FACTS WORTH CONSIDERING

The Brewery and the Shoe Factory

Walruff's brewery in Lawrence, Kansas, was a valuable piece of property. Prohibition made it useless for that purpose and the owner sold the building and left the State. This turned the twelve men he had employed out of that into some other industry. Some people called it "a business calamity" to lose the brewery and the wages of the twelve men it had employed. But soon the big building was put to use as a shoe factory, and now, with about the same capital that the brewery had, it employs one hundred sober operatives.

"The United States, by conserving the waste caused by liquor, is best prepared financially, of all nations to meet the reconstruction problems following the world war.

The American people saved not less than 4,000,000,000 dollars last year because of prohibition law.

WILLIAM PENN was advising a man to stop drinking. "Can you tell me how to do it?" said the slave of the appetite. "Yes," answered Penn, "it is just as easy as to open thy hand, friend." "Convince me of that, and I will promise upon my honour to do as you tell me." "Well, my friend," said the good Quaker, "when thou findest any vessel of intoxicating liquor in thy hand, open the hand that grasps it before it reaches thy mouth, and thou wilt not fall again."

ENGLAND

ADDRESSING a meeting at Bromley in support of the Strength of Britain movement, Dr. C. W. Saleeby said he had recently been to Lancashire, where there was now a very serious slump in the cotton industry. It was perfectly tragic to see the harm the drink evil was doing in towns like Burnley, Bolton, Oldham, and Manchester. When he was in the United States, he saw the new cotton mills in the dry States, where cotton was grown. The air was pure, there was no smoke, there were no public-houses, no slums, no neglected children, no rickets. The towns were all garden cities, and the condition were almost paradisaical. If Manchester and Lancashire maintained the present condition, and standard of physique, there was not a ghost of a chance of competing with America, and worse things would yet befall us. Prohibition in America had already had wonderful results.

ALMOST 170 M. P.'s have signed a petition to the Prime Minister and Mr. Bonar Law requesting parliamentary facilities to discuss Mr. Macquisten's motion advocating the abolition of Liquor Control Board.

FAMOUS OPERA COMPANY COMING TO WOLFVILLE MONDAY, MARCH 27th.

The Boston English Opera Company is making the biggest hit of its career in its present tour and the reason is so simple that no doubt other opera companies in the future will follow its example.

It is a well known fact that opera singers may be excellent in certain roles and bad in others, therefore, where more than one opera is carried it is necessary either to have separate casts for the different operas or else general utility people can get by in any of them.

Manager Beck of the Boston English Opera Company not satisfied with either of these methods determined to select one opera and get the best people for each individual role. In making Il Trovatore his choice of opera he made a happy selection as Il Trovatore is without doubt the world's most popular opera. Its famous "Anvil chorus" and the beautiful "Miserere" in the "Tower Scene" are known and loved the world over.

To hear this beautiful tuneful opera with a cast of noted stars each and every one selected for the special role in which they appear together with the famous Boston opera chorus will be an unusual treat.

The seats are now on sale and from all indications every seat in the house will be sold especially as the prices are within the reach of everyone. Prices are from 50c. to $1.50.

(From Judge.)

An old southerner wandered along a small stream and came upon a darky sitting on a footbridge below a small dam, his feet dangling in the water and a shot-gun thrown across his lap.

"What are you doing, Sambo?"

"Oh, I've got a good job, workin' here fo' Marse Littleton," the darky replied.

"What are you doing?" again asked the southerner.

"I've shootin' mus'rats under 'at dam."

Whereupon a muskrat appeared under the dam. "Look, Sambo, there's one; Why dont you shoot him?"

"Oh, no, man! Do yo' think I've gwine tuh get out of a job?"

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

"Diogenes", in the Saturday Review, Victoria, has this to say on the subject of newspaper advertising that every business man who wishes to succeed, should read and ponder

"The first privilege of a newspaper is to afford the whole community the widest possible opening for publicity, at the lowest rates, consistent with sound business. Liberal, but discriminating advertising is the sure foundation of any paper, and I venture to think there can be no better place for an advertisement than the pages of a newspaper, where it is accessible to all and offensive to none.

HER FIRST WATERMELON

Entering the kitchen, Mrs. Gothan was amazed to see the watermelon she had ordered for dessert immersed in a pot of water boiling briskly on the range.

