By Her Correctness of Costume The Smart Woman is Recognized

Charming Copies of Imported Models Displayed in Palm Beach and Shantung Suits For Misses

The young girl who is giving thought to her Summer wardrobe will, of course, find an outing suit a most important item on her list. No feminine wardrobe is really complete without the practical tub suit. Here are smart little models which show all the lines of the more expensive imported suits, and yet are offered at a price exceedingly moderate. Extremely attractive is a tailored Norfolk style with pleats back and front and attached belt. It has a square collar and small cuffs and the coat has patch pockets. The suit is made in flary style with a loose belt caught with loops. The "New York" is another delightful little model also in Norfolk effect with the new collar and revers. Both the coat and the full flare skirt have patch pockets. The material in both suits is natural Palm Beach cloth. Sizes 14 to 20 years. Special value, $10.00.

A similar style in Palm Beach cloth can also be had at $7.50. Colors, natural and white. Sizes 14 to 20 years.

A modish suit of "Shantung silk" in the natural shade, has coat showing a square collar of self, two soft pleats are caught in at the back with the belt and give a smart flare to the coat. Large, round buttons form the fastening at the front and the very full skirt has a belt and two patch pockets. Sizes 14 to 20 years. Price, $15.75.

Who Can Resist the Silk Sweater?

Since the Days Long Ago, When Lady Adapted to Her Own Use This Most Prosaic Garment of the Sportsman, Its Value Has Become More and More Understood, and Ever Femininity Makes Greater Demands That in Beauty it Must Rise to Her Standard.

THE ACME OF PERFECTION SEEMS AT LAST TO HAVE BEEN REACHED IN the sweater shown to the left. Of daintiest rose fibre silk, in hue it should prove a favorite with both blonde and brunette. The indefinite stripe is a fancy combination of white and rose; the trimmings are of close knit white, and the sash is finished with long silken tassels; large crocheted buttons add a distinctive touch. The price for this alluring garment is $8.50.

AN INCH CHECK combining white with Alice, rose, or yellow, is used in a sweater made in similar style, but in a fancy knit stitch to emphasize the check. These have white trimmings; sizes 36 to 42. Price, $10.00.

A more expensive sweater is shown in colors of deep rose, pink, Copenhagen or Alice blue; this is made with V-neck; has two pockets, sash, large buttons, all knit in close-stock stitch; sizes 36 to 42. Price, $12.50.

A VERY MODERATE PRICED SWEATER BEING FEATURED JUST NOW is of fine fibre silk with cotton back; the surface has the shimmer and sheen of the all-silk garment; in style it has the V-neck, sash, and white facings of the more expensive models; colors are rose, melon, Copenhagen, or champagne. Sizes 36 to 42. Price, $3.95.

ROSE, COPEL, AND GOLD are the tints of another silk plated sweater with cotton back; this has collar and sash of white; sizes 36 to 44. Price, $5.50.

A FIBRE SILK SWEATER, either all silk, or with fine wool underwoven, is made with V-neck; sash and facings are of white or self hue; colors gold, pink, Alice, Royal and maize; sizes 36 to 44. Price $7.50.

The Trig, Tailored Panama Comes Into Its Own

With June comes the time when all womankind turns to the Panama Hat, and the feeling prevails that from it smartness emanates like light from the Summer sun. The week-end outing, the ever popular picnic, any of the many and varied out-of-door activities which Summer months bring in their train—all demand a simple hat of good quality and chic style. Nor is the pre-eminent Panama confined in its usefulness to outing occasions, but the delightful fineness of its weave makes possible more elaborate trimming for formal wear.

The Illustrations Convey an Idea of the Charm of Two of Our Plain Models

To the right is shown one in regulation outing style for women or misses. The chic, mannish, up-turned brim is characteristic of this hat; the crowns may be plain, as in the cut, or may show an unusual pressed, four cornered effect, with band trimming, usually of black, although offered also in more girlish tones of red, emerald or sand. The point of greatest interest is the fact that these are of genuine South American Panama, and the price is only $6.50. Others somewhat similar are priced at $5.00.

