MYSTERY SOLVED IN THE DIGBY DISAPPEARANCE CASE

Body of Edward MacGregor Found in the Woods
Not Far from His Home—Skull Smashed and Pockets Rifled—Nineteen Year
Old Boy Arrested on Suspicion

The mystery regarding the disappearance of Edward MacGregor, of Digby, has been partly solved. The disappearance occurred on October 11th. A few days since $100 reward was offered by the government for information regarding the missing man. On Sunday the ghostly remains of MacGregor were found in the woods near Digby on the border of a lake.

MacGregor was an old man, living alone in a desolate part of Digby county, three miles from the town. He was always known to carry a large sum of money, sometimes as much as $100, and foul play has been suspected from the first.

Acting on instructions of Attorney General MacLean, Detective Hanrahan was detailed to make an investigation. The detective spent a week in Digby and the surrounding country, investigating the matter. On his return to Halifax the reward was offered.

The appearance of the body when found substantiated the theory of foul play. The skull was smashed in two, and his pockets had been rifled, one left turned inside out.

Suspicion pointing to one Joseph Tebo, aged nineteen, he was arrested and lodged in jail. Tebo was seen in the vicinity of the MacGregor house the night the old man disappeared. The next day he displayed a large sum of money, although he was known to have been paid off by his employer the day before with only a few cents due him. The detective alleges that he has since spent about $135 on a trip to St. John.

Enforcing the Law

The Sydney Council have passed a resolution ordering the Liquor License Inspector and the Chief of Police, with his staff to "wipe out the liquor traffic from that city."

Kentville Advertiser: Kentville which has experienced by far too much of the evil effects of liquor for the past summer, bids fair to see a great change. The temperance committee have decided unanimously to go on and prosecute third offences, and a case for third offence against Mr. A. Franey will come up for hearing next Monday. Mr. Franey was fined $50.00 about a week ago for bringing liquor into the country. The charge in this case is for keeping for sale.

Amherst Sentinel: All yesterday afternoon and up until nearly midnight last night Stipendiary McKenzie was busily engaged in Scott A. trials affecting the proprietorship of the Amherst and Terrace Hotels. This morning the cases were continued for argument, at the conclusion of which Stipendiary McKenzie gave judgement for the prosecution in all four cases and also granted order for the destruction of the liquor seized. It was the biggest day's work in Scott Act cases for some years.

Carpenter-Morton Roofing lays thirty inches to the weather, so it is not as liable to sag or buckle as other roofings. It is fire resisting and waterproof and will wear for years. Earl Freeman carries a complete stock and sells it under an absolute guarantee of durability.

The Great Apple Way

Modern Thoroughfares, Thirty-four Miles Long to be Built in Spokane Valley.
Spokane Wash., Nov. 18.—Two modern thoroughfares, each thirty-four miles in length, known as "the Great Apple Way" will be built the length of the Spokane valley, between Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, at a cost of $350,000. The preliminary work will be taken up in a few days and it is expected that actual construction will begin early next spring. The funds required will be contributed as follows:—States, 56 per cent, counties, 35 per cent, and land owners, 15 per cent.

The roads will be of oil and macadam, 24 feet centre with four-foot shoulders and lined on both sides with apple and elm trees, making two unique highways. Orchards and nurseries and irrigation companies operating in the valley have contributed trees and water and the work of caring for them will be done by ranchers along the routes. The work on the Washington side will cost about $200,000 and will be done under the direction of the state highway commission and the Spokane County Good Roads Association.

"The first road to be built will be the extension of East Sprague avenue," said J. A. Perry, secretary of the Spokane County Good Roads Association. "The property owners there have contributed $34,000 or about 89,000 more than the proprietors of the Trent road. The route has been surveyed and work will be pushed next spring. This road will be 15 miles in length to the Idaho line."

"The Spokane & Inland Empire Electric Railway company has donated a bridge across the Spokane river and this span will be maintained by the states of Washington and Idaho. We have also received substantial contributions from other sources and are now in position to say that the two roads will be completed."

Entertainment at Dalhousie

An entertainment given in the Methodist Church here on Friday the 18th ult. proved a great success, not only in affording profitable amusement but in the attainment of the object of its promotion, viz:—The raising of a sum of $10. for the benefit of the widow of the late Glen Gillis of this settlement.

Postponed from Wednesday by reason of the inclemency of the weather we were favoured with a fine evening on Friday, and the people taking advantage of the opportunity presented, congregated in goodly numbers.

An excellent programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental solos, readings, gramophone selections, etc., was carried through splendidly, being supplemented with a descriptive talk, entitled "A Cruise with His Late Majesty King Edward VII in the Mediterranean."

The singing of the Doxology at 9.30 brought a very pleasant evening to a close, many thanks being due to all who took an active part in the programme.

The sum raised is small, the cause a needy and deserving one and contributions however small will be gratefully accepted by the widow or on her behalf by W. Willoughby, care of Thomas Todd, Dalhousie, from any who love our common Lord and Master, and who realize that it is "more blessed to give than to receive."—COM.

EXPENSIVE

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, Superintendent of Chicago Public Schools, and President of the National Education Association, says, according to the School Journal for March, 1910, p. 275, that the ideal teacher has the following attributes: "Patience, philosophy, humor, good luck, steadfastness, health, persistence, clear-headedness, sympathy, diplomacy, persuasiveness, positiveness, gentleness, open-mindedness, force, enthusiasm, pointedness, clear-vision, independence, friendliness, and charm."

And an average daily wage of $1.69. Twenty-one fine qualities for 8 cents a piece!

Mrs. Jordan's Gift to New Brunswick

Mrs. J. C. Jordan, widow of the millionaire Boston merchant, who erected for himself a magnificent summer home at River Glade has presented that property to the New Brunswick government to be used as a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis. For years the physicians of New Brunswick have been striving to secure suitable premises for the treatment of the dread disease and Mrs. Jordan's gift comes to us most complete in the province. The site was selected in deference to Mrs. Jordan, who was a Miss Stiles, of River Glade, and who has inherited a fortune of over $1,000,000 by the death of her husband, which occurred about a year ago. The property is of some 600 or 700 acres and the buildings erected and maintained a fine stable of well bred horses there.

Mrs. Jordan was a yearly visitor to his River Glade home, until illness necessitated a trip to California, where he died. He was much interested in the district and maintained a fine stable of well bred horses there.

Mrs. Jordan's gift will be fully appreciated by the people of New Brunswick. While the death rate from consumption is decreasing and while the disease is more generally understood and active steps are being taken to arrest its ravages, there is no place in the province to which a patient may be sent for proper treatment. The climate of River Glade should be well adapted for the disease and the home and surroundings will be ideal for the purpose.

