PREFACE.

THE Publisher has much pleasure in presenting the Kingston Directory for 1878-1879 to its numerous patrons, and trusts that it will be found, alike by them and the public generally, a reliable index to the business, the places of business and the residences of the Citizens. These, together with the information usually found in the Appendix, or Miscellaneous Department, of works of this description, properly comprehend the scope of a Directory.

The greatest care has been taken to render the work complete and accurate in all its details, and it is confidently believed that it will be found thoroughly reliable.

To the Press, the many gentlemen who kindly furnished the Compiler with useful and interesting information, and the professional and business men of the city, for the generous support they so liberally bestowed upon the undertaking, the Publisher begs to tender his sincere acknowledgements.

JOHN LOVELL.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

In the Fifth Chapter of the "Jesuit Relations" for 1668 will be found the earliest reference made by them to the existence of any Indians in the neighborhood of Kingston. The precise locality is not mentioned; the band, however, is stated to have been of the Cayuga Nation, and it appears that they were accompanied from their former home in the New York Iroquois Country by Messieurs Fenelon and Trouve, two fervent Missionaries. In 1673, Frontenac arrived in command of a French squadron, consisting of two batteaux and a large number of canoes. On approaching the first opening of the lake, (off the Point of Cedar Island) it was formed into line of battle. After proceeding on its way inwards for about a mile and a half it was met by the chiefs of the Five Nations and the Abbé d'Wolfe, who had previously intimated to the gallant Frenchman that the "Captains of the Five Nations were coming to meet the Governor." These preceded him as guides, and conducted him to a Bay, which forms, says the Chronicle, "One of the most beautiful and agreeable harbors in the world, capable of holding a hundred of the largest ships, with sufficient water at the mouth, and in the harbor, with a mud bottom, and so sheltered from every wind that a cable is scarcely necessary for mooring." The fort was built in 1673, and the seigniory of Cataraqui, consisting of Wolfe Island, Howe Island, two adjacent Islets and four leagues of country along the border of Lake Frontenac (Ontario), were granted to La Salle in 1675, subject to certain conditions. From the building of the Fort until he sailed for France in the year just mentioned, he commanded the garrison, and was to some extent successful in his attempts to induce the Indians to lead lives less savage, than, as a matter of choice, they would be inclined to adopt. On his return from France he was accompanied by several colonists. Shortly after this, La Salle's loyalty being questioned, Fort Frontenac (as well as Fort St. Louis in Illinois, which he held) were sequestered, but he returned to the French Court, successfully defended himself against his detractors and obtained the restitution of his possessions. In 1684, De la Barre was at Fort Frontenac with a force of 700.

E. ROSE'S Boots & Shoes will stand the test, Princess Street.

Canadians, 130 regulars and 200 Indians. It was his intention to proceed on an expedition to Oswego against the Iroquois. With that object in view he remained for two weeks; owing, however, to the conclusion of a treaty of peace, war was obviated. But for all this it seems that the Iroquois required watching, for within a year DeNonville appears on the scene for that especial purpose. He wished to impress them with the idea that they should respect the territory of the Illinois and other tribes, in whose territories France was endeavoring to establish her sovereignty. But they were not susceptible of new impressions, and so his mission was a failure. As to the Fort, it seems at this period to have received new consideration from the Government, who were more than ever disposed to consider it as a very important frontier post. Acting on this belief they sent to it more troops, as well as additional munitions of war. In 1687, a number of Indians, who had been induced to come to Catarauqui as deputies through the mediation of Père-Lamberville, were, by DeNonville's directions, siezed, put in chains and sent to France. Owing to the activity of the Iroquois, who were assisted in their counsels by Colonel Longan, a British officer, the position of the garrison at the Fort became precarious. In 1687-8 we find DeNonville negotiating for permission to re-victual Catarauqui. In 1688 the celebrated Huron chief, "The Rat," styled the Machiavel of the West, arrived with his warriors to aid the French against the Iroquois. But on his arrival he found that his assistance was not required as a treaty of peace had been concluded. From this period until 1756 no events of particular importance occurred at the Fort. In this year a large force was concentrated at Catarauqui, by the famous Montcalm, preparatory to an attack upon the English Garrison at Oswego. On the 14th August the assault was made, and was successful. The victors captured the defending force, 1780 strong, 7 vessels carrying from 8 to 18 guns each, 200 batteaux, 107 cannon, 14 mortars, 730 muskets, stores of all kinds, 5 stands of colors, and the garrison chest containing 18,000 francs; one hundred women and children were also taken prisoners. The besieged lost one hundred killed and wounded; that of the French was trifling. This event had an important bearing on the future history of Canada. The smart which it occasioned stimulated the British to great exertions, and led to a series of events the final result of which was the capture of Quebec and the overthrow of "La Nouvelle France". It is estimated that the forces under Wolfe, Amherst, Prideaux and Sir Wm. Johnson pushed against the French frontier from Niagara to Quebec numbered 30,000 men, exclusive of sailors and marines. At this time the native Canadian census of males between sixteen and sixty numbered only 15,000, while the regular troops in the country did not exceed 5,000. The greater part of the booty taken at Oswego by Montcalm, and at Bradstreet's defeat in 1755, was stored at Fort Frontenac, but the force left for the defence of the post was a mere handful of men, said to be only 50 in number. When, therefore, they were attacked in August, 1758, by a force of 2,700 men under Bradstreet, it is not surprising, though they did have the temerity to resist the assault, that they were compelled to surrender. The terms of the capitulation were signed on the 27th of the month and in the year just named. Shortly after this event the conquest of Quebec, the chief stronghold of French power, was achieved by the young and brilliant General Wolfe: the whole country then became a British possession.

Passing on to 1784, the advent of the United Empire Loyalists, which took place in that year, should not be passed over in silence. This gallant band of refugees, under the direction of Captain Michael Grass, commenced anew the struggle of life against what must have been the most adverse circumstances, rather than continue to exist in a country where the public sentiment was opposed to their well-defined, thorough and conscientious principles of loyalty.

Those who sacrifice their personal welfare for a noble principle are certainly worthy of the highest respect; they not only acquire honor themselves, but reflect it upon their descendants. Kingston was founded the year of their arrival, and such was its prosperity that it held, and for a considerable period continued to hold, the first position in the colony.

