DISTRICT AND GENERAL

The U. S. Government has been urged to re-issue the two-cent coin withdrawn from circulation in 1874. The U. S. Navy Department offers $10,000,000 worth of the finest grades of tinned meats, fruits and vegetables to the public at cost.

Hunting, shooting, taking or selling black or grey squirrels in the county of Middlesex is forbidden from September 1 this year until September 1, 1922.

And now they say there is going to be almost a record-breaking crop of potatoes in Caradoc township. According to report, one man's patch looks good for 500 bushels to the acre.

The large bank barn and some smaller buildings on the farm of Malcolm McPhail, townline of Brooke and Metcalfe, were destroyed by fire on Monday evening, together with most of the contents, including a pig and a calf.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, E. McIntyre Doyle, Windsor, when Mildred Freeman Doyle, only daughter of Mrs. Charles Doyle, Dutton, became the bride of George Norman Burrows, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Burrows, Chatham.

Oil is reported to have been discovered on the farm of Leslie Mitchell, on the Holden Road, in Westminster township, a short distance south of London, and close to Pond Mills. Mr. Mitchell dug a 75-foot well some time ago, and while at work detected a strong odor of oil. He tapped a vein and secured a sample, but that night a cave-in occurred. A pipe was then forced down and further samples secured at a depth of 85 feet. The strike is to be further investigated.

WILLING WORKERS ENTERTAIN
The Willing Workers of Glencoe Presbyterian church held their annual Thanksgiving supper and concert on Monday evening. Tables spread in the school room reflected more than ever the splendid taste of the ladies of the congregation in the culinary art. There was a bountiful supply of roast chicken, cold meats, pies and cakes and all the eaters of a good program was given by local talent.

UNANIMOUS FOR HYDRO

Voting on hydro-electric in Glencoe Tuesday resulted in almost a clean sweep in favor of establishing the system here. There are 293 property owners who are entitled to vote, including some 60 who are non-resident. The enabling by-law was carried without a dissenting vote, the number cast in favor being 187.

The debenture by-law was also carried almost unanimously, the vote being 184 in favor, 2 against and 1 ballot spoiled.

At a special meeting of the council yesterday morning the necessary contract with the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission was signed and was at once forwarded to Toronto so that the work of constructing the necessary transmission line might be proceeded with at once.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the church held their annual social on Monday evening. The program was given by local talent.

At a meeting of citizens on Friday evening, called to discuss hydro-electric power, Mr. Pascoe and Mr. McFarlane of the London hydro-electric department spoke of the many benefits that had accrued to the city through the introduction of the power there, and strongly advised Glencoe to take it on. It was also shown how hydro-electric had been a paying investment in the smaller towns as well.

MELBOURNE FAIR

Melbourne, Oct. 10.—Tuesday's fair was one of the most successful ever staged by the Melbourne Agricultural Society. The attendance was in the neighborhood of 4,000, many of whom came from a distance. The number of automobiles was far in excess of any other year.

Live stock classes were well represented, especially in heavy horses. The showing in these was equal to that of any other fair in the district, both as to class and quality.

In sheep, the long-wool varieties predominated. All the principal prizes were divided between D. A. Campbell, Appin; Brodie Bros., Muncney, and Geo. J. Stephenson, Appin.

The entries in cattle were especially heavy. Exhibitors who annexed honors were: Gilbert Hyndman, Melbourne; Johnson Bros., Appin; D. A. McLean, Melbourne; Robt. Alexander, Mull; Norman Carruthers, Mull; J. Urley, Melbourne; James McRobert, Longwood; A. E. Perry, Melbourne; E. V. Thornicroft, Appin; Thos. Hardy, Melbourne; Geo. Hagerly, Melbourne; and Wm. McTaggart, Melbourne.

The prizes for hogs were divided between G. W. Stephenson, Appin; Robt. Alexander, Mull; Wm. Warren, Longwood; and Francis Thornicroft, Melbourne.

Entries in the poultry classes were not heavy, but some fine birds were on exhibition. The judge in this class was David Bogue of Byron, well known as an exhibitor of prize poultry. The largest exhibitor and prize winner was B. C. Hoover of Mount Brydges.

Home cooking was a feature of the exhibition and occupied the whole of a large tent. The contestants for the prize for an ideal dinner certainly excelled in their efforts, and the trays containing these were closely surrounded by spectators all afternoon. Many showings of pastry and other kinds of baking were also on exhibit.

J. C. ELLIOTT RETIRES

J. C. Elliott, M. P. P. for West Middlesex for the last eleven years, and recognized as one of the ablest men in Ontario politics, has tendered his resignation to the Liberal Association of the constituency and will not be a candidate in the provincial election.

This leaves a U. F. O. candidate of Liberal leanings, J. G. Leithbridge, and a straight Conservative, D. C. McKenzie, in the field.

Speaking at the meeting of Liberals at which he tendered his resignation, Mr. Elliott referred to the fact that since accepting the nomination of West Middlesex eighteen months ago a number of Liberal farmers who had supported him then were now full-fledged members of the U. F. O., and they felt it was in their interests to support the U. F. O. movement.

Mr. Elliott declared that in the main the U. F. O. policy was along the lines laid down in the Liberal convention in Toronto, and that he concurred with the Liberal executive of the riding in that it would be unwise to proceed further and therefore tendered his resignation as their candidate.

Mr. Elliott, who has stood alone time and again in his fight for the rights of the farmer in the Provincial Legislature, referred with feeling to the friendships he had made in his political career and expressed his appreciation and thanks to the Liberals who had stood by him so staunchly in past campaigns, and declared that there was not one word of truth in the statements published recently in the Toronto Globe that he would probably identify himself with politics in Western Canada.

Among the reports of various chapters read at the annual rally in London last week was the following concerning the Melbourn chapter, Glencoe, by Mrs. C. M. Wright:

We are in our second year's work, and have 64 members. Last November we sent out 50 boxes, amounting to $250. Each box contained a pair of socks, Christmas cake, tobacco and other good things. We have given three banquets to 40 of the returned men, wives and relatives. As each fled out they were given a pair of socks. We have still a number of boxes to be sent. From donations, teas, dinners, concert, etc., we have raised $516.33, making a total of $766.33. We propose to build a memorial hall in the spring and have already bought the property for $1,000. I might say here that the Junior chapter, which has only a few members, gave us $75 towards the property. We intend to put forth a great effort to raise the money for the hall and carry on the good work.

HER CASE SEEMED HOPELESS

But "Fruit-a-lives" Brought Health and Strength

29 St. Rose St., MONTREAL.

"I am writing you to tell you that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-lives'. This medicine relieved me when I had given up hope of ever being well.

I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good.

I read about "Fruit-a-lives" and tried them. After taking a few boxes, of this wonderful medicine made from fruit juices, I am now entirely well!"

SEAMEN'S SONGS.

Old Time "Chantry" Is Becoming Extinct.

The introduction of steam and electricity has affected the literature of everyday life in many ways, but perhaps most noticeably in the passing of the songs of the sailors. The sea Chantry which, by the way, the sailors spell and pronounce Shanty—was intended to encourage the men as they pulled and hauled or hoisted the loads aboard ship. With the substitution of steam and electricity, the song of the seamen has been replaced by the less musical and far more uninteresting scream of the mechanical agency.

Sometimes as one goes along the water front, that most attractive of places, one hears the "Heave Ho, Heave" from men who all their lives have worked with their hands and have lightened their loads with a song. Sometimes, too, from ships whose crews are foreigners one hears a song and chorus, but the new generation know not the many songs of their ancestors on the sea. This makes doubly interesting the collection of songs—Sea Chanties—that have been collected and published last these interesting relics of a by-gone day vanish forever. The word Shanty is in all probability riding from the verb Chanter and tells its own story.

In the days of sails Shantymen was a recognized factor and was worth his wages, as he could, through the magic of his music, subdue the worst growler and lessen the burden of the most heart-breaking load. According to Mr. King, of St. John, N.B., who has collected the Chanties, the songs were not used indiscriminately, but each kind of work aboard ship had its own song. There are many persons in St. John who can recall the swing of the song, "Haul the Bowline, Kitty is My Darling," as the sails of the ships were tightened or some such bit of work was done; and again and again some thirty years ago was the song found in the collection:

I wish I was in Mobile Bay,
Way-hay blow a man down,
Abasing cotton night and day,
This is the way to blow a man down.

heard as the men worked away along the waterfront. Another equally familiar song was

Poor old man, your horse will die,
And we may as well hope so,
Poor old man, your horse will die,
Po-o-o-o-o-old ma-a-a-n.

but this was sung not to lighten the work, but to remind the captain that wages due were still unpaid, and the doleful refrain was repeated until the men were satisfied and all accounts squared. Then, too, there was the song that has often been heard while the men worked away at the pumps. This song has become familiar and has been heard on college campuses and about the camp fire, its melody being its great attraction. It is an old Chantry and will not be as readily forgotten as many others:

Oh, the times are hard and the wages low,
Leave her, Johnnie, leave her,
And there's ten feet of water in the hold below,
And it's time for us to leave her.

