POPE SPEAKS OUT AGAINST ATROCITIES OF GERMANS

"MUST REACH GOAL BEFORE PEACE TALK"

Ramsay MacDonald, However, Welcomes Socialist Proposals.

WOULD NAME CONDITIONS

Agrees That Britain Should Secure Countries Against More Militarism.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

(Copyright, 1915, by the U. P.)

London, July 3.—"I welcome wholeheartedly the German Socialist manifesto calling upon workers of other belligerent countries to use their endeavors for peace," declared Ramsay MacDonald, noted English labor leader, in an interview with the United Press today.

"It is only the beginning and must be regarded as such. I regret it deals so much with the past, because we are not in a temper to discuss that just yet. At the same time, I think it is the duty of the working class of other belligerent countries to respond to this manifesto and state on what conditions they are prepared to support a peace propaganda."

Reach Desired Ends.

MacDonald is leader of the Independent Labor party, the powerful Socialist wing of the British labor movement.

"The people of Great Britain entered this war to ward off certain dangers and secure conditions under which that could be done," said MacDonald. "They responded to the call of Belgium, and while so doing, made up their minds that this would be the last of great European wars.

"They are now told that they should decide to listen to no peace talk until Belgium has been further devastated by being fought over again, right up to the utmost border and until Germany is brought to her knees. I think it is our duty and honor, as well as to our interest, to accept what we desire, provided we can really get it, at whatever stage of the military operations it may be."

Must Reach Goal.

"Military operations are not ends in themselves, but at best only means to an end. Indeed, I hold that after the time comes when we can get what we want by negotiation, every life sacrificed is criminal waste."

"Conversely, it is no use talking about stopping war before we can reach our goal. The problem, therefore, is how the people of the various countries can get in touch with each other—how they can make their desires, their hopes, their fears understood by each other, and how from that knowledge and understanding they can come to settlements which will secure them against domestic militarism."

"It is because it is an essential step in that understanding that I welcome the manifesto of the German social democrats and believe the working classes of other belligerent countries should express their views in response."

STRONG APPEAL ON BEHALF OF CANADIAN TRADE

Lord Grimthorpe Says Britain Must Avail Herself of Resources.

MUNITIONS THE QUESTION

Lord Curzon Says Every Opportunity Will Be Given Dominion.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, July 3.—Speaking in the Lords last night on the subject of munition supplies, Earl Grimthorpe said the munitions bill conferred extraordinary powers, and it would be "inexcusable if we did not avail ourselves of the vast resources of Canada to obtain the shells we need." Canada was producing 40,000 per day. If satisfactory arrangements were made, he understood, the Dominion could bring up her production to 200,000 a day. Canada's efforts had been hampered by lack of official appreciation. Lloyd George had said that if the country was to be safe "we must have a sufficient quantity of shells and of machine guns."

Must Have Liberty.

It was essential, therefore, that Britain should apply for assistance to Canada and the United States, and to any other quarter from which she could get munitions. Reference had been made lately to a contract with Messrs. Morgan, and if Britain were to conduct her munition business in America through an American firm no better firm could have been chosen. But her liberty to deal with Canada or America was strictly limited by arrangements made with Morgan, and, according to businessman, she had paid more for articles from America than she should have paid, had there been open competition. In order to obtain sufficient munitions and to wage war with utmost efficiency she must change her policy in several respects.

Curzon's Reply.

Lord Curzon, in replying, assured the House there was no reluctance on the part of the Government to employ the resources of the Dominion and to give them an opportunity to manufacture articles which were needed for war. He begged that Grimthorpe be a little more cautious before condemning arrangements which had been made. When replying ten days ago on the subject of arrangement with Messrs. Morgan, he (Curzon) had overstated the terms of the commission, which was at the rate of one per cent and not two per cent, as he had then stated.

It was only fair that he should tell their lordships that within the last few hours he had received testimony from the highest authority that by arrangements with Morgan efficiency and economy in high degrees had been assured, and the arrangement had been in every way most beneficial to the Government and country.

J. P. MORGAN SHOT DOWN IN HIS LONG ISLAND HOME

Man of German Descent, Claiming To Be F. Holt, of Cornell University, Wanted Him "To End War"—Injury Not Likely To Prove Fatal.

[Canadian Press.]

Glen Cove, July 3.—Mr. Morgan's assailant asserted this afternoon that his name was F. Holt, and said that he was an instructor in German at Cornell University.

KNOWN AT CORNELL.

New York, July 3.—The Cornell University faculty list contains the name of a Frank Holt, who has been an instructor in German at the university since 1912. He holds the degree of bachelor of arts. There is nothing in the list to indicate where he received his degree.

A written statement was prepared by Holt, addressed to William E. Luyster, the justice of the peace, who had questioned Holt about the shooting. Holt signed the communication: "F. Holt, Dallas, Texas, and Ithaca." The statement reads as follows:

The Statement.

'My motive in coming here was to try to force Mr. Morgan to use his influence with the manufacturers of munitions in the United States and with the millionaires who are financing the war loans to have an embargo put on shipments of war munitions so as to relieve the American people from complicity in the death of thousands of our European brothers.

"If Germany should be able to buy munitions here we would, of course, positively refuse to sell her. The reason that the American people have not as yet stopped the shipments seems to be that we are getting rich out of this traffic: but do we not get enough prosperity out of non-contraband shipments, and would it not be better for us to make what money we can without causing the slaughter of thousands of Europeans?

"I am very sorry that I had to cause the Morgan family this unpleasantness, but I believe that if Mr. Morgan would put his shoulder to the wheel he could accomplish what I have endeavored to do. Of course, I did not want to injure Mr. Morgan, as I wanted him to do the work I could not do. I hope that he will do his share anyhow. We must stop our participation in the killing of Europeans and God will take care of the rest."

Holt was held on an assault charge. There was no formal arraignment.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Glen Cove, R. I., July 3.—John Pierpont Morgan, financier, was shot at his summer home here recently before 9 o'clock today.

The would-be assassin, a man apparently of German descent, who refused to give his name or any account of himself, called at Morgan's house with two revolvers, one in each hand, pushed himself into Morgan's presence, and after an exchange of words, opened fire with the 32-calibre revolver.

The first shot entered Morgan's groin and came out at his hip.

Second Went Wild.

POPE CONDEMNS GERMAN ATROCITY

Everybody Knows She Has Committed Such, He Tells Frenchman.

HE STILL LOVES FRANCE

Awaits Only the Occasion To Convince Her of His Sympathy.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—An account of a visit paid to Pope Benedict last Monday by Fernan Laudet, director of the Review Hebdomadaire, who formerly was secretary of the French embassy to the Vatican, is published by the Figaro. While M. Laudet does not pretend that the report of his reception at the Vatican is an interview, he quotes the words said to have been used by the Pontiff after being told by the journalist of the impression caused in France by Louis Latapie's interview with his holiness, printed by La Liberte.

When he mentioned neutrality, M. Laudet says, he was interrupted by the Pope with the exclamation: "Oh, that France would understand well that this neutrality is not indifference. I love France as I did fifteen years ago, and I have remained the same."

Proofs of Friendship.

The Pope referred to his efforts in behalf of a French mother who wrote him regarding her son, who was a prisoner in Germany, and told of sending a modest sum to France for charity.

"I have prayed for peace," the Pope is quoted as saying, "having no other concern than to implore the Lord to restore tranquility to a world thrown into disorder. You speak to me of the Cathedral of Rheims, which the Germans continue to attack. But from the beginning I directed the cardinal-archbishop at Cologne to express my complaints to the Emperor, and to ask him to spare religious edifices in future. The reply has been that the best would be done. If this romise has not been kept, what can I do about it? I have done all I have been able to do in this, and many other things which France ignores.

Condemns Atrocities.

"You ask me if I condemn in principle the atrocities committed. 'In principle' is not sufficient, I condemn them concretely. Everybody knows Germany has committed some atrocities, but I cannot specify depredations as some would have it, because I have not the necessary elements."

At the sound of the Angelus Pope Benedict withdrew, M. Laudet asserts, with the words:

"In any case I condemn highly the martyrdom of poor Belgian priests, and so many other horrors on which the light has been thrown. I await only the occasion to convince France of my sympathy."

ONE CRUISER BEACHED AND OTHERS FLED

Official Russian Account of Naval Battle Where the Germans Lost.

ENEMY'S SUBS FAILED

Damage To Ally's Warships Is Quite Insignificant, Says Report.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, July 3, via London, 10:36 a.m.—When the Russian naval squadron in the Baltic gave battle to five German cruisers and a flotilla of torpedo boats off the east coast of Gothland on July 2, one German cruiser was beached and the other warships were put to flight, according to an official statement issued today by the Russian Admiralty under date of July 2. The damage to the Russian cruisers, the statement adds, was insignificant.

The text of the statement follows:

"This morning (July 2), along the parallel of the Oestegarn lighthouse, on the east coast of the Island of Gothland, our cruisers encountered, in a fog, two of the enemy's light cruisers and some torpedo boats, and engaged them.

"At 9 o'clock in the morning a German cruiser, badly damaged, lowered her flag and ran ashore. The other cruiser and the torpedo boats fled.

"At 10 o'clock our squadron encountered the armored cruiser Roon, one light cruiser and one torpedo boat, and renewed the battle.

"At 10:30 o'clock the enemy began to retire towards the south. During the retreat the enemy was joined by another light cruiser. This vessel was attacked by our cruisers and fled. At 11:20 o'clock the pursuit ceased.

"After the battle our squadron was unsuccessfully attacked by submarines.

"The damage to our cruisers was quite insignificant."

PROBABLY MINE-LAYER.

London, England, July 3.—Following is the official report from Petrograd regarding Thursday night's naval action in the Baltic Sea:

CANADIANS AVENGED THE CRUCIFIXION OF ONE OF THEIR MEN

Exacted Terrible Toll From German Monsters That Nailed Him To Cross, Declares Wounded Soldier Invalided Home, in a Graphic Story of War Conditions As He Found Them in France.

A first contingent man, who has been invalided home from the front with various diseases and wounds, and who is merely waiting until the 10th of the month, when he will receive about $1,800 from the Canadian Government as a small recompense for what he has suffered for the sake of the British Empire, was a visitor in London this morning, and an Advertiser reporter met and talked with him for about an hour.

Harry Thomas Warren is his name, and he left Canada as a member of the 6th Field Battery. He enlisted in Guelph, but was transferred to Montreal to the 2nd Brigade headquarters staff under Lieut.-Col. J. J. Creelman.

It was on October 23 that the vessel carrying his unit left for the front from Shorncliffe, some short time later landing in Boulogne.

"The French soldiers show the greatest kindness to the British soldiers," stated Warren. "As soon as a unit comes into a French port from across the channel one of the French soldiers immediately hurries forward to meet the Britisher and points out to him where he may obtain food and cigarettes and liquid refreshment. Then while the Britisher is away doing justice to needed food and else the Frenchman does his work for him. And as soon as the Tommy comes back the Frenchman sends off another Britisher and does his work also.

Brother Killed at Louvre.

"The first fight I was in was at Louvre. That's where my brother William, who was number three on my gun, was killed. He was shot, and died instantly, and so did not have to suffer the agonies of the wounded. After the battle at Louvre we crossed the Meuse River and entered Rheims. We fought there with frozen feet, and in the most awful weather, as a result of which I contracted bronchitis and laryngitis, and was invalided home. I left Rheims the 29th of March, and passed through Louvre on the way to Boulogne, and thence to Folkestone and Shorncliffe. I was in the hospital here for a long time.

Better Treatment for Prisoners.

"A thing that struck me as peculiar, and it has been commented upon by many of the others invalided from the front, is that the German wounded prisoners receive the better treatment. They are placed in nice clean cots, while we lie on pallets. They had the whitest of sheets and other bed linen to cover their bodies, while we were not so well looked after. However, this is no kick I'm registering, remember. There was likely a reason for this.

More Prussian Kultur.

"Did I hear of German atrocities you ask me. Indeed, yes. Many and many of them, but I only personally came into contact with one case. It was of a young Belgian girl. Very beautiful she must have been, for even in death and with her breasts hacked off to the rib bones and clotted blood all about her bosom, she still retained a more than measure of pure loveliness. My brother and I discovered her, and we went a mile to get a pick and shovel and near Louvre we buried her. Those Germans are certainly brutal.

"And about that Canadian soldier who was found nailed to the cross. That was hellish, and it put into the heart of the other Canadian boys a blood lust that found its vent in murderous assaults on the enemy which he found unable to withstand time and again. I think the lads from the Dominion have more than revenged themselves for that cruel and uncalled for act. The general consensus of opinion held to by the men at the front is that the Canadian soldier was crucified after having been injured. Some thought at first that he had been nailed up after having come to death through a bullet or a piece of shrapnel, but later opinion thought not.

Killed Own Men.

"I will tell you of something now that shows you just to what extremes the Germans will go, and that their creed of militarism has bred in them the utmost disregard for human life, even that of their own men. At Louvre, the unit of which I was a member captured 632 men, four guns and two ammunition wagons, also 11 horses. Previous to this, the ammunition wagons had begun a retreat, and the Germans in the rear of these opened fire with a machine gun on their own men. They killed two soldiers and three horses.

"After you capture them the first words invariably addressed to you are: 'Have you got crust?' Before these words have been voiced almost they are rummaging in your haversack for your own day's rations, and unless you plant them a good blow in the chest or face, they will steal your food from you. They all seem to be in a starving condition when taken prisoners. And the joy they show when they are forced to give up their arms. They tell you terrible tales

CHIEF FEARS NOT GERMAN RAIDERS

Head of Police Force Brands Warnings As Work of Fanatics.

Chief of Police Williams is not at all alarmed over the prospect of a visit on July 4 from Germans in Detroit bent on doing harm in this city. To The Advertiser today he stated that he had not personally received any letters of warning.

"I think that letters of the sort which have been written are sent out by fanatics," he said. "They mean nothing, and people need not worry about them."

The chief says he does not look for any developments here tomorrow such as have been hinted at in letters received by various parties.

CITIZENS "PAY UP" DESPITE GROWLS

Tax Paying Rush Has Already Started At City Hall.

MANY HOLIDAY SEEKERS

These Want To Pay Bills Before Going On Vacation.

The manner in which citizens of London have been paying up their taxes in the past few days, notwithstanding the fact the first installments are not due until the end of the month, indicates plenty of cash and prosperity in the Forest City, no matter what conditions prevail elsewhere. As a matter of course, everyone protests with more or less emotion against the unbeautiful orange slips which tell an unwelcome tale of increased assessment. But people are paying just the same, and paying in such steady procession that the chief and staff of the tax department are having a rush to get out the remainder of the tax notices before the 15th of July.

In the lineup at the wicket this morning, the majority were men and women preparing to leave for the summer holidays, and anxious to be rid of vexatious bills before starting. A number of large payments are reported, many evidently preferring to settle up their year's taxes at once instead of following the installment plan.

GUELPH POLICE HOLD MISSING LONDON GIRL

Have Wilma Poyner in Police Station and Are Awaiting Parents.

Wilma Poyner, the London girl who was missing for more than a week, and who was discovered in Guelph yesterday when she telephoned her mother, who lives at 402 Dundas street, is now being held by the police of that city awaiting instructions from her parents.

According to the Guelph correspondent of The London Advertiser, Wilma declares that she was given a ticket to Guelph by a soldier of the 34th Battalion. She immediately went to the home of Mrs. J. Kelleher, 153 Ontario street, and secured board. Two days later she went to work in the Dominion Linen Mills.

After her telephone message of yesterday the Guelph police were notified and immediately took charge of the girl.

ITALIAN ADVANCE IN ISONZO CONTINUES

Enemy's Defence Is Getting Stronger—No Territory Retaken.

[Canadian Press.]

Udine, Italy, Friday, July 2—Via Paris, July 3—The advance of the Italian forces on the Isonzo front continues slowly but with some gains every day. The defence of the Austro-Hungarians is increasing in power, and occasionally they make resolute counter-attacks. Thus far, however, they have failed to retake any of the territory occupied by the Italians."

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—An empty lifeboat and another boat marked "Craigard, Leith," were towed into Penzance, England, today. It is suggested that the steamship Craigard, of 3,286 tons, which sailed from Galveston, June 3, and Newport News, June 11, for Havre, may have been the victim of a German submarine, though there is no proof of this, and nothing has been heard regarding her crew.

TOLMINO VILLAGE TAKEN BY ITALIANS

Key To Isonzo Valley Is Captured, But Austrians Bombard It.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—The Italians have occupied the village of Tolmino on the Isonzo, north of Gorozia, according to a Rome dispatch to the Herald. The Austrians still hold neighboring fortifications and are bombarding the village. Italian heavy artillery has been brought up and mounted for use against the forts.

Tolmino, the key to the Isonzo Valley, has been considered by the Italians indispensable in their operations in that district. It is protected by strong natural and artificial defences, and it is said to have been garrisoned by 30,000 Austrians.

CRUSHED BY STEEL

Man Found Dead on Flat Car at Ottawa.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, July 3.—The body of a man was found at Smith's Falls yesterday morning on a flat car loaded with steel which left Toronto Thursday night. A Montreal address was found on him, which led to inquiries in that city, and it is believed the description fits a man named Murphy. It is assumed that he went to sleep near the end of the car. During the run from Toronto, the train broke in two, and the sudden application of the emergency brakes is thought to have shifted the steel, which crushed him to death

"In the region of Metzeral two fresh attacks against our positions at Crete, situated to the east of this village, have been repulsed.

Along the remainder of the front there has been a very active cannonade, guns of all calibres taking part. Shells thrown into Arras started some fires, but the flames were placed under control.

"French aviators successfully bombarded from the air the railroad stations at Challerange, Zarren and Langemarck, as well as certain German batteries at Vimy and at Beauraing."

The towns of Challerange, Zarren, Langemarck, Vimy and Beauraing are in Belgium, in the territory in possession of the Germans.

Passenger Cars Land On a Freight Train Passing On Track Below.

[Canadian Press.]

Tacoma, Wash., July 3.—A Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train fell through a trestle near Rainier, south of this city, this morning. Many are reported killed.

All coaches except one of the train leaving Tacoma at 8:30 a.m. for Gray's Harbor, broke through an overhead trestle of the Northern Pacific track half a mile from Rainier, twenty miles south of here, about 9 o'clock and fell on a freight train passing beneath.

Dead and dying are being carried to Rainier. The loss of life is unknown.

BECKER TO NAME MEN WHO SHARED IN $100,000 GRAFT

If He Is To Die He Will See They Do Not Escape Scot Free —May Explain "Accidental" Death of "Big Tim" Sullivan.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 3.—On the authority of Charles Becker's counsel, Martin T. Manton, it was said today that if Becker fails in his appeal to the United States supreme court he will, before going to the electric chair, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, make a public disclosure of the names of the men with whom he is alleged to have divided $190,000 in graft money collected from gamblers and keepers of illegal resorts during his career as head of the famous police strong-arm squad. Six men, some of them police department officials, are understood to be involved in the statement Becker has prepared while awaiting the outcome of appeals to Governor Whitman and the United States supreme court.

"Becker will make a clean breast of the grafting," said Mr. Manton. "He will issue a statement, not for pay, but to divide the guilt of graft. He does not want to die, if die he must, and leave a set of men to use others as he has been used. He wishes to have the truth off his mind as soon as possible."

It was reported that Becker's statement would attempt to explain the death of "Big Tim" Sullivan, who was believed to have been killed by a New Haven Railroad train.

Conflicting statements and denials by some of the informers against Becker by others confused the situation today. One clear point was that the informers could not deny their testimony against Becker without violating the contract under which they were granted immunity by the state's representatives. Under this agreement they were to enjoy immunity unless shown to be guilty of perjury.

RUSSIAN SUBMARINE SINKS TURKISH SHIPS

Steamers and Sailer Sent To Bottom and Warships Driven Off.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, July 3.—The activity of a Russian submarine in the Black Sea is recounted in an official statement issued by the Admiralty today. The undersea boat sank two Turkish steamers and one sailing ship, with cargoes of coal and provisions, and then exchanged shots with three armored schooners off the mouth of the Bosphorus, driving them ashore.

The text of the statement follows:

"A Russian submarine in the Black Sea today torpedoed and sank a steamer of 2,500 tons. It then set fire to and sank a sailing ship of 1,500 tons. Subsequently a small steamer was sent to the bottom. The three vessels were in the neighborhood of Kesken, and were laden with coal and provisions. The submarine also sank another steamer anchored in the river, and several coal barges and a tug were driven ashore.

"Near the mouth of the Bosphorus the submarine came into action with an armored schooner. After an exchange of shots this vessel, with two others of a similar type, were run ashore."

16,000 ORANGEMEN FIGHTING GERMANS

That Many Canadians of the Order On Firing Line Now.

DEDICATION OF LODGE

"Langemarck" Will Commemorate Heroes Who Died for Britain's Cause.

A large number of Orangemen from this city and district gathered last night in the old Egerton Street Baptist Church to witness its dedication as the official lodgerooms of Langemarck Lodge, No. 2625, which, although only recently organized, has already a membership of 58. Rev. W. C. Riddiford, the worshipful master of London's baby Orange Lodge, presided and was loudly cheered when he said that 16,000 Orangemen from Canada are now on overseas service fighting for the Empire. At Langemarck he said Canadians made a name for themselves which will live forever in the annals of the British Empire. There is room, he said, in East London for another fine Orange lodge, and he predicted that Langemarck Lodge will soon be one of the largest and best in the city.

Urges Men to Enlist.

Capt. Peacock, who is chaplain of the 32rd Battalion, now in training on Carling's Heights, and grand chaplain of the Orange lodges of Western Ontario, was given a rousing reception. He spoke of the work he is doing as recruiting officer and urged young men and everyone who possibly can to respond as quickly as possible to the call to the colors. The work to be done, he said, is not nearly finished. He urged young Canadians to enlist more freely.

Bro. E. T. Essery, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, made the speech of the evening. He declared that 8,000 Orangemen went with the first contingent and that 8,000 or more would go with every contingent.

Old Guard Ready.

Amid cheers, he declared that the Old Guard of Orangemen was ready, if need be, to shoulder arms and go to the front to a man. He spoke at length upon the principles of the order and told of its growth.

During the evening musical selections by the male quartet and Bro. Moore were much enjoyed.

Worshipful Master Crouch of the Guelph Orange Lodge, spoke briefly. He is at present with the ambulance unit of the 34th Battalion and will leave with the battalion on overseas service.

TWO LONDON GIRLS RUDELY DISMOUNTED ON PORT BRIDLE PATH

Hire Saddle-Horses That Don't Know Enough to Behave.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT STANLEY, July 2.—Wanda Jones and Miss Keene, two London young ladies, hired saddle horses from the liveryman, Fred Pollick, on Dominion Day and proceeded for a ride in the country. When near the Episcopal Church the horses became unmanageable. Miss Jones was thrown from her mount and the horse turned around and headed for the stable, as did the one ridden by Miss Keene, who remained in the saddle until turning the corner at the drug store, when she was thrown off also. Neither was seriously hurt, but both were bruised and badly shaken up. They were rendered first aid, and were able to proceed to their homes.

While driving pound net poles in the lake on Thursday, Luke Berry had the misfortune to get his hand caught under the hammer of the pile driver and crushed badly. He will be laid up for some time.

Another big permit was one for $53,000 for the erection of the two-story Riverview school at the corner of Riverview avenue and Wharncliffe road, South London.

WHY YOUNG GIRLS GROW PALE AND WEAK

The Blood Supply Is Deficient and Unless the Trouble Is Remedied Consumption May Follow.

