PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND STARTLED BY MYSTERIOUS OCCULT DEMONSTRATIONS

Girl Believed to Be Possessed of the Devil—Floats in the Air in Clairvoyant Trance Amid Unexplainable Noises and Apparitions — Priests and Physicians Fail to Help Her—Whole Island Stirred Gone to Asylum

Wierd and wonderful occurrences of a character supernatural or occult, according to the attitude of the witnesses, have thrown the eastern end of Prince Edward Island into a state of nervous excitement which will not subside for some time. The phenomena centres around a young woman, named Chinese, twenty years of age, who has lived with and kept house for her brother in New Zealand, a small settlement about five miles from Souris. To the simple minded people of the surrounding district the unfortunate girl appears to be possessed of the devil. To others more versed in occult demonstrations she is believed to be a study rivalling in intense interest the case of Eusapia Paladino, who recently visited the country. Then there is the exploration of hitherto unknown realms of the mind now leading more thoughtful observers to look for a scientific explanation of the strange happenings which have perplexed and amazed the people of the district. These mysterious events commenced several months ago, soon after the announcement by one of Miss Chinese's neighbours of his intention of getting married. His sister objected very strongly to the girl who was to become her sister-in-law and in a fit of temper declared that she was being haunted by a devil in the family as that girl. That night after she had retired to bed she was found by her father to be aroused by loud and unexplainable noises, which seemed to come from all parts of the house. The girl's sister's voice shrieking in agony was heard and the brothers rushed to her room fearing that she was being murdered. When they reached the room they found her floating in the air several feet above her bed. She was talking incoherently and in language much different from her ordinary conversation. The girl finally sank back to her couch and fell into a natural sleep. The next morning when she awoke she knew nothing of the occurrence, and the brothers were convinced that she was being haunted by a devil. Several days later the same thing occurred, and the brothers were again convinced that she was being haunted by a devil. Curiously enough the natural feeling of reluctance to have anything to do with such matters, and the village

WHEAT YIELD DOUBLE THAT OF OLDER PROVINCE

Female Shoplifter in Motor Car Robbed—Farmer, Lost in Storm, Was Frozen to Death.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth Millan, who says she came from Serbia, Ont., is under arrest here charged with shoplifting at a departmental store. The woman was about to enter an automobile when arrested. The police claim she has been visiting the store daily for the past week or more in a motor. A quantity of alleged stolen goods was found in her room.

SALEM, Ont., Jan. 15.—Joseph Ferguson, a retired farmer, who lived near here, was found yesterday afternoon in a neighbor's well frozen to death. Ferguson left here for home Thursday night and apparently got bewildered in the storm.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 15.—Complete official figures of the wheat crop of the west are now at hand and they show that all records were easily surpassed while the Cook, has now lost faith in his employer. Lonsdale explains that Cook has deceived him. He says that the last letter he received from Cook was dated from a city in southern Spain on Dec. 24. The letter gave another address to which Lonsdale could telegraph and said that a long letter and detailed information was coming. Lonsdale has telegraphed several times to the address given, but has received no reply, nor has the promised letter been received.

GOVT VERDICT OF $6,000 FOR LOSS OF HIS LEGS

London Man Sued the Grand Trunk—Winnipeg Citizens Pay Heavily for Defrauding the Customs.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 15.—Walter Barnett, who had his legs cut off in a yard collision, got a verdict for $6,000 damages against the Grand Trunk from a jury in the assizes here last evening. Barnett sued the company for $20,000 damages. He was injured on the night of August 23 last, when a Grand Trunk freight train crashed into the rear platform of the last coach of a Pere Marquette train, and demolished it. Barnett was standing on the rear platform and was crushed. A point of law, to decide in effect if Barnett was a passenger on the train on which he was riding when he was injured, will be decided by Chief Justice Meredith.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15.—It developed that as a result of further investigations into recent irregularities in the local customs office, five autos purchased in the United States last summer by well known citizens of Winnipeg, were seized for under-valuation. Four of the cars were sold without consideration for the owners, while the fifth cost the man implicated about four thousand dollars to square himself with the government.

ROME, Jan. 15.—The Vatican announced today the promotion of the Right Rev. Neil McNeil, Bishop of St. Georges, Nfld., to the office of Archbishop of Vancouver.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—A long series of disorders of the law school of the Sorbonne fomented by Royalist Catholic students culminated today in a pitched battle between the political partisans. The republican students fought their adversaries with their fists and drove them out of the building.

SAYS THE YUKON IS GOING INTO DECLINE

Engineer Says One Company is Doing Most of the Work—Prospectors are Scarce.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 15.—Albert Beaudette, a mining engineer, is here from the Yukon and says prospecting out there is now a thing of the past and the prospector is a rare bird indeed. The Yukon Gold Dredging Co., Beaudette states, are now doing all the gold dredging and washing, and at present operates over about two thousand square miles. The gold output last year totalled four millions, less than one-fifth of the output of some years ago.

BLIZZARD IN THE EASTERN STATES IS WORSE THAN EVER TODAY; TRAFFIC ALMOST SUSPENDED IN NEW YORK; FIVE DEATHS REPORTED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 15.—Two more deaths have resulted from the storm which is still continuing over Connecticut. Edward Gary of Norwich, 49 years old, died from exhaustion on reaching his home and Alexander Boyd of Bridgeport died from heart disease brought on by his exertions in tramping through the storm.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Blizzard conditions prevailed in and about this city today. After a brief let up during the night the storm which struck the city yesterday and buried it beneath a foot of snow began to show its force again in the early hours and today was raging more violently than ever. With the rise of the storm's force came a fall of the temperature and high winds which piled the snow in huge drifts. Transportation lines in the outlying sections were near complete paralysis while surface traffic in the city was difficult and uncertain. Through trains on all lines, particularly from the north and west, were badly delayed, and reports of trains completely stalled began to come in during the morning. Five deaths were due to the storm up to this morning, with a long chapter of casualties being written as the reports from suburban points come to hand.

