FARM TRAINING FOR SOLDIERS

Promising Results of a Government Experiment in England.

Canadians are looking forward with considerable hope to the arrangements, made and making, to establish ex-soldiers as farmers.

First in order of importance of course, must be the Dominion Government's plan. This, as the Prime Minister assured Sir Rider Haggard the other day, "will be satisfactory to all those who have at heart the great purpose." For its details we must wait till Parliament meets.

Then there is the scheme embodied in the British Columbia "Soldier Homestead Act." This includes a free grant of land, and a loan of money for improvements to each soldier settler, with exemption from all except school taxes, and five years' exemption from seizure for debt.

There is also a scheme of the Canadian Pacific Railway—a development of the ready-made farm system, the Company devoting millions of dollars to this enterprise.

Most of the schemes proposed are for able-bodied men; and for general farm work an able body is as necessary as an able mind. But some forms of work on the land can be hopefully undertaken even by men more or less disabled.

The Government, through its Military Hospitals Commission, is already giving the men at some of the convalescent institutions instruction in gardening and poultry-raising; and a good deal of progress may be expected along these lines.

Canadians are therefore keenly interested in watching the similar experiments now being carried on in the old country.

In England, the first experiment in the program of training disabled soldiers for work on the land started eight months ago at the Cheshire County Council's Agricultural College, and the result so far is regarded as most promising.

Some of the men have either lived in the country or worked on the land before, while others are town-bred; but all alike have shown considerable aptitude. They have been disabled in various ways. Two, for instance, have lost an arm, and one a hand; but all three have shown themselves perfectly competent to do good work. In every case the country life, and work in the open air, have been of benefit to them.

The main endeavor has been to make the men good all-round farmers. Some of them will be able to manage small farms of their own; others have obtained or are obtaining sufficient practical knowledge to assist in gardening, dairy-work, or poultry-raising. All spend much more time in actual work than in attending class-room lectures; but they are learning a little botany and chemistry, and enough veterinary surgery for simple purposes. Some of the men have already been placed in good situations.

One of the most urgent requirements of our country is that our returning soldiers shall be encouraged and assisted in every practical way to seize the opportunities offered them for such training; and this will be available not only at the Convalescent Hospital, where a beginning can be made, but afterwards at the agricultural school and colleges which offered to instruct men disabled from returning to their previous occupation.

The Government, as our readers will remember, makes special money allowances for the maintenance of the men and their families while this instruction is being taken.

A Soldier Lad Tells of Flanders and the War

The following is a letter from Stanley Holland of the 25th. Battn., written to his father Mr. William Holland of Aylesford:

Flanders, Aug. 17th 1916.

DEAR FATHER:

It is a long time since I wrote my last letter to you, but of course you know all about me, and as much of what I am doing, through mothers letters as I can tell any one.

I was very glad when your letter to Jim and me came today.

I am quite a distance from Jim today as the Batt'n. left last night, he does not have to leave the transport lines, so when the Batt'n. are in front line, support or reserve, I do not see him at all, I was glad to be out the last trip for I saw him several times, and had long talks with him. I hope he will stay with the transport, for I know it will be better for him in every possible way. You know there are many, many lines of work in connection with the war, other than that in the firing line, and some men are better fitted for work back at the transport lines, or base than for the trenches. There is a constant demand for men to work on the roads, railroads, ammunition columns; Army Service Corps, as well as Batt'n. transport; but there are many other big and important branches, and in these as well as in the firing line, good sober men, not afraid of rough, dirty, hard work, are always wanted.

Some people will laugh sometimes and sneer at a chap behind the lines, who has for his work, something similar to what he was used to in private life, but they forget that not every man can do that particular line of work while nearly every man can do in the front line. I mean by that, that a man does not need to know a trade, it is not required of him in the front line. There are hundreds of painters needed all the time; thousands of carpenters, blacksmiths shoe makers, harness-makers, machinists, in fact mechanics of every sort, to repair transport waggons, autos, Lorry's; boots for troops, painting signs, nearly every branch of work that is done in large cities, must be done to keep up an army on active service, and keep every department in perfect running order all the time.

