

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

NEXT WEEK'S FINE ENGLISH THEATRICALS

An important theatrical production will be made at the Imperial Theatre in this city on Wednesday and Thursday next, with a matinee on Thursday, when Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., will present the illustrious English star, H. V. Esmond and Eva Moore, in their most notable success upon the English stage, deals with a domestic problem all too common as an outcome of the Great War, namely, the difficulties of reconciliation between a wife whose enthusiasm have been temporarily alienated from her domestic interests on account of a plethora of war work and a husband who, also devoting his major energies to labors connected with the war has awakened a realization that his home life was not what it used to be. In this comedy Mr. Esmond and Miss Moore have scored one of the most remarkable of a long series of brilliant successes upon the London stage. They will present here the original London company, scenery and setting. It is the second of a series of British bookings of which "The Maid of the Mountain" was first. Mail order bookings are now being accepted; the box office starts Friday.

YOUNG-ADAMS COMPANY MAKE ANOTHER HIT

The Young-Adams have made a big hit with their latest play, "The Golden Giant Mine" and both audiences yesterday showed their appreciation with spontaneous applause. Mr. Young as Jack Mason was at his very best and Marjie Adams as Bess Fairfax made the biggest bit of the engagement and some were so greatly pleased with the performance that they went back again at night. "The Golden Giant Mine" is a big hit. It will be presented the last time tonight. "East Lynne" is announced for Wednesday Matinee and ere, also Thursday. Friday, "Little Peggy O'Moore" will be offered, and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" will close the engagement on Saturday night, when the different members will make farewell speeches.

THE FEAR MARKET

Realert Feature Starring Alice Brady Strongly Appeals to All Classes of Photoplay Fans.

"The Fear Market" which is now being shown at the Unique Theatre, starring Alice Brady in the principal role, is without a doubt one of the few photodramas seen on the silver screen which has a strong appeal, full of tense dramatic moments, and so ably told as to keep one rooted to the seat from start to finish. It is truly a drama of the highest type. Whether one's tastes run to stories of love and romance or get most pleasure from photoplays because of thrills provided by stirring action, or would rather cry themselves to sleep in the presentation of problems of the day for these angles of appeal, "The Fear Market" a Realert picture, stands first in film dramas. Miss Brady as Sylvia Stone, and her supporting cast of eminent screen artists leave nothing to be asked for, bringing forth into play human emotion in a manner dramatic and most realistic. Film fans and lovers of the drama must be sure to see "The Fear Market" at the Unique Theatre and surprise themselves with a real treat. In addition two short subjects were shown, a Stubb Pollard comedy and a Ford educational. A good show.

GREAT COMEDY

BLACKFACE ACT AT OPERA HOUSE

"The Flying Minstrels" Appear in a Triple Bar Sensation - Other Feature Numbers on Tonight's Bill.

Tonight there will be a bright new programme at the Opera House, which is diversified and should be highly entertaining. The vaudeville numbers will be as follows: "The Musical Hunters," an artistic musical feature, "The Huntsman's Dream," Heald Colling and Company, in classic recital and instrumental selections, including "Widows," by Neville Flesson and Albert Von Tilzer; "Sylvia and Gordon," in a comedy singing and dancing skit, "A Holland Halloween," Marie Flitgibbon, a great story teller; De Vora and Fenster, in a blackface comedy triple bar sensation, "The Flying Minstrels." There will also be an entire episode of "The Silent Avenger," featuring William Duncan.

La Societe Nephtes de Versailles is another petitioner seeking possession of a 6,000 ton tanker. Both demands are contested by the Moisen's Bank which claims to have a mortgage on all the assets of the Three Rivers Company.

A MILLION FOR A DUKE. The sale of the Duke of Rattlan's huge estates is nearly complete. The sum realized to date is considerably above a million pounds. Such historic names as Belvoir, Hadston and Stanton Wood remain only as the designation of stately homes of England, for they are stripped of their broad acres. Not since the great "breaking up" of the large estates began in 1910 has so

The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. ST. JOHN TO HAVE VENETIAN GARDENS

The Building Formerly Known as the Lyric Theatre Being Transformed Into a High Class Dance Auditorium Will Open in Two Weeks - P. L. Lynwood of New York Proprietor.

For seven years the Lyric Theatre in Charlotte street has housed a successful business with several policies, including moving pictures, vaudeville and musical tableaux, but, beginning this week, it has ceased to exist as a theatre. P. L. Lynwood of New York has leased the premises from F. G. Spencer, Limited, and is at once transforming the interior into a modern dance auditorium with light cabaret refreshments associated. Mr. Lynwood is said to have a national reputation as director of spectacles and dances, and in almost every large city in the United States and Canada he has been responsible for splendid performances with local amateurs. Locally Mr. Lynwood's "Playgrounds" Association, with more than 600 local amateurs in 1918, and his latest big Canadian success was in Ottawa, where, at the Russell Theatre this spring, he produced a pageant and dancing carnival under the patronage of many well known Ottawa ladies, including Lady Laurier, Lady Borden and Lady Foster.

Mr. Lynwood's ability as producer, dancer, and teacher will doubtless help to make "The Venetian Gardens" under his proprietorship, fill what is felt by many to be a distinct local requirement. Two dancing floors, ample seating accommodation, with dainty surroundings and excellent music should prove very attractive. The fact that Miss Elizabeth Furlong is associated with Mr. Lynwood and will be responsible for the light catering, is ample assurance that this department will be a distinct asset to The Venetian Gardens.

Mr. Lynwood will announce further details, including the exact dates of opening, in a few days, and he is confident that this announcement will be of interest to local amusement lovers. Immediately upon opening, Mr. Lynwood will be available for both private and class dancing lessons for beginners, experienced dancers and teachers.

