of the companies mentioned had received any.

The witness asked permission to offer a document signed by J. C. Manzer, acknowledging receipt from the Bank of Nova Scotia of shipping documents for potatoes forwarded by A. C. Smith & Co. to Llamas & Rins, Havana, and undertaking to pay to the bank receipts from sales of potatoes against drafts drawn by Smith & Co.

The witness said he received returns from A. B. Crosby for shipment to him and for shipments to Llamas & Rins, Havana, and to the bank. He was not sure that all the drafts were paid in full. It was his impression that he discovered something later that led him to believe that he might have been misled by the records of the Bank of Nova Scotia, West St. John, through which the business was conducted.

Continuing through the list, he acknowledged receiving returns from various consignees.

Mr. Hughes—Mr. Daggett swore that he was practically no returns from them were presented to him.

Q.—You are sure you got the money?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And the bank records will show it?

A.—Yes.

The witness said that a draft on R. G. Waite for the Irma Bentley shipment, for 11,590, was not paid. He believed the draft for $8,650 each. The two latter drafts were returned. Freight on these shipments was paid at destination.

A draft for $6,437.50 for another shipment was returned, and they got nothing from it. He understood the stock went back to Cuba.

Q.—You got all this money from Halifax and Cuba?

A.—Did you ever tell Mr. Daggett?

A.—Yes. He knew the money was coming in. We talked about it from time to time.

Q.—There is no doubt that Mr. Daggett knew about it?

A.—None whatever.

Q.—Did you ever give Mr. Daggett a statement of these transactions?

A.—Not that I know of.

Q.—How did Mr. Daggett get his information about the accounts?

A.—I suppose from the auditor, Mr. Atherton, of Sussex, J. F. were his initials. I think.

Q.—He is a new one. Did Mr. Daggett send him?

A.—Mr. Daggett told me he was coming to audit the accounts.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Sofia, according to reliable news printed in the German press, says the Journal of Zurich. It is said that the Bulgarian cabinet is in continuous session and King Ferdinand had a long consultation with Premier Mallinovsky yesterday. It is reported that pacifist manifestations were held at Sofia on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Berlin Unhappy.
Paris, Sept. 26.—The German government, according to advices to the Havas Agency from Zurich, is very uneasy over the pacifist demonstrations in Bulgaria and the German minister has conferred with King Ferdinand. A.—No.

Q.—And the record of a sale of culls for $863. Did you purchase them?

A.—No.

Q.—There is record of payment by A. C. Smith & Co. on account of B. F. Smith & Co. for $247.55 for shortages. Did you pay that?

A.—Not that I know of.

Q.—There is evidence of a note you gave Mr. Daggett in settlement of this account. How did that occur?

A.—Yes. Mr. Daggett came to me and told me that there was a loss of $32,961.39, and asked if I would sign a note for it. After some consideration I said I would. He guaranteed that I would not have to pay it.

Q.—Have you the note?

A.—Yes.

The note was produced. It was made payable to the government of New Brunswick for four months and was endorsed "The Government of New Brunswick per Wm. Critchland, Deputy Provincial Treasurer."

Q.—Was the note paid?

A.—Yes.

Q.—By you?

A.—Was there a renewal?

A.—Yes. Mr. Daggett got the renewal note from me a few days before the other was due.

The witness produced the second note, dated March 6, 1916, for four months for $83,271.54.

Q.—You got this note back?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you speak to any member of the government about these notes?

A.—Yes. I got worried about the first note not being paid and I went to Fredericton and saw Mr. Murray, and told him I was worried about it. He went to Mr. Daggett and Mr. Daggett gave me the note.

The court here took recess.

FERDINAND IN FEAR OF INVASION

In discussing the Allied victory in Macedonia today, Dr. Venitich declared that it was almost unbelievable that a success of such magnitude could be won at such a slight loss to the Allies. He said that one of the strongest corps in the fighting incident to the crossing of the Vardar was made up of Jugo-Slavs which, he pointed out, was significant at the present time. Among the prisoners taken by the Allies during the offensive were many Macedonians enrolled by force in the Bulgarian army.

VOLUNTARY RATIONING

The local food committee has received an important letter from the New Brunswick Committee of the Canada Food Board in connection with voluntary rationing. The letter is being distributed to all members of the committee and is now being addressed to the necessary envelopes and expect to have their local approval and instructions sent out through the mail by about October 7. The letter from W. C. Keirstead, which is self-explanatory, follows here:

Dear Madam:

You will remember that some weeks ago upon the request of Mr. Thomson, the chairman of the Canada Food Board, and after careful consultation with our local committees, the New Brunswick Committee submitted to the Canada Food Board for their approval a system of voluntary rationing for the homes of this province. Recently this system has been returned to us somewhat amended and approved by the Food Board, with instructions to our committees to take a campaign for its adoption by the methods that we think most efficient. After receiving this communication we called together for consultation representative women of our local committees and the following conclusions were reached at this meeting:

(1) To accept the outlined voluntary rationing scheme as amended and approved by the Canada Food Board, with some slight amendments that we desired ourselves, and to publish 50,000 copies of the same in English; and later to buy sufficient copies in French from the province of Quebec to meet our needs.

(2) To launch a province-wide campaign beginning on Sunday, September 29, for the adoption of this voluntary rationing plan in the homes of the province, in the following manner:

(a) To ask the governor to issue a proclamation commending the scheme, and have the same published in the public press.

(b) To ask each clergyman to present the plan at one of his services on Sunday, September 29.

(c) To solicit the co-operation of each woman's organization throughout the province, as it was felt that a matter affecting so closely the homes of the province would need the full support of such organizations to achieve its full measure of success.

(3) To distribute throughout the homes of the province the printed booklets containing the scheme through the medium of the public schools, rural sections, and by means of local food committees in the cities and towns where such organizations exist. These pamphlets contain also the compulsory regulations of the Canada Food Board that apply to householders and to private citizens; in fact, each booklet outlines the full conservation policy for the home.

It is in connection with the campaign in your own locality that I wish to write you particularly. Your local committee will have full responsibility for the success of this campaign. You will take charge of the publicity work, soliciting the support of the press and the pulpit, and will make the distribution of the booklets. The manner of distribution is a matter for your own judgment. They may be distributed by means of a personal call or by medium of the school teachers if you can secure their co-operation; or by the use of the mail. In case you use the mail, this office will furnish envelopes and frank the letters; your local committee will secure the names of all householders and will address the envelopes. The St. John local committee is undertaking an active campaign, but will make its actual distribution by use of the mails, having the letters franked by this office.

Will you kindly call your local committee together at an early date and make the necessary arrangements for a successful campaign? Please let us know just what your plans are, how many pamphlets you will need and what territory you mean to cover. Count on us for full co-operation to make the campaign a success in your community.

(Signed) W. C. KEIRSTEAD,
Secretary.

RECEIVING WAR CROSS

The patriotic spirit and devotion which Canadian women have so far performed war-service work and made sacrifices has never been equalled in the history of any country. Mothers, wives and sisters support this burden with strength and fortitude. But those who are already weary from the complaints and weaknesses which are so common to women should take the right temperance tonic for the womanly system.

If a woman is borne down by pain and afebrile, by nervousness or dizziness, by headache or backache, "Favorite Prescription" should be taken. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid as most drug stores. Send to Dr. Pierce's Branch at Bridgeburg, Ont., for a 100 trial pkg. of tablets.

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills have been most satisfactory in liver and bowel troubles.

Witness: One—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription of women of men. For a woman's time I became all run-down. I would have been bedridden but for your pills. I do not get any more run-down and was so glad that I do not get any more run-down. I had taken two bottles of your pills and I had taken two bottles of your pills and I had taken two bottles of your pills. It is truly wonderful medicine for women.—Mrs. Maria Makover, 4 Albert St.

That the new ruling relative to deck loads, which apparently gives ships leaving Nova Scotia ports advantage over ships leaving ports in the province, is in error, was the tenor of a letter received yesterday by the secretary of the board of trade from the marine department at Ottawa. In his letter the minister states that he is of the opinion that some error has been made and that it is not the intention of the imperial government to use one province different from the other in this matter. He added that cables had already been sent to England with a view of determining this matter and that doubtless an official announcement in the matter would be forthcoming within the next few days.

