Ontario's Unrivaled Standing.
A leading journal in the Province of Quebec, the Montreal Witness, expresses itself as not altogether satisfied with the Ontario Government, and indulges in a number of criticisms. In one respect, our contemporary resembles the nihilists of Russia in that it is generally against the governments of the day. If our contemporary desires to fairly judge the administration of affairs in Ontario, it can find an easy method of comparison. It might discover that the government of this province in the last quarter of a century has been such that it is now recognized as the banner province of the world, and that far from deserving censure, its administration has well earned commendation. Indeed, but a short time since the Conservative Montreal Gazette was fair enough to point the people of Quebec to the record of the Province of Ontario as one worthy of imitation.

Let the Witness take any line of comparison it sees fit, and place the condition of affairs in its own Province of Quebec in contrast with the condition of affairs in Ontario. Quebec enjoys the disadvantage of a provincial debt of something like thirty millions of dollars. The Province of Ontario, under wise and prudent administration, has not only no debt, but has a surplus of several millions of dollars. The interests of the great farming class are well looked after. To the friendly aid of our government the cheese industry owes its present position, and the government has been most sympathetic in promoting better methods of agriculture, in improving the breeds of animals, in making life on the land more tolerable. Where throughout the wide world is there to be found a province which has a more efficiently managed system for the cure or relief of the sick and afflicted, all institutions being maintained or aided by the government? Dr. Tuke, the Australian expert, inspected the asylums in every civilized land, and he found none better or more economically managed than ours. A similar tribute was paid to our public school examinations at the World's Fair in Chicago, where the Ontario educational system was highly praised and given first rank among those of all the nations. In the passage of a fair factory act, and in putting on the statute book legislation to insure justice for the workman, the government has earned the praise of such non-political bodies as the Toronto Trades and Labor Council.

It may be, however, that the Witness, which makes a very decided hobby of antagonism to the liquor traffic, is disappointed in regard to the progress made in this province in that respect. Our contemporary will scarcely say that the temperance legislation in its own province can for a moment be put in comparison with the progress made in Ontario. It may hold that this province should be away ahead of that portion of Canada in which it is printed and published, and away ahead of every other civilized nation of the earth. There is good evidence that this is the case. Mr. J. J. MacLaren, Q.C., whose testimony the Witness will not impugn, informed an international mass meeting in Toronto, last week, that by prohibiting the sale of liquor to persons under 21 years of age, prohibition is in effect in this province, so far as relates to more than one-half the population. Dr. MacLaren also pointed out that, in the matter of consumption of intoxicating liquors, our people are the most abstemious of the English-speaking countries. In Great Britain, he said, the consumption per head is 32 gallons, in the United States, 15 to 16 gallons, and in this country, 4½ gallons.

The fact of the matter is, there has been honest government in this province. There has been economical management of public institutions; no one dare try to establish to the contrary by comparing the cost and efficiency in Ontario with the cost and efficiency elsewhere. There has been progress in educational affairs, and advancement in the care of the farmers' interests and in the means taken to secure fair play for the wage-earner. There has been a steady measure of progress in social reform and in the improvement of the conditions under which we live. The management of the affairs of Ontario has been such that our government need fear nothing from comparison with that of Quebec, or of Nova Scotia, or of New Brunswick, or of any of the adjoining states, or for that matter, of any state on the face of the globe. It does seem, therefore, that adverse criticism of Ontario's position and management scarcely comes with good grace from Quebec journals, which may, without any desire to be rude, be fairly asked to apply to themselves the old injunction, "Physician, heal thyself."

Have you suffered from kynophobia? It is a new disease, coming from an insane fear of dogs.

The Toronto papers print the following "public notice to the boys of Toronto," signed by Mayor Fleming: "Public notice is hereby given that every boy under 15 years of age will be given free passage from the Queen's wharf, foot of Bathurst street, and from the wharf at the foot of John street, across the western channel, where they will be permitted to bathe on the sandbar (with or without bathing suits) between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock p.m. on each day of the week, Sundays excepted." Cannot similar bathing arrangements be made at some point on the Thames? London boys like to bathe, and with not much covering, either.

