

DISCARD UNITY FOR POLITICS AT SOLDIER RALLY

Several Speakers Alleged To Have Violated Pledge Not To Discuss Election Issues.

CROSS-FIRE FOLLOWS

Although scheduled as an open mass meeting of returned soldiers to discuss the "proposed amalgamation of all veteran bodies into one big organization," the gathering of some 800 ex-soldiers and relatives, in the Allen Theatre Sunday night, developed into a general denunciation of policies by candidates of political parties.

"No politics" was the pre-arranged order, but there was a misadventure somewhere, and at intervals through the evening the theatre was rent with loud and tumultuous applause as the different municipal and federal politicians explained what they would or would not do if elected.

Following the preliminary remarks by James Gray, the chairman of the evening, Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson, Labor M. L. A. for London, was introduced. He assured the veterans of London of the hearty support of the Farmer-Labor government in Toronto in their endeavor to get their just compensation. He drew attention to one thing that he contended had been overlooked, the depreciation in the dollar. This would have to be reckoned with, he said, despite the fact that it had been shelved by the old-line parties.

"You remember how the Saviour went into the temple and put out the money-changers who were only talking money," declared Dr. Stevenson. "We ask that the same be done now. Give us men in Ottawa like we have at Toronto, and we'll turn out the money-changers there."

Promises Work.

"We in the Ontario house have been accused of extravagance because we have carried on certain projects. They have shouted, 'Stop it!' But we have been spending considerable money on work that is of a commendable nature and that is giving needed employment. I say that we are with the returned men, and we expect them to be with us. Do not be alarmed about the factories. We'll see that they are kept going if we are given the opportunity."

"I realize only too well that the returned soldier has not been fairly and squarely dealt with by the last government," declared Sergt. W. L. Rayfield, V. C., Dominion organizer of the G. A. R. "I believe that sincerely or would not say it."

"The government has not lived up to everything that it promised. We have tried to get them to do so, but we never shall as long as you are divided. Much has been accomplished by our various associations, but you are seeking something that will be of assistance to you all."

"I say that the men who need assistance today are the ones who are at all without any disability or no apparent claim on the government, but who are now walking the streets in thousands. These men want work, not doles or charity. There is unemployment everywhere but I see no necessity for it. There is plenty of work to be done, but somebody, I do not know who, is holding it back for some unknown reason."

Dr. Cameron J. Wilson, Conservative candidate in London, spoke briefly. "I understand," he said, "that you are out for amalgamation. That is a move in the right direction. Get your views in a concrete form and present them to the house. If elected, I will endeavor to give you all a square deal."

TO TALK REVISION OF PRAYER BOOK

Church of England Assembly
To Tread Dangerous Ground.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Matters of grave importance will arise at next week's meeting of the national assembly of the Church of England which under the new powers recently granted by Parliament largely controls the administration of the established church.

The report on prayer book revision will be presented. This matter is delicate because it not only affects every shade of historic church opinion, but involves the as yet vaguely defined relationship between the national assembly and ancient convocations of York and Canterbury, especially as regards doctrinal matters.

The central board of finance recommends by a narrow majority, the closing of the ordination candidates training school recently opened with a view more especially to assisting ex-service men in holy orders. The school has provoked perhaps more controversy than anything undertaken under the church's new powers. It is alleged on the one hand that the church has no right to assist men into orders when insufficient pay awaits them, and on the other it is asserted that the church is short 3,500 clergy already, while the advocates of clerical celibacy who are not insignificant in numbers, profess that the question of maintenance will not arise if the church has an unmarried priesthood.

An interesting event in the new disestablished church of Wales was the election yesterday of Dr. Charles Green as first bishop of the new diocese of Monmouth. The Welsh church has pluckily faced the upheaval caused by disestablishment. Their appeal for funds to replace lost revenues, considering the present hard times, had met with an encouraging response. Many churchmen who were originally bitter against disestablishment admit that the new order of things has brought about a vastly more charitable feeling in Welsh religious relations.

The new bishop is a Welshman. There were times when not a single Welsh diocese was held by a man belonging to the principality of Wales.

LOSES CAR AFTER SHORT OWNERSHIP

E. Marley Has Brand-New Ford Stolen After Three-
Block Drive.

To drive a brand new car three blocks and then have it stolen was the experience of E. Marley of the Signory on Saturday night. However, the car has been recovered.

Mr. Marley purchased a shiny Ford sedan Saturday, Nov. 19, and called for it shortly before 8 o'clock. He then drove three blocks to the Masonic Temple and parked his car on the side of the street. It must have looked pretty good to some passing pedestrian, for when Mr. Marley returned in a short time his purchase of an hour before had vanished.

The police were notified and particulars regarding the car were soon speedily to cities east and west. A garage man in London East reported that he had "stepped" and "oiled" up a new Ford sedan going east at about 9 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon High Constable Hill of Oxford County notified the London police that the car had been recovered about 19 miles from Woodstock.

As soon as Mr. Marley arranged for the purchase of the car he had it insured against theft, so that any damage that may have resulted will be fully covered.

GIRL BADLY HURT WHEN HIT BY CAR

Jean Beemer, 12-year-old daughter of J. C. Beemer, 427 Pall Mall street, was seriously injured when she was knocked down by an auto at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The little girl had just stepped from the curb when she was struck by a car turning east onto Dundas off Richmond.

Constable Walter Pope, who was on traffic duty on the corner, carried the injured girl into E. L. Guillemont's drug store, where her injuries were dressed by a physician. She was later taken to her home, where she is reported to be resting easily.

SIX TOTS ON HANDS OF SOLDIERS' AID

Inspector Lowman Explains Situation of St. Thomas Woman.

The provincial inspector of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, in charge of Child Welfare work, has six little tots in his hands for adoption. Some of these are under temporary care, and may go back to their parents or guardians. This is evidenced by the fact that during the past month 26 of the children taken into temporary charge were returned to their homes because of an improvement in conditions. Five new children were taken in charge during the month, and seven others made wards of the commission. One child was adopted out, it being one of the Fournier grandchildren. Mr. Lowman says that he found conditions at this St. Thomas home such that he did not return these children. He insisted the fact that practically all the children, as well as the husband of the grandmother, had criminal careers, and he contended that if the woman could not bring her own children up properly, what chance would she have with the grandchildren in her advanced age? During the month Inspector Lowman made 118 visits to homes in London, outside. In making inspections 3,200 miles were covered.

MASTER MECHANIC OF L. AND P. S. DIES AT 54

The death took place Sunday of Charles E. Lenhart, 54 years old, at his residence, 324 Clarence street. Mr. Lenhart had resided in London for six years, coming here from Reading, Pennsylvania. He was employed as master mechanic of the London and Port Stanley Railroad, and was a member of St. John's Masonic Lodge, No. 29, and also of St. George's Chapter. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Herbert of Paris Island, South Carolina, and Robert of Allantown, P. A., and the daughter, Mrs. H. B. Shelly of Allantown, Pa.

PRINCE OF WALES OF "JUST SUPPOSE" ARRIVES IN LONDON

Graham Velesey, who portrays the part of H. R. COURT KEPT BUSY BY LIQUOR CASES

Ignorance of Ontario Laws Cost Montreal Man $200.

Several knights of the grip procured a bottle of whiskey Saturday night and started in for a regular time in a local hotel. The police got busy, and one of the party was hustled over to police court, where he parted with $200. He went back to the party, another bottle was produced, and a poker game started. Again the police interfered, and another $200 fine was tacked on. The rest of the party were sorry, but the usual O. T. A. "heavies" of $200 were imposed.

Two residents of Dashwood loaded a car of cattle at Exeter and came on to London, loading themselves on the way from two little black bottles and one big one. The magistrate was sorry, but the usual O. T. A. "heavies" of $200 were imposed. A young traveler from Montreal brought a bottle of whiskey with him from the Quebec metropolis. He left it in an auto in front of a local hotel. He did not know the law, he explained to the court, and in full view of a policeman standing on the corner, he carelessly grabbed the bottle, and without covering it, handed it to the constable. Mr. Constable interfered, and it cost him $200 to learn the ins and outs of the O. T. A. in police court on Monday.

BOND LOSS MAY TOTAL $100,000

Trust Company Officials Find No Trace of Shillington.

The exact amount of bonds and securities missing from the vaults of the London and Western Trusts Company, Limited, has not yet been ascertained, according to Assistant Manager D. McArthur. Mr. McArthur Monday afternoon stated that no trace of Harold Shillington, the young accountant who disappeared from the city on the night of November 3, has yet been found. Shillington is understood to have disposed of $5,000 worth of bearer Victoria bonds before leaving London, believed to be the property of the trust company. Officials of the company refuse to discuss the known amount of the missing bonds, but each day brings the total higher, and it is now believed that when the investigation being conducted by auditors is finally completed, the amount will reach over the $100,000 mark.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

ALLAN TOWE was five minutes late in getting out to work on Monday, and he paid $2 and costs in police court Monday. The constable took the number 27 at 6:10 p.m., while Towe sent the lad out at 6:15.

THE LONDON AND MIDDLESEX HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Historical Society will open its program for the coming winter at the Public Library Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, when Dr. J. Davis Barnett of the University of London will speak on "Fifty Years of the Canadian Locomotive."

FORTY-ONE CASES were disposed of in police court Monday morning by Deputy Police Magistrate P. H. Bartlett. Six breaches of the O. T. A. were fined $1,200, while eighteen citizens who violated the M. V. A. all helped to swell the roll of bills carried by Police Court Clerk Moule.

