DEATHS

WILLIAM TAYLOR. At the residence of his son F. C. Taylor, Hoyt Station, on Sunday, Wm. Taylor, formerly of Millstream, died after a lingering illness. Deceased was 75 years of age, and is survived by a wife, six sons and one daughter. The sons are, Ford C. Taylor, general merchant of Hoyt Station; Rev. W. F. Taylor, of Bonchester, Ont.; B. S. Taylor, of the Hartford Bank, Connecticut; Willis A., of Freeport, Me.; Miles J., of Pittsfield, Massachusetts; George B., of Kennebec Valley, Washington, Mrs. William Collins, of Boston, is the daughter. The body was taken through St. John last evening for burial at Millstream. The funeral will be held at the house before leaving Hoyt Station. The burial took place at 10 o'clock this morning.

PETER SHARKEY. The death of Peter Sharkey occurred last evening at Woodstock. Deceased was for many years one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of this city. He was born at Warring St., Ireland, and came to St. John about 1847. From that time until a few years ago he was engaged in the clothing business in St. John. He first kept on King street in the premises now occupied by Vassie & Co. He was burned out in the fire of 1877. He then took his stand in the Dock street and Market square, which he held until about nine years ago, when he retired from active business. Shortly afterward he moved to Woodstock. Mr. Sharkey died after a lingering illness. Besides his wife he is survived by four sons and two daughters. The sons are Wm. J., with the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal; Peter G., which the I. C. R.; Thomas J. of this city and Louis R., with the C. P. R. at Winnipeg. Mrs. John L. Carleton and Miss Mary are the daughters.

GEORGE J. PIERCE. The death of George J. Pierce occurred yesterday afternoon at his home 315 Main street. He leaves a step-mother, four brothers—Patrick, Charles, John and Urban—and one sister—Miss Margaret—all of this city. Mr. Pierce was employed as a barber. He had many friends. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at St. Peter's church.

The balance of our wall paper will be sold tomorrow, Wednesday, at half price. Very little left, so come early. McLean's, 142 Mill St.

If you want to be an economical buyer trade with us. You are sure of saving one-quarter of cost anywhere else. Ladies' skirts, $1.48. Ladies' waists, 38c. J. Ashkins, 555 Main St.

William Gerow, formerly of this city, with T. B. Barker & Co., wholesale druggists, has been promoted to manager of the National Drug Company for Kingston, Ontario.

The steeple of St. Peter's church, Douglas avenue, is being repaired by James McDade, the Mill street contractor. Other improvements are being made in and about the church and the grounds are being put in better condition than ever before.

T. R. Shains, representative of The Wingate Chemical Co., Montreal, is having distributed through the city a valuable booklet of Facts and Figures. Also samples of McGee's Butterum Pills, nature's remedy for stomach and liver disorders and a sure cure for bilious headache.

A meeting of the executive of the King's Daughters' guild was held last evening with Mrs. Robert A. Jamieson presiding. Arrangements were made regarding the Canadian Club luncheon to which the guild will cater. The appointment of a matron was discussed but no action taken.

Last evening a large audience listened to the lecture on Robert Burns, which was delivered in St. Andrew's church by Rev. Dr. Barclay of Toronto. His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie occupied the chair. Rev. David Lang, pastor of St. Andrew's church, introduced Governor Tweedie, and the governor in turn introduced the lecturer.

Dr. Barclay dealt with his subject in a very pleasing and most interesting manner, and showed a detailed knowledge of Burns' works. Dr. Barclay made particular reference to Burns' lyrics and their delicacy and beauty.

Aid. Vanwart returned Saturday evening from a business trip to Boston, New Haven, New York and other places in the United States. While away the alderman interviewed several firms that manufacture ambulances and also inspected several of the most up-to-date vehicles. Police patrol wagons also received some of his attention. As a result of his trip, Aid. Vanwart is back in St. John with all the latest ideas of ambulances and patrol wagons, and will employ his knowledge in connection with the purchase of a new ambulance.

Anyone who regularly passes King Square on Charlotte street and observes conditions will notice a crowd of men who daily find their way to the seats and sit throughout the afternoon, and who return in the evening to spend the balance of the day in blissful idleness. Some may be found asleep or partially intoxicated. But this is not the only disagreeable sight which the observer sees at a casual glance. Women and girls are found standing on the walks while not an inch of space on the seats is vacated to allow them seating room. Even the seats which were reserved for "women only" are filled with lazy men who will not move. Last night nine of the seats facing on Charlotte street and the north side of King Square were occupied entirely by men, also the majority of these seats on the square. Women were standing on the walks waiting to obtain a seat, but becoming tired of standing, left the locality.

REGIMENT MAKES FINE APPEARANCE

The 2nd St. John Fusiliers held their first post-march last evening. The regiment made a fine appearance, and hundreds of spectators lined the route to watch them. The brass band of the regiment and the drummers and buglers also turned out. Exclusive of these there were about two hundred and fifty men on parade, in all the strength of the Fusiliers was about three hundred. The regiment fell in at the drill hall and marched over the following route: Carmarthen, King (East), Sydney, Waterloo, Paddock, Coburg, Hazen, Garden, Coburg, Carleton, Germain, Queen and Carmarthen streets. The field officers Major J. L. McAvity, Major Perley and Adjutant Miller were mounted. After the regiment returned to the drill shed, Major McAvity, the officer commanding the parade, called Col. Sergt Wetmore of C Company to the front and presented him with a badge as the best rifle shot in the regiment in 1907. This is the second badge of the kind that Sergt. Wetmore has won. Major McAvity was presenting the prize complimented the sergeant on his skill as a marksman.

MINISTERS DELIVER INSPIRING ORATIONS

A Christian Endeavor mass meeting was held last evening in the Ludlow street United Baptist church, and was largely attended. The meeting was presided over by A. J. Dearness. A solo was rendered in a pleasing manner. The pastor, Rev. W. J. Hutchinson and Rev. W. J. Kierstead, delivered addresses. The topic of Rev. Mr. Hutchinson's address was "The Condition of Success in Endeavor Work." He said that the one great condition of success in all enterprises was work. He then spoke of individual work, well directed work and persevering work. Rev. W. J. Kierstead spoke of the discouragement in Endeavor work. He touched on indifference, and said that this was one of the most serious discouragements with which the Endeavor worker had to deal. The want of consecrated zeal was another source of discouragement. He pointed out that there were many features of the work that were most promising, and closed by predicting a bright future for the Baptist Young People's League. The meeting closed with the hymn "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," followed by the benediction.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON STEAMER INDRANI

John Haley, a longshoreman working on the steamer Indrani, lying at the Custom House wharf, fell through a hatchway about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was fatally injured. The drop was about twenty-eight feet and he landed on his head. He was quickly removed to the hospital, where he expired at 7 o'clock. His injuries were internal. The man was working with several others putting down hatches. One of these failed to go into place, and Haley attempted to push it down by stamping on one side of it. The hatch suddenly tilted and he fell through. Haley recovered consciousness, but later relapsed into unconsciousness and died at the hour stated. The deceased was married and had two children. He lived at 80 Simonsa street, North End. His wife was notified of the accident shortly after it took place and went to see her husband at the hospital, where she remained until he died. The friends of John Haley feel his loss greatly. He was a favorite and respected by all who knew him. The remains will be taken to his home today.

AGROMEGALIA CURED

Successful Operation Performed by Prof. Hochengoz, of Vienna. BERLIN, May 16—American surgeons who are interested in the brilliant achievement reported at last week's surgical congress in Berlin by Prof. Hochengoz, of Vienna. The professor told how he operated successfully in a case of acromegalia, a disease which causes strange and anomalous enlargements of the bones of the hands, feet, and face. The patient on whom the operation was performed was a young girl, who showed all the usual symptoms of brain tumors and a marked disturbance of vision. The diagnosis having been confirmed by means of X-rays, Prof. Hochengoz moved the girl's nose to one side, out through the thin floor of the skull, and then removed the tumor from the hypophysis or glandlike body that is suspended like a cherry from the base of the brain. The difficulty in reaching the acromegalian tumor is such that surgeons have been rather shy of operating for years. It is stated, too, that none of the operations reported prior to last week was successful; but the Vienna girl left the hospital six weeks after Prof. Hochengoz's operation fully restored to health. Acromegalia is not infrequently encountered in the United States, but heretofore, the Germans say, it has baffled American surgical skill.

