COUNTY COURT AT DALHOUSIE

Three Criminal Cases Taking Up Attention of the Court.

On Tuesday, Nov. 14th three criminal cases came before the regular session of the Restigouche County Court at Dalhousie, that of Robert Dickie, night clerk at the Campbellton post office, charged with stealing from His Majesty's mails and from the safe in the Campbellton post office, amount of money aggregating to the sum of $785.00. Patrick Doyle, mechanic and resident of this place, charged with participation in the same crime and Joseph Corrier of Lorne Settlement, with three charges of breaking and entering and a charge of attempting to break jail.

The court opened at 11 o'clock with Judge McLatchey presiding and M. A. Kelly prosecuting for the crown. When the grand jury had been sworn in and read the evidence they retired at 12.45 to examine the witnesses returning at 5.30 with a true bill in each case. When the petty jury had been empanelled Doyle appeared for trial, J. Freil acting as counsel for the defense. A. D. MacKendrick was the first witness called but before his evidence was completed time for adjournment arrived.

Wednesday.

Postmaster MacKendrick again took the stand when court opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. In answer to questions he explained in detail the routine of the post office staff, stating that the night clerk was supposed to be on duty from 8 p.m. until about 8 a.m. He explained however that this regulation was not strictly kept and that it had been the custom of the night clerk to go home on Sunday mornings as soon as he had finished work and had received the early morning mail. It was also brought out in his evidence that registered matter which was to be dispatched by the night clerk was never put in the safe, neither were the general delivery registers locked. Mr. MacKendrick stated that he had heard of parties visiting the night clerk at the post office but had been in himself on several occasions and had not seen anyone about. Mr. MacKendrick also told about the irregularities which had been occurring at intervals for the last year back. Complaints had come in from different parties stating that they had received registered letters from which money had been abstracted. Upon examination the envelopes of these letters invariably showed that they had been tampered with. The witness had instructed the different parties to address their complaints to the Post Office Inspector and they had evidently done so for he had received several communications from the inspector with regard to the irregularities. He was also advised by the department that all abstractions of money had been made from letters coming into or being despatched from the office by the night clerk. The witness cautioned Dickie but declared that he did not suspect him of theft until shortly before the safe robbery on Oct. 2nd inst.

Mr. MacKendrick explained that on Sunday the 2nd of October, Dickie had accepted him when he entered the office after dinner and expressed the fear that someone had broken into the post office. He drew the post master's attention to the transom window over a rear door of the work-room. The witness declared that one nail which formerly held the transom in place was gone while the other was bent down to a horizontal position and the window itself pushed out of position about an inch. It looked as though it had been tampered with but the postmaster declared it might have been in this condition for some time without his noticing it. He asked Dickie if anything appeared disturbed and received a negative reply. He stated that he took Dickie's word for it and did not examine anything in the registry office or open the safe. The witness further declared that he had no suspicion of Dickie on this occasion. His first knowledge of money being missing from the safe was on Monday morning when Peter Blythe personally informed him of the shortage. His first conversation with Dickie about the matter was on Monday night when the latter declared his innocence. When asked if he thought Dickie took the money the postmaster declared that he did not know as "any robber who wished might get in and do it." The witness stated that he did not know the accused, Patrick Doyle, except by sight.

Miss Mary Shannon next gave evidence at the post office here. H. Blythe, assistant postmaster next took the stand and told a story which corresponded with that of the preceding witnesses. He explained that he always locked up the money in the safe at night, together with registered matter for local parties which had

AFTER BETTER SUBURBAN SERVICE

Committee Appointed to Interview Local R. R. Superintendent and Report.

A meeting of citizens was held in the evening at 1.30 yesterday afternoon, Mr. Joseph Duncan was chosen chairman and Mr. H. K. Smith, secretary.

Mr. Duncan said that the meeting was called to take some steps to get improved suburban service between Campbellton and Dalhousie at the present time we have practically no service. If a man wanted to transact business here he had to spend two nights and a day. Was a lot of traffic up the valley which would come to Campbellton if we had a proper service.

Mr. Champoux asked if this matter had been taken up with the railway management previously.

Mr. Harquail said that the Board of Trade had forwarded a resolution to the Minister of Railways.

Mr. Champoux suggested that a committee of three be named by the chair to interview the local Superintendent of the C. N. R. and go fully into this matter. There was a lot of traffic up the Matapedia and a good suburban service would bring many people to town, and these people bring trade to the merchants. Was surprised that more merchants were not present. Merchants should wake up and fight for their own interests.

Mr. G. G. McKendrick favored Mr. Champoux's suggestion which was put in the form of a motion and passed unanimously.

The chair named Messrs. Champoux, Harquail and McKendrick the committee to wait upon Mr. Harquail. There was a considerable discussion in reference to the proposed Central Street subway and Mr. Harquail moved that this meeting to-day recommend the Board of Trade do all in its power to have a subway built, leaving Andrew Street open and close Cedar Street.

This was carried unanimously. The meeting then adjourned.

not yet been delivered. On Saturday, October 1st he put $365.09 in currency in the safe and upon opening it the following day he found $284.00 missing. He notified the postmaster who in turn got into communication with the inspector. Upon further examination the witness found that some registered letters had been tampered with. Later he learned that one of these, addressed to the Provincial Bank here, had been opened and $500 extracted therefrom. Noth was then taken. The witnesses spoke straightforwardly needing no cross-examination and no occasion for raising presented itself.