"Why, Norah, what in the world did you do that for?" she exclaimed.

"Sure, I know nothing about them things," replied the recently imported domestic. "I thought they had to turn red like lobsters before you ate 'em."—Boston Transcript.

The girls have one great advantage in wearing their hair down over their ears. They can get by without washing them so often.

NEARLY LOST HER LIFE NURSING DYING MOTHER

"For six months I had to devote all my spare time to nursing my mother who was slowly dying of an incurable disease. Not being well-off we couldn't afford the services of a nurse, so I had to be with her day and night. She was a large woman and it took all my strength to lift her. Realizing that she had not long to live, she naturally wanted me with her all the time and any spare time which I could snatch from my housework I gave to her. Four months ago she died and an hour after the funeral I went into a dead faint. The loss of sleep, the worry and the extra day and night work had finally been more than I could stand. They put me to bed. I contracted a high fever and was delirious for some days. For a while our doctor gave up all hopes of saving my life. However, I did succeed in pulling through but the strain and the illness had shattered my nerves. Worry and trouble had left me a physical wreck. I was so weak I couldn't lift my hands to my mouth. For two weeks I had to be fed. I gradually got a little stronger but not strong enough to get out of bed. I was determined that I would not give up. Finally one day a friend suggested trying Carnol. I was so anxious to get strong that I was willing to try anything. I never would have believed that any preparation would have made such a change in so short a time as Carnol did with me. To day, thanks to Carnol, I feel fine—in fact I never felt better." Mrs. S. of Hamilton.

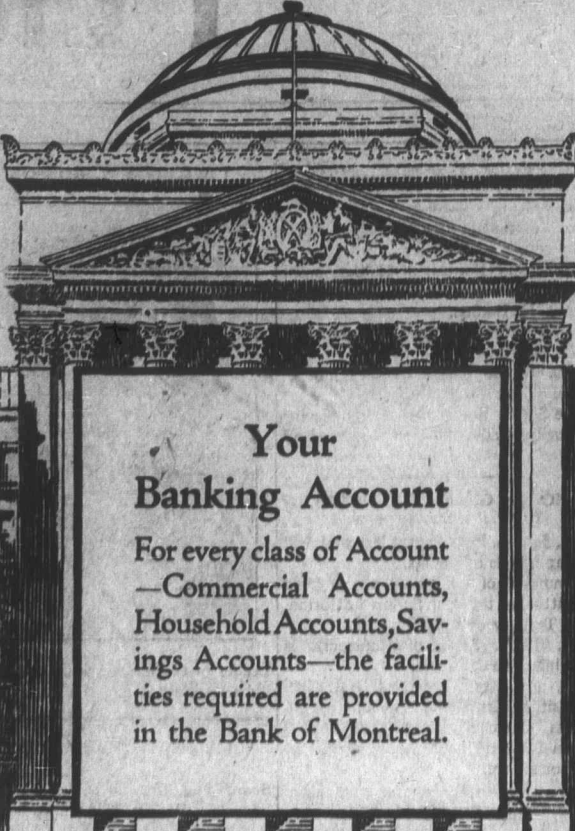

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 9-122

FATHER AND SON

"A Judge who was trying a boy in Toronto for some offence, questioned the father and discovered these facts: (1) In the previous six months he had not been at any place in the evenings with his boy, not to a concert, a hockey game or anything of that sort. (2) He had not any definite knowledge of where the boy had been spending his evenings. (3) There had never been a social evening arranged at the home for the boy or his friends. An exchange supposes that the father was busy with other things. But there was nothing more important or lying more directly in the path of his duty. Some fathers seem to think they have done their duty for their boys when they feed and clothe them. How many fathers know much about their own sons, or take any pains to know much? They are probably fully aware when they need a new suit of clothes or a new pair of shoes, and the sons make known their other wants and desires, which means that father supplies the money for the same. But how many fathers are really acquainted with their own boy? Do they know who his friends are; what his tastes and hobbies are; where he spends his evenings; what books he reads, if any? Suddenly it comes to the father's painful knowledge that his boy belongs to a gang of boys who meet in a barn or somewhere or perhaps his first knowledge comes when his son is arrested for some small crime. There is a very old adage with more truth than poetry, that Satan finds some mischief still, for idle hands to do.