RAILWAY MEN IN SESSION

At the annual district meeting of the Canadian Government Employees' Relief and Insurance Association which was held last evening in the office of the general freight foreman, the following members were re-elected by acclamation to compose the district executive for the ensuing year: E. J. Simpson, C. S. James, A. Duncan and J. J. Chandler, district secretary. W. M. McLaughlin was elected delegate to the annual meeting at Moncton. John W. Rusk presided at the meeting.

Y. M. C. A. FUNDS STOLEN

Robbery at Niagara Camp Saturday Night.

Niagara Camp, Sept. 25.—The Canadian camp Y. M. C. A. was robbed of about $1,200 the other night and it is believed that the robbery was committed by an organized gang of crooks who are in training here as soldiers and who are supposed to have been responsible for thefts from several canteens lately.

The Y. M. C. A. money was in an iron box, locked, and was in the safe in the association's office, a tent, in the rear of the main tent, but the safe was not locked. The box was abstracted while the cashier, Wylie Wilkinson, who came to Niagara from Peterborough three weeks ago, was at a concert in the auditorium tent, some time between 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

The box was carried to the camp tent, where, under cover of a partially erected tent, it was broken open. The thieves did not take the entire contents of the box, but left about $400, of which $10 was in silver and copper coins, and the balance in cheques. In the box at the time of the robbery were $700 in cash and $800 in cheques, the property of the Y. M. C. A. National Council, and approximately $200 in cheques deposited by soldiers for safekeeping.

BELGIAN RELIEF WORK SAVES CHILD LIVES

Fights Starvation and Disease in Stricken Country

What the Red Cross means to a soldier struck down on the field of battle, the Belgian Relief means today to the children of Belgium, ground down under the iron heel of a ruthless invader. When famine and tuberculosis were exacting a terrible toll of death among the children of the invaded country, many notable victories were attained over the two deadly enemies of childhood—malnutrition and disease. An efficient means of combating these enemies was found in the removal of the greatest possible number of unfortunate little ones to Holland, where they were given a full measure of hospitality. Before this work reached its present magnitude it was able, through the generosity of the Dutch public, to carry on the relief of Belgium and Holland by want of funds. It is on behalf of the children of Belgium that the Belgian Relief Commission is today appealing to the people of Canada for financial support. Contributions should be addressed to the local branch of the Belgian Relief Fund or to the Central Committee at 59 St. Peter street, Montreal (Que.).

Numerous Belgian orphans were adopted by Dutch families, but the economic situation in Holland has been completely altered of late, a great many adopted children again have been thrown upon the mercy of the charities. In this extremely a system of homes was established throughout Belgium and Holland. It has been extremely successful in this endeavor, although again badly handicapped by want of funds. The speaker of the evening was George A. Mitchell of Toronto, superintendent of field work. The star performer was Harvey Lloyd of Toronto. He was heard in comic, instrumental and patriotic songs. Mrs. Blake Ferris, Miss F. Murdoch and H. Collins were the soloists of the evening. Dudley Robillard presided at the piano. Motoring Sundays are helping to make the world permanently safe for democracy, and temporarily and incidentally safe for pedestrians.—New York Sun.

Three people were killed and twenty-two were injured in a train wreck on the Boston & Maine Railroad at Dummerston, Vt.

UNIFORM COAL DISTRIBUTION BY CONTROLLER

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Regulations providing for the more uniform distribution of coal needed for industrial uses in Canada have just been approved by the governor-in-council, at the instance of the fuel controller.

While the fuel controller endeavors, as far as possible, to avoid the imposition of income restrictions on the coal trade, action was in this case forced upon him through arrangements recently completed for the shipment of United States coal to Canada on a system of regular monthly allotments. Complaints had been received to the effect that importers were discriminating in coal deliveries in favor of their "valued customers." The regulations now passed are intended to promote fair and equitable distribution of industrial coal.

It is provided that all mine operators in Canada and importers of industrial coal into this country shall rotate deliveries of such coal amongst their customers in proportion to their requirements, so that no one industrial consumer shall at any time have advance supplies on hand while others are under supplied.

Very drastic provision is also made against the unnecessary hoarding of coal on the part of industrial users and heavy penalties are provided. Those whose operations require large advance stocks at the end of the present coal year must obtain special permission from the appropriate provincial fuel administrator.

Provision is made whereby mine operators and importers may require certified statements from their customers as to tonnage of coal on hand and required for each month, so that an intelligent distribution may be made of all coal mined and received in Canada.

MINISTERS CALLED

Mr. W. J. Richardson of Plaster Rock has accepted a call to the Baptist field of Hoyt Station and will take up his work there in October.

The Plaster Rock field has called Rev. Neil MacLean of Newcastle Bridge.

RECEIVING WAR CROSS

The patriotic spirit and devotion which Canadian women have so far performed war-service work and made sacrifices has never been equalled in the history of any country. Mothers, wives and sisters support this burden with strength and fortitude. But those who are already weary from the complaints and weaknesses which are so common to women should take the right temperance tonic for the womanly system.

If a woman is borne down by pain and afebrile, by nervousness or dizziness, by headache or backache, "Favorite Prescription" should be taken. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid as most drug stores. Send to Dr. Pierce's Branch at Bridgeburg, Ont., for a 100 trial pkg. of tablets.

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills have been most satisfactory in liver and bowel troubles.

Witness: One—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription of women of men. For a woman's time I became all run-down. I would have been bedridden but for your pills. I do not get any more run-down and was so glad that I do not get any more run-down. I had taken two bottles of your pills and I had taken two bottles of your pills and I had taken two bottles of your pills. It is truly wonderful medicine for women.—Mrs. Maria Makover, 4 Albert St.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1918

The Evening Times and Star

WAR COMMENT.

While it is much too early to predict the results of the joint attack begun early this morning by French and American troops on the Chamagne front, military critics point out that a drive northward in this territory would seriously endanger the enemy's lines of communication back of the Hindenburg defence system and, if well sustained, would force a retirement over a wide front. It is believed that Foch could choose no better part of the front for a smashing assault with the idea of bringing the Hindenburg line so completely under the fire of the Allied guns that its effectiveness would be shattered and ultimately destroyed.

Those critics who are in closest touch with this field of operations explain that a considerable advance east of Rheims would outflank Laon and possibly St. Quentin, and would break the enemy's communication lines running east from Laon. If this were done it would not be surprising if Foch, by desperate fighting, should cut the German army in two and drive a wedge between the separated forces so deep that a German retreat on a wide scale would follow. It is significant that the attack today is being increased at many other points of the long battlefield. The fighting of the next few days will be watched with keen interest, for it is likely to have a far reaching effect on the whole military situation in the west.

The Allied success in France, Macedonia and Palestine must be having a depressing effect upon the people of Germany. By giving Foch supreme command of their armies, the Entente comments did a masterly stroke. It is followed by Allied preponderance in guns and man-power, has enabled Foch to attain strategical successes which never would have been possible under old conditions. This much and more, is admitted by the German press.

Stonhenge, world famed relic of the times of the Druids, is now the property of the British nation. Hitherto it has been privately owned but the latest possessor, Mr. C. H. F. Chubb, has just made a gift of it to the country after being owner for three years. Stonhenge is one of the most remarkable examples of the ancient stone circles. It is situated in Salisbury Plain, England, a place dear to the hearts of Canadians as the training ground of the division soldiers who first went to the war. There are two circles of stone and two ovals with the supposed altar stone of the Druids in the centre. This is fifteen feet in length. There is mention of Stonhenge in writings dating so far back as the ninth century. There has been some attempt to prove that it was a temple of the Romans but most writers of authority agree that it is of Druidical origin. There are differences of opinion as to the date of its construction, some placing it one hundred years before Christ, others in the fifth century. There will be general satisfaction at the announcement that it now becomes the property of the nation, for that means assurance of its preservation.

Compulsory Subscription. Australia, among other advanced items of legislation born of war conditions, proposes to bring out "equitable contributions to war loans according to individual means." In other words the man of wealth who would hoard his gold while others less able willingly give of their means to help in financing the war will have to do his share, whether he will or not. Governments have a way of getting at desired objects and in this particular instance the Australian powers will not face much criticism or opposition. The war expenses must be met. If all realized that their wealth would fade as the snow before the sun if Germany were to be victorious in the world conflict, there would be no need for such legislation, but not all allow themselves to be seized of this very potent fact. Australia proposes a very effective method of pointing the way to duty in this regard.

