ALL NATIONS MARCHING TO ARMAGEDDON, BUT MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE.
Do you know that the Bible tells of a great multitude who miss Heaven and escape Hell?
Do you know that the Prophets foretold the lifting of "the curse" and the Restoration of the EARTH to its Edenic Perfection?
Do you know that Armageddon—a time of trouble such as was not since there was a nation—immediately precedes Christ's Kingdom—The desire of all Nations?

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS GERALD S. DOYLE, Distributor.

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Yonker, Sask., writes: "I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

The Countess of Landon.

CHAPTER XXIII.

The scent of flowers rose from the Italian gardens, and an owl flew with a screech from one of the turrets toward the woods.

It was a lovely scene, and Madge leaned upon her elbows and gazed at it dreamily. It was, in the moonlight, as vague and shadowy as this new life of hers; and it all belonged to her husband's brother, the earl.

She was about to close the window and begin to undress, when suddenly she saw something moving along the path below the terrace. It was a woman, and Madge, thinking it was one of the servants was not much interested; but presently the figure passed out of the shadow of the terrace wall into the moonlit path.

It were indeed her, her ladyship had exchanged her rich gray satin for a plain black dress, and had drawn a shawl round her, and up to the edge of her black bonnet, as if to avoid recognition.

For a moment or two Madge was not struck by the singularity of the proceedings, then it occurred to her as strange that the countess should go out in the grounds at that time of night and alone.

She watched the dark figure, and saw it slowly make its way along the path toward the bridge. Then, as it got under the shadow of the line of shrubs, Madge saw it turn its head and look as if watchfully.

After a moment's pause the countess went on again, but this time with a quickened step.

Madge stood looking after her, startled and bewildered.

Where could the countess—that proud lady whose cold hauteur had stabbed poor Madge like so many knives during the evening—where could she be going so noiselessly, and—yes, secretly?

Should she call Royce and tell him? She was half inclined to do so, but hesitated. Whatever errand the countess was bound on, she evidently wished it to be kept secret, and it was not Madge's duty to inform upon her.

No, she would not tell Royce. She put down the window, trembling a little—why, she scarcely knew, but the sight of the dark figure moving so mysteriously in the moonlight had affected her, and she drew the curtains closely.

If she had waited another minute or two she would have seen something else that would have caused her still greater anxiety and actual dread.

For scarcely had the countess disappeared in the park than Uncle Jake came creeping after her, keeping well under the terrace and in the patches of shadows, and looking like and evil shadow himself as he limped cautiously in pursuit.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Madge, when she awoke next morning, felt very much as Aladdin must have felt on the first morning in his wonderful palace.

If Monk Towers was imposing by candle-light, it was twice as impressive in the sunshine. Long before the dressing-bell had rung, and Marion had knocked at the door, Madge was up and dressed and looking out of the window of her boudoir at the view which she had seen the night before in the moonlight.

As she gazed at it, drinking in its beauties, she remembered the vision of the countess stealing along the path, and again she asked herself whether she ought not to tell Royce. But she shrunk from the disclosure for many obvious reasons, not the least being the possibility that she might have been mistaken.

She chose the simplest of her morning frocks—a pretty saten which she had bought in London—and, all unconscious of the exquisite picture she made, stood by the window, waiting for Royce, who was singing lightly and heartily as he dressed in the adjoining room. A knock came to the door, and opening it, she found Marion outside.

The girl looked surprised at seeing her mistress wholly dressed.

"Miss Tresylian's love, ma'am," she said, "and will you breakfast with her?"

Madge colored. "Miss Irene sometimes has breakfast in her own room, ma'am," explained Marion.

"Oh, yes, yes," said Madge at once. "When shall I come?"

"Miss Tresylian is dressed, ma'am," said Marion. "Shall I show you the way?"

"Please," said Madge, "for I feel as if I should be lost in this great place." Marion smiled with demure respect, and Madge, after opening the door of Royce's dressing-room and calling to him, "I am going to breakfast with Irene," followed the girl.

They went a little way down the corridor, and Marion opened a door and announced Madge.

Irene came to meet her. "Dressed already, Madge?" she said. She herself was in a tea-gown in which she looked like a lily in bloom by its leaves. "Come in." And she drew her into the room and kissed her.

Madge looked round. The room was smaller than her own, but decorated and furnished in perfect taste. There was a piano such as she had in her own room, and a Chippendale bookcase full of books; a stand of flowers stood in the window, and a couple of Java sparrows twittered in a cage.

Irene looked at Madge admiringly. "You look like a June rose, dear," she murmured; "and yet that is not splendid enough for you. A Japanese lily would be better."

Madge colored. A word of praise from this delicate aristocrat, who was indeed like a precious flower, moved her to her heart's core.

"I don't know what a Japanese lily is like," she said, with a smile. "It is a tall and graceful plant with a rich red blossom," said Irene. "And though you have so little crimson in your cheeks, you are like it."

"And you are like the white lily," said Madge, timidly, "and that is prettier than any red one."

Irene smiled. "Sometimes I breakfast in my own room," she said, "and I thought that perhaps you would like to be quiet this first morning. You must still be tired?"

Madge laughed softly. "Tired?" she said. "Why should I be? Because of the journey yesterday? Why, I sat quite comfortably in a first-class carriage all padded and cushioned; that does not tire one. You should have travelled as I have done, sitting on the shafts of a caravan."

She stopped and flushed.

Irene looked at her with keen interest. "As I lay awake last night—I don't sleep very well lately—Madge, dear, I was thinking of you and your life, and I was almost inclined to envy you."

"To envy me?" said Madge, with expanding eyes.

"Yes," continued Irene. "It must be so delightful to live so near to Nature. To be always moving on, on—to be always free!"

Madge thought this out for a minute. "But we were not free," she said, gravely. "We had work to do."

"Work? What work did you do?" asked Irene, with a smile.

"I made baskets," said Madge, simply, "and I looked after some of the children, and sometimes when we were at fairs, I told fortunes. A gypsy is never idle."

Irene had been moving about the room, arranging flowers in a vase and stirring the fire that burned brightly on the modern antique fire-place. She turned with the poker still in her hand.

"You told fortunes? Can you tell mine, Madge?"

"Yes," replied Madge, gravely. "But not really," said Irene, the smile still on her face.

"Really?" said Madge. "I don't know. Some people think it is all guess-work and nonsense; but it is not. There are rules and signs—"

She stopped, for Irene's maid had entered with the breakfast-tray, and the two girls remained silent while she placed it on the table. Madge noticed the service of exquisite china and Oriental silver.

"You need not wait, Lucy," said Irene. "And there is really something in it!" she said, when the maid had withdrawn.

"I don't know, I suppose so," said Madge. Irene poured out the coffee from the massive silver "cactiere," and helped Madge to some omelet. "I always thought it was all nonsense and—forgive me—deception."

we—I mean we gypsies—go by rule. We believe in it," she added, as simply as before.

Irene looked dreamily at the fire. "I wonder if it is wicked to want to know one's future?" she said.

"Wicked?" repeated Madge. "Is it wicked? I don't know. Almost every one wants to know. All sorts of people used to ask us to tell their fortunes."

Irene held out her hand. "Tell me mine," she said, laughing. Madge drew back and colored.

"Oh, no, no!" she said; then she laughed. "But you do not believe in it? It is only for fun?"

"I can't promise to believe in it, said Irene. "Yes, it is only fun. Try those riddles, dear; the cook makes them very well," and she put one on Madge's plate. Then she held out her hand again. "I suppose I must cross it with silver, mustn't I?" she said, laughing.

Madge waved the suggestion aside. "No, that is not necessary," she said. "We tell fortunes by the lines." She took Irene's hand. "What a beautiful hand!" she said, half voluntarily.

"It is no smaller than yours," retorted Irene. (To be continued)

Eskimo Boys Show Ability When Given Good Instruction

Juneau, Alaska, March 26 (A.P.)—The steamer Boxer, of the United States bureau of education, was here recently preparing to go south after her first season of service as a floating industrial school. Throughout the winter the Boxer carried 19 students, Eskimo lads who had distinguished themselves in the seventh and eighth grades of the government schools near their homes.

Eight of the students came from the country between Point Barrow and Wainwright Inlet, the farthest north of all United States land, and the rest from the panhandle, or southeastern Alaska. The young Eskimos were taught navigation, gas engineering and radio telegraphy. They are proved good students, reported C. W. Hawkesworth, superintendent for the bureau.

A New Blue Sky Theory

Professor Vegard, of the University of Christiania, Norway, has advanced a new theory to account for the blueness of the sky. Just outside of the earth's atmosphere, he says, is a wall of crystalline particles of nitrogen, incasing the earth in the same manner that a fabric envelope incases a balloon or a dirigible.

Besides giving the sky its blue color, these particles account for several other phenomena, he says, including the fact that radio waves follow the contour of the earth instead of flying from it at a tangent.—Popular Science.

Mystery of an Emperor

The Tsar Alexander I. died, according to the records, on November 19, 1825, at Taganrog, a small town in the south of Russia, and was afterwards buried in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in St. Petersburg. It has now been discovered that the coffin bearing his name is empty. The strange story, with one of its implications, is told by Princess E. M. Almedigen in "Discovery."

It was rumoured (she writes) that the Tsar had died from some infectious disease and, in consequence of this, the coffin, said to contain his body, was sealed up immediately.

Very few of the courtiers were enabled to see the corpse, which was soon afterwards transported to St. Petersburg, and there laid to rest in the usual burial-ground of the Sovereigns of All the Russians—the magnificent Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, erected by Peter the Great within the precincts of the famous fortress bearing the same name. However, soon after the Emperor's burial, strange things began to be whispered with regard to the fate of the much beloved Tsar. People said that he had not died at all, but has just disappeared in order to concentrate the rest of his days to God's service and work and prayer. These rapidly spread rumours, together with the slender evidence which existed even then concerning the authenticity of the body placed in the coffin, gave birth to a series of legends based upon a firm popular belief that the Emperor was still alive and would come back to rule his people once again.

But all these rumours and easily woven legends had hardly any basis to stand on until they became entirely ground in one mysterious person, living buried in the deep and silent Siberian forests—the famous hermit, "Fedor Kusmitch."

Historically speaking, this hermit's real identity was never proved, and there is now hardly a chance that anything further will come to light with regard to him. The life he led in Siberia was that of a hermit, or, rather, of a recluse. No one knew how he had come there, or what he had done in earlier years. That he was a person of importance is sufficiently proved by the fact that the Emperor Nicholas I. would often come to him, seeking his advice on many a difficult matter concerning the government of Russia. Many witnesses have stated that the Emperor's attitude to the hermit, as shown on these occasions, was one of profound respect, not to say reverence. The occasional visits of Nicholas I. to the strange hermit's cell only served to deepen the mystery. In the summer of 1922, during the period of the sequestration of Church plate, a decree was issued by the Petrograd Soviet, appointing a committee of experts for the inspection of all Imperial tombs. It was surmised by the authorities that the Sovereigns might be found buried with their regalia and other gems of great value. The decree was duly executed, and every Imperial tomb was opened and the contents of every coffin duly searched. As could well be expected, this gruesome search led to very few, if any, practical results, but it made public the not unimportant fact of an Imperial grave being found empty, namely, that of Alexander I.

The coffin was certainly there, just as it was brought in some time in December, 1925, carefully sealed up. But when the seals were broken, it was discovered that no body had ever lain there, whilst the heavy weight of the coffin was explained by a few lumps of lead found in it. The magnificent white marble sarcophagus, so splendid in its simple severity, with a single letter "A" in gold letters on the top and a small elaborately carved imperial crown, covered the space of 8 feet, and disclosed nothing but an empty coffin with the original Taganrog seals.

This discovery, naturally, can in no way prove the identity of the person of Alexander I. with the strange hermit "Fedor Kusmitch." Yet it does away with the supposition that Alexander's death really took place on that foggy day in November, 1825, at Taganrog.

