MARINE DEPARTMENT LACKS ORGANIZATION AND CONSCIENCE--NO PURPOSE BUT TO SPEND CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION HURLS BOMB AT GOVERNMENT

BRODEUR WARMLY RESENTS REPORT OF THE COMMISSION IN REFLECTING ON HONESTY

Minister Attacks Right of Investigators to Make Report Which Rakes His Department Fore and Aft.

NEVER A DEMAND FOR DISCOUNT And "Officers Must Be Assisting Traders to Get Better Prices From Government Than Anywhere Else," Say Investigators.

OTTAWA, March 26.—(Special).—The greatest sensation in the house of commons since Hon. Mr. Emmerson's resignation a year ago, was precipitated to-day when the report of the civil service commission was made public. The commission consists of J. W. Courtney, former deputy minister of finance; Thomas Tysche of Montreal, ex-manager of the Merchants' Bank, and P. T. Bazin of Quebec, a retired merchant.

While speaking strongly in general on the evil effects of politics and the patronage system in general, the commission finds a special weakness in the department of marine and fisheries.

"A huge redundancy of work which proceeds in a lumbering, haphazard way, giving rise to constant blundering and confusion."

"No sign visible of a single directing head or an intelligent purpose unless it be that of spending as much money as possible."

"Zeal for economy not visible."

"Lack of organization and method and lack of conscience."

These are some of the phrases used by commissioners to describe the inefficiency and prodigality of the department, which the opposition members have been endeavoring for months in the public accounts committee to turn the searchlight on, but were always burked by a coterie of blockers who have stood between the minister and his critics.

Commissioners Fysche and Bazin condemn the system of correspondence of the department and assume that the deputy minister daily signs hundreds of letters concerning which he can know nothing, a system calculated to bring reproach and discredit on the department.

BRODEUR ATTACKS COMMISSIONERS. Hon. Mr. Brodeur afforded "the novel spectacle," as Mr. Borden phrased it, of being put up by the government within a few minutes after the report was tabled, not only to attack the commission's reports, but the commissioners themselves.

Mr. Brodeur complained that while the commission had been appointed to make a report upon such changes as might be advisable in the best interests for efficiency in the public service, they had exceeded the scope of their privileges. The report had cited "a couple of cases apparently intended to support the conclusion of the commissioners, charging officials of the department with dishonesty," but both cases in the report conveyed impressions "completely at variance with the facts." He also complained that there were no clear or specified charges on which the minister could take action.

"While I am aware that some of the officials have been open to censure for the manner in which they have despatched their business, I have never had any evidence to establish dishonesty on their part," said Mr. Brodeur in concluding, with a promise to make a full enquiry "for the protection of the public interest and in fairness to the officials."

RESULT OF EVIL METHODS. The commissioners confess that general conclusions which they have formed regarding the administration of the marine department are most unfavorable. It seems to have few redeeming features, altho there are some, one of which is the presence in the department of some good men, chiefly but not wholly in lower ranks. With a better organization and better methods these might form the nucleus of a good staff.

The trouble is not of recent origin, but has been long-continued, and is the result of evil methods and practices persisted in for many years. Organization, discipline, zeal for public service and regard for economy are all conspicuous by their absence. Money is wasted in small things as in great, because no one seems to have any motive to do otherwise. While there is no real punishment for the most outrageous blundering or most incompetent service there is at the same time absolutely no means for discovery of merit and promotion of talent.

There seems, the commissioners say, to be in the marine department, a huge redundancy of work which proceeds in a lumbering, haphazard way, giving rise to constant blundering and confusion. There is no sign visible of a single directing head or an intelligent purpose unless it be that of spending as much money as possible. Zeal for economy and good management or pride in the work is not visible. Perfunctory and mechanical discharge of duties is the rule, with apparently no perception of any need for improvement.

The lack of organization and of organizing power in the department has recently been very conspicuously and painfully illustrated by the fact

MILITIA DEP PAYS ITS OFFICERS TOO WELL

Dissatisfies Other Departments--Staff Too Large and Desertions Are Too Numerous.

With respect to the militia department the civil service commission notes that the expenditure is going up, by leaps and bounds. In 1903-4 the total expenditure was in the neighborhood of three and a half million dollars, while the estimates for the next fiscal year ask for six and a half millions. The commissioners find that for service performed the department awards to its officers pay, vastly higher in proportion than any other department. The report mentions especially two accountants and the paymaster of the militia department. J. W. Borden, brother of R. L. Borden, but a Liberal, seems to be specially favored, drawing a salary larger than would be given for the same work in a private business, and unnecessary duties are performed by the office.

Too Many Desertions. Comment is made on the large number of desertions from the strength of the permanent corps, which is regarded as showing a grave state of affairs. The commissioners have come to the conclusion that this large percentage of desertions is to a great extent caused by want of sympathy between officers of the permanent corps and the men.

The high rate of pay enjoyed by the officers in the militia department is said to be without doubt the cause of grave dissatisfaction to the members of other public departments, who with their time fully occupied with their duties, see in a favored department people paid much bigger than themselves and working no harder, even if as hard, and in work of less paramount importance.

The commissioners point out the large growth of expenditure, the increase in permanent and headquarters staff to about 220, that in addition to the general system of high pay the favored men of the militia service draw pensions, not only for themselves, but for their wives and children, that the staff is sufficient for a corps of 100,000 men, that the permanent corps are under 300 men, and that the desertions have increased.

Department of Public Works. In the public works department it is found that in many cases works have been undertaken at the instance of municipalities locally interested which, in the opinion of outside officers of the department as to their desirability, was not asked for, the commission think it desirable to again recall the observations of the commission of 1902 as to the practice of building custom houses, etc. in small towns.

Mr. Pottinger, manager of the I. C. R., states in his evidence that the instance of the Intercolonial Railway for coal was higher than it ought to be, in instances which have been brought to the notice of the commissioners, stores have been received.

LICKED BY HIS RIVAL. A Story Which Made a Hit at the Border.

WINDSOR, March 26.—(Special).—Francis Taggart, veterinary surgeon of Waterlot, Mich., was stopped by United States immigration officials while crossing on the C. P. R. train from Windsor to Detroit.

He was disgusted and gave the impression that he might be a dangerous anarchist, but this was the story he told.

A few years ago I had a rival for the girl, who is now my wife. I was living on my father's farm at Wilsonville, near Toronto, at that time. Some time after my marriage I returned to visit my father and my rival, a much bigger fellow than I am, licked me. On another visit he repeated, so this time I evaded him by this disguise."

The story made a hit with the officers and Taggart was allowed to proceed.

HINDUS AT HONG KONG. Hundreds Awaiting the Word to Come to Canada.

VANCOUVER, March 26.—(Special).—Hundreds of Hindus are now lying at Hongkong waiting to come to Vancouver. All these men are from Calcutta where they bought transportation to this coast.

No trouble is brewing in British Columbia with their landing when they left their native land, but things were different by the time they reached Hongkong, and there they had to contend with a variety of questions affecting their right to enter Canada.

The last bars standing against the entrance of the Hindus are now down, but not attempt has yet been made to rush them across the Pacific. It is feared that there are no Hindus on the C. P. R. steamship Empress of China, due to reach Vancouver next Monday from the Orient, nor are there any on the steamship Lennox, which left Hongkong yesterday for Vancouver. It is evident that the C. P. R. is waiting developments.

LEADERS CROSS SWORDS BUDGET DEBATE CLOSED

Government Sustained by 19 to 54, Stodhime Voting With the Opposition--Premier's Vigorous Speech.

Nineteen to fifty-four. That was the vote last night in the legislature on the opposition amendment to the motion to go into supply. The amendment read: "That this house regrets the yearly increase in the ordinary controllable expenditure of the province during the last four years, noticeably under the heads of civil government and contingencies; the expenditure under the former, civil government, having risen from $344,006 in 1904 to $538,415 in 1907, and that under the head of contingencies from $78,442 in 1904 to $155,035 in 1907, and also regrets that the government is open to a charge of carelessness and extravagance in several other items of large expenditures."