Chas. Watson, caretaker of the post office building was called to the stand. He explained that the transom could not be reached from the back hall as there was a step-ladder standing in the corner. He said he had examined the window and had found marks on the inside of the frame. Asked whether he thought a person could get into the work-room of the post office via this window, he declared that he did not think it possible without the intruder leaving some evidence. He explained that a cabinet, some six feet in height stood just below the transom opening and that the top was covered with a layer of dust which, as far as he could see, had not been disturbed.

Mrs. Mary Morrissey, with whom he the accused boarded during the summer, next gave evidence. She told of Doyle borrowing 50 cents for a hair cut on Saturday evening, Oct. 1st of his arriving home between six and seven o'clock on Sunday morning the 2nd inst., and of seeing a large roll of money including what appeared to be a hundred dollar bill, in the accused's possession on Monday evening when he paid his board and the money he had previously borrowed.

She told of Doyle having suggested purchasing a half interest in her restaurant with the idea of keeping the place open at night. This was about three weeks ago.

PETER HAMILTON DIED MONDAY

One of Best Known Residents of Restigouche County, Aged 84.

Mr. Peter Hamilton, one of the oldest and most respected persons in Restigouche County, passed away at his home here at noon Monday of this week. He had been in poor health for some time and his death was not wholly unexpected. Had he lived another day he would have reached the age of eighty-four. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary McMillan; one son, Robert of Charlottetown; three daughters, Mrs. Hastings of Vermont, Mrs. William Hayes of Montreal and Mrs. Charles Purvis of Inverness; two sisters, Mrs. William Fraser, of Charlottetown and Mrs. William Cook of Blacklands. He was a prosperous merchant and owned fishing privileges along the bay. For many years he was an elder of St. Paul's Church here and always took a deep interest in Church affairs.

The funeral services were held at his late residence on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and was very largely attended.

next appeared on the stand and told about seeing Doyle with a large roll of bills on Monday, October 3rd. She stated that one bill was that of a French bank and bore the word "Cent." She added that she asked Doyle what this meant and he said it stood for "hundred" in English. On this occasion Doyle paid her two dollars which he had previously borrowed.

Members of the staffs of various banks here were called and the evidence was elicited that Patrick Doyle had no account in these banks and had cashed no cheques there within several months of the robbery. James H. Adams, Chief of Police, here was next called and told of searching the accused's room at the time of the arrest. In Doyle's club were found a revolver, a magazine filled with loaded cartridges, a policeman's leather-covered bill of a very modern type and a detective's official badge. These articles were shown the witness and identified. His Honor then adjourned the court until 10 o'clock Monday.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late John Nelson which was largely attended, took place on Sunday. After a short service at the home of Mr. G. Dow, the remains were taken to the S. A. Hall. The members of L. O. L. No. 64 turned out in numbers. Adjt. Wells conducted the service and three of the S. A. Life Saving Guards rendered very feelingly: "Only Remembered by what we have done" after the service in the Hall, the Soldiers of the S. A. local corps, with the members of L. O. L. No. 64, marched to the cemetery. After the usual Salvation Army Service had finished the Orange burial was read by the Master of L. O. L. No. 64, assisted by the Chaplain. Many and beautiful were the floral tributes, including a broken circle from wife and children wreaths from the Gavel L. O. B. A., L. O. L. No. 64, L. O. L. No. 2010 Niagara Falls, spray of carnations from S. A. Corps and spray from Mrs. J. Dallas and Mrs. H. Robinson. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

REV. W. N. McNAIRN TO BE NEW PASTOR

St. Andrew's Congregation Extend Call at Meeting Held Monday Evening.

At a largely attended meeting of St. Andrew's congregation held Monday evening a unanimous call was extended to Rev. W. N. McNairn of Westville, N. S., to be pastor of the congregation.

Rev. Mr. McNairn has been most highly recommended, not only by his brother clergymen, but also by laymen, with whom he is acquainted. He is a graduate of Dalhousie and Pinehill Colleges, where he received his degree of M. A. He is an all round athlete, an enthusiastic curler and an expert marksman. He went overseas as Chaplain with the Canadian Expeditionary Force at the time of the World War, and the soldiers with whom he served in the trenches utter words of praise in his favor. He is a good preacher, an earnest worker and the Presbyterian Church at Westville has flourished under his leadership for the past fifteen years.

YOSEMITE—HOW DO YOU PRONOUNCE IT?

Geographical names derived from one of the American Indian languages are apt to be difficult to pronounce, unless one is familiar with them. Yosemite is correctly spoken in four syllables: Yo-sem-i-te.

It is the name of a valley in California renowned throughout the world for its massive splendor. Not only Americans, but people from the entire globe visit this wonder of nature to see its many beauties. Many books have been written about its picturesque grandeur. In this inspiring setting of supreme magnificence has been photographed the Fox production, "The Yosemite Trail," starring Dustin Farnum, well-known stage and screen actor. This picture will be shown at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday.

SAD FATALITY AT KEMPT ROAD

Child Burned to Death When Home Destroyed By

took place last Friday before noon, at Kempt Road, a few miles from Campbellton, when the little four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blaikie, was burned to death, and their home with entire contents destroyed.