"There is plenty of space to work in and much good should result from Mrs. Jordan's kindly action. Premier Hazen and others interested were at River Glade recently, looking over the situation with which they expressed their delight. It is understood that immediate steps will be taken to derive the fullest advantages from this splendid donation for the welfare of the province."—Sussex Record.

Movement for Abolition of Upper House Grows Stronger

LONDON Nov. 17.—An apparently inspired statement issued to-day from November 23rd as the date for the dissolution of Parliament. The Government, it is asserted, designs to pass the budget before appealing to the country, the debate on the financial measure proceeding in the House of Commons while the Lords are discussing the Veto Bill.

"That the 'Irish dictator' will figure largely in the Unionist campaign was indicated by the excitement at the annual conference of Conservative Associations at Nottingham this morning when Henry Chaplin, Unionist member of Parliament for Wimbledon, and former president of the Local Government Board in an opening speech denounced the Government, who he said, was handing over the rule of the country to the "Sworn enemy of England, who with the gold of foreign millionaires aspires to dictate our destinies."

London, Nov. 16.—Clearly the whirlwind is being loosed. The question now facing England is, Who will ride it and guide it? Upon the answer may depend the national existence. All political parties here are tracing themselves for the conflict, which everything indicates will be a battle to the death. Each side is determined to crush the other completely and forever.

Noted Aviator Killed

Fell Five Hundred Feet and Was Dashed to Death.
Denver, Col., Nov. 17.—With one wing tip of his machine crumpled up like a piece of paper, Ralph Johnson, the brilliant young aviator, holder of the world's altitude record, dropped today like a plummet from a height of five hundred feet into the inclosure at Overland Park aviation field and was instantly killed.

While the spectators crowded about and watched him his body lay beneath, the engine of the plane, with the white plane that had failed him in his time of need wrapped about it like a shroud. Nearly every bone in his body was broken. He had gambled with death once too often, but he played the game to the end, fighting coolly and grimly to the last second to regain control of his broken machine.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES PAIN

HALIFAX EXPRESS ON I. C. R. CRASHES INTO SPECIAL
Moncton, November 20—No. 9. I. C. R. express due in Moncton from Halifax at three o'clock yesterday morning, crashed into a special standing on a siding at Sackville. The locomotive of the express jumped the rails, running into the side of a van, smashing it beyond recognition and damaging the locomotive. The mail car and express were thrown from the track and the road bed was damaged for a considerable distance. That there was no loss of life is almost miraculous.

Bridgetown Skating Rink

The Bridgetown Rink Company have sold out their proprietary rights to A. R. Bishop and F. R. Beckwith, who will conduct the Rink as a business enterprise. The business experience of Messrs. Bishop and Beckwith, together with their keen interest in sport augers well for the success of their new venture, and the public of Bridgetown look forward to another season of clean beautiful sport such as was provided for them last year by the Bridgetown Rink Company, with additional attractive features.

Hockey will be a prominent feature of the coming winter's sport. An associated Hockey League is in progress of organization to combine Kentville, Berwick, Middleton, Bridgetown and Annapolis. A number of improvements will be made in the Rink. A four feet board walk will be built around the ice without limiting the skating space. This will be a feature appreciated by many who would enjoy attending hockey matches and carnivals, but find it too cold for comfort standing in a limited space. The illumination will be improved by the addition of numerous Tungsten lights. A toilet will be added to the ladies' dressing room and other conveniences arranged. Music will be furnished by members of the Bridgetown Brass Band, and it is probable that the restaurant in connection with the Rink will be conducted under capable management.

If the present season's venture proves a success the promoters contemplate an outdoor gymnasium to supplant the rink during the warm season.

Wedding Bells in Digby

TUPPER—SYDA
A pretty wedding took place in Grace Methodist church, Digby, on Tuesday the 16th inst., when Mr. W. Robert Tupper, of Round Hill, was united in marriage to Miss Helen, daughter of Mrs. John H. Syda, of this town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. Daniel, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large number of friends, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather which prevailed. The bride, who was unattended, was gowned in black broad cloth trimmed with black moire silk, with picture hat of white moire silk with white plumes. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns and was given away by her brother, Mr. Haylette H. Syda. After the knot had been tied the happy couple were conveyed to the St. John boat by Jones' cab enroute to Ottawa, Montreal, Niagara and other places of interest. After their return they will reside at Round Hill. The church presented a handsome appearance, being especially trimmed for the occasion. The presents were useful and valuable, the groom's gift to the bride being a gold watch. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Edrie Titus.—Courier

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES HELD AT PROVIDENCE METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. W. H. Heartz, D. D. a Former Preacher of the Circuit Delivers Anniversary Sermon—
Congregational Banquet on Monday
Night—Evangelistic Services
Continued This Week

Anniversary exercises celebrating the 32d year of the erection of Providence church of this town were held with much success on Sunday and Monday of this week. The full program as announced in last week's Monitor was carried out. The preacher for the morning on Sunday was Rev. Mr. Phillips, of Middleton, and it is safe to say that the large congregation that assembled at ten o'clock had their expectations of the preacher's eloquence and power amply fulfilled. At the evening service the church was thronged by friends and admirers of the preacher—Rev. W. H. Heartz, D.D.—a former pastor of the circuit, and during whose ministry Providence church was erected. The sermon was one of those discourses which are at the same time not only simple and searching but profound and convincing. The music for the day was of a high order, the solos in the anthems being taken by Mrs. Porter and Mr. F. Beckwith. A very much enjoyed song service was conducted in the Lecture Room at the close of the evening meeting.

On Monday evening a congregational rally and banquet were held at 5.30, at the close of which a service was held in the auditorium presided over by Rev. L. Daniel, chairman of the Annapolis District. In connection with this service addresses on different phases of evangelistic work, were given by the following named clergymen of the District, Rev. J. H. Davis, of Granville Ferry, Rev. J. A. Hart, of Lawrencetown, Rev. C. W. Porter-Shirley, of Annapolis, and Rev. L. Daniel, of Digby. At the conclusion of these addresses Dr. Heartz, who is still in town, conducting a series of special evangelistic meetings in the church, laid before the congregation the plan for the week's work and most effectively impressed the people with the importance of such a series of services.

There was a debt of about five hundred dollars against the church, and although it was not the original plan to endeavor to meet the full amount, yet the congregation were so inspired by Dr. Heartz's generous offer that a movement was inaugurated by which it is expected that the entire indebtedness will be paid.

