Order Preserved Speaks Well for the Discipline at Institution —Loss Will Reach $20,000—Showers of Sparks Thrown Upon Main Building, But There Was No External Material for Ignition.

THE FIRE.

Location - Kitchen, Bake Shops, Ballroom Theatre of Hospital for Insane.

Duration of Fire—Five Hours. Time-10:20 p. m. Loss -Estimated, $20,000. Insurance - None. Cause-Unknown. Patients Endangered-700.

A fire of appalling possibilities raged for two hours and forty minutes in the rear portion of the London Hospital for the Insane last night and this morning, and the work of the London fire origade is credited with having saved the entire main building and its adjoining sections from complete destruction. An estimated loss of $20,000 is covered on a provincial system of insurance. BUILDINGS SEEMED DOOMED.

The alarm struck fear to the hearts of many citizens, and, afoot, through fields, in automobiles, in hacks and in street cars, hundreds made for the scene, attracted by the great torch that flared into the eastern sky and seemed to proclaim that the hos-

They found that the famous ballroom of the building was the section from which the smoke and steam and fire boiled up, and to them it seemed that the small building that serves as a link between the rear section and the main building, was the crucial point of the whole fight.

AIR THICK WITH EMBERS.

Up to the first wall of this little fortress the flames raged, and from this point the firemen fought as from a barricade. Smoke swept into the corridors of the main building, and cinders and heavy ser jons of rafters were blown by a heavy wind from the northwer lover the roofs of the adjoining buildings. Water seemed to heigh en the flames in the woodwork, for all outdoors was the npelling draught, but even then the surging waves did not cross ugh or over or along the sides of the little building whose ty meant everything.

SLATE ROOFS FOR SAFETY.

The storm of cinders fell upon slate roofs, and although the ames seemed at times to lick the sills of the big structure, there was no fire food within reach, and the men of the two brigades held the breach-meaning that tunnel-like passageway which was the vantage point, for the defenders at least, in the whole battle. PATIENTS AROUSED.

After the big asylum whistle had shrieked out a warning, Miss Evelyn Bray, the matron, aroused the patients. Miss Bray had been notified of the fire by Miss Doyle, a nurse, who saw flames coming from the roof of the ballroom while returning from the north to the main building. From their windows many of the patients could see the flames spurting from the northeast corner of the bakeshop. The calmest persons would have become excited, and considering the condition of the inmates, there was but slight confusion. There was quite as much excitement on the west side of the building, where the men were confined, as on the east side, where the quarters of the women are located. Most of the patients dressed themselves, but some, both men and women, were panic-stricken, and there was trouble in subduing several of

FOUR PATIENTS ESCAPE.

They were hurried downstairs in the orderly rank followed whenever it is necessary to bring them out together. In the main hall there was not much noise, and although four patients managed to escape, they apparently thought more of seeing the fire than of securing their liberty on such a night, and were soon back in quarters. They had wandered through the grounds toward Dundas street, and then had been attracted back by the reflection. As the fire progressed, many of them rendered aid in the engineroom and at other points. Continued on Page Ten,

An inspection of the hand fire ex-tinguishers located in the different corridors throughout the London Hospital for the Insane, conducted today by the officials from Toronto, revealed rather peculiar state of affairs. Chemicals Stale. It seems that the chemicals must be renewed periodically in order to maintain their efficiency, and according to those who attempted to use them this morning, this had not been done. While the losses have been estim-ted, no reliable information in this onnectian is as yet obtainable. f the band instruments, together with a large and valuable collection of orchestra music belonging to Mr. J. January Sale Whitewear Begins Today

As announced in yesterday's paper, the biggest show of Whitewear ever made at this store will be uncovered today. Large sections have been given over for the display of white on both first and second floors. On main floor, where 25,000 yards of special sale Embroideries, Flouncings, etc., are being offered, besides our regular stock purchased for the season, four sections in centre aisle, extending from elevator aisle to rear of store, have been given up to the display of these goods alone.

