Committee Postpones Bills Consideration.

Members Declare That the Road is Wanted.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 28.—(Special.)-When the Railway Committee met today the Hamilton Radial Bill was the first order as arranged at the last meeting. Mr. Zimmerman, of Hamilton, explained that the Minister of Railways was meeting the representaday to confer over the question of lurisaiction as between the Dominion and the Provinces in regard to such railways, and therefore it was ar ranged that the bill should not come up to-day. He, therefore, asked that

Mr. Henderson (Halton), took strong objections to the way this bill was being postponed. If this was being done to kill the bill then he would oppose it. There was no reason why it should not be proceeded with. The Ontario Government asked for delay unvil to-day and there was no reason why they should not be represented an I explain why another adjournment was asked. Mr. Henderson was not very much interested as to whether bill came under Dominion or Provincial jurisdiction, but he was con-cerned in seeing it built. Hon. J. S. Hendric, of the Ontario Government, James Leitch, Chairman of the Railway and Municipal Board of Ontario, and C. H. Ritchie, K. Being interviewed here to-day Mr. Hendrie said that the Ontario Government realized that in connection with all railways that had to quote rates in respect to other railways would have to be, as far as that part of it was concerned, under the jurisdiction of the Dominion, as the Ontario Railway and (Continued on page 10.)

Hamilton Cannot Get Hydro-Electric Power Until Neighboring City Decides.

The Hydro-Electric power proposition appears to become more vague every day that passes. Mayor Stewart admitted this morning that Hamilton would have to mark time until Toronto made a move. It is quite probable, he thinks, that Hamilton will be unable to enter into a contract for at least two months and that if Toronto reaches a settlement with the power companies in the course of the negotiations that are being carried on now the whole Hydro scheme will "blow up." His idea of the course Hamilton should pursue is scheme will "blow up." His idea of the course Hamilton should pursue is for the special committee appointed last night by the council to have Chef Engineer Sothman, of the Commission come here and talk matters over and then await developments. It might be mentioned incidentally that Mr. Sothman has been here a score or more of times now "to talk matters over," but that is about all the meantime the city officials are clamoring for a settlement. City Engineer Berrow again expressed annoyance this morning at the delay. He says the matter of installing the pumps at the east end annex sewer and putting it in operation will be greatly delayed unless the power question is settled at once. It is practically as good as settled now that the electric pumps at the Beach will be considered the propose of doubling the tracks of the road between Samara and Zlatoust.

Temperance People to Seek Reduction.

City Water Department Wants New Shops.

Encouraged by the success of the Toronto temperance organizations in inducing the council there to cut off thirty-four licenses it is not improbable that the local temperance people will ask the City Council here to reduce the number of licenses in Hamilton. General satisfaction was expressed to-day by temperance advocates at the result in Toronto, which is regarded by them as a hopeful sign. A prominent official of the Centra? Temperance Executive told the Times that the question of appealing to the aldermen to cut down the number cussed, but nothing decided on. Another meeting will be held shortly to settle the matter. Fourteen of the aldermen are said to have pledged themselves against & reduction. The fourteen men on the hotelmen's slate elected were, Aldermen Allan, Bailey, Clark, Dickson, Evans, Farmer, Howard, Jutten, Lewis, McLaren, Sweeney, Ald. H. G Wright and Ald. A. J. Wright, but some of these were not asked to pledge themselves against reduction. It will be remembered that the temperance question was one of the issues of the last municipal election and that only two of the temperance candidates were elected. They were Aldermen Peregrine and Anderson.

City Engineer Barrow has pronised to place an appropriation in the estimates for that purpose. The officials have reported to him for years past the great necessity for new shops, and having looked into the matter himself he is convinced that new shops should be erected this summer. Chairman Clark, Ald. Anderson and others will also urge it strongly. The buildings are as old as the waterworks system and are not suitable for the present needs of the department. PAUL VANE'S WIFE

Heaven only knows how long hapless vivian might have lain there, had not Providence directed the footsteps of a pretty young girl toward the scene—sweet Emma Morley, a fairy-like, graceful girl—'she of the starry eyes and nut-brown hair"—a sixteen-year-old darling who, was as wild and wilful and romantic as her grey-haired mother was quiet, prosaic and strict.

Mrs. Morley, had a holy horror of love and lovers for her daughter Emma, and discouraged the reading of poetry and own sunding instead the Bible and sundry historical works. So our naughty, wilful Emma was wont to steal away 'to the quiet shades of the little cemetery near by to indulge in these forbidden pleasures. Just now she had under, her arm a volume of poems, and, without perceiving the silent form lying so near her, Emma threw herself down in the long grass and springing daisies, and, opening the little blue and gold volume with the poems of Mittle. Point Davis, began to read some verses in a soft.

Sweet, romantic little Emma! The tears welled into her tender eyes as the pathos and passion of the words she had read found an echo in her gentle heart, and she lifted her brown currly head and murmured:

"The anguish of the singer makes the sweetness of the strain."

Emma Morley was at that romantic age when the saddest story or poem has the greatest charm; and as the book slipped from her hand she leaned pensively forward, with the intention of having "a real good little cry, when her ear was caught by several low, pititul moans, so close at hand that she sprang to her feet trembling with superstitious awe; for, though not afraid of ghosts, the scene and that she sprang to her feet trembling with superstitious awe; for, though not afraid of ghosts, the scene and that she she had been reading had made her have a little "creepy" feel-

"I think I had better go home," Emma nurmured, starting to run, and thinking with suddent remorse of sundry homely tasks from which she had sought refuge in ignominious light; but she had not gone a dozen teps before she came upon the prostrate form a beautiful woman in a sale, shining blue robe, who lay like me dead in the long grass and ferns. Emman's strength and courage deserted er at this startling sight, and with shrill cry of alarm she fell upon er knees in the long grasses by Vivin's side.

Sweet Emma's fright was but mo-mentary, for as she gazed at the lovementary, for as she gazed at the lovely woman before her she realized that it was a human being like herself, and not a spirit from the other world, that had so frightened her. But she saw that something must be done at once for the suffering creature, who now moaned again and opened on Emma's sympathetic face a pair of the most beautiful violet eyes she had ever seen pathetic face a pair of the most beau-tiful violet eyes she had ever seen.