During the war of 1812 the fortifications at Kingston were greatly improved and enlarged; it was also the principal depot for the concentration of naval and military stores. The safety of the situation inspired confidence; this, with other causes, gave a marked impetus to business, so that during the continuance of the war it advanced rapidly. In 1840 Lord Sydenham, who occupied the position of Governor, selected Kingston as the capital of the United Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada; but, owing to his unfortunate and unforeseen death, Kingston lost its opportunity, and the expectations of its citizens—expectations of solid advancement and certain prosperity—were in this particular doomed to remain unfulfilled. In 1845 the seat of Government was removed to Montreal, and afterwards, for reasons too well known to require to be mentioned here, it continued its eastward course as far as Quebec. After this the expensive perambulating system found favor for several years. The fact is that a great deal of sectional jealousy existed in various portions of the Provinces in reference to this question. Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, and Ottawa all advanced claims in this direction, but the rather unexpected selection of the last-named place extinguished the hopes of the others, and settled the matter definitely. Kingston was disappointed, but so were Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, and Hamilton. Considering the natural advantages possessed by Kingston for purposes of trade and commerce, and that the selection of Ottawa in reality took nothing away from it, the check which the progress of the city received from this cause seems to have been greater than was rendered necessary by the event. Be this as it may, it was a disappointment which for some years injuriously affected the business prospects of the place.

There are considerably over five thousand cities, towns and villages in the Dominion of Canada, and of this large number, Kingston, which was incorporated as a city in 1838, is exceeded in population by eight cities only. The order of precedence is as follows:—Montreal, P.Q., 160,000; Quebec, P.Q., 75,000; Toronto, Ont., 70,000; St. John, N.B., 32,000; Halifax, N.S., 30,000; Hamilton, Ont., 27,000; Ottawa, Ont., 26,000; London, Ont., 20,000; Kingston, 16,000. With the exception of Quebec and Halifax, which is the military headquarters of the Dominion of Canada, and the chief naval station for the whole of British North America and the West Indies, Kingston is the most strongly fortified place in Canada. It is very pleasantly situated at the head of the far-famed Thousand Islands, River St. Lawrence, where the waters of Lake Ontario, the Bay of Quinté and the great Catarqui Creek are united with that river. The city compares favorably in appearance with the most important places in either of the Provinces, being built in a very solid and substantial manner, principally of stone and brick. Many of the public buildings are very fine; amongst others, the City Hall buildings, Court house, Post office, Custom house, Queen's University and College, and notably the following, which, however, strictly speaking, are not within the city limits:—The Kingston Penitentiary, the Asylum for Insane and the Canada Military College. All the business streets, and, with a few exceptions, the remainder of the others, are of a good width. Princess, the chief business thoroughfare, is one of the handsomest streets, in the Province; it slopes upwards from the harbor, and extends to the city limits. It is intersected first by Ontario, then, in the following order, by King, Wellington, Bagot, Montreal, Sydenham, Clergy, and Barrie, where the principal business portion of it ends, although beyond the last-mentioned street there are quite a number of business houses. But throughout the length particularly specified it is lined on both sides with stores. The other principal business streets are Ontario, Wellington, King, Clarence, Brock, and, in a lesser degree, South Market square, Queen, Bagot, and Montreal; lesser not as regards the standing, but the number of mercantile or manufacturing establishments.

Commercially speaking, Kingston, the chief town of the county of Frontenac, is one of the soundest places in the Dominion. Failures are of comparatively rare occurrence; no city or town withstood more successfully the late very recent and very general depression in all branches of commerce, and, allowing that that depression, in a more moderate degree, still exists, no place, judging from the past, is more likely to withstand its effects. One of the causes, and not the least of them, of so many business houses coming to grief, is that, in the majority of our cities, towns and villages, business is entirely overdone; the supply being greatly in excess of the demand, but this does not seem to be the case in Kingston, where all business houses, possessing adequate capital and experience, do, at the least, a paying, and, in a large number of instances, a very profitable business. The situation of Kingston for purposes of trade is so advantageous that it must always be a place of considerable importance. It possesses at the present time a very large grain shipping business, for which it has excellent wharfage accommodations. For steamboat and ship building it also enjoys the most ample facilities. Opposite the city are Wolfe and Garden Islands, between these and it lies the bay which, so long ago as 1373, was declared to be one of the finest in the world. Since the building of the Grand Trunk Railway Kingston has had the advantages of railway facilities, and within the past year a marked impetus has been given to the trade of the city by the opening of a certain portion of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway. For the following facts in reference to this important undertaking we are chiefly indebted to the kindness of the President, C. F. Gildersleeve, Esq.:—The railway is now completed and running from the City of Kingston to the Mississippi River, a distance of sixty-one miles. The line, as far as built, passes through the townships of Kingston, Portland, Hinchinbrooke, Olden, Oso and Palmerston. The principal stations are Glenvale, Murvale, Harrowsmith, Hartingdon, Verona, Iron Junction, Hinchinbrooke, Parham, Olden, Sharbot Lake, Oso and Mississippi. There are still about forty-five miles of the line to be built before it reaches the Canada Central Railway in the vicinity of the village of Renfrew, over which it has running powers to Pembroke. The line was projected to open up the country between the City of Kingston and Pembroke to the north of the Ottawa River, a distance of about one hundred and thirty-five miles, a considerable portion of which is still unsettled. The timber and mineral resources of this country are large. The principal lumbering rivers tapped by the railway are the Mississippi, the Clyde, the Madawaska, the Bonnechere and the Ottawa. They drain the largest and best of the pine tracts of Ontario. A commencement has been made in working the iron ore deposits, principally at Glendower, thirty miles north of Kingston, where the ore is of a very superior quality resembling Swedish iron. Sharbot Lake (where there is a good hotel) and the other back lakes abound with fish and game, and are attracting large numbers of sportsmen. The beneficial effects of the railway are apparent in the improved appearance of the City of Kingston, into which it brings large quantities of cordwood, grain, bark, hop poles, railway-ties, rafting material, sawed lumber, square timber and iron ore; taking back supplies for the settled portions of the country as well as the lumbering districts.