Why Doesn't Your Sleep Rest You

WHEN a man really rests, sleeping soundly all night, he wakes up with a new feeling of being alive—almost like being made over again.

But how often you hear someone say—"Oh, I sleep all right, but it doesn't seem to rest me!"

Probably this has happened to you many a time. The fact is that you did not sleep soundly—and your bed had more to do with it than you realize.

A creaky bed, a bed that sways, a spring that sags and lets you down into a hollow, a mattress that is lumpy or uneven, pillows that are hard or unclean—put your nerves on edge and make your muscles tense.

For deep, sound sleep you must have equipment built for sleep by Simmons Limited—in inviting every nerve and muscle to relax.

The Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless.

Just as the sleep-inducing Spring is a Simmons "Waldorf," of specially tempered spring coils. Fine Springs that fit the contour of the body and support the spine in a straight line, insuring perfect circulation and restoring the energy used up in the fatigue of the day.

Simmons Felt Mattresses are the result of twenty-five years' study of equipment for sound, natural sleep. Made of pure, new cotton in clean, sun-lit factories. Used in thousands of fastidious Canadian homes.

And Simmons Pillows, which rest the head and neck exactly as they need to be rested.

Simmons Limited specialize in Twin Beds because they promote healthful sleep.

Simmons Steel Beds, Brass Beds, Springs, Mattresses and Pillows, and Children's Cribs are the most popular sleeping equipment in Canada today—in the stores of leading merchants right here in town, at prices little if any higher than the ordinary.

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

Sleep is a big subject! Write us for the booklet, "What Leading Medical Journals and Health Magazines Say about Separate Beds and Sound Sleep." Free of charge.

MANAGEMENT EDUCATION.

It is now recognized in the United States that managers as well as workers in industry can be made more efficient by a special educational course.

"The new alliance does not mean that the colleges have sold themselves to business; it does not mean that vocational education is victorious over general education; it does mean that the barriers between the American college and the American economic life are to be broken down."

"The new plan is a development arising out of the war, and the work carried out by the Council of National Defence. Leaders in education and industry were at that council, and after the war they met and agreed that the knowledge gained should be put to good use for the benefit of industry in time of peace."

A farmer up-river on Saturday said he had been afraid that day to stoop down to gather beechnuts, lest some eager hunter mistake him for a wild animal.

Two Soviet regiments in South Russia surrendered because they were without food, shoes or clothing. That does not suggest a winter campaign.

The Standard hears that Premier Foster may hand in his resignation.

The sugar refiners assert that the government is responsible for the plight in which they find themselves, and the government should help them out.

THE COAL STRIKE.

Great Britain is today facing a crisis of the most serious dimensions. Every day the coal miners are idle means enormous loss to industry, and increases the hardship that is most felt by the very poor.

Commodore Stewart is again in the dock, and his Thanksgiving was a very sad affair. He has discovered that in Halifax as well as in St. John there are persons connected with the press who cannot correctly report a yacht or schooner race; and as for the political outlook in New Brunswick—it breaks his heart.

The Rotary Club of Vancouver recently set out to raise $25,000 for public purposes, with special reference to the attraction of tourists to the city.

It is announced that four steamers of the Canadian Merchant Marine will sail next winter between a maritime province port, the far east and India.

GOVERNOR PLANS TO KEEP UP FIGHT

On Saturday, Oct. 16, at Trinity church, in the presence of the families of both parties, Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes, was united in marriage with John Watson Andrew, of the traveling staff of Robertson, Foster & Smith. The young people left by the Montreal train for a short honeymoon trip. They will reside in St. John.

J. Sydney Collins, 81 Gooderich street, traveler for Schofield & Beer, and Miss Edith Hazel Osmond, were married at the home of John A. Humphreys, Sussex, on Monday last, by Rev. J. M. Rice. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will reside at Sussex.

Miss Delta E. Lowther, of Hillsboro, N. B., and Ernest C. Wright were united in marriage Saturday. Rev. G. W. Tilley performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate friends and relatives.

ROMANCE OF CORK HUNGER STRIKER

Fitzgerald Nursed by Fiance,
Thought to Be Sister

Death-Bed Marriage Not Permitted—Doctors Get a Chance to Examine Joseph Murphy and Say Condition Awful.

Cork, Oct. 19.—With the announcement of the death of Michael Fitzgerald, in Cork jail on Sunday night, there came to light a romance which would have resulted in the marriage of Fitzgerald on his death bed if permission could have been obtained. A constant attendant on Fitzgerald since he began his hunger strike was Miss Condon of Fermoy, Fitzgerald's home town. She was supposed to have been his sister, but it turns out she was his fiancée. Miss Condon nursed him devotedly night and day.

A week ago Fitzgerald expressed a desire that he be married to Miss Condon before he died. She consented, but permission was refused to the prison chaplain. The Bishop of Cork was consulted and he is said to have authorized another priest to perform the marriage ceremony. It is asserted that when the prison authorities learned of this they issued a warning that if it was carried out all visitors would be excluded from the jail in the future. Accordingly the plan was dropped.

Fitzgerald had served fifteen months in prison. For three months he had been in the jail in which he died in solitary confinement. He had been out of the prison only a fortnight when he was re-arrested. He is said to have been the commandant of the first battalion of the second Cork brigade of Irish Volunteers.

The condition of Joseph Murphy caused much anxiety yesterday, the physicians saying he was at death's door. At one o'clock yesterday the relatives of Fitzgerald sent for the physicians who had observed his critical condition the night before, but were not permitted to attend him. The doctors also were requested to see Murphy, who was fully conscious. Murphy showed reluctance to accept treatment but finally agreed to take medicine to relieve acute pain from which he was suffering. The treatment of Murphy gave the physicians their first opportunity to make a thorough examination of any of the hunger strikers.

