

LIFE HELD NO FURTHER HOPE FOR GEN. NOGI

Determined to Die at Time of National Calamity HIS WILL IS MADE PUBLIC

Jap General Leaves Body to Medical College and Wants Only His Teeth, Hair and Nails Placed in Grave.

Tokio, Sept. 16.—The will of General Count Maresuke Nogai, who with his wife, the Countess Nogi, with the idea and purpose of demonstrating their devotion to their departed sovereign, Mutsuhito, committed suicide at the moment the body of the late emperor was started on its journey to the tomb, was published today.

The Japanese warrior says that he follows the emperor because his service are no longer required in this world. He had often sought to die, he adds, and chose as the occasion for his departure from this life, the present great national calamity under which the country is laboring.

Nogi's Will.

A document left by General Nogai on the date of the night of Sept. 12, twenty-four hours previous to the taking of his life in a manner that startled the world, and it indicates that the death of the emperor had not been decided upon when the instrument was prepared.

General Nogai distributes his property among his wife and friends, and makes donations to a number of public institutions. He says that while his wife lives, the house of Nogi may be maintained, but after her death the line will be extinguished.

The Port Arthur hero suggests that his body be given to medical college, requesting only that his teeth and nails be buried in the grave.

Togo Mourns.

Admiral Togo visited the death chamber in which the body of the late Count Nogi reposed and remained for a long time kneeling. He was deeply affected. Prince Katsura, lord chamberlain, representing the emperor also paid homage to the dead general. The city of Tokyo has presented Secretary Knox with a gloriose flower vase and other gifts.

HEARST READY WITH A BOARD FOR "TEDDY?"

New York Newspaper Owner Expected to Produce Evidence that Standard Oil Men Aided Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—John D. Archibald, George W. Perkins and C. Roosevelt are to be asked by the senate committee investigating campaign contributions, to produce any correspondence they may have pertaining to "financial transactions" between the first two men and members of congress, or between them and Mr. Roosevelt when he was president.

Investigation of this first phase of the campaign contribution was authorized by the LaFollette-Purser resolution just before congress adjourned. Chairman Clapp, of the investigating committee, after a conference today with Senator Tomerline, of Ohio, stated that the committee would open this line of inquiry by asking for the production of letters when three witnesses named are on the stand.

William E. Hearst is expected by Chairman Clapp to produce copies of many letters alleged to have been written to members of congress by Mr. Archibald. The members of the house and senate who may be called upon to submit their private letters to the committee, will not be named until after the investigation begins Sept. 30.

PROPOSED PEACE SETTLEMENT BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY

TO ASSIST LIVE STOCK IN THE WEST

Hon. Robert Rogers Appoints Commission Which, It is Hoped, Will Help to Revive Live Stock Industry.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—A commission of importance to the live stock and ranching industry of Western Canada has been appointed by Hon. Robert Rogers. The commission, it is understood, will consist of E. E. Taylor, chief ranch inspector at Calgary; George H. Pope, Winnipeg, and Clarence F. Graham, of Winnipeg. It also will investigate the whole question of the grazing leases in the West and will establish what lands can be set aside as suitable only for grazing purposes. More permanency will be given to the leases.

The Minister by the appointment of this commission hopes to be able to assist in reviving the declining stock industry of the West. One of the main reasons which has been assigned for the disappearance in recent years of western cattle from the market, is the unsatisfactory condition of the grazing leases. Ranchers could never tell when they would be crowded out by homesteaders and settlers, and could not afford to make heavy investments. As a result they have been gradually selling out.

BRYAN FLAYS OPPONENT

"The Peerless One" Scores Roosevelt and Declares Governor Wilson is the Only Man for Presidency.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 16.—One term for president and the necessity of selecting Governor Woodrow Wilson for the office in November was the chief thought of campaign addresses delivered today by William J. Bryan in his tour of northern Colorado. At Fort Collins he emphasized this point and scored Colonel Roosevelt for asking a third term.

"Roosevelt is an eleven hour convert to progress principles," said Mr. Bryan, "and should not be trusted until he has proved his sincerity."

He said Col. Roosevelt never had fought the people's battles, but had opposed the progressive, both Republican and Democrat, in congress. He charged that the Roosevelt campaign is being financed by the trusts.

