LT.-GOVERNOR J. M. GIBSON ADDRESSED CANADIAN CLUB

His Honor Paid First Visit to London Since Holding Office,

BOY SCOUTS ARE PRAISED

His Honor Said That All Young Men Should Have Military Training.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, and Mrs. Gibson, and their two daughters, arrived at 11:30 o'clock today, to spend a hurried visit to London.

This is the first visit of his honor to London since he wa snamed to the important position he now occupies. It was a very busy time for him, as the party were kept on the move from the time they arrived until they departed.

On their arrival the lieutenant-governor's party was met by a deputation from the Daughters of the Empire, headed by Mrs. E. B. Smith, who took charge of Mrs. Gibson and the lady members, while Mayor Beattie, Mr. Jared Vining and other members of the Canadian Club met Hon. Mr. Gibson. The ladies were taken to luncheon at the Kennels, while Hon. Mr. Gibson addresed a very large gathering of the Canadian Club.

At 2 o'clock he visited the Children's Aid Shelter on the Wharncliffe road, where his honor delivered an address. Then was was taken to Cronyn Hall, where he opened the Christmas fete given by Princess Patricia Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, on behalf of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

His honor delivered a short addres there and left on the 4:25 o'clock train for Toronto.

At every function he was greeted by large audiences, who gave his honor and party a royal welcome to the city.

At the Club.

The luncheon at the Canadian Club was attended by a large gathering, the main dining-room of the Tecumseh House being well filled. All the prominent citizens of the city were in attendance. Mr. Jared Vining, first president of the club, presided, in the unavoidable absence of the president, Capt. T. J. Murphy, who had to leave London on busines.s

His honor gave an address on Canadian life, making a plea for military service among the boys of Canada.

"I have a great deal of pleasure in introducing to you his Honor Hon. J. M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, who has spent a lifetime in the service of the country," said Mr. Vining in introducing the distinguished visitor.

In his opening remarks his honor stated that he had not a set speech, that he was not a public speaker, nor had he ever been during his long service in the Legislature and elsewhere.

Growth of Canadian Clubs.

The growth of Canadian clubs throughout the country was the reflection of the growth and development of Canadian sentiment. He could well remember the time when practically all the public offices were filled by men from England, Ireland and Scotland. In hi searly days in the Legislature a large majority of the members were not Canadian born, but came from the old land. Since that time a change had taken place, and the positions of responsibility, in the Legislature and elsewhere, were being filled with Canadian-born. This was a proper step. It was right and proper to develop a Canadian sentiment. There was no less fealty and loyalty to Great Britain, but there should be, above all things, the development of a Canadian national sentiment.

Careless in Language.

For some time he dealt with the careless use of the English language so common among Canadians. The Americans were much careful of the construction and pronunciation of sentences than Canadians. The latter were given to slurring over their words, and there was not that accuracy either of pronunciation or formation of sentences that there should be. Canadians should learn to speak more distinctly and accurately than they had done in the past. Earl Grey, the last Governor-General of Canada, had noticed this carelessness, and whenever he had the opportunity of addressing boys and girls in Canada he warned them against it. The educated Canadian was on the average the best exponent of the English tone anywhere, and he hoped that Canadians generally would cultivate what to him was a decided asset of their nationality.

Canada Is Growing.

Canada was now getting on. The country was growing in population and in wealth. The great transcontinental railways were giving the country backbone. For many years the ignorant in England regarding Canada was incredible, but that ignorance was being dispelled. The Britishers were not only interested, but were being educated in the possibilities of Canada

"In Canada we can produce a nation superior to anything on earth," said his honor. "I am convinced of that. We have the material, and we have an ideal location."

The Lieutenant-Governor spoke at some length on the cadet movement throughout Canada. He had all his life been connected with the militia, and perhaps he was prejudiced in its favor, but he thought that all young men should have a military education. The Boy Scout movement was along the right direction. Much good had been produced in the past, and there was every indication that the movement would grow in strength and usefulness. The boy who had gone

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM GOES IN BY ACCLAMATION

Ex-Minister of Railways Will Take Mr. Low's Seat in House of Commons.

[Canadian Press.]

Renfrew, Dec. 5.—The re-election of T. W. McGarry by acclamation in South Renfrew means the return of Hon. George P. Graham to the Commons via the same route, owing to the fact that W. G. Mohr, of Ottawa, who was to have run against Mr. McGarry as an independent Liberal, changed his mind at the last moment.

Mr. Mohr's exit was as unexpected and sudden as his first intentions some ten days ago to oppose Mr. McGarry at the polls on Dec. 11.

The individual members of the two parties got together a few weeks ago, and an agreement was reached whereby Hon. George P. Graham was to take Mr. Low's seat in the Commons by acclamation, and Mr. McGarry to enter the Provincial Legislature again unopposed. Mr. Mohr himself signed this agreement. Then the rumor came down from the upper portion of the riding that the Conservative member would have to contest the riding. Mr. Mohr sent requisition papers down to Arnprior, and to all intents was getting ready for a campaign. The whole affair came to a head yesterday with the foregoing results .

Tug Morton Was Burned to the Water's Edge at Port Bruce.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

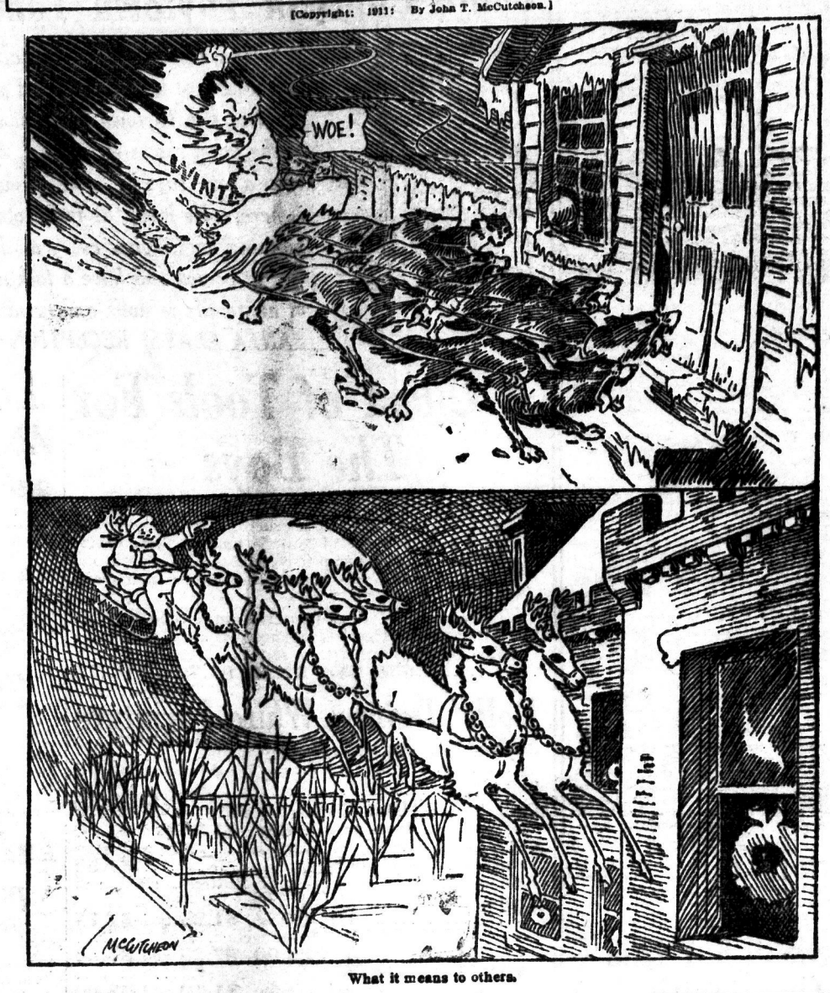

Port Bruce, Dec. 4.—Captain McEver and two fishermen who were taking the tug W. A. Morton from Port Stanley to Port Burwell, had to leap overboard in order to save their lives when the tug was burned to the water's edge here about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The men were taking the tug to Port Burwell to have the compass fixed, and shortly after midnight they noticed that he boat was burning around the smokestack. They tried to extinguish the fire, but it had got to great a start and with all speed they headed for land, and succeeded in beaching the boat, and then jumped overboard and waded ashore. The Morton is a complete loss. Had the fire happesed out in the lake the men would have had a very hard time of it. The tug was owned by the Port Bruce Fishing Company.

1,000 CHILDREN IN LONDON WHO NEED TO BE CARED FOR

Inspector Sanders' Report Read at Children's Aid Society Meeting.

Inspector Sanders' report of the work done by the Children's Aid Society for the year ending Nov. 30, was read before the annual meeting, which was held in the city hall this afternoon. The report is a very lengthy one, but complete in every detail, and covers every branch of the work of the society.

In it the inspector states that there are at least a thousand children in the city of London today who are badly in need of being cared for, and looked after, that they may be kept from the formation of such wayward habits and associations as will blight their whole lives, and many hundreds more who cannot develop into a type of good citizenship if left to their devices, and without good influences and training that is lacking in the homes.

A Boy Redeemed.

Inspector Sanders relates the case of a lad, 15 years old, to show the necessity of outside influences and interest that is being taken in the lives of many boys. This boy was the eldest of seven children, and in the tiny home in which they lived there was nothing to attract or hold an active boy. His parents became alarmed when he contracted bad habits, and reported

MR. BECK MUST COME BACK FOR RE-ELECTION IN LONDON

Question of Opposition to Him Will Depend Upon Circumstances.

If the Whitney Government is sustained, Hon. Adam Beck will have to come back to London for re-election, as he is to be given a portfolio, that of minister of power.

There is an impression abroad that the acclamation tendered Mr. Beck on Monday meant that he would be included in the cabinet without the necessity of re-election.

However, that is not the case, and if Mr. Beck is to be made minister of power he will have to come back to the citizens of London.

Whether or not he will be given opposition on that occasion depends on circumstances.

THE POLICE OF HAMILTON SPRING A BIG SENSATION

Two Well-Known Citizens Placed Under Arrest in Connection With the Recent Theft of Eight Thousand Dollars From Canadian Express Company's Office.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Ont., Dec. 5.—The police sprang a big sensation today in the Canadian Express robbery, when they placed under arrest J. Douglas Chilman and Joseph Acheson, two well-known men. They are alleged to know something about the daring robbery of $8,000 from the head office of the company here on the night of Sept. 28, when masked men, according to George Kennough, the night clerk, entered and overpowered him. Kennough and John Hughes, an insurance agent, were both arrested, but the charges against them were dropped. Kennough was sent down for three months on another charge.

Shadowed Chilman.

Deputy Chief Whatley went out with plain clothes men early this morning and picked up Chilman and Acheson. Chilman, it is claimed, was in the vicinity of the express office on the night of the robbery, and later took a trip up through Northern Ontario, being shadowed all the time he was away.

Acheson was formerly employed as a traveller by the Evel Casket Company, and at the time of his arrest was employed by the Canadian Mirror and Reflector Company. The police will not say what connection he is supposed to have with the case.

The authorities claim to have traced $5,000 of the stolen money. It is likely one more arrest will be made before the day is over.

Chilman was formerly a trusted clerk of the company, and was called in a few days before the robbery to help straighten out a muddle in the books.

Deputy Chief Whatley, who handled the case against Chilman and Acheson, and gathered the evidence on which the arrests were made, declared today that Kennough, the night clerk who told the story about being bound and gagged by masked men, who committed the theft, will be charged with having a part in the robbery. He has never been arraigned on that charge yet.

Chilman and Acheson appeared in court today and were remanded for eight days. Although not formally charged with the robbery the crown attorney said they would be. Bail was fixed at $18,000 in each case.

LIFE TERM FOR J. B. M'NAMARA BROTHER GIVEN LONG SENTENCE

Man Who Confessed to Causing Destruction of Los Angeles Times Building With Great Loss of Life Escapes the Death Penalty—Brothers Appear

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—James B. McNamara, confessed murderer, was sentenced to life imprisonment here today by Judge Walter Bordwell.

His brother, John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who confessed to the dynamiting of the Llewellyn iron works, was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Twenty-one lost their lives in the Times disaster. No one was killed in the Llewellyn iron works affair.

Imprisonment will be in San Quentin Penitentiary.

James Pens Confession.

[Canadian Press.]

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—James B. McNamara's brief confession, penned by his own hand late yesterday, and bearing many evidences of a man little skilled in letters, was made public today. It is as follows:

"I, James B. McNamara, defendant in the case of the People, having heretofore plead guilty to the crime of murder, desire to make this statement, and this is the truth:

"On the night of Sept. 30, 1910, at 5:45 o'clock, I placed in Ink Alley, a portion of the Times building, a suitcase containing 16 sticks of 80 per cent dynamite, set to explode at 1 o'clock the next morning. It was my intention to injure the building and scare the owners. I did not intend to take the life of anyone. I sincerely regret that those unfortunate men lost their lives. If the giving of my life would bring them back I would gladly give it. In fact, in pleading guilty to murder in the first degree, I have placed my life in the hands of the state.

"(Signed) JAMES B. McNAMARA."

The confession covers one side of an ordinary sheet of paper, and was written with a fountain pen supplied by one of the attorneys. It is probably the only written statement of the case that will ever be made by the writer or his brother, John J. McNamara, who pleaded guilty to dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works.

CITY COUNCIL SOLD CITY HALL TO ROYAL BANK FOR $100,000

Mayor Lost No Time In Completing Bargain of Some Months Ago.

The sale of the city hall to the Royal Bank for $100,000 was completed by the city council on Monday night, when the bylaw was read a third time.

As soon as word came to the city that Mr. Justice Middleton had dismissed the injunction suit of Mr. John M. Parsons, Mayor Beattie consulted City Solicitor Meredith, and found that no objection could be made to the city passing the bylaw ratifying the sale, even if an appeal had been taken from the judgment.

This opinion was presented to the council, and the bylaw read a third time. There was no discussion whatever, the division being the same as throughout the year.

Those in favor of the sale were Mayor Beattie, Aldermen Cooper, Mitchell, Morgan, Donnelly, Wilson and Bennett, while those against it were Aldermen Saunders, Tancock, Ashplant, Stevenson, Eckert and Richter.

A bylaw to rent a certain portion of the city hall from the bank was presented, but as it was the same as considered last June, it was decided to draw up a new one, as many changes were necessary.

As a result the old document was laid aside.

A Conference.

The date when the city hall will be given over to the Royal Bank has not definitely been settled, and it may be some time before it is settled.

A conference between the representatives of the bank and the city council will be held to discuss the terms of the lease, and then this question will be settled. That may be some time yet.

The action of the council in passing the bylaw will have no influence whatever on the appeal taken by Jarvis & Vining, on behalf of Mr. John M. Parsons, the plaintiff. They will go ahead and pursue their case and fight the matter to a certain issue. In spite of the action of the aldermen, those behind the suit are confident that the sale of the city hall will be blocked.

City Takes Chances.

"The action of the council makes no difference whatever to the appeal," said Mr. C. G. Jarvis. "It will have no bearing at all. The council simply took chances on that. We intend to push the case to the higher court, and we are hopeful that the justice of our case will be understood."

"The date when the city hall will be transferred to the bank is not settled," said His Worship Mayor Beattie. "The action of the council last night merely closes the bargain so far as we are concerned. We have testified to our willingness to dispose of the property. The appeal will have to be heard, and that will finally dispose of the matter, in all probability. The question of leasing a portion of the hall for our own purposes will be taken up later. You remember that last June we made out a lease, and that came up last night at the council in the form of a bylaw. Many changes will have to be made in that before we can do anything with that. The time when we transfer it has not been settled."

The Probate Site.

The question of a site for the new city hall is now looming large, and today there is a great deal of agitation on the matter. Scores of suitable places have been suggested. Many favor Dundas and Waterloo. Others wan the "V" on Richmond street, while some are advocating the site of the present fish market.

In conversation with many aldermen, it was discovered that no definite action would be taken in view of the near approach of the municipal elections, as the aldermen are not in favor of doing anything that might militate against their chances of re-election.

CHILDREN'S LETTERS REVEAL WANT IN TWO LONDON HOMES

Need for Clothing and Food Appears in Childish Phrases of Three Requests Made to Santa Claus—Parents and Other Members Ill.

Several pathetic letters, the facts contained in which have been investigated and confirmed by representatives of The Advertiser, have been received with the letters to Santa Claus.

That there is sickness and want in at least two families is shown by the letters, and substantiated by investigation. Through no fault of their own, the children and parents in both of these homes are in need of assistance. Both are cases in which private contribution can do no harm, and some relief has already been sent to both of the homes.

The letters are as follows:

SECOND SENSATIONAL BLAZE WIPES OUT DURBAR PAVILION

[Canadian Press.]

Delhi, India, Dec. 5.—The magnificent pavilion in the Durbar camp, with its massive silver supports and brilliant decorations, in which the King-Emperor was to be received by the Indian princes on his arrival here, was burned down today.

This is the second disastrous fire of unknown origin in the Durbar camp within a week, and the recurrence has caused a sensation.

CEMENT PRICE DOWN

Seven Cents Per Barrel Less in the West Because of Probe Threat.

Winnipeg, Dec. 5.—As a result of the fight carried on in Western Canada against the cement merger, and the announcement that the Government would investigate the affair, notice has been received in Winnipeg, headquarters for the west, that all products sold since Dec. 1 and in future will be at a reduction of 7 cents per barrel. Since the great merger of two years ago, the price of cement in Western Canada has nearly doubled.

SIR WILFRID CHALLENGES BORDEN TO SPEAK OUT RE BOUNDARIES

Premier, However, Refuses to Tellof Settlement With Manitoba' and Whitney Is Permitted to Campaign In Ontario Blaming Late Govt. For Alleged Losses By Agreement.

Ottawa, Dec. 4. — "At the present time Sir James Whitney is parading and cavorting through the Province of Ontario, blaming that wicked man Laurier for not having given Ontario a Hudson Bay port. The charge is neither just nor patriotic on his part. It is calculated to stir up bad feeling between Ontario and Manitoba. It is calculated to destroy the true Canadian spirit.

"But apart from that, what are the facts? The present Government have been questioned three, four, yes, five and more times as to the settlement which it had been announced they have arrived at. The question has been settled, and I can tell the Government how it has been settled. It has been settled with Mr. Roblin according to the lines of the settlement made by the Laurier Government. I challenge my honorable friend opposite —the Prime Minister—to deny this fact."

