Petrograd More Calm Than For Many Months

Results Achieved by Strong Repressive Measures Adopted by Kerensky and His Government; Situation Improved

By Courier Leased Wire

London, July 28—Despatches from Petrograd dealing with the military and political situation concur that Petrograd itself is outwardly calmer than it has been for months...

The ministry of justice is said to have issued a statement that it has clear proof that Nikolai Lemine the Radical Socialist, and two of his associates, Zimovieff and Kamonoff, were concerned in a German plot against Russia...

The whole internal situation is said to show signs of improvement and according to The Times' Odessa correspondent, it is generally recognized that the various domestic problems must now await the end of the war for solution...

The main argument whereby the extremists exerted their influence is, says the correspondent, the absence of an agreement making it clear to the soldiers that Germany is responsible for the continuance of the war...

Thus far the retreaters do not show any sign of intention of stopping on a line. The splendid positions north and west of Tarnopol have been thrown away. It can hardly be called a German victory since it is not the result of German pressure...

With insufficient troops, an advance on this scale is a difficult operation, and German communication also cannot be established in a moment over such a wide area...

MILITARY SITUATION BETTER TO-DAY THAN A YEAR AGO

Twelve Months of Stirring Fighting on the West Front Have Brought About Evacuation of French Territory By the Enemy; Entry of America Into the War Improves Allied Prospects

By Courier Leased Wire

Paris, July 28.—The military situation of the Entente allies on the western front at the end of the third year of the war is regarded by competent authorities here as actually better than it was a year ago...

The big change in the relative position of the allies was brought about by the evacuation of a part of France by the Germans. This retreat, which was announced in Germany as a strategic retirement...

ened and held by fewer divisions. Wherever the lines have moved on the west, they have moved toward Germany...

Three Years of World War, Find Victory Perched on Allied Banners

End of the Struggle is Not Yet, But the Certainty of Ultimate Defeat Stares Prussian Militarism in the Face After Thirty-Six Months of Actual Warfare—The Past Year One of Momentous Developments in the Struggle.

The third year of the world war closes with the fortunes of conflict favoring the Entente. The Central Powers sustained momentous setbacks, both military and political, during the twelve months.

On both the Western and Eastern fronts the Teutons find themselves on the defensive at the advent of the fourth year. They fight on lines newly-established after forced retirement from terrain which they had won in earlier days at a tremendous sacrifice.

closed with Winston Spencer Churchill, former First Lord of the Admiralty, returned to the Cabinet with the portfolio of Minister of Munitions. Portugal and Roumania threw in their fortunes with the Entente shortly after the third year began.

Three new nations were born during the war. Poland was created a kingdom under German and Austrian direction. In Mexico the Arabians overthrew Turkish rule and declared independence. In the Balkans, liberty was restored to Albania, which was established as a republic under Italian political protection and with French military aid.

contingents of troops landed in France on June 26 and 27. Nearly 10,000,000 Americans of military age registered on June 5, under the selective draft law, and from these are being selected the men who will comprise the great Army contingents which America is planning to send to Europe.

In cementing America's association with the nations now her allies, numerous exchanges of missions were arranged. France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Russia, and other Entente belligerents sent delegations to the United States as a step toward unification, military, financial and otherwise. The United States sent missions to Russia and other countries.

Fighting on the Western front during the third year of the war may roughly be divided into six phases—two in the latter part of 1916 before winter called a halt; and four after the Entente offensive was resumed in the early spring.

At the close of the second year the Germans were still unwilling to concede failure in the operations centering on Verdun. After August 3, 1916, the French gained the ascendancy, culminating in the retaking of Douaumont and Fort Vaux, with thousands of prisoners and many guns. By November the French had once more come into possession of the complete circle of the Verdun defences. The second phase dates back to the commencement of the Franco-British offensive—the first Battle of the Somme—in July of 1916. By mid-September this had reached such proportions that the Germans were credited with bringing up seven new divisions against the British and five against the French. It was estimated that 38 German divisions, or based on the strength of those German units at that period, about 760,000 men, opposed the British and French on this twenty-mile front. In this battle the British air supremacy became dominant. By November the British and French had taken St. Pierre-Divion, Beaumont-Hamel and Beaucourt and had penetrated German positions for a depth of six miles.

In the Spring, the Germans, anticipating a resumption of the Somme operations, began what has become known as the "Hindenburg victorious retreat" to newly-established German lines. In this second battle of the Somme, Bapaume, Ires, Peronne, Neale, Fayette, Gricourt, Vaux, Roye, Tegulier, Ham and hundreds of other positions were lost by the Germans. In an evacuation which French critics regard as memorial the Germans left a track of wide-spread devastation which aroused world-wide indignation. The British claimed capture of nearly 5,000 prisoners in the Spectre of Anarchy Petrograd, July 28.—Premier Kerensky, referring to the situation in Russia, said: "It is a spectre of anarchy which needs to be obliterated. Stout hearts and stern hands are required to stay the rout in the army. There is plenty of good material in Russia, but it has been allowed to go to waste." Nicholas Injured London, July 28.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Petrograd, says that former Emperor Nicholas fell and broke his leg while cycling in the gardens of the Tsarskoye Selo Palace, where he has been incarcerated since the revolution.

Roumanians Menaced Berlin, July 26.—via London, July 28.—The Tageblatt correspondent with the Austro-Hungarian armies in southern Galicia reports that vital railroad communications from Kolomea to Czernowitz are now seriously menaced and threatens to cut off the Russian Eighth army and remnants of the Seventh which escaped across the Dniester. German advance troops are said to be only a day's march from the river's loops. The evacuation of the forest of the Carpathians is already taking place in the character of a panicky flight.

The capture of the important bridgehead at Halicz, north of Stanislaw, forced the Russian army corps to retreat before the Seventh army was given an opportunity to seek safety across the Dniester. Large stores of military supplies and food stuffs were scattered along the path of retreat. The civilian population which had taken refuge in the forests is now returning home. Since the fall of Tarnopol, sixteen towns north and south of the Dniester and more than a hundred villages have been cleared of Russians.

Soissons, through Rheims to Auberville. In June 1917, the British began an attack on Mesines and Wyszachte in an effort to straighten out the Ypres salient. Again British flyers dominated the air. The British had spent an entire year mining the earth for this offensive, which was begun with an explosion so terrific that it was heard in London. Beyond Mesines, for two miles east and northeast, the British won and consolidated ground, captured more than 7,400 prisoners and great stores of artillery. Gaining every objective, they placed themselves astride the Ypres-Comines Canal, having advanced three miles on an eight-mile front. Portuguese and Belgian troops aided in this offensive. In recent days the fighting there had been confined to raiding operations.

By Courier Leased Wire. Vienna, via London, July 28.—The official bulletin issued by Austro-Hungarian headquarters tonight reads as follows: "Fighting occurred in the upper Suchitza region. The villages of Soveia and Neteretei remain in the hands of the enemy."

"On the Russian front from Tartar Pass to Kirlibaba, the enemy showed signs of weakening. The Hunved drove the adversary over the Cabal River. The Austro-Hungarian and German forces under General Koevess are pressing forward along the upper course of the mountain stream in a north-easterly direction. The attacking movement of General von Boehm-Ermolli's forces continue successful. Detachments of the army and Bavarian troops took possession of Kolomea after bitter engagements with the Russian rear guards."

"On the northern bank of the Dniester, the allied troops are approaching the confluence of the Stripa. Czortkov and Trembowla are in German hands. North of Trembowla the Russians assembled their forces for a rapid mass attack which broke down completely with heavy losses. East of Tarnopol, the enemy has again been driven further back."

Michaelis To Vienna Berlin, July 26.—via London—The Tageblatt learns that Chancellor Michaelis will leave for Vienna for the purpose of meeting Emperor Charles and making the acquaintance of the Viennese government leaders.

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPALE."
" Hayden gave the money to Bland; Bland put the money in the safe; the Hermit opened the safe; Cargan took the money from the Hermit; Magee took the money from Cargan and gave it to the girl; she lost the money in the mountains, then somebody killed a woman, and the corpse got up and walked away." This is the case that he had to face, the Chief of Asquewan Falls, the case of the Seven Keys to Baldpate, which the Roma Reade Players Stock Company will present at the Grand Opera House on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday nights with a special Wednesday matinee. This is the first time that Seven Keys to Baldpate, has ever been played in Brantford, and although it is a big undertaking for a stock company, Miss Reade has finally consented to present her company in it.
Miss Reade's company is adequate and equal to any demand. "Seven Keys" may be expected to delight and entertain without fail. Mr. Goodhand will be Max, friend of Mayor Cargan, the graffer, who hires the Hermit to open the safe and get the 200,000 dollars, but Myra Thornhill (Miss Baker) tells on her friend and is shot and taken to be hidden in a deserted room upstairs. Mystery that room? Magee gets the money and sends Miss Norton off to town with it, but she loses it. "Who finds it?" The play is a story in the writing, and each actor in turn, at the close of the last act, removes his "make-up" and the mystery is cleared away.

AGREEMENT ON THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS

Provisions of Pact Between Britain and Germany Published AFFECTS CANADIANS Officers and N.C.O.'s Eligible For Internment in Neutral Countries

London, July 28.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. J. F. Hope announced the terms of the Anglo-German agreement regarding prisoners of war, which has been ratified by both Governments. The agreement is as follows:

1.—All existing agreements for direct repatriation shall be resumed.
2.—The qualifications, on medical grounds, both for repatriation and internment in a neutral country of combatant prisoners shall be more lenient and shall be based for the time being on the arrangements already in force between France and Germany.

3.—The more severely wounded and seriously ill in Switzerland shall be sent back to their own countries in order to make room for others who may now be qualified.

4.—In addition to the last named and such others as Switzerland may be able to accommodate, there shall be selected for internment in Holland 7,500 sick or wounded combatant prisoners of all ranks. That means the total for both countries and not for each country.

Dutch to Provide
5.—All officers and non-commissioned officers, whether in health or not, who have been in captivity for eighteen months or more, shall be eligible for internment in a neutral country, and shall be so interned as far as accommodation can be provided. Precedence shall be according to length of captivity. The Dutch Government will provide places for 6,500 of this class.
6.—The Dutch Government will

COMPANIONS IN MISFORTUNE. A French soldier and his dog who were wounded by the same shell. The faithful animal, which assisted him, would not leave his master and the two are now in the same ward.

further provide for 2,000 civilian prisoners, invalids being given the precedence.
7.—If the number of combatant prisoners eligible for internment whether on grounds of health or time, exceeds the accommodation repatriation shall be made between British and German prisoners of each class in proportion to the eligible men of the two nationalities. As in the case of civilians it would give Germany seven or eight to one British. It has been agreed that internment should proceed on the basis of proportion.
8.—Punishment for attempts to escape in both countries is to be reduced to fourteen days' special confinement for a simple offense, or two months for an aggravated offense. All combatant prisoners now undergoing punishment for such offenses shall be restored to ordinary captivity at the latest by the first of August.

9.—All reprisals against individuals shall be immediately cancelled, and any future reprisals shall only occur after four weeks' notice, while the execution of all sentences for offences committed by combatants and civilians between the date of capture and the first of August shall stand over until the conclusion of peace.
Mr. Hope added that the government was considering the offer of Denmark to intern a certain number of prisoners at Copenhagen.
Edmund Scott, of Jamaica, L.I., N.Y., attached to the Signaller's Training Depot, Canadian Expeditionary Forces, was drowned while swimming in the Ottawa River. Leo Poquette, aged 48, was also drowned in the river.