It was the first division of the session. Allan Stodhime voted with the opposition, and there were a number of pairs.

Good Day's Debating. The closing day of the debate had been unusually brilliant. I. B. Lucas acquitted himself in an admirable speech in his accustomed keen-minded fashion. Mr. Pattinson was perhaps de trop, but his figures were valuable. Hon. Mr. MacKay was in excellent form, and made the best of a bad argument, leaving himself open, however, in a way that an old campaigner like the premier took every advantage of.

Hon. Mr. Whitney appears to rejuvenate himself, and for sprightly banter, slugging sarcasm or scathing denunciation has no equal in the house. The issues raised were not new. The most novel perhaps was Mr. MacKay's declaration that the Electrical Engineering Co. wanted to fail in order to give the government control. William Mackenzie would scarcely sanction this view.

After the broken attempt of Mr. MacKay's speech, zig-zag in its progress, with just enough truth to make it dangerous when the greater part of it was as far as possible from the truth, as Premier Whitney characterized his opponent's deliverance, he congratulated the member for Kingston as turning the opposition side who realized his position. Mr. Whitney spoke of the confounding of the Liberal party under its present leadership. He did not know what Mr. MacKay's conception of leadership was or whether he had any, but the opposition had a great constitution.

LICENSE FEE WAS TOO HIGH COLLINGWOOD BYLAW IS QUASHED

Justice Britton Says That an Ulterior Motive Prompted the Fixing of an Excessive Amount.

Collingwood's $2500 license fee is excessive and therefore illegal and has been quashed. Justice Britton said delivered judgment late yesterday: "It was not intended by the legislature," he says, "that local prohibition should be brought about in this way."

"If, for any reason in the bylaw itself, it does not permit the business of tavern-keeping to be carried on in a place not under local prohibition, upon the condition of paying a duty and obeying regulations and acting within restrictions lawfully imposed, then the provincial law under which the municipal bylaw was passed is being evaded, and not properly regarded by the members of the municipal council."

"The minority have their rights, and it is as much the duty of the municipal council to protect the rights of the minority as to carry out the wishes of the majority."

"The amount of the duty imposed by the law is of itself the strongest evidence of want of bona fides. The liquor act is now, as consolidated, the result of years of experiment and a careful watching of the trade, and of dealing with offenders of all sorts against the act, and against rules and regulations as to places where liquor is sold."

"The act has fixed $450 for Collingwood, $1200 for the largest of our cities. If $450 is not enough for Collingwood, prima facie, some amount between $450 and $1200 would be reasonable; but instead of that, the highest fee for tavern license known in the world, so far as presented to me in the argument, was fixed."

"That is evidence of some ulterior motive than to carry out the Liquor License Act."

POLITICIAN IS THE DREAD OF THE SERVICE

Patronage Curse, Says Report of Civil Service Commission--Some Changes That Are Now Suggested.

OTTAWA, March 26.—(Special).—The long-delayed report of the civil service commission was laid on the table of the house this afternoon by Finance Minister Fielding. Some of the findings are: That the act should be simplified, and that the age limit of 35 for entrance is too flexible.

When a clerk chooses to obtain a private secretary his connection with the department should cease. The practice of paying $600 to a member of the service while acting as private secretary should be repealed.

Provision for leave of absence should be stricken from the statute. Attendance should be regulated by rules.

Fresh provision should be made to govern examinations and entrance to the service.

The percentage of those employed in the public service in the lowest ranks are paid less than they would have received that they had been employed in outside occupations, and less than modern conditions demand.

In the matter of pay and promotion every officer in the service should be treated on his merits.

The service should be entirely freed from political favoritism or patronage. Appointments should be made by merit after competitive examinations.

A permanent commission of three should be created to deal with the question of the service to supervise the examinations, etc.

The commissioners are of the opinion that someone or other, immediately the question of salaries should be dealt with. They cannot recommend general increases, but they would suggest the advisability of at least taking votes for granting increases to deserving officials.

Patronage evil. The commissioners find that "in the working of the public service there is a constant attempt to evade examination and that in order to secure a position brought upon the several departments by influential politicians to take on assistants, officials who have not passed the examinations are employed temporarily, and are called laborers. Patronage seems to run more or less thru every department of the public service. This patronage evil is the curse of the civil service."

Especially in the outside service there is a trick of the politician. It is said that in one department a clerk is employed to do work in the accounts branch which he is utterly unfit to do. In consequence of which the work is steadily going behind and the commissioners have no doubt that the same result obtains in other departments.

In the matter of promotions the same patronage fear is apparent. Your commissioners found in their rounds that a collector of customs, a city postmaster, a postoffice inspector and others were appointed politically. The recent appointment of a postmaster at Kingston was a recommendation of the patronage committee; the last appointment to a postmastership at Montreal, the most important one in the Dominion, was given to an aged member, 67 years old.

Commenting upon these features the commissioners point out that this practice is discouraging to young men who realize that they have no chance of promotion, while promotions themselves have in too many cases been made a matter of politics, people being brought in from the outside and appointed from the heads of men who had given their lifetimes to the department. It is the political element, in fact, which has "steadily tended to deteriorate the public service."

Another source of detriment has been the circumstance that owing to the great prosperity of the last few years, the tendency on the part of young men has been to enter other pursuits rather than the service of the state.

Merchant Patronage List. "It has been conclusively shown," the report says, "that large amounts of money are paid over each year to merchants whose names are on the patronage list in several localities. Your commissioners, however, consider that while the practice was bad, yet, thru the great development of the country, the extent was not so great as to become serious until recent years. When the practice was bad, yet, thru the great development of the country, the extent was not so great as to become serious until recent years. "JOLLIFYING" THE M.L.A.'S.

Who started that suggestion that the Toronto Railway Company should carry members of the legislature free? Is it possible that such generosity had its birth in the brain of Robert John Fleming? With the shearing of R. J.'s beard he has become almost lamb-like in his impulses.

But another view makes him appear as a wolf in sheep's garments. Make no mistake, the Toronto Railway Company is offering free passes to the members of the legislature not for the fun of it, but because such action would be a good "jolly" of the afore-said members.

And what magnificent figures the members of the legislature would become back in their own balliwicks with the brand of a free pass on them! Robert John classes them with policemen, firemen and postmen, in child-like disregard of the wording of the agreement between the city and the Toronto Railway Company.

TARIFF REFORM WINS AGAIN.

Peckham affords another remarkable proof of the change that is passing over the British electorate. It is in the division of South London and the normally Conservative, at last general election it returned the late Charles Goddard Clarke, in the Liberal interests by the sweeping majority of 233. At yesterday's by-election H. C. Gooch, the Conservative candidate, was elected by a still greater majority, the result indicating an enormous transfer of votes from one party to the other.

IMPURITY THE EVIL.

Editor World: That the temperance war crossing the entire world at the present time has reached our northern climate cannot be denied, and demands our serious consideration. DEVELOPMENT ON THE COAST.

Ottawa Journal: A somewhat surprising development in connection with migration from the United States into Canada is attracting attention in British Columbia. The Colonist of Victoria quotes a representative of one of the largest commercial establishments in the United States who was in the city the other day as saying that the eyes of thousands of people in the United States were directed to British Columbia, and that the influx of people and capital, which would shortly take place, would be without precedent.

KING RICHARD TO-DAY WOULD WANT AN AUTO

And if He Had His Choice It's Easy to Believe the One He'd Favor.

When King Dick the Third cried, "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse!" little dreamt of the marvelous automobile that would rule the world in the regime of Teddy the Seventh.

The Automobile and Sportsman's Show now running at the St. Lawrence Arena is brilliant enough to make poor old Richard turn in his grave.