Some idea of the thoroughness of the American preparations to gather in the six billion or more dollars desired in the fourth Liberty Loan may be gleaned from the fact that more than 100,000 men and women are ready to take part in the speaking campaign to be opened on next Saturday. They will give talks in theatres, schools, churches, on the street corners and anywhere they can get an audience. Twenty-four war exhibit trains are to travel from town to town. The news from Russia is more hopeful.

The Toronto Star is advocating abolishment of the system under which our officers on active service must provide their own uniforms and equipment. "Why," it asks, "should they be required to do their own financing and shopping, destroy their own clothing in foreign mud, have to make good their own hats which enemy shells destroy, and yet be forced to wear exactly what they are told to wear, and pay for it exactly what private traders choose to charge them for it?"

Toronto Globe.—The next few months should see the adoption of more war-time standards in Canada. The decks should be cleared for financial action by casting overboard wasteful habits and the craving for luxuries and excessive amusements. Our daily life, apart from the pinching of the salaries and the grief for the fallen which comes to many homes, has been barely touched by the war. The duty to adopt a new outlook is immediate and insistent.

The Ottawa Journal says:—"The local fuel control committee does not intend to take any action with respect to rumors that coal dealers are charging an exorbitant price for coal. Chairman W. H. Dwyer said to The Journal that the committee had been notified by the fuel controller that the rate of $10.00 a ton now charged was a fair price." If Ottawa people are not satisfied to pay $10.00, St. John householders will be glad to take what they can get at that figure.

The Standard headlines this morning declare there is "nothing startling in potato enquiry as yet." This means that the Standard has steadfastly set itself against being startled no matter what happens. Paris learns of an impending ministerial crisis in Bulgaria. The reverberation of the blows that the Bulgarian army is receiving is causing the cabinet structure to totter.

Von Hertling in his Reichstag speech seems to have pleased but few. His downfall is predicted. Programme of Acts and Deeply Interesting Five Reel Picture Entertains Well. Gem patrons were well entertained last evening when three interesting vaudeville acts and a very fine five reel photograph were offered for their pleasure. The return of vaudeville to this popular theatre for a season was heartily welcomed. The Novellen Brothers first appeared in comedy sketches which they gave a pleasing performance. Next came Lynn and Frances, man and girl, in singing and dancing. Their sills' horripole, Highland fling and Irish dance were all well done. The DeLuxe trio won no honours in the very entertaining specialty. They sang nicely in harmony, but their dancing is of outstanding merit. The act is very fine and the scene of grace. Their walking trio which concludes the act is very fine. The costumes are very pretty and attractive.

Gladys Brockwell has few equals among photographers as a purveyor of emotional roles and in "The Devil's Wheel," the William Fox photodrama shown in this programme, she appears at her best. As a beautiful young French noblewoman whom force of circumstance places among the wild denizens of the Paris underworld, her acting thrills. As the sharer of her father in a successful system for winning at roulette, the young French girl is spirited away to an Apache den. During a struggle which takes place at the time of her abduction, she is struck on the head with a resulting loss of memory. She forgets all her past, becomes a leader among the criminals, through her ability to win at gambling, and falls in love with the head of the gangsters. Accidentally coming in contact with a man who killed her father, she instinctively kills him, is seized by the police and an operation restores her memory and places her in her former life. But she is unhappy till she realizes that life is not thing without her sweetheart of the underworld. He comes to her chateau and the old love revives. The scenes in this picture are gripping. The Gem will continue this programme until including Friday night, with all changed on Saturday.

Famous Lighthouses. The first lighthouse of which there is any record was built by Ptolemy on the island of Pharos, at the entrance to the harbor of Alexandria, Egypt. Probably the most famous lighthouse of modern times is the Eddystone light, which was one of the first built in Britain, and which has been famous because of its dangerous situation and its having been four times destroyed by the angry waters of the North Sea. Minot's Ledge Light, at the entrance to Boston harbor, is among the most noteworthy of American lighthouses, and shares with Old Boston Light the interest of every voyager who enters the tortuous channel to the city of Boston.

Large Enough. Ex-President Duff, in his younger days, when he was a law reporter, had been studying a case in Somerville, O., and found he couldn't get back to the office that night unless he managed to stop a through express. So he wired to headquarters, "Will you stop the through express at Somerville to take on a large party?"

Fully Explained. The learned counsel in the great case literally beamed with joy. Here was a witness who was everything a witness should be. "I congratulate you, sir," he said, enthusiastically. "Your memory for detail does you infinite credit. And on behalf of the numerous relatives of the testator in the county of Hamilton, I thank you for the very flattering though none the less truthful description that you have just given of that esteemed gentleman who is now alas! no more."

SIR ARTHUR HARRIS DIRECTOR OF SHIPPING IN CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—It is officially announced by Hon. C. C. Balfour, minister of the navy, that Sir Arthur Harris, who has been acting, since 1916, for the Canadian government as director of overseas transport, has now been made director-general, British minister of shipping for Canada. Sir Arthur has, however, kindly consented to keep in touch with the minister of naval service and officials and to co-operate in every possible way.

SAYS HE WAS STABBED.

John Keup of 4 Carleton street, asserts that he was invited into an alley in Mill street last night to settle a dispute he previously had with another young man and while about to settle the matter he was pulled out a knife and stabbed him in the back. He alleges that he chased the man and while doing so met a policeman who, when informed of the affair, said that he could not leave his beat. Further developments are expected to take place in the form of court proceedings.

CARDINAL FARLEY

(New York Times Editorial) In that moving and splendid service, at St. Patrick's Cathedral one winter's day half a dozen years ago, of installation of Cardinal Farley, the late welcomed home from Rome by a great popular demonstration of respect and affection in Hamilton, the objective return, the treasurer, T. Brown, announced a total of $81,000 collected. In the city of Quebec the objective return was $25,000. This was nearly doubled, the sum raised in that city being $48,000. In the city of Quebec the objective return was $50,000 and the amount raised was $55,000.

Two or three years ago we might have said that, of all the manifold achievements of Cardinal Farley, the Catholic Encyclopedia, of which he was the senior, and constant, long-term editor, was his most enduring monument. The war has shown him as a resolute patriot, a man of great personal simplicity, and his careful avoidance of everything that might bring him before the public gaze. We are fighting to uphold those ideals of political liberty and freedom which guarantee to every nation, great and small, peaceful possession of its territory, unimpeded development of its natural resources and equal opportunities in industrial and commercial competition. God of battles, hear us; judge our cause, give us justice, freedom, and peace!

JEALOUSY BELIEVED RESPONSIBLE FOR ITALIAN'S DEATH

Salandra died in the hospital later in the day. The police are looking for Leonard Demore, who is suspected of having committed the deed.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Roscoe-Ruggles.
Bridgetown, N. S., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Flags are in evidence everywhere and the town is beautifully decorated in honor of a fashionable event which took place in St. James' Episcopal church at 11 o'clock this morning, when Major Barry Roscoe, D. S. O., son of Hon. Col. W. E. Roscoe, K. C. and Mrs. Roscoe, of Kentville, was united in marriage to Louise Thorne Ruggles, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruggles, of Bridgetown.

Miller-Hilly.
A wedding of much social interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Mace's Bay, Charlotte Co., on September 25, when their eldest daughter Hazel became the bride of Harold Otis Miller, head salesman for J. A. Pugsley & Company of this city. Rev. D. J. MacPherson officiated. The ceremony took place under an arch of evergreen and roses. The bride was escorted by her father. Her bridesmaids were of white silk with a bridal bouquet of orange blossoms and carried a nosegay of roses and maiden hair fern. Longman's wedding march was played by Miss Lily Ellis, cousin of the bride. There was a magnificent display of wedding presents including cut glass, silverware and other articles costly and useful, demonstrating the high esteem in which the happy pair are held by their many friends. The parents' gift to the bride was $100 in gold. After a dainty supper the bridal party motored to St. John and left on the evening train for Nova Scotia, where they will visit the Annapolis Valley and other points of interest. On their return they will reside at 28 Wright street.

Taylor-Potter.
At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. Foley, 264 Duke street, St. John, West, last evening, Samuel J. Taylor was married to Miss Mabel L. Potter, both of this city. Rev. D. J. MacPherson performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly dressed in a white gown and was given away by her brother, Lewis Potter. A large number of invited guests were present to witness the ceremony. A wedding luncheon was served after the ceremony. A high number of beautiful and useful gifts were received by the happy pair who left last night to spend their honeymoon in Nova Scotia. On their return they will reside at 20 Waterloo street.

