

Congress by 337 to 37 Authorizes Use of Armed Force to Punish Huerta FIGHTING MAY COMMENCE WHEN MARINES LAND TOMORROW Final Orders Have Been Issued to United States Fleet

U. S. IS WARNED OF JAPANESE HOSTILITY

German Papers, While Friendly in Main to Wilson's Course, Point Out Seriousness of Intervention in Mexico—German Interests Need Protection.

Canadian Press Despatch. BERLIN, April 20.—The German press as a rule is remarkably sparing in comment on the Mexican situation. The Cologne Gazette, however, in reflecting the attitude of the German Government, says:

"The German people have no cause to oppose the course of the United States with an unfriendly policy, which, besides having no object, would only injure Germany's relations with the United States. Recent developments in Mexico can only be regretted as far as they affect German interests. If the Americans now succeed in establishing order and peace in that country, there can be no objection from the German standpoint. The American people who have been kept in a state of continued unrest by Mexican affairs since the departure of Gen. Porfirio Diaz earnestly want at least to see peace established across their southern frontier, and to see a government there which will give security to the country and will not endanger America's huge interests which she has created in the Panama Canal.

Huerta Clearly Enemy. "President Huerta has sufficiently shown that he does not answer to this necessity, but prefers to act and to be accounted as an enemy of the United States. He knows President Wilson will resort to force against him only in the last extremity, and in that certainty has pursued a policy of opposition to America."

The Lokal Anzeiger remarks on the singular circumstance that the United States demands satisfaction

German Steamer Loaded With Guns Racing to Beat Naval Blockade

Special to The Toronto World. VERA CRUZ, Mexico, via Galveston, Texas, April 20.—Intense interest was created here today when it became known that a German steamship is racing for this port at the topmost speed of her engines in order to unload her cargo of 200 machine guns, a quantity of small arms and ammunition before the American fleet under Rear Admiral Fletcher can establish a blockade of the harbor. All the guns and machine guns are for the forces of General Huerta, but the European port from which the vessel sailed has not been disclosed.

Under international law, a blockade must be effective if vessels in the category of the German ship are to be prevented from landing their cargoes.

BRITISH ATTITUDE IS OF ADMIRATION FOR WILSON'S TOLERANCE AND CONTROL

No International Complications Are Likely, as the Action of the United States Government Has the Full Acquiescence of the British Government—War Predestined by Irresistible Causes.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, April 21.—The Times, in an editorial on the Mexican crisis, says this morning:

"The crisis has come in a form which, as sincere friends of the American people, we could well have wished different. Their justification for forcible interference in Mexican affairs is far stronger than the particular pretext upon which the president decided to abandon his policy of watchful waiting.

"It is questionable, however, how far the aspirations of the president in his message can be realized, or the distinctions he mentions maintained in practice. The president's diplomacy has been lofty in aim and spirit, but unfortunate in its results.

"It is not probable that Americans will care to rest their case for intervention on the failure of the various proposals submitted to the Mexican Government by President Wilson during the past year."

British Attitude. The Daily Mail says: "There can be no mistaking the British attitude. It is one of admiration for the tolerance and self-control with which President Wilson has employed all the resources of diplomacy to avert a crisis; of unstinted sympathy with the American people in the difficult and laborious undertaking which lies ahead of them, and of absolute confidence in the success of the American arms by land and sea.

"Intervention has been thrust upon the Americans, and they may be sure of the goodwill of the whole English-speaking world in facing an unthought-of task."

A New War. The Chronicle in an editorial of similar friendly tenor says: "To all intents and purposes yesterday's proceedings at Washington mark the opening of a new war."

The Daily News says: "It is only fair to President Wilson to recognize that he resorted to direct action only when the maladroitness of the dictator left him no alternative. But the fact that it has unwillingly been taken in his hands does not lessen the danger of a new weapon."

According to the standard large commercial interests in Great Britain believe that the American action will tend to improve the prospects of British financial and commercial interests in Mexico, because it provides hope of eventual peace and the resumption of trade.

The Standard learns that the action of the United States government has the full acquiescence of the British government, and that any international complications are unlikely.

War Was Predestined. The Daily Graphic says editorially: "President Wilson is making war, not on Huerta, but on Mexico. The war is not an accident, but a thing predestined by irresistible causes. Nevertheless it is likely to bring more anxiety and embarrassment to the present generation of Americans than glory or profit."

The Daily Telegraph says: "One of those great waves of national feeling, which from time to time sweep aside political dissensions among Americans has gone through the United States. There is no nation on earth more punctilious over the honor of its flag, and it is merely just for Americans to say that if an insult had come from a more formidable aggressor the manifestation of the public resolve to have reparation would only have been stronger and more violent. There is, of course, no question as yet of war, in the strict meaning of the term."

The Telegraph contends that the logical consequence of a successful war against Mexico would be the assumption of the burden of government by the United States—a solution which would have nothing but advantage for all foreign interests in Mexico.

ORDER VESSELS TO LEAVE PORT

Commander Hughes Takes Steps to Remove Non-Combatants From Vera Cruz.

Canadian Press Despatch. VERA CRUZ, April 20.—Commander Hughes, chief of staff of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, today called on Gen. Gustavo Mier, commander of the federal troops at Vera Cruz, and on the commander of the port, and instructed them to order all American merchant vessels out of the harbor.

Commander Hughes then went on board the Spanish and the British ships anchored off the port and informed their commanders of his action. William W. Canada, the American consul here, is making arrangements to have the foreigners in the city taken aboard the merchant vessels, should necessity arise.

Consul Canada is endeavoring to inform all foreigners of President Wilson's action, and under instructions from the department of state, reminds them of a previous warning to withdraw from Mexico.

GENERAL COTTON DIED SUDDENLY

Resigned Four Days Ago as Inspector-General of Militia, Died Yesterday at Almonte.

ALMONTE, Ont., April 20.—Major Gen. W. H. Cotton, former inspector general of the Canadian Militia, died suddenly at the residence of his son-in-law, Alex. Rosemond, here tonight at 11 o'clock.

The late brigadier-general was well known in Toronto, having commanded No. 2 military district before being appointed inspector general of the militia in succession to Gen. Sir William Otter. He was the son of the late Henry Cotton of Montreal and was born in that city on Jan. 7, 1848. He was educated at Quebec High school and received his commission as a second lieutenant in the Quebec Garrison Artillery in 1868.

In 1882 he was promoted commander of the Royal Canadian Artillery, with rank of lieutenant-colonel, and 18 years later was made full colonel. In 1907 he was appointed brigadier general. His staff service was in the 1st Canadian division, and he served as A. G. for artillery and quartermaster-general at Ottawa.

While he was stationed in Toronto Gen. Cotton lived at 84 St. George street. His widow, four sons and three daughters survive.

Marines to Take Possession of Customs Houses at Important Mexican Seaports Within 48 Hours—Congress Supported Wilson's Course by Overwhelming Majority, But Senate Seems Disposed to Quibble Over Resolution Aimed Directly at Huerta—Passage of Foreign Vessels Will Not Be Obstructed by U.S. Warships.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—In 48 hours, possibly less, the United States Government will have taken possession of the Mexican custom houses at Tampico and Vera Cruz.

Detailed plans for landing of marines at these two important coast towns were completed at a conference at the White House between President Wilson, Secretaries Bryan, Garrison and Daniels, Major-Gen. Wood and Rear-Admirals Fiske and Blue and John Lind.

"No orders to the army and navy will be issued tonight," was the announcement made after the conference, action temporarily being deferred until congress acts on the joint resolution approving the president's purpose of using the armed forces of the United States to enforce its demands against Huerta growing out of the arrest at Tampico of American bluejackets.

By Sweeping Majority. The resolution passed the house tonight by a vote of 337 to 37 after a spirited debate. For several hours it was considered by the senate foreign relations committee with prospects of an all-night session of the senate, or a recess until early tomorrow.

The house adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow and President Wilson, worn out by the day's work, retired after hearing that the house had adopted the resolution.

Persons who were in touch with the president said the steps which would be taken by the United States "short of war" were of a nature which would not require formal notification to the powers in the same sense as a declaration of blockade or other preliminaries to war. Foreign governments will be kept informed of developments, however.

The debate in the house brought out the fact that while the American navy probably would block Mexico off from commerce with the United States, it would not interfere with the passage to and fro of foreign vessels, the cargoes discharged on the shore might be held at the customs houses if they were occupied by American forces.

Administration senators held that the passage of the resolution was a step which would enable the president actually to prevent war by forcing Huerta to respect Americans and their interests.

President Wilson made it clear in congress in his message that the executive really had authority to act, but that he preferred the approval of congress before making any important move.

Members of the house went to bed instead of waiting for the senate to reconvene. Crowds thronged the side galleries and corridors.

At executive quarters there was a let-up in the late hours. Clerks were on duty for emergencies, but no movements were announced. A high official who was in conference with the president pointed significantly to the fact that no orders had been issued to the army, and remarked that the constitutionalists need not be nervous over the situation, for the present action was aimed entirely against Huerta.