Frank Barrett, attracted by the handsome tout ensemble of the paper, took it from the hand of the genial old farmer and turned to the column of news. A few moments of silence, then a startled cry broke from his lips. He spring to his feet, and the paper fell from his nervous hand.

"Horrible—horrible!" he repeated, like one distraught : and Willie Benners, who had been watching him closely, caught the paper from the floor and ran his eyes rapidly over the pages. As he did so his face paled to an ashen hue, and his dark eyes dilated with despair as he glanced at Paul Vane's colorless face and drooping head.

"He must not see this. It will kill him to have the truth broken to him so rudely. The blow must be softened to him. I will destroy this tell-tale paper," he muttered, darting—toward the hot fire glowing upon the kitchen hearth.

But Paul Vanie's attention had been attracted by the agitation of his companions, and his ear had caught some of the words uttered by Mr. Benners. A swift suspicion came to him, and he sprung forward just as the young man was about to cast the paper into the filames. A struggle for it ensued, in which he was ably abetted by Farmer Hedrick, who was dismayed at perceiving the impending destruction of his beloved paper before he had perused any of its attractive columns. "Oh, do get off your horse and come and help me! I have found a beautiful young girl lying almost dead among the graves!"

Young Dr. Charley needed no second bidding. Springing down and hastily hitching his horse to a tree, he followed Emma's lead and soon came to where pretty Vivian lay among the ferns, in her dainty blue evening-dress, with her bare throat and art arms. There was a fever flush on her fair cheeks now, and the violet eyes were bright with fever. Paul Vane answered, despairingly, and in their hearts they felt that his words were true. Sadly and deject edly they returned and went to the place where the airship had gone down into the turbid waters of the James. Search was made for the bodies of the two voyagers, and after several days of a woman was found several miles below Natural Bridge. No one would have known the poor, shapeless form with its torn, muddy garments for loveling ring with the one word, "Mispah," on the third finger. "Poor girl, she is very, very ill, he said. "Do you not think that your mother would let me carry her to your house? It is the nearest one this side the hotel, and she ought to be in bed as soon as possible."

"Mamma would not object, I know." Enma answered; and without another word the young doctor, now seriously alarmed over his strangely found patient, lifted hapless Vivian in his arms and wended his way to Mis. Morley's little cottage in the woods.

The good little widow was filled with Givers the widows. The good little widow was filled with dismay over the condition of her beautiful stranger guest, and hastened to make her comfortable in the best bed the little house afforded, while, with womanly curiosity, she plied the doctor with questions.

But, mamma, where is my brother, that he did not come to meet me to-day?"

"Harold hard gone down to the Natural Bridge this morning before I received the telegram that you would return to-day, Beryl. His chum from Washington, Paul Lewis, is spending a week with him here, and they went out gumning this moraing down in the neighborhood of the Natural Bridge. But now, my dear, I am askious to know why you left Arcady so suddenly. Why, it was only last night the ball and theatricals came off, and I thought you meant to stay a week longer."

"Oh, mamma, I have the most awful thing to tell you!" cried Beryl, with dilated blue eyes and suddenly paling cheeks; but while she relates the story of last night's disaster to her startled mother, we will follow her brother Harold and his friend Paul Lewis on their tramp with their guns over hill and dale in pursuit of game.

Fashionable Vanderbilt Marriage in

New York.

New York, Jan. 27 .- Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, was married to Count Laszloe Szechenyi, a young Hungarian nobleman, in the Fifth avenue home of Mrs. Van derbilt at noon to-day. The wedding was probably the most brilliant that has taken place in this city for a number taken place in this city for a number of years. Although the number of guests was limited to about 350, mainly relatives and immediate friends of the two families, there were included Baron Hengel Muller von Hengervar, the Austrian Ambassador to the United States, James Bryce, the British Ambassador, and several of the prominent members of New York society.

Outside the Vanderbilt home a great Outside the Vanderbilt home a great crowd of the eurious public gathered, hoping for a glimpse of the count and his bride, and watching the arrival of the guests. There was no disorder among this crowd, for the streets surrounding the Vanderbilt residence were patrolled by nearly a hundred policemen.

Promptly at noon the wedding ceremony was performed in a large drawing-room on the Fifth avenue side of the house, in which a bower of palmis and arbor had been erected.

While there was no resettition of the While there was no repetition of the disgraceful street scenes which have been enacted at other prominent New York weddings, notably the wedding of Miss May Goelet to the Duke of York weddings, notably the wedding of Miss May Goelet to the Duke of Roxburghe in 1903, the police at times to-day had their hands full caring for the erowds that gathered near the Vanderbilt house. There were at one time probably three thousand persons, most of them women, standing in Fifth avenue and the side streets, hoping to get a glimpse of the bridal couple. They were all disappointed. By a well-laid ruse of the police all they saw was the tail end of a red automobile passing through 59th street. The count and the countess had started on their honeymoon.

Only Defence Scheme That Will Satisfy Australia, Says Mr. Deakin.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 27.—P mier Deakin stated in to-day's debr that any scheme of defence by means a subsidy to naval and land forces w a subsidy to naval and land forces was much too small. Nothing less than universal training would give a force truly national in spirit and character. With a small population and a vast dominion, Australia could not be content with less protection than that afforded by her whole manhood in a citizen army and a local flotilla under citizen control. Mr. Deakin's speech was loudly cheered.

MARKETS and FINANCE

Tuesday, Jan. 28.—The bad weather of last night and this morning prevented many farmers from reaching this city for the market to-day, with the result that there were only about four or five rigs on the market. Meat was rather plentiful, and pork was not in demand, the price going as low as 5½c for the live article, and rarely touching the 5½c mark, which was supposed to predominate this week. Grains are all keeping even with the demand, but oats fell off a little this morning, going down 2c, a bushel.

planation of the death of Stanford White at the hands of the young litts-burg millionaire.

Before the opening of the State's cases in rebuttal to-day there was a conference of counsel, having as its object the arrangement of a compromise as to admitting certain evidence—principally the copy of Evelyn Nesbit's affidavit supposed to have been made in Abraham Hummel's office.

District Attorney Jerome agreed to admit Harry Thaw's will by consent, if Mr. Littleton would admit the affidavit. This arrangement would do away with the necessity of taking Hummel's testimony on Blackwell's Island, and would also hasten the conclusion of the case. No agreement had been announced, however, when the morning proceedings were taken up.

