Local and Other Items.

MARRIAGE.—The new Hotel in Harrison is rapidly taking shape, and will when finished be a handsome addition to the village. The frame work of all three stories is now raised and will soon be covered in.

FIRE AT WATERLOO.—WATERLOO, May 10.—The dwelling house of James Mc-Michael, about three miles from Waterloo, was burned down on Friday afternoon.
The house was occupied by Peter Schram; he lost about $400.

ON Tuesday night, 30th of April, the large building of Mr. Thomas Marks, Marlboro, was burned, together with a rope-making machine, market shed, scullery, and other farm implements. Lightning is supposed to be the cause.

A MAN named William Bonin, a team- ster in Campbellville, was kicked by a horse and severely injured internally, that he died on the 26th ult. He formerly lived in Streetville, and leaves a widow only seventeen years of age to mourn his sad fate.

The Observer says that last Friday Mr.
Fraser of the City of Montreal purchased 16,000 bushels of wheat from Mr. W. Gordon, at $1.37 per bushel, about one-half being fine white wheat bought at Clifford during the winter, and stored here for some time past. $22,000 was a large sum to pay out at once.

The Harrison Tribune understands, on the best authority, that the five acres purchased by the Great Western Railway at Palmerston, are to be used in the erection of a Leocadia station, with a branch to the junction with the Southern Extension being at that point.

The Harrison Tribune says: The works all along the line of the Wellington & Erie Railway from Clifford to Southampton are progressing favorably and rapidly. It is expected that trains will run to Paisley by the 1st July. The extensive bridge just beyond that village is nearing completion, and will be ready for truck-travel in another month.

By this year's assessment of Galt real property is valued at $799,297, personal $13,740, income $11,500—total $961, 225. Population 3,567. The Reformer says most people will be somewhat disappointed at the returns of Population, the general opinion being that the town had very considerably increased in numbers during the twelve months.

LOW PARK SALE.—The Brantford Corner says that the attendance at the Hon.
George Brown's sale in Low Park was not so numerous as might have been expected; there being perhaps about 250 persons present. There were 115 short horns put up, and last year's cattle sold at good average prices; also, 7 pure bred Cotswold rams were sold, and two thorough-bred short horn bulls.

The real and personal property in Toronto liable to assessment is $32,590, 910. This is an increase of $2,410,288 over last year. Exemptions foot up $3,798,291 which makes a total of $36, 359,111. The census taken by the Assessor shows Toronto a population of 57, 020, nearly 1,000 more than the Government census which was 56,093.

The resident portion of the roll for Elora shows a total of $274,517 real estate, $43,300 personal property, and $6,925 of taxable income—being an advance of about $21,000 over last year.
The non-resident roll has a total of $9, 787. The population is given at 1,496, a reduction of 56 from last year; cattle 139, sheep 154, horses 111, hogs 113, dogs 81, bitches 6.

IMPORTANT WATER CASE.—Lizette Bin-this case, which was tried at the recent Berlin Assizes, and judgment reserved, the facts of which were recorded at the time, has now been decided in favor of the plaintiff on all the pleas raised. Mr.
Guthrie and Mr. Walker, Hamilton, for plaintiff; Mr. Anderson Q. C. Mr. Leith, Toronto, and Mr. Miller, St. Catharines, for defendant.

A CASE OF HARDSHIP.—We notice in a late paper reference was made to the expulsion from his home-stead in Scotland of a wealthy farmer through the political squand of his landlord. The injured farmer was the brother of the well-known merchant, Adam Hope, Esq., of Hamilton. The estate Mr. Hope was requested to vacate was such a one as wealth, skill and perseverance can make in a favored locality, a Scottish garden, the attraction of the agriculturist of Europe, and also beauty and its value were the results of the labors of generations of the Hope family, and afforded to them no little renown as agriculturists of more than ordinary talent.

Boiler Explosions.

Another Murder in New York.

The Wool Trade.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE WOOL TRADE.
The crop of wool will now soon be brought to the market, and speculation is running high as to the price it will likely realize during the season. There is no doubt it is going to range high—up among the fifties we believe, if not higher; but it is a question if the market will retain its vitality throughout the season.
We believe that those who sell early will sell to the best advantage; but this is an opinion founded on the supposition that the prices paid on the opening of the season will be in accordance with the great rise that has lately distinguished this product. Should dealers be anxious to secure lots—as at present appears certain—sellers may rely that the market will open at prices as high as it will bear; but what a few days may bring forth in the after-prospects of the trade it is impossible to prophesy.