HARRY LEWIS, a wholesale confectioner of London, who died Oct. 27, left an estate of $57,716 entirely to his wife.

The will was filed for probate at the court house recently, and was made in September, 1912.

If Mrs. Lewis had predeceased her husband the estate was to have been evenly divided between the children.

BUILDING PERMITS for the month total 77, with a value of $115,220. Of latest permits include one to Geo. Wallis, Highbury street, for a brick-veneer and stone dwelling, cost $2,300; and M. Clark, Wilson avenue, has also taken out a permit to rebuild a frame dwelling, at a cost of $1,200.

THE OPENING in the course of a few months of a girls' hostel clubhouse the lines of the Y. W. C. A. is a project under consideration by the Catholic Women's League of this city.

CITY GAS COMPANY IS ASKING RATE INCREASE

The City Gas Company is making formal application to the Legislature for an increase in gas rates to $1.70 per thousand feet, with a discount of 30 cents per thousand for prompt payment, making the price $1.40 net.

Parke Graydon, solicitor for the company, says the application is just a formal one, made necessary by the fact that the present agreement expires on May 3.

The books of the company are to be audited to see how the present rate works out and the new legislation will undoubtedly be based on what the auditors find, Mr. Graydon added.

The gas company is also asking permission to increase its capital stock by $500,000 and its borrowing on debentures by $250,000. The reason given is that the cost of material and labor have increased to such an extent that the new funds are necessary to continue carrying on business.

Master Harrison presented two 25-year veteran medals to W. G. S. Fraser and J. W. McLaughlin. Grand Warden Bartram of London delivered an address.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON 'U' BYLAW

At the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Teumess House Monday afternoon, Nov. 21, a number of the University spoke on the proposed university bylaw. Among several reasons advanced for the need of a new building was the fact that the present building is absolutely too small, and the university authorities are now trying to crowd 360 students into a building meant for a normal family. There is not one room large enough to hold the freshmen class.

London, he claimed, was fast becoming an educational centre, and Western is being asked to take over students from other universities. In order to take advantage of the government grant of $800,000 it will be necessary for the new bylaw to be passed.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY COUNCIL will give $100,000 if the work of building is begun next year, and if the bylaw passes work will be commenced as soon as possible.

Dean Fox said that the new university would add prestige to London and increase the population. Families would move here in order to send their children to the university, and a large number of students themselves would settle here after graduation.

Dean Fox also stated that on account of insufficient room, a number of students had gone to the university of Michigan.

SEEKS CITY TEACHERS FOR TORONTO SCHOOLS

The Ontario department of education in Toronto is seeking two of London teachers, one of them being G. A. Wheable, principal of the Empress avenue school. This was definitely announced on Sunday night. Neither of the two has as yet made known his intention.

FILTERING PLANT WILL REMOVE IRON TRACES

Commenced last spring, London's filtering plant under course of construction on Horton street, will be completed within the year, barring unforeseen events.

The establishment of this feature of the city's waterworks system will mean that the supply of water used by the residents will be entirely freed of any iron that is now discernible.

Only as recently as Monday complaints were made to the public utility commission by citizens that the water had a somewhat unattractive appearance. This, the experts say, results from the high percentage of iron, which, while not the least injurious to health, is objectionable to the citizens, who, despite repeated assurance as to this from time to time, register complaints with the commissioners. All this will be overcome by use of the filtering plant.

MIDDLESEX SHEEP WILL BE SHOWN IN CHICAGO

Sheep breeders of Middlesex County will be well represented at the coming International Live Stock Show in Chicago. Joe Linden of Denfield will show in the Lincoln class, while J. A. Patrick & Son of Hilderton will exhibit Lincoln and Romney Marsh sheep.

Col. Robert McEwen of Byron will have the largest entry. He will show 22 Lincoln sheep in all, 39 in the carload lot class and 22 sheep in his breeding flock. Col. McEwen has been a consistent winner at Chicago for many years.

Marshal Foch Fulfills His Pledge to London Advertiser

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—As exclusively announced by the London Advertiser on Nov. 7, Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France, and commander of the allied forces during the world war, will be a visitor to Canada from Dec. 11 to Dec. 13.

At the conclusion of his three-day visit in New York today the itinerary of a continent-wide tour was announced. The tour is being conducted by the American Legion.

Marshal Foch plans to visit Ottawa and Montreal, Sunday, Dec. 11, Quebec, Dec. 12, and will make a brief stop at Sherbrooke, Dec. 13, on his return to complete his tour of the principal cities of the United States.

During his trip throughout the United States he will travel 12,000 miles through 23 states.

Police Find Keg of 6 Per Cent Mash in Manger of Cow Stable

Judgment was reserved by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett in police court Monday in the case of Morris Zinberg, charged with having a keg of 6 per cent mash in a place other than a private dwelling.

The evidence went to show that a cow owned by Mr. Zinberg had a chance to "slobber" in the liquid, as expressed by J. M. McEvoy, counsel for defence.

Inspector Lucas told of a raid on Zinberg's house on Webb street a week ago Saturday afternoon, and the finding of a keg of liquid with raisins and what in the bottom, in a cow manger. Bossy was chewing her cud in the office, the keg being covered with hay.

Zinberg stated that the mixture had been kept in the cellar, where he was trying to turn it into vinegar. It went sour and he had his son remove the keg to the barn for the cow.

That it was pretty strong "dope" even for a bovine was shown when the government analysis showed it to be 6.04 per cent absolute alcohol.

"There is no reason to suspect that this man was trying to manufacture liquor," stated J. M. McEvoy. "He is one of the most pious Jews in the neighborhood. The cow had a chance to slobber all over it, so therefore it was not for sale or even for human consumption."

"We raised the place because we had heard various stories," interposed Chief Birrell. "I will reserve judgment," said the magistrate.

Zinberg will be prosecuted under the inland revenue act, a week from Monday.

FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

When Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, K.C., and J. M. McEvoy, K.C., met on the police court battlefield, fur is sure to fly, and Monday was no exception to the rule.

Mr. McEvoy took strong objection to his client, John Howe, being bailed every week on the charge of stealing money from his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Vandermare. Mrs. Howe is also charged with the offence, but the police have been unable to locate her as yet.

"I don't think that this case should be held indefinitely," said Mr. McEvoy. "The crown attorney has no greater privilege than anyone else."

Mr. McKillop intimated that he had "probably not as great," continued Mr. McEvoy.

"My learned friend knows of some cases that have been adjourned months and years," retorted Mr. McKillop. "Then it is a disgrace," stated counsel for defence.

"I find that this man and woman were most anxious for this money," came back the crown.

"Yes, there are a lot of people in Michigan who like to know about it," said Mr. McEvoy. "If you can't find them, you will be arrested if we do anything like that in court," smiled Mr. McKillop.

The magistrate interposed at this juncture and called the case off for a week.

When nominations closed Thomas Rowe announced that he had decided to stand for re-election.

Mrs. Winnett was a last-minute addition to the Local Council of Women's estate, coming out as opposed to heavy expenditure on the Technical School, when so many public schools need attention.

J. B. Wright, 5 Alexandra Apartments, manufacturer, proposed by Edwin Smith, seconded by E. R. Dennis.

Gordon McN. Cooper, 534 Waterloo street, merchant, proposed by Henry Winder, seconded by Thomas Edwards.

Dr. Sparling was greatly interested in educational matters, and throughout his career served on various college boards, and was one of the best of the Western College of Montreal. He was but recently elected to the board of Alma College, St. Thomas.

At his death he was 60 years of age, having been born in Renfrew County, near Pembroke.

Beginning his career in the ministry at Easton's Corners, Quebec, he served in the pulpits of St. James' Church, Montreal; Metropolitan Church, Toronto; Grace Church, Winnipeg; a second term at St. James' Church, Montreal; Dominion Church, Ottawa; Centenary Church, Hamilton, and from whence he came to the First Methodist Church here on Oct. 1 of this year.

His term began at London on July 1, but he was given leave of absence to attend important Methodist conferences in the old land.

Although Dr. Sparling has been in London but a very short time, he made many very strong friends and admirers in London, who have suffered an irreparable loss in his death.

PLACED 3,813 IN JOBS DURING YEAR

City Branch of Ontario Employment Bureau Publishes Yearly Statement.

The London branch of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau has placed 70 per cent of applicants for work during the year ending Oct. 31, according to figures issued by Superintendent J. C. Spencer.

Out of a total of 5,411 registrations, jobs were found for 3,813.

In the men's department, 845 were placed on farms, 210 with manufacturing concerns, 740 on construction work, 142 miscellaneous and 451 casual, a total of 2,785.

One hundred and seventy-one women received positions with manufacturing concerns, 118 commercial, 370 domestic, miscellaneous 19 and 417 casual, a total of 1,025.

Transfers from other districts were 110, while transfers out were 121.

"The farm help placed were all bona-fide Canadian trained farm help," said Mr. Spencer. "We had nothing to do with the immigrants handled by Mr. Farrell."

STAGES BATTLE OF WORDS IN COURT

McEvoy Takes Exception to Case Being Adjourned So Often.

When Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, K.C., and J. M. McEvoy, K.C., met on the police court battlefield, fur is sure to fly, and Monday was no exception to the rule.

Mr. McEvoy took strong objection to his client, John Howe, being bailed every week on the charge of stealing money from his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Vandermare. Mrs. Howe is also charged with the offence, but the police have been unable to locate her as yet.