So far as the Graphic has been able to learn the facts are about as follows: Mr. Blaikie was away at the time. Mrs. Blaikie who was in the cellar getting potatoes thought she heard the screams of her child who was on the upper floor. She at once rushed up the two flights of stairs, only to find that the upper portion of the building was one mass of flames, and was unable to reach her child, life no doubt, at this time being extinct.

The building was completely burned to the ground with all its contents. The charred remains of the little one after the fire, were found and given burial.

How the fire originated is unknown, but is thought to have originated through the little fellow playing with matches.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in their hour of sorrow.

GIROUX—DEGRACE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady of Snows at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, Nov. 15th, when Rev. A. Melanson united in marriage Laura, eldest daughter of P. DeGrace, to Mr. Arthur Giroux of Quebec. The bride who entered the church on the arm of her father, looked charming in a tailored suit of brown velvet with fur trimmings and hat to match. She carried a corsage bouquet of carnations and maiden hair fern.

The many beautiful gifts received, testified to the popularity of the young couple. The groom's gifts to the bride was a gold wrist watch and an emerald and pearl ring.

After a trip to Upper Canadian cities and on their return Mr. and Mrs. Giroux will reside in Quebec.

BEAVER IS GRANTED FULL ARMISTICE

Permit System Under Which They Have Been Captured Has Been Cancelled.

Fredericton, Nov. 15.—The busy little beaver has been granted a complete amnesty from the depredations of hunters and trappers in New Brunswick until November 15, 1923. This announcement was made this morning by Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon in connection with the cancellation of the permit system in force for the taking of beaver.

There has been a closed season for beaver in New Brunswick for the past ten years, although hunters and trappers were allowed to take beaver from certain sections of the province during that period under special permits secured from the Minister of Lands and Mines, where the beaver colonies were large and not endangering of becoming extinct. This permit system has not been satisfactory to the game officials, who state that a rule more beaver were usually taken than allowed for under the permit system. In view of this fact and also of the difficulty in tracing violations, Chief Warden Gagnon has secured the consent of Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, to refuse further issue of beaver permits.

Last year some 600 special permits for the taking of beaver were issued by the department. The discontinuance of this practice is expected to be of considerable benefit to the beaver colonies, which have been extremely scarce in some sections of the province. Issuing of permits has been generally discontinued since last March.

R. MOFFATT SAYS IT'S FINE

Praises New Remedy—Dreco—for the Relief It Brought Him.

The experience related here will be read with interest by everyone in this city. It tells how a man, once sick and discouraged, now enjoys perfect health and wants others to profit thereby. He is Mr. M. Moffatt, 43 Birmingham street, Halifax, N. S. He has lived in Halifax all his life, is well known and has many friends.

"My stomach always gave me trouble, was never hungry, could not sleep at night. I was very restless, gas would form in my stomach after each meal. No medicine did me any good until I tried Dreco, and one little bottle has worked wonders for me. Before I heard of Dreco I would lie in bed for hours before I went to sleep. This one bottle, however, has proven that it is the right medicine for me and I am glad to recommend it for the good it has done me up to the present. I now eat what I want and digest it perfectly and that is why I feel so much better. I am sure if Dreco could do this for me, it can help anyone."

Dreco is sold in Campbellton by Wren's Drug Store, and by good drug stores everywhere.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—California, the leading wine grape growing state in the union and which once had hopes of competing with the champagne of France and Rhine wines of Germany, has at last gone "dry" after ten years of voting down prohibition measures. A majority of 29,621 in

RAILWAY MEN RECEIVE BADGES

Honorary Badges Presented at Fortieth Anniversary of R. of L. E.

Moncton, Nov. 15.—The 40th anniversary of the Moncton Division No. 152 R. of L. E. was celebrated last Friday—the day being recognized by special sessions of the Division at which many delegates from Maritime Divisions were in attendance. Perhaps the greatest feature of the proceedings was the presentation of honorary badges to 40 active members who have completed forty years or more in the railway service.

Ash Kennedy, Canadian Vice Grand officer previous to, and during the presentation, gave an address and Mr. J. M. Malin, President of the Grand International Auxiliary, pinned the badges on. The recipients acknowledged the presentation with short appropriate speeches, after which the ladies sang "The Boy of the Old Brigade."

The names of the members receiving honorary badges of the Moncton and Campbellton divisions were as follows:

Initiated	June 1882
Thomas Quinn	June 1881
Andrew McCabe	July 5, 1881
Rufus Palmer	July 5, 1882
Owen McGinty	July 5, 1882
Samuel Watson	July 5, 1882
Hugh H. Stewart	Oct. 2, 1882
Alexander Donald	Nov. 2, 1882
John Donald	Nov. 2, 1882
David Pisco	Nov. 2, 1882

The presentations were made by Mr. Ash Kennedy, Vice-Grand President of the International Division, who feelingly greeted each recipient in person and expressed his great pleasure in being able to officiate. He said he was impressed at meeting under such pleasant circumstances those whom he had been associated with for so many years and most of them whom he knew personally. Following Mr. Kennedy's greetings the badges were pinned on by Mr. J. M. Malin. Badges to Thomas Quinn, of Snowdrift Division No. 138, Campbellton, and to Messrs. George Sears, Campbellton; Joseph Scott and James Miller, of Riviere du Loup, were presented "in absentia" and were forwarded through their divisions.