I often wish father, that you could visit this country, and be privileged to go anywhere you wished, and get a good idea of this machine,—the British army,—apart from the awfulness of war, there is not much of interest to one who does not take an active part.

I often wish I could have one month with nothing to do but roam around at will, exploring ruined towns, trenches and places that were at one time 'no man's land' but now are securely held by us. Flanders is a beautiful country, in many respects; not unlike England. The great avenues of tall straight trees, that resemble our Canadian elms, and lovely flower gardens, where flowers that must get great care in Canada and must be either carefully covered up or dug up in the fall, are here safe in the open all winter. The Flemish farmers certainly understand the art of growing vegetables, and the soil is very rich. But farms are small compared with those in the Annapolis Valley.

One thing that strikes one as strange is, how unconcerned the people are in regard to the terrible war that is going on so near them. Lots of farmers work away only a couple of miles from the firing line, and many of the fields are badly torn up with shells. One of the hard sights, and a very common one, is the once beautiful trees that are scarred and broken by shell fragments and shrapnell. I have been in several small parks where not a single tree is left, without a mark but many are broken short off, by a direct hit from a shell. I often think that if you could be somewhere near the firing line during a heavy bombardment, you would see something and hear something too, that would thrill you through and through. Supposing you were a half-mile in front of our light batteries, that is the eighteen pounders, such an ear-splitting crack, as they have, it often gives one a headache. Then the heavier pieces, up to the twelve inch guns, all going at once, so fast you could not count the shots. You would wonder that anything could possibly live around the vicinity, where the shells fall. The shriek of the big shells is awful, especially those of the enemy when they come near. I think if there is any sound heard during a bombardment that will always be remembered by those who have been near, it is the shriek of a shell just about the instant it explodes.

I have seen several heavy bombardments at night, it is then a sight, never to be forgotten, if you happen to be in a position where you can look back in the direction of our guns, it is quite wonderful how the sheets of flame light up the country for considerable distance from the batteries.

But I guess there is no one over here but would be glad to see the end of it all, for my part it cannot come too soon. Our Batt'n. has been here almost a year now, and a year is too long to stay in a war ridden country like this. But I am sure not one of us would want to go back until our bit is done. Whatever certain bit happens to be allotted to us. Yet something seems to tell us that we are not going to be here very long. Everyone believes we are on the road to victory, though final victory may still be a longer way off than we think.

Am sending some "Forget-me-nots," I gathered them in a garden back of our Billett. It seems such a shame the way the flower gardens are left to themselves, such beautiful flowers and such a variety and no one to take care of them. I am glad your garden is doing so nicely, only wish I could be there a while and have some of the good "eats."

I had Jim up to dinner with me last night, and we had a good old fashioned one too. Roast beef, potatoes, peas, tomatoes, then peach pudding, he evidently enjoyed it all.

Bob White has been doing fine and is thought a great deal of in our platoon. I hear he is sick now but don't know how seriously.

You will have read the good news of the advance on our front long before you get this. I tell you there has been rejoicing everywhere. The advance was not on our front, but near and the artillery fire has been tremendous, it is certainly splendid the awful when so many big guns are going in unison. There are times when sleep is impossible, and one gets up in the morning just as tired and sleepy as when he laid down.

Perhaps you don't know but, we have not always been on the same front or sector for several months after we first came over we had a comparatively quiet sector but since March we have been in the worst places of all, and have been hit hard. The Ypres Salient was awful, every part of it. I have been through Ypres several times. The destruction there is terrible. Magnificent buildings are now heaps of ruin, or else full of shell holes. It is a very large town, but they say there is not a single building there that is not more or less damaged. I gathered a few roses there one day when we halted for a rest, but as I had to carry them in my tunic pocket, they were not much more than powder when I got to my journey's end.

The reason I did not write any letter while in London was because Jim was writing, and I was either talking, in the sights or sleeping. Just think, I have not had my clothes off since I left London, except to change once or twice. My it is awful, especially when we cannot even take our boots off for six days at a stretch.