Oh, the beef's all black and the pork's turned green,
Leave her, Johnnie, leave her,
And the fresh grub for Sunday has never yet been seen,
And it's time for us to leave her.

Or, we've been pumping for a very long while,
Leave her, Johnnie, leave her,
And it's time for us to leave her.

The Chantry has been claimed to be almost entirely of American origin. This is true of those quoted, but the Chantry is universal, and is heard on the Seven Seas. Those sung by the French and the Italian sailors and by the Portuguese are remnants of set ballads, and are wonderfully attractive. One has but to frequent the wharves and sooner or later a burst of song will show that the Chantry is not yet passed into oblivion and that the sailor, in keeping alive the traditions of the sea, in lore, although he may not realize the importance of the song he sings as a contribution to the literature of his day and generation.

The Best and the Worst.

The ninth German war loan was offered recently and throughout a week which was distinguished by these "market pointers": Former loans, $22,000,000,000; total war debts over $40,000,000,000; paper money, including paper issues, $5,250,000,000; a 30-point fall in Berlin stocks—60 points in Roumanian oil securities, which are spoils of war capitalised and subject to restitution; Germany loaded with the worthless paper of her allies; her exchange in neutral countries 46 per cent. below par; Austria-Hungary bankrupt and asking a conference; invaded Bulgaria suing for terms; a Turkish Sedan in Palestine; Balkan disaster; defeat in France at half a dozen points at once; 40,000 prisoners taken in three days; America in the field, swiftly growing in power. Germany offers next to the worst security in the world.

REPAIR FARM BUILDINGS

How and When to Paint Them Efficiently.

In the Fall the Buildings, Like Machinery, Should Be as Thoroughly Overhauled as Labor Conditions Permit—Broken Windows Should Be Repaired, Dust and Cobwebs Cleaned Away and the Premises Brightened by Cleaning and Whitewash.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

EVERY farmer should care for his farm buildings in such a way as to maintain them in good serviceable condition and so conserve his resources generally. On most farms there are many details in themselves of minor importance, but in the aggregate of tremendous influence. Carelessness of the exterior of buildings is an indication, generally, of the conditions existing in their interior. Slowly surroundings and general run-down conditions are the hall-marks of ineptitude and mismanagement.

The farmer may not be able to change the location of his farm, but to a great extent he can control its appearance and general conditions by seeing that the roofs are in good repair and weather tight, the fences in place, gates in order and painted, on hinges, not sagging or dragging on the ground, the latches and hinges of all doors and gates greased and operating freely; no broken lights in the window shades of the various buildings; the stable fixtures in order, the stanchions and partitions in place, and the manure shed floor in good repair, giving to the whole place the impression that it receives prudent care and regular attention.

Investigations have disclosed the fact that concrete is an ideal material for repairing and making in the hands of a resourceful person on the farm. Publications issued by cement manufacturers as to tools and materials used, suggest a proportioning the mixture, how to mix, how to plan forms, reinforcement, etc., may be obtained for the asking.

Doors.—The ordinary stable door construction of two thicknesses of matched lumber is not satisfactory, because the effect of the warm moist air of the stable on the inside ply of lumber causes it to swell, while the outer lumber, being less affected, causes the door to spring out top and bottom. A paneled door is less affected because the expansion and contraction resulting from atmospheric conditions is taken up by the panels.

To hang a door hold it up against the jambs and mark round with a pencil. Then cut down to these lines. Make it 1/2 inch narrower and 1/2 inch shorter. The hinges should be placed about six inches from the top and the lower one ten inches from the floor. The thickness of the casing should be taken from the width of the hinges, the balance, divided by two, gives the distance the hinge is to set back from the face side of the door. In all cases the hinge should be wide enough to reach across the two-thirds of the thickness of the door. Heavy doors should have three hinges. The mortise for the hinge of the door should bevel slightly toward the front, so that the hinge will not strike the jamb.

Setting locks for the door.—Rim locks are those that are simply screwed on to the face of the door. Mortise locks are those set into a mortise in the door itself. The rim lock is held in position and marked for keyhole, knob-bar hole, and screw holes. The first two are cut and the last are bored and the lock screwed into place. The escutcheon and knob plates are put on, and the keeper is then put on to the jamb.

The mortise lock is set into the mortise cut in the door, just wide and deep enough to admit it, the face plate of the lock being set flush with the face of the edge of the door. Mark for the knob-bar and keyhole holes. Set the lock and fasten in; the knob plates and escutcheon set, and knobs adjusted. The keeper is then mortised into its proper place, flush with the edge of the jamb.

Roofs.—See that the roof is tight. Remember that there are shingles and shingles. The old standard size 18 inches long—five butts together to equal 2 1/2 inches—are superior in several ways to the present method of cutting them to 16 inches long, six butts to two inches. Much depends on the way the shingle is manufactured. A roughly cut shingle will not give good service because of its tendency to draw the water up under the weather line by capillary attraction, and the "fuzz" harbors dust, making good hold for moss to start growing. The edging should be smooth and carefully done so that the butts are slightly narrower than the points so as to allow any debris to pass through the joints and not accumulate and start a rot.

Cattle Ties and Mangers.—The comfort of the cattle is of great importance as it affects the milk production and their feeding qualities. Whatever type of manger is used simplicity of construction, convenience of feeding and cleaning should be considered.

The swivel of the chain cow-tie should be examined to see if it works freely. In any case apply a little grease to it. Any weak or broken links may be neatly and effectually secured by using a slit-link or a wire link made out of two or three turns of fence wire through the links, allowing the ends long enough to be crossed and wound round the strands in opposite direction after the manner of the lineman's splices. The stanchions, links and swivels should be attended to in similar way.

To the Voter

TO establish that the 2.51% beer to be voted on—the "Beer of the Ballot"—is not intoxicating, The Ontario Brewers' Association deposited $5,000 with the Canada Permanent Trust Company on September 16th.

On September 19th, The Ontario Brewers' Association formally challenged the Referendum Committee through the Press to deposit an equal amount with the same Trust Company to support their contention that this beer is intoxicating.

That challenge has never been accepted—clear admittance by the Referendum Committee they do not consider that they have a case. It is too late now to make the tests and render a decision before the day of voting—October 20th—but the failure of the Referendum Committee to answer our challenge, will not be overlooked by the man or woman who votes on facts and evidence, and not on sentiment or false statements.

We again assert that 2.51% beer—"The Beer of the Ballot"—is not intoxicating. Tests have only recently been made which prove this conclusively—we will mail a copy of the test to anyone sufficiently interested to write for it.

Moreover, while the "Beer of the Ballot" has an alcoholic strength of but 2.51%, official tests made by the laboratory of the Inland Revenue Department—published in Bulletin 196—showed that the beers on general sale before The Ontario Temperance Act and Prohibition were enacted, had an alcoholic content ranging as high as 7.33% by weight measure—practically three times as strong as the beer to be voted on October 20th. Even such American beers as were sold in Canada and always spoken of as "very light, non-intoxicating beers," were over fifty per cent. stronger than the "Beer of the Ballot."

The "Beer of the Ballot" is a mildly stimulating, healthful and refreshing beverage, brewed from a high grade of malt and hops—containing only sufficient alcohol to make it digestible and nourishing.

Look to the Future

Begin with the Boys

THE glorious victories of Drake and Nelson were destined to be the foundation of our Empire and the guarantee of the freedom of the seas, which makes possible the vast international trade of Britain and her Dominions.

And yet when Drake and Nelson chose the sea as their life-work, who was there to know what would be the overwhelming consequences of their decision?

Today, if you have any question in your mind as to whether you should support the work of the Boys' Naval Brigades, study the matter with an eye to the future. Get clearly in mind the tremendous importance of Canadian products reaching foreign markets, which can only be assured by the building of a great Canadian Mercantile Fleet, manned with Canadian Seamen!

