SOLIGNUM.

A Remarkable Test! Locally made by Messrs. W. & G. RENDELL.

To test Solignum as a preservative for Wood against the attacks of Worms, we tried a piece of 2 x 4 Spruce, about two feet in length, by painting one-third with Solignum, leaving the balance clear wood, this we suspended by a wire through the centre, in the water about one foot from the bottom, immediately over a pile of stones the remains of a sunken wharf (which is the place where our Wharf Shoes are cast off first) for Three Months. On taking it up at the end of that time we found some half-dozen small holes only a very short distance in the clear part of the wood, which shows the liquid had penetrated through the whole piece and the worms had hardly begun boring before coming in contact with it.

Last year as a test of some brands of Copper Paint we had a similar piece of wood treated at both ends, leaving the centre third clear; this was in exactly the same place as the piece for the Solignum test for Three Months and Three Days, when taken up the painted ends were perfect but the centre was riddled with worm holes.

Both these pieces of wood are to be seen at our Office by those interested in the preservation of Wharf Piles or any other wood work.

Use the GILLETTE With the Angle Stroke

Jack-knife—draw-knife—plane—scythe—lawn-mower—all edge tools cut cleanest and easiest with the angle stroke. The angle stroke was the only thing that made the old open-blade razor possible—except as an instrument of torture. Yet many men use the GILLETTE like a hoe and expect it to cut clean and easy. The superb quality of its cutting edge is proved by the fact that even when used in this way the GILLETTE gives a good shave. But to get the real satisfaction which the GILLETTE is capable of giving you, you naturally must use the angle stroke. Then you will know and appreciate the genuine luxury of the clean, cool, comfortable, easy three-minute GILLETTE shave.

Buy a GILLETTE and enjoy it—if you haven't one already. If you have one now, use it right and enjoy it to the full. Standard Sets $5.00 — Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00. ## Tale of Mystery

CHAPTER VII. 'I Want to Know Also Who You Are,' (Continued.) "Yes," answered her companion, impatiently and almost angrily. "But there is something behind that 'if' and when you say it I turn chill, and almost fear you, for the possibility of parting it suggests. Do you know, Dessie, I believe I could hate even you if you tried to come between us." Then she got up hastily out of her chair and began to walk about the room; and Dessie thought it best not to answer. Soon afterwards they both went upstairs to bed; the girl real-

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl." — Mrs. DEMA BERTUNE, Sikeston, Mo. The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pain, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

ising more completely than she had yet done how strong and deep was the man's grip on her friends life. As soon as she was alone in her room she found her nerves were really unstrung. She was full of apprehensive fancies and fears. She seemed to picture the man as he might have glided about the room that evening when searching for the poison and hunting among her things. The picture which her thoughts had painted for her of that other grim search of his in the Pyrenean homestead, when his thoughts were busy with the purpose of murder, also came back to her now; and she glanced about the room as if calculating how it would adapt itself to such a purpose if he were to come there to kill her. She was so fearful that she examined every nook and cranny of the room—under the bed, in the wardrobe, in the cupboards, even in the large drawers, everywhere where a man could possibly or impossibly hide. When she had satisfied herself that no one was in the room but herself she locked the doors and fastened the window; and then fortified all three by placing things in such a position that anyone opening either door or window would be sure to make sufficient noise to wake a sleeper. And when at length she got into bed, she left the gas burning high enough for her to detect the slightest change in the position of anything. All this was absolutely foreign to her custom, but the shock of the afternoon's attempt had unbinged her. She could not sleep. As often as she dozed she fell into some troubled dream from which she would wake up full of nervous dread, and more than once in a clammy sweat of fear. Nothing occurred to substantiate the fears which spelt her night's rest; and when daylight came she fell asleep with a feeling of profound thankfulness. She rose the next morning comparatively unrefreshed, of course, and with a splitting headache; and though she could laugh at the daylight at her fears, and make fun to herself of the elaborate preparations of the night before, she knew that many such nights would have serious consequences to her health. But her mind was soon absorbed by thoughts of the appointment with de Montalt, and of what she had to do before it. Mrs. Markham was going to breakfast in her room, the maid told her, and this set Dessie free pretty early. Her first task was to take the little bottle of poisoned tea to have it analysed; and she started as soon as she had finished her breakfast. After that she hurried on to her rooms to get what letters there might be—she knew there would be one from Tom Chertton—and as soon as she had them she had no time to read them before starting on her return journey to South Kensington to be in time for her appointment with the Count. She travelled back by the Underground Railway and read her lover's letter as she threaded her way through the squares to Gower Street Station, and finished it and the rest on the train. Tom's letter was a long one for him—cherry and bright and loving as usual; but hotting out no hope of an early return. His uncle, Samuel Davanant, was really ill this time, he said. Not dangerously but lingeringly ill; and he was altogether loath to let Tom out of his sight. "I think it would have been a jolly good move if I'd brought you down here with me," wrote Tom, "and just let him see what a natty little beggar you can be when you choose. If those little fingers of yours had been busy making my poor old uncle comfortable, instead of dipping into other people's pies, I fancy it might have been a deal better for you both, to say nothing of me. I hope, by the way, that you're not getting your fingers too deep into the mess; but I suppose I shall hear. Anyway, you will have to manage without me for a time—and perhaps a long time. Oh! how I wish you were here."

Dessie smiled at the last sentence, but frowned rather wearily at that which said he was to be away a long time. Then she reflected that by then he would have her letter explaining that matters had taken a turn; and she hoped that in consequence he might be able to get away and come to her. There were three other letters. Two on business about work—some fiction and some articles that had to be written—while the third, was in a handwriting she did not at first recognize. She looked it over in that ridiculous way in which people do turn over letters in a strange or forgotten handwriting; but when she opened and read it a deep flush mantled in her cheeks, and an angry light brightened her eyes. It was short. "My Dearest Dessie, "Don't start with anger when you see how I address you. You can never be anything else to me than Dessie. I have been needing you a very long time and have only just now found your address. That indeed has been almost by an accident. But I shall call and see you to-morrow morning and tell you of the deep, deep love that has been growing and strengthening in my heart ever since we parted years ago under circumstances I am now ashamed to recall. "Ever your devoted friend, "EDMUND LANDELE."