I pray every day that the awful war will soon end, and those who are spared may return to home and loved ones.

Must now say good night, with love to all.

APPLES FOR THE AMERICAN MARKET

(Yarmouth Times)

The Times recently published an address delivered by F. G. J. Comeau, General Freight Agent of the D. A. Railway, before the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia. This organization is entirely a Nova Scotian Company. Its membership includes 2000 of the most progressive fruit growers of the famous Annapolis Valley. It is, as its name implies, a co-operative company comprised of 43 subsidiary fruit companies under one management, thereby enabling the dealer and consumer to get the best from the fruit lands of Nova Scotia at the minimum cost. Mr. MacMahon, the General Manager of this company, accompanied by F. G. J. Comeau of the D. A. R., proceeded to Boston and New York, as guests of the Boston and Yarmouth S.S. Company. At Boston these gentlemen were met by John F. Masters of the latter company. Large dealers in fruit, especially in apples, were visited and it was found that there is a large place for Nova Scotia apples in the American fruit markets. The way has been prepared in the New England and other markets for the placing of shipments from Nova Scotia. A list containing the names of 42000 residents of New England and who are natives or former residents of the Maritime Provinces has been obtained. Circulars and letters are being sent to them telling them of the new scheme to boom Annapolis Valley apples, and requesting them to assist in the establishment of a New England market by purchasing and booming the purchase by others of Nova Scotia fruit. The Yarmouth routemakers the shipment of farm products from Maritime ports to Boston cheap and quick, and there is no doubt but that a tremendous business will be done over this route in the near future. Everything possible is being done at present to influence the farmers of the Maritime Provinces to improve their farming methods and increase their crops. A great effort is also being made to create a market in Boston for the products of these Maritime farms, and there is no doubt but that the cost of living in New England will be lowered by the shipment of Maritime products into Boston. It is the purpose of those behind the campaign to create markets in New England for Maritime products, in the principal cities of the East. The products will be shipped to Boston and distributed from that port. Throughout the Maritime Provinces a mailing service has been established by which the farmers receive charts and literature showing them how and when to best box and ship their products.

The farmers are kept advised as to market quotations and they are furnished charts and show clearly the cost of freighting their products from all points. Import duty is also clearly shown on these charts. Mr. MacMahon states that there is every indication of a fair crop of good Gravensteins this fall. Speaking of the prospects he says: "Climate conditions are such that there is every reason to hope that the Gravensteins this year will be of excellent quality, nothing having occurred which is likely to develop fungus disease. The Gravenstein which has made this Province famous as an apple producing country and although Gravensteins are grown elsewhere they never have the same delicious flavor as the Nova Scotian product."

It is the purpose of the United Fruit Companies to make a determined effort to place considerable quantities of this delicious apple in New England States and we feel sure that on account of the large number of Nova Scotians who are living in those States an excellent demand should be created. We find that in the past the Nova Scotia package has been very favorably received in the States and it is therefore our intention to introduce into Nova Scotia an entirely fresh package which we shall use exclusively for this trade.

This package, which will be more attractive in appearance than the barrel which is at present being used will conform more with the barrel at present being used by the American Growers, and we hope in that way to remove the past prejudice against the Nova Scotia barrel.

It is our intention to take the product of a few of our best orchards for this trade, in that way insuring that the fruit so used will be well colored, bright and attractive in appearance coming from young trees.

All that remains to be done is to give the widest publicity to this plan and to induce fruit growers everywhere to lend their aid in the development of so important and lucrative an industry.

Concerning the Big Drive

The latest news from the European war field still shows the Teutonic and central powers being driven slowly back and the ring around them tightening. On the Western front the British have captured Guillemont and strongly entrenched themselves in captured territory. The French are doing wonders in their forward march Italy still repulses the Austrians with great loss and claims since they entered the war they have captured, killed and permanently put out of the war 450,000 of the enemy.