The State began by calling several eve-witnesses to the tragedy, who declared Thaw's conduct impressed them as rational.

One of the witnesses was Warner Paxson, engineer of the Madison Square Garden. He said that just before the killing of Stanford White one of the performers on the stage made a remark about challenging somebody to a duel.

"Was the performer who passed the remark Harry Hudson?" asked "Assistant District Attorney Garvan.

"I don't know. Harry Thaw's shots followed the remarks. I thought at first it was part of the play."

Abraham Syndecker, a former employee of Howe & Hummel, who testified last year that he witnessed Evelyn Nesbit's signature to the affidavit which charged Harry Thaw with alleged crueltise, next was called to the stand.

The affidavit was signed by Evelyn Nesbit in the Madison Square tower, where she was in company with Stanford White. where she was in company with Stanford White. When shown the photographic copy of the signature, however, the wit-ness could not positively identify it, al-though he recognized his own signatures underneath that of the Nesbit girl. Snydecker swore that the girl glanced through the documents and declared its contents were true.

Syndecker was confronted with his testimony of last year, and explained several discrepancies by saying he remembered the events more clearly this time.

Mr. Jerome here sprung a surprise by Mr. Littleton caused a smile by saying he gould not think of any questions to ask the witness.

"With the exception of the testimony of Mr. Hummel, this is all the evidence the State will have to offer," said Mr. Jerome.

Open 1.15 p.m. It had been rumored for some time that the District Attorney would not call any medical experts in rebuttal, and this statement confirmed it.

It was reported that Mr. Jerome would contend in his summing up to the jury that no competent case of mental irresponsibility under the law had been brought out by the defence.
Another conference of attorneys followed Mr. Jerome's announcement. It finally was agreed that Hummel's testimony at the last trial should be read to the jury, and that the Thaw will should also be read.
The reading of Hummel's testimony was still in progress when the luncheon

Bryant's Pond, Me., Jan. 26.— Many people believe that the restless, disembodied spirit of Summer Sessions is watching over his family. FARRAR AND THE MAYOR.

We look upon the Mayor as the cus-todian of his own honor, and have not the same anxiety as the Hamilton Herald apparently has that he may not guard it with sufficient jealousy. evening the Herald published an extract from a Times editorial (the second time of publication, by the way) with reference to a statement made by Ald. Farrar to us about the Mayor's action in connec tion with the expenses of a certain aldermanie deputation. Our contemporary drew attention to the fact that the Mayor would have an opportunity at that night's Council meeting to demand an explanation from the alderman, and insinuated that if he failed to ask for an explanation, it would be through fear. We understand that the Mayor made no reference to the matter at the meeting. This may be a disappointment to the a ruction between the Mayor and the al-The Times is quite willing to allow Mayor Stewart to be the judge in a personal affair of this kind, and has no desire to sic him on. Still, we may be permitted to say that the "reporter" made no mistake-that the facts were as stated in the Times editorial.

NOBILITY OF SOUL.

Our patriotic and large-hearted con temporary, the Spectator, is enjoying moment of pure happiness. It from learning that British Columbia is likely to enact the Natal Bill, Not that the Spectator is particularly enamored of the Natal Bill. Not that it will serve any useful purpose, for it will not. But it gleefully looks forward to it causing rouble for Laurier, and that is worth more to it than the benefits of the treaty with Japan. The Spectator has declared the arrangement made with Japan as to immigration to be satisfactory to Canadians. It declares that the treaty with Japan is "a good thing for Canada," and that to lose its advantages by an abrogation brought about through the passing of the Bowser [Natal] Bill in British Columbia, would a distinct loss to Canadian trade." It even declares that Japan should have a chance to make good, so convinced is it that the treaty and the immigration agreement are both in the Canadian in erest. And yet, it fairly chortles with joy at the thought that what, it is mpelled to admit is the unwise course of small British Columbia politicians, may lead to the abrogation treaty, and the loss of that "good thing annoy Laurier! A very patriotic and noble conception!

A SOCIALISTIC SCARE.

Canadians would not be well-advised accept at face value the lurid stories of Britain's slump into Socialism, which the sensational cable man sends to us these days. There is, of course, a great had the honor to be decorated with the deal of crude wild-eyed Socialism in England, but it is very far from dominating the people. It does not dominate the workingmen; it does not, we believe, even dominate the organized portion Her Majesty. thereof. Organized labor in England has accumulated a considerable fund and duced to pour it into the rathole of Socialism. If it were possible for the Socialists to command the "Labor vo a" they would gain great strength. But no Sick Children's Hospital scheme such thing as Socialism dragging the millions of organized workmen at its chariot wheel is to be imagined. There is a hard substratum of common sense in British labor, And even were the labor leaders to fall under the delusion it is very improbable that they could large proportion of their followers with them. The swinging of the seriously embarrass the Government. At the worst, however, tak- consider themselves Torontonians, ing the cabled stories as facts, we do not think that it would result in a victory for Socialism. Partyism in Great Britain has never been with the masses of the people, the blind idolatry with on this side of the water are too much acquainted. Should the stabof British institutions be threatened by a Socialistic assault there is igh principle and patriotism in the Old Land to unite against it the forces of sanity regardless of party, and dash it back until the delirium could be subdued by the cooling effect of reason.

LADY RANDOLPH CHURCHILL.

There are now running in the Century Magazine "The Reminiscences of Lady Randwiph Churchill," now Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, and mother of Wins-Churchill, the youthful politician. These reminiscences are very interesting, partly because they are interestingly written, but more especially because they deal with public men and public questions which those of riper years remember and are conversant with, and also because they give us now and again glimpses of what was going on in those days behind the scenes. In these reminiscences in the February Magazine she makes two references to the Right Hon-Joseph Chamberlan, neither of which is

The Duke of Mariborough my father-in-law, was particularly in censed, and took Randolph seriously task for having had Mr. Chamberlai to dinner—"a man who was a Socialism or the fact from a who was a socialism. to dinner—"a man who was a Socialist, or not far from one, who was reputed to have refused to drink the Queen's health when Mayor of Birmingham," etc. "How could the influence of such a man be anything but pernicious."

