persons rendered homeless, at least three burned to death, haif a hundred injured, and a property loss of between $7,500,000 and $10,000,000, summarizes the record of disaster which confronts the city of Chelsea this morning as a result of the great fire of yesterday. A blackened flame charred and smoking mass of ruins marking the sites of some of the finest public buildings of the city, historic churches, valuable factory and business structures, as well the city, historic churches, valuable factory and business structures, as well as hundreds of homes, covers a belt three-quarters of a mile wide, stretching across the city for a distance of a school houses of the city, as well school houses of the city, as well those of neighboring cities and to the city and a half.

Ing across the city for a distance of a mile and a halt.

The city was not formally placed under martial law, but as a result of reports of looting, the entire burned district and the environs were patrolled by marines from the Charlestown Navy Yard, and sixteen companies of State militia. Infantrymen and artillerymen. The soldiers were supplied with tentrounds of ball cartridges. Adjutant General Bingham, of the staff of Governor Curtis Guild, who has personal direction of the work of the militia, said the situation did not seem to require a proclamation of martial law, but that after consultation with Mayor Back of Chelsea, stringent measures were being taken to prevent as far as possible, any acts of vandalism.

Barly today a consignment of military tents from the State camp grounds at South Framingham were placed at the disposal of the relief committees. Hundreds of them were set up on the public playground, Everett, an adjoining town, while others were erected on open ground in the unburned portion of Chelsea itself.

It was calculated that these tents, each of which will accommodate five and the set of which will accommodate five and the set of set of which will accommodate five and the city as well as theose of neighboring citles and towns decreased for parents besieged these institutions in search of their children and ecores of parents besieged these institutions in search of the refugees on the lower side of the burnt district being served at the district court rooms, while those on the upper sides were issued rations from the High School building. It was calculated that these tents, each of which will accommodate five persons, would serve to shelter about one half the homeless people. Charitable organizations in Boston and other nearbly places are taking care of the remainder. While only three persons are positively known to have lost their lives in the fire, it is feared that a search of the ruins by daylight will disclose more victims. The bodies of the dead are at the North Grove St. Morgue. They are burned beyond recognition. Two of the bodies are those of women. The other is that of a man. All met death apparently from flying from the flames and their charred bodies were found in the streets where they had fallen. None of them had been identified early today.

Scores of persons, including many firemen and policemen, were overcome by smoke, while many suffered severely from bûrns received in fighting the fire at the hospital. It was said today that all the more seriously injured were doing well, though several were still on the dangerous list.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The Tribune to-day says. The Aldrich currency bill now being considered by the House elected last week by Mount Allison day says. The Aldrich currency bill now being considered by the House Committee on Banking and Currency has met with opposition from the Clearing House and National banks in practically every city in the country. Even the state banks and trust companies, which are not directly concerned in the act, have voiced their displeasure at the proposed law. A capvass of the national banks of the country shows practically every one fears the result of the Aldrich act in case it becomes law. The most prominent exception to this, the only large city institution which favors the bill, is a large Washington institution which has millions of government bonds in its vaults. There are some banks throughout the country who although opposing the bill in some particulars, are willing to accept it as a temporary guard against a reperition of the recent pander, but the majority declare it a useless but a harmful measure. In a total of 421 banks in thirty-seven cities, eleven leclared in favor of the bill winder.

Two Steamers

Five more passenger steamers are due to arrive in St. John before the close of the present season, and these will bring to this port something over six thousand persons. The season, until the past week or so, has been exceptionally dull. Continental traffic has shown a great decrease, but of late there have been signs of activity and transportation people are of the opinion that the year's work may after all not show such a serious falling off. They think the summer and autumi will bring up the general average.

In the Liverpool service there are also two steamers still to arrive. The stamer Champlain will come in on Sunday next with eight hundred passengers, while the last boat in the C. P. R.'s Liverpool service will be the Empress of Ireland due April 24th with fourteen hundred. This steamer will be the last one this season from St. John. This is the meeting of ladies intheld on Saturday event the due on April 29th and will bring thirteen hundred passengers.

