WINDY CITY HAS HAD STAR RECEIVERS

Chicago Fans Have Seen Great Catchers for 30 Years—Silver Flint
First.

For 30 seasons, almost without an appreciable break, two of the towns upon the big circuits have been favored with strangely uniform good fortune in the protection of a difficult position. During all this long stretch of time the fans of Chicago have been entertained by the first, most artistic and most glorious of catching and during the same period third base has been played in Boston after a fashion that was almost unparalleled.

So persistent has been the good luck of these cities in these particular places that Chicago fans would not know what to say if they saw catching poorly done by the members of the home squad, while the Boston Consumers' Union has been so accustomed to the very best on third that weak fielding at the far corner would seem almost like a crime. Other cities have had terrible times trying to get catchers who could fill the bill up to big league demands. Never has this happened in Chicago. No matter how weak the rest of the team might be, there has always been a great catcher in Chicago and a grand third baseman in the Codfish City.

GOOD MEN FOR 30 YEARS.

Back 30 years ago Silver Flint was the Chicago club's chief backstop, and he was a marvel. At the years named Mike Kelly became Flint's alternative, and the dash and headwork of Kelly, coupled with the reliability and iron strength of Flint, fortified the team tremendously.

When Kelly went and Flint began to fade Tom Daly joined the team and Daly in his youth was a whirlwind catcher. Then came Charlie Farrell, and the Duke was a wonder when he was young and slim, even in the days when he was fat and aged.

In 1880 the brotherhood took Farrell, and Jack Boyle was also brought into play by Comiskey's all-star team. Against these great catchers, who dealt the south side fans good old-fashioned introduced Malachi Kittredge, and "Kit" became head catcher when the team consolidated.

Kittredge resigned for years, sharing the honors toward the last with Tim Donohue, a fine catcher and most lovable comedian. As this powerful pair began to fade, Frank Chance arrived. The burly Chance more than made up for the falling strength of Kitt and Tom, but, in turn, he gave way when John Kling came on the scene. Frank went to first and Kling became head catcher, a position he held undisputed for years, until his own rebellion took him from the aggregation.

ARCHER A STAR.

The sub catcher of the Cubs, Pat Moran, himself of quality about equal to the best of the other teams, was showing good form as Kling's successor when the brilliant Archer was added to the staff.

Down on the South Side meanwhile, through the reign of Kling, Comiskey was depending on Billy Sullivan, and the hardy Turk made good, ranking in the front fight season after season.

What other city can show the series of great catchers paraded at Chicago through a generation's change of time?

Meanwhile Boston was having the same delightful fortune in regard to its third basemen. First, there was Uncle Ezra Sutton, and the old-timers will recall how prettily Uncle played the bag, how well he gathered grounders, and how rifle-like he threw. Sutton was fading, but was not yet a dead one, when Billy Nash came to the club. Nash was a wizard at the bag, and his slugging was a glorious feature of Boston's play year in and year out. In 1880, when Boston had two teams, the standard was set for the work was not lowered, for McGarr, in opposition to Nash, put up magnificent ball.

NATIONALS DECIDE TO PLAY 154 GAMES

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The National League adopted a playing schedule to-night calling for 154 games for the coming season, but it was accomplished only after a majority of the club owners had expressed their opinion that newspaper criticism over the delay was causing unfavorable publicity. Though the wishes of the American League for a 154-game schedule were met, that League's interests are disregarded when it was resolved to stretch the schedule out to October 15. The American League schedule terminates on October 9, although all league contracts with players call for service until October 15. Ebbetts of Brooklyn and Murphy of Chicago insisted on using the players up to the contract time.

Brock & Paterson Defeat Waterbury & Rising

Insurance Down Accountants—L. L. and G. Prove Too Much for the St. Josephs.

Two games were rolled on Brock's alleys last night, the contestants being the Insurance and Accountants being the series for the city league championship, and the Brock & Paterson and Waterbury & Rising quintettes for the Commercial League ditto. Insurance and B. and P. outdid Brock and the length and of the score, the former taking three points and the latter securing all four. Both games were very hard up on both sides. Brock and Paterson were high with an average of 89. Ned Moore, of the Accountants, with 116, captured the single string honors. The Commercial games were rather one-sided, the winners having it all their own way in each string. They were nearly a hundred timbers to the right in the final reckoning. The scores:

THISTLE RINK MADE CURLING RECORD

Blanked Carleton Four With Score of 43—Thistles vs. St. Andrew's Today—Highland Society Cup.

The Thistles and the Carleton clubs competed last night in the McCaffrey Cup series, two rinks on Carleton ice and two on Thistle ice. The West Enders were defeated by a score of 54 to 10.

In addition to the win by the Thistles, a rink on the Thistle ice skipped by A. D. Malcolm against one skipped by Harry Belyea, made a record which is today the current topic of conversation among the curlers. In the eighteen ends the Carleton curlers failed to make one score, while Skip Malcolm finished with a total of 48 points. The high score is not only a record but the fact of the opposing rink not scoring in eighteen ends is also said to be a record.

Mr. Malcolm had as mate D. R. Willet, Joseph Cameron No. 2, and Frank Watson lead. The score by ends was as follows:—1, 1, 4, 4, 4, 1, 3, 3, 2, 1, 2, 2, 2, 1, 2, 2—Total 43.

