"HAYDN, being once asked why his church music was always so cheerful, replied: I cannot make it otherwise. When I joy that of God my heart is so full of joy that the notes dance and leap."—Standard.

The report of the N. S. Central Association is received, but for lack of space we are obliged to hold it over to another issue. The meeting of the Association in Windsor appears to have been a very pleasant and profitable one.

The Convention of Christian Endeavor societies to be held at Cleveland from July 11-15 will, it is said, be attended by 25,000 young people from Canada and the United States. Among the speakers are the following Baptists: Dr. Boardman, Dr. Henson, Dr. Hoyt, Dr. Beckley, Dr. Dickinson, Dr. Dixon. The Examiner regrets that the Women's Convention and the Young People's Convention are not held in connection with the anniversaries of the great cities for foreign and home missions.

—Rev. E. G. ROBINSON, D. D., LL. D., died in Boston on 18th ult., aged 79 years. He graduated at Brown University in 1835 and at Newton in 1842. From 1846 he has been a professor in Theological seminaries or universities. From 1853 to 1872 he was a leading member of the staff of Rochester Theological Seminary. From 1872 to 1889 he was president of Brown University and he was a professor in Chicago University at the time of his death. In these various offices of influence he exhibited strength of mind and high character. His life was very useful and honorable.

In connection with the report of the N. B. Association we give a brief synopsis of the Associational sermon. Those who heard the excellent discourse, so rich in gospel truth and Christian experience, will of course feel that the abstract very imperfectly represents it. The sermon was delivered by the aid of very brief notes, and we regret that Bro. McDonald is unable to give us the Me. of his discourse in full. Strongly upheld by the sympathies and prayers of his brethren, the preacher could scarcely fall to be at his best. The sermon was greatly enjoyed and many in the large and attentive congregation must have received great benefit as they listened.

The birth of a new English prince in the direct line of succession to the throne is always a matter of considerable interest to the people of England and more or less to those of the empire at large. The son born to the Duke and Duchess of York on June 23rd, in the regular order of events and in the present form of government shall continue, will some day be the crowned head of the British Empire. This is a high human destiny as things are reckoned in this world, and we can only hope and pray that the young prince may become a man fitted for the grand responsibilities and opportunities that may come to him. The Duke and Duchess of York are popular with the people and the birth of the young prince removes the apprehension that the line of succession to the crown might pass from the royal line into the family of the Duke of York, whose wife is the eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales.

—AGAIN a man of exalted station has fallen under the dagger of the assassin. The victim in this case is President Carnot, of France, and the assassin, an Italian, is believed to be an anarchist. It was in the City of Lyons on the evening of June 24th, that the murderous deed was done. The president was visiting the city for the purpose of attending an exhibition. After attending a banquet given in his honor by the Chamber of Congress, he had just entered his carriage, when the murderer sprang upon the steps, drew a dagger, which he carried concealed in a newspaper, and dealt the fatal blow. The dagger had reached a vital spot and the president lived but a few hours. The assassin, whose name is Santo, was rescued with difficulty by the police from the crowd who would have killed him on the spot. It seems probable that President Carnot's death was the result of an anarchist plot, though it is said the murderer denies that others were concerned with him in the diabolical deed. Mr. Carnot has been president since 1871. He had served his country wisely, and was widely and deservedly popular among his fellow-citizens. His death has caused wide spread and genuine grief among the people of France, and has called forth the sympathies of all friendly nations. On Wednesday the Senate and Chamber of Deputies assembled at Versailles and elect M. Casimir-Perier to succeed M. Carnot as President of France.

—READERS of the MESSENGER AND VISITOR may remember a letter, from R. V. C. W. Williams, which appeared in our columns last summer giving an interesting account of a visit to the St. Stephen Boys' Camp. Arrangements for a camp on a somewhat larger scale are being made this year. We have received from Mr. Edgar M. Robinson, of St. Stephen, under whose direction all the arrangements will be carried out, a neat circular giving information in respect to this year's camp. Invitations to join the camping party have been sent to every Boys' branch of Y. M. C. A. in the Maritime Provinces, in Ontario, Quebec, the New England States, New York and New Jersey. The assistance of a competent staff of camp leaders has been secured. The object is not to make money but to promote the welfare of the boys, and no effort will be spared to give them a most enjoyable and profitable outing.

The camp will be held on Head Harbor Island, at the eastern extremity of Campobello, N. B. The exclusive use of the entire island has been secured, and this means over 100 acres of ideal camping ground. The tents will be pitched on a slight elevation near the centre of the island—a situation commanding an extensive view both landward and seaward. On the island are large level fields for all kinds of games and athletic sports, wooded hills for rambles, precipitous shores and fine gravel beaches. On the seaward side the water is as rough as stormy can make it, dashing against the ragged cliffs, or rolling heavily on the beaches; while on the harbor side it is always sheltered and calm, affording grand opportunities for boating and bathing. One of the attractions of the place is the opportunity it affords for fishing. Scores of fishing boats lie off near the island and the fishermen have been found very kind and willing to take the boys off with them in their boats, lend them lines and show them how to fish. Safe boats are provided free from expense, also a schooner, whose owner and captain has spent almost a life time in these waters; and he is prepared to take the party to every point of interest in the vicinity or to sail them round to their heart's content. The party leaves St. Stephen on July 9th and returns on the 21st, and the entire expense for man or boy is 50 cents a day, or $6.50 in all. The party, however, can be joined at any time. Besides light and heavy under clothing, strong boots, and light shoes or slippers, rubber coat, overcoat, rubber boots and other necessary clothing, it is advised that each person bring three heavy blankets or their equivalents, 3 towels, swimming trunks, pillow and dark pillow case, cord lines, reading matter, Bible and Gospel Hymn. It is planned to have one man for every five or six boys, and every precaution is taken to secure their safety and welfare. Further information may be obtained by addressing Mr. Edgar M. Robinson, St. Stephen, N. B.

our churches have co-operated, we were willing for the sake of preserving the unity of the denomination, to accept and to carry out in all good faith. That basis, as is well known, provided that Foreign Missions and Acadia University should remain under the control of the Maritime Convention, while Home Missions, Academic Education and any purely local matters should be managed by the separate provinces through a provincial Convention or otherwise as the churches of each province might elect (see Year Book, 1893, page 27). It will be observed then that the action taken by Convention referred the matter of making provision for the management of home missions and academic work to the churches of each province.