UNVEIL MONUMENT WHERE THE GERMAN EAGLE FELL

Paris, Nov. 11.—Marshal Foch, Earl Haig, who was commander in chief of the British armies in France and Belgium, and Vice-Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, war-time sea lord, stood again on the spot in the Compiègne Forest where the armistice was signed. HOW CANADIAN CORPS SPENT ARMISTICE DAY IN MONS CITY

Stunning Silence of "Cease Fire" and the Glare of Lighted Streets an Experience No Canadian Soldier Can Forget

There are two things the Canadian soldiers who went through the "last day" will never forget. One was the stunning blow to the ear attained at "Cease Fire" at eleven o'clock on the morning of Monday, Nov. 11, 1918; and the other was the shock to the eye—the truer, rather gully feeling—of the lighted streets of Mons and Valenciennes that evening. To walk about in that glare and dazzle of the hated, accustomed and peremptory command, "Lights out!" "Lights out!" was such an experience as can never occur.

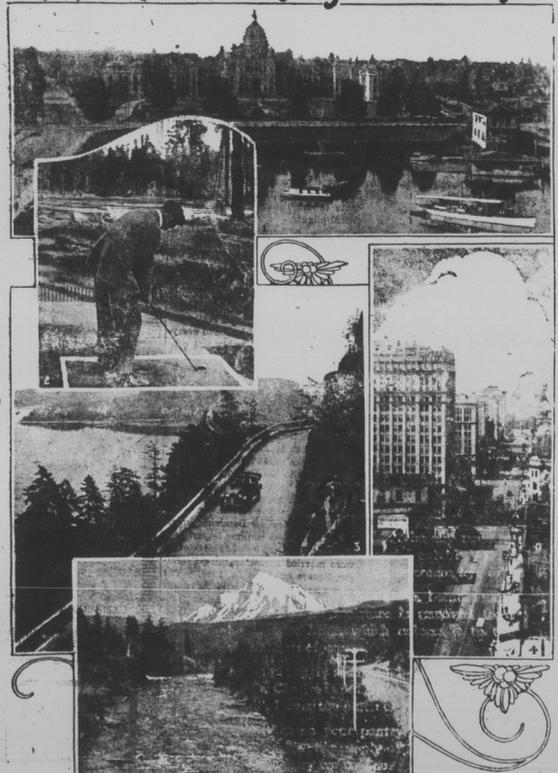

Firing on Armistice Day went on so far as at least as the Canadian Corps front was concerned quite unchecked until the appointed hour, and Canadian gunners learned later with some satisfaction that the last round shot by the Canadian Artillery had shot off the arm of a Boche staff officer in a headquarters chateau by Hill 80 east of Mons.

Official celebration by the Canadian Corps of the "year of peace" was held in the Place d'Armes of Valenciennes, scene the previous day of the official entry of the President of the French Republic. Massed battalion bands played patriotic airs. Chief topic of conversation was the armistice terms, not then known. In the afternoon the City of Mons tendered an official reception to the Canadian Corps Commander. The great square was lined with Canadian troops, the

As a fighting force its career had ended. The 1st and 2nd Canadian Divisions marched indeed through Belgium and over the Ardennes to the Rhine, and at Bonn did their share of the dreary business of an army of occupation. Rather wonderfully the spirit and the discipline that distinguished the Corps was maintained to the end, but the men chafed to be home. They had behind them, since the 1918 off at Amiens on Aug. 8, 1918, a remarkable achievement, including the capture of over thirty thousand prisoners and of over six hundred heavy and field guns, numbers altogether out of proportion to the battle strength of the Corps as compared with the record in the same period of any other unit whatever.

There comes the inevitable question: Was Foch wise to agree to the Armistice and would not the world be a better place to live in if he had elected to march on into Germany and dictate peace in Berlin? From the purely sentimental point of view of course there can be but one answer. It was certainly not worth the life of a single Canadian soldier to further beat a beaten enemy. Not in the history of all war had there been so plenty of fighting left, as the Canadian Corps witnessed in its long ten-day drive on Mons from Valenciennes. Behind the lines enemy morale might be weakened, but there was no evid-

A Good Place to go in Winter

1. Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C. 2. Golf may be played every day in the year. 3. Famous Malahat Drive, Vancouver Island. 4. Vancouver is a beautiful modern city. 5. Magnificent mountain scenery en route.

Nature has dealt most generously with Canada in respect to her climate. While in the East we have winter weather worthy of the name, with lots of snow, which nowadays proves an annoyance to motorists, in the Pacific Coast we have a winter of moderate temperature and enjoy our winter sports of tobogganing, skiing, skating, etc. There are many who seek a warmer climate. We have this in Canada also.

Within the last few years, thousands of our Canadian people have been making their annual winter pleasure trips to the Pacific Coast, many to avoid the rigors of winter, and many simply to indulge in a winter vacation.

Victoria and Vancouver, on our own Pacific Coast, offer ideal retreats. Here flowers bloom in winter, and the trees and trees are always green. South-westerly breezes prevail throughout the year, and the climate is just what is needed for a winter vacation.

In Victoria, 49 degrees has been the mean annual temperature for the last thirty years, while Vancouver is only 47 degrees. In Vancouver, the mean annual temperature is 47 degrees.