Sultan will Have Spiritual Suzerainty in Tripolitania and Monetary Grants to Arab Chiefs will be Paid by Italians

Paris, Sept. 16.—The terms of the proposed peace settlement between Italy and Turkey, include the cession to Italy of Tripoli and the Italian occupation of Tripoli is an accomplished fact, Turkey being permitted to retain a certain amount of the national debt, the payment being guaranteed by revenues derived from Libya, and for the cession to Italy of some portion of Italian territory in the Red Sea as compensation for the loss of Tripoli.

The Italian delegates at the conference objected to the suggested retention of a part of Massowah, in the Italian colony of Eritrea, and this may be eliminated. The question of the status of the Aegean Islands has not yet been raised, as Italy is aware that the powers would not agree to their retention by Italy.

Glacier, B. C., Sept. 16.—The first stop made by the Governor General's train after leaving Laggan this morning was at the great divide where Princess Patricia took a photo of the stream which there divides itself into two, one flowing westward, the other eastward. At Field a stop of four hours was made. The royal party drove to Emerald Lake where the Princess made a sketch in oils. At Paliser this afternoon Princess Patricia, Miss Adam, W. R. Baker, secretary of the Canadian Pacific Railway and two aides de camp, took their places in chairs on the pilot of the wonderful scenery of the Gorge through which the Kicking Horse River and the railway make their way.

The Duke and Duchess viewed the scenery from the observation platform of the car Cornwall, a stop having been made there to enable the royal party to ride out to the Illwacoet. The train will go on to Revelstoke and remain there over night. The first stop of any length tomorrow will be made at Kamloops, which will be reached at three in the afternoon. Three hours will be spent there. A civic address of welcome will be presented to the Governor General and responded to by His Royal Highness.

DISORDER IN BELFAST SHIPYARD

More Sectarian Strife as Result of Which Several Men Were Roughly Handled—Military Called Out.

Belfast, Sept. 16.—Queens Isle shipyard was the scene of another outbreak of sectarianism this morning. Several artisans were badly manled, one of them so severely that he was carried out of the yard unconscious. Excitement at both of the big shipyards which are the largest employers of labor in Belfast, has risen to fever pitch. Many men refused to go to work today at Harland and Wolfe's plant and only a very few Catholics are working at the other yard as the manager last week advised against their return to work on account of the feeling shown by the Protestants against them.

The military which had been confined to barracks since Saturday's disturbance when 60 persons were severely injured in a fight waged on the Celtic Park football grounds, was ordered out today to keep the peace.

WILL PROBE THE ARREST OF GUNMEN

Lefty Louie to be Thoroughly Investigated by New York Authorities.

New York, Sept. 16.—A secret John Doe investigation of the circumstances surrounding the arrest on Saturday night of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," two of the gun men alleged to have killed Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was begun today before Justice Goff. The purpose, according to Acting District Attorney, is to determine whether the police suppressed or destroyed any evidence particularly any letter implicating the gun men in the murder and when and how the clues to their whereabouts were obtained.

Max Kahn who was also held as a material witness today may face a serious charge, Mr. Moss said. Kahn was identified in court today by Karse, the waiter, who has made several other important statements since the having been near the Hotel Metropole at the time of the murder.

The prosecutor intimated that he would lay before the grand jury on Thursday evidence on Kahn's conduct from the date of the murder to the date of his arrest.

CANADIAN PACIFIC AND TELEGRAPHERS STILL CONFERRING

Negotiations in Reference to Wage Increase Now On With Mr. McNicol—Strike Hardly Probable Now.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—The negotiations between the committee of the C. P. R. Telegraphers and the Company were resumed today. Mr. D. McNicol, general manager of the company, having returned to the city. D. Montreal, Sept. 16.—C. P. R. telegraphers were still in conference with Mr. D. McNicol at a late hour tonight and no settlement yet in sight.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—"You can deny the report that the C. P. R. trainmen plan striking at midnight," said D. Campbell, third vice-president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers when shown a despatch from Winnipeg to that effect here tonight. "I am in close touch with the situation," he continued.