This being the case it would appear to us that the regular mode of procedure would have been for the associations to take the initiative in authorizing further action. But if we were deemed necessary that there should be a general meeting of the churches to determine the character of the proposed organization and to carry it into effect then three things seem evident. First, Such a meeting should have been called upon the recognition of pastors and leading brethren in all the Associations and representing all parts of the province; Second, It was necessary that due notice being given, the purpose for which the meeting was called should be adequately and distinctly stated, and Third, that the meeting should be called under such conditions that there should be time and opportunity for mature deliberation before final action upon so important a subject should be taken. These propositions seem to us no reasonable and self-evident that no one can take exception to them.

Now let us inquire what was actually done and how the present N. B. Convention has come into existence. A meeting was held in Brussels St. church in May, 1893, which meeting appointed a committee to wait upon the Maritime Convention with propositions looking to a separate Convention for New Brunswick. After the meeting of the Convention and the approval of the basis above referred to, two of our brethren, Rev. Thos. Todd, as chairman, and Rev. W. E. McIntyre, as secretary of the Brussels St. meeting, issued a call for a meeting to be held in Brussels St. church on Oct. 5th, 1893, to have the report of the committee appointed at the May meeting. This they had an undisputed right to do. But the notice further intimated that steps would doubtless be taken at the meeting looking toward organization for the care of our provincial work. It was not easy to see how any two brethren could have authority to say this. But the announcement was very indefinite, and was naturally interpreted to mean that it was expected that some preliminary steps would be taken in the matter. The Editor of the MESSENGER AND VISITOR seems so to have interpreted it, in an editorial note in the issue of Sept. 18th, he said, "We presume that it is intended that the steps to be taken at the approaching meeting will be of a preliminary character, and that no plan of organization will be submitted for adoption until the matter shall have had the benefit of the mature deliberation of a thoroughly strong and representative committee." As this interpretation of the meaning of the notice appeared to be natural and reasonable, and as no intimation of the contrary was given by those who were calling the meeting, it was presumed to be admittedly correct.

The meeting of Oct. 5th was held according to appointment, and scarcely one-fourth of the churches of the province had delegates present. The report of the committee sent to the convention was the "basis" approved by that body. This was adopted with little or no opposition, evincing a general consent to the principle of provincial organization for provincial work. But to the very great surprise of many this action was immediately followed by the introduction of a resolution by Rev. W. E. McIntyre looking to the immediate organization of a N. B. Convention and the adoption of a constitution, all at this same meeting. This resolution we felt in duty bound to oppose as contrary to Baptist usage, arbitrary, hasty and most unwise. We held that no plan of organization should be adopted except after mature deliberation and by a meeting duly authorized by the churches and distinctly appointed for that purpose. A counter resolution was presented on motion of Rev. G. O. Gates and seconded by Rev. J. A. Gordon and J. H. Hughes, authorizing the appointment of a large and representative committee to draft a plan of organization and after sending it to the churches, to submit their work to a meeting of delegates of the churches to be called for the purpose of organization. The undersigned, each and all, earnestly pleaded that such a course be pursued for the sake of saving the unity of the denomination in this province. When the vote was taken this amendment was defeated by a bare majority, yet in the face of this and in spite of all the arguments presented in favor of a more deliberate course and untreaty not in this way by hasty and irregular action; to impede if not destroy the unity of the denomination in this province, those whose hearts were set upon immediate organization proceeded—a mere handful of delegates by this time remaining—and drafted, or rather selected, a plan of organization, and thus was organized the present N. B. Convention.

In the face of these facts, it should not, it seems to us, occasion any great surprise to any one, that we, in common with the great majority of our brethren and our churches in this province have not felt able to endorse the work done at the Brussels St. meeting of Oct. 5th, '93, by identifying ourselves with the recently held Convention. At the same time we deeply deplore the present situation and strongly deprecate separation and distrust when the united strength of the body is so greatly needed.

It is our most earnest desire to be heart and hand with our brethren in the service of our Lord, and if any way can be pointed out whereby all the Baptist churches in this province can honorably and heartily co-operate to promote the important interests committed to us, we stand ready to accept it with the deepest gratitude.

The Baptist Convention.

SOME SUGGESTIONS PRIOR TO THE NEXT SESSION.

Editor of Messenger and Visitor:

Sir: On pages 27, 28 and 29 of last Year Book are notices of motion to change the constitution (p. 2 and 3) of this Convention. Of all these proposed changes I desire to criticize only one, and give my reasons beforehand, so that some of your readers can ponder the subject and thus be better prepared to vote on the question in August. I refer to the notice of Bro. Knapp to re-elect Section IV by electing the officers "by ballot without nomination." As the constitution stands now, we can elect as we see fit; the delegates of each year please themselves. But if the proposed amendment is made, the delegates of 1894 will not only rule this year but will fasten on future years what a majority then may feel to be irksome. If the officers were elected at close of the Convention when the delegates are sifted and acquainted, there would be more force in the proposal, but to get a convention at the opening, when one third or more of the members are new and unacquainted with each other, to ballot for an officer without nomination, and to keep at it till one has a clear majority, and to repeat that for all the officers, is a great loss of time and withal a bold invitation for the formation of cliques, or the making up of slates beforehand. Looking over thirty years and through the experience of other organizations, I strongly favor the nominating committee as being a great time-saver and ensuring the choice of the best and most representative persons for officers and committees. For surely if it is best to trust to the "spirit" to elect a president equally is it that boards and standing committees should be chosen by the same method. The tendency of a Convention having more clergymen as members than any other profession, will be to get the clerical element into office. A clergyman preaching a finer sermon or making a touching prayer, will carry the popular vote against the best business man in the denomination; and it is being learned that societies and boards, to win financial confidence outside and get generous donations from business people, must be controlled in part by business laymen. The nominating committee should not be appointed by the president. Let him name some, with the same privilege to any member who sees an interest or district unrepresented, and then let the Convention by vote appoint the committee of or from those nominated. Five, ten, or twenty can compose such committee.