When girls grow weak, pale and miserable, then is the time for parents to take prompt steps. Delay means danger—perhaps consumption. The girl in her teens cannot develop into a happy, robust woman without an abundant supply of rich, red blood in her veins. It is the lack of this good blood that is the great trouble with nine girls out of every ten. They grow weak and depressed; lose their appetite, are breathless after the slightest exertion and suffer from headaches and backaches. When girls are in this condition there is no medicine can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the use of these Pills there is splendid vigorous health, with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes, for every unhappy fragile girl who is struggling on to womanhood in a wretched state of health. This is why thousands of girls and women, now robust and attractive, are constantly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to their suffering sex. Miss Edith Brousseau, Savona, B. C., says: "At the age of fourteen I became very anaemic. I was as pale as a ghost, suffered from headaches, severe palpitation of the heart at the slightest exertion. I had little or no appetite and seemed to be drifting into a decline. I was attending high school in Vancouver at the time, and the doctor advised me to stop. I did so and took his treatment for some time, but it did not help me in the least. Upon the advice of a friend I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a very short time they gave me back complete health and enabled me to resume my studies. I have enjoyed the best of health since, and owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

MODERN DESKS FOR NEW SCHOOLS

The Latest Models Will Be Installed in Boyle and Tecumseh.

$1,000 FOR COLLEGIATE

That Sum Will Be Turned Over For Use of Quebec Street Building.

Summer repairs and furnishings for Boyle Memorial and Tecumseh schools were the chief questions under consideration by No. 2 committee of the board of education last evening. The repairs recommended by the building inspector will be carried out, and the secretary was authorized to advertise for tenders for the work.

A recommendation by Inspector C. B. Edwards that one room each in Boyle Memorial and Tecumseh school be furnished with seat desks similar to samples manufactured, and submitted by Dr. Mugan, for which the price he quoted was $5 each, was adopted. The inspector pointed out that these desks were much more comfortable for the scholars than the old kind, and more room for writing was given, obviating the necessity of sitting sideways to write.

The committee also approved the inspector's suggestion that white holland blinds be substituted for the dark ones now in use in many of the older schools on the east, west and south windows. The holland, he said, kept out the glare of the sunlight without making the rooms dark, whereas the dark material shut out practically all light. He said about 160 blinds needed to be changed, and that, by using the existing rollers, the cost would be under $200.

The fire insurance for the city schools this year will total about $300,000, and this will be divided among the nineteen agents of tariff companies who have offices here. The insurance will be placed approximately on the basis of 30 per cent of the value of the buildings.

The committee will recommend that $1,000 yearly rental be charged for the use of Quebec street school as an East End collegiate. Dr. Mugan, representing the collegiate committee, thought this arrangement would be satisfactory.

FIVE HUNDRED RAISED BY ITALIANS FOR FUND

The Red Cross Contributions Reach Substantial Total.

Five hundred dollars have been subscribed to date, for the Italian Red Cross Fund. This was reported at a meeting of the executive last night. C. Catalana is chairman and Joseph Dambra, secretary.

The executive members declared themselves pleased with the response so far, but are desirous of raising the contributions to a much greater total. Citizens generally are asked to help in the work.

BLAME MANAGEMENT FOR LINE TROUBLES

Railwaymen Criticize Starting L. and P. S. Till Everything Was Ready.

The city's million-dollar electric line to Port Stanley was paralyzed again yesterday, so far as operation by electricity was concerned, and had it not been for the Pere Marquette coming to the rescue and running two trains to the south, not a wheel would have turned. Line troubles are blamed for the electric blockage, according to statements made to The Advertiser. Engineer Gaby was brought from Toronto and was out on the line all day.

A good deal of comment was heard today among the taxpayers who are paying the shot. Not a few of them have anything but pleasant memories of a trip they attempted over the new road Thursday, and instead of spending a pleasant holiday by the lakeside, were forced to stay for many hours in stalled cars and then be hauled home by steam locomotives at night.

Local railroad men are naturally keenly interested in the situation, and among them Friday there was quite a lot of criticism over the management of the new line attempting to handle holiday business before it was certain that everything was in running order.

MAYOR AND ALDERMEN, MANY MILITARY OFFICERS WILL ATTEND SERVICE

Canon Tucker Will Preach Memorial Sermon for Lieut.-Col. Becher on Sunday.

Mayor Stevenson and the aldermen will march in a body to St. Paul's Cathedral on Sunday morning to hear the memorial service for Lieut.-Col. Campbell Becher, which is to be conducted by Canon Tucker. A large number of military men from the local training camp and also from various parts of the district will also be present.

LONG VACATION

Courts and Legal Offices Close Up Shop Early.

The legal machine, so far as the courts are concerned, will be practically at a standstill during the next two months. July and August are vacation months, and only such cases as need immediate adjudication are disposed of in the higher civil and criminal courts. The county magistrates, of course, sit every day if necessary.

Since every man charged with an offence has the right under Canadian law to demand trial within a reasonable time, a weekly county criminal court is held, when necessary, to dispose of cases in which the accused prefers summary trial without a jury to waiting in custody until the courts reopen. A weekly high court also is held to dispose of urgent matters.

During the vacation all the offices at the court house are closed during the afternoons. The surrogate office and those of the county court clerk and the deputy clerk of the crown close at noon, and the sheriff's office at 1 o'clock.

DOCTORS "BUMP" CHIROPRACTORS

Declare These Practitioners Are Humbugging the Public.

WILL COLLECT EVIDENCE

"Should Attack Men Guilty of Malpractice," Says Physician.

At the meeting of the Ontario Medical Council in Toronto on July 1, the greatest enthusiasm was evinced by the members over the adoption of the regulation providing for reciprocity in registration with the General Medical Council of Great Britain. The question has been before the council on various occasions during the past eight years, and yesterday's decision makes the Ontario Council the third provincial body in Canada to make an agreement with the British board. The regulation passed simply provides that persons registered by the General Medical Council of Great Britain may be registered in Ontario, upon making application, and complying with certain formalities, and that, in return, licentiates of the Ontario Council shall be entitled to registration on the colonial list of the British Council without examination.

The late Dr. James Macarthur of this city, president of the Ontario Medical Association, during his term of office, worked zealously towards this end, desiring during the great war crisis in the Empire's history that Ontario medical men might further strengthen the ties existing between anada and the mother country.

Against Extending Privileges.

At the meeting in Toronto Dr. Robert Ferguson of this city was inclined to press for an addition to the regulation of a rider to the effect that the privileges granted to British physicians should not be extended to foreigners entitled to practice in Great Britain and Ireland. It is understood that Dr. Ferguson's object in so doing was to discriminate against men with little more qualification than is required for a chemist, who, owing to the fact that they are licensed in the old country, will be able to practice here on equal terms with the graduates of Canadian colleges, fully licensed, through passing Ontario Medical Council examinations. The proposal was dropped, owing to the fact that other members urged that the council should not make a half-concession to the motherland at the present time.

Whack at "Quacks."

A whack was taken by the council at osteopaths, chiropractors and "quacks." By a unanimous vote, the doctors in session voted to instruct the legislative committee to secure evidence as to the activities in this province of "osteopaths, chiropractors and other unlicensed practitioners." Dr. G. R. Cruickshank of Windsor urged that such evidence should be collected for submission to the medical commission which, it was reported, would probably be appointed by the Provincial Government. "If is up to us," he said, "to get a list of specific cases in which these men have humbugged the public in a scoundrelly manner. We attack men in the profession who are guilty of malpractice; we should attack men outside the profession who are guilty of malpractice. Chief Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson, speaking re a motion to place $500 at the disposal of the executive for the purpose of investigating the methods and appliances of these "unlicensed practitioners, contended that it was not the business of the Ontario Medical Council to make investigation for the purpose of getting such evidence, since the persons referred to were not claiming to be licensed by the council. The council, therefore, had only to prosecute them when they violated the law.

Local Physicians of Same Opinion.

Local physicians who referred to the matter expressed much the same opinion as the members of the council quoted.

One or two unlimited neurasthenic cases might be cured by this treatment on the principle of "faith healing" or "mental healing." "But the public doesn't hear of the many cases of injury resulting from such treatment," declared one doctor with conviction, refusing to modify his statement.

ONLY ARRANGEMENT MADE BY ROBLIN WAS FOR SAW-OFFS

Former Premier Denies the Fullerton Charges—No Money Transaction.

Winnipeg, July 2. — Sir Rodmond Roblin, on the stand this afternoon before the commission appointed to investigate the charges made by C. P. Fullerton, K.C., on behalf of the fourteen private members of the Manitoba Legislature, declared he had no knowledge of any matters on which the charges were alleged to have been based, nor had he anything to do with the publication of the charges made. He stated that he was ignorant of any arrangements with the Liberals, save regarding the "saw-offs" which he said had been customary in every election he had been interested in during the whole of his public life.

Counsel pointed out that Dr. McFadden, M. P. P., was one of the fourteen members mentioned and that an arrangement for a saw-off in connection with his election protest was one of the number proposed.

Sir Rodmond said that Dr. McFadden had known of the "saw-off" plan in connection with the protest against his own campaign, but had raised no objection. He did not think that a "saw-off" would be material for a royal commission's investigation.

As to the money part of the charges Sir Rodmond averred he had no knowledge of any monetary transactions between his cabinet and the Liberals.

Phippen the Go-Between.

The ex-premier was examined as to the circumstances surrounding his resignation. The negotiations had been carried on by F. H. Phippen, who told him that Mr. Hudson had agreed that the royal commission should cease its labors and a civil suit be instituted against Kelly, provided Sir Rodmond resigned as premier. The plan had received the approval of Chief Justice Howell and he heard later the chief justic had seen the commission in this connection.

Regarding his resignation, he said the clause in connection with Mr. Hudson's charges had been handed to him by Mr. Phippen, and, so far as he knew, he had copied it accurately in his letter of resignation. Shown the form Mr. Phippen had discussed with Mr. Hudson, he admitted the wording was changed, but did not know whether Mr. Phippen's copy handed to him was changed, or whether he had changed it unintentionally in dictating to his stenographer.

GERMANS CLAIM ARGONNE ADVANCE

Say Crown Prince Got Three-Mile Front and 1,710 Men.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, July 2.—According to the official statement issued at Berlin today, the enemy has advanced over a front three miles long and about 300 yards wide, as a result of a determined artillery and infantry attack in the Argonne region northwest of Le Four-de-Paris. The troops which engaged in this were from Wurtemburg, under the command of the German crown prince. The Germans claim to have captured 25 officers and 1,710 men, besides eighteen machine guns, forty mine-throwers and one revolver cannon.

The French report, on the contrary, states that the Allies were able to hold all their positions in this region, although the enemy, after a very violent bombardment, attempted a new and general attack between the roads leading to Benarville and Blanleuil. The fighting, it is said, was very stubborn, developing in places into a hand-to-hand encounter.

Both reports state that the Germans secured a foothold in the French works at Hilgenfirst in the Vosges. The French explain, however, that this position was regained.

Official Report.

The report issued by the French war office tonight says:

"During Friday, on the entire front from the Yser to the Argonne, there was nothing but artillery duels, especially in the region of Quennevieres.

"In the Argonne, the enemy, after a very violent bombardment, attempted a new and general attack between the roads leading to Benarville and Blanleuil. After an especially stubborn fight, which at certain points developed into a hand-to-hand encounter, we were able to hold all our positions.

"Yesterday evening the Germans, after most intense artillery preparation, attempted on our positions at Hilgenfirst (in the Vosges) a series of attacks, the first two of which were repulsed. In the course of the third attack the enemy succeeded in gaining a foothold in our works. Through a counter-attack we recaptured this morning all our positions, which the Germans are continuing to shell violently.

"In the Dardanelles, after the successes gained by the British troops on June 28, the Turks attempted several violent counter-attacks against the positions taken from them. They were repulsed with heavy losses.

"On June 30 we carried a Turkish redoubt in the form of a quadrilateral, including six successive lines of trenches. The ground is covered with the bodies of Turkish soldiers. We have not been counter-attacked."

KALTSCHMIDT SAYS PLOT IS HATCHED TO ELIMINATE HIM

Feels That His Case Is Similar to Dernburg's—Has Service to Perform.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

DETROIT, July 2. — Albert Kaltschmidt, named as the principal in the Windsor dynamite conspiracy by William Lefler, declares he is a victim of a plot, the object of which is to force him to leave the country. He declined to go into details, but intimated his case is similar to that of Dr. Dernburg.

"Dr. Dernburg came here to do a certain work," he said. "He accomplished a part of it, and then was driven away from the country by opposition of the press. Similar work is being done here, and I have the honor, or misfortune, to be active in it."

Pressed for an explanation of this work, Kaltschmidt laughed, and replied: "Everybody knows I am secretary of the Deutscher Bund. But the work we are doing is only a drop in the bucket compared to this great world movement."

Kaltschmidt has been manager of the Marine City Salt Company for the past two years. Previously he was manager of the Tate Electrical Company at Walkerville, whose plant Lefler confessed he had been paid to blow up. He left Germany ten years ago, and since then has lived in Detroit at 84 Hancock avenue east.

Silent on Some Things.

Asked whether he was an officer in the German army, Mr. Kaltschmidt declined to reply.

"It has been stated that you are, Albert," said Kaltschmidt's wife, who was present at the interview.

"That makes no difference," was the reply. "I cannot be too careful."

Kaltschmidt's attention was called to a statement that Lefler's arrest had come about largely through the confession of Schmidt and Stephens, the two men arrested in Port Arthur recently for attempts to blow up a bridge. They said Detroit men had paid them $200 to obtain information on Canadian Pacific train movements.

Hints at Conspiracy.

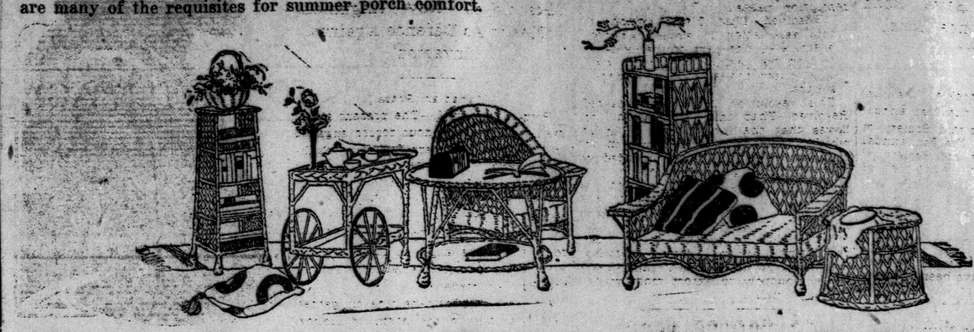

"There is some sort of a game, and I must combat in the way it was concocted," said Kaltschmidt. "I have stated already that persons have placed difficulties in my way, and the authorities had to pick it up, of course. But at no time have I complained as to the treatment received from the Canadian authorities. That statement is entirely wrong."

Kaltschmidt intimated that, if he chose, he could make some interesting revelations. He became so reticent at this point that, although urged by his wife, he refused to give his connections with industries other than those mentioned. Kaltschmidt said he did not believe Lefler had confessed. Lefler had been in his employ, he said, and he knew him well as an honest and efficient workman.

CHILDREN'S AID SPLENDID WORK

Booklet, Just Issued, Tells Interesting Facts of the Society's Endeavors.

HANDLE MANY CASES

1,200 Children Have Been Looked After Since Local Organization.

A most interesting booklet has just been issued containing the 21st annual report of the Children's Aid Society of London, combined with the 2nd annual report of the Children's Aid Society of Middlesex County. Some vague idea of the splendid work that has been accomplished since the inception of the work in the city and county may be gained from the fact that between eleven and twelve hundred children have passed through the society's hands, and in addition, a great number of children not wards have been brought to the notice of the society, and in most cases results have been beneficial and lasting.

During the year ending November 30, 1914, 82 London children passed through the shelter, 38 of whom were placed in foster homes, 13 returned to their parents, and others transferred to other institutions. Thirteen children were cared for in the county shelter; 29 children from outside municipalities also received care.

Juvenile court cases, according to the report, show a slight increase. The offences were disorderly conduct, truancy, theft, damage to property, assault, vagrancy, trespass, smoking cigarettes, neglected children, breach of bylaw, breaking and entering and receiving stolen goods—261 in all. Of these, 52 were allowed to go on suspended sentence, 51 fined, 137 discharged, restitution was made in three cases, 4 were committed to industrial schools, 9 were delivered over to the guardianship of the Children's Aid Society, and 5 bound over to keep the peace.

The report contains many touching true stories of little ones who have been rescued by the shelter in the city and county and grown up to useful citizenship as a result of being given a chance to live in the right kind of environment.

CANADIANS AVENGE

of starving in the trenches without even a little food to eat. Of the brutality of their officers, and of the little regard placed on human life, their own or the enemy's.

All Blame the Kaiser.

"When they are put into a hospital or interned they show the greatest joy. They say, and almost invariably, that it was the Kaiser and not they who wanted war. That if they had their way Germany would be living at peace with her neighbors, and not making a shambles of Europe.

"The war should run a couple of years yet" stated Warren. "The one way to quikly end it would be to blow up the Kropp works at Essen. This is their one bigarsenal, and with it destroyed, Britain and her allies would not need to worry much more over anything Wilhelm and his men could do. Our country has and is still suffering from lack of ammunition, but they are picking up on this.

Kaiser's Close Calls.

"Did you know that the Allies nearly had for the Kaiser twice? When the air raid was made on Berlin by 32 aeroplanes, the Kaiser was in a cafe. Just ten minutes after he had left it one of the aeronauts dropped a bomb on the eating house and blew the place to pieces. Too bad the Emperor wasn't there to go sky high with the rest of the debris. Another time we missed him by fifteen minutes. His chauffeur was killed and the motor car he had been riding in was shattered, but again Satan looked after his own.

"The crown prince of Germany is a true son of his father, and from what prisoners we have captured say, he is even worse than the sire. But the younger man has neither the brains nor the personality of the older one and were Wilhelm to die I think the war would come to a conclusion in short order. The empress, they say, sleeps little. She has become a nervous wreck. The Germans know they are beaten. The prisoners say so. But they will fight on merely because the despots who are in command will it so.

Don't Like Warlord.

"The Kaiser has never been near a real battle. When I say near, I mean within a good many miles. His own men tell a story of him, which if true, seems to prove his blood is mostly milk and water. He went recently into a hospital at some place called, as well as I can remember it, by the name of Vauwelle, and, seeing one of his wounded men bleeding profusely as the result of an operation that had just been performed, immediately fainted.

"No, the Kaiser is not thought much of by his own men. I could chin to you for hours of what I have seen, and then there are other things I cannot tell you of, as we are sworn to secrecy on many things that happen at the front. But from what I have detailed to you, you may form a fairly good conception of things as they are in Europe, and what the Germans think of the war and their ruler and else."

Warren served in the N. W. M. P. previous to enlisting, and came through the Boer War. He is a fighter, and although physical wreck for now and until death claims him, thinks he has only done what he should have done, and has no vain regrets. He suffers of an incurable disease, scobies, a result of much smoking. Laryngitis and other diseases he marked him, and his body shows cruel marks rifle bullets have caused. A silver plate rests in his head. He is 37 years old, but straight, tall, and not yet a santhrope.

FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE

Ross Weir Hurt in Cycle Accident, in Critical Condition.

Although his condition is regarded as critical, Ross Weir of 707 Lorne avenue, is in a motorcycle race, at Forest, on Dominion Day, when another made skidded into his path, is gamely fighting for his life. To an attending physician yesterday afternoon, he reported to have said that he was going to ride again on the 12th of July.

Mayor H. Stevenson, M. D., and Dr. W. J. Stevenson were summoned to Forrest yesterday by the parents, who arrived there the night of the accident. On his return last night, Mayor Stevenson declared that young Weir's condition was very serious.

Over the long-distance telephone today Dr. Person of Forest, who is the attending physician, stated that as yet it was impossible to state what the consequences of the accident might be.

Would Sell City's Federal Square

Real Estate Owners "Resolve" to That Effect.

The Real Estate Owners Association at its meeting last evening discussed the tax rate at some length, and it is expected that public meetings will be called later, at which all taxpayers will be asked to attend. The members are generally of the opinion that in view of present conditions that something must be done to stop civic expenditures.

The sale of the McCormick city hall site was discussed, and the following resolution passed:

Resolved—That in the opinon of this association it would be good business on the part of the citizens to sign the petition now being circulated for the sale of the federal square.

This resolution was also passed: Resolved—That this association believes that the introduction of hydro, which should be in every home in the city, has been very much impeded by the expensive and unnecessary restrictions and equipments, which has doubled the cost of installation; and we understand that there is to be a still further attempt to exploit this public utility by means of a bylaw preventing anyone from installing hydro who is not licensed, thus creating a monopoly to extort more money from the citizens.

FAVOR "GOOSE-NECK" LIGHTING STANDARDS

City Light Committee Prepares For Ornamental System Extension.

At the meeting of the fire and light committee on Friday night, attended by Mayor Stevenson, Aldermen Wilson (chairman), Lerner and Summers, designs for ornamental lights for Richmond street, between Fullarton and Oxford, and Dundas street, from Wellington to Egerton streets, were submitted by General Manager Buchanan. The crook or goose-neck standards were explained to be the most efficient. Forty-five will be required for Richmond street, and 101 for Dundas street, the cost to be from $50 to $65 per pole, this cost to be met by a frontage tax at the rate of 80 cents per foot, or 11½ cents per foot on a ten-year basis.

Ald. Lerner moved that the committee recommend the introduction of the lighting standards recommended by Manager Buchanan, and that the ratepayers be advised to petition for this lighting.

The suggestion has been made to replace the present cluster standards on Dundas and Richmond streets with the goose-neck variety.

CITY EMPLOYEES MUST PAY BILLS OR QUIT

Mayor Issues Mandate to This Effect Today.

Holding the position of chief executive of the city involves a variety of duties, several of which are less pleasant than presiding over council meetings, giving addresses of welcome to our city, shaking hands with nabobs and opening bazaars. Complaint was made to Mayor Stevenson today that a civic employee had been guilty of failing to pay bills. The mayor promptly took up the matter with the treasury department and issued the mandate: "The man must either pay his debts or cease to be an employee of the city. Any employee of the city hall whose salary is paid by the citizens is expected to pay his bills honorably or quit."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Funeral of Samuel Davis.

The funeral of Samuel Davis took place from his late residence, 582 William street, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The floral designs were many. The services were conducted at 2:30 by Elder Henley. The late Mr. Davis, who was in his 85th year, was one of London's oldest and most respected citizens. He is survived by two sons and four daughters, Harry and George Davis, Mrs. George Bickell, Bowmanville, Ont.; Mrs. W. J. Garfat, city; Mrs. George Lott, city, and Mrs. George Tier of this city.

Six grandsons acted as bearers. They were Harry Lott, Walter Davis, George Garfat, Fred Davis, Wesley Davis and L. Davis.

Interment was made in the family plot beside his wife in Woodland Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Donohue, McIntyre, Mullin, Clifford, Fallon and Barrie.

BUTCHERS WON'T MOVE

Refuse To Leave Pavilion on Market Square.

Among the items of business dealt with by the market committee of the council on Friday evening was a report from Market Clerk Maker that the butchers who had been given notice to quit the pavilion had failed to obey the orders of the council.

Ald. Wilson reported that he had met representatives of the London Township council regarding township lighting, and that they had stated they did not want lights east on Dundas street, and would not be willing to pay a portion of the cost.

A report was made by Superintendent Dodd explaining why William Bibbings, the foreman of the garbage stables, is a non-resident of the city. The committee instructed the superintendent to give Bibbings a month's notice to move into the city or choose the alternative of resigning.

Queen's Park will be used for the big open-air meeting, sports, celebration, etc., and the parade will be formed on the market square. A good many thousand Orangemen of the district are expected to be in line.