A line drawn from the intersection by the Rideau Canal of the eastern boundary of Frontenac, thence to Richardson Station on the Kingston and Pembroke Railway, is the southern boundary of a region rich in iron ores, phosphate of lime, plumbago, soapstone, galena, baryta, and mica. The quantity of phosphate of lime taken out during the past year is stated to be 3,000 tons. The galeniferous veins have been only partially explored, and the Frontenac lead mine is the only enterprise as yet in which extensive operations for this mineral have been conducted. It is believed that the mineral resources of Frontenac will yet win an extensive interest. The fitness of its very superior iron ores for the manufacture of steel has been fully proved. The immense extent of forest within the county, whence an abundant supply of charcoal is obtainable, should render the manufacture of charcoal, pig-iron, blooms and steel matters within the enterprise of iron masters. White lead, notoriously connected with several golden fortunes, should be one of the manufactures of Kingston, while its neighborhood to the phosphate mines should also lead to the location of chemical works within the city. In view of the impetus given to the city's growth by the construction of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway, the expenditure of half a million of dollars for needed facilities for the Grand Trunk Railway would be well spent money, bringing, as it would, to the city a coal trade of 60,000 tons a year, a live stock transshipment trade with New York, and the tide of western travel yearly seeking the St. Lawrence and New England seaboard.

The introduction of street railways into Canada is of comparatively recent occurrence, and Kingston has availed itself of this great modern convenience. The Kingston Street Railway was formally opened on June 15th, 1877, and from that date to Oct. 20th it carried not less than one hundred and fifty-five thousand eight hundred and seventy passengers. The line runs from the city boundary on Princess street to the head of Penitentiary Hill, embracing in its course the principal avenues of travel and their tributaries. Its length is eight thousand five hundred and sixty yards, or nearly five miles, including sidings. Eight cars run at intervals of twelve minutes from each end; the number of horses required is forty-five. The capital stock of the Company is fifty thousand dollars, subscribed capital forty thousand dollars. The cost of the whole was about thirty-nine thousand five hundred dollars. The president of the road is J. L. Morrison, Esq., and the above particulars were furnished by the courteous and obliging secretary-treasurer, John Taylor, Esq.

Foremost amongst the educational institutions of the Dominion is Queen's University and College, which is very pleasantly situated in the west end of the city. In affiliation with the University is the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, and the Kingston Collegiate Institute. Full accounts of these, as well as of many other important institutions in Kingston, such as the Canada Military College, the School of Gunnery, the Asylum for Insane, the Kingston Penitentiary, etc., will be found in the Miscellaneous Directory.

Kingston is distant from Ottawa 95 miles; Toronto, 161 miles; Montreal, 172 miles; Hamilton, 199 miles; St. Catharines, 230 miles; London, 276 miles; Quebec, 344 miles; Detroit, Mich., 386 miles; St. John, N.B., 752 miles; Halifax, N.S., 828 miles; Charlottetown, P. E. Island, 1052 miles; Liverpool, England, 2,414 miles.

Before closing this sketch a few remarks relative to the Press of the city, and manufacturing and commercial establishments, will be in order. This portion of the work is not by any means as complete as it ought to be, and comprehends only a limited number of the many fine establishments that are in the city. In the next edition an endeavor will be made to render this depart-

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE PRESS.—THE BRITISH WHIG.

Kingston is proud of its ancient character, and its newspapers are a constituent part of its history. When it was but a village risen from the site of Old Fort Frontenac it had a newspaper of its own—the Gazette, copies of which are to-day treasured, especially those which contain the bulletins from the seat of war in 1812, 13, 14 and 15. The Chronicle succeeded the Gazette, and the British Whig began as a newspaper in 1834 with Dr. Barker as its publisher, and he continued to wield its destinies for thirty-eight years. It was only weekly till Parliament opened in Kingston, when it was made a tri-weekly. In 1849 a daily edition was issued, and it was a proud thing for Kingston, since it was the first and only daily paper in Canada—the Montreal Gazette and other daily papers of to-day being then only tri-weekly. The Whig became Reform in 1872, and it marshaled the party in the first close campaign with Sir John A. Macdonald. Dr. Barker was made the recipient of two splendid gifts, as also of the Registrarship in consideration of his public services. The Whig is now owned and published by Mr. E. J. B. Pense, at the office, Brock street, and is the leading exponent of Reform principles in this section of country. The large circulation of this paper affords the best inducements to advertisers, and its job printing office is one of the finest in the Province. Its influence and standing have been rapidly increasing, and it is now a valuable property.

THE DAILY NEWS.

The Kingston Daily News is the leading Conservative paper of Central Canada, standing in the same relation to that party that the British Whig does to the Reform. It was established in 1851, and has had a successful business career. The circulation of the News is principally in the district of country from the Province Line as far West as Toronto, thus giving a wide range to advertisers to make their wants known, and to whom its ever increasing edition renders it a very desirable mode of communication with the public. In job printing material the office is well stocked, and possesses every facility for getting out first-class work. Mr. Meek, who has charge of the mechanical department, is well known as one of the best job printers in the Province, and all work is done under his personal supervision. The whole of the office has recently been refitted, and new machinery added. It is now one of the best fitted out in Central Canada. The Weekly Chronicle and News has a very large circulation among the country people, especially in Frontenac and the counties adjoining. It is published at one dollar and fifty cents per annum. The Chronicle was the first newspaper published in this section of Central Canada under the name of the Kingston Gazette. Mr. Stephen Miles was the publisher, and the first number appeared in June, 1810. The old files which are treasured in the News office are considered very valuable and interesting, exhibiting, as they do, the bulletins and despatches from the seat of war in 1812 and following years. Shannon & Meek, proprietors and publishers, Princess street, between King and Wellington.

THE FRONTENAC GAZETTE AND TOWNSHIP ADVERTISER

Was started towards the commencement of the past year at the request of a number of influential inhabitants of the county of Frontenac, who desired to have an exponent of their views on matters affecting the municipal interests of the county. This has been accomplished, and during the first three months of its existence it obtained a circulation of nearly five hundred, and has since been constantly increasing in its issue. In politics it is purely independent, and aims principally at imparting information regarding school and municipal matters as well as supplying entertaining and current news of the day. It is one of the cheapest newspapers in the Dominion, being only one dollar a year. Office, King Street corner Princess.

THE QUEEN'S COLLEGE JOURNAL

Is a fortnightly publication of the students of the University, and is an elegant as well as ably edited journal.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE HERALD,

Published by the pupils of the Institute monthly, is of the same class and almost equally meritorious.

