

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 18, 1913. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THANKSGIVING DAY On Monday next Thanksgiving Day will be observed throughout Canada. Canadians have great reason to be thankful for much they have enjoyed during the past year.

work of building wharves and warehouses at West St. John, prepared the plans and began the great work of dredging the harbor, prepared the plans and received the tenders for the development of Courtenay Bay, and in short carried on a work which if it had been continued as it should have been by the present government would have prevented much of the loss of traffic which now threatens this port.

On Monday, Thanksgiving Day, the Times will not be issued. The evidence brought out at the police investigation last night was of a sufficiently sensational character to attract attention in a very unpleasant way to the affairs of the police department.

A reduction of thirteen in the number of steamship sailings from St. John during the coming winter appears to be the answer to C. P. R. assurances that the port will be offered more business than it can handle.

Hon. Robert Rogers cannot come to St. John this month, as he has several by-elections on his hands; and, if there is anything in which the Hon. Robert's heart delights, it is an opportunity to display his peculiar talents in an election contest.

St. John is not isolated to the extent that Mr. J. B. M. Baxter feared on Monday evening in this matter of the mail steamships. Sympathy has been expressed in Chatham, Moncton and St. Stephen. Discrimination for the benefit of the C. P. R. is not popular.

References to Hon. William Pugsley by his political opponents serve to remind St. John people that they were not compelled to pass resolutions and send delegations to Ottawa to seek justice for this city when he was its representative in the government.

The persistency with which the Germans continue to put their faith in the dirigible balloon, in the face of the repeated terrible tragedies which have resulted from experiments with this class of air craft, shows that as a nation they are tenacious of an idea to the point of recklessness.

One way to relieve the congestion at the wharves at West St. John during the winter is to have a smaller number of steamship sailings, and also to take away the biggest of the steamships. This appears to be the plan that has been adopted. It is not good for St. John, but will help a constituency which has more influence in the cabinet, unfortunately, than has the city of St. John.

The chairman of the Manchester Liners, Limited, says that the port which provides more than the necessary facilities for the business that is offering will rapidly increase its business. The better the facilities, the more eager the steamship companies are to do business at that particular port. St. John, he says, "needs more berths and needs them badly."

The last week has been marked by an unusual number of great human tragedies, resulting in the loss of many lives and bringing sorrow into thousands of homes. Almost every day has brought its grim story of disaster and death, causing a thrill of horror that all the world feels as the tale is told. More and more the people of all nations are drawn into sympathy in grief that is common to them all, and the news of which is flashed from day to day around the world.

The Standard expresses amazement that the Times has not heard of Mr. Archibald Hurd as a gentleman amply qualified to issue "an authoritative appeal for the earliest possible naval conference." Despite the shock to the Standard, the Times really doubts the right of Mr. Hurd to speak for the various states of the British Empire, or any of them, in the matter of a naval conference.

Hon. William Pugsley has again been caught red-handed by the Tories. He is now after the leadership of the Liberal party in Canada. But the party has a leader, who has been described by the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill as "that great imperial statesman," and who is still the terror of the Tories. If the Liberal party were seeking a leader, the Tories might well object to the choice of Dr. Pugsley, for next to Sir Wilfrid Laurier they fear him more than any other of their opponents. He has proved his strength in opposition as he did when in the government, and nowhere so effectively as in the halls of parliament.

The duke has truly a goodly heritage, and the story of it is as romantic as Dick Whittington's. The Grosvenors, be it remembered, were a famous house before they enrolled under the banner which the Conqueror bore into Britain.

Their name is derived from the title of the ancient Norman office which they held—Gros Veneur, great or chief hunter. They could be traced back to the Vikings or Normans who, eleven or twelve centuries ago, invaded France, and, for the sake of peace, were given an area of land, which they called by their own name—Normandy. The Grosvenors held various offices in England during the centuries that followed the Conquest, but nothing materially enhancing their fortunes happened until, in 1656, Sir Thomas Grosvenor married the daughter of a London farmer, who had 450 acres of rather poor farm land on the western outskirts of the capital, which had been let at £21 a year. That marshy farm land is now Belgraveia. It was barely under cultivation when it came into the possession of the Grosvenors, and when Queen Victoria ascended the throne it was still out in the wilds. The Queen inadvertently made the fortunes of the Grosvenors when she established herself at Buckingham Palace and made a waste part of the capital a popular centre. At first the situation seemed impossible. Courtiers, when they began to build in Belgraveia, received notice from their servants, who declared that they would not live so far in the country in such an outlandish place! But we all know the rest of the story, how that land, formerly let at £21 a year, now makes the duke the richest peer in England.

