FRENCH FORCE HUN BACK ON 20-MILE FRONT; HAIG HITS HARD AGAIN; ENEMY SITUATION WORST YET

More Villages Taken By French; Press On To The Ailette

Germans Likely Will Have To Move Back To The Oise—Pressure Kept Up and Fall of Noyon is Predicted

Paris, Aug. 22.—German troops were forced back over a twenty mile front to a depth of from one to two miles from Lassigny to the Ailette River during the night, according to the official statement issued by the war office today.

Lassigny was captured by the French yesterday and since Tuesday twenty villages have been taken.

The statement adds that four villages—Le Plamont, Thiescourt, Cannet-accourt and Ville—were occupied by the French, who have reached the Divette River.

The French have reached the Oise on a six mile front east of Noyon, their line extending from Sempiigny to Bretigny. Farther east the villages of Bourguignon and St. Paul-Aux-Bois have been taken.

The French reached the Ailette River at La Quincy-Basse. The western outskirts of Pommiers, on the Aisne, west of Soissons, have also been taken.

French troops maintained contact with the retreating enemy between Metz and the Oise and east of the Oise during the night.

THE AILETTE REACHED.
Paris, Aug. 22.—French troops have reached the Ailette River at several points. It is not expected that the Germans will hold the Ailette line, but may retreat to the Oise.

General Humbert's army has made a grand advance between the Metz and the Oise rivers and has reached the Ailette River. The French military men say this makes the early fall of the town of Noyon inevitable.

ARE PRESSING ON TOWARD NOYON.
Paris, Aug. 22.—(Havas Agency)—The occupation of Lassigny by the army of General Humbert, newspaper commentators believe, will facilitate the capture of Noyon, toward which the armies of Generals Mangin and Humbert are pressing steadily.

Lassigny was one of the pivots of the German defense system between the Oise and the Somme and was defended most stubbornly.

General Mangin on Wednesday continued to move toward the Oise. If the German front has not been pierced it has been bent back a considerable distance, and it is believed may have to withdraw to the Ailette.

Forcing Him From the Oise
French Headquarters in France, Aug. 21.—(Reuter)—As a result of our recent victories, the enemy's grip on his front on both sides of the Oise is relaxing, and on the left bank he is frankly falling back before the unremitting pressure of General Mangin's infantry.

Between Lassigny and the Oise the enemy has been pressed back to the line of the heights overlooking Divette. Although the Germans are still holding Fleumont, the French forces from the west have reached the outskirts of the village.

How Lassigny Fell
On the French front in France, Aug. 22.—(Havas Agency)—The operation which resulted in the fall of Lassigny on Wednesday began with a successful thrust from the west by a battalion of chasseurs. Divette Wood, a strongly fortified position which had delayed the French advance for two days, was taken in a sudden dash and the battalion reached the outskirts of Lassigny on the west and on the north.

Meanwhile other units, composed of men from Brittany and Paris, took the southern outskirts of Lassigny and crossed through the town, chasing the Germans before them. By noon a company of engineers had cleared out the town and captured the last enemy occupants who were hiding in cellars.

LONDON LEARNS OF NEW FRENCH SUCCESS.
London, Aug. 22.—(11.50 p. m.)—French troops under command of General Mangin, according to information received in London today from the battlefront along the Oise River, are continuing to press back the Germans. Several important German positions already have been gained by the French.

The Germans are offering stubborn resistance and heavy fighting is taking place and it is reported to be favoring the French. General Mangin's army has taken numerous prisoners.

BRITISH SUBMARINE ENDS MURDER WORK OF ONE OF THE U-BOATS
London, Aug. 22.—(British Wireless Service)—Recently a British and a German submarine met. The enemy had crossed the North Sea and penetrated British waters. The British boat was returning to base after an arduous cruise.

Both boats were on the surface, but the British boat dived before she herself was sighted, fired two torpedoes and wrecked the U-boat. The captain of the German boat was saved.

Paris Hears the Crash
Paris, Aug. 22.—The sound of heavy cannon firing was heard clearly in Paris early today.

BATTLE NOW IS SPREAD ALONG 70-MILE FRONT

Six German Armies Damaged By A Lies Since July 15

OUT-GENERALLED; OUT-FOUGHT

Von Eben Now in Bad Fix and Will be Worse Off if French Take Juvigny—Some Believe That Huns Will be Forced Back to Old Hindenburg Line

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Allies have damaged six German armies since July 15, and the British are now eating into the front, with the spread of the battle northward and over a front of seventy miles. Whether the enemy is prepared or unprepared, Allied efforts have had the same results and the Germans have been out-generated and out-fought.

The armies attacked and damaged in the last six weeks have been those of Generals Von Eicken, Von Mudre, Von Boehm, Von Eben, Von Hutier and Von Der Marwitz.

The full designs of Marshal Foch are known only to himself and perhaps one or two others, but it is believed generally that his aim, is not as the Germans may say, to pierce their line, but to strike a succession of blows to cause the enemy irreplaceable losses in men and material and to force him to make more or less disastrous retreats.

On Wednesday the German resistance was most desperate on the right of General Mangin's army in the neighborhood of Beusy. If the French are able to reach the Chemin des Dames, military observers think that the French salient marked by the villages of Juvigny, Ozy and Paisy would become untenable for General Von Eben, who would be obliged to retreat beyond the Soissons-Coucy-La-Chateau road.

The German situation there is unenviable enough at present, but would become still worse as the French progressed. The Germans also would have to abandon the Vesle-Aisne line and go back to the Chemin des Dames.

Military observers think that an optimistic turn of mind are convinced that the Germans will end their defence by falling back to the Hindenburg line all along the front at no very distant date. While that may be so, the enemy shows no signs at present of doing so voluntarily and is fighting stubbornly and skillfully, yielding only when out maneuvered and out-fought.

CHANGE IN RETAIL TRAFFIC ON BORDER
Washington, Aug. 22.—Withdrawal of authority heretofore extended to collectors of customs to license the exportation to Canada of small quantities of sugar, wheat and wheat products involved in retail border traffic, is announced by the war trade board. Such exportations must be covered by an individual export license issued by the war trade board.