"The emaciation of Murphy is simply awful," they said. "He is literally nothing but skin and bones. His abdomen is so shrunken that it is only a hollow. He whispered that he wanted to die to escape the pain," added the doctors.

The news of the death of Fitzgerald was kept from his comrades until yesterday morning. They were aware, however, that something was happening, for they could hear his heavy breathing and the people about his bedside reciting the rosary. Fitzgerald was the organizer of the hunger strike in Cork jail and was regarded as the leader of the men.

The people of Cork were deeply affected by the news of Fitzgerald's death. Yesterday morning there were unusually large crowds in front of the jail and an additional force of soldiers was sent there to preserve order.

The tension of the crowd outside the prison was somewhat heightened as a result of the arrest by the military of a young man who was standing beside Fitzgerald's brother, who arrived from Fermoy yesterday. Borne on the shoulders of six volunteers from Fermoy the coffin containing the body of Michael Fitzgerald was removed from the prison last night and carried to a church. There he will lie until noon today, when it was to be taken to Fermoy for burial. When the pall-bearers reached the church the crowd fell in behind the coffin and marched to the church. Outside the prison door the Irish Republican flag was spread over the casket. Several lorries filled with military and police were stationed at the prison. Altogether about 800 volunteers marched in the procession.

RED PLAGUE FIGHT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—To meet the steadily increasing interest taken by the public generally and by the medical profession particularly in the war against the Great Red Plague the U. S. Public Health Service has organized an institute on venereal disease control and social hygiene to be held in Washington, November 22 to December 4. At this meeting health officers, private practitioners, clinicians, educators, psychologists, sociologists and others who feel the need of further information in regard to the twin diseases of the red plague and in regard to the difference sciences that have helped in building up our now wide knowledge concerning them, may obtain, free of all charge, the benefit of ten days intensive training by the best experts, man and woman in the country. In this work the American Social Hygiene Association and the Inter-departmental Social Hygiene Board will assist.

The session of the institute will be followed immediately by the convening of the All-American conference on the Great Red Plague, which will continue for six days and will be attended by the best-known physicians, administrators, and other experts of the three Americas and particularly of the United States. The meeting of the institute and of the conference in sequence is believed by the Public Health Service to afford an unparalleled opportunity for medical men and social workers to acquaint themselves with the means and methods of warfare against what is now generally recognized as perhaps the greatest single factor now impairing the public health.

The faculty of the institute will consist of Doctors J. H. Stokes, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.; Hugh Young, Baltimore, Md.; John A. Fordyce, New York City; E. L. Keyes, Jr., New York; Thomas M. Ballet, William A. White, Prof. M. A. Bigelow, Katherine B. Davis, Mrs. Martha F. Falconer, and some thirty or forty other prominent specialists.

During the ten days of the institute four full courses and eleven half courses will be given. Of the full courses, the first three will consist of lectures on the diagnosis and treatment of the venereal diseases, and the fourth will be on delinquent women and their relation to the law. The half courses will be on

Cranbrook, Oct. 18.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King speaking here last night, confined himself to a criticism of the financial policy and methods of the present administration in Ottawa. He believed one of the causes of the present unrest was the sight of extravagance in national methods of government. He made a vigorous attack on the methods which the government had been pursuing to raise revenue to meet unnecessary expenses, especially the luxury tax which, he said, was simply a means to extort higher prices from the consumer to provide income tax free securities for enriched profiteers.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

We think we hear your exclamation. You want to forget the war and all its aftermath. We are with you in your desire to forget—but we must not, in forgetfulness, bury the solemn obligations undertaken in the days of sacrifice. Canadians have bidden duties to those who must bear a burden until the "graves are opened and the sea gives up its dead"—who must forever carry the memory of sons and husbands and fathers who went down to the sea in ships and never returned.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. A campaign from which the Navy League does not flinch; but on the contrary is proud to bring before the people—because it is the people's trustee. The obligation to provide for our merchant sailors' dependents was undertaken by the people during the war, and must be maintained by them, until the need for it is no more.

After this year, however, the League expects to cease asking for funds for the relief of the Canadian dependents of Merchant Sailors who were killed on active service. With the Trust Funds now in hand, together with the sum set aside in the Budget, to be raised by public subscription this week, it should be possible to establish an endowment, the income from which will be sufficient to provide these dependents with a pension equal to that granted to the dependents of Naval men killed on active service.

As many of these dependents are young children, the endowment must continue for a number of years, until the children become self-supporting.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. Is it nothing to you? Maybe not; but there are wives and mothers and children praying anxiously this week, knowing that upon the results of the campaign must depend their sustenance for many years.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. The people accepted this responsibility during the war. The people must live up to it now. Give generously when you are called upon.

A thousand rumors do not make one single fact

ALL of us want to believe the rumors regarding further reduction in footwear prices. If they were founded on fact—or even probability—we would have been ahead of Rumor in announcing the good news.

BUT rumor, as usual, ignores the one fact that controls the situation—that prices to the retailer are governed by the cost of raw materials and labor.

High prices are not of our making or seeking. They have been imposed upon us and you by the tremendously increased cost of every single thing that enters into the making of shoes.

And these high material costs, together with to-day's wage scale, which govern and dictate our shoe prices, show no immediate tendency to permanently seek lower levels.

THAT is why we cannot make any definite promise to you that our prices to the retailer will be any lower this season than those in effect for Spring, 1921, styles.

Irresponsible Rumor ignores these facts—delights in "sensational news"—and, as is so often the case, hurts everybody indiscriminately until its falseness and viciousness become apparent.

We appreciate our responsibility to you; we want to help towards cheaper living and we are earnestly striving to improve matters. We ask your confidence and belief to encourage us towards that end.