Sir Wilfrid paused, but Premier Borden sat silent, while the Liberal benches cheered.

"I knew it," continued Sir Wilfrid. "He cannot deny it. The Government know it; my honorable friend the Minister of the Interior"—pointing at Mr. Rogers—"knows it; my honorable friend the Minister of Railways and Canals"—pointing at Mr. Cochrane—"knows it; and yet Sir James Whitney is left to go through Ontario using this question unfairly for the purpose of catching votes."

So spoke Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the course of a spirited speech in the Commons tonight, in a debate which was punctuated by animated episodes.

Papers Asked For.

Mr. E. M. Macdonald moved, in a vigorous address, for the production of all papers and correspondence in connection with the agreement made concerning the boundaries of Ontario and Manitoba. The Nova Scotia man maintained that all efforts to secure any accurate information from the Government on this matter had been met by evasion. "The Government have dodged every question," said he. Mr. Macdonald wanted to know how it was that Hon. Frank Cochrane, the "watchdog of Ontario," and the representative of Sir James Whitney in the coalition cabinet, had sat idly by while the Hudson Bay port was "filched from Ontario and handed to Mr. Rogers."

Meantime the information was held up, so that Sir James Whitney could make a campaign in Ontario, which was, as the Government were aware, beside the truth.

Premier Borden.

Premier Borden declared that a basis of settlement had been arrived at with regard to the financial terms, but the details were still being worked out. He had no objection to bringing down the papers, but would not do so before those details were worked out. (Liberal laughter.) "As to the Manitoba school question," continued Mr. Borden, "I would like to remind the honorable member for Pictou of a speech of his leader, the late prime minister, in 1897, in which he declared the Manitoba school question had been settled."

"How about the new territory?" queried Mr. Macdonald.

"You will find out exactly what has been done with the increased territory when the measure comes down," retorted Mr. Borden. "I don't intend to discuss the matter before it is here for consideration by the House."

Sir Wilfrid.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that the Premier had said practically nothing as to the nature of the arrangement. Mr. Roblin had declared that at last fair justice had been given to Manitoba. The Premier had said they had arranged the financial terms, but he had gone round the question of boundaries. What boundaries had been agreed to and were they satisfactory to Sir James Whitney or to Mr. Rogers? They could not be satisfactory to both, as they were as far apart as the poles according to their own language. "I suggested a conference between them," continued Sir Wilfrid. "I said: 'Surely you two Tories can agree between yourselves.' But they were unable to do so." There was therefore a necessity for some resolution, to which Sir James Whitney never agreed. Now the Ontario Premier was parading and cavorting throughout Ontario, blaming that "wicked man Laurier" for election purposes. Sir Wilfrid defined the terms of the settlement, and challenged Premier Borden to deny tehe accuracy of his statement.

"In regard to the Manitoba school question," continued the Liberal chief, "the Premier stated that in 1897 I said it was settled. I did say so, and I say so now, but what does the minister who sits by my honorable friend (Mr. Monk) say? What has he been saying? He has been declaring that it is not settled, that it will have to be settled. What does the minister to his left (Mr. Pelletier) say? What does the minister behind him (Mr. Nantel) say? They all stated that it was not settled, but that it would be settled satisfactorily by this Government. They were going to settle it over again."

"When did I say that?" broke in Hon. Mr. Pelletier. "I said that the settlement of the Manitoba school question made by you and your government was not a just one and did not do justice to the Catholics. I said that we now had a leader who would consider it a sacred duty to carry out his obligations."

"And you added that the question would be settled by the present Government,' supplemented Sir Wilfrid.

"I deny that completely," shouted Mr. Pelletier. "I said it should be, but whether it is within the power of the Federal Government to take it up now was a different question."

Hon. Mr. Lemieux hoped that in extending the boundaries of Ontario and Manitoba, Mr. Borden would not overlook the undertaking which had ben given by the late Government that the boundaries of the Province of Quebec should at the same time be extended by the addition of the territory of Ungava.

QUALITY OR QUANTITY

Which Do You Prefer?—Newbro's Herpicide Represents Quality

Did you ever have a dealer offer you a large bottle of something and tell you it was a better remedy for the hair than Newbro's Herpicide and cheaper because in a larger bottle?

What? Certainly we knew you had. Many other people have, too.

What would you say to that same dealer were he to tell you a silver dollar was worth more than a five-dollar gold piece, because it is larger.

Such an attempt being a reflection upon your good sense you would probable say some rather pointed things to him. You would be justified. Your self-respect would demand it.

Well, there are just as many good reasons for the difference in size between those bottles as there are for the difference in size between the silver dollar and the five-dollar gold piece.

The truth is that the large bottle is not half large enough.

There is more virtue in a half pint of Newbro's Herpicide than in a gallon of some of the so-called hair preparations.

There is a dollar's worth of results in the bottle of Herpicide, but do you know what is in the other?

No? Then why buy it? Your judgment, intelligence and the experience of your friends, if not your own, cry out against it.

You know when you go into that store that Herpicide is what you need and want.

You KNOW that Herpicide is the original scalp prophylactic.

You KNOW that Herpicide kills the dandruff germ.

You KNOW that Herpicide stops falling hair.

You KNOW that Herpicide makes the hair light, fluffy and beautiful.

You know these things in the same way you know that the five-dollar gold piece, notwithstanding its size, is more valuable than the silver dollar.

Then insist on having genuine Herpicide.

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

M'NAMARAS LIED TO SAVE LIVES

Explain Why They Deceived the Labor Leaders at Outset of the Case.

MORE CONFESSION URGED

Head of National Erectors' Association Says Brothers Should Tell Who Are Back of Them.

Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—"I took the same attitude toward Samuel Gompers that I took toward the rest of the world. I was fighting for my life and determined to make the battle as long as there was hope and no one put in danger," said James B. McNamara today when told the head of the American Federation of Labor was indignant at the fact that he had been deceived by the McNamara brothers.

"I risked prison, and perhaps worse, fighting in a cause in which Gompers and all of the men who contributed to my defence were interested," continued the dynamiter. "I had an idea things could be done only by scaring the people who fought us. As everyone must know, I did not want anyone to get killed.

"Well, when I got into it and saw what was done I stuck to my struggle for life, and would have stuck until there could be nothing but a rope finish for John and myself.

"I would have been a fool to confide my guilt to anyone, and it would have been unfair to Gompers to make him carry around any secret confession of mine. I did what I could in my own way for the boys who were getting the worst of it.

"I don't care what Gompers says of me, he has my respect and regards. I am sorry to have put him in a fix by sticking to my defence so long. No matter what they all say, I was working to help, in my way, and I could not turn down the money for defence when it came without putting the noose around my neck at the start."

When John J. McNamara was told what his brother Jim had said he remarked: "Count me in, too."

Conference Was Held.

Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—Organized labor was represented at conferences of counsel at which it was decided to enter pleas of guilty for the McNamaras. This much was admitted today by Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the prisoners.

"I sent telegrams to labor leaders to come here for an important conference," he said, "but I did not tell, and could not tell them what it was about. I thought they would know. I sent one telegram to Samuel Gompers, asking for a representative to advise with me. Edward Nockles, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, came, and was here for two weeks previous to the time the McNamaras made their confession."

Mr. Gompers Explains.

New York, Dec. 4.—President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, explained this afternoon his part in the conference of labor leaders, which Attorney Darrow said was held at Los Angeles before the McNamaras' defense decided to enter pleas of guilty.

"I was at Atlanta, attending the convention of the American Federation of Labor," said Mr. Gompers, "when Mr. Darrow's telegram reached me."

"It merely asked that some representative come to Los Angeles for a conference. I was exceedingly busy, and, after glancing through the message, handed it to someone else.

"It was not until two days later that I learned that Nockles had gone to Los Angeles, or that anyone had gone. I was given this information by a certain labor leader. Nockles never reported to me at all. If Darrow told Nockles that the McNamaras were about to confess, Nockles never told me."

Confession Urged.

New York, Dec. 4.—In behalf of the National Erectors' Association, which employed William J. Burns to run down the McNamaras in the dynamite outrages, Walter Drew, as counsel, issued a statement here, urging that the prisoners "make a frank and full confession." Mr. Drew says, among other things, that he doubts the sincerity of labor's demands in urging extreme punishment in the name of justice, and indicates rather that those who take this attitude have an ulterior motive. Mr. Drew issued the statement in the form of a telegram to J. B. Fredericks, district attorney at Los Angeles. The telegram follows:

"Capt. J. B. Fredericks, District Attorney, Los Angeles, Cal.:

"I note the many statements from labor leaders repudiating the McNamaras and demanding the infliction upon them of the extreme penalty of the law. As you know, I am counsel for a group of employers who have been among the chief sufferers at the hands of these men, and am, perhaps, as familiar as anyone with the series of dynamite outrages in which they took part. I deem it my duty to say to you, in order that in your discretion you may advise the court:

"First—No human life has been destroyed by any other explosion traceable to these men, nor do I know of any such explosion which was apparently planned with the purpose of taking life, though in some instances a disregard of such possible consequences was shown.

"Second—The National Edectors' Association does not join in the demand for the death penalty for the younger McNamara, believing him the weak, paid tool of others, and his actions the natural consequence of the doctrines taught by men who now repudiate him. We believe the punishment of both these brothers secondary in importance to the conviction of the men behind them, and we sincerely hope they will take advantage of the opportunity now presented to perform a signal service for society by making full and frank confession.

"Third—Inasmuch as some of the demands for extreme punishment came from men who must have known of the guilt of the McNamaras, and one of them, at least, I know to be implicated in several outrages with them, I sincerely doubt that such demands are being made with the sole desire of aiding the ends of full and complete justice.

"(Signed) WALTER DREW."

Mr. Drew iterated this evening that he believed that between twenty and thirty labor leaders would be indicted as the result of the federal investigation now under way at Indianapolis, and that the ramifications of the inquiry would extend from Boston to the Pacific coast. As to Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, he would say nothing other than to repeat what he said during the day—that so far as he knew Mr. Gompers had no knowledge of the dynamiting and no advance information that the McNamaras were to plead guilty.

HUDSON BAY LINE GREATLY DELAYED

New Government Holds Up the Scheme Decided Upon by Both Parties.

HARDSHIP TO THE WEST

The Liberals Secure Vague Answers to Many Important Questions Put to the Government.

Ottawa, Dec. 4. — Some unusually lively passages marked the answering of questions in the Commons today.

In view of the statement of Mr. Burnham, Conservative member for West Peterboro, to the effect that the "ne temere" decree had played an important part in Ontario against the late Government, Hon. Dr. Pugsley asked the Government in what respect, if any, the late government was censurable.

"The Government is not called upon to express an opinion," was Premier Borden's response.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley further asked wherein the present Government differed from the opinion expressed on the matter by Sir Alan Aylesworth, minister of justice in the late Parliament. Mr. Borden replied that it was a question of law, on which there might be divergent views.

The ex-minister of public works rose and protested to the speaker that the comment was no answer to his question.

"The minister gives such statement as he sees fit," quoth Speaker Sproule, "and the honorable member must be content with that.'

"Even although it is not an answer to the question?" pursued Dr. Pugsley.

"Yes," declared the speaker.

Hughes Won't Talk.

Then came Mr. Lapointe, who inquired whether it was true, as reported in certain newspapers, that the Government had appointed, or intended to appoint, Captain Armand Lavergne, the Nationalist campaigner, as commandant of the Sixty-first Regiment of Montmagny, and what special qualifications Mr. Lavergne possessed to be preferred to other senior and more experienced officers.

"When the question is put in proper form it will be answered, not before," Hon. Col. Sam Hughes declared.

"What is wrong with it?" inquired Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"I am not called on to say anything about what certain newspapers report," reported the Minister of Militia.

In response to an inquiry by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, the Premier stated it was the intention to extend the work of the civil service commission, but was not yet advised as to the necessity for further legislation.

Mr. Macdonald was granted leave to introduce a bill for the renewal of the charter of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which terminated on Dec. 1, while Hon. Mr. Cochrane secured similiar permission for the introduction of the Government bill to extend the term fixed in the Government contract for the termination of construction work. Both bills were given a first reading.

Hudson Bay Railway.

A vigorous debate took place upon Dr. Neely's resolution calling for the production of all papers in relation to the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, and the orders of the new Government for the suspension of the work. He was surprised that one of the first acts of the Borden Administration had been to stop work on this most needed enterprise, which was of vital interest to the west in view of the car shortage. It would seem that the Government was prepared to sacrifice the interests of the west to the prejudices of Toronto and Montreal.

Mr. Macdonell protested that there was no prejudice in Toronto against the Hudson Bay Railway.

Government's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane said the Government would carry out its pre-election promises. The work had been stopped owing to representations that it did not start right, that the surveys were not right, and that the first hundred miles were through swamp. The work was stopped until investigation was made. There would be no more delay than was necessary to check up the surveys, in order that no such mistakes should occur as had occurred on the G. T. P., where the estimates on the surveys had been more than doubled.

Hon. Mr. Oliver said the minister's statement was a startling one. It meant that the Government was intending to resurvey the routes, and that the construction of the railway might thus be held up for years. Up to the present there had been no suggestion that there should be any other starting point than the Pas.

Hon. Mr. Foster came to the rescue of his colleague. It was only necessary to be assured that the surveys were right.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that there was no other interpretation to the statements of the ministers than that the whole scheme of the Hudson Bay Railway had been given up and that a new one was to be launched. The project heretofore accepted by both parties was altogether set aside, and everything was to be commenced anew.

"We will investigate whether it was started right or wrong," put in Mr. Cochrane.

"Exactly," replied Sir Wilfrid, "and it is possible another starting point may be selected." It meant that the people of the west must wait for three, four, or five years.

Dr. Neely's resolution then passed.

Vague Answers.

Of the two-score questions on the order paper answered by the Government there were very few answers which threw any light on the Government's policy with regard to matters or pertinent interest.

The Premier told Mr. Ethier that the Government's policy with regard to the repeal of the naval law would be announced "in due course."

In reply to Dr. Mulloy, the Premier said that he had not given Mr. George Taylor, ex-M. P., any assurance that there would only be two sessions of Parliament, as the latter stated at a public meeting in Leeds County recently. Mr. oBrden promised that a redistribution bill would be passed before the dissolution of the present Parliament.

A query by Mr. Ethier brought the information that the Minister of Justice, ex-Judge Doherty, was receiving no other remuneration except his salary as minister, "and that allowed him under the statutes of Canada."

Hon. Charles Murphy was told by Mr. Borden that the present Minister of Labor, Hon. Thomas Crothers, made no promise during the election that if the Conservatives were returned to power those who lost money through the Farmers' Bank failure would be reimbursed by the Government. As to charges by the Toronto Globe of transactions between the Toronto World, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, and Mr. Travers, of the Farmers' Bank, the Government had no knowledge.

Mr. Sinclair, of Guysboro, asked if Mr. Burnham, of West Peterboro, stated in the House that the ne temere decree was an issue in Ontario in the last election, and if the Government intends to take action to meet the views in Ontario. In reply Premier Borden invited Mr. Sinclair to get his answer from Mr. Burnham.

HON. A. G. MACKAY WILL MAKE A GREAT RUN

His Campaign Against High Power Rates Interests Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Dec. 4.—The nominations for the Legislature passed off quietly here, there being no joint meeting. Hon. A. G. MacKay was placed in nomination by Mayor Lemon and Mr. John McQuaker, merchant, of this town. Mr. George M. Boyd's mover and seconder were Messrs. J. M. Davis and Rev. H. A. Fish.

Very considerable interest is being taken in the election here, and Hon. Mr. MacKay has covered at his meetings a wide range of subjects, including educational questions, bilingual schools, industrial education, compensation to workmen, finances and the power question. The two subjects that have created most popular interest are the question of the unfair distribution of power by the present Government's scheme, and the personal charge against Mr. MacKay. The latter he has completely exploded.

How Wrinkles Are Caused—And Removed

[From American Home.]

"Why did no one think of this before" writes a clear-thinking reader. "Wrinkles are caused by the skin becoming loose. Obvously the remedy is to tighten the skin. Equally it is obvious that the only thing which will tighten the skin is a powerful astringent.

"Now, it is well known that the only powerful astringent which is absolutely harmless and beneficial as well, is pure powdered saxolite, obtainable from any druggist. Dissolve one ounce in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in it daily and—behold! The result is almost magical. The skin becomes firm and smooth, the face feels snug, comfortable and solid, instead of loose and flabby. Simple, isn't it? As I asked—why did no one think of it before?

"One should be careful, however, to use no other astringents than pure saxolite, as the former do no good and are really injurious more often than not."

FORT GEORGE FARM LANDS—THE building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway through the wonderfully rich valleys of Central British Columbia means the opening up of the richest farming country in the West—and the last West at that. This coming spring will witness a great rush of settlers into that country, and prices of all lands are increasing very rapidly. These new farms need good men. We are spending large sums of money building roads, surveying lands and opening up the country for settlement, and are offering special inducements to actual settlers. Central British Columbia offers undreamed-of opportunities to progressive men. Climate is delightful, plenty of rain for all purposes; best hunting and fishing possible. We are offering selected farms at low prices—few dollars per acre cash and the balance spread over five years. We also allow you a one-year re-selection clause, giving you a full year to inspect your land, or have it inspected for you, and if you are not satisfied you may change your land without further expense. This is very fair, and enables you to buy at our present low prices. In our London office we have samples of grains and grasses grown right at Fort George this past summer; also pictures and maps of the entire country. For full particulars, regarding an exceptional opportunity, call on us or write. North Coast Land Company, Limited, Dominion Bank Chambers, London, Ont. 66n

BRIDGE OVER THAMES NEAR MIDDLEMISS

County of Elgin Gives Notice to the County of Middlesex.

Middlesex county councillors disposed of a great accumulation of business of minor importance in short order at the first session of the final gathering of the 1911 representatives of the different municipalities yesterday afternoon.

D. A. Stewart who, is promoting the London and Northwestern Radial Railway, which seeks to secure certain rights in connection with a power development project in West Williams was heard this afternoon and submitted to the councilors plans prepared by his engineers for changes in bridges and county roads in East and West Williams which will be necessitated by raising the water level with the construction of the eighty-foot dam at Rock Glen, in the Aux Sauble River.