"I don't think that this case should be held indefinitely," said Mr. McEvoy. "The crown attorney has no greater privilege than anyone else."

Mr. McKillop intimated that he had "probably not as great," continued Mr. McEvoy.

"My learned friend knows of some cases that have been adjourned months and years," retorted Mr. McKillop. "Then it is a disgrace," stated counsel for defence.

"I find that this man and woman were most anxious for this money," came back the crown.

"Yes, there are a lot of people in Michigan who like to know about it," said Mr. McEvoy. "If you can't find them, you will be arrested if we do anything like that in court," smiled Mr. McKillop.

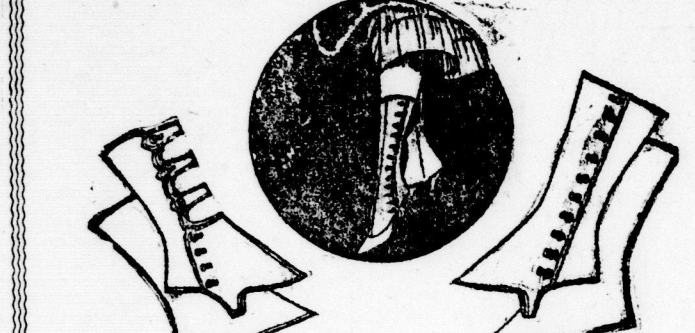

The magistrate interposed at this juncture and called the case off for a week.

Physician Advocates Porridge As Staple Food for Children

"If I had the feeding of children," said a physician recently, "I'd feed them largely on whole grain foods cooked at home to ensure proper cooking, plenty of raw fruits, vegetables raw and cooked, occasionally eggs, lots of milk, but rarely if ever meat. Milk and porridge made from entire grains would be my staple, and the children would rarely be sick."

ROMAN MEAL is the most nutritious whole grain food known, and makes delicious porridge. It can be cooked as variously as flour and is very economical. All grocers sell it.

BOYS STEAL $36 TO BUY CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Two small boys, aged 9 and 12, concluded last week that they needed more money for Christmas presents and, believing that their shopping should be done early, they entered a neighbor's house and stole $36.

The youngsters had a merry time while the cash lasted and spent practically all of it. They purchased a lot of toys, a large bundle on display in police court Monday giving one the idea that Santa Claus had visited the dingy old courtroom by mistake.

Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett remanded the pair until Tuesday, when they will appear in juvenile court. The boys failed to state what they had done with the remaining cash.

CHARGES RAIL TENDERS WERE LET SECRETLY

King Declares Ballantyne's Firm Got $10,000,000 Contract.

CITES TORY ADMISSION

Ridicules Robertson's Attack on Murdoch's Surrender of $8,000 Job.

COBALT, Nov. 20.—Canadian Press, by Staff Correspondent.—That Hon. J. A. Stewart's statement on Canadian National Railway contracts only served to strengthen the case made out by the Liberals against the "interlocking of directorates" on the Canadian National management, was the declaration of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King at two well-attended meetings here and at New Liskeard last evening.

Mr. King arrived in Temiskaming riding on Saturday to assist the Liberal candidate, Donald McEachern, in his fight.

"We find from Mr. Stewart's statement," said Mr. King, "that instead of the Eastern Car Company getting $11,000,000 in contracts from the Canadian National Railway, as we had supposed, they got $14,000,000. And Mr. Stewart, in attempting to show that other companies which were not represented on the Canadian National board got big contracts also quotes the Montreal Locomotive Company as having received a $10,000,000 contract. But the minister did not tell the people of Canada that Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine and naval affairs, was one of the directors of the Montreal Locomotive Company."

Disputes Tender Claim.
The Liberal leader disputed the claim that tenders had been properly called. They were not advertised, but con-

Leave Game Warden Near Death Lying in Creek

SUDBURY, Nov. 20.—Badly beaten and left on the shore of John Creek, near Turbine, William Cheliew, a game warden, was the victim of a brutal attack when he attempted to arrest an Indian for breach of the game laws. Cheliew was left for dead, and lay half in and half out of the water at the edge of the creek, from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock the following morning, when he was revived sufficiently to crawl to Turbine.

The game warden came upon the Indian who was tearing down a beaver dam, and as this is unlawful, ordered the man to come with him. They prepared to paddle down the creek, but just as Cheliew was stepping in to his canoe, another Indian crept up behind him and attacked him with a club, battering him over the head until he was unconscious.

Contracts were secretly given, Mr. King charged. The board of management, he said, was able to draw down to two or three the companies notified of the impending contracts, which were not at all let to the lowest bidder. There should, he said, be public tenders asked and there was no reason for not making public all the details.

Referring again to the contracts awarded the Eastern Car Company the Liberal leader stated that a director of that company, who at the time the contracts were awarded was also a director of the Canadian National Railway, was now running as a Tory candidate in the county of Picton, N. S. (Col. Cantley).

"That," Mr. King declared, "does not fit in very well with the professions of keeping the railways out of politics. How can you keep track of anything when contracts are awarded that way?" he asked his audience. "I first made these charges in regard to railway contracts many months ago. Mr. Hanna came out then with a denial, but now the minister of railways admits all and makes the thing worse, and then he says this was not secret information, but that we got it in committee. We did get it in committee, but only after the government had refused information to parliament."

Defends Murdoch.
The Liberal leader referred to recent speeches by Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, in which, said Mr. King, Senator Robertson had referred to James Murdoch as "the eight thousand dollar hero," because he had given up a position on the board of commerce at $8,000.

"This was poor business on the part of the minister of labor," declared Mr. King. "Mr. Murdoch in giving up an $8,000 position in order to tell the people where he had found wrongs in the board of commerce, was entitled to a great deal more of the people's support and respect than was Senator Robertson who, from a life job at present paying $14,000 a year, tried to attack him."

The Liberal leader dealt with tariff matters and laid before the audience his platform of downward revision, with a lightening of the tariff burden on implements of production in the basic industries and on the necessities of life. This, he declared, was the tariff policy in the best interests of all Canadians.

ANSWERS VETERANS' PLEA.

COBALT, Ont., Nov. 20.—By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.—Replying to the Great War Veterans' Association questionnaire which was placed before him last night at his meeting here, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, declared he would favor, if returned to power, as he expected he would be, having the whole matter of soldier re-establishment thoroughly investigated by a special committee of parliament, to see whether there was anything which Canada could do for her returned men which had not yet been done.

The other resolution, reading: "Are you in favor of retaining the present bonus and rating of disability pension at one dollar per cent disability?" Mr. King said he was not perfectly clear on. However, if, as he understood, the bonus referred to was a cost of living bonus, he favored governing it by cost of living conditions. If the cost of living increased it might be necessary to increase that bonus. Certainly he would not propose cutting off such a bonus.

WATER FLOODS 100 ACRES OF CITY PROPERTY

Danger of Dam Giving Way Is Now Believed Passed.

500,000,000 GALLONS

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 20.—One hundred acres of land are now flooded by water piled up by the new waterworks dam erected on Kettle Creek, north of this city. By Friday night the water had reached a depth of 20 feet at the dam, and by the following morning six inches were flowing over the top of the spillway.

By working well into Friday night the embankments were built high enough to prevent a breaking-away of the sides, and so it is now unlikely that more work will be done on the dam until after colder weather sets in, as the men for days have been handicapped by much mud.

Albert Roberts, chairman of the water board, with Commissioner Geddes, remained at the scene of operations until 9 o'clock Friday night. They believe all danger of any serious damage being done to the uncompleted dam is past. Mr. Roberts says that the 25 acres owned by the city on the Locke farm is flooded. The area on the Hill farm is greater than on the Locke farm, and altogether the area covered by the water held in by the new dam is estimated at 100 acres.

The amount of water stored up is estimated at five hundred million gallons. The city uses between one and two million gallons a day.

CHARLES' LIFE OF EXILE BEGINS

Former Emperor of Austria Reaches Funchal, Madeira, on Warship.

SECOND NAPOLEON

FUNCHAL, Madeira, Nov. 20.—(By Associated Press).—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his wife, Zita, arrived here this morning on board the British battle cruiser Cardiff to begin the life of exile recently decreed by the Allied Council of Ambassadors.

Establishment of trouble-making monarchs to islands of the sea far from their one-time dominions is an uncommon procedure, but precedent for the plight of Charles is found in the historic case of Napoleon I, who passed six years on St. Helena in the South Atlantic, 700 miles from the nearest land, a prisoner more than a century ago.

St. Helena is not only much smaller than Madeira, but, compared to the latter, is as "a devil's island" to paradise. Five-sixths of its area is devoid of vegetation and, aside from an army garrison, there are no big towns or other evidences of life.

Madeira, five times the size of St. Helena, is an ocean garden spot. Funchal, its chief city, has a population of more than 20,000 and the island, one of a group of four owned by Portugal, produces some of the most famous wines and laces in the world as well as an abundance of fruits, grains and sugar. Ocen are mainly used for agriculture, instead of draft horses, and other farming methods are primitive. Less than two per cent of the people can read and write.

The Portuguese military garrison is very small and Charles, Zita and their six small children, if the allied powers permit, may have every freedom except an unchaperoned ocean voyage. Napoleon was guarded day and night by soldiers.