Premier Laurier in Paris.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night received a very cordial reception in the French capital, to which he journeyed as the guest of the president of the republic. The cable gives but a brief summary of the premier's address at the banquet in his honor, and at which Madame Laurier was also a guest, but enough is given to show his tenor. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been accustomed to say that when dealing with public questions in the Dominion he had but one policy, one speech, for Ontario, for Quebec, and for every section of the community. His address at Paris, in which he told his charmed hearers of the faithfulness of his fellow-countrymen to British institutions, because under them they had obtained and enjoy the fullest liberty, shows that the Canadian premier's views do not change when he talks in a foreign land.

If the United States does not hurry up, Japan may pick up the Sandwich Islands some dark night, and scamper away with them before the San Francisco sugar kings can even utter a yell.

Canada's Awakening.
Reports of the starting of new industries in Canada, or the enlargement of those now existing, continue to be sent in. The following are the latest: The Weir Specialty Company, Toronto, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $3,000, to manufacture foods, confectionery, and bakers' and confectioners' supplies.

The Duvall-Miller Manufacturing Company, Toronto, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000, to manufacture grain cleaners and separators.

A condensed milk factory has been in successful operation for the past three months at Baldwin's Mills, near Coaticook, Que. Between 2,000 and 5,000 pounds of milk are handled daily, but the factory has a capacity of 10,000 pounds per day. The product will be known as the Canadian brand.

The Chicoutimi Pulp Company are making rapid progress in the construction of their mill at Lobiniere Falls, Que. From 250 to 300 men are employed.

Mr. A. Burrows, whose factory was burned out, has decided to start up in Breslau, Ont., and expects to be running his new factory in a couple of weeks.

The Montague Paper Company, Turner's Falls, Mass., have about completed their new mill at Lake Megantic, P. Q.

J. B. Snider, Waterloo, Ont., manufacturer of furniture, recently shipped three carloads of furniture to the Dutch Reformed Church, Woodstock, Cape Colony, South Africa.

Messrs. Dow & Curry, oatmeal millers, Pilot Mound, Man., will increase the capacity of their mill.

Wm. Taylor, has begun the manufacture of drain tiles at Carlton Place, Ont.

The St. Raymond Company, Montreal, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, to develop water power at St. Raymond, Que., to manufacture wood pulp, electrical machinery, etc.

The Canadian Manufacturer also reports that Sir Francis A. Abel, general director of the Imperial Institute, London, Eng., writes that the associated Carriage Builders of England desire to be informed if a supply of ash wood can be procured in Canada suitable for use in carriage building in England, or of any other wood that can replace it for that purpose. The price obtainable in London would be from 2s to 3s 3d per cubic foot. Canadian manufacturers and dealers should investigate this opening for trade.

The Attack on Sir Oliver.

The attack on Sir Oliver Mowat by Conservative newspapers, because of his administration of justice, has significantly failed. In two cases where it was represented that the minister of justice had been guilty of maladministration, it has been proved that the accused were allowed to go free because it was illegal to detain them. In another case, where Conservative journals represented that a corrupt deal had been entered into by Liberal politicians to secure a pardon for a Dr. Slack, it has been shown that the man's sentence was shortened at the instance of Sir Wm. Hingston, a Montreal Conservative senator, who is an eminent medical man, and who represented that the prisoner was in a dying condition. No Liberal politician had anything to do with the release.

It is decidedly wrong for anyone to attempt to discredit the minister of justice by lying about him, and by misrepresenting his official deeds. Those who know Sir Oliver Mowat would not for a moment believe that he would be guilty of the offense of prostituting his high office for a party or personal advantage. It is pitiable that anyone should fall so low as to assert or insinuate that the minister would so act, in the apparent hope that some may be found ready to take stock in the slander.

Crops are likely to be above the average.

Mr. Buchanan Retires.
As was foretold by The Advertiser some time ago, Mr. W. W. Buchanan has resigned the position of editor, general manager and publisher of the Hamilton Templar, the organ of the Royal Templars of Temperance.

If Mr. Lipton, the English millionaire, who is now on this continent, looking for a wife, would come this way, he need go no further than London. He would be unworthy of a good wife if he could not make his choice in this embowered city.