The Carleton skip was:

HOW THE ELEPHANT IS HUNTED IN INDIA

Interesting Account of the Recent "Keddah" in Mysore

A Most Exciting Sport—Hunt Arranged as Special Entertainment for Distinguished Guests.

In honor of the recent visit of the viceroy to the native state of Mysore, a great elephant drive was arranged to take place at intervals of about three years, and are generally planned in honor of some distinguished personage. The forest where the keddah takes place is about 40 miles from Mysore, and is of typical Indian beauty.

Throughout the jungle wanders one of the Cauey's feeder streams, and on the side of this, where the water flows over a shallow ford about a hundred yards wide, a drive of elephants was effected. The elephants, as often happens, the land slopes gently down on the inner side of the ford, and the elephants were driven back up the other. The elephants were to come down the gentler slope, and after making the passage if the ford take land again at a gap in the opposite bank. The watchers took station at a good viewpoint on the higher bank, some 50 feet above the water.

BEATING UP ELEPHANTS

The beat was carried out with marvelous skill. The elephants had been before the beaters for eight days, and were brought up gently by a line of smaller beasts, such as deer, antelope, and so on, and were driven back up the other. The elephants were to come down the gentler slope, and after making the passage if the ford take land again at a gap in the opposite bank. The watchers took station at a good viewpoint on the higher bank, some 50 feet above the water.

Every eye was strained to catch the first glimpse of the approaching herd, and what was really only a few minutes of waiting seemed an age. At last a dark clump of elephants emerged from the undergrowth, lumbered into the stream with a tremendous splash, and the herd was driven back up the other. The elephants were to come down the gentler slope, and after making the passage if the ford take land again at a gap in the opposite bank. The watchers took station at a good viewpoint on the higher bank, some 50 feet above the water.

Those who are interested in elephant catching in other parts of the country will be interested to hear that the Mysore authorities have this year introduced the system of "keddahs," instead of keeping them tethered head and foot to trees. By the old system the elephants got their heads up by the tethering ropes, and it was impossible to approach them to attend their wounds. Sometimes half the beasts were actually dead. The keddahs are about as big as good-sized horse boxes. One animal is confined in each. There is a big hole in the side of the keddah, and it is easy to syringe any wounds caused in the preliminary operations. The problem of watering the animals is also greatly simplified. Troubled

Every Winter With Severe Colds.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Cured Her.

Mrs. W. J. Hammond, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I beg to say that I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my youngest girl, who was troubled every winter with bronchitis and very severe colds. At night she would keep us all awake with her coughing until I tried your Syrup, which gave her instant relief. After the first bottle was finished I got more, and always kept a bottle in her room at night. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is certainly a wonderful thing in a case like the above mentioned one. I have taken every opportunity to recommend it to all my friends and relatives."

There is nothing to equal "Dr. Wood's" for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Pain or Tightness in the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

It prevents Pneumonia and Consumption.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S SCHOOLS.

The annual report of the Chief Superintendent of Education on the schools of New Brunswick, for the year 1908-9, has been presented to the Legislature. Mr. Carter is in the pleasing position of having to record during his first year of office, the best school year in the history of the province. His report on this account is of rather more than ordinary interest. He finds that there has been a most satisfactory increase in almost every particular, an increase of 39 schools during the first term and 87 during the second term; an increase of 41 teachers in the first term, and 51 in the second term; an increase of 2221 pupils for the first term and 1542 for the second term; an average daily attendance of 62.53 for the first term and 62.23 for the second term--the highest in the history of the province; an increased enrollment in the cities and towns notably in Fredericton, Moncton, Milltown, Campbellton, Newcastle, Sussex, St. Andrews, Sackville, St. George and Grand Falls and even greater attendance in the country districts; a small increase in the number of male teachers during the first term of the year, which, although less than desirable, has been very gratifying.

From the various detailed statements included in the report the following facts are learned. During the year a total of 1867 schools were in operation conducted by 1544 teachers and with a total attendance during the year of 67,745 pupils. The proportion of population at school was one in 1.84 during the second term. Of the pupils, 1082 were under six years of age, 67,478 were between six and fifteen years, and 2,480 were over fifteen years. The boys numbered 31,489 for the second term and the girls 36,256. The average daily attendance during the session was 44,092, an increase in the first term of 3,578. The number of pupils in high schools, that is in grades nine to twelve, increased during the year from 1,292 in 1908 to 2,102 in 1909.

Small decreases in attendance are noted in the cases of St. John, Woodstock, Chatham and several smaller centres. Of the total number of teachers during the year, 251 were males and 1,294 were females.

Superintendent Carter notes that while the supply of teachers during the past year has been better than for a few years previously, there has been a scarcity in the second term and more local licenses have been granted than is desirable particularly in the French districts. In the English districts the supply of teachers is not equal to the demand and much broken time is the result. The conduct of neglectful trustees in permitting schools to remain closed for one reason and another is condemned, as is also the false economy practiced by some districts quite able to engage qualified instructors.

In the report is included a statement showing the increase in the teachers' salaries during the past nine years, and while Mr. Carter notes that the average increase has been substantial, yet it is by no means as large as it should have been, nor have these increases been proportionate to the advances in the cost of living which are considered in all other professions. "It is imperative," says Mr. Carter, "that if the present standard of the teaching staff is to be maintained, better salaries must be paid, and this example should be set by the graded schools."

