FOR COMMISSIONER

APRIL 28th, 1924

I advised you, ladies and gentlemen, that I would try and give you good service if you elected me to the Common Council. That is my desire, and covers all that could be said in considering the full interest of our city from every point of view.

You were very kind in supporting me on the 14th instant, and you have my hearty thanks.

On the 28th of April it is your final privilege to vote for your choice of two Commissioners to serve you in the Common Council. If I am elected, it is my full intention to do just as I have stated.

Yours sincerely,
W. L. HARDING.

Alexander Corbet polled a large vote at the first election for commissioner. It is the concession of opinion throughout the city that Sandy Corbet will win out easily in the final election.

The people want the full benefit of Hydro. They have waited patiently for lower taxation, this can come through electing men like Corbet, who are pledged to a business administration which means lower taxation for every citizen.

Everyone knows Corbet and every voter knows he will carry out his platform. He is a successful business man of wide experience, and the city of St. John has been awaiting the opportunity of electing a man of Corbet's business standing.

This is one contribution towards the city progress made by McInerney. It has caught on. Dr. MacLaren, M. P., thinks well of it. The Board of Trade approves. So will all good citizens approve.

What did the Progressive members think of our "Progressive" station on the stormy Easter Sunday they arrived?

The need of a new station must be more strenuously pressed.

McInerney's newspaper experience will stand him in good stead at the Council. Newspapermen see the requirements and know how to present them.

M. A. MALONE

516 Main St. Phone M. 2913

April 22nd, 1924.

To the Electors of St. John—Ladies and Gentlemen:

When elected in 1920 the Common Council appointed me Commissioner of Public Works evidently with the desire that the hardest job in the City's service should devolve upon me.

This department, as you know, is a hard one to hold down and has a reputation as a wrecker of destinies for anyone bold enough to operate it.

A brief survey of the department at the time that I assumed office convinced me that its internal workings required reconstruction. The difficulties were adjusted and a vigorous campaign of construction work entered into.

The activities of the Public Works Dept., are not confined to the construction of streets and sidewalks, as it involves also the care and maintenance of the squares, public grounds and playgrounds.

It was decided that a paving programme be carried out and that the main trunk streets receive attention. The entrances to the city, east and west, and the streets in the commercial center were in a deplorable condition. A change has taken place—and you can see it—it has cost a lot of money; but you would not for one moment tolerate a return to the old conditions. A brief resume of the work done in the last four years should interest you—Prince William street, Market Square, Douglas Ave., City Road, Prince Edward street, Waterloo street, Haymarket Square, north and south Marsh Bridge, Rothesay Ave. to the One Mile House, Westmorland Road to Kane's corner, King street West, Britain street, Princess street, Duke street, Union street, Rodney Wharf, West, Adelaide street and Millidge Ave. Resurfacing of Dock, Mill and Main street to Douglas Ave. Charlotte street from Britain to Broad, authorized. Streets paved under the abutter's plan: Lansdowne Ave., Dufferin Ave., Horsfield street and Germain street, south. For the present year, subject to the approval of Council, St. James street, Paradise Row and Winter street. The curbing for these three last named streets has been ordered and will be put down at once, and from this time on the side or cross streets must receive similar attention.

This item does not include the 10,967 square yards of concrete sidewalks and 128,743 square yards of asphalt sidewalks laid in the various parts of the city; and I think you will agree with me that works of this magnitude involving large capital expenditures demand much thought and consideration, this I have endeavored to give, and I believe satisfactorily.

The Department of Public Works lives within its income, no overdrawn accounts, and at the close of the fiscal year has had a credit balance in each year, not a deficit, during my term.

On these grounds I solicit your support. The Public Works Dept. has had no labor troubles to contend with; full recognition is given to the Labor Unions and their wage schedules.

The Electors of St. John have placed me in the finals to be held on the 28th of April, and I trust the majority will not consider me unworthy, and if so considered, I ask their support and vote. This Department is fully awake.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. FRINK.

THE WINTER GATES.

A Canadian Press despatch quotes R. A. Hoey, M. P., one of our recent Progressive guests, as saying the Maritimes might well have more of the immigrants in these facilities. "At each port," he is quoted as saying, "they have facilities that carry an enormous overhead. The traffic only goes there while Montreal and Quebec are closed, and then that traffic is divided between the two ports."