Four states elect governors this year: Ohio, Iowa, Massachusetts and Virginia.

A special fiction number is Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for August. There are seven complete stories, all illustrated, and all are bright and clever. There is an attractive illustrated paper entitled "A Grande of the Fields," which is a story of a young man who, after a long and arduous journey, finds himself in a strange land, where he is treated with kindness and hospitality. The story is full of interest and adventure, and is well worth a read.

HONOR FOR DR. ROSS.
Made an Honorary Member of the International Epworth League.

Toronto, July 18.—At the meeting of the International Epworth League, Dr. Geo. W. Ross, minister of education, was introduced, and contributed a speech in his usual clear, simple and eloquent vein. He referred to the incursions of Americans to Toronto and the Niagara Peninsula many years ago, when they stayed longer than the people wished. (Laughter.) Canadians hoped they would not come that way again. Canadians welcomed them to this land on the present occasion. He rejoiced to be present at a meeting in which such admirable sentiment prevailed, as the desire to leave the world better than they found it. They were engaged in that work of righteousness which exalted a nation, and without which no nation could be prosperous. He hoped they would all return in safety to their homes, pleased and profited by the sojourn in the Queen's land. (Applause.) Dr. Ross's speech was so well received that the chairman suggested that he would be a good flag-bearer for membership in the league, only that he was a Presbyterian.

Bishop Fitzgerald thereupon arose and proposed Dr. Ross for honorary membership. The nomination was seconded by Dr. H. H. Dewar, and supported by Mrs. Fisk, wife of Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, and enthusiastically carried amid waving of handkerchiefs. The honor was suitably acknowledged by the recipient.

As a final number the audience then sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," with great vigor, after which Bishop Fitzgerald pronounced the benediction and the crowd dispersed.

SPEECH BY DR. POTTS.

What He Thinks of the Flags of Mother and Son.

Toronto, July 19.—At the Epworth League International Convention, Rev. John Potts, D.D., was received with applause as he rose to speak on behalf of the Canadian Methodists. He said: "Governor Hastings and Christian friends, four Methodists representing four countries are here today. The Methodism of the mother country, represented by my friend Mr. Johnson, the Methodism of the United States, both North and South, the Methodism of the ancient colony of Newfoundland, and the Methodism of our own Dominion. (Applause.) There was no sight in Masses' Hall that moved me in heart so much as the movement of the two flags in friendly relation to each other as they were carried into the hall, not one before the other, but both side by side. (Cheers.) May those flags forever be in friendly relation to each other. (Cheers.) There is a notion in this country that I mean a good deal to the old flag that has braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze—(applause)—but next to that old flag I stand for the Stars and Stripes. (Loud cheers.) May they ever be found in friendly relationship to each other. (Cheers.) You love your flag—(cheers)—you Americans love your flag, and we Canadians love the old British flag with all our hearts. (Loud cheers.) Nothing gratifies me more when I go to the United States than to see the love of their flag shown by the people from one end of the country to the other. But I am here today to say that while we of Canada welcome you of the United States and of old England in the person of Mr. Johnson, and the ancient colony in the person of Rev. Mr. Fenwick, I am here today to say that we are not here so much as Americans or Britishers as Methodists. (Amen! and applause.)

Tariff Changes

Adopted by the U. S. House of Representatives, and Referred to the Senate for Final Action.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—The following are among the changes made by the conferees on the tariff bill: The following is the paragraph agreed upon antitrust coal in the free list: "Coal, anthracite, not specially provided for in this act and coal stores of American vessels, but none shall be unloaded."

The conference restored raw cotton to the free list. The changes in the wool schedule made in conference leave the duties on disputed items as follows: Paragraph 354.—The duty on wools of the first class which shall be imported washed shall be two cents per pound; the duty on wools which would be subjected imported unwashed; and the duty on wools which would be imported unwashed, shall be three times the duty on wools which would be imported unwashed. The duty on wools of the third class, if imported in connection with the wools of the first and second classes, or which shall not contain more than 8 per cent of dirt or other foreign substance, shall be three times the duty to which they would otherwise be subjected.