In 1909 the expenditure from provincial revenues in payment of grants to teachers of the various classes was $190,854.88, as compared with $182,462.70 in 1908 and $160,552.53 in 1907.

From the summary of present grants for public school service, Mr. Carter finds that $26,112.13 was disbursed by the education office during the year. He remarks that the amounts voted at annual school meetings would total $239,061.37. On this he estimates the total expenditure for educational purposes in this province during the year at $295,709.89. Mention is made of the establishment of school gardens at different places, the observance of Arbor Day, distribution of literature dealing with agricultural subjects, and of the steps taken looking towards the introduction of physical and military training in the public schools. Mr. Carter goes on record as being heartily in favor of physical training for both boys and girls and states that a marked improvement is already noticeable in the students of the Normal School, because of this training. In reviewing the reports received from the inspectors, Mr. Carter finds that five new school houses are reported in Inspector Hebert's district, six in Inspector Doucet's district, three in Inspector Llanos's and one in Inspector O'Brien's. New buildings are contemplated in Moncton and Woodstock and the Consolidated School at Kingston, to replace the one burned a short time ago will be in readiness at the beginning of the school year. The new buildings in St. John, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Rustico are spoken of as strictly up-to-date.

A local paper which is given to considerable self praise in the matter of circulation, admits the loss of more than one hundred subscribers during January. It may be mentioned that the Star has increased its circulation by between four hundred and five hundred during the past two months.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

HELPING THE OTHER FELLOW.

When I was a boy, a half-demented man (as he was thought to be) used to travel through our section of country every summer.

In November he disappeared and we would not see him until the last of the next May.

Where he spent the late autumn, the winter and the early spring was a mystery.

One day I learned to expect his coming as regularly and surely as we did the coming of the birds, and he and the birds never disappointed us.

He was a man apparently on the shifting line of middle age, with a clean and neat face, his eyes were clear and bright, his hair was black and his teeth were white. He was a man of a beard but I am sure that the lips must have been sensitive and kind.

In spite of his work and his traveling in all kinds of weather, our wet, muddy roads, though they were clean and neat. His clothes were old and patched, (he did it himself) but never ragged.

That he was better born and better bred than we boys dreamed I know now as I remember his clean habits and his invariable courtesy to women. No matter how poor and lowly they were, he treated them as equals. He was a man of a beard but I am sure that the lips must have been sensitive and kind.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Please tell me how to make friends. I want to be friends with people, but somehow almost everybody thinks I am proud and haughty and really I am not at all," a little girl wrote me the other day.

And for her sake and the sake of any who may be in similar case with her I am going to quote a sentence of Emerson that I used the other day.

"The only way to make a friend is to be one."

When I hear people bewailing their inability to make friends readily I always think of that quotation and long to ask--

"You want to make friends, but are you ready first to be friends?"

Are YOU?

That you means anyone who does not make friends quite so readily as he would like.

When you meet new persons is your first thought to do something for them, to set them at ease, to be friendly towards them, or are you thinking about how you can make a good impression upon them?

An over eager desire to make friends almost always defeats itself.

Forget that you are trying to make your new acquaintance like you and concentrate on liking him and see if you do not find that you have made a friend.

I know that people are often unjustly stigmatized as being proud and haughty when they are merely different and self-conscious, just as the little girl who wrote to me undoubtedly is.

And I realize that difference and self-consciousness are hard to conquer because the more you think about trying not to be self-conscious the more self-conscious you always get.

But there is one perfectly good way to get over these big barriers to friendship, and that is to think so hard about other people that you won't have time or energy to think about yourself and how you are appearing.

If my little girl will try that rule for a time I am pretty sure that she will find that people will soon come to regard her as proud and haughty.

In speaking of a woman who, although extremely good and generous, somehow failed to make many friends, Alice Freeman Palmer explains the failure as the result of--

"An absence of heart culture; of that sunshine which melts its own way."

Many people who are not actively proud and haughty are passively at fault in that, like this woman, they lack "heart culture; that sunshine which melts its own way."

Do YOU?

Perhaps the people who feel that the world has not done their desire for friendship justice; who want more friends than they yet possess; who feel within themselves the possibility of being loved and loving more than they yet have, will do well to take the pledge of friendship that the great president of Wellesley College, whom I quote so much, made to herself--

"I will give all the years have brought to my own soul.

"God help me to give what He gave--myself--and help me to make that self worth something to somebody; teach me to love all as He has loved for the sake of the infinite possibilities locked up in every human soul."

Sometimes it is quite impossible to make old glassware bright and clear. If strong ammonia is poured over it and it is then scrubbed well with a brush and rinsed in warm water it will, when dried, look quite as bright as one could wish.

A simple water icing for cakes is made by taking two cups of confectioners' sugar and adding enough water to make a thick paste. Then sprinkle in a pinch of cream of tartar. Beat well, and if not stiff enough, add a little more sugar. Flavor with any extract.

The cleaning of sauce-pans is very imperfectly understood in many houses. Each time a sauce-pan is used it should be put over a fire, filled with clear cold water to which has been added a little soda. Heat this, pour it out and scour the pan with soap and sand.