It was said that one of the reasons the White House was insistent upon individualizing Huerta in the resolution was to prevent the Constitution-alists from misinterpreting the president's threatening hostility against them or the Mexican people generally.

Final Orders to Fleet. With the announcement earlier that the battleships Virginia, Nebraska and Georgia, of the third division, had been ordered from Boston to Tampico, it was believed the final orders had been given for the movement of ships on the Atlantic side of the continent.

The receipt late tonight of the statement dictated by Gen. Huerta to the Associated Press saying there was no American flag in the Dolphin's wharfeboat, brought out informal comment from the navy department officials, who asserted that Rear-Admiral Mayo had reported the boat as flying the colors of the United States at both bow and stern. In any event, the American Government considered the arrest of the bluejackets in American uniform as unwarranted.

May Broaden Resolution. A democratic member of the senate foreign relations committee at 11:30 o'clock said he believed no resolution would be favorably reported, which individualized Huerta, but that the measure probably would be broadened to include the "de facto government at Mexico City."

Opposition had developed to such an extent to singling out Huerta in the resolution that it became practically certain that objections would postpone final action until Wednesday.

At midnight Acting Chairman Shively rushed from conference with Secretary Tumulty, Secretary Garrison and Postmaster-General Burleson to the foreign relations committee room.

"I think there is a chance to iron the difficulty out," he said.

TAX RATE 19 1-4 MILLS. At midnight the city council voted the tax rate at 19 1-4 mills.

MAKOFFSKY'S WORK REAL MASTERPIECE

"Choosing the Bride" is Crowning Triumph of Great Russian Artist.

ON VIEW AT SIMPSON'S Canvas Depicts Youthful Czar About to Select Future Consort.

Looking at the great canvas which depicts the story of "Choosing the Bride," as that ceremony was performed in the Russian court of the middle seventeenth century, words fail to express the magnitude of the genius that could produce so imperial a presentation. Admiration exceeds all ordinary canons and proclaim Konstantin Makoffsky as king of artists.

The scene is laid in the throne-room of the Kremlin. Russia's palace for its Caesars. Standing upon the throne chair is the platform before whose destiny the story of the picture is woven. Alexis Michaelovitch, the youthful czar, is about to choose his bride. His six summers demand that according to Russian custom and tradition he shall choose the fairest lady of the land to share his throne.

Emissaries traveling throughout the length and breadth of the land had collected two hundred of its most beautiful daughters, but even these were sifted and only six, whose charms none but the eye of love can differentiate, are assembled for final choice by the royal highness.

Near Alexis is Boyar Morosoff, prince, favorite and councillor, but also the evil spirit of the plot. He holds the savior upon which rests the holds the kerchief which the czar shall ring and which he will use to smother the young bride in evidence and the pectoral cross on its massive chain falls upon the heavy fabric of the robe of cloth of gold.

The courtiers in rich robes of velvet and furs stand in the background. One great figure, with leonine head and beard, is gorgeous in costly raiment, and the coloring of the gowns, mantles and accessories of the group of expectant girls is beyond words. Oriental coloring and atmosphere reaches the pinnacle in the embroidered brocade, silver tissues, jeweled head-gear, cloth-of-gold and ropes of pearls of the assembled beauties.

The Two Sisters. Marie and Anna Miloslavski, two sisters, are near the czar. It is the plan of the arch-plotter Morosoff that Marie, who is making modest obeisance, shall be the bride, the other sister to be secured for himself. As the czar places his hand in indecision upon the savior at his side, his eye rests upon Eufemia, whom he had met when, disguised as a minstrel, he attended a concert as the guest of his sister. Eufemia at the same moment recognizes him, and overcome by emotion, she falls into the arms of the duenna at her side.

This is the moment that Makoffsky has selected in which to present his group to the public. Legend tells us that love prevails, and Alexis determines to marry Eufemia, but the evil genius is again triumphant for under the bridal wreath Morosoff manages to plant thorns, the pain of which forces the young bride to cry out and she is declared insane.

Unlike the bride in the "Russian Wedding," the group of girls are here unveiled, the custom of appearing unveiled for the first time after ceremony being waived in the case of the czar of all the Russias. Unlike the houses of the period (the interior of the Kremlin) is luxurious in appointments, but even here the rude beams are discernible above the tapestried shelves on which are displayed a wealth of coffers, urns, statuary and other precious vertu.

The painting is the most fascinating of the three great masterpieces that have been exhibited. It is valued at $50,000, but its worth cannot be estimated by the material calculations of the Robert Simpson Co., where the picture is now on view. Toronto is able to see and study this great and attractive work. It is of interest to everyone. None should miss it.

TO PLACE WOMEN IN SUITABLE JOBS

That is the Work Which the Appointment Bureau is Effectively Doing.

PERSONAL INTERVIEWS

New Undertaking is Proving of Service to Business and Professional Women.

Something new and something good in the shape of the woman's appointment Bureau was what a representative of The World discovered yesterday. Several fights had to be traversed in an elevator and still another by the method best known to pedestrians before the bureau was reached, but the office opened its door in a welcome when a girl and a woman seated at a desk were talking to another on the opposite side, a girl as a special writer on the only other occupant.

From the lady in charge The World learned that as far as is known, this is the only venture of the kind in Canada. The mission of the bureau is the placing of women in positions where their ability and training may bring the greatest pleasure and profit to the individual and may render greatest service to the community. The bureau is only established in Toronto about four weeks and the office seems to deserve, as well known as it is for positions and a large number of women are working than can be obtained; high class dressmakers, for instance, are almost impossible to find. The bureau undertakes to find them and to deal with business and professional women.

The method adopted in getting the best for both applicant and employer is a real exemplification of the personal touch. The lady in charge is a capable woman, and those of which she has a large number of women in all their lines of activity.

Many Opportunities. What opportunities can you offer women? The answer: "Office assistant, companion, representative for music, real estate, nursery, governess, stenographer, nurse, hairdresser, secretary, shampooing, manicuring and rest."

One way in which we can be very helpful, "The World" was told, is by sifting out the applicants. The other day a lady came to me and said that she had advertised for a housekeeper and had received seventy-five applicants. These she had interviewed personally, and at the close of the campaign found herself a nervous wreck. Now, if she had done this for her we would have sifted the applicants down to the three or four of the best, and she would have found this would have been the nerve-racking process through which she had just passed.

VARIETY OF CHARM IN SILKEN SUITS

Taffetas and Moires Are Fashioned in Bewildering Array of Fascinating Styles.

The silken suit of 1914 is most deserving of the enthusiastic welcome it has received at the hands of Dame Fashion and her faithful followers, so varied is its charm. Taffetas and moires are fashionable in a bewildering array of fascinating styles. Added to the ever-popular Russian blouse effects are the new Eton types, boleros and haque creations, not to mention the strikingly increasing demand for crepe.

Very chic sleeves are three-quarter length, vest points are long and regardless of function are softly rolled and tassel-trimmed. Delightful, indeed, is the rainbow effect fashion has presented in blouses. Crepe de Chine, Georgette, Organdy is used for the collars of these dainty creations and beads are worn with all. Brocaded veils of worm and all. Brocaded veils of the latest models of white and cream serges, which, by the way, will take up for many a winter, is used for the coat collars on the white tiered street costumes. White promises to be more popular than ever, and to this effect new

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL

DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER. Metal Polish for Britannia and Brassware

THERE are few collections of metal ware that do not contain some old-fashioned treasures valued for associations. When there are Britannia and brass pieces in the lot cleaning day is dreaded, for the splendid modern silver polishes are not suited to these.

But in everyday facts there are found directions, as old as the ware itself, for "putting gloss on Britannia." Sift a half a pound of powdered whiting and mix it to a soft paste with sweet oil or any oil that is not odorous. To this put a tablespoon of soft soap or yellow soap made soft in hot water. Add enough alcohol to make the mixture look exactly like cream. (Wood alcohol may be used for this.)

When wanted to use dip a soft flannel cloth in the cream and rub it quickly and evenly on the article; let stand until alcohol evaporates, then polish with a buckskin.

This excellent cream has been sold in housefurnishing stores very recently for a brass polish and there is nothing better for silver, nickel and glass. As long as the article is kept from the mixture it remains soft and when it dries it may be finished with more alcohol. The half a pound of whiting needed to make it will cost about three cents.

Britannia ware is a very scarce article today and housewives who have old tankards, whale oil lamps, candle sticks and table platters are greatly envied by those who can find none to buy.

In the manufacture of this ware a large percentage of copper was used so that the pieces, tea and coffee pots and platters imparted a smell of copper and a metallic taste to food. As soon as other ware was offered to colonial dames Britannia was discarded.

Pewter was the common ware used in the middle class home until the last of the eighteenth century, when much of it was melted into bullets. Little remains of what was not utilized for the minute men's guns, for it was very soft, easily bent and rubbed brightly after every meal and with this pewter rubbed it was never bright like silver. No wonder it was cast aside as soon as opportunity offered, for stone china.

But the soft glow of pewter is beautiful in among bright silver and crystal. To clean it quickly there is no better method than that used by early day housewives.