Long Island was severely hit. Mayor Gaynor was recovering today in Hospital from the effects of his efforts to reach his home in St. James last night and afterwards to get help for a companion, Charles Shepard of Huntington, who met with a possible fatal accident in falling from a trestle while walking the tracks with the mayor.

The American Line steamship St. Louis was recovering today in Hospital from the effects of the storm since Thursday night, came up the harbor today, and reached her dock with much difficulty. She was closely followed by the Cunarder Lusitania, which arrived off the Hook last night. The St. Louis was the only Atlantic mail boat scheduled to depart this week, but the weather made this impossible and the steamship and post-office officials announced that the liner would sail tomorrow forenoon. All the men available were put to work unloading and loading the St. Louis, but it was believed that the ship would have to carry a large part of her cargo back to Europe.

Last Tuesday the mountainous waves smashed a part of the Lusitania's bridge and while she has made more than 600 knots a day on that day she logged only 215. The French Line steamship Hudson, from Havre, and the Red Star Line steamship Island, from Antwerp, both overdue, arrived today. Clearing weather which came before noon, caused a renewal of activity in the harbor. The fleet of ocean going tugs which had taken refuge at quarantine, started out past the Hook in search of sailing vessels and the harbor tugs commenced the enormous task of moving freight train lighters which had been stalled for many hours.

GOOK'S SECRETARY HAS BEEN DECEIVED

Explorer Threw Him Off the Track With False Addresses.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A Copenhagen cable despatch to the New York Times says that Walter Lonsdale, secretary to Frederick A. Cook, has now lost faith in his employer. Lonsdale explains that Cook has deceived him. He says that the last letter he received from Cook was dated from a city in southern Spain on Dec. 24. LLOYD-GEORGE HAS A FINAL FLING AT HOUSE OF LORDS

Five Hundred Eldest Sons Held Up to Ridicule—Today the Betting Has Swung Around in Favor of Unionists—More Leaders Join Tariff Reform

(Special Cable to The Montreal Star and St. John Star.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Just as the Unionists drew first blood by three unopposed elections, including Chamberlain's, so the Unionist leaders got the last word before polling opened this morning. At the very last moment last night some bright mind at the central Conservative office conceived the notion of a joint manifesto signed by Balfour and Chamberlain to emphasize their complete accord on tariff reform which is so obviously the Unionists' best card. Messages were at once despatched to Balfour at Carlton Gardens and Chamberlain at Birmingham with the result that the following party pledge is blazoned over this morning, though it arrived too late for the early editions of some papers.

"Tariff reform will not increase the cost of living of the working classes, nor the proportion of taxation paid by them, but will enable us to reduce present taxes on articles of working class consumption, will lessen unemployment, and will develop our trade with British Dominions beyond the seas."

(Signed) "Arthur James Balfour, Joseph Chamberlain."

"January 15.—The only effective radical counter to this last moment move is the recurrence of his from Chamberlain's old speeches against the Peers and in favor of Free Trade decked out as though a manifesto for this election.

From Asquith not a word appears in the papers today, but Lloyd-George is game to the last. He believes his onslaught on the Peers is still the best radical card and at York last night where he was supporting Hamar Greenwood and Roseberry's candidature, he came out with a final philippic. The following is the brightest passage: "I object to five hundred irresponsible coming from heaven knows where, (laughter, cheers), and even the attendants of the House of Lords know some of them, appearing probably in the House almost for the first time in their lives, knowing nothing of legislation, knowing nothing of finance, with no mandate from any one (cheers) representing no one and nothing, (laughter), with no experience, capacity or qualification. I object to these men suddenly turning up and saying: 'I am my father's eldest son.' But that is not why I am in the House of Commons or Chancellor of the Exchequer. (Cheers). The Peers now say give us a chance and we will reform. (Laughter). Everybody says that the morning after a spree, (laughter), there is no man who does not say he will never touch it again. (Laughter). The Peers had four years of debauch." (Continued on page eight.)

G. T. R. Brakeman Cut in Two Under a Train—Death Due to Carelessness in Neglecting Wire.

HANOVER, Ont., Jan. 15.—John Pettigrew, aged about 17 years, a O. T. railway brakeman, was killed here yesterday while shunting cars, falling under a car and being cut almost in two. Pettigrew lived in Hanover and was married only a few months ago.

NEW MARKET, Ont., Jan. 15.—The jury in the case of George Partridge found electrocuted in his own cellar on New Year's evening, returned a verdict to the effect that Partridge's death was caused by his own neglect in not having the wiring in the house put in proper repair after having been warned by previous shocks and the family having been warned by the town engineer. The Bell Telephone Co. and town are exonerated from all blame in the matter.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 15.—Da Ke Na Dah, the only full blooded Indian prince in this world, spent the night in the cells here, having been arrested on the charge of undertaking to tell fortunes. The lady comes from Brantford and Hagersville and is a six footer and built in proportion. She is now out on bail.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 15.—Harcourt Stevens, head of the gang of young thieves, was sentenced here yesterday to three years in Kingston penitentiary. Stevens, who already has served more than one term behind bars, acted ugly as he was being led from the court to his cell, and after being locked up he pulled off his trousers and tore them into ribbons, along with his cap. Another pair of jeans had to be secured for him before Stevens could be removed to Welland jail.

RUSSIA'S REMARKABLE PRODUCTION OF WHEAT

Last Years Crop the Largest in the History of the World—Other Countries Show Large Gains.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Russia is the greatest wheat producing country in the world. Last year it produced the remarkable harvest of 78,000,000 bushels which constitutes the largest crop ever harvested by any country. Returns received by the United States Department of Agriculture from a dozen countries which in the preceding year produced over four-fifths of the so-called world's wheat crop, exclusive of the mid-season crops of India and the southern hemisphere, show a net gain of 37,000,000 bushels or nearly 18 per cent, over the yield of the same countries in 1908. This would indicate that the so-called world's production last year was approximately 2,100,000,000 bushels.