NO INCREASE IN SALARIES FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

FREDERICTON, May 18—Hon. Mr. Hazen, in reply to Mr. Robinson's inquiry regarding increased salaries to school teachers, said: "It is not the intention of the government to introduce legislation during the present session for the purpose of increasing the provincial allowance to school teachers."

DRILL GROUND IN A CRYPT

LONDON, May 18—One of the organizations in connection with the parish of St. James, Clerkenwell, is a battalion of the Church Lads' Brigade. The church has no school building, and it therefore has to be used for the Sunday school and the crypt for drilling the members of the brigade. The crypt is also used for the practice of the brass band.

CLUB ELECTS FIFTY-FIVE NEW MEMBERS

Executive of Canadian Club Meets. Principal Petersen of McGill Will Deliver Address on May 29. Principal Petersen of McGill will address the Canadian Club at a luncheon on May 29th at 6.15 p. m. There is a possibility that Prof. J. W. Robertson will address a noon luncheon of the club before the end of this week. At a meeting of the executive yesterday fifty-five new members were elected, bringing the total membership up to 180 persons. Those present at the executive meeting were the president, Dr. T. D. Walker, Secretary Geo. A. Henderson, Dr. Quigley, Dr. G. A. B. Addy, J. N. Harvey, Ald. Baxter, Dr. Bridges, Mr. E. Agar, C. B. Allan and A. M. Belding. A letter from President Elliot's secretary stated that he could not visit the provinces at present. The following new members were elected: Dr. J. H. Barton, Alfred Burley, O. H. Burnham, A. Gray Burnham, G. P. Black, Joseph G. Mitchell, W. B. Mahoney, R. Max McCarthy, J. D. McKenna, Dr. J. P. McInerney, Albert McArthur, Wm. E. McMillin, Lieut. Col. G. Hunter Ogilvie, H. A. Porter, A. C. Powers, N. A. Rogers, Struan Robertson, C. A. Rutherford, W. A. Stewart, Dr. P. C. Smith, Milton E. Smith, Humphrey J. Sheehan, A. B. Smalley, Dr. Stanley B. Smith, Rev. W. E. Stewart, W. E. Scully, Lieut. Gov. Tweedie, R. B. Travis, Alex. Turner, Hartley C. Vanwart, Col. G. Rolt White, Chas. B. Ward, and Dr. J. W. Robertson.

WOULD PLACE ELEVATORS UNDER THE CONTROL OF GRAIN INSPECTOR

OTTAWA, May 18—A bill to amend the grain act has been introduced into the senate which places the elevators east of Fort William, including those at St. John and Halifax, under the control of the grain inspector. This has been done for the purpose of preserving the identity of grain in transit.

NATIVE STATES OFFERED TO ASSIST THE BRITISH

SIMLA, May 18—Major-General Willcock's operations have now brought the British punitive expedition into the heart of the Mohmand country, where it is engaged in destroying native villages and forts in accordance with the recent government proclamation that the operations be strictly confined to the punishment of recalcitrant tribes, because no occupation of territory was intended. The latest advices received here show that the cholera is abating. The neighboring tribes remain loyal and the Amer of Afghanistan appears to be doing his best to restrain the border tribes. It is hoped, therefore, that although the Mohmands as yet have shown no signs of submission, the operations may soon be terminated. Fifteen of the native Indian states recently offered military assistance to the expedition if that should be necessary.

DEFIANT INCONSISTENCY

The presence in Ottawa of the Premier and Minister of Public Works of Manitoba, who now frame and control the voters' lists of that province and are fighting the proposal for judicial revision of their work, has evidently hardened the hearts of the federal opposition against public opinion and the counsels of their wiser and fairer members. Still they persist in refusing the compromise they themselves suggested and at first accepted; still they persist in obstructing the public business, in robbing the Civil Service of its pay, in withholding from creditors of the Government money justly due, and thus damaging Canada's credit and courting financial disaster throughout the country. And for what purpose? For the defeat of a proposal which, after Sir Wilfrid offered it, Mr. Foster, speaking for the party approved and accepted. "We agree absolutely in this," I said, according to the official report, in answer to Sir Wilfrid, "that if it is necessary, as it is, to have overlapping polling subdivisions distributed in a manner that we all agree to—that any reasonable legislation which is non-partisan and competent legislation will receive the support of this House. I agree to that, we all agree to that—any reasonable legislation which is non-partisan and competent legislation will receive the support of this House. It is our principle laid down at first, and we congratulate the right hon. gentleman on according to the justice and reasonableness of the demand which has been made in that respect." And after accepting this offer, after publicly admitting it to be just and reasonable, the opposition the next day turned right about, repudiated their acceptance, continued the obstruction, and threaten to continue it indefinitely, with utter disregard of the public welfare unless the Manitoba system which they admitted needed remedy, is left without any chance of remedy. Could anything be more devoid of the public sense of justice and fair play than any fair man deny the duty of the government to enforce its will in the matter and to carry on the nation's business over the heads of this insanely partisan and reckless minority.

NOT ALL UNHAPPY

The Neue Freie Presse, of Vienna, publishes a letter from a "member of the Austrian aristocracy" in which the writer says:—"I am well informed as to American conditions, and I endorse all that Count Eschechitz has said about American men. He is right when he says that it is sheer nonsense to think that all marriages between Americans and European noblemen are unhappy. Here in Austria this is certainly not the case." He names the following members of the United States:—Countess Housens-Stamm, Baroness Wucherer-Prick, Baroness Bornemann-Prick and Baroness Novakovic, and says:—"These women not only take high rank in our society and are popular wherever they appear, but what is really the main point, they are contented and happy in their homes and would not be willing to exchange their present for their former country."

WHITEWASHED. She was one of those butterfly wives who imagine domestic life is a prison of unendurable monotony.

"Dear me," she sighed over her novel, "I would like to be an actress. I should so love to feel the limelight in my eyes."

And the patient but practical husband looked up from his aching page and replied in gentle tones:

"All right, Edna. Suppose you white-wash the fence tomorrow. If you do I'll guarantee that you can feel the lime light in your eyes all day."

And then he went away to his club while she remained home and played bridge with a trio of butterfly friends, and told them how mean "Henry" could be when the stock market did not go right.

GANGS OF BOY THUGS DEFEY LONDON POLICE

Assaults, Outrages and Robberies on Streets Show Deplorable Increase.

Each Makes Raids into Territory of Others, and Piled Battle is Result.

LONDON, May 18.—The alarming increase in the number of lawless hoodlums in the London streets is proving a most serious menace to the public.

Six boys—all less than 15 years old—were spanned at the Thames Police Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of wounding two other lads with razors.

This was the sequel to the pitched battle between rival gangs of hoodlums fought out on Wednesday night in the Bow road.

The London hoodlum is brother to the "Apache" of the Paris boulevards. Like his Parisian prototype, he is ready to rob—or even murder, if it is quite safe for himself. In London there are now at least forty well-organized and flourishing bands of youthful hoodlums, who defy the police, terrorize tradesmen, and, when opportunity arises, rob and attack the wayfarer.

London is completely surrounded by detachments of this army of boy criminals, who prefer the freedom and chances of the street to honest work. They are to be found in practically every slum district, north, south, west and east. In the byways of Lambeth and Southwark, in Hoxton, Bethnal Green, Bow, and in the remote parts of Camden Town, they are to be counted by the hundred.