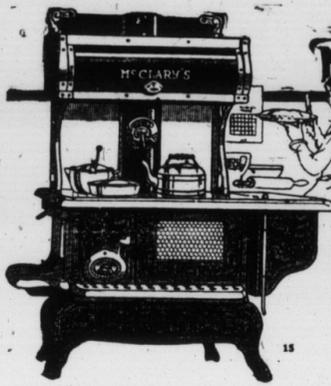

We may build ships by the thousand, but if we cannot man them ourselves our position is still economically unsound. If we do not train Canadian lads to man our merchant fleet, we shall be left behind in the race for export markets—we shall have missed the greatest opportunity for trade expansion in all history!

What will YOU do to help some Canadian boy who is anxious to learn seamanship, and so be of the greatest service to his country?

Let your contribution to the fund be a worthy answer. Help them by giving!

Intolerance or Compromise?

A Challenge to Common Sense!

DON'T let anyone tell you that the issue on October 20th is "The Beer or the Boy"—"Is Alcohol a Poison or not"—"Economy or Extravagance"—any such an abstraction.

The plain situation is—three sections of the people of this Province are absolutely dissatisfied with the Ontario Temperance Act and want new legislation that will permit the sale of light beer and wine generally, and the sale of pure, spirituous liquors only through Government agencies.

These three sections of the population are—ninety per cent. of organized labor, by actual vote; a large number of returned soldier organizations, by actual vote; thousands of the rank and file of the electorate who have joined the Citizen's Liberty League.

The plain issue then is—Are you going to vote for the safe, sane, fair compromise that these men and women want; or, are you going to insist on the retention of the unsatisfactory Ontario Temperance Act—insist on the retention of legislation that is breeding and will continue to breed dissatisfaction and discontent among our workers, returned men and a large section of the citizens generally?

Which are YOU for—COMPROMISE and HARMONY, or INTOLERANCE and Widespread Resentment?

Study the Ballot and analyze the situation conscientiously. This is one of the most vital concerns you have just now—a settlement of Ontario's vexed temperance problem that will be in the best interests of all the people.

DRAINAGE OF HILLSIDES

Wet Surfaces Greatly Improved by Tile Drains.

Only by Keeping Individual Milk Records Can the Dairyman Weed Out All His Unprofitable Cows—Monthly Milk Record Sheets Are Furnished Free.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE erosion of hillsides and the flooding of the land below by the eroded material has long been a worry and an economical loss to many farmers in hilly and mountainous sections. This can frequently be prevented, and the method employed depends on the conditions existing, such as the nature of the soil; light or heavy, the steepness of the slope, and the type of agriculture practiced; pasture or tilled crops.

Wet hillsides used as sheep pastures may be much improved by what are sometimes called "sheep-drains." These are merely shallow open ditches about 30 inches wide on top, nine inches wide on the bottom, and 15 inches deep for removing the surface water, and carry it in a definite channel to a suitable outlet at the base of the hill. The removed earth should be thrown out on the lower side to form a sort of embankment to the drain. The grade of the ditch should not be so steep as to give the water sufficient force to destroy the drain by either washing away the banks or digging the drain itself deeper and thus making it dangerous for the sheep and lambs. Sub-drains are sometimes necessary.

A system of terracing is quite universally used to prevent destructive washouts on hillsides. The terraces are made perfectly level and of any width and then carefully seeded to grass. At the time of rain the water spreads out evenly over the surface of the slope and then flows gently over the slope without sufficient force to wash away any portion of the hill and thus prevents "gullying."

For the drainage of tilled hillsides a system of under-drainage is sometimes used successfully. The amount of erosion of the land largely depends on its condition. If the surface soil can be kept firm the erosion will be lessened. Soft spots on the hillside, though, frequently occur as a result of seepage water from above which has penetrated the surface soil and reached an impervious layer and thus deflected to the surface on the side of the hill. Water flowing over this with considerable force will naturally wash it away more easily than the firmer soil, free from this seepage water.

If the drains are so laid to intercept this seepage water, considerable erosion can be prevented. If the hillside is comparatively steep, drains laid at an angle to the incline will be more satisfactory. They will naturally intercept all of the water flowing through the soil above them. Also the grade will be less and the drains are not so liable to be affected by the water moving slowly through them. If the slope is not very steep the drains may be laid down the incline with satisfactory results. Here the tile drains the land on both sides and no double draining results.

In this under-drainage the general benefits are again obtained. The water level is lowered, thus giving more root capacity to plants and the prevention of surface washing by allowing the water to penetrate through the soil to the drains, thus carrying much plant food to the roots of the plants.—R. C. Moffatt, M.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Methods of Keeping Cow Records.

Four things are necessary for keeping cow records:

1. A monthly milk sheet, ruled so that there shall be a column for recording the weight of the morning and evening milking of each cow for each day of the month, though some use a sheet ruled for three days only, and estimate the weight of milk given for the month from these three days, which may be consecutive, or on the first, tenth and twentieth of the month, making ten-day periods between. The Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto, will furnish (free) monthly milk record sheets to those interested.

2. A milk scale—preferably one having a dial face and two hands, one of which shows the net weight of milk in the pail, when properly set. This scale costs about five dollars.

3. A four to eight bottle Babcock test, where it is desired to know what each cow's milk tests in fat. This will cost from eight to twelve dollars complete. (If a member of a cow-testing association or convenient to a creamery or cheese factory, arrangements can usually be made to test the samples, hence the tester is not needed, but a progressive dairyman should have his own testing outfit and use it.)

4. The fourth and most important requirement is "The will-to-do." Without this milk sheets, scales, testers, etc., are valueless. By having scale, sheet, pencil, sample bottles properly labelled, etc., all conveniently arranged, it takes but little time to keep a record of each milking cow in the herd.

We would add a fifth need, which is some form of permanent record book for monthly totals and tests, as milk sheets, and notes or records of testing, are likely to be lost and not available for reference. But if these are recorded once a month in a permanent form, they will prove a source of help in breeding, feeding and weeding dairy cows.—Prof. H. E. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

To the Men and Women Electors of Newbury and Mosa:

A majority "Yes" vote for either question 2 or 4 on the Referendum ballot would mean the return of the sale of intoxicating liquor to Newbury as a Government business. The citizens of Newbury would have absolutely nothing to say in the matter. It would mean drunken men on our streets and in our homes, women terrorized and abused, children growing up accustomed to the foolishness, foulness and brutishness resulting from the use of strong drink.

For streets quiet and safe, for homes pure and decent, for individual and community prosperity, for love of God and your neighbor, for any one or all of these reasons, vote "No" straight through.

W. H. PARNALL

To the Voter

DO YOU KNOW— that the beer sold in Ontario previous to prohibition ranged up to over 7% alcoholic content by weight measure, whilst the "Beer of the Ballot"—the beer for which you are asked to vote October 20th—has a strength of but 2.51%?

DO YOU KNOW— that such well-known beers manufactured in the United States as Blue Ribbon, Budweiser and Schiltz—always spoken of as "very light non-intoxicating beers"—ranged up to 4.19%—sixty per cent. stronger than the "Beer of the Ballot"—the beer for which you are asked to vote October 20th?

DO YOU KNOW— that in Maine, where prohibition has been in force over sixty years, the courts have held that beer of 3% alcoholic strength, was non-intoxicating—and any beer of under 3% strength was permitted to be sold as freely as ginger ale?

DO YOU KNOW— that in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—as a result of the findings of Government commissions appointed to determine what was an intoxicating liquor—beer of practically the same strength as asked for in the coming Referendum is regarded as non-intoxicating and is sold everywhere, by anybody, without license, and without paying a Government tax?

Increasing Our Fall Sales

Volume of business to Oct. 1, 1919, shows surprising increase over any former year.

Our heavy fall and winter stocks, bought from the leading factories and mills of Canada, place this store in a position to offer "superior quality" in all lines at most "reasonable prices."

The reason we can sell at such moderate prices, compared with city stores, is because of our big volume of business at little overhead expense.

How to say "No!"

Mark Your Ballot with an X after Each Question under the word "No"

1	Are you in favour of the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act?	YES	NO
			X
2	Are you in favour of the sale of light beer containing not more than two and fifty-one one-hundredths per cent. alcohol weight measure through Government agencies and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO
			X
3	Are you in favour of the sale of light beer containing not more than two and fifty-one one-hundredths per cent. alcohol weight measure in standard hotels in local municipalities that by a majority vote favour such sale and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO
			X
4	Are you in favour of the sale of spirituous and malt liquors through Government agencies and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO

Above is an exact reproduction of the Referendum ballot, showing the correct way to Vote in order to sustain the Ontario Temperance Act as it stands.

Everybody should study the four questions and realize exactly what they mean. Do not be misled by the insidious demand for "light" beer.

The beer of the ballot is 118% stronger than the Ontario Temperance Act now allows, and over five times as strong as the limit allowed for beer defined as non-intoxicating in Great Britain and the United States.