Health Officers From Atlantic to Pacific In Convention

URGE RETURN TO THE FARM

Displacement of Rural Population During Past 10 Years Matter of Concern—Fight Against the White Plague.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—Physicians and medical health officers from the Atlantic to the Pacific are in attendance at the Canadian Public Health Association Convention which opened at the Physic Building of the Toronto University this morning. Dr. Charles H. Hodgkins, the federal health officer, Ottawa, is the presiding officer and Dr. Peter H. Bryce, Supt. of Immigration, was one of the chief speakers at this morning's session. The association was formed last year in Montreal.

Dr. Bryce, delivering the first address before the second annual congress of the Canadian Public Health Association today, asked these questions: "How shall Canada save her people from physical and mental degeneracy due to industrialism as seen in the great cities of other civilizations?"

"How long can a country, essentially a producer of raw material, by virtue of geographical location and extent of territory still lagging unopened, continue to develop normally and prosper, when it has shown a displacement of rural population during the last ten years to an extent never witnessed before in the history of any people, and an increase of urban population rapid beyond the palmist days of United States immigration?"

Answering these queries, Dr. Bryce said the existing conditions demanded a lessened cost of agricultural production, careful preparation and conservation of farm products and the cheapening of transportation between consumer and producer. More varied and extensive farming would provide constant and profitable employment for farm laborers.

Dr. Bryce condemned the big packers for eliminating competition in buying by dividing up the territory amongst themselves by treeing out the small drovers and butchers, and by getting control of civic or rural cattle markets.

Dr. J. H. Elliott, of Toronto, dealing with "Tuberculosis," said every large municipality should have a sanatorium. The death rate could be lessened if improved social, hygienic and housing conditions could be secured.

SCORES OF AIRMEN FLY

They Circle Over Windy City Like Black Birds—Another Aviator Falls 100 Feet and Lives.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The scene of the aviation meet given by the Aero Club of Illinois, was transferred today from the Cleveo flying field to Grant Park on the lake front and thousands of spectators with upturned faces stood in Chicago's streets and watched twenty aviators circle over the city like a flock of birds.

Before leaving Cleveo four special prizes were awarded for duration of flight, altitude, height and distance. Anthony Janusz won a prize in the one passenger endurance contest, his time being 1:01, 15.

Max Lillie won the two passenger event. Victor Carlstrom fell to the ground when his biplane became unmanageable 100 feet in the air. He fell over in the grass unconscious, but was soon revived.

His machine was wrecked. Aviators today criticized the officials of the Aero Club of Illinois in connection with the meet in which two men have been killed and several injured.

The criticism followed the death Saturday of Howard Gill and injury to George Meatch, who collided in the air.

Meatch said he had protested against the practice of sending biplanes up when the faster monoplane were circling the course and other aviators bore him out in saying that officials had assured him that no biplane would be allowed to go up, as it was dark at the time.

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1912.

CANADIAN AND AUSTRALIAN NAVAL RECORDS.

The progress and development of Australia's navy during the last few years present a striking contrast to the do-nothing policy of the Laurier Government which, up to the time of their defeat a year ago, had no better results to offer than a programme on paper for a small local navy which when built would have been useless for Imperial Naval Defence. A consideration of the past naval programmes of Canada and Australia is instructive. Both Dominions were represented at the Imperial Defence Conference in 1909 and both had the opportunity to accept the recommendation of the Home Authorities then made and form fleet units which would be under the control of the Admiralty in time of war. Australia agreed to provide for a fleet unit, consisting of one Dreadnought cruiser, three smaller cruisers, six torpedo destroyers and submarines, to cost $18,500,000, and undertook the maintenance of the naval station at Garden Island at considerable expense. New Zealand and India assisted by Great Britain also agreed to provide a fleet unit and New Zealand undertook the maintenance of her Dreadnought at an annual charge of $750,000.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, representing Canada, refused to accept the Admiralty's recommendations. He declined to cooperate with Australia and New Zealand in providing fleet units; he declined to contribute a dollar for naval purposes outside of Canada; he declined to accede to the principle of Imperial control in time of war. He preached the same "autonomy" doctrine that he preaches today.