Enemy Situation Never So Bad as Now

Paris, Aug. 22.—(Havas Agency)—Never has the situation of the Germans been so serious as at present, which augurs well for the future, says L'Homme Libre, in discussing the results of Wednesday's fighting.

The Figaro says, the Germans have been deprived of all hopes of making a lasting stand on their present front and the Allied offensive is costing him dearly.

The battle is no longer a German battle, declares Le Matin, but the battle of Marshal Foch, to whose will all events appear to be subject.

The Allies' armies have taken more than 100,000 prisoners since July 15, says Marcel Motin in the Echo de Paris.

Further Blow By The British

Attack Continued This Morning—The Arras-Bapaume Railway Line Crossed—Gain, Too, in Flanders

London, Aug. 22.—British forces attacked this morning between the Somme and Ancre rivers.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 prisoners were captured by the British in yesterday's operation.

North of the Ancre, the statement says, the Arras-Bapaume railway has been crossed in spite of strong enemy resistance. British troops have reached the village of Neuf Berquin, northeast of Merville.

Fresh German counter-attacks are reported to have developed east of Miramont and Irlis. The hostile artillery is said to have been very active during the night and to be continuing its heavy fire this morning.

HARD WORK NEAR BAPAUME.
Paris, Aug. 22.—General Byng's army is encountering desperate resistance in the region of Bapaume. Achiet-Le-Grand changed hands several times late yesterday afternoon and last night. The British are now in that position.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 22.—(2 p. m. by the Associated Press)—British troops are holding virtually all of the Arras-Albert railroad and have established their posts well east of that line.

In their new attack the British early this morning apparently had taken their final objectives on the right and were well inside the enemy lines.

South of Albert the British crossed the Ancre River.

GAIN IN FLANDERS.
In the Flanders battle area the British last night attacked and captured a German position north of Bailleul. It is reported that a strong local counter-attack made yesterday morning against the Leorre Hospice was repulsed after heavy fighting and that sharp combats took place during the night in this sector.

BRITISH ON 1916 GROUND.
Paris, Aug. 22.—(Havas Agency)—Observers here see a new danger for the enemy in the British attack north of the Ancre in the direction of Bapaume. The British already are on the battle ground of 1916.

SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION.
New York, Aug. 22.—The Associated Press today issues the following: Fighting their way along the extensive reaches of the Picardy battlefield French troops today stand before Noyon. This city has been referred to as the key to the whole German life west of the Somme.

During last night General Humbert's men reached the Divette River for a long distance west of its confluence with the Oise. South of Noyon, the army commanded by General Mangin holds the south bank of the Oise from Sempiigny to Bretigny, a distance of more than six miles. At Sempiigny they are not more than a mile from Noyon.

The line turns to the south at Bretigny and runs to Bourguignon, where it reaches the Oise. At Sempiigny they are the Ailette River at La Quincy-Basse. It then extends southward and it is officially reported that the French have reached the outskirts of Pommiers, a village on the Aisne less than two miles west of Soissons.

BIG CUT IN AMOUNT OF SUGAR IN HOMES

Canada Food Board Official Also Sees Suspension of Non-essential Industries
Toronto, Aug. 22.—An appeal will be made in the fall to householders to limit their consumption of sugar to two pounds a member a month, or less than a third of the amount now being used, according to H. F. Keefer, solicitor to the Canada Food Board. Steps will be taken, he said, to enforce the order forbidding homes to have on hand more than fifteen days' supply.

Mr. Keefer foresees, in the coming coal shortage, the suspension of non-essential industries during some of the winter weeks.

THE CITY AND THE C. G. R.
C. B. Brown, assistant general manager of the Canadian Government Railways, with headquarters in Moncton, arrived in the city this morning, accompanied by one of his engineers, to discuss with the city officials harbor matters and also paving of Mill street, Erin street and Reid's point, where the railway's tracks cross the streets. The matter of paving Erin street, placing the pavement in Mill street in better condition, and paving the whole area about Reid's point was taken up, in addition, with Mr. Brown by Commissioner Fisher some time ago. There was discussion of these matters in Mayor Hayes' office this morning.

THREAT OF GENERAL STRIKE OF TRANSPORT WORKERS IN LONDON.
London, Aug. 22.—The National Transport Workers yesterday passed a resolution declaring that the strike arising from the refusal to pay the women street car and bus conductors five shillings advance given to the men must be settled on a national basis of "equal pay for equal work." This means that unless the demands of the women are granted there will be a general strike of transport workers.

THE K. C. DRIVE.
Dr. W. P. Broderick, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, accompanied by Chas. A. Owens, organizer of the K. C. drive for war but funds to be opened here in September, arrived home from Moncton at noon. CAMPOBELLO HAS SENSATION

Armed Men in Naval Uniform Seek Information About Eastport—Girl Refuses to Talk

Eastport, Maine, Aug. 22.—A party of armed fishermen and farmers had been searching Campobello Island, off the New Brunswick coast, for two men who are said to have questioned Miss Willis Wilson closely regarding Eastport waterfront matters and to have threatened her with death if she revealed anything about them.

According to her story, men, apparently foreigners, wore naval uniforms covered by long linen coats, and carried revolvers. She said they offered to pay her a large sum of money for information as to the location of the post office and banks in Eastport, the nature of the waterfront and whether a newly built four-masted schooner had left the port.

When she refused to tell them anything, she said, the men disappeared into the woods, after warning her that if she mentioned their presence to anyone she would be shot.

TOWN WRECKED BY TORONADO; MANY KILLED

Minneapolis, Aug. 22.—A tornado striking Tyler, Minn., a town of 1,100 inhabitants in the southwestern part of the state, at nine o'clock last night, destroyed the entire business section, part of the residential district and caused deaths estimated from fifty to 125.

BALLPLAYERS AND PLAY GROUNDS

The expected has happened in the west end. By using the new playground to get an article of ball as near the professional as possible, combining the whole city for players, a bitter feeling has been aroused and an appeal is now made to have the west end playground used as it should be for west end boys. The ball players are charged with having ignored the West End Improvement League, taken up collections at the games, and generally assumed that the city's money was spent for the special benefit of a few.