There is not only lack of efficient organization and method in the department, but there is no lack-up there, as there is no lack-up there, as there is no lack-up there.

DOUGLAS FINDLAY

You will have to prove your case against me," is about the only statement he has made to the police thus far.

Medical Trustees to Examine Teachers' Health Certificates.

On account of a lack of faith in the health certificates of the average doctor, the management committee of the board of education yesterday appointed Trustees Doctors Ogden and Hawke as a special committee to inspect all medical certificates of teachers when absent thru illness, and also the medical certificates of all applicants to the teaching staff. A discussion developed the fact that a good many certificates were given as a mere matter of form. Trustees Ogden and Rawlinson will wait upon the board of control this morning to object to the proposed erection of a slaughter house near Riverdale High School.

The senior principal reported that Jarvis-street Collegiate was one of the best conducted schools in the province, but lacked a sufficiency of books in its library, and the assembly hall should not be used as a class room. In the Technical High School, the ventilation, heating and lighting were all bad.

UNEMPLOYED DON'T WANT TO DECLARE THEIR POVERTY

NANAIMO, B.C., March 26.—(Special)—A meeting addressed by Premier McBride last evening was disturbed by a gathering of a hundred of the "unemployed" in front of the hall. Hawthornthwaite, the socialist leader in the legislature, harangued them.

The men objected to signing the government declaration that they were penniless before relief work would be provided. Later the premier received the men at the hotel.

Thanked Sir Robert Hart. PEKING, March 26.—Sir Robert Hart, who is returning to England after many years at the head of the Chinese maritime customs, was received in a farewell audience by the emperor and the dowager empress of China to-day. The audience was of unusual duration. The emperor cordially thanked Sir Robert for his services to the country and made him a number of gifts. The emperor also manifested his appreciation.

Used City's Material. A charge has been lodged with the mayor by an ex-employee of the city that D. B. Kiskoek, pattern maker and carpenter foreman in the city work department, used State material and labor in constructing a sash for his cottage on the island.

Premier Hazen Takes Action. ST. Burglars Disappointed. CHATHAM, March 26.—The G. T. R. freight offices this morning and the large safe was attacked by dynamite. After the large lock was broken, however, they could not get the safe open and had to abandon the job.

COUNCIL TURN DOWN PARKS COMMISSION

Turn About on the Proposal and Reject it by 13 to 6.

The city council showed its capacity for somersaulting at yesterday's special meeting, when by the overwhelming vote of 13 to 6 the parks commission project in entirety was given its quietus. At a former meeting Controller Hocken's general plan of reform in park management was approved by a vote of 14 to 8, tho' the aldermen could not agree upon the method of appointment.

The session of yesterday, which lasted two hours, was the outcome of Controller Hocken's desire to have the council record itself for or against the bill of legislation as drafted by the city solicitor. The bill was already passed by the legislature when brought before the board of control, where objection was raised that instead of merely asking permissive legislation it entered fully into details as to powers of the commission.

Ald. McBride's amending motion was "that application for legislation concerning a parks commission be withdrawn and no changes in park legislation be favored at this session of the legislature." It carried on the following vote:

For—Controllers Harrison, Spence and Ward, Aldermen McBride, Bredin, Bengough, Whytock, Foster, Chisholm, Vaughan, Stuart, Sanderson and R. H. Graham—13.

Against—Mayor Oliver, Controller Hocken, Aldermen Lytle, Keefer, McGhie and Adams—6.

Ald. Hales, who was in the chair, did not vote, and Ald. Church, McMurrich and J. J. Graham were absent.

Controller Hocken declared that the issue came before council with every obstacle which the champion technical inhabitant (Controller Spence) could devise.

The controller's statement that some of the inefficiency in the parks department was due to interference of aldermen was hotly resented by Ald. McBride, who demanded names. The controller replied that such statements had been made.

The controller said that if council voted down his proposal it would be re-opened later under the Parks Act, which provided that on a petition with 500 signatures being submitted to council, a bylaw could be submitted to the city and declared that 5000 names could easily be obtained.

Controller Spence denied with warmth that the parks committee had shown complete incapacity. The members had not been "imbeciles or curs." The investigation had merely disclosed that the city had "put too much confidence in an official unworthy of confidence." Could not the same thing be said of some institutions with directors?

Aldermen had been swayed by the eloquent speeches of outsiders favoring a commission, and by the wronging of one man. To give up their control would be to desert constituents and act weakly and childishly. The Parks Act stipulated that commissioners should not be remunerated, but the bill as drafted gave council power to fix compensation.

In the discussion that followed it soon became evident that there was a considerable falling away from the support formerly given the commission by Controller Harrison, Aldermen Vaughan, Bredin and Bengough showed a changed attitude.

ANOTHER "OLD TIMER."

Frank Cottar Straightens Out Some Local Theatrical History.

Frank Cottar, one of the oldest theatrical managers in the business and rechristened after the "Vanderbilt Cup" at the Grand, was much interested in the interview with Louis James regarding the theatres of the city in the olden days. As Mr. Cottar has been an annual visitor here for many years and has a good memory for dates, he was amused at Mr. James' reference to Mrs. Morrison's management of the Grand in 1888. "It is either a typographical error or Mr. James has made a mistake in his dates. Mrs. Morrison was not in charge of the Grand at that time."

Regarding the theatres of today and those of twenty years ago Mr. Cottar recalls an incident that is of interest. He was manager for Margaret Mathers when that prominent actress was booked for an engagement at the Academy of Music, now the Princess Theatre, raised and an extra gallery put in. When the company arrived at the Academy it was found impossible to put on the production, and it was decided at the last moment to transfer the show to the Grand, where it could be given in its entirety and without inconvenience. "When I recall this incident," said Mr. Cottar, "and go back to the stage of the Grand, I say to myself, 'Well, the people who built this house had more knowledge of theatrical requirements than the architects of the modern theatres. The stage in many of these new houses has been sacrificed for the auditorium.' The Grand can still be classed as one of the most commodious and convenient of theatres of the day. It is a fine old house and has seen the best of the profession. I myself feel at home in it."

"Systems Join Lawton."

BOSTON, March 26.—Replying to four questions asked of Edward McSweeney, secretary to Thomas W. Lawton, to-night, Mr. McSweeney, speaking by authority of Mr. Lawton, made the answers here given:

"Has Mr. Lawton been in New York often during the last three months?" "Four days a week for a number of weeks."

"Is he there now?" "No; he has just returned."

"Is there any story in his advertisements?" "Too hard to answer."

"Has he joined the 'System'?" "No, the 'System' has joined him."

FRENCH CANADIANS ARE BEING REPATRIATED

Hundreds and Hundreds Are Flocking Back to Quebec or Going to Western Provinces.

MONTREAL, March 26.—(Special).—Hundreds and hundreds of French-Canadian families are abandoning the manufacturing centres of New England and the middle states and are either returning to the Province of Quebec or going to swell the stream of settlers now taking up land in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Rene Dupont, formerly immigration agent for the Lake St. John Railway before its absorption by the Canadian Northern, and lately appointed repatriation agent by the Dominion Government, has just returned from the States, where sub-agencies have been appointed, chiefly at Boston, Biddeford and Portland, all of which are French-Canadian centres and from which large contingents are daily leaving for different parts of the Dominion.

So far Woonsocket and Province in Rhode Island and Manchester in New Hampshire have furnished the heaviest contingents for the north, and he thinks that at least 75 families are negotiating for transfers to either Quebec or the west. In fact the Portland agent reports that on one day quite recently seven carloads of these people were dispatched from the city.

Referring to the movement from the lower part of this province, when all most whole families in the Quebec district went to the other side of the line to enjoy the prosperity that followed the rebuilding of the republic after the war, Mr. Dupont states that a great many of these same people are now returning here, yet in many cases it is the sons and daughters who have elected to come back to the fatherland.