Madeira, the Portuguese word for "forest," is directly in the Atlantic ocean trade routes. St. Helena, a British naval coaling station, often doesn't see a ship for days. Madeira is a port of call and thus is kept in daily touch with the outside world. The island, 60 miles west of Morocco, has a temperate climate. It is 12 miles wide and 35 miles long and elliptical in shape. Three other islands nearby complete the Madeira group. They are Porto Sancho which, with Madeira, have a population of 170,000, and Desertas and Selvagens, two smaller islands of volcanic origin. The latter are uninhabited, rocky formations jutting out of the sea.

After the collapse of the Central Powers in 1918, Charles and Zita sought refuge in Switzerland where, for three years they lived with their children.

Last March the former emperor attempted a coup d'etat by crossing the Swiss border and reaching the town of Steinamanger, Hungary, where with prominent monarchists he planned to enter Budapest. The plot failed and Charles returned to Switzerland.

Again, on Oct. 22 last, despite his "word of honor" given to the Swiss authorities that he would attempt no further escapades, the former monarch and his wife, during the dispute over Burgenland, flew in an airplane from Lucerne to Oedenburg and ultimately reached Raab, Hungary, where Charles was received by an armed party of royalists.

In a sanguinary effort to enter Budapest, the Carlists were defeated. The former emperor and empress were captured and, finally, at the behest of the Little Entente, placed aboard a British monitor in the Danube. On Nov. 3, the ex-royal pair sailed for their future home in the mid-Atlantic.

On Nov. 4 the former emperor, who had persistently refused to renounce his hereditary "rights," was deposed and the Hapsburg dynasty was ousted from Hungary by a law passed by the Hungarian National Assembly.

DRAYTON ENTERS CONTEST IN YORK

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance in the Meighen government, will contest West York. This was decided on Saturday afternoon at the Liberal-Conservative convention held in Weston, following the retirement of A. J. Anderson, the nominee of the previous convention, in Sir Henry's favor.

No other name was brought before Saturday's convention but that of the minister of finance, the question voted upon being the clear-cut one of whether he should be accepted or not.

There were a number of irreconcilables, as was shown by the fact that the vote was 316 for Sir Henry, with 246 dissenting, a majority in his favor of 70 votes in a total of 562.

"The Bill will not let in Canadian wheat, but will save to the American farmer the right to raise a bushel of wheat instead of transferring that right to Canada"—Mr. Fordney, in introducing the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill which has shut millions of dollars worth of Canadian foodstuffs out of the United States market.

"If we are to build up a self-sustaining agriculture here at home, the farmer must be protected from unfair competition from those countries where agriculture is still being exploited."—President Harding. The very spot chosen to deliver this speech—Minnesota—shows that Harding had the Canadian North-West in mind.

WHILE ties of friendship unite Canada and the United States, the attitude of Uncle Sam is that of "Business First", and Canada cannot and should not hope for any consideration from the United States where the interests of the farmers and business people of that country are involved.

Uncle Sam has built the Fordney Tariff directly against Canadian agriculture, and new additional Tariff proposals are now under consideration to shut out from the United States Canadian goods of every kind.

These measures are due to the insistence of the American farmer that the United States market shall be retained exclusively for him and that the influx of Canadian farm products into that country must cease. They are also due to a like insistence of United States manufacturers and workers, who have seen their country develop tremendously and grow rich under a Protective Tariff, and who believe that a still further increase in Tariff is the only means of assuring continued prosperity.

CONTRAST THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES LEADERS WITH THAT OF CANADA'S WOULD-BE LEADERS, CRERAR AND KING

Crerar proposes to allow American goods to enter the Canadian market free of duty.

King proposes that the present reasonable Tariff on the products of the American factory and farm shall be greatly reduced, and that the home market of the Canadian farmer and manufacturer alike shall be thrown open to our Southern neighbour, in the face of the United States Emergency tariff, which practically shuts out Canadian farm products from these markets, and also in the face of the permanent tariff now under consideration at Washington, which gives every promise of being even more drastic than the Emergency Tariff so far as our products are concerned.

In view of the attitude of the United States, what folly it is for Crerar and King to propose throwing open the Canadian market to a flood of both agricultural and manufactured products of the United States when there is not the slightest possibility of any compensative advantage to Canada.

Does any sane Canadian believe that Crerar or King, hat in hand, could persuade the United States Government to completely reverse its Tariff policies and agree to reciprocal trade in face of American public demand for a high protective Tariff?

The people of the United States conduct their affairs and protect themselves by the principle that "Business is business". Why should Canada do otherwise?

Unlike Crerar or King, MEIGHEN stands firm for a reasonable Tariff to protect all our industries—those of the farm, the sea, the mine, the forest, the factory, and for the building up of a bigger and better Canada through the full development of the home market.

FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES? YES, BY ALL MEANS!

BUT—

let us defend our home market, our industries, our farms, our workmen, our homes by the same methods as are used so effectively against us.

Let us work out our own destiny—that of a strong, self-contained nation within the British Empire group of Nations, courageous, masterful, self-reliant.

Shop In London—Use Your Telephone

Don't Write---Telephone!

More results out of the day's work! Business conditions today make it necessary to take advantage of every practical means to this end.

Most firms feel the need for going after business aggressively. They consider that they must use the most up-to-date methods to keep their business up to a satisfactory level.

This explains the increasing use of the Long Distance telephone by the more enterprising and progressive business houses, large and small, in all parts of the country. Careful planning of long distance selling and buying has produced really remarkable results.

Long-Distance Phone Brings Market to Door of Farmer

Country Housewife Can Order Goods Early and Is Almost Sure of Delivery Same Day—Bell Company Entertained Visitors During Past Week.

"The telephone is the greatest blessing to the country housewife," remarked one of London's leading grocers in discussing the BUY-BY-PHONE movement.

It is a great time-saver. The woman with the telephone at hand gets her supplies daily, much quicker and with much less trouble than the woman without such a blessing. A few minutes in the morning and a list is prepared of her wants. If she lives within 30 miles of the city it costs her but 25 cents to phone her order, and the goods are delivered that day. Her less fortunate neighbor must come to town, spend her day running around, and then perhaps wait a day for delivery, or carry her many parcels home.

At the grocers or the stores where she goes to make purchases there is another story. The order of the phone woman is in early. The clerks are not busy and shortly after its receipt it is prepared and it starts for its destination on the first train or bus, as the case may be. There is a humanitarian side to the question also, as pointed out by one of the grocers. He cited the fact that slowly but steadily the stores are able to close earlier at night and to cut down the long hours of Saturday by early closing. He laid this at the door of the telephone. "There was a time," he stated, when country people left all buying on until Saturday. Then there was a tremendous rush. The result was that in the rush the clerks did not get a chance to get the orders filled until late at night. It was always Sunday morning when the clerks got away from their labors. Today most of the farmers' orders are phoned in. The telephone and a little education has accomplished this, and of course, improved transportation for delivery has helped.

This is only one phase of the great buy-by-phone movement. There is not a merchant doing business today that can do without the telephone. This in itself is an evidence of the phone's usefulness and popularity. There are hosts of arguments that may be advanced in its favor, and it seems that just a little education into its uses would bring this modern little business messenger into far greater use and popularity, and especially is this so in the country where there is a veritable network of rural lines.

The Telephone Company seems to have realized this of late years. Today there is no more persistent advertiser in the Dominion of Canada than the Bell Telephone Company. It uses a tremendous amount of space monthly advertising the service it can give, and offering suggestions to merchants as to how to get new business by the use of the phone. It was not always thus. It was only in the last few years that this great corporation came to realize and appreciate the benefits of advertising, and the advertising must be bringing results in the greater use of the phone, for the company's campaigns are steadily increasing in volume.

During the past week the Bell Company gave an evidence of this, when all over the country it threw its offices open to visitors. Many people took advantage of this to learn something of how a modern phone exchange is run. It helped them. It brought home to them the wonderful possibilities of the telephone, and so in the end will help the Bell Company.

CLOTHES! An Interview With Mary---Assisted by Doug

BY MILTON BRONNER.
PARIS, Nov. 20.—With the help of Doug, I've just interviewed Mary on clothes.

Doug? Fairbanks, of course. And Mary? Pickford, to be sure. In the royal suite at the Hotel Crillon here, Mary was wearing a becoming Paris creation of blue black silk velvet, trimmed with coral beads. A hat of the same material made an effective frame for her golden curls.

But, speaking of clothes—"Here I am in the paradise of shops and I haven't even bought as much as a handkerchief!" she said. ("Ma-ry!" interjected friend husband.) "Well, only the dress I bought today. You see, when we arrived I had nothing to wear suitable for the climate."

("D'you know a woman who had anything to wear?" interrupted Doug.) "It's mighty nice to have so many people interested in person because of one's success in her chosen art, but really I can't shop when half of Paris wants to go along and watch me do it. The result is that I have seen about ten thousand dollars' worth of things I'd like, but only in the store windows as our auto went past."

("Glad the auto didn't stop," from Doug.)

"OUR MARY."

"I'd like to run around Paris alone," continued "Our Mary," "and find delightful bargains in frilly things and ducky blouses and other things that women like to shop for. And after I'd bought clothes, I'd like to browse around the jewelry shops in the Rue de la Paix."

("Where you pay and pay and pay!" commented Doug.)

Mary quit then, and turned to a discussion of British women and others. "There is little essential difference between the well-dressed women of New York, London and Paris," she said. "Each country has its own type of pretty women. Good clothes are perhaps more universal in Canada than in Europe, because here class lines are still maintained and it is mainly the wealthy who buy fine clothes. In Canada you can't judge a woman's wealth by the clothes she wears. For they all love to dress, and will make many sacrifices to gain the admiration of others on the street."

