CORK IS IN PANIC REPRISAL THREATS ARE CARRIED OUT

Incendiary Fires Have Already Destroyed a Dozen Large Buildings—Five Sinn Fein Clubs Burned—Fire Brigade Fired On—Reported Murder of Officers Caused Outbreak of Arson.

CORK, Nov. 30.—The odor of charred or smouldering wood pervades Cork, and Patrick street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, is unsightly with the bulging debris of five-wrecked houses.

The publishers frankly say they are intimidated to such an extent that they are now printing telegraph accounts containing the barest and most perfunctory stories of the trouble...

Early today a second unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the city hall, which recently was badly damaged by a bomb explosion and fire.

The fires usually have been started with incendiary bombs and petrol in buildings, the owners or occupants of which are believed to be Sinn Fein men.

SERVICE AND SELF-DECEPTION

Hon Manning Doberty, Minister of Agriculture in the Ontario Government, in his brief address at the opening of Belleville Fair, gave expression to a sentiment that is worthy of repetition. It was this,—“The world is not now thinking so much about what a man possesses as how well he can serve others.”

This idea of service is one that we of late have been hearing much. Within the past few months two organizations have come to Belleville which have as their basic principle community service. The motto of the older association is, “He profits most who serves best.”

And the business world has taken up the same notion. The old Latin motto, “Let the buyer beware,” is no longer thought to be good business, let alone good ethics.

“He profits most who serves best,” may be criticised in the same way as that somewhat sordid old business maxim, “Honesty is the best policy.” Both may be appeals to selfishness and the hope of gain rather than to the higher idealism of “Virtue is its own reward.” But they, nevertheless, represent great basic truths.

The business man who tries to get ahead by trying to cheat his customers is not only immoral but a fool.

Better than big business is clean business. To an honest man, the most satisfactory reflection, after he has amassed his dollars, is not that they are many but that they are all clean.

What constitutes clean business? The answer is obvious enough but the obvious needs restating every once in a while.

A clean profit is one that also makes a profit for the other fellow.

That is the most fundamental moral axiom in business.

Any gain that arises from another's loss is dirty.

Any business whose prosperity depends upon damage to any other business is a menace to the general welfare.

That is why gambling, direct or indirect, is criminal, why lotteries are prohibited by law, and why even gambling slot-machine devices are not tolerated in civilized countries.

When a farmer, on Belleville market, sells a housekeeper a bag of potatoes, when a milkman sells her a quart of milk, or the butcher a pound of steak, or the dry-goods man a yard of cotton, the housekeeper is benefitted quite as much as those who get her money. A real need, on the part of the housekeeper, has been honestly served by the farmer or the butcher or the merchant.

That is the type of honest, clean business, the kind that helps everybody and hurts nobody. That is the kind of business that means service.

A man that makes a habit, every deal he goes into, of asking himself, “What is there in it for the other fellow?” instead of “How much can I do the other fellow out of?” and who refuses to enter into any transaction where his own gain will mean disaster to some one else, cannot go far wrong. Any man who makes his money by ruining other people is not entitled to be called decent.

An industrial establishment where workmen are given employment, paid living wages, where health and life are conserved by having the work done under safe, clean, wholesome conditions, is doing more real good in the world than a dozen charitable institutions of proportionate size.

“Lying to others is much less serious than lying to yourself,” said Leo Tolstoy in a letter to his niece.

To know this is the beginning of wisdom. Self-deception is the starting point of moral decay. Lying to others may be but a harmless amusement but lying to yourself is sure to mean inward deformity, the germ-laden fleck that spreads disease through your whole character. Yet it is the commonest, easiest, most subtle of sins.

Every down-an-outer labors to justify himself and trace his misfortune to others. The profligate has said to himself “the world owes me a living” until he believes it. The criminal lays his downfall at the door of society.

But as a matter of fact, no person, since the world began, was ever compelled to do wrong. No rotten stone or cracked beam was ever put into a man's character that he did not put there with his own hands. When we say that others made us do the evil thing, we lie to ourselves. Others may have threatened, cajoled, tempted, pushed, or bribed us but the final step was never taken except by the consent of our own will. One may have to suffer, to be humiliated to endure tragedy or even to die. But no one ever had to do wrong.

Not long ago a man accepted the highest salaried position in the gift of a certain city. It was such a position as gave him an opportunity to make for himself an honorable name and to gain a reputation that would be far more than local. He held the confidence and the good-will of those he was to serve.

But he deceived himself by the belief that confidence and good-will were commodities to be bartered or exploited for his own personal emolument.

Some may admire the ease and deftness with which he transformed confidence into dollars and then got away with the dollars. But any man who barter's honorable opportunity, friendly confidence, neighborly good-will and even his manhood for a few miserable dollars, is himself the worst dupe of all. He has sold the most precious thing that a man possesses in this world for a pitifully small return.

Holland has a new trouble. Like other countries it has adopted heavy income taxes, and the problem is to make the ex-Kaiser pay his share. It is reported that his income has been assessed at 1,500,000 guilders, which at normal exchange would equal $600,000. But the ex-Kaiser apparently protested that his income varies on account of the fluctuations of exchange, and was allowed a delay, and promised a re-assessment.

If the ex-Kaiser saved $600,000 a year from the wreck of the war he did not do so badly, and the thrifty Dutch doubtless hope he will live many years to pay income taxes. Meantime many ex-soldiers have no incomes to pay taxes on, and are facing the winter with misgivings.

Over-confidence in human nature is a failing that leans to the side of virtue. But the studied attempt to deceive others gives evidence of basic moral deformity and degraded character from which recovery or rehabilitation seldom or never takes place.

Lying to others is much less serious than lying to yourself.

He pays a most exorbitant price who surrenders decency, honor, fidelity, manhood, character, and conscience, as well as the approval of honest men, to gain a few dishonest dollars.

A BUSY STREET

I love a busy, bustling town. One day they put the pavement down, All nice and smooth and sweet; and then Next day they tear it up again.

From one end of the street back to Its other end, that's what they do: And then they get it smooth and flat, And give it its last loving pat.

And then there is a shriek of fear Comes from the city engineer— He has mislaid his monkey wrench And instantly they start a trench, And toss the pavement all around Until the monkey wrench is found!

And then they tamp the dirt in tight, And get it leveled off all right, And surface it with hard concrete, And make a street as is a street. By putting sand and bisk on that, And the steam roller makes it flat. Then they pierce that pavement through and through

To lay a line of pipe or two Then they repair that, and it lies Smoothly beneath the summer skies For, it may be a day or two,

Then there's a sewer to run through! Now, when someone you chance to meet Talks of the “busy city street,” That's what he means, in this man's town— The street that's getting up and down And rolling over that way, till

It just seems like it can't lie still. —Judd Mortimer Lewis in Houston Post.

OBITUARY

MRS. D. H. PRESTON.

The funeral of the late Mrs. D. H. Preston was held from her home on West St. on Saturday last at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Wilson, of St. Andrew's Church. From the house the remains were taken to the Riverside cemetery for interment.

Mrs. Preston was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Templeton, of Napanee, and the sister of the late Wm. Templeton, of The Beaver. She was married to Mr. D. H. Preston, a well known Barrister, who survives her. All her married life was spent in Napanee. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and for many years the organist there. And until the very last she retained her interest in her music and in all the various organizations and interests of the congregation.

Mrs. Preston had been ailing for some months, and during her illness she was under the constant observation of her son, Dr. Harry Preston, who had only just returned from overseas and remained home in the hope of being able to help his mother. But in spite of all the efforts that were made to restore her health, her heart was not sufficient for the strain, and it collapsed suddenly on Monday last.

Mrs. Preston was a woman of quiet unassuming manner of life, a strong character beneath a quiet exterior, a woman whose personality and influence for good was felt throughout the whole community. The large number that were present on Saturday to pay their last respects to her memory, testified to the esteem in which she was regarded by all classes and the place that she held in their hearts.

Besides Miss Alice Preston and Dr. Harry Preston, who were with her at the time of her death, the other children who were present at the funeral were Mr. J. W. Preston and Miss Janet Preston, of Pueblo, Colorado; Mrs. Davidson, of Leithbridge, and Mrs. (Dr.) Russell, of Ballieboro, Ont.—Napanee Beaver.

DAVID J. WALSH.

David J. Walsh, a retired farmer of Tyendinaga township, passed away on Sunday in Belleville General Hospital after a week's illness. He was born in Tyendinaga 73 years ago and was a son of the late James Walsh and Mary Kennedy Walsh, of Ireland. He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Walsh was a widower and leaves a family. The remains have been taken to his home in Read by the Belleville Burial Co.

MOIRA

The W.M.S. held a Union service here at the church on Wednesday. Two services were held, one at 10.30 and at 8 P.M. Very impressive readings were given by Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. F. Herity, and Mrs. A. Welsh, also a solo by Mrs. Geo. Hollinger, Mrs. Ed. Pittman and Mrs. J. Morton and other excellent addresses were given. The President, Mrs. F. Vanderwater, occupied the chair. A lunch was served at noon. Ladies were present from Bethel, Eggleston and West Huntington.

Mrs. Annie Elliott happened with a serious accident while nursing a case at Halton. When out in the dark she fell into a hole and striking the knee cap on a sharp stone. Dr. Morgan was at once called and found Mrs. Elliott in a painful condition. She was brought home and will be laid up for some time.

Mr. Roy Sellsbury was thrown down by a horse and has sprained his ankle again. He had only been around a short time from being laid up with the same ankle.

Mr. Stanley Kincaid had an accident while driving some cattle when one of them knocked him down, cutting his head badly. Dr. Morgan was called and it required seven stitches to close the wound.

Mrs. Blake Ketcheson is ill with La Grippe. Her mother, Mrs. Geo. Hollinger, is with her.

Rev. E. A. Tonkin, of Bowmanville, a former pastor here, came to see Mrs. Annie Elliott and Mr. G. Vanderwater on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Burke and Rev. E. A. Tonkin spent Tuesday evening at Mr. S. Ketcheson's.

Mr. Foster Wilson, of West Huntington, spent Wednesday guest of his cousin, Mr. Stan. Kincaid.

MARRIED.

BROOK—HOLSEY—At St. Andrew's Church on Saturday, Nov. 27th, 1920, by the Rev. A. S. Kerr, M. A., Violet Marion Holsey to Robert G. Brook, both of Belleville.

Miss Cecelia Mott of Frankford is in the city visiting friends.

S. O. S. Observe St. Andrew's Day

“Those Things That Make a Nation Great,” was Rev. A. S. Kerr's Theme.

“Today we are thinking of the heritage handed down to the people of Scotland. Our imagination ought to be quickened and our memory strengthened regarding those things which ought not to be forgotten. Yet we must not live in the past. Our lot has been cast in a new land. Canada is the land of our adoption. We are to remember we have duties and obligations to fulfill in this land. It is a pathetic thing to see people come here from the old land in the body but not in the spirit. They have never absorbed nor assimilated the atmosphere of this western land. Just as we think of Scotland as a land of which our children should be proud we must see to it that our children shall be proud of Canada. That is the challenge that comes to every son of Scotland, every son of England, every son of Ireland, every son of the Oriental world in Canada.”

With these words the Rev. A. S. Kerr, M. A., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, opened his address on Sunday morning to the Camp Rob Roy, Sons of Scotland, of which he is chief, and the members of the Sons of England Society, at St. Andrew's Church. It was the St. Andrew's Day celebration.

What are the things worth while putting into our national life? asked the preacher. A great nation places moral and spiritual standards before the material. Herein lies our danger in Canada—we boast of our wealth, and our acreage for millions but after all from the soul point of view these must be subordinated to the moral and spiritual. There is a place for wealth and production, but they do not come first. Manly courage is a fine thing but may be misdirected in behalf of an unworthy cause. Many violent deeds were done by the German army but they were performed in the name of a perverted ideal.

The right kind of education will make a nation great. What sort of ideals are we placing before our children in our schools? Russia went to pieces because she had no education. Germany was wrecked because she had the wrong education inculcating the supremacy of the state. “I wonder if our young people are being developed properly,” said the Rev. Mr. Kerr. “Is it more intellectual training they are acquiring? Are our boys and girls being taught that it is the right kind of life that wins wealth and attainments or are our boys and girls learning that life is to be lived in service for others. To make a living is not the main thing in life, but to make a life.

“Cannot we say that it was education and the right kind of education that made Scotland what she is. Scotland could not boast of her wide borders, but she always set a proper value of education.” Internal cohesion is a necessity for a great nation. We can never get unity of opinion in religion or in politics, but there ought to be the unity of good will. A family that is quarrelsome is a disgrace to the neighborhood and a nation that is full of strife sinks in the eyes of men.

No nation can be great without God. In other words there must be a spiritual centre in the nation. Beaty said that the war would only be won when the nation turned to God and Foch expressed the same thought in a Catholic way. He carried in his breast a crucifix and when victory came he ascribed it to God. Taking out the crucifix he said to his friends “It is the Crucified One on the Cross that has delivered France.”

Our national flag is sacred. We ought to keep it as our fathers bequeathed it to us. There is another flag—the Bible the Cross—which we must hold sacred. During the service Miss L. Lohb sang “The Lord is My Shepherd” and the choir rendered an anthem very acceptably Mr. E. A. Monek taking the solo part.

MORE R.O.T.A. PROSECUTIONS

In police court this morning Lawrence Burke was charged before Justice W. B. Riggs and H. F. Ketcheson with a second offence under the Ontario Temperance Act, namely selling liquor. The case was enlarged until Thursday and bail set at $2,000. James Hughes was charged with a R.O.T.A. and this was also enlarged to Dec. 2nd, bail being fixed at $500.

PIECE OF POTTERY CACHED BY CHAMPLAIN.