BOOK STORES.—JOHN HENDERSON,

Bookseller, Princess street, between King and Wellington, has been in business in Kingston for eighteen years, and in that time has built up one of the largest retail businesses in Central Canada. He was the first to introduce the regular sale of newspapers in the city, and his weekly trade amounts now to several thousands. Last Christmas his stock of goods for the holidays was admittedly the best ever seen in Kingston, and the amount of business done was very large. Books of every kind and in every style of binding are to be found in the shop, as well as all kinds of stationery and stationery goods. Mr. Henderson imports direct from the manufacturers, and is thus enabled to sell cheap, there being no middleman to increase the prices. His stock of plain and fancy stationery is always large, and is sure to give satisfaction. Mr. Henderson also deals extensively in fancy goods and toys, and his assortment is well worthy of attention. By close application to his business he has been able to build it up, and any one visiting Kingston who wishes to be supplied with books, stationery or fancy goods, should not fail to pay him a visit.

THOMAS MCAULEY.

The book store of Mr. McAuley is situated on King street, second door from Princess. It is one of the best stores in a line in the limestone city, being in fact second to none. Its assortment embraces every article usually found in a first-class establishment, and comprises a great variety of books, music books, sheet music, and, in brief, all goods appertaining to his business that the public may require. In connection with the book store is a news depot, where all the latest papers are kept on sale. Mr. McAuley make a specialty of the manufacture of account books of every description, from the smallest pass book to the largest super royal ledger, and also executes every variety of book binding.

SAMUEL WOODS.

Prominent among the new buildings erected by the enterprise of the citizens during the past five years is the block owned by M. Ford, Esq., on the corner of Brock and Wellington streets, the corner store of which is occupied by the new book store of Mr. Samuel Woods. Two immense plates of glass, each 7 x 11 feet, occupy the front of the store; there are two entrances one on each street, and the inside of the store is in keeping with its outside appearance. Mr. Woods' long experience of books specially qualify him for his profession, and the books of the best authors are always found upon his shelves. Here you can purchase the classical authors of the English language in every style of binding; and in every article in his line the best and newest alone is kept on hand. The store is beautifully furnished with plate glass show cases, one of which cost $250, and in it is always kept a supply of the most beautiful and expensive bibles, hymn book, church services, prayer books, and handsome velvet goods. At any time in the small space there is not less than $1,000 worth of goods. Another case is filled with beautiful albums, family bibles, expensive fancy goods, and richly bound illustrated works. A third is filled with a splendid assortment of Foley's gold pens, pencils, holders, &c., while two small ones are respectively filled with Gillott's pens, and Goodall & Sons' fancy note paper and envelopes. In stationery goods no better stock can be found. Every taste is suited, from the cheapest note paper to the most expensive grades culled from the British and American wholesale houses.

Mr. Woods' long experience as a teacher specially qualifies him for doing the school book trade, and every book and requisite in that branch of his business is always to be found in his store, while he keeps the only supply of genuine steel engravings found between Toronto and Montreal. A special supply of Prang's chromos, Christmas, New Year and Easter cards is always on hand, and the universal testimony of competent judges is that no neater nor better assorted stock is held in any bookstore in the Dominion.

BOOT AND SHOE STORES.— W. J. DICK & SON.

The thoroughly established boot and shoe trade of this firm is one of the best in that line in Kingston. They have been in business for the past seven years, and have spacious premises situated on Princess street, the leading business thoroughfare of the city, between Bagot and Montreal streets. They select their stock wherever the choicest goods in the Dominion are to be obtained, making their purchases from the leading manufacturers of Montreal, Toronto, and in other manufacturing centres of Canada. They have always a choice and fully-assorted stock of ladies', gentlemen's and children's boots, shoes and rubbers, and do business on the one-price principle, thus insuring equal value to all purchasers.

PARSONS & SCORAH.

This enterprising firm are the proprietors of the establishment known as the "Bee Hive" Boot and Shoe Store, Martin's Block, Princess street, opposite the Albion Hotel. Notwithstanding the fact that they commenced business when, to put it mildly, a period of great quietness prevailed in business circles, they have, from the very outset, done a good paying business. The increase in their trade within the past year has been of such a satisfactory character as to necessitate an enlargement of their premises and an augmentation of their working staff. This result has been obtained by a close application to business, combined with a thorough practical knowledge of their trade. They keep a large assortment of boots, shoe and rubbers, and also give special attention to custom work.

EDWIN ROSE.

Macnee & Minnes' handsome stone block, on the corner of Princess and Bagot streets, is one of the finest in the city. It is three stories in height, but these are so lofty that the building is of the altitude of a house of five ordinary flats. It contains three very fine stores, one of which is occupied by Messrs. Macnee & Minnes as a wholesale dry goods house. In one of the remaining two is Edwin Rose, the well-known boot and shoe dealer, who for many years has conducted with satisfaction to himself and his numerous customers a business of extensive proportions. Mr. Rose purchases his goods from the best manufacturers of the Dominion, and his stock is always fully assorted in the newest and most saleable stock, procured on the most favorable terms and disposed of at the smallest advance on cost consistent with a paying business. He also keeps a good assortment of trunks and valises, of many various kinds, which he sells at prices to suit the pockets of all.

BREWERIES. THE KINGSTON BREWERY.

The Kingston Brewery is one of the oldest establishments in the city, having been in existence for over seventy years. About the year 1817 it was purchased from the former proprietor by Mr. Philip Wenz by whom it was carried on in a very successful manner till 1842, when his nephew, Mr. Jacob Bajus, assumed its proprietorship. Under the management of the last-named gentleman the business throve to such an extent that larger premises became a necessity. In 1856, therefore, the old buildings were pulled down, and in their stead a substantial stone structure was erected. Upon the retirement of Mr. Jacob Bajus from the business, in 1875, it passed into the hands of the present proprietor, his son, Mr. Philip Bajus, jr. The Brewery is situated at the foot of Wellington street, and is one of the largest and best fitted up in the Province. It is four stories in height, and recently it has received a large addition specially for the manufacture of lager bier. The various ales, porter, &c., manufactured at the Kingston Brewery have always stood high in the market, and there is no doubt that in the hands of the present proprietor their excellence will be fully maintained.

GEORGE THOMPSON.

The store and office of Mr. George Thompson, wine and spirit merchant and proprietor of the Frontenac Brewery, is situated on King street, between Princess and Brock. He has a well established trade in both branches of his business. In wines and liquors he keeps a full stock of the best brands, and in ales, porter, &c., supplies an article of first-class quality.