DIVIDE ONTARIO FOR GUIDE WORK

For the purpose of more successful administration and effective organization of Girl Guide work, the Province of Ontario has been divided into 23 divisions, for each of which a commissioner is to be appointed. Recommendation has been made by Mrs. E. P. P. Betts, provincial commissioner, of names for these offices, and it is expected the warrants will be issued in a few days by Mrs. H. D. Warren, commissioner for the Dominion.

The names were submitted to the sub-committee in London a few days ago, composed of Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Auden and Miss Beth Pennington.

The Toronto Provincial Committee, acting with Mrs. Betts in the matter, is made up of Mesdames E. A. Hardy, W. R. Lang and F. W. Marlowe, the last the Toronto commissioner.

A plan for London and Western Ontario which it is hoped to make come true in the near future is a training course for leaders.

Ontario had the honor of initiating the first provincial camp for Guide officers in the Dominion in June this year.

GOLD PRODUCTION IN CANADA HAS INCREASED

Three hundred and ninety-six thousand three hundred and ninety-one ounces of pure gold, valued at $3,194,129 produced during first 6 months of 1921. Of this amount Ontario holds the premier position with 73 per cent. Ontario also produced the most silver, being 4,718,537 ounces, and worth $2,822,157. Silver and gold are used to make up "Gilted Time Last." These are sold by John A. Nash, My Jeweler, 182 Dundas street, "where you will eventually buy."

COOK ELECTRICALLY!

HYDRO KEEPS THE UP-KEEP DOWN

Satisfaction Guarantee Backs Every Buy at the Hydro Shop.

Consider the cook stove from the housewife's angle—the pestering with matches, chopping of wood, hauling in coal, lugging out ashes, polishing fumetarnished silver, or trying to keep stove blacking on.

Whether it burns coal, wood, oil or gas it's a work maker and a shatterer of nerves. We shout the news of a joyous reprieve—the story of an electric range that does every class of work a lot better than any other stove; that works at the turn of a button to supply quick heat for frying or boiling, or as readily gives heat controlled at any desired temperature for oven purposes.

A reprieve from polishing; its enameled surfaces wipe clean with a cloth. A reprieve from dust, dirt and ashes; from the nuisance of plant-killing fumes, and from the menace of fire or explosion.

But, best of all, electricity for cooking is cheaper than any other fuel. $1.65 worth of hydro will do the work of $5 worth of gas.

Ask your neighbor in the house with three electric wires. She has a hydro range. She knows.

Remember, when buying anything electrical, that the Hydro Shop sets the pace, selling not merchandise, but service and satisfaction.

Gross Favoritism.

All over the country the question is being asked: How many other concerns in Canada, outside the Rindon interests, have had a chance to pay their taxes or discharge their obligations by simply sending in an I. O. U. to the government?

A Toronto dispatch recounts how many businessmen were brought into court for the slightest evasion of the income tax regulations.

The fines were stiff, as shown by the following:

"It was shown at the discussion of the test case that other cities in the Dominion were imposing the full penalty which was contained in the provisions of the income tax act: 'Persons who fail to make their returns shall be liable to a penalty of $100 per day.' The number of days over which the fine can be levied had been restricted by the government to six days.

"The ruling of Justice Latchford made the fine uniform throughout the Dominion. In twenty-seven cities magistrates had been imposing the full penalty of $600, and this was the method followed in cases which came to the attention of Toronto magistrates after February, 1920.

"There were fifty-three convictions in the police court during the year 1920 for failure to make income returns, according to the chief constable's report for that year. All were fined the full $600 after the ruling of Justice Latchford."

The average voter wants a clear-cut, straight statement as to why the Rindon Company—prosperous, paying big dividends, issuing more stock—was let off with a promissory note to the Dominion government?

The replies of the finance minister and of his predecessor in office do not satisfy the country, and the case, now discussed from one end of the country to the other, goes to the voters under the rightful heading of a scandal.

Plain Murder.

The death of Jailer John McNab at Guelph following the beating he got when three of his prisoners attempted to escape, occurred under circumstances as tragic as they were sad.

John McNab, if he erred at all in his treatment of prisoners, would have erred on the side of human kindness and too much consideration for his prisoners.

Time was, and not so many years back either, when a prisoner accepted a jail term in a complacent sort of manner. Escapes were not often attempted, and things went along in their own sweet way.

Then some dare-devil got the idea of getting out, and decided that the best way to get out was to get out.

That fashion has spread, and since then there has been no peace or safety for the jailer. The old school of jailer, who came to know his "guests" through an acquaintance of three or six months, cannot fill the bill today. He is dealing with a new school of crooks, daring, heartless and immune to the qualities of kindness.

So John McNab, genial, considerate Scotch jailer of Wellington County, has gone to his long rest, sent there prematurely by a trio of thugs to whom freedom was of greater importance than the lives of the men who stood in their way.

The fact that these thugs will now face a charge of murder may cause other would-be jail-breakers to see things in a different light.

People Are Thinking.

Apart altogether from the fact that the Liberal tariff policy during Canada's fifteen most prosperous years, from 1896 to 1911, never closed any factories nor reduced any pay envelopes, and despite repeated and explicit assertions of the Liberal leader that no legitimate industry in Canada need have the slightest fear of any tariff changes under the Liberal tariff policy, doesn't this Tory bogey of ruin to industry if the Liberals get in, strike you as an insult to the common sense of Canadians?

Surely the hundreds of thousands of level-headed men and women who are backing the Liberal candidates throughout Canada will not deliberately adopt a policy that will injure Canadian industry. They are not fools or crazy men.

Except for the few millionaires who have made huge fortunes out of combines and mergers, made possible by high protection, the average success of Liberals in business is as high as the average success of Conservatives, and their reasoning powers, and their horse sense are at least equally as good.

And surely the "Big Interests" in the United States, which, according to Hon. R. B. Bennett, picked on Hon. Mackenzie King to help them solve the problems of capital and labor, were not all astray in their judgment of his ability and practical common sense.

Catch cries and bogeys won't go in this election. The voters are thinking for themselves and want facts, not fiction, argument not asseveration. The facts of what has happened in Canada during the past few years of straight Tory rule outweigh all the prophecies of ill to come if the Liberals should come into power again.

A Wee Bit Quiet.

Somehow or other this election campaign seems to lack "pep."

There isn't any of the good old mud-slinging and fighting of former days, when man had the whole handling of politics.

No catchy cry of "Turn the Rascals Out," or "No Truck or Trade With the Yankees."

Perhaps it's the gentle influence of women who now comprise 52 per cent of the voters. Perhaps it's due to a foregone conclusion as to the result, and that the public know the government is going out anyway.

Perhaps it's because this election is being fought on the solid ground of economic facts, and not on appeals to passion or prejudice.

Perhaps it's because the old spectacular leaders, Sir John A. and Sir Wilfrid are gone, and the young new ones have not yet gathered the old, strong personal following. And perhaps, too, it's because these are sober times when sober facts and sober thinking weigh the balance.

At any rate as yet it hasn't developed into a very lively election, and the old politician isn't having half as much fun out of it as he used to.

Just in Passing.

A man goes into a Chinese laundry or a Chinese eating-house, and finds he can talk English to the men there.

The Italian whom he meets in various lines speaks to him in his own tongue.

The Russian or the Pole who, in the larger centers, often mends his boots, speaks to him in English. And they all retain knowledge of their own language.

It shows how universal the English tongue is becoming, and also stresses the point that the man here, with nothing but the English at his command, with no knowledge of other languages, knows nothing at all of the struggles that have been made by these men in order that they can establish themselves in this country, and open business relations with us.

There are a lot of fruit growers in this district who have failed so far to grasp the idea that wrapped, perfect apples, packed in boxes, bring the long price.

And while they're scrapping things at Washington, why not scrap those men who say "I did not expect to be called upon for a speech," and so on, for the next half hour.

NO. 40—THE IMITATIVE HEAD.
It is a common saying that the Japanese have less creative ability than those of the Caucasian race, though they are given credit for extremely well developed powers of imitation and adaptation.

However great the measure of truth in this is, have you ever noticed that the majority of Japanese heads are short from the ears back.

They are. It's what gives them that curiously round look in comparison with the average Caucasian skull. Has is never struck you also that a certain type of German head (the typical Prussian) is built in much the same fashion? And the same sweeping statement is often made about the Germans as about the Japanese. So far as the Teutons are concerned, however, accuracy compels the statement that it is only in certain sections of Germany that the short skull is a predominant type.

But what are the other indications of the short head? One is a restricted ability to understand the motives and emotions of other people. It results in

A HEALTHY EXERCISE

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

APID means of transportation have removed the necessity of walking as it was practiced a decade or so ago. Before automobiles and street cars came into use, business men were able to obtain plenty of exercise by walking to and from business, and the average business man who spends most of his hours indoors gets not enough exercise.

Few people perhaps realize the value of walking as a simple form of exercise. It is decidedly the most available of every-day exercises. While it may not be absolutely the best exercise, nevertheless, as a make-shift type of gymnastics, it serves a useful end.

Luckily, walking rarely throws the high blood pressure strain upon the heart and kidneys which aerobics, gymnasium work, swimming, baseball, tennis or other exercises do. Exhaustion, fatigue and physical injuries are most unlikely in walking.

After depleting infections, long drawn out illnesses, chronic ailments and accidents, walking, without a doubt—even of the ordinary automatic kind—is one of the best muscle tonics. Long hikes on the other hand are not only far from automatic but are decidedly apt to tax every muscle of the body from head to toe.

