Members of the M. A. A. are taking a keen interest in the project of organizing an athletic association in Campbellton. This was evidenced at a special meeting held in the hallifax on Saturday evening, June 16th, when W. J. Roughton, president of the Maritime Athletic Association, addressed the committee and the members present.

Mr. Roughton, who is well known in the Maritime Provinces, is a member of the M. A. A. and has been instrumental in the organization of the association in Montreal. He is a former athlete and has a deep knowledge of the sport.

He stated that the M. A. A. is a national organization and that it is the largest of its kind in the world. It has over 100,000 members and is active in all parts of the Dominion. He assured the committee that the M. A. A. would be glad to advise and co-operate with the Campbellton Athletic Association in every way possible.

Mr. Roughton also mentioned that the M. A. A. has a large fund of money which it can use to help in the organization of athletic clubs in other parts of the Dominion. He stated that the M. A. A. would be glad to help in the organization of the Campbellton Athletic Association in every way possible.

MR. ROUGHTON'S VISIT

SERIOUS FIRE AT UPSALQUITCH RAILWAY STATION BURNED
 Mill and Lumber Yards of Reid, Smith & Mitton 'Totally Destroyed.'

A report that Upsalquitch, a village about 10 miles from the International branch of the C. N. Railway, was swept by fire last evening was contradicted this morning by parties who came through from St. Leonard. That locality was the scene of a serious fire however, in which the railway station, the lumber mill and yards of Reid, Smith and Mitton and a number of other buildings were totally destroyed. The loss will undoubtedly run into many thousands of dollars, but an authentic estimate of the damage is not yet available.

It is understood that two railway freights at that point were in danger for some time but these were finally saved with the help of pumps rushed to the scene of the blaze. A report from Upsalquitch states that the Hunting Lodges in that vicinity were not in danger as they are located some little distance from the fire.

A telegram from the Fraternal Red Cross Society at St. John was received by the local Red Cross organization this morning with reference to forwarding relief and supplies to the scene of the blaze but it is now thought that such action will not be necessary. A train which arrived from the I. N. R. fire some this morning with its clothing badly burned but no cases of serious injury have so far been heard of.

The story includes many thrills that carry the audience along with the action of the picture. Gilbert has an opportunity to show his skill with the sword and make the most of it.

Estelle Taylor plays admirably the part of an extraordinary sweetheart of the Spanish type. The picture altogether is a happy choice and should prove an excellent evening's entertainment.

GOLF CLUB IS NOW A REALITY

Course Located About Four Miles East of Town—150 Members Enrolled.

The Campbellton-Dalhousie golf club is now a reality. So far one hundred and fifty members have enrolled and the details of organization are being arranged for without delay. A large field on the Old Dennis Crawley estate, about four miles east of Campbellton, has been chosen as the location for the golf course and a number of men and horses are busily engaged in doing the necessary work. This, it is expected, will be completed within the next three weeks. The organization will be known as the Restigouche County Club.

A meeting held on Friday last at the executive was authorized to proceed with the incorporation of the club if necessary and issue shares. A Building Committee, consisting of W. F. Napier, W. S. Richards and Hon. H. F. McLachy was appointed for the purpose of considering the matter of building a club house on the grounds.

The Secretary-Treasurer would like to remind their fees as this co-operation will greatly assist in completing all preparatory work without delay.

27 world-wide tests establish proof of Studebaker Light-Six economy

The fuel economy of the Studebaker Light-Six has been positively proved by 27 world-wide tests, which established an average of 26.9 miles to the gallon of gasoline. Light-Six consumption of gasoline and oil is low. Tire mileage runs high. And its low repair cost will be attested to by Studebaker's limited volume of repair parts sales, which in 1922, averaged only $13 per car for all Studebaker automobiles in operation.

When you consider that the cost of the Light-Six is but $1375, and that your purchase will enable you to enjoy the economy, smoothness of operation, and the flexibility of a perfected six-cylinder engine, isn't it sound business to invest in a Studebaker Light-Six—just as thousands of other buyers have done?

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

SPENT HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS VAINLY SEEKING RELIEF

Popular C. N. R. Employee Speaks Highly of Dreo, the Famous Herbal Remedy That Put Him on His Feet.

Mr. David Ward, a native of Musquodoboit Harbour and well-known as a railway employee in the North Street Yards tells how Dreo gave him relief after all other remedies he had tried had failed.

"I was all run-down," says Mr. Ward. "I had no energy to do anything. My stomach was in a bad condition and everything I ate would form gas and press up around my heart, so that I would be miserable for hours. I tried all kinds of medicines and spent hundreds of dollars seeking relief, but nothing did me any good until I got Dreo. It put me right on my feet."

