A. R. Crookshank was re-elected president of the Saint John Boys' Work Council at the annual meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. Several new features will be added to the board's program and the form-

The parish councillors present at yesterday's meeting voiced their objections to holding up the payment of the assessors' fees. The county secretary refused to divulge his reason and when pressed for his objection by several of the councillors, referred them to the county by-law which reads as follows:

"That the assessors for the several parishes be paid their fees on completion of their work to the satisfaction of the county secretary upon the certificate of the auditor."

Mr. Kelley said after the meeting that he had received no such certificate.

In the Toronto interview Mr. Kerraphee in interesting vein on Dominion relationship with Britain. He was asked some awkward questions; for example, this one: "Should war develop between Turkey and Great Britain over Mosul, do you think the Dominions would be asked to take part in it?" Mr. Kerr replied: "Whether the Dominions would or would not take part in a war affecting the Motherland is a question not worth worrying about. If the war were no more serious than a rising on the Afghanistan frontier then abviously there would be no need for the Dominions to join in. If the war proved an important affair, them the interests of the Commonwealth would be in the interests of the Commonwealth to fight."

Mr. Kerr is far from being in agreement with some of the nervous Imperialists who fear that the development of a spirit of Canadinian is threatens our relations with the Empire. Canada, he asserts, cannot be great unless it is inspired by a great unational spirit. Indeed he says Canadian nationalism is "the finest thing for the Empire possible. Canada can best serve the Commonwealth by being a country strong in itself. Any movement which will give Canada and their white dhooties dyed primrose. It is a loss that strikes directly at every interest and at every individual. As the Fire Commissioner points out, every loaf of bread costs more because of the fire waste, every tax bill is raised by it. That the Holy Name Society may not seem to be alone in their formal protest with reference to the presentations of this dramatization of "Simon, Called Peter," they have wired the secretary of His Eminence Cardinal Hayes of New York for official information concerning this play. This gentleman is in close touch with the society publishing the White List of Books and Plays. In reply to our request, Rev. Robert F. Keegan, secretary to His Eminence for Charities, writes us as follows:

"Book and Alay entitled 'Simon, Called Peter,' by Keable, are not on the White List, and from all accounts both are the worst published since the war. This is the opinion of the Catholic critics of New York."

It may be explained that the society publishing the White List is a body whose object is to rid the stage of America of the demoralizing effects of a degraded literature, especially as reflected in the drama. This society unequivocally condemns in the above telegraphic reply the show entitled "Simon, Called Peter."

It is not in the spirit of false modesty that the Holy Name Society warns against immoral plays, but rather that we may not as a community be considered to have endorsed by attendance or to have sanctioned by an indifferent

Rallies Scouts

"Now that the fall has started, we can look forward to a new year of scouting, and I feel sure that it will be another good one—in fact I hope that it will be the best ever. There are several reasons why I hope so.

"In the first place, more scoutmasters have taken special instruction than ever before, so this means that they can give you a better idea of scouting than ever, as every one of them is full of ideas of how to build up the scouts and improve things. We can be certain that a good deal of good work is going to be done.

"In the second place, most of the troops that have held summer camps have done far more real scout work than formerly, and now know just what they need to take up for the work in the construction was commenced, and it has gone forward with great speed and scrupulous attention to every detail. There are now 135 men employed there and everything is well forward, according to the contract. George P. Hennessey, supervisor of the work in the interests of the Vocational committee, yesterday showed a reporter all over the building, explaining the features of special interest. The site of unrivalled beauty is being made still more imposing with its double terraces and three flights of granite steps. The architectural design of the exterior is most imposing. New small in numbers, we feel that a slow but steady growth is better than sudden growth which does not last very long.

Thin, Pale, Tired? Look Out For Chronic Fatigue

One of the most insidious enemies of American life today is chronic fatigue. Thousands are only half alive, tired and ambitionless all the time, pale, weak and constantly suffering with dizziness, palpitation, poor appetite, nervousness, head aches, backaches, etc.—continually taking tonics and medicines for this or that ailment or pain—when, in the great majority of cases, the real cause of the trouble is chronic fatigue.

Lacking in sufficient strength-giving organic iron to carry strength and vigor to the starved tissues.