Died While Viewing Funeral Procession

The death took place at Elmsdale, Hants Co., on Saturday last of Harding Fraser of this place. Mr. Fraser took sick about two years ago, but was able to be about until last spring when his physicians decided that an operation was necessary, and he was removed to Halifax. The operation, however, failed to effect a cure, and he was a great sufferer up to the end.

While the funeral services were being held his stepfather, Mr. Peter Tulloch, with whom he lived, and who had been sick for some days in bed, raised himself up to see the funeral procession leave the house, and in lying down again suddenly passed away. His death was so sudden and unexpected that it was a great shock to his relatives and the mourning friends. He was an old resident of Elmsdale and also one of its best citizens. Much sympathy is expressed for his widow, Mrs. Fraser, and the long strain of watching on and caring for her son, Mr. Fraser, in his long and painful illness.

New Church at Torbrook Mines

Dedication of the Building With Appropriate Services in which Baptist Minister Assisted Middleton, November 14—The new Presbyterian church at Torbrook was dedicated yesterday. The movement for the erection of a church at the mines, at Torbrook started in March. Rev. G. L. McCain, the evangelistic pastor of the Presbyterian church at Middleton, was assisted by a committee which included Messrs. McLeod, Archibald and MacAloney, officers of the Canada Iron Corporation. The building, which cost about one thousand dollars, is all paid for but one hundred dollars. A grant was received through the Presbytery and Francis Burrows, of Wabana, and other outside friends gave generous donations. Rev. J. A. Ramsay, of New Glasgow, a former very popular pastor of the Middleton church, conducted the dedication, being assisted by Rev. Mr. McCain in the morning and Rev. C. H. Haverstock, Baptist, in the evening.

Silly, Inexcusable, Indicates Low Breeding.

(From New York American.)
 SWEARING IS USELESS. This is a utilitarian age, in which only pecuniary results are supposed to be worthy of consideration, and, in the query of the merits of trade, we ask "Will it pay?"

Did curses ever facilitate intricate book-keeping? Did they ever strengthen a man's credit at the bank or deepen the confidence of the community in a man's business integrity?

Does a merchant's profanity commend either himself or his goods? Did oaths ever take the manness out of a customer or collect a bad debt? Has ever a boss mechanic or foreman of a factory made his men more efficient in their work by cursing them? Has a physician ever added efficacy to his prescriptions by leading his patients with a profane tongue? Has a lawyer ever attracted paying clients to his office by his profanity? Has it ever helped him to analyze his cases? Is swearing a real value in character? Why should an honorable man have to add oaths to confirm his words?

SWEARING IS SILLY. Suppose a man should say: "What's the bloody use of using the bloody word 'bloody' every bloody time he opens his bloody mouth to say the bloody word 'bloody'?"

SWEARING IS INEXCUSABLE. Sin with many a man, for instance the passion for strong drink, is hereditary. Intemperance is a disease of the physical rather than a vice chargeable to the moral man. But what swearer can claim a constitutional tendency to this sin? Do you say "I never swear unless I am angry?" So when one angers you, you insult God! There is as much reason in that excuse as though you stabbed your father or kicked your mother, because somebody has offered you a drink.

"I know it is a foolish habit, but I do not mean anything by it." You are not without a motive are you? Do you know when people are awake and do things without meaning anything that they are committing themselves of insanity?

THE MAN WHO LACKS SELF-CONTROL LACKS THE VERY NERVE OF CHARACTER. General von Moltke had the power to hold his tongue in seven languages. No man is expected to live without ever showing resentment, but why put it into the shape of speech which rankles in the hearer like a poisoned arrow? "Seest thou a man hasty in his words? There is more hope of a fool than of him."

A greater thing than brains is the ability to command them. "GENTLEMEN, WILL YOU SWEAR. Who would think of calling a swearing woman a lady? The man who can be a gentleman when he wants to be never wants to be anything else. George Washington said: "The foolish and wicked practice of profane swearing is a vice so mean and low that every person of sense and character detests and despises it." Abraham Lincoln said to a person sent to him by one of the senators, and who in conversation with him uttered an oath: "I thought the senator had sent me a gentleman. I see I was mistaken. Take up the door and I bid you good day."

PROFANITY INDICATES LOW BREEDING. It detracts from the grace of conversation. It is an evidence of a weak brain and limited ideas. A New York bird fancier offered to the public the opportunity of buying some "swearing parrots." We are inclined to think that most of the profanity in the world comes from swearing parrots—rom boys and men who swear not because they think swearing a commendable form of speech or pleasure to the listener; who use profane language merely because they have heard other use it, and parrot-like have just brains enough to imitate other people's vices.

SWEARING IS COWARDLY. The power of strong words, fitly spoken on appropriate occasions, will be the mighty levers with which the world's great orators have aroused the sluggish masses to duty, to acts of heroism, and enterprises, whose results have promoted the well-being of the human race. But profanity never strengthened resolutions, never inspired the faint heart with hope. Indeed, the profane, as a rule, lack in moral and physical courage.

SWEARING IS WICKED. It springs from a malignant spirit in man against God, because He has forbidden it. The shrewd Quaker's advice to the profane youth, "Swear away my young friend, till thee gets all that bad stuff out of thee," points to the real source of the vice.

THE DEADLY NATURE OF PROFANITY lies in this: Men always lose faith in that which they take lightly on their tongues. To take God's name in vain is to raise up an army of doubts. Oaths are like draggins teeth, sown by Cadmus of old—from them spring a harvest of armed giants of doubt and unbelief. There is no way in which you can make God seem a myth, an unreality, and destroy His power over men more easily than by taking His name lightly on the lips.

A coachman, pointing to one of his horses, said: "That horse, sir, knows when I swear at him." "Yes," replied the traveller, "so does your Maker." The oaths that you utter utter may die on the air but God hears them and they have an eternal echo. Charles Babbege, in the "Ninth Bridgewater Treatise," says, in effect, that the slightest word, though it be but a whispered interjection, vibrating on the air, sets in operation a series of changes which undulate to the very outskirts of creation, rising and falling like an everlasting tide. William Hazlitt's poetic sentiment, "Words are the only things that last forever," harmonizes with the positive declaration of Jesus: "But I say unto you that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof, in the day of judgment."

Will Make Hair Grow
 Every up-to-date woman should have radiant hair. There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it. In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair. Every Canadian woman can have lustrous and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA. W. A. Warren sells a large bottle for cents, and guarantees it to banish dandruff, itching scalp in ten days, or money back.