OUR advice to you—and we give it in all sincerity—is to BUY NOW any shoes you need for yourself or your family for Fall and Winter. Don't buy extravagantly or recklessly, but do so carefully and judiciously.

EVERY MAN HAS HIS DOUBLE SOMEWHERE

Every man has his double somewhere. They may be thousands of miles apart, but it is quite possible that the long arm of coincidence may some day stretch its length and bring them together.

When Victor Jones, of Philadelphia, and the Earl of Rochester met in a London hotel, they were exactly alike physically, but in character, in soul, in all that contributes vitally to the make-up of men, they were as far apart as the poles. One was dissolute, thoughtless, a weakling; the other—poor in purse—was rich in character, splendid, courageous.

The Earl saw in Jones an easy escape from the accumulation of entanglements—marital, financial, and social—that were making his unbecomable for him. So it happened that Jones was Jones one night, and the next morning he was the Earl of Rochester, with all of the Earl's relatives to face and all of the Earl's troubles to conquer.

How he mastered one situation after another, how he drove swindlers and blackmailers to rout, and removed the spots from the Earl's sullied reputation, makes one of the most remarkable photoplays—romantic, amusing, dramatic—ever presented.

The story was written by the popular novelist, H. de Vere Stacpoole, and pictured under the direction of George D. Baker.

"The Man Who Lost Himself" points a moral—always be a better man than your double. The two of you may never meet, but if you do, and there's trouble in the wind, the man with the greater strength of character will win out. So be better—be as good as you can. It's worth while.

In this charming play, which incidentally is packing the Keith house, Mr. Faversham is refreshingly supported by the queenly Mrs. DeWolf Hopper.

The Truth About Sugar

THE Sugar Industry of Canada is confronted with a serious situation and has appealed to the Government to come to its assistance.

Ignorance of the circumstances leading up to this situation has led many people to enter objections to the measures of relief that have been proposed.

The purpose of this statement is to put the plain facts before the people of Canada, in the belief that at heart they want to play fair and are willing to accord a square deal to everyone.

The present upheaval in the world's sugar trade has been brought about by enforced liquidation of some large stocks of raw and refined sugars held by American and Cuban interests. Its effect in Cuba, where some of the native banks have been forced to suspend payments and where the government has put into effect a sixty-day moratorium, are of common knowledge.

A feature of the disturbance has been the dumping upon the American market of a quantity of so-called "distressed" sugar, in amount relatively unimportant to the whole supply, but sufficient, nevertheless, temporarily, to disorganize the trade.

Part of this "distressed" sugar, forced into the market under conditions of practical bankruptcy, has found its way into Canada where it has, temporarily, upset trading conditions and made it impossible for Canadian Refineries to market their product except at a ruinous loss.

It is pertinent to observe that the low prices quoted for this "distressed" sugar now being dumped in Canada, by no means reflect the true market price in the United States. Only a day or two ago the newspapers announced that the American Sugar Refineries Company, the largest sugar refiners in the States, and who control some 40 per cent. of the production of that country, are selling sugar on the basis of 22 1-2 cents a pound, equivalent to 25 cents in Canada, at the present rate of exchange; several cents a pound higher than that contemplated for Canada in the order made by the Board of Commerce, and since set aside.

At the present time the plants of four of the largest Canadian Refineries are closed; thousands of men are out of employment; millions of capital are temporarily inactive and unproductive.

The refineries have bought or are committed to buy raw sugars to the value of over $60,000,000. Their sales in Canada, due to the conditions before stated, are at a stand-still. It follows that the financing of the raw sugar already under contract, should these conditions continue indefinitely, will be an impossible task for the refineries with all their resources. The burden will devolve upon the banks if a critical situation comparable to a panic is to be avoided.

The question naturally arises, why have the Canadian Sugar Refineries allowed this situation to develop and what justification have they for appealing for public support of their industry in this crisis.

The Refineries disclaim responsibility for the situation.

They maintain that if they had been left to shape their own course the situation, so far as they are concerned, would not have developed.

They frankly admit that had control of their business not been taken out of their hands by agents of the government, they would now have no shadow of excuse for appealing for protection.

What are the facts?

For over a year the Board of Commerce, created by the government, exercised absolute control over the prices at which sugar could be sold in Canada, and fixed the price, from time to time, on a basis contrary to all established commercial usages.

At the same time the Trade Commission, another agency of the government, refused permission to the refiners to export sugar, which they might have done and thereby reduced their liabilities very materially without injury to the domestic market.

The refiners do not believe, when the situation is fully and fairly analyzed, that their request involves any serious hardship upon the Canadian public. On the contrary, taking into account the benefits the public have already enjoyed in having been enabled to purchase sugar in Canada for months at a time at a price materially lower than the price prevailing in the world's market, amounting, at times, to 10 cents or more a pound; having regard for the national interests involved in keeping the sugar industry actively operating and preventing the loss occasioned by unemployed labor and unproductive capital; considering, furthermore, the strong advisability of keeping trade within the national boundaries instead of sending it abroad where a Canadian dollar is regarded as being worth only 90 cents or less; and having regard, above all, for the very grave necessity of maintaining Canada's industrial, financial and commercial equilibrium in these trying days of world-wide readjustment, the Sugar Refineries of Canada believe that both the Government and the people will admit the justice and fairness of their position and will afford them the temporary consideration necessary to meet the situation.

Government control went further and even prevented the resale abroad of raw sugars not necessarily needed in Canada.

Government control caused the refineries to lay in additional stocks of raw sugars after the price had advanced and when it was economically less desirable to buy.

Throughout all these transactions, the refineries vigorously protested against the invasion of their rights and frequently gave warning as to what the ultimate result would be. They were met by assurances that their rights would be fully protected.