In reference to this matter, we give the following from the Farmer's Advocate as
to our clip:—
"Wool will be the first article brought to market, and flock owners will reap a rich harvest as the price will be unprecedently high. In some sections some have been purchased on the sheep's backs.
Some farmers will not sell half so readily because the price is high, but they will lay by their stock for higher prices. If some were offered $5 per lb., they would not accept it and expect to get $6. The possibility of a rise in the price will be considerable. We consider that the best course for farmers to pursue is not to hurry their shearing and sell before the proper time, but as soon as the market is fairly open,
and the prices established among dealers,
the farmers' business and the speculation should be separate, and if the farmers want to speculate they need to understand something about Wall Street.
If they think 10 per cent can be made in a year or 1 cent in a month, they will pay the money; sometimes they lose, but they can store and hold on to the wool at one cent, and if the price rises they can sell it at a profit. The wool is sure to lose in weight. We have seen it badly damaged by dampness and mould, and sometimes fire and pilfering may lessen our prospect of gain. Our advice is to sell wool and every other crop as soon as the market is open and your crops ready for sale."

Dr. Livingstone.
The New York Times, remarking on
the glorious news of Dr. Livingstone's safety, says:
"The faith of Sir Roderick Murchison is justified. That sturdy old man could never be made to believe that Dr. Livingstone was dead. He clung to his conviction of Dr. Livingstone's safety, and now that his judgment is affirmed by the re-appearance of the long-lost traveller, the joy is dimmed only by the thought that the constant friend of the man who has finally solved the capricious problem of the Nile is no longer living to greet him.
Beyond the bare fact of Livingstone's arrival in safety at Zanzibar, we have no later news of the results achieved by him.
When his discoveries are made known, they will vanish forever from our maps, that tempting 'unexplored region' which has lured so many brave men to suffering and death. Now that we may consider ourselves to be in possession of the secrets of the African continent, the question naturally arises—what shall we do with them? In what respect beyond the gratification of curiosity are we better off, now that we know the course of the Niger, the source of the Nile, and are about to learn the origin of the Congo?
If we gain nothing else, we gain the safety of future explorers. Livingstone's discoveries and their consequences are, however, scarcely to be thought of at the moment when the news comes that the man himself is safe. The fearless traveller, the faithful missionary, the noble philanthropist, whom we had mourned as dead, is alive again. This is surely good news enough for any man, and if we gain nothing more, we gain the knowledge that the world will not be richer by the spared life of a pure and spotless hero."

A Young Man Drowned.
Special to the MERCURY.
HILLSDALE, May 11.—A young man, named John O'Hara, was accidentally drowned yesterday while driving logs on the rapids of the Nottawasaga River.
The body has not yet been recovered.

FIRE IN PERSIMON.—The dwelling house —a new frame one—and bank barn, with stables underneath, with a quantity of hay and grain therein, belonging to Mr.
James McLeish, near Abercrombie, and situated on the roof of the barn, during the night of Thursday last, the 9th inst., about noon. The fire was first discovered issuing from the base board in one of the rooms above the kitchen, and evidently originated from some defect in the flue of the chimney. The wind was blowing a hurricane at the time, and no effort on the part of some persons, who had by this time assembled, could save the barn, distant from the house some 70 yards, although water was at hand in abundance. Messrs.
McLeish, jr., and Tavernor, jr., were nearly exhausted by their arduous exertions on the roof of the barn to prevent its igniting from the drifting sparks from the dwelling house; and such was the strength of the wind that sparks from the burning buildings were carried upwards of a mile distant, and aggravated by the extraordinary dryness of everything combustible, set fire to stumps and fences, in many places causing considerable destruction of the latter.
Mr. McLeish's loss will be about $1,000; and we are glad to hear that over $800 of this amount is covered by insurance in the Paisnich Township Mutual; and we have no doubt that the same ready and cheerful response will be forthcoming by its members to the call necessary to liquidate this loss as has characterized the business operations of this Company hitherto.