"Nothing I eat gives me any trouble now and those dizzy spells are all gone. I have a splendid appetite and sleep fine every night. I feel fit and vigorous all the time and I am no longer troubled with constipation. Dreo is a great medicine and I cannot praise it too highly."

Digestive complaints yield readily to the corrective influence of Dreo. Constipation, nervousness, indigestion, relieves constipation, arouses a sluggish liver, strengthens the kidneys and generally upbuilds the system. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreo is being specially introduced in Campbellton by Wran's Drug Store and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

TWO TRAGEDIES OF THE SEAS

Five Stowaways Die From Heat and Coal Gas On Voyage From Cuba.

Marcus Hook, Pa., June 16.—The sugar freighter Sarta Theresa bought a tragic story when it dropped anchor off Gloucester immigration station near here yesterday. During the voyage from Havana five stowaways died of heat and coal gas. Four other stowaways were taken to the immigration station. The survivors were Jose Fainhendes, Vernado Fernandez, Antonio Fernandez and Michael Sanaboe.

"The five dead men," said Rainhendes, the only one who spoke English, "were not familiar with ships. Otherwise they would never have hidden away where they did."

"They were buried at sea last Monday. The captain read the funeral services over them and the sailors lined up along the deck as they were lowered over the side. The men had been roasted to death by the heat and choked by the coal gas."

"The Santa Theresa sailed from Cuba on Friday, when the five men crawled into the bunkers next to the boilers. The stokers told us later that after the ship had been at sea two days they noticed a peculiar odor. When they shovelled away the coal they found us."

"They lay on going until they reached the other side of the bulkhead next to the boilers, where they stumbled over one of the dead men. They then found the four others lying close together."

New York, June 16.—A sleek two masted schooner, newly painted white, bearing on her stern the name Mary Beatrice of Nassau, sailed into quarantine, yesterday, with fifteen young and well dressed Chinese the only occupants—a strange ship with a weird story of the sea.

She was boarded by quarantine officials who found nothing of cargo or papers. None of the Chinese could speak English. The Chinese leader said on his fingers that his party originally was larger, twenty-three in all, but that eight had gone, most of them to rest in the deep.

Customs authorities were notified, an interpreter summoned and the strange story unfolded.

Twenty Chinese had bargained with the owner of the schooner, a white man, to take them aboard and land them somewhere on the United States coast. Each Chinese paid $500 to the owner. On May 8 last they set out from Havana, twenty Chinese, two white men and a negro.

They cruised. The food supply ran low. They begged the tall sailorman, who owned the boat, to carry out his promise and land them. He growled and chased them to their quarters.

That night, just a little more than a week ago, he took the schooner's only small boat and abandoned the Mary Beatrice and its passengers. The Chinese waited several days, hoping he would return. Then, impelled by the pangs of hunger, they turned the schooner toward land.

The mystery of the seven missing men was not fully explained. The Chinese spokesman replying to questions about them, pointed over the side. He would not say whether they jumped, fell or were thrown.

As the recently elected president of The New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association, I desire to appeal to you, the citizens of New Brunswick for your whole-hearted co-operation in promoting the work of this organization. NEW CURE FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Tepid Water Claimed Effective Remedy for Scourge That Has Baffled Science.

Chicago, June 16.—Discovery of a simple but effective cure for infantile paralysis, that dread scourge which has baffled medical science, has been made by a Chicago woman who prefers to remain her anonymity. Her treatment has been tried out with marked success at the Northwestern University Medical School, and has been adopted by the visiting nurses Association.

The device consists of a large tank partly filled with tepid water and equipped with a circular bench around the inside. The crippled children merely sit for hours with their feet and legs immersed in the water while they practice wiggling toes.

The little patients take for the treatment heartily, and the results have been highly satisfactory.

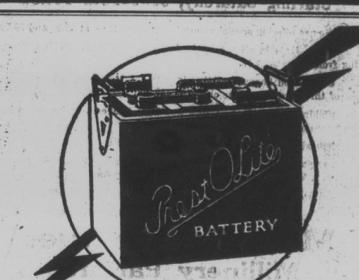

The woman credited with the discovery had a little daughter crippled with infantile paralysis. In hope of securing relief she took the child to Florida, and permitted her to spend much time in the water at a shallow beach. She was much amazed after a few days to see the child strike out and swim, having recovered the use of her limbs. So rapid was her recovery, that when brought home her parents installed a tank in the home and continued the tepid water treatment.

Then experts at Northwestern with the child's history, became interested, with the result that the large tank was built and most satisfactory results have been obtained.

TOURIST DRIVE A GREAT SUCCESS

Predicted That N. B. Will Be Great Playground in Few Years.