Otis-Crabbe.
A wedding of interest was solemnized yesterday afternoon when Rev. Neil MacLaughlin united in marriage Miss Etta L. Crabbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dever Crabbe, of Brown's Flats, and William Hiram Otis, of Clover Hill, Kings county. The ceremony was of a quiet character and only a few friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Otis took the evening train for Clover Hill, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

Clark-Clift.
The marriage of Miss Louise Clift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clift, 20 Bonmouth street, to Duncan Wilton Clark, Dipper Harbor, was solemnized

CODFISH BALLS.

This is a delectable supper dish as simple to prepare as it is nutritious. There are two good methods of preparing it:

(1) Boil one cup of codfish and boil and mash four good-sized potatoes. Combine the potatoes and codfish. Mash all together, add a small piece of butter, pepper and one beaten egg. Roll in flour substitute to form balls and fry or else cover with egg, bread crumbs and fry.

(2) Another good method is to take the same materials, cut potatoes into three or four pieces, tear the fish into pieces and boil together until the potatoes are tender. Then drain, mash and season with butter, pepper and egg. Drop by spoonfuls into the frying pan.

Food Board Flashes For Feminine Folk

FORMER ST. JOHN MAN NOW IN GUATEMALA, LEADING ORCHESTRA

Osborne P. Stearns of Boston, who early last winter and in the season of 1916 played flute and piccolo very acceptably in the Imperial Theatre orchestra in this city, writes to Musical Director A. E. Jones of the King Square theatre in the city of St. John, N. B., Guatemala, Central America. Writing of his orchestral work in this strange land, he says:

"I didn't bring down a crowd of my own, but my orchestra is the regular orchestra of the natives, and believe me they can play. It is natural for a Latin to be a good musician, I suppose, and temperamentally they will have. I didn't bring all my library with me, as the house, being municipally owned and consequently a savings bank of money, has one of the finest theatre libraries I ever saw. Most of the music is foreign, Italian, German and French, and including, and all is for grand orchestra. In addition to a full complement of strings—about twenty violins, two violas, two cellos, two tenors, two basses, contra bass, drums and a separate snare drum. They compare favorably with some symphony orchestras I have heard in the States. I had a little trouble at first in getting them to make their segments steady, but after a few days of getting me most gratifying, and their general musicianship is greatly above the average."

"FIENDS INCARNATE"

(Sir Robert Borden in Toronto.)
"When I reached England early in June the situation on the western front gave cause for grave apprehension. When I set out for Canada, about the middle of August, the position was completely changed. Apprehension had given way to confidence, and there was a well-founded belief that the grand climax of the war is approaching. Before that comes there will be much talk of peace. No inconclusive peace which would be merely the prelude to another struggle will be accepted by the men who have borne the burden and made the sacrifice. The issue must be settled now and Germany must learn her lesson once and for all. The memory of these things cannot be wiped out in a day or a year, or even a century."

A wedding of interest took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Belyea, Middle street, West St. John, when their daughter, Miss Elsie Roberts Belyea, was united in marriage to Albin B. MacKenney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Robinson. They will reside in Prince street.

The wedding of Miss Beatrice Mary Dimock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Dimock, Halifax, and Edmund H. MacDonald of Halifax, was solemnized in Halifax yesterday morning. The ceremony was performed by Venerable Archbishop Armitage.

St. John will soon be a military camp again. In a very few weeks the officers and men of the C. E. F. will be returning from camp to their winter quarters here. Considerable correspondence has already passed between local headquarters of the depot battalion, which is now in the process of being formed, and the quartermasters of the C. E. F. in this winter and it has been settled definitely that the depot battalion will be quartered in St. John this winter, although orders to this effect have not yet been received.

Two items of business of more than usual importance were discussed at last night's meeting of the Board of Education. One dealt with the necessity of establishing special classes for mentally and physically deficient children, and the other with the need for at least two more inspectors. Dr. Helen MacMurchy, government inspector, spoke briefly but impressively on the first subject.

3,833 Canadians Given Commissions in Imperial Army

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Canadian military headquarters in London state that, up to August 1, 1918, 3,833 non-commissioned officers and men of the overseas military forces in Canada had been given commissions as officers in the imperial army. This substantial number of recognitions to the rank and file of the Canadian overseas army does not include any individual Canadians who came on their own responsibility to England and joined the imperial forces without being taken on the strength of the overseas military forces of Canada.

Ball From the Skies

New Form of Amusement Devised By Baseballists in the Army.
A new form of amusement has been devised by that portion of American soldiers drawn from the ranks of the baseballists. It appears to be of a rather risky sort, but the American sport wants nothing that is devoid of the elements of exciting adventure. The new wrinkle was originated by the aero squadron at Kelly Field a few weeks ago, when a baseball dropped from a plane 700 feet up was caught by a player on the field below. Three dozen balls were dropped before an adventurous player succeeded in making the catch. The airplane boys over in France heard of this piece of business and at once determined to go the Kelly Field boys one better. The Plane News, printed by the men on active service in France, tells us about it. Among the members of the Third Aviation Instruction centre there are twenty baseball teams, and these will try for what is to be known as the "record catch." A plane piloted by a flying officer will rise to a height of 750 feet, fifty feet higher than was attained in the Kelly Field contest, and at intervals of every three or four minutes the pilot will swoop over the spot where the contestants will be lined up, dropping single balls so that there will be but one ball dropping at a time. In case a catch is made of the ball from 750 feet, the pilot will rise to 800 feet, and the men given a second chance to win the record. To the one who catches the ball at either of these heights will go the world's championship and a medal which will become his property for a keepsake. The velocity attained by these falling balls by the time they reach the ground must be something terrific, and the player who might be struck by one of them would stand a good chance of being knocked into a pile of broken bones. But no harm of that sort has yet come to these adventurous fellows, and there is no need to anticipate so unlucky an occurrence. We would not be surprised to hear some day of these American aviators catching German cannon balls.—Charlotte Observer.

Couldn't See Her Boy And Now He Is Killed

Riverdale, Ont., Sept. 26.—Over the piano in the home of Mrs. Wardle, 9 Wyatt avenue, hangs the enlarged portrait of her three soldier sons. One boy, Henry, was killed in action on October 5, 1916, at the age of twenty-three. Fred, the eldest, was wounded last June, now Lawrence, youngest of the three, just back to the trenches after recovering from a wound received last May, has been killed in action, Sept. 2 at the same age as his dead brother. "This is likely to be my breaking-up," said the heart-broken mother. She went to England some time ago to see her boy; but waited in vain for five months—the military authorities would not give him leave of absence. He went overseas in the 38th Battalion. VON HERTLING LIKELY TO GO
His Speech Fell Flat in Reichstag—Clerical Party Rejects Socialist Programme

Copenhagen, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Disappointment over Chancellor Von Hertling's speech is indicated by special despatches from Berlin.

The Vossische Zeitung says the speech received hardly any applause from the majority of those who listened to it and there were hisses from the minority, and that its reception leaves no doubt that at least a considerable part of the majority in the Reichstag regard his continuance in office as a hindrance to the new order of things.

Theodore Wolff, in the Tagblatt, says that a new era is coming and that Von Hertling belongs to a generation whose knell is being rung amid the cannons' thunder.

Copenhagen, Sept. 26.—The Berlin Tagblatt reports that the Clerical party at a conference decided to reject the programme of the Socialists.

The German Clerical organ, Germania, contains no such statement. The Berlin Vorwaerts, Socialist organ, says it understands the Clerical party does not favor the Socialist demands.

"If that is the case," says Vorwaerts, "the realization of our programme will have to be postponed until such time as the Clerical opposition is overcome."

BANK MANAGER TELLS HOW MONEY WAS TRANSFERRED TO COVER THE POTATO LOSS

Sent From Moncton Branch and Placed in Special Deposit to Credit of Deputy Provincial Treasurer to Cover Note and Interest—Some Evidence on Condition of Surplus Potatoes

Further evidence of interest was given at yesterday's late session of the potato inquiry.

Giles N. C. Hawkins, manager of the Bank of Montreal in Fredericton, was called to the stand when the inquiry resumed in the afternoon. Questioned by Mr. Hughes, witness testified that he remembered discounting a note on December 22, 1915, in favor of the Province of New Brunswick. The note was for $88,271.54.