INSANITY AND ATTEMPTED DROWNING.
Says the Listowel Banner.—Quite a sensation, of a melancholy nature, was created in the western part of the township of Wallace, last week, by the report that a widow woman named Miller, had attempted to drown her six small children, while laboring under a fit of insanity. It appears that the unfortunate woman had become impressed with the notion that the neighbors were intending to deprive her of her property, and that she and her children would be sure to starve to death. This notion so worked upon her mind that she finally became a perfect maniac on the subject, and we actually succeeded in getting her children so impressed with the same idea that they agreed to submit to being drowned.
We are told that the whole family were close upon the margin of the stream into which they had resolved to cast themselves, when a neighbor interfered, and with a good deal of trouble succeeded in diverting them from their purpose. The woman showed such symptoms of insanity that it was deemed necessary to have her arrested and imprisoned. She was brought to Listowel, examined, and committed to Stratford jail.

Professor Rainy has been presented with 500 guineas and silver plate in acknowledgment of the invaluable services rendered to the cause of Presbyterianism by his reply to Dean Stanley, and by his defence of the truth against the dangerous tendencies of much of our modern teaching. The presentation has been made by letter from Lord Ardmillan in name of himself and various friends.

THE WOOL TRADE.

among the fifties we believe, if not higher; but it is a question if the market will
retain its vitality throughout the season.
the prices paid on the opening of the
this product. Should dealers be anxious
to secure lots—as at present appears cer-
will open at prices as high as it will bear;
but what a few days may bring forth in
possible to prophesy.

following from the Farmer's Advocate as
to our clip:—
to market, and flock owners will reap a
rich harvest as the price will be unprecedently high. In some sections some have
been purchased on the sheep's backs.
Some farmers will not sell half so readily
because the price is high, but they will
lay by their stock for higher prices. If
not accept it and expect to get $6. The possibility of a rise in the price will be
shearing and sell before the proper time,
but as soon as the market is fairly open,
and the prices established among dealers,
the farmers' business and the specula-
want to speculate they need to understand something about Wall Street.
If they think 10 per cent can be made in
pay the money; sometimes they lose, but
they can store and hold on to the wool at
sell it at a profit. The wool is sure to
for sale."

Dr. Livingstone.
The New York Times, remarking on
safety, says:
"The faith of Sir Roderick Murchison is justified. That sturdy old man could never
be made to believe that Dr. Livingstone was dead. He clung to his conviction of
Dr. Livingstone's safety, and now that
his judgment is affirmed by the re-appearance of the long-lost man—had he escaped seatless through yesterday's terrible storm of fire and death, or—

Perchance Hermann was there, helpless and mangled on the trampled ground; perhaps he was under one of the fresh earthen mounds that rose black and gashy on the plain, marking where a pile of dead had been buried.

Nothing certain could be known till they reached the camp, and in anxious silence and sorrow they pressed forward.

The 8th Army Corps was farthest away, and they had to pass through a large part of the army to reach it. Most of the soldiers' faces were grave, but exultant. They had gained a brilliant victory, but at a fearful price. Great gaps had been made in their ranks, and friends and comrades were gone for ever.

At length they came to where the 33rd was bivouacked, and found their way to the officers' quarters. A group was seated in front of the hut, and there, to their infinite joy, was Hermann.

He noticed their approach, sprang up, and came to meet them, when, impelled by an emotion too deep for words to express, he and Edwin threw themselves into each other's arms.

"Thank God," murmured Edwin, fervently.

"Amo," responded Hermann.

And so did Ritchie Dunlop from the very bottom of his large and warm heart.

A CURIOUS CASE OF TREASURE THIEF.—A correspondent, writing from the Egmondville, County of Perth, gives the following account of how $500 was obtained from the clothes of a woman who had been buried in that village for some time. He says:—"The celebrated 'Fat Woman,' that was exhibited in Scotland some time ago, it will be remembered, died and was buried at Egmondville. Her husband, a mulatto, returned back to the States to lift the $3,000 of insurance he had on her life, which he got all right. He then visited the woman's friends, and learned something of the woman's habits, and found that she had used to keep money concealed in a belt around her person. This news was the cause of his visit to Egmondville a few days ago. He secured assistance and dug up the body, took off her clothes, searched diligently for hidden treasures, and found them to the amount of $500, which was concealed in a belt which was tied round her waist. He then replaced her dress, for she had been buried with all her wearing apparel on, shoes and all, just as she used to appear on exhibition, filled up the grave and went to the States—very likely consoling himself in the midst of his affliction with the thought that, though he had lost a wife, and a large one, too, he had got $3,500, which was probably worth two of her size.—Free Press.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chesnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Curative Condition Powders, he would, no doubt, have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chopped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Amalgam Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Epps & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).