Rub the pewter with a cloth dipped in oil and when you have covered every portion stand it aside for five minutes, then scrub the ware very gently, with hot suds. Dry on a soft linen and brighten with a wash of leather dipped in whiting. Hard rubbing will wear pewter thin in a short time.

From Colonial Days and Ways. In this same little book are found directions for cleaning Japanese trays and lacquered ware. "Make a light sud with lukewarm water and white soap; dip the water will make the finish crack."

When clean, dry with a silk cloth and then rub with dry flour. Some of these fine old trays are inlaid with mother-of-pearl and are worthy to have a place in any dining room besides the finest modern article. If the finish is gray and dull, refinish it yourself, but do not entrust it to any professional painter or restorer.

Rub the pewter with alcohol until the white spots disappear. Wash off the alcohol and then apply a light coat of best copal varnish.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D.

Making the Garden Beds

The Proper Way to Dig in the Mulching. As with everything there is a proper way and an improper way to dig in the mulching, placing this important material in such a manner that it will not only be a constant source of food for the plants, but also a dependent reservoir thru the long dry spells of summer.

To manage this, every bit of loose material in the shape of straw and manure should be at least a foot or two below the soil. Not mixed with the soil, unless it is well rotted. If this enriching material is mixed freely in the soil, there are tender roots may come in direct contact with the raw fertilizer. This is not good for the roots. Rot is apt to take place, or a too rank growth.

When digging over the earth drive the spade quite one foot below the level of the ground, throw out a few inches of soil, and then dig a trench to be left, where you may start to work. Give yourself plenty of room. Dig out three or four feet, not downwards, but sideways. After you have made a generous hole, spread a foot-thick layer of manure down in that trench, shoveling back the soil first dug out. You will find that the foot extra of mulch, together with the loosening of the soil will make your bed a good six or more inches higher than the surrounding ground.

Do not forget the use of the two long boards we spoke of yesterday to keep the lines even and straight. In a few weeks your newly-made beds will have a tendency to sink in, especially towards the middle. You can think out the reason for this yourself. If you have followed directions as given above, do you see what you will have for your beds? A splendid underground forcing oven, because that fertilizer will generate heat constantly until it has all become one with the soil.

And don't be in too great a hurry to plant any new plants or seeds. There is plenty of time. This is only the middle of April yet. Time was when the 24th of May was the earliest date for sowing the foot extra of mulch. But notwithstanding the wonderful growing weather we have had for the last few days, many gardeners will tell you that plenty of solid ice is to be found, and not very far below the earth's surface. In fact, we found a solid bed of frozen earth even as late as Saturday along a north exposure that prevented further gardening work for a time.

LAKE FREIGHT SERVICE OPENS. The steamship freight service season will open this morning by the clearing from Toronto for Fort William of the Canada Steamship Line's freighters that have wintered at Toronto. It will also open the season for about 60 of the freight steamers controlled by this line, which are distributed at the various Canadian inland ports.

WILD FLOWERS CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD

The Marsh Marigold Caltha Palustris.

"Bright gown, and marsh marigolds, farewell." —Wordsworth. "And the marsh marigold shines like fire, in fields and copses gay." —Tennyson.

Just as the pretty nectarines, and the trailing arbutus are the earliest discovered wild flowers on the warm hills, so is the marsh marigold, with its odorous friend, the skunk cabbage, the first among all the water plants of the wild to star the lushy swamps with yellow gleam.

No one can fail to recognize this "flower the Indians, Onondaga, call it a true aquatic, with hollow, green, succulent stems, most vivid green leaves of a true marsh-green, and unusually brilliant yellow blossoms, not unlike a large buttercup, to which indeed, it is closely related.

Our common marsh marigold is that same wild plant of which so many poets, English and otherwise, have sung, from time immemorial. In many little vases have these singers immortalized the "Kingcup," the "Marrybud," the "Meadowgown," the "American Cowslip," and the "Stars of the Marsh."

For this sunny wanderer is careless of the skies under which it grows, provided those skies be sunny skies. Where flow cool streams, there glow the "Stars of the Marshes."

Beloved of bees and butterflies, haunted by waterflies of gorgeous hues, the Caltha palustris gives freely of her golden store of dripping nectar, and it is not uncommon to hear the contented hum of the well-fed insects as they hover in clouds above the welcoming many-leaved cups of shining gold.

Many books of reference claim that old-fashioned folk used, and still use, the juicy stems and roots of this succulent aquatic in various cooking operations, boiling the greens for table use. Personally, we have not yet come in contact with anyone who has done so or who has ever heard of anyone ever doing so.

Those wild flower lovers who are also interested in everyday gardening might refer to the recent talk on "Water Gardens" where directions were given to those who wished to naturalize this interesting aquatic in their own small lily pools.

How "Misfit" Medicines Cause You Many Ills

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

YOU are hungry. You have a good home. You go there and you eat. The potatoes, the bread, the ham, the milk, the apples are all known to you. You do not take any wild chances, winter or summer, in eating possible poisons.

Foods that are strange, or unknown to you, you do not try. You stick wisely to the old standbys. Not so, however, with drugs and potions, pills and powders. You seem rather with these God's whole work to undo. With unknown mixtures under fancy names you war upon your bodies, and with new physic you mar your physical engine. A medicine gilds your tissues according to the frankness, sincerity and systematized education of the ones who give it.

A man, ignorant himself, often begins his own injuries and sufferings. Luckily, wise powers assert these dangers in definite ways. No doctor knows whence comes the tint and fragrance of the rose. Nor does he know why many medicines show themselves.

The majestic works of nature, unhappily, are not always manifest; that is to say, all poisons do not give warning and the dangers of some tinctures, elixirs and specifics are not always plain to the eye.

Many internal agents, swallowed upon experiment or at some one's advice, produce skin blemishes and cutaneous rashes, which are mis-called skin diseases.

Some Harmful Ingredients. Just today a young girl visited me in great trepidation. One of those well known "soothers" who use tricks called known "soothers" had induced her to take a medicine.

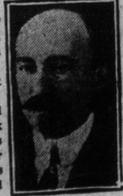

She was convinced that she was very ill. Inquiry at once disclosed the truth. As some comedian said, all that is necessary to become a millionaire is to tell a person how bad he looks. The doctor follows at once that he will buy a carboy of pip medicine.

Among the eternal ingredients of many "unknowns" and "secret cures," belladonna, bromide of potash, iodide of potassium, arsenic, strychnine, opium, tartaric acid, quinine, morphine and alcohol are present.

All of these have the curious capacity to cause rashes, hives, "eczemas," boils, red skin, red noses and other dermal eruptions, which put scarlet fever, smallpox and a host of epidermal maladies to shame.

Effects Become Chronic. Unless a dermatologist knows that you are addicted to drugs, or have been one of those innocent tipplers who are forever taking medicines, he may be surprised as to put you in a pest house, or diagnose your disturbance as leprosy, or decide that you have measles or gangrene.

Just as all forward looking men and women have many enemies that know when they are so, but like village curs, bark when their fellows do, so many of these skin eruptions, started by some accidental, chemical influence

Answers to Health Questions

W. W., Norristown, Pa.—Can psoriasis be cured?

Yes. The X-ray has cured some, and so has a mixture of pyrogallol acid, chrysarobin and resorcin, which you should get from your family doctor.

Barber Doctor—What do you think of bandoline? Is egg shampoo good?

Anything used to curl straight hair injures its texture. Egg shampoo is a dangerous practice.

J. H.—I am 23, work in a railroad office, and have not been able through illness in my family to take a vacation for years. I've lost lots of sleep. What shall I do?

Go to the man next in position to the president of the road, or to the president himself, and have your position temporarily changed. You need more fresh air, sunlight and better food. See to it that you obtain more sleep, and do not wait over two or three hours for your "fodder."

A bottle of creamy milk and some buttered crackers between full meals will help you mightily.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie: I have a very nice, respectable gentleman friend. He has been with me a short time over a year and appears to think quite a lot of me. But what I can't understand is: He occasionally takes out other girls, especially to dances, which he knows I am not allowed to attend. He sometimes denies it.

If your young man wants to take other girls to dances, Fairy, I don't see what you're going to do about it. Do you?

You aren't allowed to go yourself, you say, and he probably likes to dance. That's all there is to it.

If he knows that you don't want him to go and he still keeps on going, he doesn't care enough for you to care what you want. That's perfectly plain.

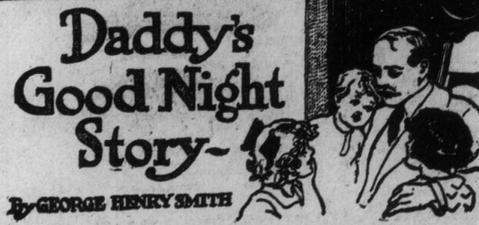

"Why should he? Why do you think he is in love with you? Has he told you so, or does he just bring you a box of candy now and then and spend the evening."

when he doesn't know just what else to do with himself? Why should you think that you have a mortgage on his affection or on his character or on his conduct in any way? No, if this young man wants to take other girls to dances and cares whether you like it or not, he ought to tell you that, he intends to do it. And if you can't stand it, then you must both take the consequences.

