THE PANGS OF REMORSE — OR — A COMPLICATED TANGLE.

CHAPTER XXIV.

"Every precaution that presents itself to the human mind is necessary in attempting to foil those who have to deal with," replied Clarence, earnestly. "You don't know the prime mover in this, and I, alas, to my cost, do! But to proceed, I will send word immediately he starts for Rivershall, and I shall expect you to bring Sir Ralph and Miss Melville post-haste to the small inn at the cross roads, not the Rivershall Arms, for that is the place of call for everybody and is not to be trusted. I know the landlady of the Ploughman, and she can be trusted. Be there in as short a time after you have received my notice as possible, and I think I can manage the rest."

"All right," said Claude Ainsley. "And now we had better get back to the hotel."

"You had, but not I," said Clarence. "It would be risking too much to enter the room where he is sitting with the light full upon my face; where you found me in the coffee room was in the shadow, with the additional shade of a newspaper. No, we must say good-by for the present, I think."

"Good-by!" said Claude Ainsley, looking at him earnestly, and keeping his hot, feverish hand for a moment in his own brown palm. "I am afraid your are spending your strength rather lavishly in this matter, Mr. Clifford."

"No," said Clifford, curtly, turning his head aside.

"May I venture to hope that you will gain your great and sweet reward?" said Claude Ainsley, gently and significantly.

At this manly touch of sympathy from the man who had read the secret Ainsley's conversation.

A few streets away and in the mud and mire of Seven Dials he might have pictured the grim, hawklike face of the Jew, Moses; but that victim, with all others, he dismissed from his mind with a wave of his hand and a puff at his choice cigar, as phantoms that had existed and been dismissed from existence solely for his purpose.

"Life is just beginning for you, my friend," he said to himself, as he eyed the handsome face with its thin lips and evil black eyes in the mirror of a shop window. "Life is just beginning. You have washed your hands of vice and crime and are now going to be respectable—to be a country squire, ride hard to hounds, drink fruity port, swear in broad Saxon, and wear knee breeches and three-inch ruffles. And you will look well in the character. Melchior, moreover; indeed, what character is there that you have not adorned?—forger, duelist—for we will call that little affair in the old house a duel, a duel between vulgar, ignorant, cunning and intellectual diplomacy—ahem!—backed as most diplomacy is with a little judicious force. Poor Gentleman Charlie and old Mo. Really when one is respectable one looks back at one's past victims with a foolish tenderness that is near akin to the weakness of pity. Respectable! What an ugly word it is, and yet to fill it out and represent it the greater part of the world are content to live! Yes, I will be respectable—Squire of Melville and an English gentleman!"

And with a light, noiseless laugh he called a cab, entirely unconscious of the quiet, white-haired old gentleman who had been looking in at the window by his elbow.

Late that night the roads to Rivershall were cut up by four tearing, galloping post horses, whose blue-coated postilions flashed by in the darkness with a "Whoop away!" and a crackling of the whips that woke the sleeping drivers of hay carts and set them blinking like owls in daylight at the flashing light flying from them.

And as the post chaise neared the grand old Hall the villagers tumbled out of bed an hour before their time and ran to the window to stare with fiery curiosity.

For it had been rumored that the lucky bridegroom was none other than the gentleman who had stayed at the inn and had paid the lone, solitary visit to the Hall at night.

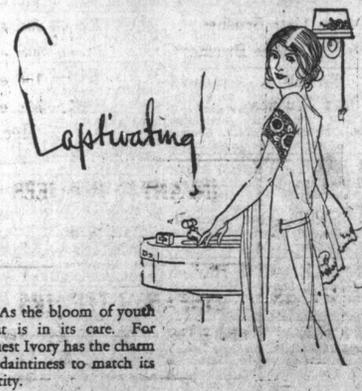

And, as was only natural, curiosity had run mad on such an important event. People hinted that it was very mysterious, that they had never heard Lady Melville was thinking of matrimony, that it was very soon after the funerals, and quoted with much effect Hamlet's sarcasm regarding thrift; but when in answer to the objections a second rumor gained ground that the fortunate gentleman was an old lover of my lady, just returned from foreign parts, then the groups and busybodies said:

"Well, well, it was only to be expected."

But though the rumors were not denied no preparations, strange to say, seemed being made at the Hall, and no authentic announcement had gone forth.

Then came the post-chaise and the steaming horses, and curiosity and excitement were on tiptoe.

The news soon spread—indeed, the bridegroom's new servant, enraged only that day, helped to spread it—that the bridegroom had come, and that there would soon be a master at the Hall.

The bar of the inn was crowded all the early morning until the men were obliged to commence work.

Small crowds collected at the grocer's and the tailor's, all talking at once and declaring that they were perfectly aware of this great fact two months ago.

Never had quiet Rivershall been in such a state of excitement, and amid it all mumbled Jim, half intoxicated already, and going over his old complaint of the heaviness of the squirts' coats and getting no attention from anybody.

Excitement rose still higher when the great man of the hour descended from the best room of the inn and smiling, "like a good-natured gentleman as he was," upon the open-mouthed group at the door, walked towards the grim old Hall.

Grim and silent it was indeed—in comparison with the excitement without its walls.

When the bridegroom rang the great bell he might almost have been pardoned for fancying it sounded like a funeral knell, so solemnly did it clang in the high turret.

Old Jack Bruitt opened the gates leisurely, and raised his gnarled and knotted face to the fair and painted one of the visitor with a look of scornful interest.

A manservant, with the wisp of crape still round the arm, admitted him to the hall, and noiselessly opened the small drawing room door.

He entered, smiling still, and smiled with a broader effulgence as the black-robed figure rose to meet him.

"Well, Leonora," he said, taking both her hands with an effort at playful tenderness that was simply ghastly. "I have come, you see."

"You have come," she said, lifting her hollow-cheeked face, and raising her lack-luster eyes to his. "You have come to force me to this?"

"Gentle force only," he said, dropping her hands and striving to avert his gaze from her fearfully changed face, but still staring as if fascinated.

"Only gentle force, Leonora. You knew I should come. Are you ready?"

"Ready," she repeated, as if the word bore no meaning for her.

"Ay," he said, glancing at her deep crape dress. "You would go through the ceremony in black? Very well; it is the bride and not the costume I want," and he smiled again with the same ghastly result.

"Bride," she repeated.

"Ay," he said, with a great show of impudence. "Come, rouse yourself to play your part. At eleven the ceremony takes place. I have arranged for a clergyman to be here at that hour, thinking you would like everything got through. At eleven."

"At eleven," she repeated, putting her hand to her brow, and then, as she looked round the room like one vainly struggling with a hideous dream, drooping it to her heart. "Well, you always had your will, always, and—"

"How long have they been married?"

"Oh, three years or so."

"And do you think she has made him a good wife?"

"Can't say, but I know she's made him a very good husband."

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK NOW

Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N.S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it, and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial."

Mrs. WILLIAM MORSE, Bloomington, Annapolis County, Nova Scotia.

Do you know that in a recent case, even among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 200,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Mrs. Morse is simply another case of a woman receiving "great benefit" from the Vegetable Compound. Women suffering from the troubles so common to their sex should listen to what other women say who have experienced the same sufferings and found relief. Give this dependable medicine a chance—and at once. It is sold at all drug stores.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

IF HE SAYS IT, HE'LL DO IT.

A neighbor of ours said to the Authorman recently, "I think I'd like to write some short stories."

Now writing fiction is a very much more difficult thing than is realized by most people, who are sure they could write better stories than they see in the magazines, or who tell you that they could write a story easily enough if someone would only give them the plot.

Having seen at close range years of intensive study and effort put into the development of fiction writing, I know that.

And yet when the Authorman repeated that statement to me and told me who said it, I replied, "if he says that he'll come pretty near doing it."

And the Authorman agreed.

Why? Because that man is an I-will-er instead of an I-want-er.

And He Reduced.

He found a year or two ago that he was too fat for his comfort and health. He said, "I'm going to reduce." And being an I-will-er instead of an I-want-er, he reduced. It took him six months of rigid adherence to a regime of diet and exercise scientifically prescribed by an excellent doctor. But he got back his health, he got back his comfort, and incidentally improved his appearance—because he was an I-will-er instead of an I-want-er.

So if he says he is going to write fiction, I suspect he will go about it with the same concentrated force, the same organization, the same application of his very fine mind to the thing to be done, and if he has any facility at all (which I think he has) he will write something worth reading.

If fiction were not a thing that depended partly on talent as well as on natural application, I would not need to put any "ifs" in.

Set New Record

Deliveries and Production Exceeded Best Previous Week in History.

Although Dodge Brothers Motor Cars are now being built at the rate of 19.7 per cent. an increase over the record of the week ending August 11 is the best in the company's history. With retail deliveries aggregating more than 7,000, an average of more than 1,300 each production day, the best previous week was surpassed several hundred cars. New retail orders exceeded the corresponding week of 1924 by 1,600, or approximately 1,100 a day, both deliveries and orders are some 200 a day in excess of production.

"Had dealers' stocks permitted, the number of deliveries for the record week would have been even greater," said John A. Nichol, Jr., Vice-President in Charge of Sales. "It is not so much a record as a steady, healthful climb."

Why Birds Aren't Stung

Birds that eat wasps, bees, and other stinging insects do not depend on chance to protect them from being stung inside their throats by the victims, according to recent observations by German ornithologists. Stripes, Fly-catchers and Titmice catch bees and wasps, but always crush them with their beaks before swallowing.

British and French Foreign Ministers in Agreement on Security Pact Reply

Compulsory Arbitration in Labour Disputes to be Adopted by France--Belgians Reject U. S. A. Counter Proposals on War Debt--Great Britain's Unemployed to Take 1,250,000.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND IN COMPLETE ACCORD.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—Complete accord between Aristide Briand and Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretaries of France and Great Britain regarding the proposed security pact was announced in communication issued at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A DEFINITE AGREEMENT IN SIGHT.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—While no announcement has been made it is believed that amicable conversations were carried out here yesterday between Foreign Secretary Chamberlain and M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, which have paved the way for definite agreement on the proposed Security Pact.

WINTER PROPOSAL REJECTED.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 12.—A counter proposal by the United States representatives for the settlement of the Belgian war debt was rejected today by the Belgian Commission. While details of the proposal as well as that put forth previously by the Belgians were withheld it was indicated that the two commissions are quite far apart.

EMPLOYMENT INCREASED BY TEXTILE STRIKE.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—Stoppage of work in Yorkshire Woollen Mills as a result of the strike is mainly responsible for an increase of 63,000 unemployed in the whole country, and this brings the total un-gross from North Pole. Expedition, said message, is in daily touch with all parts of the world and every member well and happy.

NEWFOUNDLAND HONORED.
ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 12.—J. H. Belaney, Grand Falls, Nfld., was appointed a grand representative of Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F., at the annual meeting here last night.

WILL IMPORT NON-UNION LABOR.
DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—Employees in coal trade have decided to import non-union labour and seek military protection for unloading collieries. It is hoped thus to end the five weeks' deadlock which has existed in this industry through the controversy between the union and another body of workers who broke away and formed their own organization.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION IN LABOUR DISPUTES.
PARIS, Aug. 12.—The cabinet today approved the principle of compulsory arbitration in labor disputes, largely as a result of the strike of bank employees, and a bill to put the principle into effect will be introduced by the Government at the next session of Parliament.

TORNADO CONTINUED INTO GERMANY.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—The tornado which swept through eastern Holland on Monday night with the loss of 12 lives and destruction of several towns continued into northern Germany yesterday. Meagre reports indicate further destruction was wrought to villages and farms in this sparsely populated district. The injured in Holland number 400 and homeless over 2,000.

JOE SQUIRES IN TORONTO.
TORONTO, Aug. 12.—Joe Squires, aged 54, claiming to be the undefeated champion oarsman of Newfoundland has arrived in Toronto with the object of challenging Eddie Durhan, well known sculler.

TROOPS TO WITHDRAW ON SATURDAY.
HALIFAX, Aug. 12.—Announcement was made today by Hon. J. C. Douglas, Attorney General of Nova Scotia, that the thousand odd troops who have been on duty in Cape Breton since the riot of June 11 between the striking miners and the police of the British Empire Steel Corporation, when one man was killed, will be withdrawn on Saturday. The estimated cost of the troops in Cape Breton is $325,000.

GOOD BASE LOCATED.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 12.—Radio advices from Commander MacMillan stated that a third effort to locate a good base for the expedition has resulted today in finding favorable conditions at Bettstad, Fjord 100 miles from Etah.

CHINESE TROUBLE CONTINUING.
TIEN TSIN, China, Aug. 12.—Many were killed and wounded and three hundred arrested as a result of Chinese guards firing today upon a crowd gathered at the scene of conflict yesterday between Chinese police and striking mill workers.

MARITIMES.
OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of National Defence, commenting today on Field Marshal Haig's failure to visit the Maritime Provinces on his recent Canadian tour stated that the Earl had told him he would likely return next summer to make a special visit to the Maritimes.

Megan in Merry Mood
Mr. Lloyd George is exceedingly proud of his clever young daughter Megan, and recently he told with great gusto the story of how, when barely nine years old, the little girl worked early and late canvassing her father's constituency during a hotly contested election.
To one old fellow who had been employed at Garnarvon Castle for fifty years, she asked, speaking in her and his native tongue:
"Please will you vote for my father?"
"Indeed I will," was the reply, "but you must give me a kiss if I do."
"Ah," exclaimed the little miss with an arch smile, "but that would be bribery and corruption. It isn't allowed."

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.
"FRIDAY CAT."
Lad, it's little that you know
As of swimming now you go
That I'm envying you so!
And it's little that you guess,
In your day of happiness,
Of old age's sharp distress.