Answer Each Question

- Unless you vote on every question your ballot is spoiled.
- You must mark your answer to each question with an "X" only. Anything else would spoil your ballot.
- Unless a majority vote "No" on question 1 the bars will be restored and the sale of all kinds of intoxicants permitted.
- Unless a majority vote "No" on questions 2, 3 and 4 the Ontario Temperance Act will become almost worthless.
- The only SAFE course is to mark your ballot as shown above.

"No!"—Four Times—"No!"

No repeal; No government beer shops; No beer saloons; No government whiskey shops.—Four X's, each under the word "No."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1919

For voting on the referendum and for political candidates next Monday throughout Ontario polling booths, except in Toronto, will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. standard time.

Christian living requires sacrifice. After you have read the arguments of the Citizens' Liberty League, ponder over this:—"Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend."

The thousands of men all over Ontario who have made a good recovery from the habit of strong drink, since the abolition of the public bar and the seductive treating system, will not welcome the return of the old haunts and customs of drinking days.

The Ontario Temperance Act was a wise and effective wartime measure. Its operation has been a blessing to many individuals and homes. It would be a public calamity to repeal the act for it will work just as effectively in peace time. Mark your X in the No column to each of the four questions on the ballot paper.

MR. ELLIOTT'S WITHDRAWAL

Toronto Globe:—J. C. Elliott has resigned the Liberal nomination in West Middlesex because E. F. G. invaded the field and made a Government victory probable in a three-cornered contest. Yet the farmers have had no better friend than Mr. Elliott in the Legislature.

Toronto Mail:—A more grievous blow to Western Ontario Liberalism is the withdrawal of Mr. Elliott, who is regarded as one of the party's most able men, and who only a few weeks ago was regarded as a very likely possibility for the provincial leadership.

London Advertiser:—Mr. Elliott's withdrawal is a mar for regret throughout the constituency he has served so long and efficiently, and the province generally will be a distinct loser by his retirement from the contest. The Legislature has had no more faithful member than Mr. Elliott and few his equal in debate and the business of the House generally. He is a skilful, adroit parliamentarian and a hard worker. It is unfortunate that the complicated political situation should necessitate his dropping out at a time when his experience and ability would be of such great advantage to urban and rural interests alike in the work of reconstruction. The wish that his retirement will be a temporary one will be widespread.

VOTE "NO!"

The Montreal Witness says: "The whole propaganda for the restoration of liquor in Ontario is full of misrepresentation. It is being pushed in ways so as to deceive. If possible, patriotic, well meaning, temperance people. It is being suggested, for instance, that if a man or woman votes "Yes" on one question and "No" on the other three, he or she casts a ballot three-fourths for prohibition and but one-fourth for a mild modification of the prohibitory provisions. This is utterly wrong. Every modification suggested is a violation of the essential character of prohibition. When the enemy came down like a flood at the second battle of Ypres, if they had pierced the line in one place the whole Allied battle front might have been brought to collapse. Ontario soldiers helped to save the situation on that day. Many of them will do the like on the twentieth of October. A vote of four "Noes" is the only way to preserve Ontario's splendid legislation and to pave the way for a safe, sane, sober, prosperous and successful Canada.

A PATRIOTIC SPIRIT IS BEHIND DRIVE

Nelson's Day Campaign of the Navy League is for Canada's Benefit

A strong appeal to the patriotic spirit dominates the Nelson Day Campaign to raise half a million dollars to be spent in the Dominion under the auspices of the Navy League of Canada. Much of the proceeds of the drive, which takes place October 21, 22 and 23, will be devoted to the work of training Canadian lads for service on the seas.

The Navy League has already established Boys' Naval Brigades in the principal cities of the Dominion and most encouraging results are being accomplished. Training is provided free to the boys who are being made into skilled seamen for the Merchant Marine. This will ultimately prove of inestimable benefit to the nation. Canada's future must depend largely on getting surplus products to the world's markets and the Dominion must make her own sailors.

In addition to the needs of the Naval Brigades the Navy League has established sailors' homes and institutes at Canadian ports, and money is required to maintain and extend this estimable work. All Canadians are called upon to make the Nelson Day Campaign a success similar to that which crowned the Sailors' Week Campaign last year.

Miller's Worm Powders are sweet and palatable to children, who show no hesitancy in taking them. They will certainly bring all worm troubles to an end. They are a strengthening and stimulating medicine, correcting the disorders of digestion that the worms cause and imparting a healthy tone to the system most beneficial to development.

It is an easy matter to follow advice that travels in the direction you are going.

Don't Submit to Asthma.—If you suffer without hope of breaking the chains which bind you, do not put off another day the purchase of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. A trial will drive away all doubt as to its efficacy. The sure relief that comes will convince you more than anything that can be written. When help is so sure, why suffer? This matchless remedy is sold by dealers everywhere.

The Bowels Must Act Healthily.—In most ailments the first care of the medical man is to see that the bowels are open and fully performing their functions. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded that certain ingredients in them act on the bowels solely and they are the very best medicine available to produce healthy action of the bowels. Indeed, there is no other specific so serviceable in keeping the digestive organs in healthful action.

Prepare to pay for Victory.

Everyone Who Bought Canada's Victory Bonds Made Money

EVERY one of the million and a half subscribers to Canada's Victory Bonds knows that he can sell them today for more than he paid for them.

Every one who bought Canada's Victory Bonds has received 5½ per cent. interest per annum—paid twice a year.

Over half a million Canadians who bought Canada's Victory Bonds on the instalment plan saved money that they would not otherwise have saved.

The guarantee back of Canada's Victory Bonds is the same as the guarantee back of a One Dollar or a Two Dollar bill. There is this difference, however, that you get interest on the Victory Bonds and you don't on the One or Two Dollar bill.

Canada's Victory Bonds will always be accepted as security for a loan.

Banks are ready to loan money on Canada's Victory Bonds.

Canada's Victory Bonds may be turned into cash at any time.

There is no other way in which you can invest your money with such absolute security—paying such a good rate of interest.

Canada will soon give her citizens an opportunity to buy Victory Bonds 1919. It will probably be the last chance to buy Canada's Victory Bonds on such favorable terms.

Prepare to buy as many Victory Bonds this time as you now wish you had been able to buy the last time

Don't Submit to Asthma.—If you suffer without hope of breaking the chains which bind you, do not put off another day the purchase of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. A trial will drive away all doubt as to its efficacy. The sure relief that comes will convince you more than anything that can be written. When help is so sure, why suffer? This matchless remedy is sold by dealers everywhere.

The Bowels Must Act Healthily.—In most ailments the first care of the medical man is to see that the bowels are open and fully performing their functions. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded that certain ingredients in them act on the bowels solely and they are the very best medicine available to produce healthy action of the bowels. Indeed, there is no other specific so serviceable in keeping the digestive organs in healthful action.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF MIDDLESEX:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

We understand there is a story being circulated throughout the riding to the effect that Mr. Lethbridge is pro-German and that he and his family took no part in Red Cross or patriotic work, and other similar stories.

There are no undersigned officers of the Battle Hill Red Cross Society deem it our duty in justice to Mr. Lethbridge to say that such stories are positively malicious and untrue. His family has always taken an active part in our Red Cross work, as well as all good work for the moral uplift of our community.

Signed,
President, Mrs. J. Stinson,
Secretary, Mrs. D. A. Coulthard.

R. J. McCormick, who represented East Lambton in the Ontario Legislature for eight years prior to the election of Dr. Martyn, died on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McKellar are expected here from the West this week. Mr. McKellar was formerly district agent here for the Massey-Harris Company, and is returning to take the same position after looking after the company's interests at Saskatoon for several years.

An informal dance held by the high school "good times club" at the town hall on Thursday evening was pronounced an enjoyable success by those who were there. Some thirty couples were on the floor when the scribble looked in. Splendid music was furnished by the Fisher orchestra, and the luncheon was all that could be desired.

Reeve A. J. Wright left yesterday for Toronto to attend a meeting in connection with organizing for the Victory Loan campaign, he being vice-chairman of the committee for Middlesex county. While in Toronto it is the purpose of Mr. Wright to press on the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission the urgent need of having their power line connected up with Glencoe at once.

Ex-Warden Dan Graham presided at a meeting in the town hall Tuesday afternoon in the interests of Giles Lethbridge, U. F. O. candidate in West Middlesex. The speakers were Mrs. Ferguson, of Strathroy Women's Institute; Mr. Powers, a Durham county farmer sent by U. F. O. headquarters, Toronto; Mrs. Charles McDougall and Miss Ruby Scott, of Mt. Brydges. The candidate delivered the final address, explaining the aims of the United Farmers. Miss Lethbridge and Miss Alice Trotter of Mt. Brydges contributed solos.