A communication was received from the county clerk of Elgin, who gave notice that the council of that municipality has decided to name a committee in 1912 to consider the erection of a new bridge over the Thames between the Townships of Dunwich and Ekfrid, near the village of Middlemiss.

There is at present a low-water bridge at this point, which the residents of the section find it impossible to use in certain seasons. A communication relating to the matter will be reported on by the board of road directors at this session.

Councillors Angry.

A letter from F. H. Judd, of the tennis club of St. James' Anglican Church, South London, asking that the club be given permission to use one of the tennis courts on the lawn at the county buildings next season gave rise to heated comment, owing to the fact that it contained certain information not previously in the hands of the county authorities.

Mr. Judd stated that his club had paid $15 rental to the Young Men's Christian Association for the privilege of using one court during the past season, the Y. M. C. A. having been granted the exclusive rights to the lawn by the council.

"We allowed the Y. M. C. A. the free use of the court house lawns because of the good work which we believed they were engaged in among the young men," said Councillor S. Frank Glass, of London Township. "I have seldom heard of such an astonishing abuse of a privilege," he concluded, referring to the rental of the grounds by the Y. M. C. A.

On Mr. Glass' motion the matter was laid over, and it is possible that no person will be allowed to use the grounds next season, as a result of the present difficulty.

The report of Watford high school was received, showing that twelve pupils from Middlesex County attended for 1,117 days. The account for this was $112.40.

Inquest Fees.

William Panton, clerk of Halton County, asked the co-operation of Middlesex in securing new legislation regarding the payment of fees for holding of inquests into railway accidents, the expenses of which is now borne entirely by the municipalities in which the accidents occur. The petition, which will be submitted to the Legislature, asks that the railways be compelled to pay a fair proportion. The matter was referred to the petitioning committee, who will report back.

George A. Williams, of Caradoc, gave notice of an accident in May last, in which he was injured and his horse and buggy damaged. He stated that he intends to bring action to recover damages. One of the councillors facetiously suggested that the matter be referred to Justice Riddell. Justice Riddell, by the way, gave judgment for $12,000 damages to Dr. Bateman, of Strathroy, who was injured on a country road.

A bill from Ridgetown Collegiate for $29.42 for the education there during 1910-1911 term of William Purdy, of Newbury, was sent to a special committee on school accounts.

T. L. Kennedy, of Toronto, president of the Ontario Good Roads Association, asked that Middlesex council appoint representatives for the big Good Roads delegation that is to be sent to Ottawa to interview Premier Borden. The matter was referred to the board of road directors.

LONDON, TUESDAY, DEC. 5.

"TRUTHFUL JAMES" AND THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has done a good service in showing up the chicanery of Premier Whitney respecting the new boundary arrangement. Our honest Iago (merely Italian for James) goes about denouncing the Laurier Government for delimiting a boundary unfair of Ontario. The fact is, as Sir Wilfrid stated, that he left the matter to the Ontario and Manitoba Governments to settle between themselves, doing no more himself than suggest a line of demarcation.

While Sir Wilfrid was in power, the two Conservative Governments could not come to an agreement, and nothing was decided. They thought it better for partisan purposes to keep the question open, especially in Manitoba, where it has served the Roblin machine for two or three elections. Under the happy auspices, however, of a coalition, Conservative-Castor regime at Ottawa, a happy issue has perhaps already been found out of all dissensions. At least, the Attorney-General of Manitoba looks at it that way. For whatever settlement has been made, at any rate, the Borden Government and the two provincial governments are the responsible parties; Sir Wilfrid has no more to do with it than the man in the moon. If it is true that the Laurier suggestions have been adopted, as Mr. Borden does not deny, then it is the Borden-Whitney-Roblin ring that has adopted them, and must be held responsible, unless we are to suppose that some Laurier magic exercised a malign and unnatural control over his successor. In the same way the man in the moon may be supposed to govern the changing patriotic and naval whims of the Conservative-Nationalist leaders.

But Mr. Foy says he knows nothing at all of a boundary settlement. Which is to be believed, Mr. Foy, or the Attorney-General of Manitoba, who claims that Manitoba has been fully satisfied, or Sir James Whitney, that truthful James, who says that if a settlement has been made the Laurier Government made it, and robbed Ontario, or Mr. Borden's silence in answer to Sir Wilfrid's challenge that the settlement has been made by Mr. Borden himself, along the lines proposed by the ex-premier? Clearly Sir James Whitney is prevaricating for election purposes, and the Ottawa Government refuses to make any announcement till after Dec. 11.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

Congressman Hannah, of North Dakota, asks that the Canadian reciprocity law be wiped off the United States statute book. Until this is done, the Canadian Parliament may at any time bring about reciprocity by a simple resolution. There will be no such good fortune for the Canadian farmers so long as the Conservative party holds office, but the United States farmers want even the possibility removed. No measure passed by Congress in years has so stirred their resentment as Canadian reciprocity. If the legislation can be wiped out, it is not likely that either political party in the United States will attempt to revive it within the near future.

In the Canadian House of Commons, the other day, Mr. W. F. Maclean, who bitterly opposed the agreement in his paper, the Toronto World, held out the hope that the Democrats would give a free American market to this country without reciprocal legislation. Canadian farmers should note this tacit admission that he was humbugging them three months ago when he assured them of the uselessness of the American market. They will be disappointed if they put any faith in his prophecies now. The Democrats, if they get control of Congress and the executive next November, will scale down the duties on all products, but they will not abolish them. It is very doubtful, indeed, if they would even respond to any offer of reciprocity by this country. Congress passed the measure this year by a combination of Republicans and Democrats arising out of party exigencies which may not recur. President Taft wished to outmanoeuvre the insurgent Republicans by making a concession to the popular demand for a reduction of the tariff, especially the agitation against the high cost of foodstuffs. The Democrats, as the revenue tariff party, could not oppose him without stultifying themselves. The majority of the Republicans in both Houses of Congress refused to follow him, the minority supporting him reluctantly on personal grounds. The Republicans will be united against reciprocity in the next Congress if there is a Democratic president. The Democratic party will keep its pledges by reducing the tariff all round, but it will not antagonize the farmers by singling them out as the one class to be exposed to free competition, while getting practically nothing in return.

THE NOMINATIONS.

A month ago a Toronto Conservative daily predicted that forty supporters of the Whitney Government would be elected by acclamation. The Government counted on the utter disorganization of the Liberal party and on a weakened morale immediately following the rout of September, but its expectations have been rudely disappointed.

There are seventeen uncontested seats, of which four went by acclamation in 1908, and six others gave Conservative majorities of over 800. The Government has a great initial advantage, but the fact remains that eighty Liberals see a prospect of defeating their opponents. The Liberal party is at least making a stand-up fight, and has upset the calculations of the Government, which has been forced into a defensive attitude. Mr. Rowell has put great energy and ability into his campaign, and has aroused the spirit of the party to a degree which has surprised even the Liberals themselves. In circumstances more discouraging a month ago than have ever faced a party in this province, there is every promise that the Opposition will go back stronger. If the Government cannot hold its own under existing conditions, it will be a sign that the pendulum has begun to swing to the other side.

Here in Western Ontario only one seat has gone by default. The Middlesexes, Hurons, Bruces, Kents, Lambtons, Essexes, Perths, Oxfords, and even the Elgins will give a good account of themselves.

Mr. Borden still refuses to speak of his naval policy. Why should he? There is none to speak about.

The number of Labor and Independent Conservative candidates in the field is a sign of the times.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes announces that he is going to Canadianize Great Britain. In the meantime the process of Canadianizing Canada should not be relaxed.

"The people of Dundas would not place a candidate in the field against Sir James Whitney, so the Liberal bosses sent up a Toronto drummer."—London Free Press.

Why this sneer? The average "drummer" is a pretty good man and citizen, isn't he?

Dr. Coleridge, of Ingersoll, describes Mr. Mackenzie King as "a piece of political wreckage from a cabinet wrecked by its own misdeeds and floated up to the shores of inland politics in the great tide of political misfortune." The Ingersoll orator has not learned to distinguish fustian from eloquence.

Two of the candidates in North Toronto, Mr. Oliver and Mr. Foy, Liberal and Conservative, take too extreme a position on the bilingual school question. Mr. Oliver, of course, may do as he pleases in the House, but Mr. Foy is the Attorney-General, and has no right to express opinions contradicting those of the head of the Government.

Conservative members in the late Parliament put a series of questions to the Laurier Government regarding the ne temere decree, with the object of making party capital, in which they succeeded. The same questions are now being put by Liberals to the Borden Government with the object of exposing the injustice of the cry raised against the Liberal party. The present Government is getting a dose of its own medicine and doesn't like it.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

[Dr. O. S. Marden in Leslie's Weekly.]

Tact is a combination of good temper, ready wit, quickness of perception and ability to take in the exigency of the occasion instantly. It is never offensive, but is a balm allaying suspicion, and soothing. It is appreciated. It is plausible without being dishonest, apparently consults the welfare of the second party and does not manifest any selfishness. It is never antagonistic, never opposes, never strokes the hair the wrong way and never irritates.

Tact, like a fine manner, eases the way, takes the jar out of the jolts, oils the bearings, opens doors barred to others, sits in the drawing-room when others must wait in the reception hall, gets into the private office when others are turned down. It admits you to exclusive circles where wealth abounds, even though poor. It secures the position when merit is turned away. Tact is a great manager. It easily controls people, even when combined with small ability, where genius cannot get along.

HIS COURAGE REWARDED.

[The Boston Post.

When the proprietor of a Boston journal gave a dinner to members of his staff a short time ago in Boston, all, having in mind his objections to drinking, carefully refrained from indulging. When the dinner was over the publisher rose and said: "Now, gentlemen, will any of you have a drink?"

There was a chorus of declinations and then the voice of a reporter who had been in Boston newspaper work for many years broke the silence with, "If you do not mind, Mr. ——, I will have a highball."

Heads of departments wore a look of pain, and reporters waited for the explosion.

The publisher just smiled. "Just so, Mr. ——," he said. "I guess I will have one with you."

And two highballs were drunk with a dozen other diners feeling that after all nerve is a pretty good asset.

FATAL STREET MUSIC.

[The London Chronicle.]

In casting up the score against street musicians it must never be forgotten that to them was due the untimely death of one of England's foremost humorists—John Leech. The strain of ceaseless application to his work rendered Leech abnormally sensitive to street noises of all descriptions, and street music in particular drove him frantic. The organ grinders, it is said, knew of his enmity toward them, and played within earshot of his studio simply to plague him. In a letter to Mr. Bass, M. P., who was framing a bill for the suppression of street noises, Mark Lemon, the editor of Punch, declared that beyond a doubt Leech's ultimately fatal malady, angia pectoris, or breast-pang, was due to the disturbance of his nervous system caused by the continual visits of street bands and organ grinders.

THE JUDGE'S ADVICE.

[The Argonaut.]

Sir Matthew Begbie, chief justice of British Columbia, once had before him a man charged with having killed another man with a sandbag. The evidence was conclusive, and the judge charged the jury accordingly, but a verdict of "Not guilty" was promptly brought in. The judge was astonished. "Gentlemen of the jury," he said, "this is your verdict, not mine. On your conscience the disgrace will rest. Many repetitions of such conduct as yours will make trial by jury a horrible farce, and the city of Victoria a nest of crime. Go! I have nothing more to say to you." And then, turning to the prisoner: "You are discharged. Go and sandbag some of those jurymen, they deserve it."

JUDGMENT GIVEN AGAINST MAHON

Geo. D. Bindner Won His Action Against Ex-London Hotelkeeper.

Justice Middleton, who presided at the recent non-jury sessions of the high court here, gave judgment at Osgoode Hall on Monday in favor of George D. Bindner, of London, who sued Wm. H. Mahon and others.

T. G. Meredith, K. C. for plaintiff; J. M. McEvoy, London, for Mahon; J. H. Flock, K. C., for Jose Gaste Company; E. Meredith, K. C., for James Greig.

This was an action by plaintiff to recover $2,000, being his interest in a renewal note for $4,000 given to Mahon in part payment for the Clyde Hotel, London. Judgment: Greig having been advised of Bindner's interest in the note, refused to make the renewal payable to Gaste Company or Coleman, and insisted, in accordance with advice he had obtained, in making the parties the same as on the original note. After this at various times Coleman had paid money to Mahon, and claims to hold this note and a subsequent renewal (as it has been called), and the money which it represents as against plaintiff. I find that Coleman had notice of Bindner's interest in this note before he made any of these advances. In the result I declare that Bindner is entitled to receive the $2,100 paid into court (with any accrued interest), and order payment of this sum to him, and I award him costs against Mahon, and the Gaste Company. I give Greig no costs, either of this action or of the action of Gaste Company against him, nor do I allow the Gaste Company any costs of that action against him.

THREE MONTHS FOR BLACKSTOCK

Ex-Dog Catcher Rewarded for Two Petty Thefts On the Market.

ALMOST FOOLED P. M.

Wife Said There Were Five Children at Home Pleading For Their Dad.

Ben. Blackstock was sentenced in the police court this morning by Magistrate Judd to three months in jail at hard labor on both charges of stealing, to which he pleaded guilty Monday, the sentences to run concurrently.

In sentencing him, Magistrate Judd asked him if he had been responsible for sending his wife to the police court to plead for leniency for him. It seems that Mrs. Blackstock came into Magistrate Judd's office Monday afternoon and with tears in her eyes, and a pathetic ring to her voice, pleaded with the magistrate to be lenient with her husband, not for his sake or her sake, but for the sake of his five little children at home, who were looking forward to the glad Christmas time. The magistrate was affected, and when Mrs. Blackstock left the office he had almost promised her that Ben would be let go on suspended sentence.

Almost Put One Over.

Then he made inquiries about the children and was informed by Chief Williams that there were no children, and that Mrs. Blackstock had pleaded in just such a way for her husband on other occasions.

Detective Down was sent to the house, and although Mrs. Blackstock was there, the children were conspicuous by their absence, in fact, there was no sign of any kind that there were any children. Blackstock admitted sending his wife to see the magistrate, but claimed he had not told her to say that there were five little children. He was then sentenced to three months, and was informed it would be at hard labor, whereupon he told the magistrate that he could not labor while in jail because he had a sore leg. In passing sentence, Magistrate Judd informed him that if he ever had occasion to come up again it would mean years instead of months.

William Pearsall, who was also remanded from Monday for sentence, was fined $20 or 30 days for pointing a loaded revolver at John Jones. Pearsall will have to serve the days, as he did not have the money on him.

Five Months For Theft.

Charles Kennedy pleaded guilty to stealing a new suit of clothes from one of the City Parcel Express rigs on Nov. 25. He was sentenced to five months in the Central Prison. Kennedy claimed he was drunk when he committed the theft. He was arrested on Monday, and the vest was found in his room at the place where he boarded. He told the detectives where the coat and pants could be found, but when the police searched the spot, they could only get the pants. In court this morning Kennedy stated that he did not know where the coat was, as he had hidden it with the trousers.

Charge of Neglect.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber White appeared to answer a charge of neglecting to send their two boys to school preferred by Truant Officer Weir. They claimed that the boys were made ready for school, and were supposed to be there, but played truant instead. The magistrate adjourned the case until Jan. 6, when the parents will have to report as to whether the boys have been attending school regularly between now and then.

James Watson, who has been appearing in court with great regularity and frequency of late, was fined $20 or 21 days on a charge of being drunk. Three first-timers were allowed to go.

Following are the statistics of the juvenile court for the year commencing Dec. 1, 1910, and ending Nov. 30, 1911, there is a most remarkable decrease in the number of offences, the number for this year being 150 against 268 in 1910.

Children Cared For.

During the year there were 56 children from the city of London alone who were sheltered and taken care of by the society. There were nine children picked up on the city streets, and who, although they did not belong to the city, were taken care of by the society. There were 20 children from the County of Middlesex(who were taken in and cared for and placed in places where they will be provided for. Children from outside societies and municipalities numbered 26, and these were also taken in and cared for. The total number of children provided for during the year was 111.

45 Wards Are Wedded.

The report also stated that there are now 45 of the wards of the society who are married and living in good homes. There are probably more, but from communications, 45 have been known to settle down in this way. Another interesting fact is that of the 891 children that have been handled by the society, there is only a record of 10 deaths, showing that the children that have been placed out have been normal and healthy in every respect.

The report of the probation officer, Mr. J. A. Stevenson, was also submitted. It showed that the work of looking after the proabtion boys was progressing splendidly. Sheriff Brady also submitted a report.

The financial statement showed that the receipts of the society had been for the year $3,650 24, with disbursements of $2,120 68, leaving a balance of cash on hand of $359 22. The statement also shows that the society has debentures amounting to $2,400.

ARTHUR STRINGER TELLS A GOOD ONE

"Fired" the Cook, But the Colored Lady Liked the Job and Wouldn't Quit.

The following story in which a prominent former Londoner, Mr. Arthur Stringer, figures, was published in the current number of the Canadian Courier:

Arthur Stringer, the noted Canadian Arthur Stringer, figures, was pubtall, but that fact availed them nothing when they faced the problem of firing a cook.

They were living in an apartment in New York at the time with which this incident deals, and their cook was a big negress, who wasn't mistress of the art of cooking.

Mrs. Stringer gave the colored lady notice to leave on a certain day, but when that day came the boss of the kitchen hadn't packed her trunk and was still working away as though she was still in good standing. Mrs. Stringer's reminder that diplomatic relations had been severed had no effect.

"I'll get her out," said Arthur when told of the state of affairs.

He entered the kitchen, and, advancing towards the cook, said, "You were told to leave today, and I want you to pack your trunk and get out."

The cook saw that the time to declare herself had come. So she picked up a hammer and said, "You just lay a finger on me, and I'll mash your face in. I like this place, an' I se decided I'se goin' to stay."

Ingersoll, Dec. 4.—Because he accepted the hospitality of a friend and consumed a glass of whiskey while his name still adorned the Indian list, a citizen was today called upon to pay a fine of $70 and costs, $15.60 in all. The defendant said he had not been feeling well and the friend in his kindness had proffered him the intoxicant. He had taken some and was given a little to carry when he departed. He was frank in his story, and as it was the first time he had been up since he became an "Indian" the magistrate imposed the minimum fine. The party who supplied the liquor will likely be summoned.