I wouldn't lose much sleep worrying about this particular young man if I were you, Fairy. I suspect he isn't treating very much about whether you want him to dance or not.

Annie Laurie

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

THE day after Willie Leghorn invited Dickie Duck to learn to fly he was going through the meadow, when he met Willie going toward the pond.

"Where are you going?" asked Willie. "I am going to have a swim," replied Dickie. "I wish I could swim," began Willie. "You don't want to swim," answered Dickie. "Your feet have no webs and you would get drowned."

"Suppose you take me for a ride on your back," suggested Willie. "I couldn't do that," said Dickie. "I want you to remember that you asked me for the ride and not I you," said Dickie, as they went down toward the duck pond.

Willie got on Dickie's back when they reached the water, and for a time they sailed merrily around the pond, until suddenly Dickie dived down while Willie held on for dear life. Dickie came up again, and Willie said to him:

"Please don't do that again. I-I-I-I'm nearly drowned." Dickie went down again and stayed a little longer, and when he came up Willie pleaded with him so earnestly that the duck landed him on shore. Then he said to him:

"Remember, Willie, you asked me for the ride, and you should always do unto others as you want them to do to you. I don't want to learn to fly, and you—well, you better stay away from the water."

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the dress" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

In the Ticket Line.

LEONA DALRYMPLE

MARY and I were going away to a neighboring town on a week-end trip and I had asked Mary to meet me at the station. "You get the railroad tickets," I said over the phone, "for I'll probably be a little late and I'll just get there in time to join you and rush for the train."

I was, however, a little earlier than I had expected. When I entered the waiting room Mary was already in a long line bound for the ticket agent's window and didn't see me. Now an honorable man has an almost religious respect for the etiquette of a waiting line. The man who breaks through to a better place without duly waiting his turn he regards as an inferior species of yellow dog. He'd like to kick and kick hard. Therefore, rather than conspicuously beckon Mary out of the line and take her place, I decided to let her manage her own affairs, but to let her see that I had originally planned and kept the sanctity of that line preserved.

An Old Artifice.

You can imagine my horror and surprise when in a temporary haste Mary slipped deftly ahead, smiled bewilderingly at the man behind her and kept her new and better place with a pretty air of defiant resolution. He raised his head and she saw that her man would not—and the line moved on, but I was hopelessly ruffled. I had learned something new about my wife—petty, to be sure, but revelatory, too, in its way. Mary had about as much respect for the ethics of line-keeping as she has for a great many other scruples of mine. And she was evidently not averse to playing forth her sex to gain an advantage over a mere man, who, by all the laws of decency and gallantry,

Two Interesting Poses of Lucrezia Bori.

Spanish Singer Explains "Solarification"

By Eleanor Ames.

WERE you ever solarized? Solarification is the modern, scientific cure-all. It is the latest Fountain of Youth. It is the most approved means of rebuilding worn out bodies, of restoring tired heads, of increasing the efficiency and resisting power of the human organism, of driving out dangerous and insidious germs, and of storing up energy for the future.

Solarification really means nothing more expensive nor difficult nor complex than systematic and purposeful sunbathing. It means literally "basking in the sunshine." It means absorbing the subtle and powerful elements which go to make up the sun and are thrown off from that orb in the form of vapors and gases all charged with vital qualities.

Here in America she found some essential lacking in her life. She imagined her wonderful voice was losing the quality of tone which had won her fame. Medical specialists refused to see anything wrong with her physical being. Then one day when she stood in the window in a perfect flood of sunshine, the nature of the lack came to her.

"I had been to the glorious sunshine that I need!" she cried. "That day I began to study the means of best becoming properly solarized," she explained later. "I felt that I could hardly wait to get the proper amount of sunshine back into my system. Why, I had been starving, actually starving here in your great America for sunshine."

parallel. I began by taking sun baths every day in my home. For a certain time I would sit in the sunshine, absolutely relaxed and letting the sunlight saturate my body. Then I went for long walks in the open air, always keeping in the sunshine. The first I noticed was the stimp of energy I felt when there was a cloudy day.

"I know now when I have comfortably filled my system to attain the best results, and I try never to overdo my sunbathing."

Great Novels in a Nutshell

Charles Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities" Condensed by Helen S. Gray

THE scenes of this book are laid in London and Paris just before and during the French Revolution. Mr. Lorry, a trusted employe of Tellson's Bank, is accompanying to Paris Lucie Manette, for whom the bank is trustee. He breaks the news to her that her father is not, as she had always thought, dead, but that he has spent 18 years in the Bastille without trial or accusation. They find him mentally a wreck, unable to tell his name; "108 North Tower" is the only name he knows. He is in the care of a former servant, Defarge. They find him busy making shoes, a trade he had learned in prison to help him endure his confinement. Through his daughter's care he recovers his faculties.

The extravagance of the French nobility is described. One of them has four attendants to serve him with chocolate. At his morning reception the men wear little pendant trinkets that chink as the wearers move. One of them, the Marquis of Evremonde, after leaving the reception, drives through the city and kills a child. That evening his nephew, Charles Darnay, calls to see him and declares that the name of Evremonde is more hated than any other in France; that, if he ever becomes marquis, he will devote his life to redressing the wrongs that have been done to the serfs on the estate.

telling it and says if he wins, Lucie's love and marries her he may tell him on his wedding day. In July, 1793, the mob storms the Bastille and releases the prisoners. Defarge goes to Cell 108 North Tower and looks under the stones in the floor and chimney for hidden papers. Not long after the Evremonde chateau is burned to the ground. Darnay receives a letter from the steward he had left in charge of his property, saying he had been imprisoned because of his loyalty to him and begging him to come to his aid. With-out telling Lucie and her father, he goes to France and arrives just as the edict is issued banishing all emigrants with penalty of death if they return. He is arrested and thrown into prison. Lucie and her father go to Paris. As he had served 18 years in the Bastille, he is now in high favor with the new government. His influence saves his son-in-law from the general massacre.

His uncle replies that he intends to die perpetuating things as they are. That night the father of the child that had been run over stays him in his bed. A year later, when the assassin is hanged, his comrades vow to exterminate the whole race of Evremonde. Before asking Lucie to marry him, Darnay asks her father's consent and says he is living under an assumed name. Dr. Manette checks him from and secures his acquittal at his trial 15 months later. Darnay is rearrested the same day at the instigation of Mme. Defarge, one of the leaders of the mob. At his trial the papers Defarge had found in Cell 108 are read aloud in court. They contain a full account of the reasons for Dr. Manette's imprisonment. He had been compelled to attend a dying woman and by one night by the Marquis of Evremonde and his brother. The latter had stolen the wife of one of his tenants. Her young brother resented it, and a sword fight followed, in which the boy was mortally wounded. The woman's husband, a delicate man, had been harnessed to a cart and used for a horse until he died. The blow killed her.

Dr. Manette reported the affair to an official. Whereupon he was seized and thrown into prison for knowing too much. The dead boy and woman were Mme. Defarge's brother and sister. Darnay is condemned to die within 24 hours. The shock throws Dr. Manette into a relapse. Mme. Defarge's vengeance now demands the heads of Lucie and Lucie's child, and even of where Darnay is to make the job complete. Sydney Carton is in Paris. There he meets John Barsad, now a spy and trustee prison official in the employ of the government. Under threat of exposing his past history Carton gains admission through him to the prison mission through him to the prison with him, renders him unconscious with some chemical and has him carried out properly applied and persistently advocated, it would put the divorce courts out of business, and it would make all of us more beautiful."

What Story Do You See in This Picture?

TWO girls—in affectionate greeting on a country hillside. One has just arrived in her auto. Unmistakably, the other is fresh from the fields or the dairy house. There is the savor faire of the city in the form and manner of the one. Her awkward formlessness reflects the life of the other. From her dainty boots to her jaunty hat the city girl represents the last word in fashion. To the other style means comfort, service and almost Puritanical plainness. It might appear that two distinct social castes were, unaccountably, meeting on a common level. Mistress and milkmaid, perhaps—drawn together by some unusual tie.

But the girls are SISTERS—the Paris artist who drew the picture tells the secret after first making you guess. They played together about their mother's knee; grew up together on the farm; studied together in the country school; dreamed the same dreams. A wealthy relative finally whisked the one away to the city. After a while she looked at herself and thought of Cinderella. Then, one day, she longed for her best beloved. What appears in the picture as a great difference between the two girls is only—CLOTHES!

More in a dark recess of a closet the heavy shoes, the full calico skirt, the shapeless waist and the head kerchief. Weave a Merlin spell with La Mode—and could not one imagine a pretty episode on the green of the Country Club?