In the south end the control of the South End Improvement League is recognized, the ball players are helping the league further to improve the ground, and have assented to the agreement that every player must be a resident of the south end. They realize that to depart from that rule would be but to repeat the experience of the west end.

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT; NEW BILL TOMORROW

Tonight is the closing night for this week's good vaudeville programme at the Opera House, with Dale and Boyle, the step dancer and the prima donna; Mario and Duffy, that sensational comedy gymnastic act; three other good features and the final chapter of the serial drama, "Vengeance and the Woman."

Tomorrow night comes the regular weekly change of programme with an extraordinary attraction at the head of the bill in Mamey's Juvenile Revue, an organization of clever kiddies in a merry melange of music and dancing; Peterson, Kennedy and Murray, three harmony singers in a musical comedy skit; Alanson, in a sensational balancing novelty; Arches and Venus in pictures from life, a painting and posing feature de laery St. Stewart, singer, story teller and dancer; and the usual chapter of "The Lion's Claw" serial.

TO AVOID DISAPPOINTMENTS The sale of seats for the "Daddy Long Legs" engagement at the Imperial next Tuesday and Wednesday opened briskly this forenoon, indicating a sell-out before the opening night. This play has wonderful draught, because of its popularity as a fiction and also because of its metropolitan notoriety when presented by the same impresario, Henry Miller. Therefore, there is every reason to expect a rush business during the three performances. In Halifax the play was a sell-out proposition all week, and press and clergy were especially loud in their praises of it.

His Royal Highness will then proceed to visit the military hospital in the city and will afterwards leave for Rothery where he will be entertained at a reception and garden party by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pugsley and will leave Rothery by the 5.30 train.

For the convenience of those who wish to attend the garden party and reception the Canadian Government Railways have arranged for a special train which will leave the city at 4 p. m. for Rothery and return after the departure of the royal party.

The return fare has been fixed for 50 cents. At two o'clock in King square General Macdonnell will present S. O. S. medals to the boys entitled to them. Premier Foster and Mayor Hayes will give addresses. The boys will then march to the depot to welcome the prince.

ALLIES REPORTED RETREATING BEFORE BOLSHEVIK TROOPS

London, Aug. 22.—Japanese reports say that on the Usuri front, north of Vladivostok, the Allies are retreating before substantial reinforcements. The Allied right wing is added, is retreating. Stockholm, Aug. 22.—Bolshevik troops have captured the village of Purgasovo, according to a bulletin issued from the Bolshevik army headquarters on Monday. It is added that the Soviet forces retired to Klenoukovo, after hard fighting.

FRENCH ON HEIGHTS SEE GERMAN GO BACK

Paris, Aug. 22.—From the heights of Le Plémont, on the Oise front, the French troops are now watching the Germans in their retreat toward the north. IN WALL STREET. New York, Aug. 22.—Trading in stocks at the opening of today's market was subdued by further extensive purchases of Liberty 3 1/2 per cent bonds, which rose soon to the new maximum of 102.50. The stock list was steady at the outset, but became irregular before the end of the first half hour as a result of the moderately reactionary trend displayed by C. P. R., Marine preferred, Mexican Petroleum, United States Steel and other industrials, and equipments.

LOSSES among the leaders were extended during the morning, further calling of bank loans contributing to the loss. Short selling was restricted, however, by encouraging war despatches. Canadian Pacific, recently the strongest of rails, yielded 2 1/2 points, but other prominent transportation were dull and unchanged. United States Steel reacted a point from its early best with Baldwin Locomotive and Marine preferred, Mexican Petroleum declining 1%. Hide and Leather preferred was the one strong feature, achieving the new record of 91% on the result of 3 1/2 points. Liberty 3 1/2 cancelled half their gain on reduced callings.

TRIUMPH HAS SUNK PRACTICALLY WHOLE FLEET.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Practically the entire fleet of the Maritime Fish Corporation has been destroyed by the trawler Triumph. The fleet generally included eight or nine ships. A GREAT SUCCESS. The garden fete held yesterday under the auspices of DeMotts Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire was a marked success. Some convalescent soldiers were present and greatly enjoyed the festival. They were the guests of Mrs. W. Walter White, who had them driven to and from the grounds in automobiles.

An old St. John resident, Elizabeth, widow of John C. Boyer, formerly of this city, died at the home of her son-in-law, R. W. Wallace, Sussex, early this morning in her 83rd year. Mrs. Boyer will be kindly remembered by many St. John people. Her funeral will take place in Sussex on Saturday. She leaves two sons, John C. Boyer of St. Martins and Robert R. of St. John; also four daughters, Mrs. John Markham of St. John, Mrs. Wallace of Sussex; Mrs. John English of Fredericton, and Miss Susan of Sussex.

Berlin says that since Aug. 8 more than 500 allied tanks have been destroyed between the Ancre and the Avre.

THE COMPANIONABLE WOMAN

Men marry for companionship; some get it some not. No woman who is dragged down with ailments peculiar to her sex can be a fit and happy companion for any man. There is, however, one tried and true remedy for such conditions in that famous old root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and no woman who is afflicted with displacement, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, headache, nervousness or "the blues," should rest until she has given this good old-fashioned remedy a trial. It will restore health and influence your whole life.

FURTHER BRITISH BLOW

(Continued from page 1) German forces in the sector south of Noyon and along the Oise are said by the French official report to be "retreating." This may be considered a continuation of progress made by the rapid progress of General Mangin's army. It is said, however, that contact with the enemy is being maintained by the French.

British troops attacked the Germans along the line between the Somme and Ancre rivers at 4.45 o'clock this morning. This may be considered a continuation of the attack north of the Ancre at dawn yesterday. The front of the latest attack is about five miles long. No details of progress made have been made as yet.

North of the Ancre the British have advanced, in spite of enemy resistance, and have crossed the Ancre-impasse railway line. This railway embankment was a serious obstacle to the British advance yesterday.