CARRIAGE MANUFACTURERS.—J. W. BROWN & Co.

The extensive business premises of this firm are situated on the corner of Princess and Barrie streets. They are largely engaged in the manufacture of street cars, omnibuses, hearses, as well as carriages and sleighs of all descriptions. This well-known firm obtained the first prize at the Provincial Exhibition, Ontario, 1875; Provincial Exhibition, Quebec, 1873; and ten prizes at the Grand Central Exhibition, Kingston, 1875. These facts speak for themselves, and are sufficient to attest the superior excellence of their manufacture. They use steam power; employ twenty-five hands, and their premises cover over an acre of ground.

JAMES LATURNEY,

Whose place of business is on Princess street, between Barrie and Division, is engaged, as the above heading implies, in the manufacture of all descriptions of buggies, waggons, cutters, and sleighs, of which he has on hand a sufficient stock to enable purchasers to compare styles, and select whatever design best pleases them. All work turned out at this establishment is made under the personal supervision of the proprietor. None but the most thoroughly seasoned timber and the best materials generally are used, and only first-class workmen are employed. Before purchasing elsewhere intending buyers should give him a call, as he is willing to sell very cheap. Mr. Laturney also does a considerable business in blacksmithing, wood work, painting, trimming, etc., and is prepared to execute orders in silver plating in the best manner.

DRY GOODS.—R. & J. GARDINER.

Prominent amongst the many excellent dry goods stores in the city is that of R. & J. Gardiner, importers of British and foreign dry goods. This firm for the past fifteen years have conducted a very successful business on Princess street, a few doors from Wellington. The long experience, thorough knowledge and business qualifications of the firm, together with ample capital and an intimate acquaintance with the principal markets of Great Britain and the Continent, afford unusual facilities for the purchase of their goods direct from manufacturers. They are thus enabled to place before the public all the attractive-novelties produced in the principal foreign markets, and in many cases sell them at lower prices than they could be bought at retail in the place of production. Whilst devoting a large share of attention to goods of foreign manufacture, this enterprising firm has not been unmindful of those home products which so largely enter into everyday use. All descriptions of goods made in the country as well as in the United States are fully shown in their stock.

LOWNDES & MOODIE.

The new dry goods firm of Lowndes & Moodie, on Princess street, between Wellington and Bagot, have met with a measure of success since they commenced business not always accorded to new houses. It might be said of them that they verify the saying, "there is always room for one more," provided that one understands his business. Both the members of this rising firm have a thorough practical knowledge of the dry goods trade, as well as of the best markets, they consequently know what to buy and where to buy it, and hence are always enabled to display an assortment of new, choice and seasonable goods, comprising the latest designs, styles and fashions. Everybody requires dry goods, and intending purchasers before making their selections elsewhere should visit their store and look over their assortment, which will be shown with pleasure whether those favoring them with a visit buy or not. Their stock embraces every article in fancy and staple dry goods, and is constantly replenished with the latest novelties.

FELIX SHAW.

Parties visiting Kingston in want of dry goods and carpets should visit the old and established place of business known as the Glasgow warehouse, kept by Felix Shaw, which was established in 1842 and has been carried on successfully ever since, being the oldest dry goods establishment in the city. It is situated on the corner of Princess and Wellington streets, and is well known for selling dry goods cheap. The building is three stories, and built of stone. The first floor contains a general stock of dry goods, amongst which will be found the following specialties:—black and colored gros grain silks, black mantle velvets, black and colored cashmeres, black and colored merinos, paramattas, alpacas, brilliantines, best quality of Josephine kid gloves, gents' furnishings, house furnishings, cloths and small wares. On the second floor is a spacious carpet room, well lighted, containing a superior stock of carpets in best five frame English Brussels, Crosley's superior tapestries, best Kidderminsters and Unions, with borderings, rugs, mats, and stair carpeting to match, also oil cloths, damasks and reps. A portion of this flat is used as a shawl and mantle department, where is kept a first-class stock of shawls and mantles. The third floor is used for reserve stock, such as blankets, flannels, tweeds, cottons, etc. The proprietor would respectfully invite parties who are desirous of purchasing any of the above lines of goods to give him a call, as all of the above are bought in the best markets of England, Canada, and the United States for cash. Close quotations given to jobbers and purchasers of large lots. Felix Shaw, Glasgow warehouse, Princess, corner of Wellington street.

RICHMOND & BOYDEN.

The firm of Macnee & Minnes (late Macnee & Waddell) is the only exclusively wholesale dry goods house in the city. Prior to the establishment of this business they carried on for many years a very large wholesale and retail trade in dry goods, ranking amongst the very first business houses in Kingston. In 1873 they retired from the retail business, and were succeeded by Richmond & Boyden, who thus commenced under the most favorable auspices. The premises of this firm are very advantageously situated on Princess street, between Wellington and Bagot, in the business centre of the city. They are very commodious and well suited for the reception of the immense assortment of fancy and staple dry goods, millinery, carpets, oil cloths, etc., which they keep. Their establishment is unquestionably one of the finest in the city, being in fact equalled by few and excelled by none.

ALEXANDER ROSS,

Importer and dealer in fancy and staple dry goods, millinery, carpets, oil cloths, etc., Princess street, opposite the City hotel. This house has been in existence for over twenty-five years, and is one of the oldest and best known in this section of country. In every department the stock is always kept fully assorted with goods bought in the best markets, comprising a variety so extensive as to preclude the possibility of giving them in detail. The business is one of the largest in Central Canada, and, as is well known, the latest novelties and newest styles and fashions are always to be found at this house.

DRUGGIST.

G. S. Hobart, wholesale and retail chemist and druggist, occupies premises very advantageously situated at the corner of Princess and Bagot streets, in the centre of the business portion of the city. For upwards of twenty years this house has been one of the leading ones of the city, and apart from the usual selection of articles that are usually found in a first-class drug store, and which are therefore kept by Mr. Hobart as a matter of course, he also gives his attention to several specialties, of which the coal oil trade, the seed business, and proprietary medicines are the leading features. It is not more than from sixteen to twenty years since the coal oil business sprang into existence. Of this branch of commerce Mr. Hobart was the pioneer in Kingston, the first coal oil ever brought into the city being on his account some fifteen or sixteen years ago. Since then he has continued to do a large business in this line; lamps and lamp goods are also kept by him in great variety. In garden, field and flower seeds, with bulbs and roots for fall and winter planting, he also does an extensive trade, as well as in proprietary medicines, of which he manufactures a large number of standard preparations.

