WAS M'DUFF SHOT DOWN?

Believed the Holton Slayer was Himself Murdered by Confederate

Inspector Rogers in Chatham—Declines to Discuss the Case

Was McDuff Shot? Provincial Detective Rogers is in the city to-day in connection with the old Holton murder case. Inspector Rogers is one of the most efficient government officers and has his work at his fingers' ends. He is, however, very uncommunicative to the press.

It would seem, however, that the story of McDuff's return is not the one credited by the authorities. It is believed, in fact, that McDuff himself was murdered, being shot through the back by a confederate in a dispute over the division of the spoils and buried in the bush near Harrow.

The character of Mr. Rogers' investigation he declines to disclose.

A HIGH SALARIED STAR

The contract signed by Mrs. Janis Bierbower, mother of Elsie Janis, the wonderful imitator, for the appearance of Elsie under the management of Leiber & Co., for a term of three years, is said to call for the payment to Elsie Janis by her employers of $150,000—$50,000 a year—the same salary as is paid to the President of the United States. This is undoubtedly the highest salary paid to any female star on the American stage to-day. The contract becomes operative January 1st, 1906. Miss Janis comes to the Opera House here on Saturday next, in "The Little Duchess."

Press feeders are wanted at this office.

THE HONORABLE DR. PYNE ARRIVES IN THE CITY

Big Deputation of Citizens and Public Officials Greet Ontario's Minister of Education—Will Open the Central School Fair and Present Planet Junior Medals To-night.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, and Mrs. Pyne arrived in the city at noon to-day, and were greeted with one of the most enthusiastic and spontaneous receptions ever tendered to any visitor in the city.

When the 1.11 C. P. R. express carrying the distinguished visitors pulled into the depot there was a large deputation of citizens and public officials waiting to receive the guests. Among the number were, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Bray, H. S. Clements, M. P., Phil. H. Bowyer, M. P., P. Dr. McKeough, W. N. Morley, W. Robertson, S. Stephenson, Dr. Charteris, Fred Stone, Dr. Thornton, W. R. Landon, J. T. O'Keefe, Geo. Heyward, A. E. Lentestey, R. Paxton, W. H. Benson, W. J. Twohey, Robt. Park, J. W. Plewes, John Stevens, J. W. Humphrey, M. Wilson, W. A. Hadley, W. G. Richards and many others. The deputation represented the Public School Board, Library Board, High School Board, Separate School Board, the Medical Society, and the Liberal and Conservative Associations of West Kent.

After a most cordial reception at the depot the guests and reception committee boarded automobiles which were waiting for them and were conveyed via William and Queen streets to the Garner House, where the party was served with lunch. Dr. McKeough, Dr. Holmes, Dr. R. G. Rutherford, Dr. Cornell, W. Gray and Ald. J. T. O'Keefe very kindly donated the services of their autos for the occasion.

After the lunch the party visited the different educational institutions, where receptions were awaiting them. Hon. Dr. Pyne comes to Chatham with a double purpose—to open the Central School Fair and to present the gold medal which was won by Miss Jean McGregor, of Blenheim, in the recent essay competition conducted by The Planet Junior. These two functions will be performed by him to-night at the Central School. The Minister will not leave the city till to-morrow afternoon, and he will be at the Garner House between the hours of ten and eleven to-morrow morning to receive any who may wish to call on him.

SAD CASE

Mrs. Roxanna Webb Has No Place to go—Is an Indigent of Raleigh Township.

Roxanna Webb, the aged colored woman who, it will be remembered, strayed away from the House of Refuge and was found insensible on the street some time ago, is again in trouble and is in a terribly destitute condition.

Yesterday Mrs. Webb was found by the police on the street and given shelter in the Police Station. She has no place to go and the authorities have no means of providing for her. It is understood that the House of Refuge cannot take her back without new papers and the question is where will she go.

Chief Holmes has written to the Reeve of Raleigh telling him that she is being kept here at his expense and asking him to make some provision for her.

Mrs. Webb is the woman who had a fine farm in Raleigh and her experience with local money lenders and high rates of interest on loans soon landed her into the world friendless and penniless.

AN OLD RESIDENT

Arthur Green, of Pontiac, Mich., an old Chathamite, is spending a couple of days in town visiting his daughter, Mrs. Tickner. Mr. Green was formerly caretaker of Victoria Park for a number of years, and while he was here he was a highly respected and esteemed citizen.

Mr. Green is 79 years of age and is hale and hearty. He has undergone two surgical operations in two years, and says he is now able to do as good a day's work as he ever was. He is living with his daughter, Mrs. Tickner, in Pontiac, and he likes his Michigan home although he says there is no place like Chatham.

TYPHOID AND SMALLPOX.

An Increase of Cases Throughout the Province—Deer's Record More Satisfactory—Consumption's Harvest.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The Provincial Board of Health has issued the following report concerning the health of the Province in September:

The returns from 761 division registrars for the month of September gave 2,128 deaths from all causes, being 141 more than were reported for the same month last year, but the increase is largely due to the fact that 38 more division registrars made returns, making the death rate 12.1 in 1,000.

The table of infectious diseases shows a decrease in the number of deaths, and an increase of nearly one hundred in the number of cases, which would indicate that some of the diseases were of a milder type than in September a year ago.

Smallpox and diphtheria prevailed to about the same extent, the latter showing 21 fewer cases, but with the same number of deaths.

Scarlet fever reached a very low point, only 27 cases and one death occurring.

Typhoid fever was somewhat more prevalent throughout the Province, the reports gave 278 cases and 45 deaths, while for the corresponding period last year 182 cases with 90 deaths were reported. The apparent high mortality in 1904 is no doubt due to a great many cases not being reported by the attending physicians, while the secretaries of the local boards made returns of the deaths of the 233 deaths from the different infectious diseases, consumption caused 152.

CUT OFF BY THE STRIKE

Moscow Is Isolated, and Central Belt Is Paralyzed.

