FIFTEENTH YEAR

BOWELL SUMMONED

Asked to Form a Government by Lord Aberdeen.

WILL CONSULT HIS COLLEAGUES

His Request for Consideration Acceded to.

The Situation Not Discussed at a Meeting of the Ministers Yesterday—The Courses Open to the Party—Difficulties in the Way of Mr. Bowell's Selection as Minister of Justice a Hard Task—Sir John's Successor to be Chosen.

Ottawa, Dec. 13.—About 10 o'clock to-night Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was summoned by His Excellency to meet him in his office in the Eastern block, whither he at once proceeded, and remained in consultation with His Excellency until 11.

The result of this interview, I am authorized to state, was that His Excellency informed him that, after fully considering all the aspects of the situation, he had decided to ask Mr. Bowell if he was prepared to undertake and assume the responsibility of the formation of a new Cabinet.

Hon. Mr. Bowell replied in effect that while fully realizing the difficulties and responsibilities of assuming so important a duty, he could not, appreciating the mark of confidence reposed in him by this request, decline the responsibility of acceding to it, and he would at the first possible opportunity, consult with his colleagues and report to His Excellency at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Bowell added that as some of his colleagues would not arrive in the city until next week, he would have to act sufficient time to enable him to consult with all those with whom he had been consulting. This request was readily acceded to by His Excellency.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The Crisis as Viewed Prior to His Excellency's Calling Mr. Bowell.

Ottawa, Dec. 13.—The political crisis is settling no faster than such things usually clear themselves. It is in a serious crisis, of that there is no doubt.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, acting Premier during Sir John Thompson's absence, and senior Privy Councillor, was in consultation with His Excellency this afternoon.
The conference was not, I have good reason for saying, over the formation of a new Cabinet, but over the possibility of the funeral arrangements, telegrams in regard to which have passed between England and His Excellency. The body of the dead Prime Minister is to be brought out in a British steamer, and will be landed in Halifax, Nova Scotia, about 10 o'clock on the 15th inst.

A National Subscription for the Family While he was in England, Sir John Thompson was the subject of a national subscription, and the subscription was opened in the city on the 11th inst.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The political situation was not then discussed, but they decided, I believe, in small meetings, among themselves, and will be held in a full meeting in all likelihood decide to place the interest of the Conservative party, and the number of those outside of the party who are in sympathy with the party is the first concern, and loyalty to the man selected next.

Why Elections were to be Brought On.
But it is certainly not a question of elections, but of a full interview in the World, that Sir John knew how ill he was. Hon. John Haggart also knew that Mr. Haggart thought that further his party got to the country without a leader. But the matter is not yet settled.

Haggart Probably Sir John's Successor.
What bears out the idea that Sir John Thompson had told Lord Aberdeen something, or left a message for him, is that Douglas Stewart, Sir John's secretary, met His Excellency at a station when he came up from Montreal to-day.

Temporary Arrangement Probable.
What now is to be done is not known.
His Excellency's mind is not known.
He may take time to consider. But as near as can be, the thing likely to happen is this, always, however, taking it for granted that His Excellency thinks that the Conservatives ought to be his advisers.

In the first place, there are two courses open to the party. They may make a temporary arrangement with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, as leader, and trust to time, and, after a short session, appeal to the country, for a new leader to develop.

Difficulties in Bowell's Way.
But before His Excellency can take office he must be assured of two things, that he has John Haggart and that Mr. Foster with him. The latter is not a Conservative, and he cannot move until he is sure on those points.
Next, he must be assured of a House of Commons. Mr. Foster is the only man in sight. Sir Charles Tupper is not a Conservative, and he cannot move until he is sure on those points.

THE QUEEN'S PROFOUND GRIEF.
Her Deep Sympathy With the People of Canada.

The Queen asked to have Mrs. Sanford and Miss Thompson presented to her when they reach the castle. She expressed to them her profound grief at the death of Sir John Thompson and her great sympathy with them and the Canadian people in the loss they had sustained.

THE FUNERAL OF SIR JOHN.
Semi-State Ceremonial at Windsor Castle.

Widow With the Queen's Autograph Laid on the Casket by Her Majesty.

The Body Conveyed to London to Be Embalmed For Removal to Canada—Widespread Expressions of Sympathy.

London, Dec. 13.—The sudden and tragic death of Sir John Thompson, Canadian Prime Minister, at Windsor Castle yesterday, shortly after having been sworn in as a member of the Privy Council, is the subject of comment throughout England to-day.
The castle itself has a most gloomy appearance, as everybody and everything seem to reflect some signs of the tragedy.

A temporary coffin, covered with black cloth, reached the city very early this morning, and in it the body of the deceased was placed. It was then removed to the Marble Hall, and at noon the body was removed to Windsor Castle, where it was placed on board a funeral train, which departed from Windsor at 1 o'clock. At Paddington Railroad station, London, the funeral train was met by a hearse and the body removed to an embalming parlour for the purpose of embalming it preparatory to its conveyance to Canada.

