WATFORD FAIR is the next big event. MONDAY, Oct. 12th, is Thanksgiving Day.

WATFORD'S WAR MOTTO:—"Business as usual."

THE new King hats for fall.—A. BROWN & CO.

IF you want to secure a good war map read the announcement on page two of this issue.

THE KAISER calls his navy his left fist. As it is his left arm that is withered, evidently the trouble is spreading.

ACTING under orders received from the department at Toronto the police of Ontario are rounding up all tramps.

THERE was another $10 excursion from Toronto to Valcartier last Saturday. These cheap trips are being well patronized.

WALK through our store. Piles of new goods to look at.—SWIFTS.

PTE. CARPRAE was home from Valcartier this week, having been granted leave of absence on account of the illness of his wife.

THE Watford blacksmiths were well represented at the London Fair Wednesday. Most of the local shops were closed for the day.

EPWORTH League services in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Leader—Mrs. Baker. Topic—"Humanity."

YOU need not discard that German chimney clock, or smash that German lamp, or burn those German toys—but see that it doesn't occur again.

THE WATFORD WOMAN'S INSTITUTE have decided to hold a patriotic concert on Wednesday evening, September 30th. A good program will be provided. Particulars later.

FRIDAY and Saturday, Sept. 18th and 19th, are the dates of A. Brown & Co.'s Millinery Opening.

PROF. WM. SAUNDERS, for a quarter of a century director of Dominion Experimental Farms, died at his home in London Sunday last. He had been ill for over a year.

MOST papers in mentioning the tax rate of their respective towns state that the tax rate has been struck. Why not change it and simply say the people have been "stuck."

MISS R. DUNLOP, milliner, Oil Springs, is making a big cut in millinery from Sept. 19th to 26th. Ribbons, mounts, flowers, hat shapes, velvets, silks, veils, etc., will be sold at half price.

YOU should see our imported suitings before buying your fall suit.—SWIFTS' Tailoring Dept.

THIS notice has been posted in a Toronto business office:—"Kitchener and Jellicoe must run this war. We must run this business. No more war extras and no more war talk during business hours."

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD ACTON, Huron street, wish to announce the engagement of their grand-daughter, Sara, to Mr. Evan Davis, of Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place late in October.

ALL are welcome at the 15 minute prayer meeting for intercession for our troops, held every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Church. The church is open every day for those who wish to go there for private prayer or meditation.

THE Ontario Bureau of Archives has made application for the old account book found by Mr. J. E. Fowler and lately described in the Guide-Advocate. The book will be sent to the government as soon as local people have finished inspecting it.

YOU are cordially invited to attend A. Brown & Co.'s formal fall millinery opening on Friday and Saturday. Open Friday evening.—A. BROWN & CO.

MR. J. LOCKIE WILSON, Superintendent of Fairs and Exhibitions for the Province of Ontario, has written to the secretary of the various agricultural societies that the government will be unable to pay more than 50 per cent., of the regular grants next year.

AMONG the warnings issued by the government to the Canadian newspapers is the following:—"The authorities would be obliged if Canadian papers made no references to the chartering of transports, or to their movements, or to the embarkation of troops."

As there is likely to be considerable unemployment in the towns and cities this winter who would be willing to work for the winter at a reasonable wage, the Department of Agriculture, is willing to aid any farmer wishing help to get in touch with the Colonization Branch and the unemployed.

LONDON Fair visitors say our ladies' coats are from two to four dollars cheaper than shown in the city.—SWIFTS.

LADIES' Penman's and Woolsey hosiery.—SWIFTS.

FLAG DAY will be observed in Watford 6th of October, fair day. Proceeds, Patriotic fund.

THE Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will give a fifteen cent tea at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Hicks this (Thursday) evening from 5 to 8 o'clock.

COMPETITION becomes a little sterner every year. Were Ananias alive to-day he would find it difficult to achieve eminence in his particular field.

THE new imported rugs are here.—SWIFTS.

MANY people seem to think that war makes farmers rich, but the greatest "haul" is generally made by the middle-man or some clever financier.

THE Watford tax rate for 1914 is 30½ mills on the dollar. The ratepayers will have to dig down deep into their pockets this year. Last year the rate was 25 7-10.

