Labor Meeting Draws Full House Sunday Afternoon

The Newcastle Opera House was filled to the doors on Sunday afternoon for a Labor Meeting which was addressed by organizer J. E. Tighe of St. John, N. B. The meeting was called for 3 o'clock, but President J. Martin and Organizer Tighe were half an hour late in arriving from Chatham. The meeting was opened by a few remarks from President Martin who moved that Mr. Joseph Manderson act as Chairman of the meeting. The chairman told the assembly that the meeting was to be a business meeting and requested the gathering to stand for one minute in honor of the heroes who laid down their lives at Vimy Ridge on April 9th 1917.

President Martin was called upon to explain the reasons for calling the meeting and stated that on March 23rd a meeting had been held in Chatham to frame up a schedule of wages for 1920 and as Newcastle was very thinly represented—only three members attending—he thought it advisable to call this meeting and get the opinion from the members of the Newcastle Branch of the Union. Mr. Martin said that all the other towns had been well represented and he wished to acquaint the Newcastle Branch of what the Chatham meeting had decided on. He said a schedule of wages for 1920 had been drawn up and a copy of same had been mailed under registered letter to each employer on the 25th of March, and replies had been received from all employers except James Robinson, T. E. Edward Sinclair Lumber Co.; Wm. Sullivan; and D. J. Buckley. Each employer in his reply had stated that they were prepared to give substantial increases to their employees during the year but they intended to deal with the men individually instead of with a committee appointed by the Labor Union. The speaker had a conversation with Mr. W. B. Snowball in Chatham and Mr. Snowball stated that he was prepared to discuss the matter of ship working with the committee but not so in connection with the mill workers. Mr. Snowball also said he was prepared to give increases from 50 cents to $1.00 per day and Mr. Brankley had offered a little better wage scale than Mr. Snowball. Mr. Martin said that he felt that the employers should deal with all the crafts of the organization and not with special ones such as the shipmen.

If it had not been for the organization which was now perfected, these mill owners would not be so anxious to give increases such as Messrs. Snowball and Brankley had offered. The meeting had been called for the purpose of ascertaining the opinions of the Newcastle Workers, whether they wished to deal individually with the employers or allow the committee to look after their interests. He said the meeting was open for all members to express their opinions and would be pleased to hear from any who wished to present their views.

Organizer J. E. Tighe was the next speaker who stated that he was pleased to again address a meeting of Newcastle Laborers, and said he understood the meeting was called for the purpose of ascertaining the Newcastle Worker's views regarding the operator's intention of dealing with the men individually instead of collectively. He did not care whether it was open shop or closed shop on the Miramichi but it did matter to him whether the operators dealt with the Union Organization. The Committee appointed in Chatham represented the Union as a whole and the operators must be given to understand that they were the ones with whom they must deal regarding the wage scale. He touched on some amendments which were being asked for the Workmen's Compensation Board and he thought that within a short time they would be successful in obtaining the desired result. He advised all present, who were not now members of the Union to become members at once. He invited any who might be in the hall who were not favorably disposed towards Unionized Labor to take the platform and present their views which would be appreciated. At present he stated that Bestigouche County was awaiting to see what the Miramichi did regarding wages for 1920 and the Miramichi was waiting to see what St. John did. All were playing the waiting game and what was most essential was for all the men on the Miramichi to be of one opinion, and he felt that if they stood behind the committee which was appointed to present their case, the differences would very soon be settled.

President Martin was asked to read the correspondence submitted by the committee to the operators, and in doing so gave the schedule of wages for 1920, which was arrived at, as follows. The minimum wages for

Band Saw Sawyers	$8.00 per day
Band Re Sawyers	6.00 per day
Rotary Sawyers	6.00 per day
Band Saw Steam Setters	5.00 per day
Band Saw Hand Setters	5.50 per day
Fillers	6.00 per day
Filler's Helpers	4.25 per day
Lath Sawyers	5.00 per day
Lath Binders	4.50 per day
Handy Men	4.50 per day
Shingle Sawyers	5.00 per day
Mill Surveyors (inside)	5.00 per day
Mill Surveyors (outside)	6.75 per day
Tally men	75c per hour
Shingle Branchers	3.50 per day
Mill Foremen	4.00 per day
General Laborers	4.00 per day
Pulp Wood Barkers	4.00 to 4.25 a day
Night Watchman	4.00 per day
Deaf Carriers	4.00 per day
Teamsters (double)	3.75 per day
Teamsters (single)	3.50 per day
Edgermen	5.00 per day
Inside Shipmen	75c per hour
Outside Shipmen	60c per hour
Loading Cars	60 cts per hour
Boom men	4.50 per day

The day's work to constitute 9 hours. All overtime and Sundays to be paid for at double time.