What you need, then, is not mere stimulating tonics and drugs, but more organic iron in your blood to make it rich and red, so that it can carry strength, health—yes, and beauty, too—to every part of your body.

But don't take the mineral iron medicines used in the past, which many doctors now say do little good.

cause of the trouble is chronic fatigue.

Chronic fatigue is entirely different, from the ordinary fatigue you feel after a long walk or any vigorous exertion. That's "healthy-tired," and is nothing to worry about. But chronic fatigue—the serious kind—comes from within. Your entire body—nerves, muscles, organs, skin, etc.—has become rundown and is not functioning properly. This condition, if not corrected, may easily lead to serious trouble.

To conquer it, you must go to the real root of it. And doctors look for this in your blood. As everybody knows, it is from the blood that every muscle, nerve and tissue of your body gets its nourishment. So when you are thin, pale, tired, rundown and ailing, it is almost invariably because your blood is thin and pale,

Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it. "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. > CONRAD'S UNFINISHED NOVEL (New York World)

(New York World)

Joseph Conrad's "Suspense," the romance of Napoleonic days which is published this week as a fragment, is the latest reminder that death does not wait for the artistic to lay down his pencil. He may be at the heighth of his finest inspiration. Stovenson seemed rising to a surpassing achievement when "Weir of Hermiston" was abruptly broken off. Thackery had written nothing better than the history of "Dennis Duval," which his last illness stopped at the exciting moment of John Paul Jone's capture of the Serapis. Mrs. Gastall had returned in her unfinished "Wives and Daughters" to the village scene of her greatest triumph, the Knutsford she called Crantford. And the finer the work the more impossible it is to deputize its completion. Quiller-Couch's ending for Stevenson's "St. Ives," Lucan Malet's conclusion for her father Charles Kingsley's novel "The Tutor's," Mrs De Morgan's ending for "The Old Man's Youth," were, at best, makechiffs. As Longfellow wrote of Hawthorne's "Dolliver Romance," the unfinished window in Aladdin's tower unfinished must remain.

Yet it may be doubted if the loss is really great. These fragments have a charm of their own. Our Imagination can busy itself investing them with a nobler artistry than the author might in the end have conferred. Could any ending that Dickens might have given "Edwin Drood" have been so effective as the mystery as it stands, inviting the guesses which every reader has as good right as Chesterton or Andrew Lang to offer Stevenson might have botched the last half of "Weir of Hermiston" as badly as George Eliot botched the last third of "The Mill on the Floss." Aladdin,s tower is all the more magical for its uncompleted nanas.

FORGERY OF WILLS

Claimed Relationship to People Who Died Intestate; Produced Fake Papers.

LONDON, Oct. 3-Eighteen charges relating to the alleged forgery of wills were brought against Lucy Summers, an elderly woman, recently, who appeared at the police court, and eight charges of a similar nature were pre-ferred against her husband, John James charges of a similar nature were preferred against her husband, John James Summers.

"Within the space of one year," said Mr. Paling, "Mrs. Summers claimed relationship with seven dead intestate persons. In six of these cases, by her agency, she has produced a number of wills, all of which are forgeries."

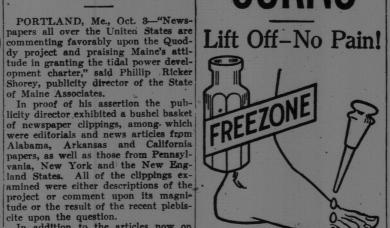

The first case, stated Mr. Paling, related to a man named Wilson, who died in a lodging house in St. Paneras in June, 1924. He had $290 in his possession, but nothing to identify him. Mrs. Summers claimed that she was the man's wife, and she received $160. It was suggested that she obtained the description of the dead man from a newspaper paragraph.

In the case of Jan Winifred Rodgers, a cook, of Eastby, Yorkshire, who died intestate, the next of kin was advertised for. A letter addressed to the dead woman was received at the house where she had been employed. This was signed "Your sincere sister, Lucy Wilson," and stated that as her husband was dead they could be friends again.

The letter was handed to solicitors,

Charles M. Kerrison of the shipping firm of Kerrison and Linton, local agents for the tern schooner Edward Smith, and W. C. Reid, of New York, managing owner of the vessel, arrived yesterday at noon from Richibucto and report that the vessel which is firmly fixed in the sand on the bar will probably be a total loss.