THE widow of the late George Moncrief, M. P. for East Lambton for many years, died at Toronto on Tuesday. The funeral will take place at Petrolia on Friday upon arrival of the one o'clock train. Interment at Hillsdale cemetery.

MONARCH, Penman's, Best Knit and Avon Knit sweaters and sweater coats for men, women and children. Largest assortment and best values ever shown.—A. BROWN & CO.

THE ladies are very busy these days preparing gifts for the soldier boys at Valcartier. The Women's Institute and the Daughters of the Empire have both sent liberal donations of useful articles. Those who can't fight must work or pay these war times.

60 PAIR all white British cotton blankets. No borders to fade, lovely soft quality, two sizes, price $1.65, $1.85 and $2.00.—SWIFTS.

A MOUNTAIN 11,000 feet high, which Miss Mary L. Jobe, of Hunter College, New York, believes has never been mapped, was discovered by her in British Columbia, about 150 miles north of Mount Robson. This Canada of ours is a pretty big country when a mountain that size has escaped notice for so long.

FORTY-FIVE per cent of the world's supply of sugar comes from Europe. The war will mean such a serious loss to the European crop that the tremendous advance in prices in European ports with the unprecedented demand for raw and refined sugars on this continent has created the big advance in price.

SEVERAL cases of petty thieving have been reported. Garden stuff and fruit, oats and chickens are among the stuff appropriated without permission. A watch will be put on several parties who are suspected. Beware, or the new lock-up will be your resting place some dark night.

WAR brings many hardships more or less great, all along the line. The Canadian tea supply is small and little chance at present of increasing the store. Tea prices have already advanced five to eight cents a pound. A cup of tea will cost more money and if you take sugar, yet some more. But, after all, good water is plentiful and better for the health.

WE have sold a lot of large rugs from our first import order.—SWIFTS.

WHEAT $1.10, oats 45, butter 20c, eggs 22c.

COL. KELLY returned from Valcartier, Wednesday, much pleased with the trip. He reports the Watford boys well and happy.

THERE were about 300 tickets sold at the Watford station for London this week. Fewer than usual, but many of the farmers now go to the fairs in their autos.

LADIES, remember that our man-tailored garments, made to your special measure, are giving complete satisfaction.—A. BROWN & CO.

MRS. BRAIN, wife of Percy Brain, who lives on the 12th line of Enniskillen, about two miles west of Sutorville, passed away at the Sarnia Hospital on Saturday after several weeks illness. Her infant child survives her. The funeral was held from the family residence on Monday to the Wyoming cemetery, Rev. S. P. Irwin, of Watford, conducting the service.

Geo. ECCLES, proprietor of the Watford evaporator, is now buying apples. Only good peelers will be taken and the highest price will be paid for any quantity of these delivered at the evaporator. Working people in town and fruit growers are to be congratulated that Mr. Eccles has decided to operate the evaporator as usual this fall, as the export trade in evaporated fruit has been almost paralyzed by the war.

THE death occurred in London on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Mary Jane Fowler, widow of Henry Leonard Fowler, formerly of Watford. Mrs. Fowler had been ill for some months. Her husband predeceased her many years ago. She is survived by two sons, Norman, of Dundas, and J. Harry, of The London Free Press. The funeral will take place from the residence of her brother, Reeve Stapleford, Watford, on Friday at 3 o'clock. Sermon at the house at 2.30.

TEN pieces new table linen, best Belfast goods, cream 25c, to 75c., white 42c. to $1.50.—SWIFTS.

THE custom authorities have issued orders prohibiting horses from leaving Canada. There are no exceptions to the order, which has been issued as a precautionary war measure. People from Detroit, Pt. Huron or anywhere in the States, who have been accustomed to bringing their rigs over to the Canadian side and driving around for a few hours or a day or two, can no longer bring their animals across, as once an animal lands on Canadian soil it cannot be taken back.

THE regular meeting of the Watford Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Butler on Wednesday afternoon, September 9th, president presiding. Meeting opened in the usual way by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever." 19 members and 6 visitors present. Roll call answered by patriotic quotations. After the usual business a reading was given by Mrs. Fulcher on "The art of making others happy." Also one from the president on "Vegetables and their uses," both were excellent papers. We then had several selections on the gramophone which were good, after which the hostess served a dainty lunch. Meeting closed by singing "God Save the King." Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Miller, 4th line.—SAC.