Two large rooms on the ground floor of the old Tabernacle Hall, Haymark-et Square, have been leased from the St. John Real Estate Co. The agent of the company, Mr. L. P. D. Tilley, has promised to make many improve-ments in the building, by which the rooms will be rendered entirely suit-able for the work. These rooms will afford accommodation for about fifty children.

As yet, no one has been selected to take charge of the nursery, but several persons are being considered, and there will be no difficulty in securing the affairs of Prince Helie de Sagan and Mme. Anna Gould, who sailed on different steamers for Europe yesterday, when G. G. Netter, of this city, made public a statement tonight, given him, he explained by the Prince and intended for publication after the St. Paul, upon which de Sagan took passage, was wel out at sea.

Mr. Netter is a personal friend of the Prince, and was intrusted by the latter with the statement that he and Madame Gould were betrothed.

The statement says in part:

The following circular addressed to the priests of the diocese of St. John was yesterday read in the cathedral and all the Catholic churches of the city and diocese:

Reverend Dear Father:

As you are already aware, the recent papal decree "Ne temere," enacts new legislation in regard to marriage, which will go into effect on Easter Sunday of thiay year. The decree has been already sent you which should be read and fully explained to the people, in order to obviate the serious difficulties and disadvantages that would follow from an invalid marriage. To accomplish this necessary work fully, it may be required to explain the sections in a series of instructions on the subject of marriage.

Special attention is called to the following points of the new legislation:

1. The law binds those who have been baptized in the Catholic church, whether in infancy or later by conversion, even though they should afterwards have fallen away from the church.

2. The law binds all those persons even when they make engagements or contract marriages with non-Catholics.

TO STRENGTHEN EYESIGHT. There is a church in the city of Cork, Ireland, which is known for miles around en account of the peculiarity of its steeple. The steeple is built of two coverent colored stones, two sides below built in white and the other two in red stone.

Eyes may often be strengthened by several times each day lightly pressing times each day lightly pressing the eyeballs. Always rub from the nose toward the temples; also dash the stone.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATION:

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by anv person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 163 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he sc desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the twe preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his nesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accord-road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duths in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

REAL ESTATE

Baron Ehrenberg was a bachelor, 50 years old, and lived in Vienna. He was the last representative of the Catholic branch of an ancient family, dating back to the fifteenth century.

He left a leter running: "I swear by heaven I am an innocent and unconscious victim of the Russian Pristavs (police commissioners). I did not know before I heard it from Burley—"
The remainder of the letter is blotted with tears.
He also left a key to cipher notes, active to the fifteenth century.

ground that it was a bad bill. The organ of the Labor party thus comes back at the Lords:

'The noble lords who treated the measure so lightly represent no one in the country save the titled families of which they stand at the head—a mere handful compared with the toiling millions of the country as a whole. If the intellectual mediocrities who comprise the vast majority of the Upper House had to stand the test of popular election, it is doubtful whether ninety-five per cent. would ever make their appearance at St. Stephen's again. Born in the lap of luxury, with every advantage which fortunate birth can confer on men, they are yet the dullest and least enlightened of all the reactionaries who can be found at Westminster. With small gifts of speech animated by no public spirit, concerned only with the selfish interests of their own class, they view every question that comes before Parliament through the spectacles of the English landed classes. No class in the country mouths its patriotism so readily; no class in the country can so adroitly trade on the patriotic emotions of its fellow countrymen in order to advance the interests of its own order. In the general election of 1900, the British Democracy was befooled by appeals to its so-called patriotism. The moment that the landed and the ruling classes got into power, they showed that they intended to exploit the patriotism of Dr. C. Sydney Emerson.

that the landed and the ruling classes got into power, they showed that they intended to exploit the patriotism of the people for the purpose of promoting the interests of their own order. What happened? They promptly gave a dole to their principal friends. Compensation to the brewers in the Licensing Act of 1903; rate aid, unaccompanied by public control, to the clerics of the class churches; an extravagant price to the Irish landlords in the Land Purchase (Ireland) Act. The trinity of vested interests which are the chief enemy the British Democracy has to fight has been the same for a generation or two—Drink, Dogma, and Drones!"