If the Duke of Mariborough were alive to-day we wonder what he would think of Mr. Chamberlain and his tariff reform imperialism. The other references in the Reminiscences to Mr. Chamber lain throws a side-light upon the pro verbiable ingratitude of the man and his proneness to sacrifice his friends. Here proneness to sacrifice his friends. Here it is:

In November, 1882, Randolph, wanting a rest from the arduous political wark he had been indulging in, decided to go to India for a few months. He had been speaking at a good many meetings all over the country. At one of these, at hirmingham, took place the celebrated Aston Riots, which were organized by Mr. Chamberlain's agent, a Mr. Schnadhorst; how the meeting was broken up, the speakers (Sir Stafford Northcote, Colonel Burnaby, Randolph and others) fleeing for their lives, is a matter of history. Notwithstanding Randolph's right-cous indignation at such treatment, particularly from a friend, he made it up with Mr. Chamberlain before leaving for India. Amiable letters passed be-While Randolph was on the high seas, Aston Riots question, which had already been discussed in the House of Commons, came up again. In view of the reconciliation which had just taken place, I was rather disappointed to hear Mr. Chamberlain warmly backing up his constituents. It may have been accessary from his point of view, but I agree with M. de Camors—"Ia politique desseche le coeur." Sometimes, indeed, I think, politics is a "corry game." Too often its attributes are callousness and ingratitude, tricks and treachery. In any other "walk of life" these things ingratitude, tricks and treachery. In any other "walk of life" these things not be tolerated for a moment Of a more pleasant vein, however, are her references to Mr. Gadstone and Lord Salisbury. "Of all the statesmen I have met," she writes, "I think the late Lord Salisbury and Mr. Gladstone were the pleasantest companions at dinner. Of Mr Gladstone she savs:

His old-world manner was very attrac tive, and his urbanity outside the House remarkable. On one occasion I had been at the House hearing Randolph make one of his fiery attacks on him, which he answered with equal heat and indignation. The hour was late, and Randolph and I had just time to rush home and dreat to dine at Spencer House with dolph and I had just time to rush home and dress to dine at Spencer House with Lord and Lady Spencer. The first person I met as I went in was Mr. Gladstone, who at once came up and said, "I hope Lord Randolph is not too tired after his magnificent effort." What an object lesson to those foreign politicians who would look upon it as an insult to be asked to meet in the same house."

It will be remembered that at the Churchill on Mr. Gladstone the public almost stood aghast at what was considered his audacity. It was also believed that Mr. Gladstone was much annoyed with them. These facts may help to emphasize Lady Randolph's moral. She ap parently does not think much of the power of the press. She says that "At the last general election (1906) with few exceptions the whole press of England preached protection, and yet free trade won all along the line." H., G. & B. ANNUAL MEETING WAS QUIETER THAN USUAL

But the Minority Stockholders Raised Objections and Asked Ouestions.

Although the annual meeting of the Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville Railiway shareholders yesterday afternoon, like every session held since the minority stockholders were frozen out, was by no means a love feast, it was a comparatively tame affair. The surprise that the minority people expected the company was going to spring did not materialize. There was a large attendance of the minority shareholders, and the directors were freely criticized on several matters. They listened attentively and said nothing in reply.

The chief cause for complaint was the action of the directors in abandoning the old station and going over to the Terminal Station, built by the Cataract Power interests, which practically control the road. It was stated that the H., G. & B. was being charged $4,000 a Station, while it receives $800 a year rental for permitting other companies to use the old station on the opposite corner for freight purposes. The minoripany not only gets back the $800, but considerably more, by charging the H. G. & B. $4 a thousand pounds for the freight handled in this station.

The minority people were looking for nformation about an agreement said to have been entered into with the Dominion Power & Transmission Company for running sights over the H., G. & B. tracks from Catharine to James street on Main. Col. Gibson explained that there had been no agreement entered in-

INTELLECTUAL PREFERENCE.

To the Editor of the Times:
Sir,-"Interests us all." The Hon. Mr Sir.—"Interests us all." The Hon. Mr. Lemieux, the Postmaster-General, placed a prohibitive postage rate on American publications, and paid two-thirds of the carriage of British publications, which action it is anticipated will increase the trade between Great Britain and Canada through Canadians purchasing the articles advertised in the British periodicals. In the whole article there is not a hint of reciprocal trade, "but it will be of immense benefit, to both countries," that Canadians buy of British manufacturers. This jug-handled preference may be very fine for the British manufacturer, but where are Canadians to gain anything through it, save the usual honors that come to Canadian statesmen, who place British before Canadian interests? It is true that Mr. Gill intimates that our manufacturers would learn "new processes" of British manufacturers. Whether this is, or is Whether this not probable, all leave, to our manufacturers, but when a Canadian farmer or fruit grower wishes to learn anything new of farming or fruit growing, he attends meetings of American fruit grow. ers or their farmers' institutes, etc. manner the American farmer at tends our meetings. At the last meet ing of the South Wentworth Farmers Institute at Stoney Creek, a Government deluge spoke with approval of a method of fruit culture explained at a meeting of Michigan fruit growers, and referring to a member of the local insti-tute, said Mr. Smith attended that referring to a member of the local institute, said Mr. Smith attended that farmers bulletins from various American agricultural experiment stations.

One I remember being as far south as Maryland. This Maryland bulletin was written by a Canadian, a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College. The farmers on either side of our southern, boundary grow the same crops, under the same climatic labor and other conditions. Being a larger, older and richer country, the United States offers inducements which have resulted in many of the brightest graduates of our agricultural colleges taking positions in American agricultural colleges and experimental stations. The result of their experience and researches, which would be of the greatest benefit to the Canadian farmer, are to be found in American agricultural periodicals. Many the Canadian farmer, are to be found in American agricultural periodicals. Many of our crops go to the same market and are sold in competition with those of the American farmer and we object to being handicapped in our endeavors to obtain the laiest practical information in regard to improved methods of cultivation and the most profitable varieties of fruit and grain to grow. A slight gain in the yield of any of the principal agricultural crops through improved methods of tillage or improved varieties, means in the total an immense sum to the country. The problems the American people have to work out are the problems which engage our attention. To-day MacKenzie King is in Washington talking on industrial arbitration. Are "The Japanese Question," "Regulation of Life Insurance Companies," "Railway Commissions," "Reforestry," etc., any more Canadian than American questions? Why should we refuse to learn from the experiences of our neighbors? It is the greatest folly. If you wish to read articles by Canadian authors, you turn to the American, not British magazines. If you wish to see illustrations by your fellow-townsmen, Heming, Kilvert, Birely, etc., you must look to American papers. To an extent the prohibition of American publications is class legislation. An Eccentric Pianist.