The illustration to the left suggests the style of a simple girlish model with brim covered on the top with white satin and one of the new braid bands for trimming. These bands are quite the "last word in decoration" with their quaint embroideries in a novel looped stitch. Widely diversified are the shapes and trimmings of the other hats. One has white flowers placed flat against the crown, with a bright contrast note in apple green ribbon for binding of the brim and for a dainty luffed effect at one side of the crown. A small hat with deep violet band—a shade so ultra-fashionable this year—has highly naturalistic purple pansies nestling against the crown; a shape with wide drooping brim shows pink Georgette and narrow ostrich edging for trimming. One exceptionally modish hat has a neat band of white and Copen ribbon with a high white ostrich mount of rather an unusual circular shape. In fact so varied are the styles from the narrow high-crowned type to the broad, soft-brimmed picture hat that words can give only a meagre description. Then the trimming of soft elusive ostrich and Georgette; of severe Puritanic wings, quills and bows; or of fascinating Oriental scarfs, cannot help being Price, $7.25.

The Separate Blouse An Essential Not to be Lightly Regarded When Chosen for Wear With the Suit.

An ever larger share in the wardrobe is being taken by the blouse, whether it be of silk, crepe, dainty Georgette combinations, or an equally delightful lingerie creation of voile with loveliest of laces.

Crepe de Chine in neat stripes of coral, green, Copenhagen, or black, on a white ground is made with convertible collar and open front fastened with pearl buttons; this would be excellent for wear with the suit, because the blouse might be so chosen that the color of the stripes would repeat the hue of the suit; it is worthy of note that this is a very moderate cost for a blouse of fancy Crepe de Chine. All sizes. Price, $4.50.

Tucking, embroidery, or rows of hemstitching in yoke, vest or bodice effect form the decoration of other crepe de Chine blouses made with long sleeves and convertible collar; colors flesh, maize, ivory, navy or black; all sizes. Price, $3.95.

Lingerie Blouses—in some cases imported models—are offered in a variety of smart styles, showing the new ideas for Summer wear. Some have embroidered fronts, others the mocha cape collars, with ruffled face edging; again are a number with dainty stripes of color or combining white and colored voiles or muslins; sizes 34 to 44. Price, $1.50.

The Silk Suit for Summer Wear Always the Favorite of Fashion and Ever Reigning Paramount in the Heart of Woman, the Silk Suit Has Developed so Many and Such Diversified Usages That Very Few Can Afford to be Without One. Now That the First Spring Rush is Over is the Opportune Occasion to Obtain Even an Imported Model at a Very Moderate Price.

The illustration shows a costume of heavy Gros de Londres silk in black with a combination colored stripe; the shirred yoke of the skirt, the sleeves, peplum, and French crush collar are of the same material in plain black. This is quite one of the most stunning suits of the season. Reduced to $47.50.

Brown taffeta made with very bouffant hips is the material in another suit imported directly from an exclusive couturier. A gay color note to relieve the darkness of the brown occurs in the military red buttons and also in the lining of gay silk in Bakst design. The coat is made with a full peplum and a long strap gives an unusual touch to the high, ruffled collar. Price, $85.00.

Silver grey poplin heavily embroidered in the same line on collar, cuffs, belt and insets on the shoulder is one of the most attractive suits; the sleeve has the fashionable high cuff and full puff. The price is reduced to $47.50.

A sand colored faille is made in plain style with loose coat confined by a wide belt; smoked pearl buttons form a useful decoration; the skirt is shirred in very full style. Price, $55.00.

Navy Gros Grain is the handsome and servicable material in a suit made with an unusual three-quarter length coat, with a tie in front and a folded over cuff, fastened by a strap, the skirt is shirred and belted. This suit is one to accentuate the height and slenderness of the wearer. Price, $65.00.