Mr. Hughes drew attention to the fact that Mr. Daggert had said that the note was for $82,261.98 and asked if that was the net amount after interest was deducted.

Witness said his recollection was that the note was for $88,271.54, with interest in addition. The interest amounted to $410.15.

The note was dated November 8, 1915, and was discounted on December 22.

Q.—By whom was it endorsed?

A.—By the province; by the provincial deputy treasurer.

Q.—Would you discount a note on the endorsement of the province?

A.—Yes, if my information about it was satisfactory.

Q.—Who brought the note to you?

A.—Mr. Craikbank, probably.

Q.—Had you any instructions from any other representative of the government regarding the note?

A.—No. I think Mr. Craikbank came a few days before to see if I would discount the note and I said I would.

Q.—Had you discounted notes before for the government?

A.—Yes.

Q.—It was done in the ordinary course of business?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Any for the present government?

A.—This was the note.

Q.—Was this note paid?

A.—Yes, on March 6, 1916, the due date.

Q.—By whom?

A.—By William Craikbank, as deputy provincial treasurer.

Q.—By provincial check?

A.—No, from an account to his credit as deputy provincial treasurer in the bank.

Q.—There were two provincial accounts?

A.—There were that day.

Money Cases From Moncton.

In reply to further questions witness said this was a casual account opened by a payment of $88,271.54 and closed by the payment of the same amount. The payment came through the Moncton branch of their bank to be credited to William Craikbank, deputy provincial treasurer. Witness did not know who sent the money.

To Mr. Taylor witness said that the letters "L. D." on the bank pass book represented "local discount" as distinguished from a cash deposit. He also said that he did not remember making any discounts for the present government during the last year or year and a half at least. There might have been some small amounts before that time.

To Mr. Hughes, witness said that he could find no other entries marked "L. D." in the book, which was opened in July 1915, and continued in use for a year and a half.

This concluded Mr. Hawkins' evidence.

R. C. Elkin.

The next witness was R. C. Elkin, of St. John, ship owner and broker. He gave evidence that he owned the schooner Irma Bentley in January 1915, when she was chartered by the province of New Brunswick.

The charter party was produced, identified and put in evidence. It was dated January 5, 1915.

Witness said the vessel was loaded with potatoes for Cuba, as he remembered, in February, 1915. The schooner arrived in Cuba at Cape Francis, some time in March. They got their remittance for the freight on March 22. It was $2,264.50 and it came from the skipper, Captain Rafuse, who told him it was received from the consignee.

Witness was called over to the dock on one occasion when the captain objected to the condition of the potatoes. A barrel had fallen and broken open. He found the contents rotten. The captain objected and witness backed him up. They knocked off the men who were loading the vessel and some one said they would get Mr. Daggert. Mr. Daggert came the next day and witness told him they could not carry stuff like that unless their freight was guaranteed.

THEY COULD NOT BE COMPELLED TO CARRY STUFF THAT WAS NOT WORTH THE FREIGHT CHARGES.

Some more potatoes came in by car and some of them were opened and, as far as witness saw, they were all right. The vessel was about half full at this time. THERE WERE GREAT PILES OF ROTTEN POTATOES LYING AROUND THE WAREHOUSE HUNDREDS OF BARRELS OF THEM.

Mr. Taylor asked for the production of the bill of lading. Mr. Hughes said they had not been able to find it. Mr. Londoun said that he had not been able to find it and would say that it was not there, unless it was attached to a voucher.

To Mr. Hughes, Mr. Londoun said that the bill of lading would not be attached to a voucher unless the department had paid a bill in connection with it, and he had no recollection that they had paid the freight. It might have been included with the settlement with

Canada Has Lost 115,806

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—To August 14, 1918, the net losses in the overseas military forces of Canada as a whole, and the personnel was 115,806 officers, non-commissioned officers and men. This includes those killed in action, or died of wounds, died, missing, prisoners of war, discharged as medically unfit, discharged to take up other lines of war work and those non-commissioned officers and men given commissions in the imperial army. It does not take into account officers and other ranks wounded in action who have rejoined their units or are still fit for service overseas.

Witness said all the potatoes were sorted. There were many rotten, perhaps a thousand barrels.

Mr. Hughes referred to evidence given by Mr. Daggert regarding an item in the statement of 5,000 barrels to A. C. Smith & Co. at $1.30 a barrel.

Mr. Daggert had said that these barrels were not sold to Smith, but on instructions of Premier Clarke, this sale was made up to cover the loss of potatoes which went bad, estimated at 5,000 barrels.

Witness said he could not say anything about the first calling. He estimated the bad potatoes he saw at 1,000 barrels. He had known of sales of culls and bad potatoes by A. C. Smith & Co. for five and ten cents a barrel, but he did not profess to know anything definite about this.

To Mr. Taylor, witness said that, at that time, he was supposed to have the best connections in Cuba. He handled these in the usual way, except that more than ordinary care was exercised. As far as he could tell, the prices mentioned in the statement were the prices at which he had sold them.

To Mr. Hughes, witness repeated that he received no remittances for any of the sales and heard nothing from the consignees. He requested the sales through his brokers in Cuba, by cable. The cablegrams were not always confirmed by written contracts. He handed the cablegrams over to the department.

Mr. Daggert's Questions.

It will be remembered that in the legislature on April 25, Wednesday, 1915, Mr. Daggert tried to get more information regarding the potato remittance. The witnesses asked that day were formally answered. From the report of the house proceedings which appeared in the Telegraph the next day the following is taken:

Mr. Daggert gave notice of further inquiry into the matter of patriotic potatoes. From information which the department has already given it seems that a considerable quantity of potatoes, intended for the patriotic gift or for the relief of the war, were not sent forward but were sold either in the Cuban or St. John markets. Information has reached the department that some 2,000 barrels were shipped about March 1 from St. John to Cuba, where A. C. Manner is acting as consignee. He is a trade commissioner for the province of New Brunswick. While Mr. Daggert, secretary for agriculture, was in Cuba in the month of March, he arranged with Mr. Manner to act in this capacity and with other gentlemen named R. G. Walte, it is reported that they made a sale of the potatoes in question to a group of people in Calabrien. The potatoes did not arrive at Havana until April 16 and thus it would appear having been shipped from St. John about March 1 that they were between six or seven weeks making the trip. Just what effect this would have upon the quality of the potatoes will be best known to those who are in the business of shipping potatoes to the West Indies. The inquiry made of the government this afternoon touches upon the shipment and also seeks to learn some other particulars. It was paid as follows:

That amount was being paid to A. C. Smith & Co. since the close of the fiscal year in connection with the receipt, sorting, packing and packing, freight, etc., of the patriotic and Belgian potatoes.

"Was their account itemized, and if so, how was the cost distributed?"

"Have A. C. Smith & Co. been paid any amount for storage of the potatoes or brokerage in connection with their sale or distribution in St. John or Cuba?"

"Was there a shipment of about 3,200 barrels of the 'Belgian' potatoes from St. John about March 1 which did not reach Havana until April 16?"

"Were these potatoes sent first to Calabrien and then shipped by R. G. Walte to Havana?"

"Has the department any information as to the arrangements made by Mr. Daggert with Messrs. Walte and Manner with respect to the shipment, or any information as to the price the potatoes brought in Havana?"

GOOD HEALTH is as necessary to the winning of the war as good guns, good shells and good airplanes.

And it is not alone the health of the soldier that is important, for this is watched and guarded as never before. But there is the health of the people at home, who are manufacturing and sending forward the supplies which make it possible to continue the fight.

Men and women have never in the world's history carried such mental and physical burdens as they do to-day.

From Ministers of State, Commissioners, Manufacturers, all the way through the enormous staffs of men and women workers, there are problems to be solved and schedules to be lived up to that mean enormous anxiety and strain on the nervous system.

It is under these conditions that many resort to the use of narcotics to produce sleep or stimulants to whip up the tired nerves. In either case the temporary help is obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system.

The only rational treatment is that which goes to build up new nerve cells and new nerve force, and supreme in this class is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Most people know about this food cure, but all do not realize that it has revolutionized the treatment of diseases of the nerves by the new idea of supplying to the blood the elements which go to the creation of nervous energy and vigor.

The most common indications of nervous exhaustion are inability to sleep and rest, failure of digestion and loss of appetite, nervousness and irritability. You arise tired in the mornings, and are easily annoyed over little things. You put off the duties of the day because you lack the energy to take hold and clean them up.