Toronto, Jan. 28 .- With the facial con ortions of Scaramouch and the song of Ariel, Vladimir de Pachmann fairly ravished his audience at Massey Hall last night. The Scaramouch part of it was so spontaneous, so childlike, that receptive music lovers found a sure delight in an artist who took such naive enjoyment from his own music, at moments when they were not carried away by the Ariel element of his personality. Never was the latter, which has won him his niche in the Inner Temple of the Interpreters more manifest than last night. The ordinary concert-goers might be excused for imagining that the famous eccentricities of de Pachmann were part of the game—indeed, his managers in the past have not been slow to use them for public purposes, just as they used the long hair of Paderewski before he cut it. But such an impression would be false; the pianist's peculiarities of manner are absolutely beyond his own or anyone's control, and he is great, not because of, but in spite of his eccentricities. music lovers found a sure delight in

A crowded house greeted the new people at the Savoy Theatre yesterday afternoon. The bill for the week, as presented at the initial performance, is well balanced and contains some feature acts from the New York theatres. Mile. Miss Prack was brought back to New York yesterday by her attorney. Mark Alter, from her home in Pittsburg, where she says she went to raise money to satisfy her employer. The girl apparently was not alarmed at her predicament, saying that she felt that she could "satisfy her creditors" if given a chance. Miss Frack has been employed by Ellery for several months. She was efficient, and apparently ambitious, and was rapidly placed in a confidential capacity in which she endorsed all notes. It was not until Nov. 17 that the girl was aupected.

When asked regarding the amount taken her lawyer stated that $6,000 would cover, all. He admitted that the number of cheques forged would approximate one hundred, but called attention to the fact that the girl voluntarily returned to face the indictment.

APPEAL DISMISSED

In Case Against Italian Counsel-Cataract Case.

The following Hamilton cases came at Osgoode Hall vesterday:

One of the daintiest sketches in vaude-ville is said to be the one-act playlet in which Henry E. Dixey, who starred in "The Man on the Box," and other well known productions, is to appear in at the Savoy Theatre shortly. He is ap-pearing in vaudeville for only eight weeks, and the Savoy was fortunate in arranging to have him spend one of the weeks in Hamilton. In his repertoire of sketches, Mr. Dixey is supported by Miss Marie Nordstrom, an artist who is said to possess splendid ability as well as a charming stage appearance. Hamilton Cataract Power. Light & Traction Co. vs. Falls Power Co.-W. E. Middleton, for defendants, moved ex parte to dissolve an exparte injunction granted by the local Judge at Hamilton. motion.

Orazio vs. Smith. W. J. O'Neail and W. L. Ross, for plaintiif, appealed from judgment of senior Judge of County Court of Wentworth withdrawing the case from the jury and entering a non-suit and dismissing the action with costs. The action was for recovery of $200 which he alleged he had paid to defendant as Italian Consul at Toronto. to secure exemption from military service in Italy. The defendant denied the allegations of the plaintiff. W. E. Middleton, for defendant, opposed appeal. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Dr. Roberts, the Medical Health Officer, declared this morning that he was taking every possible precaution in caring for the smallpox cases, and that there was no foundation for a lot of gossip heard as to carelessness. He has arranged to have the room in the King Edward school, where a daughter of the man Webb, who is so seriously ill from the disease, attended until last Friday, disinfected, and will also urge that all the children in this class be vaccinated. A majority of them, he says, have voluntarily consented to this. It will not be necessary, he explains, to vaccinate children who have had the operation performed within the last two or three years.

The City Council Fails to Satisfy One Member.

Brantford, Jan. 27.—After a four-hours' session the City Council to night failed to break the political deadlock which resulted from an attempt to which resulted from an attempt to strike committees at the inaugural meeting two weeks ago. Instead of moving the striking committee to-night, the Council went into Committee of the Whole to select committees, and held a private session of two hours. A slate was drawn up by which the Chairmanships were allotted as follows: Finance, Wood, Liberal: Board of Works, Suddaby, Conservative: Fire and Light, Hartman, Conservative: Buildings and Grounds, Lyle, Liberal: Railway, Rastall Liberal; Manufacturers, Rastall Liberal; Manufacturers hall, Conservative.

This made an equal division of three hairmanships each, to which it was hought all agreed. When the Council eassembled Ald, Suddaby, who desired reassembled Ald. Suddaby, who desired to replace Wood by Andrews. Chairman of Finance last year, stated he was opposed to the siate, and would move an amendment embodying his views. Rather than precipitate another struggle the Council adjourned one week, when a special meeting will be held. The deadlock in appointments to boards was broken and a number were named.

Tory Machine Continues to Use the Knife

The city should soon know where it nds on the Hydro-Electric Power ne. A special committee appointed at night by the City Council to conder the form of contract, the prices power, the power to be used for the cipal plant and the proposal to apint an electrical engineer to prepare ecifications, will take the matter up

The aldermen had hardly straightened mselves up in their chairs before nairman Sweeney moved an amend ent to the Board of Works report. Intead of asking authority for that comsittee to appoint an electrical engineer connection with the preparing of speications and establishment of the lant, he asked that a special committee be appointed consisting of represen-tatives from the Board of Works, Sewers, Fire and Water and Finance Comnittees and that permission be granted employ an engineer to prepare spefications only.

Ald. Crerar, one of the new members the Council, made his maiden speech, posing the appointment of an engineer epposing the appointment of an engineer until the Council knew where it stood, sind he made a favorable impression.

"The time has come, I taink, when we should know definitely and absolutely where we stand regarding this matter," he said. Hon. Adam Beck had stated in the City Hall recently that he considered the city was morally and virtually legally bound to contract for Hydro power. In Association Hall before the by-law had been passed it was stated most emphatically that it would, not change the city's position one iota. It was intimated that the by-law was to be a big stick to secure a fair price, If a big stick to secure a fair price. I Beck's statement was right the by was passed under a misapprehen Ald. Crerar desired to know if i sion. Ald. Crerar desired to know if it was the intention to employ an engineer. That was what he interred from Ald. Sweeney's amendment, and he considered it would be a big mistake until the city was sure just where it stood on the power question. The aldermen he did not think had the faintest idea of what the Cataract or any other company was prepared to do. In the words of an alderman who was famed for his independence or rather the lack of it, he urged the Council to give every man a square deal.