TO GUARD AGAINST IN WASHING WOOLLENS

The autumn should find all of our woollen possessions in good order. In spring pack away everything clean. Moths are much more likely to eat soiled garments, and dust is in itself destructive. If you put away perfectly clean woollen garments as soon as they have been washed and packed in clean, air-tight receptacles, moths cannot get at them. The two things to guard against, in washing woollen, are shrinking and stiffening. Choose a bright, sunny day for the spring washing of woollens of all sorts—sweaters, blankets, bath robes, and other winter comfortables. Use medium hot water and use water of the same temperature for all rinsings. For the first water dissolve a tablespoonful of borax in every 12 quarts of water. Use neither soap nor scrub brush, but agitate the woollen article in this solution. Then prepare a second water of the same temperature in which a plentiful amount of pure soap has been dissolved. Never use soap directly on the wool, but agitate the garments in the suds until the y are clean. Never wring them violently in the hands or in the clothes wringer; squeeze the water gently from them. Then put them in a third water, slightly soaped and blued. Rinse thoroughly in this water, fold carefully, and put them through the wringer. Dry in the shade. Washed and dried this way the garments are sure to be soft. Blankets should be stretched and folded several times during the drying process. Very dainty woollen garments, such as sweaters that lose their shape easily, can be washed and dried, sewed in a loose pillow case. Any woollen garment that must be ironed should be ironed on the wrong side with much care.

KEEP BUSY

Simply doing what you are told to do, and nothing else, is not the way to get in line for advancement. Most persons can carry out orders—it is easy to hire those who will work as directed, but it is harder to find the person who thinks and works at the same time. Initiative and aggressiveness in the interest of the firm where a man is employed are much harder to get than the strictly carried out orders. There is always something a person can do about a shop, office, or store during a slack time; it just takes head and willingness to find it. It may not be absolutely essential, but there are many things which can be done to facilitate better work at a future rush period if one has the will to look for work and the sense to keep busy.

The wise employee is looking for an opportunity to make needed changes in ways and means—because if a man uses his head as he works he is bound to see little things which would work for ease and speed and accuracy, which need only time and interest to find. If you cannot find something to do, go to your boss and ask for more work, or ask what you can do to help him while waiting for your regular routine to develop.—(New York Journal.)

LOCAL HISTORY IN SCHOOLS

A writer in the Sydney Record in the course of an article on our educational system says— "Our educational system is hopelessly antiquated—unless it has changed within the past 20 years. A personal instance may illustrate this statement better than anything else. I attended school at Pictou for two or three years and studied history there. I knew the kings of England and the dates of their reigns. I knew in a general way who discovered Canada and when Wolfe Par. 8. Any person who contravenes any of the provisions of this Act, or any permit granted under the authority thereof shall incur a penalty of not more than One Hundred Dollars recoverable under the "Nova Scotia Summary Convictions Act" which shall, when collected, form part of the Highways Tax of the Municipality in which such cases arise." conquered Quebec. But it was approximately twenty years later before I picked up a copy of the Eastern Chronicle one day and learned for the first time the story of the 'Hector' which ship bears to the history of Pictou—and the Scotch in Nova Scotia generally—about the same relation the 'Mayflower' does to American history. There is nothing taught in our schools of immediate local history—I speak with reservation for what changes have taken place since I attended school—there is nothing taught to develop local pride and public spirit.

I looked at my Brother with the Microscope of Criticism and I said, "How coarse my Brother is!" I looked at him with the telescope of Scorn and I said, "How small my Brother is!" Then I looked in the mirror of Truth and I said, "How like me my Brother is!"—Bolton Hall.

THE COAL DIFFICULTY.

The high prices charged for coal in Nova Scotia are burden enough, but now it appears it will be supplemented by no coal at all, if the threat of Mr. MacLachlan, the Mine Worker's Champion be carried out. He claims that the British Empire Steel Corporation is charging exorbitant prices, to pay dividends on stock, which do not represent one dollar of real money. They are having a wage rate thrust upon them by a class of stock gamblers who have an insatiable greed for money, etc.

There is a very general belief that the coal owners of Nova Scotia have for many years been fixing the prices to suit their own pockets and not the pocket of the consumers. In this they seem to have been materially assisted by the Murray government. That mouldy institution has never published in its reports the costs of coal production and has in fact resisted any attempts made in the Assembly to get that information. As long as Mr. Murray withholds this information it is impossible to gain any truth of Mr. MacLachlan's assertions. The miners demand fair play; the consumers need it; the Montreal brokers should have it; let Mr. Murray now put the cards on the table; let there be no more suppression of facts that the people of Nova Scotia, who are supposed to own the Coal Mines ought to have had every year in their public reports.