It was from the man of whose abominable treatment of her years before she had told Dora, when warning her how utterly contemptible and base some men could be; and as Dessie read the letter and thought of the past and of the man's conduct her heart was full of both bitterness and rebreoding. He knew much, and was scoundrel enough to use his knowledge for her harm. The knowledge that he was coming again into her life was galling and disheartening; and all the time she was in the train she sat brooding unhappily over the possible complications and troubles that might be the result to her. Now more than ever she fretted at her lover's absence from London, and regretted she had not already told him what had to be told. She needed his strength; the comforting assurance of his love and above all the certainty that what had to be told would make no difference in his feeling for her. Her present mood made her take the darkest and gloomiest views of everything. Though there was nothing in the past disgraceful to herself, yet there were undoubtedly certain things which any man must hear with great regret and which many a man would regard as serious obstacles to making her his wife. She felt as sure of Tom Chertton as a woman could be of a generous true fellow who loved her with all his heart. She had once felt sure of this contemptible scoundrel, Landele, and Tom also had to look to his position, and—but at that point she broke off the thread of this thought; to scold herself for harbouring even an implied suspicion of her lover's loyalty. But for all that she could not be quite easy. If only he had been in town that morning she would have gone to him there and then and told him everything without reserve. Out of this came an impulse. She would send off the telegram she had thought of the previous night in her moment of panic; and as soon as she left the South Kensington Station she did so, urging him to run up to her at once, if only for an hour or so as something most serious had occurred. The sense that the message would bring him to her help within a few hours calmed her agitation somewhat; but Sir Edmund Landele's letter was altogether the worst possible preparation which she could have had for the interview with the Count de Montalt, and she was very nervous and unstrung as she walked along the Cromwell Road, and on hearing the short street, leading to the assuredly sought sight of his tall, powerful figure waiting for her. "You are not looking at all well. Miss Merrion," was his greeting, as he looked keenly into her face—he did not now attempt to shake hands "You are not fitted for work of this kind."

"I have not come to discuss my looks, but to hear what you wish to say to me," said Dessie, coldly. "I admire your courage; but at the same time the fact that you have thought it wise to come shows me you can temper it with a shrewd discretion."

He discovered her action, but that you would meet me this morning and give me the proofs you had before said you could produce—proofs that you are the Count de Montalt, and not Roland Lespard, the murderer of old Paul Duvivier."

"You have an excellent faculty of direct speech, Miss Merrion," said the man, with a sneer. "A trick of journalism, I suppose. "Please be good enough to keep to the unpleasant subject that has made this meeting necessary," interrupted Dessie, curtly. "That is just the point which you have missed. But to do you justice, I am not sure that you quite know what that is. If you remember, I promised you something more than the proofs you wanted." He stopped and looked at her with an indescribably evil smile. "Ugh? you remember now?"

"No, it is not unimportant," he said in answer to the gesture. "It is most important. It means no less than that this interview may end in your arrest, Miss Merrion. Your arrest on a most serious charge. You want to know who I am, and will not believe that I am what I say. I want also to know who you are, and why you stole jewels worth thousands of pounds five years ago, and have made no effort to restore them. Steal them from a waiting-room at the Birmingham station on the 14th of March 1887." For all this strange career and experience, Dessie was a far better actor than he; and though now taken infinitely by surprise, she held her feelings splendidly in check, and answered in a deliberate tone and calculating manner, as though recalling facts from memory. "The fourteenth of March—the fourteenth of March. I am not surprised you have that date well in your

I told you yesterday I should tell Mrs. Markham what I knew about you if you went again to the house without giving me proofs that you are not the man I say. You did go again to the house, and said that you had the proofs with you. Instead of producing them, you made a dare-devil attempt to poison me. I have sent the poisoned tea to be analysed so that there may be no mistake on that score. You then made a desperate endeavour to get possession of the poison by stealing up like a thief, into my room, and ransacking every nook and cranny. You failed; but even then, unabashed, you had the hardihood to tell me you knew I had

The Open Door for Consumption

And How "Father Morris's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) Closes it.

A low run-down condition, with perhaps a neglected cold and a little cough, is a cordial invitation to the White Plague, Consumption, to come in and make itself at home. And it seldom overlooks the invitation.

In such a case there is no time to be lost. The door must be promptly closed. This can be done by taking a complete rest, with plenty of fresh air, and "Father Morris's No. 10" (Lung Tonic). This medicine clears out the passages, relieves the cough and heals the delicate membrane of lungs and air passages. But perhaps most important of all, it builds up the whole system, giving Nature the needed assistance in fighting off the dread disease.

Though other remedies may have failed, don't give up. Try "Father Morris's No. 10," combined with fresh air and exercise, and even though you are in the first stages of consumption there is hope of a permanent cure. Sample bottle 5c. Regular size 50c, at your dealer's, or from Father Morris' Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que.

thoughts. That was the day when you were arrested for the murder of Paul Duvivier, on the very spot you mention—the platform of Birmingham station."

By the time she had finished her sentence, she had recovered her composure. The danger of the crisis quickened her wits, and she looked at him coldly and sternly, as she added:

"Why do you tell me this? I see in it no proof that you are not old Duvivier's murderer. On the contrary, it only shows that I am right about you."

Finance of Home Rule

A BUSINESS COMMITTEE. The following are the names of the persons composing the Committee which has been appointed to ascertain and consider, among other things, the existing financial relations between Ireland and the component parts of the United Kingdom, and to distinguish as far as possible between Irish local expenditure and Imperial expenditure in Ireland:— Sir Henry Primrose, ex-chairman of the Inland Revenue (chairman); The Most Rev. ### The McLean's Loss.

Mr. A. H. Murray yesterday had particulars of the loss of the schooner A. K. McLean. She left Louisburg with a cargo of coal for A. H. Murray on Good Friday and came south to clear the ice, but becoming becalmed two days after was dragged into the floe by the current when the ice came together, she was crushed and began to leak so freely that the pumps could not keep her afloat, and Captain Murray decided to abandon her. Providentially a boat was hauled over the bow by much exertion, and getting to open water and after a long and toilsome row the men reached the Cape-Boston Coast. The schooner was a fine one and value for about $10,000, but was only insured for $5,500.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its forms can be cured. It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and head ache, I feel too tired to do anything I have no heart to exert myself and a dinner I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden. Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like this when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage, 5c extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—Oct 29, 1911.

Making the Lace for Queen Mary.

