On a representation to the Washington. Moreover it would be neces. Coroner for this County, an order was gran early, in order to convert us to their exclusive doctrines, that the Americans should begin by giving us an example, and that they should not come to Europe, as they are doing at this very day, in regard to the Sound dues to exact imperiously a violent geform of the customs and traditions that the European Pewers have recognized for seve-

There is in these American pretensions and in the incidents occurring at this time between England and the United States the germ of serious difficulties; but, from the ment that peace is restored to Europe affairs will be simplified on the side of A. merica. The Anglo-French Alliance will survive the Eastern war. The United States know this, and they will become modest, or wards England and Europe. This alliance is not a menace to them; it carries with it no defiance of them; it is at once a check and a guarantee for all nations. Finally, that which confirms still more our view of the results of the existing dispute is the fact, that the United States, in spite of their apparent belifcose humor, are themselves very much interested in preserving peace."

THE SEASON -The weather still continuss extremely fine. A large quantity of rain fell on Thursday night. If we except few slight showers in the early part of E-brusry—this is the only rain that has fallen since the month of November last.— This is very unusual, as we have generally, a thaw in February and January. So dry was the season, that the greater part of the prings and wells in and around Charlam. ere as destitute of water as they are at an usually dry period in midsummer.