The third annual convention of the New Brunswick Tourist, Game and Recreation Association was a success in far beyond the hope of the members of the association when plans were laid for the meeting to take place on board the steamer Governor Dingley. The main object of the association is to promote tourist travel to New Brunswick and while it is difficult to judge how much the convention has done to achieve this end, it is obvious from the splendid publicity which has resulted that the interest of the people in the New England states must necessarily have been aroused. The hospitality of the Canadian Club and the Intercolonial Club of Boston, together with the unreserved co-operation of the city government, the person of Mayor Curley, and of the courteousness of Governor Cox representing the state of Massachusetts were largely responsible for the widespread publicity which was given to the visit.

The public welcome and reception by the city of Boston gave an impetus to the visit, which opened wide the columns of the Boston newspapers. Every newspaper in Boston both afternoon and morning carried news articles running from a half-column to one and two columns, with cuts of Premier Veniot and group photographs of the party, so that the Tourist Association wished to tell was carried far beyond the walls of the Bellevue Hotel and Hall.

Makes Fine Impression. Premier Veniot made a fine impression upon both Mayor Curley and Governor Cox as well as upon the ladies and gentlemen who were present at the evening meeting. As Premier of the province his presence lent an added dignity to the occasion and accounted for the unusual honors which were bestowed upon him, and through him upon New Brunswick. Premier Veniot is the only person who has ever received the keys of the City of Boston and he is one of a distinguished quintet in whose honor trees have been planted in the Oliver Wendell Holmes Hall, the number being Jeffrey, Foch, Clemenceau and Admiral Benson. The publicity which has resulted from these events cannot be measured in terms of advertising for New Brunswick, but thousands and thousands of people in New Brunswick states have read them. The interest of many of these who have read accounts of these proceedings will be awakened in our province and should lead to a steady stream of tourists, if the publicity which has been launched so auspiciously is not permitted to die at its birth.

To Be Playgrounds. The prediction was made by a former New Brunswick, now a lawyer of Boston, Charles H. McIntyre, at the luncheon in the Bellevue Hotel that the Maritime Provinces in a very few years could be made the playground of North America. The first step to make that prediction an accomplished fact depends entirely upon the efforts made by these provinces to get the tourists and to accommodate them properly when they come. As was pointed out by the various speakers in Boston, all the natural advantages here. The comforts and conveniences must be provided gradually but the publicity campaign can be carried on systematically and at once.

An association which has already done so much for the province and which is capable of doing inestimable good, is surely worthy of the support of all New Brunswick. Yes, when one member asked for the total membership he was told that New Brunswick Tourist, Game and Recreation Association numbered in all some 704 members. The membership fee is $1.00. If 20,000 or 30,000 New Brunswickers joined the association there would be sufficient funds to carry on some real publicity work for the province.

MINSTREL CONCERT A GREAT SUCCESS

Most Enjoyable Entertainment Held Under Direction of Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford.

Every available seat was occupied in the Star Theatre, on Thursday, June 14th, when the Minstrel Concert was held in aid of the Soldier's Memorial Hospital of Campbellton. The performance was under the direction of Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford, and the vocal solo by Miss Alma Cook and the violin solo by Miss Mattie Cook were both frequently encored. The Piano Duet by Miss Myra Wallace and Miss Mary Coleman, was much enjoyed. F. Lavolette and C. Bernard and Daniel Noble sang nicely, and R. Atkinson brought down the house with his dancing. Mr. Swinard accompanied.

The well-chosen words Mr. McKinnon thanked all those who patronized the concert.

Mr. Christie the manager of the Campbellton Opera House, was loudly applauded when he announced that it was the intention of the Campbellton Dramatic Company, to stage their last Spring's success "The" in the Dalhousie Opera House, at an early date. He also stated that other plays put on by Campbellton local talent should be put on in the district in the future. This announcement was also loudly applauded by the large audience.

The handsome sum of $112 was realized at this concert.

The following is a copy of the programme which was successfully carried out and a very enjoyable evening's entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem.

Mr. James R. McPherson who had an attack of pneumonia recently is recovering gradually and is able to be about his work as usual.

Mr. James Cook was ill with a cold for a few days last week which did not prove serious and he is able to be about his duties as usual.

We are sorry to hear that there is no favorable change in the condition of Mrs. John K. Hamilton who was taken ill early in May. Her daughter Miss Beulah Hamilton, who has a position in Caspasia, P. Q. has been home for some time.

Messrs. Peter Fraser, Ian Hamilton, Wm. Currie, Jack Hamilton and Louis Groux have recently purchased automobiles.

On account of the severe drought in this time of the year extra precautions were found necessary to safeguard the forests and homes in this vicinity. Accordingly a number of men were put in as constables with authority to permit no one to enter the forest area unless such a person carried a permit with the result that no one was permitted to enter.