In meeting their objections the Board of Commerce promised that the refiners would be protected in a falling market to the same extent that they had been deprived, by the Board, of their opportunity to take advantage of a rising market.

The Board of Commerce, in a ruling dated June 11, 1920, laid down this principle:—

"The Board will not recognize prices based on replacement values on a rising market. It will be its duty in good time, as it hopes, to as carefully protect the trader on a falling market by permitting him to average his cost down as it must now carefully protect the consumer in compelling the trader to average his costs up."

The present appeal of the refiners to the government and to the Board of Commerce is merely a request for a fulfilment of the pledge thus given.

In the same judgment, as illustrating the powers of the Board, it says:—

"The Board will prohibit all refiners from selling to other than wholesalers. It will prohibit wholesalers from buying from other than refiners. It will prohibit speculators from buying or selling at all."

In other words, the Board assumed full power to control the price as well as the conditions under which sugar was marketed in Canada.

The ruling recently made by the Board and suspended by the government, pending a further hearing, was in strict conformity with the principles the Board had laid down and is in no sense an innovation.

Sugar control and restrictions on exports were finally lifted July 1st, 1920, but with the order revoking the restrictions a letter was issued from the Department of Trade and Commerce which practically once more tied the hands of the refineries so that they were not free even then to sell their products in the world's markets, where the price was still some six cents a pound higher than the prevailing price in Canada.

Had they been left entirely free, even at this late date, to adjust their trade to the new conditions, Canadian refiners could have sold their products abroad at a price that would have protected them against the slump which has since ensued, and enabled them to meet later conditions without serious loss. Again, they were prevented from doing so.

The actual cost of government control to the Sugar Refineries of Canada, irrespective of the losses which now confront them in the disposal of their present stocks, is conservatively estimated at from twenty to twenty-five million dollars.

The refiners have facts and figures to prove that their losses, if compelled to sell in competition with "distressed" sugar dumped into Canada from the States, will run into many additional millions.

The sugar refineries are in a different position from any other class of manufacturers in Canada, whose products have not been under government control, and who have not been denied the right to a free market.

REACHING OUT TO OTHER PORTS

Busy Season for Steamships Here

Some Sailings Announced Today Include United Kingdom, West Indies, India and West Africa.

Present indications are that this season will be one of the busiest on record for the winter port of St. John. The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services announce ten sailings of passenger vessels from Dec. 1 until Jan. 7. There will be a new service from this port to the East Indies conducted by the Ellerman-Bucknall Steamship Co., Ltd., for which A. F. Knight & Co., Ltd., are the local agents. There will also be a fortnightly service to the west coast of Africa by the Elder-Dempster line and it is probable that the Canadian Government Merchant Marine will start a service from St. John to the Bahamas. With these new services in addition to the regular winter sailings St. John should be a very busy port during this season.

Furness Withy have not announced as yet their sailings for the winter, but there will be weekly sailings of the Furness and Manchester liners between this port and ports in the United Kingdom. The New Zealand Shipping Co., Ltd., will conduct their regular sailings, but their schedule has not yet been issued. Two vessels a month will sail from here to the west coast of Africa, conducted by the Elder Dempster line.

The Canadian Government Merchant Marine announce the following sailings: Nov. 20—Canadian Ranger, for India. Dec. 24—Canadian Settler, for Liverpool. Feb. 7—Canadian Hunter, for Liverpool. Dec. 4—Canadian Runner, for London. Dec. 12—Canadian Raider, for London. Dec. 27—Canadian Rancher, for London. Jan. 2—Canadian Trapper, for London. Jan. 22—Canadian Runner, for London. Jan. 31—Canadian Raider, for London.

The C. M. M. will conduct monthly sailings to ports in India during the winter, and there will be fortnightly sailings to Barbados, Trinidad and Demerara, and also fortnightly sailings to San Diego, Cuba, and Kingston, Jamaica.

R. M. S. P. Rater, John Allison, general manager of the Royal Mail Steam Packet, arrived in the city yesterday and addressed a special meeting of the board of trade yesterday morning with respect to the increase of freight rates declared necessary in the company's service to the West Indies. It was decided to have a meeting this afternoon at four o'clock in the board of trade rooms, of all West India shippers to consider the matter.

With reference to the request of the R. M. S. P. for an increased subsidy, Mr. Allison said that no further action had been taken, but the original subsidy, which will expire this month, will be continued.

The C. P. O. S. sailings from this port up to January 7 have been announced as follows: Oct. 10, 1920—Melita to Liverpool. Dec. 11, 1920—Corsican to Havre and London. Dec. 16, 1920—Empress of Britain to Liverpool. Dec. 21, 1920—Scandinavian to Antwerp. Dec. 24, 1920—Minnesota to Liverpool. Dec. 30, 1920—Empress of France to Liverpool. Dec. 31, 1920—Sicilian to Glasgow. Jan. 4, 1921—Grampan to Antwerp. Jan. 6, 1921—Preston to Glasgow. Jan. 7, 1921—Metagana to Liverpool.

PLAINTIFF WINS

Judgment by Chief Justice Today in Fredericton Case.

An interesting judgment was given this morning in Chancery by Sir Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice, in the matter of Frank I. Shortill and Helen Gramann, concerning a question as to the rights of each in a sum of money deposited to about $1,100 on deposit in a Fredericton bank. The case had been argued at Fredericton by Mr. Winslow appearing for the plaintiff, Mr. Feeney for the defendant. Judgment was given this morning in favor of the plaintiff.

The action was brought by the plaintiff as executor of the late Owen Shortill, contending that the money was his under a trust. He contended that there was no gift inter vivos, no transfer of property by way of trust, and that the gift was not to take effect until the donor's death and was therefore testamentary in its character. The court held that the plaintiff must succeed.