years before, been in the service of the family, and was supposed to be in necessary circumstances. One day he made inquiries concerning the woman of the clergyman in whose distant parish she lived. He was informed that the lady was a prosperous poultry farmer. The clergyman added that he could not say more, as, when he called to make inquiries, the lady was unable to give him details, for she was just about to take a drive in her carriage! Of course, we do not suspect the duke or his friends in connection with the substitution of lumps of sugar for the famous stolen £180,000 necklaces, but if you mention coal, Lord Cholmondeley will look to his silver, and ask what the people are doing over at Eaton Hall. For it happened the other year, when the marquis was entertaining a great house party for Christmas at Cholmondeley Park, there was a great commotion in the middle of the night, and cries of "Burglars!" were raised. There was a rush downstairs, and lo! a massive silver racing cup, which the host had won, was gone, and a lump of coal was in its place. Some of the best cigars were missing, and a vast amount of silver plate had vanished. Some of it was found later in coal scuttles and other hiding places. There was a story of a motor-car heard roaring away from the Chester entrance of the park. The police were called in, and word went forth that the house had been entered by a gang of expert London crackmen. But the duke knew! Not he, only some of his guests had gone for a midnight ride, and had burgled the Cholmondeley mansion, and the cup and equivalents of the purloined cigars all came back with merry apologies the same afternoon.

Weak Men, Wake Up WHY DO YOU WAIT? Are you satisfied to turn the grandstone for the other fellow all your life? Are you content to be a plodder all your days? There's nothing in it, and you know it. Then why not brace up and be a Man? Electricity as I apply it is working wonders in the world. I am making hustling, energetic men out of wrecks every day. In every walk of life you'll find these men—men whom I have saved from lives of wretchedness and despair—men who are making their mark in the world—men who are shouting the praises of my Dr. McLaughlin Belt—men who will tell you that their success in life dates from the time that they began the use of my great Electric Appliance—the only absolutely safe and sure remedy for a weak man—a broken-down man. My remedy is an honest remedy, a logical remedy, a time-tried remedy. You have seen my advertisements for over twenty years, if you have been on earth that long, and if you'll write to or consult some of the men and women who have used my appliance or are using it, they'll tell you that it does all that I claim for it and even more. Then why do you wait? What's the use in bewailing your fate? You know you are the man you ought to be. I can help you with Electricity as applied according to my method more than all the Doctors and Drugs in Christendom. It's fresh strength and energy you want, VIM and VIGOR, that's what I can give you, and you'll be a long time getting anything like that out of drugs. If your stomach don't work; refuses to digest your food; if your Bowels do not move regularly; if your Kidneys are weak; if your liver is sluggish; if your Blood Circulation is poor and your Blood is full of Uric Acid or other impurities; if your body is full of Pains and Aches; if you suffer from Headaches, Urinal disorders, Irritability, Despondency, Sleeplessness, or any other signs of Nervous or Physical Breakdown, stop and THINK! Don't depend upon drugs to build you up; they'll never do it. Don't you know that all such symptoms are crying out the fact as loudly as they can that the nerve-cells of your body are robbed of their power—their vitality? Don't you know that it is nerve-power that operates every organ, every function of the body? Don't you know that the basis of nerve-power is Electricity? Don't you know that Electricity is Life? If you don't, then you should get my Book and read it. It will teach you facts you ought to know. Let me treat your case in my own way. Let me apply a steady current of Galvanic Electricity to your weakened system with my Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt. Wear this appliance night after night, for a few weeks and it will drive out all those pains and aches; it will restore energy and equilibrium to your nervous system; it will fill your body with fresh strength and energy; it will make you a Man among Men. Again I place before you my PROOFS. Dear Sir: I am glad to tell you that your Belt has proven good. I have never felt as strong and well in my life as I do now. The pains in my chest and back are gone, and I have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I can work every day, and do not feel the first symptoms of pain in my body. It is a pleasure to say that I have at last found a remedy that would cure me of my aches and pains. James Hatt, Beech Hill, Lunenburg Co., N. S. M. L. McLAUGHLIN 237 Yonge St., Toronto, Can.