The following was substituted for the paragraph on hewn timber: "Timber, hewn, sided or squared (not less than 8 inches square), and round timber used for spars or in building wharves, one cent per cubic foot." The paragraph relating to sawed boards and planks was amended by striking out the words "white pine" at $1 per thousand feet, and the rate on all the other items of the schedule, making the rates 50 cents per thousand feet for each planed or finished, $1 for rough and squared, and $1 50 if planed on two sides and tongued and grooved.

The legislative proviso for this paragraph inserted by the Senate was changed so as to read as follows: "That if any country or dependency shall impose an export duty upon sawlogs, round, unmanufactured timber, staves, poles, beams, and other bolts, exported in the United States, or a discriminating charge upon broomsticks, or a discriminating charge upon citizens in towing logs, the amount of such export duty, taxes or other charge shall be added to the duties on the additional duty to the duties imposed upon the articles mentioned in the preceding paragraph." The duties on fence posts are reduced from 20 to 10 per cent ad valorem.

Paper and pulp.—The duties on wood pulp for paper are converted into specific form at substantially the present rate, with a proviso added for an additional duty as against any country that imposes an export duty on pulp or woods. The duties on manufactures of paper are substantially as they passed in the house.

The conference report was adopted by the house by a vote of 189 to 115, and at noon today the report will go to the Senate for action there.

The Perils of the Journey Pointed Out.
Chilly Prospect for Those Not Already Well On the Way—The Gold Fever Unabated.
Chicago, July 20.—P. B. Wear, vice-president of the North American Trading Company, is receiving hundreds of letters asking for information regarding Alaskan gold fields. He said yesterday:
"The boats which sail from Seattle this month are full—every passage taken. That is, the boats of the Yukon, which go to the Klondike, must wait for the August boats, and the journey, 7,000 miles, people talk about as if it was walking across the street. They don't realize what Alaska is—what the Yukon is. They will need a map to convince them of the truth that the Yukon and its tributaries in Alaska and British America is as large as the whole United States. The Yukon, that it is longer than a trip to Europe before they reach the Bering Sea and the mouth of the Yukon; that by the time they strike the Yukon the Alaskan Arctic winter will be upon them. By Sept. 22 the weather settles, and the Yukon river is frozen solid until next May."

GOLD FEVER IN NEW YORK.
New York, July 20.—The Press says: New York has been touched with the Alaskan gold fever. The past 24 hours has seen come to the front at least 2,000 Algonquians who will be on the way to the Klondike region just as the arrangements can be made for transportation. Some notion of how the craze is spreading may be gathered from the fact that within 48 hours an advertisement calling for those who desired to join an expedition to Alaska and who had from $500 to $2,000 to invest was answered by more than 1,200 applicants.

IN WINNIPEG.
Winnipeg, July 20.—The report in connection with the Yukon gold fields is growing here. A party of nine left on Sunday. A party left Edmonton on Tuesday last, going by the Mackenzie River route and across the Rockies.
Winnipeg advises that the reports from Seattle of the return of numerous mining men from the Klondike country with fortunes in their valises have caused the wildest excitement. The transportation of the being flooded with telegrams asking for routes and rates, and above all when the next season will start for Alaska. A big exodus from the Pacific coast mining camps to Alaska will begin, though it is not yet known whether it will be winter when the men arrive on the Yukon. The mines cannot be worked until next summer.

IN HASTE TO BE RICH.
Port Townsend, Wash., July 20.—The merchants and tradesmen in both Juneau and Sitka are closing their stores and shops and hastening to the Klondike for Dawson City on July 31, and 400 would leave on the last of the month after the Queen sailed. The officers say that by the time the Queen returns to Juneau city her return will be a shade hence, there will not be an able-bodied man left in the town. Many men are leaving Juneau for the gold fields without provisions or means to buy them.
The steamer Alki sailed for Alaska, at midnight. She carries 400 men and 1,000 sheep for Dr. A. where they will be landed and driven across the summit to the Yukon valley. Any kind of fresh meat there sells at 50 cents per pound.