In the Flanders area the British are closely following the retreating Germans and have reached Neuf Berquin, a village two miles within the German lines, as they stood when the last definite reports were received from this sector of the front.

Strong German counter-attacks are developing near Miramont and Tries, which are near the southern end of the line over which the British attacked yesterday.

In this region the determined resistance of the Germans seemed to have slowed up the British if it has not checked the momentum of the blow launched by General Byng.

The same may be said to be the situation on the hills north of Soissons. Little progress has been reported in this sector for the last few days. Last night's German official report, however, took of the French reaching the plateau north of Juvigny, but said they were driven back.

Noyon, it would appear, is almost untenable. It would seem that a retreat by the enemy toward Chauny, further east, is almost impossible. The railroad leading east of Noyon is now under direct fire from the French guns. The only remaining avenue for a German retreat appears to be the northeast toward Ham, Mont Renaud, a height which stands as a sentinel to the southwest of Noyon, now appears to be outflanked and therefore useless as a defensive position.

There have been no reports of fighting from Lassigny north to the Somme.

"Redemption," featuring Evelyn Nesbit and her son, Russell Thaw, made a profound impression on Gem patrons last night. Joseph Steger, who wrote the story, has created a entirely new situation, and, so far as known, one never before set up to in play-writing—that of a mother forced to confess to her grown son a misstep of her youth. It happens toward the ending of the picture when the pulsation is fast and direct from the heart. Here the situation throughout are strongly pieced together in speedy harmonious action, leading up to a throbbing of a final "Redemption," by and with Miss Nesbit, is continually suggesting it may be a revamp in part at least of her life's history. In the beginning this appears to be self-evident, and the interest therefrom becomes in-creased as the picture progresses. It may be a life story, perhaps, to Miss Nesbit's liking, but it goes back only to her stage appearances with Jack Clifford, a portion of her vaudeville act with that dancing partner being shown.

"Redemption" is a remarkable drama, drawing much of its inspiration from the events in the star's own life, yet in no way capitalizing cheaply the notoriety of the murder case. Critics of the film praise it, not because Evelyn Nesbit is featured, but because Evelyn Nesbit has proven herself an actress of remarkable depth and incisive technique, and because the play in which she so auspiciously makes her screen debut is big and convincing and mercifully true. Hergon takes up a good share of interest in the picture. In some of the scenes the ladies will find lovely costumes to admire.

In addition to this seven-reel feature, the Gem shows a likeable Drew comedy with a bounteous supply of wholesome fun. In all it is a very superior programme. The Gem will continue its unit and including Friday night, with all changed on Saturday.

TO HELP THE FARMERS. To the Editor of The Times: Sir,—For the benefit of the farmers in New Brunswick I would suggest as a citizen of St. John that the farmers ask the city to supply them with men to assist in harvesting. I myself offer four days' work free. I would expect, however, my expenses to the farm paid. If some of the city men would offer even one day's work it would help the farmers in no small degree. Many men in the city could leave their business for a day. All that would be necessary for the farmers to do would be to telegraph them at the station. I would further suggest that a day be set aside for this purpose. A. ANDERSON.

Ashamed of Corns As People Should Be—They Are So Unnecessary

The instinct is to hide a corn. And to cover the pain with a smile. For people nowadays know that a corn is passed. And that nagging but neglect can account for it.

It is like a torn gown which you fail to repair. Or a spot which you fail to remove. The fault lies in neglecting a few-minute duty—just as with a corn. Any corn pain can be stopped in a moment and stopped for good. Any corn can be ended quickly and completely.

All that is necessary is to apply a little Blue-jay plaster. It is done in a jiffy. It means no inconvenience. Then a bit of scientific wax begins its gentle action. In two days, usually, the whole corn disappears. Some old, tough corns require a second application, but not often.

Can you think of a reason for paring corns and letting them continue? Or for using harsh or messy applications? Or of clinging to any old-time method which is now taboo?

Or for suffering corns—for "spelling hours"—when millions of others escape?

Can you think of a reason for not trying Blue-jay? It is a modern scientific treatment, invented by a famous chemist. It is made by a house of world-wide fame in the making of surgical dressings.

It has ended corns by the tens of millions—corns which are just like yours. It is easy and gentle and sure, as you can prove for yourself tonight.

Try Blue-jay on one corn. If it does as we say, keep it by you. On future corns apply it the moment they appear. That will mean perpetual freedom. A corn ache, after that, will be unknown to you.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulished coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely creaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

A Single Application Will Banish Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty.)

Here is a home treatment for removing hair that is quick, painless and inexpensive: With some powdered pumice and water make enough paste to thickly cover the objectionable hairs, apply and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This treatment will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be careful to get real delicatone.

"Thank God for Tea" —Sydney Smith

In Sydney Smith's delightful volume, "Lady Holland's Memoirs," there appears this passage:

"Thank God for Tea! What would the world do without Tea? How did it exist? I am glad I was not born before Tea."

A more concise testimonial to the joys of Tea drinking could hardly be written.

Most people feel this way about Lipton's, but cannot express the sentiment so well.

Polarine

FRICION REDUCING MOTOR OIL

"Makes a good car better"

For Transmission & Differential Gears

ON the frictionless operation of the transmission and differential gears—correct lubrication, perfect meshing and freedom from wear—depends the delivery of full power from engine to axle. Correct motor lubrication is alone of equal importance.

For every lubrication purpose from engine to axle there is a Polarine Oil or Grease of correct body and lubricating quality that insures the generation and delivery of maximum power with minimum wear.

POLARINE TRANSMISSION OIL

Will follow, coat, cushion and thoroughly lubricate transmission and differential gears and allow them to engage and operate easily.

It is a heavy, dark, fluid oil for transmission and differential lubrication, especially for ball and roller bearing types, as well as for worm gears and timing gears, when separate from the crank case. 1 and 4 gal. cans, also barrels and half barrels.

POLARINE TRANSMISSION LUBRICANT "BB"

is a light colored, soft, spongy grease, carefully manufactured, free from all particles of insoluble and non-lubricating matter, suitable for the lubrication of transmissions and differentials where a fibrous grease is required. 5-10-25 and 50 lb. tins, half barrels and barrels.