NAMES OF SOME GANGS. The names of some of the gangs give an idea of their widespread activities:

The Boys of Bow. The Knuckledusters (Lillington). The Silver Hatchet Gang (Hoxton). The Blackbird Boys. The New Girdle Gang (Lambeth). The Bernadette Buttons.

The members of these bands, although drawn from so many different districts, all bear a striking family likeness. They are all of the same height, they are all of the same build, they are all of the same color, they are all of the same age.

They are usually short and slight, with a keen, fox-like look of a cockney fox-terrier, and almost all wear rickish caps well pulled down over their eyes and muffled round their throats, which are useful for fighting—or for stuffing a stranger before robbing him.

ALL CARRY PISTOLS. The up-to-date hoodlum also carries a pistol. A derringer is the usual kind, but some are provided with revolvers, which are not so slow to use.

"Hooliganism is growing faster than we can deal with," says one of the East End police inspectors last night. "The typical hoodlum is as crafty as a fox and as quick to get away as a cat."

"The members of the gangs are usually known to the police, and we can get a list of their names. It is not so easy to get a list of the names of the hoodlums who are not known to the police. When we see knots of these lads whispering together at street corners we know a fight is expected."

Sometimes the more important battles between the gangs are arranged two or three nights beforehand, and the lads will make a sudden raid which has been carefully planned. They will visit another district, all choosing different routes, and then meet to smash up the enemy.

"Shoppers have complained of shoes being fired through their windows and glass being broken by stones and belts in these encounters."

LINK WITH THE DAYS OF SEDAN CHAIRS. PARIS, May 18.—A man of 94, M. Caumont, has just died at Bayeux, where he was the last contractor for the old fashioned sedan chairs. Until 1885 there were no horse-drawn vehicles in Bayeux.

LEGACY FOR CATS. VIENNA, May 18.—Frau Barbara Wenzl, who died last week at Klosterneuburg, has bequeathed $200 to the Cats' Home at Vienna, so that her ten cats may be kept in luxury. She also left $50 to a little girl who played with the cats.

OTHER ATTACKS MAN. LONDON, May 18.—Two men were walking along a lane at Hemppall were attacked by an otter, which first put to flight a dog which was accompanying them. The men ran away, but thought better of it, and with the assistance of the dog, killed the otter.

HONOR TO GUEST. The local beer is good, although it is somewhat "dull" to hear called "old," which suggests oil, but is really the same word as our ale. Altogether the food in Norway is plentiful, good and cheap, and their own dishes are far preferable to the imitations of French ones, which the biggest hotels insist on serving.

When the Ester was in Christiania some years ago he asked for a real Norwegian dinner, which was duly prepared for him, and he liked it so much that he demanded the several receipts which he took back to Gothenburg. In the absence of the Royal Family, the caretaker, or vaquaster, will show you over it for half a kroner (50c); but the only thing really worth seeing is the view from the roof, which is very fine.

The new King has done much to beautify and redecorate the palace, some of the rooms of which are quite "English" in taste, which means that they are homely, comfortable, and picturesque. The royal motto is "The People's Love is My Reward," a sentiment as unimpeachable as it is inspiring, and one, moreover, which seems in a fair way of being joyfully fulfilled on both sides.

SOME IMPRESSIONS OF THE LAND OF NIAKON

Looking up Karl Johans Gade, the principal street of Christiania—or Kristiania, as the Norwegians spell it—the spot, or castle, is immediately in front, standing in a small park, at a height above the town. It is not a hundred years old yet, and is neither beautiful or ugly—just plain, practical, and comfortable. In the absence of the Royal Family, the caretaker, or vaquaster, will show you over it for half a kroner (50c); but the only thing really worth seeing is the view from the roof, which is very fine.

WOMAN'S PARADISE. There is no nobility in Norway with political or economical privileges; there are no large estates; there is no great money class. Social equality could hardly go further than in this, the newest independent kingdom of Europe. Prosperity is very evenly distributed; there is one savings bank to every 5,600 inhabitants, and one depositor in two-and-three-quarter inhabitants.

Thousands and thousands of Russian emigrants, ruined and almost starved, went to the United States seeking freedom and rest. Among these people it is interesting to notice, there was a heavy percentage of madmen. In later times, however, owing to the American crisis, the emigration tide has diminished in its intensity, and even the return of many emigrants has been reported.

THE REPORT also tells the thrilling story of a Hungarian who had emigrated to the United States and who having made a little money there had come back to fetch his son, a boy of 14 who is an idiot. On their way back father and son left by the Antwerp route. After the departure the father went to sleep, while his son wandered about the streets of the city.

When the father awoke at the ship was in the North Sea, and it is easy to imagine his anguish at the idea that his boy was left alone in Flushing, where he knew nobody. Messages were sent by wireless, but no reply was received. It was only on the boat's arrival at New York that the father learned that his boy had been taken care of by the Ezra Emigration Company and was feeling all right.

THE "SQUARE DEAL." Lincoln Steffens. How the President Came to use the Famous Expression. During the Roosevelt-Paraker campaign I called on the President to ask him to persuade the people, instead of corporations, to contribute to the campaign fund. From the discussion of the democratic principle involved in that plan, the conversation changed into the general subject of misrepresentative government, and finding the President interested in the political aspect, I uttered this reproach: "Mr. President, I don't believe you will ever solve any of our real problems. You merely stand for a square deal."

Down came his fist on the desk. He sprang to his feet. He hadn't heard or he didn't heed the reproach. No, this man of action, so-called, he always does seize out of books and men, that which he has used for and that alone. "That's it!" he exclaimed. "A square deal. That's exactly what I do stand for. And I shall say so in my next public utterance."

And he did so. His next public utterance was his famous reply to Mr. Paraker, and he wound it up with "a square deal."

Now, the square deal is a very limited remedy, but it has gone far to expose the causes and conditions of our corruption. Take the case the president himself cites: that of reconsecrating Harriman's railroad for the benefit of the Colorado River. His motion was opposed in Congress by representative who would favor railroad reconstruction in secret, but who feared to do rightly by them in the open. They represented what they thought was "public opinion, not the public interest." The president who says he represents public interest, not public opinion, was willing, out loud in a message, to give a railroad what was right. And by doing so he showed how corrupt misrepresents both public opinion and public interest.—From the June Everybodies.

While working in a laundry at Ballymena, County Antrim, a girl named Gordon was caught by the hair in a machine and completely soaped. She was taken to the local hospital, where the scalp was seen on, and she is making good progress.

AN INTERNATIONAL CALAMITY. If a colored waiter at a hotel should happen to drop a diet containing a most rare, the average man would be likely to say that it was only an ordinary accident, with no more serious result than the breaking of the dish and the paying of a fine by the waiter, followed perhaps by his discharge. But a certain newspaper writer has found in such a catastrophe a completion of international calamities fearful to contemplate, nothing less than the downfall of Turkey, the overthrow of Greece, the breaking up of China and the humiliation of Africa.

CLEANING SHEFFIELD STREET.

Magistrate Ritchie has announced his desire to clean up Sheffield street. This is a laudable ambition. With the help of the police force the magistrate may succeed, but he should exercise the utmost caution in deciding upon the manner in which this is to be done. Some seven or eight years ago as the result of a purity movement a number of houses of ill-repute, in the south end, were closed. St. John would be far better off today if those places had been left alone. The fact that such places existed and flourished was shocking, positively shocking, said reformers, and on a wave of popular feeling the police who clearly foresaw what the result would be, were forced to act. These same good people who had been left alone, if those places had been left alone, the fact that such places existed and flourished was shocking, positively shocking, said reformers, and on a wave of popular feeling the police who clearly foresaw what the result would be, were forced to act. These same good people who had been left alone, if those places had been left alone, the fact that such places existed and flourished was shocking, positively shocking, said reformers, and on a wave of popular feeling the police who clearly foresaw what the result would be, were forced to act.

Therefore, without waiting for the result of the conventions the Presidential fight will be between Taft and Bryan.

THE LITTLE BOY AND HIS DREAM.