It is evident that you must have help to overcome this condition, and there is nothing so sure to befriend you as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

For your protection the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box of the genuine Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50c a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edman-son, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

1,000 Community Labor Boards Set Over Country Will Regulate Employment

Washington, Sept. 25.—Machinery designed to force men out of non-essential employment and muster women of the nation to take their places, has been put in motion by 1,000 community labor boards reaching into every section of the country.

The boards are acting under detailed instructions from the government working through the United States employment service.

Each board soon will publish lists of

WANT GASOLINE CARDS

The Montreal Automobile Association has forwarded the following telegram to the fuel controller at Ottawa:

"Yesterday, in Montreal, the third Sunday of gasoline saving, was a bigger failure than the two preceding Sundays. Thousands of automobiles being out on our streets. In fairness to the very large majority of motorists who were loyal enough to remain at home and obey your wishes at very great inconvenience to themselves, the Montreal Automobile Association demands the immediate issue of gasoline cards, thus assuring fair play to us all and a real saving of gasoline."

It is expected to weed out of non-essential employments every man in the nation.

WILL SEEK AGREEMENT ON GAS SITUATION

Possibly one of the most involved matters that has been before the public utilities commission in months was heard in part yesterday when the question of the petition of the New Brunswick Gas and Oil Fields Limited of Moncton for increased rates was up for consideration and was opposed by the city of Moncton.

Evidence taken by the commission showed that the three companies who had from time to time invested in and developed natural gas in Westmorland county had put in $1,000,000 of capital and in the six years during which the present company has been operating, and in which the previous operators are still interested, the directors received in dividends the sum of $88,750.

Dr. B. M. Baxter, representing the town of Sunny Brae and a group of manufacturers in the city of Moncton, suggested that a board be formed composed of a representative of the city of Moncton, a representative of Sunny Brae, a representative of the company, a representative from Hillsboro and that this board get together and attempt to come to some amicable agreement.

The commission decided to adjourn until Wednesday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock and in the meantime the board constituted as suggested will meet with a view of coming to some sort of agreement.

Appalling Conditions Among Belgian Children

Fate of Coming Generation Rests on Relief Work.

MANY people have thought that the United States loans to Belgium have financed all the Relief Work necessary. As a matter of fact the loans provide the minimum ration to sustain life in a grown person.

The bowl of soup and two pieces of bread are totally inadequate to build bone and muscle for a growing child. The results are ghastly!

"These cases, running into hundreds of thousands of sick and defective children . . . cannot be taken care of by the general funds," writes Mr. Hoover on July 8th of this year.

"There is an increasing need for funds for these cases . . . our last reports show that the soup-lines of Belgium have increased from one-and-a-half to two-and-a-half million persons . . . I wish particularly to remove any doubt as to the acceptability of contributions to the Commission for Relief in Belgium for the special purposes above indicated."

Unless the sick and starving children of Belgium are given a chance for life, Tuberculosis, Rickets and kindred ills will claim the next generation. That is Belgium's outlook.

And yet a few dollars will restore health and strength to one of these tiny sufferers. Will you open your purse and help?

If Fate had willed it that you should SEE these babies starving, you would share your all with them. Must you SEE, before you will help?

Schooner Successfully Launched

THE NEW SCHOONER ADA A. MCINTYRE

The waving of the Union Jack, by little Charles Bayard McIntyre, two and a half years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. McIntyre, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McIntyre, was the signal for loosening the last block which held the Ada A. McIntyre on the ways and the fine new vessel, at twelve minutes to six, last evening, slid gracefully into the Kemekebas. The spectators some of whom had seen the old Moss Glen when she slid off the ways nearly thirty years ago declared it to be the neatest launching they had ever witnessed.

The schooner was taken in tow immediately after being launched by the Kenton and after taking her to the wharf at Moss Glen to allow the large number who went down with her to disembark she was towed to the public wharf, Inuiton, and later will be taken through the falls to Gregory's wharf where she will be fitted with her three masts, eighty-five feet high and topped with fifty feet, all of Oregon pine. She will also be fitted with a ten horse power gasoline engine for hoisting and a smaller pumping engine.

The Ada A. McIntyre will be commanded by Captain Thomas Anderson and has been chartered by George McKean to carry a cargo of lumber to South Africa. A Swedish firm, although never having seen the vessel, have made Messrs. McIntyre a substantial offer for her but her owners have not yet considered selling her. The vessel has exceptionally pretty lines and is one of the most modern types. She is a three masted vessel, 85 feet long, 35 feet wide and 12 1/2 feet deep.

Recommendation Adopted by United Baptist Association in Session at Marysville

Fredrieton, Sept. 25.—The sessions of the N. B. United Baptist Association were continued today. The morning session in the Olivett church opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. C. T. One On The Canadians Who Knew It All

A Secret Movement of Troops That Proved To Be a Real Secret; New Brunswick Battalion on the Move

(By Lacey Amy special correspondent of The Times.)

With the Canadian Forces in France, Aug. 17—You who stand afar and read from the printed pages see little of the heart beat of war. It is the music of war, the action pulsed through the great frame of Mars by those hidden valves, that speaks to the man standing away on the hilltop of rearing in the isolation of distance.

Even we, who look out from the inside, miss much that will some day be interwoven into the chronicle of the struggle as to its essence. But we do see some of the throes of life that makes possible the great events with which the outside public is familiar, the skeleton on which the body of the struggle is built.

And as the days pass I find my interest centered more on the big campaigns as they are made public through the fighting line. For it is the movement behind the lines that makes victory possible, not alone the valor of the soldier, but the brains that have never doubted. A link in the chain of the former I would describe.

Of the possibilities of secrecy, at least to a certain point, I am now convinced. The Canadian Corps was settled after its hard fight at Passchendaele, and the following winter's operations about Lens. Then for a few weeks it took over a portion of the line about that much fought over front near Arras. Again it seemed to have settled for the fall and winter, though constant movement courses those who considered it worth while to play the prophet.

Suddenly came orders to move. So sudden were the orders that even reviewing it today from the advantage of knowing what has followed, there was no indication that any change of importance was contemplated. There were many other attendant circumstances that made the orders more startling.

Everybody Knew. But when the move was announced of course every one was aware of the destination. Somebody's chauffeur or batman told somebody else's chauffeur or batman, and "my officer, who is in the know," says that we are going up about. Even the French people at the establishments knew about it. A secret it was a dismal failure. Orders were issued that no one was to talk. And of course none of us did. We just listened to the talk of others and smiled inwardly at the superiority of our own information. We even had a campaign snapper out and could read the story of the past in the light of the future, a reversal of the procedure most popular in the army and among war critics.

Tomorrow we were to pull out at a certain hour of the morning. Now, if anyone wants to feel the thrill of panic, he should come inexperienced into the operations of an army and be faced with an order to move within twenty-four hours. It means packing up the huge paraphernalia of a half-hundred busy offices in such a manner as to be at work in the new location while the last chair is being unloaded. It means finding transportation for the staff and the officers, taking down the fixtures of an organization which must have every convenience, cleaning up everything to the last minute, checking the entire equipment, and getting under way at the minute set. Those are but a few of the details of movement obvious to the layman.

Knowing so well of where we were going, much of the shock of hasty change was eased for us. We chatted and laughed about the regulations, packed up our own private things and had our batmen do the rest. Then we waited under the tent for the meeting of officers which was to take place a half hour before the zero hour.

A Surprise. Breakfast was early that morning, so early that only the zeal of our batmen and the indulgence of the chefs enabled us to break our fast at all. Then we gathered for the little conference. The officer in charge spoke of the secrecy of the move and its destination as if every one did not already know it. We smiled and waited. Then he staggered us by smiling back and telling us that our inside information was all wrong. Instead of going north we were to move south. We managed to stand up under the shock. Indeed, it was a matter of keenest delight, for it meant getting down nearer the heart of recent events.

But we cannot forgive our batmen and chauffeur and the general tendency of things official for having misled us.

Meal on Bus Top. How many hours we rode I will not say, save that we ate one meal on the bus top and might have eaten another. And the last quarter of the journey was passed in the midst of marching Canadians, trains filled with Canadians, lorries loaded with them. Probably it was a warm day for tramping, for some of the lads looked ready for the rest that comes in each hour's march. Some of them, I learned, had walked a fair day's distance to a train and were in the midst of another long tramp, all in the same day. Passing under a jacked-up railway bridge, a loaded train of Canadians waved to us. Great crowds of them lay at rest along the roadside and shouted quips to us as we passed.