FURNITURE.

One of the best displays of furniture in the city is to be seen at the commodious ware-rooms of Henry Brame, corner of Princess and Sydenham streets. There is no other house in the line where a greater variety or a better class of articles is kept. The assortment embraces everything in parlor, dining room, library, bedroom and kitchen furniture, all of which is manufactured of the best materials and is of the most modern styles. Mr. Brame possesses every facility required for the carrying on of a very large business, and for a number of years has occupied a leading position in the furniture business in this section of country. Undertaking in all its details is also attended to by Mr. Brame, and for this branch of his trade he possesses the most ample requirements.

GROCER.

Prominent amongst the business house of the city is the old and well-known establishment of George M. Wilkinson, importer and wholesale and retail dealer in groceries, wine, liquors, china, glass and earthenware. This house has been in existence for a period of thirty-one years, and carries on a very extensive business in the above-named branches, both at wholesale and retail. The assortment is one of the largest and best in Kingston, and from Mr. Wilkinson's long experience in the trade he is enabled both to buy and sell at right prices. He occupies well arranged and commodious premises on Wellington street, between Princess and Brock, and is also the senior partner in the firm of Geo. M. Wilkinson & Son, whose business is of a similar character, and who have unquestionably one of the finest stores in the city, situated at the corner of Princess and Montreal streets, near the new Albion hotel.

HATTER AND FURRIER.

A description of the various business concerns of Kingston would be incomplete indeed did we omit from our list the well-known establishment of Thos. Mills, Practical Hatter and Furrier, Princess street, between Montreal and Sydenham. Although one of the youngest houses in this city, this firm, by close application to business, and by paying special attention, in the minutest particulars, to the wants of customers, together with their uniformly polite and courteous treatment of all who have any dealings with them, have already established for themselves, among the people of Kingston and surrounding country, a name of which they have just reason to be proud. They intend, by studying always their customers' interests as well as their own, to hold the ground already gained; and they hope, by fair and honorable dealing with all, to continue to merit the patronage that from the commencement has been so liberally bestowed them. At this store may be found everything desirable in the line of Hats, Caps and FURS, fresh from their own manufacturing rooms, together with a large and carefully selected assortment of the latest and most fashionable styles of English and American goods. The Fur trade, a very important branch of their business, will continue to receive the utmost care and attention, both in manufacturing to order and in the selection of the raw materials, comprising the products of the various furbearing animals from different quarters of the Globe, viz:—Hudson Bay Territory and Russia, Persia and the Caucasus, Siberia, Alaska, &c.; all during the winter season will be represented in this particular department; in fact, all sorts of desirable furs from the common muskrat to the costly sea otter, can, if at all obtainable, be supplied by this house.

HOTELS—THE BRITISH AMERICAN.

This fine old-established house is the oldest in the city. It is admirably located on the corner of Clarence and King streets, and in close proximity to the steamboat wharves. It is first-class in all its fittings and appointments, and has a well established repute with commercial men. It numbers eighty-five rooms for guests, including the new wing which was completed in December last. It contains a full line of superior commercial sample rooms, is heated by steam, and has all the latest modern improvements, and can compete with any house in the Province, and is a credit to the spirited enterprise of its proprietor, Mr. Wm. Davis. The entire establishment is well managed, and guests may rest assured of every comfort. Rates, reasonable.

CITY HOTEL.

Since Mr. J. S. Johnson, formerly of the Johnson house, Prescott, assumed the proprietorship of the City hotel it has become one of the most popular and best-patronized houses in the city. Its location for purposes of business is excellent, being on Princess street, the principal business thoroughfare of the city, and within a few minutes walk of all the leading business houses, as well as the post office, custom house, banks, etc. As a commercial house, for which it is admirably adapted, it enjoys a large share of public patronage, which is constantly increasing. Business men and others who make the City hotel their home while in the city will meet with every attention from the proprietor, who, as a matter of fact, keeps one of the best-conducted and most comfortable houses in Ontario. An office of the Montreal Telegraph Co. is in the hotel, and there is also an excellent livery on the premises.

INSURANCE AND COMMISSION.

Amongst the insurance and steamboat men of Kingston James Swift ranks as one of the most prominent. He represents several of the leading Canadian and American Insurance Companies, and nearly all the passenger and freight steamboats make his (St Lawrence) wharf their stopping-place. It is probably the busiest spot in the harbor during the season of navigation. In connection with his other extensive business he has large coal yards, and all the transient steamers coal at his place. He receives and ships large quantities of lumber and iron ore to Oswego, Cleveland and other points. This is probably the largest commission house in the city. Its business embraces all descriptions of property, such as iron, lumber, tile, grain, etc.

OYSTERS, FISH, FRUITS, ETC.

Among the many business houses in Kingston worthy of especial mention we should not omit that of Mr. W. W. Rideout on Princess street, between Bagot and Montreal streets. Mr. Rideout's business is that of importing oysters in bulk, can, and shell; fresh fish of all kinds; foreign and domestic fruits and canned fish; vegetables and fruits, for wholesale and retail purposes.

His place of business is one of the largest and best-appointed in the city, and no pains are spared to make it one of the most attractive.

In his retail oyster business alone about three thousand gallons are annually disposed of, besides hundreds of cases of canned oysters, and many barrels of oysters in shell. In the fresh fish department may be found all kinds of lake and ocean fish in season, from the small ciscoe to the sea salmon weighing 50 pounds.

In the summer of 1877 about two tons of sea salmon were cut up and sold in the city, and he has contracted with parties in New Brunswick for eight thousand pounds for the season of 1878. He deals largely in fruits in the warm months of the year, and in the way of canned goods cannot be excelled in the quality or variety of his stock. This is the only house in the city making a specialty of these lines of goods, and we heartily recommend subscribers and the public generally to favor M. Rideout with their patronage. They will certainly find it to their advantage to do so.

PAINTERS.

W. H. G. Savage & Son, practical painters, Brock street, between Barrie and Division, possess the best facilities for the execution of all work in their line of business. They are prepared to execute, in the best style, and on the most reasonable terms, house, sign, carriage, ornamental, and frescoe painting, paper hanging, graining, marbling, calcomining and so forth. The senior partner of the firm, Mr. Wm. H. G. Savage, has invented and patented an article called the "Patent Brush Bridler," the merits of which are certain to be appreciated by all painters, to whom it cannot fail to be an article of the greatest practical utility.