The mountains en route through the Pacific Coast are magnificent in their winter dress—a fair-land of snow and ice. The Canadian National Highway passes through the mountains at the lowest altitude and maintains gradients of only an inch per foot, and hundreds of miles of the finest roads on the continent invite motoring. You have the grandeur of mountain scenery, glorious seascapes, verdant evergreen forests and invigorating sea air, with all the advantages of a winter vacation in a metropolitan city for Victoria and Vancouver, the two of the finest cities in the Dominion.

ARCTIC OCEAN IS WARMING UP

Report from Norway Says That Icebergs are Growing Scarcer.

The Arctic ocean is warming up, icebergs are growing scarcer and in some places the seals are finding the waters too hot, according to a report to the Commerce Department from Consul Ift at Bergen, Norway.

Reports from fishermen, seal hunters and explorers, he declared, all point to a radical change in climatic conditions and hitherto unheard of temperatures in the Arctic zone, exploration expeditions reporting that scarcely any ice has been met with as far north as 81 degrees 29 minutes. Soundings to a depth of 5,100 meters showed the Gulf stream still very warm.

Great masses of ice have been replaced by moraines of earth and stones the report continued, while at many points well known glaciers have entirely disappeared. Very few seals and no white fish are being found in the eastern Arctic, while vast shoals of herring and amed's which have never before ventured so far north, are being encountered in the old seal fishing grounds.

ence of it to be seen among his machine-guns confronting us. If we had then determined to go on, then go on we must, with inevitable heavy loss of life.

How about it from a military point of view? Were we able to go on and bring the war to a successful conclusion by driving the Boche across the Rhine? The Canadian Corps has some right to be heard on that question. Later on when the King of the Belgians made his state enter into Mons, he declared to Sir Arthur Currie that the Canadian Corps was "unsurpassed in Europe." And, outside its valor, its faith in itself, its refusal to envisage defeat, it had material claims to that proud title. Much of the recent speed of its pursuit of the enemy in those last days was due to its wonderful organization, to its Canadian Engineer and Labor Battalions, established on an Army rather than a Corps scale, that organization alone enabled it to outdistance troops on either flank.

But there is a limit to human endurance. We were near the breaking point at Mons. The enemy had destroyed everything ahead of us. Railhead was hopelessly behind and with a shell crater at every cross road the question of supply was becoming dangerously acute. If the Boche should make a real stand, we would find it increasingly difficult to supply the shells for an adequate barrage to drive him out of the fields they possessed. But that perhaps was due to the fact as well as the Armistice the operation of the railways was turned over by the military to the civil authority.

The enemy had behind him the immensely strong line of the Meuse. If he could have reached that with his formations intact—and his retreat never deteriorated into a rout—he could well afford to stand at bay and wait for that grim ally, Winter.

And after Winter, what? A rejuvenated Germany, drawing closer his interior lines, prepared for a last ditch fight? It was not worth while, not even for the victorious progress of a still more depleted Canadian Corps up the Unter den Linden. The armistice was the thing.

THE VALUE OF REFORESTATION

Canadian Farmers Should Watch Their Woodlots Very Carefully.

The great value of the systematic planting of young trees was fully demonstrated in Scotland during the late war, when thousands of acres of magnificent Scotch pines were available for the construction of railway ties and other military works in France and Belgium. Most of these trees were cut down and sawn by Canadians. Whole acres of standing timber were of necessity commandeered by the government, and the proprietors were paid good sums for the product. In one instance an area in the Highlands had been denuded of its trees to furnish material during the Napoleonic wars, only a tree being left here and there for self-seeding purposes. The result was that this forest, the forest of Glenmore, sprang up again more vigorous than ever, and was again cut down for the Great War almost exactly a hundred years after its demolition, the proprietor receiving for the timber about $100,000.

There is no reason why Canadian farmers should not put all their uncultivable land into timber, and why they should not conserve their bush areas and turn them to the best advantage by removing dead and fallen trees, and otherwise putting to practical use what knowledge of forestry they have acquired. The government is beginning to wake up in this direction, but much remains to be done before a real start can be made. One difficulty seems to be to arouse the farmers to the potential value of their bush acreage and to a live interest in the importance of forestry generally.

SOMETHING NEW FOR QUINCY

Ontario Man Tells About That New Vaporizing Salve.

Mr. Joseph Husey of 199 West Milk St., Brantford, Ont., says: "My wife has suffered with quinsy for years, but Vicks Vaporub must have prevented it for she got thru the winter without a single attack. We sent part of a jar to a neighbor, whose boy was very sick with a cold or grip. He also got relief. Vicks surely should be in every home."

They used to treat colds externally with tallow, goose grease and camphor. Recently internal dosing has been the habit and people naturally doubt the value of a salve.

For this reason, Canada druggists introduced Vicks Vaporub, the vaporizing salve for all cold troubles, last winter by giving away dozens of jars to responsible families and every jar sold was on 30-day trial.

The above report is just one of a great many received from enthusiastic Canada families. With such endorsement and a positive money-back guarantee, every household ought to give Vicks a thorough trial as the home remedy for colds, croup, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, neuralgia, cuts, burns, bruises and sores.

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P. Q.