General Railway Strike at Kharkoff, a Most Important Railway Centre, Cuts Off Another Great Section of the Empire—Men Resolve to Hold Out Until Demands Are Granted and Arrested Comrades Are Released.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—The railroad strike situation shows no signs of amelioration. Traffic across the central belt is paralyzed, while a general strike, which broke out yesterday at Kharkoff, has shut off communication in another great section of the Empire. Kharkoff is the most important railroad centre in southern Russia. The strike affects, among other lines, one to the Donetz coal region, on which Russia largely depended for fuel during the crisis in the oil regions, and the line to Odessa and Sebastopol. Moscow is isolated.

Men Will Hold Out.

Moscow, Oct. 24.—A meeting of railroad men, held in the university here yesterday adopted a resolution to continue the strike until their demands are satisfied and the arrested men of the union are released. Forty detachments of the railway battalion have arrived here for locomotive service on the Moscow-Kazan line.

Operations have ceased on the Nicholas Railway. The evening train for St. Petersburg did not leave Moscow. Trains on the Windau Railway have ceased running and Moscow is still completely isolated from the rest of the Empire.

There is only enough meat in the city to supply the demand for a week. All commercial correspondence has to be conducted by telegraph.

Situation Very Serious.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—(3.40 a.m.)—The strike situation has now entered on a highly serious phase. The movement is spreading rapidly to all the railroads of the Empire, and apparently cannot be stopped, while in many cities it is communicating itself to the mill and factory employees. The general strike in all branches of labor, which the Socialists planned for the end of this year, is seemingly bursting forth of its own volition.

Witte in Czar's Favor.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—It was persistently reported in the clubs and in Government circles late last night that the Emperor yesterday had appointed Count Witte premier with the portfolio of Minister of Finance. All the papers this morning gave prominence to the report. Count Witte, it now seems, has definitely come into Imperial favor. The reception of the Countess Witte by the Empress yesterday was considered a singular evidence of the Emperor's determination to confide in his fortunes to the hands of Count Witte. The Countess had never before been received at Minister in the minutes, the Emperor was reported to have said to him: "Remember you are not married." The fixing of his wife's social status, which has been one of Count Witte's ambitions, must rank as one of the triumphs of his life.

Diplomatic Relations to Resume.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—Regular diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan are expected to be renewed in six weeks.

More Cholera.

Warsaw, Oct. 24.—Four cases of cholera were discovered yesterday among the political prisoners in the citadel.

"Socksless Jerry" Is Dead.

Wichita, Kansas, Oct. 24.—Former Congressman Jerry Simpson died yesterday morning. He was born in New Brunswick on March 31, 1842. At 18 he began life as a sailor, and during twenty-eight years following the sea, commanded many large vessels on the great lakes. In the civil war he served in the 12th Illinois Infantry. He came to Kansas in 1878. He served three terms in Congress. After he left Congress, in 1894, he has been engaged in stock farming. He achieved the title "Socksless Jerry" by discarding that article of apparel.

West Indies Send Delegates.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—Something of imperial character is to be given to the sessions of the tariff commission in Ottawa by the attendance of delegates from the British West Indies Islands. Jamaica some time ago intimated that a representative of that colony would appear before the commission, and yesterday the Department of Trade and Commerce received word from the Government of Trinidad and Tobago that it also would be represented. The preferential tariff applies to both Jamaica and Trinidad.

To Strangle Market.

London, Oct. 24.—(C. A. P.)—T. J. McBride, recently general manager of a harvester company of Toronto, according to a report in The Times from Wellington, New Zealand, has been saying the American Harvester Trust, which has invaded New Zealand, will adopt such measures as it finds necessary to secure the New Zealand trade. It will, says McBride, strangle the trade for a surety.

Priest Starts Revival.

Quebec, Oct. 24.—A great temperance revival, following along the lines of the very successful one conducted in this district by the famous Father Chiquay some fifty or more years ago, when he was a young Catholic priest, was started in Quebec last Sunday by Father Gauvreau, the rector of the parish of St. Roch, in that division.

There is no such thing as preparation after the event.

Shoe

Correctness

Proper style in footwear is one of the crucial tests of good taste.

It is not, however, a matter of cost, necessarily, except that it demands skill in the designing and making. All the smartness and style of seven or eight dollar footwear can be duplicated in shoes at three dollars.

They are reproduced with absolute fidelity in our three dollar shoes for women.

And more than that—for good long wear they are bargains at the price.

The Letter-Box

THE INCHES AVENUE CASE.

To the Editor of The Planet:

Sir,—In view of the recent developments regarding the Inches avenue sidewalk I consider it my duty in justice to myself as well as to the other seven ratepayers on the street who signed the petition for the changing of the walk, to lay certain significant facts regarding Mayor Cowan's connection with this matter before the public.

I shall try to be as brief as possible.

On the first occasion on which the question came before the Council the petition to have the location of the walk changed, although signed by the necessary two-thirds, was blocked on a tie vote. How the Mayor worked this is neither here nor there. There are more important facts to consider.

At the next meeting of the Council eight out of ten aldermen were in favor of granting the prayer of the petition and Ald. O'Keefe accordingly gave notice of a by-law to be introduced at the next meeting, on Oct. 16th.

When that meeting came Mayor Cowan presented a petition signed by six persons who claimed to be ratepayers asking that the walk be laid as originally intended. One of these six was struck off by the Clerk. Of the remaining five one was Mayor Cowan and the other a man named Lachlan, to whom the Mayor had on the 12th day of October made a deed of certain vacant lots on Inches avenue. Note that this conveyance was made after the date on which Ald. O'Keefe had given notice of a by-law to change the location of the walk as asked for by two-thirds of the ratepayers on the street at the previous meeting. Both copies of this deed were handed into the Clerk by Mayor Cowan. My solicitor objected to Lachlan being counted as a ratepayer as the deed had not been registered and as there was nothing to show that it had ever been delivered to Lachlan. Nobody knew who Lachlan was, where he lived or anything about him. On any of these points the Mayor did not choose to enlighten the Council. He assured the Clerk, however, that the conveyance to Mr. Lachlan was bona fide and Mr. Merritt thereupon decided to leave Lachlan's name on the petition. Counting Lachlan made thirteen ratepayers on the street. On my petition there were eight. With Lachlan off we would have had the necessary two-thirds and the Council could have passed the by-law.