Methodist Ministers

The meeting of the St. John Methodist ministers was held yesterday morning with the president, Rev. J. B. Gough, in the chair. A committee appointed to meet Dr. Rochester, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in Canada, regarding the better observance of the Sabbath day in the city, reported that they had conferred with him, and he told them that he would have Dr. Mingie, his secretary, call on them in Quebec, come to St. John to reorganize the local branch.

The report of a committee to arrange a programme for a field day for the educational fund of the Methodist church was read by Rev. J. B. Gough. Rev. G. F. Dawson reported that arrangements have been completed regarding the Sunday programme in connection with the boys' conference. It consists of the following pulpits exchanges: Rev. W. A. Ross, field secretary for the Maritime Sunday School Association, to preach in Zion church in the morning and Exmouth street in the evening; Rev. J. M. Rice of Sussex, to preach in Zion church in the morning and Exmouth street to go to Sussex to take Rev. Mr. Rice's work.

Rev. Thomas Marshall, representative of the Methodist conference of New Brunswick and P. E. Island on the general missionary board of the church, which recently met in Toronto, gave an interesting report of the sessions. He answered questions regarding the work, and received words of appreciation for his instructive address. The following were present at the meeting: Rev. J. B. Gough, Rev. J. Heaney, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Rev. Neil MacLachlan, Rev. Thomas Marshall, Rev. Dr. F. S. Hayes, Rev. G. F. Dawson and Rev. J. C. Berrie.

A Moth Can't Eat Your Clothes And You Have Them Too!

Nina Putnam Wilcox says the only way to eat your cake and have it too, is to eat it in bed.

But the moth has a peculiar habit of eating when away from repose.

When he and his family spread a banquet with your season's best as the drawing card, it means more to you than to him.

No fear of this condition if your home possesses a cedar chest. That's one place where the moth finds he's not at home.

Apart from this protective feature a cedar chest throws about the articles of apparel a clean atmosphere, and not the strained disagreeable moth ball odor.

Here you'll find a varied line of chests which we'd be glad to show any time you would care to call.

FUTURE OF GREAT OCEAN LINERS IS YET UNCERTAIN

New York, Oct. 19.—(By Canadian Press)—Two former German passenger liners, the Imperator and the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, have left this port during the last few days on what may be their last voyages in the service of the Cunard line.

The Imperator, next to the Leviathan, the largest ship afloat, and the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, have been running in the Cunard service for the last year. They were taken over by the Inter-Alleed Maritime Council at Hamburg following the signing of the armistice. With other ships they were assigned to the British Ministry of Shipping, and then loaned to the United States for the purpose of transporting home troops. When this work was completed they were allocated by Great Britain to the Cunard line for seven round trip voyages.

Officers of the Cunard line here say that the arrival of those two vessels in England on their present trip will end the term of their allocation.

The future of both ships is unknown here. Recent reports from London were that they were included among the seized German vessels to be offered for sale at auction in the near future. Whether or not the Cunard line will make a bid for them is not known.

LIKE MISTRESS, LIKE DOGGIE

Fashions Now Deceit That Canine Pet Follows Mode.

"With dog dyed to match!"

Such is the latest fashion experiment which is being tried in London, England. The originator of the idea recently emerged from her suburban home clad in a pale amethyst-colored gown, and accompanied by Fido dyed the same charming shade.

Already the same dog has been seen abroad in various shades of rose, primrose, and forget-me-not blue.

In fact, whatever the color of his mistress' gown, Fido was dipped in dye of a corresponding hue.

The idea of dyeing ones dog involves considerable trouble.

The owner of a colored poodle must needs go in fear and trembling of the elements, for there is no dye which will remain fast in a rain storm.

When asked to give her views on the experiment, a well known London dog-rearer expressed strong disapproval.

"Fashion is certainly tyrannical, and demands a lot of pampering to whims and vagaries," he said, "but surely she could have kept her hands off her dog's natural coat."

"The next thing we will see will be the canary in a harem skirt or wearing a knitted jumper, and a cat with a marcel wave to her coat, to match her mistress' hair."

THE SHORT SKIRT AND AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES

New York, Oct. 19.—A letter signed "Tom Flinn," and received by the mayor, places the blame of heavy auto fatalities on the short skirts now worn by the fair sex.

"Tom Flinn," who is supposedly a chauffeur, says in his letter to the chief magistrate that "it ain't the automobiles that are killing the women there. Make the wimmin folks quit wearing dresses so high. That's the trouble. Men walking in the streets and driving cars can't keep their minds on their jobs. They can't look two dicks-shus at wonce."

PICTURES IN PLACE OF TEXT BOOKS IN SCHOOLS

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Motion pictures will eventually displace many text books in the public schools, predicts Louis Nushbaum, associate superintendent of the schools in this city.

Thirty public schools here now have motion picture machines and rent films from the film exchanges for use in their lessons.

Watch the results—they are quick and apparent. You will know then what this method means, both to you and yours.

Go get this tube today.

We Invite You
To see how really clean teeth shine

Men who smoke will see a quick, conspicuous change

Tobacco stains the film-coat on the teeth. So men who smoke will see a great change quickly. But millions of teeth have that same film-coat with a lesser stain.

Children's teeth are most affected by the film. Young teeth seem most subject to decay. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be daily applied from the time the first tooth appears. Otherwise, decay is almost certain.

Pepsodent brings to women whiter, prettier teeth. But that means cleaner teeth and safer. The luster comes from constant film removal and the high polish given to the teeth.

Your teeth are coated with a film. When fresh the film is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. Later it forms a cloudy coat. It enters crevices and stays. It dims the teeth, and now we know that it causes most tooth troubles.

There is now a way to end it. This week your druggist, if you ask, will give you a 10-Day Tube. Get it and see what it does for your teeth. Learn what film removal means.