Tough steak should be chopped and mixed with diced potatoes and then baked. Grated cheese over this dish improves the flavor.

Four peppercorns, four cloves and one teaspoonful of mixed herbs are the proper flavoring for one quart of water for soup.

A saucer of baked beans can be heated with catsup in a pan and a spoonful on toasted crackers serves nicely for the noonday luncheon.

When next thyme oysters, dip them first in mayonnaise and then in crumbs before immersing in the deep fat. They will be found delicious.

Wash the face at night and morning with a mild astringent, such as two grains of alum to two ounces of water.

Fashions and Fads

Materials offered for summer show a very riot of rich pastel colorings. A bright bow of velvet at the neck, either in contrast with or matching the suit and hat, will be worn this spring.

For evening, fewer jewels are seen, as the rich embroideries and spacings seem to be sufficiently brilliant by themselves.

Very pretty are the flowers of stiffened lace or great roses of gold or silver gauze, which are often the only trimming on the dress.

Many of the tailored suits have wide striped skirts for their linings. Colored linings are more in vogue than for some seasons past.

All the old shapes that were used in the past are to be permanently modified this spring, and even in the ball room black is worn in many cases. With the return to favor of the three-quarter and elbow length sleeves, which are prominent on the new spring modes, the long glove will again be worn.

The Royal Chef, which was to have opened on Friday, Feb. 25th will follow the Huntley Company, appearing for the last three nights of the same week.

CORBETT WILL HAVE JEFF IN THE BEST OF CONDITION

When a trainer of a fighter pays proper attention to his own condition the probabilities are that he is going to send his man into the ring as good as hands and mind can make him. This is what "Jim" Corbett is doing preparatory to taking Jeffries in hand. Not a day passes that Corbett does not do some sort of exercise, so that he will be ready to "handle" Jeff when the time arrives.

It is not that Corbett intends to be wallowed around the training quarters by the big fellow, but he wants to have his wind good and be able to stay a long route with Jeffries so as to give him lengthy ring exercises as well as long road work. Corbett is not going to be the obstacle for Jeffries to punch. There will be other men to do the rough work. He will be the lively trainer, the one who will keep him stepping about the ring for six, eight or ten rounds a day, after he has finished his limbering exercises such as punching the bag, wrestling and other pastimes which a fighter has to go through when he is preparing for a fight.

Corbett wants to bring the championship back to the white fighters, and he is sacrificing lucrative engagements to be with Jeffries, both in his early preparations and at the ring side. Corbett knows "Jeff" like a book, and he will look after the small details to send him into the ring fit to stay a week, if necessary, if the fighter's constitution will stand the strain.

In asking Corbett to accept the position of master of the training camp, Jeffries has done a wise thing. What he needs most Corbett can help him to—speed and staying quality. He has every other necessary qualification. He can stand the most severe punishment, and after a long session he has a knockout punch the first time opportunity presents itself. Consequently, all that he needs is what Corbett will endeavor to bring back—speed and stamina.

Corbett deserves much national credit of the part he is taking in the prospective championship. Few there are who would give up high salaries and engagements to take charge of a training camp, but there is a lot of patriotic pride in Corbett, and always was, hence his participation in the preparation of Jeffries. If in later days of Jeffries' training Corbett sends out word that Jeffries is as good as never was, or even that he is good enough to win, it will be a signal to the speculators to get into the market with Jeffries' money, for Corbett will know what he is talking about.

Of course it is natural for the trainer of every fighter to have positive belief in his man, and they usually buoy him up to the winning pitch, but in this case Corbett knows just how good Jeffries has been in his previous fights, and if he ever returns to that stage in the opinion of Corbett, and Corbett, with all confidence, predicts a victory for Jeffries, there is no reason to look further for the winner, for there is not one person in one thousand who has seen Jeffries and Johnson in championship action who would have given Johnson a 19 to 1 chance seven years ago.

In his letters to friends Corbett says he expects to be knocked out many a time during his tuition of Jeffries, but he hardly means that. He is not going to butt into that left or that short jolt with the right if he can avoid it when such things are not necessary. He will do more jabbing and getting away than jumping in and receiving stiff punches. He will work as much like Johnson as he can, teaching Jeffries as much as possible the Johnson tactics. That will be about the line Corbett will follow in training Jeffries. It looks as if "Jim" Corbett was as much concerned over the fight as Jeffries, only he won't get as much money out of it.

JUDGE LONGEY DELIVERS AN ABLE ADDRESS HERE

"Some National Problems" Theme—Many Hear Him—Declares Maritime Provinces Will Continue to Supply the Brains of Canada

"The Maritime Provinces will continue for some time to come to perform the humble duty they have heretofore performed, that of supplying the brains of the Dominion." Such were the words in which Hon. J. Wilberforce Longey, Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, summed up the position of this portion of Canada at the present time, in his address on "Some National Problems," delivered before the Canadian Club of St. John last night. Judge Longey made this remark in connection with his discussion of the development of the Canadian West and stated also that until that great new country filled with population the provinces of the east must content themselves with developing the resources they had, as it was impossible to divert the stream of immigration now setting westward.