2. By vote of Convention, 1892, page 28, the two receivers (treasurers) must close their accounts the 31st of July, and a sufficient number of copies of their reports must be printed for use of Convention." With this done the treasurers' books of the different Boards can be made up by the 3rd of August, and then printed for the Convention. If the ledgers are kept open beyond the time named it must be for the sake of getting in and reprinting the contributions from some dilatory churches. Part of the blame for disobeying the foregoing orders rests on those lagging church officers. Those who were tardy last year and those who are careless thus far this year, will please note that they not only injure themselves and their churches but they wrong our treasurers and boards that are waiting for them. It is the duty of these officials to close their books and make up their accounts at the dates ordered—the contributions from late churches will be given promptly in MESSENGER AND VISITOR. But far better will it be for all our churches to make returns before the 31st of July.

3. By printing the three heavy reports—H. M., F. M. and A. C.—for use of Convention (or the historical parts, leaving the recent action of the Boards to be given as a supplement in manuscript) they can be far better understood and voted upon in less time than heretofore. The report could be handed to the delegates the day before its time of discussion and thus its reading in Convention could be dispersed with, and its adoption by sections could be at once commenced. With Sunday schools, temperance, obituaries, state of denomination, &c., taking our attention, the work must be condensed or the time of Convention lengthened. The former is preferable. The printer of the Year Book will be glad to set up type previous to Convention and furnish 800 copies of each report before the day of opening.

(4) Condensation in reports and minutes is desirable and feasible. Five or at the most six pages should print all the best things said and done at an Association, and the work laid out for the ensuing year. With our abundant material it is easier to make a lengthy report; but ease should not be sought by committees. To tell all, and tell briefly, requires ability and experience; our Association clerks and secretaries of boards have fine opportunities for practice. The chief points and suggestions in reports and addresses at our gatherings are too valuable to be omitted. Bro. Murray set a worthy example in the minutes of last year's Central N. S. Association.

Conventions and Associations.

The New Brunswick Baptist Convention would seem to be an accomplished fact. It has been duly organized under the act of incorporation, we are told. But must we therefore accept it as the deliberative and executive body of the Baptists of this province? Will it be correct for the public and the newspapers to assume that the acts and utterances of this body are those of the Baptists of N. B.? The friends of the new convention would say, "Yes, certainly." But perhaps as large or a larger number of the ministers and churches would say, "No, certainly not. Let me try to state some of the grounds of the latter view:

When the Convention of N. S., N. P. and P. E. I. was organized (in 1840), it was consequent upon action taken by the two Associations, and the plan of union was arranged and carried into effect by delegates from the Associations.

When union in home mission work was brought about in Nova Scotia, the proposal was first discussed and adopted at the meetings of the three Associations.

When home mission work in New Brunswick was handed over to the Maritime Convention, it was done pursuant to votes of the Associations, or of the Home Missionary Society, so called, meeting with one or the other of those gatherings.

The Associations have always assumed to express the opinions and desires of the denomination on such questions as our missions, our Christian schools, etc. Practice, if not rule, has made them the recognized medium for the expression of the sentiment of the churches within their respective boundaries.

But now in the N. B. separate convention movement, the associations have been first ignored and then virtually crowded out. How ignored? It may be asked. The strong resolutions of two of the Associations last year were ignored, were they not? And this year our headstrong brethren have pushed on against all entreaties and organized a new convention without giving the Associations an opportunity even to reconsider their action. But how have they been "crowded out"? It may further be inquired. Well, no one can imagine that the ministers and lay brethren who usually attend our denominational gatherings will be able or willing to maintain four grades of periodical meetings for such purposes,—the quarterly meeting, the Associations, the provincial convention, and the Maritime Convention. And if one yearly meeting is to be dropped, must it not be the Associations? But are the churches prepared for this change? It may prove to be the best thing; but it has never even been discussed by these bodies themselves.

The N. B. Convention, so called, has been organized without the churches having a fair opportunity to consider and pronounce upon the plan of organization. It is true that the constitution adopted by the remnant of the Brussels street meeting of Oct. 5th, (in the small hours of the morning) was published in the MESSENGER AND VISITOR. But many brethren who are interested in the matter never saw it; and from the absence of any provision for managing home missions, etc., it might be supposed that this was merely an incomplete and provisional draft. It is true, this, the act of incorporation has never been published. And moreover, the meeting of Oct. 5 was not known to have been called for the purpose of organizing a convention. This action was unexpected, and was opposed by about one half of the delegates present, as being hasty and ill-advised.

PRAYER TOPIC FOR JULY
For our mission work at home and abroad.

BOYLSTON, N. S., June 6th, 1894.

The sisters and friends of Manchester Baptist church met at the parsonage for the purpose of organizing a W. M. A. Society. After some deliberation the following officers were elected, viz: President, Mrs. Rebecca Fyle, 1st Vice-President, Mrs. James R. Atwater; 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. James Hall, Secretary Mrs. H. L. Morrow; Treasurer, Mrs. C. J. Atwater; Auditor, Mrs. John Miles. After singing "What a friend we have in Jesus," the Second Psalm was read and a prayer offered by our pastor.