POLARINE CUP GREASE

is a smooth, light colored, medium bodied grease, free from all particles of insoluble and non-lubricating matter, suitable for the lubrication of gear housing, transmission differentials, universal joints and grease cups in automobiles. 1-5-10-25 and 50 lb. tins, barrels and half barrels.

Polarine and Polarine Heavy, for cylinder lubrication are supplied in sealed cans of 1/2, 1 and 4 gallons; also in 12 1/2 gal. steel kegs, barrels and half barrels.

WAR COMMENT.

The French and British are pressing forward over a hundred mile front and, to quote a Paris critic, "whether the enemy is prepared or unprepared, Allied efforts have had the same results and the Germans have been out-generalled and out-fought." The retreating enemy is being harassed continually and his losses are enormous. The British alone took 3,000 prisoners yesterday between the Somme and Ancre rivers, and the French in the Meuse region have taken many prisoners and guns. The capture by Foch's troops of Lassigny, military critics believe, will make it impossible for the Germans to keep Noyon for any length of time, and each day's fighting is expected to bring nearer a German retirement on a large scale, possibly to the old Hindenburg line.

Six German armies have been beaten and more or less crippled in the fighting of the last six weeks. When the latest phase of the campaign was begun on July 15, about the most civilized world hoped for this summer was the successful defence of Paris and the Channel ports. Today the road to Paris is not only closed—no doubt for all time—but a great area of territory has been reconquered and the initiative definitely wrested from the enemy. Foch is striking, first here and then there, apparently at will, and it is believed he is inflicting upon the Germans punishment from which they may never be able to recover in this war.

While those writers in France who are best able to judge are careful to note that Field Marshal Foch is not taking many people into his confidence so far as his full designs are concerned, they are convinced that his succession of blows will force Ludendorff back to the old Hindenburg line. They do not believe the Germans can hope to make a permanent stand short of those positions. At the same time they warn us against undue optimism regarding the operation. The German resistance is at all times desperate, and is not likely now, or for some time to come, to develop into anything approaching a rout. A calm outlook is to be urged if we are to avoid a possible disappointment later on. But it is clear that the German plans have been upset, that his power has not been great enough to beat back the Entente armies, and that Ludendorff is being forced to use up his resources. In the face of this, a reasonable optimism is justified. It is the drawing of premature and unsafe conclusions which we must guard against.

JAPAN AND SIBERIA.

Those who point to the food riots in Japan as an indication that a social crisis in that country is imminent and that Japan's participation in the Siberian expedition is likely to be seriously interfered with, are no doubt greatly mistaken. The food riots are serious enough, but they have no real bearing on the government's military programme and it is fully expected that so soon as the food supply can be properly distributed and the masses given their necessary rations of rice, the unrest prevailing among certain classes will pass away.

Japan has had thousands of food riots in the past. The margin between hunger and a plentiful supply of rice is never wide, and it often taxes the ingenuity of the government to satisfy the needs of the poor and pave the way to content. The Emperor, so far as the majority of Japanese are concerned, is believed to be gifted with divine power, and in the present unrest his donation of $300,000 yen to relieve the suffering is expected to have a far-reaching effect on the situation.

Students of Japanese economic and military policies have been quick to assure the Allies that there is no need to fear that social unrest at home will be permitted to hamper Japan's effort in Siberia. The Japs, it is pointed out, have a deadly hatred for the Germans and welcome the present enterprise as a means of disabusing the minds of persons in America or other countries of doubt that they are serious in declaring that under no conditions would they seek an alliance with Germany. In this connection, one observer who has long been in close touch with Japanese affairs says:

"The Japanese are an exceedingly practical nation, but the Japs have so shifted things that the last possibility of a German-Japanese understanding may be said to have disappeared with the present war. The Japs have so hated the Kaiser's personal creation since the Yellow Peril—a deadlier insult to the subjects of the Mikado than the loss of a dozen Port Arthurs. It was the Kaiser who dragged France, through Russia, her ally, into the plot to deprive the Island Kingdom of the fruits of the Chinese war, and the revelation of German duplicity in that affair has now become an historical incident. One afternoon in 1894 instructions were sent to the German, French and British ministers at Tokio that Japan must withdraw from Port Arthur. The same evening the Kaiser gave a ball in the imperial palace in Potsdam. Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, was present; and slapping him affectionately on the back the Kaiser exclaimed, 'My dear Viscount, I shall always be the friend of Japan!' Aoki at once reported the incident to his government, and lying on the same table at Tokio, as it were, was the telegram telling of the Kaiser's friendship for Japan and the ministerial instructions from Berlin ordering the Japanese from the control of Port Arthur. The Japanese never forgot the coincidence; and when later the Kaiser sought to embroil the Mikado with the English-speaking nations by his insistence that he would deal treacherously with them and ultimately attack the United States, the government at Tokio forever closed the door on a German alliance."

In arranging to strike a blow in Siberia for the cause of the Allies, Japan has given every proof of sincerity. She is entering Russia in response to a request from the United States and the Entente that she join with them to help the Russian people against German intrigue and oppression. Her statements declare that they have no intention of seeking new territory; their territorial needs may be satisfied in Manchuria where she secured rights from Russia as a result of another war. She has never had confidence in the ability of the Bolsheviks to maintain any form of stable government in Russia and she has never trusted the Bolshevik leaders. Her aid to the Czech-Slovaks in establishing a new battle-front in the east should be great. She may have food riots at home, but they will not be permitted to interfere with her army in Russia. In fact, in spite of the delay for which she was in no way responsible, her troops have already done much to pave the road for a successful advance against the enemy.

There will be no slackening of effort in the countries of the Entente until victory rests on the Allied banner. In this connection the London Daily Mail says:

"The civilian population, under their less still enigmatic strain, show no signs of a snapping point. Infinite adjustments, endless complexity of new troubles, alterations of elation and despondence, the menace of the night skies and incessant, unrelenting work—but where are the host of cases of nerve breakdown that a prophet of 1914 would surely have foretold? Incessant work may be the secret, or one of the secrets. The men at the front always say when asked how they endure, 'We have come to this—this is all.' The people on the home front have all had their bit to do. They have had no time to think of their nerves. The great war has proved that the wonderful human machine is more elastic than ever we imagined, but it has also proved that work is the human machine's great shock-absorber."