Among the time and labor savers which recent inventions have placed within reach is the electric magnet. One of these magnets will lift twelve tons of steel rails from a car at one time and deposit them in a pile by the track side more neatly than they could be placed by hand. It will unload iron and steel scrap at one-tenth the cost of hand labor and in the handling of iron ore similar economies are effected.

Not long since the same mechanism was used for recovering a cargo of hardware from a sunken barge in the Mississippi.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LTD. Gentlemen,—In July, 1905 I was thrown from a road machine, injuring my hip and back badly and was obliged to use a crutch for fourteen months. In September, 1906 Mr. Wm. Outridge, of Lachute, urged me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I did with the most satisfactory results and today I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours sincerely,
 MATTHEW BAINES.

 Sydney, Nov. 16.—Bruce MacDougall of Moncton, of "Free Speech" and "Vindicator" fame, fell down stairs in the Windsor Hotel here at 3.20 this afternoon. He struck his head on the concrete floor and died instantly. AWARDED NOBEL PRIZE
 Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 11.—The Nobel Prize Committee today, awarded the prize for literature for 1910, to Paul John Ludwig Heyse, the German poet, and novelist. Heyse was born in Berlin in 1830, and has produced some tragedies, many narratives, and epic poems and several works on philosophy as well as collections of mythical tales and novels.

If the average man could run his own affairs as well as he knows he could run the other fellow's there would be a big decrease in the failures reported by Dunn and Bradstreet.

Hymn Must Go

(From Boston American.)

The famous hymn which begins with the line, "From Greenland's icy mountains," is to be taken from the Episcopal Hymnal. It will be removed, it is expected, at the general convention of the church at Cincinnati this week. Here is the stanza to which objection is generally taken:

Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle;
 Bow down to wood and stone;
 Though every prospect pleases
 And only man is vile.
 In vain with lavish kindness
 The gifts of God are strown;
 The heathen in his blindness
 Bows down to wood and stone.

Laymen say that the line declaring that "only man is vile" is distasteful.

The hymn was composed ninety-two years ago in England by Bishop Reginald Heber before he went to take up his work in India. Ever since then it has been sung at all missionary meetings of the Episcopal church.

Another objection against it is that the hymn does not represent the modern spirit in the mission cause and has outgrown its usefulness.

Archdeacon Samuel G. Babcock, at the head of the missionary work of the Episcopal church in the State of Massachusetts, believes that the objections against the hymn are not well taken. He said:

"I think that we are making too much of the objection against this famous hymn. It has been sung for years at the missionary councils of the Episcopal church, and I sincerely hope that no influence is strong enough to have it removed. There is much sentiment in this hymn that we must respect, that hard and dry methods would aim to condemn."

"The hymn came to light under one of those inspiring moments when the cause of missions was taking a new turn, and Bishop Heber, its author, was a true poet and simply but effectively expressed in this hymn the missionary impulse.

"The objection that it appeals to nature in an unattractive way is weak, as we have other hymns that may err in this direction more conspicuously.

"I have no sympathy with the movement that would take this hymn, as well as other hymns like 'Our Blessed Redeemer Ever He Breathed,' 'I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord,' out of our hymnal. It is a false sentiment and in fact instead of taking any more hymns away from us I should be glad to see more hymns added. I believe that the convention will vote down the attempt to remove this from the hymnal."

In the industrial world which has been thrown open to women we find that women have gone into nursing, medicine, fine arts, all of which deal with the person. They are most successful in things that bring immediate personal approval. They are least in the activities that take initiative and involve a long period of waiting before there is personal recognition of achievement.

The time sometimes comes in the treatment of cases which have been dieted so carefully that a change to an ordinary wholesome dietary becomes not only proper but necessary for recovery.

Canadian Parliament was opened on the seventeenth inst. with the customary ceremonial. The speech from the throne by His Excellency Earl Grey, dealt with a number of topics of interest, including Canada's commercial relations with the United States in the following terms:

"While recognizing the importance of the Canadian home trade and the great value of the market for our staples in the United Kingdom, my Government felt that they should avail themselves of every opportunity to promote friendly commercial relations with the British colonies and foreign countries, so that our surplus products may be admitted into the markets of those foreign countries on the most favorable terms. In pursuance of this policy, commercial arrangements involving reduction of our Customs dues have been made with Italy and Belgium and a reduced schedule of duties has been granted to the Netherlands. The desirability of more equitable tariff arrangements between the United States and Canada has long been felt on this side of the border. The commercial policy of the Republic had not hitherto favored imports from Canada. We have sought largely from the United States, but they have bought much less from us in return. It is gratifying to find that a more liberal policy is now favored by the neighboring country, and that the government at Washington expresses a desire to establish better trade relations with the Dominion. Following the negotiations which took place some months ago between the President of the United States and my government, the results of which were at the time communicated to parliament, a further conference between representatives of the two countries has been held at Ottawa. While no conclusions have been reached, and no formal proposals made, the free discussion of the subject that has taken place encourages my government to hope that at an early day, without any sacrifice of Canadian interests, an arrangement may be made which will admit many of the products of the Dominion into the United States on a satisfactory basis."

Slump in Apples Owing to the large imports of American apples in the British market during the past few weeks a decided slump in prices has been experienced. This need not discourage those who have apples for shipment later, as good apples are likely to be in fair demand after the surplus now on hand has been disposed of.

A DAY TOO LATE. George Myers brought a fine carcass of moose meat to the market on Saturday, says the Halifax Chronicle and it was seized by a Game Department official and sold. Mr. Myers did not slay the moose, the killing being by another party near Jeddore. But it was killed on Nov. 18th and thus, it was claimed, was just a day outside the score. The game act provides that in cases of such seizures the meat shall when convenient go to the poor of the district. The poor of the district got none of this moose.

DIED YOUNG.—At Bridgetown, Nov. 10th, Edward O. Young, aged eighty-one years and six months.

A New Brunswick Women's Success

During the past few months we have heard much of what the men of New Brunswick have done for their province and it has been with pleasure that the Record has given publicity to the work of many successful farmers of Kings County. This week we purpose to say a word for the ladies. Unless a woman on the farm is a willing and intelligent helper, the man will not count for much, and no doubt we have all failed to pay that just tribute to the fair sex which their part in the prosperity of many farmers would warrant. So we purpose erecting this, in one instance at least.