There is little you can see
As you turn your eyes to me
Of the boy who used to be,
Yet the time was that I knew
All the joys of summer, too,
And I want swimming, just as you.
Just as you, at twelve years old,
I was warm with blood and bold,
And I laughed at water cold;
Laughed to hear the old folks sign
"It's too chilly," just as I,
In the summer-time gone by.

Now my blood is running thin,
And I watch you with a grin,
Give a shout and plunge right in:
And the lad who once was bold
And undaunted by the cold
Stays on shore among the old.
"Fraidy cat!" you call your dad,
And 'tis true, my healthy lad,
"Fraidy-cat!" I am and sad,
When you've run your boyhood
Through
You may hear a youngster, too,
Calling "Fraidy Cat!" at you.

Church Lads' Brigade

The first parade after camp was held Tuesday night. Although the summer season is always a difficult time to get a large attendance, the parade was over 30 strong. The officers present were Major Outerbridge; Captains Stick, Rendell, Hayward and French; and Lieutenants Pertin and Chaffin. The cheerful presence of the genial "Q" was missing as he has gone on a visit to Canada and the States and will probably be absent about six weeks, leaving his new column to be carried on by a very much inferior pen man.

The church parade, scheduled for Sunday next, has been postponed, and will probably be held during the last week of August, as the visit of the C.I.B. Band to attend the opening of the Corner Brook Mills, will prevent its taking place before the 30th. This parade will be a drum head parade in the grounds of the Shannon Munn Memorial Orphanage.

The only outpost company to report for July so far is Trinity East, Captain Fitzgerald. The report states that a Church Parade was held on July 12, to English Harbour, and the company proceeded there by motor boat. There are now 50 N.C.O.'s and lads on the strength of this Company and the average attendance has been very good indeed.

The police have succeeded in rounding up the young vandals responsible for breaking no less than forty panes of glass in the Armoury windows. This wanton destructiveness is most annoying and those responsible should be taught a severe lesson.
During the next few weeks efforts will be made to have all preparations made for the starting of a musketry course as soon as the holiday season is over. This branch of the Brigade work will be supervised by Lieutenant Chafe and special army miniature rifles have been imported.

Lapsed Into Crime

Sentence of 12 months' hard labor was passed at St. John's-Trent recently on John Lyceet, 38, builder and contractor, of Lightwood Lodge, London, Staffordshire, for stealing petrol and a tyre from a London motor garage.
It was stated that he was carrying out a £1,000 contract at the garage.
A detective said that Lyceet took to crime at 16, and had been 17 times convicted. In 1909 he was sentenced at Leeds to five years' penal servitude for highway robbery with violence. He seemed to have reformed on leaving the Army and became a prosperous bricklayer and master-builder.

The Ninth Wave

The many thousands who will spend some time by the sea during the summer months will have an opportunity, if they care to take it, of investigating for themselves the reliability of the notion that the ninth wave is always the biggest.

Tennyson wrote:—
And then the two Dropt to the core, and watch'd the great sea fall,
Wave after wave, each mightier than the last,
Till last a ninth one, gathering half the deep
And full of voices, slowly rose and plunged Roaring.

There can be no doubt that a belief prevails that the waves breaking on the beach keep increasing in regular series till the maximum arrives, and then the series begins again.

The fact seems to be that when two waves reinforce each other a big one results, but this does not seem to occur at fixed intervals, and those who prophesy that such and such a wave will reach farther than its predecessors, during the rise of the tide, will prove wrong three times out of four.

Feed the Brute

During one of those informal discussions on occultism that are constantly cropping up just now, the following story—with a moral for wives—was related by Miss Margaret Bondfield, who, it will be remembered, was Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Labour in the last Administration.

A young married woman who imagined that she was losing her husband's affection, went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love-charm.

The mystery woman, after listening to the wife's story, gazed long and earnestly into her crystal, then she said in low tones:

"Get a raw piece of tender beef, cut fat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two, and rub the meat on both sides with it. Sprinkle with pepper and salt and grill on both sides over a clear fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley, and get him to eat it."

The young wife followed the instructions—and her husband loved her ever after!

The Passing Hour

The conscientious enthusiast in charge of the improvised "soda-fountain" at the garden fete could supply drinks in two flavours—vanilla and strawberry.

Towards the end of the day up came a thirsty man who wanted a plain soda, without and flavouring at all.

"What flavour do you want it without?" asked the temporary bar-tender. "I don't care."

"Well, you'll have to have it without vanilla, 'cause there's no more strawberry left," was the verdict.

She: "When I married you I thought you were a brave man."

He: "So did everybody else."

Old Brown had worked nearly forty years as gardener and odd man, and was apparently contented until his employer added poultry-raising to his list of activities. Then he was ordered to write on each egg with an indelible pencil the date and the name of the hen that laid it.

"I'm goin' to leave, sir," announced Brown one day.

"Leave! Whatever for?" inquired the employer.

"Well, I've done nearly everything about the place, but I ain't a-goin' to be secretary to your hens!"

Teacher: "Thomas, what is the best time for picking apples?"
Thomas: "When the big dog isn't loose, teacher."

"George," said a pompous squire to an old farm labourer, "you are getting very bent. Why don't you stand up straight like me?"

"Well, sir," answered George, "I've seen you field of corn."

"I do," said the squire.
"Then you'll notice that the full heads hang down, while the empty heads stand up."

The prisoner had been convicted a dozen times before.

"Your honour," he said, "I should like to have my case postponed for a week. My lawyer is ill."

"But you were captured with your hand in this man's pocket. What can your counsel say in your defence?"
"Precisely so, your honour. That is what I am anxious to know."

Bring the Hammer—First Visitor: "My dear these cakes are as hard as stone."
Second Visitor: "I know. Didn't you hear her say, 'Take your pick' when she handed them around?"

They say the tailored fur coat will take an important place in the autumn mode.

Expect Shortage of Harvesters

A shortage of harvesters to handle the Western Canada crop is regarded as a possibility. It is felt that the necessary fifty-five or sixty thousand hands required will not be easily found in Canada and that the labor markets of the United States may not be able to offer enough to meet the demand. In the event of such a shortage it may be found necessary to return to the former practice of bringing British harvesters. There is no doubt but that the help could be secured even at an increased passage. Two years ago the steamship rate was $60 to Winnipeg. Even a $70 rate it is thought would bring a good type of men to work in the harvest fields was assured.

Already 460 British families are scheduled to leave the Old Country in the spring of 1926 for Canada under the Empire Settlement scheme, which provides assisted passages for 3,000 families annually. Under the existing regulations the Immigration Department feels that they are getting the very finest type of settlers for the Dominion.

Straight lines will be the general rule, in spite of increasing fulness to the mode.

An Ancient Ceremony

LONDON, Eng. (Can. Press)—The Dunmow Filch trial, held at Ilford with the strictest possible observance of the rights and ceremonies evolved since the days of King John, attracted over 30 couples who claimed the filch on the grounds that for a "year and a day" they had neither quarrelled nor repeated of marriage," says the London Times. Only three couples faced the jury of spinsters and bachelors and nearly three hours were spent in hearing their claims. G. A. Chesterton, wearing a full-bottomed wig and red robe, was judge. In an address to the court the judge said that nowadays domestic infelicity and quarrelling were regarded very handsomely. Prominent figures in leading divorce and other cases were generally made film actors or actresses or were engaged to write a novel. He did not know what evidence these persons gave for a capacity for fiction, except in the witness box. After evidence had been given the jury announced that in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Waring, who appeared in court with nine children, they found for the claimants.

Thursday, August 13, 1925. Know Our Country

Following the suggestions that we have recently made to the effect that the development of our industries depends upon a thorough investigation into our natural resources, and a study at close quarters of their various phases, the article written by Sir Daniel Hall, Chief Scientific Adviser to the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, which is reproduced below from a recent English journal is most timely and to the point:

Sir Daniel Hall, K.C.B., Chief Scientific Adviser to the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, read a fine paper to the Graduate School of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the occasion of his recent visit to America. It is printed in the Journal of the Ministry of Agriculture, but first appeared in Science, and Sir Daniel Hall's excellent paper is worthy of this dual tribute.

"I may take an illustration in the study of the stars would appear to have had its beginnings in the search for useful knowledge. In the early civilization of Egypt it was necessary to find out a means of determining exactly the length of the year and the recurrence of the seasons.

"Later on the delusive promises of astrology led to further observation, and, as we know, the first organized observatories were built for the service of the sailor for the drawing up of what we call a nautical almanac. But these prime necessities were easily satisfied, and the real science of astronomy cannot for the last hundred years have served any useful purpose to any man. None the less, the development of the science and the foundation of observatories has proceeded at a greater pace than ever before, purely in response to the universal feeling of curiosity.

"Oddly enough, this kind of knowledge has proved itself singularly attractive to the American millionaire, who has latterly been the great founder of observatories. Indeed, the uselessness of astronomy is to many people one of its great attractions. A great astronomer once said to me, 'One advantage I enjoy for the rest of my life is that I cannot make money for anybody. At no more than a merchant traffic in my art.'

"Research again possesses this quality in common with what are usually called the arts—its characteristic mental process is intuition. When we were students we used to be told that the two processes of thought by which science proceeded were deduction and induction. It was pointed out that the barrenness of the medieval schoolmen was due to the fact that they worked by deduction alone from imperfect premises. Bacon became the father of modern science by recalling it to induction and to the painful collection of facts.

"Bacon's aphorism was recalled, 'Hypotheses non fingo,' and it was suggested that the method of science was to collect an assemblage of facts and put them into some kind of sorting machine, whereupon a theory will emerge. However, a little examination of the actual history of discovery soon shows that it does not proceed in such a fashion. The function of facts is to provide tests for your hypotheses, but you cannot begin to collect the facts unless you have a preliminary hypothesis.

"Induction—Deduction—Intuition. 'Let me take an example in the science of meteorology. For generations people made observations of the weather, set down the records of temperature, rainfall, barometric height and so forth. Nothing whatever came of these facts until in the study one or two workers evolved from their own considerations the theory of the cyclone. Induction in fact failed. Bacon's other great catchword, 'Experimentum crucis,' showed that he really had a better appreciation of the true processes of science, and the really beneficial influence he exerted upon the early science of the seventeenth century was that he directed men's attention to experiment and to the mechanism of the process of thought, neither induction nor deduction complete the story of the mental processes by which investigation proceeds.

"We now realize a third category in the shape of intuition, the power of seizing the truth by a sudden flash of illumination. Indeed, the great discoverer may be a man in whom what is commonly called the scientific habit of mind is imperfectly developed. He may not be severely logical, methodical in his arrangement of facts, meticulous in accepting deductions. 'As a recent example we may mention the late Sir William Crookes, whose marvellous discoveries certainly did not proceed by a process of minute but steady secretions from known foundations. By a sudden jump of mind he invented the radiometer, regarding which his explanations were mistaken, but his intuition led him from this point on to the whole gamut of high vacuum discovery which has resulted in such developments as the X-ray, the elucidation of the structure of the atom, wireless telephony, etc.

"Sir William Ramsay provides another instance. In the eighteenth century Cavendish had noted that after removing all the oxygen and nitrogen from air a small residue was left uncombined. In true scientific spirit he put this down to the inevitable errors of the experiment. But working on the same track and working over the discrepancy between the atomic weights of nitrogen from different sources, Ramsay's intuition led him on to the discovery of argon and the range of new light elements. 'Research leads to efficiency, and efficiency is a means of making money. The modern State must cultivate research if it is to become efficient and survive in the world's competition; hence all are agreed now on the endorsement of research, and since in farming there are no great business corporations, agricultural research must for many years to come be maintained by the State.

"If, then, research is to become of such importance to the State, it behoves us to ensure conditions for the research worker under which discovery is likely to be produced. To do this properly we must understand the psychology of the investigator. If it is true that research, like art, grows by a process of intuition, we can no more organize it into existence than we can organize the output of poetry. Nor are we likely to obtain it by a system of prizes, or rewards, commensurate to those obtained in the great professions, in industry or commerce.

"The Sheltered Places. 'What we can do is to contrive sheltered places in our community in which research workers can live. We cannot guarantee results, but we may wait in faith because, as we have said, the impulse to make discoveries is fundamental in man's mind. Now the sheltered places in which the research worker can live are the universities.

"One last word: the State must have research in order to obtain efficiency, but does mankind really care about efficiency? At bottom man does not, he wants to loaf and possess his soul. Efficiency is a beautiful word, but efficiency to what end? If pursued for its own sake it may become a curse. Many people have vivid recollections of the sufferings they endured under a really efficient parent in an efficient household.

"I, myself, am officially engaged in promoting efficiency, in bringing up the efficient farmer and in insuring the efficient use of the land. But I cannot help being a great deal of sympathy with the old-fashioned farmer, who is content with what the land brings him, who is making his living but not worrying overmuch about making money. He is often inefficient, but again he is often a very worthy human being.

"To take another illustration, I have a vivid recollection years ago of a little school of swamphen in a meadow half encircled by a brook, which after other wanderings found its way into the Thames. There was a patch of reeds and willows, an old sally garden, where the reed warbler swung her nest and fitted through the tangled herbage. The wet meadow itself was swarded over in August with Grass of Parnassus.

"The Parable of the Watercress. 'It was indeed one of the most southern holds of that flower of the cold northern hillsides. Well, the efficient man came along, saw his opportunity, grubbed up the willows and laid out the meadow in watercress beds. He was a benefactor of his kind and he sowed millions of blades of an edible kind to grow where there was none before; but I have a sore spot in my heart for the vanished warblers and the lost Grass of Parnassus.