Mrs. Jane Morris, in Northamptonshire, at Work on Bedfordshire Pillow. LONDON, April 19.—In a pretty little cottage in the pastoral village of Shelton, near Rushden, in Northamptonshire, lives Mrs. Jane Morris, a little clerdy woman, who is earnestly engaged making the Bedfordshire pillow lace for the coronation attire of Queen Mary. She has been engaged on her delicate task since last October, and must finish it by the end of this month. The lace, which is of exquisite beauty, is being made on a wonderful parchment more than seventy years old, that was used for the late Queen Victoria's coronation lace, representing the crown and pendant worn by the Queen. Each diamond in the crown is represented by a dot, there being ten in the flourish, twelve round the outside of the crown, twelve in the crown and five round the lower part. The thread is as thin as a hair, and "I have worked some very fine 'bread in my time, but never anything like this," said Mrs. Morris to a visitor. The lace is about three inches broad. Mrs. Morris is making four yards, and it takes a whole day to make an inch and a half. "She uses 180 bobbins for the work," said Mrs. Morris's visitor, "and it is wonderful to see her fingers moving among them with amazing rapidity and never picking up the wrong bobbin. The intricate revolutions, so quickly and dexterously,

MRS. GEO. BUTLER FINDS RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Farmer's wife who was weak, nervous, and suffering from Backache, tells her suffering sisters how to become well. Paquetville, N.B., April 28. (Special) It is a message of cheer that Mrs. Geo. Butler, wife of a well-known farmer living near here, sends to the tired, nervous, run-down women of Canada. "My trouble was brought on by hard work," Mrs. Butler states. "For four years I suffered from pain in the back. I was always tired and nervous. My head ached, and I had dark circles under my eyes, which were also puffed and swollen. I had flashes of light and floating spots before my eyes, and was generally in a run-down condition. "I was feeling very bad when I began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I can only say I found relief at once. "To all who are suffering from pain in the back I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills. They will find relief. The health of the women of Canada depends on their kidneys. If the kidneys are right all else will be right. If the kidneys are wrong, sickness and suffering must ensue. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make the kidneys right.

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients. READ THE LABEL

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Portrait of Ruth Cameron.

The cynic of our circle had recently bought himself a horse. The cynic admits that he is not so good a judge of horses as he is—or thinks he is—of men, and as the purchase represented the fulfillment of a long cherished and lifelong ambition, the cynic was anxious, delightfully, humbly, just-like-the-rest-of-us anxious to see how his horse would turn out.

She went beautifully for two or three days.

We were all duly called upon to admire her fine points, her small head and feet, her glossy coat, her broad chest, her excellent knee action.

The cynic was happy. So happy that he almost forgot he was a cynic. So happy that he even forgave when she passed over have a horse with bad knee action and more of a mane and tail.

And then one morning the beloved animal was not taken for her daily trot.

The cynic came back from the stable thoroughly remembering his character of cynic.

"The horse is gone bad," he explained. "Her front legs are all stiff. The stable people don't seem to know what the matter. They say she probably will be all right in a few days, but I can't get anything real definite out of them. All they'll do is squint at her legs and look wise. I'll bet the animal goes lame for good. Just my luck."

Of course we all promptly tried to cheer him up—even Molly graciously joined in the assurances that of course the horse would be better in a day or two.

And then the author-man's wife came in and heard the news.

"Well, now isn't that queer?" she gloried—yes, "gloried" is the proper word. "Do you know my father had a horse, once that did just like that. She went splendidly for a day or two after he bought her, and then went stiff all of a sudden and was never good for anything again. The veterinarian said she had something the matter with her feet in the first place, and that something must have been injected into them to make her go all right for a day or two. Father kept her for awhile and then sold her to a tin peddler for fifty dollars. And he paid three hundred and fifty for that horse. Your horse makes me think of her a lot, too, in her knee action and the way her feet are shaped. Now isn't that funny?"

The lady—who-always-knows-something came in just about then and reinforced our assurances that the horse would surely be all right in a day or two, and that the case the author-man's wife had told about was different in a great many ways, but the cynic was beyond reach of optimism.

Sweet of the author-man's wife, wasn't it?

And of all her kind who always have a dimly suggestive story of a trouble and a cure similar to yours which end most disastrously.

You fall and hurt your knee a bit and the doctor orders you to bed for a day or two, and they promptly remember that "Aunt Eliza, who fell eighteen weeks and in dreadful pain most of the time."

Your maid acts strangely, and they promptly recall how "Mrs. S.'s maid did things just like that, and she turned out to be an ether fiend and set the house afire in one of her crazy spells."

You find—but why multiply examples?

Everybody knows the type. Everybody puffers from it at one time or another.

And everybody—I fancy—has much the same opinion of it.

Notes From Gambo.

The chop is now over and the men have returned from the woods after a good season's work. The weather conditions of the past winter were such as to greatly facilitate lumbering operations—just the right quantity of snow and frost.

Quite a number of men are employed here by Messrs. G. M. Strong, J. M. Curran and M. Gibbons. Between the three firms there must have been 300 men engaged in logging during the winter months. The past week there was quite a stir at Gambo and a lot of money was put in circulation. Messrs. M. E. Martin and N. Smith did a rushing trade for their firms. There will be a lull now for a couple of weeks, and then the driving begins, followed by the whirring of the mill saw.

On Easter Monday night there was a fancy fair, held in the R. C. School Hall here for the purpose of raising funds to renovate and decorate the interior of the new church erected by Rev. Dr. Whelan in 1905. A committee of the Altar Society composed of Mesdames M. J. Curran, P. J. Cashin, Misses Gillis, Harrington, Dooley and Kelly had charge of affairs. The result of their combined efforts, together with the patronage of their many friends, showed itself in the handsome sum of $350. They now take the opportunity of thanking all those who by their generous donations and willing help contributed so much to the financial success of their sale of work. These ladies also held a very enjoyable entertainment at Xmas whereby they raised a hundred dollars, which was expended in making the large school more commodious. Thus it would appear that our R. C. friends are very enthusiastic over church and school affairs.

The Rev. M. P. Finn arrived here by Thursday night's express on an Easter visit to his people, staying over Sunday. At Mass Sunday morning and at evening service he preached very plain and direct sermons, with which the people were apparently pleased. We are anxious for more frequent visits from Fr. Finn, in fact we should prefer to have him reside right here amongst us. He returned to Whitbourne yesterday.

Household Notes.

In putting lace insertion into tub dresses in such a way as to bear a strain, as in attaching a flounce to a skirt, or in the yoke or waist, I cut strips of bobbinet a little wider than the insertion and place it under the lace. This strengthens the lace without spoiling its beauty, and adds much to the wearing quality of the gowns.