It was all very busy and prophetic, very fatiguing, but good natured. Lads with the perspiration in streaks on their faces were singing; but for the most part they were reserving their strength for the last miles and there was a thrilling seriousness about the mystery of it that induced to thoughtfulness without depressing the spirits.

We arrived at our destination, in a part of France none of us had ever seen before, in villages of which we had never before heard. In the square of our special village the camp commandant stood allotting billets and giving directions. Everything was complete. There was a location for each officer, each mess, each department. Our batmen, back on the lorries with our baggage, settled us in a few minutes, and so far as this unit of the Canadian Expeditionary Force is concerned, we were ready for business immediately. It was the turning of the wheels of war on smooth and well laid rails.

A Brigade on the Move. On the following evening, out toward the fighting line, one of the most famous sections of the front, I looked on a wonderful spectacle visible seldom even in this war. A whole brigade was on the move en masse with all their equipment. Four famous battalions, from their colonels to their pet animals, were carrying on in full marching order, the highest in rank having little advantage over the lowest.

It was growing dusk. The brigade was merely awaiting the protection of the darkness before setting out to the destination laid down in orders, but undisturbed in character and aim. None but the batmen, however, were in what part of France they were. The boys did not care, save that here was a new territory, new adventure, new glory in sight.

Over the open fields beside the road the light shone on the steady stream of the brigade as they were lying down on their packs or knocking a baseball about, or playing with the battalion mascots. Silhouetted against the skyline a group were resting and some security forces. With the approach of the time of departure there was a general awakening. The battalion staffs sat or stood in front of the areas allotted to them. The men were handy to their kits and rifles neatly piled in mathematical lines.

Presently the brigade came up. We talked about the previous day's experience and the possibility of the coming night. But of the plans not a word. There had not been a casualty on the march, and the possibility of the coming night. There was a restrained gaiety and excitement through the khaki stretched over the fields. The brigadier looked up at the sky, consulted his watch, shook hands with the customary army salutations. The second command, a huge major in bonnet, stood beside us as the lines passed.

"A lot of boys," he broke in suddenly. "How fine you can't know till you live with them. They look like a pack of wild cats at the rear of the battalion, a brassy shape against the dull sky of night. They'll be dropping in four or three minutes to add to mine before the night is over," he had laughed, when we congratulated him on his good luck. Usually a boy or two needing to travel light.

The N. B. Battalion. From the New Brunswick battalion followed. Dimly we caught the colonel's friendly salute of farewell and his cheery "good night" before company after company had passed, each led by a section of pipers. We started back to town. Down the road marched the faint lights of the white road, their shapes scarcely visible by this time. On the top of the next hill we stopped and listened. Far behind, dropping into the distance, there floated to us the tramp of unseen men. Away to the east was the flash and rattle of war that had broken out in a "night-cap" spasm. And then complete silence. The peace of the chauffeur spoke. His voice was the sleepy twitter of a bird from an adjoining field, was almost startling. The chauffeur spoke of his pack "there's a harsh in the softness of the night. Our car chugged homeward, winding along the forested roads of a rolling country, where tourists might travel and sigh in content.

But behind us lay those marching thousands, disappearing into the covering folds of night. The war that never sleeps was slipping on its way, open-eyed, efficient, sporting, mechanical. And who do not feel they were chugging noisily back to bed.

Peter Farnes Wins Race. About two thousand people witnessed Peter Farnes, a St. John horse, win the 2.19 pace at the Charlottetown fair races yesterday. His best time was 2.15. Bob Mac won the 2.19 pace in straight heats with Tommy Cotter, a St. John horse, second. Best time in this event was also 2.15.

PRIZE WINNERS. The Knights of Columbus fair was brought to a close last evening. A large number of people was in attendance and the various games, etc., were well patronized. The prize winners were: John Crawley, a pipe; Patrick Delaney, a box of cigars; Pte. Edward Hansen, a necktie; Miss Annie Travis, 1st prize bean toss; Mrs. James McCormack, second.

One reason why "Fruit-a-tives" is so extraordinarily successful in giving relief to those suffering with Constipation, Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Chronic Headaches, Neuritis, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Rheumatism, Pain in the Back, Eczema and other Skin Affections, is because it is the only medicine in the world made from fruit juices.

7,000 Citizens Apply In Toronto For Coal

(Toronto Star.) Pael Commissioner Chisholm now has some 7,000 applications for coal on hand, while there is little left-up in the steady stream that is pouring in with every mail.

Yesterday four clerks in the department worked hard, sorting out the applications and building them, according to the work is the large number of heart-breaking appeals that are being made for special consideration. More than one application has been accompanied by a doctor's certificate, indicating the absolute necessity for fuel on account of illness in the house. Needless to say, such cases are given immediate relief. Otherwise, all applications are being treated alike.

While all applications are considered as coming from persons who have absolutely no coal or fuel of any kind, the commissioner is not taking too much for granted, and it is probable that the bona fides of some of the requests will be inquired into before anything definite is done by the department or the dealers.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I refused it no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a car driver. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 42 E. Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, Va. 20108. Better cut out this notice and show it to any other who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

FELL INTO SHIPS HOLD AND KILLED

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 26—Seaman John Dumb, of Prince Edward Island, was killed yesterday when he fell fifty-five feet down the hold of the steamer Dagabli. He with three other men had been painting the interior of the vessel in separate staggings when he fell. Corner Townsmen took the evidence of the captain, mate and the man working next to the deceased and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get one ounce of Earmint (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stopping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

LEONARD AND LEWIS BOX FURIOUS DRAW Rival Champions Pummel Each Other Without Advantage In Eight-Round Bout

25,000 Fans at Ringside—Police and Officials Unable to Control Mob Which Seeks Seats of Vantage (New York Times.) When Benny Leonard and Ted Kin Lewis, the lightweight and welterweight champions, finished their eight-round bout at Weisenmayer's Park in Newark last night the honours were about even, although Lewis gave Leonard the toughest scrap of his career. The cleverness and aggressiveness of Lewis were always evident to make a barrier for Benny's skilful glove work. Lewis was so quick that Leonard was never able to take the upper hand, as he has done against his other opponents. Leonard executed the only damage that was done in the fight, when he opened a cut over Ted's right eye in the middle of the scrap. It was a case of two ring monsters both handling themselves so cautiously and cleverly that most of the boxing was of the defensive sort. Not once during the eight rounds was either of the great experts able to land a blow that even resembled a knockout punch. Lewis' long arms were a constant worry to the lightweight champion, and Lewis made good use of them especially in the mid-range. But when Lewis was travelling at his fastest pace Leonard was ever ready to side step and duck the wild swings which Lewis started but rarely ever finished. The eight rounds failed to show which of the boxers was master and it would require a much longer bout before either one could be proclaimed the winner. A prettier exhibition of finer points of self defense would be hard to imagine, for each man resorted to all the tricks of the sport to protect himself. Both took a hand at leading but every rally which was started by either boxer eventually ended in a harmless clinch. The bout attracted more interest than any light which has taken place in this vicinity for years. In the mob of 20,000 persons which was packed into the park so thick that it was impossible to move around the aisles, were fight fans from Boston, Philadelphia, and New Jersey, but the greater part of them were from New York, and every well-known entertaining. Whipping finishes each heat were necessary so close was the competition. Hal Boy was the victor although Judge Ormond won the middle heat. The 2:07 trot was an impressive win for Charley Rex, the Illinois stallion. Miss Perfection took the first heat when Charley did considerable breaking.