The address of Judge Longey was an exceedingly able one and was received with applause by the large number of men who attended the Canadian Club luncheon at Keith's last evening. The president of the club, M. E. Agar, occupied the chair, with the speaker of the evening on his right and Mayor Bullock on his left. Mr. Agar introduced Judge Longey to the audience and took the opportunity of calling to the attention of his hearers the claim of the Canadian Forestry Association, which is to meet in annual convention in Fredericton shortly.

Judge Longey in dealing with his subject, began with the Confederation of the provinces of British North America into the Dominion of Canada. That confederation, he stated, was one of the greatest events of the later half of the nineteenth century, not in itself but on account of what followed it. At the time of its formation the Dominion was small, in extent of territory, but within a few years its people added 3,000,000 square miles of territory to their country. It was a bold act, but one which no one had regretted. That territory had been opened up by the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The public utilities of the province were becoming of greater necessity, and more importance annually. It had been suggested that the government should take over the telephone company, but within a few years its people added 3,000,000 square miles of territory to their country. It was a bold act, but one which no one had regretted. That territory had been opened up by the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Longey asked if the government could not decide the question referred to it under the telephone act. Hon. Mr. Hazen said the telephone act provided that the government could take over the telephone company by paying ten per cent more than the amount invested and that the company could not increase its tolls when the earnings reached an eight per cent annual dividend. This bill should prove a great benefit to the province. The Nova Scotia government had last year paid a compliment to the government of New Brunswick in copying the audit act passed by this legislature and perhaps it was well that the compliment should be returned.

Mr. Robinson asked if it was proposed to include provincial railways in the list of public utilities over which the board would have control. Hon. Mr. Hazen said that was a matter for consideration and that suggestions from hon. members which would tend to improve the bill were solicited.

Hon. Mr. Hazen suggested that to expedite the business of the house it would be well to have all legislation introduced as early as possible. On the invitation of the government, the Canadian Forestry Association would hold its annual convention here on Wednesday and Thursday next. Sessions would be held in this chamber and would no doubt prove of a very interesting nature. It was desirable that the house would not sit on those days, but by Friday it was hoped to have a number of bills ready to go before the different committees.

MR. COPP.

The debate on the address was continued by Mr. Copp in forcible speech, criticising the government's agricultural and horse importation policy. In the appointment of a horticultural expert, the government, he pointed out, were following an example of their predecessors which they had previously opposed. Referring to the Cuban potato market, he said that all the overment had done was to buy a second-hand stove for the C. P. warehouse in St. John, for which they taxed dealers three cents a barrel. He strongly advocated better school books, he said, were costing more now than formerly and the province was paying the difference.

Regarding the Valley Railway, he was struck with a want of definiteness about the premier's statement. He failed to give any definite assurance as to what would be done or when. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had given his answer without any qualifications, conditions or anything, and his willingness to operate the road was beyond dispute. The premier now says he hopes to announce something at no late date. The time had come when this project should no longer be a political football. He read a letter from Richard Wheeler of Florenceville, a school teacher, who wrote that the conditions proposed for pensions for school teachers were such that there were perhaps not more than two persons in the province who would qualify. He claimed that the government had not carried out its pledges to the Liberal party fairly and had dismissed Liberals from office and had drawn a line and had thrown down the gauntlet to the Liberal party. There was one professed Liberal in the government, he said, who had distorted the spirit and word of the Highway Act to injure the Liberal party in the elections. Road work was done at unseasonable times just to keep party heaters together. He did not mind meeting opponents face to face, but when a man pretends to be a friend and was really stabbing one in the back it was unfair warfare. If a man wanted to join the Conservative party he ought to do so manfully. He hoped that the session would be a profitable one for the country.

From Janie: "You write that out of consideration for me you have stopped smoking for good. That was just lovely of you, William, and you may depend that I greatly appreciate it."

From Phyllis: "Billy, boy, it's just ripping. You're the dandy kid! Just to think that you would swear off

From Marjorie: "To think that you've quit smoking, William! I was so surprised! Of course I always know that you care for me, but to think that, as you say, you've made this sacrifice on my account—why, it's positively noble of you!"

From his mother: "Will, my son, this proves your love for me. Father is inclining a cheek to show that he appreciates the fact that you think enough of your parents to give up smoking for them."

CROUP

THERE IS NOTHING that strikes terror to the hearts of parents more than to be awakened in the night by the ringing cough which accompanies an attack of croup. The child may retire with nothing but a slight cold and a few hours later the family be aroused by the ominous symptoms. Every home where there are small children should be prepared for these sudden attacks, as prompt treatment is necessary. Do not experiment with remedies of doubtful value, but get

Mr. Homer Krohn, of Lisbon, Iowa, in a letter to the manufacturer of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy writes: "I have used your medicine for my little boy, who has been coughing for some time. It has not only cured him, but it has also cured me. I have used it for my wife and she has been cured. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.

"We guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to cure a child of croup, whooping cough, colds, and all other coughs. If it does not, we will refund the money. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.

Attacks of croup are most likely to occur during the early winter months, and every family with young children should be prepared for it. Keep a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY in your home. It only costs a quarter, large size 50 cents. Your druggist sells it.

AS TO ATHLETICISM AMONG THE YOUNG

Its Evils in Great Britain Have Been Exaggerated

Games Do More for Youth Than Mental Toll, Declares Medical Association.

