IS THE RATTLER TO ESCAPE?

The Peace of Canada

By William Henry Taylor, Author of "Canadian Seasons," etc.

Calm and commanding, on a goodly site,

Stands Richmond Hill, a hamlet to delight

The mind and eye that loves a rural scene

Thru lines and groves of trees in all the shades

Drawn by the Architect in gold and green.

Beneath that eminence on every side

Far, far away, an endless vista fades

Last harvest time in solitary mood

The rolling landscape smiles—beatified;

Of silver-gray to green of deepest hue, All pictured on this panoramic view.

I went to see Dame Nature making food;

Of waving wands, obedient to the breeze, The fern-like oats and bearded barley bent,

That August day, in nodding blandishment.

Good pilgrim, would you see Content, alive,

To perfect Peace some happy, dreamy day.

From every point of view the county showed

And gardens unsurpassed by Eden's bowers.

These homes were hewn by sturdy Pioneers,

A race whose Voice thru ages yet shall ring,

A least, above that king, the chief Big-Noise

For Wilhelm now is under ban and yoke-

The sun was fierce, I sought a maple tree.

Then lying down I partly closed my eyes,

Soon, half awake and half asleep, it seems,

Came gliding from a sulphur-laden cloud

A creeping, murky horror, formless, vast,

With sable wings come rushing from afar:

Behind his wake arose huge fires and smoke

As wave on wave came demons like a flood.

The Evil One alone could strike this blow.

For Tophet never brewed more bitter woe

Than Satan poured on fair Ontario's head.

Ere she lay prostrate by her children dead.

Within my own, which aided me to stand,

But some Intelligence passed thru the air

And left a soldier's message in my brain:

How can we tell our joy at thy release?

And made the Peace of Canada secure.

And when I looked around no ore was there:

"I died for you, my friend, I'll come again."

How welcome are thy wings, O Dove of Peace!

How sacred are the graves of those who died!

Our youths toward true Honor's deathless goal,

And gave our country Voice, and saved its soul

Thank God, the price in blood was red and pure,

How blessed are the ones who live to guide

No more dare I relate . . . .

The devastated land ran red with blood,

A freeborn type, each one above a king;

Who lately fled, assisted by our boys;

And lit the Pipe of Peace to moralize

They and their wives were proper folk of weight,

Whose dense umbrageous boughs would shelter me:

And lightnings smote the drums of thunder loud.

And shrieks of mad despair the heartstrings broke:

Whose woodland story Canada reveres;

In body and in mind to propagate

A fugitive, a vagabond, a joke.

Imagination's telescopic dreams

Its paralyzing terror o'er me cast;

Then I beheld the Spirit of the War

For bread is always sure in sheaves that grow

The laughing fields of wheat were yellow seas

On Plenty's robes which good old York can show.

And clothed in flesh? Then watch fat cattle strive,

p in luscious sward, to graze their way

The plains, the hills, the dales and streams which flowed

By homesteads, barns and orchards, vines and flowers,

All that is neceswary is that you, soldiers and workers, should recognize that while a few men own the means whereby you live, you must be slaves to these men; once you see this then you must be prepared to take action to accomplish your freedom. This is your first step, and it is not so hard as it may appear. The soldiers have everything to gain by the overthrow of the capitalists and nothing to

"In the new government only members of the working class can stand for election, and the electorate has the right of recall any time; besides that, a general election is held every three months. This is a truly democratic form of representation; nothing can be done unknown to the nationalization was the goal in view. The resignation of Hon. It is only to be regretted that he is compelled to leave the country for a period when his presence, counsel and influence are needed. Probably no important legislation can be put thru at the coming session, which ends automatically on March 4, and the next congress will be in control of the Republicans.

Mrs. Dean objected to the terms "mistress' and "maid," preferring to call them "hostel subscriber" and "house orderly." By a hostel the speaker meant a home run by the subscribers where the girls might live or have visitors and from which central home they were sent out to the subscribers. Mrs. Hamilton also referred to the speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at London when he made the statement that the German people were not behind the German atro-cities. The housing problem came in for a share of the evening's program. "We hear so much about the home being women's sphere," said Mrs. McIvor. "But these days it's hard to get that home. There is a commission sitting at the present time and will continue to sit for sent time, and will continue to sit f some months, I believe, but there are women on it. It there is any place a woman is needed it is on a home-plaining commission so that we may get houses built with the sinks and laundry tubs high enough, and not so many dark cupboards and closets." This sentiment was voiced by many of the women present, one woman saying that no self-respecting maid would care to work in the kitchenettes that were being supplied in some houses at the present. "Usually the men have to tap the women's brains at the eleventh hour for help," said Mrs. W. H. Becker. "They are not recognized officially. They may be called in as expert advice, but I feel that women should be on that commission permanently and as recognized members." A vote was taken on the subject and a resolution calling for women on the housing commission will be sent to the proper authorities. Resolutions dealing with immigration