We have in mind one of the very best conducted farms in New Brunswick, that of McIntyre Bros., Sussex Corner. Look where you will and you will find few farm properties that, taken all in all, surpass it. It is a tribute to conscientious work and business methods applied to the land. The mother of the three boys who run this farm, Mrs. George McIntyre, is a matron who knows how to do things. A few years ago she was left a widow with a family of boys and if the Record's facts are correct, a considerable mortgage on the place, Mrs. McIntyre didn't flee from the situation but took hold with a will and more than made ends meet. She inspired her sons with her own enterprise and later, with their aid, cleared the farm and made it, as we have observed before, one of the best in the Maritime Provinces. In her efforts she was ably seconded by her sons, who are tireless workers and progressive agriculturists. The result has been the establishment of a farm property of great value and those who visit and admire the McIntyre homestead may rest assured that no little credit for the showing there made is due to this hustling New Brunswick woman.

No farm in this section will afford the lover of agricultural progress more satisfaction. He will meet with hospitable reception and he will find all things about him in ship-shape order. The land is splendidly tilled and over its broad acres are growing the crops that will later feed one of the best herds of Ayrshires owned in the Dominion of Canada. There are animals in the hard worth hundreds of dollars and the winning cow at the Toronto exhibition in 1909 was formerly quartered on this farm. Scores of splendid types of the breed have been shipped from Spring Brook, for that is the name of this valuable farm plant, and there is a growing demand each year for the individuals raised by the McIntyre Brothers. The experience of this family has proved beyond a shadow of doubt that New Brunswick can provide fortunes from the land for those who wish to work. The inspiration that came from the mother has not been lost on the sons and thousands of dollars worth of splendid cattle and farm plant have been paid for out of the soil. What Mrs. McIntyre and her sons have accomplished may be done by others. They have no patent on their methods. They have taken advantage of their opportunities and have won and are among those who may be classed as highly successful farmers. All about them, are equally good chances and there is no need for any man to leave this province in order to make a living and win a bank account.—Kings County, N.B. Record.

THE POOR COW MUST GO.

From the records in the office of the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, received from members of Cow Testing associations it appears that in the month of August the average yield of 3,000 cows recorded in Ontario was 776 pounds of milk, 3.4 test, and 25 pounds of fat. On dividing these cows into two groups, those yielding below that average, and those above, it is found that 1,430 cows give an average of only 535 pounds of milk and twenty-three pounds of fat. Thus, had their yield been equal to only the average of all the 3,000 cows, they would each have given 113 pounds of milk more, or a total yield of an extra 163,740 pounds of milk. What a pity they did not! The second group, those yielding above the average, includes the remaining 1,570 cows which produced 333 pounds of milk, or 107 pounds above the average of the 1,430 poor cows. The earnings of the good cows amounted to the huge sum of $4,439, more, in the one month, than the earnings of the poor cows. This begins to open our eyes to the tremendous possibilities of increased revenue from keeping better cows. Why should we remain content with only "average" cows? The poor cow must go.

C. F. W. Ottawa, Nov. 14th, 1910.

More About Bloody Creek

The movement on the part of the government to mark historical sites throughout the province, in sequence of which the Monitor has recommended that the locality known as Bloody Creek near this town be memorialized, has called forth the following interesting comments from our Belleisle reporter, who writes as follows:—

Your reporter along with the very many readers of the Monitor deplored with deep and serious interest Grace Dean McLeod's history of the Bloody Creek massacre. Your reporter is familiar with every part of it, having gone over it many times. He has, in his childhood days, eagerly listened to the aged men relate the pathetic story as told to them by their ancestors, who were co-temporary with the event. Many times have we stood in silent reverence beside the buttresses of this old French bridge, on whose span the blood of nearly two-score undaunted soldiers ran down through into the stream beneath. Tradition says the water ran red for some days, hence its name "Bloody Creek." The expedition was commanded by Captain Pigeon, (we quote from Calne's Savary history, page sixty-four), and was planned by Major Forbes, who at that time was engineer of the fortifications at Port Royal. History does not state that he accompanied the ill-fated expedition and was murdered to satisfy private vengeance at that place, although such may have been true. We were often told that an officer was captured there. His name was "Snow". He was exchanged for someone who was the ancestor of the families of that name living at Hampton. A large mound on the eastern bank at the top where tradition says the victims of that cowardly act were buried, may be seen today. Mr. Rice, who owns the farm spoken of in the Monitor, informed us he had, while plowing near the spot, plowed up a musket barrel, a broken sabre and a bayonet, silent mementoes of one of the bloodiest acts that ever took place in our beautiful valley. We were pleased indeed to see the Monitor had called the attention of the government to placing some mark "in memoriam" of the brave soldiers who fell there. It would indeed be commendable act.

There is a Big Profit in Poultry Raising

Some Figures Showing How a Man May Make Money from Poultry When Care and Common Sense are Part of His Own Stock in Trade.

(By John Baynes of the Truro Agricultural College)

Now that the long winter evenings are so rapidly closing in upon us, one cannot help feeling that some easy course of study as to how to materially increase the financial returns from the farm, must be of immense advantage to the average farmer, and the poultry side of his operations is one which literally cries out for attention. In order at the outset to combat that parrot cry, which has for its subject the lack of profit in hens, the writer would draw attention to one or two instances out of many scores which have reached him, of profits made during the past year wholly from hens.

A farmer in Cumberland county has during the season now closed derived a net profit of $60 from thirty hens; he gave the birds no more than ordinary attention, such as the ordinary busy farmer would be able to give, and to show how much greater his profit might have been, it need only be mentioned that he sold no less than one hundred dozens of eggs at the low price of sixteen cents per dozen, whereas at no time during the past season has the retail price been below twenty cents. Large numbers of eggs were used in the household, and as I have already pointed out, his birds received no more than the average attention.

In the immediate vicinity of Truro there resides a lady, who supports herself entirely by the profit she derives from a flock of some thirty hens, and she has never been disappointed in her profits. Another case is that of a lady resident in Colchester county, who from hens, ducks and geese is able to bank a very nice little nest egg every month in addition to paying all household expenses out of profits from her birds.

Scores of instances similar to the foregoing could be cited in support of the claims made on behalf of increased poultry raising. The usual remark offered when such cases are mentioned is one to the effect that this cannot result where food stuffs have to be purchased. I would point out that in the last two instances every atom of food stuffs have to be purchased at current market rates. Again, on the government farm here a flock of about twenty-five pullets has returned a profit of not less than $3.50 per month for the past twelve months. This works out to close upon $2 per year per bird, and all food stuffs have been bought locally.

With pure bred birds of a good laying strain, a profit of at least $2 per year is within the reach of everyone who may care to go after it, but be very sure that intelligent handling will be essential to success. Many and disastrous have been the failures of men and women who have commenced poultry raising on a large scale, but I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that in every case failure has been the result of profound ignorance, plus well-nigh incredible stupidity.