A feature of the last meeting of the British Medical Association was the discussion of athleticism, the medical aspect of the subject being reviewed at length. Many British authorities took part in the discussion. The conclusion was reached that the evils of athleticism in Great Britain have been exaggerated, and that outdoor sports should be encouraged. In reviewing the discussion the Medical Record says: "The first speaker stated that with respect to mortality, in connection with games among schoolboys and in colleges, he had collected information that the roll of deaths from or during athletics during twenty years in a number of large schools, with an attendance of more than 5,000, and in a university with 2,000 undergraduates, was seven. "As to injury to health as the result of athleticism opinions were somewhat divided. Clement Dukes, physician to one of the largest schools in England, held that physical and mental education should coincide. According to him, mental education is pressed to its extreme limit of endurance in all cases, and transgresses the limit in those deficient in stamina; this tendency must be counteracted by a deliberate method of physical education, whose aim should be the just equilibrium of the two. In discussing the beneficial effects of athleticism, Dukes defines it briefly and generally as the temperance of genuine physical exercise, the various modes in which temperance in exercise exhibits itself consisting of excessive exercise, improper exercise, or exercise unadapted to the age or strength of the individual, exercise taken at the wrong time of the day, or exercise unadapted to the season of the year. "The points urged to avoid temperance in exercise are (1) Thorough physical examination; (2) Individual apportionment of exercise consequent on the examination; (3) Medical control over all severe exercise, so that even those who are physically fit shall submit themselves to appropriate training for the exertion. It is over-exercise, then, that injures, and not exercise per se, which is beneficial and necessary. "As to the manner in which temperance in exercise acts prejudicially upon the individual, the heart is the organ which most frequently suffers, but at the same time it is not quite clear that temperance in physical exercises alone is ever wholly responsible for injuries to the heart, for instance, Houver, in 'Oster's System of Medicine' states that 'up to the present time there exists no absolute pathological and clinical proof of acute passive dilatation and death from excessive muscular exercise; although there are excellent physiological and clinical reasons for believing they occur, there always lurks the suspicion of other contributing factors in such cases, namely, a remnant of former infection, congenital defects, or manner of life. "Clifford Allibut is of the opinion that the incidence of infectious diseases is an element of the utmost importance. 'Among these infections he would place influenza in the front rank, but would also include severe colds as a bad cold has a quite definite influence on the heart. "Another speaker in this discussion, Sir James Barry, was altogether against any abolition of or even decrease of games at schools or colleges, for he held that the more hazardous the game the better it was for the development of the character of the individual. He took the view that it might be well if youths entering the arduous contests were under medical supervision and advised rather than hindered, always provided that the candidate has normal organs and is in good condition. There is probably no one who would seriously advance a proposition that games are not necessary to the health of schoolboys and young men. The make for character more than does mental toll. There would seem, however, to be no need that such games should involve excessive physical exercise. "The tendency of this country was until recently, it is not even yet, that games should be characterized by temperate zeal. The remarks of the speaker, particularly to the fact that the season is short and the participants in college football are comparatively few, the list of fatalities and deaths has been greater in one season than the whole of the casualties and fatalities which have occurred in thirteen large English schools and in one university during a period of twenty years. "This reads like temperance in games indeed. "Physical exercise taken properly is good for all, but abused is harmful to the individual and indirectly to the race."

A WONDERFUL REMEDY

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Disorders. Falling of the womb, hemorrhages, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc. etc. are all relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks or months treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an applied treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help have a beneficial influence, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing, and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it, that I will send, absolutely free, a 3c box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRY, WINDSOR, ONT.

CITY'S ANNUAL BATCH OF BILLS

Several Important Ones to Fredericton

Continental in Assessment—Pledge Appointment of Police Head in Council.

The Common Council yesterday decided to send some very important bills to the Provincial Legislature at Fredericton. One was a bill providing that 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, and 1915, the rate of assessment would be greater than in 1910. Another provides that the appointment of the chief of police be in the power of the Common Council instead of the Provincial Government. The bill dealing with the assessment rate was altered on the motion of Ald. Baxter. Ald. Potts was father of the idea. He placed the rate of $1.50, but it was changed to $1.00. There was no reason why that rate should be fixed. Ald. Baxter made his motion to get over that objection and to retain the principle of the bill. Ald. Potts accepted the amendment. Some of the aldermen opposed the rate, arguing that a low rate should be obtained by decreasing the expenditure. The vote on the motion was as follows: Yea—Potts, Baxter, Vanwart, Sproul, Holder, Hayes. Nay—Elihu, Lively, Koller, Kelley, Smith, Lytle. The bill for the vesting of the appointment of the chief of police in the Common Council was adopted on Ald. Hayes' motion. Ald. Byles brought the matter up. It was the general opinion that the police should be appointed by the council. A few argued that the chief's independence of civil control was an advantage. Ald. Byles also wanted the appointment of recorder and police magistrate vested in the Common Council. The council also adopted a bill to give the city the right to sue in Simonds as it does in Lancaster. On the suggestion of Ald. Sproul it was decided to ask the province for a bill providing that names cannot be placed on the voters' list later than three weeks before the election. A bill providing for assessment for grants for charitable purposes to the extent of $2,000, was adopted. There was also adopted a bill to provide for the enlargement of the powers of the City Court so it may try cases in which amounts up to $300 are involved. This bill also provides that the police clerk shall represent the city in cases of violation of city by-laws and that a process of this court shall run into the county. Some other minor bills will also be sent to Fredericton.