JUDGE HODGINS DEAD

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 15.—Thomas Hodgins, M. A., judge of the admiralty division of the exchequer court, and master in ordinary in the supreme court of Ontario, died suddenly at 23 Bloor street west yesterday between four and five o'clock, while endeavoring to answer the telephone. He was 81 years old. The surviving family are his wife, three sons—Percy, manager of the Traders' Bank, branch Av. Road, Major Arthur, in British Columbia, and Major C. B. Hodgins, Royal Artillery, stationed at Singapore; and two daughters—Florence and Augusta—at home.

WIDOW IN WINDSOR SAYS HE TOLD HER HE WAS A PRINCE AND GOT $1000

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 15.—Charged with having obtained $1,000 under false pretences, J. D. Kuppenheimer, of Montreal, president of the Oriental Silk Company, came before Police Magistrate Leggett here yesterday. Mrs. Victoria C. Dray, a widow residing here, charges Kuppenheimer with having induced her to turn over $1,000 in cash for stock in a concern known as Drapers Company, Limited. Kuppenheimer elected to be tried by a jury, and was released after putting up $2,000 cash bail. He returned to Montreal, Mrs. Dray, who was on the stand several hours, said Kuppenheimer induced her to subscribe for stock in an almost defunct company. Kuppenheimer, she said, told her he was "Prince of an Island in the St. Lawrence River."

CLERGYMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE AT HIS RESIDENCE

Hot Water Boiler Explodes With Few Feet of Rev. Mr. Lodge.

Rev. W. W. Lodge, pastor of Exmouth Street Methodist Church, experienced a remarkably close escape from serious injury or death on Thursday morning. The explosion of a hot water boiler in the kitchen of the Exmouth Street parsonage occurred just after he had passed out of the door, and while he was still not more than twelve feet away from it.

The explosion drove the steel boiler about the room in small sections, portions of it flying through the double windows on the other side of the room, and landing far out in the arway. The top was blown from the kitchen range, and the room was badly wrecked by the flying pieces of metal.

The clergyman lit the fire without knowing that the water had frozen solid in the boiler during the night. When the heat reached the mass of ice, it expanded and the physical result followed. After setting the fire alight Rev. Mr. Lodge employed himself about the kitchen for a minute or two, and then left the room. He had just reached the door going to it from a position about two feet away from the boiler, when the explosion occurred, and pieces of the stove and boiler struck the walls a foot from him.

CAJOLING A GOD.

A story comes from the Gorakhpur district of India to the effect that two men, who were engaged in the water-god Mahadeo. They recited "mantras" at some length, but Mahadeo did not appear. Whereupon the two men contrived to hasten his coming by cutting at each other's throats with a sword, suggesting thereby to the deity that their lives were in danger. This method of invocation proving abortive as well, they both jumped into the river. One was drowned, but the other returned to his right mind and ran home to tell his story.

MODELS WOMAN AS MODERN ATLAS

Carries Burden of the World in Silence

Cared by Mr. Borgum.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Woman upholds the world in the status of Atlas, which is receiving the finishing touches in the marble at the hands of Mr. Guston Borgum. He discharges with the respect of the ancients, for this figure is intended to record his conviction that the burden of the world is supported by women. Mr. Borgum is identified with any of the associations which are laboring in the cause of universal suffrage, but he is merely subjecting his personal views on a subject in which he has taken much thought.

The sculptor of antique times modeled Atlas as a broad shouldered, heavy bearded man, with a swaying beard, who on his back patiently balanced the revolving settings of the human comedy. Mr. Borgum presents the figure of a woman, who is a woman, which rests on her shoulders, presses roughly upon her head and strains every muscle under its weight. The statue is nearly life size.

"I have always felt," said Mr. Borgum, "that the ancients were wrong, for it was woman after all who must support the world. The woman is the statue I have dedicated to my mother. The sphere which the figure is a motherhood, she holds the globe, for so the real burdens of life are borne in the arms. I have made the figure to press so heavily as indicative of what woman endures."

Mr. Borgum modeled the statue as an expression of his own feeling, as he had no commission for it. He said yesterday, however, that he had completed it had been taken by a museum, but that for the present no announcement would be made by the owner. In view of the widespread discussion concerning the mission of woman and her political and social rights, the statue when placed an exhibition will cause much comment and discussion.

Mr. Borgum has also begun work on the small model for the memorial statue of Lincoln which is to be placed in Newark. It represents the statesman standing on a bench which is on a low pedestal, and so disposed as to give the impression of the loneliness of the man of many remarkable personalities in American history.

U. N. B. ALUMNI IN SESSION YESTERDAY

The Associated Alumni of the University of New Brunswick met in semi-annual session yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held in the Court Chambers, Pugsley Building, at 420 College. There was a fairly large attendance of members. The session was chiefly of a routine nature.

Several new members were added to the society. They were—A. E. Eastman, '06, of Moncton; A. N. Vince, '08, of Moncton; J. D. Macdonald, '08, of Moncton; A. N. Vince, '08, of Moncton; J. D. Macdonald, '08, of Moncton; A. N. Vince, '08, of Moncton.

HOW TO DO IT

A "Man Doctor" unconvincingly declares that women do everything rather less perfect than men. They don't cook so well, they don't make dresses quite so well, though the medical science is quite so well as a man who sets himself to millinery.

"If you have a feeling that your wife doesn't cook so excellently as she ought, just you take home a bottle of H. P. Sauce tonight. Suggest to her, in the mildest possible manner, that you like H. P. Sauce with cold meats, that it's good with eggs and bacon, delicious with crust of bread and cheese—unparalleled as a flavoring to insipid gravies, ragouts or made-up dishes. In this, as in most other domestic matters, a grain of help is worth a bushel of fault-finding. But you should be quite certain that it is H. P. Sauce that you take home with you."

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Gordon, wife of Principal Gordon's tonight, died at Kingston late tonight.

DENY OPPOSITION TO WEDDING RING

Suffragists Declare Movement Has Not Caused Disregarding of Emblem

Jewellers Say Sales Have Not Decreased, But Bands are Less Conspicuous Than Heretofore

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—CHANGES in the growing custom of young married women in abandoning the use of the wedding ring is a result of the campaign of the suffragists were indignantly denied by jewelers' trade movement yesterday. That the custom is spreading is admitted by persons in society, and jewelers said that while there was no decrease in the sale of wedding rings they are now being made smaller and less conspicuous than heretofore.