Baked bananas are sometimes used as a vegetable. Peel and cut in half, lengthwise. Divide if large. To each banana allow a tablespoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of water, a teaspoonful each of lemon juice and melted butter and a pinch of salt. Put slices in shallow casserole and bake slowly for half an hour, keeping them well basted.

When you wish to do tucking on a fine garment by hand it is easiest to fold them first with the machine; adjust trimmer to the correct size; then adjust the stitch. Remove the thread from the needle and stitch your tucks exactly as though you were using thread; thus your tucks are nicely marked and the hand sewing can follow the holes pierced by the needle.

In making all-over covers having drawstrings at the top and waistline, stitch the shoulder straps to the upper edge of the back. In the front, fasten these of the garment on the under side with a small safety-pin, or a button and buttonhole. This is to be undone when laundering and the cover opens out flat and is as easily ironed as a handkerchief.

When I fry doughnuts I have a pan of boiling water on the stove and when I take a doughnut from the hot fat I dip it for an instant in the tolling water. All the surplus fat is removed and I have a brown, crisp doughnut that anyone can eat without ill-effects. When the water is cold I remove the fat from the surface to use again and you would be surprised to see the quantity that rises.

With the care of the refrigerator the thought must always come that butter and milk take on the flavors of all that they come in contact with, and should be kept in the ice chamber alone and covered carefully at that. The cream cheeses are susceptible to strong flavors, and have to be carefully protected. Wrapping in paraffine paper is often an effective protection for delicate food from strong odors.

with their bedroom windows open in winter for fear of catching cold. The following plan works splendidly: Procure a piece of wood an inch or two in thickness and exactly the length of the bottom ledge of the window frame. Raise the lower sash, insert the wood, then press the sash down. This allows a current of air to pass through the room without causing a draught.

Flushing our waterpipe with hot water has saved us many plumbers' bills, besides the inconvenience of being without water for several weeks at a time during zero weather. First close the shut-off in the cellar. Then open the faucet to let the water run back. At the same time hold under the faucet a dipper of boiling water submerging the mouth of the faucet. As the pipe empties, the hot water is sucked in and runs the length of the pipe, heating it all the way and melting the frost and ice.

Entertainment at Cape Broyle.

Under the distinguished patronage of Rev. Fr. Rawlins and Hon. M. P. Cashin, on Easter Monday night one of the most pleasing events ever witnessed here was enjoyed by a large number of people. Those who took part in the performance must certainly feel pleased at the appreciation shown, as it was declared by all present to be the most successful ever held here. The affair was held in the new school and the building was packed. A brilliant rendition was given of a very enjoyable performance. Following is the programme: Opening Address. Song—"Jingle Bells," by school girls (7). Dialogue—"A Changed Housewife," by senior boys and girls.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and SO GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

OUR IRON ISLE. The bazaar in aid of the R. C. Church held at the Mines' Hall last week proved a great success. The energetic pastor, Rev. J. J. McGrath, was present and opened the bazaar, which ran for a whole week. To the ladies who managed the tables great praise is due, especially to the Misses Lawton, Eagan, Shannahan (2), O'Brien, and Mesdames Steed, Delaney, Kent and Eagan. Everything peculiar to a "fair" of this kind was in evidence, not omitting the dance, which all seemed to thoroughly enjoy after the Lenten season.

Rev. J. J. McGrath paid a visit to the metropolis last week.

Mrs. J. J. Miller returned this week from a prolonged visit to the city.

Mr. D. Trapnell, of the D. I. & S. Co. staff, spent the week end in St. John's.

The many friends of Mr. A. McDonald welcome him back again to Wabana. Mr. McDonald is very popular here, having been underground manager with the Dominion Co. for many years.

The Nova Scotia Co. were the first to set the "half rolling" this year, and last week despatched the first cargo of ore for this year by their new 12,000 ton ore boat, the s.s. Telus, which sailed for Philadelphia.

The Themis, a sister ship of same capacity, is shortly due here.

It is freely rumored here that a new mine, under the management of Mr. J. E. Grant, will start at Lance Cove this summer. If so, Wabana will indeed not alone be a great but a wonderful stronghold of iron ore.

Mr. W. Coughlan, who worked here last summer, has again returned to Wabana, this time to work at Lance Cove.

The new ore boats chartered by the D. I. & S. Co. will shortly be along when the season's work of that vast concern will begin in earnest. These boats will ply between Wabana and Sydney, and ought to carry to the Cape Breton shores about 35,000 tons a week of Wabana's "red hematite."

The pupils of the various colleges, including Masters Jackman, Costigan, Carbage, Basha, Dwyer and others, who spent Easter at home, returned on Monday to St. John's.

The Holy Week festivities at the R. C. Church were fittingly celebrated here. Rev. Fr. McGrath conducted all the services. On Easter Sunday "Missa Cantata" was sung, and at the offertory the "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss N. Jackman, her splendid rich voice filling the spacious church.

The new route to Bell Island via Kelligrews will prove good when the stormy weather abates. At present the old route via the Cove is the surest, though the roads to the Cove from St. John's, we understand, were never in such a bad condition as at present.

Miss Minnie Murphy goes to St. to complete her studies.

Mr. R. Burnham is the latest to accept a position on the Iron Isle.

We welcome Mr. J. F. Burke back again from Sydney. Mr. Burke looks well after his stay in Cape Breton.

Notes From Wabana.

OUR IRON ISLE. The bazaar in aid of the R. C. Church held at the Mines' Hall last week proved a great success. The energetic pastor, Rev. J. J. McGrath, was present and opened the bazaar, which ran for a whole week. To the ladies who managed the tables great praise is due, especially to the Misses Lawton, Eagan, Shannahan (2), O'Brien, and Mesdames Steed, Delaney, Kent and Eagan. Everything peculiar to a "fair" of this kind was in evidence, not omitting the dance, which all seemed to thoroughly enjoy after the Lenten season.

Rev. J. J. McGrath paid a visit to the metropolis last week.

Mrs. J. J. Miller returned this week from a prolonged visit to the city.

Mr. D. Trapnell, of the D. I. & S. Co. staff, spent the week end in St. John's.

The many friends of Mr. A. McDonald welcome him back again to Wabana. Mr. McDonald is very popular here, having been underground manager with the Dominion Co. for many years.