The Little Boy smiled in his sleep that night. As he wandered to Twilight Town; And his face lit up with a heavenly light. Through the shadows that drifted down; But he awoke next morning with tear-strained eyes. In the light of the gray dawn's gleam, And out from the stillness we heard him cry: "I've lost my dream—my dream!" And he told us then, in his childish way, Of the wonderful dream he'd known; He had wandered away from the land of play To the distant Land of the Grown; He had won his share of the fame and light. In the struggle and toil of men; And he sobbed and sighed in the breaking light: "I want my dream again!" As the years passed by the Little Boy grew. 'Till he came to the Land of the Grown. And the dreams of his early youth came true— The dream that he thought had flown; Yet once again he smiled in his sleep— Smiled on till the gray dawn's gleam. When those near by might have heard him weep: "I want my dream—my dream!" For he dreamed of the Yesterdays of Youth. And the smile on a mother's face; A hearth of old-time faith and truth. In the light of the old-home place; He had won, his share of the fame and light. In the struggle and toil of men— Yet he sobbed and sighed, in the breaking light: "I want my dream again!"

MISERY LOVES COMPANY.

An old couple in Glasgow were in a very depressed state owing to dull trade. Thinking their son in America would help them, they wrote stating their trouble, and that if he did not help them they would have to go to the poorhouse. Three weeks passed and then came a letter from their son, saying: "Dear Mother and Father—Just wait another fortnight and I'll come home an' gang wi' ye. Your affectionate son."

MISTAKEN.

While a small boy was fishing one Sunday morning he accidentally lost his foothold and tumbled into the creek. As an old man on the bank was helping him out, he said: "How did you come to fall in the river, my little man?" "I didn't come to fall in the river, I came to fish," replied the boy. "Ladies will please remove their hats," announced the usher. The ladies looked grim. "Free derrick in the foyer, ladies," he continued pleasantly.

AN AUTHORITY.

Bibbs—"I understand that you lost money on that chicken-raising experiment of yours?" Boys—"Yes, I did; but I expect to get it all back again. I'm writing a book on how to raise chickens."

PLENTY OF MATERIAL.

"And you refuse me, fair Beatrice?" cried Gaspar, gloomily. "Yes," retorted the haughty heroine, "I refuse you." "Merciful turtles! You are the tenth girl that has handed me the marble heart!" "And what will you do now, poor man?" "I think I shall open up a marble yard."

A PROFIT, ANYHOW.

He was filling his first prescription, and when he handed it to the lady he told her it was a dollar and ten cents. She paid the dollar and ten, and after she had gone he informed the proprietor that the dollar was counterfeit. The proprietor looked over his glasses at the young man and said: "Well, how about the ten cents—that good money?" "Oh, well," the proprietor replied, "that's not so bad—we still make a nickel."

THE ROL-CALL.

"A teacher asked her class to name five different members of the 'cat' family. Nobody answered till at last one little girl raised her hand. "Well," said the teacher encouragingly. "Father cat, mother cat, and three little kittens."

ACCEPTS INVITATION OF AUSTRALIA'S GOVERNOR

MELBOURNE, May 18.—Admiral Sperry, commander of the American battleship "squadron" that is going around the world, has accepted the invitation of Lord Northcote, governor-general of Australia, to himself and the other flag officers of the fleet to stay at Government House during their visit to Sydney. An official dinner and a ball will be among the entertainments at Government House in honor of the American visitors. The arrangements for the reception of the fleet both by the federal and state authorities are making good progress at Melbourne and Sydney. The entire Victorian cabinet constitutes the committee which is arranging for Victoria's welcome to the American visitors.

LOGOINETE WORKS DISMISSING MEN

Slack Trade and Excessive Demands of Employes the Cause.

MONTREAL, May 19.—About two hundred more mechanics, boiler makers, blacksmiths and artificers have already been struck off or will be struck off the payroll at the Angus shops during the past week for the remainder of the season, no new locomotive building being done. The reason given for the reduction by the company is that no more locomotives are needed at present, and that in view of the fact that machinists and boiler-makers of the east are demanding a higher rate of pay it would be extravagant to do any more work than is actually necessary.

JUMPED TO HER DEATH FROM RUNAWAY CARRIAGE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 18.—In a runaway accident tonight, Miss Ethel Burroughs of Somerville, a member of the senior class at Smith College, leaped from the carriage and was instantly killed. The accident happened in the village of Goshen, twenty miles from here. Accompanied by a Miss Mary M. Doris, a friend, a classmate, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beckwith of Wollaston, who were visiting Miss Doris, Miss Burroughs drove to Goshen today, and the party was on the way back to Northampton when two horses became frightened and began to run.

BOMB IN CALCUTTA INJURES FOUR

Exploded on One of the Main Streets of Indian Quarter.

CALCUTTA, May 18.—A bomb that had been placed on the car track of one of the principal streets in the Indian quarter was exploded this morning by a cart passing over it. Four persons were injured, one of them critically. The cart was blown to smithereens. The miscreants who placed the bomb evidently intended that it should blow up a cart containing white people. Pamphlets were circulated last week warning Bengalis not to ride in first class or other carriages in which Europeans were traveling.

PICKINGS FROM PUCK. (Woodstock Press.) As we have had no items from this place for some time, we thought we would write some. Spring has come again, the frogs are beginning to sing. Sandy Fran met with quite a loss he lost a new milk cow. Hank I guess I hear chickens chirping. B W has been hunting sitting hens all the spring. I have not seen any items from this place for quite awhile I thought I would scratch a few. Hanging May tickets is the order of the day. Every house I go in to is up side down with May beaker paper. The roads and fields are full of young people at night but I could not tell you where they stay in the day time. The style of one young man is when he goes to see his girl, he takes with him a dish of butter milk. A Wordsworth is taking borders this summer. Uncle Sam has bought a gun. I suppose he got it to keep the barbers away. Edward McDade Sr., is repairing his house. It looks as if there was going to be a bird for the cage. In life there are two great battles to be fought—pollies and potatoes. Charlie is wearing a smiling face; he must have heard that the young lady from Carlisle was coming back soon. As soon as school closes the wedding bells will ring. Personi—A A still calls at D M E. W says the ponds are very bad up through Smoky Hollow but he says he does not mind that as long as he gets the pleasant smile. We are glad to see our friend W S, the head fireman on the C P R is home again. W G says he can out pull any horse in the Settlement; upon my —S I know I can. We are glad to see the smiling face of our friend Mr. Swin back again. B H and B B will be happy this summer in the shade of the old apple tree. I don't see how we hear wedding bells or is it R K's cow bell. E L A young man of this town went to a party, C F's birthday party, and during the course of the evening went to sleep. The other day there was some light weights blowing around town and the policeman went out and hid. It was hardly safe for ladies to pass up the street. The filer in the mill has felt in love with the cook of the new hotel. Mr. Oldenburg is thinking of starting a barber shop; he is practicing on the sheep; goah you ought to see the wool fl. I do not see Freddie going to the Dew drop Inn as often as he used to. I wonder why. But never mind Fred what the young people say, you might be the white hen's chicken some day. Since the new Government got in some people gets a job night and day and others have to walk around in the street. Owen McCarty has been sick with the grip also David McFallen. Mr. Bloodworth will have a new car. He has a trunk for to hold his money because he works at the carpenter trade in the day time and watches in the mill at night. GLIMPSE OF THE EAST
IN LONDON CAPITAL

Villages of India and Ceylon to Form Feature of Franco-British Exhibition.

LONDON, May 18.—Basking in the sunshine of Nice at the present moment are 200 natives of India and Ceylon, who a fortnight hence will become the population of the Indian and Ceylon villages at the Franco-British Exhibition. With them are fifty animals, including nine elephants, two camels, two Mysore oxen, eight zebras, seven dwarf donkeys, deer, antelope and bears, all under the charge of Gustav Hagenbeck, one of the famous family of animal trainers and importers of Hamburg.