CAMPAIGN FOR Y.W.C.A. FUND IN PARIS GOES ON

Canvassing Continues Daily—Over $1000.00 Already Raised
ELECTRICAL STORM
Damage Done In Various Parts of the Town By Lightning

Paris, July 27.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—It is an ideal day for out-door canvas and the supporters of the Young Woman's Christian Association, are enthusiastically at work with their lists obtaining subscriptions for the equipping and furnishing the new building. Up to noon to-day upwards of $1,000 is already subscribed, and to-morrow night full returns will be known in the reading room of the Y. W. C. A. The charter membership fee is $1.00 and there is no other charge for membership, and any young woman can board without being a member. Yesterday afternoon for upwards of three hours a terrible electric storm raged over this section, accompanied by heavy down pour of rain. Considerable damage was done to the telephone and electric light system. In the latter sub-station, Mr. Geo. Wheeler the supt. was thrown down from the force of an electric bolt that entered the building, and was unconscious for some time. A large insulator was destroyed as also a number of oil switches and springs. At the steel factory a large transformer was burnt out, that will hold the machinery up until fixed. A large elevator belonging to Mr. Arthur Sayles, at the station, was also struck and damaged. At the Bosworth and Churchill garage a bolt struck a post opposite the door-way and following the wires entered the building knocking two or three men down, while a piece of glass from a shattered globe gave Mr. Geo. Bosworth a nasty cut on the cheek. On Mechanic street Mr. Wm. Kinney had just run his car into his garage, when a ball of fire was seen to enter, turning Mr. Kinney a summersault and disappearing out of the adjoining door-way. Mr. Austin Clement in Brantford Township, had three fine cattle killed, and a barn belonging to Mr. John Lovett nearby was also struck and strange to say although the bolt passed right near the hay mow no fire occurred. Reports from the country state that in many places the wheat and other grain has been pretty badly battered down.

For the future we will write it "Senator John H. Fisher," and news of same was received in town, upon the arrival of the morning papers announcing same, with pleasure from all sides. If we mistake not Senator Fisher was born in Paris and has always had the welfare of this town at heart. We feel sure we are voicing the sentiment of the community at large in expressing the wish that he may long be spared to enjoy the well deserved honor, as also to serve the interest of the Dominion.

Loyal Orange Lodge No. 2206 Port Arthur, has passed a resolution deprecating a Dominion election and urging patriotism before party, and forgetting of party politics till the Germans are beaten.

Call for Win-the-War Convention

To be held in the ARENA, TORONTO
(SEATING CAPACITY 8,000)

BELIEVING AS WE DO that in this crisis in the affairs of our country it is of vital importance:

1. That Canada shall dedicate all her resources of men and means to the Winning of the War,
2. That if we are to justify our national existence, to succour our living and be worthy of our dead, Conscriptive Measures be immediately adopted and enforced to maintain the strength of our forces at the front and to discharge our full duty in the existing emergency.
3. That a National Non-Partisan Government be established for the vigorous prosecution of the War,
4. That all patriotic elements in the country which place the Winning of the War above all other considerations be united, to the end that their strength may be made effective to overcome selfishness and indifference, and that the people of Canada may be dedicated anew to their high destiny of service in the War,

AND DEEMING IT ESSENTIAL for the welfare of Canada that all citizens of Ontario who share these beliefs shall have an opportunity of expressing their adherence to these principles and of ensuring their enforcement,

AND BEING CONVINCED that patriotic Canadians can render no higher service to their Country than by uniting our people to "carry on" with increasing vigour to the end,

WE THEREFORE INVITE all public-spirited citizens, of whatever political faith, to attend an Ontario Convention in Toronto, the Capital of the Province, on THURSDAY and FRIDAY, the 2nd and 3rd of AUGUST, next.

The Convention will be called to order at 3 p.m. on August 2nd.

All citizens desiring to be enrolled for this Convention are requested to send their names at once to the Recording Secretary, of the

LADIES WILL BE WELCOME IN THE GALLERIES

Prize Awarded!

Some little time ago we advertised to give a Raymond Sewing Machine to the customer who would purchase a property that would strike the average of the first ten sales made after the advertisement appeared. On investigating our list, we find that the Messrs. Simpson, of 105 Park Ave., are the customers who purchased the property, the amount of which struck the average. We therefore declare the award to these gentlemen, and have notified them accordingly. The list of sales appeared a few weeks ago.

We offer for immediate sale, very fine property on Marlboro Street. 2-storey buff brick residence, containing 4 bedrooms, parlor, dining room, kitchen, Kelsey furnace, complete bath, cellar full size, laundry tubs, city and soft water and sink, stone sills, back and front stairs. Price only $3,500. Owner is leaving city and consequently immediate sale must be made. Call at once for further particulars.

THE SITUATION

The representatives of the Allied Powers, in conference at Paris, have concluded their deliberations with the statement that their union is even closer than ever on behalf of continuing hostilities, until the criminal Prussian military aggressiveness has been given a death blow.

News with regard to the Russian forces is still of a varied nature with a tendency to show that as an offensive force recent events continue to largely paralyze the Muscovite arm.

Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, has issued a statement in which he points out that ocean going British vessels at the commencement of the war aggregated between seventeen and eighteen million tons, and that at present, including new ship and prizes, the total is fifteen million tons.

In the Champagne, the Germans made five successive and fierce attacks, but were splendidly repulsed, and they made no gains.

It is satisfactory to know that an arrangement on humane grounds has at last been reached between Great Britain and Germany with regard to prisoners.

THE FINDING IN THE ROGERS CASE.

There has never been any man in Canadian public life more continually abused than "Bob" Rogers as he is popularly known.

In season and out of season he has been depicted by a large section of the Liberal press as corrupt and venal to the last degree and when Mr. Justice Galt, in a recent finding, declared him to have been in the thick of some shady transactions in the West and still further that his testimony on oath could not be credited, a perfect howl of delight went up from the Globe and other Globes.

Such are some of the incidents which tend to show why it was that Mr. Fisher was able to hold a seat in a Riding which had hitherto belonged to the "enemy," and why he has enjoyed an unbroken record as alderman, then Reeve, then Mayor, then M.P., then M.P., and now Senator.

Meanwhile what about the impeachment in which Mr. Justice Galt is thus involved? Rogers resigned pending the investigation of the special court. Will Galt do what a very large number of people will think that he should and if he doesn't will action be taken?

FISHER REMINISCENCES.

Now that John Fisher, member for North Brant, is about to be transferred to the Senate, one or two reminiscences with regard to incidents in his successful public career will be quite in order.

"Don't make your speech too long," was one of his favorite cautions to anyone who was helping him on the platform at country meetings. "I want plenty of time after the talking to do some hand-shaking."

On one occasion when he was out canvassing for votes, he encountered a very hard proposition. The man, after listening to what he had to say with ill-concealed impatience, remarked: "If my vote would save you from going to blazes, you wouldn't get it."

At another time when he was attending a fair in the North Riding, he was asked if he would like to be introduced to Mr. —, a red hot Liberal of the old school. "De-lighted," he returned, and the process was duly registered. "Do you know," remarked Mr. Fisher, "that I was hoping on my way here that I would have a chance of seeing you."

"The old gentleman looked decidedly flabbergasted. "Why," he exclaimed, "I've always worked 'agin you and voted 'agin you, and so have my two sons and my son-in-law."

Two of Mr. Fisher's young workers in his contest against Hon. Mr. Paterson, came from well known Liberal families, but they were casting their first votes for him. Some of their friends were puzzled, but the explanation was simple and characteristic. In the days when they were boys, they had gone to "Fisher's" store to get the necessary outfit for a juvenile lacrosse club.

Perhaps the most amusing of all his experiences was when he first ran for the Ontario House. He was given the name of a constituent who was known to have voted Liberal all his life. Mr. Fisher questioned the advisability of a call, but the local committee urged him to go, so he went.

After the usual preliminaries, Mr. Fisher remarked, "I understand you are not quite satisfied with your present member." "I am not," came the answer. "May I ask the reason?" "Certainly—he votes too soon."

Such are some of the incidents which tend to show why it was that Mr. Fisher was able to hold a seat in a Riding which had hitherto belonged to the "enemy," and why he has enjoyed an unbroken record as alderman, then Reeve, then Mayor, then M.P., then M.P., and now Senator.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

This is the day of the fair sex, all right. A report from the Russian front says that the members of the Women's Battalion attacked the foe after other soldiers had deserted.

The Toronto Star (Liberal) recently declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier could not now be regarded as the Liberal leader, and as an off set also affirmed that Sir Robert Borden should be replaced as Premier, probably by the editor of the sheet in question. As a matter of fact Sir Robert has shown by his whole conduct since the war started that he is the one man most capable in Canadian public life to be at the helm.

GARDEN PLOTS WERE JUDGED Prizes Awarded To Employees of Starch Works for Land Cultivation

Evidence of what can be accomplished by a little energy supported by enthusiastic organization, was seen at Starch Works yesterday afternoon; when Messrs. R. E. C. Kitchner, S. A. Burnley and John Allen, chairman of the garden plot committee in Wards 5, 6 and 3 respectively, visited there for the purpose of judging the relative merits of the different plots.

The High Cost of Living committee met last evening at the Public Library. There were present Geo. A. Ward, (chairman), Mayor Bowley, the Hon. J. D. T. Williamson, Peter Geo. Keen, A. G. Byers, Noble, Ald. Mellen, Ald. Jones. Among the matters discussed was the securing of a more adequate supply of fish for Brantford, and if possible, a lowering of prices.

CAR BURNED.

The firemen were last evening summoned to a peculiar blaze in a garage on Spring Street, the property of Mrs. James Cockshutt, where a large Packard automobile had in some manner become ignited. Mr. Russell Berry, who resides at 282 Nelson street, the chauffeur, who drives the car, was lying underneath it, engaged in making some repairs, when in some manner a fire was started that soon assumed the proportions of a conflagration. He was badly burned, especially on the left arm, but Dr. Hicks was summoned and the unfortunate young man is now reported to be resting easily. One line of hose was laid by the firefighters, and the fire was extinguished but not before the automobile had been reduced to a cinder.

TO JUDGE GARDENS

It is probable that judging will be commenced early next week in the different wards in the city with the object of discovering the best gardens being operated under the Garden Plot committee of the Thrift League. There are about one hundred entries in all and Mr. R. Schuyler, district representative of Agriculture for Brant county will assist the local connoisseurs of gardens in selecting the best ones. Prizes aggregating $25.00 have been offered in Wards 1 and 2 and the same amount will be divided between the remaining three divisions of the city as there are but a few gardens in Ward Three the business section of the city. Mr. S. A. Burnley chairman of Ward Three, in the thrift movement stated yesterday that if the crop was an average yield, that there would be a large enough harvest in Wards Four and Five to supply the residents of these sections throughout the winter, and that they would not be dependent upon farmers or market gardeners for their vegetables during the coming winter as has been the case in other years.

Win the War Convention.

Toronto, July 28.—The Ontario non-partisan Win-the-War Convention on Thursday and Friday of next week will be held in the Arena, the largest building in the city. The announcement of the Convention has already produced so many requests for enrolment, said Mr. Gould, the Vice-Chairman of the Executive, today, that the other halls under consideration for the great war conference had to be abandoned.