2,000,000 ON BOARD THE PORTLAND.
Seattle, Wash., July 20.—The amount of treasure brought down from the famed Klondike by the steamship Portland, is now placed at $2,000,000, and there is good reason to believe the sum was nearer $2,000,000. A sort of confidence game appears to have been worked on the transportation of the treasure by the miners. Each man was required to place his gold chest in the ship's hold, but many of them hid their treasure in their blankets and luggage, which was taken either to their state rooms or thrown carelessly about the ship. Clarence J. Berry, one of the Klondike kings, brought down at least $84,000 in nuggets, not a cent of which the Portland had any record of. The statement is made on the authority of Capt. Kidson, master of the vessel.
The word Klondike is on the charts, and it is called that on the charts. It implies into the Yukon, 50 miles above the big river. The geographical position of the junction is 56 degrees 10 minutes north latitude, 128 degrees 50 minutes west longitude. Bonanza Creek dumps into the Klondike about two miles above the Yukon. Eldorado Creek is a tributary of Bonanza Creek. There are numerous creeks and tributaries, the main river being 200 miles long. The gold so far has been taken from Bonanza and Eldorado, both well-named, for the richness of the placers is truly marvelous. Eldorado, 20 miles long, is staked the whole length, in each 500 feet along the creek bed there is a half million to a claim. So uniform has the output been that the miner who has an interest in three claims told me that if offered his choice he would toss up to decide.
One passenger who is taking $1,000 with him has worked 100 feet of his ground and refused $200,000 for the remainder, and confidently expects to make a satisfactory record for the rest of a bottle $212 from one pan of dirt. His pay dirt while being washed averaged $29 an hour to each man who was working. Two others of our miners who worked their own claims cleaned up from the day's work $300 each. They are about fifteen feet of dirt above bed rock, the pay streak averaging from 20 to 30 inches wide. Of course while the ground is frozen, it is thawed by the sun, and when the thaw comes and water rushes in they set their sluices and wash the dirt. Two men thought a small bird in the hand worth a large one in the bush. They sold their claims for $45,000, getting $4,500 down, the remainder to be paid in monthly installments of $1,000 each. The purchasers had more than $5,000 paid. They were twenty days thawing and getting out dirt. Then there was no water to sluice with, but one fellow made a rocker, and in ten days took out the $50,000 for the first installment. So, tunneling and robbing, they took out $50,000 before there was water to sluice with. Of course, these things read like the story of Aladdin, but fiction is not at all in it with the facts at Klondike. The ground located and prospected can be worked out in a few days, but there is still an immense territory untouched, and the laboring man who can get there with one year's provisions will have a better chance to make a stake than in any other part of the world.

THE DEAN AND HIS DRINK.

It is not every highly-placed ecclesiastic who would have the courage shown by the Dean of Norwich in his address to the workhouse inmates at their public dinner. He was delighted, the dean was reported as saying, that nobody had been brought before the magistrates for having taken too much drink. He did not think that any of them were capable of getting intoxicated. There was a lot of human nature in each one of them, and they never knew how much they could drink on a hot day. That was very laudable, no doubt, and very commendable, and all the rest of it; but we confess to a doubt as to whether it is quite the wise line of speech to adopt to workhouse inmates by one in the position of the dean—Westminster Gazette.

BREAKFAST—Blueberries. Granola with sugar and cream. Cold fish and cream served on whole wheat bread toast. Shredded cereal coffee.

LUNCHEON—Granola flakes in hot milk. Shredded wheat biscuit. Chicken custard. Rachabou des Arabes.

DINNER—Braised beefsteak. Potatoes, baked. Celery with white sauce. Whole-wheat bread. Orange sherbet. After-dinner coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

The Granola, granola flakes and shredded wheat biscuits have directions for preparing the same of each package. The shredded cereal coffee also has directions on box.

Codfish in Cream—Cut salt fish into one-inch cubes, pour boiling water over it and let it stand five minutes. Allow one cup of this cream to one-quarter cup of fish; drain the fish, add to the boiling cream, and serve on toast. A speck of cayenne is a great improvement.

Whole-Wheat Bread Toast—Make the bread for toast in this way: One pint milk, two tablespoons granulated sugar, one teaspoon salt, one-half ounce yeast. Set the yeast to rise mixed with a double boiler until slightly thickened. Scald the milk, and when it is cool enough add the yeast, salt and sugar. Beat with a wooden spoon, probably about five cups of flour. Let it bulk. Then add as much more flour as you can work in by cutting with a knife. This bread does not require kneading, but should be handled lightly. Now put it into pans, kneading it a very little; let it rise once more, then bake more slowly than you do ordinary bread—about thirty minutes; therefore do not let it get quite so light. From this bread (grainy stale) make thin slices of toast, butter slightly and pour codfish in cream over.