The Nova Scotia Co. were the first to set the "half rolling" this year, and last week despatched the first cargo of ore for this year by their new 12,000 ton ore boat, the s.s. Telus, which sailed for Philadelphia.

The Themis, a sister ship of same capacity, is shortly due here.

It is freely rumored here that a new mine, under the management of Mr. J. E. Grant, will start at Lance Cove this summer. If so, Wabana will indeed not alone be a great but a wonderful stronghold of iron ore.

Mr. W. Coughlan, who worked here last summer, has again returned to Wabana, this time to work at Lance Cove.

The new ore boats chartered by the D. I. & S. Co. will shortly be along when the season's work of that vast concern will begin in earnest. These boats will ply between Wabana and Sydney, and ought to carry to the Cape Breton shores about 35,000 tons a week of Wabana's "red hematite."

The pupils of the various colleges, including Masters Jackman, Costigan, Carbage, Basha, Dwyer and others, who spent Easter at home, returned on Monday to St. John's.

The Holy Week festivities at the R. C. Church were fittingly celebrated here. Rev. Fr. McGrath conducted all the services. On Easter Sunday "Missa Cantata" was sung, and at the offertory the "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss N. Jackman, her splendid rich voice filling the spacious church.

The new route to Bell Island via Kelligrews will prove good when the stormy weather abates. At present the old route via the Cove is the surest, though the roads to the Cove from St. John's, we understand, were never in such a bad condition as at present.

Miss Minnie Murphy goes to St. to complete her studies.

Mr. R. Burnham is the latest to accept a position on the Iron Isle.

We welcome Mr. J. F. Burke back again from Sydney. Mr. Burke looks well after his stay in Cape Breton.

Our Plea Endorsed by the News.

We thank the Daily News for its endorsement of our plea that the Board of Works should pay immediate attention to the roads connecting the city with the neighbouring settlements. Here is what the News says: "The Department of Public Works has a very obvious duty to perform, and the sooner it does it, the better for the public and all concerned. The Telegram's plea, for the clearing of the main roads, in the districts of St. John's East and West, is a reasonable one. No one asks that every lane be cleaned at the cost of the Government; but the highways, the mainlines, are the peculiar province of the Board of Works. Delay may result in an apparent saving, the kindly rays of Old Sol doing the work of the labourers, but the inconvenience to pedestrians and horses, is great; whilst the loss to farmers, directly and indirectly, is considerable. Just as the Council will act wisely, if it acts without delay; so will the Department of Public Works act with wisdom, if it starts now to make passable for wheels the mainlines leading to the extrem parts of the district. We don't ask for macadamized roadbeds, freed from adjacent banks of icy snow, but we do ask for a track from city to settlement, freed entirely from the winter's accumulations, and sufficiently wide to enable carts and carriages to meet and pass. The rest of the work will be well done in due course by the genial rays of May sunshine."

A good example of the timely cutting through the snow was that made by the Council men on Thursday morning on the Cove Road. This cutting with the aid of hot sunshine and soft winds has made a fairly passable road for carts and carriages at a place on the road that was almost impassable for slide and wholly impassable for carts.

Examinations as Tests.

"A competitive examination," Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M. P., told the Commons recently, "is no more a test of the capacity of a man to lead in the field than it is a test of the capacity of a man to lead in the House of Commons," and he raised a laugh by adding: "Most of the distinguished members of our Universities still remain, and I hope will always remain, on the back benches of this House."

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

The winter must leave us, it's now on the wing, so let's shoot the poet who warbles of spring! For bards cannot write of the leaf and the tree, without ringing in both the bees and the breeze, they're SPRING always referring to sweet woodland nooks in order to work IN COMING in some rot about brooks. They mangle their metre with sickening thuds, to give us some dope about blossoms and buds, they bring in the robin and bluebird and finch, the gaudy woodpecker—that's always a cliché. Let's shoot up the poets as soon as they sing, and thus do away with the terrors of spring! Too long have they bored us with murmuring strains, with stars and with moons and their second rate beams; too long have they chanted of roses and Junos to people who struggle for bacon and prunes; too long have they warbled of bees and of ants for men who have patches all over their pants. If poets must sing let them cut out the brooks, the meadows, the zephyrs, the picturesque nooks, and sing a few lines about onions and peas, and cabbage and turnips and doodads like these; then broken backed tollers in garden and yard will list and not throw any bricks at the bard.

How He Was Drowned

The poor fellow Hay, steward of the Gaspe, was drowned on the 11th January at 4 in the morning. The ship was then in the Gulf stream, when the man was noticed to be acting in a queer way and speaking incoherently. He spoke to Capt. Scanlan, the mate, and seemed to be laboring under hallucinations. Going aft he met seaman Baily and said, "Good-bye, Baily; I'm going." He then jumped on the port rail and before a hand could be raised to prevent him, he dropped into the sea. A rope and life belt was thrown him, but he made no attempt to grasp them and sank quickly.

A Nasty Accident.

This forenoon a horse which was left out grazing along the Battery Rd., in running along that thoroughfare ran over a little boy named Samuel Cahill, aged 5 years, and hurt him severely. The hoof of the beast hit him in the leg tearing the flesh terribly and severing an artery. Mrs. Tillyer picked the injured child up and brought him bleeding profusely to his home. A doctor was telephoned for but could not be procured, and the child lost much blood. His father procured the ambulance and the child was taken to hospital.

Laurel May Not Attend Conference or Coronation.
 Special Evening Telegram, OTTAWA, To-Day.
 In the House of Commons yesterday the Premier plainly intimated that he would not attend the Imperial Conference or the Coronation. Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, urged him to reconsider this and made propositions on behalf of the Opposition, which, if accepted, would permit Canada to be represented at the forthcoming conference. Sir Wilfred Laurier declared his first duty was to Canada, and quoted from the speech of Mr. Northrup of East Hastings, delivered in New York the night before, to prove that the Opposition intended to obstruct Reciprocity and withhold Supply. Mr. Borden in closing his appeal to the Prime Minister suggested that the House should adjourn for two or three months and promised interim Supply to carry on the Government during Sir Wilfred's visit to England. He declared that our trade and other relations with Britain and the Empire were of greater importance than our trade relations with the States. The matter came up when Mr. Borden asked if it was the intention of the Prime Minister to attend the Imperial Conference. Sir Wilfred answered that he had engaged his passage to England on the steamer Virginian, which would sail from Quebec on May 12th. He hoped nothing would occur to interfere with his going. But conditions might arise in the House which would make it necessary for him to remain at home. Duty might call him to England. Duty might also call upon him to remain at Ottawa. Under such circumstances, his first duty would be to Canada.