It was decided to have a sewing circle in connection with the Society. A president and managing committee were chosen to take charge of this department, viz:—President, Mrs. S. H. Fyle; Managing Committee, Mrs. I. T. Anderson, Mrs. S. M. Whitman.

Since our pastor, Rev. John Miles, settled with us in November last, he and his efficient helpmate have labored faithfully for the welfare of the church, and the organizing of our Aid Society is largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Miles, and we trust that all the undertakings of the church may be blessed to the advancement of the cause of Christ.

Report of Kings Co. W. M. A. Convention
The Kings Co. W. M. A. Convention met at Kenville, June 23rd. Mrs. T. H. Kempton presided. The afternoon meeting was blessed in an especial manner with the presence and blessing of G. D.'s spirit. A large number of delegates were present and reported from twelve of the fourteen societies in the Co. Almost all told of increased membership and funds. A warm welcome was given to Mrs. C. H. Hagar and hope expressed that she would be a benediction to us; to which she responded in a touching manner.

Mr. Chubbill gave information about the school work, and profitable in connection with it that was both instructive and encouraging.

Sister Rockwell reminded the sisters of a request once made that special prayer should be offered for our missionaries every Saturday night, between 8 o'clock, as that is with them seven o'clock Sunday m. when they go out to their day's work.

The evening session was opened by pastor F. O. Weeks reading scripture. Bro. B. Kempton, D. D. offered prayer. Mrs. Carol then gave Mrs. Chubbill a warm welcome, to which she gave a fitting reply. She spoke of the good work words did; the loneliness she had experienced, feeling sometimes when Mrs. Chubbill was away and she alone at the station, that she must see some one come through the gate, hear some familiar voice. She had four girls and two young men dressed in native costumes. Mrs. Martell spoke of the home work of the mission. Mrs. Curry gave an appeal for more labors. The same appeal showed her appreciation by their part attention to the end. And with a meeting next, increase the interest in our foreign mission work. C. P. 1894. Wolfville, June 21. F. M. Kempton.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1894.

The N. B. Western Association

The N. B. Western Association met in its 17th annual meeting, with the Chipman church on Friday afternoon, June 22nd. Some time was spent in profitable religious conference.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of Rev. T. Todd as moderator, Rev. S. D. Ervine clerk, Bro. Fred. McKay as secretary, and Bro. Moses Dickman treasurer.

Visiting brethren were invited to seats in the association. Among those present were Rev. J. W. Manning, Geo. Howard, John Coombes, J. H. Hughes, W. H. Jenkins, F. C. Wright, Brethren John Hardy, H. Y. Coery, Licentiate.

The evening session opened at eight o'clock, the moderator in the chair. Prayer was offered by Rev. F. D. Davidson. In accordance with arrangement made at the previous session the subject of education was introduced for discussion.

Rev. J. H. Hughes was the first speaker. He spoke of the benefits Baptists had conferred upon the world by their translations of the Scriptures and other fruits of learning. He was proud of the Baptist institutions of learning. He expressed his deep interest in Acadia and also in the U. B. Seminary at St. Martins, and emphasized the need of a school to prepare men for work in the ministry who were not able to take a full course in college. This want he looked to St. Martins to supply, and called upon the people to lend their aid to put this school in a prosperous condition.

Rev. W. H. Jenkins spoke of his interest in the U. B. Seminary as one who had been a student there. He felt that it would be a disgrace to let it die, and that school must be sustained. Higher education was of interest to all classes. Physical and mental training were not without value, but of higher importance was spiritual development, and thus most important that young men and women should be educated under religious influences. Such influences were not to be found in state or provincial universities. This is the grand aim and work of Christian schools.

Rev. A. B. McDonald agreed with what the previous speakers had said, and wished to emphasize their remarks. State schools could not supply the needs of our people. The U. B. Seminary had proved its ability to be self-sustaining if only its debts were paid. The Baptist people of New Brunswick were able to pay off these debts and it would be folly to abandon the school after it had cost so much. There was no necessary antagonism between the Seminary and Acadia College.

Rev. W. E. McIntyre said he would devote attention to the condition and needs of the Seminary and proceeded to present the conditions on which the Baptists of the province, either jointly with the F. C. Baptist body or otherwise, might obtain control of the school, and urged the necessity of prompt and vigorous action. Honestly demanded the payment of the debts against the school. The Seminary was needed to afford men, who could not take a full college course, a short cut to the ministry. He emphasized the importance that education should be under religious influences. In state schools there were no such safeguards. The support of St. Martins did not mean disloyalty to Acadia.

Rev. F. D. Davidson said: Pretty much everything appeared to have been said which was worth hearing. He placed a high value on mental training. Time was when men were called directly from the plow to the pulpit, but in these days there was need of education, for man's education was not finished when he received his degree of A. B. It is but a foundation, and the man who makes use of his opportunities gains culture. We owe it ourselves, to our fellow men and to God to make the most of ourselves.

The session of Saturday morning was occupied principally in reading and bearing the letters from the churches. The Circular Letter—Subject, "The Needs of the Hour,"—was read by the writer, Rev. F. D. Davidson.

In the afternoon the report of the Committee on Home Missions was presented by Rev. S. D. Ervine. The report noted that on account of lack of funds the H. M. Board had felt compelled to practice retrenchment. At the opening of the year the debt was $3,000, and is now $4,000. Enlarged contributions from the churches are therefore necessary. Some successful work under the direction of the H. M. Board has been carried on during the year within the limits of the Association.

The report also noted with gratitude the success which had attended the work of pastors generally during the year, and the special blessings and large additions to their membership, which many of the churches of the Association had experienced during the year. Six hundred and twenty-nine additions to the churches by baptism are reported. This number is the largest for many years. Many pastors have been greatly blessed and encouraged in their work.