Cynthia Grey and EVERY WOMAN'S Page

MEN SOME WOMEN MEET

[By Cynthia Grey.]

It is the conviction of many men that all they have to do is to select a girl, and, as a matter of course, they can marry her, if they find that they are quite suited with her. It does not seem to occur to them that the girl in question has any say in the matter.

That might have been the case years ago, but it is not so now. The business girl has changed all that. Our girls no longer sit down, for a father in moderate circumstances to support them, after they are able to do for themselves. The tenderest, sweetest and brainiest of girls are inbred with the spirit of the times—to make money and support themselves rather than to take up with the first man who comes along and asks them to share his heart and home.

The girl who is making a comfortable competence and is able to lay by, something gives marriage a serious consideration. She firmly refuses to give her heart free rein, to marry a ne'er do well whom her judgment tells her cannot give her support, let alone the comforts of life. There are few girls who are willing to take on the support of a husband of this character. It is not always the men whom they are brought in contact with whom they would choose for a husband.

BREAD AND BUTTER.

They realize having "Mrs." tacked on to their name will not buy the bread and butter for them. The girl of today wants to know, too, something of the characteristics of a man. If he is fickle she does not want to lay the foundation of future heartaches for herself. If he is a miser she does not want to live in penury, barely existing, where she should live in at least comfort. If he is a spendthrift or an habitual drunkard she crosses him off her slate entirely as a candidate for her future husband.

Where a woman has to live a lifetime with a man it is highly important that she should have as much choice in the choosing as he—aye, and more; for she is not only the home-maker, but the chief representative of the future race. It is a matter of the greatest importance to her whom the father of her children should be. The right kind of a girl will not encourage a man to shower attentions on her, spending his money on her lavishly when she undoubtedly knows that he is not a man she would marry.

It has often been said that men do not die of broken hearts, but there is an aptitude of giving their confidence such a jolt that it takes many a year for them to think kindly of woman—if ever.

SOME GOOD MEN.

There are as many good men whom women meet who do not propose through reasons of their own. Not because they do not fancy a certain girl, perhaps, but perchance because they cannot afford matrimony. Their prospects do not warrant it; or their occupations may make of them rolling stones. And because of this they realize that the joys of wife and home are not for them.

Many a girl resolves that if she ever does marry that her mate must be a bachelor. Who shall attempt to unravel the mysteries of contrary fate? The only men who seem to cross her path are widowers, with a whole household of little fairies. They are estimable men, every one of them, but she may feel that mothering his little family would be more suited to a widow's capabilities than her own. When all is said and done about Cupid bringing hearts together, every man and woman finds that it is really one of the most difficult problems of life as to which, among the many they meet, is the right one. Too many girls leap blindfolded into the chasm of matrimony. And if they find themselves almost submerged with sorrows they do not find it easy to climb out of it.

When lovers disagree and he calls no more many a girl weeps her heart out in regret until she finds out that Cupid intended that a better man should fill his place in her affections.

While it is well for youths and maidens to marry young, it is wisest to be sure of each other from every point of view. If the men whom a girl has already met have failed to touch a responsive chord in her heart, let her have no hesitation in remaining single and looking further for a heart mate. For, sooner or later, the right one is sure to come along.

The PRODIGAL JUDGE

The Famous Novel by

VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1911, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said, as they met before the tavern.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with great civility and kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said at length.

"The rent——" began the judge. He had great natural delicacy always in mentioning matters of a financial nature.

But Mr. Norton, with a delicacy equal to his own, entreated him not to mention the rent. The house had come to him as boot in a trade. If had been occupied by a doctor and a lawyer; these gentlemen had each decamped between two days, heavily in debt at the stores and taverns, especially the taverns.

"I can't honestly say they owed me, since I never expected to get anything out of them; however, they both left some furniture, all that was necessary for the kind of housekeeping they did, for they were single gentlemen and drew the bulk of their nourishment from Pegloe's bar. I'll turn the establishment over to you with the greatest pleasure in the world, and wish you better luck than your predecessors had—you'll offend me if you refer to the rent again!" And thus handsomely did Charley Norton acquit himself of the mission he had undertaken at Betty Malroy's request.

That same morning Tom Ware and Captain Murrell were seated in the small detached building at Belle Plain, known as the office, where the former spent most of his time when not in the saddle. Whatever the planter's vices, and he was reputed to possess a fair working knowledge of good and evil, no one had ever charged him with hypocrisy. His emotions lay close to the surface, and wrote themselves on his unprepossessing exterior with an impartial touch. He had felt no pleasure when Murrell rode into the yard, and he had welcomed him according to the dictates of his mood, which was one of surly reticence.

"So your sister doesn't like me, Tom—that's on your mind this morning, is it?" Murrell was saying, as he watched his friend out of the corner of his eyes.

"She was mad enough, the way you pushed in on us at Boggs's yesterday. What happened back in North Carolina, Murrell, anyhow?"

"Never you mind what happened."

"Well, it's none of my business, I reckon; she'll have to look our for herself; she's nothing but a pest and a nuisance—I've been more bothered since she came back than I've been in years! I'd give a good deal to be rid of her," said Ware, greatly depressed as he recalled the extraordinary demands Betty had made.

"Make it worth my while and I'll take her off your hands," and Murrell laughed.

Tom favored him with a sullen stare. "You'd better get rid of that notion—of all fool nonsense, this love business is the worst! I can't see the slightest difference between one good-looking girl and another. I wish everyone was as sensible as I am," he lamented. "I wouldn't miss a meal, or ten minutes' sleep, on account of any woman in creation," and Ware shook his head.

"So your sister doesn't like me?"

"No, she doesn't," said Ware, with simple candor.

"Told you to put a stop to my coming here?"

"Not here—to the house, yes. She doesn't give a damn, so long as she doesn't have to see you."

Murrell, sombre-faced and thoughtful, examined a crack in the flooring.

"I'd like to know what happened back yonder in North Carolina to make her so blazing mad?" continued Ware.

"Well, if you want to know, I told her I loved her."

"That's all right, that's the fool talk girls like to hear," said Ware. He lighted a cigar with an air of wearied patience.

"Open the door, Tom," commanded Murrell.

"It is close in here," agreed the planter.

"It isn't that, but you smoke the meanest cigars I ever smelt, and I always think your shoes are on fire. Tom, do you want to get rid of her? Did you mean that?"

"Oh, shut up!" said Tom, dropping his voice to a surly whisper.

There was a brief silence, during which Murrell studied his friend's face. When he spoke, it was to give the conversation a new direction.

"Did she bring the boy here last night? I saw you drive off with him in the carriage."

"Yes; she makes a regular pet of the little ragamuffin—it's perfectly sickening!"

"Who were the two men with him?"

"One of 'em calls himself Judge Price; the other kept out of the way, and I didn't hear his name."

"Is the boy going to stay at Belle Plain?" inquired Murrell.

"That notion hasn't struck her yet, for I heard her say at breakfast that she'd take him to Raleigh this afternoon.

"That's the boy I travelled all the way to North Carolina to get for Fentress. I thought I had him once, but the little cuss gave me the slip."

"Eh—you don't say?" cried Ware.

"Tom, what do you know about the Quintard lands; what do you know about Quintard himself?" continued Murrell.

"He was a rich planter, lived in North Carolina. My father met him when he was in Congress and got him to invest in land here. They had some colonization scheme on foot—that was upwards of twenty years ago—but nothing came of it. Quintard lost interest."

"And the land?"

"Oh, he held on to that."

"Is there much of it?"

"A hundred thousand acres," said Ware.

Murrell whistled softly under his breath.

"What's it worth?"

"A pot of money, two or three dollars an acre, anyhow," answered Ware.

"Quintard has been dead two years, Tom, and back yonder in North Carolina they told me he left nothing but the home plantation. The boy lived there up to the time of Quintard's death, but what relation he was to the old man no one knew. What do you suppose Fentress wants with him? He offered me five thousand dollars if I'd bring him west; and he still wants him, only he's lying low to see what comes of the two old sots—he don't want to move in the dark. Off-hand, Tom, I'd say that by getting hold of the boy, Fentress expects to get hold of the Quintard land."

"That's likely," said Ware, then struck by a sudden idea, he added, "Are you going to take all the risks and let him pocket the cash? If it's the land he's after, the stake's big enough to divide."

"He can have the whole thing and welcome—I'm playing for a bigger stake." His friend stared at him in astonishment. "I tell you, Tom, I'm bent on getting even with the world! No silver spoon came in the way of my mouth when I was a youngster; my father was too honest—and I think the less of him for it!"

Mr. Ware seemed on the whole edified by the captain's unorthodox point of view.

"My mother was the true grit, though; she came of mountain stock, and taught us children to steal by the time we could think. Whatever we stole, she hid, and dared my father to touch us. I remember the first thing of account was when I was ten years old. A Dutch peddler came to our cabin one winter night and begged us to take him in. Of course he opened his pack before he left, and almost under his nose I got away with a bolt of linen. The old man and woman fought about it, but if the peddler discovered his loss he had the sense not to come back and tell of it! When I was seventeen I left home with three good horses I'd picked up; they brought me more money than I'd ever seen before, and I got my first taste of life—that was in Nashville, where I made some good friends, with whose help I soon had as pretty a trade organized in horseflesh as anyone could wish." A sombre tone had crept into Murrell's voice, while his glance had become restless and uneasy. He went on: "I'm licking a speculation into shape that will cause me to be remembered while there's a white man alive in the Mississippi Valley." His wicked black eyes were blazing coals of fire in their deep sockets. "Have you heard what the niggers did at Hayti?"

"My God, John—no, I won't talk to you—and don't you think about it! That's wrong—wrong as hell itself!" cried Ware.

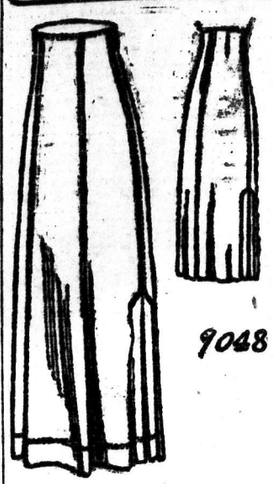

"There's no such thing as right and wrong for me. That'll do for those who have something to lose. I was born with empty hands, and I am going to fill them where and how I can. I believe the time has come when the niggers can be of use to me—look what Turner did back in Virginia three years ago! If he'd had any real purpose he could have laid the country waste, but he hadn't brains enough to engineer a general uprising."

Lunch For Euchre.

Dear Miss Grey—Would you kindly suggest something nice for a lunch at a euchre party to be held between Christmas and New Year's—not too expensive, and oblige

A CONSTANT READER.

If you are having your guests sit down at a table, serve a salad (say chopped walnuts and apples, with dressing, on crisp lettuce leaves), with bread and butter. But if it is a "hand out," serve sandwiches, banana, nut, or any kind you are successful at making. An idea favored for holiday luncheons is the serving of little mince pies, each with a top crust. These should be hot if possible. For a last course serve one or two kinds of cake, and if you cannot afford ice cream, make a pretty jelly from jelly powder.

Answer For Brown Eyes.

I am extremely sorry to hear of your plight. I fancy that frequent applications of peroxide of hydrogen, with nightly treatments of cold cream would help bleach the spots. You had better ask your doctor about it.

Health for Every Woman
No More Headaches

From Weakness and Despair Thousands Have Been Restored to Robust Good Health by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

That sick women are made well by Dr. Hamiltcn's Pills is proved in the following letter:

"For years I was thin and delicate. I lost color and was easily tired; a yellow pallor, pimples and blotches on my face were not only mortifying to my feelings, but because I thought my skin would never look nice again I grew despondent. Then my appetite failed. I grew very weak. Various remedies, pills, tonics and tablets I tried without permanent benefit. A visit to my sister put into my hands a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. She placed reliance upon them, and now that they have made me a well woman I would not be without them, whatever they might cost. I found Dr. Hamilton's Pills, by their mild, yet searching action, very suitable to the delicate character of a woman's nature. They never once griped me, yet they established regularity. My appetite grew—by blood red and pure—heavy rings under my eyes disappeared, and today my skin is as clear and unwrinkled as when I was a girl. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

The above straightforward letter from Mrs. J. Y. Todd, wife of a well-known citizen in Rogersville, is proof sufficient that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. Use no other pill but Dr. Hamilton's, 25c per box. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Snap-Shot Party

Even the cleverest of hostesses is sometimes at her wits' end to find some novelty with which to entertain her guests. A suggestion is often welcomed by those who entertain, the experiences of one often helping others in solving the problem of successful entertainment.

Here is the way one young woman entertained her friends. She was fortunate enough to possess a commodious home, and used it to advantage in giving a "portrait party."

It proved very amusing and successful, especially when the small amount spent upon it was taken into consideration.

Partners for the evening were found in rather a unique way. The entertainer had hidden snapshots of all the different girls to be present around the room, and the men, when the signal was given, searched for these. The girl figuring in the "kodak" found by each man was his partner for the rest of the evening.

Each persons present was then given a tablet and a pencil and partners paired off, taking chairs opposite each other.

Ten minutes were allowed in which each one of a couple sketched a portrait of the vis-a-vis. At the end of the ten minute round the portraits were gathered up and numbered by the hostess, who directed each man to choose another partner.

Again a ten-minute round, in which partners pictured each other as before, and this continued until every man present had drawn all the girls of the party, while each girl had made a likeness for better or worse of the different men.

The hostess had collected the sketches after the completion of each round, and these, duly numbered, were tacked up on the wall after the manner of an art gallery. A list of the various identities was retained by the entertainer.

Now, during the next fifteen or twenty minutes players, still possessed of their tablets and pencils, viewed the works of art and wrote down the subjects as they thought them to be.

A prize was awarded to the person who guessed most, and another, which came as a surprise, to the player whose sketches proved most faithful.

The prizes were pretty photograph frames.

Fads of Fashion

Muffs of fur or satin are trimmed with fringe, narrow and wide, and evening scarfs, which are made of gauze and gathered in the middle of the back and over the arms, are also edged with a narrow silver or gold fringe that orientalizes the whole costume.

A more generally useful hat can scarcely be found than one of the soft, inexpensive felts that come in all sorts of shapes and colors. They are smart without any trimming at all, save for the narrow ribbon crown band, and are suitable for morning wear in town, as well as for all times out of doors.

A new and fetching idea for a collar is a piece of black velvet ribbon about three inches wide, twisted around the top of a standing collar, or slightly at one side, with long ends, reaching almost to the waistline. These are worn with suits and simple cloth gowns.

Many of the newest side jabots are really not frills at all, but consist of a triangular piece of lace, suggestive of revers. Among other successful novelties in this line are those having the large revers on one side of a central strip of insertion, while the other edge is finished with a frill of matching lace.

There are now exquisite alliances of metallic tissues as lace with all kinds of fur. As a result fur is made to show in two pieces—a hat and a scarf or a hat and a muff—instead of one, as formerly brocades, supple velvets, and the ubiquitous black satin are used with beaver, ermine, seal, coney and skunk.

Among the novelties of the sesson that every woman would do well to remember is that satin is used over satin for draperies; chiffon is not as fashionable as it was. This does not mean that it has gone out of style entirely, because it is seen on many excellent gowns, but the new thing is to use satin instead.

Things Worth Knowing

Many persons do not know that lemon oil is the basis of all fine furniture polishes. A small bottle of polish usually costs 25 cents. You can buy a quart of crude lemon oil in bulk at a paint shop for 15 cents.

For using on furniture proper, dilute with one-third turpentine, apply with a soft rag, and you will have the finest polish you could buy. It is fine to use on hardwood, stained or painted floors. A quart of oil will last nearly two months.

When a disagreeable odor penetrates the house overcome it by sprinkling dried lemon peels on the fire.

The next time you are cleaning the pantry shelves, fold at least three newspapers the longest way of the full sheets. Place them on the shelf with the fold in front and fit snugly. The next time you want a clean paper slip the edge of a knife along the fold of the outer sheet and remove the soiled top. The remainder of the sheets will be left intact for future use and much time and labor will be saved to the housewife.

Coal oil will soften the old paint brushes used last year. Place them in a can of the oil and wash them well in warm soap suds.

Rugs have a tiresome way of curling at the corners, which spoils their appearance and in the end the corners are torn away. To insure against this, directly a rug is bought bind it on the under side with stout Holland webbing.

WORLDLY WISDOM

Mechanical kisses are the kind women give each other.

A man may be able to dress well if his family doesn't.

Home is the place where many a man shows up at a disadvantage.

Light hearts are often closely associated with light heads.

If a young man doesn't know that he is in love, the girl should tell him.

It's easy for a girl to deceive herself about how she trusts her husband.

The mother-in-law joke goes in the funny papers, but it falls flat at home.

A man with a well-balanced mind doesn't have to part his hair in the middle.

ARTISTIC ENVIRONMENT

To prepare a child to discriminate between beauty and ugliness the parents must begin in babyhood to surround him only with harmonious and carefully chosen belongings. Simplicity is not expensive.

It costs just as little to decorate a room with a pretty paper as a pretentious and ugly one. A pale pink or simple white room is very cheerful.

There should be no hangings and tablecloths in it that cannot be kept freshly washed and ironed. No formal curtains should have a place in a bedroom, but soft casement cloth or bright chintz ones may appear.

To leave the window bare, with the cheerful flowers on their sills and plenty of space for light and air, is an excellent plan. Flowers may always have a place where children are but care must be exercised that strongly-scented blossoms are avoided, and they must be kept fresh.

Uses of Turpentine

The vapor of turpentine inhaled will often relieve a sore throat.

For burns and scalds turpentine has no equal.

It is an excellent dressing for patent leather.

It removes paint from artists' clothes and workmen's garments.

It keeps moths away from clothes if sprinkled in boxes and chests.

A few drops will prevent starch from sticking.

Mixed with beeswax it makes the best floor polish.

Mixed with sweet oil it is unrivalled for furniture.

A tablespoonful of it boiled with linens makes them wonderfully white.

Applied externally it relieves lumbago, rheumatism, neuralgia and chilblains.

STILL SINGING THEIR PRAISES

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DOING GREAT WORK IN SASKATCHEWAN.