WE have a lot of commercial men buying their clothing from us. They are good dressers and buy the best.—SWIFTS'

FOR years the gospel of trading at home has been preached by The Telegraph, but it seems there is a special call for further preaching at the present time. Watford needs the money; don't send it away. Buy what you need right here at home. Keep what coin there is circulating on the inside of our own town limits. In the winter that lies before us every man who has anything is going to be called upon to share it with those who have not, and in this process the merchants, as is usual with them, will have to bear the brunt. They have been loyal and patriotic in everything that pertained to the town's interest and the interests of the people. Now the people can do no less than be patriotic to the merchants. Home trading is good economics at any time; now it is doubly good.

FARMERS make a grave mistake who do not encourage their sons, daughters and hired help to take part in local agricultural exhibitions. It gives all concerned, even the whole community a common interest in the success of exhibits from their own locality. We have often noticed the real interest that centres round the showing at the local fair of a colt, driving horse, carriage or agricultural team. In the case of a lady driver or equestrienne all the young fellows in the township who know her are watching earnestly and hoping to see her win. Around the cattle, sheep, swine and poultry pens centres varied interests and the chaps who lose determine there and then that next year they will show a winner and set about the contract with renewed energy and ambition. In the home the commendable spirit of rivalry obtains. The prize quilt, piece of fancy work, butter or plate of cooking, bread or buns create a local interest that nearly always bears good fruit. Encourage the boys and girls then to get something ready to show at the East Lambton Fall Fair to be held at Watford on Oct. 5 and 6.

THE Forest blacksmiths closed their shops Thursday to attend the London Fair.

VALCARTIER

E. D. Swift Gives His Impressions of the Military Camp

Mr. E. D. Swift, who with Mrs. Swift was at Valcartier on Sept. 5th and 6th visiting their son, Capt. T. L. Swift of the 27th regt., was much impressed with the camp and the great review held there on that Sunday. He describes the camp and review as follows:—The review of the troops in Valcartier camp by the Duke of Connaught took place Sunday afternoon and was fine in every respect, but the weather. The comfort of all, soldier and citizen, was marred by a steady downpour of rain that began at noon and continued well into the night.

This, however, did not interfere with the fine showing of the men, nor with the impression which the marshalling of this splendid force made upon the visitors to the camp. There is no fear but that the best traditions of the British Army and the honor of Canada will be maintained by our overseas contingent.

More than 30,000 men were in the ranks, and the march past showed the space covered from front to rear to have been something over two miles.

The men themselves were fine and fit, and display the good effects of their stay in camp and the hard drill given them. They showed this fully on Sunday, which was a strenuous day for them.

The camp is well organized. It is clean and sanitary. The litter is burned every day.

Parents and friends of the boys in camp need have no fears or misgivings as to how their boys are faring. They are worked hard, well fed, well cared for, have wholesome recreation and amusements, and the opportunity for religious thought and exercise through the good offices of the Y.M.C.A. and the churches represented.

Arrangements are about completed for the East Lambton Fair on Oct. 5th and 6th. Besides the regular cash prizes a good list of specials is presented by the business men. The attraction committee have secured some excellent talent for the Tuesday, including platform specialties, horse races, etc., for the afternoon, and a ripping good concert in the armory at night.

Lines Dedicated to the Relatives of Those Who Have Gone to War.

Tune, "Tramp, tramp, the boys are marching."
In Canada's fair land,
We have taken a bold stand
For our country, honor
Freedom, flag and crown,
We don't care for "Kaiser Bill,"
Or his cruel ill will,
And he need not think
That he can put us down.

Chorus:
Tramp, tramp, the boys are marching
Cheer up Comrades and be gay,
For beneath the Union Jack
We will drive the foeman back
And we'll fight for our Beloved Canadian home.
On Valcartier camping ground,
Many a noble lad is found,
Who is going to the war
Across the sea.
He is leaving home and land
To fight the Kaiser's furious band
And he does it for
His country, flag and thee.
Chorus:—Tramp, tramp, etc.
So when the war is o'er,
And he has to fight no more,
He'll return to his home
Across the sea,
With many scars and breaks,
But you bet, he thrashed those Jakes,
And he did it for
His country, flag and thee.
ELLEN THOMAS BATSTONE,
August 26, 1914.