ARTISTIC RETREAT OF RUSSIAN ARMY

So Secret That There Were Scarcely Any Rearguard Battles.

GALICIAN CAMPAIGN OVER

Muscovites' New Alignment Meant As Defence Against Invasion.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, July 3.—The present alignment of the tremendous forces engaged in Galicia and Southern Russia is roughly divisable into two 75-mile fronts, one running north from Halicz and the Gnila Lipa River and the other traveling east from the junction of the San and Vistula rivers. Together the fronts form an obtuse angle at Sokal, on the River Bug, and on the Galician side of the Russian border.

Although the Germans recently gained new positions to the north of Halicz, where they fortified the left bank of the Gnila Lipa, a preponderance of the forces and the chief energy of the Austro-Germans were employed at the north end to advance into the provinces of Lublin and Kholm along a front extending from the Vistula to the Bug River.

In this region, especially in the eastern half between the River Vieprz and the Bug, the Germans are making steady, if not spectacular, progress. The encounters in this section have not been characterized by pitched battles, but they consist chiefly of rearguard actions followed by Russian counter-attacks and orderly retirement.

Russian commentators describe the retreat from Tanew as so "artistic and secret" that there were scarcely any rearguard battles. This retreat was caused, military experts say, by the progress of the Austro-Germans towards Lublin and Kholm and the presence of considerable forces along the Vistula. Being flanked on both sides, the Russian Tanew position became untenable.

The Galician campaign is regarded by Russian officers to have come to an end. The new alignment of forces is intended as a defence of Russian territory against invasion.

BAPTISTS CANCEL TRIP VIA PORT STANLEY ROAD

Get Better Accommodation On Traction Line, Declares Member.

As a result of experiences some of the members had in trying to get down to the lakeside on Dominion Day and for several other reasons, among them being fear of accidents, the congregation of the Egerton Street Baptist Church has decided not to go to Port Stanley next Wednesday over the city's new electric line. The booking that was made has been cancelled and the Baptists, numbering about 300, will go to the lakeside over the London and Lake Erie Transportation Company's line.

"We find we are able to get much better terms in every way from the Traction people," said one of the members today. "The Port Stanley management will not let us sell ice cream to our own people in the cars, and on the other line we can not only do this, but can carry children under nine free and get a special rate on children from nine to twelve years of age."

The London and Lake Erie Line has already got a large number of picnics booked for the summer season.

VISITS CITY MISSION

Chicago Evangelist Drops in at Meeting This Week.

A stranger dropped quietly in at the City Mission last Tuesday, seated himself and enjoyed the singing. A man of striking appearance and outstanding personality, the quiet stranger soon attracted the attention of Superintendent "Billy" Matheson, and was invited to come up on the platform.

The visitor accepted the invitation and proved to be none other than the well-known Chicago evangelist, Rev. F. A. Morris, who was passing through London and dropped into the City Mission to pass an hour or two between trains.

Although quite unprepared Mr. Morris was persuaded to address the people, and delivered a stirring and uplifting message. So many people have since expressed their regret at not having heard him that Mr. Morris has consented to return to the city next Sunday evening and preach at the City Mission. His subject will be one of his most famous sermons on "The New Birth."

The young couple left on the evening train for Toronto and other points east for their wedding trip. They will make their home in Detroit. Many hearty congratulations were offered.

A numerous company of friends of the contracting parties witnessed the interesting ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Jas. H. Boyd, pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church. The bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Pearl E. Herron, and the groom's attendant, Ernest J. Fowler. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will reside in this city.

NO HARVESTING FOR MEN IN TRAINING

Too Little Time As It Is, Says Colonel Logie.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, July 3.—The idea suggested to Ottawa that the men in training be utilized to get in the western crop finds few supporters at Niagara camp, where some seven thousand men are now in training.

"We need more time than we have got for training," was Col. Logie's comment.

The training staff is opposed to the idea, as it would disrupt the organization.

"There are 8,000 men at the camp in Manitoba, and more in British Columbia," said another officer. "Why not try what they can do? They are more convenient."

GIRL KILLED WHEN CAR TURNED OVER

Driver Injured Too In Motoring Accident at Andover.

[Canadian Press.]

Andover, N. B., July 3.—An automobile driven by Patrick Heffernan, and in which Miss Geneva Johnson was also riding, plunged over a 25-foot bank last evening and turned over against a tree. The girl was crushed to death between the car and a tree, and Heffernan was badly, perhaps fatally, injured.

ONE MORE SUNK

Steamer Gadsby Torpedoed Off Irish Coast — Crew Landed.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—The British steamer Gadsby, of 3,497 tons gross, was sunk today by a German submarine. The crew was landed at Moville, Ireland.

The Gadsby sailed from Sydney, C. B., June 18, for a European port.

The steamship Gadsby was built at Stockton, England, in 1889, and was owned by R. Ropner & Co. of West Hartlepool. She was 325 feet long, 48 feet beam, and drew 21 feet of water.

LOWER EGG PRICES

Canadian Grocer Predicts Drop Within Week or Two.

The following comment on the market situation as regards foodstuffs will appear in the Canadian Grocer this week.

The situation in the egg market is interesting because it looks now as if we shall have lower prices within a week or two. The fact of the matter is that there is an enormous supply of new-laid eggs in the west and it is understood that new-laids can be bought out there for 16c. If that is the case they can be shipped down here for—at the most—18c, and that is a cent or two under our price here. For that reason it looks as if levels in new-laids will shrink some during the next two or three weeks. It is simply a case of over-production, just as in the States.

Once more we have to record an advance in the price of cheese. For two or three weeks the markets have been fairly steady and even showed—three weeks ago—a disposition towards shrinkage. This, however, was a flash in the pan and was not a permanent condition for the cheese market. This week again all prices are up half a cent, following a rise of half a cent last week too. Some very active buying has been going on over the cables, and the price has steadily advanced for two or three days, simply on English buying. Apparently they cannot get enough cheese over there, and it is said that the army is consuming an extraordinary amount.

PLANS COULD NOT JUSTIFY ESTIMATE

Architect Tells Commission in Winnipeg $800,000 Was Too Much.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, July 3.—While examining Mr. Shankland, C. P. Wilson, Liberal counsel, told the royal commission that the Roblin Government had included in the estimates for 1915 the sum of $800,000 "for balance of steel and other contingencies."

Mr. Wilson asked Shankland if his plans, for which the Government paid him $15,000, could be made to justify the sum of $800,000. The architect said they could not. Counsel asked if he had made other plans which would justify such an expenditure, and the answer was again in the negative.

Under cross-examination by A. J. Andrews, Mr. Shankland denied he had ever been asked to prepare dual plans for the dome. He offered to afford the commission full facilities for examining his employees on the subject.

ONE CRUISER BEACHED

engagement in the Baltic. Our losses were insignificant."

It is believed here that the German mine-layer sent ashore on Gothland was the "cruiser" mentioned in Petrograd dispatches.

The Russians closed in upon the German torpedo boats and inflicted heavy damage.

Slowness Fatal.

The mine-layer Albatross was unable to escape because of her slow speed. Her survivors, including 71 wounded, were immediately interned at Roma by the Swedish authorities. Her dead, including the captain, were buried in one large grave.

Reports from Stockholm said that Russian destroyers continued the pursuit into Swedish waters, and that a protest undoubtedly would be lodged with the Russian Government.

"The Russians," said a Gothland dispatch today, "are reported to be bringing up other naval units. It is expected that the engagement will be resumed."

DIFFERENT VERSIONS.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—Details of the naval battle between Russian and German cruisers in the Baltic yesterday apparently were lost in the fog which enshrouded the scene of the engagement.

The official story of the action from Petrograd claims that a Russian cruiser squadron drove a German cruiser ashore, but all unofficial reports agree that the vessel which met disaster with the mine-layer Albatross.

Petrograd claims that the German vessels retired before the Russian attack, while unofficial accounts of the engagement declare that Russia's warships had to retire before superior numbers after a battle lasting half a day.

Allies' Turn.

The submarines of the entente allies had their innings, yesterday. From Athens it is reported that a Turkish troopship was sunk in the Sea of Marmora by a British submarine, while Petrograd claims that a Russian submarine obtained a heavy bag of merchant ships in the Black Sea.

London again has been encouraged by the report from Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the British land forces operating against the Dardanelles, stating that the French troops also have advanced until the Anglo-French line on the Gallipoli peninsula is almost straight. This report is countered, however, by the claim from Constantinople that the British were forced back into their original positions.

Activity along the western front again has subsided with a check to the latest strong German attack made by the forces under the German crown prince in the Argonne.

The Austro-German armies are steadily advancing on the east front with Field Marshal Von Mackensen drawing near to Lublin, which might be termed one of the outlying defences of Warsaw.

PT. DOVER SWIMMER IS ALMOST DROWNED

James Cooper Over-Exerts Self In Aquatic Games.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT DOVER, July 2.—Two accidents occurred yesterday, but fortunately neither was serious.

The first occurred at the lake when James Cooper, who had won the steeplechase, tried to catch the duck in the water. He was overcome with the exertion and was assisted from the water. Different ways were tried to restore him. Finally he was taken to Dr. Cooke's office, where he was soon revived.

Mimic War Almost Serious.

During the "bombardment of the Dardanelles" a gun was accidentally pointed in the direction of the pier, and although blank cartridges were used, the wad was sent with such force as to strike a young lady on the breast, burning her dress and also her body. Other than being frightened, she was not badly hurt.

OVER 120,000 FROM IRELAND WITH ARMY

Seventy-Thousand Catholics and 24,000 National Volunteers.

LONDON, July 2.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, speaking at Dublin Thursday night, said that up to the 16th of June 120,741 Irishmen from Ireland had joined the army, according to a report of the speech, made by the Freeman's Journal, which reached London late today. Mr. Redmond stated that of those who have enlisted upwards of 70,000 are Catholics and some 24,000 are enrolled members of the Irish National Volunteers.

Mr. Redmond is quoted as saying that he still did not believe in coalition Government, but that inasmuch as it existed only from day to day, as it were, it could not in any event prevent home rule from coming into operation automatically at the end of the war.

WOOL SALES.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—At the continuation of the wool auction sales today, 8,200 bales were offered. There was no slackening in the demand or in the strength of the market. Greasy merinos followed scoured combings closely, often being quoted at 15 per cent higher in price. Sydneys realized 1s 8d and Queensland 1s 7d. Crossbreds hardened.

WILL USE OLD RAILS.—The London street railway is putting in no new rails on the track south of Elmwood avenue on Ridout street, where the new pavement is being built. He is lying in St. Joseph's hospital where he was taken following the accident. He resides at 450 Grosvenor street.

P. M. OFFICIALLY THROUGH.—Officially the Pere Marquette is out of business in London as far as running trains over the London and Port Stanley line. Auditors Towers, Lumley and Hammercraft of Detroit were in London all day Friday going over the books and accounts and finishing up all the business. Pere Marquette locomotives and cars borrowed by the London and Port Stanley management are however in operation Friday there being no electric service to the lakeside over the city's new road.

SPRY. — A pleasant event took place yesterday afternoon in the offices of the McConnell & Fergusson Advertising Agency, when the principals of the firm and their staff united in the presentation to G. L. Spry of a gold watch, suitably engraved. The occasion was Mr. Spry's resignation to enter into business for himself, after ten years spent in Messrs. McConnell & Fergusson's employ. The presentation address was read by Miss Mains and the presentation made by Miss Martindale in the presence of the principals and staff. Mr. Spry, in a few appropriate sentences thanked the firm and his fellow-workers, assuring them of his deep appreciation of the gift and the good wishes that accompanied it.

He had recently examined a number of bread wagons belonging to the Neal Bread Company, and discovered ten loaves of an aggregate weight of 8 pounds; ten loaves weighing 8 pounds, 3 ounces; ten loaves weighing 8 pounds, 10 ounces; ten loaves weighing 8 pounds, 2 ounces, and ten loaves weighing 8 pounds, 4 ounces. According to the law, the weight in each case should have been 7½ pounds. Owing to the fact the loaves were overweight, and the customers getting more than they bargained for, the committee did not appear to be in favor of taking any further action in the matter.

LITTLE GUELPH GIRL SAVED FROM RIVER

Fraser Pirie Rescues Mary Mitchell When She Was Nearly Drowned.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, July 2.—But for the presence of mind of Fraser Pirie of Dundas, Mary Mitchell, a girl of ten years, would undoubtedly have been drowned at Riverside Park this morning. The child was playing with another along the millrace, when she fell in. Pirie and two other Guelph men noticed a child acting in a strange manner—too excited to tell a connected story. Pirie at once suspected that something was wrong and ran to the bank, where he could see the Mitchell girl lying on the river bottom. He jumped in and got her out. First aid measures were at once applied, as the child was already black in the face. After an hour's hard work she had fully recovered.

News of Men In Training For Great War

EVERY MAN NEEDED NOW; FOR FIGHT IS CANADA'S AS WELL AS BRITAIN'S

Chaplain of 33rd Declares That Young Canadians Are Not Rallying To Colors As They Should — Women Knitting Socks Too Thick.

"I regret exceedingly that our young Canadians are not enlisting as they should! Any number of splendid young men are in this district who should join the colors. They do not seem to have realized the seriousness of the situation, and that the Empire is fighting for its existence. They do not seem to hear that insistent call that rings in the soul of every English, Irish and Scotsman whenever the motherland is in peril and makes them leave everything, no matter where they are, and go to the firing line. This is Canada's fight just as much as Britain's, and we need every man for the work ahead. Far greater casualty lists than we have yet had are bound to come, and these may perhaps help awaken our young men to the heavy work to be done before the German menace is removed."

Capt. H. D. Peacock, recruiting officer of the 33rd Battalion and grand chaplain of the Orangemen of this district, spoke as above to a large gathering of the brethren last evening assembled for the dedication of Langemarck Lodge's new hall.

Pity Those Who Are Left.

"People need not pity us who have offered our services," he continued. "Those who deserve the nation's sympathy and help are our mothers and wives and sisters. If we meet death we meet it gloriously and for a just cause, but those who stay behind can only work, and hope and pray. I would ask you all every day at 12 o'clock, when the hands on the dial point heavenward, no matter whether you are at home or at work, to stop everything and make a silent prayer for just a few seconds for our cause."

Capt. Peacock praised the splendid work the women of the district are doing for the soldiers. Every week, he said, he receives large quantities of useful gifts and tobacco for the men. He made a special plea for tobacco, declaring the men enjoy it above everything.

Socks Too Thick.

"There is one thing the soldiers would like the women to do," he said, "and that is for those who are knitting socks not to knit them so thick. Some of them are so thick we can't get our leggins on over them, they must be nearly half an inch through."

Grand Master E. T. Essery of the grand lodge made a stirring patriotic address. Sixteen thousand Orangemen, he said, have already gone to the front, and there are a quarter of a million more who will go if need be.

Touching on the political situation, he declared that Orangemen stood for what was right.

Threw Roblin Out.

"The people of Canada," he said, "can give Orangemen the credit for wrecking the Roblin Government. It was our order that made those politicians walk the plank. We can and will put out any government that is not doing what is right.

"Our brothers," he said, "are fighting in thousands at the front, and when we send the Kaiser to St. Helena to meet the ghost of Napoleon, who was a better man by far than the German Emperor has ever dared to be, there will be Orangemen there to see that he gets started."

RED CROSS CONCERTS

Series of Them Will Be Given in Victoria Park.

Arrangements have been made for a series of Sunday evening band concerts in Victoria Park in aid of the Red Cross, under the auspices of various chapters of the I. O. D. E. Music will be furnished by the 7th Regiment, 1st Hussars Band, and the Marconi Club Band. Mayor Stevenson has requested the chairman of the hospital trust to arrange to have nurses in uniform take the collections at the gates on one evening at least, owing to the fact that the proceeds will go to Red Cross work. The dates fixed for the concerts are July 11, July 18 and August 1.

RECRUIT RUSSIANS

Authority Comes From Ottawa to Enlist Them Here.

Authority was received from Ottawa this morning at militia headquarters to recruit Russians here. Heretofore, it was not permissible to recruit these men in London. Col. Shannon received the word.

TAKING ONLY BEST

33rd Recruits Are of "Hand Picked" Variety.

Lieut.-Col. Wilson, commanding the 33rd Battalion, announced today that about 25 more men can still be taken on the strength. He declares, however, that great discrimination will be exercised in accepting new men, as recruits are coming forward so well that only the best of those offering need be taken to bring the regiment up to full strength.

SERVICE IS EARLY

Church Parade at Camp Half an Hour Sooner Tomorrow.

Divine service will be conducted at camp at Carling's Heights tomorrow at 9:30 o'clock, which is one half hour earlier than is usual.

THE DIARY OF MARS

Russian accounts of Friday's naval engagement off the Gothland coast record the beaching of one German warship and the flight of several cruisers with accompanying torpedoboats, which the Russian fleet encountered and engaged during a foggy morning on the Baltic.

Unofficial dispatches say the beached vessel was the mine-layer Albatross, and that the Russians finally retired because of the numerical superiority of the German fleet.

Other naval activities include the sinking of three Turkish merchantmen by a Russian submarine in the Black Sea and the torpedoing of the Belgian steamer Boduognat by a German undersea boat.

The latest Russian official statement admits a continuation of the retreat before the armies of Field Marshal Von Mackensen in Southern Poland, whose forces are drawing daily nearer to Lublin. Heavy fighting apparently of a rear-guard character for the most part, is continuing.

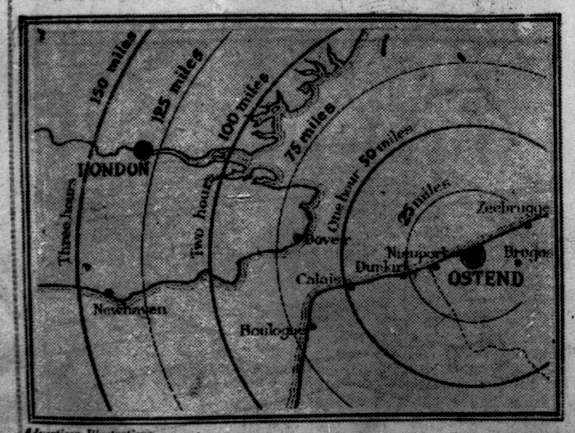

The Russians also concede the German claim to new successes in Galicia, admitting that important forces of Teutons have forced their way across the Gnila Lipa.

Italian headquarters reports an increase of activity along the entire front, and records advances in Carnia and near Freikofel. Unofficial dispatches reported the occupation by the Italians of Tolmino, in the Isonzo Valley, but added that the Austrians still held the fortification near the place, and that the battle was continuing.

Recent accounts of successes for the Entente Allies in the Gallipoli Peninsula are countered by a Turkish statement, declaring that the British forces there were driven back to their old positions.

Authorization of a new $500,000,000 loan by Russia is announced from Petrograd.

MONTENEGRINS WIN AT "TUG OF WAR"

Defeat 33rd Team Last Night —All Are Big Men Physically.

A tug-o'-war team chosen from among the men of the 33rd Battalion was pulled to defeat last evening in a match with a team from the Montenegrins up at the camp, but as the latter are all tremendously big and heavy men, the 33rd feels that the result is no reflection on its pulling power.

The Montenegrins say that they are nearly all below the average height of their countrymen, many of whom are more than seven feet tall and three feet across the shoulders. They say they are the biggest race in the world.

The Europeans are splendid athletes also, and they gave a demonstration of their agility for the benefit of the soldiers which rivalled the "stunts" performed by professional acrobats on the vaudeville stage. They formed pyramids five men high, turned handsprings and threw each other into the air with an ease which showed that these exercises are part of their regular training.

At 4:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon the battalions will go on outpost duty.

On Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, there will be an infantry night march. Lieut.-Col. Oliver will be in command. The route will be from camp to corner Oxford and Adelaide streets, then north to the fourth concession, west to the Pipe Line road, south to Oxford street, and east to the camp grounds.

TRIES TO SLAY HORSE, SMASHES UP FURNITURE, ATTEMPTS TO SUICIDE

Dover Township Farmer in Chatham Jail—Mind Seems Deranged.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 2.—John Stanlick, a Dover Township farmer, is in jail awaiting trial on a serious charge. Yesterday he is reported as having tried to take his own life with a razor. He had tried to take the life of his horse, and he broke up all the furniture in his house, and also a new buggy, with an axe.

It is thought that the man is deranged. Three years ago, while in the employ of the Michigan Central Railway, he received a blow on the head and it is said that he has acted queerly at times, ever since.

TWICE DRAWN UNDER BY LUSITANIA EDDY

GALT, July 2.—Hugh McFadyen, the Galt survivor of the Lusitania disaster, has arrived back in the city. He went down with the liner and twice was caught in an eddy, but the third time succeeded in coming to the surface, but he had to swim a hundred yards to an upturned lifeboat, and to which thirty-six survivors can attribute their being saved. He is none the worse for his experience, but dreads to speak of the scenes which followed the sinking of the giant liner.

ALIEN REGISTRAR STILL THE DEMAND OF BERLIN

Deputation May Proceed to Ottawa — "Loads of Evidence."

BERLIN, July 2.—The finance committee of the city council was waited upon by a committee of loyal citizens tonight with the third request that the Government appoint a registrar of aliens. The resolution, among other things, says:

"Whereas, the city council has sent two requests that the appointment be made, this now rests with the Government, not with the city council, to show cause.

It was pointed out by a member of the committee that when the matter was first discussed last May, they were assured by the Dominion members that all that was necessary was for the council to petition and the request would be granted. The committee also advised that, if necessary, a deputation should be sent to Ottawa to urge the appointment.

It was pointed out that secret service men who have visited Berlin have loads of evidence.

J. P. MORGAN SHOT

closed in on his assailant. He grappled with him, and with his butler's assistance, disarmed the would-be assassin.

The man struggled desperately to escape, and succeeded once in breaking away, but was recaptured before he could get out of the house.

He was turned over to Glen Cove police by attaches of Morgan's household.

Morgan recently returned from Europe with big war contracts for the Allies.

Morgan Answers Phone.

Mr. Morgan apparently did not consider himself seriously wounded. When it was reported that he was shot, the Morgan house was the target of a volley of telephone inquiries from New York. The first of these calls was answered by Mr. Morgan himself, who calmly told of the shooting and added that he did not think it amounted to very much.

Fred Ford, the taxicab chauffeur who had driven the assailant the three miles from the Glen Cove station to the Morgan home, was still standing with his car in front of the gate when the shots were fired. Ford ran around to the garage in the Morgan place and sounded the alarm bell, summoning the servants.

Threw In Dynamite.

With three guards the assailant was placed in one of the Morgan automobiles and hurried at top speed to Glen Cove. The satchel which was left by the hedge by the man also was thrown into the car. When it was opened, the dynamite inside was found to be of the 60 per cent nitro-glycerine, the kind which explodes more easily than the 40 per cent kind commonly used by contractors.

The man was searched at Glen Cove. In his pocket was found a second pistol, the latter being of .22 calibre, while the weapon which was used in the attack was .38 calibre.

The terrific force of the blow the assailant received from the coal hod had caused him to bleed profusely, and he appeared to be weakening as the day passed. Although he had appeared to be but little hurt at first, he became, or feigned to become, dazed about noon. It was thought that possibly he was suffering from a fractured skull.

Dr. John Zabriskie of Glen Cove was the first physician to reach the Morgan home. Other physicians were summoned, among them Dr. Lyle of St. Luke's Hospital, New York. They examined Mr. Morgan, and during the day kept in constant telephone touch with his office, advising the patient's progress. It was said that their advices were increasingly optimistic.