Nigger Brown Gros de Londres is made with a shirred skirt; the body of the coat and the peplum are both gathered very full into a fitted belt which has an ornament on front and back; a very high shirred collar completes a handsome suit. Price, $42.50.

Black Suits Are Even More Numerous and Charming Than Their Colored Prototypes.

A heavy poplin has a full gathered skirt and the coat shows long, double collar of unusual design—this style of collar is one of the season's newest fancies. A belt across the back and rows of buttons complete a handsome suit. Price, $55.00.

Taffeta made in Norfolk style with gunmetal buttons permitting of close buttoning collar is good value at $45.00.

Other taffetas and poplins with many delightful and distinctive touches in braid trimming, embroidery, or ornaments of twisted silk are priced at $37.50 and $35.00.

Lovely Imported Silk Frocks at $25.00, $27.50 and $30.00

Exemplifying in Every Line the Mode of the Moment. Of Exceptional Interest Are These as the Time Approaches When the Coat May be Discarded and the Dress Used for Street as Well as for House Wear.

THE COAT DRESS—PARTICULARLY MODISH JUST NOW—should be of unusual interest in this connection. One shown is of moonlight grey taffeta shirred at the waist and with deep folds accentuating the flare of the skirt. A frock of lovely deep rose taffeta has a smart touch in smoked pearl buttons inlaid with rose; the soft tie-over girdle terminates in long sash ends at the back. A navy taffeta combines with it Georgette and also plaid silk. Another taffeta shows a pretty design of bead embroidery on the yoke of the waist, and also on the skirt. All of these frocks are very moderately priced at $25.00.

ROSE TAFFETA COMBINES WITH GEORGETTE in a coat dress with wide collar; the sleeve is tucked to form the cuff; a pointed overskirt with cord to emphasize the flare is attractive. A champagne model has a deep yoke; velvet bands and embroidery form the trimming; the bodice is mainly of Georgette, through which dainty lace is visible. These, and many others of equal charm, are priced at $27.50.

BLACK GEORGETTE IN SOFTEST, filmiest loveliness, has its skirts adorned with deep tucks; the bodice has handsome embroidered motifs showing the new loop stitch effect. Taffeta combines with net to form a tempting model which is offered in emerald, sand, and rose. The dainty transparency of the corsage shows the handsome gold lace of the interlining. These costumes are priced at $30.00.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 29.

Recruiting Should Be Organized

Protests have appeared simultaneously in several newspapers against the expensive and wasteful methods of the present recruiting system. It costs $800 to get a recruit, it is said, by the present method of patrol and canvases and the holding of meetings...

The note does not afford any assistance to the allies in this perplexity, and Secretary Lansing stands like a new Fortis threatening that while it is all right for the allies to take their pound of flesh, it is in the taking they do but spill one drop of blood then all the terrors of the law shall befall them...

A great deal of the difficulty is no doubt due to the attitude of the government, which has been satisfied with the laissez faire policy in everything concerning recruiting. One of the worst features of the present system is the lack of discrimination by which men who would be better left in the industrial positions which they are filling to the advantage of the army as well as of the nation, are taken off to be drilled for service...

The waste of effort and cash is evident, and the government is to its defence for having failed to organize the recruiting business as it has organized other branches of army service. Whether enlistment is to be voluntary or enforced, the recruiting of the men should be an organized business and the best workers in this business should have charge of it...

A School for Airmen?

Rumors are flying about regarding the creation of a Canadian flying school under the control of the militia department. Col. Merritt has expressed his scepticism, seeing that the government has so recently refused to do anything to advance this essential arm of service. It is possible, however, that the people who sit in darkness at Ottawa have seen the light and been moved to do what everybody else has done first...

The initial cost of the school has been placed at half a million, which is evidently a liberal estimate for a first-class institution. A great deal has been done already in Canada with an expenditure which it is safe to say has not reached anything like this amount. No complaint will be made about the amount if proper value is obtained for the outlay...