Mr. Carr and son Dudley of Montreal arrived on Saturday to spend the summer at their cottage here.

A brief, heavy thunder shower swept Charlo about 9:30 on Saturday afternoon but only lasted a few minutes to we are still lacking moisture enough which is so badly needed.

FOREST TRAVEL NOW PROHIBITED

Minister of Lands and Mines Cancels All Certificates in Northern N. B.

Fredericton, June 18.—Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, has issued a proclamation which cancels all outstanding registration of certificates for forest travel in the northern half of the province which includes the Counties of Madawaska, Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland, Kent, York, Carleton and Victoria, and also prohibiting all further issues of further certificates in these counties until further notice. A further warning is also given that the prohibition of slash burning which has been effective since May 15th will be continued until further notice.

This action has been taken under the authority vested in the Minister of Lands and Mines following a conference held by him with officials of the Department of Lands and Mines and a number of the leading lumbermen of the province in view of the most serious situation with regard to forest fires in northern New Brunswick which has arisen chiefly through carelessness in burning and direct violation of the forest fire regulations.

All persons ignoring the provisions of the proclamation will be subject to immediate arrest by any fire warden or constable and are liable to prosecution under the criminal code for such offence. Many expressions of approval of this order have already been received by the Department.

MIRAMICHI HOSP. TO EXTEND

County of Northumberland Is Planning a Nurses Home.

The County of Northumberland is planning an extension to the Miramichi Hospital, first making room by building a Nurse's Home, following the example set by this city. The nurses have had to give way for maternity cases and then for the children's ward and are far from being comfortably situated. The doctors of the north of the province realize the need for proper quarters for the nurses, who must have rest from their task, which though liked by them, yet is trying and very wearisome. Better quarters for nurses, means better digestion food and ended that palpatting service, more applying for training and a progressive action all along the line of medical care of the sick. As one man gave $100,000 for the building of the original hospital, it is stated in one of the Northumberland papers that it will be an easy matter for everybody in the County to help the work, as everybody is privileged to use the institution, whenever necessary.

Point a Garde

The Rev. J. L. King visited the Point a Garde last week on his way down the coast. He and his family expect to locate there in the near future.

We are glad to hear that Mr. F. Love will soon be able to leave the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, after his operation at the end of this month.

One would imagine that the Government had taken over the Oriental and Quebec Railway, by the commotion around Pt. a Garde, at least we are glad to know that the removal of a large tract of real estate, from one place to various other places, will guarantee a smoother road-bed.

Mrs. A. McKinnon and daughter Margaret of Gloucester were week-end visitors here last week.

The Young People's Guild enjoyed a very pleasant evening last week at the home of Mr. Frank Fletcher.

Mr. Gerald S. Hall lumber dealer of Campbellton paid a three day visit to Matapedia, on Tuesday last week. Mr. Hall is expected here on his holidays at the end of this month.

Mrs. Harris E. Calhoun passed through here Tuesday morning for Levis, Que., where she will in future join her and they journey to their new home in Levis together. Mr. Calhoun was formerly the manager of the Sheppard and Morse Lumber Company in L'Anse-au-Loup, Que. Miss Jessie Baird left last week for Levis, Que., where she will spend the summer months.

MISS C. THERRIEN GAINS 15 POUNDS

Declaras Tanlac Entirely Overcame Indigestion, Palpitations, Dizziness and Weakness.

"Mother certainly did me a good turn when she had me try Tanlac, for the treatment restored me to perfect health again," recently said Miss Cecile Therrien, popular young lady residing at 230 Joliette St., Montreal.

"It was about three years ago I suffered for a whole year with indigestion, palpitation of the heart and general debility, I became terribly thin and underweight, and felt weak and dizzy all the time.

"Well, mother got me started on Tanlac and the treatment made my digestion good and ended that palpatting and weak dizzy feeling altogether. I gained about fifteen pounds, and recovered my health so completely that I haven't had any trouble since, but have been feeling better than ever I have before. I think Tanlac is just wonderful."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Clean and Fresh Nests

Many poultry keepers in the hot weather are unfortunately too prone to let the nest's get foul and unclean. All runs should be kept as fresh as possible, and thoroughly limewashed if the birds are to be kept in the best of health. See to all cracks and corners, for it is in these that pests will lurk. Use plenty of lime to get rid of such troubles. For this work choose a nice sunny day when the walls will have a good opportunity of drying quickly. Nests should be kept clean and fresh and renewed much more often in summer than at any other time of the year. Protection from the sun's rays should be given to birds in close confinement, as otherwise, there is great danger of some of them being seized with sunstroke or some other dangerous complaint. Felling the natural shelter of trees or shrubs, use fine charcoal with good results. The object is to try to prevent heating in the nest. There have without question, been cases of spontaneous combustion arising from green clover not well packed down. The object of the salt or lime is to absorb moisture from the hay and thus delay fermentation. It is also claimed that the salt has some effect in killing or weakening the bacteria which are responsible for some of the ferment. We know farmers who claim there is nothing whatever to this salt theory, but many firmly believe in it. The plan is to spread a load of hay evenly over the nest and then scatter about 10 lbs. of salt over it—stamping the hay well down. The chemists seem to think lime is better than salt except that it makes the hay very dusty.