Servants examining the premises after the shooting found the first bullet, apparently the one which had ripped through the flesh of the breast. It was lodged in an oil painting on the library wall. The other bullet entered the hip and came out through the groin. It was not found in the first search.

Henry Fish, Mr. Morgan's butler, who felled the assailant with a coal hod and thereby doubtless saved Mr. Morgan from more serious injury, was not hurt, apparently, by his encounter with the would-be assassin.

HEADS GREAT FIRM.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

New York, July 3.—John Pierpont Morgan, aged 48, who was shot at his Glen Cove home today, succeeded his father at the head of the great banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. on the latter's death in the spring of 1912.

Besides holding office as president of J. P. Morgan & Co., he is a director and leading figure in many corporations, and is one of the dominating figures in international politics.

Only a short time ago he returned from London, where he was reported to have completed arrangements for establishing in the United States gigantic credits for the Allies for their great war contracts.

Besides heading the great New York firm, Morgan is head of the London firm of Morgan, Grenfell & Co., English banking corporation, affiliated with Morgan interests here.

Held Up Butler.

New York, July 3.—The man who shot Mr. Morgan came to Glen Cove this morning on the 8:53 train, hired an automobile and went to the Morgan home on Matinicock Point. He rang the bell, and when the butler answered, called for Mr. Morgan. He said that he was an old friend of Mr. Morgan, but was refused admission to the house.

The man then pressed a pistol against the stomach of the butler, who screamed, and pushed his way past him into the hall.

Mr. Morgan was approaching the front door through the hall at the time. He asked what the trouble was. The answer was a shot, which took effect in the hip.

Felled Assailant.

Mr. Morgan staggered and fell into a chair. The butler, once the assailant's back was turned, picked up a brass coal hod from the fireplace and brought it down on the assailant's head, but too late to prevent a second shot.

The butler fell on the man, wrested the weapon away from him and overpowered him. Servants came running in answer to his call, and the sheriff's office and a physician were telephoned. The man was placed under arrest and taken to Glen Cove. There he refused to say anything, even to give his name.

A satchel which the man brought to Glen Cove was found near a hedge on the Morgan property. The satchel was filled with dynamite.

It was said that the assailant was seen yesterday in the neighborhood of Mr. Morgan's home.

Another Story.

Another version of the entrance of the intruder into the Morgan house is to the effect that he had no trouble in gaining admission. He went to the door and asked to see Mr. Morgan, saying that he was an old friend. Word was taken to Mr. Morgan that someone wanted to see him.

The financier came out of his breakfast room into the main hall. Immediately on his appearance the intruder shot at him. He had two revolvers, and used them both.

There is still some discrepancy in the statements as to just where the bullets struck Mr. Morgan. Report has it that the first wounded him in the leg and the second near the pit of the stomach. The wound inflicted here is the more serious of the two. It is related that several shots were fired by the assailant, but that they went wild.

Not Serious.

Dr. W. H. Zabriskie, of Glen Cove, was immediately summoned, and Dr Markoe, of this city was sent for. Mr. Morgan's wounds were examined, and word was given out that it was not believed that they were necessarily serious.

No identification of Mr. Morgan's assailant has as yet been made.

Mr. Morgan, with his wife and daughters, went to their summer home in Glen Cove after the marriage of his son Junius Spencer Morgan, in Boston about two weeks ago.

Matinicock Point, where the Morgan home is located, is almost surrounded by water and is about two to three miles from the central part of the village of Glen Cove.

OF GERMAN DESCENT.

Glen Cove, July 3.—Mr. Morgan's assailant is declared by officials at the courthouse here, where he was taken, to have said he was of German descent and that he was willing to give up his life at any time to end the war. It was added that he declared Mr. Morgan was responsible for the war, and for the shipments of arms abroad, and that he could stop the conflict if he wished.

Justice of the Peace Luyster questioned the prisoner.

"I am a Christian gentleman," was the only reply the man would make when pressed for his name. He declined also to say where he came from. As to his reasons for shooting Mr. Morgan, however, he was more communicative.

To End War.

He told the justice that he had no quarrel with Mr. Morgan personally, but felt that the time had come for the war to end. It was becoming more and more unbearable, he said, and it was his firm belief that he should go to Mr. Morgan and ask him to end it. This, he knew, Mr. Morgan could accomplish because of his great influence.

"I wanted to see Mr. Morgan and to reason with him," the man said. "I have nothing against him."

The assailant was cut over the eye by the blow from the coal hod, and had been bleeding freely. He also was limping as the result of his encounter with the Morgan servants.

WAR CONNECTION.

New York, July 3.—When the news of the shooting of Mr. Morgan reached financial circles in New York, the question was raised as to whether the financier's activities in connection with the European war had anything to do with the motive of the attack upon him. The house of J. P. Morgan & Co. was the purchasing agent of the British Government for munitions and supplies bought in this country.

It was only this morning that the announcement had been made prominently in New York newspapers of details of a plan of a group of bankers, of which Mr. Morgan was one of the leaders, for the flotation in this country of $100,000,000 of the new British war loan.

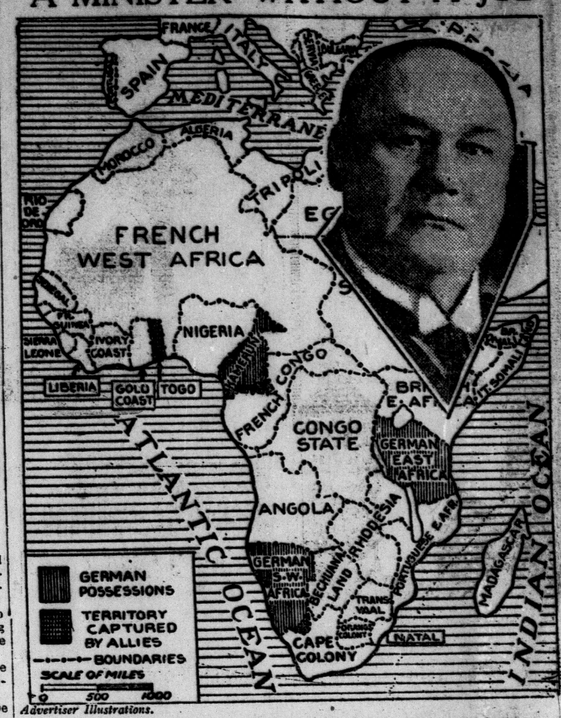

In March last, Mr. Morgan crossed the ocean on a mission which he himself did not disclose, but which was generally supposed to be the arranging of credits in this country for the powers at war with Germany.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN OVER GNILA LIPA

FIGHTING IS CONTINUED

Czar's Forces Repulse Many Attacks On Sakal-Halicz Front.

[Canadian Press.]

VIENNA, July 2.—Via London—11:35 p.m.—General Von Linsingen's army has driven the Russians from a strong position along the Gnila Lipa River from Firlijow southward, according to an official statement given out tonight by the Austrian war office. The statement follows:

"After many days of bitter fighting General Von Linsingen's army has driven the Russians from their strong positions along the Gnila Lipa, southward from Firlijow. The enemy is retreating eastward and is pursued along the whole front. The enemy has suffered heavy losses, 7,065 men and 18 machine-guns being captured.

"Northward the fighting continues. On the Dniester, nothing of importance has occurred. In Russian Poland on the Vistula and the Bug we are combating a strong Russian force and also on the Por and Brok and Wyznica sectors. Our armies are attacking everywhere.

Take Russian Towns.

"Westward from the Vistula River we attacked hostile positions north of Tarnow this afternoon, subsequently progressing to within storming distance of other parts of the front and at night entered Russian positions, the enemy fleeing. Pursuing the Russians we captured Jozefow, a town on the Vistula. The Russians were also repulsed from positions southeast of Slennow where we captured 800 men."

RUSSIAN REPORT.

PETROGRAD, July 2 (via London, July 3.)—1:33 a.m.—The following Russian official war statement was given out here tonight:

"On June 30, north of Przasnysz, and the following night in the Shavli and the Racionz regions, we repulsed local German attacks. On the left bank of the Vistula the enemy on Thursday delivered barren attacks on the front Sieno-Josefow.

"In the direction of Lublin the enemy is in contact with us along the rivers Wysnica and Por.

"Between the Vieprz and Bug Rivers the enemy continues to progress towards the north and the northeast. In the region of Zamosz on Thursday there was stubborn rear-guard fighting. A regiment of Prussian Guards which had seized the village of Jourkoff, was dislodged by our counter-attack.

"On the Sokal-Halicz front the enemy on Wednesday and all of Thursday morning delivered numerous attacks, most of which were repulsed, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. During our counter-attacks we took over 3,000 prisoners and captured several machine guns. Nevertheless, south of Rohatyn important enemy forces succeeded Thursday evening in establishing themselves on the left bank of the Gnila Lipa River.

"There is no change on the Dniester River."

MOHAMMEDAN PRIESTS ATTACHED BY FRANCE TO MUSSULMAN TROOPS

Give Assurance That All Are Ready To Offer Lives In Cause.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—On the recommendation of the governor of Algeria, the French minister of war has appointed three Mohammedan priests to be attached to the Mohammedan colonial troops now fighting in France. One of these priests is Boumezrag Mokrani, a descendant of the famous Kabylian dictator, the Bachagha Mokrani, who headed a rebellion against France. Another, Katrandji by name, belongs to one of the most ancient Moorish families. Both are graduates of the French Mussulman College at Algiers. Asked for their impression after their first visit to the co-religionist hospitals, the priests said:

"We must repeat the assurance that the hearts of all Algerian Mussulmans beat in unision for France, and all are ready to pour out their blood and surrender all their possessions to safeguard her power. No falsehoods can turn them from the way upon which they have set their feet. France has done too much for them and for Algeria that they should now forget that they became her children."

SWEDEN CLAIMS HER NEUTRALITY VIOLATED

Protests to Russia Over Firing at German Warships Off Coast.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—The Stockholm correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company states that the Swedish minister to Petrograd has been instructed to protest against the violation of Swedish neutrality involved by Russian warships firing on German warships within Swedish territorial waters.

A division of Swedish torpedo boat destroyers has been sent to intern the German mine-layer Albatross.

Twenty-one Killed.

According to the Stockholm correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company, the Albatross went ashore at Heerefkan, near Katthammarsvik; 21 members of the mine-layer's crew were killed and 71 were wounded, the survivors being landed at Katthammarsvik. The engagement occurred between Oestgarns and Faroe, when the Russians attacked the Albatross. The German Baltic flotilla came almost immediately to the mine-layer's assistance, and after a heavy exchange of gunfire the Russians retired slowly northward.

DEAD BURIED.

London, July 3.—First Lieut. Lokuenberg and 26 members of the crew of the Albatross were buried in the cemetery at Oestgarns, according to a Reuter Stockholm dispatch. The wounded, including two lieutenants, were taken to the village of Rona, in the central part of Gothland. The survivors among the ship's crew, which numbered 225, are being guarded, part on board the mine-layer and part on land.

GERMAN ANSWER EXPECTED MONDAY

Chancellor Leaves To Let the Kaiser Pass Judgment On Note.

IS A NATIONAL OPINION

Assures Safety of Neutrals On Some Belligerent Merchant Ships.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
By Carl Ackerman, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, via The Hague, July 3.—Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg left today for the Kaiser's headquarters in Galicia with the completed text of the German reply to the second American note.

If it meets with the Emperor's full approval, the communication probably will be delivered to Ambassador Gerard on Monday.

The German reply is not the mere answer of German diplomats. It may be considered to represent the opinion of the whole German people regarding her submarine policy. During the time it was under consideration by the foreign office and marine department, several prominent German editors, bankers and businessmen were called in and asked to express their views.

"These, I am reliably assured, gave full approval to the stand that the imperial Government takes. The final draft, as completed last night, meets the most optimistic forecasts. One who saw the text informed me today that Germany is willing to safeguard the lives of neutrals crossing the ocean even aboard belligerent ships, if such vessels do not carry ammunition and do not misuse the American flag.

Germany will not give up her submarine policy. But she is willing to modify her methods to that extent.

CONSIDERED ON FRIDAY.
By John Edwin Nevin.

Washington, July 3.—The German note will be considered by President Wilson and his Cabinet Friday. It will be handed to Ambassador Gerard on Tuesday, according to advices reaching the state department today, but the President will let it wait until his first regular Cabinet meeting.

It is believed here that the note will fail to dispose finally of the submarine problem. Ambassador Gerard has indicated that all this Government can expect is assurances that American lives will be protected. Germany will make a counter proposition in this connection, and details of it are carefully guarded. There is no apprehension in official quarters, however. It is accepted that the note will be most friendly.

The proposed new note to Great Britain is understood to have been practically completed and ready for submission to President Wilson as soon as the German problem is settled.

ITALY OBJECTS TO GREEK MOVEMENTS

Advance Into Albania Serious Violation of Conference of London.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, via Paris, July 3.—Commenting upon the reported movement of Greek bands towards Berat, Albania, which is a part of the hinterland of Avlona, the Giornale d'Italia says:

"Italy cannot tolerate such a patent violation of the conference of London in a part of Albania directly affecting Italian interests. Either an official of unofficial advance in that direction assumes, from an Italian point of view, greater gravity than the Servian and Montenegrin occupations of Elbassan, Tirana and Scutari.

The Italians occupied the rocky and uninhabited Isle of Sasseno, commanding the entrance to the Gulf of Avlona October 30, 1914, and the environs of Avlona itself on December 25, 1914, after Prince William of Wied and nearly all members of the international commission left Albania which fell into a state of anarchy. Avlona is 33 miles southwest of Berat.

BOYCOTTS BY CHINA ANNOYING JAPAN

[Canadian Press.]

Pekin, July 3.—Owing to the seriousness of boycotts, and because of the Chinese formation of patriotic societies, Eki Hioki, Japanese minister to Chna, on behalf of Japan has repeatedly protested to the foreign office. The Japanese minister is quoted as saying, according to unquestionable Chinese information, that the temper of the Japanese people may overpower the Japanese Government and compel stronger measures against China.

Latest Picture Real Sob Story, Declares Critic

Edna Mayo and Bryant Washburn Stars In Production.

William Morris, whose name is a power in the world of amusements, and whose achievements in the amusement field stand as a model of successful showmanship, says "The Blindness of Virtue," which will soon be seen in the motion-picture theatres, is more universal in its appeal than any stage play yet produced in films.

As a drama on the speaking stage, with but eight people in the cast, Mr. Morris took "The Blindness of Virtue" to Chicago for a run of twenty weeks, and at $1.00 admissions the production played to a weekly business of $7,000.

Mr. Morris is of the opinion that when the picture version of this successful stage play is shown, there won't be a dry eye in the house, and as an old showman with a most accurate gauge of the public's desires, Mr. Morris' statement that the public likes to cry may be taken as an indication that this feature will make a big hit.

In this production, charming Edna Mayo and Bryant Washburn will again be seen on the V-L-S-E program in strong characterizations supported by an exceptionally well-selected cast.

ISONZO REFUGEES FLOCKING TO TRIESTE

Food Is Scarce There, Bread Not Being Obtainable.

[Canadian Press.]

Udine, July 2—Via Paris, July 3.—Large numbers of refugees from the Isonzo district have flocked to Trieste and Gorizia, according to reports received here. Trains bearing Austrian wounded are said to pass through those places several times a day.

Food for the civil population of Gorizia and Trieste is reported to be scarce. There is no bread, but the communes distribute daily small quantities of maize flour. Petroleum is lacking, and those persons whose homes are not equipped with electricity are compelled to remain in utter darkness at night.

No newspapers are permitted, and the only news provided is that contained in official statements which are posted on bulletin boards.

Musical Comedy Star Is Leaving Stage for Film

Frank Daniels, Comedian, Is Going Into the Pictures.

Frank Daniels, the inimitable musical comedy comedian, who has made thousands laugh by the comedy he has sent over the footlights, will soon make millions laugh by his appearance in motion pictures.

Mr. Daniels will shortly be seen on the V-L-S-E program in "Crooky," a five-reel Vitagraph Blue Ribbon picture play, and if he does not give an upward twist to the downward wrinkles at the corners of your mouth, there is something seriously the matter with you.

In this big silent comedy, Mr. Daniels gives abundant proof that he knows as well how to entertain without his voice as he does with it. As a matter of fact, his droll expressions and humorous antics are more eloquent than any words of humor he ever uttered on the speaking stage.

In the title role as convict 999, alias "Crooky," Mr. Daniels makes a sensational, unique and painful escape from prison. The rough treatment he receives in the barrel, which he uses as a vehicle for his escape, would, under ordinary circumstances, be a very serious matter, but as performed by Mr. Daniels, it is excruciatingly funny.

After his escape, Mr. Daniels gets into all sorts of grotesque difficulties, that in their sequence keep the spectators in a state of continuous hilarity.

RUSSIAN MINISTRY TO BE REORGANIZED

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times states that the Goremykin ministry is to be reorganized in such manner that all members may be expected to work in harmony with the Duma. The reorganization has been carried another important step forward by the retirement of J. G. Chtcheglovitoff, minister of justice, and V. C. Sabler, procurator general of the Holy Synod. They are succeeded by M. Khvostoff, former assistant minister of justice, and Alexander Samarin, leader of the Moscow Conservatives.

It is understood, the correspondent adds, that Pierre L. Bark, minister of finance, will be retained, but that other changes will be made soon. There is some doubt as to whether the premiership will devolve on M. Krivoshein, minister of agriculture, or on Prince Vassilchikoff, but in any case M. Krivoschein will remain in the new cabinet, thereby insuring great strength to the ministry.

THE FREEDOM OF THE SEA.

IN BOOKS and speeches, Germans, and apologists for Germany, have been declaring that they want the freedom of the seas. Only a short time ago, to an interviewer in Berlin, the German Foreign Secretary reiterated the old claim. "Germany is fighting for the freedom of the seas," he said. But he was unable to say exactly how this freedom was endangered by any other nation. All he could say was that "England always claimed to be the dictator of the seas until our recent naval activities. We are fighting to make England give up her hold, because so long as one country controls the seas they are not free."

The speaker knew perfectly well that he was talking nonsense. In times of peace the sea is free to every nation. England's "control" is but a metaphorical term. She controls only in the sense that she has the largest military and mercantile shipping. She does not prevent any other nation from putting on the water all the ships it can build; she does not interfere with the movements of foreign vessels in any way. That is, in times of peace. In time of war, sea travel is a matter of risks, and England's control in that case is for her own protection, and for the injury of those with whom she may be fighting.

A struggle for the actual control of the seas in time of war is perfectly legitimate. And if Germany can gain that control she is entitled to it, and England and her allies will have to submit to it. But an actual control in time of peace is an impossibility; the seas then are perfectly free to everybody.

If the German Foreign Secretary's declaration that they are fighting to make England give up what she holds in times of peace means anything, it means that they are fighting to destroy England's navy and commerce, which are among the chief elements of her greatness. That is no doubt the case. What supremacy she has on the seas has been won by the energy and industry of her people, and has been hers legitimately. It has never been exercised to the detriment of any other nation, except in peaceful business rivalry. Under that supremacy the seas have been kept free and the weakest nation has had as much right to them as the strongest. If Germany is fighting against that kind of supremacy, it can only be that Germany is fighting for a control of the seas under which they will not be free. And there is no doubt that with Germany in control other nations would find only as much freedom as they could win by force.

CALLING THE BIG MEN.

LLOYD GEORGE is going to plant the flag in the laboratory and study as well as the workshop. Not only has he asked the workingmen of the United Kingdom to come to the rescue in the hour of peril, but he has invited the men of science, the inventors, chemists, etc., to throw their energies and knowledge into channels that will help in the prosecution of the war. So far the enemy has had the advantage in this respect, as this section of the Germanic community, like every other section, appears to have been organized to do its "bit."

In the United Kingdom are thousands whose services could be secured and used to help solve a number of problems and thus greatly help the British and their allies. One of the most important of these is the finding of some way of combatting the Zeppelins more effectively than is the case at present. In the British aerial corps are many Warnefords, but chance plays too big a part in such feats as his. What is required is development of the aeroplane or the dirigible that can be depended upon to make definite and successful warfare on the Kaiser's monsters, and end the exasperating raids. To grapple with this problem, Lloyd George is mobilizing the services of all those up in the science of aeronautics, and has called in Orville Wright, the American inventor of the flying machine. Other specific needs are the necessity of securing some engine of warfare that will lessen the activities of the submarine, and the finding of an antidote to the asphyxiating gases of the Germans. The United Kingdom is well equipped with men competent to face these tasks. Once they are organized by Lloyd George we may expect them to give a service almost as vital, if not so spectacular, as that of the men in the trenches.

A HELPFUL SUGGESTION.

UNABLE to defend the laxity of the Government in the matter of war contracts, all the Conservative papers can do is to condemn the Liberals for "muckraking" in their efforts to bring about a better condition of affairs. So we have one of them comparing the work of Liberals here with that of the papers in England which found fault with what they considered the laxity of the British Government in the preparation of munitions, and it brings up the boot question again, and says these "muckrakers" would have destroyed the Government, and had not one helpful suggestion to offer.

We thought they made a very good suggestion. They pointed out that the boots were bad, and suggested that they should be improved. And the Government acted on the suggestion, had fresh specifications prepared, and are supposed to be supplying the men with a better article. That was surely helpful—at least to the soldiers, who needed the help badly.

And so with the other charges of graft. Denied at first, they were admitted afterwards; the offenders are being prosecuted, and new methods of purchasing material have been adopted. The Liberals have helped the country, and if the Government is injured in the process, so much the worse for the Government. If the idea has gone abroad that Canada was "rotten with graft and corruption," the fault lies with Conservatives who were guilty, and with Conservative Governments which were either blind or compliant.

We hope there has been no such uncomplimentary view of Canada and Canadians spread abroad. We do not suppose there has been. We have had some nasty occurrences, which do not reflect any credit upon us. But we should hope that outsiders will not attribute to the whole of Canada the faults of a few. At all events, the Liberals did their duty, and calling them "muckrakers" does not detract from the credit due them. Had they not stirred up inquiry, matters would have gone on as they were, and graft and corruption would only have increased.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One great and lasting lesson that this war will teach is the importance of thrift nationally and individually.

The Armenian being a mule ship, it is to be expected that there will be a strong "kick" made over her sinking.

France officially denies that she is using poisonous American-made shells against the Germans. Another Berlin lie nailed.

It must enrage Becker when he sees Harry Thaw close to liberty through the alienist stunt and wonders how he came to overlook it.

Hudson Maxim, the machine-gun maker, denies that he ever said war was a good thing. However, war is a good thing for his business.

The Allies are sending to America for lumber with which to shore the trenches. They already have some excellent timber there in the British "Hearts of Oak."

One of the things Washington has insisted upon is that the neutral ships be inspected by the German submarines. This was not done in the case of the Armenian, which gives fair ground for a protest even if the crew had forfeited their neutral rights.

The Italians are performing brilliantly amongst the crags of the Alps. Steady nerves and perfect physique are required for this kind of warfare. Their success along the mountain tops and passes speaks volumes for the training and preparedness of Italy's armies.

Karl had been quietly drawing on his slate for some time when suddenly his father heard a great scratching. Finally the youngster brought the slate over for inspection and his father asked what the picture was. Karl said:

"Why, it's a cow and some bushes."

"But I don't see the cow," said his father.

"Well, she's behind the bushes," was Karl's answer."

THE EVENING FAD.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Time was that when my day was done
The evening was a time for rest,
I puffed my pipe and watched the sun
In glory sinking in the west.
I knew contentment that was real
Not longer than two years ago,
But now when finished is the meal
She drags me to a picture show.