The Edward Smith, 858 tons, and commanded by Captain Morris Trynor loaded 288,000 feet of lumber at Buctouche and sailed for Richibucto to complete her cargo for New York. She arrived at Richibucto on Monday, Sept. 21, and remained at anchor off the bar awaiting a tug to tow her to a loading berth. The tug arrived on Thursday, Sept. 24, but was unable to work owing to rough weather. The vessel had two anchors out but owing to the high wind she dragged and went hard and fast on the sand bar.

The agents and managing owner secured the services of the large tug Saint Anne and an unsuccessful attempt was made on Thursday to haul the schooner off the bar. Another trial was made yesterday morning but the Smith is so firmly embedded in the sand that she could not be moved, and it is now expected she will prove a total loss. Captain Traynor has given up hopes of saving his vessel and started his crew stripping the vessel yesterday.

COMMISSIONER TELLS OF HUGE LOSSES IN CANADA FROM FIRES

Says $46,000,000 Worth of Property Burned Up Last Year -Holds Negligence Responsible For Most of Destruction-Speaks Again .Today

J. GROVE SMITH, Dominion Fire Commissioner, yesterday de-livered an address before the New Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters in their rooms, Princess street, in which he placed the blame for most of the fires that occur in Canada upon the shoulders of careless individuals. In the year 1924 there was burned in Canada, he said, real property worth nearly $46,000,000, exclusive of the incalculable waste of merchantable timber in forest fires. This loss amounted to $5.10 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion

Mr. Smith drew several comparisons to show that the loss by fire far exceeded the value of goods produced in several lines of industry. He urged that people be more cautious and especially that fire prevention be taught children in the schools.

that fire prevention be taught children in the schools.

L. W. Nickerson occupied the chair at the largely attended meeting which tendered a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers. Mr. Smith will address school children of the city this morning in the Imperial Theatre, the week of Oct. 4 having been declared by viceregal proclamation as Fire Prevention Week. Mr. Smith will speak in other New Brunswick centres.

MPD SMITH'S ADDRESS.

every purchase we make since the expense of insurance and of local taxation is incorporated into the price of every commodity and every service. As insurance rates invariably are an index of the fire loss ratio, it follows that the higher the loss, the greater the premium that the públic through its commodity purchases must pay. Every loaf of bread and every automobile costs more because of the fire waste. The burden rests squarely upon the shoulders of every Canadian.

MR. SMITH'S ADDRESS.

Spent on Protection.

Premiums paid to fire insurance companies in excess of the sum returned to policyholders for losses sustained amounted to $25,730,000; the cost of maintaining municipal waterworks and public fire departments for fire extinguishment purposes totalled $22,024,975; and the sum spent upon miscellaneous private fire protection systems reached approximately $12,100,000. Including property values destroyed and the costs incidental thereto, the people of Canada in the year 1924 incurred an unproductive fire expenditure of $105,761,506.

DRAWS COMPARISONS.

Let us analyze this figure in order that we may grasp its magnitude. It represents an average waste and expenditure of $257,671 daily, or roughly $200 every minute throughout the year. It is almost one-third the total Dominion revenue, only $80,000,000 less than the interest on our public debt, about equal to the revenue from customs, $20,000,000 greater than the revenue from the sales tax, almost double the revenue from the income tax, three times as great as the revenue from customs, $20,000,000 more than the total expenditure of Canada upon public education.

Compared with primary production in 1924, it was 40 per cent of the value produced by our forests, 50 per cent, of the value produced by our mines, over $40,000,000 greater than our fisheries production, $15,000,000 greater than the revenue from hydro-electric power development, $6,000,000 greater than our wood pulp production, over $30,000,000 greater than our wood pulp production, over $30,000,000 greater than our does not production, four times as great as our gold production and almost nine times as great as the value produced by our silver mines.

Compared with building construction in Canada, it was fourteen million dollars more than the cost of all the dwellings and thirty-two million dollars more than the cost of all the business buildings erected in 1924. CORRECTIVE MEASURES.