Attacked the Police.

Last evening officers Martin and Faraday were coming down New Gower Street when a burly fellow, who was acting in a disorderly manner at the foot of Barron Street, was ordered to leave. Instead of doing so he fiercely attacked Martin, to whose aid Faraday came, and the officers and the prisoner had a regular rough and tumble fight before the man was manacled. Martin was bruised about the face and while handcuffing the prisoner the police were repeatedly assaulted by a number of women who collected from byways. The officers eventually secured a cab and got the man to the station.

At 8.30 last evening a party who was taken for Tim Shannahan's "Cute Man," who had taken one too much, had charge of Queen's Road for a while, and after divesting himself of his coat wanted to fight all and sundry. Passerby wishing to avoid trouble gave him a "clear gangway," but he woke up the wrong party when he accosted and made a few passes at a young chap, who seemed to be a member of one of the city brigades. He sent in two quick rights which put the "Cute Man" down for the count, and friends who came along later "carted" him home.

MET NASTY ACCIDENT.—Mr. W. Pope, of the C. L. B. Band, while in Monro's store yesterday met a nasty accident. In passing through he came into violent contact with a bag of nails, one of which protruding cut him severely about the right leg. He was forced to go to Dr. Anderson for treatment and can barely use the limb. The accident caused a deal of pain to him.

 The trial of Ambrose M. Young, of Heart's Content, for embezzlement of road monies, terminated last night in the acquittal of the accused. The Annexation Cry.

Special to Evening Telegram, WASHINGTON, To-Day.
 Another declaration that annexation is the end desired by the Democrats in pushing Reciprocity, an attack on the Post Office Department as the "greatest political organization in this or any land, a speech by a new member of the House revealing rumours of tariff fight in Congress, were the features of yesterday's debate on the Free List Bill now before the House. Prince, Ill., Republican, in attacking the Reciprocity Bill sounded the Annexation note. He said the outpouring of the Americans to the Canadian North West, and the attitude of those controlling the forces of the Democratic Party mean nothing else than Annexation, partial free trade being one step towards that end. "I say to our neighbours in the North,—Be not deceived," said Prince. "When we go into a country to get control of it, we take it. It is our history and our right that we should take it if we want it." The Speaker has so said, the party backs him, and does not deny that it is its desire.

Archbishop Howley Lectures at British Hall Last Evening

The lecture given by His Grace the Archbishop at the British Hall last night was a rare intellectual treat and was duly appreciated by all who had the good fortune of being present. The subject was "Vaughan's Colonies in Newfoundland." Mr. W. H. Goodland, the President of the British Society, introduced His Grace to the audience in a few well chosen words. The Archbishop, who spoke for over an hour, began by reviewing the discovery of America by Columbus, which had such a marvellous effect on the world and stirred the minds of men to go forth to make discoveries and seek adventure by land and sea. Tales of golden lands and fortunes to be made quickly were discussed amongst the courtiers, and the noblemen of England were fired with the desire to go forth on voyages of discovery and adventure. Lord Baltimore came to Ferryland and John Guy to Culpids; Vaughan came to Trepassay. His Grace gave a detailed description of this great colonizer and his work on the southern coast. Guy's company sold all their territory from Petty Harbour to Cape Race to Vaughan in 1616, and he founded the Welsh colony of "Cambriol Colchos" on the site of Trepassay. The emigrants came out next year, but the colony did not flourish as expected owing to the severity of the climate. Sir William returned to England a few years afterwards and devoted his time to writing books, having sold part of his territory to Lord Falkland and Lord Baltimore. Amongst his literary works were "The Golden Fleece," "The Newfoundlanders' Cure," etc. King-James was a great friend and patron of the author, and recognized in him a man after his own heart. The Mason map, His Grace thought, should be credited to Vaughan. The maps used by the Archbishop in illustrating the lecture added very materially to the interest in it. At the conclusion a vote of thanks proposed by Vice-President Lawrence and seconded by Mr. A. Martin was carried by acclamation.

BOYS SMASH WINDOWS.—Last night a man named Temple, who keeps a shop on Cabot Street, complained to the police that several panes of glass had been broken by a gang of vicious boys who assemble there nightly. The police went there but the boys had fled. Their names were secured and all will be summoned. Stone throwing on this street is a danger to citizens and the police should stop it.

GOSPEL MISSION.—The Evangelistic Service to-morrow afternoon at the Oddfellows' Hall will be conducted by brethren of the Mission at the usual hour. A similar service will also be held at the same hour in the schoolroom at the Battery. Come and bring a friend with you.—ad,11

SEVERAL DRUNKS ABOUT.—There was a deal of drunkenness on the streets yesterday and last night and the police made several arrests. Considerable Furlongs had great trouble in arresting two disorderlies. A man found lying on the street near the Western Station was brought bodily into that place by police and firemen, and during the night several could be seen under the influence about the streets.

 Fillmore & Morris, Amherst, N.S.
 Dear Sirs,—I refer to your inquiry as to the selling qualities of Mathieu's Syrup, we might say that it is of no use whatever for us to keep any other Cough Medicine in stock. When you first began to sell it here, the Druggists did not handle it, and now every Druggist in town has it, and we are sure they find a ready sale for it. Mathieu's Syrup is sold by at least 18 dealers in Springhill.
 Yours truly,

The S. A. Hotel.
 The S. A. Hotel has been in charge of Ensign J. W. White, of Bermuda, for the past eighteen months, during which time he has amply commended himself as a manager of such an institution. The place, under his management, has been entirely remodelled and refitted and converted into a general up-to-date convenience for permanent and transient boarders. There are now 70 beds in the building—all kept in good condition with due regard to cleanliness and sanitation. The place contains two lavatories for the convenience of boarders and the staff of attendants, where hot and cold shower baths can be availed of when desired, and in the management everything progresses like clock work. The sitting rooms are clean and airy and afford very nice accommodation to any who may wish to enjoy the evening reading the city papers after the day's work is over. The cooking is done on modern lines and the serving with exemplary thoughtfulness and attention. At present the manager has about 30 permanent boarders, and he is feeding about 200 daily with cheap and good meals and his tireless activity, unremitting attention and genial manner can hardly escape the notice and approval of those who, from time to time, avail of the advantages offered by the institution. The Ensign's assistants are fully alive to their duties and also merit a word of approval.—Con.