The Treatment Of Clover Hay

It is quite a common thing for farmers to use salt when putting green or wet hay into the mow. Others use lime, and we have known farmers to use fine charcoal with good results. The object is to try to prevent heating in the mow. There have without question, been cases of spontaneous combustion arising from green clover not well packed down. The object of the salt or lime is to absorb moisture from the hay and thus delay fermentation. It is also claimed that the salt has some effect in killing or weakening the bacteria which are responsible for some of the ferment. We know farmers who claim there is nothing whatever to this salt theory, but many firmly believe in it. The chemists seem to think lime is better than salt except that it makes the hay very dusty.

The Idea of Community Farm Machinery

Little argument is needed to show the advantages which a community may enjoy through owning machinery which it would be impossible for any individual to buy. Thrashing, silage cutting, spraying, and sawing are the big machinery jobs on the farm and they represent a considerable annual cash outlay.

The total outlay of the community for a few years would buy the machinery outright and it would always be at the disposal of the members when needed—a consideration which is worth cash. It is unlikely that any one community would want all the machinery mentioned, and, in any case, it would not be wise to attempt so large a measure of co-operative ownership at one step. It would be preferable to make the experiment with the least costly implements and judge from the experience gained in handling it how much further the community should go, and what methods are best.

The main difficulties to be encountered are in financing and in apportioning the cost of operation and upkeep. In a comparatively closely settled community with a large number of members each member might make an initial payment equal to two or three years' average hireage. This would meet the first payment on the machinery. The balance would be secured by notes given by the payment. These would be taken up as members came in proportion to their first contribution or could be reduced each year by the equivalent of each member's annual hireage. The joint responsibility of the whole membership would be simple security.

The snag which was wrecked many such schemes has been unequal apportioning of the operating cost. Local circumstances will decide whether this should be done on the basis of work performed by the machinery—that is, by the acre of crop, by the bushel, by the cubic foot of silo space, by the cord, plus any demurrage charges—according to the time the machinery is used by each member. If there is no very great difference in the distance between farms the question of road travel could be forgotten and a most contentious point thus eliminated. In some places each farmer fetches the machine from its last year, but this would only be fair if the machine passed systematically from neighbor to neighbor and did not skip back and forth. A cash equivalent for and close account kept of each member's man and horse labor should be agreed on services during the season. In closing the accounts those who have not given their due share of labor would be charged at the agreed rate and this sum credited to those who did more than their share. It is essential, of course, that at least one member of the ring should have the necessary mechanical knowledge to run the machinery. In the all-time of work the care of the machinery would fall to him and he would be credited for any extra work involved. No matter what system may be devised, cost and labor will at times fall more heavily on some than on others, through weather conditions or routing of the implements. In the first respect nothing can be done. In the matter of routing, this can be equalized over a few seasons by starting out from a different point each year.

In some communities co-operative threshers are now working successfully. These are usually twenty-two-inch cylinder machines and the membership of each ring is limited to the number of men required to handle the machine for a season, about eight. This limitation is designed to reduce the time each member will have to leave his farm to pay back work. Some of these machines were bought by individual farmers in the first place but these found that in order to get help they had to promise to thresh for those who helped them. An equitable arrangement had to be come to as to what each should pay and be paid, and the result was co-

The Outlook For Poultry

What is to be the future of the chicken business? That question is being asked every day. Will it pay to enlarge the plant? Will it pay the amateur to start? Will prices for eggs keep up? All along the Atlantic Coast there has been a "boom" in poultry. The commercial plants have increased, and the trade in day-old chicks, is beyond anything dreamed of a dozen years ago. Is it a mere "boom" that will collapse before long, like a windbag, or is it a solid growth and a substantial business? We find all sorts of answers to the question. There are some well-known poultrymen who are frightened at the outlook. They think the business will be overdone until eggs fall to a price below the cost of production. That will mean ruin to many plants that are being operated without sufficient capital. Others, and much larger number of breeders and feeders, take a more hopeful view. They see increased demand for both eggs and meat and better organization for selling.