LOSS OF LIFE IN CHILE EQUAL TO THAT IN FRISCO QUAKE

Week End Disaster Results In Death of Over One Thousand People—Other Disasters.

The disaster in Chile during the week-end in which more than one thousand people were killed, has been lost along the west coast of South America ranks in loss of life as one of the greatest catastrophes that ever occurred in the Western Hemisphere.

The number of deaths is about equal to that in the San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1907, while the quake which wrecked Kingston, Jamaica, also cost about 1,000 lives.

The Valparaiso shocks killed 2,000 people, the greatest loss of life ever recorded in South America.

The Western Hemisphere's greatest disaster was the destruction of St. Pierre, Martinique, with the loss of between 30,000 and 40,000 lives by the eruption of Mount Pelee.

MR. GILBERT'S PROPOSALS.

At the Restigouche County Teachers Institute which was held here recently, Mr. L. A. Gilbert, principal of the High School here and president of the Teachers' Association, advocated in an opening speech the adoption of a sliding scale policy for regulating teachers' salaries, which would employ a system which would reward teachers for their work according to their value as educational instructors.

As briefly outlined, Mr. Gilbert's proposed scheme seemed feasible and appeared to be one that would make it possible to justly classify each teacher on the impartial basis of his or her work and its results. Thus it would be possible for the Department of Education to ascertain the status of each teacher as a dispenser of knowledge in the public schools, and on this intelligence the sliding-scale of salaries would be based. To us, the scheme embodied in Mr. Gilbert's proposals, appeared not only a workable one, but also a fair one. The present system is very impartial, but under it teachers who have little or no talent for tutoring students, receive as high a salary as those who are adepts in the profession just because they have passed a sufficiently difficult examination to secure a First Class or Superior teaching license. This is obviously unfair, for teaching is an art that must be acquired through experience. Without doubt there are many second-class teachers who have rendered their communities more valuable service in an educational way than many of their sisters who hold first-class or superior licenses. Thus it seems likely that the scheme advanced by Mr. Gilbert or one similar to it might prove a solution to this important and much discussed matter and be instrumental in abolishing, or at least greatly improving the manifestly unfair system which is in force at the present time.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The average attendance in the Catholic Schools in the Province of Quebec during 1921 was 77.0 and the Protestant Schools 74.8. It is a most enviable record and one which indicates that the constant preaching of clergy and of the heads of families in favor of education is having the desired effect.

Confucius was right. Just when you finish scratching mosquito bites it is time to begin scratching woolen underwear titillation.

The Nobel Prize for outstanding achievements in literature for the recent year has been awarded to the Spanish dramatist, Jacinto Benavente. The prize amounts to 100,000 francs.

Meanwhile the sturdy legged, self-reliant Boy Scouts are growing up to make their world perhaps a better place than their fathers have succeeded in doing. Many may be disposed to take this with a pinch of salt but nevertheless there is something in the statement. It is a cause for regret that Campbellton is not even making an attempt to contribute to the country's advancement in this way. It is really too bad that those who might help in this way are too busy with petty personal interests.

Provided that when any of the foregoing vegetables are offered for sale with top leaves attached, the common term by the trade "green vegetables," or when potatoes are sold or offered for sale by the clove barrel, this section will not apply to same.

Sporting News Of The Week

BASKET-BALL.

(Special to The Graphic).
On Friday night last, in a most exciting and well played game of basketball, the Town Five went down to defeat, at the hands of the Campbellton High School Team. At the end of the second period the score stood, 30-16, but did not do the Town boys credit for the game was indeed very closely contested. L. A. Gilbert refereed to the satisfaction of both teams.

The first period began with a rush, Murray scoring one for the school shortly after the game started. The Town followed with another, and for the first half of this period the teams showed that they were well-matched. Then lack of practice began to tell, and the town boys fell behind. The period ended with the score standing 16-5, in favor of the High School Five.

DARTMOUTH LANDS

SPRINGHILL STAR

Springhill, N. S., Nov. 10.—William "Billy" McKay, Springhill hockey and baseball player, lauded as one of the best centre men in amateur hockey, has left for Dartmouth, where he has accepted a position. Halifax Wanderers also offered McKay a position, but Dartmouth finally won the local boy over and the town across the harbor from Halifax gets one of the cleanest athletes ever developed in this town.

Several Boston teams were after McKay early in the season, but he preferred to play in Dartmouth, where he has many friends. It is stated that Dartmouth will have a famous goaler from Ontario and several good forwards.

One thing that is badly needed in Campbellton is a good gymnasium, to develop the athletic talent of the many boys who show that they could become adepts at many sports which boys of other towns have the privilege of taking part in. There is not a town of her size in the province which has not a gym or "Y," to provide for this department of boy life. Campbellton has the talent and the means for "backing." All that is lacking is someone to start something.

SIMS LIKES BRITISH SAILORS

Admires Sportsmanship of British Who Never Complain.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—"I am pro-British," said W. S. Sims, retired rear-admiral of the United States Navy, addressing the Canadian Club here today, "in fact, I am characterized by the Hearst papers as the most popular British admiral in the American navy." Admiral Sims explained why this was the case. "I like the British," he said, "because they are good sports and will stand the guff with out whimpering at all. You can torpedo a British sailor until he is blue in the face, but he will go back to sea."