It is evident that a call for a truly popular Convention looking for deliverance from the bondage of partyism will be the most welcome event in Canadian national affairs since Confederation. Citizens who have called themselves by every political name unite in saying that the Convention is just what is needed to express the deep patriotism of the people who care intensely for success in the war and wish to translate their feelings into effective non-partisan action during the coming election. We have been obliged to take the arena because no other place would do.

Ladies organizations want to be present at a gathering which promises to be epoch-making in Ontario and Canadian history. We are assured of unique support. From one riding alone fifty Liberals and fifty Conservatives will attend and every town and village will be represented. One prominent politician from a riding near Toronto, who had been in to see him, had said that there was no elected unless he got "under the wing" of the Win-the-War Convention.

Three Years War.

The Russians, having in June of 1916 begun an offensive from the Pripet Marshes to the Rumanian frontier, speedily captured Czernowitz and the rest of Bukovina, together with Brody, Galicia, and in August they entered Stanislat for the third time in the war. These operations forced the Austro-Germans to relinquish lines they had held throughout the winter of 1915, 1916.

Led by Alexander Kerensky, Minister of War, and observed by American Army officers, the "Regiments July First" forced the Teutons to evacuate Brest-Litovsk, they captured many important positions, including terrain west and south of Halicz town and strongly-defended positions northwest of Stanislat. On July 11 Halicz was taken, thus smashing the Austro-German front between Brzezany and the Carpathians.

This Russian operation broadened by mid-July, so that it extended from the Gulf Riga to the Rumanian front, a distance of 800 miles. The Germans were reported to be rushing troops from the Italian and French fronts. Widespread enthusiasm was created throughout Russia and the moral effect on the other Entente powers was tremendous.

Italy, declaring war against Germany on August 28, began a more vigorous prosecution of her earlier offensive against Austria. Since then the Russian offensive has collapsed, owing to disobedience of troops.

With dramatic swiftness the Third Army, under the Duke of Aosta, stormed and captured Gorizia, hitherto considered impregnable. By Jan. 1 the Italians had captured 1,200 square miles. After a winter of artillery duels, Italy resumed her offensive on the Carso front in the campaign toward Trieste. Within a month the Austrian lines were broken from Castagnavizza to the sea. Italy inflicted losses of $5,000 on the Austrians and lost heavily herself. Austria hurried reinforcements from the Russian front. In the Trentino the Italians took the offensive in June and after terrific fighting captured the Austrian positions on Monte Ortigara and Asello pass. These they were forced to relinquish, however, in the face

MOTOR CARS NEEDED TO CARRY TROOPERS. Rapid time made Where Automobiles Are Available.

When it comes to matters military little Visalia, Cal., is not only patriotic but strictly modern. A short time ago the recruiting officers in that town were informed that a machine gun company was needed in a hurry by the Second California Infantry.

A rapid-fire recruiting campaign produced the desired result in 24 hours and then a dozen business men of Visalia, who own Dodge Brothers motor cars, offered to send the new recruits to the Presidia at San Francisco in record time.

This was the first attempt at moving troops long distances by motor in the San Joaquin Valley and it was watched with much interest by military men.

The 230-mile run was made in eight and one-half hours, with an average speed of 27 miles an hour. The first part of the trip was completed with a 35-mile average, but rain and slippery roads cut the average to 27 before the ferry at Oakland was reached.

While the number of men moved in this particular instance was small, the run demonstrated that the number of troops it would be possible to rush to a given point would depend wholly on the number of motor cars available.

The only delay reported on the entire trip was occasioned by five punctures. The pertinacity of the Dodge Brothers cars aroused high praise from the officers who accompanied the recruits on the trip.

DUFFERIN RIFLES

DAILY TALKS

NO. 6.—"THE FOUNDATION OF DISCIPLINE."

"Obedience is the keystone of discipline and the first duty of a soldier," as Lord Wolseley says in his Soldier's Pocket Book. Napier says, "Soldiers must obey in all things." They may and do laugh at foolish orders, but nevertheless they must obey not because they are blindly obedient but because they know that to disobey is to break the backbone of their profession.

Man is not born obedient, he has to be trained from infancy, and the training is irksome, but the most spoiled child can be disciplined very quickly when properly instructed.

Some people think that the stern obedience demanded from the soldier is a mere military aspect, but this is not so. Mechanical obedience is quite compatible with the freest exercise of the intellect, and the soldier who is so trained that they know when to give to one and to use the other.

A famous French Marshal in the Napoleonic Wars, complained that what he wanted was inferior officers who would obey him, not comrades who thought themselves as good as he was. A fond mother wrote to one of the instructors at Camp Barden, whom she knew, and asked him to look after her son, who was going up for training. She concluded her letter with the words, "I forgot to tell you one thing, dear Willie cannot brook discipline." After a short time in camp, however, where he received a good training in the elements of drill, Willie regarded life from a somewhat more military aspect, which was particularly noticeable in his eagerness to salute all in authority with great punctiliousness.

NEW POLL TAX CASES
Fresh Batch of Delinquents Faced Magistrate Last Night

Write Simcoe Agency Box 311 or phone 356-3 all matters regarding delivery or subscription; News items or advertisements.

Simcoe, July 28.—(From Our Own Correspondent)—The results of the Upper School Faculty Examinations published yesterday. Of the twelve successful candidates whose names appeared in the Norfolk-Haldimand list, the following six were students of the High School here: William Howard Bowyer, (Pt. I.), Mary A. Caldwell, (Pt. I.), Vera E. Craig, (Pt. II.), with Literature of Pt. I.), Margaret J. Jamieson (Pt. I.), J. Arnold McBride, (Pt. II.), Evelyn E. Walker (Pt. II.), Marjorie McKnight also a Simcoe student got Part I except Physics.
Under adverse conditions due to illness of two and the resignation of a third teacher of the staff, coupled with shortage of fuel, the local students appear to have relied more upon their personal efforts and with good results for we understand that all who wrote passed, though someone suggested failure. The class of 1918 have already quitted a record set towards the excellent of which to direct their efforts.

Poll Tax Delinquents in Court.
Of six more summoned for arrears of poll tax only one escaped the sitting of last night's sitting of Magistrate Gunton's court.
Albert Ryan was up at the instance of the humane society for working a horse with a sore shoulder. He got off with a warning.
At the close of the court the collector remarked that unless he had a call from some more delinquents in the meantime another batch of summonses will be issued shortly. The tax with costs runs over $9.00 mark and as almost every type of case has been up it is probable that outstanding taxes will be paid in voluntarily. Smoke from a small steam engine placed to operate the hobbles recently installed at Buck's Park Port Doyer, has been a cause of complaint from near by residents who would prefer the noise of a gasoline engine.

SHORT TIME FOR COTTON MILLS

Restriction On Imported Trade To Affect Factories of Lancashire

Manchester, England, July 27.—(Correspondence)—The question of putting the Lancashire Cotton Mills on short time is causing a good deal of anxiety among the operatives.
There are at present in England 55,000,000 spindles, 47,000,000 of which are controlled by the Spinners Federation and 4,000,000 by the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association. This leaves about 4,000,000 spindles outside the federation to take advantage of any limitations that the members of the federation impose upon themselves. It is this fact which prevented the voluntary adoption of any short time by the federation when it was recommended to the members, and when it would have been less hurtful to the trade than it is likely to be now under more drastic restrictions.
The Manchester Guardian says: "The growth and importance of the cotton industry may be judged from the fact that the output of the mills, in addition to providing for our home requirements, represents about a third of our total exports of manufactures. The cotton crops of the world average about 20,000,000 bales, and in normal times, England, with considerably over one-third of the spindles of the world, consumes annually 4,000,000 bales of cotton. If, therefore, there is a big reduction in the supply of cotton coming to this country, and the price is inflated by speculation, it becomes impossible to keep the mills running at full time."
"There is something to be said for the view that even our poorest customers in India, China and Africa are able to pay more for cotton goods than they do in normal times, because the crops they produce are bringing much better prices. It is also a fact that until recently cotton goods were not dear in comparison with those made from other textiles. Still, the fact remains that the present allotment is very bad for trade."
"In addition to that, the adversity that does not dear in the cotton trade immediately injures the bleaching, printing, dyeing and finishing industries. There are thousands of workers in those branches and like weavers and spinners, they have to submit to reduced earnings. Miners and transport workers too are affected. Thousands of tons of coal which the factories consume when running are left in the coal fields, railway labor is consequently reduced and the carrying companies are forced to be idle. Any interference with the requisite supply of cotton to the mills means, indeed, a big loss to nearly all the workers in Lancashire as well as to the capitalist, professional and shopkeeping classes."

HON R. ROGERS EXONERATED

Galt Finding Wholly In Error, Is Verdict of Judicial Commission

EVIDENCE REVIEWED
Reflections On Minister By Winnipeg Judge Were Against Testimony

Ottawa, July 28.—Hon. Robert Rogers has been fully exonerated by the report of Sir Ezekiel McLeod, Chief Justice of New Brunswick, and ex-Judge Teller, of the Superior Court of Quebec, on the reflections upon the Minister of Public Works made by Mr. Justice Galt. The report, which was tabled in the Commons last evening, takes issue with practically every finding made by Mr. Justice Galt in regard to Mr. Rogers' connection with the construction of the Manitoba Agricultural College while he was Minister of Public Works for that province. The findings of the commissioners are summarized under the following headings:
1.—That the increase of the Carter Company's tender for the power house by $8,700 was recommended by the Provincial Architect to Mr. Rogers.
2.—That there was no connection between that increase and the contribution of $7,500 made by Carter to the election fund.
3.—That during the time Hon. Mr. Rogers was Minister of Public Works for Manitoba all the contracts let for the Agricultural College were properly let.
4.—That the contracts themselves were carefully drawn and properly safeguarded by the Government.
5.—That payments during Mr. Rogers' term of office were made only after they were duly and honestly certified by the proper officials of the department.
6.—That there was no conspiracy between Hon. Mr. Rogers and Thomas Kelley or any other contractor or person.
The commissioners further say, after reviewing all the evidence, that it does not support the findings of Mr. Justice Galt in so far as they reflect upon or prejudicially affect the honor or integrity of the Hon. Robert Rogers or the honesty of his dealings or transactions. On the findings, they consider that the reflections in so far as they reflect upon Mr. Rogers are against the evidence.

The minimum rate has been increased $4.50 to $4.90 per day 8 hours. Workers who were on a monthly basis receive a vance of $10 per month.
Vice-President Powlesland, International Brotherhood of Smiths and Helpers has been Stratford recently, where he is organizing a local of the craft, members will be largely employed the Grand Trunk shops; he has meeting with numerous encounters and already has secured considerable more names than necessary the application for a charter. He expects to raise up one of the best of the craft in the Toronto Ontario.
The men of the Winnipeg brigade, whose time ago, strong opposition, formed a labor union, have been successful their fight for more treatment. During the hot very that was waged the use of the citizens was strongly in favor, and has resulted in a rate of wages and improved conditions, and the authorities agreed to place the force on platoon system at the close war.
The metal working craft has a complete victory in their for higher wages and in working conditions in the J. H. and Sons' shipyards at Ver. B.C. These trades were organized, and there was no result from the time they down their tools, and it did the firm very long to size of fact. It may be said that he its history have the various trades been so effectively or as they are to-day.
Advices from Winnipeg of the effect that the United Workers of America are putting a great organization campaign membership has been rapidly of late. Most of the in the trade are now working union agreements. The workers are being taken into organization. The tent and awn the bag workers are also being organized, and will affiliate with International. The prospects of the U. G. Canadian Northern wipers in the Dauphin (Man.) shops went out on strike recently for more money. The permanent men were raised from $1.75 to $2.20 for a 12-hour day.