A Boy's Remarks to his Stomach

What's the matter with you—ain't I always been your friend? Ain't I been a pardner to you? All my pennies don't I spend in getting nice things for you? Don't I give you lots of cake? Say, stummick, what's the matter, that you had to go and ache?
Why, I loaded you with good things yesterday. I gave you more.
Potatoes, squash and turkey that you'd ever had before! I gave you nuts and candy, pumpkin pie and chocolate cake—And last night when I got to bed you had to go and ache! Say, what's the matter with you? Ain't you satisfied at all? I gave you all you wanted; you was hard just like a ball; and you couldn't hold another bit of puddin', yet last night you ached most awful, stummick; that ain't treatin' me just right!
I've been a friend to you, I have; why ain't you a friend of mine?
They gave me castor oil last night because you made a whine. I'm awful sick this mornin', and I'm feelin' mighty blue, becuz you don't appreciate the things I do for you!

Destined

"I believe," declared the Irishman, "that the youngest son's born t' be a surgeon."
"P'what leads ye t' say that?" asked his friend.
"O' caught him usin' th' scissors on a book O'id lately bought, an' before O' e'd stop him he cut out th' appendix."—Bohemian.

Columbus had returned to Spain, bringing news of wonderful new lands across the sea.
"How much shall I write on it?" queried the maritime reporter of the Cadiz Evening Bulletin, who had brought in the story.
"Don't write anything," replied the editor. "Let Columbus pay for his advertising if he wants any. It's probably a real-estate promotion scheme."
All Christians denominations should bear in mind the words that passed the dying lips of the late Pope: "All one in Christ."

Fireless Cookers That Are Not Fireproof

One would think one were safe from fire with a fireless cooker, but a friend of mine came near having a conflagration from hers, says a writer in Good Housekeeping. She smelled something burning in the kitchen and hurried in to find, to her astonishment, that volumes of smoke were rolling from the fireless cooker. The latter was not in use at the time and, moreover, the lids were all standing open. The cause of the trouble was spontaneous combustion of the "stuffing" between the compartments.

It seems that the cook had not been careful in wiping out the moisture after the food had been cooked, and the metal lining had rusted and so holes had come at the bottom. The heat from the radiators got through these to the "stuffing," and when enough had been stored up in this interior spontaneous combustion occurred, just as it sometimes does with a bale of cotton. The insurance company made good to my friend the destruction of the fireless cooker, and she has purchased the latest model, which is porcelain lined, and, therefore, may not be subject to the same danger. But still we have now got to watch our fireless cookers lest they catch afire.

Cookers which are not seamless lined must be kept dry and open to air when not in use or rusting will inevitably result. Given this care they will not rust out.

HOW TO CAN CORN

Uncle Sam Tells of Satisfactory Ways to Put It Up.

SELLING SURPLUS PRODUCT.

Home Prepared Vegetables Bring a Good Price on the Market—Economy in Handling Large Quantities of Food at Once.

The United States department of agriculture gives some well tested and reasonable suggestions for putting up corn.

These recipes have been used in connection with the five different types of canning devices, and the corn has been put up in all types of containers, such as glass, screw and suction top jars and tin cans. The method employed is the cold pack method. Select sweet corn ears of uniform size and proper ripeness. If too ripe the corn will color while processing. (Processing is the canning term for sterilization or cooking.) If not ripe enough much of the food value is lost in cutting the corn from the cob. Use either glass jars or tin cans. For market purposes and greater safety in transportation use tin cans.

Remove husk, silk, shank, tips and injured or defective places. Blanch corn in boiling water or steam chest for from five to ten minutes. The time depends upon the stage of ripeness, size of ears and degree of freshness. Remove the ears and plunge quickly in cold water.

Cooking the Corn.