A British and a German submarine recently met in British waters. The German boat was sunk and its captain taken prisoner. This is not the first time a British submarine crew has out-manoeuvred the crew of a German U-boat.

Paris people are again listening to the sound of heavy cannon-firing. But they know that it is a retreating enemy which is carrying on the battle. Parisians no longer have cause to fear for the safety of their great city.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Another French cruiser has joined the Allied fleet at Vladivostok. The Siberian expedition is rapidly developing into a military and naval movement of great proportions.

The Allied armies have taken more than 100,000 prisoners since July 18. And they are adding to this huge total almost daily.

Wife and Little Boy

SAVED BY
EXTRACT OF
WILD STRAWBERRY
Both Had Dysentery

Dysentery comes on very suddenly and is one of the worst and most dangerous of all bowel troubles. The pains in the bowels become intense, and are very often accompanied by blood. Unless these discharges are checked the sufferer becomes weak and languid, and very often death ensues. There is only one remedy to use in all cases of dysentery or any other looseness of the bowels, and that is "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."

It will cure where all others fail. It has been on the market for 73 years and is used by the Kaiser's army and the Allies in 1918 and before Germany began to lose in the field, and her last act in the war will be to assist in ridding Russia of German influence. This task will be performed the more gladly because there is no nation on the face of the earth the Japanese hate as cordially as they do the Germans. This hatred began when Germany instigated the diplomacy which cost the Japanese Port Arthur, at the close of the war with China, and it has been intensified since by the Kaiser's personal creation of the "Yellow Peril"—a deadlier insult to the subjects of the Mikado than the loss of a dozen Port Arthurs. It was the Kaiser who dragged France, through Russia, her ally, into the plot to deprive

Mr. W. J. Metcalfe, Tofteld, Alta., writes: "I wish to state that we have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with good results. I will say that it can't be beat. It saved my wife and little boy, last summer, when they were very low with dysentery. We always have a bottle of it in the house, and would not be without it if it cost five dollars a bottle."

The genuine "Dr. Fowler's" is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price, 35c.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisulphated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisulphated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisulphated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisulphated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

IS YOUR HOUSE A FORT?

Illustrations by courtesy of the National War Garden Commission, Washington.

Is your house going to be fortified like this during the coming winter? Are you going to have dug-outs filled with stored vegetables and attics lined with shelves of jars and pantries rich with jelly and jam? If you do, your enemy the H. C. of L. need have no terrors for you. Why should he? Besides, you will be the right kind of a patriot for you will be saving beef and wheat and butter for overseas.

Here are some "don'ts" for storing:

- Don't let the frost injure the crops before you take them into the cellar.
- Don't bring them in while they are in a moist condition.
- Don't cover roots with damp sand if the cellar is hot. They will start to grow if you do so.
- Don't let cold winds dry out your potatoes. If you do a bitter taste will result.
- Don't try to store onions, squash or pumpkin in a cool cellar. They will keep better in the attic.
- Don't forget to watch your storage room and sort out any decayed specimens before the trouble spreads.
- Don't forget that a cheap thermometer is a good friend in a storage room.
- If it is impossible to provide a special storage place select the part of the cellar farthest removed from the furnace and where the most air circulates.

Nine-tenths of all the rice eaten in the world is eaten by the Asiatics and out of a total world's production of 109,000,000,000 pounds the Orient grows 189,000,000,000. To the great masses of Asiatics, rice is both bread and meat. The United States produces more than 700,000,000 pounds of rice, which is a mere drop in the bucket when compared with the tremendous demand in the East for this cereal.

* Rice is available on the Canadian market, and it can be used as a substitute for wheat products. It is one of the best and most nourishing of cereals.