All of which indicates that the strug-gle between the Democracy and the ruling classes is becoming more acute.

Monday Trick of this week the members of the Myrkle-Harder Co., who just closed a very successful 3 weeks engagement at the Opera House, will have known their first cessation from steady work in forty weeks. This popular company began playing July 14th, 1907., at Will-kesbarre, Pa., and since their opening performance they have not missed a playing night, nor have they made one change in the roster of the company. They resume their engagement in this city next Friday, when a holiday matinee will be played continuing Saturday might, including a Saturday matinee. An entire new array of vaudeville acts will be given at these performances, and no doubt their farewell appearance will be attended by capacity houses.

SLEEPING PRINCESS' GIFT | ZOLA'S LAST RESTING PLACE

Postponed Until June.

PARIS, April 11.—The Princess Yolanda, the 5-year-old daughter of the King of Italy, was, says Gil Blas, recently the heroine of a pretty incident. An old woman, who had long vainly attempted to obtain an increase of pension, decided to address a pettion to "Her Royal Highness the Princess Yolanda of Savoy at the Quirinal."

The letter was handed to the King, who read it, and, with imperturable seriousness ordered his chamberlain to take it to the princess. The chamberlain proceeded to the princess' cot, where the child was sleeping soundly, and, to the astonishment of her nurse, gravely read the petition to her. Then he returned to the king.

"Well." said Victor Emmanuel, he returned to the king.

"Well," said Victor Emmanuel,
"what did the princess say?"

Sentimental Girl...

(Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.)

It was impossible to convince Marion Earle—she was only nincteen and very pretty—that the course of true love Lever does run smooth. Indeed, she believed that there was danger of its running too smoothly.

Had she not been enguged one whole month to Gregory Holbrook without the suggestion even of a cloud on the horizon of their happiness.

"You don't find it monotonous, do you, Gregory, just loving me this way?" she asked him unexpectedly one evening.

"Monotonous!" he echoed, caressing the brown head on his shoulder. "I should say not! I hope we'll go on loving each other this way forever."

"But I don't," piped up Marion, suddenly sitting bolt upright.
Gregory could not believe his ears.

"You don't want me to go on loving you this way," sweetheart?" he gasped. "Oh, yes, of course; with interims, dear,' sighed Marion. "But couldn't you manage to misunderstand me sometimes?"

"Well, I certainly do not understand"

"Oh. Gregory!" exclaimed Marion
"Um—hum," she admitted. "It's such fun to make up."

As Gregcry burst out laughing a spark of something very like real anger kindled in Marion's brown eyes.
"You're making fun of me," she challenged.
"Of course, I am, you foolish little sirl," chuckled Gregory, gathering her into his arms in a mighty hug and smothering all her protests.
"Well, that was a failure," emphasized Marion, as soon as she could get her breath.
"The hug?" asked Gregcry, seriously.
"No, of course not," asserted Marion before she could catch back the words.
"I meant the quarrel, Just the same, Gregory, I shalt think up some way to make our courtship exciting yet."

In spite of this warning, Holbrook was completely surprised when he recelved, within forty-eight hours, the following note from Marion:
"Dearest Gregory," if ian, "I've thought of something, Aren't you glad?
The inspiration came to me while reading the letters of the Brownings. Just imagine our being engaged a whole month without any 'chance of writing esch other love letters! Why, we might have gone on and been married without having a single billet-doux to tie up in ribbon and put away in an old trunk for our grandchidren. So I'm going away, You'll find my address below,
No, you can't see me off, but be sure to have a long letter to meet me. Ch, isn't it going to be fun? Good-by, dearest.
Your devoted
Marion.
"P. S.—This will be the first letter in your collection, so be sure to save it."