JAIL FOR MONGTON HOTEL PROPRIETRESS

MONGTON, N. B., Feb. 18.—At a meeting of the directors of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company this afternoon, a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on the preferred stock, and a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on the common stock were declared, payable on March 1st to shareholders of record on Feb. 2nd. In addition, a bonus of five dollars a share to holders of common stock on record March 12, was declared payable March 21st.

P. Giffins, manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway and of the steamship lines which the road owns, passing through here last evening en route to Boston, made a definite announcement to the D. A. R. a new steam service between Boston and Digby, which is to be inaugurated this year. The S. S. Boston is the boat which will be put on at first, and she will make her opening trip on the first of May. The Boston is one of the two boats which the D. A. R. took over from the Boston and Digby Steamship Co. when the D. A. R. was organized. By the addition of a regular service between Boston and Digby, the D. A. R. expects to make Digby even more of a popular summer resort than it is at the present, and at the same time to be able to handle its heavy summer-time traffic between Boston and the Provinces much more effectively.

The Wrangle Continues During Inquiry Into the St. John Dredging Contract.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—The dredging contract for St. John Harbor and Courtenay Bay awarded to the Maritime Dredging and Construction Company was before the public accounts committee this morning. Mr. La Fleur, chief engineer of the Public Works Department being examined by Dr. Daniel. The whole work contemplated involves an expenditure of over four million dollars, but the contract awarded to the Maritime Dredging and Construction Company is only for the dredging of the western side of the harbor, though it is stated in the contract that the Government may require the company to do the dredging at the eastern side of the harbor. It appeared from the evidence that while the original tender of the company was given as 50 cents per cubic yard for the Beacon Bay work and 25 cents per cubic yard for the Courtenay Bay work on the excavation of other rock or boulders, the company afterwards agreed to do the whole work for both Bay and Harbor at 25 cents per cubic yard, which was the tender price given by the Dominion Dredging Company. In estimating the cost of the work on the figures submitted in the tenders Mr. La Fleur found that the estimated cost of the Maritime Dredging and Construction Company tender for dredging both Harbor and Bay would amount to $4,000,000, and for the Dominion Dredging Company's tender it would be $4,250,000.

SHAW WRITES A PLAY FOR REVENGE.

Avows He Has Done It to Annoy Critics for Which He is Sorry.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—George Bernard Shaw has written a play to annoy critics. Of course, everybody is anxious to see it, though as a rule Shaw's work does not "catch on" here at home as it does in America. The new play is entitled "Misalliance." Shaw frankly avows that he wrote it "for revenge on the critics who denounced the talkiness of 'Getting Married.'"

He declares: "I wish it to be known that in 'Misalliance' there will be no division into acts, no change of scene, no silly plot, not a scrap of action; nothing but Shaw and some very good acting."

"I am sorry for my old colleagues, the critics. But it will do them good."

FAST FREIGHT CREW HAS HEAP OF TROUBLE

The crew of the fast freight which is due to leave here at 7:30 p.m., over the C.P.R., encountered all kinds of trouble before they got away last evening. As the train was making up, about 6:30, the rear car left the rails, which were in a bad state after the snow storm. To obtain working room the crew replaced the car on the rails, a shunting engine was taken around to the front of the train to handle the other cars ahead. The shunting engine also refused duty, and derailed at the head of the train near the Mill street crossing. This left the body of the fast freight blocked at either end, and all hopes had to be abandoned of getting out on time. The locomotive proved to be in a bad hole, for it was nearly four hours before the train was returned to the tracks. The engine off, the crew turned again to the derailed car, and it had to be placed on the track again to allow the train to be 'removed to another track where a traction power could be placed ahead of her. This process occupied some time, and it was an hour after schedule before the freight was on its way. Lateness is something of a novelty in its case, as it is made up here.

Throw Away Your Drugs

Dr. McLaughlin's
Electric Belt
Will Make You
Strong and Well

That's what a man does with his bottle of medicine as soon as he begins to feel the effects of my Belt—turn it down the sink and throw it away. If you want a stimulant, take whiskey. If you want permanent health, strength and vigor, fill your nerves with electricity. Don't drug Drugs are stimulants, narcotics, and poisons, you know these things don't cure. Take an inventory of yourself. Don't further wreck your nervous system and befuddle your brain with DRUGS, stimulants, but use the great, wonderful power, Electricity, as I apply it with my Electric Belt. No sensible man now uses drugs to build up his strength or to cure his aches and pains. Drugs are unnatural and what is natural must necessarily be harmful. The most eminent physicians and scientists of the world now agree with me that electricity is the basis of human vitality, and that we cannot feel well and strong unless we have a normal supply of it in our bodies. Electricity is the life of the nerves and of the various organs and there is no way in which it can be applied that is so convenient and effective as with my Belt. Applied while you sleep, it directs a soothing, invigorating current in glowing warmth through all the organs of the body.

If You Have Rheumatism, Nervousness, Backache, Kidney, Liver and Stomach Troubles, or if You Have a Pain or an Ache, Etc.