To hike to the point of being foot-sore and weary is hardly necessary to use walking as an exercise. Any one knows his own abilities and should hardly be so foolish as to fatigue himself, thinking he is doing his body good. The reason fat people do not reduce their surplus by walking is because instead of increasing the daily distance of their walks they stop at a few miles a day and even fail to maintain this long enough to obtain the desired results.

Walking ten miles a day for six months will reduce any fat person. The muscles tighten up and the fat begins to fade away. On the other hand, thin people gain weight from walking, if it is not carried to an excess. It whips up their stomach, liver and appetite. Fast walking helps the lean and hungry-looking and long distance and continuous walking enables the obese to reduce.

To walk correctly the foot must land almost flat. This gives a good, large surface for the weight of the body. The feet should never turn in nor should the heel bend over. The knees and arms should be loose and elastic and every inch of the chest expanded in breathing.

Seeing Week-End Market With Aunt Maria's Eyes

Eggs a dollar a dozen!

The week-end market had at least one sensation to relieve the monotony of a dreary, dripping Saturday forenoon.

"What about the luxury tax? Is that included? Or would you call it a war tax?" asked a woman who stood up under the shock to the extent of being still facetious.

The owner of the small basket of precious hen fruit refused to be amused. "These eggs were laid, every one of them, in the past few days," she said, "and fresh eggs have been going for a dollar a dozen ever since the market opened today."

Even the farmers' wives, who declared themselves in a hurry to sell out and get home as soon as possible, held firm. In the majority of cases, to the dollar a dozen price for their absolutely fresh eggs. By 12 o'clock several still had small lots of fresh eggs and consistently refused to countenance any drop.

Are new-laid eggs worth 30 cents a dozen more than eggs that are "good and fresh"? The "good and fresh" variety were retailed for 70 cents a dozen not five feet from the spot where new-laid eggs were demanding $1. The owner of the "good and fresh" was very candid about admitting that her collection didn't boast the first blush of youth. Still, she could guarantee them for frying or baking.

Fifty feet away from one entrance to the basement a market gardener was selling eggs for 70c and gave her guarantee that they were strictly fresh. "It pays to look around," said a woman who walked off in triumph with a dozen of these.

Bad Day for Humans.

Saturday was a good day to get home quickly from the market. Any hope that the weather might clear by noon were sadly disappointed. The rain, pouring in torrents, washed until they shone like jewels the bunches of radishes and white, pearly complexioned onions, peppers red and green, and many other products of garden and orchard that contrasted gaily with the murky atmosphere, the brown-grey mud and the dirty pools.

"I know enough to come in out of the rain," said one farmer's wife cheerfully, as she stood in a side doorway of the market house calling from her van-tage ground around her wares. "I don't care if it rains, I'll be home before it stops." "Stood under my umbrella until it almost got soaked through," she continued, "and now I'm waiting for the rain to let up so I can pack up and go home."

"Packing up to go home" seemed to be the big idea all over the market, among those who stood valiantly by their "stuff," soaked by the rain, inclined to be disgruntled with the people who asked prices, handled goods, then passed on without buying. Even the rabbits for week-end pot-pies looked more forlorn and bedraggled than the previous week. Sixty-five pairs of them there had been, but these dwindled in numbers to quite a surprising degree by noon.

Eleven o'clock was a very good time to get a bargain in poultry, though all poultry was by no means offered at bargain prices, notwithstanding the oft-repeated statement that in a hurry to get packed up and go home.

Was it an echo from long-past days that a pair of chickens could be purchased for $1.50? The June bride was just about to snap them up when the experienced housewife gave a bit of advice. "They really are nice little chickens, but think what a trouble you will have cleaning them. I always prefer one large chicken to two small ones. I think it is better value in every way, provided you make a wise choice in other respects."

Telling Chicken's Age.

"That is what I want to know," said the June bride, "how do you know a chicken is young, and how can you tell that it was healthy?"

"Press the end of the breastbone and if it gives easily, it is a young bird," said the housewife, delighted to find somebody needed telling. "I never buy a fowl unless the breastbone is well covered with flesh, but I do not depend on the weight altogether. If the fat is yellow and elastic then it is likely to be a good buy. If the fat is hard, white,

BAZAAR WAS SUCCESSFUL.

The proceeds from the bazaar, given by the Harrietsville Women's Institute, amounted to $55. The bazaar was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall. A feature of the afternoon was the making of a comforter for a needy member. In the evening a splendid program was given, which was greatly appreciated.

Thirty cents would buy at the right place a six-quart basket of artichokes. "The kind you pay 15c to 20c a quart for in the stores," announced the grower. "Say," he said to Aunt Maria, "what do you do with these here artichokes?" We always cook 'em at home, but a woman came along just a little while ago and wanted me to pick out all the little ones for her. She said she made salad of them or some such stuff as that. It was some kind of garbage mixture anyhow. I don't go much on them myself. Straight cooking for me every time and knowing just what you are eating."

Talking of salads, there were bunches of little green onions for 5 cents each, radishes of the small variety at 5 cents a bunch, and a scarcity of lettuce at two bunches for 15 cents.

For the bouquet for the table it was possible to get a fluffy bunch of pale pink chrysanthemums for 25 cents. Not far away the yellow mums that were real sunshine cost 25 cents apiece. And many were the people who visited the grey-day market, who yielded to the temptation to purchase a bit of brightness in the form of a bunch of chrysanthemums, a blooming begonia or thrifty fern.

Mrs. R. A. Bayly was the hostess of a bridge of two tables on Saturday, given in honor of Miss Julia Lewis of Goderich.

Mrs. Villiers Sankey of Toronto spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Malone, King street, before sailing for England.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradden, King street, have returned from Scotland, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Bradden's sister, Mrs. A. L. Struthers.

A large number dropped in for a cup of tea and to leave a hankie, last Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Edward Parnell Jr., Bruce street. The shower was held to procure handkerchiefs for the bazaar, which is being given in December by the Askin Street Ladies' Aid. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the singing of several solos by Miss Frances Cullis.

COOKING LESSONS THE RIGHT WAY TO COOK EGGS.

EGGS should always be cooked at a low temperature. The reason for this is that the white of egg contains pure albumen. Albumen "sets" at a temperature of about 150 degrees Fahrenheit. In a hard-cooked egg the white should be solid and firm, but not tough and leathery.

If the water in which the egg is cooked is boiling hard the white will be tough and indigestible. Eggs combined with milk should be kept below the boiling point.

Boiled Eggs.

Allow two cups of water for each egg to be boiled. Bring slowly to the boiling point, but do not let bubble. The egg should be jelly-like all the way through. If the white is wanted set let eggs stand in the scalding water for two minutes.

For hard-boiled eggs let them stand in the water for half an hour. The water should be kept just below the bubbling point. As soon as the eggs are done pour off the hot water and pour cold water over them. This prevents discoloration of the white.

Poached Eggs.

Put a frying-pan two-thirds full of boiling water. Add two teaspoons of salt for each quart of water. The water should be ready to boil, but not bubbling. As the eggs will cool the water keep the pan over the fire. Drop the eggs carefully into the water. Cover and let cook till the white is firm and the top of the egg is filmed over with white.

Scrambled Eggs.

Allow 1 egg for each person and 1 for the pan. Allow 2 tablespoons milk for each egg and 2 teaspoons butter. One-half teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper should season 5 eggs. Melt butter in frying-pan. Add milk and drop in eggs without beating. Lift the stir with a fork until the whole is a fluffy mass. The fire should not be too hot. Season with salt and pepper just before removing from fire.

Plain Omelet.

Use 5 eggs, 5 tablespoons milk, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter.

Put eggs, salt, pepper and milk in mixing bowl. Beat till very light. Put butter in an omelet or frying-pan. When sizzling hot pour in egg mixture. As the mixture cooks lift one edge with a spatula, letting the uncooked part run under. Do this all the way around the pan until the whole is cooked.

Light Omelet.

Use 4 eggs, 4 tablespoons water, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter.

Break eggs and separate the yolks from the whites. Put the yolks in a mixing bowl and the whites on a separate plate. Add water to yolks and beat until thick and lemon colored. Add salt and pepper. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Cut and fold into yolks until the yolks are all absorbed. Melt butter in frying-pan and turn pan to butter sides.

When sizzling hot pour in omelet and put over an even fire that will brown the omelet on the bottom. At the end of 5 minutes put in a hot oven to cook the top. When firm to the touch the omelet is done. Fold and turn on a hot platter.

Fried Eggs.

Use bacon or lard for frying eggs. The fat should be half an inch deep in the bottom of the frying-pan. When smoking hot drop in the eggs. Put on a close-fitting cover and cook over a slow fire till the white is firm and the yolk pink on top.

Mary Goes Shopping in Paris

BY MARIAN HALE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Mary Pickford has been shopping over in Paris. Of course, every woman of the youthful, ingenue type will immediately take notice.

Mary purchased a lot of gowns in Paris, but none of them is more girlishly chic than the rose taffeta for afternoon.

This simple bodice with the slightly low neck and with the merest suggestion of a tiny cap for a sleeve has a bouffant skirt with very full overskirt effect at the sides.

A big rosette with pendant ribbons decorates the corsage.