On Tuesday morning it was discovered that Lachlan was a bookkeeper in the employ of the London Shoe Company, of London. A telephone conversation with this gentleman did not tend to allay suspicions regarding the nature of the transaction. An investigation was begun and on Thursday the Mayor registered the deed.

Yesterday morning the City Clerk, Ald. O'Keefe, my solicitor and myself consulted the City Solicitor as to what he thought should be done. He suggested that it might be advisable for us to wait on Mayor Cowan and ask him, in order to clear up the whole matter to make a clear statutory declaration (which the Municipal Act provides may be accepted by the Clerk as evidence that a man not assessed is the owner of property) to the effect that the conveyance by him to Lachlan was bona fide and that a desire to get Mr. Lachlan on the Mayor's petition did not enter into the transaction in any way.

Pursuant to the City Solicitor's suggestion I interviewed the Mayor in company with Ald. O'Keefe and my solicitor. He was told what Mr. Wilson had suggested, was asked to make the necessary statutory declaration, and refused to do so.

The Mayor will reply that the deed he registered. Quite true, it was registered, but not until I began to investigate the matter. There were four days between the 12th and the 16th in which that deed could have been registered.

He will likewise reply that he received on Thursday from Mr. Lachlan "by express," $900 in currency, the consideration mentioned in the deed. I dare say he did. Isn't it a funny thing that one business man in re-mitting $900 to another should scorn the use of a bank draft or marked cheque (the usual methods), and should send money in bulk through the express office?

Moreover, up to yesterday afternoon, according to the Mayor's own statement, this $900 had not been deposited by him to his own credit in the bank, but was simply lying there in the package in which it came.

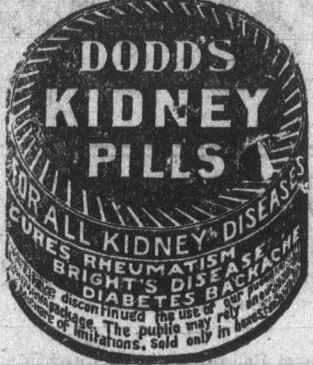

That is all I have to say, Mr. Editor. Mayor Cowan will write and say what he wishes, but he can't remove from the minds of the public the impression that there is something peculiar about that transaction between himself and Mr. Lachlan.

Yours, etc.,
HARRY FITZSIMONS,
Chatham, Oct. 21, 1905.

ability. It is her sweet ingenious youth, her natural unaffected personality that charms. The stage is her playground, the audience her friends, who watch with kindly interest all her antics which please the fancy and arouse the spirits of humor and fun. In "The Little Duchess" Miss Janis has a part in the title role that is just suited to her style of acting, a part that requires just the work which Miss Janis with all her cleverness is able to give. She is ably assisted by Robert Lett, Irving Brooks, George F. Moore, Harry Carter and others whose reputations as fun makers are wide and well known. Then there is Amie Travis, one of the cleverest comedienne on the stage, who adds much to the cleverness of the piece and to the excellence of the performance, while the large and well trained chorus of feminine beauty cannot be equalled in any of the musical comedies of the present day. The scenery and the accessories and the music, the lights and the general ensemble is in keeping with the elaborateness of the production in its entirety.

"HER FIRST FALSE STEP."
Human nature is faithfully depicted in the drama "Her First False Step," which comes to the Grand on Monday, Oct. 30th.

It contains several interesting character types and an abundant lot of good comedy. It is from the pen of the famous playwright, Joseph Le Brandt, which alone is enough to guarantee its high standard of excellence. The play deals with the trials of a young man, Jack Walters, and his sweetheart, Edna Allen, both children of sturdy New England parents. Dan Matthews, the son of the country minister, is also a suitor for the hand of Edna. The night of the wedding between Edna and Jack Walters, Matthews openly accuses Jack of unfaithfulness. Edna believes the accusation and for revenge elopes with and marries Matthews. It is then a battle between Dan Matthews and Jack Walters, and the many scenes that follow show plainly the sufferings of a young and innocent girl at the hands of a villain who proves to be one of New York's most famous crooks. Many new and strong musical specialties are introduced in this play, and patrons of Chatham are promised a rare entertainment.

FIVE YEARS' DYSPEPSIA CURED.

"No one knows what I suffered from stomach trouble and dyspepsia," writes Mr. A. B. Agnew, of Bridgewater. "For the last five years I have been unable to digest and assimilate food. I had no color, my strength ran down and I felt miserable and nervous all the time. I always had a heavy feeling after meals and was much troubled with a dizziness and specks before my eyes. Dr. Hamilton's Pills were just what I needed. They have cured every symptom of my old trouble. My health is now all that can be desired." TILBURY

Oct. 23.—In St. Andrew's English church yesterday Rev. E. Dobson delivered appropriate sermons morning and evening, on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar, taking for his text in the morning the 3rd verse of the 12th Psalm, "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." The reverend gentleman gave a lengthy and interesting history of Lord Nelson, from the time of his birth, his struggles as a young man to succeed, until the time of his death. Speaking of the lessons to be learned from the life and deeds of Lord Nelson, the speaker said, "National tradition is one of the greatest incentives we have to do good. The memory of a glorious past will always help us in the future. The lives of Nelson and Wellington remind us of the European struggles which made such an impression on national sentiment and showed England the great destiny she was called upon to fulfill. Any Englishman, however humble his past may be in the empire, feels that he has to maintain the tradition of law and justice which we have secured for ourselves at such a cost and through such long centuries of struggle. The motto which is traced through every law in the land and through every command given is England expects every man to do his duty. Those little red lines on the map of the world represent places where there are equal rights to all who come under our flag. However we may feel in its practical application it is something to feel that that England expects every man to do his duty, and that injustice exists only in defiance of our most sacred and cherished traditions." The services were closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

A., of this place, conducted the service in the Methodist Church, Ridgetown.

Robert Gladstone, who formerly lived here, but who removed to the west, called on his old friends last week. Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Nov. 12th. Rev. Mr. McLaren, from the west, is expected to conduct the services.

Miss Elizabeth Buller spent Sunday at her home, Thamesville Side road.

Miss Pollin, of Morpeth, is spending the day in town.