Liberty that the art of the artisan will be one of the most pronounced features of the commercial life of the future. Already the United States has let postal contracts for routes to be covered by flying machines. These are admittedly an experiment, but so was the parcel post and the rural delivery, and it is as certain that the mails of the future will drop from the clouds as it is that zeppelins have successfully raided England and Scotland. Canada should be strong in the air as she is on land or sea.

President Wilson's Wrath Had President Wilson or his secretary of state sent a note to Germany on the sinking of the Lusitania couched in the terms adopted in addressing France and Great Britain on the question of seizing of mails in transit, it is probable that the whole German submarine policy would have been modified a year ago or else war would have ensued between the United States and Germany, and the present conflict would have been materially shortened.

No doubt the president feels that he can use any language he pleases to the allies, as they are determined not to go to war with the United States, and President Wilson knows it. But this does not strike one as a dignified attitude to assume or course to pursue. We may take it that but for the exigencies of a presidential election campaign the tone of the note would have been different.

Apart from this the note is not very conclusive in its expressions. The long argument of the French and British Governments is practically ignored and while it is fully admitted that merchandise sent in post packets comes under the exercise of belligerent rights, the note appears to contend that the allies have no right to examine or detain for examination the mails in which the merchandise is contained.

The note does not afford any assistance to the allies in this perplexity, and Secretary Lansing stands like a new Fortis threatening that while it is all right for the allies to take their pound of flesh, it is in the taking they do but spill one drop of blood then all the terrors of the law shall befall them. Just what these terrors are does not appear either, and so the case is left in a somewhat vague state, none the less alarming on that account.

It is admitted at once that the delay of mails is interesting and even damaging to the interests of those affected. But why should the temporary annoyance or damage of a few be regarded as such a cause of offence when murder and bloodshed are passed over without comment. Britishers cannot very well complain about this, for in their own common law it has long been the custom to regard property as of much more importance than human life. A man may kick his wife to death and set off with a few months imprisonment, but if he steals a sheep or forges a cheque or poaches a pheasant he may be certain of getting several years at least in the penitentiary.

The note winds up with notice that the losses to United States citizens have gone to such a point that the United States will be compelled in the near future to press claims for full reclamation upon the attention of the two allies concerned. Moreover, the United States Government "can no longer tolerate the wrongs which citizens of the United States have suffered and continue to suffer thru these methods." Nothing short of a radical change, it is stated, will satisfy the United States on this matter.

The peremptory character of the note is remarkable when contrasted with the terms of the many notes sent to Germany dealing with murder and violence done to United States citizens by Germany. The United States Government knows very well that the passage of contraband thru the mails cannot be permitted by the allies, and this is recognized. But if this principle be a legitimate one then the United States should suggest some method by which the allies shall be relieved of the difficulty of discriminating between genuine correspondence and war packages for Germany containing almost every form of contraband merchandise. If the allies have a right to blockade such commodities there should be some method of determining the character of the contents of the mail bags which will not do violence to the feelings of the United States Government.

LIBERTY'S ROCK OF REFUGE

ROOSEVELT FORCES BUSILY PREPARING

Chicago Admirers Plan to Give Him Big Reception Today.

OUTLOOK IS UNCERTAIN

New "Frightfulness" on Part of Huns Would Aid Presidential Chances.

Special to The Toronto World. CHICAGO, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt passes thru here Monday on his way to Kansas City where he is to deliver the memorial day address. He will be in Chicago from 4 to 8 p.m. and the plan is to give him an old time reception. The Roosevelt rosters say they will invade the Congress Hotel where most of the headquarters are located and blow up the roof with their cheering for Teddy. They intend to take the town by storm and make the managers of all the other candidates sit up and take notice. On the other hand the supporters of Hon. Lawrence V. Sherman, the local candidate, and Illinois' favorite son, are planning a counter demonstration. Inside the Sherman boomers propose to have something doing every minute from the time the delegates begin to arrive until the big convention is over. They have mobilized 5000 "regulars" who will be on hand day and night to march and shout for Sherman and they look for ten times that many volunteers whenever it becomes necessary to make a demonstration.