In the last week the Herald has received several letters from women who call attention to what they call the reprehensible practice and urge that some action be taken to prevent other women from following the vogue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Watrous, whose letter was published in Tuesday's Herald, was the first person to call public attention to the fact that the practice is spreading among young women who "wish to be smart."

"I am delighted to see in today's issue of the Herald that a lady in the correspondence column draws the attention of the public to the growing habit of discarding their wedding rings among young married women in New York who wish to be considered smart. Only the other day I remarked to a young married woman who has two children that she had forgotten her wedding ring. To my disgust she answered: 'Oh, I wouldn't wear a wedding ring! It's so ordinary. I never mean to again.'"

"It was horror-stricken and told her husband, her children and her own good name. I think if you could print this letter it might call the attention of the husbands in question and lead them to insist that their wives stop this very degrading 'practical joke' as it is looked upon by the young women who practice it."

ARE NOW LESS CONSPICUOUS

Anxious to discover the exact status of the wedding ring at the present moment, a Herald reporter sought information from several sources.

"Oh, yes," said a representative of Tiffany's, "we still make wedding rings in as great an abundance as ever. No wedding is complete without one, but they are no longer the heavy 'hand' that they once were. They are yearly growing less conspicuous. We know the nation's retirement after the wedding. But the alderness of the ring now worn might suggest that it was not meant for as long and constant service as was the wedding ring of former days."

"Advocates of votes for women repudiate utterly the idea that their cult might be in the least responsible for the discarding of the wedding ring." "Never," said Miss Mary Garrett Eley, a suffragist, "have I heard a suffragist suggest that it would be well to lay aside the wedding ring. I am a thorough conservative in that matter and think all suffragists are. If the wedding ring is being discarded it is through vanity and not from independence of spirit."

"WORST LUCK IN THE WORLD."

Miss Mary A. Donnelly, secretary of the National Progressive Woman Suffrage Union, the most radical of the American suffrage organizations, not only stood loyally by the memorial symbol of marriage, but produced an additional reason why every woman should be faithful to it.

"Doesn't every woman know," she declared, "that it's the worst luck in the world to lay aside the wedding ring? Disaster of all kinds are sure to follow."

Mrs. Gilbert Jones, president of the National League for the Civic Education of Women, an anti-suffrage organization, admitted that she had never heard even suffragists advocate the laying aside of the wedding ring. "They have asked me why I used my husband's name," she said, "but not once in a whole world of women may declare that the wedding ring is common and unbecoming, and that therefore they will not wear it, but I have never known society women to lay it aside."

"The reporter then journeyed to the Professional Women's League to see what the women of the stage thought of wedding rings."

"Do the women of the stage wear wedding rings?" was asked of the secretary, Miss Alice Brown.

"Why, really, I never noticed whether they do or not," said Miss Brown, "but as for me, being a single woman, if I had a wedding ring I'd wear it all ways."

A pitiable story is told of an Englishman named Bassett, who came to the city about a month ago with some little money and now, his money having disappeared, he is unable to obtain sufficient work to enable him to support a wife and four children. He is trying hard to be supported, and the authorities are doing their best to aid him in the effort.

COOK WILL NEVER RETURN FROM HIS VOLUNTARY EXILE

Explorer Seeking Refuge From Haunting Thoughts, Says Mr. Wake

(Montreal Star)

One of Dr. Cook's last friends, and sympathize with the North Pole claimant, was in Montreal yesterday. He was Mr. Charles Wake, of New York, who till the very last minute refused to abandon his belief in Cook's sincerity.

For ten days Mr. Wake says he scarcely ever left Dr. Cook until the latter, oppressed by the terrible weight on his mind, finally flew from the American camp and went into voluntary exile from which he will likely never return.

"It is certain that Dr. Cook is now in Europe," Mr. Wake announced to Montreal newspaper men. He left this continent long before rumors about his hiding here began to spread, and he has never been seen since.

THE DESERTED CHILDREN.

One of the melancholy features of Dr. Cook's exile is that the disgraced explorer and his wife were obliged, owing to circumstances, to leave behind them their two small children. They are just old enough — one is seven and the other ten — to understand the tragic position in which their "papa" is now placed before the world just as before they were.

Mr. Wake was asked, "I will not discuss them, because Peary is also a personal friend of mine." Mr. Wake left Montreal for New York last night. He had been staying a few days at St. Agathe, where he had been learning to ski.

Mr. Wake is himself enthusiastic over exploring, and is a member of the Explorers' Club. Five or six years ago he was on a Hudson's Bay exploring trip when he assisted in rescuing a party of starving Grand Trunk Pacific surveyors in the Abitibi Lake region. Three years ago he formed part of the Wolf hunting expedition in Ontario, organized by the C. P. R.

He even had his plans all arranged to accompany Dr. Cook on the trip towards the Pole, but had been obliged to abandon this at the last minute. Even yet, Mr. Wake thinks that Dr. Cook might have been sincere in believing he had reached the North Pole.

"I feel sure he went pretty far north," he said, "but he certainly did not take the proper observations; his case was weak, and he did not prove that he did reach there."

"Do you believe Peary's claims?"

THINKS COOK SINCERE.

On the occasion of its annual meeting, to be held on the first day of February, the Canadian Club will hold a St. John evening at which will be discussed the various problems most prominent in the affairs of the city at this most problematic period. Addresses will be delivered upon such matters by several local men most competent to discuss them.

The members will also elect their officers and executive board for the year to follow. At the close of last evening's luncheon and its accompanying address, a nominating committee was appointed as follows to report at the annual C. B. Allan, president; S. D. Scott, Hon. R. J. Ritchie, Dr. G. U. Hay, Richard O'Brien, Dr. J. A. McIntyre, and J. Hunter White. F. A. Kinneer and F. A. Dylekman were appointed to audit the secretary's and treasurer's reports, which will also be presented at the annual.