Mrs. Emel Carlson Tells How Quickly and Completely They Cured Her Kidney Trouble.

Colonsay, Sask., Dec. 4. (Special.)—No remedy has done as much for the wheat growers of Saskatchewan as Dodd's Kidney Pills. They occupy a place in the family medicine chest on nearly every farm, and every day brings fresh evidence of the great work they are doing. One of the latest to sing their praises in this neighborhood is Mrs. Emel Carlson. Here is what she is telling her many friends:

"For about two years I was sorely troubled with Kidney Disease brought on by a strain. My heart bothered me. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing and I was always tired and nervous. The least exertion would cause me to perspire freely, and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor.

"Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. They are certainly the best medicine I ever used."

If you have any of Mrs. Carlson's symptoms your kidneys are wrong. Make them right with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Beautiful Hair Comes From Dry Shampooing

(From Woman's National Journal.)

Dry shampooing always has been and always will be popular with the woman who takes pride in long, abundant and glossy hair. The dry shampoo does away with so much of the inconvenience and bother accompanying washing the hair—eliminates the long drying hours and abolishes the danger of catching cold—indeed, is so all-around satisfactory, that one wonders why soap and water, eggs, etc., can find any followers whatever.

Dry shampoos certainly stimulate the growth of hair. There can be no doubt as to that. Just mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of therox, sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture upon the head, brush the powder well through the hair; do this two or three times a week for a while, and see the results for yourself. This will keep your hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous. It corrects the conditions of the scalp that cause hair to become streaked, dull, colorless, coarse and brittle.

OBJECTION WAS TAKEN TO THIS APPOINTMENT

Ald. Cooper Thought Fireman Bolton Should Be Captain of No. 4 Station.

Ald. Cooper started a flurry at the council meeting last night, when he objected to the appointment of Lieut. Frank Taylor to the rank of captain to take charge of the North End Station. Fire Chief Aitken recommended the appointment to No. 3 committee, who in turn recommended it to the council.

"I want to know how it is that this man is appointed to the rank of captain?" asked Ald. Cooper. "He has not been on the brigade any length of time, and here he is appointed over men just as good as he is. I think they are better. I want to know why this is. What right has the chief to appoint this man over the heads of those who have been in the department longer. I know plenty of better men. Perhaps he got the place because some of the others interceded for him."

Fire Chief Aitken was called, and informed the council that he had recommended the appointment of Lieut. Taylor, because he was the best man to his mind for the position, and was in line for promotion.

Name a Better Man.

"I would like to have Ald. Cooper name a better man than Lieut. Taylor," said Chief Aitken. "I know the men, and as I am responsible, I should select the men I want."

"There is Fireman George D. Bolton, a good man, who has been on the brigade for years," shouted Ald. Cooper. "He is the man for the job, and you cannot say a word against him."

"I took all the facts into consideration when I made the appointment," answered the chief. "Mr. Bolton is assistant engineer."

Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Saunders, Ald. Richter and others declared that the chief should be held responsible for the position, and should name his assistants.

"That is the principle established by the late lamented Chief Clark," said Ald. Stevenson. "It is the only principle to follow in handling your fire brigade or any other department of civic work."

After some further discussion, the appointment of Lieut. Taylor as captain was ratified.

COUNCIL WILL LET PEOPLE KNOW FACTS

Money Is To Be Spent to Advertise Garbage Disposal Bylaw.

The council will expend $250 to advertise the bylaw to raise $50,000 for a garbage disposal system. In addition, the board of health will expend $100 to have the fullest information possible given to the ratepayers on the subject.

At the meeting of the council Monday night, Ald. Morgan introduced the matter, and moved that, owing to the importance of the question that the council, set aside $250 for the use of the joint committee, composed of the board of health, the hospital trust, and the board of works, in advertising the garbage disposal bylaw.

"This is the most important matter we have dealt with in a long time," said Ald. Morgan. "It is the duty of the council to do all that possibly can be done to see that the citizens have the fullest information."

"If it is advisable that the aldermen should be given all possible information on any subject coming up before them, it is much more essential that the ratepayers should be," said Ald. Stevenson. "The idea is a good one."

Ald. Tancock wished to include all the bylaws, but the aldermen would not support it.

The announcement was made that the board of health would also make a grant of $100 towards advertising properly the garbage disposal bylaw.

THE FEEBLE, WASTED NERVES WERE RESTORED AND REVITALIZED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Nervous prostration is a terrible disease to all who understand its symptoms. At times the sufferer feels comparatively well, but with slight exertion the dreadful helplessness returns and all strength and vitality seems to leave the system.

This letter from Mrs. Martin very well describes the terrible condition in which many a sufferer finds herself. She also tells how she regained health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after all other treatments had failed.

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes: "Before I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition from nervous exhaustion and prostration. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor. The weakness was so great that I could not so much as sweep the floor without fainting, but the nerve food helped me after the doctors failed. It has done wonders in building up my nervous system. I can do my own housework now and washing, and feel that this great medicine has been a God-send to me. I think it is the best of medicines."

GUELPH CLUB FAVORS THE ADMITTANCE OF OTTAWA

Mahoney Receives Offer of $200 Guarantee for Expenses for Each Three-Day Trip East.

Guelph, Dec. 4.—Mr. W. A. Mahoney, president of the Guelph Maple Leafs, has received a letter from the promoters of the Ottawa team in the Canadian Baseball League, offering $200 guarantee for each three-day trip to that city, and asking for the local club's support in getting a franchise in the league for that city. Mr. Mahoney says the guarantee offered would be almost enough to cover all expenses to Ottawa for three days return, and as Ottawa would prove a good ball town, he could not see why the transfer of the Berlin franchise to that city should not be a good move for the league. The Guelph club will favor it.

M'CONNELL MAY NOT GO TO MAPLE LEAFS

Deal Was Reported to Have Been Made With Sox Some Time Ago.

WAIVERS NOT SECURED

But Comiskey Hints That Other Clubs Will Be Asked at Big Meeting Soon.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—Although it was generally supposed that a deal was made late in the baseball season whereby Ambrose McConnell, the White Sox second baseman, was to become the property of the Toronto Club, of the Eastern League, it now develops that waivers have not yet been asked on the services of the infielder, and Toronto may not land him after all.

There has been some talk in local baseball circles that Owner Charles A. Comiskey, of the White Sox, might not dispense with the services of the former Bostonian. McConnell had a bad run of luck early, but during the last few weeks of the season he found his batting eye, and swatted at a terrific rate up to the close of the season.

Comiskey Mysterious.

Owner Comiskey, when asked about McConnell's future, was rather uncommunicative, but hinted that waivers would be asked when the two big leagues met. These meetings are scheduled for Dec. 12 and 13, in New York.

McConnell is popular on the South Side, and his work in the city series was a big factor in landing the championship for the American League team.

EASTERN MAGNATES WILL RE-ELECT BARROW

President Will Be Continued in Office for Five Years at $7,500 Per Annum.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—The annual meeting of the Eastern League has been called for the Victoria Hotel, New York, next Monday, Dec. 11. At this meeting President Ed G. Barrow will be re-elected, and will probably be given a five-year term at $7,500 per annum. The vote will likely be 7 to 1, with the Rochester club casting the minority vote. The report of the committee which conferred with the national commission will show that the Eastern League got many important concessions. It will be a big baseball week in New York, with the annual meetings of the National, American and Eastern Leagues, and the national commission. President McCaffery and Manager Kelly will represent the Toronto club.

Brantford, Dec. 4.—Amby Kane has secured a very promising pitcher, Ernest Coose, of the New England League district, for the Red Sox next year. Coose has been under the eye of Connie Mack for some time, and the Brantford manager considers he was very fortunate in securing his contract. Thus far he has signed up two pitchers and a shortstop for next year.

SOMETHING QUEER IN GOTCH MUNRO BOUT

Englishman is Not Prominent in Records, and Has Been in Gotham for Weeks.

New York, Dec. 5.—The telegraph wires have carried stories from Kansas City during the last few days concerning a challenge, an enormous purse and an acceptance of terms for a wrestling match for the championship between Frank Gotch and Alec Munro, the latter an Englishman. The latest intelligence from the Missouri city was to the effect that Munro had just sailed from Liverpool.

There are several queer angles to this marvellous match. In the first place, Munro has been in New York for something like a month, and was introduced at Sulzer's a couple of weeks ago. Munro has been mostly concerned in finding a hustling manager. He may be a great grappler, but the records fail to show any mention of his greatness.

Mr. Gotch says he is tired of the game and intends to retire after the Munro bout. Small wonder, with real wrestlers like Zbyszko and Raicevitch growling at his heels.

BRUCE RIDPATH TO LEAVE HOSPITAL SOON

Remarkable Constitution Brings About Rapid Recovery of Hockey Player After Accident.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—According to Dr. Walter McKeown, Bruce Ridpath will be out of the hospital within a few days. His recovery from the serious street car accident with which he met some weeks ago has been most remarkable. He had a fractured skull, and the shock alone in many cases would have been sufficient to cause death.

LANGFORD TO MEET M'VEY AT 20 ROUNDS

Colored Pugilists to Go Over Long Route at Sydney, N. S. W., on Christmas Day.

Sam Langford and Sam McVey have been matched to box twenty rounds at Sydney, N. S. W., on Dec. 25—Boxing Day in Australia. Promoter Hugh McIntosh has announced that the winner will be hailed champion of the world, inasmuch as Jack Johnson has refused an offer to visit the Antipodes.

TO BE FREE AGENTS

Players of Minnesota-Wisconsin League May Be Turned Loose.

La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 4.—All players of the Minnesota-Wisconsin League will become free agents Jan. 1, unless they are paid another week's salary, according to a ruling just received here from the national commission. Players were paid to the end of the playing season, but it had been shortened one week on account of the Red Wing and Wausau clubs dropping out.

DOOIN PROBABLY WILL STEP DOWN

Does Not Want to Manage the Phillies Next Season, He Tells President Fogel.

WILL FIND NEW LEADER

Otto Knabe Is Recommended by "Red" as His Successor at the Helm.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 4.—President Horace Fogel hurled a bombshell among local fans today, when he announced that Charles Dooin probably would not be reappointed manager of the Phillies for 1912, and that a trade which involved the passing of the vaudevillian was a possibility. This statement was made at the annual club meeting held today, and created consternation, this being the first official intimation that anybody had that Dooin did not seek the managerial appointment again.

It was Dooin's own recommendation, too, that he be relieved of the duties of manager, and in the same request he embodied the recommendation that Otto Knabe, the second baseman, should be chosen in his place.

President Fogel added to this statement by saying that if Dooin were in the same state of mind two weeks from the present time Fogel would go ahead and appoint another manager. It was the strangest twist which had been given the situation in the Phillies' camp for some time, and is due to create a furore among the rooters for the Phillies.

WOULD BE RELIEVED OF RESPONSIBILITY.

In explanation of this information, President Fogel said: "Dooin called at my office about a month ago, just before I went south, and told me he did not want to be reappointed manager, suggesting Knabe as his successor. Dooin's expressed reason for not wishing the job again was because he worried too much over it, and preferred to work in the ranks again, where he could do better, relieved of managerial responsibilities.

"In Dooin's opinion we could not get a better manager than Knabe, and for whom, he said, he would work his head off. Of course, I shall not attempt to force the position on Dooin, and if he is still of the same mind two weeks hence, I will then fill the vacancy with a man who I am sure will make good and give entire satisfaction to both the club and the patrons of the game in Philadelphia.

DOOIN MAY GO IN TRADE FOR CATCHER.

"Dooin's contract as a player has still two years more to run. Should he not accept reappointment as manager, and should the new manager wish to make changes in the catching department, the club could easily make a trade and receive a good man in exchange for him from another club."

PEDERSON GIVEN DECISION.

[By Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Jess Pederson got a decision over Charles Cazeau, a Frenchman, here last night after the police stopped the wrestling match because of alleged rough work by Cazeau.

CAUGHT A BAD COLD.

DEVELOPED BRONCHITIS. SHE COULD HARDLY SPEAK.

Bronchitis begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty of breathing, hoarseness, and there is a dry, harsh, croupy cough.

After a few days mucous begins to be raised. This is at first white, but later of a greenish or yellow color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

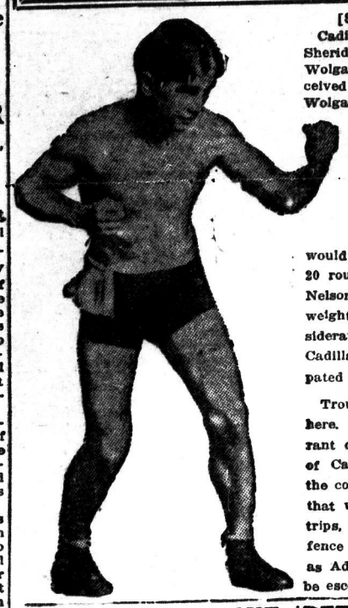

Cure the first symptoms of bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thus prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning to consumption.

Mrs. Edward Travers, Campbellton, N.B., writes:—"I thought it my duty to write and let you know what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I caught a very bad cold which developed into bronchitis. I was so choked up I could hardly breathe. I tried many medicines but they did me no good, and I had almost given up in despair. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle and felt much better, and by the time I had taken four I was completely cured, and I can assure you I cannot say too much in its praise, as it is all you claim for it, and more."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents.

AD WOLGAST WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO GO OVER TWENTY-ROUND ROUTE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Cadillac, Mich., Dec. 5. — Johnny Sheridan, the man that discovered Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champ, received a telegram from Tom Jones, Wolgast's manager, saying that as soon as Ad was able to travel, he was coming home to Cadillac. In voicing his opinion on the recent operation on the Michigan Wildcat, Sheridan said that he considered that Wolgast's days of long fights was over — that he would never again last anything over 20 rounds. The scrap with Battling Nelson, when Wolgast won the lightweight crown, is, in Sheridan's consideration, the longest bout that the Cadillac boy will ever have participated in.

Trouble awaits Wolgast's arrival here. The local police have a warrant out for the arrerst of the pride of Cadillac. It was sworn out on the complaint of a farmer, who claims that while out on one of his hunting trips, Wolgast ruined a stretch of fence surrounding his farm. As soon as Ad alights from the train he will be escorted to the police station.

MAJORS WON'T CUT PLAYERS' SALARIES

Attempt Was Made in 1889 and Organized Ball Was Wrecked.

MINORS WILL REDUCE

Smaller Circuits Have Had Difficulty Making Ends Meet in Some Instances.

[By Canadian Press.]

New York, Dec. 5.—Although most of the minor league baseball clubs will reduce the salaries of players next season, there is no danger that the major leagues will follow suit. This authoritative announcement is made here today. The big league magnates will continue salaries on present lines, that is, scaled all the way from $1,500 to $10,000 for the season's work.

As a matter of fact, the major league clubs at present are paying higher salaries than ever before in the history of the game, but they are reaping larger gate receipts, and any move to reduce salaries would mean rebellion among the players and fans.

In 1889 a plan to cut salaries in the big clubs to a maximum of $2,400 brought about the brotherhood revolt that wrecked organized baseball and resulted in tremendous losses. No attempt to reduce salaries in the big leagues has materialized since that time.

The minor leagues have been paying so much money to players in recent years, however, that many of them have found it hard to make ends meet, and some very radical cuts in salary appropriations will be made this year.

"CY" JANES DEAD

Famous Old Horseman Passes at Chicago, After Turbulent Career.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Dec. 5. — Cyrus Ross Jaynes, known to the racing world as "Cy" Jaynes, the "old soldier," is dead at his home here. He had been a familiar figure in the sporting world for the past 30 years. In the old days of the Garfield Park race track he owned a stable of horses. He had accumulated several fortunes, but at the time of his death it is said was dependent on a small pension from the Government. Mr. Jaynes was a veteran of the civil war and was several times wounded while in the service. He was a prisoner in Libby, Andersonville and two other southern prisons. He was 70 years old.

PETROLEA PLAYERS WELL PROTECTED

Oil Town Men Escorted About Hamilton By Corps of Cops.

PROCESSION FUNEREAL

Bluecoats Marched Beside 'Bus as Pall-Bearers — Just Threats of Violence.

Hamilton Herald: The way the Petrolea players were escorted off the field when the final whistle blew would have made the duke jealous. Six cops surrounded each player and when they got in the tally-ho to go down to their train, the cops walked along beside the conveyance like pallbearers beside a hearse. Outside of a few pieces of mud which some youngsters threw, the weaklings from the oil town arrived at the train none the worse for their visit here. It was a great victory for the Petrolea team, both on and off the field, and the youngsters who voted vengeance on them will have to wait another year before they will have a chance to land the next blow. In the meantime John Barleycorn will be hit, just by way of getting revenge.

Just Talk.

Hamilton Times: For some time a feeling of animosity, to put it mildly, had been working in the breasts of Hamilton fans against the Petrolea representatives. A year ago the Alerts were playing home and home games for the O. R. F. U. championship, and did more fighting than rugby playing. A week ago the Junior Alerts crossed swords with the Petrolea team at London and were roughly used, whether by the rooters or the team it is hard to say, as the mill occurred after the game. Thus it was that Hamilton fans felt that there would be something doing at the game Saturday. Such was not the case, as only at half-time, when a mob surrounded the Petrolea dressing-room and predicted a slaughter that would long be remembered, to come off after the game, was there a demonstration of any kind. At three-quarter time a squad of police, headed by the deputy chief, put in an appearance as a precaution against the possibility of roughness. A lot of shouting and threats were made, but that was all. Probably the presence of the emissaries of the law had something to do with the order that was maintained, but even at that Hamilton fans would not have set upon the Petrolea team. Such a thing was never done in Hamilton yet, the only dirt ever displayed being when retaliation was made on the gridiron.

A KINGSTON dispatch says: The Frontenac hockey team may have again this winter not only Goalkeeper Marchand, but Davidson and McCrimmon, their point and cover point, who went to Calgary recently. The latter find that they cannot play with any of the amateur teams there owing to not being in that city long enough, and they refuse to become professionals. Their love of hockey may bring them back to Kingston.