J. Bruce Sutherland, a former resident of Glencoe, is here for a few days visiting relatives before returning to the West where he enlisted about five years ago. During the war he first served in France, where he was wounded by a shrapnel in the hip. After making fair recovery he was delegated for a time to rifle instruction in England. He afterwards served two years with the British expeditionary force in Russia, from whence he has just returned and will undergo a surgical operation for the removal of the shrapnel. At the time of his country's call he was engaged as a reporter on the Nelson, B. C. Daily News.

"Oh, mother, dear, you'd have to see him really to know. It's just that—that he's so used to having his own way that he takes it as a matter of course, as his right."

"Oh, my dear!" "But he does." "It shows up in everything that everybody in that house does. I could see that, even in this one day I was there. Benton, Sarah (the maid), Mrs. Gowing (the old cousin housekeeper)—even the dog and the cat show that they've stood at attention for Master Burke Denby all their lives. You just wait till I get my chance. I'll show him somebody that isn't standing at salute all the time."

"Oh, Betty, Betty, be careful, be careful. I beg of you, be careful!" "Oh, I will. Don't worry," laughed the girl. "But, listen, don't you want me to go on with my story?"

"Yes—ch, yes!" "Well, where was I? Oh, I know—just inside the library door. Very good, then. Ruthlessly suppressing my almost overwhelming longing to pounce on one of those alluring cabinets, I advanced properly and held out my note to Mr. Denby. As I came near I fancied that he, too, gave a slight start as he looked sharply into my face; and I thought I caught a real gleam of life in his eyes. The next instant it was gone, however (if indeed it had ever been there), and he had taken my note and waved me politely to a chair."

"Yes, go on, go on!" "Yes, well, do you know?—that's exactly what I felt like saying to him," laughed Betty softly. "He just glanced at the note with a low exclamation; then he sat there staring at nothing for so long that I began to think I should scream from sheer nervousness. Then, perhaps, I stirred a little. At all events he turned with a start, and then—when I saw, for just a minute, how kind his eyes could be."

"There, there, my child, I beg your pardon," he cried. "I quite forgot, you were here. Something—your eyes, I think—set me to dreaming. Now to business! Perhaps you'll be good enough to take some letters for me. You'll find pencils, pen, and paper there at your right. And I did. And I began. And that's all."

"All? But surely there was more!" "Not much, I look like a dozen letters, but most of them short ones. He said he was behind on his personal correspondence. Then he went away and left me. He goes down to his office at the Denby Iron Works every forenoon. I understand. Anyway, there I was, left in that fascinating room with all those cabinets full of treasures that I so longed to explore, but tied to a lot of scrawly notes and a typewriter. I forgot to say there was one of those disappearing typewriters wasn't quite like Gladys', but the keyboard was, and I very soon got the run of it."

"At one o'clock he came back. He had the letters all done, and they looked lovely. I was rather proud of them. I passed them over for him to sign, and waited expectantly for a nice little word of commendation—which I didn't get."

"Oh, but I'm sure he didn't—didn't realize that—that—"

"Oh, no, he didn't realize, of course, that this was my maiden effort at private secretarialing," laughed Betty, a little ruefully, "and that I wanted to be patted on the head with a 'Well done, little girl!' He just shoved them back for me to fold and put in the envelopes; and just then Benton came to announce luncheon."

"But tell me about the luncheon." "There isn't much to tell. There were just us three at the table, Mr. Denby, Mrs. Gowing, and myself. There was plenty to eat, and it was very nice. But, dear, dear, the dreariness of it! With the soup Mrs. Gowing observed that it was a nice day. With the chicken patties she asked if I liked Dalton; and with the salad she remarked that we had had an unusually cold summer. Dessert was eaten in utter silence. Why, mother, I should die if I had to spend my life in an atmosphere like that!"

"But didn't Mr. Denby say anything?" "Oh, yes. He asked me for the salt, and he gave an order to Benton. Oh, he's such a fascinating company—he is!"

"At the disturbed expression on her mother's face, Betty gave a playful shrug. "Oh, I know, he's my respected employer, and all that," she laughed; "and I shall be very careful to do his bidding. Never fear! But that doesn't mean that I've got to love him."

"Helen Denby flushed a painful red. "But I wanted—I hoped you would—ed—like him, my dear," she faltered.

"Maybe I shall—when I get him—er—trained," retorted Betty, flashing a merry glance into her mother's dismayed eyes. "Don't worry, dear. I mean that I've got to love him."

"Helen Denby brought her three or four newspapers which he had marked here and there; and for an hour I read to him. And what do you think?—when I had finished he said, in that crisp short way of his: 'You have a good voice, Miss Darling. I hope you won't mind if I ask you to read to me often.' And of course I smiled and said no, indeed, I should be glad to read as often as he liked."

"Of course!" beamed the mother, with so decided an emphasis that Betty exclaimed warningly:—"Tut, tut, now! Don't you go to worshipping him and worshipping him like all the rest."

"Worshipping him!" Helen Denby's cheeks were scarlet. "Yes," nodded Betty, with tranquil superiority. "It isn't good for him, I tell you. He doesn't get anything but worship from every single one of those people around him. Honestly, if he should declare that the earth was flat, I think that ridiculous old butler and that scared cousin housekeeper would bow: 'Just as you say,' mother's face flamed instantly scarlet. "Why, of course it is, mother. If you could have seen his face you'd have known that no one but somebody he cared very much for could have brought that lock to it. You see, he thought for a moment that I was she. Then he said, 'What a fool!' and sat down. Next he just looked at me; and, mother, in his eyes there were just years and years of sorrow all rolled into that one minute."

"Were there—really?" "The mother's face was turned quite away now. (To be continued.)

The Resourceful Bee.

Extraordinary stories about the cleverness of bees and ants are common enough, but most of the exploits recorded can be explained by the power of instinct, which is admittedly strong in these insects. A bit of observation printed in the French Revue Hebdomadaire, however, seems almost to prove the case for bee reason.

Prof. Bonnier writes in that periodical that in July, 1918, he witnessed the following circumstances:

A freight train, one car of which had been loaded with coarsely granulated sugar, had been wrecked on the Paris-Lyon rail line near the Biological Laboratory at Fontainebleau, scattering the sugar in a big heap over the ground. Near the place where the accident occurred there were some beehives, and the heap of sugar was soon swarming with bees.

But the industrious insects found that the sugar was crystallized in grains too large for them to carry away, and too hard for them to penetrate. What did they do then—give it up? Not at all. Apparently under the command of a competent commander among them, large numbers of the bees proceeded to fly to some watering troughs near by, where they loaded themselves with all the water they could carry. Then they flew to the sugar, upon which they proceeded to deposit the water they carried. Soon they had converted the surface into a syrup, in which the bees now proceeded to roll themselves. When they were well covered with the sticky substance they flew to the hives, where they were relieved of their syrup. Then they flew back to the troughs for more water to wet down more sugar.

Prof. Bonnier says that such clouds of bees were engaged in this work that within four hours the space where the sugar had been spilled had been completely cleared of it. In the meantime, sundry human beings had arrived who had the same intention concerning the sugar, but, seeing the white mass blackened by swarms of bees, they kept their distance rather than take a chance of being badly stung.

Poultry-keepers should visit their chicken houses once a week in the evening, as the birds' condition can be best observed when they are on the perch.

A Knowing Dog.
A man who had patiently listened to some anecdotes of canine sagacity cleared his throat and related, in a remarkable story:

There was a dog that made a practice of taking an afternoon nap on his master's bed. Having been chastised for displaying such poor manners, he resorted to the trick of jumping down when he heard steps approaching and of stretching out on the floor with an affected air of innocence. One day a hand placed on the bed revealed the warm place where he had been lying and established his guilt.

The next time his master entered the room he found the dog with his forepaws on the bed, blowing on the spot where he had been lying—to cool it.

Give her BOVRIL

Bovril is one of the most precious food substances in the world. Its beneficent effects are immediate; it acts like a glass of champagne, but without the reaction which wine sometimes brings. Bovril does permanent good by building up the very fabric of the body.

To get the full benefit of Bovril, take it regularly day after day. The value of "a course of Bovril" has been scientifically demonstrated by the independent investigations of Professor Thompson.

After bringing human subjects to a constant weight on a standard diet, he added Bovril to the other food, and found the body-building powers of Bovril to be 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

"Preserved Salmon, Esq."