There will always be a food of amateurs and enthusiasts people who will rush into the business and fade away when the pinch comes. In the future it will be no business for the inexperienced man. The "plungers" will embarrass the business at times, but in the long run poultry keepers will pay as well as any other branch of farming. That is the way the great majority of conservative men talk. They expect good years and bad years, and the surplus of the good years must be used to help over the bad ones. The business has never been one for the "plunger" or the man who expects to make a lot of money without work or experience. The man who knows how will have a good chance. It looks as if there will be a fair demand in the future for eggs and meat, but good salesmanship will be needed to put the market over. The ordinary farm flock, where hens of almost any breed run at large and eggs are gathered every two or three days, will not cut so much of a figure in the future. Egg production in the future will be largely in the hands of people who make a business of it. Formerly, as we know, a good share of the supplies in our markets came from small orchards not very well cared for. Now these farm orchards are mostly out of date and contribute but little to the apple supply. Markets are supplied from the well-kept orchards.

The successful operation of such a scheme will depend more on the presence of a true spirit of co-operation in the community than on any rigid and invulnerable articles of agreement. Economically as well as spiritually "the letter killeth but the spirit giveth life."

A NEW HOTEL.
Frequent rumors during the past year to the effect that Campbellton is to have a new, large modern hotel have been heard with keen interest. And this interest has not been confined to the merely curious. Citizens who are anxious for the town's progress as well as the host of travellers who stop here regularly are all looking forward to the consummation of such a venture. Not long ago we published a letter from a commercial man who has been travelling over the maritime provinces for years and who stops off here regularly. His statements regarding the matter were not hearsay as he is in a position to ascertain the need for more hotel accommodation here and to compare Campbellton's facilities to those which other towns have to offer. And the contents of this traveler's letter upheld our contentions that Campbellton, with its growing commercial activity and increasing tourist trade, needs more adequate hotel accommodation than it has.

Of late however we have heard very little about the proposed hotel project. It is to be hoped that those behind the venture have not lost faith in the enterprise. Campbellton is going ahead steadily. If not the most flourishing town of its size in the province it comes near the top of the list. And it is obviously not a good thing for a growing town to lack sufficient and satisfactory accommodation for all visitors. It will not only lead to the loss of considerable business to merchants here but will also be instrumental in giving the town a poor name. Campbellton needs advertising and this is one way in which it can be secured without cost. Every visitor who has been able to secure good hotel accommodation during his stay here will unintentionally become not only an enthusiastic publicity agent for the house at which he stopped but also a propagandist for the town itself.

In advocating the erection of a new hotel we are not intimating that any fault may be found with our present hostilities. Nor are we seeking to arouse interest on behalf of any particular party who may be contemplating such an undertaking. We rather believe that the houses now in operation would in time find their business stimulated rather than reduced because of the fact that greater hotel accommodation would do much to attract a larger number of outsiders, which trade would consequently tend to swell the tide of business generally. The construction of the new hotel would necessitate the expenditure of a neat little sum of money in Campbellton and this would be a very appreciable contribution towards the relief of stringent conditions here.

The promoters of the hotel enterprise should go ahead with the venture with optimism and confidence in the ultimate success of the undertaking. Barring serious disasters Campbellton is evidently on the threshold of a progressive and prosperous era and those who have foresight and courage will be eventually rewarded for their faith in the future growth and prosperity of our town.

WOMEN AND EDUCATION.
Dr. Marty of Toronto, the only woman who is a school inspector in Ontario, holds very progressive views on education. She told the Federated Women's Institutes in Fredericton on Thursday that high school courses should include commercial and industrial courses, thus combining the cultural with the vocational. If her words have the effect of causing the Women's Institutes of New Brunswick to join more vigorously in the agitation for vocational training in this province she will have accomplished a most desirable result. Ontario knows by experience the value of such training in the schools, and vocational composite high schools, the latter combining both the classical and vocational course, are established or being established in all centres. The people freely grant the money needed to provide the buildings, and in the suburban centres children must remain in school until they are sixteen years of age. Dr. Marty does not approve of the suspension of this law in the rural districts, and the suspension can only be temporary, for the children in the country need the extra two years training as much as those in the towns. The plea for more women on school boards is well based. They are progressive as well as intelligent, and are even more likely to take a personal interest in the work of the schools than the men. The Women's Institute can do a great work for the cause of education, and their co-operation should be most heartily welcomed by the educational authorities, from the Board of Education down to the School Board of the smallest district. Steps in this direction might be taken in Campbellton. It is an idea that is well worth considering.

WAREHOUSE AND RINK BURNED

New Building and Old One at Petit Rocher Is Destroyed.

Bathurst, June 15.—The new skating rink at Petit Rocher, a large building erected only last year by an organization of the people of that place to supply the keenly felt need of the community for a building in which summer as well as winter sports and social activities could be carried on, was totally destroyed by fire of mysterious origin last Sunday night. The building had not been used since the skating season ended in March last, and the doors have been locked ever since.

VOCATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOLS OPEN JULY 4TH.

Through the invitation of the St. John School Board, the Vocational Summer School meets this year in the High School building of our Premier City. The session lasts from July 4 to August 3. The far famed summer climate of St. John and the many attractions of city life added to the very excellent program offered should make the 1923 meeting most pleasant, as well as exceedingly profitable.

The Vocational Act, 1923, became operative on May 10th. After this date there was not time to effectively develop a summer school on a comprehensive scale. It was therefore decided that for this year the school would be limited to Home Economics Teachers, Trade Dressmakers and Milliners, and of these provisions is being made for only forty. This will serve the bulk of evening school teachers in these fields.

Instead of providing courses for the day vocational directors and teachers, they are encouraged to seek professional improvement in summer schools.

The 1923 summer school will mark a distinct development in the training of evening school teachers of women's work. For the first time advanced courses are offered for those who have attended two previous summer sessions. Those who complete the third year successfully will be recommended for a provincial license as night school teachers in their chosen fields. A special invitation is extended to Trade Dressmakers and Milliners, as well as to Home Economics teachers to embrace this opportunity to advance themselves technically and professionally, so that they may bet-

New and Delightful Ways of 'Doing Over' The Kitchen

There is quite an epidemic of doing over kitchens. We hear of it in town and country places.

No up-to-date woman wants a kitchen that is dingy and inconvenient. A dull kitchen has a very depressing effect.

First, sit down, look around and decide just what is the matter and where to start.

If the room is old-fashioned there are likely to be lots of things wrong with it. The plumbing, though sanitary, is apt to be inconveniently planned—with low sink, wrong draining board and all the rest of it. The paint and walls are impossible, and the floor is perhaps rough or covered with old cloths.

Possibly the windows are badly placed or inadequate. So here is a good place to begin. If there is a south or east wall available, put in a long, narrow window. This will not interfere with a place of furniture below, but will let in air and sunshine enough to light the dark places and will also ventilate the inner part of the room.

Next, bare the floor and repair it—or better, lay a new floor. Mend all wood work and put in extra shelves, where needed, or enclosed closets. Have the plumbing about the sink repaired and raise the height of the sink. Have wiring done to make the lights accessible where they are most needed. If electric lighting is not available, do the same with gas fixtures.

Some New Summer Recipes

Apple and Raisin Tapioca.
4 good-sized apples, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup Sun Maid seeded raisins, chopped, 3 tablespoons granulated tapioca, 1/2 cup sugar.

Wash, pare and core the apples. Fill centres with raisins and sugar, put in bake dish and place in hot oven. When nearly done (time depends upon kind of apples used) cover with tapioca; add the tapioca to the 3 cups boiling water and boil until clear, add balance of sugar, raisins and salt. This makes a very nice inexpensive dessert and the raisins give additional food value.

Green Pepper Sandwiches
Finely chop Sun Maid raisins and green peppers, using 1 medium size pepper to one cup raisins. Moisten well with salad dressing and spread between slices of buttered bread.

Chocolate Dates.

Now we come to the walls, which should be washed down, then scraped, and the ceiling painted cream-colored with side walls of soft yellow.

The woodwork, after cleaning and sand-papering, may be painted in a warm shade of butternut brown. Wherever the hardware looks shabby either buy new or do it over. Hinges and knobs that look new make such an improvement in a room. In doing over the walls, the same color may be used on the galvanized hot-water boiler and the pipes. This makes them sink into the background and they are not an eyesore to the onlooker. If the boiler is copper, then it will only need cleaning and polishing.

The floor may be painted after being wood-filled and so on or it may be covered with white and brown blocked linoleum, which is softer to the feet than the polished floor and easier to take care of in the long run. If one can afford the luxury of the white stone, it is a joy and a cheering addition to the completed whole. If you cannot manage a new stove there are ways and means of painting the old stove which are not expensive and are fairly satisfactory.

Engagements and Marriages

(By Dr. Frank Cross in the Ottawa Journal.)

The other day Washington society was agitated by the sudden announcement that a young lady had broken her engagement to the young gentleman she was going to marry. The announcement came as a real shock and surprise because it was given out on what was to have been the wedding day of the young pair.

Hundreds of handsome gifts which had been received by the bride elect had to be returned. Wedding guests in attendance from out of town had to go back home. The decorations were removed, and the bridegroom and his parents had to make arrangements to return to England, whence they had come.

About the merits of this particular case, one way or the other, of course we have nothing to say, as it is entirely a private matter which concerns only the parties directly interested. But it brings up a point that might be well discussed, and that point is that if the relations between a young couple are going to be broken at all it is much better that they be broken before marriage than after.

While long engagements are not usually advisable they should at least be long enough to give the parties concerned time to think matters over rather thoroughly.