Hearst cheers greeted the famous admiral upon his appearance at the Canadian Club gathering, and his speech was punctuated with cheers and applause. It abounded in humorous anecdotes and was prevailed by a breeze of the sea.

OBITUARY.

Alice Durette.

It was with deep regret that the death of Alice Durette, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Durette was learned of, which occurred at the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Nov. 8th at the age of 9 years and six months. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her parents, two brothers, Omer and Paul S., to whom the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

The funeral took place at the church of Our Lady of the Snows on Nov. 9th, Rev. Fr. Melanson officiating.

FORKE, NEW LEADER IS VERY POPULAR

Progressives Have Chosen Man Well Liked in Parliament.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The election of Robert Forke, as leader of the Progressives in the House next session caused little surprise here. During his one session at Ottawa, Mr. Forke made a good impression. One of the "moderates" of the party, he soon came to be recognized as one of the strongest of the prairie representatives. He is popular with members on both sides of the House, regardless of party lines.

The decision of the caucus in favor of a policy of broadening out was also not unexpected.

PATRICIA GIVEN TWO MONTHS

Had Been Specializing in the Deserted Wife Story in Different Cities.

Corwall, Ont., Nov. 12.—Patricia O'Connell who has told her prize hard luck story in half a dozen cities under many different aliases will have another tragic chapter to add when she finishes the two months hard labor given her by Police Magistrate C. H. Cline in the Cornwall Police Court this morning. Patricia who specializes in a deserted wife story so touching that it would bring tears to the eyes of a potato achieved notoriety in Montreal where sympathetic citizens have donated anything from fifty cents to ten dollars in view of her pitiful plight.

MAGISTRATE CLINE SAID HE HAD REMANDED HER IN THE HOPE OF FINDING SOMETHING IN HER FAVOR TO START HER ON THE RIGHT ROAD, IF THIS WAS REALLY HER FIRST OFFENSE. INSTEAD HE FOUND EVERYWHERE THE MOST UNDESIRABLE AND CONSIDERING RECORDS.

Patricia appeared in court with crowds anxious for a glimpse of the adventures walking calmly in the most regal fashion.

Magistrate Cline said he had remanded her in the hope of finding something in her favor to start her on the right road, if this was really her first offense. Instead he found everywhere the most undesirable and considering records.

She had been false to her husband and friends, he said, turned out of charitable institutions for bad conduct, convicted at Hamilton and served in the reformatory, had a bad record in Montreal, Quebec and Toronto. She had been deported from the United States to Canada as an undesirable. Application to the Canadian authorities to have her deported had been refused on account of her legal marriage to a Canadian soldier.

A letter from the Dominion Immigration and Colonization Department said that Rosa Nolan and James Rowatt were married at St. Martin's Trafalgar Square on April 24, 1919. The curate said they had been able to pay the fee of £2 6s. 1d. A letter from Patricia's husband James Rowatt at Bayfield, Ont., absolutely refuses any assistance. He alleges that he was under the influence of liquor when he married her if he did so and has no recollection of going through the ceremony.

Fredericton, Nov. 10.—Three unsuccessful attempted holdups were staged early last evening on the Woodstock Road in the vicinity of the new Garden Creek highway bridge.

As the car driven by Mr. Vanbuskirk was making one of the turns leading to the bridge, a man was seen approaching the car from the side of the road.

The prompt action of the driver in "stepping on the gas" and heading the car directly at the highwayman is responsible for frustrating the attempted hold up.

Arriving at Springfield a party of bandmen, being forced to abandon on grading the road, making it necessary to operate cars over this stretch at a moderate speed.

The circumstances of the attempted hold-ups were reported to the Fredericton police department last evening by telephone and also on the return of Mr. Vanbuskirk. Preparations were

Fourth Alarm in Past Fifteen Days Cost Town Nearly $100.00.
Some domestic steps should be taken to catch the false alarm artist, who is evidently in our midst.
Shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning, a man in an auto ran up to box 15 and rang in an alarm, then made off. The firemen responded promptly.
This is the fourth false alarm which has been rung in since the new method of pay to the firemen was inaugurated less than a month ago. By this new method it just costs the town about $20 for each alarm, and in answering one alarm the fire station doors were damaged and harness broken.
If necessary a detective should be employed to catch the guilty parties when they should be punished to the full extent of the law.

REID—MacNICHOL.
The marriage was solemnized at Campbellton on November 14th, at the residence of the bride's parents, of Isabel Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peter MacNichol, to Mr. Edwin Ballantyne Reid, son of the late Rev. David and Mrs. Reid of Kingston.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Chalmers Salter of Tide Head, assisted by the Rev. Alexander MacKay of New Richmond.
The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a draped gown of ivory crepe-satin, with court train, lined with shell pink georgette embroidered in silver and pearls, and veil arranged in cap effect with bouquet of orange blossoms. The shower bouquet was of opheelia roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. Miss Mary MacNichol, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of Nile green crepe, with girldle of French flowers and silver ribbon and black velvet hat, trimmed with silver and carried a bouquet of sunset roses and maiden hair fern. Little Miss Lorraine MacNichol was train bearer and wore a becoming frock of pale pink crepe. Mr. Newton Reid brother of the groom was best man and Mrs. R. K. Shive played the wedding march. Mrs. MacNichol, mother of the bride, was gowned in black canton crepe with draperies of radium lace and wore a corsage bouquet of roses.
After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Reid left on the Ocean Limited for Bermuda, via New York. The bride wearing a suit of drab velvety trimmed with beaver and small hat to match.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. N. Reid, Kingston; Mr. G. Ridette, New York; Miss Campbell, Mrs. Henry, Miss Harvey, Mrs. Henderson, Miss E. Campbell, Mr. W. Robertson, New Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. A. MacNichol, New Mills; Mr. and Mrs. A. Turvey, Jacques River; Mrs. J. K. Hamilton, Charlott.