"I fear, however, that the pursuit of efficiency is one of those contradictory elements in man's make-up that won't let him rest, that is always urging him against his will towards further attainment. What a dreary prospect it is only results in adding an ever greater and greater population to a world already working harder and harder. It always way out of this impasse? 'I can only suggest the kindly force of that other element in the texture of man's mind, the passion for artistic expression. The winds of beauty come and go, but as they rustle through the tree of life, among the dropping leaves that are ourselves, men will cease from their toil to listen and pause to recall in song or story, in paint or stone, the message they bring."

Celebrates 90th Birthday

Yesterday Mrs. William Pittman of Trinity celebrated her 90th anniversary and was the recipient of the hearty congratulations of her many friends. Several of her relatives, including Mr. Arthur Mews and Mr. Alex. Mews, came to Trinity for the occasion. Despite her wonderful age she is most active and takes a thorough interest in everything that is going on. During the day she attended service both morning and evening, walking from her home to the church and back with as alert a step as many of the younger generation.

Asked what she considered was the secret of longevity she replied, "Don't worry and just take care of yourself." She does not know what phantasmagoria and believes it is one of those new-fangled complaints that came along with the change of fashions. Mrs. Pittman is a keen politician and her comparison of public men of this generation with such statesmen as the late Sir William Whiteway is by no means flattering to the former.

Time has passed by this venerable lady with nothing more than a mellowing touch. Sorrow such as must come to one in four score years and odd has not made her bitter or quibbled her lips. A wonderful memory, she can recall the smallest detail in the history of events for many years, and this wealth of knowledge, together with her keen sense of humor, makes her a very interesting conversationalist. After talking with her one is inclined to look forward to rather than to regard with dread increasing years, but still, unfortunately, it is not everyone who possesses, as she does, the secret of perpetual youth.

New Rollers Easily Operated

The two new road rollers recently imported by the Road Commission and since put in operation at Topsail and on Topsail Road have given great satisfaction in a preliminary trial. Those in charge of the machines report that they can be very easily handled. The rollers are operated by gasoline and are equipped for scarifying and grading the roads.

On Official Visit to L. O. A. Lodges

Special to Evening Telegram. CORNER BROOK, Aug. 13.—Sir R. A. Squires, Grand Master, paid an official visit last night to the combined Lodges of Britannia and Humber at Corner Brook and addressed four hundred orangers on matters pertaining to the association.

Fatal Accident at the Dock

John Power, of Bambrick Street, employed at the Dock premises, passed away at the General Hospital this morning as a result of injuries received. It appears that at about 11 o'clock last night, a boom used in hoisting broke and fell across the unfortunate man's stomach. Dr. J. S. Tait, who was in attendance, after a brief examination ordered the patient to hospital, where he died at 4 o'clock this morning.

Sir Newton Moore, K.C., B.A., Director of Besco, representative of British interests, President Roy Wolvin and several other members of the Directorate are due to arrive in the city on Saturday morning. The party will land from an ore boat proceeding to Bell Island. It is understood that the visit is for the purpose of holding a conference with the Government relative to Bell Island matters.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

August 13th.—Reading this day in the journal of the great Samuel, my ancestor, do come across the following: "This morning, Mr. Berkeley came to breakfast, and after we had eaten, asked me whether we had not committed a fault in setting to-day; telling me that it is a fast-day ordered by the Parliament, to pray for more reasonable weather." Indeed, this is such a fool day, and the summer has been so bad that we are in some need of praying for better weather than we have had, even to having a fast-day for it, as did our ancestors. To the country for the afternoon, where do have little content save that my wife makes jam from some fresh raspberries, which being a dish I do greatly like, do hold me to the country in the hope that I may have some of it to my supper. For my wife and his wife joining us this evening, we to play at Bridge, but do and myself much out of practice and am constrained to forego playing long, being that my wife do nag at me unmercifully for my mistakes.

An Appreciation

FROM A CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES. Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir—I do not like to leave this romantic island without telling you how greatly I have enjoyed my three weeks' visit, particularly the week I spent in St. John's. I was ready to leave August 4th, but newly made genial friends invited me to stay for the Regatta at Quidi Vidi, and it proved to be one of the most delightful days I have ever had. Such scenery and wonderful rowing, the Amateurs, Merchants, Fishermen and Truckmen's races were truly great, and at no time during these recent did the stroke fall below 40. Truly a great performance and with an equal chance these boys would snatch the rowing laurels from crews of the big Universities in England and the United States.

Wedding Bells

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the R. C. Cathedral on July 23rd, when Rt. Rev. Msgr. MacDonnell, united the Holy bonds of matrimony Winifred, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Brazil, Spaniard's Bay, to Edward, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Fahey, H.M.C. St. John's. Miss Catherine Barnes, friend of the groom, was the only attendant. The groom was supported by his brother, Robert. After the ceremony the happy couple motored to Bonaventure, where quite a gathering had assembled to congratulate them. After a short stay they motored to the residence of the groom's parents, where supper was served, and on the following evening the young couple left by the 6 o'clock train for Spaniard's Bay. They were again met by quite a gathering and an enjoyable reception was held. The wedding friends wish them a long and happy voyage down the stream of life.

Newfoundland Outing in Boston

A message has been received by the Colonial Secretary from R. H. Tait of the "Newfoundland Weekly," Boston, saying that Boston Newfoundlanders are having a big outing on the 7th September, and extend an invitation to members of the Legislature, municipal or other prominent public men happening in Boston on that date to be present and give an address. The Colonial Secretary would be glad to hear from any such person contemplating this visit at that time, so that he may advise Mr. Tait accordingly.

Fishery Prospects at Bonavista Poor

A fishery report from John Abbott, Collector at Bonavista, states that from Amber Cove to Cape L'Argent, Trinity Bay, the total catch to date amounts to 10,480 fish. For the week ending August 8th 480 qtrs. were landed from 280 boats fishing. The prospects are not very encouraging.

Enjoyable Dance

A successful dance was held in the Gaiety Hall last night, in which upwards of 400 couples were present and spent a most enjoyable evening. A programme of fourteen dances, consisting of fox-trots, one-steps, and waltzes was indulged in by the entire gathering and did not conclude until an early hour this morning. The Prince's Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Darcy, was probably never heard to better advantage, and they certainly made a big hit during the dance last night. During an interval refreshments were served.

TO THE PUBLIC OF ST. JOHN'S.

We, the Management of the Majestic Theatre, take this early opportunity through the columns of the Evening Telegram, to make public the arrival of the most extraordinary photo drama yet screened in this city, entitled "THE MAILMAN." "THE MAILMAN" is Emory Johnson's giant epic of the screen. Powerful—Gigantic—Dramatic—Huge in theme—an unprecedented exploitation that caused world-wide press reviews. "THE MAILMAN" is certainly the most stupendous screen story in connection with a public service ever exploited, including that $10,000,000 postal robbery, which created such a sensation in every State of the American Republic. This great human drama is of a character seldom offered to the public of Newfoundland, and we feel it our bounden duty to serve this advance notice, particulars of which will be announced on Saturday next.

"THE MAILMAN" in which Ralph Lewis, Johnnie Walker and four other prominent stars are featured, will be shown for the first time at the Majestic Theatre on Monday next.

Yours respectfully, MANAGEMENT OF MAJESTIC THEATRE. Per T. H. O'Neill, Thos. Coady.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT. MORE HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION NEEDED. Notwithstanding the fact that the number of beds in general hospitals during the year the city has seen has not been increased, the city has had to deal with a number of cases which have been added to the list of patients in the city hospitals. The formation of a new hospital has been discussed for some time, but no definite action has been taken.

THE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL SHOWS A DEFICIT

At the annual meeting of the High School Board of the city, a deficit of $5,255.14 in the administration and $414.00 in the management, was shown. The report of the Board of Governors, Dr. W. H. Aheron, was read and the terms of the agreement between the Board and the Faculty of Arts, Science and Commerce, University of New Brunswick, were discussed. A new prospectus for Presentation Brothers College has been approved and distributed among the parents.

MORE HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION NEEDED.

Notwithstanding the big increase in the number of beds in several of the hospitals during the year, there is still a shortage. At present the hospitals are crowded and many patients are refused admittance. While 1500 beds have been added during 1924, the number will soon have to be augmented to 2000. The formation of a tuberculosis hospital has filled a great need, because heretofore there was not a place where curable cases of T.B. could be admitted. Dr. S. Boucher's statistics following is a table of the number of beds in various institutions.

Notre Dame Hospital: new hospital, 250 beds; an increase of 103 over the old building.

New St. Mary's Hospital, Dorchester Street: 44 beds; Children's Memorial Hospital: 120 beds; an increase of 33, due to the building of an extra storey.

New St. Vincent's Hospital, 50 beds.

New Incubators' Hospital of the Sacred Heart, Carterville, conducted by the Sisters of Charity of Providence, will have 800 beds, of which 400 are for tuberculosis, and 400 for general cases. The city has reserved 200 beds in this institution for poor tuberculosis cases.

General Hospital, 256 beds; Notre Dame de Liesse, St. Laurent, now 744 beds; an increase of 334. This will give the old hospital, which will have an additional room for 400 children. The city quarantine hospital for smallpox has not been used of recent years and the hope is expressed that it will not be required.

St. Paul Hospital had 45,075 days' care of contagious patients, sent by the late Alexandra Hospital counting 40,793. Each hospital receives an annual city grant of $35,000 for 12,775 hospital days, and pays in addition to the foregoing $2.50 a day for additional patients.

THE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL SHOWS A DEFICIT.

At the annual meeting of the Catholic High School Board of Governors, a deficit of $3,353.14 in the general administration and $414.99 for internal management, was shown.

The report of the honorary secretary, Dr. W. H. Atherton, had chiefly to do with the operation of the year under the terms of the new contract passed between the teaching staff and the Board of Governors on July 9th, 1924.

"The new agreement," said the secretary, "was destined to give mutual satisfaction as well as efficiency in the school, and was based on the original character and its definition of the powers of the governors and those of the teaching body appointed by it."

"The semi-annual examinations," said Dr. Atherton, for the Board, were conducted satisfactorily, chiefly by the Rev. Fr. Gascon, S.J., Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Loyola College, and by Professor A. H. Smith, M.A., of Montreal University."

A new prospectus prepared by the Presentation Brothers of the school has been approved and will be distributed among the parents of pupils.

The total attendance at the High School for the year was 267, distributed as follows: First and second preparatory, 23; third preparatory, 35; fourth preparatory, 23; junior commercial, 28; senior commercial, 42; first year High, 35; second year High, 25; third year High, 20; fourth year High, 35.

About 35 per cent. of the pupils are French Canadians who are anxious to learn English. Every effort is being made to increase the number of pupils for next year, and also to place the school on a paying basis. The Chairman of the Board is Rev. Gerald McShane, S.S., Pastor of St. Patrick's Church.

WOULD RATHER GO TO JAIL THAN GO HOME.

In her late teens she stood in the dock before Judge Perrault to answer a charge of vagrancy. Pale-faced and nervous she heard the charge read to her.

"Your mother is here. Why don't you go home with her?" asked the Judge.

"I won't go home because I'm to be married."

"Then I will send you to jail until your trial next week," replied the Judge.

"What do you say would you rather go to jail than go home with your mother?"

"I would rather go to jail."

"She would rather go to jail than go home to her mother," commented the Judge. "All right take her to the jail until next week."

THE KIWANIAN MAKE THE UNDERPRIVILEGED HAPPY.

It was a great treat of song, dance and a substantial meal, together with valuable prizes, that the prize-winning organization, known as the Kiwanians, provided for underprivileged boys at the Windsor Hall here a few days ago. The youngsters came from all over the city, from charitable organizations, and the city playgrounds.

They were made up of many nationalities and creeds, and ranged in age from four to fourteen years. They presented a diversified appearance all the way from Sunday clothes and washed faces, to those in rough garments and with unwashed faces. But joy and happiness beamed in each lad's countenance and that formed "the keynote" for not only the success of the affair, but as a reward for the labors of the Kiwanians who spared no expense to make the event "a red-letter day" in the history of their organization. Previous to the luncheon, the boys, to the number of nearly 200, together with the Kiwanians, had their picture "tak" on Dominion Square. After the luncheon, a concert was given by the lads, consisting of piano and cornet solos, songs, dances and recitations, and showed some wonderful talent. All were awarded prizes for their efforts. Each boy wore a miniature straw hat, fastened with an elastic band. The hats were provided by Alex Nelson, booster of the day.

Several children from the Creche D'Youville, Cote de Liesse, St. Laurent, under the direction of the Grey Nuns, were present, and rendered two songs in French, while a little "tot" made an excellent speech, pleading for some new playthings for their new playgrounds. A cheque for $150 was given to one of the Sisters to purchase some of the playthings. Chairman Greg, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Club, had charge of the affair, and made everything go like clockwork.

SOME THINGS THAT AID HEALTH.

Under the heading of "Laugh for Health," the Montreal Herald, says editorially:-

Laugh and grow fat is an old prescription and promise. Gloomy spirits make for lean bodies. Worry takes off flesh. "I should worry," could not have come into daily use in a time when the struggle for existence was as desperate as a certain type of agitator would have us believe it is and ever will be unless they are given carte blanche to order the political, commercial and social life of the nation.

Now comes Dr. Frederick W. Scward, neurologist, who tells the American Institute of Homeopathy that the comic strips in the daily papers are aids to health. So tolerant, he says. Well, one way to cultivate tolerance is to look for the funny side and laugh. No grouch can grow larger where a sense of humor exists. Homeopaths might be cited as examples. To no few people their school of medicine is a joke, but the homeopaths can afford to join in the laugh they provoke, if only because it is on their deriders.

The point is that people who can tolerate the lighter things will never be compared with the lean and hungry Casius, nor be so devoid of healthful interests that they will worry themselves sick.