NOT GOOD LAW ENFORCERS

In a former issue we referred at some length to the lamentable results of the non-enforcement of law, especially as it relates to the young people of a community. We pointed out that the effect of the open and unchallenged violation of even a town bylaw forbidding coasting on the public streets was to cause a contempt for all law and would in the end lead to the production of a very poor breed of citizenship. Another equally grievous error in our judgement is the appointment of those to enforce law who themselves have previously been serious offenders of the same law. We remember when a noted smuggler was employed to run down those who were violators of the customs laws and during late years similar instances of "Employing a thief to catch a thief" are not wanting. The system we have no hesitations in pronouncing bad and calculated to create a very damaging condition particularly among our young people. If in the public interest it is necessary to engage some one to protect a national resource or prevent the violation of any law the authorities should be careful to select for such service only those who themselves have not been transgressors if law and order is to receive the proper respect.

WILL ATTRACT TOURISTS

When we read the attractive literature sent out by the seekers after summer visitors in other sections and consider such evidences of enterprise as compared with the do-nothing policy of those who are catering for tourist business in this town we cannot but wonder why it is that Wolfville continues to be so successful in attracting so many visitors during the beautiful summer months. A case in point is that of Lour Lodge, Digby, the proprietor of which, Mr. Aubrey Brown, a native and former resident of this town, has issued for public distribution a handsomely gotten up a beautifully illustrated folder setting forth the attractions of Digby—which next to Wolfville is probably the most popular of Nova Scotia's summer resorts—and of Lour Lodge as a place of entertainment. THE ACADIAN takes off its hat to the enterprising proprietor of Lour Lodge and congratulates our sister town in having such a progressive citizen.

From this delightfully interesting and attractive publication we take the liberty of, taking the following extract, which is equally true and appropriate as applied either to Digby or Wolfville—or to Nova Scotia in general: Nova Scotia is but a synonym for "new life". For charm of scenery, healthfulness of climate, and delightfulness of social life, there is none to compare with it, and it is one of the most alluring, popular and satisfying summer vacation countries in the whole world. This ocean-washed, breezecaressed peninsula, that is almost an island, is big enough to accommodate ten million summer visitors. Its atmosphere invigorates; its summer climate is perfect; the days are balmy and the nights cool. A distinguished Boston physician says: "I have spent many summers in Nova Scotia and believe it to be one of the most health-giving resorts on this continent." In fact it is nature's sanatorium." In a word, Nova Scotia is a good place to visit in the summer. It is a good place to live in all the year round.

HON. GUSTAVE BOYER, M. P.

For Vaudreuil, Quebec, who has been appointed to the Senate.

DR. JOHNSON CONDUCTING SERVICES AT ACADIA

Rev. Dr. Herbert Johnson, for many years Pastor of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church, Boston, preached in the Wolfville Baptist Church last Sunday. In the morning he chose for his subject "The Man of God" and in the evening his topic was "What is Religion?" Both sermons were strong and forceful and had in them the flavor of the prophet and the statesman. They were greatly appreciated by the large congregations. Dr. Johnson during the past week has conducted services in the College and has also addressed the Academy students. He is to continue his mission on the Hill till Wednesday of next week and will conduct the services in the Baptist Church again next Sunday. During the War Dr. Johnson was engaged in Red Cross Work in Europe and had his headquarters in Czechoslovakia.

A wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother last Saturday morning, when Madge, youngest daughter of the late Capt. John Pratt, and Allan, youngest son of the late W. F. Parker, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Miller. Owing to the late bereavement in the home of the bride the affair, which owing to the popularity of the young couple would otherwise have created wide interest, was an exceedingly quiet one. THE ACADIAN joins a host of other friends in best wishes.