Much of the overhead at this port is carried by the C. P. R., but the facilities for immigrants here and at Halifax are not too great, particularly when immigration is at its normal level, approaching the pre-war figures. But Mr. Hoey, who impressed us here as an able speaker, and a man with no little sense of responsibility, possibly forgets that his immigration argument works both ways. It is true that St. John and Halifax only handle immigrants when the St. Lawrence is closed, but it is true also that Montreal and Quebec only handle immigrants when the St. Lawrence is open, and that Maritime ports are open the year round.

If our own Atlantic ports were not both open and equipped, immigrants coming to Canada from early in November till late in April would enter the country how? By way of Portland and other American ports. And the ships bringing them would get return cargoes there instead of at Maritime ports. There is altogether too much of that sort of thing now.

HOME COMES FIRST.

The local branch of the Retail Merchants' Association last evening held and heartily approved an address advocating Maritime buying in the Maritimes, more proof of our faith in ourselves, and a greater recognition of the meaning of patronizing home-enterprises. In the course of his address, which was a practical and constructive one, Mr. J. D. McKenna said that if only fifty per cent. of the goods now purchased outside were bought at home it would mean an increase of some 30,000 families. He impressed upon his audience the importance of buying, first, goods made in New Brunswick, and next, goods made in the Maritimes. He spoke of some of our high port charges as a handicap that should be removed, and suggested that we meet Portland at its own game by sending to the West a delegation of business men to present the advantages of this province, and of this port, and of the wisdom of doing business through it and with our people instead of through Portland or other alien harbors.

The benefits of such a policy, not only to the merchants but to our entire population are not sufficiently recognized. By showing our faith in ourselves, by proving it in actual practice, by boosting our own enterprises, our own shops, our own industries, agriculture among them, through giving them the support of our own money, we can help our city, our province and the Maritimes generally, and help them greatly and rapidly.

This good doctrine is already bearing fruit. Our people are talking about it and beginning to act upon it, but they need more education in the good cause, and it should be taken up by representative bodies and by public men and pushed along, not occasionally but steadily. And we must not be content with converting ourselves to a greater faith in what we have and what we can do. We should not only send an able representative delegation to the West but should advertise our resources and advantages in every field in which we should be selling more of our products or in which we can command useful support in forwarding the cause of the Maritimes.

It should not be difficult to spread much more extensively the good Canadian gospel of Canadian freight for Canadian ports. Generally speaking, it is an important truth that we must have faith in ourselves before we can make others believe in us. And there are many and highly practical ways of showing our faith, among them that of giving the home products first place when we are spending the home dollar.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

Joseph Odell, editor, clergyman, educator, who is spending $5,000,000 of Pierre S. du Pont's money upon educational experiments in Delaware recently had to ask himself the question, "What is education?" "What kind of a school would be most likely to fit a boy for college, for a future in which all his powers would have balanced exercise?" Mr. Odell asks in his article in the May Century. "Thinking of schools as I know them opened an abyss so dark and unfathomable that I shrank from the journey for several days. I tried to plumb the depths by asking, 'What is education?' I suppose every educated man believes he can give a satisfactory answer offhand. Well, let him try! One's first thought is that of an enrichment of the mind by appropriating some of the wealth of universal wisdom. It is easy to see how incomplete is this definition. How much of this wisdom must one acquire before one can be called educated? The entire aspect of discipline is overlooked. Is anyone educated in whom the powers of conscious reasoning are untrained or undeveloped, how great may be the store of accumulated knowledge? Nor is that the only serious omission. I believe it is not the purpose of education to teach every man to know himself and the world; I played with the words until they resolved themselves into another form. It is the purpose of education to teach every man to be himself and to know the world."

THE SNOOZE OF THE GRUPE.

There is a devil in every berry of the grape, according to the Koran, but Mr. Bernier of St. Boniface, a rosary-faced, sweet-tempered little fellow who is greatly to be preferred to some of the other devils in Manitoba. Mr. Bernier was speaking in the legislature. Mr. Bernier was discussing the bill to amend the Liquor Control Act and was making the point that the Manitoba Liquor Commission, which is a reason for other, appeared to desire to encourage the drinking of hard liquors in Manitoba rather than to encourage the drinking of soft liquors. He said that he had seen many of the notes of the story of the making of wine. Mr. Bernier was talking about the juice of the grape, and the juice of the grape, said Mr. Bernier, were both food and drink, and with him we wandered elbow-in-elbow through the sunny meadows of the departments of the Aisne and the Marne and through the less sunny departments of Manitoba and Quebec liquor prize lists.