No work to be done on Dominion Day which will be recognized as Labor Day. Letters in reply to the above schedule of wages were read from the following concerns.

A. R. Loggie & Co., Geo. Burchill & Sons, Fraser Company, O'Brien Ltd, John Maloney and D. & J. Ritchie Co. in which they all stated that they intended dealing with the men individually rather than collectively. Joseph Manderson said that this meeting was the place and time for any member who had anything to say to say it, and not around the street corners and Barber shops. He wanted the meeting to stand back of the organization and to let the operators know that they must deal with the men as an organization. Some members of the Union found fault with the schedule, and said that some branches of work were not receiving the same treatment that others were.

President Martin thought that the men who attended the meeting in Chatham on March 23rd were the ones who had the right to make up the schedule, and if any were dissatisfied with it, they had only themselves to blame by not attending and expressing their views. Organizer Tighe was of the same opinion as President Martin and he thought that now a schedule had been framed up it was the duty of the organization to adhere to it. No doubt mistakes had been made and would continue to be made but it was an absolute impossibility to satisfy everyone.

It was moved and seconded and unanimously carried and adopted "That this meeting endorse the action of the meeting held in Chatham on March 23rd; viz. To demand the minimum wages asked for in the schedule submitted to the employers, and to have the employers deal with the men as an organization instead of as individuals."

Organizer Tighe stated that he was pleased with the passing of the above motion and felt that the matter would be speedily settled satisfactorily to all concerned.

He wished the members to understand that the matter of wages was not the only thing which must interest them as there were many more vital matters which required attention as well. He said that Labor

No Cash Bonus For Returned Men

Two important announcements by the Government featured what was otherwise a dull day in the House of Commons on Friday. The first of these was the statement by Acting Premier Sir George Foster shortly after the opening at three o'clock. That the Government had not changed its mind concerning the granting of a cash bonus to returned soldiers and that it did not consider it a wise measure of re-establishment to place a large sum of money in the hands of each returned man. The second announcement, also from the Acting Premier in answer to a question by J. E. Armstrong, Lambton, was to the effect that the Government had no daylight saving bill under contemplation at the present time. Daylight saving, said Sir George was entirely a matter for the towns and villages which wished to adopt it.

Healthy Children Always Sleep Well

The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never fussy but always happy and laughing. It is only the rickety child that is cross and peevish. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion and promote healthful sleep. must have laws protecting themselves and they must also see that Labor received its proper representation in Parliament.

Mr. Blackstock Matheson for the Ship workers and Mr. William A'Hern for the mill workers were appointed as Newcastle representatives on the committee which was to meet with the employers to discuss the wage schedule for 1920.

Messrs. Michael King and Wm Black were appointed alternates. At this point the proceedings became somewhat heated, by a member in the audience asking the chair, whether or not that the mover and seconder of the above nominations were bona-fide members of the Union. On being asked by the chair, several of the movers refused to answer.

The Chairman, Joseph Manderson, arose at this juncture and stated that actions such as these were very unbecoming for a labor organization and he did not wish the general public to look upon them, as Bolshevike, Secular Labor was above such a type. He had made the request to have this meeting held and had been told by the authorities that if the proceedings were carried on quietly, it would be alright, and if the members did not have any self-respect, they might at least have respect for the Sabbath. Mr. Manderson's remarks was most timely and he is to be congratulated on his foresight, as there is no doubt but that argument was beginning to wax warm. Organizer Tighe again congratulated the meeting for the interest manifested and stated that the committee appointed would at a later date call a mass meeting for the purpose of making their report and to seek ratification of same from the organization. On motion the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Allain in Budget Debate