At a special meeting of the School Board on Monday evening one of the most important items of the town estimates was considered and passed upon. The Board asked for the sum of $12,425, for school purposes during the current year, in addition to the revenue coming from grants, tuitions, etc., estimated at $1540. The total expense of our schools will include besides this the sum of $970.52, the amount required for sinking funds, making a total of $4935.52. This will be practically a rate of $1.50 on the hundred dollars for our schools, which should ensure good service in that department during the year 1922.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Mr. D. Mosher, agent for the S. P. C. A., accompanied by Policeman Crowell, made a visit to different sections on the South Mountain last week, in compliance with requests made that investigation of cases of cruelty should be instituted. They visited several farms and in some cases found conditions very bad. In one case two neglected and apparently ill-treated horses were shot by the officers and in another two horses were taken and brought to Wolfville where they were placed in Jackson's Stables for ten days at the expense of the owner. The officers report that in one case the family and horses were all living together in a barn and that the condition of the animals in several cases was most deplorable. It is understood that Mr. Mosher will return to this vicinity later and further action will be taken in the interest of ill-treated dumb animals.

THE HAPPY VALLEY

If prosperity be the gauge of happiness, then we may call the Annapolis Valley the Happy Valley. There is probably no other spot on the earth so prosperous relatively just now as this section of Nova Scotia. To a very large extent the Valley is keeping business alive in the Maritime Provinces at the present time; for other parts of the provinces are feeling the reflex influence of the good times that the fruit growers and farmers between Windsor and Annapolis are experiencing. This is the out tanding piece of cheer that the people in the Maritime Provinces have just now while there is so much of the counsel of despair in the world generally.

That our fruit growers should be able to ship an immense crop of apples very profitably in a year of unusual plenty is a remarkable fact. New York State had an immense crop of excellent apples last autumn, which under ordinary circumstances would have been a very bearish influence on the British market; but scarcity of labor and high cost of barrels in that State counteracted the effect of such an abundance, so that forty per cent. of the New York State crop remained unharvested, the fruit growers there finding that it would not pay them to pick and pack the fruit. Somewhat similar conditions prevailed in Ontario, but the quality of the crop there, because of neglect of the orchards during the war period, was not so good. New York and Ontario are very important factors in the apple trade and of course the developments above referred to have played into the hands of our fruit growers.

This is one aspect of the case. On the other hand our fruit growers, being well organized, through the United Fruit Companies, succeeded in making a very favorable contract with British importers, so that it has been possible to dispose of the entire apple crop of the Annapolis Valley on very favorable terms. Had the fruit growers of New York and Ontario been as well equipped in the selling end of the business, it might have been harder for our fruit growers to make as good a showing as they have done, but as it is, considerable credit for the present satisfactory state of things must be given to the close co-operation that exists among the fruit growers. In the benefit of this we all share. As we have said before the reflex of the fruit growers' prosperity is felt in other parts of this section of Canada.

Then there is the "potato phase" of this story of the Valley's present prosperity. By means of the same organization an export market has been found (principally in Cuba) at a very profitable prices for a good sized crop of potatoes. While potatoes have gone abegging in other potato-producing sections of Eastern Canada and in the State of Maine, the Valley potatoes have gone to export markets at fair prices. All this was arranged by the same agency that made such an excellent thing out of apples for our fruit growers.

It must be said that while there has been some good luck in the present situation as it affects the fruit growers and potato growers of the Annapolis Valley, there has been a great deal of good management. We think it can be said that foresight was a factor of considerable importance leading up to the present happy state of affairs. While many other fruit growing sections neglected their orchards during the war period, largely because of the high price of materials and a lack of faith in the future, the Annapolis Valley fruit growers, realizing the value of the asset they have in their orchards, and believing that the future would justify their care, kept on spraying. And it did not cost them so much as it would have cost growers in other fruit sections, because, by the same good management exercised in selling their crops, our fruit buying co-operatively they have been able to bid for the lowest possible price and getting it have had an economic advantage over their competitors. As a matter of fact, this is not the only economic advantage they enjoy, for barrels cost them about two-thirds what they cost the fruit growers of New York and Ontario, and this also is to some extent the result of good management, as many of the fruit growers actually "grow" their own stave stock.