On the second floor you enter into a bower of white when you step from the elevator at either side, which reaches from east to west side of store and fills the west section from elevator to Dundas street, the greatest amount of floor space ever given to this display, which was found absolutely necessary owing to the heavy ourchases, and large contracts with manufacturers, which must be made to meet the steadily-increasing mail order business, and customers whom this store is attracting from all over Western Ontario, and this increased buying power means increases in value giving to our customers, which is plainly demonstrated in this January White Sale. Our Embroideries are bought direct from the makers and personally selected by our buyer in St. Gail,

THE ASYLUM FIRE.

The fire at the Hospital for the Insane had appalling possibilities. The well-organized hospital brigade did its best with the facilities at hand, but these were inadequate. There was an ample water supply and pressure, but the numerous wealthy families in that a sufficient volume of water could not be poured on the flames. The hospital firemen could only retard the fire until aid came from the city. But for this timely reinforcement, the main building would have been wiped out. Had the fire broken out in quarters occupied by the patients the consequences might have been terrible.

It is to be hoped the lesson will not be lost on the Provincial Secretary's department. A new pumping plant is being installed, -but other facilities must be improved to the highest possible degree. The staff of the asylum is to be commended for the discipline which prevented anything like a panic among the patients.

THE AXE AT OSHAWA.

Because Mr. Lyman C. Smith customs house officer at Oshawa, was said to have remarked to some Conservative, before the election, that "he made it a rule never willingly to support a man who had been proven guilty of corrupt practices in an election," he has been removed from his position on the ground of "undue" partisanship." The newly-elected Conservative member for the riding, Mr. William Smith, who was proved guilty a few years ago of personal bribery and whose evidence at his trial was frankly rejected as false by the presiding judge, has revenged himself in a manner consistent with his past record by securing from Dr. Reid the dismissal of an official of the highest character and attainments.

Mr. Lyman Smith has many claims upon the community of Oshawa. He was a successful principal of the high school for many years, almost a father of the people, and has a place among the best of Canadian poets. No wonder there is an uprising in Oshawa against the action of the member, for South Ontario. But why was such a person elected? The dismissal of Mr. L. C. Smith, a quiet, kindly scholar, the first citizen of the town that should be honoring his old age, who resigned his position as head of the high school only to undertake a less exacting labor, is a crime that will be laid at the doors of Oshawa as well as to the contemptible William Smith who represents the place.

ROOT OF ENGLAND'S PROBLEM.

The most painstaking student of social problems in Great Britain is Mr. Seebohm Rowntree, a scion of one of country who have a tradition of social service and progressive politics. His thorough and practical methods were illustrated in the city of York (population 82,000), where his assistants vis- ern statesmanship discloses. ited every working-class home. The name and address of every person out of work on June 7 last were obtained, and these cases were referred to a corps of trained investigators. The number of unemployed men capable of working was found to be 1,139, and the number of women 139, or 5.5 per cent. and 1.9 per cent, respectively, of the total number of unemployables. Of the idle men, 441, or 39 per cent, of the total, were casual laborers-pickers-up in revolutionary China, is an extraof odd jobs. Mr. Rowntree discusses possible emedies. He is not favorably disposed to relief works, improvised in a season of distress. The remedies must begin with the young; they must be properly trained for regular work. Unemployment insurance, applied in Mr. Lloyd George's bill, will do much, Expenditure on necessary public works, national and municipal, should be, as far as possible, confined to periods of industrial depression, so as to take care of a number of the unemployed, eral member of Parliament from Lon-The state could in these periods furnish productive employment for many in afforestation. But the chief remedial little Tottenham Court road girl. agency proposed by Mr. Rowntree is the establishment of the city and town industrial worker on small holdings in the country, with enough land to occupy him and help him tide over when work is slack, or when he loses his town job. Light railways and cheap fares would be necessary to the development of this system. It is widespread in Belgium, where unemployment is almost unknown, though the standard of living there is not so high as in Great Britain.