The comic strips are an excellent tonic. One need not regard them as art. Few do. Some of them are at times atrocious and spurious wit. But they are amusing. They turn the mind from serious engrossments and real or fancied troubles. They help one to begin and to end the day with a grin. People who take this tonic will be healthier than those who can't see the funny side of most everything around them.

YOUR CHARACTER AND THE ACID TEST.

Dear Readers—To everyone comes the day of suffering. The world is not all sunshine. You have to meet the day of gloom when the skies are dark and lowering, and the spirit feels the weight of pain and opposition. No character has been tested until it has which one spirit grows strong, patient, courageous, evokes in another only bitterness and complaint. The metal is revealed by the acid. Direct your energies in the pursuit of the most perfect things. Aim high if you would be uplifted. Stand firm in the midst of difficulties. Know well that these are the acid test of your character. Be a man in the day of trouble as well as in the day of peace and contentment. Put your trust in God. In the journey of life, the cloudy days have a bright sunshine.

Indian Chiefs Want to See King George

Three Indian chiefs, who carry a mandate for twenty-eight other Indian leaders, in British Columbia, have arrived in London. They have come all the way from their reservations near Shuswap to appeal to the "biggest chief of all," King George, for justice concerning alleged infringement of their rights. New regulations have been made by the white man without consulting the original natives of British Columbia, they charge, and after a pow wow of all the chief concerned it was decided to send chiefs William Pierrish, Basil David and Johnnie Chillichitsa to the "grand chief where the wigwam is Buckingham Palace."

The chiefs complained that they spent a fruitless day calling on the Duke of Connaught's private secretary, at the Colonial Office, and on the High Commissioner for Canada in an endeavor to arrange an audience. "We were told," their interpreter said, "by every person we saw that he had no authority to procure our admission to King George, and no one offered to help us, but these chiefs represent 28 reserves and 4,000 Indians, and although two of them are old men they have come thousands of miles. We shall not go back until we have seen the King or the Duke."

"During the war the Duke of Connaught saw Chief Basil David in Ottawa and invited him to come to England when the war was over if the Indians' grievances could not be settled in Canada."

Woman's Death is Baffling Mystery

Mattoon, Ill., Aug. 3. (U.P.)—One of the most baffling mysteries in the history of central Illinois to-day confronted local police who are trying to solve the peculiar death of Miss Cora Stallman, 48, graduate of the University of Cincinnati.

The spinster's body was found seated on the floor of a cistern, on the farm of her sister, Mrs. Anna Seaman. Coroner F. F. Chilling declares the woman was not drowned as her lungs were empty of water, despite the fact that the head was under water.

There was no sign of violence on the body, Chilling said. Thomas Seaman, brother-in-law of Miss Stallman, who found the body, told the police he knew no reason for suicide. The possibility of murder was advanced when Seaman told of an attempted attack on the woman by an unidentified man last Friday. Peculiar letters, some of them bearing the initials "K.K.K." found floating in the cistern when the body was taken out by Seaman also hinted at murder, police declared.

The police are keeping the water-logged letters secret, pending further investigation. Mrs. Seaman left her farm, valued at approximately $250,000, a week ago for a Mississippi River trip. Seaman, who lived on his own farm adjoining his wife's property, took a room in the cottage occupied by his sister-in-law to protect her against molestation, he said.

Coffins for Guests

GOLD COAST COURTESY TO A BISHOP.

Curious Gold Coast customs are described by the Bishop of Accra. Dr. John Orfer Atkinson, in the July issue of the Golden Shore, published by the Accra Diocesan Association. Writing of his periodical trek round his diocese, the Bishop says: In all our travels through the Bush the people were delighted to see us, and they knew no other English word, they greeted us with cries of "Welcome, welcome."

At times their courtesy was somewhat embarrassing. On two occasions, at the entrance to the rude dwelling in which I slept, a large coffin, just about my own size, had been placed. Not a word was said about it, but there it was, and I almost fell into it in the dark.

To my mind this was the very acme of courtesy, the hallmark of the ideal host. "We put all that we have at your disposal; we have given you fire and water, food and shelter, and if by any chance you choose to die, in the night, don't worry about an undertaker."

Not long ago the Governor of one West African Colony was making a tour through his province. He came to a town where he was received in great state by the assembled chiefs and mounted a platform to address the multitude. He could not make out why it was that his exhortation moved the patient members of his staff to almost irrepressible laughter, and then, looking up, he saw in great white letters, on a red streamer, "God help the Government of this country."

Three Slain in Motor Hold-Up

TWO WOMEN AND MAN SHOT WHILE IN PARKED AUTO.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 3.—(A.P.)—Two young women and a man were shot and killed here last night by a hold-up man when he attempted to rob them of their valuables while they were sitting in a parked automobile. Another youth was shot through the head.

Mrs. Marie McCormick, 25, was killed instantly by the robber's shots while her sister, Julia Stearns, 23, and Fred Funk, 24, died while being taken to a hospital. Carl Perry, 25, the other youth, is in a critical condition.

The robber, according to Perry's statement, approached the parked car and pointed his revolver through the window of the machine. He demanded that they hand over their valuables. Miss Stearns screamed and the bandit instantly fired at her. He then fired a half dozen shots at the other occupants of the automobile.

Hurricane Takes Climbers' Lives

TWO MEN AND A WOMAN SWEEP TO DEATH IN ALPINE ABYSS.

TURIN, Aug. 5.—A hurricane raged through the Alps to-day tearing up houses and trees and endangering the lives of dwellers among the peaks.

From Montecrosa came word that two Alpine climbers had been swept away by the swirling force of the storm. One of them was blown down into an abyss while the other, for a few fleeting moments, clung in safety to a rope above the raunt chasm. Then a stronger blast swept him, too, down into the depths.

Another tale of tragedy came in from Ivrea, relating the fate which had befallen Montegaronne, 2,500 feet above sea level. There the pious village were celebrating the Feast of the Redeemer when the hurricane roared in from the mountains, knocking down houses and tearing up trees.

In its path the wind seized a woman, dashing her as though she were no more than a blade of straw down the abyss below. From Bolzano on the border of the Tyrol came the report that customs warehouses had been burned with an enormous damage.

Girl Discovers New Fuel

Because a 15-year-old girl saw her little brother eating sugar one day the motor world has been given a new fuel.

The girl is Irene Laurent, daughter of a French chemist. She had been working as a junior chemist in her father's laboratory, and knew that scientists had been seeking a solvent for the heavy and bulky explosive iro as a possible means of developing a new fuel of tremendous power.

When she saw her brother dipping generously into the family sugar-bowl, she suggested to her father that carbon in the form of sugar might supply the solvent of which he and other chemists and engineers were in search. Despite her father's insistence that the heavy iro placed in a sugar solution would sink to the bottom, the girl began experimenting, and recently produced a golden-yellow fluid that represented a perfect solution of the iro, and that is said to be a motor fuel twice as powerful as gasoline and one that can be made for half the cost of any other gasoline substitute known.

Newfoundland Boy

PRESIDENT OF LEADING FOOTBALL CLUB IN CHICAGO, ILL.

In a recent publication of Sons of St. George, "Herald," Chicago, to hand, we find that Mr. Chas. Fletcher, a Newfoundland, who left this city about twenty years ago, is making a name for himself in the athletic arena. "Charlie" who many will remember played soccer football with the Old Collegians in this city, is now President of the Canadian Soccer Football Club, which this year brought the first western championship to Chicago. The following clippings will, no doubt, be read with interest by many of his old friends:

It is worth possible to glance over the books of the Illinois State Football Association Trial Board or the U.S.F.A. cup committee you would not find the name of one member of the Canadian Club in the long list of offenders reported by referees this season. That's a record that but few clubs in the Major or minor leagues can boast. And this may be the reason:

Just before an important league game was held in May, President Charlie Fletcher was heard making the following remarks to his players: "Remember, fellows, we want you to go out there and win. But remember, we also want eleven men to be on the field when the final whistle sounds."

Some of the officials of other clubs may have the same policy, but ALL of the men in charge of teams should adopt it and try to impress on the players that they do not want any rowdiness on the field or in the clubhouse. It would reduce the work of the Trial Board and be of advantage to the clubs in the long run.

Mistletoe Lodge, No. 142.

"Fore." No, brethren, this is not the new password. You'll have to come to lodge to get that, but it is almost a password to our new Worthy President Brother Charles Stuart Fletcher, who is an ardent golf enthusiast. Knows every nook and corner of Jackson Park, Fates Park and makes the eighteen in well under 85.

Just a few words in passing, on "Fletch," as he is generally known among the boys.

Charlie Fletcher first saw the light of day some thirty-eight years ago, in Newfoundland. Of his early history we know but little, but our guess is that he was just about like other boys. Finally grew to manhood, eventually States, played good soccer football and some four years ago became affiliated with our soccer team and joined our lodge. Was captain and manager and during his leadership built up quite a team. Has just finished a very successful year as President of the Canadian Soccer Football Club, champs of the Western Circuit. We predict that Mistletoe will enjoy a very prosperous year under Fletcher's leadership.

Relics in Oklahoma of Mound Builders

Secrets of the prehistoric race of mound builders, whose culture is declared to be distinct from that of any other type hitherto investigated in Oklahoma, will be plumbed by an archeological expedition to Grove, Delaware County.

The contents of the mound can only be conjectured, but an indication of what might be found in the cave was given in the discovery of remnants of prehistoric life in an outer chamber that has been explored. The mouth of the cave apparently was sealed after its abandonment many centuries ago. It was reopened and a large deposit of wood ashes, charcoal, bones of game animals, mussel shells and other kitchen refuse was found on the floor near the entrance. An extensive collection of bone and flint implements also was discovered, together with many fragments of pottery.

World's Largest Office Building

TO BE ERECTED IN NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 4.—Negotiations have been completed for the erection near Grand Central Station of what will be the world's largest office building. The structure, rising 30 stories from the street level, will cover an entire city block and will cost $19,000,000.

Seven complete stories, a new record in "underground skyscraper" construction, will be built below street level in a gigantic cavern cut in the granite foundation of Manhattan Island. The excavation work planned is considered one of the world's notable engineering feats.

They Don't Darn Now

Every now and then a doctor or clergyman protests against the extreme finicalness of the stockings worn by the modern woman. But there's an economic reason for cheap, thin stockings—they can be thrown away when they begin to show signs of wear, and others brought to replace them without too great strain on sometimes slender purses.

Thrownaway! How the housewife's soul of the last generation of women would have rebelled at the thought of such "wicked waste"! But daring is now one of the lost arts.

This is largely the result of the wider activities of the modern girl. She now receives much the same education and plays almost the same games as her brother. So she has no time to learn to darn. She would be horrified at the thought of darning for other members of the family, as the girls of 1900 had had to do.

Rude Forefathers of 100 Years Ago

The humor and ingenuity of the forefathers is revealed in the Rutland Herald of 100 years ago, wherein its editor says: "Several of our readers positively deny the statement made in our last issue that the ladies always pull off the left stocking last, declaring too, that we are very impertinent for giving currency to such a report. But we are sure that on reflection the ladies will admit this is a fact. It is very simple. When one stocking is pulled off first, there is another left on, and pulling this off is taking the left stocking off last."

Crime in England

DECREASED BY BETTER EDUCATION, SOBRIETY AND ADVANCED LIVING STANDARD.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Better education, an increase in sobriety and an advanced standard of living have resulted in a tremendous decrease of crime in England in the last fifty years, Sir Wm. Joynton-Hicks, Home Secretary, told the International Prison Congress recently.

He said that in 1875 there were 10,000 persons undergoing penal servitude. Now, he said, there are only 1,600, in spite of the increase of population. Besides this number, there are 1,100 young people undergoing correctional treatment.

Hit street cars obliquely instead of head on. Look in gas tank with lighted matches. Shoot across intersections at forty miles an hour at least; you'll never get anywhere if you don't take a chance. Turn corners on wet pavements as fast as possible. Blow your horn immediately after accident; this will attract witnesses. Step on gas when passing school houses. Speed up when old women are stepping from street cars just ahead. You may miss them.

Fads and Fashions

Brilliance is demanded of jewelry for full evening dress. Blue and fresh color are a chic combination in chiffon. Increasing fullness is noted in the backs of the tall models. Bright blue lace is used on a frock of navy blue crepe. The evening "scottolage" remains lower in back than in front. Black has a decided distinction in these days of bright colors. Godet plaits may be used to give the new fullness in the back. The close-fitting sectional crown will be good in full millinery. Ermine gives a touch of distinction to the black coat for fall. Paris houses are using furs dyed in brilliant colors as trimming.

A chic effect is gained by the use of two furs in the same costume. One notes the use of bright beads in embroidery on evening frocks. Colorful applique embroidery is an interesting fall trimming item. Remember that the turtle neck is one of the best for sports wear.

Delivers All The Results
The Name Chrysler Implies

The new Chrysler Four, Walter P. Chrysler's latest achievement, carries a name with a world of meaning to the buyer.

Thanks to the quality of the wonderful Chrysler Six, the name Chrysler stands for pre-eminent results in motoring.

Because the new Chrysler Four likewise delivers results unequalled in the four-cylinder field, it bears the same standard of quality and fine engineering as the Chrysler Six.

The new Chrysler Four represents in a very definite and practical sense the application of the same quality and fine manufacture that raised the Chrysler Six to its peak of popularity.

Consequently, the new Chrysler Four — true companion to the Chrysler Six—is already hailed as the most modern and soundest contribution to finer four-cylinder motoring. It is receiving a welcome unmatched for its enthusiasm.

See it to appreciate the beauty that is so distinctive Chrysler.

