REV. W. M. HETHERINGTON. AUTHOR OF A HISTORY OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

SCOTLAND.

The above Book of 304 pages, has just been printed for a firm in New York, a few copies have been retained for Sale in this Island. It is an interesting and entertaining work, as the following extract from the preface will show:—

show :—

"When the Author of the following little work states, that it is not only "founded on facts," but is indeed almost devoid of any fictitious admixture whatever, he would not be understood to assert, that the sweats of the nurrative occurred exactly in the order and connexion is which they are related, and befel the members of exactly such a family as is here described. Had this been the case, the production would have been merely a biographical treatise, with the real parties thinly veiled under fictitious names. Such is not its nature; and yet there is not a character, attempted to be drawn, nor an event of any importance narrated, which is not an exact transcript of some character or event that occurred within the range of the Author's cown knowledge. At the same time, it is hoped that the work contains nothing which, even were it divulged, could in the slightest degree prove officesive or painful to any person to whom it may be conjectured to refer.

But, while both facts and feelings are, in a very were it divulged, could in the elightest degree prove offensive or painful to any person to whom it may be conjectured to refer.

But, while both facts and feelings are, in a very strict sense, true, the names of persons and places are intentionally and entirely fictitious in every instance but one. The name here referred to is that of her Royal Highness the Princess Avgusya, in the incident occurred precisely as there related; and the Author thought it due to the Illustrious Lady to record this specimen of that frankness, benevolence, and kindly considerate attention to all around her, by which her Royal Highness is distinguished. Having in this one instance withdrawn the voil, he avows it, and states the reason,—hoping also to preclude the inference, that what-greamins more concealed may on that account be considered the lies real. Where he has not withdrawn it, he trusts it will be allowed to reat;—and believes that any attempt further to withdraw it, will prove ineffectual, as not even the discovery of the writer would necessarily unravel the texture of that curtain which he has chosen to draw over his truthful tale,—or involve guch an application of it to individuals as might injure the feelings of the most sensitive.

Testimony from Maine.

CAPT. DANIEL ARBOTT, Brooklyn, Maine, July 16, 1843, says: "I was taken sick one year ago, last April, upan my passage from Havanna to Charleston, S. C. At the latter place I took medicine and procured a physician, but for ten days couldobtain no relief, no sleep or appetite. At last taking up a newspaper having your advertisement of 'Hoofland's German Bitters' in it, I sent for some immediately, this was about 1859 clock, at 11 o'clock I took the first dose, and anefter at 6 o'clock. The effect was so rapid on me, that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found me a well man. I have not been without your medicine since, having been sailing between Baltimore, Christon and the West India Islands ever since. I have now given up going to sea, and reside in this place, where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it."

Jos. B. Hall & Co., Presque Isle, Arcostock Co., Maine, April 24, 1834, say: "We hespwith send you a certificate of a care performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters, we think Mr. Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the trath of his story," Blossus. Jos. B. Hall & Co.—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries, I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, had been complaining of a pain in her side, for six or soven years, and about the first Janeary last, was taken down and conflied to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe, basides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a number of curse performed by "Hiofland's German Bitters" I was induced to try it in her case, and een to your store and purchased one bottle. She had taken it but a few days when she began to improve, and now, after taking only one bottle, she is enjoying better health than who has for years. She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure enlirely to the German Bitters.

Y

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are ENTIRELY VEGETABLE, thereby possessing advantages over most of the preparations recommended for similar diseases.

LAKE OF KILLARNEY.

The lake of Killarney, in the province of Munster and county of Kerry, affords the most beautiful and picturesque prospects in nature. This lake is divided into three parts, called the upper, middle, and lower lake, The northern, or lower lake, is six miles in length, and from three to four in breadth. On the side of one of the mountains is O'Sullivan's Cascade, which falls into the lake, making h noise which strike the spectator with awe. The view of this sheet of water is uncommonly fine, appearing as if descending from an arch of wood which overhangs it above seventy feet in height from the point of view. The islands are not so numerous in this as in the upper lake; but there is one of uncommon beauty, called Innisfallen, nearly opposite O'Sullivan's Cascade, which contains linis acrea. In this island are the ruins of an ancient abbey, founded by St. Finian, the patron saint of those parts, the situation of which is romantic and retired. There was formerly a chronicle kept in this abbey, called the Annals of Innisfallen. They contain a sketch of universal history, from the creation of the world to the year 430; but from that period, the annalists has amply prosecuted the affairs of Ireland down to his own time, (1215.) The promontory of Mucress, which divides the upper from the lower lake, is a perfect land of enchantment; and a road is earried through the centre of this promontory, which unfolds all the interior beauties of the place. Among the distant mountains, Turks appears an object of magnificence, and Mangerton's more lofty and more interesting summit coars above the whole.