"At Nice," said Victor Bamberger, who is bringing the natives and the animals to London, "the people will become acclimated. They are very carefully selected representatives of many castes, and each is capable of showing some typical side of the life of the East. Among them we have a group of beautiful Hindu dancing girls, Mohammedan snake charmers
and Buddhist workers in metal, silk, ivory and precious stones. We shall show some astonishing balancing and other acrobatic feats and all the fa-rcus illusions and mysteries of India, including the basket trick, in which a young girl is apparently thrust through with a sword and appears unharmed among the audience.

"In the arena the trained elephants will make a grand glissade in the open air down a precipice into a lake. I can promise that this will be more realistic than anything of the kind seen in London before.

The terms upon which the natives
come are the payment of return fares.

Your Spring troubles will all end in smoke if you keep yourself well and strong by eating

REPUTED PORTRAIT OF CHRIST IN LONDON

Only Copy of the Original
Deposited in Church
in Genoa

Two Letters to Oriental King Believed
to Have Been Written by the Redeemer.

LONDON, May 18.—There is an interesting sequel to the archeological
discovery made recently by the Abbe
Gaffre, the eminent French Egyptologist.
While exploring a village in upper Egypt the abbe came across an ancient papyrus, which he identified as the disciple Thaddeus to Agbar, king of Edessa, with the portrait of Christ, which learned authorities say is the only one in existence.

This portrait has hitherto been considered apocryphal, but it is obvious
that, if the Abbe Gaffre's discovery
should bear out all his expectations,
it will throw a flood of light on a much-debated incident in early Christian history.

COPIED BY AN ARTIST.

Here is the sequel: Maurice Lyons,
the well-known collector, whose famous
"Imperial opals" were shown to the British Museum when they were here in 1902, has in his possession what he believes is the only copy of the portrait of Christ, which was taken from Thaddeus to King Agbar. The original
reposes in the Church of St. Barthelemy,
at Genoa, where it was taken from Constantinople in the fourteenth century. It is so carefully and jealously guarded that it is almost impossible to get a sight of it.

About forty years ago, however,
Thomas Heaphy, an artist, who devoted many years to investigating the origins of the traditional likenesses of Christ, managed after a great deal of trouble, to see the portrait in St. Bartholomew's Church. He was not allowed to copy it, but he made a sketch
from memory, and this sketch is in the British Museum. It represents Christ
in full face, with beard and long hair,
and there is attached to it a note by
the artist to the effect that, according to legend, the original was executed at the time of Christ, who "sat for" for King Agbarus." Agbarus, an abbreviation of Agbarus, whose kingdom of Edessa is now Urfa in Mesopotamia.

Mr. Lyons had an opportunity of comparing his portrait with Heaphy's
sketch, and he does not doubt that they deal with the same subject. As apart from Heaphy's sketch, there is understood to be only one copy of the original in existence, and that is, of course, the original itself.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COPY.

There is one interesting point about
Mr. Lyons' portrait which is worth noting. In his notes on the original, Heaphy expressed a slight doubt as to whether it was a portrait of Christ, or
of a saint, or of a king. Mr. Lyons,
if that is so, must possess that copy.

Did you ever ask yourself the meaning of the term domestic economy?
Next likely you never did. Notwithstanding the growing popularity of this branch of study, there is no subject the name and nature of which are so generally misunderstood.

Some young women think it means
"cooking and laundry lessons," others think "sweeping and saving," would more fully define it, while dim ideas of so called mental duties and domestic drudgery nest through the brains of others.

But these are "small nibblings at

REMARKABLE LETTERS.

Having described Mr. Lyons' interesting treasure, it is desirable to refer in some detail to the Abbe Gaffre's discovery. His manuscript there are included two letters, which, if their authenticity can be established, are of profound importance.

The first is in the following terms:
"Agbar, king of the Town of Edessa, to Jesus, Godman and doctor, who appeared at Jerusalem: Hail! I have heard of Thee and of Thy healings, how Thou wilt meddle with herbs, performest healings, and givest the blind sight, enablist the cripples to walk and the deaf to hear; how Thou curest those who suffer from chronic torments and bringest the dead to life. And having heard of these things
I have conceived that Thou art God Himself, and for this reason, do supplicate and pray that Thou wilt come to me and cure the malady which as-sails me, and that Thou wilt take measures that none of mine enemies may take or destroy my town."

STARS AS SUPERS IN LONDON THEATERS

Hard Times Throw Hundreds of Actors and Actresses Out of Work.

LONDON, May 18.—Owing to the "lightness" of the theatrical market,
a record number of more or less well-known actors and actresses are at the present time acting as "supers" in London plays.

A striking instance of this fact is to be seen in "The College Widow," the American play now running at the Adelphi Theatre, where no fewer than eighty supers are employed.

When Mr. Savage, the proprietor of "The College Widow," advertised a cast of eighty supers, no fewer than 300 actors and actresses applied personally for positions.

Eighty of the best were selected, but for four or five days afterward dozens of out-of-work actors and actresses besieged the stage door in the hope of being taken on.

The scene in which these supers appear is in the third act, and shows Mr. Savage and his wife seated at a table in a dining room, the latter filled with all sorts and conditions of people. The whole act lasts just twenty-five minutes.

FIVE DAYS' TRAINING.

Training these supers to act and look like an ordinary crowd took Mr.
Savage just five days. Every man, woman and child—there are several children—has a special name to act
All the men have to shout and push,
while the women wave handkerchiefs and scream the American "Tah! Rah!
Tah!"

"Never in all my experience have I had such an intelligent number of su-pers as in 'The College Widow,'" said Mr. Savage, who is probably the greatest stage crowd expert in the world.
In America it is extremely difficult to get good supers, and it generally takes considerably over a week to get them into shape.

"Many of these English supers, whom I have engaged show great talent and originality in their acting.
The chief point is to look alive, and they have succeeded far beyond my expectations."

Another gentleman connected with the management of "The College Widow" was also seen by a newspaper reporter yesterday.

"There are several actors and actresses taking part as supers in 'The College Widow,' and the most household words in the province," he said.

THEIR CONFESSES TO ROBBERY OF JEWELS

Gems Stolen From Relative of Playport Morgan Find Their Way to Antwerp.

LONDON, May 18.—An account of how jewel thieves disposed of their booty was contained in the confession of the Heister, read at Bow street Police Court Saturday.

Heritier, who is an English subject,
described as clerk of Albert street,
after having been remanded, was discharged from there yesterday afternoon.

The prisoner was arrested in Edwards road last week by Detective-Smith, who found in his possession sixteen loose diamonds worth $400.
He also had in his possession a robbery in New York, when $5,500 worth of jewelry was stolen from Mrs. David Pierce Morgan. He also had in his possession $25 in notes and $25 in gold.
Pierce was charged at Marylebone
Police Court with unlawful possession of the diamonds, and was discharged from there yesterday afternoon.

Detective-Sergeant Box, of Scotland
Yard, said that on the prisoner's discharge he at once re-arrested him. He then said: "I am done. I will tell you all I stopped in New York for three weeks. On 1 I did the job, and then went to Philadelphia. I then came over in the steamer Marquette, and I dropped that in the river at the foot of 13th street, Fort Morris. My name was over with me. His name is O'Connell. I have two grips at 10 Albert street, Mornington crescent, and two necklaces in one of them belonging to Mrs. Morgan.

"Wilson told me he sold the single-stone diamond earrings to me for $300.
We paid our fares over, and lived on the proceeds. I used a file and pliers for unsetting and testing the stones. All the stones out of the heart brooch and the stones out of the sunburst brooch we sold at Antwerp for 1,250 francs. The large carat stones of the sunburst brooch was included in these."

When prisoner was searched, said the detective, he found that he was on board the steamer Marquette on April 13, and a bill showing that two persons had stayed at an hotel at Antwerp on April 15.