C. W. MURPHY HAS SCHEME TO REVOLUTIONIZE TRAINING

Cub Chief Plans an All-Year League in Florida to Test Recruits.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago Cubs, today is shining in a brand new role as an inventor. The Cub chief divulged a scheme which may revolutionize the spring training trips of major baseball leagues. He has proposed the organization of a winter league, to train drafted and purchased players for their debut in higher society.

The league would be composed of towns in Florida where baseball can be played the year around. The circuit, plans for which will be presented to the magnates of the two major leagues at their annual confabs next month in New York, will be composed of eight towns in Florida. The following places have been proposed for the new training camps of the big league clubs—Key West, Pensacola, Tampa, Miami, Ormond, Palm Beach, St. Augustine and Sarasota.

President Murphy, in defining plans for this winter league, said he, would recommend that it be composed of players who had not been members of a major league club for more than three months. All teams of the National and American leagues would be eligible to send players drafted or purchased to these towns for the "trying out" process. It would do more toward showing the real class of a player, he thinks, than a training trip could possibly accomplish.

CHELSEA GREEN PEOPLE INDORSE COUNTY SLATE

Joseph Leathorne Is Their Choice For Councillor Next Year.

A meeting of the Chelsea Green ratepayers was held Monday evening in the schoolhouse. Mr. William Haynes presided, with Mr. A. Weston, as secretary.

The purpose of the meeting was to select a candidate for the Westminster township council, who would support the interests of the Green in the council. It was decided unanimously to indorse the candidature of Mr. Joseph Leathorne for councillor, Mr. J. W. Laidlaw for reeve, Mr. James Mair for first deputy, and Mr. A. J. Bialkie for second deputy.

Addresses were also given by Reeve Murray and Mr. David Nicholls.

A discussion of the hydro power scheme for lighting Chelsea Green was actively entered into. The question of gas lighting was also considered, and one member of the meeting suggested London Electric.

The people of Chelsea Green are very desirous of having better lighting facilities in the thriving little village. But Westminster township council members do not wish to purchase hydro from the city of London, but will deal directly with the hydro power commission if they purchase hydro for the township.

It was incidentally pointed out that very soon a new school will be needed, as both rooms of the present schoolhouse are over-crowded.

Some of the Chelsea Green ratepayers present were inclined to criticise the actions of previous councils. It was pointed out that the necessary street improvements have not been made in Chelsea Green, and the few improvements that have been made have not been fairly distributed.

The new candidates indorsed by the meeting promised that the village would receive fair play at their hands.

RIDGETOWN.

Ridgetown, Dec. 4.—George Wessels has sold out the Bob Ton blacksmith shop on Erie street north to Mr. Joe Moore and Mr. Lige Petitte. Mr. Wessels may go west in the spring.

The Highgate tea meeting in connection with the anniversary services was held last evening. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Logan, Rev. Mr. Annesley and G. M. Dunn.

A public meeting in connection with the Howard Township local option campaign will be held in the town hall, Morpeth, Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. Langford and Mr. Annesley will speak. Mr. William Tolmie, of Rodney, is also expected to be present, and address the meeting from a businessman's standpoint.

'I SAW YOUR ADVERTISEMENT' WRITES ONE OF TODAY'S LITTLE GIFT SEEKERS

Children of London Should Be Well Taken Care of This Year When So Many Agencies for Good Are at Work--- Letters to The Advertiser Sent With Consent of Parents.

ALL THE BOYS WANT SWEATERS ALL THE GIRLS WANT DOLLIES

Another Preference Shown by Male Persuasion Is for Steam Engines and Trains of Cars—Sisters and Brothers Are Not Forgotten.

"I saw your advertisement in The Advertiser," writes one of the sixty odd children whose letters to Santa Claus were received yesterday and this morning, which goes to prove that it pays even for old Kris Kringle to advertise.

There are several letters which deserve the attention of charitable people among those received, and they are printed in another part of the paper, after having been investigated and found worthy by reporters of The Advertiser.

The Advertiser appreciates the fact that through other sources most creditable work is being done along the lines of charity for children who are not in direct communication with Father Christmas, and has no desire other than to facilitate the efforts of every agency for relief.

The letters printed today bring the number received well past the hundred mark. Most all of the letters have been addressed by the parents, who are evidently glad to see the desires of their little ones put in some tangible form.

Minute instructions for the entry of Santa Claus in many homes are given by the children. He is warned when the chimney is too small, and told when it is large enough to provide for even his portly proportions.

It may be accepted as a rule for Christmas that all the girls want sweaters, and that all the boys want railroad engines or sweaters. Hockey sticks and skates are in great demand. Many of the children don't forget to ask that a sick brother or sister be remembered, and sometimes father and mother are included.

The letters are as follows:

Hears He Is in London.

Dear Mr. Santa Claus:

HEART DISEASE CURED

Kingston Girl Saved By "Fruit-a-tives"

Heart Weakness and Heart Irritation are the common outgrowth of Indigestion. Gas is formed in the stomach and this accumulation of gas bulges out the walls of the stomach and presses against the heart. Palpitation, pain over the heart, and sometimes a feeling of smothering and dizziness, all are caused by the stomache and not because of any organic heart disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure this weak, irritated condition of the heart by curing the stomach.

91 Clergy St., Kingston, Ont.

"I suffered for some years with a dangerous form of Heart Trouble. My heart beat violently, and I had pain over the heart and down the arms. I also suffered with Constipation and Indigestion I was treated by physicians and took many remedies, but nothing did me any good. Then I began taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' and this medicine completely cured me of all the heart trouble, constipation and indigestion, and gave me back perfect health." (Miss) MABEL TODD.

Fifty cents a box, six for $2 50, or trial size 25 cents. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

Trust Funds Invested In Our Debentures

There is perhaps no money which should be so carefully invested as trust funds.

It is a sacred duty to be performed by an executor or trustee to assure absolute protection for money placed in his hands for investment.

By an act of Parliament executors are authorized to invest trust funds in the 4% Debentures which the Huron & Erie Loan and Savings Company issues. No more conclusive evidence than this could be afforded as to the stability of these Debentures.

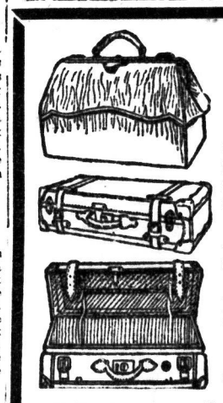

They are issued in amounts of $100.00 or more, and are secured by the total assets of the Company, amounting to $13,000,000.00.

We have issued a booklet explaining our Debentures fully, and shall be pleased to present it to anyone making request for same, either by mail or personal interview.

DON'T BUY BIRD THAT WEARS SPURS

Pointers for Turkey Buyers Who Might Be Imposed Upon.

HOW TO TELL YOUNG ONES

Look Out For Corn in the Crop—Make the Housewife "Wise."

The cost of your Christmas turkey this Yuletide will depend mainly on where you happen to get it, and also to a somewhat less extent on the quality of the particular bird you select. The use of some judgment is selecting the mainstay of the Christmas dinner will not be amiss. Investigation will prove to you that you may purchase a turkey at the present time for 19 or 20 cents per pound, or you may go up as high as 25 cents per pound.

Unless you are wary you may pay for a pound and a half of corn in the crop.

One turkey may look just as good as another, but look closely, and you will perhaps see a pair of spurs. Now, spurs are not grown in one season.

It is just as well also to feel the lower end of the breastbone before talking prices. If it is flexible the turkey is a young one, and the price will naturally be a cent or two better than if the bird were an old one.

The Prices.

On the market square you can buy turkeys at from 19 to 21 cents per pound. In the dairy hall you will pay from 20c to 22c per pound. Poultry dealers and commission merchants will ask you 22 or 23 cents, but in some of the grocery stores catering to the better class trade, you may be asked as high as 23 or 24 cents, and were it closer to Christmas you would probably pay 25 cents per pound.

Some dealers say they would rather sell pork chops than turkeys. They retail them at from one to three cents in advance of the price paid in large lots, and their expenses are very considerable. Not infrequently the dealer loses on his sale of Christmas birds.

TENSION AT TEHERAN

British Government Says It Existed Between Shuster and Ministry.

[By Canadian Press.]

London, Dec. 5.—The position of W. Morgan Shuster, in Persia, came up in the House of Commons yesterday. Francis Dyke Ackland, under secretary of foreign affairs, said in reply to a question that the British minister at Teheran had some time ago reported that severe tension existed between the Persian ministers and Shuster. This lasted for some weeks and caused the resignation of three cabinet ministers. Recently, however, he had received no information regarding the feeling among the Persian people, but Mr. Shuster's work had the support of the national council.

HORSE SHIED AT ENGINE AND JUMPED INTO FENCE

Animal Was Badly Injured and Owner Shaken Up On Proof Line Road.

Mr. Ed Douglas, a farmer living near Ilderton, had a very valuable horse terribly injured and was himself very severely shaken up on Saturday, when, as he was driving home on the Proof Line road, his horse shied at a traction engine and jumped into a fence.

The manner in which it plunged hurled the buggy with Mr. Douglas against the fence, with such force that the front axle was smashed and the vehicle wrecked.

Mr. Douglas saved himself from very serious injury by jumping just in time. He hung onto the lines and was pulled about considerably. When he got the horse quieted it was found that it had sustained a bad wound in the chest where it had come in contact with a rail, and had cut one of its feet to the bone by striking against the buggy. It had many other cuts and bruises. The horse was taken home and every effort is being made to save its life, as it is worth several hundred dollars.

RYAN'S WHEREABOUTS ARE KEPT A SECRET

President of Structural Iron Workers Doesn't Want to Talk About McNamaras.

[Canadian Press.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 4.—That the whereabouts of Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, will be kept a secret for several days, because Mr. Ryan desires to avoid discussing at this time the pleas of guilty of the McNamara brothers, was the statement today of Leo M. Rappaport, attorney for the association.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 4—Detective William J. Burns is somewhere in Ohio today working in connection with the McNamara case, seeking especially for information regarding a fund of $1,000 alleged to have been set aside for J. J. McNamara monthly by the officers and executive committee of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

DEAD ON THE DOCK.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 4.—Pierce Mullaley, aged 72 years, a real estate owner, of Halifax, was found dead on the dock between the Market wharf and King's wharf at daybreak this morning. Mr. Mullaley had been acting strangely at times. He left his home last evening during the temporary absence of his wife. Death was an accident it is believed.

ROOSEVELT TO RUN IF PEOPLE ASK

Would Only Be Doing His Duty as Patriotic Citizen, Say Friends.

NOT A SELFISH MOTIVE

President Taft and LaFollette Supporters Have Failed to Get Promise From Him.

New York, Dec. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt can be induced to run for president in 1912. But if he does run it will be only as the result of such an overwhelming demand from the American people as no patriotic citizen could refuse.

This opinion comes as the result of a conversation of considerable length with Mr. Roosevelt Saturday just before he left New York for the celebration of his silver wedding, in the quiet of his own fireside, and from information gathered from some intimate friends of the colonel.

The situation in regard to Mr. Roosevelt is perhaps one of the most peculiar in the history of the country. He has insisted from the time the first man broached the matter of running for the presidency again that no friend of his would attempt to conect his name with the nomination. Speaking from his own personal point of view he felt it would be asking him to do something which he had every right to avoid.

He worked with such effort with his closest political friends that every one of them, with the possible exception of James R. Garfield, is now enlisted in the cause of some other candidate. Some of them are trying to bring about the renomination of President Taft and others, notably the Pinchot brothers, are hard at work for La Follette.

No Assurance.

But even this has not satisfied even the friends of the president nor those seeking the nomination of La Follette; nor yet the money interests of lower New York. The Taft people have sent emissaries to try to secure from Mr. Roosevelt a statement that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination for president.

The La Follette people have done the same. And so have the so-called moneyed interests. Each of them failed and failed emphatically.

To every one of these men, and to all of his own friends he said he would give no such assurance. Not that he was a candidate and not that he wanted to be or expected to be, but because no citizen has a right, in a republic like ours to declare his purpose not to serve the people if the majority at any time shall decide that he can and ought to serve.

He did, however, say to a great number of those who have urged that he permit the use of his name that if the convention gave the nomination to him under circumstances which he could construe only as a maneuvre for his personal distinction, or in other words, not serving a great and unselfish purpose, he would decline it without a moment's hesitation.

There can be no question of Mr. Roosevelt's sincerity in his attempts to keep his name from being used in connection with the nomination. The corroboration comes from too many sources to be doubted. The things he has done to stop the movement have been too thoroughly and emphatically Rooseveltian.

Yet the tide toward him has not been checked. Every day brings to him letters and personal solicitations urging him to revise his decision. These are from every section of the United States, and from all sorts of people.

The main-spring behind them appears to be the desire of a lot of republicans to avoid defeat, not only for the head of their ticket, but for themselves.

But this argument does not seem to make very great headway with Mr. Roosevelt. It appears to the writer that if those who want to force the colonel into the coming campaign, really desire to secure his nomination and his acceptance thereof, they must show a great public need and a wide public demand for it.

As stated, the only way to induce him to run for president again is to present him with a situation which a patriotic citizen cannot ignore. That would land him, for when it comes to the welfare of the government of the United States perfect unselfishness on his own part is the god Mr. Roosevelt worships.

WOOLY'S SHEEP KILLED

Outbreak of a New Sheep War Feared in Bear River Valley, Col.

[Canadian Press.]

Craig, Col., Dec. 4.—The people of Craig and its surrounding territory are aroused over the probabilities of another sheep war similar to that of fifteen years ago when several men were killed and thousands of sheep destroyed. One hundred and ten sheep, belonging to George Wooly, who owns a ranch near here, were found today to have been slaughtered during the night. The heads of the animals had been beaten in by clubs. Wooly has been in Denver for the last two weeks, where he bought 3,000 sheep preparatory to shipping them to his ranch. The slaughter of last night is considered as a warning to other sheep men not to import sheep into Bear River Valley, which cattlemen consider their exclusive territory.

OHIO BANK SMASH

The Union National of Columbus Gives Notice of Suspension.

The capital stock of the Union National Bank was $750,000, its surplus $100,000, and it is estimated that its deposits approximated $2,000,000.

W. S. Courtright was president of the bank, E. K. Stewart, general manager of the Columbus Railway and Light Company, over whose affairs a receiver was recently appointed, was first vice-president.

As the action of the directors had been expected for several weeks, it is not thought that the closing of the bank will have any effect on the local financial situation. There are but a few small individual deposits in the bank, the most of them being large accounts of business houses and the funds of the county.

KILLED BY SCANTLING.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—Struck on the head by a piece of scantling to which was attached a piece of iron pipe, T. Taylor was instantly killed at Richmond and Sheppard streets this morning. Another workman was also struck on the head, but was only slightly hurt. The men were tearing down an old frame stable at the time.

"Say, Doctor, what you suppose ails me, anyway?

"Tea? Why, I've drank it 20 years, say Doc, quit chaffin', I'm feeling bad.

"Now there goes another of those infernal twists in my right side.

"Tea congests the liver, you say? So I've got to quit. Well, what do you know about this Postum?

(A month later) "Mornin' Doc, yes feeling fine, thanks. Say, you did give me a scare about my liver, but it was all true, I reckon. "When I quit the tea and went on with Postum, I began to feel better in two days and now I've quit the army of tea cranks for good.

"Sure, I belong to the Postum army, and know where my comfort is."

THIS IS DALTON'S FRENCH DRIP COFFEE POT →

which your grocer will give you, absolutely FREE, with 2 tins of

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

AT 50c. A TIN

Dalton's French Drip Coffee is the Coffee that is all smiles. It is as different from ordinary Coffee, as pan-dried rolled oats are different from oats fed to horses.

Nature lines the Coffee berry with an inner coating to prevent insects destroying the berry while green. This coat is tough, indigestible and bitter with tannin. Ordinary Coffee contains this tough, bitter shell. The Dalton's method is to roast the Coffee by a special process which retains all the richness and flavor, the exquisite bouquet and aroma.

After the Coffee is ground, another special process removes every particle of hull—leaving only the wholesome, healthful heart of the Coffee berry, rich in gastronomic charm.

You can drink Dalton's French Drip Coffee for every meal, every day, without fear of Headaches, Indigestion or, any other ill-effects resulting.

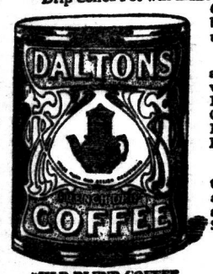

But Dalton's French Drip Coffee must be made right to taste right—and that means, without boiling.

The French Drip, or Percolator, Process is the only way to make really good Coffee. This, however, does not mean that you go to the extra expense of buying a costly Percolator.

We have secured sole rights for a French Drip Coffee Pot—one that is reliable, easy to clean, simple in operation. We have tested it for several months and can say that this French Drip Coffee Pot will make Dalton's French Drip Coffee just as it should be made—anyone can use it.

If you like Coffee at all, we know that you will be delighted with Dalton's French Drip Coffee WHEN IT IS PROPERLY PREPARED.

To insure this, we give you one of these $1.30 French Drip Coffee Pots, absolutely free, with your first order of a tin each of Dalton's MILD and STRONG Coffee at 50c. a tin.

MILD BLEND COFFEE

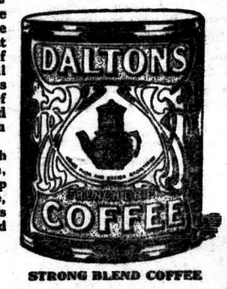

Sectional view of the Coffee Pot we are giving away free.

We limit one Coffee Pot to a family and desire that both kinds of our Coffee be bought. This is to your advantage because you cannot tell in advance which you will prefer for regular use.

The MILD is an exquisite blend with a light, yet full, flavor. The STRONG is for those who wish a heavy, full-bodied Coffee and is especially suited for after-dinner Coffee.

These Coffees are not expensive. At 50c. a tin, they are the cheapest good Coffee on the market, because actual tests show that TWO pounds of Dalton's Coffee will make as many cups as THREE pounds of ordinary Coffee—and there is no comparison in quality or flavor.

Get a tin of each at your grocer's, and he will give you, free, one of the Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pots worth $1.30. If, by any chance, he is unable to fill your order, write us and we will see that you are supplied promptly. Sold in 25c. and 50c. tins.

WAS TROUBLED WITH

Weakness and Palpitation OF THE HEART.

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble.

Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart, but when it starts to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beats fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can and will give prompt and permanent relief.