Mr. E. Trudeau of Tweed while hunting with the Lessard party on Partridge Creek this fall made a fine bag in the shape of a large black bear. This splendid specimen of the genus Ursus weighed about 350 lbs. and measured 5 ft. 8 in. from tip to tip. Mr. Trudeau has been extremely lucky on his trips into the north country, about five years ago he found a fine piece of Indian pottery that has been identified as having been cached by Champlain on his cross country trip. And last year he secured a monster timber wolf.

PRAISES FIREMEN.

Last evening Ald. Ponton praised Belleville firemen. The city should be proud of its department.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Those who expected the snow would go off in a few days have been disappointed, says the Marmora Herald. The storm on Sunday was also unusually severe and added considerably to the quantity of snow. The records show that the snowfall has been the heaviest for the time of the year since 1848. At present there is splendid sleighing, but it is not at all likely it will last very long. Many expect we will yet have some fine mild weather this fall.

BROKE MOTOR LAW.

Inspector Passmore of the Department of Highways was in the city yesterday and today in the interests of the observance of the Motor Vehicle Act. He and the police had two men before the police court this morning on a charge of infraction of the law. One was a dealer who in taking in an old car on a trade with a new one, allowed the purchaser to take the markers off the old car and put them on the new one. The dealer pleaded not guilty but was found guilty and fined twenty dollars and costs. The purchaser of the car was fined $10 and costs for driving with markers not issued by the department or its agents for his new car.

CHINESE ARE RELEASED.

The three Chinamen recently taken into custody near Ogdensburg on a charge of illegally entering the United States have been released on bail of $5,000 apiece, Eddie Becker, of Montreal, alleged to have taken the aliens across the border, is still in Canton jail, unable to procure bail. He will be deported.

HON. LEWI

One-time Leader

The lamented death of Mr. Wallbridge has naturally caused thoughts of the older residents Belleville, to turn to his uncle, Lewis Wallbridge, whom he closely resembled in feature and in personal and professional characteristics not in person.

Sixty years ago Lewis Wallbridge was the most prominent citizen Belleville. As member of the Legislative Assembly, for South Hastings which constituency embraced townships of Sidney, Thurlow Tyendinaga, the town of Belleville and the village of Trenton, and leader of the bar in Hastings county he was widely popular and deservedly so.

Mr. Wallbridge's career as a laborer began in the late fifties, was the Conservative candidate, was elected for South Hastings, defeating Mr. B. F. Davy, who ran the Liberal interest.

Having differed from his political leaders on the representation population. Mr. Wallbridge was 1861 the Liberal candidate and lost a very sharp contest, he defeated Mr. James Brown, a Baldwin former, who was one of the popular citizens of Belleville. Five years later he was appointed Superior General in the Sandfield Donald administration and subsequently became speaker of the House being the last holder of that office prior to Confederation, in 18

Address and Presentation

At W.M.S. Meeting. On Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18, the Massasauga Women's Missionary Society held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. D. W. Vallean, about twenty-five ladies being present. After an interesting program the president of the society, Mrs. A. Hillman, expressed regret that one of the members, Miss Ella Anderson, was soon to leave our neighborhood and Mrs. Davidson read the following address:

W.M.S. Observed Tues. as Day of Prayer

The Women's Missionary Societies of Bridge Street Church, Tabernacle, Holloway Street, Bayside and Aikens, on Tuesday Nov. 23rd, observed a day of prayer in Holloway Street, Methodist Church. Miss Ida A. Martin, President of the auxiliary in that church presided in her usual capable manner. Miss Hawley, of Bridge Street auxiliary explained that the Board of Management had asked this year the fourteenth birthday of our Women's Missionary Society for 40,000 new members, twenty percent increase in funds, and for 20 new missionaries. This can only be accomplished by concerted, enthusiastic, co-operative endeavor on the part of the members. The first hour of the service was under the leadership of Mrs. Sharp, of Tabernacle, with "The Home Base" as theme. Mrs. Booth, of Holloway Street auxiliary, described a trip across the continent calling at our various Domestic Missions, followed by a round table conference. After lunch and the social hour the subject "Our Missionaries" was presented by Miss Jones, followed by earnest prayer by Mr. Bailey for our workers in Home and Foreign Fields. The next hour was taken by Mrs. Joblin, and Mrs. Mutton, of Bayside, with "Japan" as theme. This field has asked for seven new workers this year. The needs of China were brought forward by Miss Hawley, of Bridge Street. Thirty-nine new workers are asked for in China, including doctors, nurses, dentists and pharmacists; besides pastoral, educational and special workers. A strong appeal for the organization of more circles was urged by Miss Morden, there being only two at present in the district. "At intervals during the day, fervent prayers were offered beseeching for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the church at home; that God would inspire, comfort and strengthen the missionaries in the Orient, and on the Home Fields; that the great student body in our Universities may realize the opportunity and accept as a privilege the work of missions; that the students abroad may realize God's presence always in circumstances not always encouraging; and that the native workers may be abundantly blessed in their labors; that this year our district may have a volunteer for the great work of laboring on mission fields. Several young ladies from Albert College added much to the success of the afternoon session and their earnest petitions were an inspiration to all present.

HON. LEWIS WALLBRIDGE One-time Leader of the Bar at Belleville.

The lamented death of Mr. F. S. Wallbridge has naturally caused the thoughts of the older residents of Belleville, to turn to his uncle, Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, whom he closely resembled in feature and in personal and professional characteristics if not in person.

Sixty years ago Lewis Wallbridge, was the most prominent citizen of Belleville. As member of the Legislative Assembly, for South Hastings, which constituency embraced the townships of Sidney, Thurlow and Tyendinaga, the town of Belleville, and the village of Trenton, and as leader of the bar in Hastings county, he was widely popular and deservedly so.

Address and Presentation

Dear Friends.—We, a number of your neighbors, and friends, of Cannifton and Corbyville community, hearing of the arrival of Mrs. Rosevear, as a war bride from England, and knowing that you had settled your minds to remain, and live amongst us, have felt it our hearty desire, and Christian duty to call upon you tonight, to express our sincere interest in you, and our prayers, and well wishes, for your future happiness and prosperity.

SHOT HUGE MOOSE

A huge bull moose weighing close to 1,500 pounds and bearing a magnificent spread of antlers, was one of the sights Wednesday morning at the Brockville union station, where the animal was being held pending transfer to the Canadian National station. The moose was consigned to A. Bruce, Elgin, and sleigh, loaded with two cords of fire-wood, stuck on the tracks and all effort to move it failed. The farm-drawn by the same party, or accordingly unhitched the horses arrive at Brockville this season and in charge of Engineer W. Pars was the object of much interest, Montreal, formerly of Brock- among station frequenters. It took five, very readily moved the sleigh combined efforts of four express-men to move the carcass which took up an entire express truck.

Camp Rob Roy S. O. S. Celebrated St. Andrew's

Happy Gathering by Sons and Daughters of Scotland.

Camp Rob Roy, No. 43, Sons of Scotland, was at home last evening to the mothers, wives, daughters, and sweethearts of the members of the clan in commemoration of St. Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland.

The Rev. D. C. Ramsey delivered an address on Scotland and her virtues. Rev. Mr. Galloway, former Presbyterian minister at Foxboro, also spoke.

Delightful Banquet by Safety-first Men

Heard Address on Scotland by Mr. John McIntosh at Assembly Room of Steel Company.

The "Safety First" club of the local plant of the Steel Company of Canada, spent an enjoyable and profitable evening on Monday night when the members assembled at the assembly room at the plant to hold their monthly banquet and to hear an address on "Scotland" by Mr. John McIntosh.

Mr. Frank Cheahar, president of the club, ably filled the chair. He expressed his regret at the absence of their respected manager, Mr. J. A. Higgin, who had been unavoidably called away to Montreal.

He then called upon Mr. McIntosh who gave a most vivid and realistic traveltogue in reference to the tour he and Mrs. McIntosh had taken last year through Scotland.

The "Safety First" club is an organization consisting of the superintendents of departments and representative workers who consider suggestions made by the men themselves for the promotion of safety and better conditions about the plant.

Monthly meetings are held and great good has already been accomplished.

"Polly Peele" Leaves Globe

Miss Mona Cleaver Honored by Globe Colleagues on Retiring.

Readers of the Women's Page of the Toronto Globe will learn with regret of the retirement of Miss Mona Cleaver ("Polly Peele") daughter of Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of this city, who yesterday relinquished her position in view of her approaching marriage.

As a token of their regard and regret, her fellow-workers at The Globe presented her with a beautiful oil painting "Autumn Meadows," by H. S. Palmer, A.R.C.A. The presentation was made by the Managing Editor, Mr. Stewart Lyon, who paid a warm tribute to the work done by Miss Cleaver, alluding particularly to her bright personality, which has endeared her to all her professional associates and to hundreds of her public.

Further words of appreciation were spoken by Miss White of the Women's Department and by Mr. Harry Anderson, Assistant Managing Editor.

Cool Convict Makes Escape From Jail

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Dec. 1.—At Port Arthur district jail at six o'clock this morning Joseph Bushie, an Indian convict under sentence of fourteen months, locked his warden in his cell, took his keys, released two others and then went into the jail kitchen, cooked breakfast, changed clothes and leisurely walked out, leaving civilian clothes tickets on the warden's desk as a reminder.

Film Room Fire in Theatrical district

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Times Square, heart of the theatrical district, was thrown into confusion at one o'clock today when a film room fire broke out in quarters of a motion picture concern in Longacre building. Many extra pieces of apparatus were summoned to check the flames spread.

Indoor Baseball

Marsh 15—Hydro 14. The Marsh Engineering Works team led the Hydro boys a merry race all the way through the indoor baseball game at the Armouries last night and won out by a 15 to 14 score. The Engineers led the electricians all the way by a narrow margin. The Hydro looked like possible winners at the last by scoring seven runs in the eighth, but the Marsh team made six and still led. The line-up:

Marsh's—Smith, c.; Knott, p.; McKenna, 1 b.; P. Cornell, 2 b.; Gillbert, 3 b.; J. Cornell, f. s. s.; Stork, 1 f.; Rushlow, 3 b.; Ethier, 4 f.

Hydro—Ollphant, c.; Leslie p.; Hines, 1 b.; Langley, 2 b.; Scantlebury, 3 b.; Cronk, s. s.; Anderson, f. s. s.; Brown, c. f.; Arnold, 1 f.; G. R., 4 f.; Moxam, c. b.; Boyle, 3 b.; Sanderson, c. f.; Dallas, 1 b.; McKenna, p.; Goyer, 2 b.; Frost, f. s. s.; Hunter, r. l.; Randall, (Snider) c. f.

The Grand Trunk Shops proved easy winners over the Regiment last night by a score of 22 to 6. The infantry did not get a look in at the game. The Shops scoring heavily on three occasions. The wind-up was good, however, as both teams failed to score towards the last.

G.T.R. Shops—Symons, p.; Knott, c.; Goyer 1 b.; Smith 2 b.; W. Mytes 1 s. s.; F. Miles, r. s. s.; J. Miles, 2 b.; Hunter, r. l.; Randall, (Snider) c. f.

CANADA GETS THE LONDON SUCCESSES BEFORE NEW YORK

New York Managers Realize Canadian Audiences Are as Discriminating as Those of New York.

By Ben Deacon. NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Canada's position in the theatrical world appears to be gradually assuming greater importance in the estimation of New York. There was a time—when the Dominion was looked upon merely as a convenient burying ground for the New York failure.

Then, a good many of the New York producing firms were under the impression that anything—any old thing at all—could get by Canada. Canadians were practically dependent upon productions labelled "Made in the U.S.A." and therefore the theory prevailed that Canadians should be satisfied with whatever New York chose to send them.

The fifth-rate companies, and the shows which fizzled out after a brief season here were shunted across the border, very often press-agented as the "hits of the season" and "original New York casts." But things have changed. New York managers have discovered that Canadian audiences are as discriminating as those of New York and possibly just a little more reluctant to pay good money to see a poor show.

WHAT SHALL I DO ?

Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE.

MAKE IT A STAGE PARTY.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: My husband wants to entertain the men in his store, but there are two girls and he is afraid they will feel hurt if they are not invited. He would like to do something for them, too, but he thinks the men will have a better time if the girls don't come. What do you think?—An Employer's Wife.

A WOMAN'S PRIVILEGE.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: Will you settle this question for us? Should a girl ask a man to call on her or should she wait until he asks to come?—The D. O. D. Girls.

A.—Why not let your husband invite the men to a stag party, and then the next evening you invite the two young women to dinner at your home and to the theatre or motion picture show afterwards—or if Saturday afternoon is a holiday with you, ask them to be your guests then and for tea afterwards at some nearby tea room.

THE KIND OF A WATCH YOU WANT

Our long experience in selling Watches has taught us that men demand first of all service—a watch that will keep accurate time over a long period, with the minimum of upkeep cost. Next they value appearance—a good looking watch that does credit to their taste. And they want both service and appearance at a fair price—full value for their money.

So deal only in movements of established reputation for satisfactory service, in thoroughly well made, carefully fitted cases that protect the watch and satisfy pride in appearance, making our prices values that honor purchasing judgment. Gruen Verthinn

Canadian audiences are to have an opportunity of hearing Joseph Hislop, the Scotch tenor of the Covent Garden Company. Announcement was made that at the end of a ten weeks' season in Chicago he will tour the principal cities of Canada and the United States before returning to the Old Country. Details of his engagements in the Dominion have not yet been announced, but it is likely that he will be in Canada toward the latter part of January.