If, then, it lies within our power as a nation measurably to reduce this purposeless loss of life and property, why not set about it? It will require both individual and collective effort. Carefulness must be made an ingrained instinct. We must correct those conditions in our own premises which breed fire—the rubbish heap, the thoughtessly disposed match or cigarette, the defective chimney or flue, the oily rags, the open fire left unattended. Fires from these and a hundred other elementary causes are quite avoidable.

Their preventoin involves only the application of common sense, the exercise of ordinary vigilance. Collectively, we should press for the introduction of beter building fire prevention codes, for the more efficient equipment of public fire departments and for the regular inspection of buildings by local fire organizations. No municipal investment will pay larger dividends.

Most important of all, in the long run, we must make it our business to see that the children, the coming men and women of Canada, are brought up to recognize fire and its dangers. In every school in the Dominion fire prevention should form part of the instruction in practical citizenship.

No excause can be advanced for maintaining an attitude of indifference towards a problem that has called forth a direct message from His Excellency, the Governor-General of Canada. No amount of cophilistry can evede our personal responsibility to Canada in the matter of fire loss prevention. The people must be educated in the idea that fires are not accidents, but that they are due to acts or omissions of individuals whose negligence imposes a burden upon the nation at large. The object of the Fire Prevention Week will only be attained if its observation be made a clarion call to a clearer perception of the obligations and duties of responsible Canadian citizenship.

WORLD EVENTS

Their Significance in Prophecy-A Public Lecture

The meaning of world events is of interest to all people at this time. A lecture will be given on the above subject by MR. WALTER F. SALTER. He is well qualified to deal authoritatively with his subject, as he couples a broad knowl edge of Bible prophecy with first hand information about world conditions.

MR. SALTER has traveled extensively in both the Old World and the New; has recently returned from a visit to Europe, where he investigated conditions in twelve of the principal countries; and comes to you with a message which arouses thought and carries conviction.

You owe it to yourself to hear a presentation of truth unbiased by national prejudice or political interest.

Pronouncements Register Dissent Of Two Railway Commissioners From McKeown-Oliver Decision

Boyce and Lawrence Maintain Other Members Had no Right to Issue Order Reducing Freight Rates on Grain Moving Westward Against Ruling of Majority of Board-Full Texts of Statements Are Given

HEREWITH is printed the text of the rulings of Commissioners Boyce and Lawrence of the Board of Railway Commissioners in the matter of freight rates. The judgment of Hone H. A. McKeown, chairman of the board, ruled that the application of British Columbia for an order reducing the freight rates on grain moving westward for export to the same rates proportioned to distance, as those on grain moving eastward tor export, hould be granted. In this ruling Hon. Frank Oliver, another member of the Railway Commission, concurred. The reduced rates have been in effect since Sept. 15, although an effort has been made to have the order re-

On August 29, last, after this case had been discussed at more than one meeting of the board, presided over by the Chief Commissioner, my brother Commissioner Lawrence and I informed the Chief Commissioner in writing through the secretary of the board that if it was proposed to deliver any judgment, purporting to deal with the matters involved herein apart from the general rate investigation, of which the subject is a part we desired to express our views.

Early in July this board proceeded in pursuance of the direction contained in the order-in-council, P. C. 886, dated 5th June, 1925, which, inter alia, directs the board—

The judgment of the minority of the board was, however, issued without the knowledge of Commissioner Lawrence or myself, and order thereupon was signed by the Chief Commissioner, without according to me or to Commissioner Lawrence, as members of the board, the most usual and ordinary courtesy of perusing and preparing our opinions upon such judgment before an order issued in terms thereof. As I and my brother Commissioner Lawrence promised the Chief Commissioner Lawrence promised the Chief Commissioner that we would express ourselves, I am obliged, for the reasons just stated, to do so after the order has been issued but as part of the judgment of the board upon this complaint as it presents itself to me now. At the time said notice was considered and settled by the board, testimony in this complaint had been heard before two members of the board and no decision had been given. The tendency of this complaint was referred to at that board meeting and, with due regard to this and all other pending complaints in like condition and with the concurrence of all members present, including the Chief Commissioner, the draft by him submitted for consideration of the board was changed, and, as finally settled, and evidenced by the initials of the Chief Commissioner, and as issued to the public, contained the following clause:

It is difficult to conceive that such a condition of things should be possible in this country, and, in view of the provisions of the Railway Act and the rules and practice of the board, and of what is generally accepted as a fundamental basis of natural justice, but the facts I state are, as I find them from the record of the proceedings, and were fully brought to the attention of every member of this board by strong protests from the railway, off repeated and insisted upon, before any decision was prepared.