He states, however, that it is only the minority who are remaining here in this province, as they have heard of the Smith Shoots Friend Who Asks for His Welfare.

PARSBORO, N. S., March 26.—At noon to-day Lewis K. Smith, a prominent young man who conducts a butcher shop, was working away as usual when James Rector, another young man, entered the shop and made the remark: "Smith, you are looking well this morning."

Smith immediately drew a revolver from his pocket, and without speaking a word fired point blank at young Rector. The bullet entered his breast near the right lung. Then, turning the weapon on himself, he fired a shot into his own mouth. Rector was immediately carried to a nearby drug store, but only lived a few minutes. Smith cannot live. Smith is thought to have been temporarily insane.

Prince Edward Legislature Makes a Drastic Move.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., March 26.—A resolution calling for legislation to prohibit the running of automobiles in this province was unanimously passed in the legislature.

Members on both sides spoke on the question, the majority favoring absolute prohibition, others suggesting prohibition for a limited period or running under restrictions. The resolution was moved by John Agnew, seconded by D. P. Irving, both Liberals. The premier and the opposition leader spoke in favor of the measure.

The action of the legislature is in response to public opinion expressed by resolutions passed at many meetings in different parts of the island. There are nine automobiles owned here.

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

A NEW YORK, March 13th, 1908.
 Daniel Guggenheim, Esq.,
 President, Guggenheim Exploration Company,
 71 Broadway, New York City.

My Dear Sir:

I beg to hand you herewith report by Mr. Oscar B. Perry on the properties of the Yukon Gold Company. Mr. Perry's report is based on the results of his examination work, aided by a corps of assistants, in the Klondike District during the past three years.

I have studied Mr. Perry's figures with care, and have gone over the reports of the Klondike District during the last ten seasons, and is very familiar with the district. Mr. Treadgold, who has been in the Klondike District during the last ten seasons, and is very familiar with the district. Mr. Treadgold, I believe that the gravels owned and controlled by the Yukon Gold Company in the Yukon territory should yield upwards of $30,000,000 gross value, and when the properties are thoroughly equipped, I believe that Mr. Perry's estimate of $20,000,000 net profit, with possibilities beyond this will be realized.

Very truly yours,
 A. CHESTER BEATTY
 (Signed)

B The Company's holdings in the Klondike District are located on Bonanza, Eldorado, Bear and Hunker Creeks, which have a production record approximately $100,000,000. The scheme involves absolute control of the above-named creeks, the holdings being so distributed that no other large scale operation is possible.

To secure this position, the Company has purchased sufficient creek claims and the necessary rights to control the mining situation, and is now introducing a water system and electric power plant, with suitable equipment to work its holdings upon a large scale and with the greatest possible economy.

The previous operations in this district have been conducted almost entirely by hand methods and upon a small scale. Hence, the ratio of cost to gross extraction has been exceedingly high. Former operations have been continually hampered and the cost materially increased by the extreme severity of winter.

The equipment has been designed with two objects in view—

First—By the introduction of water and power to reduce the ratio of cost to gross extraction, on the claims now owned or to be acquired by the Company, many of which have been partly worked, and which are now being profitably even by the old and expensive methods. The savings in operating costs will be greater than the net profit to be derived from these claims.

Second—By the use of a continuous water supply and the best possible equipment to transport and lift the areas of gravel, which cannot be profitably exploited by the old methods. In view of the enormous volume of gravel available, the possibilities of this phase of the scheme are very large.

The engineer's estimates of the gold contents of the Yukon gravels, based on three seasons' work, show a gross of over $50,000,000 in the ground examined. In the properties either owned or controlled by the Company, the gold is estimated at $25,000,000, with a further profit, due to possibilities (reduction in cost, extension of workings, etc.), estimated at $4,000,000. The possibilities of this phase of the scheme are very large.

The presence of rich gravel areas on other developed creeks in the Yukon district, together with the expected increase in quantity of gravel workable as methods improve, make the possibilities of the business very great.

To summarize: The Yukon properties now being developed are estimated to contain $30,000,000 net profit. The California and British Columbia properties add $20,000,000 net to this, making a total of $50,000,000, which our engineers consider safely assured. The possibilities of this phase of the scheme are very large, and extension make it safe to assume that the ultimate return will greatly exceed this figure.

O. B. PERRY.
 New York, March 6th, 1908.

C NEW YORK, March 5th, 1908.

Gentlemen:

I promised last summer to make you an estimate of the Klondike gravels to be worked by the equipment which you have been installing for the past year, and which will be completed during the summer season of this year. I shall confine myself to the main pay channel of Hunker Creek, of Bear Creek, of Bonanza Creek, with its important tributary, Eldorado Creek, and of the Klondike Valley between Hunker Creek on the east and the mouth of the Klondike River.

This main pay channel is contiguous in the valleys just mentioned, and which, when the method of gravel extraction is completed will work the whole deposit as one mine by the hydraulic method, where that method is most suitable, and by dredging where dredging is more suitable.

I have been in constant contact with the four valleys above mentioned during the summer season of 1907, and from 1898 until now, and I have during the last three seasons had the benefit of the results of the continuous hydraulic extraction work of your low grade areas, aided by my own independent observation.

In my estimation of yield I have selected from the areas served by our equipment only the higher grade deposits. These will show for obvious reasons before the summer season, large volume of gravel, and will be worked by the hydraulic method, however, will form a definite and very large increment accruing naturally to our operations after we have worked out the higher grade ground in the first twelve or fifteen years of our operations.

I am of the opinion that you will find the selected areas of high grade gravels as follows:

Bonanza Hills (Upper)	Cubic Yards	20,000,000
Bonanza Hills (Lower)		45,000,000
Hunker Creek Bottom		25,000,000
Upper Bonanza with Eldorado Creek		10,000,000
Bear Creek Bottom		10,000,000
Hunker Creek		14,000,000
Hunker Hills		20,000,000
Total		144,000,000

The above list of selected areas which will unquestionably be profitably treated by our equipment at a later stage in our Klondike operations.

Cubic Yards.

Hunker Creek Bottom with its tributary	40,000,000
Lower Bonanza	60,000,000
Hunker Hills and East	60,000,000
Klondike Valley below Bear Creek	30,000,000
Total	190,000,000

The low grade areas listed completed, with the completion of our main ditch during this year, in addition to the dredges, elevators, etc., which are now being installed, will be able to handle all of the last five aids to systematic working now ready for use, we shall be in position to work out the gravel in the Klondike area, not far in excess of that experienced in other known alluvial fields.

Yours very truly,
 A. N. C. TREADGOLD,
 Gold Dredging Company's Properties, I have direct knowledge of the values of these additional properties.

To-morrow, Saturday, in the stock market of New York, there will be offered for sale throughout representative Boston, New York and Philadelphia stock exchange houses 700,000 shares of the

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

At not less than $5 or more than $7.50 per share. The entire 700,000 shares is treasury stock of the

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

Capital $3,500,000 shares, par $5 each, and is sold for the benefit of the company.

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

is owned by the Guggenheim Exploration Company.

The Exploration Company is one of the group of corporations known throughout the world as the "Guggenheim Metal Smelting and Mining Group."

Among the group are the following companies:—
 Yukon Gold Company.
 Guggenheim Exploration Company.
 American Smelting & Refining Company.
 American Smelters Securities Company.
 Federal Mining & Smelting Company.
 United Zinc Company.
 National Lead Company.

Owing to the huge capital of these combined companies—hundreds of millions of dollars—their enormous assets and great gross and net earnings, and the business and mining ability combined in the administration and operation of the allied corporations, this group is recognized throughout the world as the head of the mining industry. Owing to the extraordinary success of all companies which have ever become a part of this group, the enormous aggregate of annual dividends, and the fact that the stocks of the different companies have sold at tremendous premiums over their flotation price (American Smelters, with capital $100,000,000, par $100, sold in 1907 at $174 per share; Guggenheim Exploration, capital $2,000,000, par $100, at $326 per share), the public have always eagerly sought ownership in any stock bearing the label of this successful and powerful group.