The man or woman who decides to take up poultry raising, should read some good book, dealing with the subject, and when next spring arrives, go after some of that loose cash, which is lying around waiting to be expended on supplies of eggs, chickens and the like, by those living in our cities and towns.

Chicago Starts to Feed Poor Children in Schools.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The first step toward feeding the thousands of school children from the poorer districts of Chicago was taken by the School Management Committee today, when it decided upon establishing lunch rooms in six of the largest schools. The committee will limit the meals to soup and bread and butter. It is proposed to charge one cent for the food, which will be served both in the morning and at noon. If a hungry child is without money, however, it shall be fed. The children will get all the soup and bread and butter they want. The girl pupils will be taught to set the tables and to serve the food. The committee was told that the physical and mental progress of thousands of children was being retarded by the lack of nourishment.

Much sickness is due to nervous troubles. Headache, dizziness, epilepsy and insanity are nervous troubles. Then there is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidney, bladder, eyes, etc. Dyspepsia and indigestion are usually the result of nervous disorders.

Restorative Nervine soothes the irritated nerves, and assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force.

All Tied Up

For want of help, Our Classified Want Ads. will waste the knots.

We make this a good paper so that intelligent people will read it, and they do.

Isn't that the kind of help you want?

to keep a couple of cows or root hog generally commences operations with some fairly accurate knowledge of the requirements and proper care of such animals. Why then should hens be regarded as something requiring no knowledge, no study and only very scant attention?

Should a hen appear covey or dauncy, the hatchet is generally, one might say universally, resorted to as a remedy. What criminal folly! There is an immense amount of money to be made from poultry raising in Nova Scotia. Conditions are almost ideal; all that is required is attention, knowledge, and a due appreciation of the hen as the most profitable live stock at present within man's reach.

To put the matter concisely, a pullet should, in her first year, lay sufficient eggs to pay for the egg from which she is hatched, the cost of incubation, and for all the food she will consume until the day she arrives, at the end of her second laying year, when she is dressed and put on the market as meat, and in addition to all this, she should, and will, in her first year, return a small profit. Every egg laid, and every chicken raised from her eggs during the second season, will be a clear profit, as also will be her value as food when killed.

Look at the matter from another view point. She is a very poor class of pullet, who will not lay one hundred and ninety two eggs in her pullet year; this at twenty-five cents a dozen means $4. In her second season her particular bird will lay one hundred and fifty eggs at least; call it twelve dozen, at twenty-five cents, and you have another $3 or a total of $7 without taking into account the particular bird's body value of the bird. Experiments go to prove that a hen by the end of her second laying season will have cost in incubation, food, housing, attention, etc., etc., twenty-five cents per dozen for eggs, and this leaves us with a profit of $4.40, to which the unconsidered items before mentioned must be added. Bear in mind that these figures are based on an average market price of twenty-five cents per dozen for eggs. If you prefer a lower figure, such as say twenty cents, you will find that the profit from eggs alone still reaches the high mark of $3 for the two years.

Think the matter over carefully, and you will agree with me when I say that there is absolutely no live stock on the farm which will return for so small an expenditure of time and trouble, give anything like so large a profit. All that is required is knowledge; get that knowledge during the coming winter read some good book, dealing with poultry raising, dive as deeply as may be, into the veterinary aspect of the matter, and when next spring arrives, go after some of that loose cash, which is lying around waiting to be expended on supplies of eggs, chickens and the like, by those living in our cities and towns.

Wasted Power

James Russel Lowell says that "woman is the master piece of the Creator, the greatest work of His divine hand." It is not then up to us to keep ourselves in condition to do our best—to seize every opportunity that comes our way? Let us consider it a sacred duty to keep ourselves up to the highest possible standard, physically and mentally, otherwise we shall not be fitted to fill the divine purpose for which we are created. And let me also, my sisters, impress you with the fact that too much energy is wasted in fretting, worrying, fault-finding, grumbling—in the little frictions and annoyances that accomplish nothing. Just look back over yesterday and see where your energy went to—how much leaked away in trifles. I often repeat to myself one of the beautiful prayers of Robert Louis Stevenson. I pinned the slip to the wall and committed it while washing. It is so short and contains so many good things, I shall give it, hoping some one may be benefited from it, as I was: "The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man. Help us to perform them with laughter and kindness; let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this day, bring us to our resting beds, weary and content; and send us honored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep."

Let us resolve to make the most of our opportunities; begin with a firm purpose to better our condition; make up our minds to find the starting point that leads to efficiency and knowledge. One writer has said that the education of a child should begin with its grand-mother and rightly, too, for brains are, to a great extent, transmitted. Then, for the sake of our progeny, let us be brainy, virtuous whole-souled women. — FARMER'S WIFE, Andover, N. B.

NO MARKET FOR INFERIOR FRUIT

The warning cannot be too often repeated nor too strongly emphasized that England wants practically unlimited quantities of sound mature apples of standard varieties in good condition, but that on the other hand, the markets are quickly demoralized by shipments of under-sized, immature or damaged fruit, and can assimilate only moderate quantities of passable Number 2 apples. As a general rule nothing but disappointment awaits the exporter who attempts in a year of scarcity to make a profit by shipping inferior fruit some thousands of miles by land and sea, to be offered in the English auction markets. Such fruit is infinitely better assigned to the evaporator or otherwise disposed of locally.

The Divinity of Desire

Every life follows its ideal; is colored by it; takes on its character; becomes like it. You can always read a man's character if you know his ideal, for this always dominates his life, says Orison Swett Marden, in Success Magazine.

Our ideals are great character moulders and have a tremendous shaping influence. Our heart's habitual desire soon shows itself in the face; out-pictures itself in the life. We cannot long keep from the face that which habitually lives in our minds.

We develop the quality of the thought, emotion, ideal or ambition which takes the strongest hold upon us. Therefore, you should let everything in you point toward superiority. Let there be an upward trend in your thoughts. Resolve that you will never have anything to do with inferiority in your thoughts or your actions; that whatever you do shall bear the stamp of superiority, of excellence.

The intensity, the vigor, the persistency of our desires and longings will have everything to do with our realization of them.

It does not matter how improbable or how far away this realization may seem, or how dark the prospects may be, if we visualize them as best we can, as vividly as possible hold to them tenaciously and vigorously, struggle to attain them, they will gradually become actualized, realized in the life. But a desire, a longing, a yearning abandoned or held indifferently will vanish without realization. Human life is so constructed that we live largely upon hope; the faith that runs ahead and sees what the physical eye can not see.