The invitation from Moira was more than appreciated by those who attended and all who took part expressed their desire to be more fully concentrated. Mr. Bert Andrews has returned to his duties at the G. T. R. station, Nanapanee, after spending his holidays with his parents, also a few days in Toronto and Peterboro. All who attended the drama in Stirling Opera House 'The Reward of Virtue' one evening last week are of the opinion it is worth seeing over again. Our pastor preached a sermon that appealed to all last Sunday on the great need of repentance and remission of sins in our churches today. Those who missed the Sunday evening service in Stirling Methodist Church missed hearing a very helpful sermon on the 'Second Chance', by the pastor, also excellent music by the choir and a well rendered solo by Mrs. Haight. Rev. E. A. Tonkin of Bowmanville, visited friends here one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Fitchett spent Wednesday, the 24th, with friends near Corbyville. 4TH CON. OF THURLOW Our pulpit was occupied on Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Mutton of Bayside circuit. Mr. McMullen went to Centenary to preach the Reopening Services there. Misses Edna and Bertha Badgley and Mr. Perry Badgley spent Sunday at Mr. J. Hanna's. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Phillips visited at Mr. J. Ritz's on Sunday. Mrs. W. Yateman entertained company Saturday afternoon and evening. Mr. Bruce Martin had the misfortune to run a pitchfork in his foot on Saturday last. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Leaverton spent Friday last at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. S. Cooley's. Misses Irene Cole and Greta Bradshaw spent the week-end in Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Badgley of Caniffton, spent Sunday evening at Mr. Wm. Badgley's. Mrs. Sarah Kethapap spent a few days last week at Mr. Wm. Badgley's. Mr. D. Yorke, of Foxboro, visited at Mr. Blake Way's on Thursday last. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cole took tea at Mr. G. Babcock's, Belleville, on Sunday evening. NILES' CORNERS Mrs. Benjamin Ellis spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. E. Cruickshanks, at Melville. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. May and family, of Little Kingston, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. Ryan spent a recent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Spencer, Lake Shore Road. Miss Gladys Spencer, Lake Shore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Spencer, Lake Shore and Mr. Audley Terwilliger of this place were married Nov. 17th. Their many friends wish for them a long and happy life. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellis went to Picton on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ellis and Grandmother Clarke, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ryan on Wednesday. Cloverdale factory starts making creamery butter the first part of December. Mr. Earl Ellis was quite indisposed last week but is better at the time of writing. Our whooping cough patients are all better. BIG ISLAND Our deer hunters returned from the chase flushed with success. Sorry to report Mr. Chas. Peck on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Smith, Northport, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerr. Rev. and Mrs. Garrett were guests on Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cole. Mr. and Mrs. W. Wager spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Graves. Mr. Peter Barrager and bride of Brighton, are visiting friends on the Island.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerr were guests on a recent Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Carr. CARRYING PLACE The Ladies' Aid held a chicken pie supper in St. John's Hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 24. Proceeds amounted to $45.00. The Kenny Music Company came over from Trenton and held a concert in the Hall on Friday evening. Everyone seemed to have a good laugh. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Garbutt spent the week-end in Belleville. The funeral of Mr. Wm. Vangeson was held on Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in Carrying Place cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Daughine from Hornsby are spending a few days at Mr. Smith Row's. Mrs. Vangeson and Miss Bush took dinner on Sunday at Ernie Bonters. Mrs. Alf. Dymond and Mrs. O. Moynes called on Mrs. Hicks Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Jones and family called on Mrs. Vangeson Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Jones spent Friday evening at Mr. M. Flindall's. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weese and family from Trenton spent Sunday at Frances Weese's. Messrs. Wm. Daughine and Fred Rowe spent Friday afternoon at Harry Allison's. Mrs. Frank Young and family are taking a month's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orser are moving to Trenton. WELLINGTON Mrs. Eliza Cooper, of Westlake, paid a short visit to Wallace Garrett's during the week end. She has now gone to visit her son, Mr. Sherman Cooper, Cobourg, where she expects to spend the winter. Mrs. Monica and Mrs. Porter of Picton, are staying at the Hotel Wellington for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Parker, of Imperial, Sask., are visiting at Joseph Jenk's. Wilfrid Callow, who unfortunately had a chip of a stone fly into his left eye about seven weeks ago, is still compelled to wear an eye-shade. He has had it examined at Toronto under the X-Rays and he may have to go to a specialist at Belleville. That great interest is being shown by our community in the proposed Consolidated School for the district including Hollowell and Hillier was evidenced by the good attendance of men at a special meeting of the rate-payers, called by School Inspector Smith, for nominations for Trustees at the Masonic Hall on Monday night. Mrs. Alice Cronk, who met with an accident through falling from a wagon, will be pleased to hear of her improvement, so that she was able to visit her mother, Mrs. Amos Garrett, on Sunday. Jennie Osborne Byers was slightly indisposed last but is able to out again. Miss Olga Webster made an unfortunate slip on the ice last week and badly wrenched her back. IVANHOE We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jas. McKee is seriously ill. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Rollins spent Sunday afternoon with relatives at Holloway. The fowl supper at St. Andrews on Monday evening last was well attended. The Beniah S. S. intend holding a Xmas concert on Tuesday evening, Dec. 8th, in the Town Hall, Ivanhoe. Miss Pearl Newton, educationist of Toronto, has been engaged for the evening. Mr. S. Prest spent Sunday out of town. Mr. Thos. Tanner and family, have moved into our neighborhood from Thurlow. Mr. Richard Seeley and family, have moved to their old home here. CARMEL Sunday School was well attended at this appointment on Sunday. Miss Prindle gave a splendid report of the Sunday School convention which was held in Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. Darce spent the week end with friends at Fuller. Mr. and Mrs. Pitman visited, at Mr. Gilberts on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howe spent Sunday with friends at Foxboro. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and family spent Friday evening at Mr. Tummons, Eighth Line. Several of our young people attended the drama at Bethel last week. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Pitman visited at Mr. Owen Roblin's, Salem, on Sunday. We are sorry to report very little improvement in Mrs. Bennett's condition. INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL AND NATIONAL PROSPERITY

Address Delivered Before the Belleville Rotary Club Yesterday by Mr. Geo. E. Appell, Chief Chemist of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company of Corbyville.

An outstanding and valuable address was delivered at yesterday's noon luncheon of the Belleville Rotary Club by Mr. George E. Appell, Chief Chemist of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company.

Mr. Appell described alcohol as "harnessed sunlight." Its sources were carbohydrates stored up in plant life. The sun by taking up the carbon dioxide from the air and combining it with hydrogen and oxygen gave a never failing reservoir from which to draw alcohol.

Alcohol, he predicted, would be the future great source of light, heat and power.

Mr. Appell said in part:—

Before Kaisers and Statesmen declare War, it behooves them to learn how much Alcohol their Nation is producing and consuming in an industrial way. Because of her failure to encourage the fullest development of Industrial Alcohol before the memorable year of 1914, Canada was placed in the awkward position whereby Alcohol for the manufacture of Munitions and a hundred other articles of Field Equipment must needs be imported, or else, import the finished articles themselves.

Such conditions were materially modified when the management of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company Limited of Montreal, Quebec and Corbyville, Ontario, redesigned and augmented their plant and placed it under modern scientific control; Imperial Munitions Board and the Aetna Explosives Company.

This was another example of Canadian patriotism and courage backed up with the unclouded vision that Canada's industrial expansion when the war had been won, would be sorely in need of Alcohol, free of Excise Tax, and of any restrictions that would curtail its use by the many manufacturers to whom it is just as much a process material as is Lime, Sulphuric Acid, Leather, Cotton, Oras, etc.

When the vital significance of Tax Free Alcohol was brought to the attention of the present Government early in the year 1919, the Advisory Council for Industrial and Scientific Research was invited to draw up a bill adequately covering the situation. The object of this legislation was, on the one hand, to permit the manufacture and sale of Alcohol, Tax Free for use by the Public as an article of general utility, for light, heat, and fuel. Also for use in the manufacture of about a hundred and fifty articles of commerce, for use in hospitals, laboratories and Educational Institutions. On the other hand, to protect the Government against the mis-use of such Alcohol and prevent its being diverted for beverage purposes. The Council drew up a bill which was substantially the same as the legislation enacted in England back in 1908 and which paralleled that of the United States, France and Belgium, Italy and Germany. Not until the close of the present session of Parliament was anything accomplished, when Bill No. 178 was enacted. Unfortunately it was very poorly modified from the original one endorsed by the Advisory Council, nevertheless it represents a step forward towards the ultimate goal. Doubtless a succeeding Parliament will add the necessary amendments when it is shown how easily its terms can be administered and what hearty cooperation will be accorded the Department of Inland Revenue by those Manufacturers and Dealers who will benefit therefrom.

The Bill reads as follows:—

(Part I—Alcohol.)

"268. In this Part, and in any regulation made hereunder, unless the context otherwise requires:—

(a) "denatured alcohol" means alcohol in suitable admixture with such denaturants as to render it in the judgment of the Minister non-potable and to prevent recovery of the ethyl alcohol;

(b) "specially denatured alcohol" means alcohol in suitable admixture with such special denaturants as have been approved by the Minister;

(c) "Minister" means the Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue;

(d) "regulation" means a regulation made under the provisions of this part

Translated into every day working conditions, the terms of the Bill mean that (1st) the alcohol will be denatured with some chemical to render it poisonous if taken internally; at the same time its properties for the many general uses will be not in the least affected. It will be put before the general public as "Methyl-Hydrate"—"Poison" and its distribution will be through the same channels as any other commodity which can be used as a Cleanser, Carbon-Remover, Fuel for chaffing dishes, Coffee Urns, Lamps, etc., Anti-freeze mixture or Motor fuel. It should not take the Public very long to become acquainted with the advantages and varied uses of this commodity (2ndly) These Manufacturers, who in their processing, need Alcohol as an agent, solvent, participant or raw material, may apply to the Department of Inland Revenue for a permit to purchase Alcohol in admixture with suitable amounts of approved chemicals that would conform with their particular process of manufacture, and at the same time render the Alcohol unfit for beverage purposes. They will have to comply with certain departmental regulations as a protection against any unscrupulous attempts to recover the alcohol contained in this specially denatured grade.

It will probably be a revelation to many readers of this article that the manufacturers of the following commodities require alcohol in varying quantities:—

Aesthetic Ether (or Ethyl Acetate) Wool Fat or Lanolin, Alkaloids and Fine Chemicals, Barometer and Thermometer Tubes, Spirit Levels, Benzoin, Naphthol, Brushes, Chemicals and Pharmaceuticals, Cocoa Butter, Confectionery Colors, Cutlery, Dental Alloys, Disinfectants and Germicides, Door Checks, Embalming Fluid, Essential Oils, Ethyl Chloride, Filaments for incandescent electric lamps, Formaldehydes, Cleaning and Gelling Capsules, Glycerine, Glycerophosphates, Hats (Felt and others), Inks, Jewellery and Watches, Lacquers, Pastes and varnishes for soluble cotton, Linoleum, Mirrors, Mouldings, Picture frames, Moth Repellents, Non-scorchable glass, Photographic Dry Plates and Films, Pianoforte, Polish for Metals, Popsin, Post-cards and Colors, Refining Mineral Oils, Refining Precious metals, Transparent and Liquid Soaps, Sello, Shellac, Varnish, Shellac Reducers, Shoes Polish, Silverware and Bronze, Smokeless Powder, Soldering Flux, Solids Medicinal Extracts, Surgical Ligatures, Varnish Remover, Wood Polish and Furniture manufacture, Celluloid and Pyralin products, Ether, Fulminate of Mercury, Imitation Leather, Purification of Rubber, All kinds of smoking tobacco, Deodorants, Photo Engravings, Santonins, Milk Protein, Artificial Silks, Vinegar, Chloroform, Phenacetin, Various Tintures and Liximents and many others.

In the past alcohol for such commodities could only be obtained either from the Inland Revenue Methylating Division at Ottawa, or else from the Distiller, when a heavy excise tax had to be paid, and in many cases their manufacture could not compete with similar products imported from countries where Alcohol was tax free and therefore, cheap nor was it hedged in with restrictions as to its production, distribution and use. Now to illustrate operations under the new conditions, let us take for example those requiring Alcohol for filaments for incandescent lamps, inks, Post-cards and Colors, Moulding and Picture Frames, Jewellery and Watches, can obtain Methyl Hydrate direct from the manufacturer or any dealer. However, those manufacturing transparent soaps cannot use this grade effectively in their process, therefore, upon receipt of a departmental permit are able to secure direct from the manufacturer or dealer, alcohol to which caustic soda has been added. This admixture while decidedly unfit for Cook-Tails, makes a suitable material for processing soap. Also the manufacturers of Photographic materials should be able under similar conditions to secure alcohol in admixture with cadmium iodide and ammonium iodide. Economy of space prevents the illustration of the complete list of manufacturer set forth in the preceding paragraph. However, if some manufacturer cannot find a listed formula of the specially denatured grade that would be exactly suitable for his particular process, he could respectfully petition the Minister of Inland Revenue for one that would comply advantageously.

What is Tax Free Industrial Alcohol going to do for Canada? We can only base calculations on developments in other countries. Germany was producing over one hundred million gallons of alcohol per annum. United States fifty-five million, which approximately twelve million were Methyl-Hydrate and forty-three million specially denatured grades. France and Austria-Hungary pro-

CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHES

Successfully Relieved by this Great Fruit Medicines, "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Indigestion, constant Headaches and Constipation. I took various medicines for the trouble but nothing seemed to do me any good. Then, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. Now I am free of Indigestion and Headaches, and my Constipation is cured, and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine.

"Fruit-a-lives is a great medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor."

GULLIVER-GROFF

Wesley Methodist Church was the scene of a very pretty event on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 23rd, when George H. Gulliver, Belleville, led to the altar, Lenora A. Groff, one of Trenton's fairest daughters.

The church bells rang out a merry alarm as the bride party left the family residence on Dundas Street, promptly at 3.30 p.m. the groom accompanied his bride to the church. The organ at which Miss Muriel Bonte presided pealed forth the wedding march. The bride leaning upon the arm of her father, Mr. H. E. Groff, took her place at the side of the groom.

The service was conducted by the pastor Rev. W. G. Clarke, upon the solemn words were spoken pronouncing them husband and wife while the register was being signed Mrs. Arthur Sprentall sang in pleasing voice "Because."