We think it can be said that the present situation justifies the United Fruit Companies. Some merchants may protest that the co-operative buying of flour, feed, fertilizer and spraying material takes out of their hands a certain amount of business that they would handle in the ordinary course of events, but after all it is only on these few heavy commodities that they lose business, and it is a narrow-margin business at that; there is plenty of other business to do, and if this co-operative plan works for prosperity it makes for increased business on more profitable and more easily handled lines. Then there is the consumer who complains that he has to pay a dollar or two per barrel more for his apples than if there was more competition among fruit growers in selling. But how many barrels per year does the average consumer buy? And is his own prosperity not increased or at least made more secure by virtue of the success of our fruit growers? Once more, we repeat that their prosperity is reflected in the lot of every one of us. Yes, it was a good day for the Maritime Provinces when the fruit-growers came together in the United Fruit Companies and it must be admitted that at the present time they are the best prop we have shoring up our business structure.—Maritime Merchant.

CHILDREN AT THE MOVIES

(From the Minneapolis Journal.)
A recent questionnaire in six Chicago high schools shows that eighty-seven per cent. of the three thousand students attended the movies from one to seven times a week. These students spent nine hundred and twenty dollars a week at the movies, or forty-six thousand dollars a year. Most of them were frank to admit that they preferred the thrillers with gun-plays and hair-breadth escapes. The results of such a questionnaire might, no doubt, be duplicated in other cities. Movie-going is a habit that has a large hold on both young and old. Probably the movies now constitute at least ninety per cent. of the nation's entertainment.

TURN O' THE YEAR

Kathrine Tynan, in Poems
This is the time when bit by bit
The days begin to lengthen sweet
And every minute gained is joy—
And love stirs in the heart of a boy.

This is the time the sun, of late
Content to lie abed till eight,
Lifts up betimes his sleepy head—
And love stirs in the heart of a maid.

This is the time we dock the night
Of a whole hour of candlelight;
When the song of linnet and thrush is heard—
And love stirs in the heart of a bird.

This is the time when sword blades green,
With gold and purple damascene,
Pierce the brown crocus bed a-row—
And love stirs in a heart I know.

DOMINION FRUIT GROWERS' CONVENTION

Apple Grading Methods Under Revision—Legalization of Half Barrel Requested.

The formation of a Canadian Horticultural Council, the need of which has been stressed by leading horticulturists throughout Canada of late, was one of the most important and significant achievements of the sixth annual convention of the Dominion Fruit Growers' Association held in Ottawa, Feb. 22-24.

Of wide national interest was the decision to discard the present method of grading apples packed in boxes as numbers one, two and three and to recommend the adoption of a higher standard, viz. extra fancy, fancy and C, and also to adopt grad: definitions superior to those recommended by the Western United States fruit growers at a recent conference in Spokane, Washington.

New Size for Small Fruit Boxes Unanimous approval was given a resolution which called upon the convention to recommend the adoption for use in Canada of the United States quart berry and current boxes. It was the desire of the conference that the boxes now in use be recognized as lawful packages until Oct. 1, 1923, in order to permit of stocks on hand being utilized.

A resolution was adopted, recommending that the three quart basket for grapes be changed to one of the same size as the "pony" basket, used in the United States. On motion of G. A. Walstead, St. Catharines, seconded by A. M. McCallum, Winnipeg, it was recommended that the fruit branch be given power to issue permits to growers to use the so-called 12-quart basket for bulk shipments of grapes in Canada. It was also decided to recommend to the Government the legalization of the half-barrel for use in Canada. Discussion on this subject revealed the information that growers in the Maritime provinces had been using the half barrel, although illegal.

A resolution was adopted urging upon the Dominion Government the fixing of standards for jams, jellies, etc., with regulations enforcing adherence to the same, both by the home manufacturer and by manufacturers of such products imported into Canada.

Canned Fruit Criticized That the laws respecting the canning of fruits were not being enforced was contended by James Wagstaff of Hamilton the well known jam manufacturer. He stated that in some cases jams labelled "pure" contained only 18 per cent. fruit whereas the law requires 45 per cent. The remainder, he declared was largely commercialized pectin.

Under the heading of "Transportation" a number of important resolutions were adopted. One recommended a reduction in minimum car loads from twenty thousand pounds to seventeen thousand pounds for large express refrigerators and fifteen thousand pounds for the smaller cars on both domestic and export traffic. Another called attention to the fact that protective service was being granted on all railway lines west of the great lakes covering shipments from British Columbia, and recommended the extension of the service to and from all points in Canada at a reasonable charge which would be calculated on the cost of the insurance service.

One of these resolutions stressed the necessity for wider distribution of Canadian fruits, and called upon the carrying companies to establish express carload commodity rates from producing centres to distributing points in local territory and from British Columbia and Ontario points to various points in the United States.