What we believe is coming to us is a tremendous creative motive.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

SCIENCE CURES THE KIDNEYS

THROUGH "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

The Famous Medicine Made of Fruit Juices

After careful consideration, it has been determined that "Fruit-a-tives" is a thoroughly scientific remedy. It is based on scientific facts and it cures in a scientific manner.

In fact "Fruit-a-tives" is known to be the most scientific remedy ever discovered for Kidney and Bladder Troubles. Mr. Placey thinks so, and his experience proves it:

Ulverton, P.Q., March 17th.

I suffered for many years with Kidney Trouble and Pain in the Back. I took every known kidney remedy and kidney pill, but nothing gave me relief. I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives," and this fruit medicine cured me when every other remedy failed. I used fifteen boxes of "Fruit-a-tives." From the first, "Fruit-a-tives" gave me relief and I am now well—no pain, no suffering—and every symptom of Kidney Disease gone.

CLARENCE J. PLACEY.

PARIS CANAL TO COST $34,000,000.

Measures Will be Taken to Prevent Floods in City.

Paris, Nov. 14.—This evening the River Seine rose again slightly. M. Peuch, Minister of Public Works, replying in the Chamber of Deputies to criticisms that the Government had not adopted sufficient preventive flood measures, declared that the raising of the parapets in this city would be followed by the digging of a canal from Aulnay to Epinay at a cost of about $34,000,000.

Our Reputation and Money are Back of This Offer.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. Could anything be more fair to you? Is there any reason why you should hesitate to put our claims to a practical test?

The most scientific, commonsense treatment is Rexall Ordinies, which are eaten like candy. They are very pronounced, gentle and pleasant in action, and practically agreeable in every way. They do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping or any inconvenience whatever. Rexall Ordinies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

We urge you to try Rexall Ordinies at our risk. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. A. Warren.

Which is Your Choice? Sloppy, leaky wooden troughs, or clean, durable Concrete?

Wooden drinking troughs are about as reliable as the weather. They are short-lived and require replacing every few years—not to mention continual patching to keep them in repair. The best of wood cannot withstand, for long, constant dampness and soaking. Its tendency to rapid decay soon shows itself in leaks and stagnant pools of water around trough.

Contrast with this the durability, cleanliness and well-ordered appearance of Concrete.

THE WELL-BRED GIRL

Good breeding, while often a matter of inheritance, is more often due to careful training and a desire not to hurt another's feelings. The girl who is well bred never presumes upon her position, nor is she loud and conspicuous in appearance in manner.

The well bred girl rarely apologizes. She does not "do or say things that make apologies necessary," and she does not feel apologetic for her environments, however simple.

If the trust hospitality is to give strangers exactly what one has without comment, so is it also a sign of good breeding. To make a sprig for outsiders, the outsiders know to be a sprig which can be ill-afforded, is a sign that one does not feel socially secure.

The well bred girl does not gossip nor carry tales nor talk scandal. All the other girls may do it, and it may seem quite harmless and amusing, but is something that the girl of truly refined feelings finds revolting.

If for no other reason, a girl should shun talk that she would not be willing to stand by, because it often leads to unpleasant scenes and involves others in a network of disagreeableness that is anything but a sign of good breeding.

The well-bred girl is not boastful, aggressive nor unduly self-assertive. Above all she is not a toady. There is no surer sign of lack of breeding than to strive to curry favor with one who, by force of circumstances, may have more money or influence than you have.

Gushing or disclosing one's private affairs to a scoffing world is anything but well-bred. A quiet, interested, gracious manner that has its reserves leaves no doubt as to the claims of a girl or woman to good breeding.

Above all, the well-bred girl avoids scrapes of any kind. She does not do things that are open to question, knowing that no girl can afford to ignore public opinion and get herself talked about.

The well-bred girl is the self-respecting girl; she will no more permit impertinence than she would think of offering them. She knows she is a lady, and asks no more than to act the part and to be treated as a lady should be.

No one ever heard of a girl of good breeding speak of herself as well-bred. It is too much a matter of eyes or hands. — N. Y. Times.

CAPE OF NERVOUS CHILDREN

"I cannot too strongly emphasize that nervousness in the child is often the result of nervousness in the mother, and it should never be forgotten that nervousness in the mother is always a defect and often a sin," said Dr. William N. Bullard in his lecture at the Harvard Medical School yesterday on "Nervous Diseases in Children."

"Such a mother is an injury to her children as long as they are under her care. Every child starts in the world with its nervous system more or less impressionable. If the persons in charge are nervous and irritable, the child will be badly influenced. How often have I said when such children are brought to me, 'Oh, if I could only treat the mother.' In the majority of such cases, if the parents could be treated the children would get well.

"Nervousness in children may occur alone or in combination with other disturbances, and it may or may not be a serious matter. It is often temporary. In some cases the nervousness is apparently inherited, or temperamental. But the surroundings are a strong factor in the production of this condition, and the proportion due to inheritance and that due to surroundings is impossible to determine.

"The child with a so-called nervous temperament should be trained from its earliest year. All physical sources of irritation should be removed. It should be sheltered from all forms of excitement, whether pleasurable or otherwise, in infancy, and trained in self control later. Discipline should be strictly maintained, but no undue severity should be used.

"Nervous children must not over-eat. Children who overeat are apt thereby to become more nervous through the resulting stomach irritation. Therefore, the diet should be a mixed diet of ordinary food and should simply be limited as regards quantity. They should go to bed early and sleep fairly late, and they should have as much fresh air as possible all the time. They should be out of doors as much as possible and should have their windows open at night. In this climate there is no risk of that."

A GIRL'S COMPLEXION

"B. A. B." has written me a long letter, asking about the care of her complexion. Her letter is too long to publish, but this is the fact: She is absolutely ruining her skin by the constant use of facial creams, borax, massage and powder. You other girls who are doing the same thing—read and take heed.

"B. A. B." is only twenty, yet she goes through a routine night and morning such as no skin could stand—and then wonders why her pores are large, and why her skin looks "shirred" under her eyes. The result will be that by the time she is twenty-five she will look forty.

Now, "B. A. B." listen. Before you go to bed at night wash your face with a soft linen cloth with hot—not too hot—water. Use plenty of soap—the kind which you know through experience agrees with your skin. After thorough cleansing rinse in clear lukewarm water, and then in cold. Dry well. Omit cream, powder, etc. In the morning dash cold water on the face and in the eyes, then dry with a soft towel. Use very little talcum, and put it on with a soft linen cloth—not the chamois.