The organ and bells once more joined to proclaim the departure of the happy couple. A dainty luncheon was served at the bride's home. Immediately after luncheon the newly wedded couple left by train for Trenton in Canada and the United States, bearing with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

The bride was charmingly attired in a taupe travelling suit elegantly embroidered in silk with seal collar, and wore an embroidered toque to match. There were many beautiful presents.

Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gulliver, Sr. Belleville; Marjory and Mary Gulliver Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Clarke, Ewen H. McLean, Toronto, Vivian White, Rhea A. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schryver and daughter, Louise, Belleville, Mrs. G. W. Schryver, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Vassaw, Miss Muriel Bonte, Mrs. Arthur Sprentall and etc.

A large gathering of people witnessed the ceremony in the church. Trenton Courier.

DEMAREST—DONNAN

On Wednesday afternoon, 24th inst., a very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Donnan, when Mary Donnan was united in marriage to Bruce Demarest. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Robt. Simpson, after which the young couple left by train for Trenton and points west.

Prior to the wedding the bride was showered with beautiful and costly gifts, showing the esteem in which she is held by many friends. Stirling News-Argus.

MR. C. ROY FRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He States That They Relieved His Son of Bad Wetting and Himself of Bladder Trouble.—Ask Your Neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Thierville Office, Bonaventure-Que., Dec. 27. (Special.)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills have been successfully used by both old and young as a remedy for kidney ills is again shown by the statement of Mr. Clement Roy, of this place.

"I am glad to be able to state," Mr. Roy says, "that Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved my little boy of bed wetting. They also helped my bladder trouble. I cannot say too much in praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy pure and simple. But bladder and urinary troubles come as a result of weak or diseased kidneys. The natural way to treat such troubles is to strengthen or help the kidneys.

Mr. Roy acted on this principle when he used Dodd's Kidney Pills for his own and his son's troubles. The satisfaction he got is voiced by his statement:

"I, Roy, have now used them years. They have never let me down. If Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the remedy for kidney ills, Nov. 17th, when Miss Evelyn Mar-

HUNTER—WRING

A quiet but a wedding of much interest took place at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Sherbourne street, Toronto, on Thursday November 25, when Julia M. third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Wring, of Roblin, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Aubrey Milton Hunter, of Sedan. Rev. Father Ellard officiating. The bride was becomingly gowned in blue dress of kitten's ear trope, with hat to match and hudson-seal coat, and carried sweetheart roses, her only ornament being a ring of pearls, the gift of the groom. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Jerry Wring, of Roblin, and attended by her sister, Miss J. Wring, who looked smart in blue dress of satin charmeuse with hudson-seal coat and hat, and carried a handsome beaded bag the gift of the groom. The groom was assisted by Dr. F. Mahoney, of Cornwall.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for an extended trip through the United States. On their return they will duced slightly less, the United Kingdom, thirty-seven million gallons and Italy and Sweden twenty million gallons. Times it has been pointed out that Industrial Alcohol has become the accurate index of National prosperity. If Canada's industries were to supply only her own population, she would require approximately four million gallons per annum, but it means that Canadian Manufacturers must figure upon turning from the higher priced solvents or raw materials which they were forced to use under past conditions; that they can now figure upon entering fields of manufacture formerly unprofitable through the lack of Tax Free Alcohol and that many of them will be able to successfully double or triple their present output. Methyl-Hydrate should keep automobile radiators from freezing up during our Canadian winters. That every household will find convenience in its can or bottle of Methyl-Hydrate, this will also extend to the garage for removing carbon in the engine cylinder. Then there are its two great potentialities; the development of lamps fitted with incandescent mantles, wherein one gallon of Methyl-Hydrate will give twice the candle hours of Kerosene, secondly its development as an efficient motor fuel for automobiles, trucks and tractors. Nor let it be overlooked that Canada has today waste products of very little value which present great possibilities for development into manufacturing of its increasing demand for Industrial Alcohol. However, if Canada were to call for its full quota of four million gallons during the year 1920-21 this quantity could easily be supplied by the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company Limited with its present modernized equipment and organization, imbued with the spirit of service and desire to participate in Canada's general industrial development.

"370." Denatured alcohol as defined in the next preceding section which is intended for use in the arts and industries, or for fuel, light or power, or for any mechanical purpose, and be manufactured in Canada free from excise duty.

"371." (1) Denatured Alcohol shall be sold, delivered and transported without restriction to dealers, manufacturers and other persons.

(2) Specially denatured alcohol shall only be sold or delivered under a departmental permit, to dealers and manufacturers to be used in the arts and industries in cases where denatured alcohol would be unsuitable and shall only be moved or transported under such conditions as the Minister may by regulations prescribe.

"372." The recovery of alcohol after it has been used for industrial purposes and its redistillation and purification shall only be done on the premises in which the alcohol was used or at a duly licensed distillery, and all alcohol recovered on the premises aforesaid, must be used in the same manufacturing establishment in which it was originally used.

"373." (1) All vessels, the capacity of which is one gallon or less, when containing wood alcohol or denatured alcohol, whether in the possession of the manufacturers or other person shall have affixed thereto a label bearing the words "Methyl-Hydrate—Poison" in black letters on white ground not less than one-fourth of an inch in height. If the capacity of the packages exceeds one gallon, a label shall be affixed thereto bearing the inscription heretofore defined, in black letters on white ground not less than one-half of an inch in height.

(2) Except as herein otherwise provided, any person who holds in possession, sells, exchanges, delivers any alcohol or specially denatured alcohol contrary to the provisions of this Part, shall be liable upon summary conviction to a penalty of not less than two hundred dollars and not exceeding five hundred dollars.

"374." No person who has not been licensed as herein provided, shall carry on the business of the manufacture of wood alcohol.

"375." (1) A license to carry on the business of the manufacture of wood alcohol may be granted to any person who has complied with the provisions of this Act, if the granting of such license has been approved by the district inspector and the person has, jointly with a guarantee company, approved by the Department, entered into a bond to His Majesty in the sum of four thousand dollars.

(2) Such bond shall be conditioned for the rendering of all accounts, investments, statements and returns prescribed by law, and for the payments of all penalties which the person to whom the license is to be granted becomes liable to render or pay under the provisions of this Act, and that such person will faithfully comply with the requirements thereof according to their true intent and meaning.

"376." The persons in whose favour a license is granted for the manufacture of wood alcohol shall, upon receiving such license, pay to the collector the sum of one dollar.

"377." All the provisions of Part II. of this Act respecting bonded manufacturers licenses and obligations of persons holding them, the keeping of books or accounts, and the making of returns so far as applied by departmental regulations, and all provisions respecting penalties, so far as applicable, shall have full force and effect with respect to the manufacture of wood alcohol, the manufacture, denaturing, special denaturing and recovery of alcohol and the persons licensed as herein provided as if such provisions had been inserted with special reference to the manufacture, denaturing, special denaturing and recovery of alcohol and the issue of licenses for such manufacturers.

Men's Banquet at John St.

Enjoyable Function To Observe St. Andrew's.

St. Andrew's Day was observed by the men of the congregation of John Street, Presbyterian Church, last evening, when a magnificent spread was placed before a large gathering in the church parlors. The session and board of managers made possible the function and the ladies of the congregation put on the banquet. Mr. Mac Robertson occupied the chair and addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Mr. D. V. Sinclair, Mr. R. J. Graham and Rev. D. C. Ramsay. The gathering was informal and its purpose was to bring the men of the church together in a social way.

Secretary Morley Expresses Gratitude

Associated Boards of Trade Grateful For Entertainment.

Mayor Riggs has received from Secretary-Treasurer Morley the following expression of thanks from the Associated Boards of Trade which met here last week.

Toronto, 30th November 1920. His Worship, the Mayor, Belleville, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Mayor,— I am directed by the Executive of our Association to enclose herewith copy of Resolution which was unanimously adopted at the close of our session last Friday. May I add my personal appreciation for the many courtesies extended. Speaking from an experience of nearly ten years, since inauguration, I can assure you that the delegates left Belleville with the feeling that this must be considered as the best yet.

My kind regards to you, your colleagues and the citizens in general. Yours faithfully,

F. G. Morley, Secretary-Treasurer.

Moved by Mr. A. J. Young, seconded by Mr. J. G. Elliott that the thanks of the Ontario Association of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, be tendered to the Corporation of the City of Belleville for placing at our disposal their Council Chamber for the purpose of holding the Seventh Annual Meeting of the Association, and also for their kind hospitality to the Delegates during their sojourn in Belleville.

DISPOSES OF BUSINESS.

Mrs. Myrtle DeShane has disposed of her news and tobacco business on Front Street to the United Cigars Stores, Limited.

ENGINEER BADLY INJURED.

John Flaherty, senior engineer on the Barrie district of the G.T.R. is out of service at present with a very sore hand. He was standing beside his engine when the fireman threw out a large chunk from the fire box which struck Mr. Flaherty on the shoulder and arm, cutting his hand badly and severing an artery. As it was over a mile to the nearest doctor he lost a large quantity of blood before he reached the office.

APPELATES STORY.

The Belleville Ontario is publishing a serial entitled "Roughing It in the Bush," written by the late Susanna Moodie, a pioneer settler of Ontario. This story gives a vivid account of the early life and struggles of the pioneers and would prove an attractive, interesting and profitable book for a school library, says a correspondent to The Picton Times. It might be that the younger generations would prize their noble heritage more if they realized the arduous toil and hardship which Ontario's early settlers endured when they blazed the trail in the unbroken wilderness for following generations. Frequently, it is observed, that boys and girls proficient in British and even Ancient History have little knowledge of and fondness for the history of their own country. This is not as it should be, and stories, legends, etc., with local color, should be carefully preserved, that the younger Canadians may become by this knowledge, loyal and patriotic citizens proud of the fact that "they were born in Canada beneath the British flag."

DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

The Belleville Club, assisted by the Ladies committee, gave a most enjoyable "At Home" last night at their spacious and comfortable club rooms. In response to the invitations about seventy members of the club, many of them from out of town, enjoyed the entertainment provided. Cards and dancing were the principal features. Refreshments were served at 10 o'clock. The decorations were beautiful clusters of chrysanthemums. The party broke up at one o'clock, all feeling that the ladies' committee who were so usual indefatigable in their efforts to make it a success.

"GET TOGETHER MEETING."

A "Get-Together" meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow, (Thursday) night at the City Hall. All who are interested in the progress of Belleville are cordially invited to attend. Everyone will be given an opportunity to offer suggestions for the new program of work for the coming year. Mr. R. J. Graham has kindly consented to occupy the chair. The general public, whether a member of the Chamber or not, will be welcome. A large attendance is looked for and an interesting evening is assured.

CLEAN AUTO MARKERS, OR—

An autocrat for driving with his car markers so obscured by mud that the number could not be read, was fined $5, and costs in Police Court this morning.

TABERNACLE BAZAAR.

At the Tabernacle church school rooms yesterday the annual Christmas bazaar was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the church. The sale was attended by a large number of people and the many booths did a flourishing business. The entire auditorium was a hive of activity. All classes of fancy goods, candles, home-made cooking, were sold in abundance. The decorations for the event were appropriate to the Yuletide season.

SMALL BLAZE.

Fire was reported at 2.10 this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Reesor, corner of Tremains and Benjamin streets. The blaze caught upstairs but was fortunately under control before the firemen reached the scene, the neighbors having carried water. The main damage was by water and smoke. The origin is unknown. The fire was made a fast run, the first arriving in just six minutes' time in spite of the poor road conditions.

MICHAEL KELLEHER.

The death occurred early this morning at the General Hospital of Michael Kelleher. He was born in Belleville in 1854 and spent his entire life here. He was a son of the late Michael Kelleher. In early life he was in the service of the Grand Trunk and latterly had been with the Elliott Co. Surviving are three brothers—William and Charles of Belleville and John of Trenton. He was a widow. Mr. Kelleher belonged to the Methodist Church. The remains were taken to the home of his brother, Mr. Charles Kelleher, 108 Dundas street. He had been ill but a few days.

Wedding Bells

BEFORE—PETS

A quiet wedding took place in the Methodist church on Tuesday forenoon when Miss Mary Potts, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Potts was united in marriage to Wilbert Bedore, also of Marmora. Rev. W. P. Woodger officiated. The contracting parties were unattended. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends were present. After the ceremony a dainty wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, and the happy couple left for a short visit to Toronto. The bride and groom are popular in Marmora and they have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.—Tweed Advocate.

ASTHMA NO LONGER DREADED.

The dread of renewed attacks from asthma has no hold upon those who have learned to rely upon Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. So safe do they feel that complete reliance is placed on this true specific with the certainty that it will do all that its makers claim. If you have not yet learned how safe you are with this preparation at hand get it today and know for yourself.

Miss Mary Sheehan, a former resident of Belleville, died this morning in Montreal, and the body will be brought here Thursday. Further particulars tomorrow.

Obituary

LINDSEY D. ELLIOTT. The death of Mr. Lindsey D. Elliott, which took place in Calgary, Alta., on Saturday last, he had been in poor health for a long while—ever since his return from overseas, as a member of the 21st Alberta Reserve Battalion. Born in Hungerford township, near Tweed, he spent the early part of his life there, being a son of the late William Henry Elliott. Later he bought the William Henry Ketcheson farm on the Front of Sidney, where he lived for many years until his removal to Carbon, Alta., where he was engaged in ranching for a time. Of a genial, likeable disposition, he was known by many residents of Belleville and Sidney township, who will learn with regret of his passing. Two sons, W. Brock Elliott and Lindsey C. Elliott, both of Carbon, Alta., are left; his wife, who was a daughter of the late Isaac Brock Ostrom, of Sidney, predeceasing him some years. A sister, Mrs. Charles Green, of Belleville, a brother, Mr. Samuel Elliott, of Tweed, and other relatives survive.