Both the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian National Railways, in writing, asked for leave to submit to the board "new and material evidence" in this case as such notice in plain terms gave all parties to this or any other proceeding before the board the undoubted right to submit. EFFECT ON REVENUES. The Canadian National Railways, whose revenues would be affected by any judgment granting this application to the extent of over a million dollars annually, protested that it had not even had notice of the hearing of this complaint and no opportunity for preparing its case at the hearing. After a careful and anxious examination of the proceedings, I find, as a fact, that no notice of hearing was ever given to the Canadian National Railways under the rules of this board, or otherwise, and what examination of the complaint did take place at the hearing at Vancouver in November, last, was, as far as the Canadian National Railways is concerned, entirely without due notice of hearing or service of complaint. The notice of hearing to all other parties was shorter than that usually allowed for such a hearing at a far distant point. The Canadian National Rail-

REGISTERS DISSENIT.

The judgment of the minority members of the board, issued as the judgment of this board, is put forward as part of the judgment of the board upon the general rate investigation required be made under the Order-in-Council, P. C. 886, cited. It is so expressly made plain in the opinion of the Chief Commissioner.

I entirely dissent from such being, in any way, binding upon the board, because:

(a) The board has, as a body, prescribed publicly the practice to be followed in making its investigations under the said Order-in-Council, and by its public notice had specially stated, that in cases, like the present, where testimony could be given. The railways having demanded that right and given notice that they intended to avail themselves of it, the case was not closed or ripe for decision;

whatever, of the complaint since,

HOLDS DECISION AGAINST IT

(c) Since the Order-in-Council passed, the whole subject of the whole rate investigation was in the hands of the board as a whole, and whatever had been held—or had been—or could be, provided for until the periods of time for filing and answering complaints, and terms of notice generally of 9th July outlining preliminary steps to the hearings had respectively expired and been complied with.

(d) The whole case, as it now stands, having been laid before the board, as part of the general investigation, the board lirst, without a dissenting voice, had precluded itself from dealing with this case, except as a part of the general investigation, and, records, by a majority vote, at a meeting called by the Chief Commissioner to consider the desision upon this complaint, had decided that no such decision should be given except as part of such general investigation. QUOTES RESOLUTION.

QUOTES RESOLUTION.

(e). The hearing of the complaint at Vancouver at which all evidence upon which judgment was based was conducted without notice to the Canadian National Railways which had protested against its validitity and its protests had not been even considered by the board.

The judgment of the Chief Commissioner, therefore, is clearly not the judgment of the board, but is contrary to the principles laid down in the board's notice to the public of 9th July, last, above referred to, and to a meeting of the board, passed at a meeting of the board, passed at a meeting of the board, possed at a meeting of the board, held this 2nd day of September called by and presided over by the Chief Commissioner for the purpose of considering this complaint is either a part of the General Rate Investigation or it is not. SAYS RESOLVE BINDING.

This resolution, in the presence of all the members of the board, was proposed by the Assistant Chief Commissioner and concurred in by Commissioner Lawrence and myself. The Chief Commissioner and Commissioner Oliver dissented therefrom, and in accordance with usual prosedure, in this, as in any other court, the majority governed and the resolution was carried, and is now a resolution of the board, governing the conduct of the general investigation of freight rates in Canada, and was binding upon the Chief Commissioner when he subsequently issued his judgment.

The Order-in-Council of 5th June last, specially, and in plain terms, deprecates "any partial or incomplete consideration of the freight rate structure," and calls for 'a thorough and complete investigation' of 'the whole subject of railway freight rates in the Dominion."

SHREDS AND PATCHES.

The disposition suggested by the judgment now offered is not only contrary to the policy and principle laid down by this board by the quoted resolution, but it is a direct departure from the directions of the Order-in-Council as the whole rate investigation committed to the board by it, and would, in its effect, make of the investigation of the whole rate structure insisted upon by the Order-in-Council a thing of "shreds and patches," or no avail whatever, in the important work committed to the board of "the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure, which will, under subestablishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure, which will, under substantially similr circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application too all persons and localities so as to permit of the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces, etc.," as in the resolution of the board as quoted.