In one of the U.S.A.'s busiest thoroughfares there is said to be a sign which reads, "Coal and Wood, Dealers in Wood and Coal!" And in America generally there is a kind of recklessness in the matter of names which outshines any sort of record in this country.

For instance, a Philadelphia lawyer is named Shellam, and another famous barrister of that city is named Hoastman.

The mayor of an Ontario town a few years back was honored by a visit from the Canadian Premier in his capacity of Minister of Trade and Commerce. He curiously enough signalled the occasion by naming twins, with which his wife had just presented him. "Trade" and "Commerce" respectively!

A lady in Massachusetts, who rejoiced in the cognomen of Bullcock, had the Christian name, "Preserved." Likewise, a well-to-do Jersey merchant bore the name, "Preserved Salmon!"

Moreover, it is said that baptismal registers show the following peculiar names:

Christmas Carroll, Mineral Waters, Orange Lemon, Wild Rose, Jubilee Gosling, Laughing Waters, Boadicea Basher, and Maggie Goin'!

In Lancashire there are reported to be many quaint names on the registers, and a few are worthy of repetition.

Bill Teacock, Rhubarb Jack, Toffee Tongue, Harry Mechanic, and Squinting Tommy.

Protect Your Watch.

By a simple device the most expert thief can be baffled, and although he may take the chain, the watch will be left in the pocket.

Two chain holes are required, one in the narrow band across the mouth of the vest, and the other between the second and third holes from the bottom of the vest.

Place your watch in the pocket, and draw the chain through the hole in the narrow band, and then fix it to the chain hole. A thief may break it at both ends, but the watch will be absolutely secure.

"China-Chin!"
Square chins, with little flesh, denote firmness and executive ability. Broad chins signify dignity, unless vertically thin, when, if with all there be thin lips of the bloodless kind, you find cruelty.

Protuding chins characterize men and women of the forceful type. Successful people usually carry their chins thrust forward, with compressed lips.

Retreating chins show lack of force mentally, morally, and physically, and denote that the possessor yields, is soon discouraged, and desires protection. The development of other faculties often makes up for this defect.

Long chins are poetical, unstable and delicate in constitution. People having them are said to be subject to internal derangements.

Medium chins, with small mounds of flesh on either side, characterize generosity and cheery natures.

A small, well-rounded chin indicates pleasure-loving. If dimpled, all the more so, for dimpled chins belong to coquettes.

Short chins show a great love of order and detail—"a place for everything and everything in its place" type of person.

Poor Adolphus.
"Oh, Adolphus, your birthday present was so lovely!" gushed the young man's fiancée, as they snuggled on the sofa. "And you left the price-ticket on. You shouldn't have spent so much as $35, you extravagant boy!"

"How careless of me!" exclaimed Adolphus, glad that the faint light hid his beaming face.

"And I see you bought it at Smith's," went on the charmer. "I—I wonder if you'd mind taking it back and changing it for one of those $25 bracelets they have there?"

And half an hour later the young man was still kicking himself for his smartness in buying a $10 brooch and putting a $35 label on it.

A Use For It.
It was the fifteenth house he had called at unsuccessfully, and the book-agent was getting fed up.

"Sorry," said the householder, when he could get a word in, "but I never read books."

"Buy it for the children, then?" suggested the agent.

"I have no family—only a cat."

"Well," was the despairing agent's last hope, "don't you want a nice, heavy book to throw at the cat?"

The small actual good is better than the most magnificent promises of impossibilities.—Macaulay.

"A weak man's points are usually parts of his strong ones, if he is lucky enough to have any. Sensitiveness is an element or counterpart of sympathy, either in a public man or private body else, is a lover of sympathy, again, is an element of pride, and pride of the right sort is a tower of strength."—John Morley.

A woman came up to the paying teller's window at a bank the other day with a cheque for forty dollars which she wished to cash. The teller glanced at the cheque, and, fingering his bills, asked in his pleasant tones: "What denomination, madam?" "Lutheran," replied the woman; "what are you?"

MISTAKES IN SPEAKING AND SPELLING

DIFFICULTIES IN THE USE OF ENGLISH.

Examples of Most Frequent Stumbling Blocks in Everyday Conversation.

"Everyone should be allowed to spell as he likes," was the advice given to his audience by the principal of a great university, an educational expert, a little while ago. When the masters give such counsel we need not be surprised that our common language, spoken and written, gets a little crooked at times!

A great fault of to-day is the misuse of words by giving to them meanings quite different from their original sense. For instance, the words "fetch" and "bring" have really not the same meaning, though used as synonyms. "Fetch" expresses a double movement—first from, and then towards, the speaker, while "bring" only expresses motion towards one.

Among the most common mistakes made is the confusing of the words "lie" and "lay." The first, of course, is the passive verb, and the latter the active. A person lies down to sleep, but a hen lays an egg; this exemplifies the difference of meaning. "Stop" and "stay" are also words in the same category, and used as having the same meaning; but this is incorrect. The first signifies to arrest motion, while the latter word means to remain when arrested. The difference between "stay" and "stop" also has created some confusion in their use. "Fly" means to move with wings, while "flee" is a general term, and denotes moving with rapidity.

"Shall" and "will." How many people could discriminate between the words "crime, sin, and vice"? Yet each have different meanings. "Crime" is violation of a country's laws, sin that of religious laws, while vice is the breaking of the moral laws.

The use of the words "awful" and "awfully," when representing a strong view of something—"it was awful nice," she was awfully pretty"—have become a commonplace in our everyday speech. But the words really mean "full of awe," and need as shown are merely silly.

"We little" is an expression often on the lips of babies, but it is quite unjustifiable to place the two words together in describing some very small thing. The word "little" also has an empty house property in an example of the same type. The owner wants the public to know that his property is for letting now—"to let," but the redundant "be" makes it read as if it is a transaction for the future. The synonymous use of "either" and "neither," similar to "or" and "and," and "nor," is very common. But "either" being a singular pronoun—one of two, or both of two—is only responded to by "or"; while "neither," being the negative plural, should be accompanied by "nor."

"Shall" and "will" are similarly confused, a fault rather common in everyday speech. But it is easy to write or speak the correct word if one remembers that "shall" expresses obligation, while "will" is the verb denoting purpose and determination.

A Caribou Migration.

The great migration of caribou herds from their winter feeding grounds in the sheltered valleys south of the Churchill River to their summer pastures in the Great Barren began on March 25. The northward trek of the arctic deer is always a sign that spring is close at hand. As a prophetic sign, it is as sure as the appearance of the first robin in more southern latitudes.

Jules Lemoine, a Hudson's Bay Company trapper, who arrived early at Athabaska Landing with his winter catch of furs from the Arcturion Lake country, was the first to bring the news that the caribou had started their thousand-mile journey back to the tundra pastures. One morning he was awakened, he said, by a big noise. He thought it was a storm tearing through the forest or the ice breaking up in the lake; but he discovered that it was made by the caribou rattling and clashing their horns together. The valleys and hills were black with the herds that poured in a solid stream out of the south into the north. It took the caribou fourteen days and nights, Lemoine declared, to pass his camp.

The number of the caribou in the northern part of Canada has been variously estimated. A number of competent authorities, including Inspector Pelletier of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, whose patrol formerly extended from Hudson Bay to Great Slave Lake, estimated them at sixty millions. Ernest Thompson Seton, in 1906, admitted that that figure might be correct, but gave thirty millions as a safe estimate.

Test of Good Sapphire.

A really good sapphire should appear blue by artificial light as well as daylight; some stones have a trace of black, and some red, the latter making them resemble amethyst, especially by lamplight or gaslight.

One-fourth teaspoonful of soda added to boiling cabbage destroys any disagreeable odor.

Is He Seventeen or Eighteen?

Do you remember those ages, when your character was being formed—how you followed examples, did what other people did—your senior years at school—your start in business? Recall them if you can. You gained a knowledge you will find useful when your own boy starts out.

Give him the right start. Teach him the value of personal appearance and self respect. Tell him his confidence may be gained merely from a clean shave—or, better still, show him—and show him in a practical way.

Give him a GILLETTE Safety Razor and make his morning shave come easy. The old time pulling and scraping is a thing of the past. The haphazard element is gone. There is no need for your boy to know anything but the ease and comfort of the Gillette shave. It is the razor of his time—that to which he is entitled—nothing more, nothing less.

Making Cow Feeds Attractive.