Ride in it to understand the new interpretation it sets on ease and roadability, enabling you to travel all day with no sense of fatigue.

Drive it to know fully its powerful engine—power that means better acceleration, greater ease of handling, and finer performance under all conditions of motor car driving than any four-cylinder car has given.

We are eager to give you the opportunity.

Our Lazy Lads

A VETERAN OF THE OLD SCHOOL WRITES CANDIDLY ABOUT THE YOUNG MEN OF TO-DAY.

What's wrong with our boys? Look in what direction you will and you find youthful slackers, spineless, brainless, lacking in "pep" and punch, content to joll through life, and afraid of anything even resembling hard work.

Take sport. Before the War the Thames Punting Club's season used to open early in May. To-day it does not begin until the close of June. Why? Because, as a prominent member of the T.P.C. told me, the club is for men only, and there is a scarcity of young punters.

Punt racing is extremely strenuous, far more so than sculling or rowing. It also calls for hard training, and right self-denial. This is not good enough for the young men of to-day. They prefer the kind of punting that means tiding and flirting in a back-water, and so the racing programme has to be curtailed.

Young men still play football, but where, in average amateur circles, is the honest charging of the old days? Also, for every youngster who plays there are now at least fifty who prefer to look on.

Scared of Sport.

Lawn tennis is robbing cricket of young men.

Lawn tennis is a fine game, but for the average young man of to-day pliers it, it is not tennis, but "pat ball." We have plenty of budding Tenslers, but I venture to predict that it will be a long, long day before an Englishman wins the championship.

Golf and bowls were once considered "old men's games," but now they have many youthful masculine adherents.

The truth is that young men are scared of sports which involve danger, hard work, and careful living.

This ignoble spirit is reflected in more serious fields.

Why is it that, although some professions are overcrowded, those that involve risk or demand long training and self-sacrifice are crying out for young men?

It is fair to say that in some cases the cost of training is prohibitive, but to-day it does not cost a great deal to put a lad into the Navy, Army, R.A.F., or merchant service even as an officer. In any event, there are prize cadships to be won, which would solve the money problem.

Medicine is overstocked with women, but short of men.

The Girls Will Save Us.

In business lads are reluctant to serve articles. They would rather be ordinary clerks and thus have more money to spend when they begin.

Canada is calling out for young Britons, but cannot get them, because farming in Canada means toll, hardship, and a continual fight with the elements—a man's life.

Something for nothing, a "cushy" job, these are the "ideals" of the young man of the present.

One knows the arguments of his apologists. The poor fellow is still suffering from the effects of the War when, as a boy, he was undernourished.

Plausible, but it won't bear examination. Were not the young women of to-day also underfed during the War period? And there's nothing wrong with our girls.

Not that War excuse won't hold water.

If you doubt the fairness of these strictures, look around. Who are the commanding masculine figures in practically every walk of life. Are they not middle-aged; even, in many cases, elderly men?

Why, even in sport, the old 'uns have the young 'uns beaten to a frazzle. It's a bright look-out, isn't it? But the women will pull us through.

Cook Your Cucumbers

How many people ever have cooked cucumber on their table? Very few and yet it is a vegetable which is as nice steamed, fried, stewed, or baked as it is raw!

For steaming, peel one or two small cucumbers, cut them in convenient sized pieces and remove the seeds. Sprinkle with salt, and steam them for about half an hour, or till they feel tender, then serve them with a sharp sauce such as Hollandaise, or a more simple one, such as white, parsley, or egg.

If you want a change from grilled tomatoes or saute potatoes with your grilled steak or fish, there is nothing more delicious than fried cucumber. Peel a young cucumber and remove the seeds, cut it into pieces about an inch and a half thick and boil it for five minutes in water to which a little vinegar and salt have been added. Drain and carefully dry the pieces in a cloth, then dip them in a little seasoned flour and coat with egg and breadcrumbs, or batter, and fry in deep fat till a golden-brown colour.

When you have tired of steamed and fried cucumbers you can try stewing. Boil some pieces of prepared cucumber in salted water for about five minutes, then drain, dry, and lightly fry them in some butter. Remove them from the pan, then make a brown sauce by frying some flour in the remaining butter, adding brown stock and stirring till boiling. Season well, and let the cucumber simmer in this sauce till tender. Dish up and sprinkle with chopped parsley just before you serve.

Last, but not least, you can bake your cucumbers. Grease a fireproof dish and arrange in it alternate layers of cooked cucumber (in neat cubes) and grated cheese. Season well and moisten with a little white sauce. Cover thickly with breadcrumbs and put a few pieces of butter here and there. Bake in a moderate oven till nicely browned.

Why He Cried

Amongst a host of good stories told by Mr. Seymour Hicks is one concerning an episode at a concert in Chicago, where a large orchestra was playing Southern melodies.

In the front row was a man who was apparently so deeply touched that he began to cry. The manager of the theatre, observing how he was moved, went into the stalls, and said to him: "Sir, you have paid us a great compliment to-night by this display of emotion; I presume that you are a Southerner?"

The man looked up and said: "No, sir. I am a musician."

War on Weeds

During recent years many attempts have been made to find a means of destroying certain weeds that are injurious to crops. Charlock, one of the commonest weeds in Great Britain, is particularly troublesome to farmers, for where it is rampant there is rarely a good crop of corn.

Now, however, it can be destroyed by means of spraying. A spray made from finely powdered kalinite has been found satisfactory, although the most successful as well as the cheapest means of destroying charlock is a solution of copper sulphate, with 28 lb. to 35 lb. of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia added to each barrel of the spraying mixture.

The British Workers' Handicap

By the RT. HON. J. M. THOMAS, M.P.

When we see a man starting a race fifty or a hundred yards behind his nearest rival we are generally justified in concluding that he is the best runner, that that, in spite of his severe handicap, his quality will probably enable him to win the race. Most of us have seen such a man gradually wear down the field and breast the tape first.

Nevertheless, I must say that I have always thought that deliberate handicapping was a bit unfair. Personally, I like to watch a race where all the competitors start level. After all, if anyone deserves to win, it is surely the man who is physically the fittest, who is the best trained, who has spent most thought upon his condition, and used to the best advantage the qualities of self-denial and self-discipline. The victory of the inferior man, by reason of the others severe handicap, only tends to put a premium upon mediocrity, to make tinsel look like gold, to lower the standards of efficiency and of all achievement. Therefore, I say, let us all start level, and let the best man win. It is fair to him, and it is good for those who, by his example, are keyed up to their highest and best in competing with him.

But no one can claim that this condition obtains in the world field of Labour, which, in many of its aspects, may be compared to a race, or to any other competition depending upon skill, energy, intelligence, training, management. The handicap has been the rule, as far as Britain is concerned, and not the exception. Generatively speaking, it would be true to say that the British workman has been the "scratch man" of the world.

At the same time, anyone talking, even immediately before the war, about the standardisation of world-conditions of labour, especially as regards hours of work and rates of wages, the bringing of these and other conditions to a parity in all countries, would have been regarded, not so much as a dreamer and a visionary, but as a candidate for Colney Hatch, or any other lunatic asylum.

Such a commination, though "devotedly to be wished," has always appeared a very remote one even to the most optimistic. Naturally it has been the great argument for what is called Tariff Reform; a device which has represented itself, to many minds, as the only effective way of bringing the other racers back to "scratch," or, preferably, perhaps, putting the poor "scratch" man—Britain, by name—rather level with, or, if possible, well in front of all the rest of the competitors!

What may be regarded as the present Government's first front-rank measure is the revival and revival of what is styled safeguarding of industries. It is supported by the Government as a move in the direction of reducing our handicap disadvantage, at least, and of totally abolishing it if possible, whilst the ostensible reason for its introduction and application is the difficulty caused by the fluctuations and dislocations of the world's exchange.

That this factor in the world situation is a real difficulty no one will deny. But a much deeper cause than this depreciated value of the currency of many countries, the real cause, and a more persistent cause, which, in the minds of those who look for a sedative and not a cure, for alleviation and not abolition, makes necessary some measure of this kind is the fact that other national work longer for less money than our own, and thus get a start, not only in the world's markets, but actually in our own, which we cannot, run as we may, hope to overhaul. This is a brief but fair statement of the Government's case, which opinion, I need hardly say, I do not share.

But whether we agree with the remedy or not, we must admit the condition of the patient. It is pretty serious. Its main symptom is unemployment. The British workman, in my opinion, has not his superior in any other country. It has not been chance, or luck, which has made this little country—a mere speck on the map of the world, rather hard to find unless you know where to look—the workshop of the world. The British workman has performed this miracle by dint of skill, industry, and intelligence, and, as long as he maintains these prime factors in his make-up, success will not be indefinitely delayed. It will only be his failure to keep his level, both of output and quality, as high, at least, as that of his competitors, which will spell catastrophe to the industry, the commerce, and the well-being of this country.

Nevertheless, at present, the handicap remains, and it is not by any means an entirely new condition of things. In the old controversy, in pre-war days, between Free Trade and Tariff Reform, this fact was strongly urged, and the workers were used as pawns against the workers of other countries. The contestants, in fact, were to take up with assertions and refutations, arguments and counter-arguments, so obsessed with their verbal warfare, that they were totally blind to the fact that the severe competition, the keen rivalry, which regarded the worker, as I have said, merely as a pawn in the great game, was bound sooner or later to end in International conflict. As a matter of fact, it was the root cause of the Great War.

Now, so convinced were the best minds the most far-seeing men, of the truth of this, that, among many failures and blots which vitiate the Peace Treaty as a means of peace, they succeeded in inserting in the Versailles Treaty at least one little patch of wisdom—a rainbow of promise spanning a sky which the Treaty itself had left rather dark and gloomy. My friend, Mr. George Barnes, in 1919, during that prolonged conference, delivered an epoch-making speech, from which I will make an abbreviated extract here:

"In normal days, before the War, labour conditions were largely the result of blind chance. Age and want too often haunted the mind of the worker during his working life, and we must remember that the worker to-day still lives very largely in pre-war memories; he dreads return, and is determined not to return to those pre-war conditions.

"These conditions have laid upon the world a heavy burden and a great danger. They have produced a workman who is class conscious, who regards work as a blessing, and has been deluded into the belief that the less work he does the more is left for his workmates. That feeling, and the practice based upon it, is demoralizing to the individual and harmful to the community. It can be eradicated only by security against unemployment and by improved conditions of employment. . . . The conditions existing are a source of concern to all lovers of their kind, and a menace to the peace of the world.

"It is that latter aspect of it that makes regulation, labour improvement, an integral and urgent part of the work of a Peace Conference. . . . International co-operation has hitherto been fitful and sectional. . . . We are seeking now, for the first time in history, to get the willing co-operation of all concerned—States, employers, and workmen—engaged in a common task and animated by a common desire to improve the workman's conditions in all countries."

I have quoted Mr. Barnes because the matter cannot be better put, and the result was that an agreement was embodied in the League of Nations charter which opens with the following memorable preamble:

"Whereas the League of Nations has for its object the establishment of universal peace, and such peace can be established only if it is based upon social justice; and whereas conditions of labour exist involving such justice, the protection of which requires the co-operation of large numbers of people as to produce unrest so great that the peace and harmony of the world are imperilled; and, for example, by the regulation of the hours of work, including the establishment of a maximum working day and week, the prevention of unemployment, the provision of an adequate living wage, the protection of the worker against sickness, disease, and injury arising out of his employment, the protection of children, young persons, and women, provisions for old age and injury, protection of the interests of workers when employed in countries other than their own, recognition of the principle of freedom of association, the organization of vocational and technical education and other measures; and whereas also the failure of any nation to adopt humane conditions of labour is an obstacle in the way of other nations, which desire to improve the conditions in their own countries; The High Contracting Parties moved by sentiments of justice and humanity, as well as by the desire to secure the permanent peace of the world, agree to the following:

Needless to say, there follow the Articles of Part XIII of the Versailles Treaty, which, as I have already said, is one of its finest and most hopeful sections, and may ultimately prove the real Peace Treaty, and the Magna Charta of Labour.

One thing is certain, that it is impossible to have representative men discussing such matters as sweated labour, long working hours, child labour, the conditions of women's work, wages which are not up to the living-wage standard, without much good scolding and better conditions gradually sweeping away abuses. Our own Labour organizations have been bitterly criticized by their Continental brethren for the slowness with which general conditions are coming into line with those of this country, and America. But it is unjust to blame British Labour for the slowness of the League of Nations, and, in any case, the ultimate triumph of the latter in this matter is assured.

It is that levelling up which will destroy the handicap against our workmen and give them a fair chance in the world's markets, as well as in our own. Then it will be but a matter of time before the best man breaks the tape first. Slowness, incapacity, lack of skill, lack of will—these things will pay the penalty. This is something worth striving for, not alone for its material advantages, not alone for the higher standard of living it ensures, but, more important, it will make possible a better understanding between nations and mean a step nearer World Peace.

Beauty From the Store Cupboard

In every household store-cupboard there are to be found a number of invaluable beauty aids, of which the undermentioned articles are the most important.

Eggs—Fresh eggs have several uses as toilet aids. The white, well beaten, may be used all the year round to counteract the harmful effects of wind and sun. Beaten up to a stiff paste, it can be applied to the face and allowed to remain on overnight, or, if preferred, it may be beaten lightly and used as a lotion to soothe the affected parts.

White of egg is universally recommended as a harmless means of temporarily obliterating lines and wrinkles round the eyes and mouth. It should be painted on with a fine camel-hair brush, left on for 15 minutes, and then sponged off with warm water, the face being gently dried with a soft towel.

This is a useful remedy for freshening up a tired face at the end of a strenuous day.

Caster Sugar—Few housewives know that caster sugar will help to make the hands soft and smooth, if it is shaken over them while they are wet, worked well into the skin, then thoroughly rinsed off and the hands carefully dried.