The main difference between the kind of love that is genuine and the kind of love that is spurious is that the former will bear thinking over and waiting for, and in the latter party is usually dominant.

We all sympathize with the singer who describes his disappointment (or hers) I forget which) by declaring, "There was I, waiting at the church." But it is a good deal better to be left in the lurch, even at the altar, than to effect a separation after the marriage has been performed.

The union of one man and one woman is certainly "not to be taken lightly," but seriously, as befits that which has to do with the very basic conditions of life.

No marriage is decent without love. But, at the same time, love is not the only thing to be considered. Marriage is not only a large and complex and important as life itself and certainly should not be consummated without being carefully looked at from every angle and given most intelligent judgment.

How to Make Attractive Wall Pockets

Wall-pockets are rightly popular and there are endless uses for them.

For the closet door there are the long, narrow shoe-pockets which hold all manner of shoes, keeping them free from dust.

On the nursery closet door are special pockets which hold flat, linen closures for the carvers. These pockets are fastened to the door by little brass brads spaced on the edge.

There is a rubber bag which holds three or four pairs of rubbers and a long, flat pocket for a folded raincoat. This convenience is usually to be found in back halls or bathroom closets.

In the housemaid's wall-pocket, her neatly washed and folded charoils, dust-rags and other household cloths, including small sponges may be stored away. This pocket is usually attached to the back of the cleaning-closet door.

In the dining-room, on the closet door, there are the knife-pockets. These are made of cotton flannel. The compartments are stitched to hold a dozen knives each, with long, deep engraved picture books, paper dolls and all the flat toys in the bulging pockets.

In the sewing-room, there are wonderful work-pockets—wide and deep. They are tacked on the edge of the sewing table and into the work may be thrust in an unfinished state. These are in a flap-pocket, where the bags may be put that are to be kept for patches of other uses. Also, there is the screen with pockets for the various sewing machines.

In the library, we find wall-pockets of linen or leather. These are fastened under the wire shelves or in corners, to slip etchings or drawings into Library pockets are sometimes very beautifully finished in burnt work with fringed leather or made of heavy linen, appropriately embroidered.

Linen pockets for soiled linen are often found in butler's pantries. In them, soiled table linen may be placed until its final disposition in the morning.

A man's shoe-bag is made of strong or stiff than a woman's. It is also made with fewer pockets, which are deeper. Usually, these pockets are

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever made. I would advise my letter to Mrs. Gaudin L. Chace, Hamford, N. S."

My First Child

"I was greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my first child. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me and I had the doctor's medicine without much benefit. It has relieved my pain and given me strength. I recommend it and give my permission to use my testimonial letter to Mrs. E. B. Allen, Glen Allen, Alabama."

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lowell, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's "Private" "Book" on "All About Female Health."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Frank Gaudin. On May the 19th there passed peacefully away to her rest one of our best known citizens in the person of Mrs. Frank Gaudin of Ecclesville North in the sixty-seventh year of her age, leaving to mourn the loss of a faithful wife and loving mother her aged husband and four sons, and three daughters, the sons are Benjamin, Cyrus, Henry and Stanley; the daughters are Mrs. George Court, Mrs. Wallace Brown and Mrs. Christopher Little, also an aged sister, Mrs. Alexander Watt of Berlin, N. H., survive her.

Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family who have been called upon so suddenly to mourn the loss of a loved one, as her death was very sudden. Although she had been stricken with a paralytic stroke some years ago from which she never fully recovered and was also known to have heart trouble. She was still able to be about her work the day previous to her death and when her husband arose in the morning she spoke as usual and about an hour later when he took her breakfast up to her room it was his custom to do, he received a terrible shock to find her dead. She apparently had died without a struggle. So very peaceful did she look with a faint smile on her face, it was hard to realize that she had bid farewell to her many friends here below.

The deceased lady was noted far and near for her hospitality. It can truly be said of her that at her door none ever yet heard nay. She always delighted to have the young folks gather to her house of an evening and engage in some harmless amusement. And busy indeed would be any one of her acquaintances from a distance who passed her house and did not call to have a chat and also a lunch, a thing that which was difficult to escape as she never seemed so happy as when she was doing some one a kindness. But as we believe that our loss is her gain we shall not complain because she has been taken from our midst. The very large crowd of people of all denominations who turned out to attend the funeral which was held on the 18th, the Rev. George Gough officiating, spoke in eloquent terms of her life and the hymns "Asleep in Jesus" and "The Sands of Time are Shifting" were beautifully rendered. The pallbearers were Messrs. Thomas Hazer, Dumville, Wallace Brown, John Edwards, Thomas Mann, Charles Jeanne Champoux, Patricia Harquail, Chalmers.