The conference went on record as being opposed to any increase in railway classification of fruit and vegetables.

Want Lower Freight Rates That substantial reduction in freight rates on fruits and vegetables was essential to the future progress and welfare of the industry, was the effect of another resolution which will be passed on to the railway companies.

The formation of a bureau of fruit markets within the Department of Agriculture, was given serious consideration and a resolution was passed urging upon the prime minister and the minister of agriculture, its immediate consumation. Such a bureau it was explained, would be far more economical and efficient than the present system of issuing reports from each of the ten branches of the Department of Agriculture.

Chemicals in Fruit Juices Hearty support was given to the following resolution "Resolved that a regulation be adopted to prohibit the use of chemicals in the preparation of beverages such as cider, fruit juices, wines, etc., such practice being detrimental to the best interests of fruit growers generally."

The formation of a Canadian Horticultural Council was proposed by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, in his address at the luncheon which took place on Thursday, 23rd. He suggested that it be operated along the same lines as the National Dairy Council, and that it be self sustaining. Touching on cold storage also, the minister said he hoped to live long enough to see a reversion to the old Act which provided for a bonus of thirty per cent. to individuals and associations that desire such assistance for the erection of cold storage plants.

A splendid spirit of harmony and co-operation prevailed throughout the proceedings which was presided over by C. W. Baxter, Dominion Fruit Commissioner.

Council Representatives The representatives of the various interests on the Canadian Horticultural Council will be as follows: Ontario growers, James E. Johnson, Simcoe, and Lt. Col. H. L. Roberts, Grimsby; British Columbia growers, W. J. Manson, Mission, and C. E. Barnes, Vernon; Quebec growers, Peter Reid, Chateauguay Basin; Maritime provinces' growers, F. W. Bishop, Paradise, N. S. and A. G. Turney, Fredericton, N. B.; wholesale dealers, R. R. Scott, Winnipeg; package manufacturers, W. A. Fraser, Trenton; nursery-men, S. E. Luke, Montreal; jam and canning interests, James Wagstaff, Hamilton; provisional secretary, Capt. L. F. Burrows, assistant Dominion fruit commissioner.

The following is a list of official delegates: Fruit growers—Rev. G. P. Raymond, Berwick, N. S.; E. H. Johnson, Greenwich, N. S.; J. Howe Cox, Cambridge, N. S.; W. C. Spurr, Melvern Square, N. S.; A. E. Dewar, Charlottetown, P. E. I.; W. B. Gilman, Fredericton, N. B.; N. E. Jack, Chateauguay Basin, Que.; Wesley Montgomery, Brighton, Ont.; W. F. W. Fisher, Burlington, Ont.; W. L. Hamilton, Collingwood, Ont.; A. Craise, St. Catharines, Ont.; C. E. Barnes, Vernon, B. C.; Thos. Abriel, Nakusp, B. C.; W. J. Manson, Mission, B. C.; and J. T. Mutrie, Growers' shipping organizations—F. W. Bishop, Kentville, N. S.; T. J. Mahoney, Grimby, Ont., and C. L. Low, Vernon, B. C.

WHY DO MEN ADVERTISE? The man who conducts his business on the theory that it doesn't pay and he can't afford to advertise, sets up his judgement in opposition to that of all the best business men in the world. Says an experienced advertising authority: "With a few years experience in conducting a small business on a few thousand of capital he assumes to know more than thousands whose hourly transactions aggregate more than his do in a year, and who have their millions by pursuing a course that he says doesn't pay."

If advertising doesn't pay, why is it that most successful merchants of every town, large or small, are the heaviest advertisers? If advertising doesn't pay why do the business firms in the world spend millions in that way. Is it because they want to donate those millions to the newspaper and magazine publishers, or because they don't know as much about business as the six-for-a-dollar merchant who says money spent in advertising is thrown away or donated to the man to whom it is paid? Such talk is simply ridiculous, and it requires more than the average patience to discuss the proposition of whether advertising pays or not with that kind of a man. His complacent self-conceit in assuming that he knows more than the whole world is laughable, and reminds us of the man who proved that the world doesn't revolve by placing a pumpkin on a stump and watching it all night.