Put the corn from the cob with a sharp, thin bladed knife. Pack well in glass jar or tin can; add hot water and a level teaspoonful of salt to the quart or No. 3 can. Place rubber and glass jar top in place, not tight. If using tin, solder cap in place and fill vent hole or seal completely. Process the corn from 180 to 240 minutes in the homemade or hot water commercial bath outfits; for one and one-half hours in the water seal outfits; for one hour when using from five to ten pounds of steam pressure, with the steam pressure canning devices and forty minutes when using the aluminum steam pressure cooker outfit. After processing remove the jars, tighten covers, invert to test the joints and cool.

If using tin inspect the soldered end caps for pinhole leaks. Repair all leaks, allow to stand for twenty-four hours. If cans are still bulging at ends at the end of this time one of two things is true—the pack is too full, or some live spores are still left in the can. If the latter replace in sterilizer and process the second time from thirty minutes to one hour.

Canning Sweet Corn on the Cob.

Blanch in boiling water five to ten minutes, according to ripeness, size and freshness; plunge quickly in cold water. Pack, alternating butts and tips; add just a little boiling water and one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart. Place rubber and top and partially tighten. (Cap and tip tins.) Process 180 to 240 minutes in hot water bath; one and one-half hours water seal outfit; one hour under five or more pounds of steam; forty minutes in aluminum pressure cooker. Remove jars, tighten covers, invert and cool. (Heat up for table use in steamer, not in water. If corn seems flat or waterlogged, it has been overcooked or allowed to stand in too much water.)

Use one or two quart glass jars, if not needed for other products. Quart jars will hold two ears; two quart jars will hold from three to five ears, according to size of ear. Do not can large ears. Half gallon or gallon tin cans with large openings should be used in the canning of ear corn when the glass jars are not available. Gallon tin cans will hold from six to twelve ears. They should be graded to uniform size.

In high altitudes, 4,000 feet and over, it will be necessary to increase the time requirements in the canning of sweet corn about 25 per cent, if water boils at about 202 degrees F. and even less.

Bird Baths For the Garden.

Some of the bird baths are very attractive, and no garden is complete without one of these useful little ornaments.

An Oil That is Prized Everywhere.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over thirty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this hemisphere. There is nothing equal to it.

THINK OF THE COMMON WEAL

London Times' Advice to British Nation

We are receiving a constant stream of letters containing suggestions for personal conduct or useful action in the national emergency. We publish a selection from them below, says the London Times. They vary no doubt in value, and publication does not imply endorsement of any particular suggestion. But they all reflect the intense interest and desire to help which animates the whole population, and they will, we hope, encourage the spirit of duty, unselfishness, restraint and consideration for others which beehoves us all to cherish to the utmost.

There are some simple things that all can do and others that all can avoid:

First and foremost—Keep your heads. Be calm. Go about your ordinary business quietly and soberly. Do not indulge in excitement or foolish demonstration.

Secondly—Think of your duty to your neighbor. Think of the common weal.

Try to contribute your share by doing your duty in your own place and your own sphere. Be abstemious and economical. Avoid waste.

Do not store goods and create an artificial scarcity to the hurt of others. Remember that it is an act of mean and selfish cowardice.

Do not hoard gold. Let it circulate. Try to make things easier, not difficult.

Remember those who are worse off than yourself. Pay punctually what you owe, especially to your poorest creditors, such as washerwomen and charwomen.

If you are an employer think of your employed. Give them work and wages as long as you can, and work short time rather than close down.

If you are employed remember the difficulties of your employer. Instead of dwelling on your own privations think of the infinitely worse state of those who are at the seat of war and are not only thrown out of work but deprived of all they possess.

Do what you can to cheer and encourage any soldiers. Gladly help any organization for their comfort and welfare.

Explain to the young and the ignorant what war is, and why we have been forced to wage it.

A CARLOAD

You often want to know what constitutes a carload. Well, paste this in your hat and you will have an answer handy. Nominally a carload is 20,000 pounds. It is also 79 barrels of salt, 99 of flour, 208 sacks of flour, 10 cords of wood, 18 to 20 head of cattle, 50 to 60 hogs, 90 to 100 head of sheep, 6,000 feet of boards, 17,000 feet of siding, 13,000 feet of flooring, 45,000 feet of shingles, one half less of hard lumber, one third less of joist, scantling and other large timbers, 340 bushel of corn, 400 bushel of wheat, 580 of oats, 156 of flax seed, 780 of apples, 340 of potatoes and 1,000 of bran.