Little Girl Dies of Strange Malady

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 14.—Star Special.—Violet Randall, 12, over whom physicians labored for several weeks to conquer one of the strangest diseases, is dead.

About two months ago the girl became afflicted with a slow seepage of blood which seemed to come from every pore in her body.

Apparently bleeding to death, she was removed to hospital, where relatives and nurses submitted to periodical blood transfusions in an attempt to save her life. Often the seepage was stopped for a few days only to start again sometime in a few hours. Yesterday she suffered a hemorrhage of the brain.

The shortage is expected to be alleviated somewhat on the resumption of trading vessels from the east summer. Prices offered have increased considerably. Child Labour Amendment May be Added to U.S. Constitution

Ten Home Bank Directors to Face Trial-- Narrow Escape from Death of 45 Men when Bridge Crashes--Poincare Urges World Peace.

THE CHILD LABOUR AMENDMENT.

WASHINGTON, April 25. The House voted overwhelmingly to-day to give immediate consideration to the Foster resolution proposing a Child Labour Amendment to the constitution of the United States. Six hours were allowed for debate and the final vote, with the two-thirds majority required, is expected late to-morrow.

POINCARÉ'S PLATFORM.

PARIS, April 25. Premier Poincaré, in a pre-election speech to-day, urged consideration of world peace, prompt ratification of the Lausanne Treaty, and the necessity for securing reparation guarantees. Rejecting as impossible, the exchange of simple promises for real pledges, France, he declared, would remain in a conciliatory spirit without sacrificing caution, and said that he felt convinced the country would ratify this policy in the elections, as the Senate and Chamber of Deputies previously had ratified it.

SIR JOHN AIRD SUCCEEDS SIR EDMUND WALKER.

TORONTO, April 25. At a meeting of directors of the Canadian Bank of Commerce to-day, Sir John Aird, Vice-President and General Manager, was appointed President of the Institution, in succession to the late Sir Edmund Walker. Sir Joseph Flavell was appointed Chairman of the Board of Directors and will have the business of the Bank under his supervision. The appointment of a chairman of the Board of Directors marks a new department in Canadian Banking circles.

SNOW IN DENVER.

DENVER, April 25. Six inches of snow piled up in Denver streets this morning after an all night storm.

ANOTHER BANK ROBBERY.

GRANITE CITY, Ill., April 25. Bandits to-day robbed T. D. Gradinaroff, assistant cashier at the Granite City National Bank, of $63,000 in currency, which he had just received at the Post Office from the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank. Several shots were fired by Gradinaroff and the bandits but none was wounded.

DIRECTORS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

TORONTO, April 25. Ten directors and officials of the Home Bank of Canada, under indictment here, are to face trial next week before Mr. Justice Lennox and a jury, on a conspiracy count. This was decided in the Court of Criminal Assizes this afternoon, when D. L. McCarthy, K.C., special Crown prosecutor, in order to avoid delay in trial of the accused announced he would drop the count of making false returns in the indictment for the time being, and proceed on the second count.

BRIDGE SPANS CRASH.

OTTAWA, April 25. With an almost inarticulate "look out," from an observant workman, the only warning, 45 men engaged in the erection of a massive covered wooden bridge over the Lièvre, connecting Notre Dame de la Salette, Quebec, with Bellmore Township, Quebec, reared over several hundred feet of crumpling timbers to the safety of the shore, just as two of the almost completed spans of the bridge, swaying in the heavy gale, toppled into the turbulent waters of the river, yesterday. One workman, however, Eusebe St. Amour, 40 years of age, a carpenter, who had been working on one of the piers, was caught and pinned to the pier by the falling timber, and is now in hospital at Buckingham suffering from badly injured spine as well as serious internal injuries. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

NEW PORT REGULATIONS ENFORCED.

HALIFAX, April 25. The schr. Abacena, with six hundred gallons of rum, hailing from Bermuda, for St. Pierre, which arrived in port yesterday, was the first vessel to feel the new port regulation which debar liquor laden vessels from docking in Halifax without special permit from the Collector of Customs. Accordingly the vessel is remaining in the stream until ready to put to sea again.

LLOYD GEORGE CRITICISES LABOUR PARTY.

LONDON, April 25. Further criticism of the Labour Government was made by Lloyd George this afternoon in a speech at a crowded meeting at Llandudno, Wales, when the former Premier declared that with patience, steady work, and indomitable courage, the United Liberal Party ultimately would win its way back to power. Premier MacDonald had said he was going to remain in office for three or four years in order to carry out the Labor Party's ideas, Lloyd George said, but he must know this kind of talk was humbug. The Labor Party's ideas were to overthrow the existing system of private enterprise and property, and to substitute therefore National enterprise and Communist property. "Did Premier MacDonald really mean he was going to carry out such a programme in the next two or three years?" Lloyd George asked "If not what did he mean." The Premier had said he did not like conditions, said Lloyd George, but if the present government, including Lords Chelmsford, Parnoor and Haldane was not a coalition what was it? Continuing, the ex-Premier said the Liberals were placed between two extreme parties, and it was difficult to fight on two fronts, but they must do it.

POINCARÉ'S DECLARATION.

PARIS, April 24. Premier Poincaré, in an election speech delivered at a banquet of Republican Federation to-night, answered a reproach that he had neglected home politics, by setting forth at length the proposed program of the New Chamber in the way of social and economic legislation. At the same time, he added, "I must repeat that the new Chamber just as the one whose mandate is about to retire will have to cast its eyes on the world." The Premier in defining the guiding principles of his foreign policy continued, "we shall study the new economic regime which the Treaty of Versailles obliges us to negotiate at an early date with Germany herself to obtain reparations and guarantees of safety without giving any one pretext to misrepresent our peaceful intentions, and not let slip the opportunity offered us by our success in the Ruhr by the Experts' report and by the preliminary decision of the Reparation Commission. In a word we shall seek to accomplish the general settlement but will not exchange solid guarantees for German promises, the insincerity of which, according to past experience, does not inspire confidence, and we will not rely blindly in advance on the debtor who has done nothing up to the present to discharge its obligations."

ANOTHER LAP COMPLETED.

KARACHI, British India, April 25. The flight of 700 miles here from Bunder Abbas, Persia, by Stewart MacLaren and companions in the British found the world venture was made without incident.

DR. HELFFERICH KILLED.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 25. Dr. Karl Helfferich, an eminent German financial authority, and his mother were among those killed in a collision of two express trains near Bellalona yesterday.

THE IRISH BOUNDARY QUESTION.

LONDON, April 25. The failure of the Irish Boundary Conference is widely regarded as likely to develop a new and serious crisis. It is generally taken for granted that the British government wishes to act in the matter by appointing a commission to delimit the boundary between Northern and Southern Ireland, and it is thought the Free State government will, if necessary, press this. The question, however, arises as to whether since Ulster has refused to appoint a representative to the commission that body could legally operate with only two members instead of three provided by the Polo-Irish Treaty. It is stated in some quarters that the government's legal advisers have declared the commission cannot proceed without Ulster's consent, and consequently a special legislation will be necessary to provide a substitute for the missing delegate.

Hon. Mr. Hawco's Address

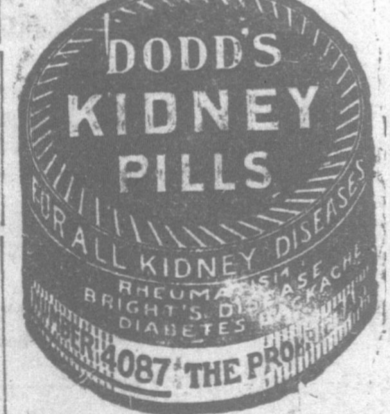

TO ROTARY CLUB, TUESDAY, APRIL 22nd, 1924.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen,—I appreciate very much the cordial invitation extended me as Minister of Posts and Telegraphs for the purpose of giving you a short address on the development and mode of operation of the Parcel Post System of the country. I am cognizant of the fact that the Rotary Club as constituted has within its membership the foremost representatives in the various walks of life and commercial and professional pursuits of the country, therefore, I consider it very appropriate to give you a brief explanation of the working out not only of the Parcel Post system already in force, but also as to the introduction of the new system of Cash on Delivery. It might be a surprise to some of you, even though admitting you are very well informed on public matters, to know that in this town alone, there are more than two hundred employees of the Postal Telegraph Department, and that throughout the country, there are more than two thousand. Each individual having specific work to perform, any dilatoriness or inefficiency on the part of any one individual throws the whole system into some disorder, because of the fact that small matter of all description from various parts of the country, may go through that one individual's hands who would be lax in his duties. Because of this, I believe you will see the difficulties that daily confront the Minister of such a Department, having to depend on employees whom he never saw in his life and probably would not for ten years.

The Parcel Post system between Newfoundland and foreign countries was in operation for more than ten years before a local system applicable to this country was introduced. This local system was first introduced and put into operation under the late Hon. H. J. B. Woods in 1905. The first year that the local Parcel Post system was in operation, approximately 25,000 parcels were received and despatched from the General Post Office, and each year since, without exception, the records of the Department show a steady increase of 8,500 parcels per year in excess of each previous year beginning 1905 to date. Last year, our records show that we received and despatched 194,164 parcels. Many hundreds of other parcels not recorded in this office, were handled along the main line and branch lines of the Railway system. You may be also interested to know that in the handling of parcels in the St. John's office, we have quite a number of returned soldiers employed. These men have given good, efficient service during my tenure of office, and I have no reason at all to complain of their conduct. They fall in well with Departmental discipline, and I think that a qualified ex-soldier makes an ideal civil servant. Certain reforms in the Parcel Post business that I, as Minister, have introduced, were anticipated by my predecessors dating back to Dr. Robinson, but in Dr. Robinson's time, he was civil head of the Department, and not having any seat in the Legislature nor in the Executive Council, he could not very well put into effect, reforms that were obvious to him, but because that this country had been bearing the burden of the distribution of parcels from the United States, without any recompense whatever from that country. In other words, we were keeping up a courier and mail system here in Newfoundland for the convenience of the business houses of the United States, without any contribution for our services. When it was brought before the United States Postal Authorities, they very generously conceded that our demands were reasonable. As a consequence they allowed for 20 cents per parcel for all parcels sent from the United States to Newfoundland, and we would in turn, pay them 20 cents on all parcels going from Newfoundland to the United States. Our business for the current year in the parcel business with the United States will amount to roughly 44,000 parcels and we shall despatch roughly 8,000, so that our revenue stands to gain largely through these negotiations. The number of parcels received by us from the United States in 1914 amounted to 9,700, so that you will appreciate the increase in this line of traffic with the United States during the past ten years. Our parcel business with the Dominion of Canada in 1914 was roughly 3,000 despatched and we received 8,500. For this current year, we shall despatch to Canada roughly 8,000 parcels and receive 25,000 parcels. In 1914 we received from the United Kingdom approximately 7,000 parcels and despatched to the United Kingdom 4,000. The current year we shall receive from the United Kingdom about 8,000 and despatch about 2,400, so that our parcel trade this year will amount to close to 85,000 parcels and including our local parcel business this Department will handle for the current year about 195,000 parcels. It may be interesting for you to know that all duties collectable upon parcel post parcels go to the credit of the Finance and Customs Department. These duties in 1914 were roughly $33,400.00 and for the current year they will exceed $150,000.00 but notwithstanding the fact that this Department provides the necessary machinery for the conveyance of these parcels and has necessarily to go to that much further expense as a Department to cover the cost of handling such a business, we do not receive one cent from this source, excepting what we receive for postage. The large amounts go to the Customs Department, which to say the least, is not exactly fair treatment for this Department.