The machinists on the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway have secured their first schedule on that road and are now officially recognized by the management. The wage rate under the new agreement is 55 cents an hour and a 55-hour week.

Outdoor civic employees of Nanaimo, B.C., have petitioned the city council for an increase in wages of 10 per cent, and a half holiday on Saturdays. They point out that the advance asked for is absolutely necessary in order to meet the high cost of living.

The International Association of Machinists are now organized up to the 100 per cent, mark in the C.P.R. shops at Carleton Place, Smith Falls, Ottawa and Prescott, and the industrial outlook is extremely bright in all these places, as work is plentiful and good men are scarce.

The Vancouver plumbers who because of the prevalent unemployment in 1914, were forced at that time to acquiesce in a reduction of wages, now come back strong. Recently they have been waging a warm organization campaign, which has materially built up the membership again. An international organizer set on the job, with the result that the minimum wage has been placed at 45 for a work day of 8 hours.

Electrical workers in the employ of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, which operates the street railway systems of Vancouver, Westminster, and Victoria, have secured an increase in wages as a result of peaceful negotiations carried on with the officials of the company. The minimum rate has been increased from $4.50 to $4.90 per day of eight hours. Workers who were employed on a monthly basis receive an advance of $10 per month.

Vice-President Powlesland, of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, has been in Stratford recently, where he is organizing a local of the craft, whose members will be largely employed in the Grand Trunk shops; he has been meeting with much encouragement and already has secured considerable more names than necessary on the application for a charter. He expects to round up one of the best locals of the craft in the Province of Ontario.

The men of the Winnipeg fire brigade, whose time ago, despite strong opposition from a federal labor union, have been successful in their fight for more considerate treatment. During the hot controversy that was waged the sentiment of the citizens was strongly in their favor, and has resulted in a higher rate of wages and improved working conditions, and the authorities have agreed to place the force on the two platoon system at the close of the war.

The metal working craft have won a complete victory in their strike for higher wages and improved working conditions in the J. Coughlin and Sons' shipyards at Vancouver, B.C. The trades were solidly organized, and there was no doubt of the result from the time they threw down their tools, and it did not take the firm very long to size up that fact. It may be said that never in its history have the various metal trades been so effectively organized as they are to-day.

Advices from Winnipeg are to the effect that the United Garment Workers of America are putting up a great organization campaign. The membership has been increasing rapidly of late. Most of the big firms in the trade are now working under union agreements. The sweater workers are being taken into the organization. The tent and awning and the bag workers are also being organized, and will affiliate with the international. The prospects are that the U. G. W. of A. is going to be one of the largest of the trade movements in the Prairie City.

The Winnipeg Voice says that the coal situation is becoming serious enough now to engage the best attention of the federal, the provincial and civic authorities, the federal government should lose no time in taking over the mines of the west and working them to their utmost capacity. The Voice intimates that if the Canadian West runs short of coal in the bitter winter weather, a national tragedy of the grimmest possible kind will be the result, a far too serious matter, in which to take any chances. If the government ever recognize its plain duty and imperative obligation to the people it must take over the mines at once without a single hour's unnecessary delay in a real effort to avert a situation that will be nothing short of a calamity.

Reports from Calgary show that the newly organized women's I. T. U. auxiliary in that city is going along in fine shape and rapidly gaining in membership. Other labor organizations are now going to take hold and organize their wives and daughters along similar lines.

According to Ben Osborne, third vice-president of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' organization, is going on at a splendid rate in British Columbia. All classes of workers, he says, are feeling the necessity of perfecting organization and demanding better conditions. Japanese working in a nut and bolt factory in Vancouver have formed a union and struck for higher wages and shorter hours. Chinese have perfected a systematic organization campaign, and have organizers out going through the lumber camps and mines organizing the Oriental workers. Owing to a scarcity of skilled labor, pile-drivers are being sought for by the camps and mines at higher wages than have ever before prevailed, being offered 55c for work which previously demanded about 35c an hour.

Ald. Heaps, one of the Labor aldermen in the Winnipeg municipal council, has taken the initiative in that city looking to the establishment of a municipal creamery. The labor man has taken this action because of friction between the milk producers and the creameries, which threatens a scarcity of the lactical fluid in the Prairie City. Ald. Heaps gave the following notice of motion "In view of the precarious situation with regard to the citizens' supply of milk, and the increasing cost of same this council is of opinion that in the best interest of the citizens a municipal milk supply has become a necessity. Therefore, be it resolved: That this council do instruct the board of control to make application to the public utilities commissioner for powers for the city of Winnipeg to establish a municipal creamery to deal in milk and all milk products with the right to regulate prices of such commodities." It may be said that public sentiment is strongly behind this move, and the notice of motion will probably carry by a unanimous vote.

The agitation set in motion by the Halifax (N.S.) Trades and Labor Council to extend cheap fares on the street railway system during noon and evening hours has been crowned with success. When the proposition was first mooted there was a disposition to make merry at the expense of the central labor body by those who ridiculed the idea and claimed that it would be as easy to run an excursion to the moon as to get cheap rate concessions from the street railway management. The result, however, has amply demonstrated that it is the seemingly impossible that oftentimes happens, for, in addition to the early morning fare of 2 1/2c, a recently improved schedule provides that during two hours at noon and two hours in the evening tickets shall be provided at a rate of 3 1-8 cents. Now, the entire city is complimenting the Trades and Labor Council on its good work and the success attendant upon its efforts. The promoters of the measure believe it will prove a great boon to all classes of the citizens and incidentally will help to increase the revenues of the street railway.

Brockville Council and the Public Utilities commission have been in consultation with the Ontario Hydro Commission, and the commission tendered a proposition of $35,935, power to be transmitted from the plant of the Cedar Rapids Company.

SHIPPING PROFITS

Associated Press
London, July 28.—Shipping companies continue to record great prosperity during 1916. The Indo-China Steam Navigation Company last year made a net profit of 312,233 pounds against 16,020 pounds in 1914, and increased its dividend from three per cent. in 1914 to 50 per cent. in 1916.

THE WESTERN FAIR.

September 7th to 15th, 1917.
The management of the Western Fair, London, Ontario, are adding $2,000 to their Prize List this year.

This amount has been carefully distributed throughout the list and will make it very attractive. The Exhibition has reached its fiftieth year and every effort is being put forth to make this the best ever held in London. This Exhibition has the reputation of being one of the best agricultural exhibitions in Canada, and this year will certainly be no exception to the rule. Live Stock Breeders and Exhibitors will do well to send their very best stock to London. A win there is sure to prove of very great benefit as there are always plenty of buyers. Prize Lists, entry forms and all other information on application to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London Ontario.

KITH AND KIN HELD PICNIC

First Annual Outing Of Eagle Place Branch Held On Thursday

(By a Member.)

The Eagle Place wives and mothers, with their little children, had a picnic on Tuesday to Mohawk Park. The ride was delightful, but just before arrival at the destination, an electric storm broke with all its fury. We're down hearted! No! Past experience has taught us to make the best of whatever comes or goes. So while the fuses burn out, trolley wires get tangled, power went off, lightning flashed, and thunder pealed, the crowd sang cheerily. "We're here because we're here." "We'll never let the Old Flag Fall." "We're a Scotch ye ken!" All remained in the car, however, which brought us safely home again, as it had been pre-arranged that if the day was wet, we should come back to Trinity school room. In spite of difficulties, lunch was served and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

An impromptu programme helped to fill in the time. Miss Gibbs and Miss McDonald gave instrumental selections. Mrs. Hughes and Mr. Peahy had kindly donated prizes for the races. The results of the races were: Child's race, 1, Winnie Calatley; 2, Alford Mason; 3, Blanche Payne. Child's race, 1, Arthur Rodgers; 2, Willie Robb; 3, Gordon Small. Girls' race, under 11-1, Alice Banner; 2, Helen Banner; 3, Wilfred Morgan. Girls' race, 11 years—1, Christina Coumborough; 2, Jivie Campion; 3, Katie Dow.

Boys' race—1, George Bennett; 2, Frank Elliott; 3, Wilfred Morgan. Ladies' race—1, Mrs. Heath; 2, Mrs. Brown; 3, Mrs. Small. Fat woman's race—1, Miss McDonald; 2, Mrs. Coumborough; 3, Mrs. Cullen.

It was quite evident that everybody present had a most enjoyable time. The ladies of the Eagle Place Kith and Kin Association have been very energetic, helping one another, also helping to make comforts for the soldiers overseas. Any one interested may come to the meetings, which are held on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month.

HARDLY REALIZES HE IS SAME MAN

"I Can't Describe How Miserable I Felt," Says Connell—Like New Man After Taking Tanlac

"I have improved so much since taking Tanlac I can hardly realize I am the same man, and my wife says she hasn't seen me looking so well in a long time," said Frank Connell 196 Mavey, St., Toronto, employed by the Gunn Packing Co. Mr. Connell has lived in Toronto thirty years and his many friends will be glad to learn of his recovery.

"About six months ago I lost my appetite," Mr. Connell continued, "and soon fell off from a big healthy looking man to almost a skeleton. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could hardly eat a thing and nothing tasted right. The gas that formed on my stomach caused sharp pains around my heart and interfered with my breathing. I would wake up at all hours of the night, and terrible nightmares, and would get up in the mornings all played out, when I went to bed. All my strength and energy seemed to leave me and I was just losing weight and going down hill every day. I would get so weak and dizzy I would have to catch hold of a table to steady myself. Every hour was just an hour of torture. I can't describe how miserable I did feel. I didn't have the color of life in me and my friends were talking about how bad I looked. I would come home from my work in the evenings all played out, fall across the bed and my daughter would have to take off my boots for me.

"I had no faith in Tanlac, but I bought a bottle any way, more to please my wife than anything else, and it has done me a world of good. My appetite returned, I began to eat and enjoy it and feel stronger and better. I have just started on my third bottle and there's no comparison in my looks and feelings. I am now eating three big, hearty meals a day and sometimes I can hardly wait for meal time to come. I sleep like a log every night and get up in the mornings full of life and energy. I am now putting in full time at my work every day, and when I get home in the evenings instead of dropping on the bed like a dead man, I eat a hearty supper and go out and work around the house.

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson Co., Ltd.

Rippling Rhymes

THE BIG FAMILY.
Our family in times of peace has many rows and wrangles; it sometimes takes the town police to quell our little jangles. Then mother, losing all her tact, complains of which and 't'other, and father reads the riot act, and sister nags her brother. Sometimes the pans and skillets fly, heaved by indignant tosser, and uncle catches with his eye, perhaps, a cup and saucer. Sometimes our grandma takes a broom and knocks the dust from auntie, and now and then we wreck a room, and fairly rock the shanty. But if a neighbor seeks our door, with warlike fuss, and bluffing, we cease our rows forevermore, and from him knock the stuffing. Forgotten every grievance then, all friction has an ending; the women line up with the men, our little shack defending. In normal times this happy land is full of noisy friskers, who see that harmony is canned and pull each other's whiskers. A stranger standing on a height our ways not understanding, would think we lived to whoop and fight, some neighbor's scalp demanding. But when outsiders come along to mix in, uninvited, we cease to thrash the private wrong, and we all stand united.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

TURPIN THE TRICKY
The Mack Sennett-Keystone company has a baseball team which boasts the most extraordinary pitcher on record. He is Ben Turpin, the cross-eyed comedian.