Shredded Cereal Coffee—Make according to directions on package and serve with hot milk.

Chicken Custard—Scald together one cup of strong chicken stock and one cup of cream. Pour it over the well-beaten yolks of three eggs and cook in a double boiler until slightly thickened. Add one-quarter teaspoon salt and serve cool in custard cups.

Rachabou des Arabes—One-half pound best French chocolate, one pound rice flour, one-fourth pound arrowroot, one-half pound loaf sugar sifted. These materials are to be thoroughly rubbed and mixed together. A desirable portion of this mixture should be slightly wet with milk or water, then stirred and mixed together. A desirable portion of this mixture should be slightly wet with milk or water, then stirred and mixed together. A desirable portion of this mixture should be slightly wet with milk or water, then stirred and mixed together.

For invalids or convalescents. Serve hot as a pudding. The amounts given in this recipe will make enough to last a long time.

Broiled Steak—Turn your steak every ten seconds while broiling, as the juices rise to the top and run off and are lost if the steak is not turned very often. If steak one inch thick is broiled for eight minutes it will be very rare; if for twelve minutes it will be rare; if for fifteen minutes it will be well done.

Celery with White Sauce—Scrape clean and cut the celery into inch pieces. Cook in boiling salted water half an hour, or until tender. Drain and mix with white sauce. Celery is particularly good for nervous or rheumatic people.

White Sauce—One pint milk, two tablespoons butter, two heaping tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful pepper. Heat the milk over hot water. Put the butter in a granite saucepan and stir until it melts and bubbles. Add the dry flour and stir quickly until well mixed. Pour on one-third of the milk. Let it boil and stir well as it thickens. Add another third of the milk. Let it boil up, and thicken and stir vigorously until perfectly smooth. Be sure all the lumps are rubbed out of the milk. Let it boil, and then add the remainder of the milk; let it boil, and when smooth, add the salt and pepper.

Orange Sherbet—Two and a half cups water, one and a half cups sugar, juice of five oranges, juice of one lemon; boil the sugar and water together for about 25 minutes; when cool add fruit juice and freeze; serve in small glass cups.

After-Dinner Coffee—Use the cereal coffee, using Coffee the amount of coffee that you do for breakfast coffee.

St. Thomas Journal: Mr. Isaac Graham, of Talbotville, who was taken to the London Asylum about a week ago, died yesterday morning. Mr. W. J. Kerr received a telegram from Dr. Bucke, informing him of the fact, and asking that deceased's relatives be notified. The deceased, who was in the 77th year of his age, was one of the best known residents of the city and county. He was a shoemaker by trade and lived in this city for many years. About a year ago he was stricken with paralysis, resulting in the loss of his reason. He leaves besides his wife one son, who lives in Talbotville, and one daughter, Mrs. Lewis, of Southwold. The remains will be brought here for interment.

The many friends in this city of Wm. P. Smith, Lacroix street, will learn with sincere regret of his sudden demise after a lingering illness. Deceased was 75 years of age, and was born near London, England. He came to this country when young and settled in Chatham. For several years he was employed by Israel Evans, driving the stage coach from Chatham to Windsor, and from Chatham to London. Later he purchased a bush farm in Tilbury, and cleared up a fine farm. From Tilbury he moved to Ralleigh, where he resided until 1888. In that year he retired, and had since lived quietly in this city. The wife of deceased is still living, and six children, as follows, remain to mourn the loss of their father: H. W. Smith, Chatham; R. L. Smith, London; W. P. Smith, Seattle, Wash.; G. H. Smith, Chicago; Mrs. S. B. Putnam, Detroit; Mrs. J. Youngs, Ypsilanti, Mich.—Chatham Banner.