Starch and Flour—Ordinary white starch without any blue in it may be successfully used as a substitute for talcum powder. If mixed with a little plain flour, it will often allay irritation of the skin and is useful in hot weather for preventing it.

Borax—Borax is recommended for aching feet, and another household remedy for the same thing is ordinary bicarbonate of soda. The latter is very useful in hot weather to combat the evils of excessive perspiration.

Borax may be used to soften washing water, and makes a good shampoo for greasy hair.

Olive Oil and Lard—Nearly every household has a bottle of olive oil in stock. It is a useful substitute for cold cream and may be used for nearly every purpose cream is used for with-out any doubts as to its efficacy. The too-thin girl will find massage with olive oil useful for filling out hollow cheeks and thin necks.

Lard makes a splendid massage cream, too, but it must be free from chemicals and unsalted.

Vinegar—A tablespoonful of white vinegar added to a pint of cold water makes a useful astringent for toning up flabby skin and drooping muscles.

The ordinary variety is said by country housewives to be a slow cure for warts if applied three or four times daily for several weeks.

Lemons—Lemons have so many uses that it is difficult to enumerate them all. Generally speaking, lemon juice is useful for removing stains from fingers and nails; it is an infallible cure for red, rough elbows; added to the last rinsing water after a shampoo, it makes an excellent brightener for fair hair. It will also remove slight sunburn and bleach freckles. Lemon juice should be used when fresh if it is to be really effective.

Camping out you will find Crisco the ideal thing for quick frying, etc. aug.6,31th

Try shredded cabbage, broiled bacon and mayonnaise in brown bread sandwiches.

Bribe for Death

WOMAN'S OFFER TO DOCTOR.

A woman's fear of cancer and her suggestion to a doctor to end her existence quickly were mentioned at the inquest at Relgate on Mrs. Harriett Mary Kelly, widow of an ex-Consular official, whose body was found at her residence, Beech House, Redhill, on June 19th.

Dr. Alexander Walters, said he advised her to go into a nursing home, when she said:

"Oh, that is cancer, and there is nothing much to be done. Are you interested in money? Because if you were I would give you a large sum to give me the necessary drugs to end my existence quickly."

Dr. Walters said he pointed out the seriousness of this to her, stating that it was insulting to make a medical man such an offer.

A verdict of Suicide during Temporary Insanity from Veronal Poisoning was returned.

St. John's Joineers, Defeat English Captain, Spaniards And Crew Of St. John's Seamen.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir—But few residents of St. John's are with us now who witnessed the races of 1875, when the Joineers, a hardy, sturdy and stalwart crew, were the successful contestants in the Marr, in the Tradesmen's Race, against the following named boats and crews—Volunteer, Ships' Carpenters; Lady Hill, Sailmakers; Native, Coopers; Heather Belle, Blacksmiths. The description of their feat, given by the press following Regatta Day, reads thus:—"Their performance astonished everyone. They reclaimed the honor of their boat, the Mary, by winning from the word 'go' and in the all-comers race, after having previously rowed two races, they covered themselves with laurels, by making the quickest time of any crew for the day." I ought to add, Mr. Editor, that their prowess in the above race, won for them the bonus money, of ten dollars, for having made the quickest time. Today for the first time I made the acquaintance of Mr. Albert Osmond, one of the crew of the Mary, and from him I obtained the names of the other rowers. Mr. Osmond is the father-in-law of my friend, Mr. John Long, the well-known printer of St. John's. The names given to me, by Mr. Osmond, are as follows:—George Harter, brother of the late founder and Proprietor of the "Evening Telegram"; Thomas Nicholls, who did not long ago, in this City; William Strathie and Thomas Brown, both of Bonavista district, and William Stowe, of Hr. Grace. The names of the boats which opposed the Mary, and their crews, in the All Comers Race, were as follows: Heather Belle, rowed by a crew of English Captains, whose names, the names of the vessels as well, I give you: Capt. Hatswell, Watt; Capt. Dyer, Isabella; Capt. Dyer, "Pride of the Isles"; Capt. Beal, Goolaze, Capt. Seal, Hiday; Nicholas Ball, Beatrix; Capt. Scooble, Ethel; the last named was coxswain. A Spanish crew rowed the Lady Hill, with a Spaniard, Coxswain. A crew of St. John's seamen, rowed the Native, with a native coxswain. For many years afterwards the splendid seamanship, the grit, and endurance of the crew of the Mary was talked about. Now and again I have come across some time-worn citizen who had spoken to me of the Regatta when the Joineers of "Montrose's Mary" performed the splendid feat in rowing, recorded above. With thanks, Mr. Editor, for the latitude you have given me, in permitting me so much space in your valuable and interesting journal.

Yours truly,
ANTHONY QUARANTAN.

Super Feature at the Nickel To-Day
BUSTER KEATON APPEARS IN CY-CLONIC SUCCESS "THE NAVI-GATOR"

The Nickel is pleased to announce that the famous super-comedy feature "The Navigator" will be shown at this theatre to-night. Starring in this picture is the noted comedian Buster Keaton, the man who makes you laugh but never smiles himself. The scene of the laughs is on board of a deserted steamship.

The sight of a colored couple in an affectionate embrace leads the Sap to decide on marriage. Betsy O'Brien declines the honor, so he engages single passage on a steamship for Australia. Circumstances bring both the Sap and the girl on board a deserted steamship that is cast adrift. Both the children of wealthy parents, they have a hard time making both ends meet. They finally drift to a tropical island and are threatened by cannibals. He rescues her by appearing, like a strange ocean monster, in a diving suit. A submarine takes them away.

Buster uses salt water to make coffee, turns a boiler in the engine room into a bedroom, boils eggs in a rat-trap, opens condensed milk cans with a brace and bit and after doing hundreds of real comedy bits succeeds in the end to win the heart and hand of Betsy O'Brien, a society girl—one of the O'Briens, you know. This is claimed to be the greatest comedy this famous exponent of fun has ever produced.

CONVENTION CONTINUED.

The Confederation Life sales staff met again yesterday morning at the St. John's Office and proceeded immediately by motor to Donovan's, where the second day's programme was commenced at 10 a.m. The meeting opened with a very fine address on "Life Insurance" by Mr. John Weir, who handled his subject with the confidence of a veteran.

Mr. F. J. Wornell followed with instructions to agents regarding the cashier's department.

The main subject was then taken by Co. W. F. Rendell, C.B.E., namely, "Business Insurance," under three headings—

- (a) Partnership—two men.
- (b) Manager for Corporation or Company.
- (c) Joint Life Plan and Single Policies.

The subject was discussed for some considerable time and the result of the paper showed that the Confederation Life salesmen are experts in "Business Insurance."

Important addresses followed by Mr. V. R. Smith, Actuary; Mr. G. D. Devlin, Superintendent of Agencies; Messrs. Ernest Fox, Tilley, Gillis and others.

Great enthusiasm was displayed over the new plan of insurance, that the Company are about to launch in Newfoundland immediately and which is looked upon in Canada and being the last word in life insurance. The new plan of insurance will be known as the "Peerless Policy."

The party left for town at 5.30, thus bringing to an end one of the most successful conventions ever held in Newfoundland.

Certain filthy and pestiferous insects have for many years been the bane of households, hotels and institutions. While most of us have become accustomed to them because of their general prevalence and the difficulty of destroying them, there is now no need of tolerating them any longer. Since the discovery of SAN-O-SPRAY, it is very easy to rid the premises of Cock-Roaches (water bugs), Bed-Bugs, Moths, Flies, Mosquitoes, Ants, Fleas, Weevils, etc., by applying SAN-O-SPRAY to the retreats of these pests.

BUSINESS MEETING.

The ninth half yearly meeting of the Grand Falls Co-Operative Society, Limited, was held in the Catholic School on Tuesday, the 4th inst. The Chairman, Mr. Holmes, in giving a hearty welcome to all the members present, made a special reference to the large number of ladies present and which, in his opinion, augurs well for the future of our Society. Reviewing the half year's operations he stated that we had again beaten all previous records, the sales showing an increase of 33.7 per cent. He assured the meeting that it was a source of great satisfaction to the Executive to be in a position to record an advance and to assure the members that the Society was more firmly established than ever and that if the members would only increase their share capital, a much better state of affairs would exist and our progress would become much more rapid.

During the half year under review we had made several additions to the premises, which added considerably to the business efficiency. The dry goods department in particular was one in which they felt proud and it was anticipated that the members would increase their loyalty in this department to a marked extent during the present period. The sales for the half year amounted to $105,947.47, as against $79,203.94 for the corresponding period of 1924, an increase of $26,743.53. The share and loan deposits for the half year amounted to $9,451.65, while withdrawals totalled $2,918.05, an increase of $6,533.60.

Membership at the beginning of the period numbered 467, since when 71 have been admitted and 25 have withdrawn, leaving the present number 513. The balance sheet was taken in detail and after various items had been explained, the Auditors' Report was read by Mr. Morgan. The latter testified to the manner in which the auditors found the books and to the correctness of the accounts submitted, after which the balance sheet was put before the meeting and carried unanimously. The net trading surplus for the half year amounted to $7,652.50. The Executive recommended a return of 7 per cent. on purchases for the period, which was accepted by the members and carried by acclamation. The election of officers resulted in the two retiring members being re-elected, together with William Janes, Samuel Lane, Walter Fewer and William Cobb.

After other items of business had been discussed the Chairman thanked the members for their past loyalty and hoped that the current period would be one of added progress and prosperity to both Society and members, after which the meeting was declared closed.

Little Jack Rabbit
 by David Cory

As Uncle Lucky hopped along, singing now and then a song, his stomach heaved upon his back. His coat tails flying as he sped along the Shady Forest Trail. He spied a little squirrel's tail.

"Hello, hello, whose little squirrel are you?" shouted the old gentleman rabbit, stopping so quickly that his gold watch almost bumped out of his waistcoat pocket. The next minute Squirrel Feathertail peeked around the trunk of the tree.

"I wish you'd take this pesky squirrel away" all of a sudden begged Jimmy Jay. "He makes Mrs. Jay so nervous that she hardly can keep in her nest. He is always teasing her, peering into her nest when she is looking for her breakfast, or scolding her while warming her eggs."

"Gracious me!" exclaimed the old gentleman rabbit, "the idea of your complaining of Squirrel Feathertail; you, the biggest blue jay in the whole neighborhood. You're a tease, yourself. Don't lose your temper."

"I'll peck out his eyes if he doesn't behave," scolded Jimmy Jay, "flying straight at the little squirrel. But he didn't. No indeed. Squirrel Feathertail was too quick for him, and before the angry blue jay could turn in his flight, the little squirrel, was safe inside the hollow tree, in which he had built a comfortable bungalow.

"Hotty, toity!" exclaimed the old gentleman rabbit, as Jimmy Jay began to scold. "Don't lose your temper entirely. Hope the next time I come this way you will be in a pleasanter mood," and on again hopped nice Uncle Lucky under the tall trees, around the rocks and the bushes, towards home.

"Goodness gracious meebus!" he exclaimed by and by, after a while, "I've taken too long a walk. Should have come in the Luckymobile. The rheumatism in my little Toe is commencing to pain me. Ouch!" and he stopped suddenly to rub his foot.

"Dear me, it's growing dark," he said to himself, as he pulled on his shoe. "I've been gone a long, long time. Little Miss Mousie will be worried about me," and once more he hurried on. But, Oh dear me. It grew so dark before he had gone a hundred hops that he couldn't see the tip of his nose. Wasn't that dreadful? And the Winding Trail at this point was so stony and steep that poor Uncle Lucky thought it best to sit down awhile.

"Safety first," he murmured as he hunted through his pockets for his flashlight. But, Oh dear me again. He had left it at home. "Maybe if I wait until Mrs. Moon is in the sky I'll be able to see my way," he sighed, taking off his old wedding stovepipe.

Before the angry blue jay could turn in his flight, the little squirrel was safe inside the hollow tree.

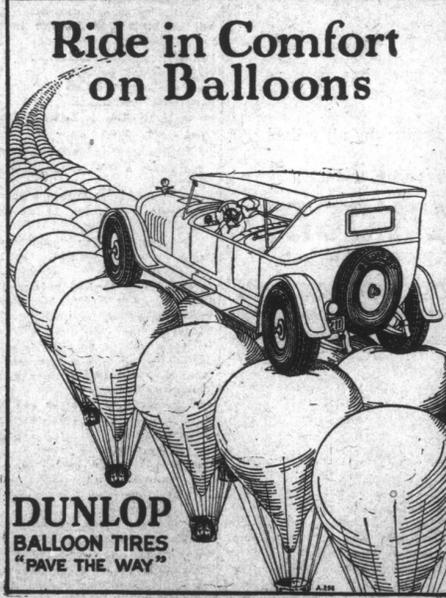

"Goodness gracious meebus!" he exclaimed by and by, after a while, "I've hat to wipe his forehead with his blue silk polka-dot handkerchief. Just then Hoot Tooty Owl began to sing:

"I'd like to eat the little mouse That lives in Uncle Lucky's house. She'd make a very tender meal. But, Oh, how she would squirm and squeel!"

"Dear, dear, dearest me," shivered the frightened old gentleman rabbit. "I hope Hooty Tooty Owl is not on his way to my pretty red-shingled house." And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

TO-NIGHT'S FOOTBALL

The Cadets and Star will try conclusions at St. George's Field to-night. Players are reminded that the game starts 7:15 sharp.