Morley Wilkinson, of Selton, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents in Morpeth.

Thanksgiving next Thursday; and many of our people are preparing to take out-of-town trips over the holiday.

Don't think that Bu-Ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." The man who talks most, does least. Kidney remedies that purge and over-stimulate the kidneys upset the stomach, are going to do you mighty little good.

THE GENTLE KIDNEY CURE goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine—except that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urination—and enables the diseased portions of the kidneys to heal and strengthen.

GENEROUS CRIMINALS

SWINDLERS WHO GAVE AWAY BIG FORTUNES IN CHARITY.

Many instances of men who became outrageous robbers for the purpose of relieving misery and distress with their ill gotten gains.

Two or three charitable institutes in Italy owe their foundation to a famous swindler named Roselli, whose whole aim in life seems to have been to benefit poor children who, like himself, were cripples. Originally possessed of a small fortune, he practically beggared himself with this most worthy object. But there, of course, he should have stopped. Instead of doing so, however, he embarked on a series of gigantic frauds, by which he became possessed of many tens of thousands of pounds, which he devoted to the cause of cripples. The disinterestedness of the motive for his crimes is established by the fact that he himself lived most frugally in quite humble circumstances while he was dispensing thousands of pounds in charity, every penny of his ill gotten gains going in this way. Hundreds of cripples and other suffering children learned to bless his name, and it is estimated that he gave away between $80,000 and $90,000 to relieve the sufferings and brighten the lives of those "whom God had not made straight."

During his somewhat brief career as a man of wealth, Redpath, the railway clerk, who swindled his employers of nearly a quarter of a million pounds by means of forged stock certificates, dispensed a very considerable sum of money in charity. Leading a double life and, out of office hours, posing as a successful financier, he was constantly applied to by his acquaintances to assist charities in which they were interested, and he helped others as generously as he had helped himself. To beggars he rarely gave less than a sovereign, and time upon time he went "slumming" in order to help cases of distress.

But it cannot, of course, be asserted that his gigantic frauds were operated by him with the object of being charitable. He was undoubtedly generous and the total amount of money he gave away in charity would have kept him in luxury all his life. Palmer, the daring burglar, it would seem, embarked on his wonderfully successful career of crime solely from perverted philanthropic motives. He lived humbly and gave away all he stole. Redpath lived in such lordly style that one wonders that he should have managed to escape detection for so long as ten years.

Palmer was without doubt the most successful burglar England has ever known, not only because his hauls were generally rich, but because during a whole decade of systematic crime he never once fell into the hands of the police. It is estimated that he "acquired" more than £100,000 in the course of his career, and almost every penny of this was given away in charity. Norwich, where he lived, owes him a debt of gratitude; it is not likely quickly to forget, for his benefactions in that town alone ran into tens of thousands of pounds. No local case of distress ever came under his notice without receiving help from him. An old and crippled particularly evoked his charity, and it is said that he spent upward of £50,000 in establishing an infirmary.

In no small measure was it due to his charitable propensities that Kint, the famous bank clerk who robbed the Bank of Belgium of nearly a million of money, drifted on his career of crime. It was his ambition to be a great philanthropist, but as a bank clerk he had not the means, and, hoping to get rich quickly, he went in for rash speculations. Losing, he robbed his employers to obtain the money with which to pay his account and to make another attempt. He found it comparatively easy to get hold of large sums of money in this way, and he went on stealing not only to pay his losses, but also to obtain funds with which to be charitable while he was waiting for a great stroke of luck to make him rich and thus repay his borrowings.

Luck, however, was against him, and one day he awoke to the fact that he had in all robbed the bank of nearly £1,000,000, which he could never hope to repay. Discovery being inevitable, he fled, only, however, to be caught and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

Milreu, who was said to have been connected with some of the best families in France and to have possessed considerable means until ruined by the Panama canal disaster, was one of the best friends the beggars of Paris ever had, and to obtain funds for helping them he became a systematic thief.

He used to frequent the fashionable streets during the day and pick pockets, and by night, dressed in ragged clothes, he dispensed the spoils to the first beggars he met. For years he continued the practice without being suspected, and it was made clear that he eventually did fall into the hands of the police. When his lodgings were searched sufficiently empty purses were found to fill a large packing case, and it was made clear that he had stolen hundreds of watches and scarves, while he had been pinching and contriving to live a respectable man on a few francs a week saved from the ruin of his fortune.—London Tit-Bits.

How Swallows Build Nests. Swallows and house martins build by sticking together pellets of prepared road mud. Most of the material is obtained from the drying puddles on the high roads. If not mixed with anything else the tendency of these pellets would be to crumble when dry. But the swallow tribe is supplied with a mucous secretion which enables it to gum the particles together. The swallows' nests, from which the Chinese birds' nest soup is made, are constructed of this mucous matter only. An Indian swallow, which builds little boat shaped nests against the trunks of lofty trees, practically makes them of dried saliva.

Worse Than a Battle. The Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker of the City Temple, London, once had a collection made, to the announcement of which he added with deep pathos, "Widows and orphans will not be expected to contribute." A few Sundays later there was another collection for the same object. "This time," said the preacher, "nobody will be exempt, for no battle ever made so many widows and orphans as the announcement made on the previous Sunday."

THE CRISIS IN HUNGARY.

Struggle is Really Between Austria and Hungary and Not a Mere Question of Personalities.

The political crisis in Hungary has reached a point where it seriously imperils the union between Austria and Hungary. Backed by a large majority in the House of Representatives and an overwhelming popular sentiment, the leaders of the coalition party of Hungarians went to Budapest to present to Francis Joseph the conditions upon which they would consent to form a Cabinet and carry on the Hungarian Government. The Emperor-King handed them an ultimatum in which he demanded that they form a Cabinet, but declined to grant any of the concessions they asked. The coalition statesmen refused to yield and returned to Budapest, and Hungary still is without a responsible Government, as it has been for some months. The strained situation can hardly last much longer without some decisive result.