They do this by their restorative influence on every organ and tissue of the body.

Mrs. John J. Downey, New Glasgow, N.S., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I was troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart, would have severe choking spells, and could scarcely lie down at all. I tried many remedies, but got none to answer my case like your Pills. I can recommend them highly to all having heart or nerve troubles."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GIVEN SEVEN YEARS AND TWENTY LASHES

A North Bay Man Is Heavily Punished for a Serious Offence.

[Canadian Press.]

North Bay, Ont., Dec. 4.—Seven years in the penitentiary with twenty lashes was the sentence meted out to Arthur W. Rood, a young farmer, and recently township tax collector. Rood was convicted in the court of general sessions of a serious offence against a girl under fourteen years of age, his wife's sister, and Judge Leask made the punishment fit the crime. Rood was confident of escaping with a sentence of one year, and entered the box to receive sentence with a smile on his lips. When he realized the severity of his sentence he collapsed and wept bitterly.

TURKEY TO GRAB A PART OF PERSIA

The Sixth Army Corps Preparing To Move Towards the Persian Frontier.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Dec. 4.—A special news dispatch from Constantinople says that Turkey in response to Russia's action in Persia is preparing to send the Sixth Army Corps toward the Persian frontier.

Turkey, the dispatch adds, has been long endeavoring to establish a hold on Northwestern Persia in the vicinity of the lake, and town of Urumiah in the province of Azerbaijan. She desires to share in the eventual partition of Persia, which Russia regards as a strategic menace.

It is thought in Constantinople that Russia's vigorous following up of the Shuster incident has been perhaps influenced by the difficulties caused to Turkey through the Turco-Italian war.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

THE LIBERAL LEADER NOMINATED ROBT. LOCKHART HIS OPPONENT

Mr. Newton Rowell, K.C., Again States Clearly His Policy at Debate—Conservative Candidate Not Certain Just Where He Stands In Regard to Bilingual Schools.

Woodstock, Dec. 4.—Mr. Newton Wesley Rowell, K.C., of Toronto, was nominated today as the Liberal candidate for the Legislature in North Oxford, and Mr. Robert Lockhart, a farmer of Blandford Township, as the Conservative candidate. Mr. Rowell's nominators were Messrs. Francis Patterson, farmer, of North Nissouri, and John A. Bain, manufacturer, Woodstock, and his financial agent is Mr. Malcolm Douglas, Manager of the Oxford Permanent Loan Company, Woodstock. Mr. Lockhart was nominated by Dr. A. Beverly Welford, Woodstock, and Mr. Albert H. Goring, farmer, of East Zorra, and his agent is Mr. Peter McDonald, barrister, Woodstock.

Mr. Wesley S. West, returning officer, was chosen chairman at the after meeting. Mr. E. W. Nesbitt, M. P., was the first speaker, and devoted his time to a general discussion of the political situation. A question was put to the two candidates by Mr. John A. McKenzie, of Woodstock, representing the Orange Association. The question was: "In the event of Dr. Merchant making a report to the Government that there are such things as bilingual schools existing in the Province of Ontario, what will your position be regarding these schools?"

Mr. Lockhart at the outset of his speech said the question of bilingual schools was one he had thought considerably over, and had "come to the conclusion that there was uncertainty as to whether we had such schools existing in this province or not." There was some doubt about it, but if such schools did exist his position was that "the English language is the language of this province," and he would "not stand up for anything else but the English language to be taught in this province."

The rest of the speech of Mr. Lockhart was devoted to a plea for the support of the electors of North Oxford on the ground that he is a farmer and a resident of the riding, as contrasted with Mr. Rowell. He believed the "Toronto machine had dumped Mr. Rowell on them," and that he was not their choice. He was promptly told by the audience that he was wrong in this. He named several Liberals whom he said he would have liked to see come out as a candidate, in which case he would "never have shown his face." Mr. Rowell subsequently pointed out that every one named was cordially supporting him, and had spoken or would yet speak at his meetings.

Mr. A. W. Wright, of Toronto, followed Mr. Lockhart, criticising Mr. Rowell's platform.

The Liberal Leader.

Mr. Rowell's reply to the question of Mr. McKenzie, and to Mr. Wright's allusion to bilingual schools, was explicit. Said he: "We say the present condition in this province is not satisfactory. The records show that in many of these schools French, and French only, is being taught, practically, and the children are going out from many of these schools without a sufficient education to equip them for life. It is the duty of the Government to see that every child who goes out has a good knowledge of English. What does the Government propose to do to remedy it? It has not offered a single practical suggestion. You can't remedy it unless you provide competent teachers."

Mr. Rowell told his hearers that he had been born on a farm, but after doing his share of work on the farm as a boy he had, like many of their sons, gone to the city. He could not be a farmer if he would, but he could promote the interests of the riding and the province in the Legislature whether a farmer or not. Mr. Rowell closed with an eloquent peroration, and asked the electors to give him one of the good old-time Liberal majorities.

The Foresters' Hall at Innerkip was crowded to the doors in the evening when Mr. Rowell made a decidedly strong impression on an audience that contained quite a number of Conservatives by his clear and forceful exposition of the Liberal policy. Mr. Lockhart was invited to speak, but demanded that he speak last, which, of course, was declined.

Dr. A. N. Hotson, was chairman. Short speeches were made by Messrs. Murray and E. F. Boddington.

THE FRAZER CASE

Argument Concluded In the Appeal on Famous Suit.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—Argument has been concluded in the famous Michael Fraser case. The judges have reserved their decision, and again there will be a period of suspense before it is finally known whether or not the aged man who married a young woman is adjudged capable of managing his own affairs. Mr. Justice Britton said he was. The divisional court said he was not. What the court of appeal will say rests with the five judges who have constituted that court. For after five days of it the lawyers finished arguing yesterday afternoon.

Whether Michael Fraser is suffering from senile dementia or senile decay, or merely lapses of memory, and what constitutes insanity, and at what stage loss of memory may be called senile dementia, and whether untruthfulness is a test of insanity, and many other fine points were discussed by counsel and judges yesterday.

TRAIN CREW ARE EXONERATED

Jury Finds That Harry Brownlee's Death Was Due to an Accident.

TRIED TO BOARD A CAR

Boys Who Are Found Loitering Around the Railways Should Be Hauled Into Police Court.

"That Harry Brownlee came to his death at Victoria Hospital on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 29, 1911, as a result of an accident sustained the same day on the M. C. R. tracks, in this city, while the deceased, with other boys, was trying to board train No. 134, passing through the yards.

"The jury exonerates the train crew from any blame for the accident, but is of the opinion that the railway company should summons boys found trespassing on their property, and exposing themselves to accident, and make an example of such."

The above verdict was rendered by the jury in the inquest held Monday evening into the death of little Harry Brownlee, who was run over on the M. C. R. tracks, near the corner of Maitland and Grey streets, last Wednesday afternoon.

Several witnesses were called, and some of the evidence was extremely pathetic, especially that of Baggageman Battram, who told how, when they were carrying the injured boy to the store, the little fellow had prayed to God that he might not live.

As the different witnesses gave evidence it became more and more apparent that the injured lad knew that he was going to die, and had tried to die like a man. He was cheerful from the time he was picked up until he passed away in the hospital a couple of hours later.

Thought of Parents.

Talking to an Advertiser reporter last evening, Mr. William Brownlee, father of the dead boy, stated that while the little fellow was dying in the hospital, he tried to comfort his sorrowing parents. He talked to them as though he were only slightly injured, and for a time his words had the effect of reinvigorating Mrs. Brownlee, who was on the verge of a nervous breakdown on account of the shock of the accident. Not once, from the time that he was practically cut in two, until his death, did the injured lad lose consciousness, a remarkable fact, considering the nature of his injuries.

"Hello, Doctor!"

When Dr. Moore, who was called immediately after the accident, entered the store where the little fellow lay awaiting the ambulance, he was greeted with a cheery, "Hello, doctor!" from the boy, who was even then slowly dying. He called for a couple of his boy companions, who had been with him when he took his fatal leap, in an effort to board the train, and when they gathered around him, he seemed happy. He called for his mother and father, and worried because of the shock his mother would receive when she knew he had been hurt. Not once did he seem to think of himself. Only, 'Please, God, do not let me live like this," when they were carrying him on a board to the store, and after that resignation.

Boys Who Were There.

The stories told by the young lads who were his companions at the time of his death were straightforward and clear in every detail. Coroner Ferguson remarked on the fact that it is remarkable what capital witnesses boys make. Reginald Brown, of 60 Colborne street, was the first of the boys, who were with Harry Brownlee, to be called.

He stated that he and three other boys, including Harry Brownlee, had tried to board the train, but Harry was the only one able to grab the hand-rail of one of the cars. The train was travelling too fast for him, however, and he lost his hold, and the force was sufficient to throw him under the second to the last coach, the hind trucks of that coach, and the trucks of the last one running over him.

Tried to Board Train.

Thomas Navin, 11 years old, of 571 Hill street, was also one of those who tried to board the train. He said that the boys were coming from school, and hearing the whistle of the train, Harry said: "Oh, here comes the M. C. R. I am going to catch on and ride on it." Witness stated that he tried to keep one of the younger lads, Willis Green, 8 years old, from catching on to the train, and did not see Harry get thrown under the train. The first he saw was when someone shouted, and on looking he saw Harry under the end coach. He ran over and tried to pull him from under, but the hind trucks ran over the injured lad while he was pulling. He helped to pick Harry up, but the other boys, with the exception of Clifford Ellistone, ran away. Harry was saying: "Oh, I got my legs off! I got my legs off!" Witness then went over to Taylor's store and asked them to telephone for the ambulance.

An Awful Sight.

Clifford Ellistone, 13 years old, 455 Nelson street, was ahead of Harry when the accident happened. He heard a shout and saw Harry rolling over and over beside the track after the train had passed. He also went over to the store to telephone, but found Navin there first. He then went down the street to inform Harry's parents of the affair, but met one of the other boys coming out. He admitted that it was a common thing for the boys to catch on the trains of the M. C. R., but that they generally boarded them when they were stopping up at Colborne street.

Dr. Moore stated that death was due to shock and the injuries received, both legs being severed.

Arthur Ella, 15 years old, 406 Grey street, gave evidence similar to the other lads.

The Baggageman's Evidence.

John A. Battram, of St. Thomas, baggageman on train No. 134, was standing on the lower step of the forward end of the head coach. He was looking back along the side of the train, when he noticed something like a bundle pass under the step on which he was standing. He saw the hind trucks of the coach pass over it, and recognized the figure of a boy. He pulled the emergency cord and stopped the train. He was one of the men who carried Harry into Taylor's store.

When they first picked him up the little fellow asked for his mother, and then wanted to know if both his legs were cut off. He was told that one of them was off, and then he lifted himself up on the improvised stretcher and in a pathetic little prayer asked God to let him die. Afterwards he asked Battram to feel his heart to see if it was still beating.

Boys Take Chances.

T. C. Barry, conductor of the train, did not see the accident. He said that it was very common for the boys to try and jump on the train, particularly in the summer months. Every time he would try to get near to caution them, however, they would jump off.

The engineer and brakeman were called, and also testified to boys jumping on the train when it arrives in the city. The boys had been chased off time and again and cautioned, but did not seem to pay much attention to the warnings.

Mr. A. A. Ingram, of the M. C. R. at St. Thomas, attended the inquest in the interests of the company.

Music and Drama

"Pinafore," Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera classic, was produced at the Grand Opera House last night, and was greeted by a crowded house. It is a far cry to the time when "Pinafore" was interpreted in London before by a professional cast. Those who know say it was in the old Holman Opera House, which once stood on the present site of R. C. Struthers & Co.'s store, on the corner of York and Richmond streets. There have been several amateur productions of the piece here, and about five years ago the Royal Lilliputians were seen in the opera.

The revival of hSubert, Brady & Arthur is a happy one. Last night's production was redolent of the other masterpieces of years gone by—the "Mikado," the "Pirates of Penzance," the "Yeomen of the Guard," the "Gondoliers," etc. As one man put it when leaving the Grand: "What a blessing it is that when Gilbert and Sullivan died their works did not die with them."

Sullivan passed way from the scene of his triumphs years ago, but it is only a short time since that Sir William Gilbert met a tragic death by drowning. "Pinafore" is an amusement set to music, and when it was written was not without its mission. It was a biting satire on the interference of civilians who might be "clothed in brief authority" as lords of the admiralty with naval affairs. Witness these lines:

"When I was young I served a term
As an office clerk in an attorney's firm,
"I washed the windows and I swept the floor,
"And I polished the handle of the big front door.
"And by polishing this handle so carefully
Now I am ruler of the "Queen's navy."

All the way through the piece there is the same intelligent sarcasm in regard to abuses in the navy, which it may or may not be have disappeared by this time.

Of course, going into the plot of "Pinafore" would be just as much marching and countermarching as giving the plot of Hamlet. very one knows the pretty love story which threads the satire of Gilbert and one finds it impossible to not compare, though comparisons be odious, the works of Gilbert and Sullivan with the froth, filth, tinsel, tights and vulgarity of most of the so-called musical productions of today. For the most part the latter are nonsensical hodgepodges spiced with smut. There is no real merit to them. But it is different with such as that of "Pinafore." An hour or two on the grand old ship "Pinafore" leaves one with a good taste in his mouth, and a splendid evening's revelry in music and fun.

Last night's cast was a memorable one. Our old friend De Wolf Hopper, appeared in the part of Dick Deadeye, and he threw plenty of vim and life into it. Mr. Hopper has a good voice, but he is now in faster company vocally than ever before, and he is not heard to any extent in the score.

Mr. George J. MacFarlane, as Captain Corcoran, added to his already splendid reputation in London. Nothing finer has been heard in the Grand in many years than his singing, assisted by a magnificent chorus in the first act, of "Hardly Ever." There is plenty of dramatic fire in his work and he was accorded half a dozen encores. He is one of the richest and most convincing baritones on the American stage today.

Mr. Arthur Aldridge, as Ralph Rackstraw, is the possessor of an appealingly beautiful tenor voice, and his singing created a furore. As a lover he is somewhat indifferent, and his appearance is too Tom Sharkey to be in the Adonis class. But he has a good, open face, and his voice would make up for any deficiency, even though he looked like Richard III.

Mr. Eugene Cowles sang gloriously, as usual, and after hearing his rendition of "He Is An Englishman," great was the regret expressed that he has not more opportunity to be heard in the cast of "Pinafore." Eugene has been long on the stage, but he appears to improve with age. Fifteen years since he had the reputation of drawing $1,000 a week when with the Bostonians.

As "Dear Little Buttercup," Viola Gilette was not altogether satisfying, while Miss Mabel Weekes, as Josephine, the Captain's daughter, brought a beautiful presence on the stage, and in her higher notes sang superbly. The chorus, male and female, proved one of the most delightful treats of recent years.

"Roney's Boys" In Name Only.

Many amusing incidents have occurred on account of the name "Roney's Boys," by which are known all over the country the five wonderful youngsters which Mr. Roney will bring to this city for a concert on Monday, Dec. 11, in Centennial Methodist Church. Being from different families in different states, the boys are, of course, not related to Mr. Roney, their trainer and manager, but conductors and hotelmen persist in talking to the boys in all seriousness about their "Papa," and the youngsters find the mistake an endless source of amusement. The name has become a trademark of immense value to Mr. Roney.

"Graustark" Tonight.

George D. Baker's dramatization of the popular novel, "Graustark" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House tonight. The play opens in Edelweis with the arrival of Grenfall Lorry and Harry Anguish, wealthy young Americans, the former in search of a pretty girl with whom he became acquainted in America. Both of the Americans get adventure in plenty, for within a few hours after their arrival they overhear a plot to abduct the ruling princess of the principality. They decide to frustrate the plot themselves, and trail the villians to the castle. Lorry enters the princess' room, thinking it is that of Lady Dagmar, her attendant. The abductors shortly enter, and in the fight that follows Lorry is wounded. The princess, grateful for his having saved her life, has him nursed back to health in the castle, where they finally reveal to each other their mutual love.

Chauncey Olcott.

It is a well-known fact that the hardest things to invent are the titles and last acts of plays. Many a play which has aroused the enthusiasm of the audience in the early part of the evening is spoiled by a last act, which only unwinds the tangled skeins of a plot and in such a manner that the audience knows just what is going to happen. The play which Chauncey Olcott is producing this season, and which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Thursday evening, might have a better title than "Macushla," as it expresses nothing of the quaint humor contained in its lines and situations, but inasmuch as people are attracted by the name of Olcott, anyway, it does not detract from the play's drawing qualities. The last act of this play, however, is very good, and for that reason this has been one of the real hits of the season. Interest in the plot is held to the final speech, there is no flagging of events or situations, and it would take a pretty keen judge to determine how it is going to end. Seats selling.

"The Cow and the Moon."

If "The Cow and the Moon," the new spectacular musical extravaganza, had no other attractiveness besides its clever book, its great cast, and its wealth of scenery, and startling effects, it would still be a success on account of its rousing musical hits, lyrics and chorus, there being enough of the latter to more than make an ordinary musical show, but with all these essentials of success is easily established, as it is proving to be one of the most pleasing entertainments that Mr. Sellen has as yet put forth. "The Cow and the Moon" is said to be a delight to the little folks, there being so many mystic events that are sure to attract the juveniles, as well as the old folks. This company will play here on Friday night and Saturday matinee and night at the Grand.

NEELY NOT CLEAR ON BILINGUALS

The Conservative Candidate in Poor Light at Joint Debate.

LIBERAL IS VERY POPULAR

Mr. Robert Sutherland Given Splendid Reception at Pottersburg on Monday.

There was a joint debate at the nomination for East Middlesex held at Pottersburg Monday afternoon. A large crowd was in attendance, and gave both speakers a fair hearing, but the sympathies of those present were largely with Mr. Robert Sutherland, the Liberal candidate.

Mr. Geo. W. Neely, the Conservative candidate was the first speaker, and dealt at some length with the history of the Whitney Government. He took credit for many reforms, and claimed that the Government had done many things for the people of Ontario. Mr. Neely was particularly enamored of the school legislation of the Government.

"What about bilingual schools?" somebody asked Mr. Neely.

The latter was not very clear on the point, and his explanation brought only laughter from the audience.