Canada's War Gifts

Canadian Governmental gifts to Great Britain's "war chest" to date are as follows:

- Dominion—1,000,000 bags flour.
- Ontario—250,000 bags flour.
- Quebec—4,000,000 pounds of cheese.
- Nova Scotia—500,000 tons of coal.
- P.E.I.—100,000 bus. oats.
- Alberta—500,000 bags oats.
- New Brunswick—100,000 bushels of potatoes.

All go to the British Government except Prince Edward Island's gift which is to the Dominion Government for Canadian troops.

Life After Forty

The best half of life is in front of the man of 40, if he be anything of a man. The work he will do will be done with the hands of a master and not of a raw apprentice. The trained intellect does not see "men as trees walking," but sees everything clearly and in just measure. The trained temper does not rush at work like a blind bull at a haystack, but advances with the calm and ordered pace of conscious power and deliberate determination. To no man is the world so new and the future so fresh as to him who has spent the early years of his manhood in striving to understand the deeper problems of science and life, and who has made some headway toward comprehending them. To him the commonest things are rare and beautiful, both in themselves and as parts of a beautiful and intelligent whole. Such a thing as staleness in life and its duties he cannot understand. Knowledge is always opening out before him in wider expanses and more commanding heights. The pleasure of growing knowledge and increasing power makes each year of his life happier and more hopeful than the last.

Spanish army officers have found bomb dropping from aeroplanes an effective means for subduing turbulent tribesmen in southern Morocco.

A new bevel guide for saws answers all the purposes of a mitre box with the added advantage that it can be used with lumber of any width.

Seven hundred missionaries went to Africa during the past summer, so we are told. That will greatly relieve the high-cost-of-living situation among the natives for a time.

Though repeated attempts have been made, by physicians and chemists, it has been found impossible to improve the formula of the pills. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are a household remedy throughout the world for Constipation and all Kidney and Liver troubles. They act promptly and effectively, and

MARKETS Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Receipts at the Union stockyards today were 68 cars with 689 cattle, 173 calves, 835 hogs and 1517 sheep and lambs. The feature of the market today was considerable activity in the stocker trade: One firm received 12 carloads of good stockers and feeders from the Northwest, weighing from 700 to 1,000 pounds each. These met a good demand and sold at good steady prices, ranging from $7 to $7.50. Light Eastern stockers sold freely from $5.50 to $6.25. Ontario farmers were in the market looking for grass bunches of stockers to turn out to graze.

Among the butcher cattle there were but very few of choice quality, though cattle of this class are much in demand. One or two small lots sold at $8.90. Fair to medium butcher cattle in good demand at steady prices. Lambs were again easier and 10c to 15c lower under a steady run. Light ewes steady. Calves steady. Hogs steady.

A Speculation In Sperm

How the Disabling of the Nancy Gigg Brought Good Fortune to a Sailor

By PAUL C. SCHAFER

Copyright by Frank A. Munsey Co.

As long as there is a sperm or a right whale left wallowing in the seven seas I presume there will sail out of New Bedford a few round bellied, bluff bowed old brigs, as awkward as Chinese junks, but sailed by men who usually would be quite capable of getting around this round world safely on a log of lignum vitae.

Had the master of the Nancy Gigg not been taken seriously ill just as she was filling the last of her 4,000 barrels of sperm and gone home by steamship from Fayal this tale would not have been written, and John Pepper would like enough be knocking about the world somewhere tonight in the fo'castle of a wind jammer or at best holding the tiller of second mate.

Instead he is running a comfortable ship chandlery business on South street, all the result of what looked at the time like a knockout blow from fate.

John and four other men were incapacitated by what whalemen, in ignorance of proper medical terms, call salt water blisters and were landed from the Sunbeam at Fayal when she put in there with her catch.

She was out for three years. Only half the time was up, and the five invalids could not draw a cent of pay until the ship returned to New Bedford and the owners settled with all hands.

Well, they might have starved on the beaches, only that is impossible in Fayal. They did, however, have a hard time of it until they fell in with men from the Nancy Gigg.