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 21
A NEW CITY CHARTER.
Among the big list of motions before the city council yesterday was one by Ald. Wickett to the effect that immediate steps should be taken towards drafting a charter for Toronto, and that for this purpose the city solicitor, Council referred the motion to the board of control, but not apparently with the view of taking it seriously. It is one way of killing a motion. It is a grave question whether the board of control should not take some action which would ascertain definitely public feeling on the matter, and the real feeling of the council. It is too soon to formulate the terms of a charter before a charter is actually wanted. And any discussion of the matter at the present stage would at once assume a partisan character. Hon. Mr. Hanna's reference to the obvious advantages of a charter have given the subject a certain vitality. Its importance is undoubted, but Toronto has a way of allowing important things to lie dormant. No charter plan which the present administration brought forward would meet with the approval of one or two parties we shall refrain from mentioning. This attitude renders constructive legislation difficult. At the same time more difficulties should not delay necessary progress. If the council ever arrives at the stage of adopting a resolution in favor of charter government, or the drawing up of a charter, the whole question should then be lifted out of the partisan arena, by placing the drafting of the charter under a competent, independent body representing the city and the legislature jointly. Preparatory to that would be the accumulation of facts and experience from other places. It is clear, however, that the present atmosphere in which some representatives are prepared to tie the city hand and foot in order to give force to the views of a minority, is not the one in which to deal with the planning of a city charter for Toronto.

THE DOGGED DICTATOR.
President Huerta has not shown any particularly anxious desire to meet the United States' demand that amend by made its injured honor by the firing of a twenty-one gun salute. Nations that have been influenced by Spanish traditions are apt also to be jealous of their reputation and dignity, and the dictator may not be unwilling, for his own reasons, to try the patience of President Wilson a little further. But it is difficult to see what he hopes to gain by provoking even modified intervention. Occupation of a blockade would prevent the importation of the arms, ammunition and other supplies, of which he is understood to be in need, and without the sinews of war his chances of beating back the Constitutional forces would be much diminished. Whether Huerta yields at this stage or not, events seem to be hastening the moment of United States' intervention. With the northern provinces under the control of Carranza and his lieutenant, Villa, invasion by land, unless by arrangement with them, may not be deemed politic, since a rupture with the Constitutional leaders would inevitably unite the Mexican people against the common enemy. But if the dictator can be weakened in his stronghold, by so much would Villa's advances on the capital be assisted. Without support of this kind the outlook for an early settlement of the civil war is anything but bright. If it be the case, as rumored, that the middle and higher classes in Mexico favor intervention, its advent will be hastened.

BREAKING PEACE AND PRECEDENT.
It has transpired that a White Rock hen, domiciled in the north end of the city, has so far forgot what is due to the community as to lay what has been described as "a rather extraordinary egg" on Sunday. This is decidedly a case for the committee of forty, and for Assistant Deputy Archibald. The egg is alleged to be eight inches long and 6 1/2 inches round, and weighed 4 1/2 ounces, which seems to be inconsistent. An egg eight inches long should weigh more than this. Evidently a grave breach of the peace might arise in the discussion and settlement of such a point. But the really inexcusable feature of the case is that this reprehensible hen, not satisfied with laying an extraordinary egg, selected the Sabbath day to do it. The discovery of such an egg would upset the church-going arrangements of any family, and the unseemly cackling which undoubtedly followed the oviposition must have disturbed the quiet and decorum of the day. We admit that there are numerous precedents for the laying of ordinary eggs, and the wonted proclamation following such an event; but there is no sanction to be found anywhere for the laying of prodigious and abnormal eggs on Sunday. Mr. Archibald should now lay an information against the hen.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.
According to all appearance British emigration overseas will this year meet with a distinct setback. It will not be confined to Canada, notwithstanding the depression that characterized the latter half of 1913. For the recession is even more apparent in the tide flowing towards Australasia. Both the Dominion and the Commonwealth, including New Zealand, want the same type of immigrant. They are all alike desirous of encouraging land settlement and the inflow of agricultural labor. None of them want, possibly for variant reasons, to assist in bringing into the skilled labor market immigrants for whom there is no room. The point is that Canada is no longer going to have a monopoly of the opportunities that have hitherto attracted settlement on the land. All the British states and dominions are now recognizing the value of the land settler and he is all the time learning how to profit by the experience of his predecessors in pioneer enterprise. The interests of the Dominion and of each of its provinces lie in careful selection and in fitting the immigrant to the job whose requirements he is best able to fulfill. That is the only way to eliminate unnecessary cases of hardship and to facilitate the entry of the most desirable immigrant.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE INTEREST.
Perhaps the most striking illustration of the difference between municipal and private ownership and operation of public services and utilities is to be found in the character of the circumstances which arrest popular attention. No Toronto resident, unless a casual visitor, needs to be apprised of the antagonism between public and private interests, which has led to the past and pending controversies. The problem put up to the city is in essence that which presented itself to the brooding Prince of Denmark—whether "rather bear the ills it has than fly to others that it knows not of." But still, whenever choice is taken, there will be prophets before and moralists after the event. European cities have also public service problems. But these are not concerned with formidable franchise-holders and the difference between their interests and the public convenience. The questions they are required to meet are not complicated by the intervention of private interests. They centre round the improvement and development of the services, how to meet the greatest need of the greatest number and how to make the municipal services more readily available to the masses of the people. Even if these objects are imperfectly attained this at least means a marked advance over exploitation of the people for private profit.

MONTREAL "MILLIONAIRE" LEFT ONLY SMALL SUM
Pacaud's Magnificent Benefactions Were Based on Purely Mythical Assets.
Canadian Press Despatch.
MONTREAL, April 20.—The will of Abraham Lincoln Pacaud, who died at Verdun Asylum on January 29 last worth $200, has been annulled by Justice Charbonneau on the ground of insanity. Pacaud, who was once a well-known insurance broker in the city, seemed to be under the illusion that he was a millionaire and left annuities totaling about $50,000 a year to various parties, including young ladies the testator had known many years ago in Chicago. After the death of the testator named estate was to go to McGill University to found a department for the cure of malignant diseases such as cancer, to be known as the "Abraham Lincoln Pacaud Foundation."

TORONTO RELIEF SOCIETY OPPOSED TO DISBANDEMENT
At a splendid and well attended meeting of the Toronto Relief Society yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Patterson was in the chair the following resolution was moved by Rev. Mr. Hartley and was adopted:
"Resolved by this 39th annual meeting of the Toronto Relief Society, that a firm protest be made against the suggestion contained in the letter of the secretary of the Toronto Social Service Commission, just read, viz. that this society be disbanded, and that in view of the character of the work done, its results a larger grant of at least $1,500 be asked for the forthcoming winter, and that a deputation be appointed to wait upon the board of control to press these views."
Others present who spoke on this all important question were the president, Mrs. Forsyth Grant, Mr. Patterson, Rabbi Jacobs, Mr. Beverly Jones, Mr. Sweetman and others.
The reports showed a splendid result in the work of the past year.

Alexander K. Ross Had Been in Employ of G.T.R. for 43 Years
After suffering three strokes of paralysis since last August, Alexander K. Ross died at his late residence 216 Palmerston avenue on Sunday in his 57th year. He was a conductor for the G.T.R. for 43 years, previous to retiring on pension in 1911.

CALLS MEXICANS A MENACE.
Editor World: It is to be regretted that any person should so publicly endeavor to arouse feeling against the United States on account of its Mexican policy. Surely there can be no doubt that in similar circumstances, Great Britain would exact a prompt salute to the British flag. The arrest of the American uniformed marines by Huerta's officers could not be an unintentional mistake. It is only one of a number of indignities committed by Huerta and his followers, and the demand for redress is perfectly proper. It appears to be in accord with all international custom and precedent. A war with Mexico would be a terrible thing and much to be deplored, yet matters have gone far enough to show that something should be done soon to compel both the Mexican factions to give proper respect and consideration to Americans and British. In the case of the murder of the British subject Benton some people thought war should be made, and it is to be hoped that the British subject, who has been so treacherous and bloodthirsty to the Mexicans render them a menace to civilization. Henry Montgomery. Toronto, April 20.

MARK IRISH HONORED.
At a meeting of the Central Liberal-Conservative Association of Toronto, held in Victoria Hall, Mark H. Irish, the immediate past president of the association, was presented with a solid gold watch. The presentation was made by Mr. W. H. Price, president of the Central Liberal-Conservative Association, in which Mr. Irish presided over the Centennial Association last year, and especially for his services in connection with the management of the Borden demonstration held at the Arena on May 19 last. Mr. Irish made a suitable reply, and thanked the members for the splendid gift.

HOLD LUNCHEON TODAY.
A luncheon meeting of the Municipal Improvement Association will be held at McConkey's today at one o'clock. An address will be given by Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Toronto Bureau of Municipal Research. Subject, "Leads in City Government."

REFUSED TO GUARANTEE BONDS OF FRUIT FARMS
Grimsby Village and Township Voted Down Bylaws Yesterday.
GRIMSBY, April 20.—Bylaws of the Village of Grimsby and the township of North Grimsby, providing each principally to guarantee the interest and sinking fund on $500,000 worth of bonds to be floated by the Bell Fruit Farms, Ltd., were defeated in both municipalities by large majorities today. The Bell Fruit Farms, Ltd., who operate a large independent canning factory and have six large fruit farms in the neighborhood, finding themselves in financial difficulties came before the council of the village and townships and asked for aid. The vote was: Village of Grimsby, bylaw 119; against bylaw 156. Township of North Grimsby, for bylaw 181; against bylaw 168. The bylaw was defeated in both municipalities by a straight majority of 23. A two-thirds vote was required.