Ben is one of the few human beings who can see in front and behind at the same moment. This is invaluable in baseball as many a venturesome soul discovered who tried to steal from second to third while Ben was winding up.

ILLUSTRIOUS EXTRAS.
In the Kobb and Hill Mutual Star Production entitled "Beloved Rogues," the most expensive bunch of "extras" ever assembled appear. Because of the many humorous situations occurring in the production, many of Mutual's greatest stars, including William Russell, George Periolat, William Tennant and others, watched the filming of the production during their spare time.

One day the onlookers became so interested in the filming "Beloved Rogues" that they got right into the crowd and Director Santell, never known to miss a good opportunity, had the camera roll back and forth to get them all in one of the biggest scenes in the production.

Needless to say these noted Mutual stars were disconcerted to find themselves on the screen when "Beloved Rogues" was projected at the American studios.

BREAKING IN.
During a lull in "The Sunbeam" under production at the Rolfe studio with Mabel Taliaferro as the star, Gerald Griffin, the veteran actor, became reminiscent and told how he won a place on the stage.

Griffin working in an iron foundry in Pittsburg, was "stage struck" and in the evenings he acted as super in the local stock companies. The old-time favorite "Metamora," was being produced one night and Griffin was told to play the part of a speechless Indian. He daubed his face with red paint, put on a black wig made from an old fur rug, grabbed a tomahawk and stood in the wings waiting for his cue.

The star was in the most exciting scene, the one in which he kills his half-brother, but as he gave the cue for the latter's entrance there was no response. He repeated it and the stage manager, in a panic, pushed Griffin out before the audience. As he did not know a line or situation of the scene, Griffin was compelled to depend entirely on his wits and the speeches of the star for his cue. He resolved to pantomime the scene and when Metamora drew his dagger and slew his half-brother Griffin fell realistically.

"Who's the actor?" asked the manager when the scene was over. "A 'sup' he was told." "Hire him for the company," was the order, and Griffin quit his job.

in the iron foundry and became a moulder of dramatic parts.

"THE AUSTRIAN SPY."
"Isn't he wonderful!" exclaimed Anita King, the lanky star, to be seen in the Paramount Tuesday and Wednesday, as co-star with Theodore Roberts in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Austrian Spy."

The object of her remark was a villainous Cossack with close-cropped hair, a black moustache and a cruel mouth. He was raising a knout over the quivering form of a young girl. It was Anton himself, but underneath the surface of cruelty could be discerned Theodore Roberts.

"You know," Miss King continued, "ever since I have been a photodramatic actress, Mr. Roberts or 'The Governor,' as we all call him, has been my ideal artist. He is so splendid in everything he does. He can be a quiet, lovable father, or he can be the brutal Anton that we see now. Really, I have studied him so much, that I have learned that this play-acting is not all in the day's work with him, but that each one is a carefully and considered creation."

"No matter whether he is playing a star role, or just a small part, each receives the same amount of attention and there are very few actors to-day who do not have the tendency to slight the role in which they are not very conspicuous.

"It is funny," Miss King said, with a little laugh, "on my trips around the country, which I have made in an effort to correct the prejudice against motion picture people, I have always told them what a wonderful actor Theodore Roberts is, but this is the first time I have ever had the opportunity to co-star with him, and when I heard that the Lasky Company had arranged for our appearance together, I was delighted, and if some day I can be as great an actress as he is an actor, I will be satisfied that I have not worked in vain."

Miss King rose from the camp stool on which she was sitting and with a little smile said, "Now I will have to go over and let him abuse me."

"A ROADSIDE IMPRESSARIO"
George Beban surely has a considerable ability to discover something brand new in the way of a thrill for the big climaxes of the productions of which he is author-actor. Nitroglycerine in a golf-ball and old master paintings covered with cheap water-colors to pass villainant customs officials yield now to our hero as a kitchen helper who in scraping the dishes at a fashionable half-burned document that saves the road-house finds the incriminating hero and knaves the villain.

Wholly different from any previous effort, there is a well-proportioned mixture of comedy, pathos and novelty, introducing a trained bear that is almost as good an actor as "papa" Beban—and we respectfully call the attention of the society with the long name to the "stinging" cruelty to which said bear is subjected for a laugh, which he gets. That the camera man was able to locate the bear after his experience with the bees, and get him into the picture, is worth honorable mention.

Anita King, who appears opposite Theodore Roberts in the Austrian Spy, at the Brant, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Story and Players.
Giuseppe Franchini (George Beban) lives with his little "bambino" and a small pet bear, Bruno, on the quaint Italian coast. A shipwrecked man is seen offshore and Giuseppe rescues him, but in doing so is himself carried out to sea and far away. When he returns he finds his wife has died of the shock of his supposed drowning, and the stranger has taken away the little girl. Later, in America, Giuseppe and Bruno get arrested for invading a private aviary overturning the hives and wrecking the place in the excitement of being stung by the angry bees. Meantime Adelaide (Julia Faye) befriends Giuseppe and is rewarded by having a plot against Craig Winton (Fred Huntley), her affianced, exposed. John Slade (Fred Huntley), with the aid of Gibbs (W. A. Carroll) and Lizzie (Adele Farrington), "frams up" Craig with a fake flashlight picture of Craig and Lizzie in a compromising attitude. They meet in a cafe to settle the account, and a half-burned acknowledgment of the plot reaches Giuseppe, working in the kitchen. He realizes what it is and shoots him at some unexpected moment, and then goes back to his room.

Then a wonderful change takes place in his life. Gladys has learned the truth, broken her engagement to wed Dabney, and sent for Augy to come back to her. Also, a relative has expired and left him a million dollars. This provides the nut with a million reasons for wanting Augy for a nephew-in-law, so all is clear sailing. In the midst of his elation Augy remembers his compact with Automatic Joe. Knowing that Joe is in the habit of disguising himself, he imagines that everyone with a beard is his hired assassin. In desperation, he takes to wearing a beard himself to conceal his identity. Then he goes to the nearest police station and explains his predicament to the sergeant at the desk. A detective disguised with a beard is put on his trail. He thinks it is Automatic Joe, and has the chase of his life.

In the meantime Automatic Joe has been converted from his wicked ways by the Salvation Army, and is anxious to return Augy his money and cancel the agreement. He spies Augy just as Augy and his bride are returning from the church, and hurries to him. Leaving his bride, Augy dies for his life.

That's the end of the fast and furious, and the finish is one of the best moments.

It's the week Gladys Coburn will appear in "The Battle of Life," a powerful story of the underworld and of a girl who rises out of it.

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advices the use of "Fruit-a-Lives," The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG, 589 Casgrain St., Montreal.

April 20th, 1917.
"In my opinion no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and indigestion as 'Fruit-a-Lives.' I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my secondary occupation, music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with 'nasty' headaches, belching, gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-Lives,' and now for six months I have been entirely well. I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-Lives,' and you will be greatly surprised at the great benefit you will receive."

the Morocco studio the other morning the sun was shining brightly. A few hours later Miss Williams, her work completed for the day, started for the main entrance. The sun was still shining as she crossed the theatre and entered the long corridor that threads the administration offices. As she reached the front entrance, she was astonished to find that it was pouring rain! Being in a hurry, Miss Williams borrowed an umbrella and plunged into a home-made rain storm! Director W. D. Taylor, who had charge of the set, let out a shriek of protest, but it was too late as Miss Williams was already in the picture. Then Taylor ordered the scene painter to prepare a sign reading "Please Keep Off the Rain."

PRIME MINISTER'S MESSAGE TO THE BOYS OF ONTARIO WHO ARE WORKING ON FARMS.

You are now rendering to your country, to the Allies, and to the cause of civilization, the greatest service which you can possibly render. At this time when the production of more food is absolutely essential to the winning of the war, the people of the Province of Ontario to take the place which it ought to take.

As Prime Minister of Ontario I wish to convey to you the thanks of the people of Ontario for the manifold part that you are playing. But the need for your services is even greater now than it was in the springtime, when you answered the call to help in food production. Harvest will be upon us in a few days, and the country needs your help to garner the bountiful harvest which you have, in a large measure, made possible. Therefore, I appeal to you to continue your patriotic service until the harvest is over.

W. H. HEARST,
Prime Minister.

TO EXTERMINATE BANDITS Associated Press

Mexico City, July 28.—General Salvador Alvarado, Governor of Yucatan, who was called to the capital some time ago for a conference with President Carranza, has returned to Yucatan to assume full charge of military operations for the extermination of bandits in the states of Yucatan, Tabasco and Campeche. It was generally rumored when General Alvarado arrived here that he was to assume a place in Carranza's cabinet, but his departure seems to have put an end to such rumors.

A Great Success

The Committee in charge of the Gardening Section of the Brantford Thrift League feel gratified with the success of their Back-yard Gardening scheme and wish to thank the citizens generally for their earnest co-operation in this work.

There is Still Another Important Duty to Perform!

We are anxious now that fruit is coming in plentifully to impress upon the housewives of Brantford the importance of canning and preserving all fruits and vegetables possible—in order that nothing shall be wasted.

In this connection we have secured 5000 copies of Bulletin No. 252, compiled by Miss Ethel M. Chapman and issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, entitled

"The Preservation of Food and Home Canning"

Arrangements have been made to have a copy of this booklet placed in every home in Brantford. Distribution will be commenced on Monday, July 30th. If you fail to receive a copy, phone or drop a card to

Why Wait for to learn real food value

It is what you digest what you eat, that furnishes strength for the day's work. Many foods tax the digestive powers to the utmost out supplying much nutriment. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is all in a form that is easily digested. It is 100 per cent whole wheat. For breakfast, dinner or supper, it takes the place of meat, and potatoes. You can know how easily you can digest without meat or potatoes until you try it. GENERAL PERSHING Commander of the United States expeditionary force in France, talking with Marshall Joffre in Paris.

Waterford News

(From our own correspondent.) Mr. Gordon Maddiford, of Paris, spent a few days recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maddiford.

Miss Marjorie Martin is the guest of relatives at Hamilton this week. Summer apparently has at last come in full force. This week is very hot with only a shower of rain on Sunday afternoon to relieve the heat. Sunday was so hot, a great number took the radial or motored to Port Dover to try and escape some of the heat at the lake side. It is good having weather and the farmers around the country are drawing in large crops of hay. All the crops are looking good.

Mrs. Arthur Machell and Mrs. Belcher of Toronto, are visiting the Misses Robinson and Mr. R. K. Robinson. Miss Ruth Teeter is a guest in Toronto.

Mr. Lloyd Nash, of Detroit, is spending a few weeks with his cousin, Miss Freda Beemer. Mrs. R. K. Robinson is visiting friends in Toronto for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. R. J. Somers and Mrs. Lottie Bauslaugh left on Saturday to spend a couple of months at Foam Lake, Sask., the guests of Dr. Somers. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith and son Malcolm, spent a few days recently renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mrs. Matchett of Toronto, is the guest of old friends here for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Duesling and daughter, of London, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Duesling.