Up to The Kaiser. But all this shouting and flag waving will amount to nothing if the 985 delegates will be in Chicago to see Col. Roosevelt next Monday. Cheering and shouting will not decide the choice of this convention. For the first time in our history international politics touch the politics of the nation. As someone put it today. The one man who can nominate is William Howard Taft. The First Emperor of Germany. But he is against Teddy and will not be associated in the public mind with J. Pierpont Morgan and Wall Street. His candidacy recalls Chauncey Depew's race for the presidency nomination in 1888, and will be taken little more seriously. The fight seems to be between Roosevelt and Hughes, with neither a possibility after the third or fourth ballot. Root will not be an ax. If he is not nominated he may run as he did four years ago and insure the re-election of Woodrow Wilson.

Many politicians, however, refuse to be scared by the coming Progressive convention. They say the Progressive party has gone to seed and point to the fact that only 42 votes were polled at the Nebraska Progressive primaries when Republicans turned out to the number of 202,000. Yet they are all afraid of what might happen if the public indignation should be kindled to a fury against either Hughes or Mexico, Roosevelt, as a third party candidate, might sweep the country.

FESTUBERT HEROES AT CHURCH SERVICE

Anniversary of Battle Celebrated at St. John's Anglican Church Yesterday.

IMPRESSIVE SERMON

Rev. J. Russell MacLean Praised Men Who Faced Death for Liberty.

The anniversary of the battle of Festubert was celebrated yesterday morning in St. John's Anglican Church with a special service for returned soldiers. The men were under the command of Reg. Sgt.-Major Rowe-Whitton, W.O., previously of the 20th Battalion. Those from the Convalescent Home were brought to the corner of Portland and King streets by the Toronto Street Railway. The inside of the church was tastefully decorated with flags and the front seats were reserved for the honored guests. A detachment of Royal Canadian Dragoons, wearing their heavy cavalry sabres, was also present. In his sermon, the Rev. J. Russell MacLean said he was proud to have in the front of the church the men who had returned from the war, men who had looked in the face of battle and had not flinched, men who had returned from the front bearing upon their bodies the marks and scars of battle. There was something especially due to these men who had come back, he said. These men had fought and bled, not for the sake of glory, or for desire for front rank, but for the sake of all that is bound up in the red, white and blue. The flag has ever stood for all that was for freedom and liberty, and this was a war for liberty, freedom and especially the freedom of small nations. It was a war for posterity. Every Man's Duty. It was the duty, he felt, for every man who could possibly go to do so. A man's place was at the front. Many, he said, felt that all war was anti-Christian. This was not so. War was a matter of life and would likely remain until the end of time. The British Empire stood for certain definite things and has always led the vanguard for all that was best in right, freedom and civilization. It was in this war, that else mattered? There was, however, no shadow of doubt about the outcome. It was now a matter of time. Mr. MacLean then told about the battle of Festubert and La Chapelle and Ypres. Many of the men present had taken part in one or more of those engagements. As engagements went today, it was not a large one, but very important in its results. It was there that the Canadians had proven their bravery and ability. It was in this battle that it was shown that high explosive shells would decide the fate of the war. Conscription in England, said Rev. Mr. MacLean, was largely the outcome of this engagement, and he felt we should have conscription in Canada. Nothing was less fair than to have men who were eligible, not sharing the burdens of the war. "We will cherish the memory of the courage of the Canadians on the anniversary of the days of Festubert," said the pastor. After the offertory had been taken the congregation sang one verse of "God Save the King," and then, with bowed heads, stood while the organ played "The Dead March in Saul," in memory of those who had fallen. The service concluded with special and silent prayers for those who were at the front and with the forces, both on land and sea.

POLICE EVIDENCE ABOUT REBELLION

Sinn Feiners Began Organization in Galway, Says an Inspector.

WINNING HOME RULE

Casement Said That Was the Object—The Others Differed.