The Russian and Rumanian army are still gathering in the enemy's cities and countries, except in one part where the Bulgarians are ten miles over the Rumanian line.

In Temperance Circles

The case against Walter Moore for liquor being found on his premises during the recent raid, was heard before Stipendiary Webster on Tuesday. There was no defence and the defendant was convicted and sentenced to three months imprisonment.

Yesterday there was considerable movement among the Inspectors and constables. A case against Nathan Stevens of Kentville for selling liquor in the County was heard before Stipendiary Strong a conviction made and a fine of $50.30 paid. The evidence was of his purchasing liquor and getting a boy to sell it for him.

Miss Evelyn Starr, the Famous Violinist Plays at Kentville and Aldershot.

The international reputation of Miss Evelyn Starr, as one of the leading virtuosa violinist, was fully sustained Wednesday evening in Pastime Hall where she played, with unusual technical finesse, varied program by the chief romantic writers for the violin. The program was divided into three parts. The first was presented chiefly by Handel's Largo, Kreisler's Liebestraum and Couperin's "Little Windmill." In the Largo Miss Starr disclosed a broad, moving style. In the Kreisler composition she brought out brilliantly the piquant qualities and the harmonic power of the violin. The Couperin composition in her hands was a very pretty piece of descriptive music.

It was, however, in the second part of her program that Miss Starr shone as an interpretive artist accomplishing with beauty of expression and phrasing the difficult andante of Mendelssohn's Concerto and with brilliant technique the allegro from the same composition, which is the test piece among all virtuosi of the violin. She was the poet of the violin in a dainty gavotte by Gossec and a most insinuating bit of descriptive music, "The Zephyr" by Hubay. The music she made was as light and ethereal as a midsummer inland breeze.

The third part of Miss Starr's playing was humanized by Zimbalist's beautiful transcription of the old, familiar melody, "The Swanee River," and by a delightful rendering of Dvorak's Humoresque. It was a notable program throughout, disclosed the very fine artistry of the violinist and entranced a large audience of Kentville's music lovers.

The accompanist for the evening was Mrs. Margaret White-Skill, who supported the soloist very artistically.

On Tuesday evening Miss Starr gave an entrancingly delightful program of music at the Y.M.C.A., Aldershot to over twelve hundred soldiers including officers and men. This generous act on the part of the

Y. M. C. A. ROOMS

The number of soldiers using the Y.M.C.A. rooms during the last few weeks is very encouraging and shows that rooms of this kind are needed in Kentville. During the last week there has been an average of one hundred and fifty soldiers using the rooms each day either for reading or writing, etc. On an average of forty soldiers are asking for writing material each day. While these figures may not seem large they are increasing each week.

Magazines or other reading are needed and anyone wishing to help the Y.M.C.A. work will find an opportunity here.

A WORTH WHILE HOLIDAY

(1) View Near Lake Louise.
(2) An Interesting Bit of Rock-Work.
(3) Panoramic View of Lake Louise and a Chateau.
(4) Lake Ossa and Mt. Hungabee.

All aboard! and we disengaged our hands to swing on to the moving steps and waved hats and handkerchiefs to our friends as our west-bound train slowly pulled out of the station at Calgary that wide-awake, progressive, western city which pulsates with the life of representatives from almost all nations of the globe.

hits a greater variety of wonderful and sublime scenery and, because of the many good roads and bridle paths, nowhere are features of special interest so accessible. The magnificent Banff Springs Hotel belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is situated about a mile south of the Station on an eminence between the Spray river and the beautiful Bow river falls. This hotel has every luxury and convenience and is most favorably placed for health, picturesque views and as a centre for the many sports indulged in—canoeing, boating, mountain-climbing, driving, riding and golfing. Some of the most conspicuous of our party started from the town one night at midnight, and by the time of the Silver Moon climbed to the observatory at the top of Mt. Hungabee—a height of 11,000 feet. From here they saw the sun leap out from behind the horizon, the dark peaks to the west and east, and the snow-capped mountains of the Rockies. The express like a big serpent crept slowly into the station.