The surest and choicest investment of the entire group has been considered to be their "Yukon Gold," because:

First—The product of gold mining is always worth at least one hundred cents on the dollar in the money of any nation, with the market always unlimited.

Second—Because "Yukon Gold" is a "dredging and hydraulic" instead of a "deep mining" proposition, which means that it cannot be affected unfavorably by flood, famine, earthquakes or "bad times."

Third—Because the quantities of gold contained in the Yukon property are definitely known.

Fourth—Because the cost of mining on this property could always be accurately estimated.

Fifth—Because this group had been liberal and far-sighted in their expenditures for "the plant" to an extent heretofore unequalled in any gold mining proposition in the world—that is, this group will have invested, when their present plans have been completed (they are nearly complete now), $12,000,000, and three years of labor, not only fearlessly invested, but so wisely that "the Guggenheims" had accomplished nothing else in "business," this one effort would have marked them as great public benefactors.

Sixth—Because it was positively known that the enterprise was an immensely profitable investment.

For the above reasons, leading bankers have eagerly sought to secure the whole or a large portion of the Yukon stock to offer to the public. For the same reasons the group have always refused to part with any of it.

The only reason that makes it possible to secure any of this stock now, first, because it is now a complete success, and, second, because the group have been convinced that just at this time, when the people are filled with distrust of all things corporatist, it will be of inestimable value to the whole investment and corporation structure to spread through the land into the hands of thousands of small and large investors a fraction of the stock of their enterprise at less than one-half of its actual worth.

Two brief illustrations will show to all the horse-senseness of this move: The amount of money lost to the group by selling to the public 700,000 of the 3,500,000 shares owned by the exploration company will be many times more than made up by the increase in the value of the stocks of the other corporations in the group.

The story of the Yukon's property and stock is told better and more fully than I can tell it in the reports and schedules which are presented herewith:

"A" is the say-so of one of the best known and most reliable and responsible mining and business experts in the world, A. Chester.

Mr. Beatty plainly and concisely tells of the property and the two men who know most about it, and they in equally plain and brief language have told what they know.

"B" is the report of one of the best experts on this form of property anywhere, O. B. Perry.

"C" is the report of the man who has lived continuously with the property since the discovery, A. N. C. Treadgold.

Mr. Treadgold is an Englishman of responsibility, learning, mining knowledge and high standing. In Great Britain, America, Canada and Alaska he ranks second to no man on the subject of which he treats.

As "A," "B" and "C" duplicate themselves in places, and as every word in my extensive advertising costs heavily, I have cut out the duplicate parts. The unabridged reports will be sent to anyone who desires to have them.

"D" is an outline of "the group" of enterprises and men, and is presented for the purpose of allowing all to judge if such an aggregation of business men and corporations would allow exaggerated or unreliable statements to go forth about property and stock which they, and they alone, own and control.

Before leaving Fair Finance, the first section of my work of publicity in the interest of the people and of capital, I would say the methods of offering this stock to the public are new.

Not a share of Yukon stock will be sold to anyone until the public throughout the United States, Canada, England, Germany and France have had twenty-four hours to read, digest and investigate the facts and figures herewith presented.

Then, at the opening of the New York Stock Market, that is, twenty-four hours after all have read this statement, the entire 700,000 shares will be placed in the hands of representative stock exchange houses, with orders to sell to any and all buyers who bid through recognized stock exchange or curb brokers at not less than $5 nor more than $7.50 per share, and to continue to sell until the entire 700,000 shares have been disposed of, after which time the price will be the one made by the late comers and those who have bought and who are satisfied to take their profits.

In presenting this absolutely safe and profitable investment to the public everywhere, and particularly to the 425,000 investors and speculators with whom for so many years I have done more or less business, I have this earnest say-to present:—I have personally and thoroughly tested the worth of this property, and in my opinion it is the best investment I have ever known.

I have to the best of my ability looked over and into the "Guggenheim group" of enterprises and the men upon whose ability, honesty and work they must depend for success, and I am confident they are going to be winners—"sure deal winners"—and destined to become great favorites with the people, as from time to time the people mingle their savings with securities based upon the enterprises of this group.

While I do not yet own a share of Yukon stock, I have, nevertheless, a tremendous interest in the success of this project of disposing of this stock. If it's the success it should be, I increase my power to procure bargains from the great captains of finance for the people, and when the 700,000 shares I have been instrumental in securing for the people at one-half or one-third their worth are in great public demand at two to four times what the people have paid for them, I will have added largely to my public following.

A parting word to small investors: If, after you have secured some Yukon stock at from $5 to $7.50 per share you are tempted to sell at later prices of $10 to $15, you should weigh carefully before doing so the possibility of reinvesting your original savings and what they have garnered for you to as good advantage as in Yukon, even at $10 to $15 per share, bearing in mind in all your calculations that this investment is so sure, that the men of all men in the world who know most about such investments, and particularly this investment, have selected Yukon Gold for their choicest permanent investment, and they retain four-fifths of it, which they will not sell, even at a large advance over what the public on Saturday can buy it.

A word to Wall Street speculators: In determining how big a block of "Yukon" you should take, consider what will happen to "Yukon" with only 700,000 $5 shares outstanding for trading purposes, equal to about 35,000 shares of Union Pacific, when my friends the public take it all and insist upon securing more. You and I will agree the entire lot will hardly supply the demand of any one of a number of us who in the past have never seriously looked at taking on 50,000 to 60,000 shares of any $100 stock which looked half as good as investigation will absolutely prove Yukon is.

PROSECUTOR RESENTS

partment of dishonesty, but give no official by name, neither do they make any clear or specified charges upon which the minister could take action. The report cites a couple of cases apparently intended to support the conclusion of the commissioners, but both cases in the report convey impressions completely at variance with the facts. The order in council appointing the commissioners authorizes them to enquire into and report upon such charges as may be deemed advisable in the public service. I may venture the opinion that matters connected with the management and control of the department can scarcely be said to come within the scope of this commission. I suppose it may be stated also that this was hardly within the scope of the commission or any of the commissioners to state that the increased cost of living was a logical result of the wasting, impoverishing and demoralizing system of protection.

Mr. Brodeur then quoted from the report as follows: "There is not only a lack of sufficient organization and method in the department; there would also seem to be a lack of conscience in connection with the enormous expenditure which are deemed necessary. The word 'discourt' never appears. It is tacitly assumed there is no such thing; but the whole commercial world knows otherwise. If one gets any benefit from trade with the government except the trader, then it must be clear that in these great purchases made for the government with our discount its officers must be assisting the trader to get better prices from the government than he can get anywhere else; for, ever, where else he has to give a discount, in other words, some of the government officers are serving the masters and apparently succeeding with both, Scripture notwithstanding."

Details Commission assumed.
 "The continued Mr. Brodeur, "that if a legal commission was received and the enhanced prices, paid dishonestly, the commission in support of their statement proceeded to furnish the following details. They quote an official memorandum dated Sept. 17, 1907, in regard to the purchase of coal at Prescott, prepared for the deputy minister's consideration by the clerk in charge of that work, Mr. Stumbles. It reads as follows:

"Mr. Joseph Buckley of Prescott, who furnished anthracite coal to this department at $7.75 per ton, states that the coal was furnished at a considerable loss to him. The coal cost him $5.25 and he is now willing to continue the furnishing of the anthracite coal at a cost price, namely, at $5.25 per ton. I recommend that Mr. Buckley's offer be accepted, as he has furnished coal at a loss to the government, and that the deputy minister be allowed him for coal in future."