It would be a mistake to regard the struggle as one merely between the Emperor-King and the Hungarians. It is a struggle between the Emperor and Austria on the one side and Hungary on the other. When, fifty-seven years ago, a delegation of Hungarians, headed by Louis Kossuth, obtained at Vienna the Emperor Ferdinand's promise to sanction a constitution for their country, they also secured the promise of one for Austria. This made Hungarians extremely popular in Austria. But the cordial feelings between the peoples of the two countries of the dual monarchy have been almost completely extinguished by a half century of bickering. "To put the matter plainly," said Francis Kossuth, leader of the coalition parties and a son of Louis Kossuth, in a recent magazine article, "the Austrians hate us, perhaps because they know they have wronged us." The Austrians suspect the Hungarians of aiming at the disruption of the union. The Hungarians charge the Austrians with trying to dominate over them as if they were not a free and equal but a conquered and subject people.

The present acute troubles began in 1898-99 when Premier Solomon Szell, at the instance of the Emperor, attempted to pass measures increasing the number of recruits to the Hungarian army and the annual grant to the crown. Riottous obstructionist tactics forced Szell to resign, and Count

FRANCIS KOSSUTH.

(Leader Hungarian Independence Party).

Khuen Hedyevy became Prime Minister. The new Premier abandoned his predecessor's unpopular policy, but a large section of the party of independence refused to desert from its obstructionist tactics unless the Government consented to the use of the Hungarian language instead of the German and of the national emblem in the Hungarian army. The Government positively refused to assent to this proposition, and it has been the burning issue of Hungarian politics ever since. Questions of parliamentary reform, taxation, and rules of parliamentary procedure have also entered into the conflict. At the last election the coalition of parties constituting the opposition elected a large majority of the House of Representatives. Francis Joseph, strongly backed by Austrian sentiment, has heretofore refused to bow to this emphatic expression of Hungarian public opinion, and the signs are that he is resolved never to do so.

The events that have been taking place under remarkably similar circumstances in Scandinavia perhaps throw some light on what is about to take place in Austria-Hungary. It was a famous remark of Bismarck, however, that if the Austrian empire did not exist it would be necessary for the good of Europe to create it, and there seems reason to fear that the dissolution of the dual monarchy of western Europe has been fraught with less serious consequences than an attempted dissolution of the dual monarchy of eastern Europe is likely to be.

Ontario's Fine Roads.

Deputy Game Warden Charles Daniel and Dr. P. N. Henry of Springwells have just returned from a 700-mile automobile trip through Canada. They covered 350 miles each way going to London, Hamilton, Toronto, and farther north. Going in two days, in returning they made the trip in a day and three-quarters. "Those Canadian roads were the finest I ever traveled over," said Daniel. "Most of the country roads were as good as our boulevards here. It was an ideal trip, and we didn't have a breakdown."

A Subtle Defense.

A few years ago a black woman in Natal was charged with drunkenness. With a surprising grasp of the law, however, she pleaded guilty, but urged that the bench had no power to deal with the charge, as she was on private property. Somewhat chagrined, the police withdrew the charge, but taxed her with being in possession of a quantity of liquor. The defendant in the dock again admitted the charge, but in triumphant tones pointed out that the said liquor was contained within her skin and that such a method of conveyance or possession was not an offense within the meaning of the act. After such a subtle defense the lady of much legal learning deserved to escape, but the prosecutor, with a wary smile, inverted the seemingly empty bottle, and, to the annoyance of the damsel, who imagined that she had drained it to the last drop, the said last drop slowly dribbled out, and a conviction followed.—Dundee Advertiser.

Man seldom speaks of a wife's devotion without getting in a good word for himself.

Laundry Marks.

The numbers or letters used by American laundries to distinguish their patrons' garments are disfiguring enough, but we are fortunate in that the collars and cuffs do not come back from the wash tagged with the business card of the laundry.

In certain parts of France the name and address of the laundry are stamped on each piece sent home, and should in several laundries be patronized, one after the other, a fine collection will soon be found, in addition to geometrical marks indicative of the owner of the garment.

In Russian towns laundry marks are under police supervision, in this manner a refugee who makes his way to another town upon a forged passport is liable to detection unless he can borrow linen with the mark of one of the town laundries upon it.

Bulgarian laundries employ rubber stamps with ornamental designs, while in Germany the laundry comes home tagged with a small cloth label attached with a heat and waterproof cement.

GOOD MUSIC

Sunday and Monday night was the anniversary in the Baptist Church, Blenheim. The Rev. Mr. Farmer, of Brantford, preached two fine sermons to a crowded house at both services.

The music by the choir, under the leadership of Mrs. S. C. Walker, was the first yet given in Blenheim. Dr. Gibb and P. Haggart, of the Presbyterian choir, assisted. The music was as follows:—

Morning.

Anthem—Consider and Hear Me. Duett, Sun of My Soul—Mrs. S. C. Walker.

Evening.

Anthem—Conquering Kings. Solo, O Song Divine—Mrs. Walker.

Anthem—Now the Day is Over. On Monday evening a splendid tea was served in the basement of the church, after which a good program was given. The choir sang two anthems, and splendid solos were given by Miss Jackson and Mrs. S. C. Walker, with readings by Miss English. A duett was also given by Mrs. Walker and Mr. Haggart, and was much enjoyed.

No, replied the drug clerk absently, but I have something just as good.

CURES CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

One Week's Use of Hyomei Did More Than Six Months' Treatment by Specialists.

In the treatment of deafness which is often a result of catarrh, Hyomei acts almost immediately upon the inflamed membrane and the hearing begins to return at once.

Miss Meeks, of Mattawan, N. Y., says: "Hyomei is truly wonderful. I have used it but a short time and see a great change in my condition. My hearing is improving rapidly and I had no idea I would improve so rapidly in so short a time. My breath which was very offensive to myself and others, has lost its bad odor entirely. I have spent a great deal of money with catarrh specialists, and can truly say that six months of their treatment is not equal to one month of Hyomei."

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler will last a lifetime and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write to-day for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

The Foundation of Every "Progress" Coat

The good looks, and shape, and wear, too—of a "Progress Brand" Coat, depend on the part you never see—the INSIDE.

This figure shows the anatomy of "Progress Brand" Coats. The patent sleeve and shoulder pads—the strong felt, genuine hair-cloth and thoroughly shrunken canvas. This foundation is moulded by hand and held by hand stitches.