crossed the mountains fifty-five years ago—the rest having been killed shortly afterwards by Indians. For many miles after passing the great divide, the Canadian Pacific Railway follows the river valley of the Columbia, which at first remains one of the small, frolicking boy happy with his hoop, as he dashes down the village street; then of the stalwart man whose strength conquers all difficulties, and as the river widens and flows along in all its majesty, of the stately, old man, satisfied that he has worked out life's problems well. This river and its immediate environment abound in scenic splendor. The snow-crowned and majestic of the Rockies and Cascade ranges with their rivulets and glaciers, lakes as clear as crystal and swift-flowing mountain streams abounding in gamey trout and other fish, the dense forests and fastnesses wherein roam the larger game, all fascinate and invite the sportsman and mountain lover and are within easy reach of a metropolitan city. Along its banks can be seen magnificent waterfalls, cliffs, which tower from dizzy heights and are clad with verdure from base to summit; deep and shady canyons and gorges. Here it is smooth and unruffled with no perceptible motion. A little farther along and it is still waging conflict to the barriers to its uninterrupted flow. It rushes to the partly submerged rocks to be dashed away in foam. It is ceaseless in its attack, unrelenting in its endeavors and irresistible to the last.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Has Arrived in France
A letter from Lieut. D. J. Murphy, formerly traffic manager of the Dominion Atlantic railway, announces his arrival "somewhere in France."

The French Successes

Paris, September 5—The capture of Soyecourt and Chilly by the French yesterday makes a total of 29 villages taken since the start of the offensive on the Somme front. The positions wrested from the Germans yesterday were powerfully organized. At Barleux, one of the strongest positions on this front repeated direct attacks were unsuccessful and the French finally resorted to a turning movement, attacking to the southwest. The Germans counter-attacked no less than six times yesterday in a desperate effort to regain lost ground.

Verona, Ont., Nov. 11th., 1915.

"I suffered for a number of years with Rheumatism and severe Pains in Side and Back, from strains and heavy lifting.

When I had given up hope of ever being well again, a friend recommended "Fruit-a-lives" to me and after using the first box I felt so much better that I continued to take them, and now I am enjoying the best of health, thanks to your remedy."

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT

Ottawa, Aug. 29th

District 1—There is a good crop in Essex County, but the better grades will be scarce. In orchards near St. Catharines in Niagara, there will not be more than 40 per cent of a normal crop. In the Burlington district there will not be more than 75 per cent of the crop harvested last year, and only between 25 and 35 per cent free from spot. There has been no change in Lambton. The crop is light and of poor quality, particularly in poorly cared for orchards. Recent rains have helped the development of fruit.

District 2—In western Ontario there is a light crop of fruit. Fall and winter varieties are small, ill-shaped and spotted badly. Some growers report that there are practically no No. 1 apples in their orchards. Even where there is a fair crop, little of it will be marketable.

District 3—The crop generally in the whole district east of Toronto, bordering on Lake Ontario, is light to very light. This includes Prince Edward County which will not have more than 25 per cent of last year's crop. The fruit is also badly affected with scab; one authority states that the crop will be "the poorest in quality that the district ever produced."

District 4—There will probably not be more than 20 per cent of No. 1 fruit. Early and fall varieties are a medium crop and winter varieties are light. Conditions remain unchanged in Eastern Ontario and Quebec. There is a good crop of early and fall varieties with poor prospects for later sorts. Apple scab is very prevalent.

District 5—In New Brunswick apples are reported to have been slightly checked in growth by the dry hot weather, but on the whole present a good appearance. Apple scab, however, has developed rapidly in spite of dry weather, and in many orchards McIntosh and Fameuse will yield few No. 1's. Scab is also appearing in St. Lawrence, Baxter, and Northern Spy. Other varieties promise fair quality. The total crop will be about 70 per cent of the average.

District 6—The apple situation in the Annapolis Valley remains unchanged. All varieties are sizing up well and showing good color. There is very little spot. Duches were ready for harvesting on August 25. Gravensteins will not be ready before September 7, and then only in a few places. Late varieties are coming along well.