PIANOS—WEBER & Co.

The factory was originally 66 feet square, three stories high in front, rising to five in rear. The rapidly-increasing demand for the pianos of Messrs. Weber & Co. required further facilities for manufacturing. During the summer and fall of 1872 an addition was erected, 66 feet in length, and corresponding with the main building in height and general appearance. The whole structure is, therefore, now by far the largest of the kind in the Dominion, having a frontage of 198 feet by 66 feet in width; and, built as it is in the most substantial manner of cut stone, with tin roofs, forms an edifice of which any city in Canada might be proud. It is centrally situated on the corner of Princess and Ontario streets.

are placed in an adjoining engine house, also built of stone. A drying-kiln with capacity of about 20,000 ft. is in one of the spacious cellars. Either wet or dry steam can be employed; but all the lumber used is weather-seasoned for one or two years before undergoing the kiln-drying process, which lasts for one or more months longer. All the machinery in service is of the latest improved kind, and consists in part of a "Daniel" planer, surface planer, band-circular and scroll saws, jointer, turning lathes, iron and wood-drilling machines, etc., etc. The premises are heated and glue boiled by the same agency—steam pipes, of which there are some 10,000 feet throughout the whole building. The steam, as it condenses, flows back to a tank and thence finds its way again into the boiler. There is also every facility for raising and lowering the pianos from one floor to another.

In short, the object of the proprietors has been to produce a model factory, one in which the economization of labor will improve instead of injuring the quality of the article manufactured. How well they have succeeded is willingly admitted by everyone who has had the opportunity of inspecting it, as well as by the best musical critics in the Dominion.

SOAP MANUFACTURERS, &C.

Robertson Bros., importers and wholesale dealers in crockery, glassware, lamp goods, cutlery and plated ware. In these goods their stock embraces full lines of the best goods, bought in the best markets, on the most favorable terms, and therefore offered at "right prices" to purchasers. In addition to this business they are also largely engaged in the manufacture of laundry and toilet soaps, of which they make a great variety. Those for the toilet are of the most superior description, while the large demand for their laundry soaps attest their excellence. Amongst others of their manufacture is the "Economic Soap" which is highly perfumed, and suitable for either toilet or laundry purposes. It is not an infrequent occurrence to hear that such or such an article is the best of its kind, but, with regard to this one, we would merely say, try it, convinced that a trial is all that is required to prove that, as a matter of fact, it is the best and cheapest in the market. The place of business of this firm is situated at the foot of Gore street.

STOVE MANUFACTURERS, &C.—CHOWN & CUNNINGHAM.

Among the manufacturing establishments of Kingston Messrs. Chown & Cunningham, stove manufacturers, have occupied a prominent position for many years, and, notwithstanding the depression of trade, this firm still keep their works in full operation, and meet all their engagements promptly. They manufacture stoves of all descriptions, hollowware, farming implements, iron railings, and all kinds of light castings. They employ about seventy men and ten or a dozen horses constantly in carrying on their works.

They are also manufacturers of tinware, sheet iron and house-furnishing goods, in great variety. Their foundry is at the corner of King and Queen streets, and their warerooms and office are situated on Bagot street, between Princess and Brock.

STOVES, TINWARE, &C.—GEORGE CLIFF.

The hardware, stove and tinware business is well represented in the city of Kingston. Amongst other houses in this line is that of George Cliff, whose place of business is on Princess, between Bagot and Montreal streets. Here the purchaser will find a variety of cooking, hall and parlor stoves, tinware of all descriptions, lamps, lamp trimmings, coal oil, etc. Mr. Cliff is also prepared to execute orders for eave-troughing and roofing in either the city or country; and, as he has a practical knowledge of these branches, he is enabled to guarantee satisfaction. Although he has been in business but a short time he has already succeeded in establishing a very good business; and, by close attention to the wants of his customers, combined with moderate charges, will endeavor to make it to the advantage of all requiring anything in his line to favor him with their custom.

MERCHANT TAILORS—G. W. ANDREWS.

This well-known business house has been established since 1847, and is, therefore, one of the oldest in the city. Mr. Andrews' long experience in, and perfect knowledge of, his vocation qualifies him to do a very large business, for which he possesses every facility. In the following specialties—which he has made his study—he has been very successful: clerical costumes, Masonic aprons, Royal Arch and Encampment suits, Odd Fellows', Good Templars', Orange and societies regalia generally. His purchases are made from first-class houses on the best terms, and he is always supplied with the latest novelties in textures, cloths, tweeds, diagonals, doeskins, fancy vestings and haberdashery. The material and trimmings furnished by him are of the best; and in fit, style and workmanship he has no superior in the Dominion. His place of business is on Wellington, between Princess and Brock, and

THOMAS SEALE.

Another well-known house in this line of business is that of Thomas Seale, Princess, between Wellington and Bagot streets. In addition to his business of merchant tailor and clothier he makes a specialty of camping materials and water-proof clothing, keeping every essential required for the first, and every article comprehended in the last. With respect to the tailoring and order department, his stock is one of the largest in the city, and is replete with new, fashionable and seasonable goods, while the fashion and make of garments ordered at his establishment are of a character to ensure thorough satisfaction. In the ready-made department the stock embraces a great variety of the best goods, both as regards quality and style, and at this house will also be found one of the most complete stocks of gents' furnishing goods in the city of Kingston.

BARRIEFIELD.

A VILLAGE, of about three hundred inhabitants, situated in the township of Pittsburg, county of Frontenac, on the east side of the Catarqui river, one and a half miles from the city of Kingston, with which it is connected by a bridge. On a point of land adjoining the village is Fort Henry, a fortification of most extensive proportions commanding Kingston harbor, the adjacent islands and the River St. Lawrence. Separated from Fort Henry by dead Man's Bay is Point Frederick, on which is built the celebrated Canada Military College, a new, large and imposing edifice of the most solid and substantial character.

CATARAQUI.

A VILLAGE containing about three hundred inhabitants, on the Kingston and Napanee road, in the township of Kingston, county of Frontenac, three miles from the city of Kingston, with which place it has daily stage communication. It is at the junction of the Perth, Portland, Napanee and Stormont roads. Its chief buildings are the Town Hall, Episcopal church, Methodist church, and the newly-erected Masonic hall.

