DAY

It Is "Little Things" That Make or Mar the Toilet.

Original and Striking Designs Shown Paris Dressmakers Are Not Difficult to Copy

This is indeed the "day of little things" in matters of dress. It is in the details of the toilet that success, or complete want of success, lies. Never, I think, was more attention paid to the dainty "frills and fur-belows" that make a woman look so charming and, to the male eyes, so utterly bewildering, and these uncom-mon and lovely details are by no means expensive, only they demand the exercise of taste and—when they are made at home—they demand some patience, writes Idalia de Villiers, Paris correspondent.

This is indeed to be a "winter of embroidery." But the latest designs, shown by our leading dressmakers and milliners, are not at all difficult to copy. They are original and surprisingly effective, but a clever girl who knows how to use her needle can arrive at wonderful things.

Take for example the exquisite lit-tle blouse-coatee shown in the sketch. This is one of Beer's latest models and it is expressed in putty-colored poult

de soie, with a beautiful gilet, or waistcoat, of putty-colored canvas cloth em-broidered in royal blue and rust-red wools. The straight lines which run across the waistcoat are royal blue, in the thick soft wool which we used to call "double berlin," and the wool attached to the canvas cloth after the manner of soutache or braid. Then the little rounds are worked in rustred wool in a simple crewel stitch.

Further, the loose tie which holds the collar in place is made entirely of royal blue wool, with a row of little red balls to form a fringe. You will notice that the same wool embroidery is introduced on the loose sleeves. Also that the blouse has a basque and a ceinture of putty-color suede.

Several of the more important dress makers are showing blouse coatees of this order and very pretty and decorative they are. The model described would be lovely in navy-blue duvetyn or soft black serge, with any chosen colors introduced in the waistcoat and on the sleeves.

LENINE.

One of the Men Controlling the Destiny of Russia.

In his first speech as a leader of the Maximalists, who seized Petro-grad and ousted the Kerensky re-gime, Lenine declared that the first thing he would do would be to start peace negotiations. As peace agitapeace negotiations. As peace agitator and alleged German agent he was arrested in July, but later escaped. The Kerensky regime threatened to try him as a spy if caught again. His real name is Vladimir Liltch Ulianoff, and he is about fifty years old, Russian-born, of an intelligent family long identified with revolutionary activities. His book "The Development of Capitalism in Russia" is regarded of Capitalism in Russia" is regarded as one of the most valuable contribu-tions to Russian economic literature, and his articles on agrarian, economic and scientific problems won him high place in the estimation of socialists and scientists alike. Shortly after the revolution Lenine, returning from exile in Switzerland, declared his position against the provisional government.

It was explained that the provisional government, anxious to avoid any accusation of interference with freedom of speech or of the press, had therefore hesitated to arrest Lenine, but that in recent days officials determined not to tolerate them any longer, regarding them as "more dangerous for Russia and her liber-ty than the Germans."

In connection with his believed pro-German activities documents de-clared to have been found in the re-cord of the old department of police were regarded by Russians as signi-ficant successful offensive led by Alexander Kerensky, came near putting the Bolsheviki in command of Petrograd and resulted in the resignation of George Lvoff as premier and his replacement by Kerensky.

Since then Lenine has been in hiding. Order for his arrest was issued at once, and it was reported that he was captured in Finland, near the Swedish border, a few days later, but was retaken by his friends. After that he was reported to be in hiding in Sweden, or even in Switzerland, but recently it has been said that most of the time he was in Finland and in constant telephonic connection with Trotzsky and other Mexiand in constant telephonic connection with Trotzsky and other Meximalist leaders. At all events, he intended to put in his appearance at the democratic congress in Moscow in September, and the Bolsheviki had the effrontry to ask Kerensky for a guarantee that he would not be arrested. This the premier refused to do, so Lenine remained in hiding, though it appears that any determined effort to find him would probably ed effort to find him would probably have been successful had Kerensky dared to use summary measures.

He was elected to the second douma after the revolution in 1905, was compelled to go into exile, a thing he had often done before, when the reaction triumphed. At the be-ginning of the present war he was in Cracow and was interned as an enemy alien, but was shortly released and allowed to proceed to Zimmerwald, in Switzerland, where a colony of Russian revolutionists was already established.