At Heritier's lodgings the witness found two necklaces in a bag, as described by the prisoner; also two pairs of pliers, a file, a gimlet and a screwdriver. The American ambassador had called to the secretary of state and a reply was expected at an early date.
The prisoner was remanded.

Italian Premier Proposes Legislation on Carrying of Knives by Citizens.

ROME, May 18.—The alarming growth of hoodlumism and crimes of the knife in the province of Rome, recently exemplified in the barbarous attack on two unoffending students of the Scotch College, has decided Signor Giolitti, the premier, to introduce in an amended form his bill for regulating the kind and length of knife which citizens may carry.

Parliament refused to assent to the earlier measure on the score of its being too onerous, though Signor Giolitti explained at the time that the apparent severity of its provisions was justified by the fact that the Napoleonists had manufactured a special knife for criminal purposes, which skillfully evaded the actual letter of the law.

The prefect of Rome has asked the present moment of local awakening in the city to issue a decree withdrawing immediately all licenses from public gambling saloons, and ordering the universal closing of taverns and eating houses at 11 o'clock at night. Today the prefectural mandate has been affixed to all such establishments, while the chief of police is organizing a number of flying squadrons to enforce the new by-laws.

Only Copy of the Original
Deposited in Church
in Genoa

Two Letters to Oriental King Believed
to Have Been Written by
the Redeemer.

LONDON, May 18.—There is an interesting sequel to the archeological
discovery made recently by the Abbe
Gaffre, the eminent French Egyptologist.
While exploring a village in upper Egypt the abbe came across an ancient
papyrus, which he identified as the
disciple Thaddeus to Agbar, king of Edessa, with the portrait of Christ, which
learned authorities say is the only one in existence.

This portrait has hitherto been considered apocryphal, but it is obvious
that, if the Abbe Gaffre's discovery
should bear out all his expectations,
it will throw a flood of light on a
much-debated incident in early
Christian history.

COPIED BY AN ARTIST.

Here is the sequel: Maurice Lyons,
the well-known collector, whose famous
"Imperial opals" were shown to the British Museum when they were
here in 1902, has in his possession what
he believes is the only copy of the portrait of Christ, which was taken from Thaddeus to King Agbar. The original
reposes in the Church of St. Barthelemy,
at Genoa, where it was taken from Constantinople in the fourteenth century. It is so carefully
and jealously guarded that it is almost impossible to get a sight of it.

About forty years ago, however,
Thomas Heaphy, an artist, who devoted
many years to investigating the
origins of the traditional likenesses of Christ, managed after a great deal of trouble, to see the portrait in St. Bartholomew's Church. He was not allowed
to copy it, but he made a sketch
from memory, and this sketch is in the British Museum. It represents Christ
in full face, with beard and long hair,
and there is attached to it a note by
the artist to the effect that, according
to legend, the original was executed at
the time of Christ, who "sat for" for King Agbarus." Agbarus, an abbreviation of Agbarus, whose
kingdom of Edessa is now Urfa in Mesopotamia.

Mr. Lyons had an opportunity
of comparing his portrait with Heaphy's
sketch, and he does not doubt that they deal with the same subject. As apart from Heaphy's sketch, there is understood to be only one copy of the
original in existence, and that is, of course, the original itself.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COPY.

There is one interesting point about
Mr. Lyons' portrait which is worth noting. In his notes on the original,
Heaphy expressed a slight doubt as to whether it was a portrait of Christ, or
of a saint, or of a king. Mr. Lyons,
if that is so, must possess that copy.

Happy Half Hour

A. K. Munde has leased St. Andrew's rink for the summer, and in a few days the Happy Half Hour will be resumed. A number of improvements are now being made, and when the house is opened to the public it will prove to be a surprise. Last year it was admitted that the Happy Half Hour had the clearest and steadiest pictures ever seen here. This year the pictures will be better than they were last year, as a far superior machine has been ordered and is due here any-day. The names of the singers to be heard at this house will be announced in a day or two.

At the Princess

Four pictures of exceptional merit are being shown today at the Princess. A Modern Pacific, the story of a man who could not agree with his wife and the mother-in-law, as is usually the case, took the wife's part.
When the man was almost driven to distraction he reads in the paper that a certain doctor has invented a cure for bad humor. He at once hurries to his office and purchases a large bottle.
On his return home he finds the maid serving tea. He pours some of the contents of the bottle into the teapot, and is greatly pleased with the result after they have taken tea.

ing manners and customs of the inhabitants of the South Sea Islands.

those who sell lead ice cream.

"Macbeth" and Chelsea Fire at the Nickel

The weather, the soldier turnout and the Nickel's great show made the big theatre in Carleton street the most popular place in St. John last evening, and the seats were filled from 7 until 10 o'clock. The pictorial part of the show was unusually interesting, the leading feature being a sumptuous portrayal of Shakespeare's sublime tragedy Macbeth. Over ten scenes were shown depicting the wicket meeting, the visit of King Duncan,
the murder, Lady Macbeth's sleep walk,
the battle, the ambush of Banquo, Banquo's ghost, etc., and each picture was highly embellished with scenic detail and historically correct costuming. It was a decided triumph in picture photography and was loudly applauded at the finish of each showing.
After a lighthearted comedy, The Wine Well, was put on, the crowds were shown The Stone Industry in Sweden, a most interesting sight.

As an extra special feature today the Nickel will show a number of photo-glimpses of the great havoc wrought in Chelsea in the recent terrible fire.
These are views that were shown in Keith's Bijou Dream picture house in Boston.

At the Unique

People whose time is very much taken up through the day and who are burdened down with business worries should not fail to see the pictures now being shown at the Unique. All of them full of good wholesome comedy.

pay you for the time spent.

ANNE'S WAY OF WINNING

By MARTHA COBB SANFORD.

(Copyrighted, 1903, by Jessie Moran.) Young Mrs. Maxwell was in tears. All her happy plans were overturned, and just because a faithless maid had failed to put in an appearance. It was only history—domestic history—repeating itself, but Mrs. Maxwell was too newly married to look upon the misfortune in the light of something but a purely personal affliction. Her husband found her disconsolate sitting in the corner for breakfast, while the hot tears ran unheeded down her flushed cheeks. "Aren't you afraid the oatmeal will be a little too salty, sweetheart?" he asked jovially, at the same time kissing away a few of the salty drops from her eyelids. "How can you joke, Bob?" she asked, who-Briget? Well, never mind, dearest, that's a trick they all play, I don't care what we have for breakfast. "But Mr. Cabot does. Is he up yet?" "Not Jack! He sleeps and sleeps on Sunday mornings. And he won't care if we skip breakfast altogether. You don't know him as well as I do, Norah. You see, I roomed with him two years when I was a—bachelor. He's the best-natured fellow living—present company excepted. If he wants, I would never have consented to this three-cornered love-cup. Here, hand me a spoon, dear! I'll make the coffee."

The "three-cornered love-cup" was an arrangement by which the Maxwell had agreed to let Bob's chum, Jack Cabot, share their company and take breakfast with them, thus giving them the pleasure of using his piano and the luxury of keeping a maid. It had seemed the rosiest scheme imaginable, but behold it, on the very first morning after Jack's arrival, shattered discouragingly. In the midst of Bob and Norah's joint preparations for breakfast, the door bell rang unexpectedly. "She's come!" exclaimed Norah triumphantly, as she rushed breathlessly to the door. Bob stood on the kitchen threshold, listening. "Oh, it's you!" he heard Norah say in a tone of unmistakable disappointment. "Well, is that all the welcome I get?" responded a cheery young voice. "I thought you were the cook," was Norah's half-appealing, half-laughing reply. "Hello, Anne Morris!" called Bob hospitably from the kitchen. "Stay and have breakfast with us!" "Breakfast?" returned Anne, pretending to be shocked. "You lazy, lazy people! Why, I'm out for my morning constitutional. Boarder arrived!" she asked, mischievously. "Oh, yes," answered Norah, resignedly. "Mr. Cabot's here, of course—but not a sign of the cook."