MRS. GRISDALE DIES. Mrs. Laura Grisdale, wife of Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, died suddenly last night at 11.30 o'clock at the family residence at the Experimental Farm. She was in her forty-eighth year. She was a daughter of the late Albert and Mrs. Jehu Vipond, of Hudson, Que. Besides her husband she leaves five children; three sons, Hume, attending Macdonald College; Albert and Simpson; and two daughters, the Misses Helen and Caroline, at home. Dr. Grisdale attended Albert College here several years ago and two years ago addressed the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Convention in this city. On this occasion, he was the guest of his cousin, Mr. F. H. Henry, Charles St. Mr. and Mrs. Henry visited at his home in Ottawa a year ago last winter.

MRS. MARY ANN PARRY. The death occurred this morning of Mrs. Mary Ann Parry after a few days' serious illness from dropsy and heart failure at her home, third concession of Sidney. She was born 83 years ago in England, and came to Canada at the age of six years. For 61 years she had lived in Sidney. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Parry's husband, Wm. H. Parry, predeceased her. Surviving are one son, George W. Parry, of Sidney, one daughter, Annie Jane Parry and three sisters and two brothers.

The Condition of Ireland To-day

Report by a Committee, The Society of Friends.

(Reprinted from The London Times) At its September meeting the Executive Committee of the Society of Friends had before it the disturbed condition of Ireland. After serious consideration it was decided to send a deputation to visit the country to gather facts and impressions and report to a subsequent meeting as to the possibility of relief, reconstruction, and reconciliation. The deputation numbered three, of whom the writer was one. It may fairly be claimed that they went with open minds, anxious to receive light from whatever quarter it might shine. It is thought that some account of what was seen and what impressions were received may be of general interest. The chief centres visited were Dublin, Belfast, Limerick, Cork, visits being also made from these to places in the neighbourhood. Our interviews were with men of every shade of opinion—Unionists, Nationalists, Sinn Feiners, Protestants, Orangemen, Catholics, Labour leaders. They included members of Parliament, Bishops, business men, university professors, members of the Sinn Fein cabinet, Sinn Fein Judges, Journalists, working men. Altogether we had about 60 interviews besides attending groups and conferences. Everywhere we were received with unfailing courtesy and kindness, and every facility was given for carrying out our commission. First of all as to what we saw. On the surface Dublin was quiet, but while we were in the north Mr. Lynch was shot in a Dublin hotel and one or two encounters took place between the Irish Volunteers and the military. It was in Dublin that we had our first experience of the curfew, and received particulars of the burning of the 17 co-operative creameries. There, too, we found that there are two governments in Ireland—that of the Crown and that of the Irish Republic. Each has its Cabinet, its Executive, its armed forces, its courts of justice. It is no exaggeration to say that 50 per cent. of Ireland regards allegiance to the Irish Republic, whether willingly or unwillingly, and that in that regard the majority of the British Government rests upon force and not upon consent. In Belfast we saw something of the ruin caused by the recent outbreaks, but it was not until we visited Lisburn, a short distance from the city, that we began to understand how fierce the violence had been. House after house, shop after shop, burnt out completely, in some cases not even the outer walls left standing. The marvel was how the flames had been kept from spreading and the whole town saved from destruction. In the outskirts were all that was left of one or two good houses standing in their own grounds—bare walls and heaps of debris. Going to Limerick we found several ruined houses, where the work of destruction had been carried out with extraordinary completeness. Painted in large letters on the walls left standing were such sentences as "The work of the Black and Tans," "The work of the R.I.C." In Kerry street, which had been raided but not burned, we found that practically every window, both glass and woodwork, had been smashed, doors burst open, and furniture, ornaments, earthenware, in fact everything breakable, included in one common destruction. The accounts given were most graphic. Here it was a woman showing the remains of cherished ornaments and looking glass, there another lamenting over the shattered remains of a wardrobe, and again another pointing to a plaster cast of the Virgin and rejoicing that it had been spared. Leaving this Via dolorosa it was not surprising to find on the walls of some neighbouring buildings such inscriptions as "Sorrow to England," "Damn England." Ruined Villages. From Limerick we made a long round by motor-car to visit three villages which had just been "shot up." These were Ennistymon, Lahinch, and Milltown Malay. The first sign of trouble was out telephone wires. This had been done in two places. On entering Ennistymon the acrid smell of burning met us everywhere. Some of the ruins were still smoking, and here and there flame was flickering over the ashes. A man who had been present during the raid told us of the frenzy of the attack, the wild shouting, the blazing houses, the bullets whizzing past his head as he tried to bring two women from the street into a place of safety, the shooting of a man and the hurling of the body into the flames.

As we left the village a jerry passed us manned by armed police, and carrying on the floor two coffins. Presumably these were for two of a party of police ambushed and shot a day or two before. Lahinch had suffered more than Ennistymon. "Come this way, sir," said a man. We followed. There at the back of the houses in a low poor shed was a comparatively small chest covered with a white cloth, and on the top a few flowers. "He was burnt, sir, in one of the houses. He was a stranger; we don't know who he was." This was all that was left. Now we are talking to a woman—"When they came to my house I begged and prayed them not to burn it. The man at the door was tall and thin. I could see him plainly, for it was bright moonlight, and there was the light from the burning houses. I pleaded hard, 'Don't burn this house; there's no one but women and children in it!' And he went away and did not burn it." Again we are questioning a man who had succeeded in putting out the flames in his house, a small inn. "I carried the water up here. I was afraid they would see what I was doing and shoot me. But they were not so bad off after all. There were some visitors upstairs, and they helped them out with their luggage. They said, 'It's not women and children we want. It's men we're after. We're out for blood.' And now we leave the houses to go into the main street. A crowd is moving slowly from the farther end. A coffin, carried shoulder-high by the men of the village, is being borne to the cemetery. With bared heads we join in the march. It is the funeral of one of those killed in the raid. A short interval, and then a change. A motor-lorry, carrying six or eight soldiers with trench helmets, bayonets, and rifles at "the ready," passes through the village. I stand looking hard at this symbol of physical power. The soldiers' eyes range over doors, windows, and doorways, their fingers are on the rifle-triggers. I think of the charred remnants of the stranger a few yards away in the shed, of the coffin carried shoulder-high, my eyes rest on the ruin left by the fire, and I cannot deny that a feeling of fierce anger flames up within me. And then, like a flash, comes the recollection of the men we have seen leaving Ennistymon, with its armed policemen guarding the curfew lines, and I think of the murdered policemen, their widows and little children, and there, as in columns of flame, the conflict and the tragedy of Ireland is before me.

Potatoes Are Slow Sellers

Butter Slumps Somewhat—Eggs Advance—Hides Market Low. Potatoes were rather slow today. They were held higher but did not result in sales. Potatoes sold down to $1.75 and $1.50 per bag. A few sold early at $2.00.

Continuing our drive, we saw evidence that the reprisals had not been confined to villages and towns, but that isolated farms and cottages had been included. In other respects the country looked prosperous. The cottages and farm buildings are well thatched and cleanly whitewashed; and, indeed, we were assured from many quarters that Ireland is financially prosperous.

On the last night which we spent in Cork I was awakened at about 2 o'clock by an explosion. Springing to the window I looked out. There was a good deal of firing, the coming and going of lorries and armoured cars, and a searchlight in the distance. Two or three times I got back into bed, only to hurry to the window again as a shot or shots rang out. Gradually matters seemed to settle down. Investigation in the morning showed that a large part of an extensive shop-front had been blown out by an explosion, and practically every pane of glass on the opposite side of the street for a considerable distance shattered by its force.

A Sinn Fein Court.

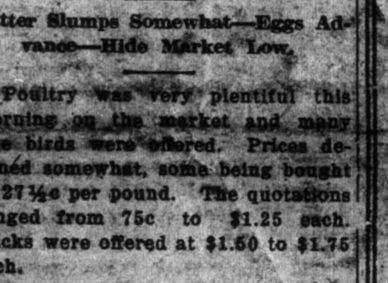

In Cork we had the opportunity of attending a Sinn Fein Court. Three young men sat on the bench, and there were about 40 people present. The cases related to the licensing laws, and the proceedings were conducted in a quiet and businesslike manner. From many quarters we received testimony to the efficiency of these Courts and to the impartiality with which they administer justice. They deal with criminal offences, questions of rent, ownership, and occupation of land.

So much for what we saw. Now for a few impressions. The old irascible Unionism except in Ulster is dead as a policy. The old constitutional Nationalist Party has gone also; one former Nationalist M.P. told me he doubted if he could find enough supporters to fill in his nomination papers. Everywhere men talk of a Republic, a liberal measure of Home Rule or Dominion Home Rule. It is not that Unionists think Home Rule the better policy, but that they regard something of the kind as inevitable. A measure of the kind which would have been sought five years ago would now at most certainly be accepted by Unionists with thankfulness. The Parliamentary Nationalist policy was discredited because it was found to lead only to disappointment, broken Government promises, Bills withdrawn, Acts suspended. No one could trust the Government. In consequence, practically the whole of the Nationalists following has gone over to Sinn Fein. We gathered, however, that while the extreme Sinn Feiners are apparently irreconcilable and will accept nothing short of an independent Irish Republic, there is a large mass of moderate opinion which would accept a well-conceived liberal measure of self-government. Several expressed the opinion that the bestowal of this would kill the agitation for independence. However, this may be I must repeat that deeds, not words, are needed. Government promises are simply disregarded.

Broadly speaking, the courses before England seem to be limited to three: Repression and yet more repression, and all that this involves. The gift of a liberal measure of self-government, including fiscal and financial control. An independent Irish Republic. I am inclined to think that England will rule out the first and third of these. What of the second? And what of the stopping of police reprisals, the withdrawal of the armed forces of the Crown as a pledge of the good faith of the Government, whose good faith also stands in need of some guarantee of this direction. But action must be prompt and decisive. Tempers are hardening. The door of opportunity is closing. Will the Government have the courage to act before it is again "too late?"

The members of the deputation were: John Henry Barlow, J.P., of Birmingham, Chairman of the Society of Friends in Great Britain from 1913 to 1919; Roger Clark, of Street, Somerset, the present Chairman of the Society; and Edith M. Ellis, daughter of the late Rt. Hon. John Edward Ellis.

Roughing It In the Bush

remember being highly amused in watching the preparation of a mess, which might have been called the Indian notch-potch. It consisted of a strange mixture of fish, deer and fowl, all bolted together in the same vessel. Ducks, partridges, maskinonge, venison, and muskrats formed a part of this delectable compound. These were literally smothered in onions, potatoes and turnips, which they had procured from me. They very hospitably offered me a dish of the odious mixture, which the odor of muskrat had rendered revolting but savoury; but I declined, simply stating that I was not hungry. My little boy tasted it, but quickly left the camp to conceal the effect it produced upon him.

Their method of broiling fish, however, is excellent. They take fish, just fresh out of the water, cut out the entrails, and without removing the scales, wash it clean dry in a cloth, or in the grass, and cover it all over with clear hot ashes. When the flesh will part from the bones, they draw it out of the ashes, strip off the skin, and it is fit for the table of the most fastidious epicure.

The deplorable want of chastity that exists among Indian women of this tribe seems to have been more the result of their intercourse with the settlers in the country, than from any previous disposition to this vice. The jealousy of their husbands has often been exercised in a terrible manner against their offending squaws; but this has not happened of late years. The men wink at these derelictions in their wives, and share with them the price of their shame.

The mixture of European blood adds greatly to the physical beauty of the half-race, but produces a sad falling-off from the original integrity of the Indian character. The half-breed is generally a lying, vicious rogue, possessing the worst qualities of both parents in an eminent degree. We have many of these half-Indians in the penitentiary, for crimes of the blackest dye.

The early loss of his hair obliged Mr. to procure the substitute of a wig. This was such a good imitation of nature that none but his intimate friends and neighbors were aware of the fact.

It happened that he had had some quarrel with an Indian, which had to be settled in one of the petty courts. The case was decided in favor of Mr., which so grieved the savage, who considered himself the injured party, that he sprang upon him with a furious yell, tomahawk in hand, with the intention of depriving him of his scalp. He twisted his hand in the locks which adorned the cranium of his adversary, when—horror of horrors!—the treacherous wig came off in his hand, "Ough!" exclaimed the frightened savage, flinging it from him, and rushing from the court as if he had been bitten by a rattlesnake. His sudden exit was deafened by peals of laughter from the crowd.

The day was sultry, and towards noon a strong wind sprang up that roared in the pine tops like the dashings of distant billows, but without the least degree of heat. The children were playing happily upon the floor for coolness, and the girl and I were finishing sun-bonnets, when Mary suddenly exclaimed, "Bless us, mistress, what a smoke!"

As I ceased speaking, John Thomas stood pale and trembling before me. "John, what is the meaning of this fire?" "Oh, mam, I hope you will forgive me. I set fire to it, and I would give all I have in the world if I had not done it."

"What is the danger?" "Oh, I'm terribly afraid that we shall be burnt up," said the fellow, beginning to whimper.

weeks, till nature drooped and withered beneath one bright beam of sunlight; and the ague and fever in the woods, and the cholera in the large towns and cities, spread death and sickness through the country. Moodie had made of twenty acres around the house. The progress of the workman had been watched by every tree that reached the ground.

The total absence of trees about the doors in all new settlements had always puzzled me. In a country where the intense heat of summer seems to demand the shade that can be procured, my husband had left several beautiful cork-elm (the most picturesque tree in the country near our dwelling, but alas! the first high gate presented all my fine trees, and left our lot of cottage entirely exposed to the fierce rays of the sun.

The confusion of an uncleared forest, piled around us on every side. Huge trunks of trees and piles of brush gave a littered and uncomfortable appearance to the locality, and as the weather had been very dry for some weeks, I heard my husband muttering, with his choppers as to the expediency of felling the fallow. They still urged him to wait a little longer, until he could get a good breeze to carry the fire well through the brush.