The passage of the upper lake is round the extremity of Mucross, which confines it on one side, and the approaching mountains on the other. Here is a celebrated rock, called the Engle's Nest, which produces wonderful echoes. A Freach horn sounded here, raises a concert auperior to that of a hundred instruments: and the report of a single cannon is answered by a succession of peals resembling the loudest thunder, which seems to the deep.

The island of Innisfallen, in the lower lake, The island of Innisfallen, in the lower lake, already mentioned, is generally the dining place, where there is a kind of hall fitted up by Lord Kenmare. What is very surprising here, is the spontaneous production of the arbutes, or atrawberry-trees, which is found in great plenty and perfection in many of these islands; it was probably introduced here by the monks who inhabited this place at a very early period. This plant was not much known about London so late as 1770. Near the lake of Killarney, there is a zich copper mice wrought, which produces from fifty to sixty tone of one per week.—Clarke's Wonders.

THE CLIPP SWALLOW

A beautiful story is going the rounds, taken from an old number of the Greenfield (Massachusetts) Advertiser, of the Cliff Swallow, which species has recently made ments under the caves, in Delaware county, ments under the caves, in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, its nest being in the shape of a retort with a long neck. The story referred to is of one of these swallows, which in to make settle a retort with a long neck. The story referred to is of one of these swallows, which was seen to linger after the tribe had taken its usual flight to the tropics, apparently alone, through the autumn and winter. The following is the explanation:

Spring came, and he was there. An occurrence so singular, and contrary to the habits of the migrating tribes, caused his motions to be watched with more attention. At length another head was observed protruding from one of the nests, which seemed to be the abode of the bird which had been remarked with so much interest. On examining the nest the mystery was beautifully, solved. Another swallow was found there a prisoner.

One of its legs had become entangled by a thread of hair, which had been used in the liming of the nest, and held it there a captive. Yet it was not deserted by its faithful mate. Through all the long and dreary winter, this patient self-devoting love supplied her wants. He saw without regret, but for his hapless consort, the despening gloom of the fading year; he felt without feeling, but for her, the advancing rigor of winter; and if he, at times, remembered the sunny skies of the. South, and the pleasures his tribe were then enjoying, it was only to sigh that she could not partake of them. By night and by day in sunshine and in cloud, in the calm and the tempest, he was with her, ministering to her wants; and cheering the hours of her hopeless captivity by his caresses and untiring devotion.

ENNSTEVANIA TOWN IN KANSAS.—A Pennsylvania Town in Kansas.—A Pennsylvania town in Kansas has been founded by the colony which lately went out from the Western part of this State. Five of the men who have located their claims and returned for their families, say that it is the place formerly known as Council City, but which the new colonists have re-christened Eureka. At the opening of spring these five men will charter a stemboat and head a new expedition to Kansas, which they will lead to Eureka. There is good steamboat navigation from Pittsburgh to within eighteen miles of that lare, which lies about torty miles west of Missouri, and has an abundance of good Misouri, and has an abundance of good water, a rich soil, and is in the neighbour-hood of fine timber. The new settlers have found bituminous coal of a very good quality in the vicinity of their claim, where it has been uncovered by the action of the elements, and can be had without trouble.