DUBLIN, May 27, via London, 4 p.m.—The Royal Commission engaged in an inquiry into the recent Irish rebellion occupied itself at today's session here with the taking of police evidence regarding the Sinn Fein movement and the revolt outside of Dublin, chiefly in Galway and Kerry. In Galway, Inspector Rutledge testified, the Sinn Fein volunteers began their organization at a meeting addressed by Sir Roger Casement, Patrick H. Pearse, since executed, for his part in the rebellion, and Professor J. M. MacNeill. According to the inspector, Casement said the object was the winning of home rule and to protect themselves against the Ulster volunteers, but Prof. MacNeill declared that the object was the same as that of the Irish volunteers of 1798. Began in Galway. The revolt began in Galway early in the morning of April 26, continued the inspector, when rebels attacked the Barrion Bridge police station and created a disturbance among the police. Five policemen held the station, however, and the rebels finally took to flight and cover from which they were shelled by a sloop. Some young priests in the district co-operated with the rebels, the witness testified, but no action was taken against them. Others advised the rebels to lay down their arms. There were 400 Sinn Feiners in Inspector Rutledge's district, he said, their number having been augmented by the fear of conscription. Inspector Clayton of the East Riding of Yorkshire said that the Sinn Feiners commonly shopkeepers, farmers' sons and some priests. They were armed with rifles of Italian manufacture he said. Inspector Hill of Kerry said that the leaders of the movement there having been deported there were no leaders in the district at the time. Hill said a man named Monteith, who is alleged to have landed with Sir Roger Casement, and Daniel Bailey were still at large, but that the police hope to arrest him yet.

CANADIAN LUMBERMEN MAKE HIT IN BRITAIN

More Are Wanted by British War Office—Skill Proved Revelation.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Ont., May 28.—So great a reputation has the Canadian Forest- ing Battalion under Lieut.-Col Mac-

Dougall made for itself that more Can- adian lumbermen are wanted by the British war office. Two thousand are required.

There has been a scarcity of lumber owing to lack of ocean tonnage and the idea was conceived that ex- perience Canadian lumbermen should be sent over as a battalion. They were put to work hewing down British forests and preparing the lumber. They also have been a revelation to the British authorities. Their equipment also has impressed the war office and future foresting battalions will have a similar outfit.

PRICE OF WHEAT FELL WITH RAIN

Oklahoma and Kansas Received Supply of Much Needed Moisture.

PEACE TALK TO FORE Fresh Rumors of Negotiations Helped Bear Side of Market.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Rains in Oklahoma and Kansas turned prices of wheat sharply down-ward. The close, although unsettled, was 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 lower with July at 1.02 1/2 and September at 1.04 1/2. Corn lost 3/4 to 1 1/4, and oats 1/2 to 3/4. In Manitoba, the outcome varied from 10c decline to a rise of 15c. Rumors to sell wheat began as soon as the market opened. For a while, however, some leading concerns took the position that at least in Oklahoma the rains were apparently not heavy enough to give more than a slight measure of relief from the long-continued drought. Later information, nevertheless, showed that more moisture had been supplied than was indicated by first reports, and the consequence was greater impetus to the downward swing of the market, especially in the last hour of the session. Announcements that 600,000 bushels of wheat to come to Chicago had been purchased in Omaha tended further to emphasize the weakness here.

Peace talk was said by some authorities to have operated as a factor today on the bear side in wheat. How far, if at all, this was true, seemed to be largely guesswork. On the other hand, there seemed to be little or no doubt that for the time being the export call for United States wheat had been reduced to a minimum. The total sales to Europe today were estimated at 250,000 bushels, almost wholly from Manitoba.

Corn weakened with wheat, and as a result of the rains in the southwest. Sales of 80,000 bushels to exporters helped somewhat to check the decline. Cattle gave way owing to breaks in the value of other grain. The most active selling was in the May delivery, which was chiefly from the recent bull leaders. Packers' buying of lamb and beef tended to rally the provision market after quotations had suffered an early setback.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

ENTHUSIASM WANES IN PATRIOTIC WORK?