HOW TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING BY PROPER FOOD
At the meeting of the Canadian Household Economic Association yesterday afternoon, Dr. W. J. McCormick addressed the members on "The Proper Selection of Food as a Means of Reducing the Cost of Living." In which he touched some interesting points in this much discussed subject. The speaker explained the food value of meats and cereals, and the superiority of cereals when properly prepared. From a report in a medical journal it was shown that an infected animal was sold as good meat, after the supposedly infected part had been cut away. The danger of such carelessness was self apparent and it behooved the inspectors to watch more closely than ever. Mrs. Mearns, the president, was appointed convenor in place of Mrs. Lester who was obliged to resign owing to her business responsibilities.

CITY HALL BESEIGED BY UNEMPLOYED HOSTS
Five Thousand Responded to Indiscreet Invitation of Montreal's Mayor.
Canadian Press Despatch.
MONTREAL, April 20.—Mayor Martin's rash invitation to out-of-workers to call at the city hall this morning was answered by fully 5,000 men of all classes. By 10 o'clock it needed about 100 policemen to handle the mob. The recently-elected mayor promised work for 2,000 on street cleaning and repairs, and there ensued a wild scramble for tickets entitling the bearer to work nine hours for the city for $2.25. A detachment of three to four hundred disappointed ones rushed one of the entrances and forced its way to the door of the mayor's office. All that he promised them was that they might be employed later on in the spring.

GRADUATING EXERCISES ON FRIDAY.
The graduating exercises of the Toronto Bible College will be held in the College Hall on Friday next at 4 o'clock, when a class of 27 students will receive diplomas. HAUSER'S HORSES HERE FROM CHICAGO

Four Arrive in Good Shape at Woodbine Park - Gallops on Muddy Track.

Weather and track conditions were anything but favorable for work at Woodbine Park yesterday morning. Both of the stretchers were very muddy.

Henry Bondy had Philo Lamb's string out. They were given useful gallops. Tony, the brown colt by Otis-Sure Dance, was bred a good, stiff eighth in company with Jimmie Gorman.

Trainer McDaniel had the Davies string out. Gold Bud and Moving Picture were bred three-eighths in 38. The former worked a mile easily on Saturday in 1:54.5. Recoll was bred three-quarters and was under wraps all the way.

Wm. Walker's string were all given slow gallops. "Red" his string never was in better shape. They all look in the pink of condition after racing all winter.

C. Hauser of Chicago arrived yesterday morning with a string of four, viz. Cassowary, b.g., s. by Granatum-Hot Bird. Donovan, b.g., s. by Bannockburn-Eurda.

Joekey Goldstein was a visitor at the track yesterday. Banty Rogers had R. Crew's string out for a gallop. They have had no fast work, only breasted eighth.

NEWS FROM THE CITY HALL

CITY SHOULD GET SEPARATE CHARTER

Alderman Wickett's Motion Referred to Board of Control for Action.

Ald. Wanless put thru a motion at council meeting yesterday that Commissioner Harris investigate and report upon the alleged conveyance of inflammable or explosive gases, liquids or other substances into the sewers, with a view to the prevention of loss of life and property.

Ald. Wickett moved that henceforth the annual budget be brought down and report upon the provision for transportation to the island the year round.

Ald. Wickett moved that the city get a charter. Controller Church objected. Then Controller Simpson called attention to the Gooderham bill to prove that members of the council who fail to carry their fight in the council rush to the legislature for reinforcements.

"The Gooderham bill is pernicious interference with municipal autonomy," he said. "The council should so approve or disapprove of the motion that the board of control will feel certain that if they draft a charter it will not be deemed to a hostile vote."

Ald. Maguire supported the Gooderham bill and Ald. Singer poked fun at him. Ald. Wickett's motion for a charter was unanimously referred to the board of control. "That means a charter," Ald. McBride remarked.

Replying to a query from Ald. Singer, City Solicitor Johnston stated that a vote upon the street railway purchase on any other day than Jan. 1 would cost $300 more.

MAYOR LEAVES FOR ATLANTA.

Atlanta, Ga., claims to have an odorless sewage disposal works. As two sewage disposal works have to be placed in the Don Valley in connection with the new drainage system for North Toronto district, and there will be trouble over establishing them there unless they are guaranteed odorless, Mayor Hocken and Commissioner Harris leave for Atlanta today to inspect the works there.

During the week's absence of Mayor Hocken, Controller McCarthy will be acting mayor of Toronto.

ONE ARCHBISHOP ENOUGH FOR CANADA

Bishop Du Vernet Says Common Use of Title Cheapens It.

Bishop Du Vernet of Caledonia is taking the lead in a movement to have only one archbishop in Canada, instead of several. He is in opposition to the action to be taken here on Thursday, when the upper house of the Ontario Anglican Synod has been summoned to elect a new archbishop of Ontario, in succession to Archbishop Hamilton.

He argues that the metropolitan of the General Synod of Canada should be the only member of the Anglican episcopate to be entitled archbishop, as the present common use of the title cheapens it.

The Ontario house of bishops will meet in St. James' Parish Hall on Thursday morning. It is understood that Bishop Thorneycroft is the choice of the Trinity men for the succession to Archbishop Hamilton.

ESTIMATES PASSED ALMOST UNCHANGED

Ald. Frank Spence, However, Indulged in Long-Winded Criticism.

CIVIC CAR EXPENSES

Despite Deficit, Fares on Municipal Lines Will Not Be Increased.

Before the estimates were finally disposed of in the city council yesterday Ald. F. Spence had indulged in criticism that ran for several hours. Controller McCarthy met all criticism with the result that no material change was made in the estimates.

From beginning to end the estimates ran the gauntlet, and came out practically unchanged. This is high tribute to those who prepared the estimates.

In the discussion upon the accounts of the Canadian National Exhibition it came out that a bill of $1500 for electric light for the National Fat Stock Show last November was charged by the C. N. E. to the city and the bill was paid by the city.

"Is that $1500 additional to the $37,000 deficit of the fat stock show?" Ald. McBride asked, and he groaned when Controller McCarthy replied in the affirmative.

Ald. Maguire made an onslaught upon the expenses in operating the civic car lines to make the opportunity to insinuate that the intention is to drive the city into purchasing the Toronto Railway Company's system. He was generally challenged on this insinuation, but he stuck to it.

He quoted from a detailed statement to emphasize that the cost of repairing and painting the civic cars had been $10,000. So many in the council owned automobiles that $10,000 for repairing and painting 20 cars during one year did not seem an enormity.

Ald. Wanless asked if the rates on the civic cars are to be increased and Controller McCarthy replied in the negative.

"It will be a great relief when the car lines are managed by a commission," Ald. Dunn said. "We may then have no deficits."

"If we looked up our civic street cars and ran motor bus lines in place there would not be such a big deficit," Ald. Wickett declared. The civic car deficit, he estimated at $163,217 this year.

"Each civic car we run has a deficit of $60 a day," Ald. Hiltz said. "But we will have to grin and bear it."

"It would be an outrage to ask the people whom the civic car lines serve to pay a higher rate," Ald. Maybee contended. "In time the deficit will lessen to nothing."

Controller McCarthy gave a new turn to the debate when he pointed out that the civic car lines had developed so much extra business for the Toronto Railway Company that the commission to the city from the company largely met the deficit of the civic car lines.

Commissioner Harris informed Ald. Wickett that a motor bus service could not be operated in the suburbs in the spring and fall on account of the mud, nor in the winter on account of the snow.

Ald. Maguire moved that $15,000 be struck off the estimate for maintenance and operation of the civic car lines, but the motion did not carry.

HYDRO RADIALS CAN BE BUILT

Hon. Adam Beck's Bill Provides for Liberal Financing Scheme.

CENTRALIZE CONTROL

Act Will Ensure That Capable Men Are in Charge.

The enthusiasm for hydro radials which has prevailed during the year in the province evolved a proposal for provincial control and operation from Hon. Adam Beck in the legislature yesterday. The bill he introduced while repealing the special measure of 1913 provides that funds secured by Hydro-Electric bond issues guaranteed by the province may be used for the construction of the new railways.

The change in the plan relieves the municipalities from their responsibility of operation and supervision and provides a more substantial financing arrangement than that of floating municipal debentures. The burden will be distributed equally between province, commission and municipalities.

To save the government and commission each municipality interested will deposit debentures equalling the expenditure, and they will also provide for the deficits which accrue from interest or sinking fund.

Fifty Year Bonds.

Following out some ideas suggested by deputations for construction will be issued on a fifty-year basis and for the first ten of these when the lines are strung for a bureau of municipalities will be charged any sinking fund deficits at all. No chance will be taken, however, of a municipality falling in its obligations, and their debentures may be sold in the market if the commission thinks necessary, the commission bonds being a first mortgage on the radials.