Rev. W. E. McIntyre, in moving the reception of the report, called attention to the large accessions to the membership of the churches and the cause for joy and gratitude which this afforded. The hymn "All hail the power of Jesus' name" was sung, and by request of the Moderator, Revs. J. W. S. Young and W. E. McIntyre offered prayer.

The report on Denominational Literature was presented by Rev. W. H. Jenkins. It emphasized the importance of providing the best literature for the home and the Sunday school, and the use of Baptist Lesson Helps &c. for the Sunday-school in preference to undenominational publications, though the latter might be cheaper. The North-West Baptist and the Baptist Union were commended as affording suitable information in certain lines of work, and the MESSENGER AND VISITOR as too well known and too highly appreciated to require commendation.

Rev. A. Freeman spoke to the report and emphasized the importance of good literature and of guarding the home from the intrusion of books which with religious titles and containing much good matter also contained erroneous teaching. He also spoke of the great value of religious newspapers in the home, expressed his very high appreciation of the MESSENGER AND VISITOR, and prayed that it might be found in every Baptist home. The report was unanimously adopted.

The report on Sabbath-schools was presented by Rev. F. D. Davidson. It expressed regret that statistics as to the number of teachers and scholars at present in the schools were not at hand but probably some advance had been made on last year's figures. The report recognized the great importance of the Sunday-school. It should be regarded as an integral part of the church. The superintendent should receive his appointment from the church and the schools should report its work to the church at least once a year. Many schools were largely under the control of some one individual. This should not be. Leaflets and lesson helps should not be permitted to crowd out the Bible. The committing of Scripture to memory was important. Baptist literature should be used in the school. The necessary supplies could be best obtained from the Baptist Book Room, Halifax, or the Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia or its branches.

Rev. J. Coombes spoke of S. S. conventions. There were union conventions, but we had none that was distinctively Baptist. The Maritime Convention had taken action looking to the formation of such conventions. Union associations were unsatisfactory to Baptists, and he would like that there should be an expression of this association in reference to the matter. The report was adopted.

Rev. W. E. McIntyre introduced the following resolutions: Whereas, The Maritime Convention at its meeting last year voted to hand over the future management of home missions and academic education to such organization as each province may prefer; and

Resolved, That while we do not regard it as the prerogative of the associations to authorize or condemn such an organization, yet this association desires to put on record its approval of the formation of said convention as competent to carry on in good faith these interests in harmony with the basis agreed upon at the last convention; and

Resolved, Further, that we urge the churches in this association to do all in their power to promote the welfare of the objects still cared for by the Maritime Convention.

This resolution was discussed at some length. It was supported by Revs. J. H. Hughes, A. B. McDonald, George Howard, F. C. Wright, J. Coombes, T. Todd and W. E. McIntyre. It was said that, as it was understood the matter was to be brought up at other Associations, it had been desired to ask for an expression of opinion from this Association. That it had been said that two of the Associations voted nearly unanimously against the new Convention last year, but that the proposal condemned by those Associations was the organization of a separate convention for the province, and was therefore different from the basis since adopted which preserves the Maritime Convention and unites the provinces in the support of Acadia University and Foreign Missions. It was further charged that if the vote on the matter taken by the S. Association last year had been at an earlier meeting of the Association the vote in favor of the new Convention would have been much larger. That the N. B. Convention was necessary to save the Seminary, that the number of the churches represented at the late meeting in St. John was not to be taken as indicating the full strength of the movement, that the N. B. Convention would certainly receive the support of the great majority of the Baptist people of New Brunswick, that the opposition came chiefly from certain pastors foreign to the province; that the continuance of the N. B. Convention was assured, and that those who opposed it would create division in the churches.

Rev. F. D. Davidson opposed the resolution. He was not opposed to the New Brunswick churches managing their own provincial work, nor was he opposed to a Convention, if that was the wish of the churches generally, but a Convention organized with so little apparent support, with most of the influential and wealthy churches of the province opposed to it, and confronted with such a matter as the St. Martins Seminary, requiring the united strength of the body, formed a very serious situation. It would be a good thing to bring the work of home missions into closer relations with the churches, but that could be done better through the Association than through a provincial Convention. The basis approved by the Maritime Convention did nothing more than commit home missions and academic education to the hands of the churches of the province to be managed as the churches might judge best.

Rev. M. P. King was prepared to support the N. B. Convention, but did not think it wise to ask for it the endorsement of the Associations. On the vote being called for, the resolution was declared carried, 32 to 1. Rev. F. D. Davidson presented from the Gibson church an invitation to the Association to hold its next annual session at Gibson. The Moderator stated that the Association had, at an earlier session, accepted the invitation of the Upper Kingsclear church.

Rev. F. D. Davidson presented from the Gibson church an invitation to the Association to hold its next annual session at Gibson. The Moderator stated that the Association had, at an earlier session, accepted the invitation of the Upper Kingsclear church.

This session was devoted principally to foreign missions. Rev. A. Freeman presented a resolution on temperance affirming the principle of prohibition and calling for the enactment of prohibitory legislation. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the people of Chipman for the abundant hospitality which the delegates had enjoyed at their hands. The report on foreign missions was read by Rev. M. P. King. It showed that in the continued health of the missionaries on the field, and the results of their faithful labors there was much to inspire gratitude. The Board entered upon its work at the beginning of the year with a deficit of some $3,500. In order to close the year free of debt it is necessary that it should receive some $6,000 or $7,000, and the Board is not without hopes that by a vigorous effort on the part of all the churches this amount will be raised. It is expected that a new missionary family and a lady missionary will be sent out the coming year.