The R. N. Co. had a message last evening saying that Sydney is still blocked with ice. It is scattered over the Gulf in all directions. The S. S. Glencoe will call at Lousburg this trip and probably another trip.

Mary and Tom

Jubilant Over the Acquittal of Mr. John Walker.

Editor Evening Telegram,
Dear Sir.—On Thursday last I had Tom's dinner ready at the usual time and sat waiting for him to come in, and I think I must have been dozing asleep, I have been troubled with that sort of feeling often during the past year or so, for the first thing I noticed was the lamp falling from the bracket on the wall and breaking in "smithereens" on the floor. Then I saw Tom dancing about the floor and throwing his cap up to the loft. He actually had the cheek, sir, to catch me hold and try to get me to dance too. I pushed him away as well as I could and I said, "For goodness sake, Thomas (I always call him Thomas when I'm half vexed), do tell me what has happened. Have you secured a Government job, or what in the name of fortune is the matter?" By this time he had got quieter, and he said, "Oh, you'll dance too when you know that the Big Jury has acquitted Mr. John Walker, who was before the court for dishonesty." Well, Mr. Editor, I can't tell you how pleased I was, and I believe I would have there and then danced with Tom if he had made another attempt. This man Walker was Chairman of the Road Board for several years, and was a good man. Some of his Tory friends, looking over the return sheets found or thought they found a mare's nest, and for the past 18 months this case was hanging over his head. But Mr. Editor, this big jury sat on Mr. Walker at the Court House here on Tuesday, and as they could not find a True Bill the judge told Mr. Walker, Tom, said I, so long as Walker is clear and is proved an honest man, let you and me go down and congratulate him after tea. So after I cleared away the tea things, and put the butter to rise for setting my bread, we went down the street and called on this persecuted man. He was very jolly as usual, and one of the first things he said was that he would

Vessel Strikes Berg.

IS LEAKING BADLY—TUG SENT TO HER.

Word was received in the city this morning to the effect that the schr. Atlanta, owned by Barle of Fogo, struck an iceberg early this morning in Beccaleu Tickle during a fog and was leaking pretty badly. The vessel left here last evening laden with general cargo for Messrs. Earle and it is presumed struck the iceberg in a fog. Capt. Mark James sent a boat to Bay de Verde to wire for assistance and the tug John Green was immediately despatched by Capt. Strong. The vessel will likely be towed back here for repairs.

Parent Dissatisfied.

A parent of Torbay expresses to us his dissatisfaction with the short sessions at one of the schools in Torbay, and the lengthy period of school holidays and other school closing. He complains of paying $3 for books and 50 cents for entrance, and then not getting full value from them owing to his boys not receiving anything like as much teaching as he expected would be given them. Those responsible will naturally enough look into the matter.

STAR SPORTS MEET.—The Star-Cadet sports met last night and outlined a programme for the summer. They elected their officers for the coming year.

BANKER GETS 600 QTLIS.—The banker Grace Tibbo arrived from the western fishery at Grand Bank Thursday with 600 qtls. of fish. She did good work and fished off Rose Blanche since the middle of February.

DORIES ARE SCARCE.—Owing to the fact that many of the fishermen going to Labrador this summer will try trawls at the voyage, many dories have been bought up by them and they are now scarce in the market. These boats will fetch a good price henceforth.

VESSELS FISHING.—All the vessels which were damaged at Grand Bank with the ice which came down the river there a few weeks ago have been repaired and are now on the Banks fishing.

PICKING UP WRECKAGE.—The fishermen of Petty Harbor are out to-day picking up the wreckage of their stages and flakes scattered about the harbor. John Lee had a flake 70 feet by 100 feet carried away. His stage and wharf were also swept.

BIG MOLASSES IMPORTATION.—During the past three weeks eight sail of vessels have arrived from Barbadoes with molasses cargoes to different consignees. These brought several thousand puncheons of this commodity, so necessary to our fishermen, and with such a large supply no doubt the article will be sold at reasonable figures.

A Pleasant Evening.

The large audience present in the Presbyterian Hall last night spent a very pleasant evening. The "entertainers" gave a grand concert there and of such great merit that the audience continuously applauded and were delighted with the performance. The one act comedy "Betsy Baker" was the first on the programme and proved most interesting. Those who took part in it were:—Messrs. A. S. Harvey, J. F. Smiley, Master W. Harvey and Misses L. Hudson and S. Ivany. The next was a musical sketch entitled "Nations." Those who took part were attired in distinctive and very appropriate costumes, and the different vocal numbers were faultlessly rendered. Miss B. Ross accompanied on the piano, Mr. Miller, banjo and Mr. Thompson, mandolin. The concert was in aid of the St. Andrew's Young Ladies' Guild. The characters in the sketch were:—
Newfoundland—A. S. Harvey.
John Bull—S. Willis.
Scotland—Miss M. McKinley.
Iceland—Miss Jean Strang.

Not in the Ambulance.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—On reading the Telegram to-night I was surprised to find an item in the local events which read: "Mrs. Buckley, 6 James' St., was conveyed to the Hospital last night in the ambulance." Now I want to deny this, as I personally procured the services of Mr. Power, cabman, of Barron Street, to drive above patient and went with her to the Hospital door. We left our house in the carriage at noon. So you see who ever gave your reporter the above information was entirely wrong.
Thanking you for space, I beg to remain,
Yours, etc.,
ANNIE J. BUCKLEY.
St. John's, Nfld., April 27th, 1911.

Hints to Householders.

PROFESSOR HENRY ADAMS in his Presidential Address to the Institute of Sanitary Engineers early in 1908, said:—"Gas fires for heating are already widely adopted for offices, consulting rooms where a fire may be required at short notice. I have had nothing else in my office for the last thirty years and do not find any of the ill effects that have been ascribed to them."
Gas fires are universally used by federal men in London, and they recommend them for use in the homes of their patients.
The Coal Smoke Abatement Society, among whose members are many men of high scientific and artistic attainment, are strong advocates of the use of gas for heating. The Society carried out a most elaborate series of tests with gas fires, etc., in May and June, 1906.

Blandford who had charge of that ship will command the Glenace; Capt. Spracklin, of the Glenace, goes in charge of the Invermore on the Port aux Basques-North Sydney route; Capt. D. Blandford will remain in the Dundee, and Capt. Job Kneel will be in command of the Clyde.