"Anthracite coal in Ottawa costs from $7.25 to $7.75 and the regular price at Prescott is $8 per ton."
 "The said two commissioners saw a duplicate of this original memorandum on file and apparently concluded without further investigation that what had been recommended had been approved by the department, and state in the report that the recommendation was agreed to. The fact is that the deputy minister submitted to the minister the memorandum with the following words written across it: 'This will have to be further investigated as to what had been recommended by the department.'"

"I refused to increase the price of the contract and I wrote across the memorandum: 'Carry out the contract.'"
 "The two commissioners stated in the report that the department had agreed to pay a larger price than the one mentioned in the contract. If they had taken the trouble to look more closely into the matter they would have found that positive instructions had been given to carry out the work of the contract as it was.
 "Moreover, I may add that I had had a very careful enquiry made into the payments made since the date of this contract and the prices which have been paid are those mentioned in the contract.
 "I will call the attention of this house to another sample of the manner in which the two commissioners have supported their statements. The officials of the department here, having had occasion to question the price as stated by the agent at Quebec for a certain brand of flour, wrote to that official and asked him for an explanation of the item before passing the account for payment. A long correspondence took place between the accountants and that official and the account was officially priced into to find out whether the price asked for was fair and just. In other words, the officials of the department here took all necessary precautions not to pay more than a just and fair price. However, the two commissioners state in the report, as an instance of the carelessness of the official of the department, that this was equated into at the instance of the auditor-general. As a matter of fact, the auditor-general has not yet seen the account and did not have anything to do with the enquiry.
 Some Open to Censure.
 "While I am aware that some of the officials have been open to the charge that the manner in which they have despatched their business, I have never had any evidence to establish dishonesty on their part. The accusation of the two commissioners, which generally are of such a character as to reflect on the integrity of the officials generally. For the protection of the public interest, it is necessary that further enquiry should be made into such accusations, and I propose to take without further delay the necessary steps to that end."

An Unusual Spectacle.
 R. L. Jordan commented on the unusual spectacle of a minister attacking the report of a commissioner appointed by the government. "It is a novel spectacle," he said, "in the history of parliamentary government that an administration within a few minutes after laying upon the table a report of a commissioner appointed by themselves should put up one of their own members to attack not only the commissioner's report, but the commissioners themselves. I do not know whether the incident is necessary to the cause, but with the delay in bringing down the report, it does remark, however, that it seems to me the minister who has just now spoken has been guilty of an act of very grave discourtesy to the house in undertaking to discuss a subject which could not be discussed generally in this house or upon this motion because no member of the house outside the government had had an opportunity of examining this report. Presumably the gentlemen to whom the report was entrusted the duty of making this investigation, and who submitted this report, were men in whom the government had confidence. If that confidence was justified, and I have no reason to believe it was not justified, surely it might have been permitted to the house and to the country that the parliament of Canada should make itself acquainted with the terms of that report before gentlemen occupying the treasury benches should see fit to discuss it and to discuss it at a time when no answer could be given either on behalf of the commissioners, or on behalf of the interests of the people, at a time when the minister knew that absolutely no instance of the commissioners could be made in this house. The course adopted in the matter spoken of is at the very unwise precedent for the government to set."

Mr. Bennett asked if there was anything in the report as to adding lists in connection with material paid for and not delivered for Sorel yard in connection with the investigation by a commissioner extending over one year was in progress.

Mr. Brodeur replied that the civil service commission's report contained no mention of it.

Mr. Bennett returned that the cause of delay was to be found in the fact that Desbarats was head of the Sorel yard and that Mr. Bennett referred, and had never been directly or indirectly concerned in the matter spoken of at all.

Could Not Fathom Case.
 Mr. Bennett said he would have to accept the statement of the minister. He had, however, been informed that Desbarats was head of the Sorel yard and that all these matters came under his supervision. It was a wonderful thing that the commission appointed by the government had not been able to fathom this case after over a year's investigation. There had, he went on, been a large expenditure in the marine and fisheries department on what was known as the Georgian Bay Fisheries Commission. He asked if any reference was made in the report just brought down to the fact that a member of the fisheries commission had been convicted by one of Erere's own officials for illegal fishing.

Mr. Brodeur replied that the civil service commission was not charged with looking into the fisheries commission.

Mr. Taylor asked what was the cost of the civil service commission's report, whether the commissioners had been paid and if the minister, who disagreed with his report, intended to share the cost of the report, would vote with the opposition that the report be not received.

Hon. Mr. Fielding replied that the commissioners had not yet been paid nor had their remuneration been decided.

Mr. Fielding claimed there was no impropriety in the action of Hon. Mr. Brodeur. That gentleman had not attacked anybody or made accusations against anybody in the house or out of it. If he had not called attention to the discrepancy or error of judgment on a fact affecting the character and honesty of his officials, if he had allowed that report to go out for one hour without doing what he had done, he would not have been acting fairly and justly. He had simply called attention to the fact that the commissioners, through erroneous information, had made a fact judgment, had made accusations, not as to mismanagement, but affecting the personal honor and honesty of officials who had been in the department many years and whose integrity and honor they had trusted in the past.

Enough for the Present.
 Mr. Fielding said that Mr. Brodeur had properly stated that he did not intend to let the matter rest there, that it called for further proceedings, and he intended to take part in fairness to himself and his officials.

Mr. Blain observed that Mr. Brodeur should compliment the commissioners for their work instead of finding fault. Dr. Reid asked if Mr. Brodeur had called the attention of the commission to the way in which accounts were passed by him. Mr. Brodeur said except in one instance the commissioners had not consulted him. One of them had complained that he could not get some information, and he had promptly ordered all files to be placed at the disposal of the gentleman's disposal.

Dr. Reid asked how it was that parties like Merwin C. Scrubb, who were able to continue to do business with the department, according to recent reports of the auditor-general, after revelations showing that those parties had received payment for goods at double the price they had paid for them.

Should Be Thoughtful.
 Hon. Mr. Foster thought Hon. Mr. Brodeur should be thankful he had got off so lightly, and that the commission had not gone thru his department from top to bottom and covered its working for the last five years. In view of what had transpired the minister ought to have the fullest investigation by a royal commission or committee of independent members of the house.

Dr. Sproule questioned if the intention of the government was not to test another commission to whitewash the minister.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said Mr. Foster had gone far afield in throwing out insinuations. As a business man he had found that the commission had in regard to two transactions made a singular error affecting the honor of the officials of his department. At the same time he had stated that there was enough to warrant further investigation, and he proposed to make the investigation by a royal commission without naming anybody.

They had thrown out insinuations stating that wrong doings had been done, but without naming wrongdoers. Under the circumstances, the minister was quite justified in his course.

prime minister was not prepared to say whether the investigation should be by royal commission or committee of the house.

HELP ON TREE PLANTING.

The time approaches when tree-planting will be seriously considered by hundreds of Ontario's good farmers. It is regarded by many now as a regular part of their spring's procedure, and is not left to chance or opportunity, as was the case in many days of our fathers' times.

And it is well that this love of planting trees is becoming deeply rooted in our natures. The researches of the forestry departments all are going to prove the necessity of reforesting our waste lands if Ontario is to escape a tree famine. But it is not from this standpoint altogether that the farmer is to be commended for planting trees. Their value is manifold. They enhance the old farm's selling value. They afford shade for stock, posts for wire fences, windbreaks for orchards and last, but by no means least, they lend a charm to the farm that our young minds are sorely in need of.

That the desire to plant more trees is growing, is evident from the enquiries that are being received by the forestry department at Guelph. Mr. Zavitz, who is in charge, cannot cope to do all the work he is called upon to attempt. The need for large tracts of waste lands in various parts of Ontario being converted into nursery grounds for the wild woods is becoming apparent. Guelph is not an ideal place for such a nursery, as the land is too valuable.