Finally, Sir Wilfrid Laurier offered to construct a small separate navy for Canadian defence only, under Canadian control, with the proviso that it might be lent to the Mother Country in time of war by Order-in-Council. The Admiralty accepted this programme because they could get nothing else. That was in August, 1909. In January of the following year Sir Wilfrid Laurier introduced the Navy Bill, which provided for four protected unarmored cruisers (5,000 tons each) and six destroyers. The cost of these ships, if built in England, was to be $11,600,000. They were to be built as far as possible in Canada at an additional cost of 32 1/2 per cent. After these plans had been decided on the Niobe was purchased to take the place of the Boadicea, and the Rainbow, a twenty year old cruiser, was also purchased to be stationed on the Pacific. Beyond that the Laurier navy never materialized.

The late Government went out of office in September, 1911, twenty months after the Navy Bill was introduced, leaving a contract for the construction of the ships, which had been before them five months, unawarded. It subsequently transpired after the Borden Government took office that Admiral Klugsmull had prepared a memorandum to the effect that it would take six years to construct the ships and that they would be obsolete before completed. This in brief is the ignominious history of the Laurier naval policy for Canada.

Turning now to Australia we find the Commonwealth not only carrying out her undertaking to provide a fleet unit, but enlarging and extending her programme for Naval Defence. The Sister Dominion at the present time has about and commissioned three modern pattern destroyers, the Parramatta, Yarra and Warrego. She has launched, and is completing in Great Britain the Dreadnought cruiser, the Australia, of 19,000 tons, an improved invincible type, and the Melbourne, a smaller cruiser of 5,000 tons, of the improved Bristol class. The Sydney, a sister ship of the Melbourne, was launched at Glasgow last month, and the construction has begun in Australia of a third small cruiser, the Brisbane, and three more destroyers of the Warrego class, the Derwent, Swan and Torres. Three submarines, also for the Commonwealth, are being constructed in England. These ships— one Dreadnought cruiser, three smaller cruisers, six destroyers, and three submarines—compose the Australian fleet unit which the Commonwealth agreed to build at the Imperial Defence Conference in 1909.

Australia has since determined on considerably larger naval plans, based on a report by Admiral Henderson to the Commonwealth Government. He has recommended that Australia should construct a navy of eight Dreadnought cruisers, ten protected cruisers, 18 destroyers, and 22 submarines, to cost £23,000,000, spread over 22 years; should raise within that time a personnel of at least 25,000 trained seamen; and should make thoroughly efficient her harbors and other coastal defenses.

The importance of the harbors along the Australian coast and their strategic value will be better appreciated from a description given recently by a correspondent of the London Times. Nature, he says, seems to have set herself deliberately to provide defenses along its sea border for this huge island. Northern, Southern and Eastern trade routes are all commanded by safe and splendid harbors, ideal bases for ships of war. Sydney harbor is renowned throughout the world for its beauty, and might be equally renowned for its strength. Stretching along the northeastern coast from Northern New South Wales to the topmost cape of Queensland is the Great Barrier Reef, the most wonderful coral structure in the world, and of invaluable service in coastal defence by torpedo boats and submarines. Thursday Island in Torres Strait, supports the Barrier Reef on its northern flank, and west of Thursday Island, the natural base of all war operations on the North coast, is the fine harbor of Port Darwin. The Beaver Reef passages and the rocky and barren Northwest coast between Darwin and Geraldton, where the pearling fleets run, are breeding a fine type of seamen who will doubtless be useful to the future Australian naval service. Cockburn Sound at Fremantle is another magnificent anchorage, very strategically situated. Behind it again is the secure little harbor at Albany. Port Lincoln on the middle south coast and Westernport (now renamed Flinders), near Melbourne, are both important natural harbors. Hobart, at the mouth of the Derwent, in Southern Tasmania, is more open, but is capable of, and is indeed now undergoing, extensive artificial improvement.

Remembering these features, it is possible to appreciate more intelligently than otherwise something of the great effort to which Australia is nerving herself under Admiral Henderson's scheme. The fleet is to be divided into two divisions. The Eastern Division, based on Sydney, will consist of the First Main Squadron (four Invincibles) and the First Cruiser Squadron (five improved Bristols), based on Sydney; the First Destroyer Flotilla (six destroyers), based on Brisbane; a Second Destroyer Flotilla, based on Westernport; and the First Submarine flotilla (three submarines) at Port Stephens (Northern New South Wales). The Western Division will comprise the Second Main Squadron and the Third Destroyer Flotilla, all based primarily on Fremantle (Cockburn Sound), and operating northwards to Port Darwin and eastwards to Westernport; and the Second, Third and Fourth Submarine Flotillas, based at Westernport, Port Lincoln and Fremantle.