No more the splendid hour of peace
That once I knew I now possess,
When all my daily struggles cease
There is no balm of happiness
Refreshing, cool, to soothe my brow,
No restful hour that I may know,
For when we've finished dinner now
She drags me to a picture show.

Each evening I must sit and see
The widow's little baby die;
Must gaze on acts of villainy;
The soldiers put to death a spy,
A dam destroyed by dynamite,
Which brings from her a frightened
"Oh!"
And every other dreadful sight
That constitute a picture show.

I've gazed on Farnum's curly locks
Until I wish that he were bald,
I've seen the self-same pile of rocks
By every mountain title called.
I've seen him lick a dozen men
In combat with a single blow,
But after supper, once again
She drags me to a picture show.

Or for the nights that once I knew
Before this picture craze began,
When once his daily tasks were through
There was no place to take a man.
Then I could sit in real delight
And watch the people, come and go,
But now—I'll bet again tonight
She'll drag me to a picture show.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

THE Teutons continue their successful advance against the Russians. They are now well into Poland, sweeping northward towards Warsaw. After the fall of Lemberg the Russians fell back in two directions, east and north. The latter move was evidently made with the object of saving Warsaw. The city of Ivangorod, too, is now threatened by the Germanic drive. The fighting is of the heaviest, and although in retreat the grand duke is punishing his pursuers heavily thirty miles to the south of Ivangorod. In Eastern Galicia the Russian army is engaged mainly with the Austrians. The Russians appear to be doing better at this point, repulsing the enemy's attacks with heavy losses. As usual, both sides claim large captures of men and guns.

GERMANS INVADE RUSSIAN TERRITORY.

THE British and Belgians had very little to do the past week, but the French have once more scored by stopping a heavy German drive in the vicinity of Verdun, one of the great French fortresses which bar the way to Paris. It is said that at least 75,000 Germans were engaged in this movement which, as usual, was preceded by a tremendous shelling and the spreading of poisonous gases. The French were at first thrown back, losing two lines of trenches, but later rallied and recovered the lost ground as well as some of the enemy's defences. In the region north of Arras, where for weeks has been the main French attack, there has been a number of artillery duels. In the Argonne district and the hills of the Vosges, the French have made some gains.

A GERMAN DRIVE AT THE FRENCH

THIS has been a good week for the German submarines. There have been other weeks when they got more, but this week's victims number several costly cargoes. The British steamer Lomas, with a cargo of corn, was caught off the Scilly Islands and sent to the bottom. She was a 4,000-ton vessel. Her first officer was killed by a shell from the submarine. The British bark Thistle Bank, carrying wheat, was sent down off the Irish coast, her crew escaping. At almost the same point, the Norwegian craft Cecilbank was torpedoed. The Italian ship Sardomene, loaded with timber, was torpedoed near Castletown, Ireland, several of the crew being killed. She was of 2,000 tonnage.

A GOOD WEEK'S BAG FOR THE SUBS.

The Germans' biggest catch was the Dominion Line Armenian, with a cargo of mules for the British Government. The Armenian was caught in the English Channel and made a brave attempt to escape, only surrendering when twelve of her crew had been killed by the gunfire of the submarine. As some of the killed were Americans, the incident may mean a fresh note of protest from the American Government, provided it is shown that the Americans had not surrendered their neutrality rights. The British destroyer Lightning was torpedoed off the east coast. One of her crew is dead and fourteen missing. Besides these, the small British steamers Caucasian, Inglemoor and Wellbury were torpedoed, and a schooner, the I. C. Tower.

THERE is little the censors at Rome permit to get through, but that little shows that the Italian armies are progressing steadily at all points. Two weeks ago they took Monfalcone on the way to Trieste, and one army is somewhere between these two cities. Still another is menacing the city of Gorlitz, which is just across the frontier and an important railway junction. The Italians have got across the River Isonzo at several places, despite sharp resistance by the Austrians. In the Carnic Alps they are moving slowly into Austrian territory, and the army operating in the west, heading for Trent, is hammering away at the fortresses and defences that protect the roads to that city.

ITALIAN ARMIES MAKE EXCELLENT PROGRESS

FROM the Dardanelles come more good news. Krithia, according to an Athens dispatch, has been taken by the Allies. This is one of the most formidable of the Turk strongholds, and is on the western side of the Gallipoli Peninsula and about five miles from the point where the Allies made their landing. Its capture would be a big move towards the subjection of the other fortresses which are barring the way to the Sultan's capital.

KRITHIA REPORTED TAKEN BY ALLIES

In the Commons this week Premier Asquith stated that the British naval and military losses at the Dardanelles up to May 23 totalled 38,635 officers and men. The total killed numbered 7,422, of which 495 were officers. The wounded numbered 24,676, of which 1,134 were officers and the missing amounted to 6,537, the officers numbering 92.

A NEW turn to the war during the last few days has been the overrunning of Albania by the Serb and Montenegrins. The latter have taken Scutari and the former hold Durazzo, the important Albanian port on the Adriatic.

SERBS AND MONTENEGRINS OVERRUNNING ALBANIA

HEAVY losses and casualties are reported as the result of a naval battle in the Baltic, between the Germans and Russians. According to Petrograd's account the Germans had a torpedo boat and a cruiser sunk and two battalions damaged, while a minelayer, the Albatross, was driven ashore. The cruiser is said to be of the Madgeburg class. The battleships which were badly riddled were the Wittelsbach and one of the Kaiser class. The Wittelsbach was of 11,830 tonnage and carried 9 4-inch guns and 18 6-inch guns. She was launched in 1902 and had a crew of 650. The other battleship was of about the same strength. The battle is believed to be the result of an attempt of the Germans to land troops at some point on the coast of Courland.

GERMANS LOSE SHIPS IN BALTIC BATTLE.

GEN. Hamilton in charge of the operations at the Dardanelles, reports that on June 26th a British submarine sank Turkish transport No. 42, in the Sea of Marmora while it was filled with troops. Hamilton's report also tells of a heavy engagement on June 29th, in which the Turks were repulsed.

THE DISPUTE.

By Seumas MacManus.

Nelly Molloy and her man Denny were a model couple—the best that the parish of Calhame ever knew. For five and twenty years, to the world's knowin', they had lived without either of them hearin' the other's ill word. But on one Christmas Eve, at last, Johnny the Stroller came round to make sale of a string of birds he had caught in the snow, and Nelly Molloy bought a pair of them, which she broiled that same night for Denny and herself.

"Thanks be to God and you, Nelly," says Denny, says he, as he brushed the crumbs from him and smacked his lips, after finishin' his supper. "Them was the sweetest pair o' blackbirds ever came under my tooth."

"Amen, and thanks be to God," says Nelly, says she. "They were certainly a sweet pair of birds—thrushes they were," says Nelly, says she.

"Blackbirds, Nelly," say Denny.

"Oh, but Denny," say Nelly, "I tell you they were thrushes. I ought to know, that plucked them."

"But, Nelly, sure I tell you they were blackbirds. I ought to know, that ate them."

"Have I eyes in my head, Denny, or have I not?"

"I used to think you had, Nelly; but whether you have or no, people accuses meself of a pair of eyes."

"I'm sorry you don't use them, Denny, to learn to know a thrush from a blackbird."

"If my neighbors used theirs," says Denny, "they might some time come to know a blackbird from a thrush."

"Denny," says Nelly, "you'd provoke St. Pether! Sure I tell you the birds were blackbirds."

"Thrushes!" says Nelly.

"Blackbirds!" says Denny.

Then Nelly began to hum to herself in a provokin' kind of way, as she went about washin' the dishes; and Denny immediately struck up a whistle, as he drew out his pipe and began teasin' the tobacco for it. And the pair of them, who had never cross word or quarrel afore, didn't speak to each other for a month.

Well, that fared well, and it didn't fare ill, as the story-tellers say; and the year wore round till Christmas eve again. Nelly had a fine Christmas-eve supper for herself and Denny; and when they thanked God, and sat down to it, Nelly she put a hearty laugh out of her, and says she:

"Denny, avourneen, do you mind the pair of fools we made of ourselves this night twelve months?"

And Denny laughed, too, and says he: "Aye, Nelly, who'd ever believe that the pair of us could make such idiots of ourselves?"

"About nothing," says Nelly.

"About nothing," says Denny. "The more shame for us," says he. "A miserable pair of blackbirds—bad luck to them!"

"Aye, thrushes—bad luck to them!" says Nelly.

"Nelly, dear," says Denny, lookin' at her reproachfully, "sure you aren't goin' to begin it all over again, for the sake of them weeshy blackbirds?"

"Indeed, then, I'm not, Denny," says Nelly; "only ye know well that they were thrushes."

"Have raison with you now, Nelly! Sure you know as well as I do that they were blackbirds."

"Have raison yourself," says Nelly, "and say like a man that they were thrushes."

"Blackbirds!" says Denny.

"Thrushes!" says Nelly.

Denny, he began to whistle, and Nelly, she began to hum; and after that a word from wan to the other of them didn't cross their lips for three months, till their friends come and brought them together.

That fared well, and it didn't fare ill, as they say in the old stories; and the year wore on, and Christmas Eve came round once more. And as Denny and Nelly thanked God, and sat down to a lovely supper that Nelly had cooked for the pair of them, Nelly she broke into a laugh, and says she:

"Denny, do you mind the omadhauns we made of ourselves last Christmas Eve and the wan afore it?"

"Oh, don't I, Nelly!" says Denny, says he.

"Complete omadhauns," says Nelly.

"The laugh of the worl', an' no wonder," says Denny.

"Sometimes I can hardly believe it of us," says Nelly.

"Foolish childher couldn't act so," says Denny.

"Childher would have more sense," says Nelly.

"You might call them birds thrushes from now till mornin'," says Denny, "and I'd only smile at it, Nelly."

"Thanky, Denny," says Nelly; "but why should you smile, when they were thrushes?"

"Nelly, Nelly, Nelly!" says Denny. "Sure you know I don't want to dispute it with you, but I tell you the birds were blackbirds."

"I'm not disputin' it meself, either," says Nelly, says she; "but you shouldn't contradict the known truth—the birds were thrushes."

"Who's contradictin' the known truth?" says Denny "They were blackbirds an' you know it."

"Thrushes, they were," says Nelly; "and right well ye know it, only the contrariness is riz in ye."

"The morrow is holy Christmas Day, so tell the truth and shame the devil, Nelly. Say they were blackbirds and have done with it!"

"The morrow is holy Christmas Day," says Nelly, "so tell the truth yourself. Say they were thrushes!"

"For heaven's sake, don't keep contentionin' about two scrawny blackbirds, Nelly."

"It's you that is contentionin', Denny; the birds were thrushes!"

"You'll brak' my temper, out an' out. I say they were blackbirds!"

"I say they were thrushes!"

"Blackbirds!"

"Thrushes!"

Denny turned round, then, and drew out his pipe and tobacco and began whistlin', leavin' his supper untasted. And Nelly, turnin' her back to it, too, took up a stockin' she had been darnin' and began hummin' very tauntingly.

That minute the latch was lifted, and who should step in but Johnny the Stroller, with a string of birds over his shoulder. Denny and Nelly jumped to their feet and ran for Johnny, who looked bewildered at them.

"Johnny," says Nelly, "it's delighted I am that you've come."

"It's delighted meself is, Johnny," says Denny, says he, "that you've come at this minute."

"For," says Nelly, says she, "I want you to show this man o' mine the fool he's been makin' of himself."

"Johnny, agra," says Denny, "you've come in the nick o' time to let this woman see the omadhaun she is."

"In the name o' patience," says Johnny, says he, lookin' moidhered from one to the other, "what's this all about, anyhow?"

"'Tis about the two little thrushes we bought from you this night two years," says Nelly. "You'll hardly credit it, but this man o' mine actually argues they were blackbirds."

"Ha, ha, ha!" says Denny, says he. "Johnny, if ye hadn't heard it with your own ears, ye wouldn't take it on St. Pether's word that that woman has been for two years maintainin' them two blackbirds ye sold her were thrushes. Tell her now they were blackbirds, and prove her a fool to her face."

"Johnny," says Nelly, "tell this man o' mine that they were what they were—thrushes—and shame him outright."

"Musha, Nelly and Denny," says Johnny, says he, "it's mortial sorry I am, if the pair of ye have been fightin' about that for over two years. "I'm mortial sorry for the pair o' ye, for the birds I sold ye were starlin's!"

A GOOD REMOVER.

[Exchange.]

A street preacher in a Scottish town called a passing policeman and complained of being annoyed by a certain portion of his audience. He asked to have the objectionable persons removed.

"Weel, ye see," said the officer thoughtfully, "it wad be deeficult for me to spot them. But I'll tell ye what I'd dae if I were you."

"What?" eagerly asked the preacher.

"Jist gang roun' wi the hat!"

AMERICAN PRESS ON THE WAR.

PEACE AND WAR.

[New York Tribune.]

If the Nebraskan was torpedoed by a German submarine, Ambassador Gerard should be recalled, Count Von Bernstorff should receive his passports, and diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States should cease. Such an outrage as the torpedoing of the Nebraskan would be accepted properly by the United States as the real answer of Germany to the American note, the declaration of purposes which makes further discussion impossible.

FINANCING THE WAR.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The financing of this war is straining every country engaged in it, and the floating of the paper issued in the various forms has begun to tell upon the skill and practice of the best financial experts of Europe. Its continuance, even for a few months, is sure to call for still greater sacrifices of blood and treasure, and, as Paul Kruger remarked about a struggle that was dwarfish compared to this, "the price paid will stagger humanity."

THE WAR IN THE AIR.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

The raids of the Zeppelins have failed of any vital accomplishment. If their work has been mainly at night, it follows that they cannot see any better than the aeroplanes can see them. Their destructive work has hardly affected life or property. London, their boasted objective, and the largest possible target, has remained almost immune; and there can be no doubt that while the aeroplane has done great things in the way of scouting and range-finding for all the armies, it has accomplished almost nothing as an air fighter.

HOW YOU MAY REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

Overstoutness is a very unwelcome condition especially in the present day, when slender figures are so fashionable, and every reader of this paper has noticed the tendency of some people to put on an excessive amount of fat.
If you happen to be one of those whose weight is more than it should be, don't try to starve yourself, eat all you want, but go to your druggist and get oil of orilene in capsule form and take one with each meal.
Oil of orilene increases the oxygen-carrying power of the blood and dissolves the fatty tissue, in many cases at nearly the rate of one pound per day. Be sure to get oil of orilene in capsule form. It is sold only in original sealed packages. Any good druggist has it, or a large size box will be sent on receipt of $1.00. Address D. J. Little Drug Company, Box 1240, Montreal, Canada.—Advt.

Has Your Wife a Trade?

"Impertinent question" you say! Well perhaps. But it brings to mind the fact that unskilled female labor is very poorly paid.

If your wife is ever likely to become a breadwinner, you should put her in training now. Then, should the necessity arise, she will be able to produce an income sufficient to support herself—and children, if any—in some degree of comfort.

There is only one other way to make sure that your wife and kiddies will not come to want after you're gone—that is, by means of adequate life assurance.

W. C. T. U. and "Y's" Have Pleasant Outing at Opening of Girls' Camp.

Members of the W. C. T. U. and Y. W. C. T. U. held a most enjoyable "camp shower" at the girls' summer camp, Springbank, yesterday afternoon. Quite a large number of members from each society was present, and many were the donations of canned goods, food packages, and other provision for the use of the camp. Everyone expressed herself delighted with the pleasant surroundings and the many convenient arrangements of the tent. The ladies had also provided good things to eat, and a very jolly picnic was indulged in.

Today the first installment of girl campers goes down to "Re-a-wah," where they will spend their evenings and week-ends, and enjoy camp life generally.

VISITORS TO MUSKOKA JOIN BUCKET BRIGADE

Fair Visitors at Y. W. C. A. Conference Help in Fire-fighting at Elgin House.

A Londoner, writing to a member of The Advertiser staff, tells of the Wednesday morning fire, at Elgin House, Muskoka, where the summer conference of the Young Women's Christian Association is taking place. "The fire broke out about 5 a.m. in the gashouse, which is next door to the building known as the waitresses' apartments. One of the girls heard the crackling of the flames in the wall next to which she was sleeping, and gave the alarm. Almost immediately the whole building, which was frame, was aflame, some of the maids losing most of their personal belongings. The guests in the main building were awakened by the call through the house of "Fire," and in the shortest time possible the delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference were lined up in two long double rows leading from lake to the fire, every available pail and pitcher being pressed into service for a "bucket brigade."

"The men connected the hose, and soon had a number of streams playing on the buildings. Every effort was bent to save the main building, the rear wall of which had caught fire. By practically tearing down the wall of the large new kitchen, and pouring in water from both inside and out, the fire was out by 7 o'clock. I was up in the new kitchen helping to fill pails of water for the men who were tearing down the wall. It was certainly great to see 200 young women and girls all helping. Everybody moved out, bag and baggage, but we took our things back again later. All the silver and linen from the dining-room had been carried but onto the lawn, and the guests washed the silver and glass after it was brought in and set the tables. We all sat down to breakfast at 8 o'clock, and this afternoon you'd never know anything had happened, except for two of the girls with sprained ankles who are confined to the veranda. Chester Massey of Toronto is here, and has given $100 towards a fund to replace the goods the maids have lost, and we are to take up a collection tonight to make up $200, and I guess we'll get more."

RED CROSS SOCIETY TO SEND UNIQUE QUILT

Autograph Quilt To Go To Military Hospital From Londoners.

Have you seen the quilt at present on exhibition in the Red Cross shop on Richmond street? It has been made by friends in Windsor and Detroit, who are sending it to Col. Casgrain, commanding officer, himself a Windsor boy, for the Third Base Hospital. Besides the handsome quilt itself, $369.65 was realized on it, all of which has gone, through the C. W. C. A. for comforts and treats to our soldiers in the trenches.

When all his examinations were passed and he was fully qualified for service, this latest recruit to the A. M. C. had a birthday party! Everybody brought him gifts; tobacco and chocolates, and all sorts of pleasant birthday surprises, and the canny young chap is taking them all over with him. Here's wishing him "bon voyage," and may he bring interest and cheer to many a wounded Canadian.

London isn't going to be behindhand either, in sending words of greeting to the brave men who have been wounded on our behalf. Here's a chance to send YOUR personal tribute to our troops in hospital. Two quilts are being prepared at present, and each one will equip—as well as cover—a cot at Cliveden. What would you like to say to the gallant lads who have been fighting for you? Don't you want to say something to thank, to cheer, or to encourage them?

Then buy a block in the Red Cross quilt. These are for sale at the Red Cross shop, the Richmond street entrance of J. P. Cook Company's shoe store. The blocks only cost a quarter and you can write your message, and sign your name, and take it home and embroider it, so that it will indeed have that "personal touch" that we are all so loth to forego.

Anyone who can't think of an appropriate motto, may have free access to a special book of them, kept on hand for this very purpose.

Haven't the men of London a message for the men who have been at the front? We think so, and want to give them a chance to pass it along. So there is to be a real masculine coverlet; not necessarily made of "sterner stuff," but with a distinctly tailored effect.

And we hope that each man who cares enough for his country to wish well to those who have suffered for it, will "put the good word on it," as the Irish say, and sign their names to it; then by paying an extra 25 cents on it, the Red Cross Society will have it embroidered for them. "Walk up, gentlemen!"

In answer to many inquiries, the Red Cross Society wishes to say that Miss Arnoldi is not speaking on its behalf, nor on behalf of the Canadian War Contingent Association, but is collecting for an entirely different organization.

Londoners at "Y" Conference

Group of Londoners at the Young Women's Christian Association Summer Conference, Elgin House, Muskoka. Among the number may be seen Prof. and Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. C. W. Leonard, Miss Sutherland, Miss Ludwig, Miss Jean Sangster and Miss Rossenholt, all of this city. The lady sitting in the centre is Mrs. Faulkner of Toronto, hostess of the conference.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

CHATHAMITE—1. Your complaint re pattern has been handed to our pattern department. If for any reason you do not receive it now, notify them again.

2. Your writing is very good, according to my humble opinion.

3. There are many recipes for this delectable dainty, but I think you will like the following: Two cups flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup granulated sugar, sift into a bowl, rub in two tablespoons butter; beat one egg, mix it with 2-3 cup milk (sweet) and stir it gradually into the flour; spread on a greased pan and bake in a quick oven twenty minutes. When done, turn it onto a hot plate, split open quickly and butter it. Have the strawberries hulled and standing mixed with sugar; spread over the lower half of the cake; place the top layer over, cover with more strawberries, and sugar, and lastly, with whipped cream.

Graham Gems—Use two cups graham flour, 1 cup white flour, one-third cup lard or shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, stir all together well; into one cupful sour milk, add a level teaspoon soda, beat up and stir into the flour mixture, add more milk to make a batter that will readily drop from the spoon into buttered gem tins.

Pop-overs—Put one egg into a bowl, beat until thoroughly light, add 1 cup of sweet milk, small lump of butter, 1 cup flour and pinch salt; beat all together ten minutes; drop into well-greased muffin pans, and bake in a quick oven.

In regard to the "baby" articles to which you refer, I am glad to send you clippings of the three.

It's a Pleasure.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer a few questions for me?

1. Could I get a cure for thick neck? My aunt has been suffering quite a bit with it.

2. Could you or any of your readers tell me how to cure poison ivy? I have been using sugar of lead and peroxide, but it does not seem to get any better.

3. Could I get the song, "The Cowboy"? The chorus runs something like this:

"Go beat the drum lowly, and play the fife slowly,
And pray the dead march as you carry me along;
Take me to the prairie and lay the sod o'er me,
For I'm a dead cowboy—I know I've done wrong."

4. What do you think of my writing?

5. I am just 16, am 5 feet 3½ inches tall, and weigh 124 pounds. Do you think I weigh enough for my height?

Would you please print these soon? From a friend and well-wisher,

ESSEX READER.

Ans.—1. Several suggestions have appeared in this column from time to time, but I think for such a trouble as this, a course of treatment with a doctor is best.

2. It usually requires some time to get the ivy poison out of the system. Water as hot as can be borne, applied freely as often as the itching returns, gives relief. The sugar of lead solution, or carbolic and water, is about the best treatment you can give, so far as I know.

3. Shall mail you a copy of the song in a day or so, as soon as I can copy it.

4. Fair.

5. For a girl of your years, I think your weight is sufficient.

May Not Have One.

Dear Miss Grey,—I enjoy your Mail-Box page very much, but not such a dose as W. F. M. serves up tonight. Had he or she spent some of the time it took to write all that advice to "Lonely" and "Laughing Water" in reading any ordinary encyclopaedia, the real questions of interest would have been easily answered. I can usually see a joke quickly, but this is beyond me. But, of course, if "W. F. M.'s" mind can only grasp such literature as the "advice" given, one should judge very leniently. Trusting I have not taken too much space, I am, sincerely yours, LEON.

Ans.—Aren't you a bit harsh in your criticism, friend; I think "W. F. M." just wanted to have a bit of fun. As to an encyclopaedia, perhaps he hasn't got one, and quite a large part of our readers do not live near a library, so I am always glad to supply answers about things historical, or biographical, when I can. Hope you continue to read our "Mail-Box," and that "W. F. M." and I may prove more interesting to you in future.

AN ARTISTIC RECITAL

Local Pupils Please Large Audience.

An artistic and delightful recital of song and readings was given in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening by Miss Coral G. Branton, A.B.S.E., graduate pupil of Miss Gwendolyn Anthistle, and Vocal Soloists Miss Butcher of St. Marys, Ont., and Miss Bessie Henderson. A large number of interested friends were present and proved a most appreciative audience. Miss Branton appeared to excellent advantage throughout her several numbers. Her character sketches as given in "Mr. Pickwick in the Wrong Bedroom," and "Mrs. Casey on Lawn Tennis" were particularly good, and high success as a reciter was predicted for Miss Branton by many present. A piano number, "The spinning song from 'The Flying Dutchman'" (Wagner-Liszt) was most excellently rendered by Miss Mildred Anthistle.