"Look here!" suggested Anne suddenly. "I'm a dandy cook, and engage to get your breakfast on the spot. And without waiting for approval or invitation she began to toss off her coat and hat. "Oh, dear!" said Norah futteringly. "Mr. Cabot is coming. I heard his door open. Hurry, Anne." "Once in the kitchen Anne rolled up her apron and tucked her hair into her cap. She was in one of Norah's comprehensive gingham aprons. "Now you both skido!" she commanded. "Just leave everything to me. The idea of a bride and groom getting breakfast for a boarder!" "Norah's greeting to the boarder" when she reached the living room was most cordial. "Good morning, Mr. Cabot. You slept well, apparently. Bob and I have been up this long time." "I hope you didn't keep breakfast waiting, Mrs. Maxwell. Did your maid put in an early appearance?" "No, she didn't come—come as early as I expected. But breakfast is ready now."

Anne, becomingly decked in frilly cap and apron, served the grape-fruit refreshingly. When she had left the dining room, Bob cleared his throat and ventured a comment. "Fairly good looking, isn't she?" "Jack looked lovely, isn't she?" "What is the matter?" "Why, Anne Morris!" Norah exclaimed. "What is the matter?" "For answer Anne pulled off her miniature headgear and her ruffled apron and said laconically: "Introduce me."

SPORTING MATTERS

ST. JOHN LEAGUE EXECUTIVE MEETS AND DRAWS UP SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR THE FIRST HALF OF THE SEASON. The executive of the St. John Baseball League met last evening and drew up a schedule of games for the first part of the season. The schedule includes thirty games, the first on Saturday, May 23, the last on July 3. There will be a double-header on Victoria Day, Marathons v. Exmouth and Clippers v. Portlands. On July 1 the Marathons will meet the Clippers. The evening games will begin at seven o'clock sharp. The league executive decided to use Spalding's official ball. There will be an official scorer and an official umpire. James McAllister will act as the latter. His worship the mayor will open the city leagues on Saturday by pitching the first ball on both the Shamrock and Victoria grounds, one game being called before the other. The teams of the St. John League will each have a distinctive uniform. The Marathons expect to have their new suits of grey with red trimmings ready for Saturday. The schedule of the St. John Baseball League is as follows: May 23—Marathons v. Clippers. May 25—Marathons v. Exmouth. May 26—Clippers v. Portlands. May 27—Marathons v. Clippers. May 29—Portlands v. The bodies of the seven unidentified dead will be buried tomorrow in Veterans' field. Christian services will be conducted for them and a small stone will be erected with an inscription telling the circumstances of their death. The body of Jennie Olsen has been turned over to relatives. Ole Budeberg's body was shipped to Iowa, Wis., today for burial. Coroner Mack is still holding the four bodies found in the ruins of the burned Guinness home. There, according to evidence produced, are the bodies of Mrs. Guinness and her three children. They will be held until Coroner Mack files his verdict. The Laporte grand jury heard testimony today of a number of witnesses in the Guinness case. Excellent progress was made, but the greater part of the week will be consumed in the investigation. In view of the offer of the county commissioners to pay $4,000 for the production of Mrs. Guinness alive, Prosecutor Smith expects that this search will be world-wide.

Invalid Ladies

This Is For You. There are thousands of females who suffer untold miseries common to their sex. This is largely due to the peculiar habits of life and fashion, and the improper training of girlhood. Then, too, the physical changes that mark the three ors of womanhood (the maiden, the wife, and the mother) have much to do with her sufferings, most of which are endured in silence, unknown by even the family physician and most intimate friends. To all such whose hollow cheeks, pale faces, sunken eyes and feeble footings, indicate nervousness, palpitation of the heart, weak, faint and dizzy spells, we would earnestly recommend a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Tonic. Mrs. Joe Sharp, Brighton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, weak spells and nervous trouble, and found no relief until advised to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Tonic. I got one box and that helped me so much I sent and got five more. I am now cured completely." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Tonic is sold per box or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TWO LIVES LOST IN $300,000 FIRE

Much Damage Done at Sault Ste Marie Yesterday

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 18.—Fire which is supposed to have started from a spark from a dynamo in the power house of the Lake Superior Power Company here at 4 o'clock this morning destroyed the Tacona water mill. The mill, which is the Lake Superior Company's power plant and the sole pulp and paper mill storehouse. The estimated loss is about $300,000, fully covered by insurance. Two men, A. E. Walsh, dynamo tender, and E. Grey, assistant, lost their lives in the fire. Neither of the bodies has been found. Grey jumped from a second story into the fall race while his clothes were on fire. The watchman caught him by the coat, endeavoring to stop him, but Grey's coat would not support his weight and he fell into the water below. The men are dragging the fall race trying to find the body. Walsh was probably fatally overcome by smoke and perished in the flames. All the new machinery recently installed in the power plant was destroyed, including the latest models of motor generators. Water lighting and street car systems are affected, but it is expected sufficient power will be furnished from the steel plant auxiliary to operate the street railway. Water now being supplied by the pulp mill auxiliary steam pumps. It is given out that all the departments will be rebuilt at once.

DR. ROBERTSON WILL SPEAK TO LEGISLATORS

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 18.—Dr. J. W. Robertson, late commissioner of agriculture for the Dominion and now dean of the McDonald College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, on invitation of the government will speak before the House of Assembly on education at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, and before the agricultural committee in the legislature chambers at 11 a. m. Thursday. Both meetings will be open to the public, and all interested are invited to attend.

GILLET'S PERFUMED LYE CAUTION. Put a strong glass on the label and examine it closely every time. Always look for the name "Gillett's." Like all good articles, which are extensively advertised, Gillett's Lye is frequently and very closely imitated. In some instances the imitators have actually copied directions and other printed matter from our label word for word. Be wise, and refuse to purchase imitation articles for they are never satisfactory. Insist On Getting Gillett's Lye and decline to accept anything that looks to be an imitation or that is represented to be "just as good" or "better," or "the same thing." In our experience of over fifty years in business we have never known of an imitation article that has been a success, for imitations are not reliable people. At the best the "just as good" kinds are only trashy imitations, so decline them with thanks every time. E. W. GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED WINNIPEG, TORONTO, ONT. MONTREAL

RACE FOR FOUR-OARED CHAMPIONSHIP OF CITY PLANNED BY EVERY DAY CLUB

A race for the four-oared championship of St. John is what the Every Day Club is endeavoring to bring about. The E. D. C. now possesses a crew composed of Ross, Cunningham, Clark and Connors, that is anxious to try conclusions with the crew of the La Tour Rowing Club. Last evening the secretary of the Every Day Club was instructed to invite the La Tour crew to race with the E. D. C. crew between the dates May 23 and May 28. The winner to go to Halifax to take part in the Olympic trials and if successful there to go to St. Catharines. The E. D. C. crew have a new boat, which it is claimed is very fast.

BASEBALL HAVE A STRONG TEAM.

The St. John the Baptist will put a strong team in the Inter-Society League. They will make their first appearance on the diamond Saturday evening. Walter Hains, the star left fielder of last year's St. Joseph's, is the captain, and J. P. McDermott will be the manager. The battery for Saturday will be Bent and Mills. On Victoria day afternoon they will play St. Peter's, when Howe and Mills will be the battery.