In place of cold cream and the like, get plenty of outdoor air, get eight or ten hours sleep every night, keep the bowels open, eat green vegetables and fresh fruits, drink plenty of water between meals and at night, stop fussing about your complexion—and with the help of Father Time you'll undo the damage you've wrought.

Stop the use of hot water, chamois, borax and cold cream. The hot water time will shirred the skin. Borax dries the skin and causes wrinkles. The chamois, if not washed after each use, is filthy with grim and oils of the skin. Successive usage of it without washing causes pimples and blackheads. Cold cream is made of animal fats or vegetable oils, and causes hair to grow. Stop all these—and give Nature a chance.—Cynthia Grey.

THE "DO-IT-NOW" WOMAN

The woman who takes as her life motto, "Do it at once," is the woman who is not bounded by an accusing conscience. The modern prayer for forgiveness is chiefly for things we have not done.

The only time one is sure of is the present, putting off to some more convenient moment is to lay up a reputation for rudeness or slovenliness.

The woman who believes that to apologize is to accuse, will rarely have to back water in her belief if she gets into the do-it-now habit.

Do it at once is but another name for the "little drops of water" precept of childhood. The "mighty ocean" of accumulated duties will never swamp you if each wave is breast as it comes.

Doing it at once is like oiling a dusty pike. It smooths the path of life and smoothes complaint and criticism.

Much of the fret and nerve-racking comes from postponing the things that might just as well be cleared off at once. One is worried until they are done, and more worried if they are not done.

The girl who sews the first rip never has to take a day off for mending.

The girl who answers her invitations the minute she gets them never will be mortified by being called up.

THIS WIND

I am the Wind! Make way! I have rushed through the dark, black places Where the dust of the ages lay, I have breathed into weary faces With a breath from the Heart of Day I have whispered of unknown graces To the dwellers in Earth's dark places.

I am the Wind! Make way!

I am the Wind! Stand by! I must toss and hustle and hurry Where the leaves of the forest lie, I must fetch and bustle and carry From the ground to the roof of the sky.

I may never have time to tarry, There are numberless things to carry, I am the Wind! Stand by!

I am the Wind! Ah me! I have sobbed with the children's crying.

I have lived with the sad and the dying, I have rocked in the arms of the sea, And I know there is reason for sighing.

For I thrill with the children's crying, I am the Wind! Ah, me!

Do you wish the world were happy? Then remember, day by day, Just to scatter seeds of kindness As you pass along the way.

For the pleasures of the many May be often traced to one, As the hand that plants an acorn Shelters armies from the sun.

NATURAL GAS FOR MONCTON

Yielding 600,000 Cubic Feet in First Sands.

(Moncton Times.)

The Maritime Oil Fields Limited, on Friday afternoon, struck another natural gas well. No. 17 with a flow of half a million cubic feet daily at the first sands the depth being from 828 to 840 feet.

This well is about fifteen hundred feet north of number 15 which gives a big yield. The location of the new wells is gradually nearing Moncton, and the well struck on Friday afternoon is nearly a mile nearer Moncton than the first well. Altogether there are between 50,000,000 and 50,800,000 cubic feet of gas capped as a daily supply. Another well has been located for boring nearly 2,000 feet still further north than either of the existing wells.

The trend of the recent discoveries justifies the belief that the Company has located a strata which leads in the direction of Moncton city and will possibly make the source of the future supply of the city much nearer here than now.

It is curious to note that instead of the flow of natural gas from these wells diminishing as additional wells are discovered, one of the earlier wells has actually trebled in its yield compared with the first announcement.

Food Inspectors Made Discovery

That Floor Sweepings and Badly Decayed Fruit are Canned in New York.

New York, Nov. 17.—Raymond D. Fosdick, Commissioner of Accounts, who has undertaken an investigation of the unsanitary food conditions in the city, received assurance of cooperation today from Dr. Wiley, of the Bureau of Chemicals of the United States Department of Agriculture. The Commissioner replied that assistance would be welcomed.

Mr. Fosdick's inspectors in going over the ground have uncovered something wrong every day. The latest discovery was relative to the condition of fruit, which is said to be carried on in at least one factory in the city, under abominable conditions. In this place, it is said floor sweepings were canned with badly decomposed fruit.

When the investigation is concluded the evidence undoubtedly will be sent to the Grand Jury for such action as the District Attorney may recommend.

A Liberal Offer

We Guarantee to Cure Dyspepsia if We Fail the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is prepared by a process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This perfect combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at the Rexall Store, W. A. Warren.

A man who has attained a commanding place in the social world may be financially strong enough to play the part of a boor, but the man who has his way to make cannot afford to emulate him. It makes no difference how efficient an individual he may be, bad manners are a handicap that will close the door upon many an opportunity that would otherwise open the way to surpassing achievement. Many a young man has remained in a humble position because his manners were "awful," or because he was lacking in tact in matters of common courtesy.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

Don't worry about trifles—there is nothing that aces you like worry. Some women work themselves into tantrums of worry over a little thing that before the end of the day is absolutely smoothed over. This is one reason why they grow old sooner than men.

UNDER HIS LUCKY STAR

Edward J. Payson, of Glen Ridge, N. J., was driving down Clark St. when a big tree branch fell on his horse, barely missing him. The horse ran away, demolishing the carriage against a stone trestle abutment and hurling Payson across the railroad track. He was congratulating himself on his two escapes when an express train dashed toward him. He managed to get to the end of the trestle just as the train whizzed by. This all happened within one minute.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

I have yet to hear of any person who lost a position or who was handicapped in his career by good manners, but I could tell of scores of cases in which bad manners have proved a barrier to success. As a mere matter of business policy, therefore, it is apparent that bad manners do not pay. Think the matter over seriously; then ask yourself if your manners are up to the standard.

Blood-Poisoning from Cut Finger

Serious Condition Relieved by Zam-Buk.

Mr. Jas. Davay, of 78 Elice Ave., Winnipeg, says: "A few months since I was cured of a poisoned finger through the timely use of Zam-Buk. I cut a deep gash across the knuckle on the first finger of the right hand in opening a lobster can one evening. I suffered at the time with the soreness and pain, but had no idea it would become a serious wound. However, in about two days I was greatly relieved, and the next day there was a complete cure was brought about."

Scores of similar cases could be quoted, and the wisest precaution is to keep a box of Zam-Buk handy and apply it immediately a cut, or burn, or bruise is sustained.

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, eczema, blood-poison, scabies, scalds, scalp sores, ring-worm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse imitations and substitutes.