Mr. Allain (Northumberland) on the house resuming after recess, rose to continue the debate. He extended his congratulations to Hon. Mr. Speaker and also to the mover and seconder of the address. He said that many Hon. members on both sides had taken part in the debate and whether they had acted in the interest of their constituencies or not their names had appeared in the press and that was probably some satisfaction to them. He was pleased to endorse what had been said in regard to the visit of the Prince of Wales and he hoped that His Royal Highness would be able to return to the province on some future occasion. There had been some railway legislation before the house, but nothing had been done regarding the much talked of railway in the northern part of the province. He trusted that the federal government would in the near future be able to take over the Carquet Railway and that the missing link would be built along the North Shore. He had sympathy for the hon. member from Grand Manan in the difficulties which he experienced during the winter months in travelling to and from his home. He (Allain) had given a more serious time of it. On the last trip to his home it had taken him seven hours to reach the nearest railway station. If the missing link was built between the two places a rich section of the province would be opened up for settlement and sufficient cord wood which was now wasted in clearing land, would be saved to provide fuel for some of the largest towns in the province. The inhabitants of his section were practically shut off from the world a month and a half in the fall and for some length of time in the spring. A steamer operated on the river during the summer months but in the late fall and early spring there was no chance to import and export goods. Had he been a member of the House when the Valley Railway bill was passed he would have supported it only on conditions that railway facilities be provided for an important section of the North Shore.

Expert Reports on N. B. Telephone Co.

Samuel H. Mildram, of Boston, expert accountant and consulting engineer employed by the Public Utilities Board to examine the books of the New Brunswick Telephone Company in connection with the company's application for an increase in rates for service, submitted his findings and recommendations to the Board which held a short session in St. John, on Wednesday.

Mr. Mildram complimented the company for careful financing, sound judgment and good business principles. He found that the estimated revenue for the 24,000 stations would be $766,560, or $31.94 per station. The total expenditures would be $976,946 or $40.79 per station showing a deficit of $212,388 or $8.85 per station.

Mr. Mildram said that eight per cent was not an unreasonable return for stockholders. Regarding a remedy for the deficit, Mr. Mildram said that business firms or those using telephones a great deal should bear the burden, as farmers and persons in small towns and villages could not. Many residences telephones could not stand a material increase either. He favored increasing the revenue by introducing a modified form of measured service rates to apply only to business subscribers in the largest groups of exchanges and increase the remaining flat rate for business and residences all over the territory, but to a much lesser degree than would have been done under the other methods. Doctors and nurses, he said, should pay business rates. He also said more income should be forthcoming from advertising in the telephone directories.

The hearing of the company's application will be resumed on May 15 in this city.

JAMES DICKISON BADLY BEATEN

Revolver shots were fired and a sub-inspector under the liquor act was badly beaten in a fracas last Tuesday night at Nash's Creek, Restigouche County. The parish priest was giving an entertainment and, having learned that some hoodlums were planning trouble, he had applied to the chief inspector, Rev. W. D. Wilson, for assistance. James Dickison, of Chatham, and Joshua Gammon, of Bathurst, were detailed for duty there and were on hand when the rioters arrived and it is reported made an attack on members of the priest's party. When the inspectors attempted to arrest some of the men who appeared to be under the influence of liquor a free fight followed during which the marauders used revolvers—happily without effect. Dickison downed one man but was tripped and received severe treatment at the hands and feet of the visitor before Gammon could rescue him.

Finally they drove off the attack and took one prisoner, who was confined to Dalhousie where he is charged with having liquor in his possession and also with interfering with the inspectors in the discharge of their duty. Other members of the gang may also have to face charges.

PRINCE WILL VISIT HIS RANCH AND SAIL FROM HALIFAX

No word has been received officially in Ottawa of any change in the plan by which the Prince of Wales would visit Canada on his return from the Antipodes. His Royal Highness did not propose to do more than visit his ranch in Alberta for a short rest during this Canadian visit. No definite programme has been arranged up to date, but it was understood that the Royal party would leave H. M. S. Renown at Vancouver about the middle of October next, travelling straight to High River, Alberta, visiting only in the most informal way enroute. His stay at his ranch will not be very long in any case, and he will travel across Canada in November next, aboard the Renown at Halifax homeward bound.