SCENARIO

"The Bachelors' Regret"
 (A Comedy in one reel)

Characters:
 Henry, just married, and proud of it;
 Helen, his wife, and still happy; and Jack, a bachelor, who thinks he's lucky.

SCENE ONE—
 The tiny dining room in Henry's home. The three are seated at the table, eating dinner.

IRIS IN ON HELEN'S FACE—
 Jack watches Henry and Helen as they flash little love-looks back and forth. His face holds a half-envious, half amused expression. He eats with great relish, and his amusement is finally replaced by envy. He helps himself to the bread for the fourth time, and as he breaks it remarks to Henry:

ON SCENE, LEADER—
 "Boy, you sure deserve the old congrats! If I could find a wife who could cook like Helen here, I sure think I'd look for the preacher! Especially this bread! Some cook, I'll say!"

BACK TO SCENE—
 Jack smiles warmly at Helen. Henry registers proud satisfaction, and regards Helen with possessive pride. She laughs gaily at Jack's remarks.

ON SCENE LEADER—
 "Jack, you silly boy! This is just plain Tyler's Bread—you can buy it at Tyler's Bakery or any of the grocery stores. Now make good on what you said about getting married. I dare you!"

BACK TO SCENE—
 Jack makes as if to grab for a coat and hat, and rush out. They all laugh heartily.

IRIS OUT
 Have you tried it?
 Not getting married— Tyler's Bread!
 IT IS SURE to please!

Specialist Said ECZEMA Was Incurable

—but he reckoned without Zam-Buk

Writing from Sweetwater, Tenn., U.S. Capt. Oscar V. Petty, says:—"For four years I had an obstinate dry eczema. My skin peeled off, and disfiguring patches of the eruption could not be cured, but friends out in Maine got me to try some Zam-Buk. To my great delight, I soon saw an improvement. The peeling skin stopped within a week. All the time I started with Zam-Buk the eczema had spread all over my body, so that it took reasonable persistence for the skin to be thoroughly relieved. However I am delighted to inform you, that now, by the use of Zam-Buk, my skin has been restored to normal healthy condition. "I have a friend who also suffered from a similar distressing skin affection. In his case too, within a few days Zam-Buk was doing splendidly. He tells me that Zam-Buk beats anything he has ever known."

Zam-Buk cannot be applied for ulcers, boils, abscesses, skin eruptions, insect bites, and other conditions. It is for the relief of itching, burning, and stinging. It is sold in 10¢ and 25¢ packages by Zam-Buk Co. Toronto.

For the negative side: Ralph Daughney, leader, Chalmers Reid, and Lillian Hamilton. For the country, the points of fresh air and cheap living were brought forth; for city: drainage, educational advantages, quick medical aid, better entertainments and the rapidly in which world news is received. The judges were: Miss Cook and Mr. Turner who decided in favor of the negative side.

Business seems to be brightening up. Pulpy and lumber is coming forward again. Let us hope that New Carlisle with other places has turned the corner and moving up Prosperity Street.

The children of the day school rushed out of school on Friday afternoon in great glee, having a good week-end in view and Thanksgiving day to celebrate.

We hope that the War Memorial Service will be well attended and that the collection for the service will be a substantial one for the well conducted and up to date Soldiers Memorial Hospital, Campbellton. A new Dentist has his Shingle out at the White House.

We need a watch maker now. A large field to draw from and then we will have nearly all the business professions.

NEW CARLISLE
(held over from last week)
The Ladies War Memorial Committee are very busy in connection with Poppy Day, and we hear that the War Veterans are going to celebrate with a smoker. We congratulate the G. W. V. A. on being able to procure temporary quarters, which is being fitted up comfortably, and furnished with a Billiard Table, Games, and Magazines. Success to the gallant boys and their undertakings.

We have had delightful weather of late, all the thrashing is nearly all finished, but we need rain for the water is very low. Farmers are obliged to drive their cattle to the river.

Miss Sarah Caldwell an old resident of New Carlisle passed away at the age of eighty-one years. She had not been ill very long and until then took a keen interest in all her household duties. Her funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends. The Rev. A. W. Buckland rector of St. Andrew's Church held a private service at the house and was assisted by the Rev. J. McGurdy of the Presbyterian Church, after which the remains were taken to the Episcopal Church for interment. The death of Miss Caldwell removes one of the oldest residents and her demise will be greatly mourned.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. R. Smith is at present in the Campbellton Hospital, but know that he is in good hands.

A very warm welcome awaited Mrs. C. Miller when she returned home last week after a very tedious operation. We are delighted to see her looking as well.

Last week one of our old neighbors John LeBlanc had the misfortune of having his barn burned down with its contents, his hay and straw, farm implements and all went, also a young colt, the cause of the fire is unknown.