The Finance Committee of the Municipal Council met in the office of County Secretary Vincent at 2 p.m. yesterday. The committee considered the estimates for the coming year. The increase will amount to only $600. Yesterday the committee had before it delegations from the General Public Hospital, the Boys Industrial Home, and the Municipal Home.

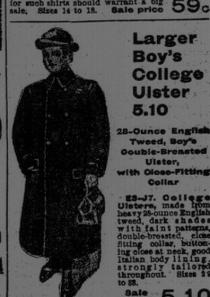

The General Public Hospital received the heaviest grant, the increase in this particular being about $250 more than that of last year. In the case of other items, however, there has been a marked decrease. The allowance for the Boys Industrial Home remains as before.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 15, 1910. TWO MEN IN JAIL

If the Minister of Justice entertains any intention of exercising clemency in the case of defaulters or other violators of the law now in prison, his attention should be given first of all, not to Joseph E. Phillips, former president of the defunct but still malodorous York Loan Company, but rather to Charles McGill, the general manager of the Ontario Bank. Some time ago an effort was made to have Phillips released on parole. This was not successful, and now a second attempt is being made. This prisoner was sentenced to five years and has served almost most three years of his term. He was convicted of fraud and the evidence produced at his trial went to show that the schemes in which he was involved were deliberately arranged for the personal profit of the promoter. The fact that the York Loan Investments, after careful management, have since turned out better than was previously expected is in no way to the credit of the man who misappropriated the funds entrusted to him by thousands all over Canada. Circumstances in the case of McGill were somewhat different. He was charged with falsifying the monthly returns of the Ontario Bank. These returns had to be submitted under oath to the finance department at Ottawa. When Mr. McGill took charge of this Bank it was in a bad condition. He found it on the verge of failure, and in an earnest endeavor to bring it back to a sounder position he, who had formerly conducted his affairs on lines of the strictest honesty, was induced to speculate. In the attempt to cure this irregular conduct he falsified the monthly reports. These offenses extended over a considerable period of time. Mr. McGill was not solely to blame in this affair, for the directors of the bank, had they attended to their ordinary duties, would have discovered what was going on long before the bank went to the wall. It is contended, too, that the finance department, if it had given proper attention to the returns, could readily have detected the incorrect figures given. However, the Minister of Justice has no power on the part of the finance department to do anything to do with the case, excepting that there was a compulsory system of independent auditing in operation McGill's crime could not have been possible. Mr. McGill did not speculate for his own profit, nor is it known that he received anything from the investments he made. He committed a crime to save the credit of the bank, and on conviction was sentenced to five years imprisonment. He has already served three years. While it cannot be contended that releasing offenders such as McGill or Phillips is, as a general thing, in the interests of justice still there are circumstances connected with the case of the former offender which are deserving of consideration. The sentence imposed was made the extreme limit and perhaps the Minister of Justice will incline to the view that in view of Mr. McGill's previous character and reputation, because of the fact that he is in poor health that he has suffered enough. After Mr. McGill has been pardoned, or released on parole as the case may be, it will be ample time to consider what should be done with Mr. Phillips.

PHOTO COUNTY JOURNALISM. Down in Pictou county journalists have a way of their own of running papers. Recently the editor of the Standard challenged the editor of the Eastern Chronicle to a public debate on Nova Scotia's railway policy. The Chronicle man advised his brother-in-law not to be an ass any longer than was necessary. In reply to this the Standard's head publishes what it describes as a review of the career of the Chronicle's editor, speaking of his journalism in the following: "Finally the politician, journalist, groceryman and mixer returned to the field of journalism. Of the last chapter we are most familiar. For fourteen years or thereabouts this would-be-debater has thrown the slimy products of a rascally, ill-tempered mind in the faces of political and religious friends and foes alike. For this length of time the chief weapons of his newspaper, such weapons are not designed to sustain in any degree those influences that work for human progress. The style of wit attempted in the columns of his paper is clumsy, the humor often vulgar. It could never be called journalism, but it is a disgrace to the name. He may cause a smile, babies do that. He may publish sentences with idiosyncratic meanings, the most vulgar can make suggestive remarks. Considered honestly and judged as the result of his own efforts, he is a disgrace to the name of a journalist. He has called this man a craven, and any man who conceals himself behind a desk, and distributes broadsides, is about as contemporary and makes insinuations about his fellow-townsmen, and is a craven if he lies in any degree responsible for his acts. Lies and insinuations that work against and not for the interests of the county and province in which he was born, and in which he has lived almost the allotted span. Here we end the first and least interesting volume of the life of New Glasgow's monumental humbug."

There will be no one by the name of Gladstone in the new British parliament. This man has been on the roll of members since 1818, when Sir John Gladstone was first elected. He sat continuously until 1832, when Hon. W. E. Gladstone was elected. Since that statesman's death the credit of the family has been upheld by Mr. Herbert Gladstone, who has recently been appointed governor of South Africa.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

POVERTY.

There are many kinds of poverty, all are bad but some are worse than others. There is the coarse, vulgar kind, that is poor because it is lazy, and the other kind that is poor because it drinks what it earns. One is called "genteel poverty," whatever that may mean—and that is the hardest to bear of all. The whining "charity for God's sake" kind awakens no sympathy but disgusts us with his cant and whine. The poverty that is poor because of broken banks and broken health, and patches and bruises and lank and seeks concealment is the kind that awakens our sympathy. The story has been told to westness of the curse of riches, but who shall tell us of the curse of poverty? The men and the women who have been sent to destruction by poverty are legion. The men and women who have been sent to the devil by riches are a corporal's guard in comparison. The cheap moralist who has never known the curse or blessing of either, but has lived in the border land, where there is neither poverty nor riches, will talk to deaf ears as long as we have eyes to see the pathetic scenes around us.