CIVIC ELECTION

Next Tuesday, the civic election for Mayor and Aldermen will be held, and up to the present time of writing Mayor D. P. Doyle is the only candidate in the field, who is again re-seeking election as Mayor, and not one nominee for the Aldermans Board yet mentioned. This should not be. Too many citizens think it does not matter if they wait until the last minute on Nomination Day, to offer themselves as Candidates. This careless attitude may well lead to the defeat of many who pursue this method. There is only one safe rule to pursue, which is for all those who contemplate placing their nominations, to do so early and show the ratepayers that they take a real interest in their town's welfare. The very essence of good civic administration demands an active general interest by the citizens in the conduct of their own affairs, and the ratepayers should examine well the available material offered for Mayor and Aldermen. The electorate should avoid all sentimental considerations, remembering that they are selecting by their votes, men who will have to carry on the business of the town and that the same qualities are demanded as those which are necessary for the successful carrying on of any enterprise. In looking over the list of nominations it is reasonable for the ratepayers to ask, how the different candidates have administered their own affairs, what their relations with other citizens have been, what training do they possess, whether they have courage, prudence and public spirit and in short how far each one of them is justified in asking the people for their confidence and support. If we wish the business of the town to be properly conducted we must secure men of common sense, fair-mindedness, foresight and men free from sectionalism and prejudice. These are the essential qualities for men seeking civic positions and are matters which the ratepayers would do well to take into consideration on election day. Every person eligible to vote has a right to do so, and by not doing so encourage the very form of civic weakness of which he most complains. The citizen who is not sufficiently interested to go to the polls, has no right to make an outcry over the result. The ordinary tax payer, usually has very definite views concerning most of the matters pertaining to our town, and the only means he has of getting things done along the lines he desires, is to turn out on election day and give his support to the candidate he regards best fitted for the Council.

RE-PLEBISCITE

A plebiscite will be held on Election Day to change the present method of electing eight new Aldermen each year, to the election of the four highest candidates to hold office for two years, and thereafter to elect four new Aldermen each year for the period of two years. If this plebiscite carries, instead of electing eight Aldermen each year, four only will be elected and each year four Aldermen instead of eight as at present will retire. A number of reasons for such an arrangement are mooted and we publish a few of them so our citizens can think them over and decide for themselves whether or not they consider it advisable to make the change. At present it is almost impossible to secure eight new Aldermen each year, to place themselves as Candidates, and it will be much easier to secure four. And the four Aldermen who remain on the Board are known to the citizens who may be aspirants and who will be in a position then to judge for themselves, before placing their nominations, if they feel justified to work on the Board with the ones already holding office. The candidates for Mayor will also know four of the men with whom they will be associated with during their term of office. By continuing on the Board two years, the new Aldermen will have the chance to know the men with whom they will be associated with during their term of office.

knowledge of unfinished business. It is argued that during the first year, the Aldermen are just beginning to have a grasp of things when their term expires. If they have a second term it is claimed by many that they would be in a better position to accomplish something. The town's interests are protected by the ratepayers electing each year the majority of the council, and in this way the liability of bad management on the part of second term men will be offset. The above may or may not be advantages, as in the case of a man who, during his first year, makes a decided failure as an Alderman, in which case one year is enough or rather more than enough, for the town to be penalized by such an one. However these are matters for the ratepayers to judge for themselves, and we simply give the above reasons in argument of the change, and leave the matter entirely in the hands of the ratepayers for their approval or disapproval as they deem best.

THE ENTERPRISE BLAZER FURNACE heats your home in Nature's way. It draws in the sweet pure air from the big outdoors, moistens it thoroughly, turns it into heat and comfort and passes it on to every corner of your home.

The best that base burners and radiators can do is to heat the air that is already in the house—that has been breathed again and again. Stoves choke the air with dust and in real cold weather they fall short of their job. Another reason for the

Iron Clogs of Lancashire

There is something remarkable, says the Christian Science Monitor, in the Lancashire clog when it has the streets to itself, and this was evidenced in no small degree only lately before hours of labor were shortened, say about 5.45 a.m. There is nothing more indicative of the solid character of the Lancashire people than the sturdiness and the self-denial of the clattering crowd who earn their breakfast before they eat it.

In all the Lancashire manufacturing towns, one sound more than any other betokens the opening of a working day. From five o'clock onward, as the men and women turn out for the mills, the pavements ring with a sharp metallic clatter. It is the clang of many ironshod clogs. And in the evening, when the mills are "loosing," the streets again resound to the music of what Webster describes as an "overshoe with a thick sole of leather or wood for wet weather." "Into Lunnon aw'll walk wi' mi clogs on mi feet," says some boaster in a ballad.

None but a Lancashire man would have so spoken, for the clog is a peculiar institution of the mill folk. Yorkshire, it is true, has borrowed the idea from her neighbor, but still the clog is endeared by an intimate association with all that marks the Lancashire breed. To a lover of old things it is sad to be told that the clog is dying out. There are those who say that before many years it will be as obsolete as the crinoline, though there have been threats of a return of the latter in a mixture of feminine foibles and fancies.