In her group of songs Miss Bessie Henderson especially charmed the audience, and Miss Butcher also pleased in her renditions. Both young ladies are pupils of Miss Nora Little.

Miss Branton's numbers on the program were: "At the Sign of the Cleft Heart," "Mrs. Casey on Lawn Tennis," "Lady of Shalott," "When Company Comes," "Watchin' the Sparkin'," "Mr. Pickwick in the Wrong Bedroom" and "Love Among the Ruins." Miss Butcher sang, "The Gypsy Trail," "Since We Parted," and "Morning," and Miss Henderson's numbers consisted of "Parmi les Lianes"—the Tiger song from Paul and Virginia; and a group of three: "The Elf-Man," "Evening Song" and "The Brownies."

"To be humble is one thing; to be humbled is another. To be humble is a grace on the inside; to be humbled is a mortification on the outside."

The Transformation of the Irritable Mr. Manson

Being a story of a man who was cross in the morning because he couldn't find what he wanted, but who found something else before night that chased the irritation entirely away and gave him an interest in Red Cross work.

[WRITTEN FOR THE ADVERTISER BY MARGARET WALKER.]

With a clatter and a bang, George Manson opened first one drawer, then another, and yet a third, of his handsome mahogany chiffonier, without finding what he sought. Mr. Manson was a man of method—or thought he was—and demanded in others this quality in which he so excelled. During all the twenty years of his married life he had, on seven mornings a week, donned a pair of clean socks. Every morning as he was dressing, Mr. Manson's fat hand had slid into the lowest drawer of the chiffonier, there to find a neat pair of socks, heavy or light as the season demanded. But now, this morning, his hand encountered no soft lisle surface, and Mr. Manon's temper, never of the coolest, rose at a rapid rate.

"Confound it anyway," he muttered, then raising his voice, "Jane, where are my clean socks?" From the bathroom adjoining, his wife's voice floated, "Oh, George, I'm so sorry, but I forgot to send them with the wash Monday, and I forgot to mend up any for you. You see I—" Mrs. Manson entered the room, her voice most propitiating.

Mr. Manson "flopped" down on the edge of the bed. "What was that grey stuff you've been working at? Wasn't it socks?" he asked, more forcefully than grammatically.

"Oh, yes; they were for the Red Cross Society, though. Y'see I am knitting some for the soldiers." Mr. Manson commenced to draw on his yesterday's footwear with an aggrieved air. "And, of course, it don't matter about me. Husband's don't count when there's soldiers to work for," he grumbled.

"Now, George, you know I'm sorry I forgot, but really isn't it the first time in twenty years? I'll have a pair ready tonight—now, how will I tell Mary to cook your egg, soft or hard?" Mrs. Manson's voice was most soothing.

"Oh, never mind me," retorted the not-yet-appeased Mr. Manson, "just a bit of bread—anything to be handy and give you more time for your knitting," he added in fine sarcasm.

Mrs. Manson looked at her spouse and started for the door, but at its threshold she turned with spirit: "I'd think, George Manson, a big fellow like you, that don't go to the front yourself, and hasn't a son to go, would be glad to have your wife doing a little patriotic work, so there." Mr. Manson winced as the door slammed behind his wife.

Mr. Manson's thoughts were anything but pleasant as he waited for his downtown car. Just before its arrival, an eager lad in the Boy Scout uniform hastened up. "Buy a flag, sir? It's in aid of the Red Cross," he said.

"Don't want it," snapped Mr. Manson, swinging himself aboard the car. He sank into a seat beside McLean, who lived in the next block. The other man wore a gay Union Jack in his buttonhole. "Haven't you been tagged?" he asked genially. "Cheer up, you'll not escape long. It's certainly in a good cause. The Red Cross Society are doing great work," and McLean chatted on, seeming not to notice his companion's moroseness.

Across the aisle two plainly-dressed women sat knitting away for dear life, despite the jolting of the car. From their conversation they were not previously acquainted, but had been drawn together by the common bond of khaki wool and bright needles. "Yes, I take my lunch down to the shop, so I can put in a few stitches at noon hour," Manson overheard one saying. "That's a good idea," responded the other. "I'm glad there's something we working girls can do for the soldiers," said the first woman. Mr. Manson listened with scowling face.

But his troubles were not yet over. Everywhere he turned that morning, the patriotic instincts which Mr. Manson, as a British-born subject was supposed to possess, were appealed to in vain. "No, I don't want a flag," he told perhaps a dozen or more eager "taggers." Even the morning papers were against him, for they, too, had taken up the appeal for help. "Buy a Flag and Help the Red Cross," read big headlines across the top of one daily. "Your Dime or Dollar Needed for the Red Cross" was the equally prominent heading on another journal. Mr. Manson crammed the papers deep into his pocket as he headed for his office. The stenographer was already there seated at her desk. "Good morning, Mr. Manson," she said politely as he stepped in. Mr. Manson grunted a response. "Will you fyle—" he began, intending to give some instructions to the girl, but the words died upon his lips. A ball of khaki wool slipped from her lap and rolled playfully towards Mr. Manson's feet. The stenographer was knitting! Something electrical in the atmosphere led the girl to make a confused explanation—"For the soldiers, you know," she commenced, flushing, but her employer turned to the privacy of his inner office, slamming the door. Here at least he was free from invading thought of soldiers and soldiers' socks.

The morning's mail brought several business matters to the attention of the irritable Mr. Manson. The most important, perhaps, was a request from a big real estate firm in New York, for whom Mr. Manson sometimes handled special business, asking him to inspect a small farm property some miles away from his home city. Quite pleased with the prospect of the special commission, he investigated ways and means of travelling. A local train, he found, left in half an hour, stopping at a small junction near the farm property. He could easily visit the place and return on the up-town train due in the afternoon. Mr. Manson hurriedly ran through the remainder of his mail, adjusted his hat, and hastened from the office. The sight of his stenographer made him pause. "I'm going out of town for several hours, so you can go right on with your knitting," he remarked, shutting the door hard. The stenographer's black eyes snapped. "Darned old crank," she muttered, "what's the matter with him!"

Mr. Manson's ride on the cross-country train was a fairly pleasant one, only one incident happening to disturb his peace of mind. A little lady in brown who slipped into a seat beside him just before the train pulled out, produced a ball of khaki wool and began to ply her needles vigorously. She was a talkative person, and would willingly have entered into conversation with her fellow-traveller, but his wrinkled brow and stern eye forbade her. However, she chattered away to the woman across the aisle, snatches of their talk coming now and then to Mr. Manson: "Yes, in the trenches now . . ." "Wounded, poor boy . . . ." "Need warm socks when the cold nights begin." When he could stand it no longer, Manson made for the smoking car, and dozed there for the remainder of the trip.

Arrived at the little wayside junction, after scanning the farm land to his own satisfaction, Mr. Manson found a most desolate spot. His frame of mind was in no way improved by the news given him by the rather hopeless-looking man at the grimy wicket that "the up train was an hour late." Mr. Manson sighed in dismay at the prospect.

"Too bad," volunteered the man at the wicket. "Were you in a particular hurry?" "Oh, not particular, only—I don't see how you live in this God-forsaken hole," answered Mr. Manson, a sweep of his hand including not only the grimy station, but the lonely landscape outside, where no building save the station house was in sight.

"Yes, it is pretty lonesome some days," assented the man at the wicket. "But these times one is glad to have a steady place. For myself, I wouldn't stay here, but when the wife died, I promised her I'd always give the boy a home."

"Gad, I'd think he would want other youngsters to play with," said Manson, his sympathy for this "poor beggar," as he mentally termed him, overcoming the irritable mood.

"Well, you see, the poor little chap isn't like other boys," replied the father lowering his voice. "He's been lame all his life, and can't run around." Then with a hope aroused by the sympathy visible in the other man's face, he asked: "You wouldn't come in and talk to him a bit, would you? It kind of cheers him up to have a stranger come in."

Mr. Manson did not hesitate for more than a brief minute. "Sure I'll come if you think he wouldn't mind."

"This way," said the stationmaster, coming from behind the wicket and opening a door in the rear. "Here's a gentleman to see you, Earl," he called. "Are you awake?"

George Manson saw a shabby room—a room which bespoke the careless housekeeping of a man, and yet a room in which the loving touches of a woman were still in many ways visible. At the far end, beneath the one window, was a broad, old-fashioned couch. On it lay a wan little figure—a boy of about 10 years, with pinched face, illumined, however, with large, bright grey eyes. He looked up eagerly as his father and the visitor entered, then stretched out his hand in a winning gesture. "Thanks for coming in," he said in a prim little voice. "I'm Earl Webster—what is your name?" Manson told him, shaking the little hand awkwardly.

"I suppose you can see away up the track as the trains come in," he said, endeavoring to make conversation. "Oh, yes; and I make up stories about the people on the train, and where they are going and what the great cities are like, and the ocean. Gee—" the boy's voice grew eager, "Mister, have you ever seen the ocean?" Manson gave a nod of assent. "Oh, can't you tell me what it's like?" begged the boy. "Pretty hard to describe, my boy, but I'll do my best," and for the greater part of the hour, the man talked freely, only interrupted now and then by a question from the boy. The father, who had resumed his duties in the little office, came to the door occasionally to listen and smile.

"Gee, it's just great, mister, to have you here telling me all about these things—it's pretty lonesome sometimes," and the boy lowered his voice, "since she went away, you know." Mr. Manson felt a great lump rising in his throat.

"How do you put in the time, my boy—wouldn't you like a little dog to play with?"

The boy's eyes shone. "Oh, say, I'd just love to have one, but he might get run over with the trains so near. You see, I read quite a bit," he pulled a thick book from beside him. "McFarlane's Encyclopedia of Knowledge" read the man. "This was one of mother's books, and there's lots of queer things in it, and pictures, too," continued the boy. "Then I can always knit."

"What!" exclaimed Mr. Manson, as the boy brought to light a ball of khaki wool and a sock about half finished. "Yes, mister, I can't do a thing for the King 'cept this. Mother, she taught me how before she went, you know, and I do a bit every day. I'm always wondering what sort of poor fellow will get these and if they'll feel good on his feet." The boy commenced to knit vigorously, and Manson sat and watched him with thoughts too deep for words. "Gad," he sighed, "if Jane could only see him."

But the warning toot of the up-train whistle brought the visit to a close. "Will you ever be down this way again, mister?" queried the boy wistfully.

"Next week," responded Manson with sudden resolve, "and I'll sure look in on you, and we'll have another talk." "Oh," sighed the boy in full happiness of anticipation. "And think of all you have given me to think of until you come again."

Outside, Manson once more indulged in conversation with the stationmaster. "Thank you, mister, ever so much for cheering up my boy," the latter said. "Sometimes I think I'll go crazy here since the wife died. I'd enlist if it wasn't for the boy; but, well, I can't leave him to strangers. He is so like her," and the man turned away.

Manson wrung the stationmaster's hand and swung aboard the up-train. His last vision of the lonely junction was the man standing drearily on the platform, and a little white hand waving good-bye from the house window. A great thought seized possession of Manson's mind. "I'll do it, by heck!" he exclaimed, sitting with his mouth open at the idea. "That is, if Jane's willing," he added on second thought, "but she will be—just let her see that boy knitting. She'll mother him right away."

It was three weeks later. The big, white square with the Red Cross sign had attracted many people that Saturday. Crowds paused all day long before the window display which the big banner heralded, and where a second sign, "Red Cross Depot" was prominent. "Any sum, large or small, will put your name on the quilt," read another inscription attached to a large white spread with spaces blocked off for names. Mr. Manson, homeward bound from the office, paused with the rest, read the signs carefully, then stepped inside the office, feeling more diffident than he cared to admit. "Will you put a name on the quilt for me?" he asked of the smiling young lady in charge. "Yes, indeed," she responded, pencil in readiness, "what name?"

"Well you might put it in for my boy, Earl Webster Manson," he said, placing a bill before her. The Red Cross worker gave the note a quick glance. "Our treasurer always acknowledges hundred-dollar donations; you had better give me your address," she said. "Not necessary at all," replied Mr. Manson, "but if you wish to, it might be sent to me at Ocean House; my wife, my son and I leave for there on Monday."

LONDON AND BRANTFORD PLAY TWO GAMES TODAY

Rain Halted Yesterday's Fixture In Third Inning When Brants Were Leading By Two Runs—Reisling and Graham Pitch Today.

BRANTFORD, July 2.—Rain halted the game between London and Brantford here this afternoon. Brantford was leading by the score of 2 to 0 in the third innings when Umpire Deneau called the contest. Rain was falling heavily at the time, and finishing the game was out of the question.

Reisling and Cresswell were the opposing pitchers. Brantford had scored two runs in the second inning, mixing a couple of hits with a pair of errors by the London infield. Ivers walked to start with, and Mullin singled, Ivers going to third. Lacroix tried to catch Ivers at third when Mullin went down to second, and his peg was wild, Ivers scoring. Fried singled and Mullin scored when McEvoy made a wild peg to the plate.

London had a chance in the second inning when Eckstein doubled. No one could bring him in, however.

The teams will play a double-header tomorrow afternoon. Two games were originally scheduled for here Saturday, so today's game will have to be played off when London appears here again. Warner and Cresswell will pitch for Brantford and Reisling and Graham for London.

White and Welsh Battle Tonight In Ten-Round Bout

Chicago Boy's Recent Victories Cause Welsh To Take the Fight Seriously.

New York, July 3.—Charley White of Chicago and Freddie Welsh, world's lightweight champion, are matched to fight a ten-round bout here tonight. Betting odds here today were 6 to 5 on White to beat the Englishman.

White's string of knockout victories are said to have caused Welsh to take the bout more seriously than any he has fought since he won the title from Willie Ritchie last summer. He has been training hard for two weeks. The stipulated weight for both men was 135 pounds.

SAINTS SIGN INFIELDER; FANS NOT TURNING OUT

Bill Garvey of Moosic, Pa., Is Recommended by Hughie Jennings—Club Getting Poor Patronage.

ST. THOMAS, July 2.—The St. Thomas ball club has signed Bill Garney of Moosic, Penna., an infielder, who was recommended by Hugh Jennings of the Detroit Tigers.

Garney is a young college player who has been heralded as very fast. He will report in time to play in Monday's game at Pinafore Park with Hamilton. The directors of the club are making every effort to strengthen the hitting department, which has experienced a big slump since Bierbauer was eliminated from the lineup by an accident. The fans, however, must show more encouragement by patronizing the home games. The attendance has been disappointing during the last week.

"RED" MURRAY RELEASED BY NEW YORK GIANTS

New York, July 3.—The New York National League Club today announces that it has released the veteran outfielder, John J. (Red) Murray, unconditionally.

It is generally supposed that Murray was signed to one of the unbreakable "iron clad" war contracts, but Secretary Foster said the so-called "iron-bound, unbreakable contracts" are a myth.

Work done by Colorado Ranger so far is very satisfactory. This colt is by Colorado E., and was bred by George H. Estabrook, whose return to the racing game is one of the good things of the year. McDonald has the colt and will start him in the sweepstakes at the Blue Ribbon trots.

HAMILTON RACES CLOSE IN THE RAIN

Track Muddy But Good Crowd Attends Despite Conditions.

KING NEPTUNE A WINNER

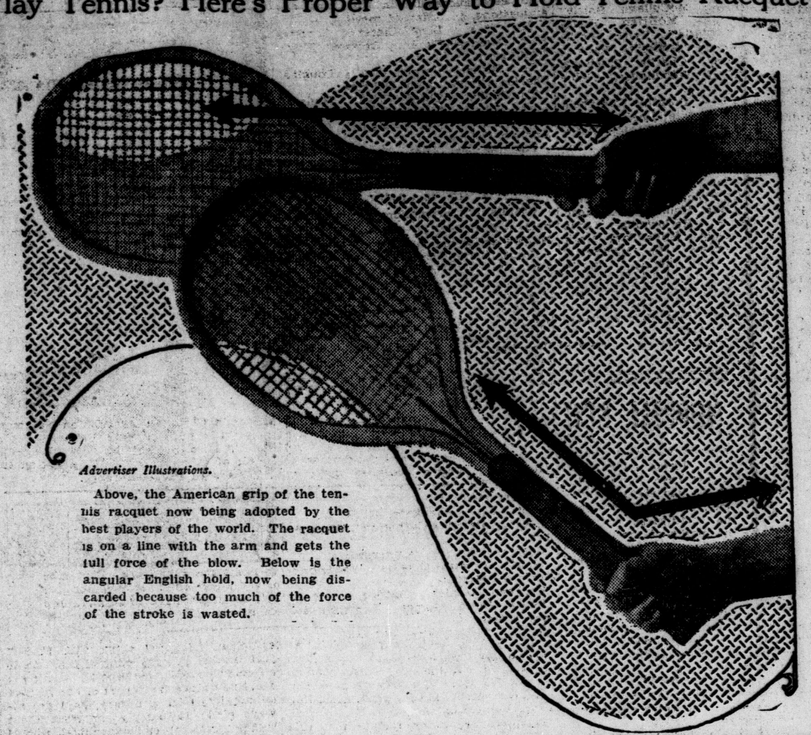

Took the Junior Champion Event for Two-Year-Olds From Field of Six.

HAMILTON, July 2.—The first summer meeting of the Hamilton Jockey Club was brought to a close here today. The track was still muddy from the rain of yesterday, and a steady drizzle fell during the greater part of the afternoon. The attendance was good, despite the conditions.

As usual, seven races made up the card, the feature of which was the fourth event, the Junior Champion for two-year-olds at 5 1-2 furlongs, King Neptune winning at 2 to 1 from a field of six.

Eel Direct, that many thought had a chance in the Chamber of Commerce stake last year, is a much improved horse. He now carries a winrace record of 2:12¼ on a half-mile track. The pacer that beats him in the 2:20 stake at Detroit next week will have to be up and doing.

Little Johnny Farrell Has Interesting Career

Sensational Shortstop of Chifeds Was First Promised to Charley Comiskey, But Later Jumped to the Outlaws.

Little Johnny Farrell, who before the age of 20 went through the Federal League with a torch setting fire to it, and who now is considered one of the fastest and classiest little players in baseball, is rather an interesting character.

Farrell came within a straw of being a member of the Chicago White Sox. In fact, when he was nine years old he was picked by Charlie Comiskey as the coming second baseman of whatever team Commy might own when Farrell grew up.

Farrell's uncle is "Cap" Farrell, a veteran of the Chicago fire department and one of Comiskey's oldest and best friends. The American League just invaded Chicago and was getting settled down to business and "Cap" Farrell was one of Commy's most ardent followers.

One day he came out to the old south side grounds bringing with him a wiry, bright-faced, tow-headed kid, whose eyes were popping out with excitement over the chance to see a big league ball game.

The kid knew all the ball players and their records by heart. He made a big hit with Comiskey, who sent for some practice balls and tossed them to the boy.

"He handles himself like a real ball player," remarked Comiskey.

"Born in him," responded the uncle. "A natural ball player, Commy. Better sign him."

"I will," remarked Commy. "He looks good."

The incident was forgotten by all perhaps save the boy himself. He was out on the lots around Chicago, the greatest baseball school in the world, learning the game. He was playing at school, and out of school.

On every occasion when his team was not playing he was down in the front row at the White Sox grounds studying what the players were doing or trying to do.

When he was about 18 Comiskey was tipped off to watch the youngster, as he was coming very rapidly—but there seemed to be plenty of time to get him, as it seemed he needed a couple of years in the minors. Johnny again had very positive ideas about that. He did not want to go to the minors. He wanted to go right into the majors and stay there, and he said as much.

When Tinker took charge of the Federal League, Farrell was handed to him. Tinker took him south more to please his friends than with any idea the boy could make good in fast company. Farrell remarked that all he wanted was a chance. Inside of two weeks Tinker declared that the boy was one of the best natural players he ever had seen, that he had speed, baseball sense, and that with experience he would be good enough for any club.

He now declares that he is, next to Evers, the best man to work with around second base he ever was with—and that he knew more baseball the first day he broke in than nine out of ten veteran second basemen do. Which is some compliment.

Jack Barry Sold by Connie Mack to Boston Red Sox

Star Shortstop of Philadelphia Athletics Is Latest Member of Great Infield To Go.

BOSTON, July 2.—Jack Barry, shortstop of the Philadelphia Athletics for several years, was sold to the Boston Americans today. He will oppose his former teammates tomorrow, when he will play second base for the Red Sox, President Lannin stated tonight. The sale of Barry is the latest of a series of dismemberments of the baseball machine which brought Philadelphia many championships of the league and of the world. Only a few of the stars of other days are left, and two of these, McInnis, first baseman, and Schang, the young catcher who is being played temporarily at third base, have been mentioned as being on the market. Manager Mack tonight would not say whether any deals were pending for these players.

"It is my intention to build another championship team and my plans are well under way," he said.

Ex-London Players With Wingham Team Here Today

Four of London's Last Year Lacrosse Club Will Oppose Locals.

The Wingham lacrosse club, which is composed of several members of last season's London team, will make their first appearance here this season at Tecumseh Park this afternoon. The visitors have a strong aggregation and have won one and lost one game to St. Marys in the group so far. Among the Wingham players well known to local fans are Grant Fetterley, Eddie and Charley Collins and Scott.

London will present a strong line-up this afternoon. It will be the first time this season that all the local players will be available. The absence of Spalding, Klersey and Holly in the game at St. Marys was a severe handicap. All these players will be in the line-up today, the team taking the field as follows:

Donohue—Goal.
Simmons—Point.
Holly—Coverpoint.
Klersey—First defence.
Brolley—Second defence.
Spalding—Centre.
McCrae—First home.
Slattery—Second home.
Whitby—Outside home.
Nash—Inside home.
Allan Kinder of Preston will referee.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock in order to let Wingham catch a train home late in the afternoon.

CLANDEBOYE.

Clandeboye, July 3.—R. Aitchson, G. T. R. agent here, hurt his wrist badly while cranking his auto.

Thos. Dancey is very busy getting out heavy timbers for his barn.

Quite a lot of building improvements are being made this summer.

Many from the village spent Dominion Day in London and Lucan.

Miss E. Little, who is training for a nurse at the General Hospital, in Wingham, is at present the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Dancey, at Lucan Crossing, and before going home will visit friends in Denfield.

Mrs. A. Jackson, who has been on the sick list recently, has greatly improved.

The recent rains have been of great benefit to the hay and grain crops, which promise well.

Many farmers are at present doing their share of road work.

LONDON'S CONSOLATION

Fred Browne's Thistles Won Toss From Porterfield of Ridgetown.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

RIDGETOWN, July 2. — Moss' Leamington rink captured the McMaster trophy, the premier event in the local bowling tournament, by defeating Kelly of Florence in the finals by 15 to 11. Moss had beaten Watson of Windsor in the semi-finals, and Kelly had won from C. B. Laur's London Thistles.

The Laing trophy was won by Rogers of Essex, who defeated Laur of London in the finals by 17 to 14.

London Won Consolation.

In the consolation event, Ridgetown rinks, skipped by Porterfield and McLaurin, Gosnell's Blenheim rink, and Fred Brown of London, reached the semi-finals. In the play-off, Porterfield won from Gosnell and Brown from McLaurin. In the toss for prizes, Brown took first, Porterfield second, and Gosnell third.

Percy Millman of London was in charge of the office both days, and the success achieved was in no small way due to his excellent work.

BANISH BILE!