These methods have been combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Millions of people have come to employ it. You can see the results wherever you look—in glistening teeth, in teeth you envy, maybe.

A new dental era has begun, due to these discoveries. And these are benefits everyone should share. So you are urged to let this 10-Day Tube show what Pepsodent can do.

Old ways don't end it

Old ways of brushing do not end film. Millions of people know that. Teeth discolor and decay despite the daily care.

The reason lies in film. It clings and hides, and very few escape its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing—some have grown alarming. And all because we knew no way to daily fight the film.

Brings five effects

Pepsodent brings five distinct effects. All are apparent, some are quick. A few days' use will leave no doubt about them. And a little book will tell you what each one means to you.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling.

The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied at once. This is to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Every application brings the Pepsodent effects. Together they mean tooth protection like you never had before.

A new dental era

Dental science has for years studied to combat film. Ways have now been found to do it. Able authorities have proved those methods by many careful tests. Now leading dentists everywhere are urging their daily use.

MERCURY UP TO NINETY-SIX

Yesterday's Record in the Sun at Public Landing—Weeks of Peerless Weather—Two Moose Shot.

It is not yet nine o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving. The writer sits on a sunny verandah overlooking the river at Public Landing. Flies are buzzing around as if it were yet midsummer.

Two butterflies are fluttering over the grass. The sunshine is as warm as that of a July morning and its silver brilliance on the scarcely rippled surface of the river is almost too much for the eyes. In quiet coves on the farther shore the river lies dark in shadow, and smooth as glass. There is not a cloud in the sky. Sound carries very far, and the whistle of the Océane was heard as if close at hand, when she was really far up the river. At intervals the reports of guns are heard from woods behind the Landing or from those on the farther side of the river. There are evidently many hunters abroad. A car with several on board passed through the Backlands on Saturday.

On Saturday night Edward Whelpley, some four miles back, shot a moose and the fresh tracks of another were seen in the locality.

But to the man in the sunshine on the verandah it is enough to sit and breathe the balmy air, and look out upon a prospect so lovely that one can hardly realize its ephemeral character.

Yonder comes a steamer up the river in mid-stream, troubling the smooth waters and having them ribbed behind her as she goes. Brighter and brighter sparkle the diamonds in the path of the quiet cove. Behind and beyond rise the scattered fields and wooded hills, clad in all the glory of autumn coloring, with here and there the crimson flame of a maple among the greens, yellows and browns.

On the edge of a field the yellow leaves of some young poplars are shimmering in the sun, as the light breeze stirs them in ceaseless motion.

There came a call from a boy and girl who had staid autumn leaves. They returned to the verandah laden with leaves of the maple, oak and the sycamore, in every tint and shade from light green and very pale yellow to a deep purple—a perfect riot of color.

Yonder come some motor boats up the river. A number came up on Saturday and Sunday, and many people came up by steamer and train and motor car, to enjoy the week end and the holiday along the river.

The aspect of the landscape and river changes continually as the sun mounts higher, and one can see the heat shimmering across the fields as in midsummer. Apples still hang on the orchard trees, and this morning small cucumbers were picked from the garden bed to be converted into pickles, for as yet there has not been frost enough to injure them. For weeks this golden weather has continued, making a new season record for recent years.

There has just arrived a courier from the wilderness. L. Dakin, S. L. Gidney and Judson Gregg had gone to a shack by a lake in the deep woods some five or six miles back in search of moose. Early this morning Mr. Dakin got one of good size, on a wooded hill. The courier had come for our farmer friend to take his horse from the plough and bring the carcass in. It would have to be dragged through the woods down

LABOR DIFFICULTY AT NEW COMMONS CHAMBER.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—The building trades council last night refused to take action in regard to a disagreement between the New Works firm who have the contract to decorate the commons chamber, and five or six of their employees who have been on strike.

These men walked out in a sympathetic strike because the demands of decorators working for the same firm in New York city were on strike. The council decided that they could take no action unless non-union painters were set to work by the contractors. It is a matter that the painters' international union alone is interested in at present.

Aladdin makes Dainty Fineries

Colorful as the Flowers

Never before has color held such sway; almost every detail of Milady's apparel can now be radiant with glorious tints taken from Nature's palette. To be "in fashion" one simply must be "in color." Last season's white garments and the pale, tinted lingerie that frequent washing has faded, may be made brilliantly beautiful by Aladdin Dye Soap.

With Aladdin, you just wash the garment in the regular way—and the wonderful color transformation takes place. From sheer silken things to cotton and "mixed" goods—all acquire a rich and lustrous color.

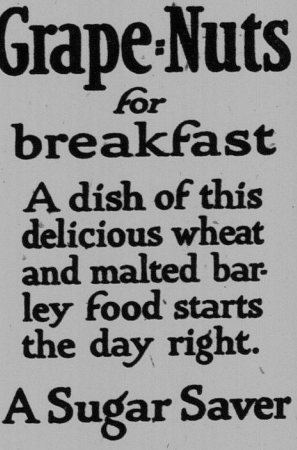

A pleasing feature when using Aladdin, is that it will not stain either the hands or the bowl. Anything that can be washed can be colored—Aladdin successfully colors household articles, such as curtains, drapes and pillow tops.

Those lacy underthings—that adorable camisole, the gossamer blouse—as well as the Children's frocks and summer suits—all may be washed to any color your fancy dictates.

Buy Aladdin at any drug store, grocery shop, or department store.

SEATING OF EMPLOYEES.
Manufacturers Realize Elimination of Fatigue is Factor in Production.

The Bureau of Women in Industry in the United States, of which Frances Perkins is supervising commissioner, reports that employers, industrial engineers and workers alike are seeking advice and information on the subject of the seating of employees; in fact, there is no other single subject about which the bureau is more besieged with questions. General information is therefore being collected about factory chairs designed for particular processes to eliminate fatigue and increase production, says a recent government bulletin issued from Albany.