My Electric Belt Will Cure You

It has made thousands of ailing men and women strong and healthy. It will do the same for you.

Dear Sir:— I have worn your belt for three weeks, and write to let you know that I find it very good, indeed. It has helped my heart. I can sleep better, and the weak spells are becoming less frequent and less troublesome, and I hope soon to be able to report a complete cure. Yours very truly, JAMES W. BARRIE, Sussex, N. B., December 7, 1909.

Dear Sir:— I have used your Belt now for about four months and as you have cured me of stomach trouble, which I had for years. The pain left after I had worn the Belt for one month, and I have not had any since. I can recommend your Belt to any one to be a good article. Yours, truly, J. D. WHALEN.

my next, with especial electrical attachment, will restore your vigor. It will check all loss of vitality, and strengthen every organ of the body. It cures Nervous Debility, Yawncade, Rheumatism, Lame Back, Constipation. If you haven't confidence in electricity, let me treat you at my risk. I will give you the Belt on trial, without one cent of risk to yourself. All I ask is that you give me security for the Belt while you wear it and you can

His detection resulted from the efforts of the Thiel Detective Agency.

EMPRESS OF IRELAND

HERE ON HER FIRST TRIP

Had a Rough Passage—Frederick Villiers

One of Those on Board—Many Passengers Landed.

On her first trip of the season, the big C. P. R. steamship Empress of Ireland, in command of Captain J. V. Forster, reached port and docked at No. 3 berth at 8 o'clock this morning from Liverpool via Halifax. The Empress had on board nearly 1100 passengers, several hundred of the number coming around to St. John.

The Empress encountered rough weather throughout the trip across. Gale winds were experienced. The steamer arrived off the island at 5:30 o'clock this morning. She had a very good run from Halifax.

On board the Empress were 76 saloon, 252 second cabin and 747 third class passengers. There was little sick among the passengers. Since her visit here in April last the boat has been thoroughly overhauled. Many minor improvements have been made, making the steamer one of the finest on the Atlantic.

The officers are as follows: V. R. O'Reilly, R. N. R., chief officer; W. Sampson, chief engineer; F. W. Atherton, purser; Arthur Conner, purser; A. W. Guade, chief steward.

Among the cabin passengers on the steamer was Frederick Villiers, of London, the famous correspondent.

Mr. Villiers is proceeding to the Canadian Northwest, which he intends to write up.

Commander W. H. O. Margeson, R. N., was also passenger on the Empress. He was accompanied by Mrs. Margeson.

ONE HAD A WOODEN LEG; THE OTHER SPRAINED FOOT

Two Common Drunks Arrested Last Night—Boys in Court for Throwing Snowballs.

Two drunken men were arrested by the police last night. One was a cat, and the other a dog. He pleaded guilty in the police court this morning and was fined four dollars or ten days. The second to be arrested was Michael Landers, who was not taken into court this morning, as he had a sprained ankle. Last night Dr. Berry was called to the cells to attend to the injured man. Charles Harrington and Fred Totten were charged by Officer Lucas with throwing snowballs on King street. They pleaded guilty and were remanded for a time.

COAL BOAT LOOKED LIKE AN ICEBERG

Donalson Co's Steamers Met Rough Weather on the Run Here From Sydney

The Black Diamond line steamer Cocoon, from Sydney, and the steamer Adventure from Loughboro, arrived last night with full cargoes of coal. The steamers had rough weather, and heavy seas were encountered Thursday. The sea broke over the ship, which were deeply laden. The Cocoon especially was covered with ice, for so quickly as the spray would fly over the ship it would freeze. From the water line to the masthead, rigging, boom, deck houses, pilot house, etc., are all coated with ice.

The Loughboro is at the Dominion Coal Co. piers and the Cocoon is at the McLeod wharf.

SARDINIAN IS NOW SEVENTEEN DAYS OUT

Allan Liner Still Not Reported—Has Sixty Passengers—Probably Met Heavy Weather.

Donaldson Liner Salacia will sail this afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock for Glasgow. The steamer will carry a large general cargo from this port. There is a shipment of cattle on the Salacia. Two passengers are aboard the steamer.

Allan Liner Gramplan with 800 passengers on board, reached Halifax at noon today from Liverpool. The steamer had a fair passage across. She will reach this port on Sunday evening. Still no report has been received from the Allan Liner Sardinian from London via Havre. The steamer is now seventeen days out and should turn up at any time. The Sardinian has about sixty passengers on board. As the steamer usually makes the trip in fourteen or fifteen days, very rough weather is doubtless being met with. The Sardinian will make a call at Halifax on the return trip to London.

MISS THOMSON HEARD IN ATTLEBORO CHURCH

Referring to Miss Blenda Thomson of this city, an Attleboro, Mass., paper of last week contains the following: A New York singer is to be heard at the sing in church next Sunday evening. Miss Blenda Thomson paid a brief visit to friends in Attleboro last week and was persuaded by a few who heard her sing, to return from Boston where she had spent the week, and sing in church next Sunday evening. Miss Thomson is a contralto of remarkable depth and power. She was formerly soloist at the Church of Saint David's, in St. John, and is now studying oratorio at the Carnegie Hall studio, New York.