Shortly before midnight a requiem service was held in the room of the Clarence Tower in the White Hall, and were first deposited. The Rev. Father Longinotti, a Roman Catholic priest of Windsor, officiated at the service.

Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner, Lord Pelham Clinton, the master of the Queen's household, and other high officials of the court were present.

The service, which was most impressive, lasted half an hour. The body of the dead Premier lay on a small bedstead, dressed in his white linen night clothes and with a crucifix upon his breast. The expression of the face was peaceful, although the features were a trifle discoloured.

"Mark of Sincere Respect From Victoria." During the entire morning the remains lay in the Marble Hall in the castle, and the people of the city were allowed to view them. The funeral arrangements for the funeral have been completed.
At the hour of the funeral, the mourners were met by a hearse and the body removed to an embalming parlour for the purpose of embalming it preparatory to its conveyance to Canada.

The few minutes after noon the Queen was wheeled into the Marble Hall in a chair and placed two wreaths upon the casket. One of these wreaths was of lilies and the other was of laurel leaves, bearing an autograph inscription: "A mark of sincere respect from Victoria." The casket curlew bell and the parish church bells began tolling, and the funeral procession was formed in the quadrangle at the Esplanade's entrance of the castle.

A State funeral.
By command of the Queen the procession was in the nature of a state funeral.
The hearse was draped with black velvet, and in front of it were carried a lit of feathers, in accordance with an ancient custom. This is a board about a yard square, covered with black velvet, and on it are placed a pair of small black tapers.

On either side of the hearse walked the pall-bearers, Lord Hawkebury, Sir Fleetwood John Edwards, Assistant Keeper of the Privy Purse, Sir John Macdonald, Col. Harrington, Lord Pelham Clinton, Master of the Queen's Household, Sir Henry Ponsonby, the Queen's private secretary, Dr. James Jessel, the Queen's resident medical attendant.

Behind the hearse Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner, followed by a chief mourner. He was followed by members of the Privy Council.
The procession left the castle by the Queen's Gate at about 12.30 p.m.

All the shades of the castle were drawn down except at the window where the Queen witnessed the departure of the hearse. The coffin was carried by four bearers, and the hearse was followed by a chief mourner. He was followed by members of the Privy Council.
Queen's Gate at about 12.30 p.m.

The coffin was conveyed from the Marble Hall to the hearse, and the hearse was driven to the station. The funeral train was met by a hearse and the body
the purpose of embalming it preparatory to its conveyance to Canada.

At the station Sir Charles Tupper assisted Mrs. Thompson from her carriage.
She was thickly veiled, almost beyond recognition. The city authorities waited with bare heads the arrival of the procession, and exchanged in subdued tones the few necessary courtesies. The hearse was met by Sir Charles Tupper and other personal and official friends of the deceased. The hearse was placed on board the funeral train, which departed from Windsor at 1 o'clock. At Paddington

WIDESPREAD MOURNING.
The mourning for Sir John Thompson is widespread and sincere. Among colonial officials and private persons interested in colonial affairs the expressions of grief are particularly marked. The severity of the loss which his death has caused the colonial office, is revealed by the messages of sorrow and condolence received at the Dominion offices from Government secretaries and other distinguished officials. The following is a list of the messages received at 6 o'clock this afternoon. A few contained inquiries as to the cause of the death of Canada's greatest statesman in recent years.
England poured in telegrams from London and the line of callers was almost continuous. While in London Sir John was a daily visitor there. He remained at the office a long time after the 11th and transacted business with Sir Charles Tupper.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Record of a Day on Track and Field—Fighters in the South.

At a meeting in their club room last night, Mr. C. DeWolfe, by 400 to 332 in 62 innings. Best averages, Watson 31, Sutton 25.

The American Cup Committee puts the whole thing in a nutshell they say, and that is that Lord Dunsaville, through the Royal Yacht Squadron, refuses to recognize the dead of gift, and the New York Yacht Club, through the American Cup Committee, are determined to stand by the dead.

Watson of St. Albans defeated Sutton as Montreal on Wednesday by 400 to 332 in 62 innings. Best averages, Watson 31, Sutton 25.

The American Cup Committee puts the whole thing in a nutshell they say, and that is that Lord Dunsaville, through the Royal Yacht Squadron, refuses to recognize the dead of gift, and the New York Yacht Club, through the American Cup Committee, are determined to stand by the dead.

At the annual meeting of the Royal Montreal Golf Club the officers elected for the ensuing year were: Captain, J. L. Morris; secretary, treasurer, E. G. Jones; committee, J. Law, J. R. Meeker, N. Arthur, F. Stansfield and G. Balfour.

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting of the Caledonian Curling Club last night. Besides making arrangements for the winter matches several new members were admitted. The Mowat cup for the championship of the club was handed over to T. Mcintosh, who was the successful skip last winter.

Now that Jacksonville has declared against prize-fighting, Corbett says he will be glad to meet Fitzsimmons at New Orleans. He would have decided for that city in the first place, he says, had the Olympic Club treated him right.