The Liberal Candidate.

Mr. Robert Sutherland, the Liberal candidate, was nominated by Mr. Jas. Murray, reeve of Westminster Township, who spoke of the many good qualities of Mr. Sutherland. The nomination was seconded by Mr. David Gilmour, of Dorchester.

"I have been a Conservative all my life, but I have to vote for Mr. Sutherland," he said amid cheers. " I have been intimately acquainted with him for many, many years, and I have always found him to be straightforward, honest, and a splendid citizen. I have to vote for Robert Sutherland, regardless of my politics."

Mr. Sutherland spoke at some length, dealing with the issues of the campaign.

"Mr. Neely has told us a lot concerning the Government," said Mr. Sutherland, "I am sure the electors of East Middlesex would appreciate if Mr. Neely would inform them what he had done for the riding or the Province. Not a thing can any person remember his having done, and I, with many other electors, would like to know what he has accomplished since he has been in the Legislature."

The Model Schools.

Mr. Sutherland was particularly displeased with the action of the Government in the abolition of the model schools.

"I am in favor of the poor man all the time," said Mr. Sutherland. "The Whitney Government has never been a poor man's Government, and its action in abolishing the model schools is but part of its policy. The rich man can send his children to school to obtain the best possible education, but the poor man has no such chance. The whole tenor of the legislation introduced by the present Government has been in favor of the classes, particularly in respect to schoools."

The Liberal candidate came out strongly in favor of the assessment scheme inaugurated by Mr. N. W. Rowell, the Liberal leader. There was no question to his mind that the present system was unfair, that the industrious man was taxed, while the indolent was allowed to go free. Mr. Sutherland was strongly in favor of an equalization of the taxation of the Province.

A Majority Vote.

"A majority vote on all questions is my motto." said Mr. Sutherland, "I am opposed to handicapping any question, and in the three-fifths clause on the liquor question the Government has not played fairly with the people."

Mr. Sutherland was followed by Mr. Odell, of Belmont, who made an excellent speech.

ALL WERE KILLED

Fifteen Dogs Destroyed In Connection With Mad Dog Scare.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, Dec. 4.—Dr. J. H. Tennent, of London, who is here on behalf of the Dominion Government, investigating the mad dog scare, has ordered the fifteen animals which were recently bitten to be destroyed. This was done immediately. The fifteen dogs were bitten on Nov. 24 by a big collie, which ran in, it is believed, from some of the surrounding farms, and snapped at them before it could be killed. All efforts to trace the ownership of the dog which did the biting have proven fruitless. Dr. Tennent, however, is continuing his search for the animal's owner, and also for any other dogs which may have been bitten.

FLEET OF WAR AIRSHIPS

London, Dec. 5.—A dispatch from Berlin to the London Standard says that the German war office is considering plans for the building of a fleet of huge airships, capable of carrying large quantities of explosives and big crews of fighting men. The following construction work on the Grand Trunk Railway System has been under way since January, 1911, and will be completed by the end of this year:

To Flake Off An Old Complexion

[From Life and Beauty.]

A woman need never cease to have a young-looking complexion if she will adopt the mercolized wax habit. The wax actually takes off the old complexion, with all its imperfections, and the newer and livelier skin, which then appears, bears that rare beauty and irresistible loveliness that only a youthful skin can possess. The skin is indeed youthful, in reality as well as in appearance. The natural process of tissue-change, which slows up with the passing of the years, and in most conditions of ill-health, is hastened along by this mercolized wax treatment. Faded, yellowish, or blotchy surface skin is flaked off in powderlike particles, a little each day causing no inconvenience.

Mercolized wax, now procurable at any drug store, is the only known substance that accomplishes such results. It is applied at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning.

Letter received by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway headquarters from one of the prominent artists of New York, who has just returned from a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific, as far as the Canadian Rockies, contains the following:

"I went out to the end of steel on the Grand Trunk Pacific, then took the trail over to Maligne Lake, which I found to be the most beautiful lake I ever saw in my life. I had a delightful trip, and made several sketches Returning I stopped off at Wainwright and from there went out duck shooting in different directions, and had a most delightful time. Next year I hope to be able to get away earlier and see more of your magnificent country."

Mr. T. H. Carling, of the Carling Brewing and Malting Company, states that the story is unfounded, and that he has heard nothing whatever of the proposal.

INGERSOLL MEETING WAS WELL ATTENDED

Electors Are Showing Great Interest in the Present Campaign.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Dec. 4.—The attendance at the nomination meeting today was an emphatic contradiction to the supposition that the people are not interested. The hall was well filled, the different sections of the constituency were well represented, and all present came prepared to pocket their prejudice and listen attentively while the candidates presented their cases.

Mr. T. R. Mayberry was nominated as the Liberal candidate, and Mr. Wm. McGhee for the Conservative. After the routine proceedings, Reeve West was voted to the chair, and announced that the candidates would each occupy one hour, Mr. Mayberry to speak first, and to be allowed fifteen minutes to reply.

Each speaker consumed practically the full period alloted him. The discussion on the whole was largely a reiteration of the claims which have been made by the two parties on the platforms throughout the province. The speakers were accorded a very attentive hearing, and harmony was never disturbed.

Mr. McGhee appointed Mr. W. A. Sutherland as his financial agent, and H. W. Partlo was appointed financial agent for Mr. Mayberry.

Application was made by Chief of Police Goodman for an increase in salary. The chief came to Ingersoll about four months ago in succession to Chief Chilton who resigned to go to Lindsay. The application will be disposed of in committee.

The board of works reported that a settlement in the action brought by David Morgan in consequence of the raising of the sidewalk on Charles street east in front of his blacksmith shop, had been effected. A bylaw in connection with the municipal elections was given three readings.

A splendid meeting of the Young People's Society of St. Paul's Church was held last evening. The leaders were Miss Palethorpe and Mrs. Routley.

A number of Ingersoll members of the craft will attend a Masonic gathering at Woodstock this evening.

Miss Cora Anderson, of Clebourne, Texas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. Warren.

GOVT. COMMISSION TO REGULATE TRUSTS

The Feature of President Taft's Third Annual Message to the United States Congress.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Taft's third annual message to Congress, devoted exclusively to the Sherman anti-trust act and the trust question in general, was read in Congress today.

The President defended the Sherman act, as interpreted by the supreme court of the United States, indicated plainly his opposition to the repeal or amendment of this statute, but suggested that Congress pass a federal incorporation law and supplemental legislation that "would describe and denounce methods of competition that are unfair."

To supervise corporations chartered under federal law, President Taft proposed the creation of an executive bureau or commission, with powers akin to those of the inter-state commerce commission.

Other messages on various subjects, the President said, would be sent to Congress from time to time before the usual holiday recess.

LT.-GOVERNOR GIBSON

through their course of training, been taught to be helpful and kind to others was certain to make a better and more useful citizen. The boy in such corps was spending his time usefully, and to his own and the nation's benefit.

Physical Drill.

Physical drill was absolutely necessary in these days. It was good not only from a military standpoint, but from the viewpoint of the physical well-being of the citizens of the Dominion. It would produce improved specimens of Canadian manhood. His honor advocated three years' training in militay matters for all boys.

Some time was spent in advocating a more general practice of rifle shooting. This branch of military training was becoming more important than ever before, and he hoped the day would soon come when rifle shooting would be taught everywhere.

At Children's Aid.

Sheriff Cameron, president of the Children's Aid Society, took charge of his honor, and escorted him to the Children's Home. There Mr. Gibson delivered an address and inspected the home.

The annual reports of Sheriff Cameron, Inspector Sanders and the treasurer, J. I. A. Hunt, were presented, and adopted.

Later the party were taken to Cronyn Hall, where the Christmas fete was formally opened.

The hall was splendidly decorated, the British flag predominating in the decorations.

Short addresses were also delivered by his lordship, Bishop Williams, Mrs. G. H. Gooderham, Mrs. H. A. Boomer, and other members of the orders.

Mrs. Gibson, who is greatly interested in such work, took great pains to go through the exhibits, and congratulated the members of the Daughters of the Empire on the excellent showing.

A committee of ladies, composed of Mesdames R. M. Graham, E. B. Smith, H. A. Kingsmill and J. B. McKillop looked after the welfare of the visitors.

THE PACKERS LOSE.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The supreme court of the United States today refused to grant a stay of the beef packers' trial in Chicago until the court would be able to pass on the constitutional question raised by the packers in habeas corpus proceedings

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Thomas E. Williams, Middleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers. 4

SCHEME FOR OPERATING THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Will Be Opened in Alexandra School the First Week in January.

At the meeting of the advisory committee for the industrial school held Monday night, a scheme for operating the school was brought down, and sent to the board of education for adoption.

It was decided—

1. That the school be known as the London Industrial School, to be opened during the first week in January in the Alexandra School.

2. That the object of the school be to give a broader education to those engaged in industrial pursuits.

3. That evening classes be established for men and boys and women and girls on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

4. That the board of education be asked to grant the use of six rooms for use of the school, regularly and as many class rooms as may be required.

5. That the following courses be taught: For men and boys—(a) Machine-shop work, forge and wood-work, (b) mechanical drawing, architectural drawing (c) business English, each student to select one subject from each group.

6. Courses for women and girls: (a) Sewing, dressmaking, cookery, (b) home economics, (c) business English, each student to select one subject from each group.

That the first term shop mechanics be given in connection with the shop work and not as a separate subject.

That the business English course include writing, spelling and the simple business forms in general use.

That teachers for the following subjects be secured:

(a) Drawing, (b) Machine shop work, (c) Forge shop work, (b) Woodworking, (e) Dressmaking, (f) Cooking and home economics, (g) English.

That a fee of $1 be charged for those taking two or three evenings per week, but that a term fee of $3 for the four months, payable in advance, be charged. Pupils taking only one subject per week be charged 50 cents per month.

It was estimated that the total cost of the department would amount to $1,361, with a return of $300 in fees, making the net cost $1,061.

There was little discussion on the report, the members being satisfied with it.

Those present were Messrs. W. W. Gammage chairman, Dr. Wyckoff, F. E. Leonard, L. H. Martyn, C. M. R. Graham, John M. Gunn, G. N. Weeks, M. F. Irwin, H. B. Beal, and others.

A PUBLICITY AGENT AGAIN FOR LONDON

This Year's Council Has No Hesitation in Making Recommendations for Next Year.

A publicity agent or commissioner of industries may be named by next year's council.

At the meeting Monday night, the aldermen favored the plan, but as it was too late this year to do anything, it was decided to recommend next year's aldermen that they appoint a man.

"We will have to do something," said Ald. Mitchell. "This is the best way to make a beginning, and I have great pleasure in moving that we request and recommend to next year's council to name a publicity agent."

There was no objection to the suggestion, and it carried.

CITY IS LOOKING FOR REVENUE

Applications to Run Pipes Under Streets Will Be Fully Considered.

FIREMEN GET INCREASE

Salary Boost Recommendation by No. 3 Committee Went Through the Council Monday Night.

The city council had another of their long sessions Monday night, it being after midnight when the aldermen were at liberty to go home.

There was a long discussion over the application of Greene, Swift & Co., for the privilege of placing steam pipes under Dundas, Talbot and other streets in that district. Application was also made to go under the sidewalks in certain places.

Ald. Morgan and Mitchell supported the request, but Ald. Saunders, Ald. Richter, Ald. Tancock and others, thought the matter was too important to be dealt with in open council on the spur of the moment, and suggested that it be sent to No. 2 committee to report on.

The request of the Helena Costume Company to cross Queen's avenue, Park avenue and other streets with steam pipes, was also referred to the committee.

Looking for Revenue.

"I think it is high time that the city got some revenue for the use of the streets," said Ald. Saunders.

The transfer of Smith street, Port Stanley, to the city for the privilege of running a roadway up the north side of Fraser Heights and opening up a driveway along the beach was finally granted to the village of Port Stanley by the council. A deputation headed by Reeve William Jackson, Nate Cornell and others were present, and presented the claims of the port. After some discussion the deal was finally ratified.

The report of Chairman Clarke, of the board of health was presented, together with that of Dr. Hutchinson. Both were ordered placed in the minutes of the council. In his report Mr. Clarke referred to the general health of the city, and stated that it had been very good. There was no epidemic whatever. He regretted that the council had not seen fit to pass the bylaw to prevent the exposure of food. The board were a unit in declaring that the council should assist in every way the passing of the garbage disposal bylaw.

During the year fifteen meetings of the board had been held, the attendance being: Harry Clarke 14, John Graham 11, R. A. Carrothers 11, Dr. E. Williams 10, Dr. Burdon 8, Mayor Beattie 7, Ald. Stevenson 4.

Several local improvement bylaws were presented, but Ald. Tancock objected to the second reading, and they were all laid over until the next meeting.

Firemen Get Increase.

The firemen's increase was granted last night by the city council, and the benefit fund ,to which the city will contribute 6 per cent of the salary of the men, will be established. A committee composed of Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert and City Auditor Jewell was named to work out the details and report. There was little or no discussion on the recommendation of No. 8 committee, all the aldermen voting in favor of it.

Ald. Cooper and Ald. Morgan exchanged compliments on the recommendation of No. 2 committee to erect a fence on Wellington street north to prevent accidents. The former accused Ald. Morgan of working for his own interests, and the latter promptly denied this. However, on the suggestion of Ald. Saunders, it was decided to fill in the place, and not erect the fence, to which Ald. Morgan had objected.

Those present were Mayor Beattie, Ald. Eckert, Richter, Stevenson, Bennett, Ashplant, Donnelly, Tancock, Wilson, Morgan, Mitchell, Saunders, Cooper and City Clerk Baker.

PEOPLE WILL VOTE ON MANY BYLAWS

Will Be Asked to Issue Debentures to the Amount of $200,000.

The citizens, in January, will vote on bylaws to issue debentures aggregating about $200,000.

Monday night two very important bylaws were added to the list. The first considered was that of the West London bridge, for which $20,000 must be raised.

A strong deputation from West London was present, headed by Mr. W. Nichols, and they presented a petition from the West London Improvement Association, asking the council to submit the bylaw.

On motion of Ald. Wilson, the prayers of the petitioners were granted, Ald. Richter alone opposing. He stated that in view of the adverse vote last year he did not consider it timely to submit the bylaw again.

However, all the other aldermen were favorable, and the bylaw was given two readings.

The other was to raise $125,000 for a storm sewer system. Ald. Richter opposed this also, saying that there were no plans prepared, nor any scheme presented for the guidance of the electors. The city engineer had stated that it was impossible to prepare the data, and suggested allowing the matter to stand.

The majority of the aldermen were in favor of submitting the bylaw, and it carried.

The bylaw to raise $25,000 for the North Midland Railway was also given two readings. The other bylaw, that to raise $50,000 for a garbage disposal system was passed a couple of weeks ago.

These are the four money bylaws on which the ratepayers will vote in January next.

Common Honesty and Common Sense

Make the Foundation of the Mason & Risch Plan

It is COMMON SENSE, backed by COMMON HONESTY, that causes us to deny commissions for influencing the sale of our pianos.

We aspire to sell pianos at the lowest price in the Dominion of Canada, and COMMON SENSE told us it was impossible to do this and pay commissions. Besides COMMON HONESTY dictated that to do business in the right way it was necessary to give the biggest value for the least money.

It was COMMON SENSE, also, that insisted on the firm ONE-PRICE system. We believed that success in our business depended solely on the trust and confidence that we inspired in the public mind. We could see no justice in a system that permitted the price of its goods to fluctuate according to the knowledge of its customers.

In our opinion the plan of charging one customer one price for a piano and another person another price for a piano of the same style and make was not in keeping with COMMON SENSE, and decidedly opposed to COMMON HONESTY.

Were we right? The magnitude of our business is the answer to that question—the largest piano business in the Dominion of Canada.

One Price---the Lowest. No Commissions and a Fair, Square Deal to Everybody.

NEXT YEAR'S COUNCIL TO SEND DEPUTATION

Council of This Year Can Do Nothing Regarding the Military Camp.

No deputation will go to Ottawa this year to interview the Government regarding the establishment of the military camp permanently in London.

Ald. Tancock brought the matter up Monday night at the council meeting, and moved that a deputation composed of Mayor Beattie and Ald. Eckert go to Ottawa and see the Minister of Militia and urge the claims of London. The board of trade had consented to assist, and there was no doubt they would send down a strong deputation also.

"The reception committee has no funds," Ald. Richter pointed out. "I do not know where the money is coming from to make that trip. Furthermore Parliament adjourns tomorrow, and there would be no person in Ottawa to be interviewed. You had better send the matter over to next year's council with the recommendation that a deputation be sent to Ottawa. Ald. Tancock agreed to this, and the incoming council will have the privilege of naming the delegation.

DISPUTE OF 60 YEARS SETTLED BY COURT

Valuable Property In Heart of St. Thomas Has Been Sold.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Dec. 4.—The long-standing case in regard to the ownership of a piece of land purchased 60 years ago by the late Rev. John McIntyre, was settled today when Mr. Justice Teetzel gave a decision allowing heirs equal shares in the proceeds of its sale. The land is splendidly situated, but because a clear title could not be secured it has been lying idle for 60 years.

The original owner of the property, Rev. John McIntyre, now deceased for 50 years, emigrated to Australia some 60 years ago, having raised the money for travelling expenses for himself and family by placing a mortgage to his brother, the late Archibald McIntyre, of St. Thomas, who fenced the property and paid the taxes until his death, fifteen years ago. Since that time the taxes have been paid by his heirs. No communications had been received from the descendants of the Rev. John McIntyre in Australia for the last 40 years. As the heirs of the late Archibald McIntyre wished to get a title to the property, they applied to the commissioners at Ottawa three years ago for a deed to get possession of the same. As the mortgage had been destroyed by fire and renewal had been registered on the day the deed arrived, a claim was put in to get possession of the property, which had just been sold for the amount of $8,000. Much litigation has followed, which ended today by an equal division of the proceeds of the sale.

THE OCCASION.

They had been having a little tiff.

"Oh, of course," said he, wrathfully, "I am always in the wrong."

"Not always," said she, calmly. "Last week you admitted that you were in the wrong—"

"Well, what's that got to do with it?" he demanded.

"Nothing, except that you were perfectly right when you admitted it," she replied.