CHAPTER I
Unwilling to admit it even to herself, Jean Bent, whose nineteenth years had been spent in the mountains of northern Montana, was in love with Bob Hardy. This morning, as she stood outside of her little cabin home, she tried not to gaze toward the trail which the young mining engineer must descend. Hardy, by profession, is a mining engineer; by temperament and practice, a soldier of fortune. From the time he received his degree of E. M. from an eastern college eight years ago, his abode has been the wild places of the earth, South Africa, Australia, China, South America, Alaska, the Philippines, Canada, and the West have all known him. Six months ago this smiling, confident citizen of the world had crossed over the Canadian border, a short two miles from Jean Bent's home, following the trail of a nickel and cobalt formation. Then Jean's mother was alive, but for three months the mother has lain in a grave on the mountainside. Her father had never seen, and her sole companions were a woman servant and Iron Star, a faithful Nez Percé Indian, who had been devoted to her mother for thirty years. Bob Hardy, ever searching for the vein of mixed metal, had pursued his quest by day and for days at a time. But after each trip he returned to the Bent household, ostensibly to report, but in reality to be near Jean. Her woman's instinct prompted her to look toward the trail and there she saw Hardy mounted on his horse, his face radiant, smiling—his hand clenching an object she could not discern in the distance. She waved a greeting and he replied with a shout and a twirl of his sombrero. Then he touched a spur lightly to his horse and the beast leaped down the slope. In a few minutes Hardy was swinging out of the saddle and hurrying to Jean's side. "I've found it at last," he cried, excited. "The nickel and cobalt vein opens on the side of the cliff—on your property. You are rich, Miss Jean!" He extended towards her the ore he had clenched in his hand. "That land is more than a ranch?" she asked. He assured her that she was the owner of untold treasure. "I wonder if Jacob Lawless suspects this," she said at length. "That may be the reason he wants to marry me." "There's no need of a mine to make a man want to marry you," replied Bob, and he would have gone further, perhaps, had not Iron Star appeared walking down the trail. The Indian, resplendent in an ill-fitting suit of "white man's clothes," joined them. His staidness, braided hair and a shining star on his breast he retained, although for Jean he had made the concession of wearing a hat and a store suit. Jean greeted him affectionately, and he responded in kind. To Hardy he gave a smile and a friendly greeting. "Did you see my father—did you deliver my mother's message?" was Jean's query. "Howly Iron Star replied: 'I saw, I saw. I came here.'" "What did he say—how did he look?" pressed the girl, who had not known where her father was until her mother, dying, told her he was Robert Benton, a millionaire broker in New York. Then she had given Iron Star a message for the husband she had not seen for a score of years. "Bad man, he's very sick. Soon he is with the Great Father. No medicine can help." At the moment when Jean thus learned of her father's nearness to death, another gathering was held in the library of Robert Benton, now dead five days. In the group were Judge Summers, Benton's attorney, Jacob Lawless, of Montana, and Walter Hyde, of New York, cousin and supposedly the only heir of Benton, Benton's servants were present also. Judge Summers, seated at a table was reading the will of Robert Benton, and the two prospective heirs were listening intently. Lawless, who masked an illicit whiskey traffic under the guise of a rancher, was dressed in the rough attire of the westerner. His scowling eyes, his cruel mouth were an index to his character. Hyde, on the other hand, was attired in riding costume and had the manner of a man who is sure of himself. Lawless arose from the table and went over to a mantel, where he spoke in tones to a companion of the west whom he addressed as "Snaky." Peering at them from the hall and listening through a portiere in the doorway, was Arkins, valet and bodyguard of Hyde. Judge Summers looked at the two men, laid the will aside and said: "Before your cousin died, gentlemen, he placed in my hands two envelopes, one of which I am now directed to read." His clerk handed him an envelope, he drew from it and began to read: "Twenty years ago, being then in my thirty-fifth year, I was prospecting in the west. I finally struck gold and I decided to come east to get capital. I was seated in a Pullman car and was showing some gentlemen samples of my gold. Suddenly the train stopped. There was a terrific noise and—I knew nothing until I awoke a week later in the cabin of a rancher, Colonel Forsythe. I learned from him that my train had been wrecked in a head-on collision. Many people were killed. I was among the lucky ones who escaped. In a moment of semi-consciousness I gave them my name—in part. When I regained my senses, for personal reasons, I let them think I was 'Robert Bent.' Jean Forsythe, the Colonel's daughter, nursed me back to health, and my gratitude soon developed into love. Archdeacon Quentaine, a missionary, married us, with Colonel Forsythe, their woman servant, and Iron Star, an Indian, as witnesses. After a few months of happiness, I one day returned unexpectedly from a short trip and found my wife in the arms of another man. I was blinded by jealousy and rage. The man I had never seen before. I broke into the room where they stood embraced. My wife started towards me, but I flung her aside, and gripped the man. With all my strength I raised him in the air and hurled him through the door and he landed in the next room, crumpled over a chair. I choked him and left him there. My wife tried to say something to me, but I turned from her in disgust. As I left the cabin, the Indian, Iron Star, crossed my path, and he, too, I hurled out of the way. "I never saw or heard from my wife until last week as I sat mortally ill. The butler came in and told me there was a visitor. Before I could refuse to see the visitor, my butler handed me the star that Iron Star always wore. At first I feared to see him, afraid he had come to wreak vengeance on me but I was more afraid not to see him, and so ordered him admitted. The Indian was older, but not much changed. He asked: 'You know me?' and I said I did. Then he said: 'Your wife—she die.' In spite of the lapse of time, this was a shock to me, and in my mind I visualized that last scene of twenty years before. Then

I saw her dying as I know I am dying. The Indian handed me a letter from her. It read: "When you read this I shall be gone. After you so cruelly misjudged me, and after my brother's death—for it was he in whose arms you found me—I never wanted to see you again. I am dying now. For the sake of our daughter, Jean, whose very existence I have kept from you, I forgive you, Robert. Will you try to fill a father's place to her?" Judge Summers halted for a moment, then resumed: "The remainder of all I die possessed of, I give and bequeath to my daughter, Jean Benton, now known as Jean Bent, with two conditions. First, that she present to my executor satisfactory proofs of her relationship to me; second, that she marry one or the other of my only other surviving relatives—my cousin, Jacob Lawless of Montana, or my cousin, Walter Hyde of New York, on or before January 1st next."

LOCAL NEWS

POLICE COURT
Three men were before the magistrate this morning charged with drunkenness. They were all remanded.

BANK CLEARINGS.
St. John bank clearings for the week ending today were $2,244,489; corresponding week last year, $1,831,871; corresponding week in 1916, $1,854,017.

BERRY PICKING.
During the last week large crowds of people have been invading the berry fields of Glen Falls and it is becoming a common sight to see twenty to thirty women with picnic trays or baskets wending their way to and from the hills and dales.

ON THE OCOONEE.
The steamer Ocoonee brought down a considerable quantity of potatoes this morning, besides some turnips, early apples, ripe tomatoes, strawberries and a crate of blackberries. A cow and calf were also brought to the city. There was quite a list of passengers from river points.

INDIAN IN COURT TOMORROW.
The preliminary hearing in the case of Michael Benz, an Indian charged with criminally assaulting Dorothy Cox, aged four years, will be held at Gagetown tomorrow. The child is still suffering very much, though it is hoped she will recover. The most intense interest centres in the case, because of the terrible nature of the crime.

SUN GALLERIES FOR PATIENTS.
The southern end of the St. John County Hospital, East St. John, is being fitted with two tiers of gallery for the fresh air and sun treatment of its patients. The galleries are already in use, but some finishing carpentry has yet to be done upon them. The resident doctor's private residence, which is being finished next to the hospital, is a very attractive little home, and when ready for occupancy will be equally pleasing inside.

SCRIBNER-FOWLE.
A pretty wedding took place in Montreal on Wednesday evening, Aug. 7, when Rev. M. F. MacIntosh united in marriage Samuel Lloyd Scribner to Miss Tillie Anna Fowle, both of St. John, N. B. The bride wore a very becoming suit of sand color silk with hat to match and carried a bunch of cream roses. She was attended by Miss Bertha Scribner of St. John, while Albert E. Rolston supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Scribner will reside in Montreal.