Happily these are croakers' prophecies. Many generations to come will doubtless hear, as we do now, the familiar noise awakening a thousand homely thoughts and memories.

And yet in many parts of Lancashire the clog is losing ground before its victorious enemy, the boot. Time was when clogs were generally worn; boots were an expensive luxury, only to be indulged in, if at all, on the Sabbath. Nowadays, boots have become cheaper in comparison with clogs, and the honest clog suffers from modern competition. Another potent factor is the superior respectability of the boot, which confers an elegance on its wearer unknown to the demonstrative clog.

But the old cloggers do not despair for they say that the clog is peculiarly suited to the conditions of mill life. It will stand the wear and tear of flagged floors, and it is not ruined by heat and grease as is the delicate boot. People wear it because their fathers did before them, which is, perhaps, the most hopeful consideration. It is believed that the clog was first introduced into Lancashire when the Flemish weavers came to Bolton in the year 1337, thus establishing the clog as well as the cotton trade of Lancashire.

Like his brother, the shoemaker, the clogger figures in literature as a ripe philosopher and critic of his kind. He is Lancashire in essence. He is wise and he gives generously of his wisdom to all comers. His little shop is hung with rows of finished clogs which make the customer bow his head. Behind the counter—if he is in good business—there will be three or four journeymen busy cutting and stitching the uppers. More often the clogger is master and workman in one.

The place is like the old-fashioned cobbler's shop, which existed before the boot came into vogue. The clogger of to-day works with the same tools as did the earliest cloggers. His is one of the gradually diminishing number of hand industries. Machinery has been tried for shaping the wooden soles, but it cannot supplant the delicate skill of the craftsman.

There is more variation in the shape of clogs than is generally imagined. Customers are measured for them, as they are for boots, and niceties of form are carefully followed in the making. There are the garden clog, the Wallington clog, the dancing clog, the laundry clog, imitation Dutch sabots, the Blucher clog, the washing clog, and many others. The finished soles pass into the shop, where the top leather is firmly fastened and the iron rim nailed on.

In working-class Lancashire almost every one stamps cheerfully about in clogs. There are clogs in the shop windows with a tiny rim of iron, hardly bigger than a doll's shoes. It would seem that the wearers love the sound of the clanking iron, for if the iron comes off the heel they run to the clogger without delay. These mill girls enjoy "the clickety clack of their heels," as one clogger put it.

The biggest expression of the clogger's art is the "Sunday clog." This piece of decoration often bears an elaborate pattern on the front. Sometimes there is a streak of red paint along the sole to give it a dashing appearance, and as a finishing touch there may be three small pearl buttons stitched in a rakish row on the side.

Hellgoland as Bird Sanctuary. It is practically agreed that the island of Hellgoland, late German naval base in the North Sea, has but two possible uses: the one it served as the "Wendish" as a sanctuary for the millions of migratory birds that have long utilized it as a nesting place. Since it will never be permitted to revert to the former state there seems to be little in the way of making it a bird refuge.

THE SEA MUSSEL INDUSTRY

A novel industry which promises rapid expansion and great popularity is no less than the development of a substitute for the succulent but somewhat costly oyster. This is the sea mussel, found in vast quantities along the low tide mark of the Atlantic coast, chiefly in New Brunswick. The Dominion Government, with the co-operation of scientists, has conducted experiments to this end in Western University laboratories and it is now claimed that mussels can be produced commercially and sold profitably at 15 cents per quart, as compared with the $1.00 per quart around which oyster prices hover.

The mussel is by no means a new article of diet to the people of Canada, and besides being used extensively in coast towns has found its way to the tables of inland cities in Central Canada. Its delicacy of flavor and high food value have been much advertised since the establishment of government investigation and experiment, and deserve to be much better known. There is yet much to be done in the line of research to ascertain conditions under which production would be most rapid and profitable, and to this end the Council of Industrial and Scientific Research is devoting its efforts.

A survey of the mussel beds of the St. Croix River, which constitutes the boundary between New Brunswick and Maine, has occupied the attention of a scientist of the council for three years now, and it is expected that this summer will see the satisfactory conclusion of the research. It is believed that the beds of mussels are practically unlimited, and the work occupying those engaged is merely the best conditions of development. It has also been determined that mussels become sweeter and more palatable the farther north they are found, and in this regard Canada has a distinct advantage over the mussel beds to the south of the Dominion. Those of the Hudson's Bay make particularly excellent eating.