Returned soldiers declare this to be the greatest drama of the trenches ever filmed. Unlike the large number war plays that have appeared in the past year, "The Better 'Ole" does not depend upon tremendous battle scenes and hand-to-hand fighting to hold the attention of the audience, but Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather, author of the play, has told a simple little human story of the trenches with comedy and pathos woven together into what night be called a motion picture epic. The three musketeers—Old Bill, Bert and Alf—are not by any means unusual characters. Men such as these with their droll but witty mannerisms could easily be found in every mile

Robert Grier Cooke, president of the Fifth Avenue Association, is to address the King Street Association din-ner, December 5, at the board of trade rooms, and will give some of the particulars of the plan. Hon. Mr. Brown is pleased with the way the premiers of the provinces are going after the question. How-ever, he has doubts as to whether a great number of returned men will want to take up farming. Less than ten per cent. of the men returned to Manitoba whose occupation before en-listing had not been farming, would go on the land. He suggests that the Agricultural College at Winnipeg would be an excellent place to start the returned man as an agriculturist.

400 Per Cent. Greater Loss By Fire in Ontario

The official record of the fires in Ontario and the complete loss for the month of October is now complete. While the number of fires is less this year than in 1917, the total loss is nearly 400 per cent. greater.

There were in Ontario 576 fires in October of this year, compared with 722 in the corresponding month of last year. The total loss of October, 1918, amounts to $3,694,713; in October, 1917, it amounted to $821,862. The higher total of this year is accounted for by the enormous loss sustained by the British Chemical Company of Trenton, amounting alone to $2,800,000 As this plant was on government pro-perty there was no insurance. Another fire in October was that of the Canada Carriage Company's works at Brockville, a loss of $500,000. The total insured loss for October, 1918, was $786,016, as against $629,841 October of the preceding year.

hind most of the time. Rooke dropped a field goal the first period, putting P. C. quarter, and was close enough to drop a goal, and, starting the fourth, Schools led, 4 to 3. They added two more the last session, A safety touch by Parkdale in the last quarter was disallowed. McVicker, a 16-year-old lad, put up a star game for the losers.

The league is composed of eight rinks, representative of eight lawn bowling clubs, as follows: Alexandra, Balmy Beach, Canada, Granites, Kew Beach, Lawrence Park, Thistles and Westerns.

This is the second season of the league's existence, and the record attendance evidenced the interest and enthusiasm manifested in this popular indoor game.

No three-year-old since La Pleche, in 1892, has carried so much weight and won, although the American winner, Foxhall, in 1881, took up 126 pounds, which is within one pound of the record for the race. Zinovia started favorite, having beaten Dansellon early in the spring and run sire. Charles O'Malley, is an Irish horse, by Desmond, son of St. Simon. Her dam was Dodragh, by Hackler.

was Dodragh, by Hackler.

The sensational Cambridgeshire of 1896 is recalled by the death of the winner, Winkfield's Pride, which took place recently at the Vaucresson Stud, in France. Bred in Ireland by J. C. Sullivan in 1893, he showed excellent form in that country as a two-year-old, and in his second season in England. After running unsuccessfully in the Salford Borough Handicap and the Stewards' Cup, he was alloted the handy weight of 94 pounds in the Cambridgeshire. Over that race he won a large sum in bet for his connection and concerning him there was some sensational wagering. At Sandown Park on the Friday before the Cambridgeshire, as much as 200 to 1 was laid against him, but he started a good favorite at 5 to 1. He won easily, and, as showing what a good thing the race was for him, he two days afterward almost as easily carried off the Old Cambridgeshire under 101 pounds, with 2 to 1 on him. As a four-year-old he accounted for the Lincolnshire Handicap, the Doncaster Cup and the Prix du Conseil Municipal at Paris, and subsequently achieved considerable distinction at the stud.

New York, Nov. 26.—Disregarding such widely divergent elements as easier money and reports of additional withdrawals of war contracts, today's stock market speedily recove, ed from its heavy opening, recording many material advances over the previous session's general declines.

Signs of an early relaxation of money were afforded by the further appearance of time funds from interior banks, with offers of six and even seven months loans at six per cent. Call loans were freely offered at five per cent, on mixed collateral.

Ore Body at 460-Foot Level Shows Much Free Gold.

A strike of importance has been made at the Davidson Gold Mines. The new shaft entered an ore body at the 460-foot level, and every round of dynamite since has revealed ore containing very liberal quantities of free gold. The shaft, when the last report came from the mine, was down to the 600-foot level. The ore body in the floor of the shaft holds as rich as any section above. Close tests were made from muck samples at the bottom of the shaft, after excluding everything in the nature of free ing everything in the nature of free gold. The exceptional high grade of the residue is sufficient evidence of the excellence of the ore body opened up from the 460-foot down to the 500-foot level.

A series of flurries to cover resulted, and, altho sharp reactions intervened, the market closed at virtually the top level of the day. A liberal decrease in the visiole supply total, together with the fact that the food administration had now placed buying orders in the rye and barley markets, were additional bullish factors, and so, too, was cash buying of corn here for Missouri.

Oats were firmer with corn. Rural offerings to arrive were light and receipts smaller than generally should be looked for.

Provisions averaged higher, owing to the upturns in the corn market, Besides, shipments of lard materially exceeded the amount a year ago,