Rev. J. W. Manning was the first speaker of the evening. He did not wish to present new things but to emphasize the old yet ever-pressing commission of Christ. The emphasis in that commission is on the imperative "Go, preach," and it was therefore the duty of Christ's followers to preach the gospel in all the world and as soon as possible. Paul felt it to be his grand business to evangelize the world. Christians in this day are not giving themselves to this work as they should by putting it before everything else. Conscious of our weakness we should consider the words of the divine Master—"All power is mine," and "Lo, I am with you always." The character and purpose of Christian missions are such as should call forth our best energies. The tremendous needs of the heathen world should be considered. The value of the souls of the impendent around us should not prevent us sending the gospel to those who have never heard it. The apostles did not remain in Jerusalem until every soul there was saved. Our honor as a denomination is involved in the evangelization of the Telega people.

H. Y. Coery, missionary elect, was the next speaker. Does the history of missions, he asked, bear out the words, "All power is given to me"? What has the gospel done for the peoples to whom it has been preached? Bro. Coery proceeded to show in a very interesting way what the gospel had done for the people of Madagascar, South Africa, Borneo and other countries. In order that Christian people shall take a deeper interest in this work it is necessary that they be instructed and aroused. This work the pastors can do best, when the people fully understand and feel the needs of the heathen world, they will do far more than they are now doing for its evangelization.

Rev. J. H. Hughes spoke of his interest in Bro. Coery, whom, when a boy ten years of age, he had baptized.

Rev. G. W. Springer recalled interesting reminiscences connected with Bro. Coery's family, with whom he had become intimately acquainted during his pastorate of the church at Batternet Ridge.

Rev. J. W. S. Young was called for to speak on Home Missions, but it was ascertained that owing to extreme weariness and indisposition, he had been unable to be present.

Rev. S. D. Ervine spoke on Home Missions. We are constantly, he said, coming into contact with H. M. work. Since he entered the ministry he had been principally in the back woods and he gloried in being a back-woods' preacher. When he was converted the power of God had thrust him into the work, and he had been most of the time on H. M. fields. He went on to show the needs of the Association in regard to H. M. work. In Madawaska County there was a large and important field unoccupied. Victoria County at present has no Baptist minister. In Carleton and other counties there are also destitute churches. There is need of men of heart and purpose, men who know the truth and know how to preach it, and are willing to give themselves fully to the work.

Large congregations attended the services of the Lord's Day. The day was very pleasant and the people came in their carriages from considerable distances. A prayer meeting, led by Evangelist Young, occupied the time from 9 to 10 a. m., and proved to be a season of deep interest. The Association sermon was preached by Rev. A. B. McDonald. The text was John 18, 36-37.

In these words our King witnessed before Pilate and spoke of His Kingdom. The Kingdom come is the first petition of the prayer which He taught His disciples. The coming of that kingdom was foretold by Daniel, and is declared to be at hand in the gospel which Christ preached and sent His disciples to declare.

The Kingdom of Christ is not of this world. It is a kingdom of truth and righteousness. The soldiers of Christ are to conquer the nations, not through carnal warfare, but by the sword of the spirit, the gospel of the grace of God. Paul preached a gospel which approved itself to man's consciences. It is a fatal mistake when the preacher seeks to commend the gospel to the worldliness and carnal-mindedness of his hearers. How many fall into this error! But there is a great reward for those who are faithful. The gospel of the kingdom proposes a new life for men and through this changed life the triumphs and glories prophesied of a kingdom are to come to pass. The armed nations with the birds and beasts of prey emblazoned upon their standards—fit emblems of their spirit—must one day become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ. And this will come to be as the individual hearts of men enter into a deeper, fuller fellowship with Christ. We are only half-Christian yet. If when we sing "Free from the law, Oh happy condition," we mean that we are free to sin, we are in grievous error. Christ came to redeem from sin and prepare a people zealous of good works. The true Christian's grand purpose is to live in accordance with the law of his God. The law commands that we shall love our enemies as well as those who do good to us. Ah, does it really mean that? Do we believe it? Do we practice it? If any community would put this into practice it would become a garden of the Lord. And that is coming. There will come a latter day of power when men of faith and love shall be multiplied and the earth shall be filled with the goodness and glory of the Lord. The real citadel of evil is in the individual heart. The organized forces of evil will be overcome only as the individual hearts of men are brought into loving obedience to Christ. The apostles sought to make the churches associations of spiritual persons. But it was impossible to keep out all evil men. Hence the need of discipline which they also practiced and enjoined. There is a distinction to be made between a back-slider who is overtaken in a fault and a hypocrite or an apostate, as there is between the man who, with a constant purpose to reach the summit of a mountain, sometimes slips back, and him who deliberately turns his back upon the summit and walks the downward way. Discipline in order to be effective must be constant. Where it has been long neglected great wisdom and caution are necessary lest in applying discipline the church be destroyed. But let the preacher always be faithful in preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and by and by he shall exchange the silver trumpet of the gospel for the golden harp of victory.

The meeting of Sunday afternoon was under the direction of the leaders of the W. B. M. U. After the reading of the Scriptures by the moderator and prayer by Rev. J. W. Manning, Mrs. Long gave an address.

We should thank God that he has committed the work of preaching the gospel to the world not to angels but to redeemed men and women. If we are not faithful to this great mission He will pass it on to others more worthy. We have this year new reasons for gratitude and should do more than ever before. God is calling us to a higher plane of living and service. As our Saviour walks by our side He unfolds to us much of His truth and permits us to do much for Him. Shall we neglect the honor of so high service? What we have to give may seem little, but the water which could take the loaves and fishes of the lad and make them sufficient for the multitude can make our little to abound to His glory. Every church should be a missionary church. Religion, it has been well said, is a commodity of which the more we export the more we have at home. Our responsibilities to the heathen we cannot escape. Let us live up to our glorious privileges and be co-workers with God who is surely bringing to pass the end for which all things were created.