Business called him suddenly to Toronto, but he left a strict charge with old Thomas and his sons, who were engaged in the job, by no means intended to burn it off until he returned. "Ough!" he said, "to my shame be it said, but it is my duty to warn you."

The thought had scarcely formed in my heart before the wind rose to a hurricane, scattering the flames on all sides into a tempest of burning billows. I buried my head in my apron, for I felt that my time was come, and that my fate was sealed. "Ah!" thought I, "and it was the most bitter thought—'what will my beloved husband say when he returns and finds that his poor Susy and his dear girls have perished in this miserable manner? But God can save us yet.'" of their bad habits in such scenes, and if they afford a little help, and are sure to get intoxicated and make a row. There was my friend old Ned Dunn, who had been so anxious to get out of the burning fallow.

During the first year of his settlement in the bush, with every large family to provide for, he had been often in want of food. One day he came to my brother with a very long face.

"Mr. S— I'm no beggar, but I'd be obliged to you for a loaf of bread. I declare to you on my honor that I have not had a bit of vittals to devour for two whole days."

The next evening brought the return of a man in our town, and I was thankful to find his wife and children still in the land of the living.

For a long time after the burning of that fallow, it haunted me in my dreams. I would awake with a start, imagining myself fighting with the flames, and endeavoring to carry my wife and children to safety.

ravenous propensity, for he ate his log like a famished wolf, he had obtained his singular name of "Wittals."

upon me to bear witness to her death, that she was now his betrothed, and he would go next day with her to the "prairie." Poor Mary had reason to repent her frolic, for she stuck close to her the whole evening, tormenting her to fulfill her contract.

After the sun went down, the logging-band came in to supper, which was all ready for them. Those who remained sober ate the meal in peace, and quietly returned to their own homes, while the vicious and drunken stayed to brawl and fight.

After having placed the supper on the table, I was so tired with the noise, and heat, and fatigue of the day, that I went to bed, leaving to Mary and my husband the care of the guests.

The little bed-chamber was only separated from the kitchen by a few thin boards; and, unfortunately for me and the girl, who was soon forced to retreat thither, we could hear all the wickedness and profanity going on in the next room. My husband disgusted with the scene, soon left it, and retired into the parlour with the loggers who, at that time, were holding a "house."

"We were obliged to endure a second and a third repetition of this odious scene, before sixteen axes and were rendered fit for the reception of our fall crop of wheat. My hatred to these tumultuous and noisy meetings was not in the least diminished by the fact that they were twice seriously hurt while attending them.

Just after the last of these logging-bees, we had to part with our best servant, Mary, and just at a time when I was in the most deplorable state of mind. Her father, who had a dairyman in the north of Ireland, an honest, industrious man, had brought up, upwards of one hundred pounds to this country, and was generally successful in his business; instead of sinking all his means in buying a bad farm, he hired a very good farm in Cavan, and stock it with cattle, and returned to his old avocation. The services of his daughter, who was a competent dairymaid, were required to take the management of the cows; and her brother brought a wagon to take her home.

This event was perfectly unexpected, and left me without a moment's notice to provide myself with another servant at a time when servants were not to be had, and I was perfectly unable to do the least thing. My little Addie was sick almost to death with the summer complaint, and the eldest still too young to take care of herself.

This was but the beginning of trouble. Ague and lake fever had attacked our new settlement. The men in the shanty were all down with it, and my husband, was confined to his bed on each side of the house, unable to raise hand or foot, and raving in the delirium of the fever.

In my sister and brother's families, scarcely a healthy person remained to attend upon the sick; and at Herriott's Falls, many persons were stretched upon the floor of one log cabin, unable to help themselves or one another. After much difficulty, and only by offering enormous wages, I succeeded in procuring a nurse to attend upon my darling baby. The woman had not been a day in the house before she was attacked by the same fever. In the midst of this confusion, and with my precious little Addie lying insensible on a pillow at the foot of my bed—expected every moment to breathe her last—on the night of the 28th of August the boy I had so ardently coveted was born. The next day, old Pine carried him home, and was left away upon his back, and was left to struggle through, in the best manner I could, with a sick husband, a sick child, and a new-born babe.

Wedding Bells

A quiet wedding took place in St. Leo's Church, Mimico, when Margaret McManaman, daughter of Mrs. John McGrath, of Galt, formerly of Campbellford, was united in marriage to Vernon J. Callen, L.L.B., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Callen, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Kelly. The bride was unattended, and wore a navy blue tailored suit and hat to match. After a short trip including Galt, the bride home, the happy couple will reside in Toronto.—Campbellford Herald.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

Answered by
VIRGINIA PAGE.

JULIA O'GRADY AND THE COLONEL'S LADY.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: I am employed by a prominent man in our town, whose wife I often meet outside of the office—because this is not a large city. We are both members of a Y.W.C.A. committee and a Girl Scout organization, and we even meet socially at times. And I am always at sea to know how to act. She is not very pleasant, and I never know whether I should make the first move or wait for her to do so. Will you tell me?—A. Secretary.

A.—I am sorry your employer's wife is not cordial, for I know how embarrassing this is for you and how unjust it seems to you. In the office a pleasant businesslike manner is expected of you; you should greet her graciously, as you would any other frequent caller, and offer to assist her if possible.

When you meet on committees, you meet as equals and should act as such. You have both been chosen for special ability or connections, and are both workers in the movement. I would endeavor then, if I were you, to forget that she is your employer's wife and to consider her merely as any other member of your committee.

Socially, it is a different matter. Because she is the older and a married woman, as well as the wife of your employer, you must wait for her to make the first advance. If she fails to do so, then you must call tact and dignity to your aid, and remember we all like to choose our own friends. You are acquaintances only, until she chooses to seek your friendship.

Mrs. E. F. S.—I'm sorry that I cannot help you, but recipes are out of my line, and I don't happen to know the one you have in mind.

A PAPER ANNIVERSARY.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: Will you tell me whether there is any special name and entertainment for the first wedding anniversary? My husband and I will soon have been married a year, and I want to have a little dinner party for some of the people who were at our wedding—A. Recent Bride.

A.—My congratulations and best wishes! The first is the paper anniversary—which should afford you wide scope for an entertaining party. Why not have a semi-plenic supper, served in paper plates and cups? Use a paper table cover and napkins, and paper decorations. Get suggestions for paper favors from the art department of your local department store or stationery store. There is no special form of entertainment, except such games, contests and so on as you can easily arrange with paper. Think of tissue paper, writing paper, newspapers, the word "paper"—it will amaze you how many jolly ideas will crop into your head for the party.

FOR THE UNUSUAL GIFT.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: I want to give a friend of mine a Christmas gift, something different from the ordinary things I can get here in our little town. What would you suggest?—Mary.

A.—I'm sorry, Mary, you didn't say whether your friend is a man or a woman, so it is impossible for me to make any definite suggestions as to the gift. If I were you I would buy the Christmas Gift Number of one of the high class magazines, and pick out something suitable for your friend from its pages. Then you can send for the gift direct from the place where it is sold, or through the shopping bureau of the magazine.

MAKING PLEASURE POSSIBLE

Q.—Dear Miss Page: My husband and I have had quite an argument. Will you please tell us which is right. We were invited to a neighbor's to spend the evening, and when we went over we found some others there and they insisted we play cards. Now, our neighbors know that we do not play cards and it was a most embarrassing evening because they insisted that we try anyway. My husband says it was all right, that we ought not to go out if we can't do the things other people do. But I say that our neighbors ought not to have invited us if they wanted to play cards.—Mrs. L.

A.—I find it very interesting and pleasant to assist my letter-friends in every way I can with their problems of etiquette and social conduct, but there are two things I dread to be asked—to arbitrate between a husband and wife, and between a mother and daughter. It is both embarrassing and apt to be dangerous!

However, in this case, I must say I think you are quite right. Your hostess was very impolite to place you in such an embarrassing position. The first duty of a successful hostess is that she know her guests, invite them in such groups that they can understand and enjoy one another, and in so far as possible provide them with entertainment to their liking.

COLORS IN STATIONERY.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: I'm going to ask my brother to give me some nice stationery for Christmas. What color do you like best?—Sis.

A.—My personal preference is always for pure white letter paper. It is perfectly correct, however, to use pale blue, gray or tan if you like. Other shades are fads of the moment from time to time, but the more fastidious people do not go in for fads in their stationery.

WILL HE ALWAYS TREASURE IT?

Q.—Dear Miss Page: A boy friend of mine wants me to give him my picture and Mother says she doesn't think I ought to. Do you think it would do any harm?—Agnes G.

A.—No, I don't suppose it would do any particular harm, but I think your Mother has an idea, a good one. It's this, that the young man might misinterpret the meaning of your gift, and in any event that you probably will be more comfortable a little later on if you don't give it.

While it is not now considered the grievous offense against the conventions it once was to give a young man your picture before you are engaged to him, it is still to be carefully considered, and done—if at all—with caution. Like letters, pictures are easier to give away than to get back again, and too often they become embarrassing remembrance or evidence of an interest that did not last.

ABOUT INTRODUCTIONS.

Q.—Dear Miss Page: About introducing people, should I introduce my wife to my employer, or him to her? And should she shake hands with him?—Young Husband.

A.—The general rule is to introduce men to women, and the younger person to the older where any marked difference in age exists. Persons of great consequence, celebrities, should have introductions made to them.

Crew of John Randall Swam in a Blinding Snow Storm to Shore

Capt. Harry Randall Gives Thrilling Account of the Wreck of Steam Barge on the Main Ducks—Boat Total Loss—Sailors Storm-Bound For Nine Days at Light-House Crew in Belleville Today.

The crew of the steam barge, the John Randall is safe. This was the message flashed across the wires from Prince Edward late yesterday afternoon to Belleville and Kingston. The vessel is a total loss lying broken in two on the rocks of the Main Ducks in Lake Ontario. "The cargo of coal for the Downey Company of Belleville, can be salvaged."

The crew composed of Capt. Harry F. Randall, J. Brady, G. Smith and J. Smith arrived in Belleville last night by Spott's motor bus from Pictou and spent the night here at the Queen's Hotel. They were met by Mr. John Downey, Jr., of the Downey Company. They left this morning at 11 o'clock for Kingston.

Captain Randall was seen last night by a reporter of The Ontario and gave a graphic account of the shipwreck.

Sheltered Under Main Ducks.

"We left Oswego at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday (Nov. 16.) and were off the Main Ducks when the wind freshened and stormed from the northeast. I did not think I could make the shore and thought I would pull under the Main Ducks. We dropped under the pier (I think it is Col's pier) and lay there nice and tidy until 1:30 o'clock in the morning (Wednesday). Breaks in Two.

"The wind switched to the east and blew a gale. Things began to become very uncomfortable about that time and she dropped between the seas. Hit the boom just about under the engine. When she did she broke her main steam pipe from the boiler to the engine. We all went forward for fear we would get scalded to death and we let go the lines off the pier thinking she would drop into the cove and land down on the beach. Instead the back surf carried us out more into the lake and we landed on a shelf of rock. As she struck on the rock she was tilted as a result of the bump she got on the bottom. She landed about midships on the rock, her stern lapping out in the deep water. Her stern sank down with the seas. The 'Randall' broke in two, the waves washing her after cabin and life boats off, but in the meantime the sea was rising and coming over so that we could not go back to the lifeboats. All this time we were getting a gale out of the east with snow and rain and it was so dark we could not see anything. This was about three-thirty on Wednesday morning. The Swam Ashore in Blinding Storm."

"We all stayed in the pilot-house and when daylight came there was nothing left to go ashore with but the lifeboats. We waited there until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, hoping some one would come along to find us in our peril and as no one did we put the lifeboats on and swam about a mile to the shore in a driving snow storm and a big sea. It took us an hour to reach the shore, the back surf washing us back almost as much as we went forward.

"The lighthouse keeper's wife did not discover us until we were near the shore. She and her son helped us to the lighthouse about a mile and a half across the land. They gave us warm clothing. Fred Bongard, the keeper, is the best lighthouse keeper I know. He spent three nights and days through snow and rain blowing the horn.

"Fred Bongard, lighthouse keeper at the Ducks, was very kind to us. We spent nearly ten days with him and his family. They would not have been kinder to their own children than Mr. and Mrs. Bongard were to us fellows." The crew remained there for nine days, unable to leave for the mainland on account of heavy sea.

"It is too bad that the government does not pay such a man an adequate salary, as he is quitting this fall on account of his small pay," said the Captain.

Had Narrow Escape Yesterday.

"The weather was so bad that the crew were not able to leave the island until late yesterday morning at eight o'clock. We crossed to South Bay Point and motored to Pictou. "Yesterday when the party left the Main Ducks Capt. Randall and J. Brady started out in a small motor boat. A heavy sea was raging and the men only make the mainland twelve miles in three or four hours just by the skin of their teeth. Had the engine stopped the boat would have been swamped as the bow was almost upright. The Smith brothers followed in a larger boat.

Condition of Wreck.

The cargo of 350 tons of coal for the Downey Co. of Belleville, can be recovered, but the boat is a total loss. The John Randall was worth $10,000 and was only protected against fire. Captain Randall said: "I have sailed her for the past fifteen years. I have owned her only about four. My father owned her before me. The boiler is partly under water. If the ice does not come back, it may realize $2,000 out of the boiler and of the things on the deck."

The Main Ducks are two islands out in Lake Ontario, south of Prince Edward County mainland. The crew landed on the 100 acre island, the other island (known as York-shire) contains 250 acres. Nine miles to the northwest are the False Ducks (25 or 30 acres). The Main Ducks belong to C. W. Cole, of Cape Vincent. There are 15 fishing huts on the island but they were vacated for the season.

"Under the Ducks, it is safe for any boat. There is a good anchorage in any gale from the west, but boats seem afraid to go in," said the captain.