The C.O.D. system recently introduced, and which will become effective about the first of the month, has for its object not only the increase of the revenue of this Department, but also the enhancement of the business interests of the town and country. Canadian wholesale houses have for years past, been doing a large parcel mail business with our Outports. When we put into effect this cash on delivery it will help our business people to at least compete with outside business houses. It will also help business as between Money Order offices. It will also help trappers and furriers in the outlying sections of the country to send their furs to the business men here in St. John's in place of sending them to the United States and Canada, as the Post Office Department will see that the values they set on their parcels, are collected and returned to them for a very small fee. It may take a little time to get the machinery of this new system into practical operation, but after a few months, I do not anticipate any hitch nor trouble in the operation of the cash on delivery system, once we get our officials aware of how to properly conduct this business. I hope that both the Outport people and business people of the town will take advantage of this new system and avail of these opportunities, not only as a convenience but also as a means whereby certain charges for certain commodities in the Outports can be eliminated in the interests of the people gener-

FARMERS FAVOURITE FERTILIZERS

Approved of by the Canadian Government Department and guaranteed free from pulverized sand or other adulterant. You can rely on their good quality.

The farmers who make money are those who use Fertilizers. They get larger and better crops.

Fertilizers will put into your ground the nutriment which your crops took out last year.

Just as you need food to do your year's work, so does your ground need food to produce good crops.

Putting Fertilizer into your ground is like putting money into the Savings Bank, you get back greater value in the Fall.

Try Farmers' Tested Fertilizers this Spring, remember, 10 additional barrels of potatoes or other vegetables will repay the cost of 5 or more bags of Fertilizer.

Farmers' Fertilizers have been favorites for years in Newfoundland, they'll make your garden grow.

Put Fertilizers on your ground now and let the Spring rains carry their goodness into the soil.

After your crops begin to show over the ground, put some Fertilizer on top of the ground near each plant and watch them grow.

Don't pay too much attention to "Analysis," you can be deceived. Remember we guarantee our Fertilizers.

"The Loves of Pharaoh" at the Majestic Next Week

GIGANTIC PRODUCTION IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST LOVE DRAMA.

More persons are said to appear in "The Loves of Pharaoh" than in any other motion picture ever made. The spectator sees 112,000 persons in this most tremendous production directed by Ernest Lubitsch, creator of "Passion" and "Deception." When Mr. Lubitsch announced at a luncheon in New York that 112,000 persons appeared in "The Loves of Pharaoh," some of those who heard him were frankly skeptical. That was far more than were used in "Passion," "Deception" and "The Birth of a Nation" combined.

"This Paramount picture shows the best elements of American technique continually, grafted upon the best direction that Lubitsch has ever displayed," writes Randolph Bartlett, who titled the picture, in a letter to the New York Times. "As a result I was able to cover eight reels with only 130 titles which is far less than are usually required in an American five reeler. You will also be interested in knowing that of these titles fully one third have five words or fewer. I take no special credit for this because the picture lent itself to rapid story telling.

"There is one scene, for instance, where there is a very large crowd assembled in a great throne-room and Mr. Lubitsch, instead of flooding the crowd with light to prove to the audience that he was employing a vast number of people, leaves the crowd in the shadow, casts his highlight one half way up to the side of the room along a great row of pillars so that it leads the eye to the focal point of the action away in the distance. It is a perfect marvel of applied optics. There are various other instances of the same nature which indicate that the European producers are swiftly assimilating whatever is best of our technique."

Novel Method of Propulsion

Amazing new methods of propelling vehicles over land and through the air have been reported from Europe within the last few weeks. M. Molat, a French inventor, is said to have developed an airplane that lacks a propeller and conventional motor, yet is capable of a speed of 400 miles an hour. This machine is literally buried along in flight by explosives. Air and compressed gas are exploded in a combustion chamber and permitted to escape through a series of valves. The contact of the escaping gases with the air pushes the machine ahead. This method is similar to the one by which Prof. R. H. Goddard, of Clark University, hopes to send his rocket to the moon, as described in the April issue of Popular Science Monthly.

Another French inventor, M. Imbert has evolved an automobile run by charcoal gas. This gas is produced in a furnace carried in the rear of the car, and is fed into an ordinary gasoline motor. Tests are said to have been entirely successful.

Meanwhile Fausto Zariatti, an Italian engineer, has aroused the interest of railway officials in his country with his scheme for driving locomotives by compressed air. The compressor is carried on the tender, and is separated by low grade fuel oil. The compressed air is piped to the boiler, then pumped into the cylinders. This scheme, it is said, would effect a tremendous saving.

STAFFORD'S Sarsaparilla Blood Purifier

Skin Diseases, Anemia, Lack of Blood, Paleness, Impure Blood, Lack of Ambition and Vigor, Debility, Weakness, Tired Feeling, Boils, Pimples, etc.

There is no Remedy of more universal application than a genuine true-and-tried Blood Purifier and Blood Builder. A medicinal preparation that will truly purify, revitalize and renew the blood, restores hope and pleasure, ambition and happiness, vigor and vitality. It is of inestimable value not only as a restorer of the system, fortifying it against invasion as a disease, but also as a cure for Chronic Diseases which depend upon an impoverished condition of the blood. Diseases of this nature are usually caused by impurities in the blood due to the inactivity of the Liver and Kidneys.

These secretions if not removed from the circulation, gradually form poisons which deteriorate the condition of the blood and allow other diseases to throw off these impurities, system. In the effort of nature to throw off these impurities, frequently pimples, boils, carbuncles, etc., appear, and it is wise to respond promptly to the Warning of Nature.

is a genuine preparation scientifically prepared from the best and purest remedies for the purifying and rebuilding of the blood. It should be taken every spring, as at this season the blood is more apt to become impure and impoverished. Keep your blood in perfect condition and you will be prepared to fight life's battles with greater success.

One Bottle of this Blood Purifier is all that you will need to take to produce results.

to be a stimulus for our own advancement in strength and virtue.

It is well for the Irish-Canadian to remember that he has the blood of heroes and martyrs flowing through his veins, and he is the living link between the past and the future. Upon him rests the responsibility of "making good" in a new land. Here the Irish have freedom; they are no longer a persecuted race, no longer "heavers of wood and drawers of water," no longer the "submerged" or "under dog." They are the pioneers of another great race across the seas.

THE NEW MEMORIAL GATES FOR MCGILL.

The plans for the Roddick Memorial Gates in front of McGill University have been approved by the Governors of the Institution. There will be six pillars of Canadian granite on each side of the gates, arranged in semi-circular shape. At each end there will be two towers; the one on the west side will have a large clock, containing chimera that will ring at the quarters and the hour. The work will begin during the spring, and will not be completed until the Fall. The cost will be $50,000. The late Dr. Roddick had a passion for clocks, and had one in every room in his house, and in some of them two. When out driving during the winter months, he found it very inconvenient, especially on bitter cold days, to be opening his coat to see the time, and often said he would like to see a large clock in front of his favorite institution, old McGill, hence the clock in connection with the Memorial Gates.

A WORKMAN MEETS A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Trapped in a limestone kiln when the heavy stones fell in on him while he was at work in the Olivier Lamoignon Works, 40 Poupard Street, Theophile Jolibois, 41 years of age, of 82a Fullum Street, suffered a horrible death. When the victim's body was taken from the kiln by firemen several hours after he died it was found he had been literally cremated alive and that his lower limbs had been burned off his body. While no person witnessed the accident it is thought that Jolibois stepped into the kiln and that the lower layer of stone which had been burned out, fell thru, causing the victim to sink in the up-burner layer. Because of the heat the body could not be extracted for several hours and then it was necessary to call the firemen who succeeded in pulling the victim from the kiln.

THREE PERSONS INJURED IN AN AUTOMOBILE.

A skidding automobile, banging first to an iron pole at the curb on Park Avenue at 2:30 Sunday, March 16th, injured three persons. The driver, Ernest Stewart, 38, of 104 Durocher Street, suffered a fractured skull and a broken spine and is now in the Royal Victoria Hospital in a critical condition. His friends in the automobile, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Clarke, were thrown to the ground, bruised and shaken, but were able to return to their home after treatment at the Royal Victoria Hospital.

WHAT A JUDGE HAD TO SAY.

"I wonder if the time has not come for judges to send to jail wives of men found guilty of selling liquor when the offence is committed in the homes of the accused and when the wife helps her husband in infringing the law?" was the query of Judge Monet in pronouncing sentence of one month in jail plus the costs or three additional months, upon Dodelphe Dailleboust, alias Ladouceur, pleading guilty of selling liquor in his house on Lagache Street, East. Inspectors of the Liquor Commission who made the case, stated that the wife of the accused was busy serving "customers" when they visited the place. She was accused concurrently with her husband. She appeared in the dock, a frail woman, and she is the mother of two children. Judge Monet said he would not send her to jail, but strongly advised her to stop defying the law. "It is use trying to make money illegally and dishonestly," said Judge Monet, addressing the woman. "You are bound to get caught one day or another, and there will be a time when wives will share responsibility with their husbands who sell liquor and allow their homes to become 'bing pigs.'"

MARCH, A MONTH OF MILD WEATHER.

March has been a surprisingly good month in the quality of weather. With over half the month gone we see no signs, so far, of blustery weather, howling winds and drifting snow. In fact, in many of the streets the snow had entirely disappeared, until we received a light St. Patrick's Day blizzard. From present indications an early spring is expected, and the Harbor Authorities are in readiness for it.

The police investigated the case and they were later taken to the home of their grandfather, whose address was learned from the eldest child.

SEVERAL WAYS TO MAKE MONEY.

The Antigonish Casket says:—
1. Longfellow could take a sheet of paper worth one-tenth of a cent, write a poem on it and make it worth $5,000. That genius.
2. Rockefeller could take a similar sheet of paper, write a few words on it and make it worth $10,000,000. That's capital.
3. The United States can take an ounce and a small fraction of gold, stamp an eagle on it and make it worth $20. That's authority.
4. A skilled workman can take 30 cents worth of steel, make it into watch springs and make it worth $8,000. That's skill.
5. A merchant can take an article that cost him 90 cents and sell it for $1. That's business.
6. A woman can buy a good fall hat for $10, but prefers one that costs $100. That's foolishness.
7. The man that wrote this article can write a cheque for $1,000,000, but it wouldn't be worth 30 cents. That's tough.

INCREASE IN NEUTRAL SCHOOL PANEL.

An increase of $840,000 for the current year is recorded in figures obtained at the City Hall of the neutral school panel. Last year the legislature increased the tax on property, which is inscribed in that panel, from $1 to $1.20, which accounts for the large amount available. Over $3,000,000 will be realized this year from the neutral panel and a larger proportion will be given the Protestant School Board to be used for the education of Jewish children.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about 5¢.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or croup in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Four 2½ ounces of Finex in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This you make 10 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Finex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the "brasses." It is a cough medicine, not a "brass" disinfectant, and you don't get any of the "brassy" taste or smell of other cough remedies. It is a family supply and is sold in all drug stores. FAMOUS LENTEN PREACHER.

For the first time in the history of an English Capuchin Father has been invited to preach the Lenten sermons. The preacher, Rev. Higgins, a distinguished and eloquent orator, who preached at Westminster Cathedral, London; St. Peter's Church, New York; and the Central at Chicago. Father Higgins is a member of the English Province of the Capuchin Franciscans of London. Small of stature and thin built, he has a powerful and a clear and distinct enunciation and choice language. His sermons are very practical. He will preach six weeks, preaching twice a Sunday, every day the week at St. Patrick's Church, and finishing with a two weeks' series, at which he'll preach four times daily. In his opening sermon he spoke on "Ideals."

When old age approaches we are to have one foot in the grave; we lose our ideals we have one in hell. No man is an absolute idealist, still let him go through life with his aspirations and ambitions, he is on the high road. If you have your visions of possible existence, do not ever again speak of the tragedy of your own life."

Pathe Higgins. "The preacher who made the difference between ideals and impossible. Christian events are recalled, the preacher said, not to revive bitterness, but to thank God for the gift of St. Patrick, and to

The Dissolution of the Legislature.

Acting in the advice of his Ministers, His Excellency the Governor dissolved the Legislature yesterday afternoon, and in a Royal Gazette Extraordinary issued last night the decision of the Governor was proclaimed.

