this Colony a creditable representation at the work as Fair. Among the articles of Wood and Iron Manufacture, the Reaping and Mowing Machine, made by Mr Elisha Weatherbie, of Lot 49, and the Sewing Machine, manufactured by Mr Hildreth of this City, are most worthy of notice. If such machines can be manufactured here and it has now been proved that they can-why should not the business be taken up by some of our mechanics, and an effort be made to prevent hundreds of pounds being sent every year to the United States to supply the existing demand for these articles? The Axee and Forks, which were also supplied by Mr Wea