CHAPTER VI. When Bob and Hyde awoke, some five hours after Jean had been carried away a captive, the sun was shining brightly. Bob, anxious to get an early start, stepped to Jean's door and rapped. There was no response and Hyde joined him as he listened at the door. Then he called Jean by name. Iron Star, entering from the window at the moment, came rapidly to Bob and said: "Kilgore gone! Maybe Lawless and Snaky?" Bob threw open Jean's door and entered the room, followed by Hyde when the Indian. While the others searched about the room, Iron Star went to the window and looked out. He saw Bob and Hyde and pointed out to them the tracks of the three men. Iron Star leaped out of the window and was followed by Bob and Hyde. The three then traced the footprints in the snow to the point where Jean had been placed on the sled, and noted the trail leading away from the spot. All returned to the house, stopped by the snowshoes, and got into their furs—all but the craven Arkins, to whom snowshoes were a mystery and a trial. The others were a full hundred yards from the house when he got started. Iron Star, despite the protests of Bob, insisted on dragging a sled loaded with furs and blankets, for "the Miss Jean's." Bob told him to lead on, and the Indian, after going a mile further, suddenly turned at right angles to the house, and they followed him. Arriving at the summit, Iron Star pointed down into a valley far below the snow line where the sled was in leaf. A faint line of smoke issued from a tepee which looked little larger than a pointed haystack, and the distance, and Iron Star said to Bob: "To go down the mountain on foot was an impossibility, but Iron Star has a plan. He will follow this 'short way,' and suggested they coast down to the snow line on the sled. They started down the precipitous slope and as the sled gained momentum it was all Bob could do to keep away from the rocks. At last he turned sharply from a rock only to head straight for a fallen tree and he tried vainly to alter the sled's course. The distance was too short and the sled hit the tree, throwing the men to the ground, but continuing its mad race until it plunged over a cliff to destruction. Bob and Iron Star were the first to recover, and they busied themselves reviving Hyde and Arkins, who lay stretched on the snow. When all were right again, Iron Star led them to a point on the snow line whence a trail ran down to the valley below. Less than three hours before Lawless and his party had come around the edge of the mountain, led by Kilgore, and had followed the snow line to this trail. Arriving at the point where the snow ended, they sat down to rest and remove their snowshoes, then took up their journey again, Jean, who had been taken from the sled, was now almost in a physical collapse, while Kilgore, who was far down the trail, arrived outside the tepee before the others had fairly started. An old woman stuck her head out of the tepee and she went up to her. He entered the tepee, where sat an old, wrinkled rookin, and quickly negotiated for four horses

NO WORD YET OF CALLING OUT MEN REACHING TWENTY Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The government, it is announced, has reached no decision, as yet, in regard to the calling out of men for military service who have reached twenty years since the first class was summoned. The men, although twenty years of age, are now included in the nineteen year class. Statistics have been compiled of the number of such men available. WAR GARDENS EXHIBITION. St. John will have its first War Garden Exhibition next week and, judging by the number and character of the entries that are being received by Secretary Armstrong, it will be a most successful affair. The object of the exhibition is to show what has been accomplished this year in the way of increased garden production and to stimulate a greater interest in war gardens next season. The exhibition will be held in the Frost & Wood warehouse on North Side

King Square. The House Wives' League has arranged for a display of canned and preserved fruits and vegetables. This will be a most attractive feature of the exhibition. Report that Lenne is "out of danger" must indicate that he has left Russia.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

PTE. B. F. RAMSEY IS WOUNDED AND MISSING

Other St. John Men Are in The Casualty List of War Today

That her son, Pte. Bertram Frederick Ramsey was officially reported wounded and missing on August 28 was the sad news which Mrs. Louise F. Ramsey of 27 Murray street received this morning.

PTE. B. F. RAMSEY.

ing. Private Ramsey crossed overseas with the 115th Battalion and had been in England only a short time when he was sent to France to join the New Brunswick battalion. In April, 1917, during the battle of Vimy Ridge he was struck in the shoulder by a piece of shrapnel and was convalescing in various hospitals until March of this year when he returned to active service.

He enlisted with the 115th Battalion when only nineteen years of age and at that time was employed in the King street office of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd. Friends in this city are hoping that he is still alive, perhaps as a prisoner of war.

Pte. Arthur Knight.

Mrs. Fred Knight of 278 Prince street, West St. John, was advised yesterday that her son, Private Arthur Knight, a member of a New Brunswick infantry battalion, had been wounded in the left arm and admitted to a hospital in England. Private Knight crossed overseas with the first contingent. Prior to joining the army, he was employed with the city in the water and sewerage department.

Sergt. Maj. J. F. Gilbert.

Edward Gilbert, of 17 Adelaide street, received another telegram this morning concerning his son, Sgt. Maj. James F. Gilbert, who was recently reported as having been admitted to the Royal Victoria Hospital in England, suffering from a nervous shock. The telegram this morning said that he was admitted to Lord Derby Hospital in Warrington, England, on Sept. 18, suffering from nervous shock.

Pte. Thos. Cregan.

Pte. Thomas Cregan, one of the original members of the famous N. B. Battalion, has been wounded after being more than three years in the war. He went overseas with Lieut. Col. J. T. McAvity in June, 1915. Word received by his wife at her home at Clarence street today was that he had received a gunshot wound in the right leg. Friends will hope for a good recovery. Private Cregan's brother, John, also is in the war. He went across with the 140th Battalion.

TWO FROM HERE ARE CHOSEN FOR SECOND TANK BATTALION

Capt. E. B. Smith and Lieut. G. H. Patterson Receive Notice

Of three officers recommended from this district for the second Canadian tank battalion, two have been accepted—Captain E. B. Smith, district hospital representative, and Lieutenant G. H. Patterson, supply and transport officer for this district. This information was received at military headquarters this morning. Both officers have had overseas experience. Captain Smith crossed with the 140th Battalion and afterwards transferred to another unit, and Lieutenant Patterson was in France, a member of the 9th Divisional train.

When the call came from Ottawa for officers for this unit, many local returned officers offered. As only three were wanted, some sorting was done at military headquarters and the names of the three were forwarded to Ottawa. Since the call was sent out it was found that there was room for only two officers from this district. Both officers chosen are deserving of credit, also those who applied, for their willingness to return to the firing line, and in a unit which by no means "a safety first" one.

The second Canadian tank battalion has been very quietly organized at Petawawa Camp.

TRIBUTE TO SON WHO GAVE LIFE IN BATTLE OF AMIENS

O. B. Akerley Receives Letter From Lieut. E. H. Strong, Himself in Hospital

O. B. Akerley, 61 Peter street, is in receipt of a letter of condolence from Lieut. E. H. Strong, of the N. B. Battalion, who is in Jew Officers' Convalescent Hospital of Mattock-Bath Derby, England, relative to their son, Sgt. A. G. Akerley. The letter was to the effect: "Am writing you a few lines today in kindly thought and admiration coupled with deep sorrow on the death in action of your brave and capable son, Sgt. A. G. Akerley, who was killed at the battle of Amiens on the eighth day of August last.

"He reverted from rank of a sergeant instructor to go to France, where his ability and service soon regained him stripes after stripes until he became one of the most valued N. C. O's in the company to which he belonged in the 55th Canadian Battalion. He was noted as having no fear in the line. In my platoon for some months, he finally transferred to a platoon commanded by Lieut. J. C. Doucet of Bathurst, N. B., who thought everything of your son. This gallant officer a few days after the battle died of his wounds along with our captain and another officer, so I considered it my duty to write to you in thought and sympathy.

"You have given your gallant son to the empire. His sacrifice nothing in the world can repay. May yours be made lighter by this thought of the noble boy and the true sympathy that goes out to you and all who loved him, from those of us, his comrades, who knew him, admired and respected him."

Bellevue was with the Royal Air Force.

THE DUFFERIN FIRE

Insurance adjustors H. W. Frink and Edgar Fairweather are busy today estimating the losses in the Dufferin Hotel fire. Mr. Frink is particularly looking after the furnishings. It is a tedious and intricate job to list the values and strike at equitable insurance losses, and it may be a day or so longer before the work is finished.

Hogan & Co., jewelers, Mrs. Alice G. Gunn, proprietor of the corset shop, and Phinney & Dunlap are also having their damaged stock and fittings appraised, in the matter of the jewelry considerable detail enters into the appraisements.

Cat Bostwick, son of C. M. Bostwick, is expected by American train tonight to decide upon what repairs will be made to the property. Manager Dunlap said today that so soon as the adjustors settled upon the damages to furnishings, he would make instant preparations to reopen the main body of the hotel.

A. G. Brown's barber shop will be reopened as soon as the insurance men make their report. It was only slightly affected by water.

Foyas & Co., jewelers, and Mrs. Alice Gunn's waist and corset shop will occupy the opposite waiting rooms off the Imperial Theatre lobby for a few weeks until their premises are repaired, this through the co-operation of the local and New York management.

Mr. Thomas Resigns.

London, Sept. 25.—One result of the railway strike, which last night seemed a fair way to settlement, is likely to be the resignation of J. H. Thomas, M. P., general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, in defiance of whose authority the strike was undertaken. Mr. Thomas said he would resign from the secretaryship today.