The sea mussel cannot be produced in fresh waters so that there is no possibility of developing an industry in the Great Lakes. It is believed that there are possibilities, however, for the development of fresh-water clams there and the Dominion Government at the instigation of the Ontario Fishermen's Association is conducting a series of experiments which will probably result in interesting developments.

THE TIME THEY MISSED IT

Londoners are shy of gold-brick sellers but they miss chances occasionally. To settle a bet, Fred Barnes, well-known London music-hall comedian, stood for five minutes in busy Trafalgar Square offering genuine one pound notes for sale at two pence each. He sold one.

Mark Twain of Canada

In the days when interesting people came to Canada to find it freshly interesting there was no body could reveal the spirit of the land to them like George Ham of the C.P.R. It is said he put Major Foot of the United States out of business. Why go on a wearisome lecture tour under that impressario's guidance when a George Ham could transport you to Winnipeg and on through the delights of the Rockies in all the comfort of a spacious coach? Great personages beseech him to call them by their first names. He has loaned matches to kings and potentates and autographed photographs of his features for admiring authoresses of best sellers. There did once seem to be a time when the truly great would not venture to come to Canada without first ascertaining whether George Ham could receive them. He is said to have got so "fed up" with dukes and royal bodies that he did not mind, for a change, escorting untitled personalities of international fame. Many men whose signatures command imperious power would no more think of forgetting to send him their Christmas cards than they would dream of neglecting a royal command. He is so very much personae grata with all kinds of people in Who's Who, when he arrives in London the court circular has to be enlarged to publish the invitations issued in his honor. Now he has achieved the signal honor of an unpaid-for mention in the exclusive Morning Post. It feels relieved to know that even if the League of Nations be jeopardized, the official entertainer of the C. P. R. is keeping his health and revelling in his high spirits. This bright though aristocratic London paper says George Ham is the Mark Twain of Canada. It claims his jests are beyond computation. He will yet go down to fame as having originated one joke. He has been as generous with his humor as he has been a profitable acquaintance for professional joke-smiths. As he never has patented any of his inimitable quips he often laughs at them when he hears them on the stage, until he realizes that they were of his own making. You may have heard of the Cincinnati millionaire he took to Muskoka. While there the plutocrat was attacked by brigands from Toronto. The chief brigand later complained to the police that in the encounter his watch and chain had been stolen. It should be added that George Ham was not out with his Cincinnati charge when the watch and chain were stolen. Thousands of personages who have enjoyed seeing Canada have testified to how much their enjoyment was due to his kindly wit and indefatigable attention. They have paid tribute to the courtesies he knows so well how to extend in behalf of his railway. But perhaps one of the best tributes ever paid this incomparable humorous elf-omponent of the railway ties, was a copy of verses by Mr. Neil Munro, the Scottish author. He sang how George Ham had "freighted laughter ten thousand miles," when acting as uncle, aunt, brother, father and grandfather to a party of British scribes. They think in Britain that not to have known George Ham of the C. P. R. is to display ignorance of the Empire's geography.

MR. GEORGE HAM

—Winnipeg Telegram.

Bow-Legged Men Best Husbands

New York, April 13—Bow-legged men make the best husbands, while the worst life mate in all the world is the bald-headed male, according to Mrs. Amsterdam Schmidt, of the Bronx, who writes to a local newspaper boasting of the fact that she walked up the centre aisle to the altar with three specimens of the opposite sex. Mrs. Schmidt admits that barbers make simply awful life companions. Mrs. Schmidt declares with a sting that the man who first won her hand in marriage was a "bum" who she said, when not idly playing the banjo during the day, "was never working, shooting craps and getting drunk."

"In the first place," says Mrs. Schmidt, in her verbal barrage, "bald headed men fly around with other men's wives, bust up happy homes and leave a string of broken hearts in their wake, the scoundrels."

"All worthless, foolish women are crazy over worthless, shiftless, bald-headed men; believe me, they are a good match," she continued. "My second venture was a bald-headed man, and although the insurance was small, thank God he has gone to a place where he belongs."

"Ah the bow-legged man," writes Mrs. Schmidt in her letter, and it is evident she heaved a deep sigh at this point, for the pen ran across the length of the page and ended with a blot.