U. S. AND CANADA MAKE NEW PACT

Washington, April 22—Canada and the United States have made effective a new arrangement by which stolen property of residents of one country seized by the custom authorities of the other may be returned to its legal owner. It was announced here today. One immediate effect of the arrangement will be to release a large number of automobiles stolen from United States citizens and smuggled across the border.

NO REVOLT IN LIBERAL RANKS

Llanfâl-Fechon, Wales, April 22—There is no revolt in the Liberal party against the leadership of Herbert Asquith, former Premier Lloyd George declared in an address today but there is a revolt, he asserted, against the "humiliating position under which the Liberal party is expected to keep in power a government that has never concealed its hostility toward that party."

ULSTER MINISTER INJURED IN FALL

Belfast, Ireland, April 22—The Marquis of Londonderry, Minister of Education in the Ulster Cabinet, broke his collarbone today in being thrown from his horse on his estate, Mount Stewart, Newtownards, County Down. Lord Londonderry was to have attended the Ulster-Free State boundary conference on Thursday in company with Sir James Craig, the Premier.

MAY GET CHANCE TO REGAIN JEWELS

Warsaw, April 22—Rumor is current here that negotiations are proceeding with Dutch capitalists concerning a sale of diamonds, rubies and pearls valued at 15,000,000 gold roubles. These jewels were deposited by the Soviet with the Polish treasury as part security for the restitution of requisitioned rolling stock, worth 30,000,000 gold roubles, as stipulated in Article 14 of the Treaty of Riga.

THE BANNER OF ST. GEORGE

(Shapcott Wenley) It comes from the misty ages, The banner of England's might, The blood red cross of the brave St. George. That burns on a field of white; It speaks of the deathless heroes, On banners bright past encircled, And bids great England ne'er forget The glorious deeds of old. O'er many a cloud of battle, That banner has floated wide, It alone like a star o'er the valliant crests But ever give strength to the righteous arm. That dashed the Armada's pride: Forever amid the thunders, It has led the gallant host, While tongues of flame leaped forth below And the flag of St. George was high. O ne'er may the flag beloved Unfold in a strife unmet, But ever give strength to the righteous arm. And hope to the hearts oppressed; "Be brave if your cause is right," Like the soldier saint whose cross of red Still burns on your banner white; Great raves whose Empires of splendor Has dashed a wondering world; May the flag that floats o'er the wide domains Be great as all winds unfurled; Three crosses if concord blended, The Banner of Britain's might; But the central gem of the ensign fair In the cross of the dauntless knight.

YOUR CIGAR HAS VARIED CAREER

When a man walks into a cigar store to buy something to smoke he little realizes the processes gone through by the bit of tobacco wrapped about with a broad strip of the same plant which he gets. At least two years have elapsed between the time that the seed is planted and the day that it is ready to go up in cigar smoke. The hazards that attend its career from seedling to smoke are more numerous and diverse than those affecting almost anything else raised on an American farm. A half dozen varieties of bug and worm, several diseases and many kinds of weather can ruin a crop overnight.

Usually in April the seed is sown in beds covered with glass or cloth. The seed beds have to be heavily fertilized and frequently watered, and cared for like any other hot-house of exotic plant. During the last part of May the plants are transplanted in the field, set in rows three feet apart with a plant every 18 inches or so, at the rate of about 6,000 to the acre. A large plantation must be kept absolutely free from weeds throughout the season. Other crops will prosper if the weeds are kept down, but tobacco must be kept meticulously clean bed to reach normal maturity. Cultivator Set to Work.

Within two weeks after the transplanting the horse-drawn cultivator is set to work, and then the hoeing begins. The hoeing is repeated three times at least during a season, and each time must be done with greater care not to injure the growing leaves. When the plants reach the building stage the process of topping begins. The buds are broken off so that the plant will go to leaf and seed. Usually 12 to 14 leaves are left on a stalk. The next process is the "suckering." This consists in breaking off the little stalks and leaves that sprout at the point where the main leaf joins the stalk. The "suckers" are destroyed so as to save all available nourishment for the leaves.