Mayor Stewart, in reply, explained

Ald. McLaren argued that it was the duty of the city to get an engineer to prepare specifications no matter which power was used.

The Mayor thought there would be no objection to Ald. Sweeney's amendment provided it read "to consider the appointment of an engineer."

"I would if I was sure that it would not tie our hands," said the chairman, who explained that the majority of his committee opposed this course.

Ald. Peregrine, seconded by Ald. Farrar, moved in amendment that the resolution read "to consider appointing an engineer," and this passed unopposed.

"That a committee be appointed conof Works, Sewers, Fire and Water, in cluding the chairman of each, the chair man of Finance and the Mayor, to con man of Finance and the Mayor, or consider the form of contract, the prices of power and the power to be used for municipal lighting and power plant and to consider the appointment of an election present specifications.

ST. GEORGE'S CHOIR OUTING.

A short, sharp debate followed an amendment made by Ald. Clark to the Fire and Water Committee's report, recommending that Chadwick Brothers, a Hemilton firm, be given the contract for brass work, required in the waterworks department. The contract amounts to about $3,000, and Keith & Fitzsimmons, of Toronto, sent in a tender, $131 lower than Chadwick Brothers. Although a majority of the members spoke in favor majority of the members spoke in favor of this, on the ground that it would pro-vide more work for Hamilton men in dull Vide more work for Hamilton men in dull times and that other cities had turned down local firms, when the figures were close, Ald. H. G. Wright opposed it. "We should transact city business on a business basis," he declared. Rather than advertise for firms all over Canada to tender and then refuse to accept their bid, even though it was the lowest, he considered was poor business. The proper thing to do was confine the tenders solely to Hamilton firms. He considered that he was just as much interested in the tenders and the milton firms get city work as anyone, but he protested against methods of this sort.

Coal Business Again.

Coal Business Again.

Ald. Peregrine made some enquiries regarding the Fuel Committee's report. He wanted to know where a surplus of $1,900 mentioned in the report, and recommending that it be turned over to the Board of Works, had been accumulated. The Mayor replied that this was the profit on ten cents a ton added to the cost of the coal and other incidentals.

Ald. Peregrine said that following the stir last year over the coal question the aldermen were promised that a clerk would be engaged to keep the books, and that a detailed financial statement might be looked for this year. Instead of a profit on the soft coal last year, he de-clared there was a loss.

be looked for this year. Instead of a profit on the soft coal last year, he de-clared there was a loss. Chairman Allan, defending the committee's report, said that it was impossible to make a full financial statement until the year closed in March.

Tory Snickersnee Again.

The Tory machine men followed up their policy of gobbling everything in sight. The Finance Committee recom-mended the appointment of Harry Carpenter as auditor of the criminal justice-accounts. Ald. Bailey evidently did not expect there would be any opposition, and he nominated Mr. Carpenter. When it came time to fill in the blank in the by-law, Ald. Jutten, however, seconded by Ald. A. J. Wright, moved-that Charles Lemon be appointed. The four or five Liberals present voted for Mr. Carpenter. Ald. Bailey was rather reluctant to arise until Ald. Diekson gave him a jab about nominating Mr. Carpenter. With the exception of Ald. Bailey, the solid Tory vote, including the "independent," Mr. Farrar, was for Mr. Lemon, who received the appointment.

Smallpox Expense.

Smallpox Expense.

Ald. Peregrine stated that a physician had spoken to him on the street regarding the smallpox scare, and intimated to him that the Beard of Health was handicapped by a lack of funds in battling with the disease. The Mayor explained that the Board of Health had lower to speed a large state of the state o power to spend all necessary money this matter.

Want Act Amended

Want Act Amended.

The Finance Committee recommended that no action be taken on the request that Hamilton join with the Ontario Municipal Association in a petition for the repeal of that clause in the Municipal Act respecting civil liability for non-repair of highways, but the Council reversed this. Ald, Farmer spoke strongly against the Council taking any action, because he declared it would make things worse than ever. The City Solicitor suggested that the Council request that the clause be either repealed or amended so the city's liability would be lessened and its interests better protected. This met with approval.

Although Dr. Roberts, the Medical Health Officer, declared that he did not think a permanent hospital to accommo date twenty patients could be built for less than $5,000, the chairman and Charles Peebles seemed to think that a plain, square concrete building could be pointed out that it would require a considerable amount to fix up the road leading to the place, installing water and other incidentals. Chairman Quinn, after thanking the members for electing him to preside over the board again, promised to do his best to put into operation this spring the new system of garbage collection, conveying the garbage collection conveying the garbage collected on cars to the inlets for filling in purposes. He suggested that a special committee be appointed to act with himself in dealing with the smallpox outbreak, and that it be authorized to approve of necessary expenditures without having to call a special meeting of the board every time an account had to be paid. Regarding the board's desire to have a general vaccination, he said that people who thought this was being done to work up a soary or for the benefit of the dectors were laboring under a misapprehension, because the doctors were only too ailling to assist as far as possible in stemping out the disease.

Mr. Quinn intimated that, according to report, the man Webb, residing on Catharine street, who is so seriously ill, was rather, neglected. One of his children had been permitted to attend the King Edward School up to Friday. He thought that the school should be disinfected, and the children vaccinated.

MANSLAUGHTER THE VERDICT OF JURY.

Inquest In Cumming's Case Was Concluded After

Crown Attorney and Coroner Comment Upon the Unsatisfactory Nature of the Testimony.