When we contrast what Australia has done for Imperial Naval Defence, and all she proposes to do, with the naval policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and its negative results, it is small wonder that Canadians should welcome Mr. Borden who, after consulting the British Government, has returned to lay before the Cabinet and Parliament proposals which will enable the Dominion to bear her rightful share of the burden with the Mother Country, and do not look for war nor desire it. A practical and effective naval policy which has the approval of the Admiralty is essential to assist in the protection of our trade routes. It is also an assurance to the world that Canada with the other Sister Dominions has a vital interest in maintaining the Empire's supremacy on the seas as a guarantee of peace.

RECIPROCITY.

According to the September report of the Washington Government, quoted by the Toronto News, the United States this year will yield between 700,000,000 and 800,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly 1,300,000,000 bushels of oats, almost 2,000,000,000 bushels of corn and 72,000,000 tons of hay. In the case of each product the output will be very much larger than last year. There is an increase of 50,000,000 bushels in spring wheat, of 268,000,000 bushels in oats, of 464,000,000 bushels in corn, and of 17,000,000 tons in hay. This abundance of food-stuffs means a new prosperity for the Republic, but it also means that the States will have a much larger quantity of wheat for export than in any previous year.

What is more important still, the United States will have a far greater surplus volume of wheat than Canada for sale outside of the country. What good would reciprocity do the farmers of the Canadian West under such conditions? Is not the answer to be found in the fact that for weeks Winnipeg prices for wheat have been considerably higher than the Minneapolis quotations? Even despite the Canadian duty, Ontario is today buying early American wheat. But for this measure of protection the Eastern Canadian market would each year be flooded with new wheat from the Western States before our own prairie crop would be available for contract and milling purposes.

It would be well for Reciprocity advocates to explain how, in the "larger markets" of the United States, there are lower prices for wheat than in Canada. Lower prices are caused by a surplus, not by a deficit. The United States has a surplus and lower prices. What effect would it have on the already low prices in that country if the surplus was increased 150,000,000 bushels by pooling the two crops of Canada and the United States. Grain blockades are caused by lack of cars, terminals and motive power. The United States has a serious grain blockade in its wheat belt. A blockade in Canada would not be prevented by increasing the congestion in the United States.

WHY BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS.

"I have discovered a wonderful little author, a Scotchman, in a little music-hall company. He has written two or three one-act plays which are being performed by himself and his family in provincial music-halls." The scene was Leicester Square, London, the date May 2nd, 1911, the speaker a theatrical agent who rather out of breath, had passed across the Square to tell the tale of a discovery in Glasgow. Had this little incident never happened the chances are a St. John audience would not have witnessed the successful Scotch play "Bunty Pulls the Strings" which was presented at the Opera House last night.

This is not intended as a free advertisement for "Bunty." The incident happened long from some chance circumstance a man may catch Fortune as she flies and win prominence and prosperity. Mr. Maude agreed, as the result of the interview, to hear a three-act play by Mr. Graham Moffat, "the wonderful little author," read to him. He thought it an extremely clever and humorous piece, accepted it and named it "Bunty Pulls the Strings."

It was suggested to Mr. Maude that he should play the part of "Tammas," but he declined, thinking it would be better if played by a genuine Scotchman. He also had some doubts at first whether the play would have much chance in London, owing to the characters being entirely Scotch. Events have proved Mr. Maude made no mistake when he accepted "Bunty." It was produced at the Haymarket Theatre and was "running yet" as recently as last July. As typical of the Land of the Heather and as a wholesome reminder of the good old days when the hobbie skirt was not invented "Bunty" is well worth seeing. The play was the subject of litigation in the King's Bench Division of the London courts not long ago. The dispute ended happily for all concerned, but that is how this little story became known.