ST. JOSEPH'S GARDEN PARTY AND REGATTA

St. Joseph's Annual Garden Party and Regatta took place at Quidi Vidi Lake yesterday afternoon, and although the weather, from a spectators' standpoint, was not all that could be desired, classes of all classes and creeds were present, thus fully demonstrating the keen interest taken in aquatic sports. In the morning it looked as though the event would have to be postponed on account of rain, but when the weather cleared by noon it was generally felt that the balance of the day would be fine. Shortly after 2 p.m. hundreds of children waded their way to the lake, but before the first race took place a heavy shower came down and everyone scattered for cover. Whilst probably thousands of people who were already on their way to the course returned home again disappointed. It remained showery from then until 6 p.m. and, despite the wretched conditions, a large crowd remained on the green and followed the various races with interest. Rowing conditions, however, could hardly be improved on. Scarcely a ripple was noticeable on the lake, consequently good time was made in all races. The programme of events and winners are as follows:—

AMATEUR

Three crews lined up at the stakes, were Torbay, in the Blue Peter II. (Tobin's), and Blue Peter II. The race down the pond was very evenly contested, and little or no difference was noticeable in the crews after turning the buoys. Passing Rutledge's the Star boat took a slight lead over the Cadet and Peter. The positions remained unchanged until passing the C.L.B. boathouse, when Howlett's crew put on a spurt and forged rapidly to the front, whilst the Peter also speeded up and made a splendid race with the Star for second place. The Cadet crossed over first, about two lengths ahead of the Star, while the Peter passed in about a yard behind the latter boat. Time 9:43%. The winning crew was:—

FISHERMEN

The participating crews in this race were Torbay, in the Blue Peter II. Outer Cove in the Star of the Sea, and Blackhead, in the Cadet. There was much speculation in this race as to which crew would win. The race to the buoys was evenly contested with Outer Cove slightly in the lead. On the home stretch Outer Cove was rowing strong and gradually gained a lead of two boat lengths on the other crews, and crossed over with a comfortable lead. The race for second place was closely contested, Torbay nosing out Blackhead by only a few feet. Time 9:35%. The winning crew was:—

Star of the Sea (Outer Cove)—P. Brown, Cox.; N. Power, stroke; P. O'Donnell, D. Houston, J. Coady, M. Smart, J. Roche.

MERCANTILE & CONTRACTING FIRMS

Three crews entered, Cadet, (Hickman's Mercantile); Blue Peter II. (W. I. Bishop Co., Tradesmen); Star of the Sea (W. I. Bishop Co., Laborers). This race was one-sided all the way. Hickman's crew, in the Cadet, opened up a big lead after the turn which was increased to several boat lengths up the pond. The Cadet finished first about eight lengths in advance of the Star, second. The Peter finished well in the rear. Time 9:44%. The winning crew was:—

INTERMEDIATE

Three intermediate crews went to the stakes, viz. Blue Peter II. Cadet, and Star of the Sea. A fourth crew also entered to row the Nellie R. but they decided to drop out at the last minute. The race to the buoys was very close, but on the turn the Peter went away steadily with the Cadet second and Star of the Sea last. The Peter gradually increased her lead up the pond, and saw the Cadet and Star fighting hard for second place. Passing the Committee Tent the Peter put on a spurt and crossed over fully four boat lengths in advance of the other two crews. The Cadet nosed out the Star for second place by the narrowest kind of a margin. Time 10:34%. The winning crew was:—

OLD COMRADES

With the C.C.C., M.G.C.A. and C.L.B. participating in this race, it caused a big stir on the bank. The C.C.C. rowed the Cadet, M.G.C.A. the Star, and

C.L.B. Blue Peter II.

The Peter and Star went to the buoys together, but upon pulling away from them, the Cadet made a pretty turn and soon took the lead. The race up the pond was pretty close, with the Peter pulling up a bold bid to cut down the Cadet lead. The latter crew, however, rowed strongly to the winning post, and won out by about a length; Peter second, Star third. Time 9:51%. The winning crew was:—

Cadet (C. C. C.)—P. Brown, Cox.; J. Howlett, stroke; J. Clooney, J. Tobin, T. Ryan, L. Furlong, W. Caul.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

This race was looked up to be the best contested for the day. The T. A. crew won this race at the Annual Regatta, and yesterday they once again proved their superiority, repeating their win over the other crews. The C.Y.M.C. crew was looked upon as likely winners but the best they could do was just nose out Holy Cross for second place. The winning time, 10:05%, is two seconds slower than the record football time.

Cadet (T.A.)—J. Malone, Cox.; J. Daley, stroke; J. McCormack, J. Cowley, J. Connors, J. Williams, J. Thomson.

CHAMPIONSHIP RACE

The last event on the programme was the Championship Race, but to the disgust of all it failed to materialize. Breen's truck crew nosed to the stakes and remained in waiting for upwards of half an hour for the appearance of the Outer Cove fishermen, but the fishermen refused to meet them. The truck crew then rowed the course as an exhibition and completed it in the time of 9:36%, or three-fifths of a second behind the Outer Cove Fishermen's time. The crew was:—

Cadet—J. Malone, Cox.; T. Breen, stroke; W. Jones, T. Picco, J. Kavanagh, J. Kenny, M. Dyer.

During the afternoon the C. C. C. Band was present and rendered an attractive musical programme. The tea tables and side shows were largely patronized, as well as the wheels of fortune, and a good sum was realized. The formal presentation of prizes will take place at St. Joseph's Hall at a very early date. The annual event was very successful despite the prevailing weather conditions, and all those who assisted in the work of the Parish are deserving of every congratulation. The proceedings were brought to a close by the playing of the National Anthem.

FREIBURG FAILS TO SWIM THE CHANNEL

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The English Channel refused passage on its turbulent boom, to Lieut. Colonel Bernard Freiburg, a gallant soldier in the late war and a noted swimmer, he reached a point at one time during his swim, 66 yards from the English shore—the goal he had set for from Cape Gris Nez, France, Tuesday night. He was caught in an adverse tide, pushed back into the channel a distance of about a half mile from the shore, and owing to the cold water and the fact that for four hours he would be unable to make any progress, he gave up.

Freiburg took to the water at Cape Gris at 8:25 o'clock Tuesday evening and was in the water about 17 hours. He started his swim while Mile Sion, the French swimmer, was near Dover, unsuccessfully trying to negotiate the remaining mile and a quarter lying between her and Dover against a treacherous tide and in extremely cold water. Freiburg not only was he trying to cross the channel but to break the record of 16 hours, 33 minutes, set by Tirabocchi, the Argentine.

HOPPE AND HAGENLACHER TO PLAY 2,400 PT. MATCH

William F. Hoppe, world's leading billiardist, has accepted a challenge for what will probably be the most important 18.2 balkline battle in which he will engage this year.

Hoppe's opponent will be Erich Hagenlacher, the German champion to whom the former champion bowed in the world title tournament in Chicago last spring after Hagenlacher had put together a run of 298. They will start a 2,400 point match, and play four days, afternoons, and evenings, in blocks of 300 points each.

JACK DEMPSEY MUST MEET WILLS FIRST

N. Y. Boxing Commission Takes Draconian Action.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Through failure to take any further disciplinary action against Jack Dempsey for his alleged dilatory tactics in agreeing to fight Harry Wills, the New York state athletic commission, decided it would suspend any boxer who meets the champion anywhere before he signs a contract and posts a forfeit to battle the giant negro challenger.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SORE FEET

JOHN MILES WINS 6-MILE RACE AT DARTMOUTH

John C. Miles, youthful Sydney Mines runner, won the six mile race in the Dartmouth-Natal Day sports. Donald Young of the Halifax Wanderers, gave Miles a hard run until the last mile of the race, when the Sydney Mines runner pulled away from him. Miles' time was 31 minutes and 20 seconds.

HALIFAX, Aug. 6.—John C. Miles, Sydney Mines, won the annual Dartmouth Road Race held in connection with the Natal Day celebration. The course is in the vicinity of six miles, close to the course record of 30:53 made by Victor MacAulay, Wain and Miles' time was 31 minutes, twenty six seconds. Donald Young, Wanderers, Halifax, was second.

FRENCH GIRL FAILS TO SWIM THE CHANNEL

DOVER, England, Aug. 4.—Mile Sion, the French girl swimmer, failed to-night in her effort to swim the English Channel. She was within a mile and a quarter of Dover when she gave up.

Mile Sion was overcome by the low temperature of the water. She was taken aboard the escorting tug which turned about and started back for France. Although she failed in her efforts, she set a record for women swimmers in the channel, as the nearest any of the several members of her sex who have attempted the feat has come to the English shore was five miles; this was Miss Lillian Harrison, the Argentine, who on July 15 essayed the swim from Cape Gris Nez to Dover.

Like Mile Sion she was forced to abandon the task owing to the low temperature of the water. Weather and water conditions were favorable when Mile Sion took her plunge at 8:10 o'clock this morning. The sea was unusually calm. She swam strongly and steadily throughout the day and far into the night.

By mid-afternoon she had reached a point approximately half way across the waterway, and early in the evening had threshed her way to within a point five miles from the pier at Dover. The sea still remained calm, but adverse tides were holding back the swimmer.

The tug accompanying Mile Sion could not plainly see out in the channel moving slowly along with her. Early to-night she had fought her way in against the rising tide to about four miles from her objective.

Rain began falling about this time, adding to the trials of the swimmer. She fought on, however, and beat her way in toward the pier and was still swimming strong, with a definite determination to make the channel.

The final effort brought her within a mile and a quarter of Dover, but the rushing tide and the coldness of the water forced her to give up. She had pulled aboard the accompanying tug which did not come in to the pier here, but put about and started back for France.

Mile Sion left the water at 9 p.m., having been swimming for 13 hours and 30 minutes. This is a record for submerston by woman.

DEMPSEY CROSSES NEW YORK STATE OFF FIGHTING MAP

The Champion Says He Will Fight Anywhere But In The Empire State.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Jack Dempsey has crossed New York State off his pugilistic map. The heavyweight champion, honored by the New York State Athletic Commission's latest edict that "he put up or shut up," wants to fight Harry Wills, but he does not want any of the lucrative revenue from such a match to go to the coffers of the Empire State. The entire situation, revolving around a title match between Dempsey and Wills, is in a badly tangled state. The New York Commission has ruled it will promptly suspend any fighter who attempts to elude his services before he steps up and signs for a match with his negro challenger.

Dempsey has countered by saying he will fight anywhere except in New York State. Jack Kearns, who is still under contract as Dempsey's manager, although the champion has announced his intention of transacting his own business, fired an exploded broadside at Dempsey yesterday. Kearns intimated that he would journey on to New York after a bit of business in Chicago, and sign Dempsey for a match with Wills.

One fact is sure-fire in the flood of threats which have been bouncing across the continent since Dempsey stepped up to the New York Commission and verbally accepted Wills' challenge, and that is that Dempsey will not meet his negro opponent until the shades of 1926 have been limited and he has had a few warm-up matches.

WILLS AND TUNNEY MAY FIGHT NEXT MONTH IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—An offer for a fifteen-round match between Harry Wills and Gene Tunney, leading heavyweight title contenders at the Polo Grounds, September 23 or 25, was taken under advisement to-day by Faddy Mullins, manager of Wills. Mullins expressed himself as well satisfied with the offer, the terms of which were not disclosed but said he desired to communicate with Wills.

now in Germany on a European tour, before making any decision. Mullins promised to give promoters of the Polo Grounds Athletic Club a definite answer by Monday.

Tunney, through his manager, Billy Gibson, already is understood to have come to terms with the Polo Grounds management for such a match. The only hitch which may develop, Mullins indicated, was a promise he had given to promoters of the National Sportsman's Club, Newark, N.J., to fight under its auspices in return for a release last June for a match with Charley Welner there. The Wills-Welner fight was put on there as part of Italian Hospital Fund show here.

Net Earnings on the Increase—Has Made Big Property Additions.

American Telephone and Telegraph earnings continue to expand along normal lines. First six months of 1925 show estimated net income of $52,341,128 after charges and taxes, equivalent to $5.80 a share earned on the $902,085,200 average amount of stock outstanding during that period compared with $4.59 or $5.69 a share on $748,236,490 average stock outstanding in the first half of last year.

Incidentally, the company earned its six months' dividend requirements of $4.50 with $1.40 to boot which, according to precedent, is a comfortable margin.

There are one or two irritating spots, so far as rates are concerned, in New England and New York, two of the Bell system's principal volume centers. It was necessary to cut the New England Telephone & Telegraph dividend recently and the New York Telephone annual report showed earnings of but $4.62 a share on the $204,492,000 common stock against dividend requirements of $5. On the other hand, there is plenty of evidence elsewhere of fair rate adjustments and the system is generally recognized as desiring to develop the national telephone system along lines of benefit for all.

phone & Telegraph, on a 5 per cent. basis. Abnormal demand for telephone service followed the cessation of hostilities in 1918, resulting from accumulated orders, has largely subsided and although the volume of business of the system continues somewhat above normal, the management has been able to direct its attention more to improvement of local and long distance service, so that it is now possible to reach distant points with almost the same facility as local calls.

Bell System's net addition to plant in the first six months of 1925 amounted to $125,000,000. Funds for this purpose were in hand and there is plenty of money in banks for further expansion, so that there is no immediate need for financing by the American Telephone & Telegraph and, as has been pointed out before, there will be no new stock issue in 1925.

Net plant additions to the Bell System in the last twenty years totaled $1,945,229,900. Charges for current maintenance and for depreciation last year were, respectively, 5.1 per cent. and 5 per cent. of the cost of the average plant in service during the year—substantially the same ratios as during 1923. The policy in this respect has always been liberal.

American Telephone and Telegraph stock recently sold at 144 1/2, the highest since 1912, when it sold at 149 1/2. At the present price it is 54 1/2 points above the low obtained between 1912 and 1925.