After the revolution the provisional government of Russia entered into an agreement with Germany by which the Russian revolutionists in Switzerland were allowed to return through Germany in return for the release of German civilians in Russia. Lenine headed the party which returned by this route, and his social program, which he has been advocating ever since, was drawn up as he passed through. He reached Petro-grad on April 16th, just after the pacifists in the council of workmen's and soldiers' deputies had forced the resignation of Millukoff, and at once began to preach immediate peace and general confiscation. - Boston

AN OIL WITHOUT ALCOHOL. -Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential ois compose the famous Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting. There is no medicinal oil compounded that can equal this oil in its preventive and healing power.

Income Tax Forms now available

Returns must be filed on or before 31st March

THE Dominion Income War Tax Act requires you to fill in one or more of the five special Forms provided before 31st March, 1918. In order to assist the public to understand just what is required of them, information on each Form is given below. Read carefully, then get three copies of the form that fits your case and fill them in. Answer all questions fully and accurately. For making false statements, a penalty of $10,000 or six months? imprisonment, or both, is provided.

Individuals.—All persons unmarried, and all widows or widowers without dependent children; whose income is $1500 a year or more, must fill in Form T1. All other persons whose income is $3000 or more, use the same Form. Where any income is derived from dividends, list amounts received from Canadian and Foreign securities separarely. Fill in pages 1, 2 and 3 only. Do not mark on page 4. Partnerships, as such need not file returns, but the individuals forming the partperships must.

Corporations and Joint Stock Companies, no matter how created or organized, shall pay the normal tax on income exceeding $3000. Use Form T2—giving particulars of income. Also attach a financial statement. Under Deductions, show in detail amounts paid to Patriotic Fund and Canadian Red Cross or other approved War Funds. Trustees, Executors, Administrators of Estates and Assignees use Form T3. Full particulars of the distribution of income from all estates handled must be shown as well as details of amounts distributed. A separate Form must be filled in for each estate.

Employers must use Form T4 to give names and amounts of salaries, bonuses, commissions and other remuneration paid to all employees during 1917 where such remuneration amounted in the aggregate to $1000 or over.

Corporation Lists of Shareholders.—On Form T5 corporations shall give a statement of all bonuses, and dividends paid to Shareholders residing in Canada during 1917 stating to whom paid, and the amounts.

Figures in every case are to cover 1917 income—all Forms must be filed by 31st March. For neglect, a fine of $100 for each day of default may be imposed. In the case of Forms T1 and T2, keep one copy of the filled in Form and file the other two with the Inspector of Taxation for your District. In the case of T3, T4 and T5, keep one copy and file the other two, with the Commissioner of Taxation, Dept. of Finance, Ottawa. Forms may be obtained from the District Inspectors of Taxation and from the Post-masters at all leading centres.

Postage must be paid on all letters and documents forwarded by mail to Inspector of Taxation.

ABORIGINES.

Even the Word Itself is Wrapped in Mystery.

Even the very word "aborigines" is wrapped in mystery. Those who know nothing of the discussion which has centered round the subject, sail in, it is true, easily enough with the simple etymological explanation that the word is clearly derived from two the word is clearly derived from two Latin words, namely, ab and origine, meaning from the beginning. A little more investigation, however, and the difficulties begin, for the word aborigine did not originally apply to the oldest inhabitants of any country, but to a mythical people, the Aborigines of Central Italy, connected with the legendary history of Aeneas, Latinus, and Evander. These were supposed to have descended from their mountain home, near the ancient Sabine town of Reate, upon Latium, whence they expelled the Siceli, and subsequently settled down as Latini, under a King Latius. The difficulty in the way of attributing an almost obvious derivation to their almost obvious derivation to their name arises from the fact that they were always regarded as "Hellenic immigrants," 'and not as an original than ourselves.

And yet there is, after all, something specially appropriate in the fact that the origin of the word should be unknown, because that is the first prerequisite of the aborigine. Indeed, the moment his origin is known, he ceases to be an aborigine. And it is this fact, no doubt, which has always rendered him such an attractive figure in history and in fictractive figure in history and in fic-tion. Even the black man of the Australian bush, whose annals, as far as can be ascertained, contain no-far as can be ascertained, contain nothing of the great deeds of the North American Indian, is not without his honored place in story.