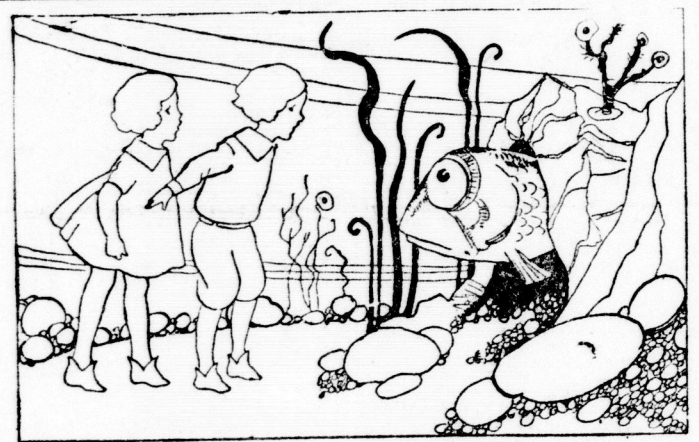

A charming evening gown of white is trimmed in white satin ribbons, forming long lines on the skirt.

Silken flowers decorate the ribbons and tiny wreaths of flowers strap the shoulders. This gown is of chiffon over taffeta.

Both gowns are long.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS. A HOUSE OF PEARL

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"Oh, we beg your pardon," they exclaimed, backing out in a hurry.

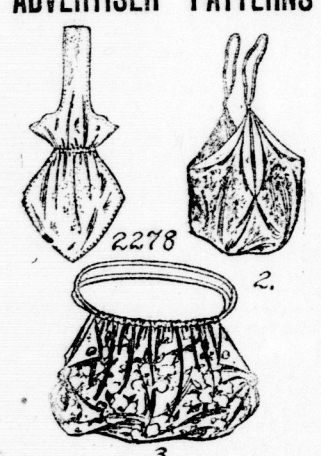

Away went the Twins to hunt for Mr. Hermit Crab. First they peeped into all the holes in the rocks, and nearly got into trouble when they discovered Mrs. Butterfish's eggs in one of them and Mr. Butterfish standing guard.

"Oh, we beg your pardon!" they exclaimed, backing out in a hurry. "We're only looking for Mr. Hermit Crab."

"Well, he isn't here," said Mr. Butterfish shortly. So they went on. They blundered into Mr. Stickleback's house in the coraline sea-bush, and stumbled over Mr. Goby's house, under the cockle-shell by the popweed tangle, and went through the oyster bed, and they asked Lobster and Tub Terrapin and Cuckie Cotton-Spinner and Silvery Shrimp, and oh, everybody nearly under the water, but nobody knew where Mr. Hermit Crab was. There were loads of whelk-shells around, but all of them were as empty as drums. Mr. Crab had been there and gone, and so, of course, had the dweller of each shell gone with him—inside of him, I should say.

And then something happened. Suddenly the Twins came upon a strange person, a queer Wiggleson person he was, and he was very busy. He was busy building, or rather remodeling, his house. And although he himself was most peculiar-looking, having about a dozen arms and a pair of queer-looking

WOMEN'S CLUBS

ALLIANCE HOLDS SOIREE.

About one hundred guests were present at the soiree on Saturday night at Kenross, when Mrs. C. R. Somerville entertained the members of the Alliance Francaise.

Miss Kathleen Cronyn, who has recently returned from France, gave a most interesting address on that country, speaking chiefly on the northern part. Miss Cronyn gave a vivid description of the devastated area, comparing it with France she had visited before the war. During the evening a clever French operetta was presented by Miss Foley and Mrs. Giles, after which a dainty supper was served by the hostess, the tables being decked with lovely flowers.

WARDS GIVE REPORTS.

The various wards, organized recently by the Women's Conservative Organization, met on Saturday afternoon, and reported the progress they have been making. All the reports given were very favorable. At the meeting to be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 24, the women will be shown, by the use of mock ballots, the proper way to mark a ballot.

REPEAT PLAY.

Owing to repeated requests the Ladies' Aid of Dundas Centre Methodist Church is repeating the play, "Aunt Mary's Album," on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29th.

LIBERAL WOMEN MEET.

The executive of the Women's Liberal Association meets Monday afternoon to hear reports from ward conveners and transact business in connection with the work which women supporters are doing in connection with Mr. C. R. Somerville's campaign. So many requests have come in for more public meetings, following the success of the one addressed by Mrs. Grant Needham of Toronto on Thursday last, that the question will be taken up of securing other speakers of prominence in the near future.

Construction of Huge Detroit-Windsor Bridge To Commence December 1

WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—Backed by industrial leaders of Canada and the United States, the construction of a great international bridge over the Detroit River from Windsor to Detroit will be commenced Dec. 1. Already $3,000,000 worth of securities to finance the undertaking have been placed in the hands of a Toronto brokerage for sale. The best engineering talent obtainable on both sides of the boundary line has been enlisted. Charles E. Fowler, one of the most prominent engineers on the continent, is chief engineer. Although it will take four years to complete the huge structure, members of the company behind the project claim that it will be open for traffic before that length of time has elapsed.

SPEED BRIDGE FROM WINDSOR TO U. S. SHORE

Industrial Leaders of Two Countries To Start Construction Work Dec. 1.

TO BEGIN FOUR-YEAR TASK

WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—At last the dream of a quarter of a century—the great Detroit-Windsor bridge—is on the sure road to realization. Plans have been drawn and a company has been formed. On December 1 the actual preliminary work will begin. Charles E. Fowler, chairman and chief engineer of the board of consulting engineers has been given power by the board of directors to lay final plans, clear up questions of law and secure shore frontage.

The American company, which is co-operating with a Canadian one in furthering the project, has reached an agreement with the Michigan Public Utilities Commission as to the amount of stock to be issued and the method of sale. Already a contract has been made with a Canadian brokerage firm to sell the issue.

When asked for details regarding the construction, Mr. Fowler said: "The detailed plans have been made for the exact loads the bridge is to carry, and the sizes and weights of all parts of the structure accurately determined. The total weight of the bridge and approaches is 1,070,000 tons, and the cost at present prices is well inside the estimates made in 1912."

To Carry 30 Million Autos.
"The span, as fixed, is 1,802 feet over the river and it will carry a load of 26,000 pounds per foot of length. The weight of the main span is 27,700 pounds per foot, and the span will be the longest and heaviest in the world. There will be eight parallel wire cables to carry the highway and railway decks. Two cables will be 18 inches in diameter, and six will be 21 inches in diameter, with a total of 52,280 wires of No. 6 gauge, supporting a pull of 145,000,000 pounds. The highway deck will be 27 feet wide, with two trolley tracks, two sidewalks, and two roadways that will carry six lanes of traffic or a capacity of 30,000,000 automobiles per year. The lower deck will have four railway tracks to carry electrically operated trains, and a 20-foot space for public utilities such as wires and pipes.

"The towers of the bridge will rise to a height of 280 feet above the water, and will be made up of plates of nickel steel of a thickness of two inches, having a cross section of six feet by 17 feet. The four steel posts of this size in each tower will be braced together by Moorish steel arch portals, giving an architectural effect similar to the Woolworth building in New York city. These towers will be about 150 feet higher than any other structure in this vicinity and will be visible on clear days from great distances outside the city.

"The floors will be carried by four trusses of very heavy nickel steel construction, hung from the wire cables, and will be 35 feet deep by 1,503 feet in length.

Will Take Four Years.
"The longest of the three East River bridges at New York city is the Williamsburg bridge, which has a span of 1,400 feet. The longest span in the world is the great Quebec cantilever of 1,800 feet span, while the greatest bridge in the world is that across the Firth of Forth in Scotland, which has two cantilever spans of 1,710 feet each. The construction of the Detroit River bridge will occupy about four years, but it is expected that highway traffic can be provided for in less time by placing four of the eight cables at first, and only that portion of the steelwork necessary for carrying the highway deck. The other four cables can then be added, as well as the balance of the steelwork, without interfering with the traffic of automobiles, auto-trucks, and street cars over the upper or highway deck."

Credit for the realization will be due to two men—Allan A. Templeton, former president of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, and A. F. Healey, former president of the Border Chamber of Commerce, Windsor residents say. It was these two leaders in municipal life on either side of the river who co-operated to form an organization of Canadians and Americans to back the project. That the scheme is receiving the indorsement of a large section of each country can be seen from the following partial list of promoters:

Canadians—A. F. Healey, G. M. McGregor, W. L. McGregor, Hiram Walker, H. B. Walker, C. S. King, Dr. J. O. Reame, H. H. Joyce, William Woollett, W. H. Campbell and P. O. Pocock, all of Windsor; A. G. Kingston, St. Catharines; W. H. Merritt, Toronto; Carl R. Jordan and F. H. Southam, of Montreal.

Detroiters—Allan A. Templeton, W. J. Gray, Alvan Macaulay, H. M. Jewett, Albert H. Kahn, Henry M. Leland, F. J. Fisher, F. W. Davis, Jun., J. W. Austin, W. B. Gregory, C. E. Fowler, M. E. Woolring, C. B. Van Dusen, Oscar Weinber, J. J. Crowley, A. T. Waterfall, S. D. Callender.

Faced Difficulties.
The project has only reached its present stage after breaking down many barriers which Ontario had proved adamant. The lake carriers had to a certain extent opposed the scheme because it interfered with them, but when the head of the carriers, William Livingston, was approached he agreed with the committee, after certain terms and conditions had been arranged. Both the American congress and the Dominion parliament put their stamp of approval on the proposition, and the final spike was driven when the Michigan Public Utilities Commission agreed that $30,000,000 in securities could be issued. An open mortgage was granted the Guaranty Trust Company of Detroit and filed in Ottawa for that amount.