Mrs. Pearce spoke of the great commission and the triumphs of the gospel in heathen lands. When a soul is brought from darkness to light it is always possessed of a missionary spirit. Thirty years ago, the churches had taken little interest in foreign missions. The W. M. A. Societies, introduced by Miss Norris—afterwards Mrs. Armstrong—had done much to cultivate an interest in this work among the Baptist women of these provinces. Mrs. Pearce spoke of the fruits of Christian missions as seen in Jamaica where Baptist missions were planted half a century ago, and now there were 270 Baptist churches independent of aid from abroad. In other lands, too, the labors of missionaries have been greatly blessed. The Telega mission of the American Baptist Miss. Union was spoken of as an instance of a mission which had survived great discouragements, and the labors of the missionaries had at length borne abundant fruit. The results of our own mission work are such as should encourage us and let us expect that far greater results will follow.

Rev. W. H. Jenkins, of Grandville, N. S., spoke on mission work in the North-West. He alluded to the aid which the work in the North-West was receiving from the W. B. M. U. of the Maritime Provinces. He dwelt upon the needs of greater consecration to Christian work, not only on the part of ministers but all Christians. He showed the needs of the North-West and the opportunities now presented for doing work which would be felt in all the future of the country. The claims of the Grand League Mission were presented by S. McC. Black.

Bro. John Harly also spoke of the work in Quebec, referring to some incidents connected with that work which had come to his knowledge. In the evening an evangelistic service was held, in which a large number were expected to take part. We have no report of this service, but have no doubt it was one of great interest. The Association adjourned to meet in its next annual session with the Upper Kingsclear church on the fourth Friday in June.

The delegates and visitors were well cared for by the good people of Chipman. The place of meeting was some six miles from the railway station and from the steamer landing. Many of us were much indebted to Mr. G. G. King and others living near the station, for conveyance to and from the place of meeting and for the abundant hospitality of their pleasant homes.

Whereunto shall an Association of Baptists be Likened?

It might be compared variously. It is like unto a picnic as to the rates of travel, and, apparently, with some of the delegates the multitude does not end there, though it should.

It is like a royal feast of good things prepared for an assemblage of kings, and the officers and the committee-men appointed the year before are the kings' butlers and bakers and cooks, and they should see to it that the dishes are prepared before the guests arrive. Let the oil be well beaten, the wines be well refined, the dough well baked, beforehand. Sometimes these functionaries come bringing their flour barrels and bread pans with them. If they do that this year the kings should do with them as Pharaoh did with his baker in the days of Joseph. The clerks of the churches are the market men who supply the chief cook, the Clerk of the Association with his meats and vegetables, and they ought to attend to their business early, so that he can be ready in good time with his stew and not keep the dinner waiting. Then when they have assembled let the guests behave themselves becomingly as guests—being arrayed in guests' garments, their church credentials—taking modest places, eating what is set before them in the way of sermons, addresses, and so on, criticizing as little as possible, for conscience sake.

Again, an Association should compare with a Parliament—it should be a Parliament as far as its business is concerned. It should be really representative. Every church should have some members there. All statistics available should be at hand. Representative questions, those that are alive among the people, should be the ones to be presented, and they should be thoroughly discussed. Then the resolutions that are passed, and the reports that are "adopted," shall they not be kept somewhere? They cannot be put in full, nor even, perhaps by synopsis, into the Convention Year Book; but shall they therefore be consigned to eternal oblivion? Let at least the skeletons of the reports be preserved. I have walked through the graveyard of Minutes of the Associations and found any number of slabs with the legend "adopted," pointed thereon, but generally I could not find a bone that a scientist could use to "restore" the departed Report. If our resolutions and reports are not worth recording they are not worth formulating, and we would do well to drop the parliamentary side of the Association and conduct it on the fast and picnic idea.

Finally, Let each delegate to the Association grasp the idea that he is elected to do the business of the kingdom—a kingdom more important than the British Empire, a business more momentous than the tariff. Let him come with Year-Book, note-book and pencil, prepared to learn eagerly, to think and speak intelligently and to do with all his might. CARLETON.

District Meeting.

The District Meeting of Colchester County met at Belmont, Monday, June 11th. The first meeting was held at 3 p. m., when Pastor Owers gave a profitable Bible reading. The evening was devoted to the anniversary service for the Sunday School. The children sang several pieces of music very sweetly.

Pastor Owers read a brief history of the School for the past twenty-five years. The first class, formed twenty-five years ago, contained ten scholars; six of them were present at the anniversary; seven of the number are converted. The school now numbers seventy, with an average of fifty. Since the organization of the school thirty-one have been saved. Addresses were given by William Cummings, Esq., Pastors Adams, Wilson, Bowie, and other workers. On Tuesday morning, after devotional exercises, the interests of the Sunday Schools of the County were considered. (1.) Are we doing our best work in a scattered form? (2.) Can we do it best in an organized form? (3.) Is this the time to organize? The subject of a Baptist County Convention was discussed; one brother suggesting "We had better work our own farms." The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That in connection with the District Meetings of this County we henceforth devote one or two sessions to the interests of S. S. work, and invite our churches to send S. S. workers as delegates to such sessions.

Resolved, That a special committee be appointed, consisting of Brethren W. D. McCallum, John Hay, Josiah Soley, Ingraham Banks, and G. M. Gunn, to advance the interests of Sunday Schools in the County.

Resolved, That the next District Meeting be held in Truro. At the afternoon meeting Pastor Blackadar read an excellent and suggestive paper on "The Duties of Parents to Children; are they responsible for their conversion?" This paper was discussed, when Pastor Bowie presented some excellent points.

The evening meeting was devoted to the Relation of God's Word to Conversion; Pastor Fields on "The Relation of God's Word to the Christian Growth;" Pastor Parker on the "Relation of God's Word to the Unsaved." Bro. Spidell did not speak to children on account of the adjournment of the afternoon meeting to allow some to attend a funeral. The delegates were numerous and the congregations large.