"The new tangled life preservers were," Captain Randall thought, "a danger. They were lashed on to us and we could not get rid of them.

"Before leaving Oswego the barge had been held up for ten days by winds.

Mr. John Randall, father of Capt. Randall, did not give up hope of his son's safety and was yesterday in South Bay searching. Mr. John Downey, Sr., a few days ago said he would not give up hope.

"The safety of the men was the cause of rejoicing among friends of the crew in Belleville, Kingston and Seely's Bay.

Bridge Street Church Bazaar

One of the Finest Bazaars Ever Held in Bridge St. Church.

The Ladies' Aid of Bridge St. church held a most successful bazaar yesterday afternoon and evening in the parlor of Bridge St. Church. The decorations were exceptionally pretty and showed that a great deal of time and thought had been given in their arrangement.

In the centre of the room a maypole was erected with all the colors combined radiating out in a circle. The tea tables were placed around the maypole which made the tea room look very attractive. Mrs. F. S. Deacon was convener of the tea room.

The camisole and boudoir cap booth looked very dainty in its colors of blue and yellow. Mrs. Richardson was in charge of this booth.

Green and white were the colors of the booth where the nightdresses were sold. These were very beautiful in their workmanship. Mrs. French presided over the booth.

Mrs. Borbridge had charge of the sweet things. The candy booth looked very pretty in purple and white.

The fancy work booth and handkerchief booth combined looked very nice in their colors, orange and white, with touches of black. Mrs. Moon was in charge of the fancy work booth and Mrs. Wray the handkerchief booth.

The doll booth, which interested all the kiddies was decorated in pink. Mrs. Bongard was in charge.

The baby booth was very appropriately decorated in blue and many lovely little baby things were displayed. Mrs. McKimmon presided over the booth.

Purple and mauve formed the combination colors for the apron booth over which Mrs. Hunter presided.

The home-made cooking table where all the good things were displayed was decorated in yellow and white. Mrs. S. Clarke had charge of the table.

Dr. Cleaver opened the bazaar by singing the National Anthem and offering prayer.

Much praise is due the conveners of each booth, their helpers and Mrs. W. B. Deacon and Mrs. Ackerman who were conveners of the whole bazaar and to Mrs. McCoy, who is president of the Ladies' Aid. It was through their work the bazaar was such a success.

WOOLEN MILLS WORKING TO CAPACITY.

The Bancroft Woollen Mills is at present working to its full capacity, and expects to continue to do so right to the end of the year. This year has been a record one for the Bancroft factory and the management are looking forward to an even better one next year.

DEER CLOSE TO CITY OF KINGSTON.

On Friday afternoon five deer started residents in Cataract district by passing south of the village at a fast rate, headed eastwards. The animals were making good time over the fences and through the fields, and were later reported as having passed north of Kingston Mills. At Seely's Bay they were sighted and the chase was taken up there by a spaniel, which gave tongue and alarmed a hunter just north of the village, who succeeded in getting one of the animals a splendid specimen. The other four got safely away. It is thought that the animals had been driven out of the north woods by the hunters, who were plentiful this fall.

A $3 BOTTLE OF WHISKEY BROUGHT A $200 FINE.

In police court Cobourg, Tuesday, Albert Dewey, of Belleville, was fined $200 and costs by Justices of the Peace W. R. Coyle of Rosebush and W. H. Floyd, of Cobourg, for breach of the O.T.A. He was charged with having a bottle in his possession in Alnwick township over a month ago, the charge being laid by Constable Brisbin of Rosebush. The fine goes to the government, however, as Brisbin had not been appointed by the township as an officer to enforce the O.T.A. Dewey admitted paying $4 for the bottle, which he purchased in Cobourg, and it was suggested that the charge be dropped against him if he would tell from whom he purchased the bottle.

Albert Dewey, who was Tuesday given the option of a $200 fine and costs or three months in gaol for breach of the O.T.A., was unable to get the money, and had to take the time.

SHIPMENT OF MANTLES.

Messrs. Tickell & Sons' Company shipped today a consignment of mantles to Mr. A. K. Mills, of Ottawa. These mantles are the product of their local factory.

HEADQUARTERS MOVED TO CORNWALL.

The headquarters of the supervision of track, fifth district, Grand Trunk Railway, comprising the territory between the Montreal terminals and Brockville, will, it is understood, shortly be moved from Brockville to Cornwall, where the supervisor of track W. Bibby, resides. This office has been in existence in Brockville for a number of years and is being moved to Cornwall in order that more direct supervision may be given it by Mr. Bibby.

BRIDGES AND CULVERTS ARE NEARING COMPLETION.

With a few more days good weather Pillsworth & Daly expect to complete their contract on twenty-two concrete bridges and culverts on the provincial highway between Brighton and Coborne. The Hyland Construction Co., of Toronto, which have the construction of bridges between Cobourg and Coborne, will hardly finish their contract until spring.

GETTING RID OF TOLL ROADS EXPENSIVE.

Getting rid of the toll roads that hemmed in Cobourg on three sides has been an expensive piece of business for that town, though no one can but admit that the expense is well merited. On the purchase of the Cobourg and Port Hope toll road both towns paid 10 per cent. of the purchase price of the road, or $720, and on the purchase price of the Cobourg and Baltimore toll road Cobourg paid $742.50. The purchase price of the Cobourg and Granton toll road will be in the neighborhood of $20,000, and of this Cobourg will likely pay at least $2,000.

TOLL ROAD CO. APPEALS EXPROPRIATION PRICE.

Before the appellate division at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, last Thursday, the Cobourg and Granton Toll Road Co. appealed from the award of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which in July last awarded the company $18,454.25 and costs of the arbitration and award as compensation for the road expropriated by the province as part of the provincial highway. Judgement was reserved by Chief Justice Meredith and Justices Magee, Hodgins and Ferguson. The expropriation price will effect the town of Cobourg, the townships of Hamilton and Haldimand, which will pay 40 per cent., and the province 60 per cent. On the purchase of the Cobourg and Port Hope toll road the town paid 10 per cent. of the price paid by the government.

WELL-KNOWN MINISTER DEAD.

Word has reached Brockville of the death at Victoria, B.C., on November 11, of Rev. William Sheridan who was half a century minister of the Wesleyan Methodist churches at Spencerville, Merrickville, and elsewhere in that district. Mr. Sheridan was superannuated at Kingston in 1854 and had spent the last 20 years in British Columbia. The late Rev. Mr. Sheridan was received on trial at Prince Albert, Ont., in 1855 and prior to being ordained was stationed at Cartwright, Bowmanville and Merrickville. Ordained in 1862, he took charge at Minden and thereafter was stationed as follows: Fensel Falls, Lakefield, Boscoway, Spencerville, (1869-71), Merrickville (1874-77), Pittsburgh, Bath, Oshawa, Ampfers and Kingston. After superannuation he lived from 1885 to 1892 at Beamsville, in the Niagara conference, and from 1892 to 1902 at Hamilton. Since then he had been in British Columbia. The funeral was held at Victoria.

OUTLINED GOVERNMENT POLICY ON HIGHWAYS

Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways, Addressed Associated Boards at Banquet at Hotel Quinte Last Night.

Belleville Chamber of Commerce were the hosts at a banquet to the Associated Boards of Trade at Hotel Quinte last evening.

The spacious dining hall of the Quinte was crowded with delegates to the convention and members of the Belleville Board of Trade. The main speakers were the Hon. F. C. Biggs, who spoke on good roads, and Mr. W. F. Cocksutt, M. P. of Brantford.

The musical program was unique. Prof. Hunt was accompanist, quartette, Messrs. Moorman, Burrows, LaVoie, Mouck and Wrightmyer sang some of their festival rhymes. Mrs. Whitmot, Miss Anna Ponton, Mr. John McIntosh and Mr. W. H. Wrightmyer sang a number of songs.

Mr. R. J. Graham occupied the chair and was in his happiest mood. He expressed the pleasure Belleville had in having as its guests the delegates to the seventh annual convention of the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce. He paid particular reference to the presence of the ladies.

The toast of "The King" was honored in royal fashion, the National Anthem being sung by the assembly.

"Canada in the Empire" was the toast proposed by Mr. E. Guss Porter, K.C., M.P. for West Hastings. He referred to Canada's unique position in the world today. We have a loyal people, Mr. Porter drew a picture of what Canada might be with its great seacoast—with its more than one-third of the fresh water of the globe—its mines—in the hand of an intelligent and patriotic people. But none of these resources are inexhaustible and it behooves every one to conserve and foster our natural heritage.

In his response Mr. W. F. Cocksutt, M.P. for Brantford, said Canada in the Empire was just as free as any part of the earth that the sun shines on. He was against the cutting of any one of the remaining ties binding Canada to the Empire. Not one part of the Empire wished the cords broken. Britain with all her faults, we love her still. The war called for great sacrifice, we gladly gave it. Those heroes who gave their lives "are in the place where loyal hearts and true stand ever in the light." The British Empire is built with three objects—to be a place for emigration, a place for trade and to carry the Christian religion to the benighted. In the latter alone, we have not done the noblest. This is a certain weakness—that we have failed to live up to our spiritual advantages. This is no time to rock the boat. The old political parties have had their faults but have been true to the Empire. The benighted and the native tribes testify to Britain's fair play; it is too much for us to ring true to British principles?

Mr. John Elliott, proposing the toast of the Province of Ontario, declared that Belleville was desirous of having the Associated Boards return here. Mr. Elliott referred to the Bay of Quinte cheese of which over $4,000,000 worth is exported annually overseas. He asked the delegates to the Associated Boards to help introduce Belleville old cheese in the Ontario cities and towns.

"We have in the province of Ontario still the banner province of Canada as far as agriculture is concerned," stated the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways in his reply. He thought that it was the old political parties who were rocking the boat as Mr. Cocksutt had said. (Laughter.)

More Labor for Farmers.

Hon. Mr. Biggs launched into the matter of good roads. The Associated Boards can assist in the solution of unrest. There will be unrest until there is enough labor to produce on the farm. This demands better rural conditions. We want good roads. They are not an expenditure but an investment.

"We want Hydro energy in the rural districts. The government of Ontario is solidly behind Sir Adam Beck in the matter of water development. There are hundreds of available power sites. These with the St. Lawrence scheme will lessen the flow of money to the United States for coal. We want better rural education." He favored, if necessary, a direct tax to support rural education and prevent the influx of the young into the city from the country.

He favored, if necessary, a direct tax to support rural education and prevent the influx of the young into the city from the country.

1850 Miles of Highways.

"There are 1850 miles of provincial highways in Ontario. Every foot is now under inspection. The province takes over the entire mileage and brings it up to a standard of maintenance until the road can be rebuilt.

"We want the curbs and grades safe, a wide roadbed and sub-grade properly drained and built for many years to come. Seventy-five per cent. of the work has to be done before the surface is put on.

Next week we hope to advertise over 100 miles of top surface to be laid next year. These pavements will be built in the area around the urban centres, which contribute in motor licenses largely to the upkeep of the road. This will mean pavements in the cities and the area of their surrounding market."

Mr. Biggs said good roads will increase efficiency. This will more than pay for the cost of the new roads. Good roads increase the value of the abutting property. The portion paid by municipal councils is more than made up by taxes on property due to increased assessment.

Under the highway system, the government paying 80%, the county councils can designate more county roads. The townships have now less roads to look after.

If the Associated Boards of Trade can solve the difficulty of getting out of the control of the cement merger, it will be a good piece of work, he said.

This Year's Expenditure.

The work of this year cost the province of Ontario about $4,500,000, but there are refunds from Ottawa and from the county councils up to date the county councils spent nearly $17,000,000 on county roads, receiving back about $6,500,000, leaving about $10,000,000 that has been paid by the rural sections in the past. The highways will serve every organized municipality and every county town. The counties this year built 68 miles of permanent roads. Mr. Biggs referred to the work on township roads. He hoped one more road should be built—from Severn to Manthwa.

The last toll gate in the province of Ontario is about to disappear on the bay bridge, (cheers.) Next year we hope to have the Pictou road improved up to a standard. He referred to the taking over of the Belleville-Poxboro road next spring.

Col. Ponton proposed the toast of the guests in a brilliant speech, replies being made by a number of the delegates. Mr. Dunstan, of Toronto, Mr. Oppley, of Hamilton, Mr. A. J. Young, of North Bay, Mayor Newman, of Pictou, Mr. Byrne, of Collingwood, Mr. McCullough, Hamilton and Wm. Wm. Taylor, of Owen Sound, the toast to the local Chamber of Commerce was responded to by President Aid. Bone and Aid. Ponton. Mr. J. D. Allen, Toronto, proposed the health of the chairman. The assembly broke up shortly after midnight.

Mr. T. Mills is laying a hardwood floor in Sidney town hall over the cement floor.

Well Mr. Editor, the hunters have all returned home after the hairbreadth escapes, some in the right place to kill and others got sight of the flag of truce but were able to put up the cash. Mr. Jas. Hinchliffe, Sidney and Mr. A. Wilson of River Valley returned on Saturday with two fine deers. Some of the hunters had to leave their autos on account of the heavy snow storm and take the old reliable train for home.

BACK FROM A HUNT.

John M. Theobald, Kingston returned on Friday evening from a two weeks deer hunt. He brought home his allotment as did each member of the party. He had a fine time. The weather last week was very cold and there was over a foot of snow. On Friday morning the camp equipment was drawn on a sleigh to the railway station. The camp was located near Barryvale.

OPTIONAL SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT ENDORSED

Ontario Associated Boards of Trade Approve of Legislation Giving Municipalities Authority to Decide on Form of Municipal Government—Provincial Museum Suggested.