"That William Henry Kirkpatrick is pullty of manslaughter under great proceeding in the death of John Joseph Jummings" was the unconventional but processes version that we reached last the way reached last witness." guilty of manslaughter under great pro-Cummings" was the unconventional but oncise verdict that was reached last night in the case of the fight at Mc-Pherson's shoe factory, which took place a week ago last Friday. This will have the effect of putting the prisoner on trial, for on Saturday his remand at the jail runs out. The prisoner, who was present during the inquest, was absent when the verdict was brought in, having been removed to the cells awaiting his trip to the jail, where he will spend his time till his trial. During the whole of the proceedings he sat next to George S. Kerr, K. C., his counsel, and did not seem much impressed when a point against him was brought out, while he eemed rather elated when Crown Attorney Washington struck a particularly stubborn witness, who would not tell what the Crown Attorney thought he knew of the scrap. The Crown Attor-ney stated that he had never met a case where the facts were so hard to draw out, and in his address to the jury Coroner McNichol remarked that apparently some of the witnesses were not telling the truth, and he hoped they would reflect on their stories before the tial, if there should be one, and come to a decision to tell the truth, as the only fair course between man and man. Only cleven witnesses were called last night, making a total of twenty, out of 51 subpoenaed, but the Crown Attorney apparently decided to keep the rest till the Police Court hearing, as some of the witnesses seemed to think it a joke to mislead him. At the Police Court he will be allowed more scope, and has hinted that if the story does not come out freer sensational developments may be expected. Coroner McNichol remarked that appar

"I'd have to count them," replied the witness.

"Just count the witnesses I've called and you'll have the number of posts; every man to-night had a post between him and the fight," remarked Mr. Washington, with an air of resignation. Witness said that he learned after that Cummings had been stabbed. "You couldn't help but know he had been stabbed," said the witness. "You're the first man that has admitted that to-night," said Mr. Washington.

Frank Filgiano, cutter, saw the fight from the first till the time the fighters reached the sink. His story was the same as the others, but he was able to add a little to the details. Mr. Washington said that nearly all the previous witnesses were "eifther blind or lying deliberately," but the witness said he had told all he knew, rnd was not responsible for the others.

"I don't want to have the boy say anything here," said Mr. Kerr. "It may become more serious, and I want him to have a fair show if he goes up. I don't think he can elucidate anything, and I think they have the true story now before them." This was in reply to a question of the Crown, who, stating he had put in all the evidence he wished to, asked that the prisoner make an explanation. The Coroner upheld Mr. Kerr in his objection.

The Coroner then asked Mr. Washing-The Coroner then asked Mr. Washington to explain to the jurors what their duty was in a case of this kind. Mr. Washington said that in coming to their verdict the jurors must consider very carefully the evidence. To indicate murder the evidence must show premeditation; that the crime was thought out and planned; manslaughter was death resulting from a wound given in the heat of passion or when the accused had been angered. In self-defence it must be shown that the accused had come to the last ditch and crossed it, and nothing was between him and serious, probably fatal, injury at the hands of the aggrestnesses seems.

The first he heard was some one saying "Joe, you have a cut on your face." and he walked over towards him. He did not see kirkpatrick but went into the washto help Cummings and then told to telephone for a doctor.

Canadian Club Members Talk About Monuments

And Discuss the Subject of Immigration;

At the Canadian Club meeting, held ast evening in the Conservatory Music, Mr. C. R. McCullough, who was the representative of the local club at Ottawa, regarding the purchase of the Plains of Abraham, and the erection of people, submitted his report of the proceedings and of his visit. He told of the meeting of the delegates from all parts of the Dominion with the Governor-General, who outlined his project to preserve this famous field as tional park for Canada. Mr. McCullough's report was a detailed one con cerning the doings of the delegates, and he also read the resolution adopted by the meeting. He said that no general project had been outlined while he was in Ottawa, but since his return home he had received a letter asking that a com mittee be formed from the local club for the purpose of conferring with other lubs that a definite scheme might be developed. Mr. McCullough thought that developed. The congregations were large, and the offerings promise to surpass those of any former year. Several months ago the system of weekly offerings for missions was introduced, so that many in the congregation are giving by weekly envelope, which is regarded as the ideal method. This is a great advantage, as it keeps up the missionary interest throughout the entire year, in stead of centering it in one single day. The pastor, Rev. H. G. Livingston, expects the church to raise for missions this year from all sources about $1,000. This represents a large increase during the recent years, as at the beginning of the present pastorate, four years ago, the congregation was contributing less than $100 per year to this cause.

WOMAN DIES AT 120.

Remembered George Washington and Often Danced With Andrew Jackson.

Bristo!, Va., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Mary Ramsey Wood, a native of East Tennessee, is dead at the age of 120 years. In her youth Mrs. Wood saw George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and others of the early statesmen. It is said her best recollection of public men was that of Andrew Jackson, with whom she frequently danced when a girl.

Mrs. Wood in 1852 emigrated to the Far West, travelling the entire distance across the plains on horseback. She was married three times. Throughout her eventful life Mrs. Wood took an active interest in politics. She was an uncompromising Democrat, and Andrew Jackson was her ideal statesman. She once said in a discussion of public men:

"Andrew Jackson was the President for you. He knew how to fight, he knew how to make laws and; better yet he knew how to enforce them"

The age of Mrs. Wood is authenticated by the record of her family Bible. She was opposed to having her body conveyed to the cemetery in a hearse, preferring a simple vehicle, or, as she expressed it a "democratic wagon."

for hysteria, Dr. Worcester advises this treatment:

"Remonstrate with the person afflicted from Fort William to Montreal would be, he said, 900 miles in round figures, but the mileage was not os important a factor as the time the vessels would take. He had made a careful study of the time question, and, allowing one day for loading and another for unloading he accomplished in twelve days. The argument that large lake boats would be accomplished in twelve days. The argument that large lake boats would prefer the open lake route to the restricted river was, in his opinion, fallacious. The canal would have the advantage of being sheltered throughout, while the fact that it would be entirely within Canadian territory would be another strong point in its favor. New Discovery Regarding Dyspepsia

An eminent London specialist, long skilled in the treatment of stomach troubles, has just announced that nervous Dyspepsia does not affect the stomach. He proves conclusively that nine-tenths of the work of digestion is carried on in the intestines—not in the stomach. No wonder that so many doctors have failed to cure these cases—they worked on wrong lines. There is probably no remedy that comes more highly recommended for Dyspepsia than Ferrozone, which possesses more power to cure than even pepsin, pancreatine or any other temporary digestive aids. You see Ferrozone strikes at the cause of the trouble—it gives new life to the nerves and intestines, supplies abundance of rich, strength-giving blood, and thereby gives the digestive organs a chance to trouble—it gives new life to the nerves and intestines, supplies abundance of rich, strength-giving blood, and thereby gives the digestive organs a chance to catch up in their work. The patient feels the benefit of Ferrozone at once. The additional vigor and nerve force imparted to the whole system by Ferrozone assists every organ in the body ta do the work Nature expects of it, and before long every trace of indigestion passes away. of Perjury.