INCREDIBLE, GROTESQUE. In the debate in Parliament upon the amendment to the Railway Act in regard to Crow's Nest Pass agreement in Júne, last, the claims of the Province of British Columbia, as presented ince of British Columbia, as presented to two members of this board in Vancouver, last November, were presented to Parlament, which was urged to give relief by that legislation. This complaint is either a part of the General Rate Investigation or it is not. The answer in Parliment was that it is such a part and is to be dealt with by the board as such a part. The board iitself has so dealt with it in its notice of 9th July and its resolution of 2nd September, and, therefore, it is a very simple conclusion that no decision of a minority of the board can dispose of the question involved, any more than a minority judgment of the board can dispose of the complaints of the Maritime Provinces. The one case is on par with the other, and, if applied, the absurdity would run through the whole rate investigation and render it futile and farcical.

I deprecate the assurance, contained in this letter, that "the board is in full sympathy with the object of the resolution" when the board had had no opportunity, as a board, of expressing its opinion thereon. I feel quite certain that in accordance with its usual practice in such cases the board, had it been consulted, would have referred to the fact that the matters involved in the resolution were under consideration in a case which had been presented to the board and in which there had not yet been any disposition. I cannot but think that the effect of the reply quoted will prove embarrassing to the board in the whole rate investigation.

what is set forth on pp. 71 and 72. That was a judgment of the board without a dissenting voice, practically a unanimous pronouncement by the board in 1922, after lengthy and searching investigation. The present Chief Commissioner and Mr. Commissioner Oliver were not then members of the board. The disposition now attempted cannot be effective in any way towards a final disposition of this part of the general investigation into freight rates constituting the whole structure relative to its parts, and of the parts in relation to the whole. Only the fullest investigation of all parts of that structure in every locality in Canada, with a view to harmonizing those parts in relation to the whole structure, will satisfy the plain requirements of the order-in-council and enable the board to function thereunder.

All orders of this board, dealing with rate matters, before signature, are by the long and safe practice of the board, required to be approved and bear the initials of the chief traffic officer of this board. This practice has consistently been followed except in this case, when the order of the minority was issued without submitting for, or obtaining the approval thereto of that official, whose special expert knowledge on rate problems has always been relied upon with confidence by this board.

So this is Marriage!

A Modern Story of Husband, Wife and Child based upon an Old Testament quotation

THIS PHOTOPLAY TAKES FOR ITS THEME THE SUB-JECT OF MARRIAGE, AND PUTS IT UNDER A SORT OF MOVIE MICROSCOPE, showing that the home of today is influenced by the same set of conditions that sprang up for young couples even in the days of the Biblical ancients. The central feminine role, that of a flapper who remains still a flapper after the wedding, is played by Eleanor Boardman. Conrad Nagel appears as the young husband, a part of much delicate humor and character strength. Lew Cody is the romantic figure who appeals when one's husband bores.

One of the big features is a cut-back to the court of King David to illustrate the relating of the Old Testament story of Bath-Sheba's treachery to her husband, Uriah. This sequence is said to be one of the most beautiful ever filmed, having been done in natural colors to bring out the lavishness of the background, much the same as in "The Ten Commandments."

WON ORATORICAL PRIZE.

Rev. Mr. Unsworth's college career at Wycliffe, Toronto, was marked with success throughout, and his winning of the oratorical prize in 1922, showed his ability in public speaking further exemplified in his work in Saint John. He won the Chapman Memorial medal in 1924, when he graduated with his L.Th. degree with honors.

Besides his preparation for the ministry, Rev. Mr. Unsworth has had experience among men as a soldier in the Great War, in which he served overseas for three and half years. He has had the training of life in the West under Bishop Stringer and is regarded as particularly fortunate in his understanding of young people.

His address before the congregational of St. George's when that body presented Rev. Rural Dean and Mrs. W. H. Sampson with gifts on their retirement, showed characteristics which have given Rev. Mr. Unsworth ability to win friends and thus to enlarge his usefulness as a minister of Theodore Evans, who was chairman of the meeting called at Lorneville last evening for election of a delegate to the Liberal primaries, was the dele-