Miss Evelyn Carpenter of Detroit, and Miss Wilson, of St. Thomas, called on Waterford friends last Sunday. Miss Jessie Brandon, of St. Williams, is visiting the Misses Caldwell at the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Roland, of Walkerville, and Dr. G. W. York, of Buffalo, N.Y., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. York. Miss Gladys Kalar is spending a week visiting friends in Hamilton and Brantford.

Mrs. P. B. French, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Russell of Simcoe, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. E. Spencer. Mrs. C. B. Rowilson and son Clifford, of Toronto, are the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Wm. Caldwell.

Mrs. W. L. Saunders spent a few days recently in Galt. Mr. and Mrs. J. Seymour Colver, left this week to spend the summer at Beaumaris, Muskoka.

Mrs. H. G. Harris, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting her parents for a couple of weeks. Mr. Virgil Trotter, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., spent the week-end at his home here.

The boys are catching a large number of carp in the creek just opposite the canning factory, where they seem to be plentiful. They feed off the refuse from the factory.

Mrs. Duff Messecar, of Hamilton, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charlott Dunbar. The Rebekah Lodge held their picnic at Port Dover on Thursday. Large crowds of Rebekah's and their friends went. The very warm day helped draw the crowd. The ones taking the half holiday took advantage of it for the picnic.

Mr. R. D. Gibson spent the past week in Kingston. Misses Gladys Wilson and Clara Chambers spent Sunday at Port Dover.

Rev. Judson and Mrs. Truax, and family, of Georgetown, are spending their vacation here. Mrs. Kitching, of Nassagaweya, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Henry Caldwell at the Methodist parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Jewel, of Victoria, spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Messecar. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis, and little child, left for Detroit on Friday, after spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Michael and other friends.

The church services last Sunday morning were united and the service was held in the Baptist church. Rev. Jesse Gibson of Toronto, spoke in the interests of the Bible Society and impressed upon the minds of the audience the great need of money to further Christianize the world. A collection was taken to further the work of Mr. Gibson. Miss Currie, of Wingham, sang solos at both the morning and evening services, and the audiences were very agreeably pleased with her voice. The Misses Currie, have been guests of Mrs. Fitch, at Port Dover, and they spent the week-end here.

Mrs. H. R. Smaile and Miss Nettie Smaile, spent Sunday the guests of relatives. Miss Jean Barber of Villa Nova, spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Bernice Seldon.

Mr. and Mrs. Salem Colver, returned this week, after their honeymoon trip to the Pacific coast. Miss Lena Charters, is spending a few days with Mrs. Wm. Smith, at Kitchener.

Mrs. Wm. Nash has returned to her home in Detroit, after spending two weeks with her mother, Mrs. James Joyce. Mr. Fred Wilson, of St. Thomas, is visiting Mr. Ernest Smith.

D. D. P. Mrs. Welsh of Port Dover and her installing team, installed the officers of Central Link Rebekah Lodge, No. 96, and D.D.G.M. Roy Misner and his installing team, installed the officers of Waterford Lodge, No. 235, I.O.O.F. at the joint installation on Thursday evening, July 19th.

THE CROPS

Following is a summary of weekly crop reports made by district representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:— Fall wheat is ripening rapidly, and on the whole, will be well headed. Spring wheat is also looking well. The ridge is said to have done from 5 to 7 per cent of injury to wheat in Welland. It is also reported in Haldimand, but as a slight attack. Other spring grains, especially barley, promise unusually well, although much of the straw is feared that injury from "lodging" is feared should heavy rains come before cutting.

Hoe crops are very weedy, owing to the almost continuous rains of previous two or three weeks. Corn is coming along fairly well, but it is about a fortnight late on the average. Potatoes have done splendidly in this week, but in several counties the blight is threatening the late crop. A change in the weather, however, may relieve the situation. All roots promise well although much necessary weeding has been delayed owing to the land being too wet for working on.

Hay will be about an average yield, but some of it was caught by rain after being mown, and will be poorly cured. Some of the clover is said to be over-ripe, awaiting cutting. Delay caused by rains will cause some meadows to be running as late as August.

Cherries have done well. Apples will be light as a general crop. The codling moth is much less in evidence than last year, but scab is threatening some varieties, more especially those of the Fameuse and McIntosh Red trees. Pears are doing better than apples. Owing to the rainy and cool weather at ripening, many strawberries were soft and unmarketable. Milk is still in good flow, as the grass has been better than usual for the time of year. Cheese factories in Dundas may from $1.85 to $1.90 per 100 lbs. for milk, with whey back, which the condenser is giving $2.25 straight for the milk. One report enthusiastically declares that the season will go on record as witnessing one of the largest outputs in the history of dairy production.

Urgent requests for help are being made from every section of the Province. Some disappointment is expressed at the extent of urban or holiday help actually offered or appearing which is much below expectation. Farm-hands have been in operation more or less at a standstill for some time, and there is now a great rush to catch up in haying and hoeing, with grain cutting imminent.

COSTS $350,000 TO STAGE EXHIBITION Special Attractions at the Canadian National Above Ordinary. It costs upwards of $350,000 to stage and prepare the Canadian National Exhibition each year. Much of this is spent on special attractions for which the Exhibition is famous. No expense or effort has been spared in securing for Confederation Year the most attractive acts for the Hippodrome Show that will be given as usual in front of the grand stand every afternoon and evening. There will be a galaxy of stars of the show world and three stages at the one time. One of the outstanding features will be the Al Golem troupe court artists to the Shah of Persia, who present the most picturesque and sensational acrobatic novelty now before the public. The remainder of the program will be in keeping with this wonderful attraction.

SGT. DUNCAN MACNEIL OF THE CANADIANS Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Cured Dyspepsia Completely. Sergeant Duncan MacNeil, of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, writing from Europe (his home address is 116 Pleasant-street, Halifax, N.S.) says: "For six years I suffered from frequent attacks of dyspepsia, often being in bed for days at a time. When the war broke out I joined the Expeditionary Force and came to England. I had not been long there, however, when my old trouble returned, and I had to go to hospital. While in hospital a friend told me of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and I decided to try them. The first box brought such pronounced relief that I continued the treatment. To make a long story short, a complete cure was effected."

MOTOR CARS IN SUMMER

Timely Advice By An Expert on Hot Weather Care of Autos

There are quite a number of points which should be borne in mind by auto owners with the arrival of hot weather, if the most efficient service is to be had from the car.

Considerable heat is generated by rolling a tire over the ground. This heat expands the air in the tire and increases the pressure. In the winter this heat is absorbed to a large extent by the cold atmosphere and the cold and wet pavements, and therefore the pressure does not vary so much. In the summer the roads are very hot, the air temperature is high and the heat generated by friction is not carried off to any appreciable extent.

On a trip last summer I noticed that the car was riding harder than usual, and a test of the pressure on the tires developed the fact that it was above normal. To find out just what the difference in pressure was, we tested it before leaving the garage next morning. We found after rolling about forty miles at an average speed of thirty miles an hour that the pressure had increased about twelve pounds.

I know that several of the tire manufacturers instruct users not to carry less pressure on the tires in hot weather, saying that the increased pressure due to heat is not sufficient to materially affect their make. This is probably true for new tires, or for about two-thirds of their guaranteed life, but if the tires have been weakened, through having been run under inflated, or from fabric deterioration through cuts in the tread, then I believe there is danger from the increase in pressure due to heat.

More tires are damaged by under inflation than by over inflation, because the former breaks down the side walls through running flat in practically every case, while the over inflation causes a blowout only when the tire is weak at one point. It would be good practice, however, on hot summer days, to leave the garage with the tire pressure about ten pounds less than that specified by the manufacturer as being correct for his make. Any driver ought to test out his tires after running at a good clip on a hot day and find out just what they do. A little patience would enable him to understand how much his tires heat up, and he could regulate the pressure accordingly.

There are some other hot weather points which it might be well to keep in mind if one would get the best results from the car. One of these is the care of the carburetor. It will be found usually that not quite so much gasoline is required as in cold weather, and therefore the dash adjustment may be carried a little nearer the lean, or air side. This not only saves gasoline, but increases the power of the motor.

It will be found, also, that in most cases the hot air stove of the carburetor may be dispensed with or adjusted. Usually provision is made on the hot air stove for allowing some cold air to enter or to take cold air entirely. Where the carburetor is water-jacketed there usually is a valve that may be closed to prevent the flow of hot water. Experiment will determine whether it is advisable to cut out the heat entirely on the individual carburetor since all are not benefited by the change.

If the fan has been disconnected or the radiator covered up these things will be corrected, of course, when hot weather comes along. The engine naturally runs hotter in the summer time, the water vaporizes faster and occasionally boils away, so that it is necessary to inspect the radiator more frequently to see that the water is not running low.

Likewise the water in the storage battery will evaporate more quickly, and where it has been necessary to replenish it once in two weeks in the winter, it will need to be done every week in hot weather. This is not entirely due to evaporation from heat, but is accounted for in part by the fact that the engine starts easier and therefore less current is used for starting, and there is more daylight and the lamps are used less. Therefore the battery is more often in a fully charged condition and the charging current causes by chemical action which decomposes the water, the hydrogen and oxygen gases passing through the vent holes; the water escapes from this cause as gas instead of vapor.

In hot weather city streets are generally sprinkled regularly and the country roads are oiled some time during the season. The novice going behind a street sprinkler or reaching an oiled stretch of road should exercise particular care to prevent skidding, as he would be unlikely to realize the danger unless he has experienced it once.

Hot weather softens up grease, so that trouble might be experienced through their seeping out of transmission or differential cases, or from the grease cups. Many manufacturers recommend a heavier grease for summer than winter to give the greatest efficiency. This softening of the grease is likely to make a little ring of grease around each cup which will collect dust and give the car an unkempt appearance, besides there is the possibility of some of the dust working into the bearings. Grease cups must be kept turned down so that the dust is forced out and then it should be wiped off carefully.

MENTION TO MOTORISTS

WHEN MY LADY RIDES.

As has been said about worry—that most of one's troubles never happen—so the fear that a woman has in driving a car is not so much that as it is the fear of being afraid. At least that is the opinion of a well-known woman motorist.

"From my own experience and the experience of other women to whom I have talked about the subject, I believe the most difficult thing a woman has to overcome in learning to drive a car is not to be afraid of being afraid," says an expert woman driver. "Probably this sounds a little complicated, and an easier way to say it would be that women as a whole, I believe, lack confidence in themselves to handle the unexpected should the unexpected occur.

"A lot has been said about driving. Much advice has been offered as to what to do and what not to do. I believe that good driving is simply a state of mind, and that as soon as any one discovers how easy it is to handle a car and how near an impossibility it is for an emergency to arise that cannot be met with little effort, when the simple mechanism of the modern car is mastered, she has learned about all there is to know in order to drive a car.

"Of course one might know what to do under practically all conditions and still not do it. Here is where lots of women fail as good drivers; their fear of doing the wrong thing is so great that they do nothing at all.

"I have yet to see any woman who has not been materially benefited by driving. The fresh air, the co-ordination of eye, mind, and muscle, the exhilaration of feeling that you are master of the powerful and yet tractable motor, and that it will answer your every whim, cannot help but have a beneficial effect on the nerves. In fact, I firmly believe that driving is the best nerve tonic in the world.