The situation created on Thursday last by the defeat of the Warren Administration on a vote of want of confidence, which was carried by a majority of one, led to an impasse. It was obvious that neither side could possibly hope to carry through a programme of legislation without a larger majority than there appeared to be, and although a general election at this juncture should in the best interests of the country have been avoided, there was no alternative course but an appeal to the country at the earliest possible moment.

Within a few days no doubt full details of the plan of operations will be announced, when we trust to be in a position to make further observations on the situation. For the moment there is nothing to be said beyond emphasizing the need on the part of the whole community to determine that they shall be the sole arbiters in the forthcoming contest; that they will realize fully that upon the manner in which they exercise the franchise depends the faith which can be placed in the party elected, and that neither the fear of consequences, nor outside influences, nor the hope of reward will be allowed to interfere with the great responsibility which rests upon those who control the situation. It is a power which if abused reacts upon those who treat it lightly, but if it is applied in all sincerity and with the sole object of furthering the country's interests, there will be no occasion to feel doubtful as to the outcome.

A Brave Answer.

Mr. John W. Davis, the former Ambassador in London, was invited to become the Democratic candidate for the United States Presidency.

Mr. Davis's reply was dramatic and characteristic. It says:—

"You ask me to throw over honorable clients who offer me honest employment and to desert a group of professional colleagues who are able, upright, and loyal. You must not think me either indifferent or unappreciative if I tell you in candour that I would not pay this price for any honour in the gift of mankind.

"I do not challenge the accuracy of your political diagnosis, but what is life worth after all if one has no philosophy of his own to live by? If one surrenders this to win an office, what will he live by after the office is won? Tell me that."

Sorrow at the Grange, Whitbourne

Last night there passed away at the Grange, Whitbourne, Mrs. Roberts, who was a cousin of the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond, and widow of Lieut. Roberts, R.N. The deceased lady was in her 86th year, and until within the past few months enjoyed perfect health. She was a native of Plymouth, Devon, England, who came to this country in the early seventies as companion to Sir Robert Bond's mother, and since Mrs. Bond's death in 1900 has lived with Sir Robert at the Grange. She resided with Mrs. Bond in this city for many years and was known and loved by a generation that has well nigh passed away. The funeral, we understand, will be private.

The Party Concerned Gives His Version

We are informed by the lawyer in question that the statement that he was short in his accounts with the Agriculture Department is not correct in that he had furnished accounts some time ago, showing that the Government owes him money; also that the amount mentioned was much exaggerated.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

April 25th.—Up, and a great storm of rain and snow, and the streets in such a condition that I fill my shoes with mud and needs must change them at the office. By my morning sheet I did see how Hon. Donald Morrison is dead in California, and a great politician and attorney in his day, being some time Attorney General, and now a Justice of the Supreme Court. Mr. Warren sees the Governor to-day and receives from him permission to dissolve Parliament, and the condition of it that he must have an election at the earliest possible date. So now all the fat is in the fire. On all sides the utmost extremity of rumours concerning the leading politicians, how they shall go, but naught for certain can be seen, only everywhere the expectation in many minds that there will be many strange things come about ere it is over. I learn to-night, on the best authority, how the King's Proclamation for an election will be published in a Gazette to-morrow, and the time of it like to be towards the end of May. The Opposition members all mightly emphatic that they knew naught of Mr. Cramm's intent to move his no confidence resolution yesterday, and the business a great surprise to them. I find all men do sympathize mightily with Mr. Warren. A serious thing is that our trade may be temporarily dislocated by the election, which is a thing not to be borne at this time, when we are but started on the road to recovery. But Lord, what a great to-do caused by an ill-planned scheme to oust the Government, and it is mighty plain that the country would be better for it if yesterday's coup had been delayed a little, till the end of the session. Talking with Mr. Moore to-day, he tells me it is observable that women with bobbed hair are like to become bald after a while, seeing how they must keep their hair the tighter on their heads, and this, he thinks, causes the death of their hair. At which, I did say to him that I trusted I would not live to see the day when women should be bald.

After the ceremony a short but interesting toast list was proceeded with round the festive board.

"The Chinese Puzzle"

A great accomplishment without question, "The Chinese Puzzle" is by far the most elaborate play attempted in many years by a local company, and for that matter by a visiting troupe, and the fact that those who took part sustained their various roles in such a faultless manner speaks volumes for the talent which St. John's possesses. The stage appointments were magnificent, correct to the minutest detail, and would have done justice to a London theatre. The management are to be congratulated upon their skill, and are deserving of the thanks of those who were given an opportunity of seeing a play of such merit.

To Miss Keegan, Dr. Howlett and Mr. W. Wallace, whose parts demanded a tremendous amount of memory work, and required great artistic skill in interpreting them correctly, the highest praise is due, and it is no exaggeration to say that their acting compared favorably with that of many well-known stage celebrities. R. James had a part that suited him "down to the ground," and was never seen to better effect. Mrs. Hutton-also was quite at home as the mother of the diplomat and, but for the fact that she was suffering from loss of voice owing to the effect of a severe cold, she sustained the role perfectly.

Of Miss Kavanagh, Miss Hutton, Miss Mary Ryan and Mr. P. Dobbin it is sufficient to say that they added to the laurels which they had already gained in previous appearances. The other parts were taken by Mr. C. Hulton, who is too well known as a master of the art to require further comment, Messrs. Max Channing, Gilas and M. Williams, Miss Keegan was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet at the conclusion.

An account of last night's performance would be incomplete without reference to the excellent programme of music rendered by the orchestra, which was composed of members of the Mount Cashel Band under the baton of Mr. Arthur Bailey.

Norwegian Fish Regulations

INSPECTION AND GRADING OF KLIPFISH COMPULSORY. Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—I beg to enclose you a copy for publication of a letter received from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries which may be of interest to your readers.

ERNEST A. PAYN, Secy. Board of Trade.

Ernest A. Payn, Esq., Secretary Board of Trade. Sir,—In case that the members of the Board of Trade interested in the prosecution of the Fishery may not be aware what steps Norway is taking to increase the sales of Klipfish (fish-splitt, salted and dried), please inform them that a law comes into effect this year in that country which has made compulsory the inspection and grading of Klipfish. After inspection certificates will be issued attesting that the fish is of the quality represented. Norwegians hope, by the enforcement of this law, to create a bigger demand for this fish and are advertising it widely, assuring intending purchasers that the inspection is a guarantee to the purchaser that he will receive the quality he pays for. Yours truly, (Sgd.) GEO. F. GRIMES, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

In Memoriam

JOHN BURRELL. In the silent hours of Tuesday morning just as the season of joy, Easter Tide, was ushered in the soul of a well known and respected citizen in the person of John Murray (Master Cooper) of this city passed peacefully away, fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church of which he was a constant member. Deceased having been ill for many months bore his sufferings with patience and resignation. Mr. Murray's kindly disposition won for him a host of friends and it can be said with all sincerity and truth that he was a man of high character and of high standing in the community. He was a devoted father and brother and his loving children. He leaves to mourn one son, William, two daughters, Mrs. D. J. O'Quinn and Bridie at home to whom the writer extends sincere sympathy. His funeral took place on Thursday evening last from his late residence, LeMarchant Road to Mt. Carmel Cemetery where the mortal remains of a loving father and brother were laid to rest under the shade of the Cross where rest the faithful departed.—W.F.C.

FOUR POWERS APPROVE.

PARIS, April 26. The replies of the four big Allied powers to reparations commissions report all accept the committee findings wholly. The French alone raises the question of procedure, while Italy categorically declared the report to be "an indivisible whole" which should be taken in its entirety without condition or qualification.

CONFERENCE TO SETTLE DISPUTES.

WASHINGTON, April 26. Three Central American Governments, Salvador, Guatemala and Nicaragua, have accepted an invitation from the United States to participate in a conference at Annapolis, Maryland, for the purpose of mediating between warring factions in that country. A favorable reply is also obtained from Costa Rica, and the delegates will be dispatched by the four Central American countries in this

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES

CAPTAIN OF STRANDED VESSEL STATES MISSING LIGHTSHIP CAUSED ACCIDENT.

MONTREAL, April 26. A request for a formal investigation into the stranding of the steamer Corsthaum, April 25, at the entrance to South Travers, some fifty miles below Quebec, was made to the Minister of Marine to-day by the Shipping Federation of Canada. According to the vessel's master, Capt. A. B. Calvert, the grounding of his ship was due to the fact that a lightship, supposed to be in position at the entrance to the Travers, was not there. Capt. Calvert said that before entering the Travers he had asked Quebec by wireless if all the usual aids to navigation were in position and was answered in the affirmative.

ANGUS SHOPS CLOSE FOR 7 DAYS.

MONTREAL, April 26. Notices were posted to-day in the Canadian Pacific by the Angus shops here, that the whole plant would close down on Monday night, April 28th and re-open May 5. The announcement means that between nine and ten thousand men will be idle seven days.

LEAVES TO RE-JOIN FLIGHT COMPANIONS.

CORDOVA, Alaska, April 25. Major, Frederick L. Martin, commanding the United States Air Expedition around the world, hopped off at Chignik this morning to join his three companion pilots at Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN CONFERENCE SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS.

LONDON, April 26. Christian Rakovsky, the head of the Russian delegation to the Anglo-Russian Conference being held here, declared himself to-day as well satisfied with the progress of the Conference and hopeful of a favorable issue to the negotiations. He referred to a manifesto issued by a number of leading London bankers in which they set forth the conditions under which they believed Russian credit could be restored, and said he was surprised that the manifesto bore signatures of bankers doing a big business with Russia with which they were on the best of terms and who were in a position to know that credit and trade operations with Russia are very good business indeed. He described as absolutely false the rumors that the Soviet Government did not favor the attraction of foreign capital to Russia.

LEADER OF TAMMANY, DEAD.

NEW YORK, April 25. Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, died to-day. He succeeded the late Richard Croker as chief of the most famous political organizations in the United States, and was a native New Yorker, having been born here June, 1858. Acute indigestion was the cause of his death.

A JOINT REQUEST TO GERMANY.

BERLIN, April 26. The Ambassadors of the Allied Nations, as the result of a decision taken recently by the Council of Ambassadors in Paris yesterday, made joint representations to the German Government, calling attention to the existence of secret treaties in Germany, said to be contrary to the Treaty of Versailles and threatening the safety of the occupying forces. The representations request that the German Government put an end to these activities.

RESCUE OF CREW OF RITCHEY.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 24. The crew of the tern schooner David C. Ritchey Capt. Lezge reported abandoned in a sinking condition on Wednesday of this week were rescued from sinking vessel yesterday morning by S. S. Virginia in latitude 46° N. Longitude 55° 07' W. according to a wireless message from Cape Race received this morning by the Department of Marine and Fisheries here. Schooner was set fire to before being abandoned. David C. Ritchey is a Nova Scotian schooner of 248 tons and is reported to be now owned in St. John's Nfld.

OUR PRESCRIPTION DEPT.

When a Doctor gives a Prescription he expects co-operation from the Druggist to get results. Unless he gets this co-operation which means pure fresh drugs and chemicals of guaranteed potency, and scientific compounding, he does not get the results, and the patient does not improve as expected. Our dispensary is fitted up to fill Prescriptions carefully and with ingredients of dependable quality. All ingredients are dispensed by qualified dispensers only, properly checked and thereby chances of error are as far as possible eliminated.

SEALING NEWS

The only news received from the sealing grounds since yesterday was a message from the Terra Nova, giving her position ten miles S.W. of Bell Island. The Lighthouse keeper at Bell Island in communication with the ship states that a good patch of seals are reported five miles East of that place. Capt. Keen hopes for better news later.

A Model Violin

A splendid piece of craftsmanship, a violin, made by one of the Sagona's crown named Fowler, whilst his ship was jammed in White Bay is on exhibition in Ayre & Son's music window. The violin, which is complete in detail was made from old scraps of wood with no other than a pocket knife and a marline spike which was used as a hammer. The glue used was made aboard ship from fish waste. The piece of work was given to the appearance of the ship. Mr. J. Cook as a present.