August and the early part of September is devoted to the harvest. Tobacco must be cut before the first frost. Then comes the most careful work of the season. Hitherto except in the building stage the process of topping, and the planting, in which machinery saves labor, all the work has been done by hand. In the harvest, careful skillful hands alone must do the work. Each stalk with its complement of heavy leaves is cut by a man with a hatched and the plant is laid carefully and gently on the ground to be protected from all possible injury. Sometimes the leaves are 20 inches wide and twice as long. After cutting the plant will on the ground for several hours and then the stalks are pierced and the plants are hung on slates, six every four feet, and left in 40-pound holes. The next process is the curing process until November.

When in damp weather only the farmer and his helpers remove the plants from the poles, strip the moist leaves from the stalks and pack them in 40-pound holes. The next process is grading. In the Connecticut Valley, where the best broad-leafed tobacco is raised, the tobacco is sorted into at least 10 grades. The grower sorts the broad-leaf and the experts of Connecticut Valley Tobacco Association grade the Havana seed.

Following the grading process the tobacco is packed in boxes for sweating or "fore-sweating." The broad-leaf is usually sweated during the summer by nature and the Havana seed goes through a heat process for six weeks. After the tobacco is sweated it is sampled; that is, four representative "hands" are drawn from each case and these samples are sent to the association's office and showroom in Hartford, where they are pooled according to their quality, yield, texture and "burn." Then the tobacco is at least ready to be shown to the prospective customer, the cigar manufacturer.

Owing to a short circuit on the hydro transmission line between Musquash and Cranston Avenue all the street lights as well as those in business houses and residences in the city were extinguished shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The trouble lasted only for about 10 minutes when the lights were as brilliant as ever.

ST. JOHN VISITORS IN CEYLON

The Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada," otherwise known as the "Queen of the Pacific," which is on a cruise around the world, sails this evening after a stay of four days in Colombo, says the Ceylon Observer of March 15. Her skipper is Captain Robinson who distinguished himself recently in relief work at Yokohama during the great earthquake.

HOW THE CITY OF ST. JOHN RECEIVES $80,000 REGULARLY EACH YEAR

AN INSTANCE OF WHAT CO-OPERATION CAN ACCOMPLISH. The story can be told in a few words. IT IS WHAT THE NEW BRUNSWICK POWER COMPANY PAYS TO THE CITY EVERY YEAR, on the average, for just three items: TAXES, STREET PAVING AND SNOW REMOVAL. And, so far, the total of these payments by the Company to the City has reached the large sum of $200,000. In previous talks we have shown—That, last year, the Company paid in taxes to the City of St. John $45,000; we were the largest individual taxpayer in the City. That, each year, the Company distributes in wages, in St. John, more than $300,000. And to these items we add another, in the present talk; what the Company pays to the City, on the average each year, for snow removal and street paving. Yearly, therefore, we distribute in St. John:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Taxes, Street Paving, Snow Removal, Wages, and Total.

And even this is not a complete list of the money we spend in the city. And, as we have pointed out, we have been able to do this only because YOU, our fellow-citizens, have patronized our services; have, in particular, USED OUR ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHT AND HEATING AND POWER PURPOSES. Obviously, without your patronage, we could not have done this; nor can we do so in the future. Again we ask: IS OURS NOT A PRETTY GOOD PROPOSITION TO BACK UP, particularly as we can serve you as cheaply as any other? What real co-operation between the Citizens and the Company HAS DONE, IT CAN CONTINUE TO DO. Is it wise to impair a local industry? NEW BRUNSWICK POWER COMPANY.

JUMPS OVERBOARD FROM CHIGNECTO

Chinese Suicides on Way to St. John—Passenger to Hospital.

Long Qui Long, a Chinese aged 25 years, became suddenly demented and ended his life in the Atlantic ocean at 8.35 o'clock Monday morning when he jumped into the sea from the R. M. S. P. liner Chignecto, which arrived in port last evening from the British West Indies via Bermuda and docked at the Pettigill wharf. The Chinese was one of a party of 16 coming in bond from Demarara en route to Hong Kong.

It was reported on arrival of the ship last night, that Long Qui Long did not show any signs of insanity during the voyage, until he suddenly climbed onto the rail of the ship, poised for a few seconds and then jumped into the sea. The cry of "man overboard" was immediately raised, but only once was the man seen after he jumped. The ship was brought about from her course, and for more than two hours was circled about the vicinity in the hope that the man might be rescued. The companions of Long Qui Long appeared to be very downcast on their arrival in port over the loss of their companion.