"They make the finest hubbies in all the universe. They are the best and most loving life mates. My third has bow-legs, God bless him, he is an angel, a perfect saint, but by no means a perfect 34. Girls, take my advice and only say 'yes' to the eternal question when the suitor for your hand in marriage has legs that would not stop a pig in an alley."

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side, aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. FROST, 315 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

LITERARY NOTES

The Derby Literary Club held its usual session on Thursday April 1st at the Parsonage.

At a recent meeting it was decided that a more detailed study of some of the poets would be profitable, and in pursuance of this plan the study of "Longfellow" was further continued by a reading with explanatory notes from the "Tales of the Wayside Inn" The reader was Rev. E. Rowlands and all pronounced it very enjoyable. We intend to continue this study next week.

Among the different Queries produced from the Question Box were the following—What is the origin of April Fools Day? Why are dogs teeth always so white? What is the cause of the "Amen Borealis" and what is the weight of the earth? These and many other similar questions keep our mental machinery active.

Billious attacks, constipation, sick headaches, etc., are in the great majority of cases due to digestive trouble and no reasonable person can expect to obtain real or lasting benefits until the cause is corrected.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is a vegetable compound that acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, the purpose being to bring about healthy and harmonious action of all the organs of digestion and elimination. It acts promptly and thoroughly, yet so mildly and gently that there is never the slightest gripping or discomfort.

Once you get your body in this splendid condition, you need not take medicine every day—just take an NR Tablet occasionally when indigestion, biliousness and constipation threaten, and you can always feel your best. ## Safe And Efficient Home Treatment

Many Weak and Ailing People Who Have Been Helped Strongly Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There is only one way to build up a run down system if the blood is pale and thin. Many diseases are caused by thin blood. Other diseases such as influenza and rheumatism cause the blood to become thin and the wasting effect of these disorders cannot be combated successfully until the blood is restored to its normal condition.

Pallor, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, headaches, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, these are a few of the symptoms of an anaemic bloodless condition. Some of them are not naturally associated with thin blood, but the quickest way to overcome them is to make the blood rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do one thing and do it well. They build up the blood increasing the number of red corpuscles. As this is done the blood becomes a richer red and is able to carry more oxygen, the great supporter of human life. As the blood improves in quality the tissues of the body are better nourished and the functions of the body are better performed. The glands of the stomach are stimulated and the first sign of improvement is usually a better appetite and better digestion.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been used for years as a bloodmaking tonic and system builder with such good results that in every community there are many people who are recommending this remedy to their friends and to others who are afflicted.

Here is the statement of one person among thousands who have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to their own great advantage. Mrs. A. Veniot, Hemford, N. S., says:—"For about two years I was a great sufferer from indigestion, which seemed to carry with it a complication of other troubles. Every meal I took brought with it misery, as it was followed by pain, and sometimes nausea and vomiting. At other times gas would form in the stomach to such an extent that my heart would palpitate at an alarming rate. These conditions and irritability and I found my general health so much affected, that the least exertion would tire me and I slept but poorly. I had been doctoring for several months with no result beyond slight temporary relief, when I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to follow this advice and got a half a dozen boxes. Good results soon began to appear from this treatment and the further continued use of the pills have made me a well woman. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to similar sufferers.

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after effects of the grip and fever. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MIRAMICHI HYDRO BILL IS CONSIDERED

The Corporation Committee of the New Brunswick Legislature Friday morning considered the bill relating to the Miramichi Light Heat and Power Company which is desirous of developing electrical energy at White Rapids near Blackville on the Southwest Miramichi. After hearing E. P. Williston the committee decided to consider the bill further on a day to be named next week and of which notice will be given to those interested in the bill.

In Support of Bill Mr. Williston explained that Andrew Wheaton of Halifax formerly of Westmorland County, was one of the men behind the scheme of hydro electric development at White Rapids and Tracey Gould was the engineer. It was estimated that 6,000 horse power could be developed on the White Rapids. The proposed location was four miles from Blackville and twenty from Newcastle. Chatham was six miles further away than Newcastle. All were within easy reach. The promoters did not object to the government attempting development at this place. All the people of Northumberland County were in support of the project and the driving of lumber would be safe guarded.

Hon. Mr. Veniot said that the river was not navigable and a section which extended the time for preliminary engineering building development of 1919 was merely holding the project up. He was satisfied that the Federal authorities might classify the river as navigable.