CANNING NOTES

By the death of Mrs. Chas. W. F. Hamilton, which was reported to friends here from Dorchester, Mass., on the 10th inst., we are reminded of the many changes in our town during the last half century. Over seventy years ago Miss Bessie Sheffield, a daughter of the late John Sheffield, Esq. (who did business near the corner of Main and Sheffield streets, then the hub of our business section) and a sister of the late Stephen Sheffield (one of our leading business men who sold out to Eaton & Co. and moved to California twenty-five years ago, passing away shortly after), married Wm. H. Harris, a brother of the late Edward Harris, Ezekial B. Harris and Whitney T. Harris, and of the surviving Albert Harris and Mrs. Edwin E. Dickie. Wm. H. Harris built vessels immediately west of the John Northup ship-yard, on property afterward owned by the late Jas. S. Witter and now owned by Mrs. J. L. Kinsman. The brig "Bessie Harris" was one of his productions. Mr. Harris, who was a very jovial man and of noted physical strength, met with an injury in his shipyard and died over fifty years ago. He lived in the house now called the Waverly Hotel which after his decease has been occupied by Chas. E. Lovelace, Hibbert Lockhart, E. D. Bishop, A. B. Baxter, Capt. E. A. Baxter, H. O. Harris, E. R. Harris, and F. Huston successively.

Mrs. Harris was married to Dr. Chas. W. F. Hamilton and lived, with her son Leverett (since deceased) and daughters Lila and Minnie, in the old home. Her husband who was the only son of the late Dr. C. C. Hamilton, of Jaw Bone Corner, and brother of Mrs. Robt. M. Rand, kept a drug store in part of the Joe Pineo store afterward occupied by J. W. Greenough, C. E. Harris and others, and which went up in the smoke of 1912. After closing up his business here he moved to New York where he did a successful drug business for many years, being favorably known by many of our ship masters and others.

We understand he and his step daughter reside at present in Dorchester, Mass. Miss Ellis spoke to the ladies of the Womens Institute in the Gem Theatre on Tuesday afternoon on "Home Economics". A luncheon was served at close of address.

Mrs. Nash, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Newcombe, arrived from her home at Orillia, Saturday night and is spending a short time at the old home.

WOLFVILLE THIRTY YEARS AGO

THE ACADIAN of thirty years ago this week referred to Acadia street as "the proposed new street". Wolfville has grown some since then.

In the same issue it is recorded that the Electric Light Co. had placed two lights on Main street, one in front of the post office and one in front of the light station.

Another item records that a bill had been passed in the local house to incorporate the Wolfville Fruit Land Improvement Co., Mr. W. C. Archibald being one of the directors; the others being Halifax men.

OUT IN FRONT

By the Pioneer Sergeant
IT is a well known
FACT that
OPPORTUNITY knocks once
AT every man's door.
UNFORTUNATELY most of US are sleeping in
ON this occasion.
THE majority of young men
SEEM to think that
THEY must leave
THE Home Town
TO find success.
WHICH is, by the way,
ALL folly.
WOLFVILLE, of course,
DUE to our drowsy status,
IS somewhat of
AN exception.
STILL there are OPPORTUNITIES
WITHIN our borders.
APART from the
PREVALENT peace talk
ONE never knows
WHEN we may
BE compelled to
TAKE up fighting again
FOR a livelihood.
WE are of the opinion
THAT if this should happen
GAS will prove the LEADING method of ANNIHILATION. Now
IF some of our YOUNG men
WOULD acquire the

OLD barn at the foot of
GASPEREAU Avenue—
WOLFVILLE property is
SELLING very cheaply
THESE DAYS—
AND bottle the
ABNOXIOUS gasses
GENERATED therefrom
THESE dewy mornings,
THEY are certain to
MAKE a fortune, and
ASSIST the country.
TO say nothing of improving
THE sanitary conditions of
THE town.
WE thank you.

THIS WILL BE ANOTHER
Studebaker Year

Its the car everybody wants because it is the best.
The unusual popularity of STUDEBAKER CARS is attested by the fact that the corporation enjoyed the biggest business in its history in 1921.

Notwithstanding the fact that the total number of all automobiles sold (except Ford) was 40 per cent. less than in 1920, the total aggregate of sales for the Studebaker cars was 20 per cent. greater than in 1920—and in Canada 64 per cent. greater than in 1920.

QUALITY COUNTS!

Get into the procession and drive a Studebaker in 1927.
Full information on application. Let us tell you about the Studebaker.