ADVANTAGES OF THE COUNTRY. "Can't afford it?" said an enthusiastic father to the plodder who said he couldn't afford to send his children to the country. "Why, you can save enough on their shoes and clothes to pay for their keep. You know what shoes cost, and how much you have to pay for clothes. In the country the boys can go barefooted, and wear overalls for trousers, and the girls can wear cheap things, too, with a heap less cost for laundering than they would wear practically for nothing, and life and health thrown in. Can't afford it? Why, you can't afford not to send them to the country."

HIS FRIENDS ARE ANXIOUS. William P. Abey, an employee of the T. H. and B. at this point, has disappeared from the ken of his friends, and considerable anxiety is expressed as to his whereabouts. Abey, who is a young man of excellent reputation, left the city on Saturday evening last with his wheel and wares, stating that he would go to his home in London for Sunday. Since that time he has not been heard of, and a telegram from London elicited the fact that he had not reached there. The traveling M. C. R. operator has been engaged for several days in going over Abey's accounts, and it is understood that everything was found to be all right and accurate. On a previous occasion, the young man started in the morning for a tour, and was seriously hurt en route. It is feared that something of a similar nature may have occurred this time. (Brantford Express.)

The property owners on Orchard Beach have for a long time desired a better road leading from the village to their properties. A road by the beach has never been properly kept up, nor even built, though frequently light loads have gone around by that way and a walk has been constructed for foot passengers. It is now proposed that a roadway be cut through Liberty Hill, between the new club house and the observatory, known as the old mill race cut. John A. Robinson, proprietor of Liberty Hill, has offered the Orchard Beach people the right of way referred to through his property, free, on the conditions that they do all the work, build the necessary fences, and keep everything in a condition consistent with the purposes for which the road would be built. Also that they build a bridge over this new road that would connect the southern part of his property with the north for the use of teams and foot passengers. The matter is under consideration.

Who Allen Sheldon is the police at present do not know, and no one can be found in the city of that name. In 1894 a Mrs. Diantha Sheldon lived at 1349 Front street, but she has since moved, and this is the nearest approach to the name that can be found in any of the directories for some years back. #### LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

Mr. J. D. Sharnan's Residence Struck—Trolley Car Remains and Telephone Suffer.

The electrical storm that passed over this city about 6 o'clock last evening caused many residents to shake in their shoes, and did considerable damage.

The first place struck was the residence of Mr. J. D. Sharnan, deputy postmaster on the corner of St. James and Richmond streets. Mrs. Sharnan was seated at the window looking north, when there was a blaze of light which seemed to connect with a trolley standing on St. James street, and the cables of the house. The report was a tremendous one, and tore the slates off the roof and scattered them in all directions. A small window was broken, and some of the paper under the slates on the roof burned, but beyond this there was no damage.

The street cars suffered to no small extent. A number of armatures were destroyed and a great many light circuits burned out. With each flash of lightning the lights in many of the trolley cars were converted into a lurid glow, which was very annoying to the passengers, and then all was darkness.

The Bell Telephone Company was also hit by heavy loss. All over the city telephone arrears were burned out, and the latest reports give the number as over 60.

The property owners on Orchard Beach have for a long time desired a better road leading from the village to their properties. A road by the beach has never been properly kept up, nor even built, though frequently light loads have gone around by that way and a walk has been constructed for foot passengers. It is now proposed that a roadway be cut through Liberty Hill, between the new club house and the observatory, known as the old mill race cut. John A. Robinson, proprietor of Liberty Hill, has offered the Orchard Beach people the right of way referred to through his property, free, on the conditions that they do all the work, build the necessary fences, and keep everything in a condition consistent with the purposes for which the road would be built. Also that they build a bridge over this new road that would connect the southern part of his property with the north for the use of teams and foot passengers. The matter is under consideration.

WHO IS ALLEN SHELTON? The Police Looking for a Dead Man's Relatives.

The chief of police this morning received the following telegram from the police headquarters at Buffalo:

"Notify Allen Sheldon's relatives that he is dead."

Who Allen Sheldon is the police at present do not know, and no one can be found in the city of that name. In 1894 a Mrs. Diantha Sheldon lived at 1349 Front street, but she has since moved, and this is the nearest approach to the name that can be found in any of the directories for some years back. There are no particulars beyond the announcement of the man's death.