The New York factory law provides for "suitable seats" and there is a wide range of variety in the chairs used in different fields of industry and even in different processes. Many manufacturers have made a laudable effort to suit the chair in the greatest degree possible to the actual dimensions and form of the machinery used by the worker, and in some cases the dimensions of the machinery itself has been altered to facilitate the movements of the operator, saving waste motion and lessening fatigue. The bureau reports a growing realization on the part of manufacturers and industrial engineers generally of the close connection between unnecessary fatigue and poor seating arrangements.

The bureau has received pictures of specially designed chairs in use in the many different processes involved in modern industry. Standing jobs have been converted into sitting jobs by the imagination and energy of foreman or manufacturer. The report quotes these portions of letters received from manufacturers on this very vital subject:

"A clock manufacturing company, referred to a chair on a track used by women who tend six semi-automatic machines at once, says: "The women all seem to appreciate the fact that they can ride, instead of walk, from one machine to another."

"Another letter shows a manufacturer going still deeper into the subject: 'The chairs were designed by us to enable the operators of certain machines to work in a sitting position, on what had previously been a wholly stand-up job. The old machines were high and of such length that the operators could not reach the ends without stepping along. We redesigned these, made them low down, shortened them up, and designed this swing seat so that the operator can easily reach all parts of the machine without getting out of the chair. This works perfectly and has increased production with much less fatigue to the operator.'

A leading collar company writes: 'We have in mind two chairs especially designed to prevent fatigue. One is a seat on a sliding track used by workers operating ironing machines. The other is a chair with a foot rest attached to the bench.'

"A clothing manufacturer writes of a chair designed by an industrial physician: 'While some of the employees objected to them at first, they are very popular at present. Their chief advantage is that they support the back and do not cut off the circulation of the legs. They are made in four different heights.'

"A hosiery manufacturer writes: 'We are substituting chairs for stools for our toppers in order to increase production, as the chairs are more comfortable than the stools and the operators can relax more easily.'

"Another company says: 'Efforts have been made to adopt stools to the size of the operator and to their particular task. It has been found that foot and back rests are a great assistance in lessening fatigue.'

"In contrast to the suggestions about seating, many requests for information have been made:

"We shall be very glad to have information concerning improved types of chairs or rests for women operating punch presses or sitting at benches."

Nervous Breakdown "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly" — "My nerves are all on edge" — "I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

EXPECTED TO WIN AND THEN MAKE WAR ON ENGLAND

This Was Hope of Kaiser, Says Erzberger in Volume of War Recollections.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—(Associated Press Correspondence).—The former German Emperor William confidently expected to emerge victoriously from the world war and then marshal his continental armies against England in what he termed "the second Punic war," says Mathias Erzberger in his volume of war recollections just published at Stuttgart. The emperor evidently used the term "Punic war" in the sense of a conflict for world supremacy between two great nations.

Erzberger, who was formerly minister of finances, but now has temporarily retired from public political activities, set forth in detail the meeting between the then Emperor William and the Reichstag leaders, after the fall of Chancellor Bethmann Hollweg, and following the adoption of the peace resolution in July 1917.

He says the Emperor became enthusiastic over the phrase "peace or compromise," which he assured was what the Reichstag majority demanded. "Excellent word 'compromise' William said.

"It means," he said, "that we take the money, raw products, cotton, oil and ores out of the pockets of our enemies and transfer them to our own."

The parliamentary leaders, Herr Erzberger says, were astonished by this unexpected display of imperial mentality and felt that they were being made the victims of his mockery. The emperor's further remarks were in the same channel, he declares.

William asserted that the United States and England had entered into an alliance for the purpose of reckoning with Japan after the war. He was also reliably informed that Russia would join Japan in warding off the Anglo-Saxon blow. He admitted that England would not emerge from the war defeated but said the final accounting would come when he led his continental armies against her in "the second Punic war."

The amazement of the parliamentarians grew as the Kaiser continued, Erzberger reports. The monarch asserted that "a complete understanding would be reached with France when the war was over."

Referring to a battle in Galicia, which occurred only a few days previous, the Kaiser said that the Prussian Guards under the command of his son Fritz had "brushed the democratic dust off the waist of the Russians."

"Wherever the Guards appear there is no longer any democracy left," he exclaimed.

The Roumanians got their just deserts, the war lord told Erzberger when the latter suggested that the poor Roumanians had probably lost everything but their shirts.

Erzberger adds that the whole meeting between the Kaiser and the parliamentary leaders was not only a grave misfortune but it proved "the deepest cut with the spade that ultimately resulted in the overthrow of the prevailing regime."

He concludes the chapter with a statement that the Reichstag veterans, who up to that time were opposed to the parliamentary system, that very night openly avowed that the old system would inevitably plunge Germany into disaster.

FARMERS' DRIVE IN UNITED STATES

Washington, Oct. 19.—(By Canadian Press).—Farmers of the United States represented in the National Board of Farm Organizations are starting a drive to force through congress a big agricultural programme.

Every candidate for the House and Senate is to receive a questionnaire in which he is asked to go on record. Among the items on the programme are the right of free speech and assembly, the railroad question, control of natural resources, the right of farmers to organize associations for marketing their products, creation of new rural credit systems for short term loans, a practical farmer for secretary of agriculture, government manufacture of fertilizer, tariff revision for agriculture control, control of the big packers, stringent immigration laws and opposition to compulsory military training.

The question on railroads reads:—"Inadequate transportation remains one of the great problems of agriculture. It is the end of a reasonable time of full-ther trial of private ownership the railroads fail to render reasonably satisfactory service to the public, will you then favor re-opening the railroad question?"