Redistribution Forecast.
(The Edmonton Journal.)
A forecast of the redistribution measure shows that Alberta will receive twelve members instead of seven and Saskatchewan sixteen instead of ten. The one will have a representation equal to that of New Brunswick and the other to that of Nova Scotia. West of the Lakes there will be fifty-seven members, eight short of those from Quebec alone. We have some distance to go before the control of Parliament lies in the West. But great progress is being made in that direction.

Borden His Own Master.
(Toronto News.)
The Nationalists were wrong and Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have done better if he had refused to capitulate to them. When Mr. Borden came into office he declined to submit to dictation from Mr. Bourassa and a handful of Quebec extremists. He has surrendered neither on the marriage question, the school question nor the naval issue. Nothing succeeds like courage.

Where the Shoe Pinches.
(Montreal Gazette.)
Mr. Borden is being attacked with more than usual severity by some typical Liberal newspapers. The Prime Minister must have been doing so or saying things calculated to hurt his critics' cause. Men only become vicious when they are hurt or angry or both.

BACHE'S FINANCIAL LETTER
New York, Sept. 14.—Unmistakable evidences of growing business continue. The copper report shows added new production, accompanied by still greater consumption, making further reduction in surplus stocks. Pig iron production is up to a rate of 80,000,000 tons per annum, but stocks in yards are still going out instead of piling up.
Another metal is showing diminishing stocks in storage, and that is gold. This movement is sometimes the result of too much credit extension and sometimes of public fright, but in the present instance, it is the result of legitimate business, and the reserves that go out will bring back added stores from the new crop.
Nevertheless, the workings of our so-called currency system produce a stiffening of the machinery which makes all business more or less difficult while it lasts and has to be reckoned with.
This is especially true this year, with a deficit in bank reserves at the very beginning of a cash outflow, of many millions.
A great deal is said every year about the West being able to take care of the crop without calling upon New York, and that the banks there are keeping their reserves at home. It is unquestionably true that for the last two or three years interior banks have been inclined to keep their large balances in Chicago and other points nearer home. We hear of quite a number of the smaller banks in the interior who have discontinued their New York bank accounts altogether. This is especially true of institutions in one purely agricultural region. The farmers rarely need New York drafts, and when they do, Chicago exchange answers the purpose.
There is another reason for this enlargement of Western balances by the country banks, and that is that the bankers feel that Chicago knows them better, knows their country and its prospects, and so understanding them are much more liable to take care of them when necessary. Notwithstanding all this, the strain of promptly supplied with money for its uses. One relieving condition, he says, is that the situation of the railroads is not being able to care for transportation in greatest volume which cause less money to be used all at once, the car congestion keeping back a certain amount of the crop which otherwise would pile in simultaneously and make a very large demand, prices, but it is difficult to meet.
Mr. Reynolds says he has never seen conditions more favorable in every way than those of the present day. The business—that in addition to the actual physical, wonderfully favorable situation, the sentiment is universally optimistic and cheerfully hopeful, which will do wonders in the way of helping along prosperity.
In so far as the immediate future of the market is concerned, it is likely to be considerably influenced by a large number of the money market. Should gold shipments from abroad commence in any large volume it will give a temporary uplift to prices, but the view of what still looks like an almost certain victory for the Democratic party, whose standard bearer still continues to talk of tariff smashing, and employs expressions to the effect that the workmen of the country are imprisoned in strait-jackets due to the tariff, we cannot see how the public is likely to enthuse over the long side of the security market. There is no doubt that the fundamental basis of values is a sound one, with the bulk of our foreign currency more or less spot markets equally solid; but the political leaders are doing everything possible to prevent these from being appreciated. On any good reaction stocks will probably be a purchase for a turn, but we cannot develop enthusiasm over the long side at the present time.

TYPHOID FEVER IN AMHERST.
(Amherst News.)
The majority of our citizens will learn with surprise that during the past six weeks there have been no less than forty cases of typhoid fever in the town of Amherst and that new cases are being reported almost daily. A large number of the cases reported are from the West Highlands section where the sanitary conditions are far from being the best. Dr. Goodwin, the health officer of the town, and assistant, J. H. Arthur, have been making every exertion to get landlords and householders to clean up their premises, but it seems a difficult task. It is to be hoped that Sillipendary lend them every assistance in their power to enforce the law in a most rigid manner. Conditions are really serious and property owners should bestir themselves in this matter.