Cots for Patients

The management of the railway have recently added to their train equipment several cots to be used for the benefit of patients coming to the city for treatment. The cots are distributed in the various baggage cars and can be found available at a moment's notice. No doubt this is a move in the right direction, as formerly invalids or sick people for the hospital more or less travelled at great discomfort.

Thetis Discharged.

The sealing steamer Thetis finished unloading at 9 o'clock last night, when her catch was declared as follows:—10,000 young harps, 60 young hoods, 1,755 bedlammers, 89 old harps, 1 old hood, a total of 11,905 seals. Gross weight, 253 tons, 0 cwt., 1 qr., 13 lbs.; net weight, 241 tons, 1 cwt., 1 lb., 12 lbs. The young harps averaged 4 1/2 lbs. The value of the fat amounted to $21,476.14. The crew of 163 men shared $48.65 each.

THE TRAINS

The incoming express which was held up all day yesterday at Kitty's Brook, due to the storm along the Topsails, left Bishop's Falls at noon to-day and is not due to reach the city before to-morrow afternoon. A train with the Kyle's mail and passengers left Port aux Basques at 8 a.m. preceded by a Rotary plow. The weather is N. E. light and dull all along the line of railway to-day.

"Everybody's Grabbing in Now"

A NEW POPULAR SONG WHICH PROMISES TO BECOME OUR NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Money, money, have you none? Funny, funny, takes the bun. You're the only man Still without his pan Locked away in his safe. Go, go, go, take your share. Dough, dough, dough, dough, pluck it there. Can't you see them all Running up the hill, Let's be getting in line. Everybody's grabbin' it, grabbin' it, grabbin' it. Everybody's grabbin' it, grabbin' it, grabbin' it. See that fellow standing over there? He grabbed fifty thousand dollars clear. Grab your bundle quickly, I declare It's a bear, it's a bear, it's a bear. Everybody's grabbin' it, grabbin' it, grabbin' it. Everybody's grabbin' it, grabbin' it, grabbin' it. Nobody now will call it theft. Run, run, run, run, don't get left. Everybody's grabbin' it now.

League will be held to-night, when matters in connection with the forthcoming season's games will be discussed. It is understood that several of last year's players will join the Senior League this season. The League consisted of eight teams last season and it is understood that at least three other clubs are seeking admission this year. The League, which made its first appearance last year, proved very successful, and the games played proved very interesting.

INTER-CLUB BILLIARDS.

R.I.S. Players Making Substantial Gains Against Masonic.
At the Masonic Club last night two games of the Inter-Club Billiard Tournament were played resulting in a game for each Club, although in the total for the night, the Masonic gained 43 points.
The first game was a very good exhibition and interesting throughout. Wornell took the lead at the beginning of play and gradually increased it, finishing sixty-three points in the lead of his opponent.
The second game was much better, although both players were often seen in better form. Early in the game Hickey went ahead of Duff and increased the lead up to 100 points. However, the Masonic player began to cut down the majority after this, and had only twenty points to make when the game ended.
The scores were as follows:—
Wornell (Masonic)—550—11, 14, 18, 27, 13, 13, 15—111.
Buckingham (B. I. S.)—287—11, 11, 10, 13, 12, 10, 16, 21—104.
Hickey (B. I. S.)—350—12, 28, 10, 14, 15, 17, 24, 16, 11, 10, 11—168.
Duff (Masonic)—390—25, 17, 11, 17, 14, 15, 15, 12, 23, 14—177.
To-night's games are:—Wallace (R.I.S.) vs. Harman (Masonic); and Mookler (B.I.S.) vs. Angel (Masonic).

BARE RUTH HITS FIRST HOMER.
WASHINGTON, April 26—Babe Ruth drove out his first home run of the season here to-day, but his team mates fell victims to Walter Johnson, in a slugger he, twelve to three. Ruth's homer cleared the high right field fence in the eighth inning with no one on base.

NORFOLK WINS ON FOUL.
BOSTON, April 26—Kid Norfolk, of New York, light-heavyweight champion of the world, won on a foul in the sixth round of their scheduled ten round bout here last night. The boxer engaged in an unofficial fight when Greb struck Norfolk after the bell had rung, ending the round. No championship was involved in the bout which was at catch weights. Norfolk out-weighted Greb about ten pounds.

CLARENCE DEMAR, MELROSE RUNNER WINS BOSTON MARATHON.
Victor MacAulay Finishes Sixth—Two New Records.
BOSTON, April 19—Clarence H. DeMar, of the Melrose Post of the American Legion, ran away with the big Boston Marathon race over the full marathon distance of 26 miles, 385 yards from Hopkinton to Boston here to-day. Running with a stride that knew no faltering, the veteran marathoner won the Antwerp Olympic Marathon four years ago in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 35 4-5 seconds. DeMar set the pace for practically the entire distance. At the start he was content to let the pace setters take the lead, but after going five miles he broke in front at Framingham and from this point was never headed. His hardest opponent in the first half of the race was William Churchill, of San Francisco, but at the Newton Hill DeMar gradually ran away from this youngster and set the pace to the finish line, the Boston Athletic Association Club House. Charles (Chuck) Mellor, of the Illinois A. C. of Chicago, finished second, Frank Wendling, of Buffalo was third, William Churchill, of San Francisco, Cal., fourth, Carl Linder, of the B.A.A. fifth and Victor MacAulay, of Windsor, Nova Scotia finished in sixth place, being the first Canadian representative to finish the coasted.
Before the race Zuna was a strong favorite to win, but the doughty runner came to grief after reaching the Lake Street point and was forced to retire owing to a pain in his side.
The feat of Demar in winning such a race will go down in marathon records as the greatest feat ever known to marathon running. Four times he has won the Boston race, once in 1911, then again in 1922, 1923 and

WHAT HALAGOVIANS SAY OF MACAULAY.

In taking sixth place in the Boston Marathon Saturday, Victor MacAulay defeated scores of star runners. Getting sixth out of a field of 144 marathons, the pick of the United States, is a real feat. The United States Olympic team decided to take the first six to finish to the Paris games, and had MacAulay been an American, he would have made the team. William Kennedy and Frank Zuna, both of New York, previous winners, were defeated by MacAulay.

The Veteran
The April number of the Veteran issued to-day establishes a new high level in the publication of local magazines. The cover itself is a masterpiece of artistic coloring and represents a Newfoundland scene, as well as an excellent picture of Padre Nangle of the G.W.V.A. President. Among the many illustrations those showing the various war memorials and plaques are magnificent works of art particularly Freedom, the Forestry Corps and the memorial plaque of the Imperial Tobacco Co. The following material has been contributed by well known writers among whom are included Sir P. T. McGrath; Messrs. Cochius, R. A. Parsons, E. J. Parlanti, P. C. Mars and Miss F. Miller. We heartily congratulate the management on turning out such a splendid number and feel certain that it will be in great demand by the public.

The "Communist" Oligarchy

London Morning Post.—The Communist Party numbers approximately four hundred thousand out of a total Russian population of one hundred and twenty millions. This party is narrowed down to a Central Committee of forty, which, in turn, is governed by a political bureau of ten or eleven, and even of this there is a still smaller body which governs all. Thus we see that there is no basis in the claim of the Communist to represent the workers. Yet this Communist Party, or its Executive, governs absolutely both the Soviet Republic and the Communist International, and through the Communist Party in every country carries on its world conspiracy.

Top-of-the-World Reports on Weather Made by Woman
SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Daily weather observations in the land of the midnight sun, at the United States' farthest north weather station, at Point Barrow, Alaska, are made by a woman. Four or five times a year she sends a report to the outside world by dog team, coast guard cutter or trading schooner.
The forecaster and recorder is Mrs. Mollie Ward Greist, wife of the surgeon in charge of the Presbyterian hospital at Point Barrow. She has been the government's top-of-the-world weather observer since 1920. Arrangements have been made by M. B. Summers, in charge of the weather bureau here, to ship wind velocity instruments to Point Barrow aboard the coast guard cutter Bear, which is to leave May 12. The vessel is to reach Point Barrow in August.

Dont's for New York Police
NEW YORK, April 12.—No longer may New York's policemen—there are almost thirteen thousand of them—dirt while on duty.
Nor may they tell any of the details of their business to their wives.
These are two of the long list of "dont's" which has just been issued to all members of his force by Police Commissioner Enright.
It's a long list and, among others, includes admonitions NOT to criticize superior officers, NOT to be a grouch, NOT to lean against walls or posts, NOT to keep their hands in their pockets, NOT to neglect their appearances, NOT to be abusive or threatening to a prisoner and condescend with the advice that all officers "make honesty, sobriety and truthfulness your all."

NEEDS ATTENTION.—Residents of Duckworth Street, near King's Beach, would feel greatly indebted to the G.W.V.A. if they would engage a few men to remove the filthy cess pool from the concrete base of the new War Memorial. Several children made a daily practice of playing with and water, getting themselves wet, and are very likely to injure themselves unless the matter is not soon remedied.

COTTON LOOKING UP.
Trend of Raw Cotton Upward Reflected in More Hopeful Trade Attitude.
(Boston News Bureau, April 17).
Charlotte—A more hopeful outlook for the textile industry in this section, with its thousands of stockholders and tens of thousands of workers, is beginning to be evident.
Trend of raw cotton has been decidedly upward the past week, and mill men believe that with the acknowledged small carry-over of cotton prices will either stick around 30 cents or go higher. In either event the market for cotton goods must quicken, for invariably buying becomes firmer and more general on a rising market, they say.
One rather significant factor is the difficulty of securing any considerable amount of cotton of a given specification. One mill in the market last few days was compelled to accept a considerable proportion of cotton not up to grade. This means that many mills are going to do more cautious selling and are going to buy cotton of desired grades as rapidly as the good market warrants.
Manufacturers are almost unanimous in opinion that the depression which has afflicted the industry the past several months has been the result, more than anything else, of the depressed price of cotton. There have been other factors, of course, but the market for yarns and goods would have reacted and quickened weeks ago, they say, if cotton had been established around 30 to 35 cents. Incidentally, scores of southern mills which purchased cotton at around 35 cents would have been in much better financial shape.
The situation recently in the industry has served to emphasize the identity of interests between stockholders, mill workers and cotton growers. Southern mills always have made their best profits from high priced cotton. Mill workers have had steadier work and higher wages when cotton has been high. The identity of interests really goes further, because the merchant, banker, professional and business men in every line have been most prosperous when par rolls were steady and purchasing power of industrial workers and farmers highest.
Workers have been feeling the pinch of curtailment, many mills have been on exceedingly dangerous ground, and business in some wholly textile communities has suffered to a marked extent.

China Angry at Soviet Russia
UNLESS RUSSIANS LEAVE MONGOLIA, CHINESE WILL ACT ROUGH.
PEKING, China, April 10.—(Special Star-Tribune Cable Copyright)—Authentic information from Canton states that Sun Yat Sen, southern Chinese leader, has indefinitely postponed the inauguration of Soviet Government at Canton, owing to the reaction throughout China over the Russian reluctance to declare its sincerity by the renunciation of its secret treaty with the Mongolian Soviet. Otherwise the sentiment is favorable to Russia, this being due particularly to the activities of M. Borodin, Russian delegate.
Unless Russia definitely pledges itself to evacuate Mongolia, the Chinese are likely to show open displeasure with the adoption of war-like moves.
A conference at the War Office at the behest of the Mongolian princes, considers the despatch of three divisions under General Feng Yuh-Shan, Christian general, to Mongolia.
The Government of Turkestan has wired asking permission to recruit 3,000 additional troops owing to the threatening attitude of the Russians on the border. China is embarrassed financially, but should Russia show a determination to hold Mongolia it is felt that the nation would respond to appeals to oust the invaders.

Historic Stone Has Been Moved
The Rufus Stone in the New Forest, Hampshire, which stood on the traditional spot where King William II. was killed in 1100, has been uprooted and overturned.
The stone weighs about 5 cwt., and is 5 ft. in height, and had an iron railing around it. It is not known how it became dislodged.
King William II. who was known as William Rufus (red) on account of his red hair, was shot while hunting in the New Forest by an arrow drawn by Sir Walter Tyrell, his companion. The stone was set up, on the spot where the King was said to have died, by Lord Delaware in 1745.