Arcola, Sask., Jan. 27.—A young French-Canadian of Wauchope has been summoned on a charge of perjury, the offence, it is alleged, having been committed in securing a license by means of which he was wedded to his own niece. Both parties to the marriage are seventeen years of age. It is reported that the Wauchope priest would not marry the pair without special dispensation from the Archbishop. They, therefore, went to Manor, where the license was secured and the ceremony performed.

The Magistrate of Carlyle sout the formed.

The Magistrate at Carlyle sent the young man up for trial, which will come off at Arcola in May. Much interest is manifested in the outcome, which will demonstrate if under any circumstances a man may marry his own niece.

Independent Canners' Association Formed at a Meeting Held Yesterday-Unfair Efforts to Prevent Sale of Goods.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—The Independent Canners' Association was formed yester day afternoon at a meeting held in the King Edward Hotel, and attended by representatives of nearly all the inde representatives of nearly all the independent canning factories of the Province, of which there are about forty. Mr. E. D. Smith, M. P., Winona, presided. The objects of the association were by a resolution stated, to be: "To hold meetings from time-to-time to discuss all matters relative to the interests of the canners, and for their mutual benefit, advantage, and protection.". In the discussions which took place during the session it was complained that the Provincial inspection report was unfair to the canning industry, because it stated that several factories in the Nisgara district were not up to the standard in cleanliness. This report reflected on all the factories in the district, and those at the meeting were of trict, and those at the meeting were of opinion that the district should not have refered of an are the meeting were of opinion that the district should not have been singled out for such criticism. The meeting was in favor of the most rigid inspection and for the heaviest possible penalty for those who violated the law, but the poticy-of condemning a whole district was considered unfair. The actions of the Canadian Canaries Association was considered, but no action was taken, although it was stated by some of those present that efforts were being made to prevent grocers buying canned goods from any but members of the Canadian Association.

The following were elected the officers of the new association: Mr. E. D. Smith, M. P., Winona, President, Mr. A. Baker, the Old Homestead, Pieton, Vice-President; Mr. R. W. Ball, of the Essex Canning Company's offices, Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer; Geo. E. Fisher, the Burlington Canning Company, Burlington, is on the Executive.

Bad Accident at Railway Crossing Near Glencoe

Glencoe, Jan. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Saul Parrish were struck by the afternoon express on the Kingscourt branch of the G. T. R. to-day. They were returning home in a top buggy, and were only a short distance from their farm. Their horse was killed instantly, and both Mr. and Mrs. Parrish were taken up in an unconscious condition. They were taken on the train to Alvinston, where some hours afterwards Mr. Parrish died. Mrs. Parrish is now in a precarious condition. Mr. Parrish was a well-known and successful farmer. He was about forty years of age, and leaves a young family of two girls and a boy.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—There was less real hockey in the hour of play in the O. H. A. intermediate game between Toronto Athletic Club second team and Hamilton last night than has been seen in a game at the Mutual Street rink this season. Hamilton got nearer the real article than did T. A. C., but their efforts were spasmodic. The final count was 10 to 4 favor of the mountaineers. Half-time, Hamilton 4, T. A. C. 1.

Gordon Southam, who was sensationally fast as a senior last year, appeared to be not in condition, but at that he was perhaps the best man on the visiting Morin, the Hamilton cover-point, was strong, and shot a couple of goals from three-quarter way. Heron, in centre for the Athletic Club, and Douglas at point, bore the brunt of the work for Brantford

Peter Layden, of Paris, refereed impartially and well. The teams:

It was a hard game, but there was very little roughness, and Referee Herb Clarke, of Toronto, had no trouble. The half-time coore was 5 to 1. The line-up: Simcoe—Cotes, goal; Serubb, point; Smith, cover; Cratt, centre; J. Andrews, Piett, G. Andrews, forwards.

Woodstock, Jan. 28.—Woodstock juniors played their second home game in the O. H. A. series last night, and won an easy verdict, scoring 18 goals to Listowel's 4. The half-time score was 7 to 1. Rocker, of Listowel, was one of the best men on the ice. The rest of the visitors were not particularly fast.

Woodstock tried, out two new men from the City League, Dent at point, and Bryce at right wing, and the changes seemed to strengthen the team. Sutherland, Gustin and Pascoe did most of Woodstock's scoring, Although the locals won, they did not show first-class form until the second half, when their playing pleased the spectators greatly. The attendance was about five hundred. The line-up:

vanced movement in securing the Alexandra Rink for the game with the Buffalo Y. M. C. A. here next. Monday night, Feb, 3rd. The Y. M. C. A. will hold only a limited number of spectators who can see the game to advantage, but in the Alexandra Rink L500 people will be able to see it, and with a team like the Buffalos, a crowded house should greet the locals on their first adventure to make the game popular in Hamilton. Skating can be indulged in by those who wish to do so between 7.30 and 9 o'clock. The game will start at 9.15 sharp. General admission to the game will be 25 cents, and an additional 10 cents for those who wish to skate. This low rate will no doubt be appreciated by the general public. Mr. Robinson, manager of the Buffalo team, claims that the team is as strong as ever, and expects to win out again, as they did in their previous game. The Buffalo Central is one of the teams that have played Hamilton and broke even, each winning from the other away from home. The locals expect a hard game on the wide floor in the rink, which will give them plenty of room for clear cut passing and lots of fine shooting.

If the general public attend in large numbers, the committee will endeavor to bring the best teams in the United States here, and the public can look for a fine series of games during the next two months.

Trenton, Jan. 27.—Geo. E. Alger, of Frankford, was cenvicted before Police Magistrate O'Rourke, of Trenton, to-day of offering for sale 39 barrels of apples "packed contrary to the Government standard." Inspectors 'Carey, Rutherford and Brown, who examined the fruit, testified that the packages contained "a large percentage of small, defective and inferior specimens."

The Magistrate, in pronouncing sentence, said that had it not been the first offence on the defendant he would have imposed the maximum penalty. He nevertheless fixed the fine at 50 ceats per package. Mr. Baker, of the fruit division, represented the department, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, of Belleville, appeared as counsel.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, of Belleville, appeared as counsed.