"I have driven my car over thousands of miles of all kinds of roads—boulevards, deserts, and mountains. The fact that I have never had an accident of any kind adds a lot to the sum total of my pleasure, of course, but I know that even had I experienced a lot of trouble I would not sacrifice for a great deal the actual gain in health and the joy of driving that I have experienced in my car.

Application Blank For Auto Drivers Asks Everything And Then Some

New York motorists just now are in the midst of a period of peevishness over the new state law requiring all drivers there to have operators' licenses. Folks from Illinois who may be contemplating a trip to Broadway will have a share in this, for the law provides, among other things, that visiting motorists who stay for more than ten days must take out such licenses themselves.

The natives, however, are disturbed chiefly because, though the measure was passed by the state legislature, its operation was restricted for some reason to New York City. Another cause for complaint is the things they have to tell before they can get a license.

The application blank requires to know the age, color, sex, height, color of eyes, and color of hair of the applicant. The rest of the twenty questions asked are these:

What type of motor vehicle do you desire to operate?
How long have you operated motor vehicles?
How many miles (approximately) have you operated motor vehicles?
Are you familiar with the rules of the road and the provisions of the motor vehicle law of the state of New York?
Have you any mental or physical incapacity or infirmity of which you are aware, which would in any way interfere with the proper management and control by you of motor vehicles?
Have you ever had an accident while operating a motor vehicle? If so, give particulars and state whether any injury resulted.
Have you ever been granted a chauffeur's license in this state? If so, give year, badge number.
Do you wear glasses? If so, in what respect is your eyesight defective?
Do you use intoxicating liquors? If so, to what extent?
Are you addicted to the use of morphine or other drugs?
Have you ever been convicted of any crime under the laws of this or any other state, or the regulations, ordinances, or laws of any city, town or village, relating to the use of motor vehicles upon the public highways? If so, give nature of offense, in what court convicted? Date of conviction? Penalty imposed.
Give complete residence address.
Give complete business address.

GERMAN ADMITS SUPERIORITY OF ALLIED AIRMEN

Mastery Conceded By Gen. Von Hoepner To Franco-British Aviators

HUN BRAGGADOCIO

Century Old German Military Tradition Cannot Be "Caught Up"

The Hague, Netherlands, July 27. (Correspondence) — Interesting comparisons of British, French and German methods of air-fighting were made recently by General Von Hoepner, Commander of the German flying forces in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of the Holland News Bureau. General Von Hoepner admitted that the air forces of the Entente Allies were superior on the western front and in the Balkans, but said that on the eastern front the German airmen outnumbered their adversaries. Mere superiority in numbers, however, he professes to believe, meant nothing when compared with the quality of machines and of the men flying them. He added:

"The Frenchman is obviously not to be placed on a par with our airmen from the point of view of morale, but it is just in flying the British proves that he is of German race and therefore has a love of fighting. In general the Frenchman only attacks when he feels himself numerically superior. He avoids a fight under equal conditions. The Briton seeks the combat. The Frenchman only attacks once; if the first attack be unsuccessful, he immediately retreats. The Englishman, on the other hand, fights till he or his opponent goes under."

"In their Spad aeroplanes of 200 horse-power, and the British Sopwith machines which mostly equal our best machines."

"More important, however, than the superiority of the machines is that of the crews. The enemy battle airmen are just as much up to their eyes as ours. That is not so, however, with the reconnoitring airmen. In the case of the French, their training, which should be of a purely military character, is mediocre; while with the British it is even inferior. Here are to be found the deeper causes of the better performances of our fliers."

"To Britishers flying is a sport, a climax whereof is a fight. They like the combat regardless of the question whether the carrying out of the charge entrusted to them renders necessary or not. The German is first of all a soldier, who looks upon every flight as a military operation, and that decides his line of conduct. Our proportionately smaller losses, therefore, show that our commanders are too good soldiers to set their airmen impossible tasks. Moreover, the airmen are not sent out singly, for the fulfillment of military tasks is more important than all spirit of sport and all bravery. The century-old German military tradition cannot be caught up by the three years' warfare of the British."

"A final inquiry as to who the Germans prefer to meet as enemies elicited the response: 'That is a question which may not be put.' It is not the sporting achievement, but the fulfillment of the charge in hand, that is the main thing. With us every soldier wants to be a Boelcke—the death of his comrades does not frighten him."

Sleeplessness. You can't sleep in the stillest night, if your digestion is bad. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla—it strengthens the stomach and establishes that condition in which sleep regularly comes and is sweet and refreshing.

Good Night Stories

DICKY, THE BROWNIE AND MAMMA GRAY RABBIT.

Dicky poked his stick under the bushes. A big gray rabbit ran out, hopped across the field as fast as it could and disappeared under another pile of twigs. Dicky ran his stick under. Some one touched his arm. Dicky turned—a little brownie stood at his side.

"What's the idea? What do you want to chase that poor rabbit for? He isn't doing you any harm," said the brownie.

Dicky hung his head.

"I just wanted to see him hop," replied Dicky. "I don't mean to harm him."

"You boys don't stop to think of the trouble you bring those poor little animals when you chase them like that. If you did but know it, only yesterday the father of that rabbit's family disappeared and now she had to hunt food for her babies," said the brownie.

"Some one kill him?" asked Dicky with a sigh.

The brownie shook his head. "She doesn't know, but he never came home."

Dicky had never thought of a rabbit having a home or a family, and he felt badly over the accident that must have happened to Mr. Rabbit.

"Suppose you come with me, I'll show you, said the brownie, and they went over to the bushes where Mamma Gray Rabbit hid.

"Come out, Mamma Gray Rabbit. Dicky isn't going to hurt you," said the brownie, and after much coaxing on his part and many promises on Dicky's part they at last convinced Mamma Gray Rabbit that neither intended to harm her, so she hopped from under the bushes.

The brownie told her he was just on his way to visit her little ones when he met Dicky, and asked if he might take Dicky with them. Mamma Gray Rabbit said all right, and they soon reached the rabbit home, which was under the brush pile in the corner of the old fence.

The brownie touched Dicky with his magic wand and Dicky grew small enough to enter the doorway, and he followed Mamma Gray Rabbit and the brownie inside.

It was a clean little room and three little bunnies played on the floor. Dicky thought them the sweetest things he'd ever seen.

"You surely must be very proud of them!" cried Dicky. "What a free life you must live out here!"

SIDE TALKS

RUTH CAMERON LONG DISTANCE RUDENESS.

"What strikes and frightens the backward European almost as much as anything in America is the efficiency and fearful universality of the American telephone. The average middle class householder in England still speaks of his telephone, if he has one, in the same falsely casual tone as the corresponding American is liable to speak of his motor car." —Arnold Bennett.

It is good to get a foreigner's point of view once in a while, isn't it?

"Efficiency and fearful universality" certainly are a clever characterization of our telephone. We have become so used to it ourselves that we don't realize how wonderful, how pervasive and how almost alarming it is.

Too Bad Mr. Bennett Didn't Stay Longer.

And we don't realize also some of the abuses into which we have drifted. Too bad Mr. Bennett couldn't have stayed long enough to have really lived among us and then he could have held them up to us, and we should have seen ourselves as others see us in that respect too.

One feels ashamed to follow in such great footsteps but in this case one wants so much to point out a certain abuse that one is emboldened to do. The particular abuse I mean this time is that of the persistent and intrusive telephone caller.

THE WOMAN WHO CAN'T MAKE UP HER MIND.

A neighbor of mine told me this story. She had some dealings with another woman in regard to the purchase of a certain piece of furniture. The other woman could not make up her mind whether she wanted it or not. Then one day she made up her mind that she wanted it and wanted it in a hurry. She called up my neighbor. The latter was out dining with some new friends, people she knows but slightly. The woman tried to get my telephone number. The maid relayed the message to her. Finally she harried the maid into it by insisting that her business was very important. She then called up and summoned my neighbor in the middle of a formal dinner. She called up my neighbor. She would never have gone to that house.

Now that woman would never have gone to the house and interrupted the dinner. She would have known that it was absolutely impermissible. But just because it was impermissible, a telephone she lost her sense of values.

That is not an isolated case. We all know people who do through the telephone what they wouldn't think of doing face to face.

And yet long distance rudeness is just as much rudeness as the face to face variety.

TO USE GERMAN STEAMERS

Washington, July 27.—The big German Steamship, Vaterland, seized at New York by the American Government when war was declared on Germany, will be ready for service shortly. Repairs to the ship have cost slightly less than $1,000,000.

More than half the German vessels taken over by the United States have been repaired and put on the seas. All those taken in American continental ports will have been repaired in a few weeks.

A wire has been received at Camp Borden headquarters from Ottawa granting permission to the A. C. G. here to grant passes for men to go to points in the United States on their last leave.

STEWED TRIPE

One pound of tripe, cut in small pieces, put in pint of cold water, boil 30 minutes, then add pint of milk; take a teaspoon of flour to thicken, and large piece of butter, salt and pepper to taste. Very nice served with baked potatoes.

ROAST HAM

Split a ham, set it before a moderate fire to roast about 2 hours, turning the spit frequently, then take it up on a dish, peel off the rind, scrape all the fat out of the roaster, put it to the fire to roast again about two hours more, basting it often, in the same way as you do beef.

To make the gravy, put the dripping from the roaster into a saucepan, add a cup of water, a little flour and give it one boil. Served in a sauce tureen. I think it is far superior to a boiled ham.

VEAL CROQUETS

Take very finely minced veal, moisten it with cream and a beaten egg, season with salt, sweet paprika and a little pounded mace, form into small cones, either by hand or in a wine glass, crumb the outside and fry as you do oysters. They both look and taste like oysters.

VEAL CUTLETS With Parmesan

Wipe the veal with a damp cloth, remove the bone, skin and tough membranes, pound, cut in pieces suitable for serving, cover with boiling water, let simmer till tender, then drain, dry with a napkin, sprinkle with pepper and salt, dip in beaten egg, sprinkle with parmesan, dip in cracker crumbs rolled fine, and fry on both sides until a golden brown; use one-half pound of one-half butter, serve with macaroni and rice cooked with tomatoes.

Lesson V.—Third Quarter, For July 29, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Isa. iv, 1-13—Memory Verses, 1, 2—Golden Text, Isa. lv, 6—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The last part of Isaiah, chapters xi to xvi, may be said to begin and end with comfort for his people, Israel, in connection with His coming in glory (xi, 1, 2, 10, 11, xvi, 13, 15, 18, and as then will be the overthrow of their enemies there is an easy connection between the last lesson and this. These last twenty-seven chapters of Isaiah are easily divided into three nines, the first and second of which end with the same words, "No peace, saith the Lord or saith my God, to the wicked" (xviii, 22; xix, 21). Our lesson today is in the middle nine, and the middle chapter of this nine is the fifty-third, which tells of the only way of peace for any sinner or for all sinners. The next chapter tells of God's unchanging loving kindness for Israel and of their future establishment in righteousness by their Redeemer, the God of the whole earth (lvi, 5-14). Today's lesson chapter is a cry to all who thirst to come to the God of Israel, the fountain of living waters (Jer. ii, 13). All that is represented by living water, wine and milk and is offered freely to whosoever will, according to Rev. xxi, 6; xxii, 17; John iv, 14; vii, 37. Love cannot be bought, nor can any of the gifts of God, but He says, "I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely" (Hos. xiv, 4; S. of Sol. viii, 7; Rom. iii, 24).