SPRAYS FOR THE ORCHARD

The greatest of all spraying mixtures that act as fungicides is, of course, the Bordeaux. Yet there are others which have accomplished much. The mildews, molds, rusts and other troubles are most perplexing and after once apparent on plant or tree little can be done for them. In other words, fungous diseases are emphatic examples of the "ounce of prevention" theory. Once the eye sees the fungus the damage is largely done, or at least, the disease is so established that no remedy is strong enough to reach it. One preventive measure is fire. That is, burn weeds, rubbish, old vines and get others 4-50 or 6-50. The more common strength is probably 5-50. It can be varied to suit. That strength, however, will not insure vegetable growth. Watch well your mixing.

T-T-TWO OF A K-K-KIND.

A tall man, impatiently pacing the platform of a wayside station, accented a red-headed boy of about 12 "S-s-say," he said, "do-d-do y-you know ha-ha-how late this train is?" The boy grinned, but made no reply. The man stammered out something about red-headed kids in general and passed into the station.

PLANTING ORCHARDS.

Treeplanter (Durham)—In planting an orchard what plan would you advise in placing the varieties. Is it so that trees have sterile blossoms? Ans.—It is better for the sake of handling the fruit to have several trees of one variety together. Some successful orchards are planted three rows of each variety across the orchard. But it is not well to get too many varieties. Yes, the northern spot has sterile blossoms, and it is not yet known what other varieties have. For that reason it is well to have several varieties in the Orchard.

WHY IS PRISON TWINE DEAR?

Several Members of House Get After Solicitor-General. An interesting discussion took place this week at Ottawa over the manufacture and sale of binder twine by the Kingston penitentiary, while the House was in committee of supply. The matter was brought up by Mr. Blain of Peel. As some 250,000 pounds of twine remain unsold at the prison and as Canada uses some 2,000,000 pounds annually, it was contended that there was something wrong in the way the government laid it before the members. Along this line Mr. Henderson of Halifax said:

TOO MUCH MILK.

In a recent number of an exchange a man writes to Dr. Smead, stating that he has a cow that drops a vigorous calf only about every other year, that the cow was never dry except for three weeks before calving. She has always been a large milker. The doctor tells him that the cow is evidently over-milked, and that this impairs her ability to properly nourish and build up her calf while in embryo. He further tells the owner to be careful to feed the cow well on ground oats, corn meal and bran while she is milking and while dry. The idea is that this cow must have sufficient right food to build up the body of the calf. There is nothing but the best of good sense in that advice. He should have advised him to let the cow go dry at least sixty days, instead of twenty-one days; so short a period as that is very apt to produce serious troubles. In these days of ambition to produce cows of great capacity and make them yield largely at the pail, it is well to remember the old adage that is to be born. There must be reason in all things. The cow cannot turn all the nourishment she derives from the food she gets into the milk pail and still have enough to build up her offspring rightly.

DIGNITY OF OUR CITIES.

LONDON, March 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.) Kipling, in "The Morning Post," writes the dignity of the Canadian cities always impressed him. "Our eldest sister," he says, "has more beauty and strength inside of her cities, than the rest of us put together." Kipling criticizes the street cleaning, water supply and traffic regulation.

GOOSE EGGS WANTED.

The following letter was received by "The World" and poultry dealers would do well to get busy: "Could you give me the names of parties having goose eggs for hatching purposes for sale." J. D.

POULTRY NOTES

Crossbreeds vs. Purebreds. (Continued.) One of the best reasons for table is the Dorking-India Game. The result of mating two good pure breeds together is always excellent, as the embryo new blood gives stamina to the young birds, which are invariably found to be less trouble to rear than the birds of pure breed. The advantage of using the Wyandotte or Plymouth Rocks is that eggs are produced in the autumn and winter, just when they are required. To mate up a pen of fowls for the production of table birds requires a great deal of care, as the laying qualities of the hens or pullets must be considered, as well as the necessary requirements of the table. I have seen some of the finest table birds raised from these crosses, and have every confidence in recommending it for the purpose mentioned. In crossing fowls, it will be found that by far the larger number of the pullets take after the male bird in the color of their plumage, and the cocks are as a rule much more mixed in their coloring. When speaking of a fitroscopic food, it is always customary to mention the breed of the male bird used first, so that when a Wyandotte cockerel is crossed with an Orpington hen the progeny are called Wyandotte-Orpington. When mating a crossbred bird with another crossbred variety, it is as well to let the weight be on the hen's side, the male bird of the lighter breed. For the production of good layers and non-setters, Houdan-Leighorn cannot be beaten, and for tinted eggs, Houdan-Wyandotte.

Cleanings by the Way.

When giving your birds their soft feed be careful not to make it too wet. An inveterate egg-eater often gives a great deal of trouble, and if they are not valuable birds the best food to do is to cut off their heads, as this is a safe cure. Never turn your eggs in the incubator when you first take them out. It is best to let them cool a few minutes. Give your ducks time to lay in the mornings before letting them out.

Free Range.

Large numbers of fowls for the market cannot be satisfactorily reared unless they have practically free range for a considerable space of land. One advantage to be gained is that they run around that is always fresh, and not tainted by their own manure. Another is that they obtain a very large proportion of their nourishment from insects, such as insects, grubs, worms, etc., which forms all the animal food they require. Worms furnish nitrogenous food, which is necessary for egg production, and it may be noticed that laying hens remain out much longer after a shower of rain in warm weather than those that are not producing eggs. The birds are on the ground greedily, and find the seeds of the grasses and find the whole of a fresh vegetable food, of which they eat great quantities.

Feeding on Fresh Ground.

In feeding poultry it is a great mistake and one which is so often made, to always throw the grain over one particular place. No plan could be more injurious to the health of the birds. The ground after a short time becomes fouled with their manure, and the natural sequence of events, disease follows. One of the fowls becoming diseased, some infectious disorder, its manure is dropped on the ground, the corn is thrown down and becomes contaminated; it is eaten by other birds and the disease spreads rapidly. Never feed your fowls more than two or three days running on the same place. Take the trouble to walk a short distance into the fields and scatter the grain on new ground, and rest assured that not a single grain will be lost. The birds take exercise in searching for it and eat it slowly in a natural way. The food is clean and wholesome, and no fear of having crop-bound birds, which is liable to occur in birds which are fed from a trough, where, if they are not fed first, some first feed, and the first will fill their crops to their utmost capacity.

Answer to Queries.

Breed (Novice): The Plymouth Rock breeds will suit your land; also Orpingtons and Wyandottes. (2) It depends on the management of your incubator. (3) You have not room for more than 25 fowls in the pen you mention. Various (New Beginner): You cannot get better than by the food you mention. (2) Get and shell and sell for 75c per 100 lbs. Sell off the old hens, as the age you mention is far away too old to make any profit whatever. Cutting (F.R.A.): We are pleased to have cuttings from our poultry column. We may not be able to use them in their entirety, but we can always make extracts. Broody Hens (Broody): The best crosses are perhaps those with Wyandottes and Orpingtons. It is best to put them down at night on hot eggs and so, then give them a good feed of corn, and give putting them on the rood eggs. Grain, water and clean water is all they require when sitting. Farred Rocks (P.T.A.): I am glad to hear that you find our column of interest and that you look forward to reading some each week. You do not say how old your farred hens are, but please remember that however good hens are you should never keep them over three years; that is if you are looking for profit. The pen you have mated will throw all cockerels, but as a rule the largest number of male birds are hatched by the way you have mated yours. This time of the year, if you keep the frost away from your eggs they will keep at least two weeks, but the fresher you set the eggs the stronger your young chicks will be.

The Best Yet.

The program committee arranging for the annual benefit entertainment of the Physical Mechanical Association say that it will be the best yet. It will be held in the Princess Theatre, on Friday afternoon, April 3. The companies playing in town next week will contribute to the benefit. Beautiful souvenir silk cushion covers will be given to ticket holders.