Here is a sweet voiced but half mute singer whose voice, properly cultivated, might open doors that are barred against her, doors of usefulness that will never open to her no matter how consistently she knocks. And yet how quickly they would open to a golden key. What books this man might read when he has the book hunger on him if he were near a public library or had money with which to buy them. Here is another whose soul could enjoy the things that are denied him on account of his poverty, travel, mountain scenery, treasures of art for which his soul hungers. "Give your widow's mite." If you have not even a mite give a kind word and a helpful smile. The moralist tells us that how much better it would be if we could give this young man something more substantial. The humorist can't live long on mites and smiles. What hospitals we could endow, what struggling missions we could help if we only had the money. But there is another kind of poverty that is worse than money poverty, and that is the poverty of the soul. There are men who can see nothing but money, and all their enjoyment consists in money making. They never know the joy of helping the deserving poor, the joy that comes to Job when he says, "I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy."

Something that will boil the gospel of go-ahead down to half a dozen words in a sentence that will hit home like a hammer blow. Something that the papers can use for a headline or business man on a letter head. If you can think of a good slogan, send it in. The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"Is it wrong to be unconventional?" That is a question which in one form or another, and usually accompanied by a concrete example, I very frequently receive from my feminine readers. And I always give but one answer: "That depends." Conventions are the crystallization of the ideas of the majority as to what is right and best. When you defy a convention you set yourself up as a better judge of what is right and best in that particular than the rest of the world.

Perhaps you are. It has occasionally happened in the course of history that one man was right and the rest of the world wrong. But the rest of the world does not like to be told so, and for that reason unpopularly I say to be the reformer of any one who tells it so in this way. The other day I saw a woman sitting in a street car calmly working upon a piece of embroidery. Now, as every one knows, it is customary to talk, read, or even study on a street car, but according to the idea of the majority it is not allowable to sew and therefore most of the people who saw this woman were promptly stigmatizing her as a freak.

There was no reason on earth why she didn't have to sew as much right to sew as the woman at the other end of the car had to read, but I wondered if the pleasure she would get from those few moments would pay her for the discomfort of being regarded as a freak by her neighbors. Is the pleasure or profit you get from disregarding any convention sufficient to outweigh for you the crowd's displeasure? And that is what many people fail to do. They do not weigh the pleasure they will get from defying a convention against the pleasure of those who approve of those conventions.

That is inconsequent. One should always reckon to see if the same worth the candle before he begins to play, but having once decided that it is, one should never protest when one is asked to play. And then, the wisdom of defying conventions depends upon a more important thing than your ability to brave the crowd's displeasure. It also depends upon whether you are entirely sure that you are right in judging the convention a worthless and a wrong thing. Convention is the path the majority prefer to follow. You see a short cut apparently across a pleasant field and over a safe little bridge.

But if it is so safe and pleasant a path, and a short cut into the bargain, why do so few people care to tread it? It happens that the Danish word for "children" is almost identical in sound with the Icelandic word for "sheep," and the worthy widow promptly answered, "Two hundred." "Two hundred children?" cried the queen. "How can you possibly maintain such a number?" "Easily enough, please your majesty," replied the princess, with a cheerful smile. "In the summer I turn them out upon the hill to grass, and when the winter comes I kill and eat them."

Had Heart Trouble.

Nerves Were All Unstrung.

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a healthy, strong system. Mrs. M. McGann, writes: "I was told to take your pills, and I tell you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. Three years ago I was so run down that I could not do any work. I went to a doctor, and he told me I had heart trouble and that my nerves were all unstrung. I took his medicine, as he ordered me to do, but it did me no good. I then started taking your pills, and I had only taken one box before I started to feel better, so I continued to take your pills, and I am now strong and well, and able to do my own work. When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I could not get up stairs without resting before I got to the top. I can now go up without any trouble. LIVED ON HIS FAMILY.

It is related of the Queen of Denmark that she once paid a visit to the Danish colony of Iceland, where the good old bishop exerted himself to the utmost in her entertainment. His most successful effort in that direction, says a writer in the Montreal Standard, followed upon the explanation of a mistake which at first greatly scandalized his royal mistress. The queen paid many compliments to her host, and having learned that he was a family man, graciously inquired how many children he had. It happened that the Danish word for "children" is almost identical in sound with the Icelandic word for "sheep," and the worthy widow promptly answered, "Two hundred." "Two hundred children?" cried the queen. "How can you possibly maintain such a number?" "Easily enough, please your majesty," replied the princess, with a cheerful smile. A COLUMN FOR WOMEN

Household Hints

Some people use the whites as well as the yolks of eggs in making mayonnaise. Just before serving the mayonnaise the white of the egg is whipped stiff and beaten into the dressing. To fill floor cracks get a pound of glue, let it stand over night covered with water. Then pour off the water and stir into it a pound of cornstarch. Fill the cracks with this and smooth off with a knife. In mixing mustard use warm, never hot, water. If the water is too warm and hot it will make the dressing flat. A delicious mustard is made by mixing the dry mustard with equal parts of olive oil and tarragon vinegar. After frying doughnuts, place the kettle of hot grease out of doors and pour a little cold water enough to make the grease bubble. This will take out the burnt taste, and the grease may be used again. To cold weather put the clothes pins in a pan and set in the oven until they are hot. Then the fingers will not suffer when hanging out the clothes, especially if the clothes are rinsed the last time in warm water. To thoroughly clean a porcelain sink take equal parts of chloride of lime and a good soap powder, rub well and then follow with lemon juice and salt. Let this remain on for several hours, and all rust spots will disappear. A clever device for letting the oil drip slowly from the bottle when making a salad dressing is this: Cut two grooves in the cork on opposite sides; one groove admits air, while the other

SIX YEARS AMONG THE ESQUIMAUX

Inspector Fitzgerald Tells of Funny Experiences

Police Officer the So's Judge and Jury, Church and State, in Herschel Island.

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Six years up in the Arctic regions, among the Esquimaux and whalers, with only one short visit to civilization. This is the interesting experience of Inspector F. J. Fitzgerald of the Northwest Mounted Police, who is in the city in quest of recruits for his force. The inspector, who is at the Queen's Hotel, has an inexhaustible fund of information about the people who helped Peary discover the North Pole.