Before any municipality enters agreement the Lieutenant-governor's approval must be gained and the electors who vote on money bylaws will vote on it at the polls. The change in the government policy is understood to have been caused by the desire to centralize the management and to ensure that the same men being in charge. This bill is now taken to open the way for all places so desiring to advance at once upon electric railway schemes.

DIAMONDS DISCOVERED IN REAUME TOWNSHIP

Microscopic Specimens Found by D. O'Connor, But They Are of Little Value.

The diamond may now be classed as one of the mineral products of Ontario. Specimens of a microscopic variety have been discovered in Reaume Township in the Porcupine district by D. O'Connor, and the attention of Provincial Geologist Miller has been called.

While the variety has practically no economic value it is felt that the chrome ore in which the stones are found will prove a valuable addition to the provincial mineral trade. British Columbia enjoyed the same discovery several years ago, but no valuable stones were found, a fact, however, which is not discouraging to mining experts in Ontario.

Strong indignation and resentment is being stirred up among young Conservatives in the province who claim that a serious misrepresentation of their position has been made in connection with the recent deputation on temperance reform to the Ontario government. They declare that the impression which has been broadcasted by certain interested parties to the effect that 9,000 supporters of the government will desert the party standard unless their views are met by legislation, is entirely misleading and contrary to any basis of fact.

Some are so angry over it that they threaten an investigation to find what parties are guilty of spreading such an idea. On Thursday, April 9, a deputation representing the Ontario Young Men's Association waited upon the cabinet and presented a petition asking the passing of an act abolishing all liquor shops, bars and club licenses after a plebiscite of the people had approved it. The request was headed, "We, the undersigned, being young men having votes, and all Conservatives." This was in turn followed by a memorial which also said, "We do not come to you in the name of an association but as young Conservatives. We are Conservatives and compose a majority in the executive."

It is now being claimed that the movement, far from being an representation of the "young men's interests," and indignation has occurred accordingly. "It is sheer poppycock to say that we threatened to desert the government," declares one man boldly. "I signed the petition, but only to urge advanced legislation." Another states that he heard of the memorial and that he heard of it, and that he felt that hundreds who had not known of the way the petition would be handled would have left it alone.

The fact of the case as gathered from Dr. H. A. McKim, president of the O.Y.M.A., is that the memorial was signed only by ten or twelve members of the executive which is supposed to be non-partisan. The fact that the young men of Ontario, 9,000 petitioners had nothing to do with it, they had never endorsed it nor its use. Their names were obtained by a series of letters sent out to men in the province who journeyed about seeking signatures.

The investigation of some who feel that they have been misrepresented shows that at least one of those who signed the memorial as a Conservative member of the executive is a Liberal and has always been counted as such. One Conservative on the executive was not consulted. Furthermore, it is claimed that all who signed the petition were not Conservatives. A brief study of the draft submitted to the government bears this out. In five cases at least appear the names of men who boldly signed the word "Liberal" after the signature, an addition which in two or three cases was scratched out. One man marked "Independent" at the name.

The method of gathering signatures was carried out on a wholesale plan. Rev. Jas. Lawson, Ashton, Ont., writes: "I have not been able to recall the names of the young men of Ashton. I presented the paper to give their signatures except one who said he was not yet on the roll. As you wanted the names, no matter how few, I am sending this half dozen."

Hon. W. J. Hanna introduced amendments in the house yesterday afternoon which will amend the provincial liquor license administration. One important thing arranged for is the enforcement of the Scott act by means of consolidated revenue funds the operation in municipalities where the fines collected are not large enough and the operation in unorganized districts will be half. A separate account subject to audit will also be kept and the operation in unorganized districts will be under the government entirely.

The right to question an intoxicated person in local option districts will hereafter be allowed in any district, and he may be forced to explain the circumstances.

It is now left to the magistrate to place on the "index list" a person he thinks fit, the clause being designed to help out relatives who would urge treatment, but are backward about it. Druggists, as well as licensees will have the privilege of appealing from convictions and the fines and penalties accumulating in local option districts will be placed in a separate fund for the constabulary to expedite administration.

Provision is also made that on Good Friday, as well as on Christmas Day, all bars must be closed.

FREE WHEAT ISSUE NOT DEAD

LIBERALS HOPE FOR SURRENDER

Hon. Robert Rogers Counted Upon by Opposition to Use Influence Upon Government — Budget Debate Likely to Continue Thursday of tuberculosis in the cattle of eastern Canada. The Government has been expressed, said Mr. Warnock, that the best of the Ontario farmers, but he thought the latter were not to be taken care of entirely by the Government.

After briefly advocating free wheat and free agriculture, Mr. Warnock said that the co-operative movement among the western grain growers would result in some members being returned to the next parliament, but would likely represent the farmers, irrespective of the dictates of any political party.

Mr. Warnock, the western Liberal, made one of the best speeches in the debate on the standpoint of the opposition while the government and the National Policy were being defended by several Conservative members from Ontario. Mr. Clarke, the Conservative member for North Wellington, made a strong plea for government aid to the Hydro-Electric radials, saying that many farmers in Ontario were 15 miles from the nearest railway stations.

BEARS AIDED BY MEXICAN CRISIS

New York Stocks, However, Behaved Remarkably Well Under Trying Conditions

LUMPED AT THE CLOSE

Liquidation and Short Selling Caused Marking Down of Prices.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The decline in stocks continued today and another string of low records for the year, numbering nearly a score, was recorded. In the last week of the popular trading shares, such as Reading, Union Pacific and Steel. At the opening the market was under pressure and it lost ground steadily during the first quarter of an hour. A rally ensued, but restored quotations to a level with the preceding day, but during the afternoon the downward swing was resumed. Distinct weakness appeared on this movement and some of the prominent issues, including Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading and Lehigh Valley lost two to three points.

The Mexican crisis was generally referred to as the predominant feature in the market. The new ticks developed a large part of their service to Washington. The situation presented an unusual opportunity for the bears, and they utilized it successfully. No real nervousness. At the same time there was no evidence of any feeling of nervousness. In the late afternoon, particularly, the market took the form of a stampede. A good deal of the selling was believed to have come from tired out holders of stocks to whom the Mexican crisis came as the last of a series of blows to the market, inducing them to let go. Oil stocks were particularly weak. The members of the Standard Oil group were forced down one to twenty points, coincidentally with another cut in the price of crude oil. In the bond market prices were lower after some irregularity. Rock goldminers made a two-point advance, only to lose it. New York Railway Adjustment was weakened sharply. State and municipal issues also declined.

LONDON UNEASY ON MEXICAN SITUATION

Illness of Emperor Francis Joseph Also Had Weakening Effect

LONDON, April 20.—The Mexican situation caused depression on the stock exchange today, and effectively checked business. In the early trading hour a sharp decline in the market was noted, which was later, but dropped again on reports of the illness of Emperor Francis Joseph and other news. The market favored the bears. American securities moved irregularly within narrow limits. The Wall Street market in the early afternoon showed a weak tone, and prices fell 1/2 to 1/4 point. The Wall Street market buying brought about a recovery, and made the closing steady. Money was in quiet demand, and discount rates were easy.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Glazebrook & Crowninshield and bond brokers reported exchange rates as follows: Buyers, Sellers. Counter. N.Y. 90, 1-32 pm. 1-18 pm. 14 to 14. Montreal, 90, 1-18 pm. 14 to 14. N.Y. 90, 1-32 pm. 1-18 pm. 14 to 14. Cable, 90, 1-32 pm. 1-18 pm. 14 to 14. Sterling, 60 day sight, 48 1/2 to 48 1/2. Sterling demand, 48 1/2 to 48 1/2. Call money in Toronto, 6 per cent. Bank of England rate, 3 per cent. Open market discount rate in London for short bills, 1 1/2 per cent.

CONSOLS STEADY.

In London, consols closed 1/4 lower, at 75 1/2 for money and 75 1/2-1/4 for account.

EUROPEAN BOURSES.

BERLIN, April 20.—The bourse was weak today owing to the Mexican situation and the illness of Emperor Francis Joseph. Exchange on London, 20 marks 4 1/2 pence for cheques. Money, 2 1/2 per cent. Private rate of discount, 2 1/2 per cent.

REGULAR MONARCH DIVIDEND.

The directors of the Monarch Knitting Co., Limited, have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on preferred stock, payable May 1 to shareholders of record on April 21.

HAD PROPERTY IN ONTARIO.

The estate of George Arthur Wingham Devereux, son of the late General Devereux, of the British army, and a sub-lieutenant in the Royal Navy, who died in England last October, includes Ontario property of 1400 value, consisting of ten shares of Brazilians.

MOTHER GETS MOST OF ESTATE.

Administration of the estate of Alexander Henderson Tulloch, business secretary to the Y.M.C.A., was applied for by the mother, Jessie Tulloch, 84 Clarendon avenue, yesterday in the probate court. The estate totals $4,700. Of this $3,173 goes to the mother and $1,527 to Barbara and Joseph Tulloch, two sisters, and to John Tulloch, a brother.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA INCORPORATED 1869 Capital Paid Up $11,560,000 Reserve Funds 13,575,000 BANK MONEY ORDERS A safe and economical method of remitting SMALL amounts. Rates: $5 and under 6c. Over $5, not exceeding $10 10c. Over $10, not exceeding $50 15c. Over $50, not exceeding $100 20c. Payable without charge in Canada (Vancouver excepted) and Newfoundland in U.S.A. at all principal cities—and in Great Britain and Ireland at over 500 points.