PICTURE MEN TO GET TOGETHER.
The motion picture agencies in this territory, all of which have offices in this city, will meet the exhibitors of the three provinces at the Universal Film suite, Union street, next Monday, to discuss conditions and prospects. It is understood the general managers of some of the large concerns producing pictures will be present to take part in the discussion. On September 19 and 20, the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of the Maritime Provinces will meet in Halifax.

QUERY RE MAHOGANY ROAD.
The Lancaster road authorities might do a kindly thing by re-topping the stretch of thoroughfare at the Fairville entrance to the Mahogany road, so that the new gravel and dressing will get even distribution. The stuff was laid on so thickly at the outlet for the tractors and autos that have followed in one another's track to avoid the drag of the deep gravel, consequently the road for nearly half a mile is furrowed with two tracks only, one coming and the other going. The bed of the road is still a heap of gravel and dressing. Why cannot this be spread over again and when vehicles will have a chance to pack it down evenly all over?

COMMISSIONER LOST IN WOODS

Mr. Hilyard Has Disagreeable Experience at Spruce Lake

With his clothes soaking wet, his hat dented and covered with twigs of trees, Commissioner Hilyard arrived at city hall this morning after having a thrilling experience in the woods in the rear of Spruce Lake. The commissioner learned that some persons were stealing him timber on the city lands and, accompanied by Superintendent McDermott, went to investigate. They entered the woods to the north of the lake and after going some distance came upon a section where some birch trees had been felled and hauled away. After noting the conditions they started back for the main road but realized that they were lost.

After tramping about for an hour they failed to locate any path and after resting again started out, hoping to come upon something which would guide them out of the woods. After going some distance they heard a blast and began working towards the sound and eventually came out on the road about a mile and three-quarters from the place where they entered. They were wet to the skin from the high grass, trees and swamps, but otherwise were none the worse for their experience.

MASQUERADE AT PUBLIC LANDING

The masquerade in the pavilion at Public Landing last night was well attended and most enjoyable. In addition to Landing people there were others from up and down and across the river. A full moon shone in a cloudless sky and the air was delightful. The river and valley formed a picture of rare loveliness. Quite a number of those at the pavilion were in costume, and the scene was very pretty as well as animated.

The prizes, presented by Charles Parker in behalf of the committee, went as follows: Most original ladies—Miss Hazel Silley, Maple Leaves; 2nd, Miss Audrey Kerr, Buttons; most comic, 1st, M. Baiz, September Morn; 2nd, Ronald Kerr, policeman. On behalf of the committee, also, tokens of appreciation were presented to Miss Kerr and Mr. Elman, who have been very kind in playing piano and violin, and hearty thanks were also extended to Mrs. S. I. Kerr, whose assistance in providing music has been greatly appreciated. Dancing continued last evening until near midnight. Many, old and young, who did not dance, were present as on-lookers and greatly enjoyed themselves.

LIEUT. LOUIS McC. RITCHIE WELCOMED WARMLY

HOME FROM WAR

His Plane Shot Down By Germans and Pilot Deed

Himself Shot in Ankle and Suffered From Burns as Air Machine Caught Fire—Reception in His Honor at Millidgeville

Another St. John hero arrived home today on the noon train and received the loving welcome of parents and household, the equally fond embraces of other relatives and the cheers and hand-grasps of scores of friends on hand to greet him. The soldier boy was Lieut. McC. Ritchie, son of Joseph H. Ritchie, of the postal staff and nephew of Magistrate Ritchie. Aside from the circle of relatives at the depot were many ladies and gentlemen representing the Millidgeville colony of suburbanites, among whom the Ritchie household is included and among whom the returned aviator was a popular and moving spirit.

Lieutenant Ritchie looked well and cheerful despite the ordeal he went through last February at the front—a time when Fritz was getting our number, as it were, for the March drive and when all the flying boys were working day and night to spoil his calculations. The St. John aviator was flying over German lines directing the well-directed fire of the British artillery when an unlucky shot set his machine afire.

The rapidly descending aeroplane fanned gusts of burning gasoline round about the bodies of both Lieutenant Ritchie and his pilot, and when a landing was finally effected the heroic pilot of the plane was found to be very badly burned. Lieutenant Ritchie, besides several wounds with the flames, was shot through the ankle and generally speaking was in pretty bad shape himself.

After first aid was rendered the two fliers were sent back to established hospitals where the pilot died in the next bed to his fellow officer, whom he so faithfully served. The St. John boy was later invited to Moffat, Scotland, and quite recently went before a medical board for the third time and was allowed to come home.

AFTER BLUEBERRIES ON NEREPIH HILLS

The Nerepih hills have seldom seen as many blueberry pickers as have gone there in the last few weeks. People have gone by team and motor car, and have climbed the rough side of the hills to bring away quantities of wild fruit for winter use. There are many places on the hills and near some of the lakes where blueberries are plentiful, but to get the best results now one needs to know what ground has not been picked over.

ALONG THE RIVER

"Leave the maddening throng and the fog of the seaside city and take a sail on the greyhound of the shining river." Capt. Taylor of the Ocoonee recalls that this was an advertisement published quite a number of years ago when the old David Weston went on the Frederick route after being renovated for the summer season. The bones of the David Weston repose at Craig's Point, where she was run ashore when on fire, and her spectacular finish was marked by loss of life. Her boiler still lies there, crowded a little closer to shore by each winter's ice when it runs out.

HIGH GRADE DRESSES RULE—One of the interesting facts which presents itself for consideration on our first showing of fall dresses is that the materials used are of a higher grade than ever.

THIS IS PARTLY DUE to the fact that there will be no economy this season in buying frocks in cheap material, which are in fact cheap no longer, and better results will be gotten from investing in a good garment in the first place.

THE VARIETY OF STYLES AND TRIMMINGS is greater than usual—panels with fringe trimming, pearl buckles, soft girle effects, and dainty collars of satin and Georgette. Every imaginable color.