"There were six of us stationed on Herschel Island, 2,300 miles north of Edmonton," said he. "We were up there to look after the whalers, and see that the natives did not get liquor. But it was easy work, for the natives are about the quietest lot of people I ever had anything to do with. The policeman's word is law there. They wouldn't think of questioning it. Let me give an instance:

"A girl and boy married. The girl there marry at about 13 years, and the boy at 17. Well, these two married, and the girl's father gave the couple a whale boat for a wedding present. But the girl died. Then the husband died, too, and the question was, 'Who gets the boat?'

"The father of the girl claimed it, and they couldn't agree, so came to me. I advised them to come to some agreement, but they couldn't, so I took the case in hand. I concluded that, as the girl died first, the boat went to the husband. When he died, it went to his people, so I gave it to his father, who was in harder circumstances than the girl's father. They didn't have a word of objection to raise. 'You speak,' was all anyone said when I gave judgment."

CALL WOMEN 'HIM.'

"The same holds good in their marriages. Some men die, and a young girl's father wants the widow. So he comes to me.

"'He wants that man's woman,' says he."

"'Him want you?' I ask. They call woman 'him' there."

"'Yes.'

"Then take her. And that is all there is to it."

"They never act like Indians. If an Indian goes out with you and you meet him back he gets sulky. But that's not the way with an Esquimaux. 'All right, by-and-bye plenty grub. All right now,' is all he'll say."

"How do they stand the cold?" asked the reporter.

"They dress in two suits of skins. The first suit they wear with the fur turned inward; the other has the fur on the outside. When they go in their snow huts at night they light their snow lamps. In a couple of hours the hut is so warm that they have to poke holes in the roof to let the heat out and fresh air in. Then, when it is all nice and warm, they strip all their clothes off. The women clean and scrape the furs, and dry them, ready for next day. When they get cold, they don't wear any clothing, but wrap themselves in the furs, just as they are. Warm? I guess it. I've slept in the morning, getting dressed," and the inspector shrugged his shoulders and laughed. "However, if the furs were not cleaned and dried in this way every night, they would rot in no time."

THEY HOLLER FOR SOAP.

"I used to think the Esquimaux were the dirtiest people in the world," continued the inspector, "but I have changed my mind. Why they are always after us with the plea for 'Soap! Soap! Soap!' Me want wash clothes! They wash everything at least once a week. An Esquimaux is far cleaner than an Indian."

"I do not think that Esquimaux can stand the cold any more than a white man, but they understand how to dress. Their faces, too, seem admirably adapted for cold weather, for they have very small noses. They come to us and say: 'What for white man have big nose? Freeze quick.' They pay very little attention to the weather, and I have seen little children playing games out of doors with the temperature 40 degrees below zero."

GREAT ON CARVING.

Speaking of the work done by the natives, the inspector told of finely-carved walrus tusks.

"They make cribbage boards for the white men that are wonderful specimens. They cut down one side of the tusk till it is quite flat, and then bore the necessary number of holes. The rest of the tusk is beautifully carved. I have one with a splendid carving of the harbor, with ships on the bay. On one side is a carving of boats in pursuit of a whale, and on the other the scene where the whale is killed. They rub lampblack into the carving, and it never washes out. One native was shown an American dollar. He looked closely at it, and then went to his hut and carved a wonderful reproduction of the broad eagle. It was truly marvelous."

WHITE MEN SCARCE.

About 800 miles east of Herschel Island is a district known as Prince Albert's Land. The people here have never seen a white man. The only exception, so far as can be learned, is that of an old woman, who saw white men when she was a girl.

"These people have copper tools, which they have learned how to temper," said Inspector Fitzgerald. "I have seen copper knives made by them which are as hard, nearly as steel. This is an art which would be of wonderful value down here."

"The police at Herschel have very little difficulty with either natives or whalers. If a sailor deserts from a ship, I go after him, and simply tell him it means certain death to try to cross the mountains into the Yukon. If he won't come back, I force him to, for that is the only way to save his life."

NATIVES VERY HONEST.

"The natives are very honest. In all my experience I never knew one to tell a lie, or steal. Perhaps they will when they learn our ways more."

At this station there are only two mails a year, one in February, and one in July. For 45 days there is no sun visible, and papers arrive but once a year. It costs $42 a ton to get provisions from Edmonton.

"I do hope there will be no gold discovered there, for it does not did in the rush for the Yukon, hundreds would die on the way to Herschel," concluded Mr. Fitzgerald.

Forty men are wanted for the force, and the inspector will be in the city till the 20th of the present month, to explain the situation to applicants.

"If I had my time over again, I should certainly join the force," he declared.

AS EASY AS A B C.

Have you ever noticed that some people, when they try to explain something they do not understand, use very big words? Sir William Ball, one of the greatest living astronomers, can explain even this difficult branch of science in simple words and phrases. In the same way, people who know how they lost their health and regained it, can tell us all about it, in words "as easy as A B C."

Take the case of Mr. George Morris, 18, Cathedral Street, Montreal, who, on June 28th, '09, wrote us, saying:—"I would like to join with others who have benefited from the use of Mother Seigel's Syrup, by thanking you for the benefit I received from it while suffering from indigestion. I had always been strong and robust; in fact, being a shipper, I was obliged to be able to lift heavy weights. Well, five years ago, I first fell ill. I felt weakness, lack of energy, and lost my appetite, and when I did eat a little, I suffered such violent pains across my chest and back that I dreaded food and often went hungry. I had bad headaches and with the least exertion I felt dizzy and the blood rushed to my head."

There you have a plain, straightforward description of the ordinary symptoms and miseries of indigestion. But Mr. Morris takes you farther and tells you what he did.

"This, with foul breath, coated tongue, and constant nausea, made me begin to lose hope of ever getting well again. But a friend told me of Mother Seigel's Syrup and I tried it. One week's treatment brought great relief and when I had used the Syrup one month, I was completely cured."

There is no reason to doubt that what Mother Seigel's Syrup did for Mr. Morris it will do for you. It cured him and it will cure you.