The brig was sitting out for home, but she was a little short handed. During the two years and a half since drifting out of New Bedford harbor

HE SENT A MAN TO SOUND THE PUMP WELL she had lost, beside the captain invalided home, the first mate and his boat's crew and several odd men here and there about the world.

Pepper and his four comrades were not much good, but they were a long sight better than dead men, and they were willing to do what they could aboard the Nancy Gigg for the sake of getting home.

The second mate was in command—a likely enough youngster, but one who got rattled easily when trouble blew his way. And certainly trouble marked the Nancy Gigg for its own on that homeward voyage.

Everything went smoothly until three weeks after leaving Fayal, and when the old brig was nigh in sight of her home coast a full blown gale burst upon her from the northwest, shifting soon to the west.

They got her hove to under a storm trysail, head on to the angry seas, and all might then have gone right and she would have ridden out the gale had not a most unlooked for accident occurred.

A seaman's arm was broken. Another man was carried over the rail and then sucked back by the sea and dashed senseless against the mainmast.

After her long cruise the Nancy Gigg was not very well supplied with boats, and three of those remaining with a big liferaft, were smashed or swept away before she wallowed out of the trough of the sea.

"She's sprung a terrible leak somewhere, boys!" cried the second mate, and he sent a man to sound the pump well.

Now, all across the ocean from Fayal the old brig hadn't shown enough blize to keep her sweet, and when the sailor came running back with the rod wet for eight feet in length the whole ship's company was demoralized.

And well they might be. A ship that would take in eight feet of sea at such short notice was bound on a quick voyage to Davy Jones, and nothing under heaven could save her!

Well, at such a time it is not only the survival of the fittest, but there are certain rights which all seafaring men recognize.

There was not room for John Pepper and his four friends in the boats of the Nancy Gigg. Indeed, there was scarce safety in them for the crew of the brig without taking outsiders.

Pepper had been a petty officer aboard the Sunbeam, though he was the youngest of the five. He knew something of navigation, and he was a man of keen observation.

He began to think, even before the boats of the brig were swallowed up in the darkness of the storm and night, that for a vessel heaving the way the brig was supposed to leak and with eight feet of water already in her hold she was not as low in the sea as might be expected.

Under the circumstances, she could not long keep her decks above water; yet it seemed to him as though now that she was driving steadily before the gale, the Nancy Gigg was not very far down in the water.

He went to the rail and measured the distance between the rollers as best he could.

His companions were pretty silent, but somebody suggested tearing off the main hatch and making a raft of that.

"You'll have the brig filled then in no time," Pepper said.

"And what matter?" was the demand. "She's bound to go down anyway. Eight feet of water made in half an hour or so means that there's a hole in her big enough to drive an ox team through, or else every plank in her bottom is sprung."

"I dunno," said Pepper. "Let's try the pumps."

"An' try a pump the whole bloom-in' Atlantic through her!" they cried, and cursed him soundly for a fool.

So John Pepper went at it alone. He coupled on the pumps, and he worked the heavy brakes himself. It wasn't a minute before he had a stream the full size of the pipe squirting across the deck.

John looked at this and stopped pumping. He went down on his hands and knees and smelled of the overflow from the pipe. Then he tasted it. Then for a long time he squatted there on the pitching deck of the brig and thought.

By and by he went back to his shivering comrades in the galley, where the cook had left a fire.

most he got adrift. There's hundreds of 'em smashed, and the hold is flooded with oil. That's what comes through the pipes, and it's what wet the sounding rod. The old brig's as sound as a dollar yet."

Every man of the four had to see the pure oil spurting from the pumps before he could believe Pepper's statement. But at the sight they all plucked up heart.

They were battered a deal by the wind, for gale followed gale for twenty-seven days. Then the Nancy Gigg was nearer the Azores again than the American coast.

So under Pepper's directions an improvised gear was rigged, and thus, steering by "pulleys haul" they worked her into Fayal, and Pepper went ashore and told their story to the American consul.

Well, the owners fought the case and tried to make out that the five were members of the Nancy Gigg's crew, and therefore it was their duty to save her if possible, but finally Pepper and his friends won. There probably hasn't been a speculation in sperm oil made in half a century that came out so well for the speculators.