Pastor Adams presided at the meetings. One collection was taken up for a family made homeless by fire, and one for Convention fund.

Will the superintendents and teachers throughout the County do their utmost to aid the committee above named to make the next District Meeting a success. The whole session will be devoted to S. S. work.

SUMMARY NEWS.

Domestic.
—Incendiarism is suspected in the burning of the booth mill at Ottawa.

—Jose Rodriguez, ex president of Costa Rica, has arrived in New York. He will visit Canada.

—The grass along the Margaree valley is looking fine, and the prospects of an abundant crop of hay are good.

There were thirty-five failures in Canada the past week, against twenty seven same period last year.

—Alfred Buchanan, hailing from Woburn Place, London, Eng., has given himself up to the police in Toronto, saying he was wanted in England for embezzling £200.

—The receipts of the Ottawa Street Railway company for the past year were $129,454.02, and their expenses $89,324.64. The receipts, of course, were increased over the previous year.

—Hon. Mr. Foster is still unwell, and it is feared that he will not be able to take his seat in the House again this session. He will not be able to attend the colonial conference.

—The three year old son of Mr. G. W. Lanz, of Centreville, was instantly killed in the saw-mill of his father on Friday last by being caught on a revolving shaft which protruded some two feet above the flooring.

—Berwick and Wolfville are engaged in a contest to gain the establishment of a Sanitarium which is to be run by some Americans during the summer. Berwick seems to have the lead. It is to be a big thing if reports are true.—Atlantic Weekly.

—The hay crops looking exceptionally good throughout the county, and many of the fields are at this early date almost ready for cutting. The showers have been timely, and it goes without saying that the hay crop of 1894 in this county has not been surpassed for years.—Bridge town Monitor.

—Rev. W. H. Warren, late pastor of the Baptist Church, Sackville, left for West Bay, P. E. I., on Friday. Mr. Warren possesses a broad and liberal mind which is well cultivated and governed by scholarly instincts. He is well fitted for a pulpit in a metropolitan centre. His removal from Sackville is a distinct loss.

—The judicial committee of the Privy Council has granted special leave to appeal in the case of Brophy vs. the Manitoba education statutes. This appeal is allowed on behalf of the Roman Catholic minority of Manitoba against the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, delivered at Ottawa February 20th last.

—At midnight on Thursday, a dynamite bomb was thrown into the press-rooms of the Montreal Witness, with the evident intention of destroying the magnificent new press. The explosion which followed caused considerable damage to the room and set the building on fire, but the press was not injured. The fire was soon extinguished. At latest accounts the person or persons who committed the crime had not been apprehended.

—The election held last week in Ontario has proved favorable to the Mowatt government. The Montreal Witness thus sums up the result:—"The final complete returns of the Ontario election show that in the new assembly the straight Liberals will number fifty, the straight Conservatives twenty-six, the Patrons sixteen, and the Protective Association members two. In a full house the government will therefore have a majority over all parties of six, including the Speaker. The Patrons are divided into Liberal and Conservative sections, however, the Liberals numbering eight, the Conservatives six, and the Independents two. Mr. McCallum, one of the Protestant Protective Association members, is also an old Liberal. The government will therefore have a majority of about twenty in divisions on questions which have no special interest for either the Patrons of Industry or the Protestant Protective Association."

United States.
—The application for a certificate of reasonable doubt in the case of Erastus Wyman will not be heard until July 9.

—Consideration of the tariff bill in the United States Senate was completed on Friday. The reciprocity clause of the McKinley bill was repealed.

CARSON-KELLY.—At the Baptist parsonage, Hampton Village, June 27th, by Rev. Geo. Howard, William E. Carson, of Salt Springs, and Cornelia Kelly, of Bloomfield, Kings Co.

DEATHS.

PICKLE.—At Central Norton, June 18, Mrs. Pickle, relict of the late deacon Joseph Pickle, in the 85th year of her age. For the last eighteen years our sister was confined to the house. It was the writer's privilege to visit her frequently during the last few years, and ever found her trusting in the finished work of Christ. She was baptised more than fifty years ago by the late Rev. S. Hart. Her end was peace.

URQUHART.—At Carleton, Saint John, Mrs. Cynthia H., widow of the late William Urquhart, aged 52 years. Her confidence in Christ was perfect. "Jesus will take me up," were her last words. She leaves a large connection of relatives, among whom are a son and two daughters. While these sorrow for their loss, when they remember her great sufferings and her bright hope for the hereafter, they are reconciled. The funeral was conducted by Pastor Kempton, and Rev. G. A. Hartley, (P. C. B.) assisted.

COLPITTS.—On Thursday, June 7, Ray Colpitts, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Colpitts, formerly of Moncton, N. B., was drowned at Chippewa Falls, Wis. Mr. Colpitts was about to change his residence to Hayward, in the same State, and had the household effects all packed, preparatory to starting the next morning. Ray went to spend the day and night with a playmate, and they went in swimming. He, not being acquainted with the river, got into a deep eddy and was drowned before assistance could reach him. It was a terrible blow to his parents, who were very devoted to their only child. Ray was twelve years of age, and a bright, manly and promising boy, with intellectual force even beyond his years. In their affliction kind hands and hearts of new-found friends ministered to them as tenderly as if they had been surrounded by their own kind and kin, showing that the sterling qualities of Mr. and Mrs. Colpitts were appreciated by their neighbors and this hour of sorrow brought out the warm sentiments of regard entertained for the bereaved parents in their new home. The funeral was largely attended by the boys' brigade of the Baptist church, the deceased's cap and belt lying among the mass of flowers on the casket. One very pretty feature was the lining of the grave with white cotton and lily covering it with flowers. The casket was lowered into this flowery bed by his little comrades, to await the final resurrection. Mr. and Mrs. Colpitts have a host of friends and relatives in and around Moncton, who will be sorry to hear of their bereavement.