There are approximately 350,000 registered shareholders and 150,000 employees paying for the stock on an installment basis. There is no let up in the distribution of the shares and with the growing capital the average holding per stockholder has declined.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

ADmits REPULSE BY DRUNE TRIBESMEN IS SEVERE.

PARIS, Aug. 13. Although it has been admitted officially that the French suffered a severe repulse at the hands of the Tribesmen in the Rebel Druse district of Syria, Premier Painleve is of the opinion that it will have no widespread effect in the mandated territory. The Premier told the cabinet ministers to-day that the French in the attack had an aggregate of 817 casualties including killed, wounded and missing.

GERMANY RAISES HER TARIFF. BERLIN, Aug. 13. The Government's Tariff Bill which passed its third reading in the Reichstag to-day, without amendment, but after one of the stormiest debates in German Parliamentary history, provides conspicuously high duties for foodstuffs and various categories of industrial products.

SEES RESIGNATION OF U.M.W. EXECUTIVE DISTRICT 28. SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 13. The Reserve Local of the U.M.W. of America, a section of the Miners' Union, which voted strongly for the rejection of the Government's proposal under which the five months' coal strike in Nova Scotia was ended last week, to-day adopted a resolution calling upon the executive officers of District No. 28 to resign from office. Copies of the resolution have been sent to the other locals in the district asking that it be put to a vote of the membership.

STOWAWAYS ON MUNEAESTERN. HALIFAX, Aug. 12. Three stowaways made an attempt to escape from the Muneastern, a Munson Liner just before the steamer pulled away from the dock for Boston, this afternoon; one jumped into the harbor and swam to safety among the piles of the waterfront piers. He was not captured. Two others jumped from the rail to the dock and were immediately rounded up by the immigration officers. They claimed to have boarded the steamer in St. John's, Nfld., just before she sailed for Halifax, only to be discovered and put to work in the engine rooms. The two captured youths will be returned to Newfoundland when the Muneastern calls here next week. They said they did not like the food they got on board, and wished to try their luck in Halifax.

AEROPLANE'S GREAT AID TO MACILLIAN EXPEDITION. WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. Covering in a few hours, territory which explorers a few years ago might have labored over for many months, the airplanes of the MacMillan Arctic Expedition have spotted a likely location for their intermediate base between Etah, Greenland and Cape Thomas Hubbard. The necessity for working rapidly was explained here as due to the rapid approach of colder weather in the region where the planes are to do their exploring. Only a little more than two weeks of fairly good weather remains.

BRAND EVIDENTLY PLEASED WITH NEGOTIATIONS. LONDON, Aug. 13. Foreign Minister Briand, of France who has been in London since Monday night engaging in a conference with the British Foreign Secretary, Austen Chamberlain, on the security and guarantee questions, returned to France this morning. Briand was laughing and joking with those who came to bid him farewell and appeared to be delighted with the results of his visit.

RUSSIAN TEXTILE TRADE PLACE LARGE ORDER IN GERMANY. MANCHESTER, Aug. 13. A delegation from All Russia Textile Syndicate is here after a visit to Germany for the purpose of negotiating for the purchase of textile machinery for use in Russia. It is stated that the proposed purchase will amount to four or five million pounds.

TEXTILE STRIKE IN YORKSHIRE AFFECTS 200,000. LONDON, Aug. 13. The Government is taking action to end the textile dispute which was called about three weeks ago when a wage reduction of about 8 p.c. was made. The strike is affecting nearly 200,000 textile workers in Yorkshire. Representatives of both sides met the Minister of Labor in London to-day.

Magistrate's Court. A domestic taken in last night, apparently insane, was remanded to the penitentiary for three months.

The Straits Fishery. The following report was received by the Railway Management from Captain Norman of the Home, which arrived at Humbermouth at 1 p.m. yesterday from the Straits service: "Very good fishing on Labrador side, Grant, at Blanc Sablon, doing well with traps; also good fishing for traps from Red Bay to Henley Harbor."

Cause of Complaint. Parties enjoying an afternoon on the old Petty Harbor Road, complain that they had been left with out any covering of earth or other carcass of a horse has been deposited. The person who placed the horse there should be compelled to cover it. Too lazy to dig a pit, owners of dead animals too frequently resort to the method of disposal complained of, and it is time that it should cease.

A False Alarm. Shortly before three o'clock this morning, a fire alarm was sent in from box 234, at the corner of Allan's Square and Theatre Hill. The Fire Companies responded but there was no sign of a fire anywhere nor was there any person present to indicate if there was a fire; the only evidence being the broken glass in the box.

Personal. Rev. Father Ashley, P.P. Torbay, leaves to-day's express to be present at the Jubilee of the Very Rev. Father Joy, P.P., of Port au Port, who was a classmate of his at the Propaganda Penitentiary Road.

Mrs. J. J. Donaldson, of Tacoma, Washington, arrived by Rosalind this morning, on an extended visit to her mother, Mrs. Esther Carew, Cape Broyle. Before proceeding to Cape Broyle, Mrs. Donaldson will remain in the city for a few days, during which time she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. John McNamara, 21 Penitentiary Road.

Miss Joyce Bradford, who has been here on a visit to Mrs. Gordon Winter, "Ormac," King's Bridge Road, leaves by S.S. Rosalind on Saturday morning.

Obituary. THERESA MITCHELL. An estimable lady in the person of Miss Theresa Mitchell passed away suddenly at her home, 5 Queen's Road at 3 o'clock this morning. Her sudden demise comes as a severe shock to her many friends, as it was only yesterday she was about town, apparently in the best of health. Miss Mitchell was the daughter of the late Thomas Mitchell, the broker. She leaves to mourn one brother, Dr. Thomas Mitchell, and one sister, Carrie besides a large circle of friends. The Telegram offers sincere condolences to the bereaved.

Hate of Noise Won Him a Fortune

Because he hated noise, he patented one of the world's richest inventions. Alden L. Putnam, of Lansing, Mich., invented balloon tires to stop the chatter of his car. Reared in the peaceful New England countryside, he enjoyed quiet instinctively. And so later, when he drove his car over railway tracks or uneven roads near Detroit, the rattle of the machine irritated him. As he did his best to quiet the noises of cars turned out of the plant. During the war Mr. Putnam served with the U.S. Motor Transport. The noise of the heavy army cars exasperated him. Finally, one day, he gave a tire a spiteful kick. It replied with a loud thump.

The inventor rushed back to his garage. He has discovered the source of road noise. He put huge tires on the wheels of his car—34 by 7 inches. The rims were not made for these, and the tires were ruined. He tried another set, and persisted until he had perfected his big tire. Mr. Putnam applied for a patent on his balloon tires in 1920, but it was granted only this year. Within the last 18 months, balloon tires have become standard equipment, and from his passion for quiet it is predicted the inventor will reap a fortune.

Automatic Wireless Instrument

SENDS S. O. S. CALLS AT SEA. That the radio operator of a ship may have a chance for his life with the rest of the crew if the vessel should sink, a new SOS sending device has been invented to give automatically the ship's call sign, the latitude and longitude, and the distress signal. After the machine has started it will continue sending out the call until the ship sinks, according to the inventor, M. Passaguin, a young French engineer. No operator is needed. Dials on the machine may be set each day according to the ship's location so that every-thing may be ready in case of accident. The instrument, operated by a small electric motor, is contained in a cabinet and may be mounted on a table. It consists of a wheel with notches all around its rim and a shaft bearing 14 cans. The notches on the rim of the wheel transmit the three dots, three dashes, and three dots of the SOS signal. These are sent three times in succession, and then follows a long space that allows for the sending of the ship's call sign. The latitude and longitude are then sent out by the cam arrangement, which has 14 cams, 10 for digits and four for compass points. The control panel is arranged with dials for the various settings. Secretly equipped with this invention does not need radio operators on board in order to send out messages of distress.

A Great Detective

A man who began his career as a pit-boy in Durham has just retired from the Metropolitan Police Force after twenty-six years' service. He is Divisional Detective-Inspector John Hedley, and he rose to be one of the cleverest members of the Criminal Investigation Department. He was associated with all the outstanding crimes in the West End of London in recent years. These included the murder of Sir Henry Wilson and the murder of Gertrude Yates by Ronald True. One desperate crook nearly killed him in a fight in a garret in Notting Hill. A lamp was knocked over and set the room on fire, but Hedley clung to his man with the courage of despair, and later his prisoner was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

Cue Of The Belt. The crook who had so nearly murdered the detective had a little son, who had been forced to watch the struggle. The child had nowhere to go and nothing to eat, and Hedley took him to his own home, where he remained as an adopted child of the family until he was old enough to go to work; later he joined the Metropolitan Police Force! After one particularly daring burglary Hedley found that the only clue on which he had to work was a soldier's belt. It had on it regimental crests, Indian relics, and a supposed precious stone that was said to have been looted from an Eastern temple. It also contained secret pockets. Hedley did a lot of inquiry work, and eventually struck up a friendship with a young woman. He showed her

Mr. Harkin has come to St. John's with a desire to "play" here and has been engaged for the evening of September 14th, at the Casino. The evening director is none other than the popular actor Joe Simon, who has appeared here several times with his own Stock Company, and who has appeared prominently in the sensation play "Three Faces East" and "The People's Choice" in St. John's with unusual interest. He is with the Harkin company Miss Violet, who is a native of St. John's and was brought to the leading role in "The Girl Who Came to Stay." The leading lady in the company is Roy Benson, who has played in the "Common Law," "The Mystery," "White Case," "The Movies" and many other successes.

Congregational

The annual picnic of the Congregational Church took place at St. John's on Sunday, August 9th. The children accompanied by their parents, reached the picnic grounds at 10 o'clock. The motor cars shortly began to arrive and the picnic promptly started to get on. A light lunch provided by the church satisfied the hunger of the day. The day was spent in football matches, races, games provided plenty of amusement. A feature of the day was a football match between the church and the Bible Class. The score of 2 goals to 1 in favor of the church, which also proved exciting. The program was presented by Wm. Frost. The children as well as the adults were entertained with a variety of games. The program was a success and the children as well as the adults were entertained with a variety of games. De La Ferre in Farewell

Dr. De La Ferre will leave for his home in Montreal on Monday. He has spent the last three days of his vacation in St. John's. He is one of the most popular of our visitors. His departure will be a loss to the city. He has been here for several weeks and has been very successful in his work. He has been very successful in his work. S. Harkins Players
Coming to St. John's

POPULAR MANAGER BRINGING COMPANY HEADED BY JOE SELMAN.

The most popular theatrical manager that ever played in St. John's is S. Harkins, who has never been known to bring a weak company. In his career he has been associated with many notable actors who have appeared here under his management, and some of whom are now holding prominent positions in the theatrical and motion picture world.

Harkins has once again signalled his desire to visit his old friends and has been booked for an engagement at the Casino Theatre commencing September 14th. His partner and director is none other than the popular actor Joe Selman who came to St. John's with the Harkins company several times in his own troupe. The Selmans are headed by Joe Selman himself who has appeared prominently on Broadway in the sensational dramatic success "Three Faces East." He has been a popular favourite wherever he has appeared and we know his reappearance in St. John's will be welcomed with unusual interest. The leading lady with the Harkins Players this season is Miss Violet Dean, born in England and was brought to America to play the leading role in "The Bird of Paradise." The leading man in this company is Roy Benware, a fine looking chap and a very capable actor.

Among the plays to be presented are "The Common Law," "The Cat and the Hat," "It is the Law," "Spring Rain," "White Cargo," "Merton of the Movies" and many other Broadway successes.

Congregational
S. S. Picnic

The annual picnic for the children of the Congregational Sunday School took place at Smithville yesterday. The children accompanied by their teachers, reached the grounds by motor cars shortly before noon and immediately started to enjoy themselves. A light lunch provided for the youngsters satisfied the inner man until the heat of the day was served at 5 p.m. Football matches, races and various games provided plenty of amusement. A feature of the day was a spirited football match between the teachers and Bible Class. The latter won by a score of 2 goals to nil. A road race which also proved exciting, was won by Wm. Frost. The rain showers detracted nothing from the enjoyment of the children as when they came amusement was provided indoors until the weather cleared again. The Rev. A. L. and Mrs. Nicol were present throughout the day and did much to help make the youngsters enjoy themselves. The programme concluded with cheers for the teachers and all those responsible for the outing and return to the city was made at 9 p.m.

De La Ferre in Farewell Programme

MYSTERY AND ILLUSION AT CRESCENT TONIGHT.

Dr. De La Ferre presents his farewell programme at the Crescent the last three days of this week-end. His act to-night is one of fun and mystery. See Aladdin's Disappearing Lamp, an illusion that will make you sit up and take notice.

Those who missed his impersonation act last night, certainly missed a treat that they will probably never have the opportunity of witnessing again. Mr. De La Ferre appeared in studies of different well known personages of past and present days. He opened his act with an impersonation of one of the greatest of all great men, namely the late ex-President Woodrow Wilson, the man whose aim it was to make the world safe for Democracy. His last impersonation was that of Britain's present sovereign King George V. in Naval Uniform. The audience was moved with the spirit of patriotism and applauded vigorously.

The picture attraction with to-night's program is a delightful social drama entitled "Wandering Husband" starring Lila Lee and James Kirkwood.

THE PASSING HOUR

"Piscatorial Problem."—"Father, do the big fishes eat sardines?" "Yes, my son!" "How do they get them out of the fish?"

Not as Tall as He Was Short.—"Can you give a good description of your absconding cashier?" "I've asked the detective."

"Well," answered the hotel proprietor, "I believe he's about five feet five inches tall and about $7,000 short."

Released From the Strain.—"Who is the very slinky chap you were just talking to?" "He's a teacher of English enjoying a day off."