The Infraculate Conception.—A despath has been received in Paris, announcing the result of the deliberations of the bissops assembled at Rome to consider the Immaculate Conception. The number of vote was 576, including proxies, and about 120 bishops actually present. Of them, 540 pronounced by acclamation for the new dogma; 32 voices questioned the appropriateness of such a discussion just now; while only four votes protested both against the dogma, and against the right of the floy See to decide a question of that impartance without a regular council. Of these four votes, two, it is a sensored, are contibuted by French prelates, namely, M. Oliver, Bishop of Evreux, and the other the Archbishop of Paris himself. The Paris Univers adds, "Rome was intoxicated with joy." it would amount to nearly £200, but that from that gross amount they should, in the first place, deduct the board and lodging of the apprentice, which was estimated by the witnesses at £20 per annum, together with £12 and upwards stipulated to be paid to the apprentice, and a reasonable sum for the chances that the apprentice might have died before the time of servitude had expired; or been ill, had he lived with the plantiff. That was wholly with them, and that they should give what damages they thought the plaintiff had really sustained. The jury retired, and, after some time, brought in a verdict of £17 10s.

We should not have considered this case perhaps worth mentioning, but that the verdict operates as a bounty to Apprentices to leave their masters as soon as they begin to repay their masters for the care and attention they have previously bestowed upon them in fitting them for the trade, by which they are to earn their future living, they leave them, and like the apprentice in question at a time when they most require their services. The jury must have considered the defendant entitled to this sun as an equivalent for the risk of the apprentice dying or being sick. Now, any Life Insurance Office would have been glad to insure the life of a healthy lad of 18 or 19, working at a (by no means dangerous) trade for £200 at £5 per cent. or £10 per annum, so that £41 10s. would have saved the risk of death or sickness. We would wish to speak in the highest terms of an institution which is the boast of all who deduce their origin from Saxon ancestors, but we must say that Petit Juries do sometimes—too frequently we fear—make up their verdicts, not from the evidence or according to the dictates of common sense and sober reason, but from mere caprice, or swayed by the sophistry of counsel, whose aim is to play upon their feelings.

Temperance Procession and Tea-party of S. of Temperance at Wood Island.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Sir.—By inserting the following account of a Temperance Procession of the Caledonia Division, Sons of Temperance, which was held at Wood Islands on Monday, the list inst., you will oblige the friends of Temperance in this section of the Island, and perhaps be instrumental in furthering the cause which they desire to promote. The day was fine and pleasant for such an occasion:

About 9 o'clock, a. m., the members of the Division began to assemble at the Temperance Hall, and by their cheerful countenances, it was evident that they anticipated a happy meeting. At half-past 9, this Sons marched from the Temperance Hall like a well regulated army, towards Little Sands School, having the Easign unfolded in the wind before them, and on their shoulders the white collars of their Order, and bearing on their bosoms the emblem of Love, the resemblance of Purity, and the badge of Fidelity. Having arrived at Little Sands School House at half-past 11, they were joined by the members of the Division in that locality, by a suitable reception; at 12 o'clock, noon, the procession moved in majestic order towards the western section of Wood Islands, thence returning, entered the Hall, where libry were well entertained, by several interesting addresses from several of the members of the Division, and also from Bro D. Curric from the Crystal Stream Division, in which they clearly shewed the propriety and necessity of a prohibitary law. They mentioned, that moral suasion had done its work, for the minds of thousands who now drink and get drunk, are already convinced of the evils of intemperance, but the difficulty is to convince their bodies. The Sons then walked to the house of Bro. John McMillan, (Miller), a staunch advocate of tenture of the state of the strength? cash Son marched to ten with a lady, in bonds of love and unity, and an honest boldness, before which the draunkards and run sellers of Wood Islands, like all others who are engaged in a good cause, are not without opposition, though that opposition and the properance of

There is no disease more common among children, and yet none which so frequently baffles the skill of the physician, as worms. They are highly detrimental to the constitution; and their presence should be carefully guarded against by parents. On the first manifestation of symptoms, every means should be used to expel them promptly and thoroughly. M'Lane's Vermifings is well established as the most certain, as of and speedy remedy ever offered for this troublesome and dangerous malady; and all who fiave the management of children should keep this invaluable medicine at hand. In addition to its perfect asfety, it never fails to produce the desired effect. WORMS! WORMS! BRITISH PERIODCALS! EARLY COPIES SECERED. EONARD SCOTT & CO. The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unsually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations and flying rumours of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and assuch, inaddition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public. Arrangements are now permanently made for the receipt of early sheets from the British Publishers, by which we are enabled to place all ogr Re-prints in the hande of subscribers, about as soon as they can be furnished with the foreign copies. Although this involves a very large outley or our part, we shall continue to furnish the Periodicals at the same low rates as herefofore, viz:—