Backache Suffering

A wonderful medicine is this man's description of DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Mr. Fred Gummer, Lillies, Ont., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a wonderful medicine. For six weeks last fall I could scarcely walk around for pains in the back and legs, and was almost completely unfit for work. Though I tried several medicines I got no better. I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised and bought five boxes. After I had used three boxes, I was greatly improved and by the time I had them all taken felt as well as I ever did. I would advise anyone suffering from kidney disease to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."
"We have also used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for bad colds and sore throat and would not be without these medicines for anything."

City Council Meeting.

There were present at the regular weekly meeting of the City Council last night Councillors Martin, Ryan, Coaker, Myrick and Channing. A letter from the Colonial Secretary informed the Board that the Inspector General was making provision for the examination of automobile drivers, and certificates would be granted to those only who were found to be qualified to drive.
Mr. Harris of the Board of Works writing that the fence around the Barracks' yard would be attended to by the Government.
The Mercantile Co-operative Co. will be given leave to put in a gas engine and to repair their buildings on the south side.
The application of H. Blatch to build a garage at Tesser Place could not be given as the Council has no control over the land referred to.
In reply to a letter from A. H. O'Keefe, asking whether a committee of the Trades and Labor Council would be allowed to attend meetings the Council would have no objection to their coming.
Mrs. Gosling wrote the Council offering to provide a drinking fountain in one of the coves for horses. The Council will gladly accept the offer and feel very thankful to Mrs. Gosling for her generosity.
Richard Purcell will have to get the approval of the Engineer before erecting an addition to his house on Prospect Street.
Mr. F. W. Knight again asked for information about water extension on the South Side.
Jonas Barter will be allowed to build a stable on Belvidere Street.
Councillor Coaker suggested: "cleaning up day," when the public would be asked to co-operate with the citizens and clean up their back yards. The sanitary staff would be on a spurt and citizens who have horses would be asked to give help in the work of carting all the refuse outside the city. The work would be done quickly and all at one time. The Board agreed and the work will commence as soon as the snow melts.
The Health Officer reported several cases of diphtheria, six of typhoid and one of scarlet fever the past week. There are now 27 cases of diphtheria, six of typhoid, four of smallpox and one of scarlet.

Doff Those Hats.

Again there is a great outcry in the city on the part of the unfortunate men who go to the Nickels and are compelled to sit behind the monster hats which some ladies of St. John's wear. The men go to see the show not the hats and they intend in future—being compelled to do so—to stand while the performances are on so that they may see the stage.

DIPHTHERIA.

A young woman residing on New Gower St. developed diphtheria yesterday and was taken to the hospital.

HONG KONG, April 28.

The only official messages received from Canton, where a revolutionary outbreak occurred last night are of a disquieting character. The revolutionists have obtained a quantity of explosives. Many of the leaders have been imprisoned. Fighting between the troops and rioters began when soldiers arrested the revolutionary leaders who were carrying revolvers and wearing badges, boldly proclaiming their purpose of surrounding the Viceroy's Palace. After setting it on fire, they interfered with the efforts of others to extinguish the flames. The revolutionaries, who were armed with rifles and bombs, fought desperately. Several were killed and many arrested. The fire at the Palace burned for two hours, the Viceroy escaping without injury. Thousands of the residents of Canton are fleeing to this city. Those who have arrived say that anarchy is rife among the soldiers, and that the officers do not trust their men.

LONDON, April 28.

The bye-election at Cheltenham took place to-day. In December the seat was won by Mr. Matthias, for the Liberals, by a small majority over Viscount Duncannon. An election petition was lodged, and Matthias was unseated through the illegal practices of agents. The Unionists put up Col. J. T. Agg-Gardiner, a former Conservative member, who had been re-

Tim Shannahan Gives the 'Cute Man's Version of the 'Linker'.

Of all the jades that we meet I think his nbs is hard to beat: "The Linker" who'll take you in tow. For he never knows when to let go. So sang the Cute Man last night. "Yes," said he, as he chewed his frankum, "there are many queer fish in this town, but I think the 'Linker' is the queerest. You'll remember, I said he, "that last winter I paid some attention to the 'unloaded,' the fellow who comes up to you with all his troubles, the fellow who knows about all bad news months ahead and whispers it into your left ear. He is present everywhere. You'll meet him in the reading room in the hall, just as you have made up your mind to have a nice quiet read. He enters, you spy him in the distance, through the extreme corner of one eye, and you look more intently on what you are reading, hoping to avoid him; you haul yourself into your inside garments, as it were, in the hope that you may conceal yourself. But, lo! like the Assyrian of old, he comes down on the fold, and immediately starts in to unfold his troubles. He is usually one of those harmless kind of individuals, who you don't feel like calling to go to the Coronation, and you make up your mind that another night is gone wrong and you go home more fatigued than if you were engaged all day in that paying industry known on hot days as beach rock picking. This pest is bad enough but like the flea, he has one redeeming quality, and that is he awaits the night time to attack you. His first-cousin the 'Linker,' piles on the agony when the sun is high in the sky. The worst feature about the 'Linker' is that he is on the increase. Heretofore, only one or two of the species infested the market, but now that number has grown and is growing to an alarming extent."
"When a man links me," says the Cute Man, "he makes me feel as if I were becoming a 'softie,' and I can see visions of myself begging a 'chew' in the region of the Poor House some day in the near future. 'Tis not by any means a comfortable position to be in for it makes you half ashamed to meet your friends. The 'Linker,' too, has a step to suit the link, and to get along easily you have to keep in step with him. The gait is slower than that of a funeral, and the 'Linker' has a tormenting knack of thrusting you around and looking in your face at the end of each paragraph in his conversation."
Lots of good men have given up the ghost and got buried rather than put up with another summer's linking. All through the winter they watched the 'Linker' and gave shy glances to see if he struck a good square cold that might induce the shivers and help him on to his reward. But although scantily togged and notwith-

Insane Woman Escapes

Yesterday a poor woman, a resident of Casey's Street, who had been in the Asylum before, again became demented and her husband left her in the care of two women, neighbours, while he went to get a cab to bring her to the Asylum. While gone the woman broke through all restraint, escaped from the house and the police were compelled to look her up. She ran from her home to a residence on Barter's Hill where she frightened the inmates of a house and hid in a room. After a long search Constable Lee located the woman and drove her to the Lunatic Asylum.