The officers and directors of the company include: W. B. Gregory, of Gregory, Mayer & Thom, Detroit, president; Hiram H. Walker, vice-president; J. W. Austin, Detroit, secretary; W. J. Pulling, president of the Canadian Transit Co.; Allen A. Templeton, Detroit; Seamus T. Co., A. F. Healey, Windsor, president of the Mutual Finance Company; Charles B. Van Dusen, of the Kresge Company, Detroit; James O. Murray, Detroit, former minister of public works for Ontario.

The board of directors has closed a contract with R. T. Scott & Co., stock brokers, of Toronto, for the sale of the securities. This company, which has 22 offices in the United States for the sale of the stock.

Among the engineering talent secured for the construction are: Charles E. Fowler, sponsor of streams and builder of huge structures, chief engineer; Geo. H. Pegram, chief engineer of the International Rapid Transit Co., of New York; Prof. William H. Burr, of New York City; Col. M. Monseratt, of Montreal; Prof. C. R. Young, of the University of Toronto, and Prof. H. E. Riggs, of the University of Michigan. The first five of these men form a board of consulting engineers, and Prof. Riggs is special consulting engineer.

It has been predicted by those factoring the scheme that when completed the bridge will be the means of increasing Windsor's population to 300,000 in less than a decade. Detroit will reap an equally large benefit, they say.

4 BANDITS FLEE WHEN MAN SHOUTS
Attempt Hold-Up of Two Women and Their Escort.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—During an attempt at a hold-up was staged on Edna street, Walkerville, tonight when four would-be bandits jumped from an auto and flashing guns in the faces of Mrs. Wm. Moore and Mrs. J. P. Fraser, who were being escorted home by Fred Arnold, at whose home they had been visiting, demanded their money. Arnold shouted out, "I know two of you men," and the bandits immediately fled in their car.

Later the police arrested Geo. Cheswick, Dan Smith, Mike Devitt and Harold Law, all of Walkerville, on suspicion of the hold-up. The men are alleged to have abandoned a carload of whiskey when the officers sighted them. Waterman fired at Charles Lajoie, one of the suspects, but missed. When Lajoie grappled with the officer, the latter shot him through the hand. In the struggle Waterman's gun was exploded again, the bullet entering the officer's leg.

In addition to Lajoie the men under arrest gave their names as Alexander Boyer, Alexander Verdo and James Powers, all of Montreal.

LONDON WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTO ON KING STREET
Mrs. Mary Parsons of 205 Adelaide street is reported as resting easily at Victoria Hospital. Mrs. Parsons was struck by a motor car on King street, near Colborne, about 7 o'clock Saturday night. She received severe bruises and was badly shaken up.

KILLED WHEN CAR HITS TREE
John Chittim of Walkerville Died Immediately After Accident.
POLICE GUARD ASSOCIATES
[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—John Chittim, aged 20, of Walkerville, was instantly killed tonight, when a high-powered car struck a tree after having collided with a horse and rig on the Walker road, just outside the town limits.

The horse, which was being driven by Martin Klooyz, was killed by the impact of the auto, and carried for about 100 yards before it fell off. The car struck the carcase and swerved into a tree. Chittim being instantly killed.

Klooyz's buggy was entirely smashed, and Klooyz was injured so much that it was necessary to take him to the Hotel Dieu, but his injuries are not considered serious.

There were four other men in the car along with Chittim, George Soucheau, Erie street, Windsor; Ray Battersby, Walter S. Palmerton, all of Walkerville; and Charles Malott, who was being fractured, but all the men were bruised so badly that they were taken to Hotel Dieu, where they are under the supervision of the police.

LONDONER SHOT IN WALKERVILLE
Alleged To Have Entered House by an Upper Window.

WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—William Dowdell, 30 years of age, said to be a resident of London, was tonight shot and his left leg fractured when he was discovered by Fred McLeod of 210 Windsor mere road, in his house. Dowdell is said by the police to have two or three aliases, among them Davis and McDonald, it is alleged, entered the house at the top flat, and after going through the apartment, was making his way downstairs when he was met by McLeod who lives in the lower apartment. Directly he was challenged he turned to flee and McLeod fired at him.

The police were called and Dowdell was taken to the Hotel Dieu, where he is under police watch. Dowdell told the police that he has a wife and two children living in London.

BANDITS HOLD UP WINDSOR STORE
WINDSOR, Nov. 20.—Marshall Parker, grocer, 1217 Erie street east, was held up and robbed at midnight Saturday by two armed and masked bandits who asked for 10 cents worth of candy and then pushed guns in Parker's face, and drove five customers from the store. The cash register was then broken open, but the bandits failed to realize more than $15 for their gun play. Parker having emptied the register an hour previous to the thugs' visit.

CORRECT ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING SPEAKERS
Major Graham will be the speaker at the supper and concert to be held at the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church Tuesday, Nov. 22. Through an error it was announced that Ex-Mayor Graham would be the speaker.

More Encouragement For Canadian Oil Fields, Ltd.
Those connected with the promotion of Canadian Oil Fields, Limited, have reason to feel encouraged by the progress being made in the development of their property. The management have just received the following letter from Mr. P. F. Newhouse, C.E., of Bowmanville, Ont.

"I have tested the last sample of sands you sent me, taken from your well at Shelburne at a depth of about 2,500 feet.

"These sands tested 55 per cent. ammonia. The quality of this oil is equal to the best I have ever tested from sands before production is reached.

"The result of this test, when taken in conjunction with my former tests, convinces me that production is certain."

GRAIN

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Opening futures: Wheat—Nov., 1/2c to 1/2c higher at $1.05 1/2; Dec., 1/2c to 1/2c higher at $1.05 1/2; May, 1/2c to 1/2c higher at $1.05 1/2; 55c; Dec. unchanged at 42c; May unchanged at 43c.

Flax—Dec., 1/2c higher at $1.67 1/2.

Rye—Nov., 1/2c higher at $0.92 1/2; May, 1/2c higher at $0.92 1/2.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Opening: Wheat—Dec., $1.08 1/2; May, $1.11.

Corn—Dec., 48c; May, 54c.

Oats—Dec., 53c; May, 58c.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Wheat prices scored a material advance today in the early trading. Smallness of receipts gave confidence to the bulls, and there was talk that the supplies east of the Rockies had been heavily over-supported. A liberal decrease in domestic visible supply total today was looked for. Opening quotations, which varied from 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher, were followed by a slight reaction and then by decided fresh gains.

Government financing of the corn crop continued to stimulate the corn market. After opening 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher, prices showed further returns.

Oats were firm in sympathy with other cereals, starting unchanged to 1/2c and later advancing all around.

Liverpool, Nov. 21.—Wheat—Spot, No. 2 hard winter, 10s 2d; No. 1 northern, 11s; No. 2 northern, 10s 2d; No. 3 northern, 9s 11d.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Cattle—Receipts, 5,418. There are about 5,000 cattle for sale. The run is about 1,000 short of last Monday, and the quality is not as good. However, a good trade is developing on fair to choice butcher cattle and on canners and cutters. Several loads of butcher cattle around 1,100 lbs average sold at $7.75, with odd individuals selling up to $8.00. Heavy steers are moving slowly. One choice butcher cow brought $25, with the bulk at $4.75. Feeding steers of good quality are selling up to $5.00. Prospects are for a fair clean-up at steady prices to a shade higher on choice quality. Quotations: Butcher steers, choice $5.00 to $5.25; good $4.50 to $5.00; medium, $4.00 to $4.50; 4. butcher heifers, choice, $5.00 to $5.25; medium, $4.00 to $4.50; common, $3.00 to $3.50; cows, choice, $4.00 to $4.50; medium, $3.00 to $3.50; canners and cutters, $2.00 to $2.50; butchers bulls, good, $3.50 to $4.00; common, $2.00 to $2.50; feeding steers, good, $5.00 to $5.50; fair, $4.50 to $5.00; stockers, good, $4.00 to $4.50; fair, $3.50 to $4.00. Calves—Receipts, 681. Loads of grass calves are moving from 3 3/4c to 4c, while good veal calves are very slow. Quotations: Choice, $10.00 to $11.00; $8.00 to $9.00. Milch Cows—Choice, each, $80 to $100; springs, choice, $90 to $110. Sheep—Receipts, 5,519. The lamb trade was steady at $5.50 to $7.50 for choice. Quotations: Ewes, $1.00 to $1.25; lambs, $5.00 to $7.50. Hogs—Receipts, 7,500. Packers, f. o. b., bid $8.25, being 1/2c lower. The fed and watered bonus has been raised to 6c, making the quotations: Selects, $8.50; light, $8.50; heavy, $7.50; sows, $4.50 to $5.00.

NEW YORK STOCKS
New York, Nov. 21.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The stock market continued its recent uncertain course at the opening of today's session. Speculative activity indicated further restraint as a result of latest developments at the armament conference. Favorites of the oil, equipment and utility trusts, especially Mexican Petroleum, General Electric, Baldwin Locomotive and American Telephone, were firm in strength, but others were mostly at recessions from last week's final quotations. Preliminary foreign exchange rates, including German marks, were comparatively steady. [Reported by Jones, 32 Wall Street, for the Company for The Advertiser.]

LIVER TROUBLE
BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach foul and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movements of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Caron, Donavon, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with my liver and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two vials and I have had no more attacks."

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.