Success in feeding dairy cows depends largely upon getting the animals to eat large quantities of feed, and to continue them to consume large amounts of the feed. This must employ several schemes to make the feed more appetizing or palatable. Many feeders make the mistake of not feeding the cow enough. About 50 to 60 per cent. of the feed goes to maintain the body. If the ration is reduced a fourth, the portion left for milk production declines a half, for the maintenance requirement remains about the same. It is better to increase the ration gradually so that a larger proportion is available for the manufacture of milk, but the question centres about inducing the cow to eat the feed.

Salads in Rations.

We can walk up to a lunch counter, order a sandwich, beans and dessert, and our hunger may be fully appeased. But we can also go to a sumptuous banquet amid pleasant surroundings and eat a five-course dinner. The cow will do the same thing if she is put under analogous conditions and she will respond in increased production. The problem is to find out what salads and relishes she is especially fond of and then keep baiting her on till she reaches the limit of consumption commensurate with profitable production. Kindness in treatment and pleasant surroundings are essential in getting the cow to perform to the utmost.

A common way to get the cow to eat more food is to give it to her often. It is nature's way. We have often watched cows in the open pasture eat for a while, then rest in the shade and ruminate, soon going forth for more to eat. Why should we not imitate natural feeding habits if the method can be practically carried out? In the winter in particular it is possible to feed three or four times a day, and where many cows are kept, the time so spent upon the individual cow will be very small.

Molasses is a great appetizer, conditioner and mild laxative. It supplies nutriment, and when added to cheap hay, ensilage or grain, it makes the feed much more attractive to the cow and she eats with greater relish. We have noted when it was fed to high-milking cows and poured over the ensilage or grain, it acted just like mayonnaise on lettuce. In a few cases we have seen it used successfully when mixed with two or three kinds as much water and then sprinkled over the roughage, old hay, straw and chaff. From half a pint to a quart may be fed daily.

Feeds themselves differ in palatability. Cows relish some feeds much better than others, and skillful is he who can find out the individual tastes of his cows.—Ohio Farmer.

To Save Money on Express Packages Try This Plan.

Thousands of dollars are lost annually by the small shipper through neglect to pack and tag express shipments properly. The big fellows do not lose much, because they take pains to have their merchandise well packed and carefully tagged and stenciled.

Much perishable food is wasted every year for the lack of proper crating, or because the tags rub off or because there are several uncancelled addresses on the crate. The express companies pay the claims, but a great deal of time and effort is expended in settling them, and in the end the shipper pays, through increased shipping charges.

These rules for better service, prepared by express experts, will save you time and money in getting your produce to market: Always show your name and address as well as those of the person or firm to whom you are sending your goods. As an additional precaution, it is well to enclose your name and address inside the shipment.

Place plain, legible marks directly on each shipment by use of crayon (not chalk), brush, or stencil. Always erase old markings of every description. In marking shipments of iced goods, place the marks on some protected part where it will not come in contact with other packages. Never rely on a single tag. Avoid tags if you can write the address on the package, but never be satisfied with less than two tags.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional cold will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Mother's Advice.

There is a vein of true philosophy in the Russian even of the peasant class—though it is a philosophy that too easily degenerates into fatalism. In Ivan Speaks, by Mme. Fedorchenko, we read of a soldier who told what were the parting words of his mother when he was called to leave his home: "Our mother sent for us all. I came from the factory, and there were her words: "Live, my son, long; but live so that your life may not seem long to anyone else."

Could a better sermon be preached in fewer words?

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief by Enriching the Blood.

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather of autumn may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which may shortly leave the victim helpless and helpless.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin curing yourself to-day by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

University Memorial.

Speaking of the many donations to Universities in recognition of the sacrifices of college men and women, whose response to the call to arms was not surpassed in slacrity by any body or class of citizens in any of the allied countries, Sir Robert Falconer, President of the University of Toronto, points out with pride that no University in America has a record of service that surpasses that of the big educational institution which has helped to make the provincial capital famed throughout the world as a seat of learning. Sir Robert is intensely interested in the big campaign which is now being waged to raise half a million dollars to perpetuate, by a Memorial Tower and Gateway and the institution of scholarships and a lectureship, the war record of the 5,600 graduates and former students who answered when Civilization called, as well as the memory of the six hundred gallant men who cheerfully gave their lives on foreign battlefields.

In connection with the scholarships which are to be instituted here, $300,000 of the fund being set aside for this purpose, the President of the University of Toronto explains that a scholarship should now be less in value than $200 a year. This means that if one candidate is to receive a scholarship every year an outlay of $500 would be necessary for the four years' course. In order to supply such an annual income a good capital sum would be required. If it were decided that these scholarships were to be awarded for a period of years, say fifteen or twenty-five, the amount of capital would not be quite as large as that necessary if they were to be made perpetual.

The conditions required in addition to those of having served in the war or of being a close relative of one who has served are a certain standard of scholarship to prove that the candidate is likely to profit by a course in the University and if there are several candidates in the community the scholarship is to be awarded on the basis of merit.

His First Shave—Nearly.

For some time young Jones had suspected, when he stroked his chin, that there was something there, and now he was certain of it, so fearfully he hid himself to the barber's shop, and breathed again when he found he was the only customer. Calmly he took possession of the operating chair, and the towel had just been placed below his chin when—horrors!—the door opened, and in stalked three of his office colleagues. "Shave, sir?" said the barber, to the horror-stricken Jones. "N-no," blurted out the unfortunate youth in desperation; "face washed, please."

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of frezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of frezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection. This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue. This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestine, instead of being cast out of the system is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and four gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1919

MELBOURNE

Master Stanley Gould, while crossing the street, was run over by an auto. When picked up it was feared that he was seriously hurt, but we are glad to know that the little fellow is up and improving.

A political meeting was held in the Woodman hall in the interests of the farmers. Their candidate, J. G. Lethbridge, was present and made a splendid address. Mrs. McDougald of Ekfrid also addressed the gathering.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in the Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Isaac Petch, who has been in Cobalt for some weeks on business, has returned to his home here.

Miss Edna Petch of London spent the vacation here.

Miss Constance Howell spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Lole is spending her vacation at her home in West Lorne.

Miss Holmes attended the teachers' convention in Strathroy on Thursday and Friday, afterward spending the Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Strathroy.

Maxwell Parr of Toronto University spent the weekend here.

Mr. Campbell of Comber, formerly of Mayfair, called on friends here recently.

Over one hundred of our citizens motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McLean a few evenings ago. It was a surprise party.

Miss Alice Teople of London spent Thanksgiving at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robinson and family spent the holidays at Mr. Carmel, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown have moved to their new home in Essex.

Mrs. J. Moncrief and children have returned home after spending the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph West.

Mr. Clarke of Iona spent a few days with the former's sister here, Mrs. W. R. Vance.

WARDSVILLE

The death occurred last Saturday of Mrs. Aitchison, one of the oldest and best esteemed residents of Wardsville. During her residence here she endeared herself to all. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Malcolm, assisted by Rev. Mr. Murphy. She is survived by four sons, David and Windsor, William of London, and John and Arthur of New Ontario, and five daughters, Mrs. Reilly of Regina, Mrs. Calder of Beaverton, Mrs. Mahon of Saskatchewan, Mrs. Hill of Waterdown and Margaret at home.

Misses Mary and Elinor Martyn spent the holiday with Miss Cassie Pauls.

Miss Ivy Henderson spent the weekend here.

Miss Harper and Miss Ella Milner were the guests of Miss Deslie Purdy for the holiday.

Billy Matheson, evangelist, of London is conducting evangelistic services in the Methodist church here for the next three weeks.

Rev. Mr. Edmonds, a former pastor, preached anniversary sermons Sunday in the Anglican church. Both services were well attended.

Leonard Purdy of Walkerville and Miss Mary Purdy of Strathroy spent the weekend with their aunt, Mrs. Purdy.

Misses Ila and Waitie Quigley spent Thanksgiving at their home here.

Miss Elva Brinson had her tonsils removed at the hospital in London last week.

Mrs. Staples has returned from the West after an absence of a year.

Mrs. John Bilton, who is seriously ill, was taken to the hospital Sunday.

Dr. Hesser preached anniversary sermons at Crediton Sunday.

There was a combined meeting of U. F. O. candidates in the town hall here Friday evening. It was well attended.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday evening, the 11th inst. Rev. A. E. Waghorne, the pastor, announced no services here next Sunday owing to anniversary services in the Armstrong Methodist church.

SHIELDS SIDING

The Ferguson's Crossing Needle Club held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Nell McVicar. Although not largely attended, the meeting was very enthusiastic in discussing plans for the work of the coming year, and the disposal of the Red Cross money. The club will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Hugh R. McAlpine on Wednesday, the 15th. All the ladies are requested to attend to complete the plans for the year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Ferguson have returned home from Beaver, Pennsylvania, where they spent their honeymoon.