Taken daily after meals, it will cleanse and invigorate your system, restore tone and vitality to your stomach and liver, and make you look well, feel well and be well.

GENUINENESS GIVES POWER.

There is nothing which will add so much to one's power as the consciousness of being absolutely sincere, genuine. If your life is a perpetual lie, if you are conscious that you are not what you pretend to be—that you are really a very different person from what the world regards you—you are not strong.

COUNCIL PASSES ESTIMATES ALMOST AS RECOMMENDED

Heads of Fire and Police Departments Both Receive Increases as do Also the Policemen, the Mayor's Clerk and Others.

The Common Council met yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. and adjourned at 6:30 after passing the estimates of the Safety Board in an amended form, and after adopting the recommendation of the Treasury Board with regard to additional grants. The Council adjourned at 8:15 on the motion of Ald. Baxter.

The report of the Treasury Board recommended that the following additional grants be made:— Tourist Association, $250.00; Seaman's Institute, $200.00; St. John Exhibition Association, $300.00 with a guarantee not exceeding $200.00 towards any deficit.

The report as a whole was adopted. Mr. Frink reported to Council concerning the claim of Engineer F. A. Barbour against the city. He said that Mr. Barbour had informed him that Mr. Sears, who was then Mayor, had employed him at the rate of $2 per day as consulting engineer. The size of Mr. Barbour's bill, however, was $1,500.

Mr. Frink moved that the claim be paid. Ald. Scully seconded the motion. Ald. McGoldrick asked how much had been paid on the Loch Lomond extension since Mr. Barbour had given a certificate that the work was completed.

Mr. Frink replied that repairs since that time had cost $200. Ald. Potts asked if the work was in good condition when the certificate had been given. Mr. Frink said the work had not been properly tested and he would be instituted by the city they would have to be along that line. The work had not been properly tested and he would be instituted by the city they would have to be along that line.

CONTRACTORS FAVORED FIRST. While in the council he (Ald. Baxter) had been able to observe that the contractors had been favored before Mr. Barbour. He said that the city appointed had either favored the contractors or had been ignorant of their duties.

which Mr. Barbour was severely scored. The amendment was finally put and lost, and the motion was then carried. Ald. Kelly introduced the subject of a claim of $77 made by John A. Kane for services in connection with the Mooney section of the water works. The motion was carried and Ald. Potts moved that Capt. McIntyre be given an increase of $100—Carried.

On motion of Ald. Baxter, a sub-committee of Ald. Belyea and Ald. Hayes was appointed to confer with the police with regard to their annuity fund. The Craig lease was introduced and as the chairman were not sure where they stood, Ald. Vanwart agreed to submit a report at the next meeting of the council.

MR. BARBOUR'S CLAIMS. The claims of Engineer Barbour were next taken up and Ald. Frink moved that $2,447.69 be paid in full settlement of all his claims against the city. He did not believe in taking the matter to the courts, especially as the agreement with Mr. Barbour as to terms had been made in a most irregular manner.

Considerable discussion followed, in

Louvre, a picture with a green background and yellow spots — I want something just like that, you understand." The irate musician, flinging down his score, said: "Yellow spots be hanged!" and resigned his post. Sir Beerbohm engaged another musical director, and told him he wanted something typical of a green background and yellow spots. "Oh, yes," replied the new director, knowing his man, "something like this," and he picked up the former director's score and played it through. "That's beautiful. Ah, the green background and yellow spots! Beautiful," said Tree, perfectly satisfied.

Among applicants for service as a general housemaid in a Pittsburg family was a raw-boned Irish girl of rather forbidding aspect. The "MAB" Safety Razor
The most complete safety razor on the market.

The "MAB" Safety Razor is not only extremely simple and effective, but differs from most others in respect of the composition of the blades, which are made of a special brand of steel, similar to that used in the manufacture of the "MAB" Razor, ensuring a perfect and lasting edge rendering stropping rarely necessary. When a blade requires stropping, the blade-holder provided should be used.

We have received shipment direct from manufacturers. Price with two blades, $1.10. Extra blades 20c. each.

W. H. HAYES CAME BACK FROM THE DEAD

To Dispute Right to Estate With His Heirs—Peculiar Situation Due to Misadventure Belief That He Had Died.

The unusual case of an alleged dead man claiming the estate for which letters of administration had been granted to his heirs has recently been thrashed out in this city and at Sussex. The trouble arose over a land warrant to which W. H. Hayes, formerly of Sussex, was entitled as a South African veteran.

For some time nothing was heard of him until some papers belonging to him were picked up in St. Louis and sent to Ottawa. As he could not be located it was concluded that he was dead, and when the South African veterans were "debilitated" with land grants his mother, Mrs. Alice M. Hayes of Sussex, as his heir, applied and received the warrant.

In the meantime Hayes himself, who was very much alive, sold his rights in the warrant to a Montreal speculator. When the latter applied for the warrant he was told by the department of militia that the claim was dead and that the papers had been issued to his heirs. A former officer of the contingent of militia produced to identify the claimant, but the department refused to have anything more to do with the case.

It then became necessary for them to take it up with the heirs and as the mother believed that the claim was an imposture, it was necessary for Mr. Hayes to come to Sussex to demonstrate that he was still alive, which he managed to do to the perfect satisfaction of his family.

The affair has been settled amicably and Mr. Hayes is now greeting his friends who have for some time been mourning his death.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR THE TRAIN SHED

Four Lamps Will Replace Fifteen Old Style Arc Lights—St. John First Station to Get New System.

The train shed of the Union station is being equipped with a new lighting system which is being given its first test on the I. R. C. at this station. The light is what is known as a regenerative flaming arc and is much more powerful than the ordinary arc light. The new kind being as powerful as seven of the others. A lamp of this type was given a test in the depot some time ago and proved so satisfactory that it was decided to equip the whole train shed with the new order of lights. The thorough test should be made before installing them elsewhere. Electricians are at work today putting in four of the new lights, which will replace the fifteen old type lamps formerly used. The new system may be ready for use tonight and not by Monday night.