A bilious condition of the system is the result of inaction of the liver, often causing severe headache through the eyes and temples, culminating sometimes in nausea and vomiting, which is frequently followed by a bilious diarrhoea.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt, when taken as directed, stimulates the peptic glands of the stomach and increases the contraction of its muscles from above downward. This action is communicated to the intestines and increases the flow of the intestinal juice, thus stimulating the ducts of the liver to pour out the bile, when it can be carried downward by the laxative action of the Salt, instead of remaining to clog up the liver and flow back into the stomach.

Thus, if a person who is subject to Biliousness and Bilious Headache will use Abbey's Effervescent Salt, the natural action of the Stomach, liver and intestine will be kept up and no bile can accumulate in the system.

FANATICS AMUCK IN INDIAN ARMY

Three Officers and Bombardier Killed—Act of Mohammedans.

ACT OF MOHAMMEDANS

Latter Are Shot Down by Party From British Regiment.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, July 2. — 8:05 p.m.—The killing of a major, a captain, a lieutenant and a bombardier and the wounding of a captain and a sergeant, all officers of the 8th Indian Cavalry, by two fanatical Mohammedans, who were subsequently shot to death, was announced tonight by the British official press bureau. The statement follows:

"A lamentable tragedy occurred in the 8th Cavalry of the Indian army stationed at Jhansi, (in the united provinces of Agra and Oudh, British India). Two Mohammedan soldiers ran amuck in the lines shooting and killing Major M. H. L. Gale and cutting down Lieutenant Courtenay who since has died of his wounds.

"The murderers ran towards the officers' mess and on the way met and wounded Captain Hudson. Turning towards the artillery barracks they fired at a sergeant and a bombardier wounding slightly the former and killing the latter.

"The murderers were pursued and shot by a party of men of the regiment led by two British officers, but not before they had fired and killed another officer.

"The two men are reported to have been of a morose and fanatical disposition. They kept aloof from their comrades. The act was an solated one in which no one but the murderers were involved."

ZEPPELINS DID SERIOUS DAMAGE AT NEWCASTLE

Bombs Rained Down Upon Munitions Factory—Buildings Well Lighted.

[Canadian Press.]

NEW YORK, July 2.—A description of the bombardment of the north coast of England by Zeppelins on the night of June 15, details of which have not been permitted by the British censors to become public, were brought to New York by passengers aboard the steamship Lapland, from Liverpool.

According to accounts of the air raid given by the Lapland's passengers, the Zeppelins which raided the northeast coast of England were more successful, from a military standpoint, than any of the previous aerial war craft which have flown over England, as they did considerable damage to Palmers' Foundry, a large machine shop in Newcastle, now used for a munitions factory.

The official reports, according to the Lapland's passengers, asserted that a majority of the deaths caused by explosive bombs dropped by the raiders took place in the munitions factory, which also suffered grave material damage. Except for insignificant injury to the Tilbury and Gravesend docks, no damage worthy of the name of military usefulness, it was said, had been wrought by the Zeppelins previous to the raid on the northeast coast on June 15.

Pass Up Hull.

From Grimsby a course was then steered for Hull, but when Hull was reached little attention apparently was paid to the city which had suffered heavily from the previous visit of the German aircraft. The pilot, who evidently knew the country well, led the Zeppelin squadron then to Newcastle.

Running with double shifts day and night the munitions factory at Newcastle was well lighted and offered a fair target to the aircraft. One of the big Zeppelins seemed to hover, almost stationary, over the munitions works and rained down upon the factory a quantity of explosive and incendiary bombs.

How great the damage was, it was said, has been withheld from the public. Only officials have been allowed near the bombarded factory since then, but it is generally known that it suffered considerable damage from the attack.

PREPARED FOR A LONG WAR.

Home Bank Ready Even If Hostilities Last Another Year.

The annual report of the Home Bank of Canada for 1915 has a special interest because it deals with banking operations in the Dominion during ten months of the war, and thus indicates the financial situation in the country at a very recent date. It is typical in its general features in that it announces an increase in deposits and an increase in cash reserve. These are accompanied by an increase in operating expenses due to the war tax on circulation and a decrease in earnings accounted for by the stoppage of foreign business and the curtailment of operations by industries which were most active before the declaration of war. The Home Bank, in considering its position at the close of its financial year, has taken cognizance even of those declines in market prices of securities which have been regarded up to the present as merely sympathetic. It has also reduced the valuation of its bank properties to a figure proportionate to present real estate values. In fact, it has had in view, in the report, conditions which would arise should the war continue for another year.

GEN. DIAZ DEAD; PASSES IN PARIS

Former President of Mexico Ruled For Thirty-Five Years.

AN EXILE FOUR YEARS

Is Given Credit for Establishing a Prosperous Government.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, July 2.—7:40 p.m.—General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, died at 7 o'clock this morning.

General Diaz's wife, Senora Carmen Romero Rubio Diaz, and their son, Porfirio Diaz Jun., and the latter's wife were at the bedside when the end came.

General Diaz had been in failing health since reaching Europe in 1911 after his resignation from the presidency of Mexico, following the successful Madero revolution.

The letter with which General Porfirio Diaz announced, on May 25, 1911, his resignation from the presidency after having been master of the country for thirty-five years gives in his own words an interesting glimpse of his remarkable career. It reads:

Diaz' Resignation.

"Sir,—The Mexican people who generously have covered me with honors, who proclaimed me as their leader during the international war, who patriotically assisted me in all works undertaken to develop industry and the commerce of the republic, establish its credit, gain for it the respect of the world and obtain for it an honorable position in the concert of nations—that same people, sir, have revolted in armed military bands, stating that my presence in the exercises of the supreme executive power is the cause of this insurrection.

"I do not know of any fact imputable to me which would have caused this social phenomenon, but permitting, though not admitting, that I may be unwittingly culpable, such a possibility makes me the least able to reason out and decide my own culpability. Therefore, respecting as I have always respected the will of the people, and in accordance with article 82 of the Federal Constitution, I come before the Supreme Representatives of the nation in order to resign, unreservedly, the office of constitutional president of the republic with which the national vote honored me, which I do with the more reason since, in order to continue in office, it would be necessary to shed Mexican blood, endangering the credit of the country, dissipating its wealth, exhausting its resources and exposing its policy to international complications.

"I hope, gentlemen, that when the passions which are inherent to all revolutions have been calmed, a more conscientious and just study will bring out in the national mind, a correct judgment, which, when I die, I may carry graven on my soul as a just estimate of the life which I have devoted and will devote to my countrymen."

National Palace Stoned.

The revolution led by General Francisco I. Madero Jun., in 1911, to resign his office in a bargain for peace, but on May 24, the day on which the resignation was expected, it was not forthcoming. Riots occurred that day in Mexico City, during which many persons were killed. The National Palace was stoned by mobs shouting "Viva Madero!" and demanding to know why Diaz did not resign. The next day he read his letter of resignation to the Chamber of Deputies. A large majority voted aye; the other legislators rose and bowed their affirmation as their names were called.

The minister of foreign affairs, Francisco Leon de la Barra, was immediately chosen provisional president and Diaz, of whom for thirty years all Mexico had stood in awe, left the capital, secretly the next day, to embark at Vera Cruz for Europe. Since then he had lived virtually an exile in Paris and other European cities, a silent observer of still more troublesome times in the land he had long ruled.

The views General Diaz held of these subsequent happenings were reported mainly by rumor. He authorized but few interviews, and those in the main were those of an old man grieved over his own misfortunes and those of Mexico. He longed to see peace re-established, and was often quoted as having urged the now former President Huerta to quit to prevent a foreign war. He was repeatedly reported on the point of returning to Mexico, but he denied that he ever would, unless Mexico was drawn into war with the United States, or unless it was for him to die in his native land.

Spanish and Indian Stock.

General Diaz was born in 1830. His family were of old Spanish stock with an infusion of Indian blood. Left fatherless at the age of 3, he was educated at the expense of the Bishop of Caxaca with the intention of becoming a priest, but he eventually turned to law and then at the outbreak of the war with the United States turned to a military career. He served throughout that struggle in a militia company which he helped organize, and after peace was declared he made a special study of military science. He and one other were the only two in the country who dared openly oppose the continuation of Santa Anna's dictatorship. His execution was ordered, but he escaped and joined Herrera's Revolt. He speedily made a reputation as a soldier, and as a brigadier-general he was the chief thorn in the side of the French forces, when, taking advantage of the civil war in the United States, they attempted to place Archduke Maximilian of Austria on the throne of a Mexican empire. Diaz harassed the enemy constantly, and in June, 1867, captured Mexico City with his forces. On the re-establishment of the republic he was unsuccessful as a candidate for president, but in 1877 he was elected to fill the unexpired term of the fugitive president, Lerdo. His last and eighth election was in July, 1910.

To Diaz was given credit for the advance of Mexico to the status of a stable, progressive and prosperous government, although the autocratic methods he employed were widely criticized.

WOODSTOCK, July 2.—Sapper George Revell of the 1st Field Company Canadian Engineers was killed in action according to word reaching Woodstock. He was a son of the late Robert Revell, at one time mayor of Woodstock, and was born in this city about 36 years ago. He removed from Woodstock, however, fourteen or fifteen years ago, and at the time that war broke out was practicing his profession as a civil engineer in Nelson, B.C. He is survived by three sisters and one brother: Mrs. Ed. Peck of Peterboro, Miss Charlotte of Peterboro, and Miss Florence of Chicago, and Harold of Toronto. Dr. Revell of this city is a cousin.

LCE.-CORP. MURDOCK MAY NOT BE DEAD.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 2.—Mrs. William Murdoch of this city has received a letter from her husband, Lance-Corp. William Murdoch, dated in France on the 16th of June. In his letter Lance-Corp. Murdoch tells of the death of his brother, Lance-Corp. John Murdoch, Major Smith, Ted Edwards, C. Crozier, James Nichol, Matt Meehan, Joe Joiner, Richard Dennis and H. Ward. The name of Matt Meehan is the only one that has not been reported in the official lists.

Lance-Corp. William Murdoch has been officially reported killed on the 15th. This letter, however, dated on the 16th, shows that some mistake has been made. Lance-Corp. John Murdoch's death has not come through from official sources, and it is supposed that the names of the two brothers have got mixed in the official lists.

CANADA WILL GET SHARE OF ORDERS IN FUTURE

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Says C. P. R. Will Look After Business.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived here today aboard the steamship Lapland from England, where he went to attend a conference with various Government officials concerning the purchase of war supplies for the Allies, in Canada. He said he had made arrangements by which the purchase department of the Canadian Pacific would be utilized as far as was practicable for the purchase of such supplies.

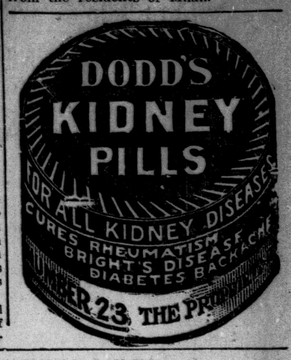

By the arrangements made in England, the position of Sir Thomas in Canada will, in the future, be somewhat analogous to that of J. P. Morgan in the United States. He said that the Canadians were not disgruntled at having failed to receive orders given for war supplies in the United States, but that in the future Canada would be assured of her share.

ITALY TO PUSH MUNITIONS WORK

MILAN, Italy, July 2, via Rome.—Lombardi, Italy's greatest manufacturing centre, has organized a munitions committee, the executive committee of which in collaboration with the military authorities will work to organize Italian industries on a vast scale to cope with the new and unexpected national situation regarding munitions.

The duties of the committee will be to ascertain if the various factories can supply the necessary machinery to enable them to undertake army work; to inform the various industries what the statement requires; to supply designs and patterns, and to regulate the prices to be charged and stimulate rapidity in construction which is expected to be obtained through methodical work during longer hours and the alteration of fresh artisans for day and night duty.

The committee, whose services will be rendered gratuitously consists of experts belonging to the Milan College of Engineers and Architects, and the Italian Electro-Technical Association, which are largely providing the funds required, aided by subscriptions from the residents of Milan.

Germans Lose Two Ships In Naval Fight

Torpedoboat and Cruiser Sun k By Russians, Says Petrograd Correspondent—T wo Big Battleships Are Damaged, With M any Men Wounded.

LONDON, July 3.—Dispatches from points on the Baltic Sea tell of a naval battle between German and Russian warships in which the casualties were heavy and the losses serious.

Copenhagen reports that the German battleship Wittelsbach and a battleship of the Kaiser class have been damaged. The latter got many shots under the water line and was obliged to return to the base at Kiel.

A Petrograd correspondent wires to the Politiken [...]t Copenhagen that it is reported there that not only was [...] German torpedo boat sunk at Windau, but that a cruiser o[f] the Magdeburg class was also lost.

GERMAN MINE-LAYER ASHORE.

According to the Stockholm correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company, the naval engagement occurred off the east coast of the island of Gothland. The dispatch says:

"The German mine-layer Albatross was chased by four Russian cruisers and ran ashore to escape capture. Twenty-one of the mine-layer's crew were killed and 27 were wounded."

The Copenhagen correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company confirms the report of a naval battle off the east coast of the island. According to a message received here from Gothland, gunfire was heard Thursday night and at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning a naval action was observed from Ljugarn Harbor. Later warships steamed north.

MANY WOUNDED.

At 10 o'clock four cruisers were seen closely engaged near land. Later a German torpedo boat with many wounded arrived at Katthammersvik, on the east coast of Gothland.

The battle is believed to have been the result of an attempt of the German fleet to land forces. An official statement issued by the Russian War Office on July 1 told of an effort by German warships to bombard the port of Windau, Courland, and land troops. This was repulsed. Windau is a Russian port across the Baltic from Gothland Islands.

HAD EIGHT ARMY CORPS.

In preparation for an advance north supported by a German fleet the Politiken's Petrograd correspondent states that eight German army corps were concentrated at Riga and in the Shavli region. The attack on Windau, the correspondent believes, was an evidence that this was the object of the German military and naval authorities.

LARGE BATTLESHIPS LOST.

The battleship Wittelsbach is of 11,830 tons displacement. Her complement in peace times is 650 officers and men. Her armament consists of four 9.4-inch and eighteen 6-inch guns. She was placed in service in 1902.

The battleships of the Kaiser class each have a displacement of 10,790 tons and a complement of 658 officers and men. The armament of this class consists of four 9.4-inch and fourteen 6-inch guns.

Vessels of the Magdeburg (Breslau) class have displacements of 4,550 tons. They have a complement of 370 officers and men. They are armed with twelve 4.1-inch guns and two torpedo tubes.

SCOUTS' CONCERT PROVES SUCCESS

Boys Put On Interesting Program At Auditorium Last Night.

FOR BRADY MEMORIAL

Proceeds Go To Special Fund—Concert To Be Repeated.

There was a splendid gathering of Boy Scouts and their admirers at the Auditorium last evening.

The occasion was the concert in aid of the Brady memorial fund. Scouts rallied from all parts of the city to make their contribution and to do honor to the memory of their gallant scoutmaster who fell at Langemarck on April 22nd.

The proceeds of the evening and also tonight's concert will considerably augment the amounts already contributed.

Of the program, largely contributed by the Scouts themselves, too much cannot be said. The activities of scoutcraft were admirably set forth in two playlets, the first, "Indian Death Trap," written by Rev. A. H. Cree, put on by Troop 7 illustrated the outdoor life of the Scouts. The centre of interest lies in the rescue of little Tom Seaburook from the Indian death trap into which he has fallen, and the whereabouts of which had never been located until the Boy Scouts were put on the trail to find the missing lad. The rescue and the subsequent camp fire proved very pleasing.

The second playlet, "The Twins," featured Ralph and Dan, twin brothers one a Scout and the other an anti-Scout. This playlet was written by Scoutmaster Perry of the 11th Troop, a successor to Scoutmaster Brady.

Ralph, the Scout, so commands the admiration of his brother Dan, for his resourcefulness in dealing with highwaymen, that the anti-Scout is converted into an enthusiastic tenderfoot. The playlet is very clever and reflects much credit on its young author.

The Scouts were ably assisted by Misses Paterson, Scott and Walker in vocal and instrumental music and readings, and by Messrs. Perry, Cree, Lance and Bugler in connection with the plays.

Exhibition of drilling and signalling were contributed by Troops 8, 9 and 24.

Langton's orchestra furnished the music between acts, and in a large measure contributed to the success of the evening.

Rev. Mr. Appleyard presided in the absence of Mayor Stevenson.

Tonight Mayor Stevenson will preside, and will present the hockey and baseball trophies to the successful troops in the winter and spring tournaments.

The program is as follows:

ARMENIAN WAS NOT UNDER REQUISITION

British Government Had Cancelled This Before She Sailed.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, July 3.—Ambassador Page at London cabled the state department today that the British steamer Armenian, torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, had been "requisitioned" by the British Government, but that the requisition had been cancelled before she sailed from Newport News. The status of the ship as heretofore understood, however, is unchanged, as the dispatch, not yet made public, does not clear up the question of charter.

The dispatch says the Leyland Line manager reported to the American consul at Liverpool that there were no passengers aboard the Armenian and that all who perished were employed as muleteers. The line reported that prior to her last voyage the Armenian had been requisitioned by the British Government but that the requisition had been cancelled before she sailed from Newport News, although the ship had not been put back on the regular sailing lists of the company.

Some details on questions not yet cleared up were withheld by the State Department.

A distinguished conduct medal has been granted Sergt. Fulton, Queen's Westminsters, a King's prizeman of 1913, who merely lost on a tie last year. Fulton shot for Great Britain in the Palma match in Canada in 1907. His father also was formerly a famous shot.

The marriage was celebrated at Bath today of Sergt. Edward Francis, 2nd Canadian Division of Signallers, son of the late Vicar of Tysoe, and Sophia, daughter of the late Major-Gen. Hales, commandant of the Straits Settlements.

MEXICAN DISAPPEARS

P. Orozco Hoodwinks His American Guards at El Paso.

[Canadian Press.]

El Paso, Texas, July 3.—P. Orozco, who with General Huerta has been under surveillance of the United States was reported this morning to have disappeared. He was not in his home where six men have been guarding him. The authorities, however, have not yet abandoned hope of recapturing him, if he attempts to escape across the border to Mexico.

GREEKS GIVE OTTOMANS CHANCE TO DECLARE WAR

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Greek officials here expressed the belief today that the reported occupation of parts of Albania by Greek troops, if authentic, referred to border raids by irregulars. No official notice of any such military activity has reached the legation. It was pointed out that if Greece decided to enter the war she would declare herself openly as a belligerent, and if she remained neutral she would not run the risk of incurring unfriendly criticism from any of the belligerent nations.

The fact that Albania has been considered in some quarters as under the jurisdiction of Turkey since the uprising under Turkish leadership would make it possible for the latter country to seize the invasion of Albania as a pretext for a declaration of war against Greece. Official dispatches to the Greek Legation state the King, whose condition is greatly improved, will leave shortly for his country place in the vicinity of Athens.

NEW BRITISH LOAN OF $100,000,000 TO BE FLOATED IN NEW YORK

Negotiations Reported In Progress—Offering May Be Increased.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 3.—Negotiations were reported today to be in progress between officials of the British treasury and a group of New York bankers headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. and others for the flotation in this country of a $100,000,000 British war loan. Reports disagreed as to the nature of the proposed loan. In some sources it was described as a part of the great British war loan of $5,000,000,000 recently authorized, while in other quarters it was said that the loan to be floated here would be a separate one, bearing an interest rate of five per cent.

Tax Exemption.

It was understood that the offering would be increased possibly to $300,000,000 if the bonds were well received by American investors. Bankers believe that the loan will mature in ten years. Intimations are said to have been received here that the British treasury will rule within a few days that war bonds sold outside of Great Britain shall be free of the British income tax. Unless this were done, it was said, there could be little hope that the issue would be popular in America.

Really a Credit.

Proceeds of the loan, it is said, will be left in America to be drawn against by the British Government in the purchase of war munitions, foodstuffs and other supplies in the United States. It was the belief here that Henry P. Davidson of J. P. Morgan & Co., who sailed for London some time ago, is working out the details of the proposed loan with British bankers.

Miss F. Wilson was the recipient of a handsome bedroom clock, presented by her pupils, before her departure to her home in Wardsville.

ATTEMPT MADE ON SENATE FORECAST

Washington Times Had Letter Saying Explosion Was To Occur.

SIGNED BY "R. PEARCE"

Letter Was Rambling Argument Against Exporting Ammunition To Europe.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, D. C., July 3.—The excitement over the explosion in the Senate wing settled down today when a statement was made by officials. The only damage was in the reception room, and it was estimated today that a couple of thousand dollars would replace the shattered furnishings.

"The explosion was due, in my opinion," said Superintendent Wilds today, "to a bomb placed by a crank. Just what his motive was must be a mystery until we can arrest him.

"Six months ago a man, writing from St. Louis to Vice-President Marshall, declared that, if certain legislation was not passed, a bomb would be exploded in the building. We will now endeavor to find out whether there was any connection between that letter and this explosion."

INVESTIGATION BEGUN.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, July 3.—Investigation was under way today to determine the causes of the terrific explosion which wrecked the public reception-room on the Senate side of the capitol late last night. While the exact cause of the blast could not be ascertained until after an expert inquiry had been conducted, it was generally believed to have been due to a bomb or infernal machine.

None of the force of employees of the capitol was on duty in that part of the building at the time of the explosion, and no one was injured.

Piles of shattered plaster from the frescoed ceiling and walls, broken crystals from the big chandelier, pieces of the immense mirror, glass from the windows and splintered woodwork littered the floor early today.

A preliminary inquiry having failed to reveal the cause of the explosion, Superintendent Woods ordered that an investigation be undertaken today by an expert on explosives. Pending the report of the expert, no official statement concerning the incident will be made public.

Today there was only one clue, a letter received by the Washington Times, an evening newspaper, bearing a postmark timed before the explosion, announcing that it would take place. The letter, although written on June 1, was mailed last night at 10 o'clock, nearly two hours before the explosion. It was signed "R. Pearce," was typewritten and indicated that the writer had been waiting some time for an opportunity to carry out his plan which, he said, would be "the exclamation point of his career."

The letter was at once turned over to the police. Only one man of that name is in the Washington city directory. A search was begun for the man.

The letter was a rambling argument against exports of war munitions to Europe.

GRAIN.

Chicago, July 3.—Prospects of a heavily increased movement of new wheat from first hands led to a decided setback in values today in the wheat market here. Dispatches from Southern Illinois said threshing was general, and that if the weather held good dealers would be swamped with orders by Tuesday. Furthermore, advices from the Northwest told of a flattering outlook for a big yield in the spring crop belt. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c off to ⅝c up, were followed soon by a sharp decline all round.

Winnipeg, July 2.—The weather was the influencing factor on the wheat market today and caused strong prices. Trading was light in futures on the local market and trade generally in the hands of local operators.

In the cash department there was a little demand for No. 3 northern wheat, but little or no inquiry for other grades; Nos. 1 and 2 were being placed against the futures. Oats, barley and flax were also being treated in that way. Cash brokers are resigned to a dwindling business until the new crop is harvested.

Total inspections on Wednesday were 40 cars against 322 cars last year. In sight today were 155 cars.

Deliveries through the clearing house today were: Wheat, 116,000 bushels; oats, 159,000 bushels, and flax, 450,000 bushels.

Wheat futures closed 1⅛c to 4¼c higher, oats 1c higher and flax 3¼c higher for both months.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, July 3.—Money and discount rates were quiet and steady today.

The stock market was dull and uninteresting, with the exception of a moderate showing of strength in home rails. The usual markings were made in the war loan for conversion purposes. New York's holiday on Monday accentuated the dullness.