Mrs. Roland H. Shields and little daughter Elizabeth are visiting at Hugh A. McAlpine's.

And this Victory Loan this fall.

NEWBURY

Anniversary services held in Knox church on Sunday were well attended. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers. Rev. Mr. Laverie, B. A., of Hamilton Road Presbyterian church, London, preached splendid sermons at each service. The choir rendered especially fine music.

One well known in this vicinity passed away on Sunday afternoon in the person of Robert Armstrong. Deceased was born on the same farm on which he died about a mile from the village on the Hagerly road over seventy-three years ago, being the youngest of a large family who all grew up in the neighborhood. One by one they have passed away, leaving only one, a brother, Hugh, who resides here with his daughter, Mrs. Kraft. The late Mr. Armstrong had been in failing health for months but never a word of complaint—of a quiet disposition but a good neighbor. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from his late home Tuesday afternoon, interment being made at Wardsville. Besides his widow, six sons and five daughters are left, to whom sympathy is extended.

Among those home for Thanksgiving were Misses Margaret G. Bayne and Frances Archer from London Normal, Hazel Pennell from Wheatley, Albert Grant and Tom Wood from Windsor, Cameron Bayne from Toronto, Alex. Gray from Windsor and O. Pringle and family from London.

Reeve Holman received a letter a few days ago from the chief engineer of the hydro commission in which he states that the dam of hydro for Newbury will be taken up and advice as to necessary steps will be sent on.

Service was held in Christ church at 3 p. m. Sunday last. Rev. J. Edmonds, a former pastor, gave a short sermon which was very fine. Next Sunday is Children's Day and will be especially interesting.

Dr. R. E. Wilson, wife and daughters and Miss Pearl Robinson of London spent the holiday at Matt. Armstrong's and J. A. Robinson's.

Miss Henry of Petrolia spent the weekend with Mrs. R. H. Moore.

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother's Friend Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

CASHMERE

Miss Rhoda Taylor of Walkerville is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Taylor.

Miss Marie Bobier of Toronto spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bobier.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and daughter, Miss Rillie, of Morpeth are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jeffrey.

Mrs. Howard Gardiner and son Bramwell are spending a week or so in Michigan.

Harold Bobier of Detroit is spending the weekend at his home here.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Wm. Smith, who was taken to St. Joseph's hospital to undergo an operation, is getting along quite nicely.

Harley Reade of Chatham spent the weekend at his home here.

Miss Marjorie Webster of Chatham is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity.

Sunday last was Sunday School Rally Day in this church. The children's choir was excellent. Rev. W. M. Matheson, evangelist, of London took the service. The church was beautifully decorated.

MOSA

J. A. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McLachlin, Miss Sara McLachlin and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Nisbet and little son motored over and spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Nisbet, Wyoming.

Miss Paton spent the holiday at her home at Cambachie.

Harry Ralph of Wallaceburg visited his aunt, Mrs. M. C. McLean, during the holidays.

Mrs. Burke and Miss Burke visited at Walkers on Monday.

Internally and Externally it is Good. The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Eucletic Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pain in the chest, colic and many humored ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Let—

Ontario's Golden Era Continue

PROGRESS—PERFORMANCE—PROMISE

If we have given worthy service during the trying time of war, may we not be relied upon to serve the nation faithfully and well in hastening the time of still greater prosperity and happiness? As we have begun, so we will continue; fearless in the discharge of duty and ever alert in the service to the people. Conscious of our shortcomings, and grateful for the opportunities we have had to serve our Province, we submit our record with confidence to the electors for their consideration and approval, and ask from a united people a mandate to carry on the Government of this Province.

WAR WORK

Ontario gave in men 22,222 in contributions $1,122,222 in Victory Bonds $4,444,550. One half of Canada's 1919 effort. The Ontario Government spent on war work $2,222,222. Ontario's share of the most important military work in Europe. Ontario's share of the most important military work in Europe. Ontario's share of the most important military work in Europe.

EDUCATION

Ontario's educational system is designed to provide the most efficient training possible for the boys and girls who are to become the future citizens of the state. Under the leadership of the Ministry of Education no expenditure has been denied to accomplish this purpose. Generous grants have been made for agricultural and vocational training; returned soldiers are encouraged to enter the teaching profession; teachers' salaries have been raised and a superannuation scheme inaugurated. This year nearly $4,000,000 will be spent on education in Ontario.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC

Hydro is today the most extensive public-ownership enterprise of its kind in the world. Since its inception Hydro-Electric has saved the consumers of the province in Ontario over 250 million dollars. Hydro develops and distributes 300,000 horse power to over 250 municipalities, 17,000 farms, 10,000 businesses and 1,000,000 customers. Four power, The Queenston-Hillipsay, an estimated development of 400,000 horse power, and the prospective ultimate development in the whole Province is over 1,000,000 horse power.

AGRICULTURE

The agricultural industry in Ontario is in a prosperous and thriving condition. Appropriations in 1914 amounted to $27,500,000; in 1919, $47,675,000. Last year the value of the farm products of Ontario was $120,000,000, and the value of the combined farm assets was one and a half billion dollars. Within the last two years ten thousand farm mortgages have been paid off. Encouragement has been extended to every branch of the industry, education has been fostered and social conditions have been improved. Agriculture has received the "care and unremitting attention of the Government."

FINANCE

In 1914 the income of Ontario was $4,444,000; in 1915 it was $11,118,000; in 1916 it was $19,270,123. This has been accomplished without resorting to direct taxation except from the war tax, which has been repaid. Out of the revenue the Government has returned to the people in large amounts. $1,507,000 for Education; $1,222,222 for Agriculture. The public services have been enlarged and ample grants have enabled important public duties to be undertaken.

HIGHWAYS

Good roads add wealth and cheer to rural life. The highway improvement programme of the Ontario Government is applied to both urban and rural districts. A complete system of roads, including provincial roads, municipal county roads, county roads and township roads with a mileage of 12,500 miles, has been worked out and will be constructed. The entire motor license revenue, with a large amount added, will be spent annually on this work.

LABOR

Ontario's industrial leadership in Canada has been maintained by broad and effective labor laws. Under the Workmen's Compensation Act $10,000,000 has been paid out in awards. Special safeguards have been provided for female and child labor. A minimum wage in Ontario is assured, and a direct representative of Labor will sit in the Cabinet. Free employment engineering services and the free distribution of anti-toxins and serums have conserved life and prevented epidemics. A scheme of pensions for mothers is to be established. The Provincial Board of Health supplied all the typhoid vaccine used by the Canadian troops in the war. This feature of the work has brought about a saving of over $100,000 a year to the people of the Province.

HEALTH

Ontario's public health service is not excelled on the continent. Public health education, child welfare, sanitary engineering services, and the free distribution of anti-toxins and serums have conserved life and prevented epidemics. A scheme of pensions for mothers is to be established. The Provincial Board of Health supplied all the typhoid vaccine used by the Canadian troops in the war. This feature of the work has brought about a saving of over $100,000 a year to the people of the Province.

As a war measure the Ontario Temperance Act was so passed, suspending for the duration of the war the retail sale of liquor. The promise was given that as soon as the war was over the whole question of the character of the liquor legislation of Ontario would be submitted to the people by Referendum, and the will of the people would prevail. This promise is now being fulfilled.

PROMISE

Greatest possible assistance to Agriculture—Faithful enforcement of the Referendum—Support of Hydro-Electric; cheap light and power for the farmer—Convert railway branch lines into Hydro radial—Good roads in every part of Ontario—State pension fund for mothers—Direct representation of Labor in the Cabinet—A minimum wage—Housing accommodation—Legislation implementing the findings of the National Industrial Conference—Consideration to return of soldiers with Cabinet representation—Educational progress, technical and agricultural instruction—Improved transportation in Northern Ontario—Timber conservation—Encouragement in mining development—Enlargement of Ontario's free public health service.

Ford

"A Joan of Arc Machine"

"SHE withstood everything in the field and above all was, and still is, the last and only car to survive until the cessation of hostilities"—Extract from letter received by Ford Motor Company from a British Soldier, in Africa.

Over shell-torn roads, through water soaked fields, second only to the tanks in its power to climb debris and crater holes, the Ford car made a world famous record in the fighting area of the great war. In press despatches, in field reports, in letters, in rhyme and song the praises of the Ford were sounded.

In France - 700 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Italy - 850 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Egypt - 996 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Mesopotamia 959 cars out of 1,000 were Fords

The Ford power plant that established this world-wide record in every theatre of the war remains the same. It will be in the Ford you buy.