Dead Bird Subway Shoving Caused Suicides 1923
New York, April 19.—The high price of living was responsible for a considerable increase in the number of suicides in the United States last year, H. M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life League, which keeps track of such matters, said to-day. Between 15,000 and 16,000 persons—the oldest 97, the youngest 6—took their own lives, the League estimates, although the official figure was only 12,948.
Among reasons given for suicides were the following:
One man said if he succeeded in killing himself it would be the first success of his life.
A woman felt she could live no longer without her pet canary.
A girl took poison because she was forbidden to roll her nose.
A spinster drowned herself, leaving a note: "Damn the men."
One young man said things were too slow, and that he wanted a "real thrill."
Another killed himself because he couldn't stand the shoving in the subway.

Personal

The many friends of Mr. M. Candon will regret to learn that he was taken to the General Hospital on Tuesday last for treatment. We trust to hear of his complete recovery at an early date.

Health—A Live Subject At Afternoon Teas

It is under such circumstances that experiences are exchanged and women tell one another what treatments have been of most benefit to them.

It is a pretty safe guess that in these tete-a-tetes no medicine is so frequently mentioned as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and there is a very good reason why.

Any physician will tell you that most of the ailments which most bother women are due to lowered vitality.

In these days of surgical specialists the operation is too frequently the first thing recommended whereas in many cases restored vitality would enable nature to restore the natural functions to the deranged organs.

Lowered vitality may come from the strain of irregular hours, loss of rest and sleep, too much excitement or worry.

It may also result from lack of proper nourishment, from over-eating or from sedentary habits.

When vitality runs low there is no end to the troubles that may arise and you are an easy prey to colds, pneumonia and all sorts of germ diseases.

Restorative treatment is demanded and because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven to be the greatest of restoratives of the blood and nerve force is why it is so greatly appreciated by women everywhere.

At this season of the year particularly, almost everybody is in need of such assistance as is found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Put this popular restorative to the test when you find yourself nervous, irritable and sleepless or suffer from indigestion, headaches or tired, depressed feelings.

You will soon be convinced of its merits and will realize then why so many thousands of women find a joy in telling their friends of benefits received.

Dr. Chase's Medicines are for sale in Newfoundland by all druggists and dealers in medicines.

If your local merchant cannot supply you write direct to Mr. Gerald S. Doyle, Water St., St. John's, as he is sole agent for the Dr. Chase Medicine Co., in Newfoundland.

Just Folks.

Oh, there's much to think about—
So much to try to understand
So many mysteries profound,
That everywhere we look around
It seems to sky, or sea, or land,
Are things we do not understand.

With all our wisdom, still we lie
And gaze into the open sky
And wonder at the stars which race
Across that boundless sea of space,
And who conceived so vast a plan,
And was it only made for man?

What caused the rivulet to flow,
And when did grass begin to grow?
Who shaped the earth's expanse,
Or thought about the whippoorwill?
What vast imagination planned
The countless insects of the land?

A robin sings. His note is heard—
Who knows the secrets of a bird?
And who can tell us how or why
God sent to earth the butterfly,
Or tell what marvelous mind conceived
The first frail web a spider weaved?

How far our little dreams may run!
With questioning we've never done.
No moment of the day but brings
Us face to face with wondrous things,
All mysteries which have baffled man
Since the far day when life began.

An Endorsement

Editor Evening Telegram.
PORT AU PORT, April 25.
The inspiring address of Lt.-Col. Nangle, Dominion President of the Great War Veterans Associations delivered to the Veterans gathered at the Star Theatre in the city on the 15th, strikes a responsive chord in the breast of every returned service man, and has the true ring of the soldier and sailor, advocate and friend, and is characteristic of the Padre as we knew him over there. We enlisted for the defense of justice, right and freedom, and it is true as our president said in his address to the comrades that the principle exists just as strong to-day as ever but it has become expediency, prejudice, and other causes receive some rough jolts since we returned from overseas. Evidently the duty for which we enlisted has not been completed. Right here in our own country it is to be fought to a finish a battle against the monsters of injustice and discrimination of recent years, assisted by the demon of sectarianism of much long-standing which has devastated our public service and made it a mockery and a delusion. The ex-service men have been appealed to take part in this fight. They are, I believe, willing and ready, and if they remain loyal to their association and its ideals and to one another as well, they can do much to make Newfoundland safe for right and truth and justice—qualities for which her people were justly respected in the past.

WALT MATON

The booze they sell is priced so high a poor man can't get drunk; a baker of their deadly rye will cost you half a plunk. A man must be absurdly rich if he'd acquire a bus, and roll around in yonder diten and have all kinds of fun. They used to make their booze of grain, of barley, corn and rye, and one could take his bitter plain, and not go blind or die. The barley and the rye and corn were experienced stuff, and fifteen cents would buy a horn, and that seemed dear enough. But now they're using costly dyes, and drugs of noxious smell, to make the bourbons and the ryes the beetles dealers sell. It costs to manufacture booze, the way they make it now, to gather up old overshoes, and horns of goat and cow, to boil tin cans and cast-off hats, the rinds of rancid cheese, to get the blood of vampire bats, the sap of upas trees. One cannot get without expense, an alligator's nest, the rusty barb wire from a fence, that gives the bitters zest. One cannot without money buy a vat of purple ink, a crosscut saw, a keg of lye, to make the modern drink. And so the price of flaying bows is up, and up to stay, and only men with ample rolls can kill themselves that way. But one may to the hydrant tank, in peace and great content, and pour three gallons down his neck, and not cough up a cent.

Fads and Fashions.

Many of the prettiest spring coats have short shoulder capes. The veil is rarely used except as a trimming or to soften an edge. Some of the new hats have large brims all around except in back. Fob ornaments are even used on the crowns of small tailored hats. The small mantilla is worn in fachu style with the evening gown. A touch of summer fur is used on almost all the new spring coats. White, beige and sand color are smartest for early summer frocks. Some of the loveliest of the new informal evening gowns are of lace. A silk underslip of pale rose and white is used for a frock of gray lace.

BRANDRAM'S GENUINE B-B WHITE LEAD

ANY product that successfully survives the critical tests of ten generations must possess unusual merit. Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead has just such a record. Since 1729 it has stood alone as the World's Standard White Lead.

It breaks up easily and works readily into a beautiful snowy white paste which thins to just the right consistency for economical brush work. Paints mixed with Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead spread further with less effort and greater smoothness than any others. They form a tough, elastic coating that offers wonderful resistance to the wear and tear of time and the elements.

Use Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead when painting and give your property the protection it deserves.

F. Smallwood, The Home of Good Shoes

tot he sailing qualities of the ships, the capabilities of the captains, or the experience and agility of the crew. Perhaps nothing formed such an important subject in the social circle as an ocean race between two or more famous ships in our mercantile marine, and the greatest interest was manifested in old and young, rich and poor, until the result was known, and upon the return to port the captain and crew of the winning ship received quite an ovation, which generally wound up in a hot supper, supplemented with choice spirituous cordials (which would not injure either your head or your pocket to any great extent, as the substitute does at present) in which the health of the winning crew, the losers, the builder, the owner, and every other individual connected with the event was drunk amidst rounds of applause, and great rhetorical effusions. It is just such an event that I am now about to describe, and which, I trust, will be read with some interest by the numerous patrons of the Telegram, more particularly our countrymen in the United States and Canada, where they can be counted by the thousands. Although the same interest is not manifested in (what is left of) our mercantile marine, as was in the sixties and seventies, yet, I find that a large portion of our people take the greatest delight in listening to and reading about these events of long ago, when our great fleet of vessels could compare favorably with that of any other on this side of the Atlantic, and when our seafaring men obtained and maintained the reputation of being the most competent, handy and fearless mariners in the world.

On a beautiful evening in the summer of 1861, two clipper brig passed out of the Narrows of St. John's, side by side, oil laden, on a voyage across the Atlantic. Both ships were of a class, now, also, unknown, and were as fine specimens of marine architecture as could be found on either side of the Atlantic. The Balclutha, owned by the firm of Messrs. J. & W. Stewart, was a noted flyer and had many a record run to her credit. The other brig, the Mercury, was owned by W. & H. Thomas & Co., and was no less successful than her noted rival. The anchors were soon cast; every inch of sail from skywards down, spread to the breeze; courses given, and away for the Old Head of Kinsale in Ireland. As the long evening closed in, the bold coast of our native land appeared as a bank of clouds in the distant west. At eight bells, the watches were set, and everything was going along as well as could be expected on a ship just after leaving port.

The ships were almost side by side, gliding through the water, which was smooth, and by log were running seven knots per hour. The mate's watch on the Mercury went below at eight o'clock, and was called again at midnight. As my informant stated, "I was on deck first, having to relieve the wheel, and never shall I forget the sight I witnessed." The wind had hauled round about W.S.W., freshened, and the Mercury was running about nine knots through the sea which was one blaze of phosphorescent splendour and luminosity. The Balclutha with everything still on her was a little in advance, and looked a thing of beauty. The moon shining on her snow-white canvas had a beautiful effect, and as she rose and fell in the sea, ten millions of jewels flashed under her bows, along her sides, and beneath her counter. Her copper gleamed like burnished gold, and her wake was a revelation. The Mercury, evidently, in it to stay, and was holding her own proudly, and not going to give up the race without a strong kick. The next day it was almost calm, and the ships were in sight of each other. Thus the day passed. The captain of the Mercury left orders for a man to be sent aloft to the royal yard every morning to try and sight the Balclutha. On the sixteenth day out, the wind changed and blew lightly from the eastward. That night the crew of the Mercury lost sight of the Balclutha. On the thirteenth day the ship was beating in to make Cape Clear, amidst a large fleet of vessels of all nations, bound to English ports. Here was the stately Indianan, the tea-ship from China, the Dutch Gallot, the Melbourne clipper, the Black Ball Liner, the logy West Indianan with his bluff bows and heavy counters, and the tidy little Newfoundland brig, the Mercury, last, though not least, when it came to a test of speed.

When night fell, it was dangerous sailing, and orders were given to tack ship every two hours, and the captain had to be very careful, as the nights were now dark and no moon visible, and hundreds of lights were gassing and repassing. All hands had to be kept on the qui vive. One night, just after four bells, a light was seen approaching on the opposite tack, and the captain shouted to the man at the wheel, "Luff, my lad, and give him a berth!" Just after a long black brig passed close aboard, and the captain of the Mercury sang out—"Is that you Captain Hart?" "Aye, Aye," said Hart "Didn't you get in yet?" "No," said Captain Boyce, "did you?" The ships did not meet again, but the captain and crew of the Mercury were well satisfied with the result of the race, as they were the victors, having passed the Old Head of Kinsale four hours and eleven minutes ahead of the Balclutha, which was not so bad on a seventeen hundred mile race across the Atlantic.

At one time St. John's had twenty-one barques and one full-rigged ship (the Hermione belonging to Bowring Brothers). Amongst the number (and I could name scores) I may mention Teesler's Maria; Camella; J. & W. Stewart's Meteor; McBride's Olinde; Bowring's Trinucleo; Prospero; Carpasian; Job's Snowdon; Netherston; Cusack's Warhawk (she was as sharp as a razor); Baine Johnston's Constance; Helen Isabel; Parajetro; Walter Grieve's Corn; Beltress; Avalon; lost with Capt. Skinner and all hands on voyage from Pernambuco to St. John's; Stubb Row's Tasso and Emily. Some of the clipper brig were James Stewart, Balclutha, Glancus, Mercury, Titania, Elizabeth, McLea, Kate McLea, Polly, Rosalie, Claudia, Herald, Carteretta, Dante, Walter Baine, Ann Johnston. The crews in those days were larger than at present, as no vessel carried less than eight hands, and some of the larger barques had fifteen men, all told. There were as many as eight or nine hundred men who manned the foreign fleet, which is a sad contrast to the present day. Many of the fore-and-aft schooners now crossing the Atlantic in all seasons do not carry more than six men, and I have known some of them to sail with five hands.