Some People Not Applying Themselves as Assiduously as Formerly.

GENERAL QUIETNESS

No Time for Slackening and Boys Must Be Helped to Win War.

In enthusiasm waning or is it because we have become so accustomed to things that make for patriotic endeavor that we imagine people generally are not applying themselves as assiduously as they did a few months ago?

At the opening of war activities having hospital and soldiers comforts as their objective, women everywhere seemed in a very fervor of excitement to get material and apply themselves for the amelioration of the wounded and the lessening of the discomforts of the men in the trenches might be accomplished. Now, there are still halas turned out by the carload and articles packed by the score and the hundreds still there in a quietness in the doing of things which can only mean one of two things, either that apathy has set in or that women are now working with the experience of professionals whose efficiency is so pronounced that nothing can disturb it.

It may be that both these elements combine to make present conditions. In this case the apathetic element must be discarded, for at the front war is still on, the casualty lists are still printed regularly, and the boys who fall wounded today, or who are enduring the fatigue and discomforts of the trenches are exactly of the same value to their homes and their country as were the heroes of the days of a year ago. There is no time for slackening up until the war is at an end, and this much to be desired consummation is not yet in sight.

THEY HAD.

Down in Georgia a negro organization used the economies of a popular white lodge, which went into court for relief. Its lawyer waxed warm in his plea.

He said: "Why, your honor, these negroes have got our passwords, our halling signs, our secret work, our badges and our emblems."

Breathless, he stopped as the judge leaned forward with a smile and remarked: "It would also appear that they have got your goat."

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

INSIDE THE LINES.

"Inside the Lines" which the Robins Players are presenting at the Alexandra Theatre this week is so thick with treason and the secret service that you don't lose the Sherlock Holmes feeling until the curtain rings down on the last act. The scene is laid at the famous fortress, the Rock of Gibraltar. The time is at the opening of the war. All the picturesque and colorful Gibraltar life with its host of tourists, its military officers, etc. enter into the telling of the story of "Inside the Lines" which is to form the feature at the Strand Theatre all this week—in seven reels, the announcement was received with clamor abroad. The greatest advance advertising ever attempted on a film was made in England, and long before the play was completed on the floor of the Chicago studios enough bookings had been applied for in England to ensure its success there. "Sherlock Holmes" naturally is a beloved character in Britain, and Londoners are familiar with William Gillette's portrayal. The play also was booked in Paris, where both Mr. Gillette's production "Sherlock Holmes" and "Secret Service" have been seen on the stage with French casts.

"ROBIN HOOD" AT THE GRAND

Reginald DeKoven's "Robin Hood" which will be given an elaborate production at the Grand Opera House this week with a cast of grand and light opera singers, will no doubt prove a treat for music lovers. In the cast, which will be heard at the Grand next week, are: Ivy Scott, dramatic soprano, in the role of Maid Marian; James Stevens, baritone, as "Little John"; Cora Tracy, contralto, as "Alain-a-Dale"; Herbert Waterous, basso profundo, as "Will Scarlet"; Carolyn Andrews as "Anabel"; Fred Walker as "Friar Tuck"; Thillie Harrison as "Dame Burdett"; Ralph Brainard as "Robin Hood"; Phil Branson as "Sheriff of Nottingham"; Sol Johnson as "Guy of Gisborne"; and Leonard Beck as "King's Herald." During the week at the Grand the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

STAR THEATRE.

Joe Lyons, a Toronto boy, whose family reside on West Queen street, is one of the principals in the Big Folies which comes to the Star Theatre, commencing with the Monday matinee. Lyons has a very good voice and sings very well, accompanied by the superb, Gussie White. In the second act Lyons sings several of his own compositions, screen artist, Charlie Chaplin.