It is this perfect building of the foundation that gives perfection to the finished "Progress Brand" garment.

"Progress Brand" Suits and Overcoats prove that they are made right, by the wear they give.

COOLING LITERATURE.

Introducing Flaubert's Cruel Joke in the Desert of Kossel.

Is there such a thing as cooling literature? We think there is, only it can be more properly called the literature of coolness. Horace, with his Baudouin fountain, has some claim to be the father of it, though in the description of cool water Spenser has probably excelled every other poet. Goethe, who used to bathe in the Elm by moonlight, told Eckermann that in his ballad of "The Fisherman" he had employed the mermaid myth with no other aim than to express the charm of water in summer. The fisherman sat fishing, "and, lo, a dripping mermaid fair sprang from the troubled main." The mermaid protested against the cruelty of angling. If, she said, he only knew "how gladly darts the fish across the sea!" She then invited him to dart across the sea on his own account, and he consented to the watery bliss.

One of the coolest stanzas in the language is Matthew Arnold's:

The silent courts, where night and day
Into their stone carved basins cold
The splashing ice fountains play—
The humid corridors behold!

But to know how the literary mind can evoke ideas of coolness when the literary body craves for it one need only recall Flaubert's persecution of poor Maxime Ducamp in the desert of Kossel, near the Red Sea. The camel carrying their whole supply of water had fallen and burst all the skins.

What happened is told by Ducamp. We quote Mr. Tarver's translation:

"After suffering thirst for thirty-six hours, while we were passing through a defile, a furnace formed of granite rocks, of a rose color, covered with inscriptions, Flaubert said to me, 'Do you remember the lemon trees that one eats at Tortoni's?' I made a sign in the affirmative. He resumed: 'Lemon ice is a superior article. Admit that you would not be annoyed at having swallowed a lemon ice.' Curly enough I replied, 'Yes.' After an interval of five minutes: 'Ah, the lemon ice! All around the glass there is a cloud which is like a white jelly.' I said, 'Suppose we change the conversation?' He replied: 'That would be better, but lemon ice is worthy of being celebrated. One fills the spoon; it makes a little mound; one softly squeezes it between the tongue and the palate; it melts slowly, coolly, deliciously; it bathes the uvula, glides over the tonsils, descends into the gullet, which is only too happy, and it falls into the stomach, which bursts with laughing, so delighted is it. Between you and me there is a scarcity of lemon ice in the desert of Kossel.'"

The maddened Ducamp would not speak again for hours. When at last they drank Flaubert took him in his arms and said: "I thank you for not having blown out my brains with your gun. In your place I should not have resisted."

Walter W. Hedgecock had been appointed musical director of the Crystal Palace, in place of the late Sir Augustus Manns. He has been the organist at that place for years, and many queer experiences have served to give a touch of humor to his work. At one of his concerts a small boy climbed to the organ loft with the request that he change his program to include "Just a Little Bit Off the Top," and at another time an admirer of his powers begged his company in a glass of beer, and was much surprised when the performer declined to interrupt the concert for the sake of the drink.

Catering to animals requires both a plentiful and varied supply of food, as can be seen from this report of material used at the London Zoological Gardens last year. For the flesh-eating animals there were supplied 144 tons of horse-flesh, nearly nine tons of goat-flesh, and 9,530 chicken heads.

Fourteen and a half tons of fish, in addition to 1,260 plums of shrimps, furnished the waterfowl with their daily fare, while 297 loads of hay and 6,030 bunches of greens supplied the Falmouth family, the swans and the ruminants.

IN COLONIAL DAYS.

The First Iron Mines and Flour Mills in Virginia.

In 1619 the London company, the proprietors of the colony of Virginia, sent over a Mr. King and 150 skilled ironworkers to erect furnaces on Falling creek. These men came chiefly from Warwickshire and Staffordshire and when once in Virginia named the village that grew up about their iron works Warwick.

Mr. King soon dropped out of the enterprise, and a Captain Blunt superintended the erection of the works. But his career was a short one, after which John Berkeley, son of Sir John Berkeley, a nobleman of much distinction, succeeded to the superintendency of the establishment and conducted it ably until one day—March 22, 1622—the Indians, under Opitchapan, a brother of Powhatan, surprised the village and murdered Berkeley and 150 men and women.

In 1700 mills were built upon the ruins of the iron furnace. In those mills was ground the first flour exported from America, much of it going to South America. From that time on Warwick grew rapidly until it became an important manufacturing and shipping village, as it was at the head of navigation.

Shortly before the outbreak of the Revolutionary war Colonel Archibald Cary acquired possession of the vast estate known as Amphill, that lay on the James river and inland along Falling creek for a distance. The estate was named after one in England.

Colonel Cary was chairman of the committee that drafted the first bill of rights and state constitution in America, that of Virginia. When the war broke out he took an active part in the military operations of his country in the south.

Tarleton, the British general, seized upon the James river and burned Warwick and Colonel Cary's mills on Falling creek.

The old Amphill house occupied by Colonel Cary at the time is still standing, and the present owners are descendants of the Cary family.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did for H. M. Spears

Thought He Would Have to Stop Work But the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy Made Him Strong and Active.

Antigonish, N. S., Oct. 23.—(Special).—Mr. H. M. Spears, a well-known farmer living near here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. "When I came to Nova Scotia about six years ago," says Mr. Spears, "I was so troubled with Backache I began to think I could not attend to business. However, I got a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and was able to attend to work."

"I had not taken enough to root the Kidney Disease out entirely, however, and the following winter I was troubled with pains in my back and limbs. Then I got more of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after using three boxes all my pains and lameness left me."

"I can't say too much in favor of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They put me in a way to attend to business after two doctors had failed. I was a cheesemaker for years, but now I am a farmer with a good strong back."

Lame back is the first symptom of Kidney Disease. Cure it with Dodd's Kidney Pills and you will never have Bright's Disease.

Income For Railway Commission.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The Provincial Government has shifted to the Temiskaming Railway Commission the control of mineral locations on the right of way, and those on the town site of Cobalt, the income to be used on the railway. When C. B. Smith returns from Europe he will have a number of applications to deal with. One near Cobalt is very rich, but would require a tunnel under the tracks.