No Ivory Famine

The elephant is a very useful animal, both for draft purposes and for ivory. A few years ago 70,000 were slaughtered annually for their tusks, so that it seemed as though there was a good chance of the big animals becoming extinct, says the Washington "Post." Wise laws, however, have checked the destruction so that the number is increasing. The war gave the elephants their chance and the British authorities in East Africa have also protected them. South of Zambesi the elephant is virtually extinct, and the Cape market for ivory has ceased to exist. At present Mozambique is the center of the ivory trade. Oddly enough, the Portuguese, through whose hands it comes, send nearly all the ivory across to Bombay, where it is sorted and cut and dispatched to the European markets. The world's supply of real elephant ivory is now about 250 tons a year.

Contest for Marine Supremacy in Speed

for about twenty-five I am certain this is a record in any mercantile marine, and speaks well for our jovial friend, Capt. Joyce, who, by the way, has just returned from the lectures in the S.S. Neptune, having held the position of navigator in that lucky ship—and with a bumper trip looking well and hearty, as usual. Writing about the long servitude of some of the seafaring men in with the one master, it is well to record that I knew one man, a Frenchman, named Pierre Pichet (called Peter Pike) who served the famous sealkiller and planter, Capt. Henry Thomey, for over forty years, without a break, both at the seal and cod fisheries. This man fought in the French Naval Brigade, in Algiers, under the celebrated Marshal MacMahon, the hero of the Malakoff in the Crimea, who afterwards became President of the French Republic. He came to this country in a French ship, but left her on arrival, and entered the service of the old Viking. During the winter months (in the nights) he taught many of the youths of Harbor Grace the French language, and several of them became fluent French Scholars. He was a well educated man, and was a native of St. Malo. But Capt. Joyce's two men were always with him on foreign voyages.

I often look back to those days with pleasure, though not without regret, that I did not take down and preserve many of the interesting adventures, deeds of daring, and hair-breadth escapes as they were related by the weather-beaten mariners in the days of the musty past. It is true that for many years I have endeavored to preserve some of the narratives of those heroes of old, many of which have been handed down to me by tradition; and others that I have listened to with spell-bound attention, as they were told by the participants in the events. It was an established custom for all the master-mariners, the members of their families and a few privileged friends to attend these gatherings, and the fund of information to be derived from such instructive discourses would be of incalculable benefit to the generation of to-day did they possess a copy. It was in such gatherings that was to be heard and handed down the true and interesting history of our country; but, unfortunately, our hardy and daring sea-faring population of the past century look their adventures, hardships and escapades as matters of every-day life in pursuit of their perilous avocations, and related them around the kitchen or parlour fires for the edification of their audiance, who, unfortunately, took no care to preserve them in writing. Hence it is, that literary tramps from the outside world come in amongst us, procure a smattering of our past history, and manage to twist and turn it by their own phraseology in such a manner as to make it a burlesque or an insult to the people and the country.

In the old days, no matter what the subject of conversation was on the tapis, it would generally, year round

Automatic Lubrication

OTTAWA, Ont., April 24—(Canadian Press)—A report for the purpose of assisting and guiding motorists in the purchase of gasoline and lubricating oils has been issued by the Canadian Engineering Standards Association. Automotive engineers, according to the report, estimate that at least ten per cent. of the power developed in a gasoline engine is employed in overcoming friction which exists in the engine, transmission and differential gear. There are four essential properties for automotive lubrication:

1. It must be capable of reaching freely every friction point.
2. It must remain fluid in cold weather and be able to withstand heat without burning or thinning.
3. It must be able to resist being squeezed out from between moving parts.
4. It must possess low internal frictional qualities.

The report states that over 50 per cent. of all automobile engine repairs are rendered necessary by incorrect lubrication. The low quality oils are poor economy and the motorist should follow the specific recommendations for the lubrication of various makes and models of cars suggested by the leading oil companies. Such recommendations are based on professional advice and actual experiment. In regard to gasoline, the report points out that "unfortunately there is no simple test which can be conveniently applied by users to determine the quality of gasoline." The only known positive test is the "distillation" method which can only be carried on under laboratory conditions. While gasoline consumption is 14 times greater than in 1911, the world's crude oil production is only two and a half times that of 1911. The improvements in engine and carburettor design have rendered it possible to use gasoline of less volatility but having greater heat value. The problem has been to obtain larger gasoline from the world's supply of crude oil.

HINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DISTEMPER.

Lady Balfour Finds Little to Commend IN GIRLS OF TO-DAY.

LONDON.—(A. P.)—Young women of to-day are much inferior to the old-fashioned girl in point of morals, intelligence, romance, and knowledge of the great affairs of life, said Lady Frances Balfour, daughter of the Duke of Argyll, in a recent lecture before the London School of Economics.

"The face of a modern girl is a mass of powder," the speaker declared. "Her lips are painted until no longer recognizable, and the reek of her person makes one long for the outdoors."

In the past, Lady Balfour continued, young women doubtless led considerably more sheltered lives. There was in the old days a great confusion between ignorance and innocence, but life has more romantic possibilities. The girls of that period knew less of men and thought of them as paragons of virtue and unselfishness. Men, she went on, were better in consequence of this than they are today. "It is good to be believed in, especially by men. The girls in former times were held to be entirely irresponsible, and it didn't matter how they spent their time so long as they amused men."

The ignorance of the olden times made it most improper for girls to know any of the darker sides of the life of her sex. "I wonder if the woman of the present," the speaker asked, "will in later years feel ashamed of being photographed with practically no clothes on? She now has no sense of modesty at all."

Miss Viola Tree, a well known English lecturer, however, does not share Lady Balfour's views regarding the girl of to-day. Arguing that the most criticized girls of to-day were the stage girls, she declared that they worked too hard to have any time for excesses. For comradeship and mutual self-help, she said, there was nobody like the chorus girl. Instead of stealing down to the telephone in her night dress to talk to a young man, the girl of to-day orders her mother to have a fire in the drawing room.

Atlantic's Attack Along Coast Line

EATS UP MILLIONS.

WASHINGTON.—(A. P.)—How to master the ocean in its unceasing attack against the sandy beaches of the Atlantic Coast, where millions of dollars are invested in pleasure resorts, is a problem to which the Coast and Geodetic Survey is giving much attention.

With the story of the unremitting encroachment of the Atlantic daily reiterated in letters from individuals and communities appealing for help, survey officials say the only successful remedy lies in the creation of one central agency to cope with the situation.

Protective work within a state, officials declare, should be under direction of a state organization, as the problems involved are too intricate for individual property owners to handle. They also point out that in some cases protective measures for one section of the coastline may prove destructive for another.

From New York harbor to and including the Gulf of Mexico, the low coastline is most susceptible to the sea, and from this section appeals for help are most numerous. The Pacific Coast, though confronted with the problem to a lesser extent, is not endangered like the Atlantic seaboard.

New Jersey is the first state, the survey declares, to take up the problem seriously, and at present has invested more than $300,000,000 in coast protection. This amount, it is pointed out, is more than the total assessed valuation of the state's farmland. In less than 100 years the state has lost more than 2,000 acres from its seaboard.

Officials believe, however, that in the near future a concerted attempt will be made to deal with the problem as automobiles, good roads, and other conveniences in transportation have brought the seashore nearer to thousands of tourists. The constant improvement and investment on the coast, the survey claims, will demand insurance with some degree of permanency.

PARIS-CHARENT PLANES.

PARIS-CHARENT. It is to be the better of keeping an eye on the German Government's refusal to enter into a contract which would permit aircraft companies Franco-Roumaine to fly to Strasbourg and Prague. It is on this route that several of the most forced landings last week led to reports that the Germans had discovered a wireless wave making it possible to bring down aircraft at will. A number of machines which came down on German soil were confiscated by the authorities on the ground that they were in the country illegally. It has been decided that the mail and passenger planes of the company will proceed from Strasbourg via Basel, along the valley of the upper Rhine, to Lake Constance, and then via Innsbruck, Linz and Vienna, thus avoiding flying over German territory.

Dwyer Sisters Score Decided Hit at Crescent

LARGE ATTENDANCE IN SPITE OF INCLEMENT WEATHER.

The "weather man" handed out a raw deal last night, but in spite of that fact, the Crescent Theatre was largely patronized and the act by the popular Dwyer Sisters delighted everybody and the applause tendered them was spontaneous. These dainty artists are fast stepping Minnie and expert Clog and Buck and Wing dancers. They intersperse several songs and make lightning costume changes that are remarkable. Next week, the Dwyer Sisters propose exhibiting some of their most popular numbers that have put them over so successfully on the Keith Circuit. Watch the advertising columns in this paper for further particulars. To-night, however is the last chance to see above programme, as on Monday there will be a complete change.

The photoplay entitled "The Glory of Clementina," is the picture attraction now showing. It is based upon Wm. J. Lock's famous novel of the same title, reveals one of the greatest character studies ever shown on the screen. In the interpretation of the role of Clementina Wing, a dandy middle-aged genius who is famous for her portrait painting, but who has stifled all her natural romantic instincts, Pauline Frederick gives one of the most brilliant characterizations of her career. It is matched only by her great work as the mother in her memorable "Madame X."

A Rule Based on Conscience

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Our representatives in the Legislature, both Government and Opposition, would we think be better men if they devoted a short time to the conscientious study of the following extracts from an article which we had the pleasure of reading a short time ago, which is as follows:

"The last hundred years have brought a great change in the government of many countries. Hereditary rule has almost passed away, the power is in the hands of the people, and the real rulers, even of countries where a King is still the figure-head, are the men to whom the people entrust the management of their country's affairs. Presidents and Prime Ministers have replaced Kings and with the members of the Government whom they select to assist them, they have entire control of the destinies of the nations. None will deny the good that is inherent in this system, but it has brought with it also new evils, the most serious of which is that power in the government of a country has come to be regarded rather as a goal of personal ambition than as a sacred trust to be accepted with a dread feeling of responsibility and exercised solely for the good of the nation.

When we see all over the world today, men who have made politics their profession struggling to outwit one another in the race for power, plotting and intriguing and regarding high offices of State as nothing more than stakes in a great game we realize that we need seek no further for an explanation of much of the unrest, the distress, and the suffering that afflicts the nations. An ideal government is too much to hope for in our country, but there are certain things that the people have a right to expect of those whom they put in power. They should, when in office, cease to regard themselves merely as members of a political party and direct their energies to the public welfare, and not to the humiliation of their political opponents; they should honestly try to further the real interests of the country, and not merely aim at consolidating their position by obeying the wishes of men of wealth and influence; they should see that advancement in the public service is given in reward for individual work and not because of political or family connections of membership of some society that exercises secret influence. They should remember that the moral health of their people is no less in their trust than their physical health, and take measures to suppress all corrupting influences as they would guard against the contagion of disease—in a word, the people have a right to demand a rule based on conscience."

EQUITY.

The Milk Question

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—Whilst the Farmer's Union are to be commended on their prompt action regarding the price of Milk, householders do not think that the reduction made is at all in proportion to the decrease in prices of feeds as previously shown through your columns.

Cattle Feed prices show a decrease of from 32 to 50 per cent, whilst the recent reduction in the price of Milk to the householder is but 12 1/2 per cent.

In view of the figures submitted, Milk should, we think, be reduced to 60c. per gallon to the householder, and the public feel that the Farmer's Union will see the justice of such a claim and do the right thing.

Yours truly,
HOUSEHOLDER.

Jubilee Singers Delight Large Audiences

ARE RENDERING SPECIAL SONGS FOR KIDDIES THIS AFTERNOON.

Archie Harrod's Jubilee Singers delighted last night's audience by their exceptionally well-balanced program of songs. Each item was vigorously applauded and several scores were called for. This afternoon they are rendering special numbers for the children.