MEXICAN TROUBLES INFLUENCED LOCALS

Early Steadiness is Followed by Floor Traders Drive.

BRAZILS WEAK AGAIN

These Shares and Steel Corporation the Ones Subject to Attack.

The Mexican situation was the controlling factor on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday and incidentally of some interest to other markets. A brave attempt to stem liquidation was made after the opening session, but the liquidation was too much for the support and prices receded. C.P.R. opened weak, rallied later and then closed at about the opening price. On the Toronto market more stagnation was the principal result of the foreign news. The smallness of business was responsible for such market steadiness as occurred. During the morning session changes from Saturday's close were altogether immaterial. The occasional jumps of large fractions, such as that in Steel Corporation and others, which are an immediate reaction in the quotations had none too genuine an appearance. During the afternoon session floor trading drove a drive at Brazilians and Steel Corporation. Brazilians were forced below 80, and Steel Corporation to 25. Can. Pac. had a further drop to 80, and more stock was offered at that price. More reactions would have been registered had there been an immediate market reaction to the number of issues, and unless a change in the foreign situation takes place further declines are highly probable.

MONTREAL STOCKS WEAK AT CLOSE

Movement Was in Sympathy With New York Slump General Losses.

MONTREAL, April 20.—A heavy tone prevailed today's trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange, but movements were narrow and business dull until the last hour, when a sharp decline in the New York list brought fairly sharp recessions in special stocks to the accompaniment of some increase in activity. The market finished practically at the low of the day with net losses ranging up from good-sized fractions to about a point. The morning movement was narrow and irregular, but with the general tendency slightly to the north. The market declined at 10:30 on lower cables from London, but improved later to 10:45, or within 1/4 Saturday's close. Richelieu declined 1/4 to 28 1/2, but iron rallied from 25 1/2 to 26 1/2. Brazilian 4 off at 80 1/2, the Quebec Railway fell 1/2 to 10 1/2. The balance of the list showed few changes of importance and the general tone was heavy. Prices fell fairly rapidly in the afternoon. C.P.R. fell to 19 1/2, and finished there with a net loss of 1 1/2. Brazilian trading had a tone of indecision, but with a like loss. Power weakened more than a point to 21 1/2, but recovered with finished at 22 1/2. The market's low record quotation of 23. Textile went 1/2 lower to 75, and rallied only to 76. Canada common, during the meeting of the directors, fell to 10 1/2, and new low of 10 1/2. It was a market of a kind that offered no encouragement in any direction and sentiment was decidedly depressed. Further liquidation of Crown Reserve, which carried the price down to 141, sixteen cents below the close on Saturday, was the special feature of the day. Towards the close hands changed hands on the stock exchange, the most active day for this mining issue in a long time.

WILL EXCHANGE GREETINGS WITH THE EAST KENTS.

The Queen's Own officers will hold their annual dinner at the Military Institute on Tuesday evening, when it is expected to have a leased cable from their room to the officers' mess of "The Buffs," who are stationed at Fermoy, Ireland, and with whom the Queen's Own are affiliated. If the arrangements are completed messages of congratulation will be sent. An endeavor will be made to have the Buffs unveil a portrait of Sir Henry Pellatt on that night.

HOMESICKERS' and Settlers' Excursions

The Grand Trunk Railway System issues round trip homesickers' tickets at very low fares from stations in Canada to points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and are in effect each Tuesday until October 27th, inclusive, via Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth, and will also be on sale on certain dates via Sarnia and Northern Navigation Company. Through Pullman tourist sleeping cars are operated between Toronto and Montreal, leaving Toronto 11 p.m. No change of cars. Reservations in tourist sleepers may be obtained at a nominal charge on request to any Grand Trunk ticket agent. Homesickers' tickets are valid returning two months from date of issue. Settlers' one-way second-class tickets are on sale each Tuesday during April from stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and west to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan at low fares.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILWAY IS THE SHORTEST and QUICKEST route between Winnipeg-Saskatoon-Edmonton, with excellent through service to Regina, Calgary, and Banff.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk ticket offices, or write C. E. Homings, General Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ont. 1246

TEMPLARS' MEETING.

The regular meeting of Queen City Lodge, L.O.G.T., was held in Johnstone's Hall, Dundas street, with C. T. Bro. Matthews in the chair. Bro. A. Bowyer of White Horse Lodge, Lucknow, India, was accepted on clearance card. The following took part in the program: Misses Fell and Matthews and Messrs. Schofield, Smith, Cane, Hull, Thomas and Atkinson.

GIFT TO BELLEVILLE CHURCH.

BELLEVILLE, April 20.—The Baptist Church of this city has received the sum of $1000 towards the installing of a pipe organ in the church.

R. H. CLEMENS GOES TO MONTREAL.

GALT, April 20.—It was announced today that the resignation of R. H. Clemens, local district representative of the department of agriculture, has been tendered, to take effect on the first of June. Mr. Clemens is going to New Ontario to become manager of the government demonstration and experimental farm at Montpelier. Mr. Clemens succeeded F. C. Hart, who was recently appointed to take charge of the co-operative branch of the department with Toronto headquarters.

Random Notes on the Mining Stocks.

Peterson Lake was much stronger on yesterday's market and touched 38. There was a very bullish sentiment apparent yesterday with traders expecting a rising market.

The work of electrifying the Kerr Lake branch of the Timiskaming & Northern Railway for the use of the Nipissing Central will commence at least on May 1. The new present weather continues some time this month. As soon as the men will be put on digging post holes and setting them up and bonding the rails.

From the No. 1 shaft, which is not yet connected with the No. 2, a narrow vein about six inches wide of ore that is running about 82° is being developed. This lead is in the conglomerate.

ARCHBISHOP McNEIL LEAVES FOR ROME

His Grace Archbishop Neil McNeil left for Rome on Sunday to give an account of his stewardship of the archdiocese of Toronto. This is his first trip to Rome since his appointment to his position, and he was accompanied by Bishop McDonald of Victoria, B.C., and Rev. Father James Walsh, pastor of St. Helen's Church, Toronto. Archbishop McNeil was accompanied to New York by Rev. Father Kernahan, his secretary, and the chancellor of the archdiocese, Right Rev. Mgr. McCann, V.G., who will be the administrator of the archdiocese during the archbishop's absence.

STEEL CARS FOR T. AND N. O.

Beginning next month, the Cobalt special of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway will be of steel equipment, the necessary steel cars which were ordered for this purpose from a Chicago firm, being ready for delivery by May 1. This is to include steel equipment both for the north-bound and south-bound Cobalt trains.

BREAK WAS ENGINEERED Peter Peterson Lake property had been restated, or that that company would lose part of its holding. The break in the stock was engineered with some success and has perhaps disappointed some holders of their shares at cheap prices. We have always had confidence in Peterson Lake, and consider that again an opportunity is presented to buy at low prices. The market reaction also presents occasions for other purchases. We expect to see the market make an early recovery and to show much strength later on.

Horse Show Millinery Opening

Captivating in their originality are the styles in Spring and Summer Hats, and especially striking as developed in the stunning models to be worn at the Horse Show.

Never was such variety. There are the Pannier and Bustle Hats, now familiar; the Watteau, the Bergère (shepherdess), the Rocco, the Girondin, the Niniche, the Rembrandt, the Louis XVI., not to mention the Directoire Poke, the Louis Sailors, and the Toques of two, three or four corners.

The ribbon sash will be a prominent feature. Birds of Paradise and ospreys everybody is eager to acquire, for prices are bound to soar under the new law forbidding their future importation. Of these we have a most unusual showing.

Hats for Young Women and Girls are a distinct feature of our new offerings. This section grows constantly, with fresh stock added, and every mode of the moment, picturesque or quaint, adapted to the needs of the miss in her teens and the older sister.

Black Hats, in every new shape, pressed straws, leghorns in garden as well as small shapes, and a wealth of the new fruit and flower trimmings, moire ribbons, Romans, and soft-toned velvets—these are only a few of the season's specialties.

Our Big Opening Display for the Horse Show Begins Wednesday.

Concerning the Display of Seamless Rugs

Such a display of all-one-type Rugs as we are at present making in our Yonge street windows and in the Rug Department on the Fourth Floor has never been offered in Canada before. Every one of these rugs is woven entirely in one piece, making possible an extreme exactness in copying and executing the rare Oriental and tapestry patterns of old and valuable carpets. In addition to the more rug-like appearance of the seamless fabric there is an added practical virtue, in that there are no seams to show wear quickly. These rugs are distinctly unusual in design and coloring. Beautiful reproductions of fine Eastern Rugs have been made before many times, but in these there is a more successful following of the spirit of the master designers. The Rug Department staff will be pleased to show you the different specimens and to point out their features of special interest. THESE RUGS ARE WOVEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE ROBERT SIMPSON COMPANY.