MORE AWFUL REVELATIONS IN LAPORTE AFFAIR

LAPORTE, Ind., May 18.—Autopsies of the seven unidentified bodies exhumed from Mrs. Bella Guinness' private burial ground were completed today and they revealed the fact, according to the reports of Dr. E. T. Wilcox and George R. Osborne, who conducted the autopsies under the direction of Coroner Mack, that one of the seven was a female. This revelation aroused new interest in the story that a man and a woman came to the home on night in 1894 to take Jennie Olsen to a Los Angeles college, as Mrs. Guinness told those about the place. The next morning Jennie and the man and woman were gone. Mrs. Guinness said that they had left on an early train for California. The body now declared to be that of a woman was taken from the same hole as that of Jennie Olsen. In that hole also were the bodies of Ole Budeberg of Iowa, Wis., and that of another man. The theory now advanced is that Mrs. Guinness may have murdered Jennie Olsen and the man and woman who came to take her to California, all on the same night, and buried the three bodies in unnumbered holes in the same pit. The body of Budeberg, who was murdered later than this night, was found near the surface. The mystery surrounding the watch found on Ray Lamphere when he was arrested was cleared today, when J. G. Hamden of Manfred, N. D., who came yesterday to investigate the disappearance of his half-brother, John

MR. ROBINSON'S ADDRESS EXPOSING GOVERNMENT MISREPRESENTATION

Mr. Fleming's reckless statements concerning the debt and interest charges were punctured successfully by Mr. Hazen who asked many questions during this part of Mr. Robinson's speech, finally jarring into silence the charge made by Mr. Fleming that the debt had been increased a million and a half in one year...

Then on the question of interest which had formed one of the principal items discussed during the campaign, it had been asserted from every platform in the province that the old government was deceiving the people in its statements of the interest on the public debt which instead of being $125,000 annually, was between $300,000 and $350,000 annually...

GAMBLING HOUSE IN THE NORTH END

A raid was made by the North End police on the beer shop run by Parker Leary at the foot of Main street last Tuesday night. The store was occupied at the time by Leary and some other men who succeeded in making their escape. Sufficient evidence was secured by the police to warrant them in reporting Leary for running a gambling house. The matter has been kept quiet for the past week to give the police a chance to get additional evidence.

A very enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Pike will reside in Fairville.

SHEFFIELD STREET CASE IN THE POLICE COURT

The Gang Will be Sentenced Tomorrow —Lester Goes in for Ten Months.

In the police court this morning two drunks, one of whom was Emma Lester, were before Magistrate Ritchie. Emma, who is an old offender, pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but said she knew nothing about being profane. Policeman Perry gave evidence that Emma and Felix Holland were doing Sheffield street yesterday afternoon, and Holland threw a stone through the window of the famous Alice O'Brien's house. Holland left the street, but Emma remained staggering about and refused to go into one of the houses when ordered by the officer. She was placed under arrest, and then laid down on the sidewalk. A stoven was procured, the driver paid 25 cents, and the woman was carted to the police station. The prisoner was fined $8 or two months for being profane; and $10 or six months for resisting the police. In imposing the sentence the magistrate told the woman that the ten months in jail would keep her from roaming the fields like the cattle, this summer. The prisoner's cousin, Maud Lester, who is a frequent visitor to jail, is there now awaiting a sentence for vagrancy.

The Sheffield street bawdy house case was taken up and the court room was cleared of a large number of spectators.

Amelia Francis pleaded guilty to keeping a bawdy house.

Ernest Baird, of Nova Scotia, pleaded guilty to being an inmate of the house and said he was sorry for it.

Lizzie Norman, a white woman, and Lucy Byard, colored, pleaded not guilty to being inmates.

Detective Kilien gave evidence that on Saturday a man called at the Central Police station and claimed to have been robbed in Amelia Francis house of about $20. In company with Deputy Chief Jenkins he visited the Francis home during the afternoon and evening. On their last visit they found evidence of a bawdy house, and arrested all the inmates but three men who managed to make their escape.

Deputy Chief Jenkins told of the raid and with Policemen Ross and Marshall explained to the court that the reputation of the Francis house was that of ill repute. They also gave the women bad characters. The women prisoners had nothing to say in defence and were remanded to jail until tomorrow morning when they will be sentenced.

Baird said he was cooking on a vessel and did not think of the danger he was under by visiting Sheffield street. He went there with a couple of shipmates and was led astray. He said he had a wife and family in England and asked for a chance to get away. Baird was in company with Lucy Byard, the colored woman, when the raid was made.

An Interesting Letter From Archdeacon Raymond, Descriptive of the Voyage Across.

The following letter from Archdeacon Raymond has been received by Mr. J. N. Rogers:

Dear Mr. Rogers: I must write a few lines to you to post on arrival at Liverpool. We have had a favorable passage and hope to be at Liverpool before midnight. Have had no rough weather to speak of, but as I am not a good sailor I cannot say that I have particularly enjoyed the voyage. However, I did not leave home that but for the pleasure of what I should find on the other side and this I trust is all before me. Mrs. Raymond has been on the whole very well all the way across and enters into the spirit of everything. The changes in the navigation of the sea are very wonderful in the last 25 years. Formerly sailing vessels were everywhere. On our trip we did not see one from the time we left St. John until we were off the coast of Ireland. We passed a large number of steamships, some of them quite near—among them the famous Cunard Liner "Lusitania," which makes the voyage from Liverpool to New York in 4-4 days at an average speed of 60 miles a day. The steady progress of a steamship is a surprise to one. From the time we dropped our pilot at Partridge Island the engines have never once paused, nor will they, the captain says, until we land at our destination. All the way we have kept in touch with the world by the "wireless" telegraph. The range of our ship is about 450 miles and we were in touch with Cape Sable, Halifax, Sable Island and Cape Race (on Newfoundland) and on our way across were in conversation with 30 different vessels, most of which were far out of our sight. It adds greatly to the safety of navigation and enables in case of necessity people in mid-atlantic to send messages to their friends from one ship to another on either side of the ocean. We often go up to the "Bridge," as the captain is very friendly to our party—sometimes I stand at the wheel and steer the ship for a little while. The first few nights I did not sleep very well—in fact I could not sleep at all. I enjoy being "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." I said to Capt. Webster: "I suppose, sir, you sleep just as well on board the Lake Champlain as in your bed at home." He said: "Indeed, sir, I sleep a good deal better, for at home I have for four years old youngsters who pester me on the nose about 5 o'clock in the morning."

We had our first service after leaving St. John on Sunday, April 26th, in the fog of the Bay of Fundy. Archdeacon Newham read prayers and Mr. Comben (Methodist minister) read a lesson. Rev. Mr. Owens (one of our missionaries in the N. W.) gave a very nice address. I have acted so far only in the capacity of organist. The Bishop has won golden opinions from all and in his way "the life of the party."

The other day when I was sea sick in my cabin he started down the salon staircase and in a spirit of fun attempted to jump over the step. Being tall he struck his head on the iron top of the doorway and was knocked down at the very feet of the captain and the ship's doctor. He was stunned for a few minutes and the doctor had to take two stitches in the cut. I felt badly as it was on the way to see me that the accident happened.

I shall have to write other letters to all who enquire for me. I hope the S. S. services were good and that the service passed off all right the evening they were presented. Remember me to your and Sunday School teachers, etc.

Yours ever sincerely, W. O. RAYMOND.

MRS. GEORGE W. PARKER DIED THIS MORNING

The death of Mrs. Carrie M. wife of Geo. W. Parker, which took place this morning will be heard of with universal regret. Mrs. Parker has not been well for the past four years. Recently her illness became serious and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by her husband, Geo. W. Parker, and four children, Ralph, Fred, Gerald and Mildred.

She was a daughter of the late Capt. Morton and was in the forty-fifth year of her age.

Deceased was a member of German street church and was before her illness very active in church work. She was greatly beloved by all who knew her for her goodness and the beauty of her character, and in their sad loss her family will have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends.

BOYS AND FIRECRACKERS.

Officer Lawson complains that many boys in Fairville are in the habit of putting off fire cracker and calls attention to the following section of the criminal code:

"Everyone is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to fourteen years imprisonment who intentionally does any act with intent to cause by an explosive substance or compound to cause by an explosion takes place or to cause serious injury to property, whether any explosion takes place or not, and whether any injury to person or property is actually caused or not"

Deputy Chief Jenkins found the three year old daughter of Mrs. Jones, Brussels street, wandering about King street East, yesterday afternoon, and took the lot to Central Station where her mother called for her.