Then, of course, when it comes to the North American Indian, the doors of one of the greatest hunting grounds of romance and high adventure which history affords is immediately thrown open. In the company of such master guides as James Fenimore Cooper and Cantain Mayarin Mayari more Cooper and Captain Mayne Reid, one takes the trail as easily and naturally as ever did a Hawk Eye, or one of Montcalm's Indians. And so every aboriginal people, al-most, has its special chronicler.

one of the great difficulties about aborigines is to be certain that they are aborigines. About the vast non-Aryan peoples of India, the Bhils and the Gouds of the central highlands, for instance, there may be no doubt. Neither is there any doubt about the Organicians upon whose doubt. Neither is there any quout about the Oravidians, upon whose struggle with the Aryan hordes, pressing through the passes of the Hindu Kush from the north, the curtain is rung up on Indian history; but when it comes to such people as the Maoris of New Zealand, for instance, the matter is found to be full of debate. They were, it is true, the people that the great old Dutch navigator Tasman found there when, on the 13th of December, 1642, he cast anchor off a "high mountainous country," to which he gave the name of Staten Landt. And yet, although no-thing is to be proved, everything goes to show that, in spite of the fact that to show that, in spite of the fact that their very name means "indigenous," they none the less were not the oldest inhabitants, but displaced an earlier Melanesian tribe. Indeed, they themselves, although such evidence is far from conclusive, look away from the New Zealand to Sarvill originally Sarvill, the largest vail, originally Savaiki, the largest island of the Samoan group, for their origin. "The seed of our coming is from Hawaiki; the seed of our nour-ishment the seed of mankind." So one may go on. One aboriginal people leads to another, and, before one knows it, one is building up theories, repeopling lands, raising lost continrepeopling lands, raising lost continents, and finding traces of lost races wherever one goes.

TWEEDS FOR SCHOOL FROCKS

Are Among the Newest and Also the Most Practical Materials for Girls' Suits.

A charming tweed suit for a school girl is cut on new and becoming lines, in a soft, woolly tweed in a double checked design. It is in black and white, yet the pattern is woven so skillfully that it gives a gray effect that is inconspicuous and splendid to conceal dirt. The skirt is straight and plain, and the loose coat is slightly high waisted, with belt and straps of the same material. It has hip pockets and the ever-becoming flat collar and revers. With this may be worn a hat in velours in a soft purple shade simply adorned with a band of black ribbon. Tweeds are the newest and most practical wear for girls.

Delightfully simple dancing or school frocks are made in nattier blue poplin with a little suggestion of silk em broidery on the collar, cuffs and sash ends. This simple garment merely hangs in straight plaits from a yoke, yet will prove most useful and becom ing to youth.

Dark shades are to be worn this season—the grays, navys, and browns, and the tete-de-negre with dark greens

HANDMADE FLOWERS ON HATS

Newest Trimming Consists of Calla Lilles, Orchids and Clematis in Varied Colorings.

For instance, there are calla lilies, orchids, clematis and tiger lilies, as well as butterflies in varied and brilliant colorings. Many shades of chenille are used to make the butterfly look as if it were poised upon the gown. The bride is included in the new trimming vogue. Her wreath of yore was made up of white wax flowers; now she wears adorable white silk roses set in silver with long spirals of silver. And her corsage matches.

ATTACKED BY ASTHMA. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which hour by hour becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellog's Asthma Remedy seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quickly apparent and soon the dreadful attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere. everywhere.

Safety First Hints.

Some safety hints for the wise which are intended to guard against serious accidents and a possible loss of life, are being sent out broadcast by the electric light companies. From them may be selected the following: Do not cover an electric globe with paper or cloth. It may start a fire. Do not hang an ordinary lamp cord over a nail or metal work. Do not leave a cord connected when you are through it it. Do not touch any wire that is down on the ground, whether it is an electric, telephone, or guy wire. In an emergency, remove a wire with an instrument equipped with a wooden handle, keeping the full length of the handle between yourself and the wire.—Popular yourself and t Science Monthly.

An Exploded Belief.

That stars are visible in the day-time from the bottom of a deep shaft or well has been generally believed since the days of Aristotle, but there s not the slightest foundation for the dea. Baron Humboldt, who spent a good deal of time in mines himself and questioned miners in various parts of the world, found no evi-dence in support of this belief, and though it has since been thoroughly "exploded" the idea flourishes just as vigorously as ever.

Spare the children from suffering from Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be got with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and helpless. There is nothing that excels this preparation as a worm destroyer, and when its qualities become known in a household no other will be used. The medicine acts by itself, requiring no purgative to assist it, and so thoroughly that nothing more is desired.

Miss Marguerite Sanderson, president of the Boston School of Physical Education, has been appointed supervisor of the new corps, the members of which will be women especially trained for the work.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, widow of the late ambassador to London, has been appointed a deputy commissioner of the American Red Cross for Great Britain.