"Back to Yellow Jacket," was seen yesterday at this theatre. The picture is a thoroughly pleasing one, richly deserving the splendid comment it has won in other important cities.

Suffice to say that the story is crammed to the brim with action and moves at a rapid pace from beginning to end. The settings have been carefully chosen and the many outdoor locations are infinitely pleasing to the eye. And for the benefit of the ladies, we want to say that Miss Kirkham is just as statuesquely beautiful as ever. Her clothes are veritable creations, the sort which have won for her the enviable reputation of "the screen's best-dressed woman." Mr. Stewart is his usual pleasing self, we can think of no higher praise. Taking it by large, the picture is to be recommended as one which is distinctly worthwhile.

At the Popular Star Movie Last Evening

"Where you at the Star last night?" "No, dear, I had to go to an auxiliary meeting," were you?" "Yes, and it was grand."

"How were the dancers?" "Oh, they are wonderful, Mr. Reilly has a lovely appearance and such a sweet voice."

"Did Miss Fanchionette dance?" "Oh, you should see her, the best I ever saw, and so graceful, they are certainly a wonderful team."

"Was the Harpist on?" "Oh, Mary, such a sweet girl, ain't she pretty. But I think the harp was not just right."

The above conversation took place in an uptown store this morning, and it gives an idea of what the attraction at the Star was last evening.

Miss Fanchionette and Mr. Reilly are a "team" in every sense of the word, and no doubt will prove a big attraction. Regrettably for Miss Pleasant, that owing to the damp atmosphere during yesterday, her harp was not in the best of order, and she was working at a great disadvantage however, this will be remedied to-day and we can look forward to big work from this dainty artist.

The picture for Monday is one of the biggest shown at this theatre for some time. It is entitled "The Merry Go Round," and is a picture that has a story that cannot but appeal to all.

Women as Jurors

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 21.—(Can. Press).—Women jurors were invited to withdraw from the petty jury panel of the present Assize by Mr. Justice Morrison. "There are several cases coming on at this Assize in which no self-respecting lady with any sense of decency would hear the evidence," said the judge to the courtroom at large. "The evidence will be so revolting that no woman should be present in court. I am saying this for their own protection and they should be given the opportunity to decline to act if they desire to do so."

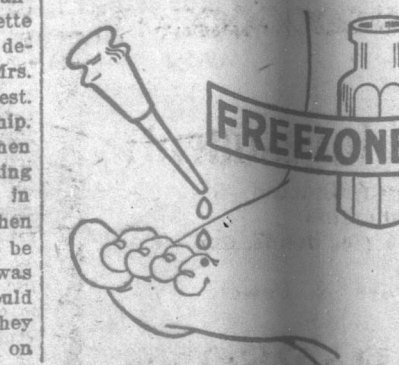

His Lordship added that unless the women wished to be excused they would have to be treated like the men. Several men were then excused, when it came to Mrs. Jeanette Patterson's turn. She asked to details and was promptly excused. Mrs. Ethel Dutchess made a similar request. "Yes, thank you," said his Lordship. A resume of the question of women jurors' activities furnishes interesting comment on the above. A writer in the Vancouver Province says:—When it was learned that women were to be called to serve on juries, doubt was expressed as to whether they would see any real jury service, and if they did serve, would they be retained on any of the important cases? This condition arises from the fact that the law does not compel women to serve, so that many women would not respond to the call, and from the fact that many men still have a prejudice against women in public life, there would be a percentage of lawyers who would challenge merely because the juror was a woman. These conditions did operate as predicted. Instead of twenty-four of the 45 jurors chosen for the fall Assize being women, only eleven were of the so-called weaker sex. These eleven women carried on through the six weeks of jury service, and while they met with public rebuke from the presiding judge, and discrimination from some lawyers, the men jurors extended to them full fellowship and the officials with whom they came in contact showed them every kindness and courtesy. The majority of the lawyers were favorable to women jurors, while the Crown in most cases showed friendliness by accepting women jurors. During the session nineteen juries were empanelled; women served on nine—less than half of the cases. If women were allowed to sit on nine of the juries, why were they not allowed on the other ten? Partly on account of prejudice of certain lawyers toward women as jurors. One lawyer deliberately showed his attitude by challenging every woman in no uncertain tone, but challenged no men. On the nine mixed juries there was one disagreement, four acquittals and four convictions. The final summing up shows that women did not shirk their duty, particularly only seven convictions, with four mixed juries and three male juries. In the present system, then, under which women serve as jurors unsatisfactory? Apparently not. The Nanaimo women, early last fall passed a resolution asking for reform, and this resolution was endorsed by the Provincial Council of Women recently, while Vancouver women are asking for amendments. These amendments, however, must be carefully thought out.

Wm. Bayard Hale,
 War Writer for Germany, is Dead

DEPOSED PRIEST OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH WAS WILSON'S AGENT IN MEXICO.

MUNICH, Bavaria, April 10.—William Bayard Hale, American journalist, President Wilson's personal agent in Mexico and chief German propagandist in America in the World War, is dead.
 Long before he had world-wide notoriety as author of the "Kaiser Interview" which "The Century" magazine suppressed at the request of the German government, Rev. Dr. William Bayard Hale had attracted much public attention by various erratic performances as priest, journalist and agitator. He was said to have come from the same Hale family which produced Nathan Hale, the martyr spy; Senators John P. and Eugene Hale; and Rev. Edward Everett Hale and from the Bayard family of Delaware. He was the son of William Hadley Hale and Anna (Bunting) Hale, and was born at Richmond, Ind., on April 6, 1869. He was educated at Boston University, Harvard University and the Episcopal Theological Seminary at Cambridge and received the degrees of S.T.D. from Hobart College and LL.D. from St. John's College.

Divorced For Cruelty.
 He was ordained a priest in 1893 and priest in 1894 in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and was rector of a church at Middleboro, Mass., until 1899, when he removed to Ardmore, Penn., and was rector there for a year. Then he was formally deposed from the priesthood by the Bishop of Pennsylvania. He had married Miss Mabel Jolly, of Boston, in June, 1898, and been divorced by her for cruelty within a year.
 He spent some time in a sanatorium for nervous patients, and then sought work in the field of literature and journalism. In the course of three years he was managing editor of "The Cosmopolitan" magazine, editor of "Current Literature" and a correspondent of "The New York World." For three years he was managing editor of "The Philadelphia Ledger," for two years editor of "The New York Times's Saturday Review of Books," then Paris correspondent for "The Times" and on the staff of "The World's Work"—New York Herald-Tribune, April 1.

Inventor Claims
 Superior Tone

FOR IMPROVED VIOLIN.
 VIENNA.—(A.P.)—The old-fashioned fiddler, who prided himself on the age of his instrument and its tone, will stand in the background hereafter if only a few of the claims of the inventor of a new form of violin are recognized by the musical world in its everlasting mood of expectancy for thrills. Modern science has been applied to the art of violin making. It is contended, and under the new method the newer violin the better the tone and harmony. Greater volume, strength, purity and sensibility are promised for the up to date violin of which the inventor is Dr. Franz Thomastik, an Austrian.
 The problem which Dr. Thomastik asserts he has overcome was to make the body of his violin really respond to its full capacity. The body of the instrument, as in all violins, is intended to act as a resonance chamber.
 The inventor and those critics who have heard the new tones, claim that the development of the resonant to its full power has been obtained by connecting one of the feet of the bridge with the belly, and carrying the other through a pier which rests on the back. In this way both the belly and the back are brought into vibration, and the volume of the air enclosed in the resonating chamber is animated, giving a much better tone in every particular.

Women Travel
 Less by Night
THAN TIME SAVING HUSBANDS.
 CHICAGO.—(A.P.)—Night railroad travel by women is diminishing, the Wabash railroad finds. Unlike men, they are turning to daylight riding as the more pleasurable and convenient, judging by a survey of John Maloney, assistant general passenger agent.
 "It was not long ago that night travel was about evenly divided between men and women," Mrs. Maloney said. "Our survey shows that in our Chicago-St. Louis service, only fifteen per cent. of the night patrons are women, while on the day trains seventy per cent. are women. That is due in large measure to comforts and general conveniences afforded them on day trains."
 "Women travelling alone, or with children especially, have forsaken night travel and almost all the roads are arranging for increased comfort of this class of travel."
 "It is quite different with men, who as a time-saver alone, prefer to do their travelling at night."

Bottomley's Sentence
HOME SECRETARY SAYS THERE IS NO GROUND FOR REDUCTION OF TERM.
 Mr. Ferguson asked the Home Secretary in Parliament recently if, in view of Horatio Bottomley's "valuable services in effective recruiting propaganda during the war," he would order his release or substantially reduce his sentence.
 Mr. Henderson, the Home Secretary, replied: "I do not think this prisoner's antecedents afford any sufficient ground for recommending a reduction of the sentence he is undergoing."

Seminoff in Exile
STILL DREAMS OF RUSSIA RE-STORED.

TOKIO, March 14.—(A.P.)—Ataman Seminoff, leader of Cossacks and heir to Admiral Kolchak's illusory title as supreme ruler of the Russians, says that before he dies he will fight again on Russian soil "for the freedom of the Russian people." Just when he does not know. At present, he admits, the time is not ripe. But he has plans and hopes, he says, and his "preparations" go forward.
 Seminoff has just left Tokio after a two week's visit in the Japanese capital. He came here from Nagasaki, where he had been living for the last year, since he left the United States at the urgent request of the American government and failed to find satisfactory asylum in China.
 His Mission in Tokio, Seminoff told the correspondent, was entirely private. He was visiting old friends and was seeing to some financial interests. He called on no Japanese officials he said, and the Japanese say the same. There is little reason to doubt either statement, as Seminoff's star is set in Japan, where recognition of the Soviet government now is the liveliest issue in foreign politics.
 Reports which Seminoff says have reached him from White agents in Russia have encouraged him to think that the Red hold on Asiatic Russia, at least, is weakening. In the Amur province, with Blagoveshensk, as a center, the Soviet's imposition of grain taxes in kind has led the peasants to encourage White partisan bands which have gained minor and temporary successes against the Red garrisons. At several points along the Trans-Siberian railway, according to Seminoff, discontent is taking on the proportions of considerable risings against Red rule.
 Around Chita, for instance, an interesting situation has arisen. A leader of irregulars who formerly supported the Bolsheviks has turned against them. This leader, known throughout Siberia as the "old man," was the first to take Chita from the Whites and turn it over to the Reds. Now he is tired of Red rule. His banner has always been a Red flag, but now he carries across it in white letters the slogan, "Down with Communism." Siberia is peopled by peasants, and the men of the land have not found communism to their liking. Revivits of this nature, according to Seminoff, also have occurred at Nerchinsk and to the west of Lake Balkal, at Novonikolaisk.
 So he believes the rising is coming, and when it comes he thinks himself its logical leader. Wearing Kolchak's mantle, Seminoff expects to lead the White emigres now scattered throughout the Far East once he has lifted his banner again. These forces, however, have dwindled and dispersed until there is only one body of respectable size left, about 1,000 men under General Gleboff living aboard a "small fleet" in the Woussung River off Shanghai, where the Whites say they are maintaining military discipline in all its wartime rigor and effectiveness.
 The White Russians in the Orient, according to Seminoff, are in constant correspondence with the White organization in France, which is headed by Markoff, once the leader of the extreme right in the Duma under the Czar. Greetings have been exchanged recently with the Grand Duke Nicholas, now living near Paris.

President

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor Senator from Minnesota, wants to be President of the United States. His ambition cannot be curbed by a little thing like the Constitution of the United States which bars a foreign-born citizen from the Presidential chair.
 The Minnesota Senator may not know of this prohibition, nor did he mention the fact that he was born in Sweden in a speech here before the National American Club, in which he was "seriously thinking of running for the Presidency of the United States."
 Explaining that things usually run in sequences, Magnus said he first ran for Governor of Minnesota, then the Senate of the United States and "now comes the Presidency."