Spending money for that which is not bread reminds us of that which is to the 5,900, "Labor not for that which perishes, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of Man shall give unto you" (John vi, 27). The words "Hearken diligently unto Me," "hear and your soul shall live" (verses 2, 3), are very like John v, 24, where we learn that hearing and believing His word give everlasting life and the assurance of not coming into judgment for one sin.

In the study of all prophecy we must remember that His thoughts are first for Israel and then for all nations, but there is always a message for every individual believer, whether Jew or gentile, as we have already seen. The sure mercies of David take us to the covenant ordered in all things and sure which comforted David in his dying hours (II Sam. xxiii, 5; vii, 16).

There is only one Leader and Commander who can rule Israel, even the one who brought them out of Egypt and put them in the promised land and gave them judges and kings and always delivered them when they cried unto Him—He of whom the Lord said to Jeremiah, "I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth; His name shall be called the Lord our Righteousness" (Jer. xxiii, 5, 6). See also Isa. ix, 6, 7; Luke i, 31-33. Nations have never yet in all the history of the world turned to the Lord as nations, but when Israel shall have become a righteous nation by receiving their Messiah at His coming again in power and glory then shall be fulfilled such words as these: "The nations shall come to Thy light and kings to the brightness of Thy rising;" "Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion, for, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord, and many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day and shall be My people" (Isa. xxv, 8, 9; lx, 1-3; Zech. ii, 10, 11). Lesson verses 6, 7, seem to be a call to individuals now and at all times, and what great encouragement there is to all sinners to turn to the Lord in the offer of abundant pardon and mercy! The Lord loves to do all things abundantly, whether it be giving life or an entrance into His kingdom or supplying a present need, and if we will only deal rightly with Him He promises more blessing than we can receive (John x, 10; I Pet. i, 11; Matt. xiv, 20; Mal. iii, 10).

The seeking means earnest, persistent, whole hearted turning to Him (Jer. xxiv, 7; xxix, 13). Verses 8, 9, should teach us the folly of our thoughts and ways, inasmuch as His are far above ours as the heavens are higher than the earth. Yet there are so many who know not the thoughts of the Lord, either concerning His great and free salvation or His purpose in this age and the ages to come (Mic. iv, 12; Eph. iii, 11). Verses 10, 11, are especially grand words for rainy or snowy days, but good at all times. When I have given the Lord's message I am continually comforted by the assurance that it always accomplishes His pleasure, and never returns to Him void and that results are sure, whether we see them or not. Words that go well with these are, "I will watch over my word to perform it" and "No word from God shall be void of power" (Jer. i, 12, R. V.; Luke i, 37, R. V.).

If only we are the Lord's messengers with the Lord's message (Hag. i, 13) we can always go on our way saying, "Thank God, that will work. Some look for so many souls from a service or other definite results of their own desire, but it seems to me better to give the message and leave results to Him, always expecting them and sure of them, but leaving it to Him to accomplish His pleasure and knowing that in due time He shall see of the travail of His soul and be satisfied (Isa. 11, 11).

GIRLS' EMPIRE COAT.

By Anabel Worthington.

There are many times in the summer when a lightweight coat is a welcome protection against the chill in the air. The one shown in No. 8333, is ideal for this purpose, as it is a suitable style for faille, taffeta, satin, poplin, moire or corduroy. The front of the upper part and the skirt section are cut in one. The back of the coat is plain and the lower section is joined to the side front sections and gathered at the waistline. Loose pockets swing from the high waistline, which is accented by straps buttoned on to the upper part. The regulation coat sleeves have turned back cuffs. The coat has a broad, childish looking sailor collar.

The coat pattern, No. 8333, is cut in five sizes, 6 to 14 years. The eight-year size requires 2 yards of 36 inch material or 2 3/4 yards of 44 inch.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS
The sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, who was the possessor of the present war, and has since continued to be a British subject or a subject of an allied or neutral country, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for District. Entry by proxy may be made on certain conditions. But six months residence upon and cultivation of land in each of three years.
In certain districts a homesteader may secure an adjoining quarter-section as an extension. First $100 per acre. Duties—reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres extra. May obtain pre-emption patent as soon as homestead patent on certain conditions.
A settler after obtaining homestead patent, may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $100 per acre. Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $2000.
Holders of entries may count time of payment as farm laborers in Canada during 1917, as residence duties under certain conditions.
When lands are advertised or posted for entry, returned soldiers who are completely discharged, receive one day priority in applying for entry at local Agent's office. Their names and addresses on discharge papers must be presented to Agent.
Deputy Minister of the Interior
N.B.—Detailed publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE
Starches, cornstarches and corn syrups were among the lines in which considerable advances were recorded during the week. Increases in the markets for these commodities have been due to the acute situation in corn. Cocoa is in extra heavy demand at present. One large manufacturer is about to double the capacity of present plant in order to take care of the trade that has developed within recent months. One line of package cocoa advanced during the week. Mustard powder and egg powder and washboards were included in the lines in which there were changes in an upward direction. Cooked meats, such as boiled and roast hams, were in slightly higher market, but smoked hams were quoted down. Trade in the latter has been dull and prices were lowered to induce business. In pure lard there was a decidedly easier tone during the week, due to the eagerness for some of the larger concerns to get business. Butter was in steady and firm market, but eggs were on the up-grade, advances having been recorded. Production in the latter is now lighter.
Refiners were still quoting in a divided market so far as accord on prices on sugar is concerned. With law situation exhibiting strength the oil opinion prevails that the refiner quoting at the low figure will in the not distant future move upward. Flour was unchanged for Manitoba, but in a fairly strong market. Millfeeds of all kinds are in better demand and prices are ruling firm at the high quotations of last week. Travellers for wholesale throughout Ontario will not make their rounds during the coming two weeks, as it is vacation period. The arrangement has been made by common consent among the various wholesalers. Business continued somewhat quiet during the week.

American Red Cross Mission To Russia

American Red Cross Mission on the "Empress of Asia" en route to Russia. Dr. Frank Billings on left.

A distinguished party of physicians, surgeons, bacteriologists, professors of food chemistry, sanitation experts and dentists, making up the first unit of the United States Red Cross mission to Russia, numbering twenty-nine in all, left Vancouver the other day on the "Empress of Asia," en route to the eastern front.

Lieut. Col. Frank Billings, professor of medicine in the University of Chicago, is in charge of the party and is taking to Russia over $100,000 worth of medical supplies, surgical instruments, dressings, water sterilizers and other necessary articles, including vaccine for the prevention of typhoid, smallpox, cholera, diphtheria, bubonic plague, meningitis and other diseases. A heavy task lies before them in Russia, and they are going abundantly prepared to be immediately to work.

The mission is being sent out by the United States Government and the United States Red Cross Society will see that they are kept fully supplied in order to meet all demands for alleviating the suffering among the Russian soldiers and people. The move has been gratefully welcomed by the present Russian Government as an expression of the friendship of the people of the United States for Russia.

During the past month the United States Red Cross has raised over $125,000, and while the work has been already begun in France, Italy, Serbia and Belgium, the present is the first of similar units to be sent to Russia. The present party will investigate and report on Russia's needs and upon this report the United States Red Cross headquarters will decide the equipment and numbers of subsequent units. Steps are now being taken to get together complete equipment, even to motor ambulances.

Col. Billings and the other members of the mission are a sturdy and able lot of men and are fitted out in uniforms very similar to those worn by the British. The colonel is exceedingly proud of his organization and its complete equipment with which it was effected.

"Every man who was approached to go on this mission, Winlow of the United States Red Cross, says that all the others at once offered their services," said Col. Billings. "They dropped their work right there and got ready in four days, leaving their families behind them, to undertake this work, which is going to be of such tremendous importance to the Russian nation and to the military in particular."

"These men are leaders in their professions and are the heads of the large attendance of members and their friends and a great deal of business was transacted, with Mrs. Turnbull, president, in the chair.

After the usual opening exercises a most interesting and instructive paper on the "Life of Pauline Johnson" was read by Mrs. W. Chatterton, after which Miss Moffat rendered a very pleasing solo entitled "Smiles."

Mrs. Simpson in her usual pleasing manner contributed a violin solo.

A most inspiring paper on "Friendship" was read by Mrs. J. Greenfield, after which Miss Bowen sang a delightful solo accompanied by Mrs. Simpson.

A collection was taken up for the Red Cross, which added a nice sum to that most worthy cause. The president also contributed to the programme by reading a humorous poem on Institute Ways.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the hostesses, Mrs. Storey, a most pleasant and profitable meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

ELIMINATE FOOD WASTE

Extravagance in Canada Must Give Way To Thrift, Economy

An army fights on its belly. Enough money is being wasted on foodstuffs in the Dominion every year to feed a score of Canadian divisions. Men and women at home are still purchasing luxuries and indulging in extravagant expenditures. All the time the world shortage of food grows more severe. Ten nations are now on rations. Canada must practise thrift in expenditures, economy in foodstuffs, if the Dominion is to give its European Allies that support which is essential to victory. The armies at the front must be fed. They must be equipped and clothed and rationed. Every man and woman in the Dominion should be helping to win the war. A common way of war service is open to all. War Savings Certificates are on sale at every bank and every money order post office. By purchasing such certificates you are strengthening the financial resources of the Dominion and helping to bear the war burdens.

New ANNEXATION IN THE

Would Not Dine German Indemnify Their Losses

By Courier Leased Wire
London, July 30.—Statesman Dr. Michaelis, German imperial councillor and Count Czernin, pro-Hungarian foreign minister, which are reported here as having been made in a discussion, dominated columns of the morning papers. They are generally territorial, as a sign of while the absence of referendum by made in Belgium and considered to exclude all other desire for peace by using Anglo-German peace treaties accompanied by an and to evacuate and restore territories, is declared merely aimed at delaying America's actions for war.

Herr Michaelis' accusations against France are dismissed by statements as best left for French allies, but discuss others, one of which says that the absence of referendum by the Daily News, remaining was although the editor's statements are value evidence, they cannot be left to the Germans. The paper of war aims, to be formulated coming conference of allies, constitute an explicit disavowal of thought of conquest for quest's sake. The paper describes the "ignorance of the folly" Edward Carson's threat to Germany when the Rhine, says have given Herr Michaelis a weapon which he was swift to render the weapon into even turning it against himself and the reputation of his charge come quickly, and in a form no loophole for misinterpretation. The Chronicle proclaims that it would be unwise to ally with Germany, as the German soil. It points out that the chancellor talks of vast territorial ambitions, he mentions the Saar valley, and it suggests that the German frontier of 1914 which would involve a little of the German side of from five to ten miles.

If France desired this for reasons, the Chronicle would she necessarily had the right it would be an exceedingly unwise ally to compare to for an ally to Germany's side in 1871. It must be remembered too, that after losing millions in killed and wounded war forced upon her, and she has borne the brunt of the struggle for liberty throughout France has the right to make territorial claims for her future allies such as Germany had in 1871 and no other state unless it would have to-day.

Berlin, Saturday, July 28th. July 30.—Official announcement of the appointment of Prussian ministerial post not expected to be made. Chancellor Michaelis returns official visits to Vienna and Munich the latter part of week.

Herr Michaelis has been in communication with leading members of the Prussian house, and the selection of the who are to assist him in ca