A MILLION DOLLARS SQUANDERED.

It is estimated this sum was wasted last year by people trying to find a cure for garrh. Foolish for sufferers to experiment when it's so well known that "Catarrh" is the only remedy that cures permanently. Other treatments only relieve, but Catarrh returns and ever returning. "I had Catarrh in its worst form," writes G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que. "I was so bad that ordinary medicine didn't even relieve; but Catarrh cured perfectly." No chance of disappointment with Catarrh—it's cured as death to cure Catarrh—just try it.

Chloroformed, Then Shot.

Hamilton, Oct. 23.—The coroner ordered another examination of the Barton Woods victim before the body was buried, and now the two doctors say that they have found that the woman was facing disgrace. Thus a motive for the crime has been established, and the supposition that her betrayer shot her to get her out of the way. The fact that she was believed to have been shot while under the influence of chloroform is supposed to indicate that she may have gone to the bush in the belief that a criminal operation was to be performed.

HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequaled. For sale by all druggists.

P. O. Cashier $9,000 Short.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—Francis D. Runder, cashier of the St. Louis Postoffice, was arrested Saturday by postoffice inspectors, following the discovery of an alleged shortage of $9,000 in his accounts.

Wit should be used as a shield for defense rather than as a sword to wound others.

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

A well known travelling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if got a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

When people trade their troubles somebody is sure to get stuck.

Commercial Heart of Russia Shut Off by Railway Strike.

Communication Only With St. Petersburg and Baltic Provinces—Seven of Nine Main Trunk Arteries of Commerce Stopped—Government Orders Railroad Battalions to Moscow to Take Strikers' Places.

Moscow, Oct. 23.—Traffic on seven of the nine main trunk arteries of commerce radiating from Moscow was completely paralyzed yesterday by the railroad strike, and the commercial heart of Russia has been shut off from all communication with the rest of the empire, except with a narrow section to the northwestward, including St. Petersburg and the Baltic provinces.

The Government has ordered the railroad battalions of the army to proceed to Moscow and take the place of the strikers, for the purpose of restoring traffic.

Assumes Serious Aspect.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—The strike of railroad employees assumed a serious aspect yesterday when, with the three great trunk lines out of Moscow, completely tied up, and the other Moscow roads embarrassed, trains were stopped on the branch road from Nizhni Novgorod. The Pan-Russian Union Railway employees have issued a call for a general strike on all the railroads of Russia.

The demands of the men are purely political, and therefore it is expected the strike will last only long enough to serve as a demonstration.

The Government is prepared in case the strike effects the Nicholas road, or the lines to Berlin and Vienna, to order the mobilization of the railroad battalions of the army in order to keep communications open between Moscow and St. Petersburg, and abroad, but it hopes the strike enthusiasm of the workmen will exhaust itself in a few days.

PUDDY GAVE ELLIOTT MONEY.

But Promoter Never Hinted at Using It Improperly.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Practically the entire morning was taken up at the civic investigation proceedings Saturday in an examination of Henry Puddy. Mr. Puddy offered for inspection a memorandum book setting forth the payment to Elliott of small sums of money. This was the main feature of the morning's inquiry. That Elliott had ever hinted at improper use of money or that he had ever suggested illegitimate means, witness denied. He admitted the payment to Elliott of $25 within the last few days.

Elliott, when called to the stand for a short time at the end of the morning, exhibited a statement to explain how part at least of the funds had been used.

Adjournment was made at 12.45 p.m. Judge Winchester announced that the books would be inspected during the afternoon in preparation for the resumption of Mr. Puddy's testimony on Monday.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is soiled, then, that if the stomach churn is soiled, it sours all which is put into it. The evil of a foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint of corruption or ferment. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant and no narcotic.

FRIVOLITY IN ENGLAND.

A Claim That It Is What Really Keeps the Nation Sane.

Which is worse—to be too serious or too frivolous? I have no doubt about the matter myself, so far as individuals are concerned, though all extremists are bored. The perpetually lively, feather brained, pleasure crazed creature is almost, if not quite, as irritating as the deadly serious individual. But, apropos of the accusation recently lodged against us that as a nation we are becoming too frivolous, one cannot help saying that we are a great deal livelier than we were a few years ago, and for this relief assuredly we have cause to be thankful.

In consequence we are accused of having become too frivolous. It seems to me that we have just got matters nicely balanced. This is an age when we are prepared to be cranks on the slightest provocation. People crave for missions, they wallow in philanthropy, they pounce with avidity on new religions, they will plunge into politics or write attacks on women, society, the degeneracy of the age, or anything else that gives them an opportunity of airing what they call their views. So surely, if desipere in loco were not occasionally to be permitted to us, it is fearful to think what we should become. Our frivolity is the antidote to the twentieth century disposition toward crankiness. It really keeps us sane.—London World.

THE HOODED COBRA.

It Is Venerated In India as the One Sacred Serpent.

Of all the snakes of India the naga, nag or hooded serpent, commonly known as the cobra, alone is sacred. It is called the good snake, and is considered a protector and harbinger of success. The veneration of the cobra is intimately connected with the worship of the sun, and is thus closely related to the orthodox Hindu religion. According to the Mahabharata, the heaven over which Indra ruled was mainly tenanted by Devas and Nagas, the former being deified heroes of the Aryas and the latter those of the Naga people on earth.

Although wars continued for a long time to be frequent between rival chiefs of the Invaders (Aryas) and the invaded (Nagas), a gradual fusion between the two peoples took place, and heaven was shared equally by Devas and Nagas. The serpent gods were worshiped now, as they were then, not as dangerous reptiles, nor as mere symbols, but as the deified rulers of an ancient people, whose tribal, or, rather, perhaps, racial, emblem was the naga, or hooded serpent, and whose chief deity was the sun; hence the Naga temples are not dedicated to the serpent, but to the Naga rajahs, the ancient rulers of the race.

SOCIAL SPONGING
The Extent to Which It Is Carried in London.