Holbrook shoved aside a pile of unoppened mail and proceeded to write when Gregory! locked down into Marion.
"Startilly, as she darted toward the rescue of her 'love letters."
But Gregory restrained her focibly, and together they watched their sentimental legacy blaze up, ficker and disappear.
When Gregory looked down into Marion: Sure she was surprised to see her smiling—indeed, almost legacy blaze up, ficker and disappear.
When Gregory looked down into Marion: Sure she was surplear.
When Gregory leaves surpear.
When Gregory leaves surpear.

in your collection, so be sure to save it."

Holbrook shoved aside a pile of uncepened mail and proceeded to write Marion exactly what he thought of herasing medley of mild reproach and extravagant endearment. This he sent off "special" and then turned list-lessly to his bushess correspondence.

But as his mind wandered every now and then to the thought of getting a big bulging envelope from Marion the hext morning he became more reconciled to the situation—in fact, quite fewerish with anticipation, Marion was right, after all. I was exciting and absence certainly did make the heart grow fonder.

The next morning Holbrook found his mail, as usual, assorted in classified piles on his desk. Taking up the batch marked "Personal" he began to run it over eagerly. He stopped sudenly as a colored postal car popped unexpectedly into sight. He held it us closer in order to decipher the almost illegibly fine writing.

"Dearest Boy," he made out. "It is lovely here, although you may not think so from this P. C. You are a perfect dear to have that long letter waiting here for me. Isn't the scheme working out beautifully? No time for more now. Write as soon as you get this.

For a few wrathful moments Holbrook sat chewing viclously on the end

"May I request, however, that in 'our future correspondence, you favor me with written rather than dictated letters? Undoubtedly you were driven to this experient by the press of business.

"As for the length of time it will probably take for the fruition of my scheme, I am sorry to say that from the way things are progressing at me-

"Well, I certainly do not understand you now," replied Gregory.
"Oh, that's an entirely different thing," Marion explained.
Gregory shook his head in perplexity.
"It's one thing not to understand a person at all," explained Marion patiently, "and another thing to misunderstand him—to disagree with him, and to quarrel."

"You don't want me to quarrel with you, dearest?" Gregory asked in amazement.

Marion nodded her head.
"Um—hum," she admitted. "It's such fun to make up."

As Gregory burst out laughing a picture postal card, a self-addressed envelope and a telegram.
"The postal card made you mad, didn't it—dearest boy?" teased Marion.
Gregory refused to commit himself.
"I knew it would," continued Marion, laughing at him. "That's why I sent it."
Gregory tore the card in two and threw it, with all the rest of their correspondence, into the fire.
"Oh. Gregory!" exclaimed Marion tearfully, as she darted toward the rescue of her "love letters."

But Gregory restrained her focibly,

BE FASTER THAN EXPECTED

For a few wrathful moments Holbrook sat chewing viciously on the end of his penholder. Suddenly, with the manner of one who has made up his mind, he threw it down and called his stenographen.

"My dear Miss Earle," he dictated. "Thinking you may find it more convenient in our future correspondence to have on hand some of my self-addressed envelopes, I am having a dozen of them sent to you under separate cover. More will be forwarded as soon as the supply is exhausted.

"You falled to state in your recent communication how long you think it will take for your scheme to materialize. Please do not fail to notify me on his point at your earliest convenience. Respectfully yours, etc."

Sooner than Gregory had deemed it possible, the post brought back to him one of his "half-addressed" envelopes. He opened it with mingled emotion of curiosity and apprehension.

"My dear Mr. Holbrook," he read, and he looked very sober as he did so. "You see I have taken your hint—or trather am obeying your orders. I regret that the postal card offended you. It was at the time my only means of communication.

"May I request, however, that in 'our wills of the Visits of the British delegations to the United States last year.