Dr. Colt Sentenced.

WOULD LIKE TWO MEMBERS.

Irish Catholics May Nominate J. J. Ward For Cabinet. OTTAWA, March 26.—(Special)—The Irish Catholics of the Dominion are becoming insistent upon receiving better representation in the cabinet. They point out the fact that in Sir John Thompson's cabinet there were four Irish Catholics, thus: Sir John Thompson, Hon. J. J. Curran, Sir Frank Smith, Hon. John Cosgrave, while in the present cabinet only one representative is Hon. W. R. Scott, who is not in a position to look after their interests, on account of his advanced age. It is being urged that two additional Irish Catholics should be appointed to the cabinet, one as minister of labor and the other without portfolio, and the two names most prominently mentioned in this connection are Charles Murphy of Ottawa and Controller Ward of Toronto.

The Joy o' Spring

There was a really real flash of spring yesterday in that warm southern breeze that brought a crowd of people to the down-town streets and avenues.

The shabby winter hat was not remarkable by its absence and that's something to be set right.

All our new spring hats are in the show cases—superb designs by Henry Heath and Dunlap of New York, Melville, Christy, Tress, and a hundred others.

PORK IMPORTATIONS.

Some Interesting Figures Presented in House.

OTTAWA, March 26.—(Special.)—In the house to-day W. F. Maclean (Ontario) was told by Mr. Paterson that the quantity and value of fresh pork, cured or salted, and all other fresh meats imported for home consumption into Canada since Dec. 1, 1907, up to March 1, 1908, were: Pork, barrels in brine, 2,053,448 lbs., valued at $166,109; bacon, hams, shoulders and sides, 1,516,289 lbs., $154,622. Mutton and lamb, fresh, 545,113 lbs., $39,025; fresh pork, 2,418 lbs., $193; other fresh meats, 53,877 lbs., $828.

Replying to Mr. McLean (Queen's) Mr. Paterson said the quantity of mess pork, hams and bacon imported into Canada from the United States in November and December, 1907, and January and February, 1908, were: Pork, barrels in brine, 3,046,589 lbs., of value of $244,528; bacon, hams, shoulders and sides, 2,112,457 lbs., value $232,808.

Mr. Lancaster presented a petition of the St. Catharines Board of Trade praying that Welland Canal be enlarged.

Mr. Oliver introduced a bill to amend the Immigration Act. It relates to the admission of immigrants, providing that they must come from the country of origin. It had been found it was impossible to deport undesirable coming from a port of another country.

Mr. Foster asked if it was intended to deport a suitable immigrant simply because he bought a ticket at another port.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that was the subject. It was impossible to exclude undesirable unless they came from the country of origin.

Mr. Borden read a despatch from Halifax that troops of the garrison were without their pay and serious trouble was threatened. Mr. Fielding said this was due to delay in passing the supplementary estimates.

Mr. Borden suggested that these items be passed forthwith and the house went into committee, the militia estimates being adopted without discussion.

PHYSIOGNOMY.
The science can be traced as far back as the time of Pythagoras, who is said to have examined carefully the faces of his would-be pupils before admitting them to his school. Hippocrates, 450 B. C., refers to the science, and Cicero has many references to it. The first systematic treatise on the subject that has come down to us is that attributed to Aristotle. The sixteenth century was particularly rich in literature on physiognomy, and the eighteenth shows a still greater interest in the science. Lavater's book seems to be the final word on the subject.

Monolithic Concrete.
In the use of monolithic concrete there is no rule by which it may be determined at what time it is entirely safe to remove the timber which supports the mass while it is setting, but an authority on the subject says: To formulate a comprehensive rule covering these variable conditions may be difficult, but it is easy to demand that concrete not frozen shall be set sufficiently so that if tested by driving a 25-penny wire spike into it with an ordinary carpenter's hammer, the spike shall double up after penetrating approximately one inch; and if the concrete is not sufficiently good to withstand this test after having had ample time to set, it is not good enough to remain and do business in a structure that may be deemed safe.

VERDICT IS RENDERED RE DEATH OF JOHNSTON

Funeral of Late Mr. Anthony Takes Place To-Day—Assessor Appointed in York.

TORONTO JUNCTION, March 26.—"Don't aim at too many things at once. Try to help somebody in some way or other. Find a sphere of usefulness. Live within your means and spend less than you earn. Develop self-control and avoid affectation." These were some of the words of wisdom handed out by Rev. Dr. Hazlewood to-night at his lecture entitled "A Modern Excelsior—Some Lessons in Climbing." There was a large attendance. The chairman of the evening was F. J. Johnson, B.A., and he explained that the purpose of the meeting was to raise money for the organ which will be installed in the new church now rapidly nearing completion. The members of the choir, Annesley Guild and Brotherhood of St. Paul have been appointed a committee to raise subscriptions for the organ.

Pleased With Committee. Trustee Hall stated to The World to-night that the school board is greatly pleased at the action of the private bills committee in granting the town permission to issue debentures to the extent of $25,000, the cash proceeds of which will amount to about $17,000 or $18,000.

"Such an amount would provide for a school about the size of that on Western-avenue," said Mr. Hall, "and will be as yet of course a matter of conjecture. Neither has the location of the site been decided upon, but it probably will be on the Elizabeth-street lot, although some of the trustees favor its location in a more southerly part of the town."

The death occurred suddenly this morning of Jean Taylor, aged 2 years and 11 months, eldest daughter of E. B. Wright of Fairbanks and Wright, Esq., of the West Toronto Herald. Diphtheria was the cause of death. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning from her parents' home, 218 Western-avenue, to Prospect Cemetery, and will be private.

Many Deaths in Town. Mrs. Annie E. Handel, 28 years old, wife of Albert Handel, died at her home this morning at her home on Nairn-avenue, Earlscourt. The funeral will take place on Saturday to Prospect Cemetery.

Mrs. Adeline Duff of 15 Vine-street died this afternoon. The funeral will take place from Speer's undertaking parlors to-morrow evening to the Union Station, and the remains will be shipped on the G.T.R. 8:30 express to South Durham, Que., for interment.

James Bain was sworn in as a special officer in the Junction a few days ago. He may be recalled to the force permanently.

A pleasing piano recital was given to-night in the College of Music on Dundas-street by the pupils of Miss Hattie Rowntree. The program was supplemented by songs by Miss McGill and Percy Joyce, and solo selections by W. S. Crover, all of which were well received. The pupils, who contributed to the program were: Misses Lillian Hunt, Marion Crowley, Mary Jewitt, Lillian Smith, Pearl Williams, Ina Weatherill, Edna Coleman, Ella Greig, Pearl Stone, Eva LeFevre, Constance Harris and Stella V. Rowntree.

EAST TORONTO. Jury Return Verdict in Case of Alex. Anthony.

EAST TORONTO, March 26.—That Arthur Johnston came to his death on March 18 between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m. from being struck by a G.T.R. train.

This was the verdict given out by the jury empaneled by Coroner Dr. Sisley, after less than an hour's consideration following the inquest in the town hall to-night.

Lit in the way of material evidence was adduced, throwing light on the matter in which the unfortunate man met his death.

William Harding testified to finding the dog, attracted by the animal's actions, and later the hand, at 12:30, on the morning of March 19 while returning from work.

He communicated with the city police, who in turn, referred him to the G.T.R. officials at York. The latter had in the meantime found the body, near York station.

Dr. Walters gave expert testimony regarding the condition of the body. John Mitchell and Engineer McKibbin gave unimportant testimony.

An emergency meeting of Acacia Lodge A.F. & A.M. is called for to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 1:30 to attend the funeral of their late brother, Alex. Anthony. A full attendance is requested.

The G.T.R. are this week cleaning the tracks and balling the yard at the station, a part of the work being done in the filling in with cinders the spot at the north of the main tracks, which, during the fall and spring, is at times covered with water.