Rowntree's inquiries will strengthen the hands of those who are urging radical reform of the land system of England and Scotland. Here is more work for the present Government.

In passing theatre she noticed the blaze, and immediately ran to the engine room and notified Jack Hamilton, the assistant. He blew the whistle and alarmed the attendants. Running into the main office Miss Doyle sat down at the telephone switchboard, and with Miss Evelyn Bray, the matron, rang in the alarms. The city brigade was called first, then the barracks, and Dr. Robinson was summoned.

Miss Bray relieved Miss Doyle and between the two, everyone who could possibly render assistance was notified of the blaze.

I never knew of but one man who sneered at love. He declared that "all men could do without it, and that he for one could live quite as happy as the day was long if he never saw a woman's face.

I saw no reason why he should tell a story about it and I believe him, pitying him profoundly for misgiving the sweetest boon ever given mortals-love. When he passed away a score or more of angry were found to be on the verge of starting legal proceedings against him' for building love hopes in their hearts which, in each case tumbled, ending in total wreck.

Since then I have been skeptical about men's apparent indifference to the tender passion. I fancy that there is not a man who, at one time or another, does not succumb to the beguiling influence of some one sweet woman. Nine out of ten wed that woman

The tenth man misses marriage by some unfortunate series of circumstances. He puts off naming the day too long and she, perhaps, in a spirit of pique, weds his rival. Or it may be that her charms have palled in his estimation with the fading of the years and his inclinations have bent toward a fresher heart. Fate has a way of playing tit for tat with such men by causing the newer love to weary in turn of him and the reason is obvious as to why he forswears love and gives out to the world, which does not what is behind his resolve "That he will have none of it." No man is so strong, so brave, so indifferent but some one woman has the power to make his heart beat faster at a glance from her eye or thrill his heart by the touch of her gentle hand. No man is in truth a stole nor is he born with a marble heart in his breast. The general run of men have a score of heart affairs to a woman's one love dream. Few men are exempt from this category. We still give them the benefit of the doubt that they use every effort in their power to prevent such a catastrophe, such a waste of good affection. The fact remains the same. With as many samples to from it is little wonder a man may doubt which, if any is the real sentiment. Can he be blamed for holding aloof from matrimony under the impression there may be still another love star to rise above his horizon which shall be brighter, grander than all others? Procrastination under such conditions is his undoing and he dies

Whenever I read of the demise of a bachelor who they say has never had a love affair I feel like saying: Look for the woman in the case.

"Can't you find some word of welcome for me, betty?" he asked at length, still softly, still with something of entreaty in his tone.

As they did so, the cabin in the stern gave up a shattered present in the shape of Tom Ware. Murrell started violently. "I thought you were hanging out in Memphis, Tom?' he said, and his brow darkened as, sinister and forbidding, he stepped closer to the planter. 30,000 Square Feet More Floor Space

Demand Exceeds Supply

You motorists who have patiently waited your turn for getting Dunlop Traction Treads, here is good news for you: We are adding 30,000 square feet more floor space to our automobile tire plant. Operations have already begun. This big addition will be devoted to the manufacture of Dunlop Traction Tread Tires. Thus we hope to catch up on all back orders, and to keep up somewhat better with the tremendous demand which this tire's great success on the road has brought about.

Stiff Practice Indulged in Last Even ing and Players Showed Up Well.

The London intermediate O. H. A. team had its first practice on the ice last night, when about fifteen of the boys who are trying to make the team turned out at the Princess Rink. The lee was in splendid condition, and for nearly an hour a good stiff workout was indulged in. The players were able to get the stiffness worked out of their joints, but many have not yet got their wind. For the first time on the ice this season, however, the majority of the boys did well. Two sides were chosen to play against each other, and with Jimmy Orr, who has announced his retirement, as referee, a good game was put up, although a trifle slow at times when the players were trying to regain their wind. The veterans. Hank Wagner, Crow Carrothers, Lecky and Parkinson, were all on the ice, and seemed to have none of their last year's ability. Hally Watts and Milne were also out trying for the goal-keeping position McEvoy Thayer, Parkinson, Walden, Watts and Another practice will be held lar hockey.