ENTERED THE CABINET

LONDON, April 12.—Official announcement was made tonight of the new cabinet appointments. They are identical with the forecast made by the Daily Chronicle a few days ago, and announced in these dispatches, as follows:

Herbert H. Asquith, premier and first lord of the treasury.

David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer.

Lord Tweedmouth, president of the councils.

Earl of Crewe, secretary of state for the colonies.

Reginald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty.

Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the Board of Trade.

Walter Runciman, parliamentary secretary, Indicator in the new spapers here received the new cabinet with great favor. The changes are less than expected, the net result, as far as actual cabinet of ficers are concerned, being that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Earl of Elgin, secretary for the colonies, have been dropped and Messrs. Churchill and Runciman have entered. But the new blood and the re-grouping of portfolios are considered to have greatly strengthened the government. While Mr. Asquith seems to have managed to make the necessary changes in the cabinet without offending his own party, the substitution of the Earl of Trade.

CIVIC NOMINATIONS

Bullock and Sears Only James Sangster Succeeded in Mayoralty Candidates-Contests in Majority of Wards

Hilyard.

Present indications point to no contests in Stanley, Lorne, Wellington and Brooks wards. These are now represented respectively by Ald. McGoldrick, Ald. Holder, Ald. Christie and Ald. Baxter. There is some talk of opposition to the last named, Mr. Retallick's name having been mentioned lately.

In Sydney ward Ald. Lewis and Jno.

M. Elmore are the candidates.

PRICE OF BEER LIKELY TO SHOW BIG REDUCTION

MONTREAL, April 12.—The attempt to form a company embracing all the brewing interests in the province of Quebec has fallen through, the Dow Company refusing to go in under any consideration, and the Dawes brewery demanding that it be bought out for cash. This the promoters were unable to do. As a consequence there is much troble in the Brewers' Association, leading to its disbandment and a war of rates to be initiated tomorrow. As a result the price of beer is expected to show a marked reduction, corresponding to the increase which was made when the association was formed.

REPUDIATED HIS TAKE PLACE TOMORROW CONFESSION OF CRIME

Getting Into Trouble However

Tomorrow is nomination day for the civic elections. It is rumored that some dark horses may appear in the running for aldermanic honors when the nomination papers are filed, but the majority of the candidates have been before the public canvassing for some time.

Mayor Sears and Ald. Bullock will fight for the city's chief magistracy. Both have been canvassing for some time. The organization of Ald. Bullock is said to be very complete.

For the position of aldermen-at-large the three present holders of the offices are again in the field. The fourth alderman-at-large, T. T. Lantalum, in consequence of his appointment to the board of assessors, resigned his seat in the Common Council and is not again a candidate. Besides Ald. Kelley, Ald, McGowan and Ald. Frink the aspirants to the position of alderman-at-large are John Sime, Charles A. Clark, W. E. Scully and probably Thos. Hilyard.

Present indications point to no conpensation of the city such that he had will be a prought back here to stand trial, was arraigned on Saturday in the police court and promptly repudiated his confession, saying that he had belorme on the back river road, near this city, last fall, and who was brought back here to stand trial, was arraigned on Saturday in the police court and promptly repudiated his confession, saying that he had belorme on the back river road, near this city, last fall, and who was brought back here to stand trial, was arraigned on Saturday in the police court and promptly repudiated his confession, saying that he had only told the story for the sake of getting a free trip back to Montreal. James did not walk forth a free man, however, for not only did the police refuse to against him, and to this Sangster pleaded guilty. Spragg in Lansdowne. A third man is spoken of. In Dufferin ward, Ald. Willet, M. T. Ccholan and W. A. Steiper will have a three-cornered fight. The same is true of Kirgs, where Ald. Hamm, T. O'Brien and Chas. T. Jones are candidates. In Prince ward, Ald. Sproul is again in the field, being opposed by Jno. F. Morrison, a former alderman, and R. J. Green.