The Associated Boards of Trade on Friday afternoon unanimously approved of a resolution submitted by the St. Thomas Board of Trade in favor of legislation providing for the optional system for municipal government. The resolution follows:

Whereas in view of the fact that a number of the cities in the Western Provinces, also in the Maritime Provinces in this Dominion, having worked out a system of Municipal Government which is apparently giving every satisfaction;

And whereas in view of the fact that some cities are under a commission form of Government and some are being managed by a city manager;

And whereas we believe that a better system of municipal government can be arrived at than is at present in effect;

Be it therefore resolved that the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce recommend to the Provincial Legislature that they provide for an optional system of municipal government for cities and towns in this province, viz: to consist of a council with its present legislative authority, or a city manager, or a board consisting of the mayor and such of the permanent officials as the council shall appoint to administer the affairs of the municipality as a whole.

Mr. E. A. Horton, of St. Thomas, representing St. Thomas Board in presenting the resolution. Cities wanted relief from the obsolete manner of government for cities under 50,000. Larger cities have their boards of control. Smaller cities can only get relief by private legislation. Belleville may seek a private bill to authorize the change of form of municipal government. There are 345 cities in the U.S. under the commission form of government or run by a city manager. There is a similar law in Alberta and New Brunswick giving such authority.

Citizens regret the waste of money under the present system. St. Thomas could have saved thousands of dollars by having a city manager.

All that was asked by the resolution was to let the people of a municipality have the authority to determine whether they wanted to be run by a city manager or commission. The mover thought it a step in the right direction.

Ald. Bone seconded the resolution. Belleville council was, he said, submitting the question to the ratepayers in January. The council favored the city manager plan.

S. H. Kent, of Hamilton, said the municipality had power now to appoint a manager. They have not the power to elect a manager or change the form of government. It would be necessary to have legislation. He had never been in favor of the commission form of government. We never had in Canada the graft and corruption of American cities. He blamed the citizens for the lack of interest in municipal affairs. Who are the men elected today? Those who are practically self-nominated.

Nobody voted against the resolution.

Mr. Waddle introduced a resolution regarding bounty to manufacturers in by securing an equivalent to the drawback.

Mr. G. C. Martin, of Hamilton introduced a resolution regarding sedition. He suggested legislation allowing officers to demand naturalization papers if they are found not of British or Anglo-Saxon birth that they be forthwith deported. The matter was referred to the executive.

"That the Ontario Government should consider the far-reaching value of a Museum of Natural Products of the province so arranged as to show such products in their natural and finished states with full information as to their extent and location, available power transportation facilities, their various uses and such other facts as will be of value to investors and manufacturers," was the import of a resolution from Toronto Board of Trade, introduced by Mr. C. J. Dunstan. The resolution was approved of, believing that this would be of material assistance in the development of the province.

Col. C. R. McCullough, of Hamilton, introduced a resolution from Hamilton Board relating to fostering of trade with the West Indies by the visit of representatives of the various boards of trade to the West Indies. Mr. Waddle, of Hamilton, supported the resolution. Much of the goods made here are not suitable for the West Indies, but our grain, flour, cement and fruit are desired. A large trade can be built up. The resolution was adopted.

A resolution relating to the luxury tax from Belleville was withdrawn by Mr. C. M. Reid, as the act relating to luxury tax would be radically changed.

Mr. George H. Smith, of Cochrane spoke in support of a resolution on the North Bay-Cochrane highway. The boards decided to suggest that the proposed highway be included in the general provincial highway scheme.

Votes of thanks to the mayor, the city council, and the members of the Belleville Club for their courtesy to the delegates, were passed.

The convention came to an end at 4.30 p.m.

The Associated Boards of Trade yesterday adopted the resolution of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce regarding the development of Hydro Electric Power, introduced by Mr. R. J. Graham. The resolution follows:—That in the opinion of the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce who believe that herein they are the interpreters and exponents of the public opinion of the Province, the government should utilize all water power and encourage and substantially aid in the development of every possible unit of electrical energy at reasonable cost:—(1) for manufacturing and mining purposes; (2) to supply the lack of coal and render Ontario less dependent for supply from United States; (3) for municipal and local household purposes, including distribution among the agricultural community, as far as possible.

Mr. Graham referred to the development still possible of 4,500,000 H.P. There are three dams on the Trent River, which are having water run over the tops. He referred to the difficulty between the government and the Hydro.

Mr. Hall, of Parry Sound, spoke of misapplication of funds by the Hydro. There were people who think that the Hydro should be absolute in control and make a sink hole of money. He did not think so.

Mr. Hall said he had heard with regret of the shortage of hydro power throughout the province. Let us use the powers for people, not for exploitation by a man who is dreaming.

Mr. Burgoynes thought not the Hydro but the people had fallen down in not providing funds for development.

The resolution carried.

Torrens System of Land Titles.

Ald. Bone introduced a resolution from the Belleville Chamber on the Torrens System of Land Titles, which was adopted. That in the opinion of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of the Province of Ontario, the development of the province agriculturally and the providing of homes for workmen, and the dealing with real property, will be greatly facilitated by the adoption in this province of the Torrens System of Land Titles, where practicable.

Mr. Cocksbutt, M.P., of Brantford, and Col. Ponton spoke in favor of the resolution from Toronto board regarding the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

The Associated Boards placed on record their strong protest against any suggestion that would tend towards the abolishment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, or with any interference with the time-honored and inalienable right of His Majesty's subjects to take their disputes to the foot of the throne for disposition and protested against any move that might in the last analysis, seem to have the effect of lessening our connection with the Mother Country, and possibly create in foreign countries the false impression that Canadians wish to weaken the ties which bind them to the great commonwealth of nations known as the British Empire.

Associated Boards were emphatically opposed to the proposal that the appeal (so far as Canadians are concerned) to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council be abolished.

Canadians must learn to appreciate all good. There is an invasion being made by the United States into Canada, not an invasion in the war-like sense of the word but by propaganda good and bad. Nearly all magazines for public perusal in libraries and American, bundles of American newspapers are seen for sale Saturday evening, the majority of the plays which come from the States are excellent and the picture shows are not very elevating. Col. McCullough asks: "When are we going to strike?"

He says the Canadian clubs ought to get busy. They ought to refuse the Hearst publications and they should demand a higher class of plays and pictures.

The I.W.O.'s and Red propagandists in this country must be dealt with.

Canadians should get inspiration from the wonderful songs of her poets and from the thoughts of her philosophers and great writers.

Canada is a nation amongst nations, a nation among a family of nations of the British Empire with Great Britain as the great light. Canada demands her place among nations and she must determine her lot.

We must not depress the patriotic spirit of country, or be other than ourselves but be great living Canadians and build up a national spirit. We must build up our character. A Canadian soldier could be discerned in any crowd, he was not an imitator and the spirit of Canadian men was shown on many occasions in France. Canadians must have the pluck to get up and criticize and point out weaknesses, and get a national, imperial and world view. We must build up the new Canadianism.

Mrs. (Dr.) Tower in a few well chosen words moved a vote of thanks to Col. McCullough, which was seconded by Mrs. (Dr.) Kinneir. Mrs. S. D. Lazer, who is President of the Women's Canadian Club, opened the meeting.

ON PROVINCIAL POLICE.

E. A. Rae, Toronto, has been appointed to the staff of the provincial police and will be in charge of Leeds and Grenville. The new officer will make his headquarters at Brockville.

GANANQUE BOYS PROMOTION.

James F. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Gananoque, has been on the staff of the Muskogee, Mich. Daily Chronicle for some months past. Recently he was promoted to the position of sporting editor of the paper, and is well qualified to fill it. This paper is owned by the Booth Syndicate, and is one of the many dailies controlled by them in the states of Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana.

FURNITURE FACTORY OPENS IN JANUARY.

The installing of the machinery at the Langslow-Fowler Company plant at Cobourg, will be completed very shortly and it is now expected that everything will be in readiness to commence operations about the first of January. The first activities of the new industry will be directed to the manufacturing of school desks and also the manufacture of canoes, and the latter at the new plant, which has absorbed what was formerly known as the Rice Lake Canoe business of Gore's Landing.

DEATHS.

Little Vera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hubbs, met with a painful accident on Saturday. The little one was left alone in the room for a moment playing at some distance from the stove but her grandmother, Mrs. Moon, heard her scream and rushed to her to find her hands in the hot oven. They were terribly burned and she suffers a great deal with her burns.

Misses Mary and Gladys Hough visited Miss A. Haley on Saturday.

Mr. Alex Mitchell has a sick horse.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Clarke visited at Big Island on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peterson returned home on Friday after a pleasant visit with friends in Michigan.

Miss Della Blakeley, Bannockburn, is visiting friends here.

WEDDING IN CLOUDS.

A wedding in the clouds, with eight guests in addition to the clergyman, and four men, took place last month in an aeroplane flying over Ontario. The ceremony of the marriage of Miss Vera Gower to C. H. Mann took place according to the Ontario Statute, when the machine was a mile from the ground.

Captain F. R. Stackard, a friend of the bride and groom, was at the wheel and the Rev. J. G. Easterbrook was the officiating clergyman.

Albert College Social at Y. M. C. A.

Gym Games Held Attention of the Students.

On Friday night the Albert students and faculty spent a social evening at the Y.M.C.A. Gym games were indulged in for the greater part of the evening during which time the students had a great deal of fun and enjoyment under the direction of Mr. Chas. Keeber who had charge of this part of the program. Prizes were presented to the winners in each event, the ladies receiving a box of chocolates and the gentlemen were presented with useful but valuable gifts. The popular view of the evening was that of Miss Gardiner and Prof. Staples when they handily won the one minute walk. No doubt Prof. Staples' musical training assisted in this event as his sense of time was very evident. At the close of the program refreshments were served by a group of young ladies of the "Y" who were assisted by members of the senior auxiliary. Thanks are due to the young people of the Epworth League who supplied the sandwiches. After some complimentary remarks from Mr. Mason, representing the student body and Messrs Broekel and Keeber of the "Y" the group gathered in a fellowship circle and sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "The King".

Four Liquor Prosecutions.

Yesterday the Belleville police and inspector Connor made arrests for alleged breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act, defendants were admitted to bail, and the cases were enlarged to next Thursday. Thomas Cornish is charged with selling; Mrs. Verba Williams and Miss Cecilia Barnhardt are accused of keeping for sale. Mr. R. Burke is also charged with B. O. T. A.

A considerable amount of liquor was brought to the police station yesterday by officers.

Escaped Through Furnace Room

John Williamson, Found Bed Afire in Hotel.

"The man who set the Crystal Hotel afire on Saturday night," was the way in which Chief Kidd introduced a young man, John Williamson, of Toronto to Magistrate Mason this morning.

John had an interesting time since Saturday. He claims to be afflicted with rheumatism. Arriving at the Crystal on Saturday night he rented a bedroom and went to bed. He wakened up to find the bedding afire. He rushed to the window and broke the glass in order to get air. P. C. White saw smoke issuing from the window, ran in a fire alarm and rushed upstairs. The mattress was thrown out into the gangway and then John got into the limelight. The officer accused John of intoxication and took him to the police station.

Yesterday at the police headquarters John began to groan and yell with pain. The officers let him out into the parade ground in the cell room and a doctor was sent for and went into the office. Suddenly there was a little noise and on investigation Williamson was found gone. He had gone down into the furnace room and opening the door used for taking out ashes, was this time enough to crawl through.

G. T. R. Officer Donovan met him on Bridge Street, all covered with ashes and brought him back.

Magistrate Mason this morning took his plea of guilty and remanded him for a week. The accused wanted to be let go home at once to go into a Toronto hospital. The court thought he was addicted to drugs but Williamson said he was drinking iodine of potassium for the rheumatism. Being so prostrate in his references to the Deputy, the Magistrate told him that if he did not cease another charge of using profanity might be put against him.

The bliss at the Crystal did not spread beyond the bedding.

Magistrate Jones Saves Belleville

Youth Saved From Toils Because He Was Born Here.

Saturday a.m., 10.30 by the clock the city of Belleville was saved from eternal disgrace by Deputy Magistrate Jones, of Toronto. It happened thus. A neatly dressed young fellow said to be a university student, was in the dock for drunkenness, and his counsel, G. C. Elgie, explained that the young gentleman was sorry wouldn't do it again, and added that he came from Belleville. The think looked normal enough until the name of Belleville slipped over the clerk's rail and hit Magistrate Jones' ear.

"Belleville!" exclaimed his Worship in pained surprise. "I come from Belleville. I don't want Belleville disgraced. The charge will be withdrawn and I'll have a talk with you after court."

It is now in order for the Mayor and Corporation of Belleville to hail Deputy Magistrate Jones as the saviour of the city, to send his Worship an illuminated address, and finally to hang his Worship in oils, says The Toronto Telegram.

Deputy Magistrate Jones is interested in the "Big Brother Movement."

KILLED FOUR BEARS.

In a lively chase lasting a day and a half, Messrs Roy and E. Sears of Bird's Creek, shot and killed four bears one day last week. Farmers in that vicinity have been missing sheep of late and in the extermination of this family believe the mystery has been solved. Bears are plentiful in the north this fall. Several hunting parties had the luck of bagging one or two.

TAXES WELL PAID.

Havelock tax payers took advantage of the three per cent. discount to such an extent that the sum of $15,500 was paid in to Collector McNicol on Saturday night last.

A little over $18,000, and those still owing the town would be well advised to pay up before the 8th of this month, as after that date five per cent. will be added.

MUST INSTALL PLANT.

Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, chief officer of health for the province, insists that Smith's Falls proceed at once with the installation of a filtration plant for its water supply. He claims that the unfiltered water serving the town is unfit for use and that chlorination, a temporary thing, should give way to a filtration plant. The Provincial Board of Health, he says, was at once called and is doing everything possible to save the sight of Stuart's eye.

BOY'S EYE REMOVED.

Master Stuart St. Michael, the five year-old son of Hector St. Michael, Renfrew, had a pair of scissors run into his eye last week. Dr. McKinnon was at once called and is doing everything possible to save the sight of Stuart's eye.