Opening Game in M. P. P. League Played Before One of Largest Crowds on Record.

Halifax, Jan. 2.-The opening game of the Maritime Provinces Professional Hockey League was played in the Halifax Arena tonight before one of the largest crowds on record for an opening game. IRVING IS ENTHUSIASTIC The match was between New Glasgor professionals and the Cresecuts, of Hali-fax. The ice was in good condition considering the mild weather of the past week. From the face-off at the beginning of the game the New Glasgow players had the best of the play, and won out by a score of 9 to 4. Scott, Power and Morrison were the stars on the New Glasgow line-up, while Condon, Seguin and Murray were the favorites for the Crescents. Se-guin played a splendid game, and had it not been for his work New Glasgow would no doubt have won out by a much larger score. The work of Morrison, New Glas-gow's goal tender, was a feature of the play. The line-up:

FEW LOADS OF HAY ON TODAY'S MARKET

No Shipments in Live Hogs Made Since Price Dropped From $6.25.

LONDON, Jan. 3, 1912.

Today's market was small again. Beyond a few loads of hay, there was very little produce offered.

Hay sold at from $16 to $1750 per ton, according to quality and class, with $17 as the ruling price.

Oats were in good demand, but not many were offered for sale. Several loads sold at from $130 to $135; one load brought as high as $140 per cwt.

Wheat is steady at $7c and $8c per bushel, but very little can be obtained.

Practically no barley is offered on the local market, although it is worth $135 per cwt, and the demand is strong.

Straw sold this morning at $850 per ton.

Dressed hogs are fairly active, at from $9 to $9 25 per cwt. Live hogs are quoted at $5.90 per cwt, but shipments have not been made since the price dropped from $6.25 per cwt. On the dairy market first-class butter averages 30c per lb.

Eggs are still worth only $5c per dozen but allowing for the usual advance in Saturday prices, will probably be 40c the last of the week.

Dressed fowls are not very active, either in supply or demand; but the market is fairly active in all lines, although just now recovering from the holiday rush. No. 3 white 45c to 45 1/2 c. Rye-88c to 88½c. Bran-$23 to $23 50. Flour-First patents $5 to $5 30, do seconds

New York, Jan. 3.-(Wall street, noon)--Heavy realizing sales gave the stock market a decided setback today, after an early advance. Traders were inclined to take profits, in view of the vigorous character of yesterday's rise, and the bullish demonstration with which the day began was of short duration. The Harriman stocks were the weak features among the leaders, being depressed by reports of further labor troubles on the Southern Pacific. Selling pressure increased after 11 o'clock, and some large amounts of stock were sold. United States Steel' gave way from 69% to 68% with one block of 5,000 shares, and another of 4,200 changing hands. Nearly all of the well-known stocks sold under yesterday's closing figures. Bear operations centred to a large extent on the Harriman stocks, and they lost a point each. Recent strong features weakened materially, especially Interporough Metropolitan, pfd., and Great Northern Ore certificates, which sag-ged 1% and 2 points respectively.

ORGANISTS' GUILD TO ISSUE JOURNAL

President Ham gave a splendid address and outlined the objects and aims of the guild. He emphasized the fact that it was purely a Canadian institution for the purpose of maintaining and developing music, especially church music, in Canada, Organization Required.

The time was ripe for such an institution as the guild in Canada, and since its organization three years ago it had met with splendid success. The Canadian Guild of Organists propose to develop the Canadian national spirit in music, and make itself a national institution, which would be to Canada as the Royal College of Organists is to England. The American Guild of Organists, a United States body, made efforts to get a foothold in Canada and usurp Canadian privileges and Canadian music, but the Canadian Guild had been organized to thwart this, and they are gaining ground fast.