And if you can find John Pepper's shop on South street and drop in some rainy day when business is dull he'll tell you all about it.

Why She Didn't Enjoy Her Vacation

She started finding fault with the place the moment she arrived and was never satisfied.

She went to a boarding house and refused to be friendly with any one. But she was annoyed when not included in the excursions that the others got up. She forgot that if we want to be on friendly terms with strangers we must be prepared to meet them halfway.

She went to a more expensive place than she really could afford and was annoyed because she could not dress as well or spend as much as the other guests.

She was so anxious to see everything there was to be seen in the neighborhood that she rushed far too much and at the end of her holiday had only the most confused idea of the places she had visited.

She was never willing to do what the others wanted to do and made herself thoroughly disagreeable if she couldn't get her own way.

She was always noticing the little ways in which she thought people neglected her instead of the many in which they helped to make her enjoy herself.

When little things were wrong she looked as glum as if a terrible catastrophe had happened. She had never learned to smile at trivial mishaps.

She blamed her companions and the weather when she found she wasn't enjoying herself, forgetting that to be independent of both.

She thought too much about the fact that the holidays would soon be over—so much, indeed, that she forgot to enjoy what was still left.

She expected too much. Instead of trying to make other people happy she thought that they ought to be devoting themselves to her.

One Missing

The following story is credited to a Mr. Shaford, told while discussing currency bill and its misreading: The superintendent of a Sunday newspaper to the children, "What are you and take the young child and flee Egypt."

Then the superintendent showed a picture illustrating this text in the colors. "Isn't the picture fine?" he said. "Here is the mother. Here is the child. There's Egypt in the distance. Isn't it fine?"

The children, however, looked at the picture, and finally a little boy piped, "Teacher, where's the flea?"

Handsome Banking Offices Completed

The Industrial Mortgage & Savings Co. Moves Into Its New Offices

After some little delay which was for the most part unavoidable the above mentioned Company has moved into its splendid offices at the corner of Front and Lochiel streets, Sarnia. This office stands out as the finest example of remodelled banking house in Ontario, west of Toronto. From the grey Ohio stone front to the very heart of the building the quality and construction is of the best. For instance, the floor is of tile and concrete reinforced absolutely fireproof. The steel sash that have been the cause of many favorable comments were manufactured in England by Henry Hope & Sons, a firm that has been doing business for half a century, and is recognized as a standard in such construction. The offices are compact and complete, every inch of room being utilized. The working staff have the benefit of the full south light, the public entering on the north. Besides the main banking offices are the Manager's private office, Stenographers' room, board room, etc. There are two vaults, the basement one being used for the storage of documents not in daily use. The vault on the main floor is equipped with a burglar proof front. The Company has installed public safety deposit boxes which are fire and burglar proof and of the latest type, for the storage of papers and other valuables and these are at the convenience of the public for a nominal rental. What impresses one most is the beautiful woodwork of mahogany, rivaling if not surpassing that of the Noronic. The walls of the banking office and manager's room are panelled to a height of seven feet. These panels are of selected crotch mahogany. As a delicate contrast to the deep richness of the mahogany the verde antique marble base is very pleasing. The furniture is of mahogany and every detail has been well looked after, comfortable chairs and settees and an up-to-date cheque desk being provided. The electric system is complete. Private telephones connect all departments and a private line has been installed connecting the office with that of their attorneys'. The electric wiring is of the conduit type throughout. The fixtures are of special design and finish. This institution has installed two splendid brackets on the front of their building. These lights are controlled by a McKnight patent time clock. The heating system is low-pressure steam, the boiler being of a sectional type. Taken all in all these offices are a credit to the Company and to the architect, Russell W. Soper, B.A. Sc., who designed and superintended the work. The Industrial Mortgage & Savings Co. wishes to extend a cordial invitation to their patrons and friends to visit them in their new place of business. The following were the list of contractors:- fixtures, The Berlin Interior Hardware Co., Ltd., Berlin, Ont.; Masonry and Brickwork, Cuttridge & Grace, Sarnia; Heating and Plumbing, Alex. Joss, Sarnia; Painting, Joseph Gravelle, Sarnia; Tile, George M.