The principal places of business are the brick yards, very extensively worked by Mr. J. Day and the Cataraqui nurseries. A remarkable feature of the place is the Protestant cemetery, which contains nearly one hundred acres.

It is situated on a succession of gradually ascending sand hills, the great natural beauty of which has been highly enhanced by the admirable manner in which the grounds, which are beautifully adorned with trees, have been laid out.

Appended is a brief sketch of Christ church. About ten years ago, in order to meet the wants of the people of the village, a service was commenced in the Town Hall. The attendance rapidly increased, and it was resolved to build a church, on an acre of ground in the cemetery bequeathed by Mrs. Akinson. The Rev. H. Wilson, B. D., set to work with a will, collected three thousand dollars, and the building was completed and consecrated by the bishop of the Diocese, on October 16th, 1870. The congregation still continuing to increase at a rapid rate it became necessary to enlarge the edifice and, through the liberality of G. A. Kirkpatrick, Esq., M.P., this was accomplished, at a cost of about two thousand two hundred dollars. Twenty feet were added, and a handsome tower erected, and the new part was consecrated Advent Sunday, 1877. The church, in which service is held regularly every Sunday at 4 p. m. by the Rev. H. Wilson, is capable of seating three hundred, and is always well filled. It is considered to be the prettiest church in the diocese, and is, in fact, a perfect model of ecclesiastical architecture.

PORTSMOUTH.

AN incorporated village situated in the township of Kingston, County of Frontenac, two miles west of the city of Kingston, with which it is easy of access by means of the recently opened street railway which runs between the two places. Portsmouth derives considerable importance from the fact of the Kingston Penitentiary and Asylum for Insane being situated within its limits. To these Institutions a more particular reference is not made here, as they are fully described in the Miscellaneous Directory. Apart from these the principal buildings are the Episcopal Church, the Methodist Church of Canada and the Town Hall. It possesses a deep and well sheltered harbor, has a daily mail and contains a population, exclusive of the Penitentiary and Asylum of about one thousand.

This celebrated penal institution is situated in the village of Portsmouth, on the shore of Lake Ontario, at the embouchure of the St Lawrence, two miles distant from the Kingston city hall. The buildings, consisting of workshops, dormitories, dining hall, chapels, female prison, etc., are constructed of cut stone, forming three sides of a square surrounded by high and massive stone walls, with corner towers, enclosing eleven and a half acres; extensive wharves run along the west and south sides, with depth of water from 16 to 30 feet. The warden's house, fronting on the east side, is a large and commodious residence of cut stone, which, with its surrounding gardens, green house, graperies, etc., were constructed by convict labor, every thing connected with the house being prepared in the Penitentiary.

The male convicts are employed as foundrymen, blacksmiths, carpenters, tailors, shoemakers, quarrymen and farm laborers.

The blacksmith department consists of the foundry, finishing, lock and blacksmith shops, employing 80 men. A large amount of work has been done in this department for the public buildings at Ottawa, Canadian Pacific Railroad and St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

The carpenter department employs 90 men in carpentry and furniture work. Here also much work has been done for the Department of Militia and Defence and Military College of Kingston.

The tailoring department gives employment to 62 men. Besides the clothing required by the institution large Government orders have been fulfilled.

The shoe department of 30 men are employed in work required for the Penitentiary, and last year supplied the boots, etc., for the Northwest police.

The quarries, connected with the Penitentiary and wharves by a tramway recently constructed by convict labor, are worked on an extensive scale, supplying all the stone for the work required in the Penitentiary, a large quantity for Government and for private sale.

A farm of 60 acres is under cultivation; another farm of 119 acres has been recently purchased, and on the two sufficient farm produce is raised to supply the wants of the entire establishment. The farms and quarries give employment to 156 men.

The female convicts are employed in household work, needle work and knitting.

This constant employment tends greatly to relieve the necessary irksome confinement, whilst the perfect ventilation, cleanliness, ample allowance of good plain food, entire absence of cruel, harsh or irritating discipline, keeps the convicts healthy and comparatively reconciled to their lot, and at the same time the profit arising from their labor contributes largely to the support of the institution.

Whilst physical labor is amply provided, mental employment is not neglected. Daily instruction is given in the school by competent teachers; copy books, slates, books, etc., are allowed in the cells for evening practice, and, to quote the chaplain's report,—“the school is producing the best possible result.” There is also an extensive library for the convicts' use.

KINGSTON GAOL.

This Gaol has been occupied eighteen years, and is one of the most complete in the country, being very secure, and is well laid out for the proper classification of criminals. The average number of prisoners in confinement is between thirty-five and forty.

EDUCATIONAL.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE.

This institution, one of the oldest and most celebrated in Canada, is situated in the west end of the city, the grounds being bounded by Union, Arch and Stuart streets. The houses of the Principal and Professors command a fine view of Lake Ontario and the surrounding country. The college buildings are handsome and substantial structures, though, on account of the increasing number of students, an extension of them is greatly required. The Astronomical Observatory of the institution, which is situated very inconveniently in the public park instead of in the college grounds, was founded in 1855, and was deeded to the University in 1861. It contains an equatorial by Mr. Alvan Clarke, with an object glass  $6\frac{1}{2}$  inches aperture, a small transit by Troughton & Simms, and an astronomical clock constructed by the assistant observer; also the Beaufoy transit, lent by the Royal Astronomical Society, England, a reflecting telescope by Mr. Short, with a speculum of  $7\frac{1}{2}$  inches in diameter, and a refracting telescope.

The library contains nearly 11,000 volumes, and receives considerable additions, annually. Donations are sent to it from all quarters. The museum is varied and extensive. Its Mineralogical and Palæontological collections are particularly valuable.

Queen's College was incorporated with the style and privileges of a University by a Royal Charter, dated October 16, 1841. A complete curriculum of study leads to the degrees in Arts of B.A., B.S.C., and M.A.; in Theology, of B.D.; and in Medicine, of M.D. These degrees are conferred on those who have gone through the required curriculum and passed the prescribed examinations. The Senate, however, is empowered to confer, besides these, the Honorary Degrees of D.D., and LL.D., for literary, scientific, or professional distinction.

The Session in Arts begins on the first Wednesday of October, and closes on the last Thursday of April; the Session in Theology begins on the first Monday of November, and closes at the same time as the Arts Session. There are twenty scholarships in Arts and eight in Theology, ranging in value from