District 7—In Lunenburg Co. there will be more than 25 per cent of a full crop. Spies, Baldwins, and Russets are best; Kings, Nonpareils, and Ribston light. There is about half a standard crop in Yarmouth.

District 8—The fruit is sizing up well on Prince Edward Island and the total crop will be considerably larger than last year.

District 9—Prospects remain the same as in last report for this part of British Columbia.

District 10—A report dated August 26, states that the Okanagan Valley apple crop will be much less than 1914, and much much less than 1915, and much lighter than was anticipated. Duches, Wealthy and McIntosh Red are a full crop of fine quality; winter varieties fair, except Jonathan, Winesap and Grimes Golden, which are undersized. There is considerable apple scab in and north of Vernon. Crab apples are a very heavy crop of good quality.

PLUMS

In the Niagara district the fruit is dropping heavily from some varieties on account of dry weather. There will be a light crop, with quality fair to good. There is also a light crop of fair quality in Essex, but the fruit is mostly small in size. Elsewhere in Ontario, the crop is very light, and almost a failure in Nova Scotia.

Plums and prunes have dropped heavily in British Columbia and a light crop is expected. There has been a decrease of almost 50 per cent in the last five weeks. Considerable rotting is reported from District 9.

PEARS

There is a very clean crop of pears in Niagara of medium size. The total yield, however, will be less than medium. Bartlett's give the best promise. In the Burlington district Kieffers and Bartlett's are a good crop, with other varieties, especially Duches, light.

There is a light crop in western Ontario, a fair crop east of Toronto, and less than a medium crop in the Georgian Bay district.

Quebec and New Brunswick both report a crop less than medium, with almost a failure in Nova Scotia.

Reports from the Okanagan Valley of B. C. still indicate a 25 per cent increase over last year.

GRAPES

Vineyards in the Niagara peninsula are showing serious effects of prolonged dry weather. Mildew is also showing in most unsprayed vineyards. The crop will be medium to full.

UNITED STATES PROSPECTS

Northwest States—The apple crop in the Wenatchee-Okanagan section is reported to be from 1,500 to 2,000 cars larger than last year. The quality is superior to that of 1915, but will probably be from ten days to two weeks later in maturing. The situation in the Yakima district is practically the same as in Wenatchee; the crop will be slightly heavier than last year, with better quality. It is expected that the 1916 apple crop will be the cleanest produced in the northwest in several years.

New York State—In the Hudson River section from Albany south apples are about 70 per cent of last year's crop. North of Albany, in the Lake Champlain district, the apple crop is fully double that of 1915. In both sections the quality is fair to good.

Western New York is much heavier in the Western and Eastern Lake Belt, with the Central about the same. The crop is more general than a year ago.

Baldwins are heavier than last year; Kings and Twenty Ounce good. Many young orchards are bearing. The state as a whole shows an increase of 35 to 40 per cent over last year.

The weather was dry during July. There have been local showers during August.

The quality of the fruit in western New York will average poor on account of early fungus development.

Peaches are about half crop of very good quality.

MARKETS

A complete report on marketing prospects this season was included in our August issue. It is certain that a large percentage of the Ontario crop will either have to be graded No. 3 or packed in open packages. The latter method of marketing would perhaps be desirable in the case of fruit only slightly spotted, and not otherwise defective.

Very few f.o.b. quotations have been received here. Prices for No. 1 fruit will, however, rule high, and there will be also a strong demand for good packs of the lower grades. Inferior fruit should not be marketed, but should be sent to the canning factory or cider mill. Growers would do well to profit by the lesson of 1915.

Reports from western States indicate that there be no heavy shipments to Canadian markets early in the season. About January the better grades of western American fruit will probably be shipped to our Prairie markets.

The British markets should handle large quantities of Canadian apples. Figures recently published in the Gardner's Chronicle show that the English apple crop is below average, and much less than the crop harvested in 1915. Canadian apple exporters may be practically certain of a brisk demand in British markets, at good prices.