There is probably no city in the world where there is so much social sponging done as in London. At their functions hosts and hostesses have frequently met the remotest acquaintance with many of the people who attend them and whose check is only exceeded by their voracity. "I have one particular case in memory," says a writer in the Boston Herald, "where a woman brought fifty of her friends. It was at the house of a millionaire, the Hon. Glin Vivian, in Eaton square. On the same occasion nearly every one else brought herself, her family and all her friends. It was a never to be forgotten gathering. Many people never succeeded in getting beyond the hall door. An excellent supper had been provided for about three or four hundred, but there must have been a thousand present. About 1 a. m. people were sitting about in the bedrooms eating sandwiches and drinking claret or champagne—in fact, anything they could grab from the supper table—and the story went that they invaded the wine cellar and the Larder."

French Origin of "Save the King."
The British national anthem is of French origin. The Petite Republique asserts that the words of "God Save the King" are a literal translation of a hymn in honor of Louis XIV., chanted by the young girls in residence at the convent of St. Cyr.

The French words of this hymn were: Grand Dieu, sauvez le roi! Grand Dieu, sauvez le roi! Vive le roi!

Que, toujours glorieux, Louis victorieux, Vois ses ennemis, Toujours soumis.

The music of this chant was copied during his visit to France by Handel, who on his return to England dedicated it to George I.

Tom Reed's Wit.
Congressman Morse of Massachusetts was a great admirer of Speaker Reed, to whom he said on one occasion, "Do you know, Mr. Reed, the people are talking a great deal about you for president, and I would not be surprised if they elected you president some day." "Well, Morse," was the dry comment of the speaker, "they could do worse and I have no doubt they will."

Bathing the Eyes.

Bathing the eyes with equal parts of witch hazel and water is very restful to them, or bathe them with warm water in which are dissolved a pinch of powdered borax and two or three drops of spirits of camphor. A soft linen cloth, used for no other purpose, is better than a sponge for bathing the eyes. The eyes should be washed every night to remove any dust that might have gathered on the lids during the day.

POUND MAN'S HEAD OFF

Brutal Murder Reported From the Anthony Reef Mine.

Jack Mackay, a Finlander, Killed in Fight at Disorderly House in New Ontario—News Was Brought to Port Arthur, and Crown Attorney Will Likely Send an Officer to Arrest Man and Woman Implicated.

Port Arthur, Oct. 24.—Theodore Yansen, a Finlander, who arrived in town from Sturgeon Lake County, reported a brutal murder as occurring near Anthony Reef mine, when Jack Mackay, a Finnish miner of this place, was the victim.

According to the story of Yansen, the body of Mackay was found by miners employed at the St. Anthony Reef mine, at the door of a shack belonging to a woman named Morrow, who keeps a house of ill-fame, about a mile from the mine. It is supposed Mackay went to the house and a fight took place, and the woman and a man, who is employed at the shack, murdered him.

When Mackay was found he was lying in a pool of blood, with the top of his head almost pounded off. A large club lying near-by told what instrument had been used. It was covered with flesh and blood.

The body was left just where the deed was committed. Yansen told the story to the police, and Crown Attorney Langworthy and likely an officer will be sent to the scene to arrest the parties.

Charge of Carelessness. Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—Fritz Wesen, a boy residing four miles north of Rose Isle, Carman district, fatally shot, was riding in a buggy behind two men on their way to duck-shooting grounds, acting as a guide, when a gun lying in the bottom of the buggy, accidentally discharged into his neck, killing him instantly. The two men, John W. Thompson, a farmer of the district, and James C. Goodman, a harvest hand, Owen Sound, Ont., were arrested and brought to Carman to stand trial for criminal carelessness.

Says He's the Murderer. Hamilton, Oct. 24.—Yesterday the police received a letter from a man who claimed that he murdered the woman whose body was found in Marshall's bush. He enclosed a photograph. The police think the communication was intended as a joke.

St. Catharines, Oct. 24.—The police are on the lookout for an Indian woman, weighing 210 pounds, Nancy Sugarbush by name. The woman, who was employed by a farmer near the city, Sunday skipped out with the seven-year-old daughter of another Indian woman working at the place. They are believed to have crossed the line.

ROCKWOOD'S DEATH.

Jury Names Highest Officials of Toronto Railway As Blamable.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—This was the verdict handed in by the Rockwood jury this morning at one o'clock: "We the jury sworn to make inquiries as to how Cyrus O. Rockwood came by his death, find that the said C. O. Rockwood was killed by a street car run at too great a speed."

The car was not safely or properly equipped.

The automatic sander was not in proper working order and condition. The rails and curves were defective. Motorman John Dean was not sufficiently experienced in handling an electric car and he held the President, Directors and General Manager were culpably negligent in their duties and they are thereby responsible for the death."

Deserts Wealthy Husband.

Brockville, Oct. 24.—Not long since a young man named Meade arrived in town, accompanied by a handsome young woman, who, of course, was thought to be his wife. Last week a detective arrived from Albany, N. Y., looking for the couple. He secreted himself in a room in the boarding-house and waited till the couple had returned, when he entered their room and identified them. He says the woman is the wife of a rich business man in Albany, whom she married at the request of her parents. The husband now seeks a divorce. They have one child.

"Wasn't Loaded"; Shot a Boy.

Brockville, Oct. 24.—The same old story, "didn't know it was loaded," resulted in the shooting of Carwell Phillips, a lad of ten years, residing here. He was returning from a hunt in the woods with two other lads, one of whom, named Hanson, carried a 22-calibre rifle. Near Trinity Church Phillips was in the lead, when a bullet entered his right leg about midway between the knee and ankle, and after grazing the bone, lodged in the muscles. The bullet was located with the X-ray. Hanson says he was under the impression the rifle was unloaded.

Plaintiff Wins Fourth Trial.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The fourth trial of the Watts-Munro libel case ended at the Assizes last night, the jury returning a verdict of $500 and the costs of all the actions for the plaintiff. Dr. Watts of Moose Creek woke up one morning and found a ridiculous sign nailed on his door and suspected the defendant. The Court of Appeal granted three new trials.

Struck By a Train.

Belleville, Oct. 24.—Alexander Bauman, a middle-aged man, apparently a traveler, whose home is at Parry Sound, was struck by a train, about a mile east of the station here, and badly injured.