James Corbett, champion pugilist, was originally booked to play right field and captain the New York nine of the new baseball organization, and that his manager, William A. Brady, was slated as the club's business manager.

The winners yesterday were: At Roby Sylvan—Walker, Forerunner, Hillsboro and Danaher, after a dead heat with Marion G. At Alexander Island—Samarian, His Grace, Northford, May E. Laylin.

The advance guard of the pugilist contingent arrived in New Orleans Tuesday night. In the Chicago party there were Jim Hall, Larry Curtis, George Conditine, and others. Last night a second party arrived with Frank Lee, Frank O'Brien, Abe Levy, Leo Meyer, Captain Anson and Billy Johnston as the stellar dignitaries.

The Bowler-Lavigne fight is being dwarfed by the interest taken in the Ryan-Dempsey contest. "Parson" Davies and Joe Choynick have been in New Orleans since Saturday. The betting so far is light. There is plenty of Ryan coin, and the holders appear willing to give odds of 10 to 8. Ryan weighed after a light luncheon 141 pounds under weight, and looks bigger and seems stronger than ever before in his life.

The World at Hamilton.

The daily and Sunday editions of the World may be had at any of the hotels or other news stands in that city. Subscriptions 25 cents a month to the daily, and 45 cents a month daily and Sunday.

Suicide by Paris Green.

Montreal, Dec. 12.—Francis Menier, formerly of Fall River, Mass., in a fit of depression committed suicide by taking Paris green to-day.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer accretions of food after partaking of a heavy dinner. The food particles of a like ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being properly assimilated, become a poison to the system. Dr. Farnese's Vegetable Pills are water-soluble, and they are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia.

OPERETTAS AT THE GRAND.

The Music of Many Composers Being by W. T. Carleton and Company.

Those who went to the Grand last night had an opportunity of hearing some from "Lucia, Lammermoor," of Lohengrin, and many less celebrated works sung fairly well. To be sure, Wagner, Donizetti, Andrea, and the rest were not credited with their own music, but they have celebrity enough and to spare, and are not alive to grudge Alfred Collier any posthumous fame. W. T. Carleton's Opera Comedies Company presented "The Spectre Knight" and "The Charity Girls," two one-act operettas by the composer of "Dorothy," which were first produced 15 years ago, and which the specious advance agents announced as having had a run of 600 nights in London. They wouldn't have a run nowadays despite the fact that Collier has decked them forth in borrowed plumes. The best number of the evening was the quintette from "Lucia," which has been conveyed almost without rearrangement into "The Spectre Knight." It was sung by the celebrated baritone, W. T. Carleton, and his associates. The company in all respects is an amusing and amusingly young, lady who plays "Pages, etc.," and afterwards "Villagers, etc." is unusually attractive. He opens work stockings. The defects of the performance are the school-girl plots of the operas.

Lecture on "Fools."

As the Rev. P. S. Hanson has lectured on "Fools" in Toronto before, the subject for next Monday has been changed. The following is from a Louisville paper:

"Fools" is an admirable lecture, and an added charm is given by the personality of the lecturer. Dr. Hanson is an admirable humorist, if any one may say so without irreverence, and he makes the most of the humorous possibilities of his subject. He is an eloquent orator also, and aways the audience at times with a master's spell.

Lincoln, the Humorist.

Of Frank Lincoln, the humorist and entertainer, who appears at the Massey Music Hall on Saturday evening. The London Daily Telegraph says: "He is the successor of Artemus Ward and the New York Times 'He is the keenest humorist in his special lines that this country contains.' The plan opens tomorrow morning."

Headaches, Dizzy

Spells and faintness have my afflictions for 22 years. Often I would fall in a sudden faint and several times narrowly escaped being burnt on the stove. No medicine gave me more than a few days relief, and I laughed when a friend urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. But I took it and in six months I was free from all headache troubles, faintness or dizziness. I cannot say too much in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is worth its weight in gold to me. Mrs. H. H. HANNA, Paris, Ont.

Butchered in His Bed.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 18.—Frank Sandman, a fire-keeper of Aiden, this county, was found dead in bed with several cuts and slashes on his head, from which blood had flown freely. There are rumors of foul play, and the coroner will investigate.

Can Recommend It.—Mr. Enos Hornbary, Tuscarora, writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is all that you claim it to be, as we have been using it for years, both internally and externally, and have always received benefits from its use. It is our family medicine, and I take great pleasure in recommending it."

A RED-HANDED MASSAGRE

The New Store Sends Prices Soaring Into Space. Prices Positively Out of the Question.

Cost and consequence cut no figure, play no part in this general destruction of values, this grand distribution of stupendous BARGAINS in MEN'S and BOYS' SUITS and OVERCOATS.

We recognize but two facts—one is that we MUST HAVE ROOM—the other that we MUST UNLOAD and that quickly. In heroic measures lies our safety. We have piled the two-edged sword, leaving not a single Suit or Overcoat untouched, and reducing prices already low to a mere shadow of what they were and should be.

All of our $6, $7 and $8 SUITS - - for $3.50
All of our $10 and $12 SUITS - - for $5.00