There is an unusually large chorus with the Folies, and to head them are: Gussie White and Lillian English, La Dora, one of the most striking women to perform on the bar, will appear as an added attraction.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME

Much has been said and written on this subject, yet it is painful to one who admires beauty to observe how little thought and time is given to it by the majority of country people. Whenever the subject is mentioned to these people they all seem to have a great fund of excuses, such as scarcity of help, little time, too expensive, no money in it, and many others of a similar nature.

To my mind there are few things more important than that of making our homes beautiful. It has been my experience, too, that it does not take much labor when wisely applied, in fact, it is not labor, but recreation. The time can be given and not in any way hinder the other work, if we have the right end in view.

The expense in connection with beautifying the home surroundings is very trivial as most of the articles used are growing in a natural form near us, or can be had for a very small sum from the local seed merchant. As for the money value, there are for improvements that will give better returns. The place is worth more in dollars, and the enjoyment by all the family cannot be estimated on the dollar basis. The Chore Boy.

SHE HATES FALSEHOODS.

"Now, Willie," said mother, "you told me a falsehood, but you know what happens to little boys who tell falsehoods?"

"Well," returned Willie tremblingly, "I told you that I had a black man with only one eye in the centre of his forehead comes along and flies with him up to the moon and makes him pick sticks for the remainder of his life. Now, you will never tell a falsehood again, will you?" It is terribly wicked.

AT SHEA'S THIS WEEK.

D. W. Griffiths, who produced the most notable of all film successes, "The Birth of a Nation," is said to have out-done all previous efforts in his picturization of the great "preparation" film, "The Flying Torpedo," in which is billed for all this week at Shea's Victoria Street Theatre.

Butter was quiet, and while some were of choice quality, others were quite tasteless and very watery, the latter fact due to the heavy rains they have been having in the Southern States.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET. There was a heavy market on the St. Lawrence Saturday, the basket section overflowing with butter and eggs, with a few spring chickens here and there, while the wagon section had a little of everything, with ferns, wild flowers, green vegetables, bedding and vegetable plants predominating.

Butter was much weaker than two weeks ago, and while an odd vendor, whose customers are so well satisfied with his wares that they will pay the amount she asks, sold all she had at 37c per lb. the bulk of the best quality went at 28c to 30c per lb., and large quantities sold at 28c, while a few closed at 28c.

New-laid eggs advanced, and were firm at 20c to 22c per dozen. Spring chickens declined slightly, selling at about 60c to 85c per lb. These sold weight at least two pounds each to bring the best price. Fowl did not sell so well, as the demand for this class is falling off. It brought 20c to 23c per lb., while last year's chickens sold at the best price.

Butter was a very slow sale at two prices for 5c and 20c per dozen. Home-grown spinach made its first appearance, its tender green leaves looking very tempting, and it proved a ready sale at 10c per small measure. Asparagus came in very fresh, and sold at 23c per bunch for 5c, and tasty mushrooms and parsnips for 3c, while green onions varied according to the size of the bunches.

The vegetable plants for bedding proved a good sale, and brought the following prices: Tomatoes, 10c per dozen, while daisy forget-me-nots, hold and in front, three dozen, 10c each, or 11c per dozen. Sweet William, etc., proved a great attraction.

William Hodgson, Oakwood avenue, Fairbank had a load of the finest bedding plants on the market Saturday, offering fifteen dozen splendid leaved pots of varied pansies at 10c each, or 11c per dozen; ten dozen forget-me-nots, three dozen daisies, ten dozen Sweet William, at 10c each, or two for 15c.

There was not any hay brought in. Pork has declined slightly, the dressed hogs now bringing $14 to $15 per cwt.

Hay, No. 1, per ton, $24.50 to $27.00. Hay, No. 2, per ton, 23.00 to 25.00. Hay, mixed, per ton, 16.00 to 17.00. Straw, rye, per ton, 17.00 to 18.00. Straw, loose, per ton, 9.00 to 10.00. Straw, oat, bundled, per ton, 14.00 to 15.00.