Ald. Bullock's retirement from Queens ward to conttest the mayoralty has left this ward vacant. Four candidates are attempting to succeed Ald. Bullock. They are Dr. Geo. A. Hetherington, A. A. Wilson, Henry Dunbrack and E. C. Elkin. R. R. Patchell and Ald. H. H. Pickett will have the fight for the honor of representing Victoria ward all to themselves. In Guys, the only West Side ward in which a contest seems sure to occur, John T. Brown and Israel E. Smith are out against Ald. Easkin.

coal having fired apparently by spontaneously, combustion.

The ship was commanded by Capt. Gaffry, and carried a crew of 26 men. Baker says that on the night of Sept. 8. flames broke out in the hold and that Capt. Gaffry ordered the small boats lowered. While the starboard boat was being lowered by Second Mate Weinburg, assitsed by Baker and Dixon, the fastening broke and the boat with its three occupants drifted to the southward in the darkness. As long as the three men could see, the fire grew brighter and there is thought to be little doubt that in a short time the vessel was destroyed and the remainder of the crew lost.

For two days, the small boat drifted to the southward in the Board of Trade rooms.

The habit of expectorating on the side walks, and on the floors of public places called forth a lengthy address from Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning. On many occasions the magistrate has spoken about the dirty condition of the side walks in this respect, but his address this morning was principally because he learned that his court room floor was left in a disgraceful state after a session on Friday. He said it was a matter of importance that the condition of the police court floor on Friday evening was in a disgraceful condition as the floors were in a frightful state.

GUEBEC, April 12—Willing jail inmates are to be provided with work, and their families partially supported by the government, in accordance with a resolution to be introduced in the legislative assembly early next week by Premier Gouin.

Arthur Sewall, which sailed from this port for Seattle on April 3, 1967, with a cargo of coal, was burned at sea, was brought here to George Baker, one of her crew.

The Sewall was built at Bath, Me. Baker, who is a Hawaiian, Charles Dixon and Second Mate Weinberg, are so far as known the only survivors. Baker came here frofm New York, where he arrived on the German Lloyd steamship Kronprinzesin Cecilie, a stoker. He says the Sewall was burned shortly after rounding Cape Horn, the coal having fired apparently by spontaneously combustion.

The ship was commanded by Capt.

IOVEBEC, April 12—Willing jail inmates are to be provided with work, and their families partially supported by the government, in accordance with work, and their families partially supported by the government, in accordance with a resolution to be introduced in the legislative assembly early next week by Premier Gouin.

The premier stated Saturday that the measure was being prepared in answer to the request of leading Montrealers. With the exception of prisoners sentenced to hard labor, jail inmates cannot, of course, be forced to work, but according to the proposed law those who are willing to make themselves useful during their term of imprisonment, will be accommodated and a small allowance will be made to the wives or children who will thus be provided during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the city (increasingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the city (increasingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the city (increasingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the city (increasingly mani

The annual meeting of the Neptune Rowing Club was held on Saturday evening in the Board of Trade rooms. Reports showed that the club had a successful season last year and a strong committee was appointed to interview all the old members with a view to a renewal of their subscriptions. It was decided to move the boathouse over to York Point slip about the first week in June, and a committee was delegated to arrange, if possible, for the deepening of the approaches. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, F. A. Kinnear; 1st vice-president, E. E. Church; secretary, Geo. P. Kirk; treasurer, F. E. Hanington; captain, W. J. Coates; managing committee, G. Heber Vroom,

To the Electors of the City of St. John: Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been tendered the unsolicited support of a large number of ratepayers, I have decided to accept nomination for the Mayoralty and trust I will recieve your endorsation.

If elected, I will endeavor to give you safe, progressive and business-like administration.

ministration.

During the time I have held the position of Alderman and discharged the duties of chairman of the treasury department, I have given very full attention to the city affairs; and whilst I have no doubt that the progress and development of the city (increasingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the citizens must not be materially increased, but that as far as possible the rate of assessment must be reduced.