In the American section prices were merely adjusted to parity, with a few sales of Canadian Pacific and United States Steel.

Closing prices were:

WALL STREET.

New York, July 3.—Stocks were only temporarily depressed today on news of the shooting of J. P. Morgan. The market showed an uncertain tone at the outset, mainly as a result of renewed weakness in St. Paul. United States Steel, which is regarded as a Morgan specialty, broke 1¼ points while the selling was at its height, with losses of 1 to 2 points in other industrials, including some of the war shares. Railroad stocks, particularly the Pacifics and grangers, had shown an early inclination to react in sympathy with St. Paul. Reassuring advices regarding Mr Morgan's condition caused a general wiping out of losses. The closing was irregular. Bonds were easy.

New York, July 3—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Selling of St. Paul shares was resumed at the outset of today's short session, with general irregularity elsewhere. The first quotation for St. Paul was only at a slight decline over yesterday's close, but increased pressure soon caused a drop of 2¼ to 82, from which it recovered to 83½. Soo shares were off 2 points. Rubber lost a substantial fraction, while Northern Pacific fell 1¾ and Southern Pacific, Erie, first preferred, and Kansas and Texas, preferred, 1.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE IN DEMORALIZED CONDITION

One of Main Features of the Week in Financial World.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 3—(Weekly Market Summary).—The sale by New York City of the largest bond offering in its history at prices indicative of prevailing capital conditions, increased demoralization in foreign exchange, with new low rates between this centre and virtually all European capitals, and passing of the dividend on United States Rubber, common, and sudden weakness in St. Paul, constituted the main features of the financial week. Trading in stocks was moderate, as was to be expected in view of the approaching holidays and continued uncertainty in the international situation. There was partial readjustment of the exchange situation later on the relaxing of pressure against Paris, which was attended by rumors of an increase in the size of the loan recently made to the Rothschilds for French interests.

Steel shares, coppers and some of the war specialties were comparatively firm throughout. Trade reports are a unit in disclosing betterment in the steel and iron industry, and the market for copper metal seems to have recovered from its recent lethargy. War stocks, which now embrace various issues not heretofore within that classification, were moved upward on reported placing of further large contracts.

High-grade railways, particularly Reading and some of the Pacifics, were in moderate demand, but Canadian Pacific made its low record for many years, likewise Missouri Pacific. There were steady liquidation of American securities, chiefly railroad bonds, for foreign account, open sales running into the millions of dollars. Private transfer of these securities was believed to be very large.

Crop news was somewhat conflicting, some sections showing improvement, with improved condition. Turning of the mid-year brought no change in the easy monetary situation.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JOYNT.

Mrs. Joynt had been ill with heart trouble for the past year, being confined to her room for about ten months. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. F. W. McCordic and Mrs. Frend Smith, both of this place, and one son, Robert, of Sarnia.

LEAD STOCKS

The advance of one hundred per cent in the market price of lead foreshadows a similar increase in the market value of producers of the metal, whether silver-lead or zinc-lead producers, of the same character as that now being enjoyed by the Coppers.

We advise the immediate purchase of the lead stocks for increased investment yield and speculative profits, justified by the tremendous increase in earnings.

Our immediate recommendations are:

SILVER KING CONSOLIDATED, IRON BLOSSOM, STEWART MINING, STANDARD SILVER-LEAD, SUCCESS MINING, PRINCE CONSOLIDATED.

In the event you are unacquainted with the details of financial and physical conditions of these properties, ask us to send you a complete detailed report.

DIAZ FUNERAL TO BE SIMPLE IN CHARACTER

Ex-President Led Quiet and Retired Life in Paris.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—Members of the family of General Porfirio Diaz have not yet determined what arrangements will be made for the funeral of the late president of Mexico, except that they will be of simple character in keeping with his quiet life in Paris. The ex-president died last night as the result of a complication of diseases due to advanced age.

General Diaz, during his four years' residence in Paris, made few acquaintances among the French people. He received a good many Mexicans, especially when he first came to France. He always was absorbed in the news from Mexico, but became more and more distressed by the disorders there as his friends, by letter and personally, gave him pessimistic accounts of the conditions and the destruction of his institutions.

It does not appear that General Diaz ever regretted his resignation from the presidency of Mexico after thirty-five years of rule or that he felt inclined to return or missed his loss of power. Nothing that he told his friends would indicate it.

Only once, so far as known, did the general endeavor directly to influence Mexican affairs. That was when he allowed two of his friends to use his name in recommending to General Victoriano Huerta, when provisional president of the republic, that he had better yield to the desires of President Wilson and resign.

THINKS LACK OF UNITY IS HAMPERING ALLIES

Times Correspondent Now Suggests Frequent Conferences in All Capitals.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—The military correspondent of the Times refers to the suggestion in the Russian army organ, the Russky Invalid, that the Austro-Germans lately have gained a marked advantage owing to the unity of their plans and actions, and that it might be advisable for the entente allies to co-operate their operations and subordinate them to some central authority, in whose ability everyone would have equal faith.

The correspondent says he considers that there is something wanting in the entente allies' strategy. He suggests that though it would be impracticable for a central authority to issue explicit orders to all the allied forces, there might be frequent conferences to insure better touch between all the directing staffs of the army and navy, and that such conferences might be held alternately in the capitals the various allies.

FRENCH MANUFACTURER TRADED WITH GERMANS

Made Communion Service Articles, and Is Imprisoned.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—A French manufacturer of articles used for the communion service has been found guilty of violating the recently enacted law prohibiting commerce with subjects of nations at war with France. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and a fine of 2,000 francs ($400). The maximum under the law is five years' imprisonment and a fine of 20,000 francs $(4,000). The manufacturer received an order from a customer in Strassburg, through an intermediary at Zurich. When a French forewoman employed in the shop found articles were being made for Germans she resigned and informed the police, who arrested her former employer as the goods were being prepared for shipment.

COMMISSION TO DEAL WITH WONUDED MEN

Government Appoints Body to Care for Disabled Warriors.

OTTAWA, July 2.—In order to deal with the situation which will arise by the return to this country during the progress of the war of the sick and wounded from the front, the Government has appointed a commission, under the presidency of the Hon. Senator Lougheed, K.C., to be known as the "hospital commission."

The principal duty of the commission will be to provide and equip hospitals and convalescent homes where the more serious cases may receive proper treatment and where those whose injuries are less severe may have the opportunity to recover under the most favorable conditions.

All expenditures incurred or authorized by the commission will be made a charge against the war appropriation vote, or, when that vote ceases to be operative, against some other special fund set aside by Parliament. The commission, through its president, will have direct access to the governor-in-council.

The following have been invited to serve on the commission: President, Hon. J. A. Lougheed, P.C., K.C.; members, Col. Sir H. M. Pellatt, C.V.O., Toronto; Hon. Col. Sir Rodolphe Forget, M.P., of Montreal; Smeaton White, Esq., Montreal; John S. McLennan, Esq., of Sydney, N. S.; Lieut.-Col. Thomas Walker, M.D., of St. John, N. B.; Frederick W. Avery, Esq., Ottawa; Col. C. W. Rowley, Winnipeg; J. H. S. Matson, Esq., Victoria, B. C.; the director-general of medical services, Canadian militia; Clarence Smith, Esq., of Monreal.

TURKISH CLAIMS

"Renewed attacks by the British during the past three days near Avi Burni and Seddul Bahr were beaten off with heavy enemy losses. The British were driven back into their old positions."

[Canadian Press.]

SUBMARINE WHICH SANK LUSITANIA GETS 2 MORE

London, July 2. — The steamers Inglemoor and Caucasian were sunk by the U-39. This was the submarine which torpedoed and sank the Cunard Line SS. Lusitania off Old Head of Kinsale, Ireland, on May 7, with the loss of more than 1,100 lives.

According to the correspondent at Plymouth of the Exchange Telegraph Company the submarine sunk the Inglemoor while that steamer was rescuing the men in the lifeboats from the torpedoed Caucasian.

BIG, HEARTY BABY BOY

Mrs. Beck's Fondest Hopes Realized—Health, Happiness and Baby.

Upper Lahave, N. S., Can.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles from which I was a great sufferer, so that I was completely run down in health Other medicine did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong. I now have a big, hearty baby boy, and praise your medicine for the wonderful lot of good it has done me."—Mrs. Israel Beck, jun., Upper Lahave, Lunenburg Co., N. S., Canada.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Discolored or freckled skin, so common at this season, is gently absorbed by the wax, and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, which is applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Greasy creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably young and healthy.

Sun, winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every line, however caused, by using a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½-pint witch-hazel.—Advt.

Straight Hair Made Curly While You Sleep

By an entirely new and harmless method, the straightest hair can now be made beautifully curly "while you sleep." Not that the sleeping has anything to do with it, except to prevent loss of any of your precious time while the process is at work. You simply apply a little liquid silmerine to the hair, using a clean toothbrush for the purpose. This, it seems, has the property of causing the hair to dry with a delightful wavy effect, as will be quite apparent in the morning.

The effect lasts considerably longer than where a hot iron is used, and the curliness appears far more natural. If you'll get a few ounces of the liquid silmerine from your druggist, you will have enough to keep the hair in curl for many weeks. This, by the way, is excellent also as a dressing for the hair, keeping it bright and lustrous. It is neither sticky nor greasy.—Advt.

DIAZ FUNERAL TO BE SIMPLE IN CHARACTER

Ex-President Led Quiet and Retired Life in Paris.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—Members of the family of General Porfirio Diaz have not yet determined what arrangements will be made for the funeral of the late president of Mexico, except that they will be of simple character in keeping with his quiet life in Paris. The ex-president died last night as the result of a complication of diseases due to advanced age.

General Diaz, during his four years' residence in Paris, made few acquaintances among the French people. He received a good many Mexicans, especially when he first came to France. He always was absorbed in the news from Mexico, but became more and more distressed by the disorders there as his friends, by letter and personally, gave him pessimistic accounts of the conditions and the destruction of his institutions.

It does not appear that General Diaz ever regretted his resignation from the presidency of Mexico after thirty-five years of rule or that he felt inclined to return or missed his loss of power. Nothing that he told his friends would indicate it.

Only once, so far as known, did the general endeavor directly to influence Mexican affairs. That was when he allowed two of his friends to use his name in recommending to General Victoriano Huerta, when provisional president of the republic, that he had better yield to the desires of President Wilson and resign.

THINKS LACK OF UNITY IS HAMPERING ALLIES

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 3.—The military correspondent of the Times refers to the suggestion in the Russian army organ, the Russky Invalid, that the Austro-Germans lately have gained a marked advantage owing to the unity of their plans and actions, and that it might be advisable for the entente allies to co-operate their operations and subordinate them to some central authority, in whose ability everyone would have equal faith.

The correspondent says he considers that there is something wanting in the entente allies' strategy. He suggests that though it would be impracticable for a central authority to issue explicit orders to all the allied forces, there might be frequent conferences to insure better touch between all the directing staffs of the army and navy, and that such conferences might be held alternately in the capitals the various allies.

FRENCH MANUFACTURER TRADED WITH GERMANS

Made Communion Service Articles, and Is Imprisoned.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 3.—A French manufacturer of articles used for the communion service has been found guilty of violating the recently enacted law prohibiting commerce with subjects of nations at war with France. He was sentenced to two yars' imprisonment and a fine of 2,000 francs ($400). The maximum under the law is five years' imprisonment and a fine of 20,000 francs $(4,000). The manufacturer received an order from a customer in Strassburg, through an intermediary at Zurich. When a French forewoman employed in the shop found articles were being made for Germans she resigned and informed the police, who arrested her former employer as the goods were being prepared for shipment.

COMMISSION TO DEAL WITH WONUDED MEN

Government Appoints Body to Care for Disabled Warriors.

OTTAWA, July 2.—In order to deal with the situation which will arise by the return to this country during the progress of the war of the sick and wounded from the front, the Government has appointed a commission, under the presidency of the Hon. Senator Lougheed, K.C., to be known as the "hospital commission."

The principal duty of the commission will be to provide and equip hospitals and convalescent homes where the more serious cases may receive proper treatment and where those whose injuries are less severe may have the opportunity to recover under the most favorable conditions.

All expenditures incurred or authorized by the commission will be made a charge against the war appropriation vote, or, when that vote ceases to be operative, against some other special fund set aside by Parliament. The commission, through its president, will have direct access to the governor-in-council.

The following have been invited to serve on the commission: President, Hon. J. A. Lougheed, P.C., K.C.; members, Col. Sir H. M. Pellatt, C.V.O., Toronto; Hon. Col. Sir Rodolphe Forget, M.P., of Montreal; Smeaton White, Esq., Montreal; John S. McLennan, Esq., of Sydney, N. S.; Lieut.-Col. Thomas Walker, M.D., of St. John, N. B.; Frederick W. Avery, Esq., Ottawa; Col. C. W. Rowley, Winnipeg; J. H. S. Matson, Esq., Victoria, B. C.; the director-general of medical services, Canadian militia; Clarence Smith, Esq., of Montreal.

TURKISH CLAIMS

"Renewed attacks by the British during the past three days near Avi Burni and Seddul Bahr were beaten off with heavy enemy losses. The British were driven back into their old positions."

BERLIN ESTIMATES

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, July 3.—Military writers figure that the Russians from May 2 until June 27, left in the hands of the Germans 1,630 officers and 520,000 men prisoners, and 300 field guns and 770 machine guns, besides incalculable war material.

SUBMARINE WHICH SANK LUSITANIA GETS 2 MORE

London, July 2. — The steamers Inglemoor and Caucasian were sunk by the U-39. This was the submarine which torpedoed and sank the Cunard Line SS. Lusitania off Old Head of Kinsale, Ireland, on May 7, with the loss of more than 1,100 lives.

According to the correspondent at Plymouth of the Exchange Telegraph Company the submarine sunk the Inglemoor while that steamer was rescuing the men in the lifeboats from the torpedoed Caucasian.

Upper Lahave, N. S., Can.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles from which I was a great sufferer, so that I was completely run down in health. Other medicine did not help me, but Lydia E. I now have a big, hearty baby boy, and praise your medicine for the wonderful lot of good it has done me."—Mrs. Israel Beck, jun., Upper Lahave, Lunenburg Co., N. S., Canada.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Discolored or freckled skin, so common at this season, is gently absorbed by the wax, and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, which is applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Greasy creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably young and healthy.

Sun, winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every line, however caused, by using a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½-pint witch-hazel.—Advt.

Straight Hair Made Curly While You Sleep

By an entirely new and harmless method, the straightest hair can now be made beautifully curly "while you sleep." Not that the sleeping has anything to do with it, except to prevent loss of any of your precious time while the process is at work. You simply apply a little liquid silmerine to the hair, using a clean toothbrush for the purpose. This, it seems, has the property of causing the hair to dry with a delightful wavy effect, as will be quite apparent in the morning.

The effect lasts considerably longer than where a hot iron is used, and the curliness appears far more natural. If you'll get a few ounces of the liquid silmerine from your druggist, you will have enough to keep the hair in curl for many weeks. This, by the way, is excellent also as a dressing for the hair, keeping it bright and lustrous. It is neither sticky nor greasy.—Advt.

SEEK RETIREMENT TO AID BELLIGERENTS

President Wilson Declines to Accept Application of Naval Officers.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 2.—President Wilson has denied the application for voluntary retirement of twenty commanders and lieutenant-commanders of the navy who sought to leave the active list under the law, which permits such retirements on June 30, when promotions from the grade of junior lieutenant have been less than forty during the preceding year.

Department officials said so far as they know none of the twenty applicants had received offers from the private war munitions establishments, which have been seeking to employ army and navy officers. It was disclosed, however, that some other officers have sought retirement to accept such positions and that their requests have been promptly refused on the ground that to permit naval officers on the retired list to engage in the manufacture of ordnance for a foreign belligerent would be breach of neutrality.

The Premier Investment

One of the well-known investment houses of Toronto, Messrs. A. E. Ames & Co., states that in an experience extending over a quarter of a century, there has not been such a wide interest in Government and municipal investment as at the present. Discriminating investors of all classes, such as insurance companies, banks, loan companies, and private investors, are all taking advantage of present opportunities. This is due to the past splendid record of Canadian municipal securities for absolute safety and present attractive prices. b

EXPLOSION WRECKS PART OF CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 2.—A tremendous explosion, believed to have been caused by some kind of bomb or infernal machine, wrecked the public reception room on the east side of the capitol building shortly before midnight tonight. No one was injured.

Officials believed that the explosive was placed by a crank, who desired to create a sensation. Visitors were allowed in the room during the day, and a timed machine might have been left without attracting attention.

Superintendent Woods of the capitol building, summoned by panic-stricken watchmen, made a hurried investigation, then telephoned for an expert on explosives. Until the expert has made his report no official statement concerning the incident will be made public.

Part of the ceiling and side walls of the room were shaken down, a huge mirror and a crystal chandelier shattered, and the doors blown down. One of the doors led into the office of the vice-president, and is said not to have been opened in 40 years.

TURK TROOPS IN TRANSPORT SUNK BY BRITISH SUBMARINE

Craft Repeats Feat in Sea of Marmora, While Land Forces Make Important Gains—Achi Babi, a Small Gibraltar, Surrounded.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON July 3.—1:55 a.m.—A British submarine in the Sea of Marmora on June 26 sunk the Turkish transport No. 42, which was full of troops, according to the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, commanding the allied land forces at the Dardanelles in his second official dispatch of the week records the repulse of a vicious counter-attack by the Turks who were bent on recovering the lost ground south of the fortified hill of Achi Baba and the strong position at Krithia, which the British have for some time been attempting to envelop.

The British forged a bit forward last Monday and the following day the Turks, after sapping and mining, launched a counter-stroke with the bayonet. This was crushed, while the French forces operating on the right in Kereves Dere Valley, toward the east-coast of Gallipoli, advanced and consolidated the ground won the latter part of June. The distances are not stated.

Despite the hard fighting ever since the lading on April 25, the Franco-British expedition only lately has achieved anything notable toward strengthening its hold on the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula, Achi Baba being a small Gibraltar, bristling with machine guns, surrounded by barbed wire and terraced with trenches. This is the reason why an allied progress is hailed with great satisfaction in England. It is interesting to note the tributes to the Turk's bravery and even gallantry paid in almost every dispatch from the British correspondents at the Dardanelles. At no time during the peninsula fighting have the Turks been accused of atrocities.

Official Statement.

An official statement given out by the British Government this evening announces the capture of certain trenches in the Dardanelles operations, which complete the capture of that part of the Turkish line gained by the French on June 21.

The full text of the statement follows:

"Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton's report that on the afternoon of June 29 hostile columns moving west from North Achi-Baba and south from Kilid-Bahr, towards the Turkish right flank, indicated that the enemy was preparing for a counter-attack against a position we captured on the previous day. During the evening two mine galleries in front of our right centre were blown in, after which the enemy subjected the trenches to a heavy rifle and machine gun fire for two hours. After a lull and another outburst of fire a determined attack was made against the left of our position with the bayonet. This attack was repulsed with a heavy loss to the enemy.

Heavy Loss on Coast.

"On the southern front the Turks made a concerted attack along the coast, where H. M. S. Wolverine, a destroyer, got searchlights and guns onto the main body and caused a heavy loss.

"To the east the attack was pressed closer under a heavy artillery fire, but finally was checked about 40 yards from our parapet. Bomb attacks and intermittent shelling continued, but no further general attack was made, and at 6:30 a.m. the French moved out, and by 7:20 a.m. had taken a strong system of entrenchments immediately in front of the left centre of the line called by them Quadrilatoral.

"A number of Turks were driven out of the trenches by the French bombardment, and much execution was done during their retreat. Subsequently trenches adjacent to the Quadrilatoral to the south were captured after more serious fighting, thus completing the capture of all of that part of the enemy's line required to round off the gains made by the French on June 21. The enemy's losses everywhere were considerable. The captured positions are being consolidated."

ONLY ONE SURVIVOR OF SCOTTLAND MONARCH

Fourteen Men Were Washed Overboard After Boat Was Launched.

ST. IVES, England, July 2. — 11:15 p.m.—Michael Opposin, the sole survivor of the sixteen of the men who escaped in one of the lifeboats which carried the crew of thirty-six from the British steamer Scottish Monarch, when that vessel was sunk by a German submarine last Tuesday, was landed by a trawler here this afternoon.

Opposin said that the seas were very rough when the boat was launched, rising higher as the storm increased and breaking continually over its sides, fourteen men being washed overboard. Chief Gabrielsen died from exposure and injuries. His dead body also was landed by the trawler.

A previous dispatch stated that the captain and nineteen of the crew of the crew of the Scottish Monarch were picked up and landed at Dunmore, Ireland.

FRANCE TO PURCHASE MANY CATTLE ABROAD

Hundred Thousand Head To Be Bought on the Hoof.

PARIS, July 2. — 11:50 p.m. — The Chamber of Deputies today adopted a bill authorizing the Minister of War to buy in foreign countries 100,000 head of cattle on the hoof. These are in addition to 30,000 head already bought in the United States, and the 240,000 tons of refrigerated beef contracted for.

The consumption of beef since the war began has increased, it being estimated at 36,000 tons for refugees and 250,000 tons for soldiers. The high cost of living in France was discussed during the debate on the bill, the speakers urging in particular the adoption of measures against the increased price of meat.

Toronto Turning Out the World's Giant Aeroplane

Will Follow General Lines of the America and Will Be Called "Canada."

TORONTO, July 2. — The giant aeroplane now under construction for the British Government at the Curtiss works in Toronto is to be completed this month and will be one of the most powerful, if not the most powerful aerial fighting machine in the world.

The general lines of the America are being followed in the design but several departures in details will make her a distinctive type, which will be known as the "Canada," that being the name which will be bestowed on the machine when finished. While the "America" is a hydro aeroplane, the new flying machine will be of the land type. She will carry a machine-gun and a plentiful stock of ammuniton and explosives.

ITALIANS DEMOLISH AUSTRIANS' CAMP

Foe Dislodged From Entrenchments in Course of Construction.

SUPPLY BASE IS FIRED

Counter-Attacks By Foemen Repulsed at Freikofel With Heavy Loss.

[Canadian Press.]

ROME, July 2.—via Paris, July 3.—2:30 a.m.—The following Italian statement, concerning the progress of hostilities, was given out here tonight:

"The action of the artillery is becoming more intense along the entire frontier, especially in Carnia where fire has been opened against the defensive works of Predil Pass, an effective result being obtained in a short time.

"An enemy camp of about five hundred tents in the vicinity of Elder, beyond Ploeken, was demolished. The enemy also was dislodged by our fire from entrenchments in construction at Strehica and at Sella De Prasnk.

"Yesterday an Alpine detachment captured an enemy entrenchment on the northern slope of Val Grande, the fire from which was hindering our occupation of Freikofel. During the night and at daybreak the enemy, in two violent counter-attacks, tried to dislodge our troops from the entrenchment, but were repulsed both times with heavy losses. One hundred and fifty were counted. Some prisoners were captured and 100 guns were taken.

"On the Isonzo River the action continues its course.

"Fire from our artillery burned the village of Critnika, where large stocks of supplies were stored.

"Last night the enemy twice attacked a position captured on the Carnic plateau, but they were repulsed."

THREATENING LETTERS FOR GERMAN EMBASSY

NEW YORK, July 2. — Prince Von Hatzfeldt-Trachenberg, German charge d'affaires, tonight said that more than a hundred threatening letters had been received by the German embassy now in its summer quarters at Cedarhurst, Long Island. This was made known in a reply to inquiries regarding reports that Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had gone into seclusion. Prince Von Hatzfeldt said, however, that Count Von Bernstorff has paid no attention to any of the threatening letters, and was merely spending a well-earned vacation with friends in the country.