Along with my brother, who was celecting matter for a work he was abut to publish. I visited the interesting tom of Hexham—interesting at least to his, his it was a fine field for historical readout although, for my own part, I found little besides its ancient church. The doumstained which, more than anything cise, obtained the dingy town a lasting piec in my memory, was our taking a lodging with an extraordinary pair, an old man as woman—husband and wife—who live by with the meselves, without child or servant authorisiting on the letting of their parlor and two bed-rooms. They were tall, this and erect, though each seventy years of age, the two bed-rooms. They were tall, this and erect, though each seventy years dage. Oue of RADWAY'S REGULATORS is superior in point of medical strength and efficacy, to six of the most popular and best approved Cathartie Pills.

All Pargative or Cathartie Pills are mada frome the crade materials of their composition: the inert and active principles are combined together, and the pills are made up of this common mass, so that out of its pills the patient has to swallow, all the really and truly medical virtues of the same would not make more than two pills. Every chemist well knows that out of the crude materials of drugs, roots, herbs, barks, plants, &c., there is only a yield of one tenth of medical virtue. We seriously believe that more deaths are caused by overloading the system with useless physic than from disease. No more medicine should be given to a patient than what is necessary to produce the desired effect, and to overload the system with useless patient from disease. No more medicine should be given to a patient than what is necessary to produce a the desired effect, and to overload the system with useless adrugs is not only checking the action of active virtues, but is inflicting serious labour upon the already shattered constitution.

R. R. R. Remedics are based upon this principle—there is as much difference, in point of strength and officacy, between Radway's Regulators and all other Catharite Pills, as there is between quinine and common bark, or morphine and opium.

RADWAY'S REGULATORS, therefore, are the best pills for, the sick to take, one being sufficient in all ordinary difficulties, and two possessing a greater and better power than any six of the most approved pills known.

RADWAY'S REGULATORS are a certain cure for Costiveness, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Kidney, Complaint, Jaundice, Head Aches, Nervousnes, Melancholy, Diseases of the Bladder. RADWAY'S REGULATORS are most carefull RADWAY'S REGULATORS are most carefully prepared from extracts and gums of trees, plants, roots, and herbs. There are no pills in use that will act upon the Liver, Pancreas, Bowels, the Salivary Glauds and Nerves, so pleasantly and so effectually as the R. R. REGULATORS. No pills can be taken for any length of time, with the same safety to the constitution; for, instead of debilitating the system by powerful and drastic purging, they act pleasantly upon the bowels, and impart strength to every nerve and tissue of the body.

One of the REGULATORS, taken on going to bed, will insure a regular and beathly discharge from the bowels in the morning. In cases where eight or ten of the common pills are used for free evacuations, two or three of the REGULATORS are sufficient.

THE CHEST.

THE CHEST.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER, BART., M. D., the comment Medical Practitioner, has left a valuable legacy to the world, in his Garax? Paryentry or Consumption, and unfailing cure for Pulmonary Discases, without the use of Medicine. Sir A. C. Bart., invented and advised the use of the MEDICATED FUR CHEST PROTECTOR to all persons of all ages and conditions, as a certain and safe shield against these fearful diseases, Consumption, Bronchitie, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and other affections of the Lunga, which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to fashion, and the continual changes of our climate.

"The Protector" is simply a chemically-pre-which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to fashion, and the continual changes of our climate.

"The Protector" is simply a chemically-prepared far, lined with silk and padded, which, suspended from the neck, covers the chest in an agreeable a manner, that, once worn, it becomes a necessity and a comfort.

"The Protector," although but recently introduced into America, is making rapid progress through the United States, the Canadas, South America, and the West Indies. It has for a long time beef a staple article in England, and on the Continent of Europe, while it has grown in many countries to the position of an article of dress.

To demonstrate these facts, enquire of any English resident in your vicinity of his knowledge of the beneficial effects of wearing the Protector, without recourse to decreas. No one who values the health of himself or his family will be without them. The hospitals in this country are not alone recommending them, but rapidly introducing them. Harcourt, Bradiey & Co., of London, and Manchester, England, were originally entrusted with the manufacture of the Protectors, by the lamented Dr. Cooper, and continue to mafacture according to his original instructions, and therefore recommend those who would wear "The Protectors," to see to their being genuine.