Taken to Hospital. On the arrival of the ship, the city ambulance was at the dock and conveyed to the General Public Hospital, Charles Henry Hobson, a third class negro passenger, to receive an immediate operation. Hobson, who is a resident of Montreal, and said to be a C. P. R. car porter, has been on leave of absence, and had taken the trip to St. Kitts. On the voyage to St. John he was taken ill with intestinal trouble. Everything possible was done for him by the ship's surgeon. A wireless message was received by the Furness-Withby Co., the local agents of the line, who made arrangements for the man to be admitted to the hospital.

Has Sugar Cargo. Besides the mails, the Chignecto brought 2,600 tons of raw sugar for the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, and 1,000 tons of other general cargo; also 45 first, 85 second and 50 third class passengers, making a total of 231. Last night the passengers were examined by the port physician. The

Among the second class passengers are four first class stokers of the Royal Canadian Navy, E. Janett, A. Edwards, W. Playse and J. Cooper, who are returning to Canada from the Bermuda station.

The first class passengers are mostly returned Canadians who have been spending the winter months in Bermuda or the West Indies, and the majority are en route to the provinces of Quebec or Ontario. There are some for points in the Maritime Provinces, viz., J. H. Winfield, from Demarara, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. F. St. C. Harris, from Trinidad, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Elliot, Mrs. S. C. Fiske, Master W. Wilson, W. S. Jenks, from Barbados; F. B. Spurling, R. G. Pothergill, Mrs. Florence Nagle, and the Misses Beatrice and Aileen Nagle, from Bermuda, all en route to Halifax. Miss Mons L. Parsons, of Wolfville, N. S., returned after a five months' visit to Bermuda, and was met on arrival by her father, Col. M.

W. Parsons, who came to St. John on Saturday. The only New Brunswick passenger on board was Dr. J. B. Dash, of Hillsboro, who has been on a visit to Barbados.

With the exception of about 12 hours of rough weather, the voyage from Bermuda was reported by the passengers as delightful.

Special Exhibition of Beautiful Oriental Rugs

EVERY PIECE A WORK OF ART

Late Arrivals Make This Exhibition One of Exceptional Merit—Many Very Values Are Offered. Oriental Rugs are being appreciated and prized more and more by American homemakers. In point of beauty, fine texture, distinction and wonderful enduring qualities they have no rival.

There's much of interest to be learned about these fine works of art—about the countries in which they are made—the people who so faithfully toil to produce them—and the reasons for the various varieties. The following extracts from a well known authority gives information that will prove of interest to those who have already started a collection, or to those who are hoping to commence one.

About Kazacs

Kazac means virtually a "rough-rider". It is the original of the word "Cossack" which is familiar to the whole world. The original designs of Kazac Rugs are strong and characteristic to a degree—big geometrical figures, upon fields of magnificent red or green, which half a century of wear and exposure will scarcely suffice to dim.

About Anatolians

The designs in Anatolian rugs include everything, stripes and angular figures. Saracenic centre pieces, heavy geometrical devices and even the neat patterns of the Caucasian fabrics. The colors are brilliant and their areas harshly defined. There are no half tones.

About Daghestans

The proper Daghestan Rugs can be singled out from all the fabrics of the east, almost unerringly, if one fact be borne in mind—that they are made in imitation of jewels, or, some maintain, of mosaics. They show it at a glance. They have all the brilliancy, accuracy and clean cutting that either idea suggests.

About Ghiordes

In the famous collections of Europe the old Ghiordes bits are placed side by side with the most prized antiques from the Persian looms. In many specimens the tree of life pattern, almost omnipresent in prayer rugs, is without trunk and consists merely of protruding floral branches.

In our stocks you'll find lovely examples of Anatolians, Ghiordes, Kazacs, Daghestans, Spartas, Chinese, Mousouls, Sarauks, Hamadans, Belouchs, Bokharas, Kazadjas and others.

MEXICO DEPORTS TROUSERED GIRL

El Paso, Tex.—Girls, you can't wear trousers in Mexico! You'll be deported if you do. At least Nancy Holmes was. Miss Holmes, former Illinois and California newspaper woman and stenographer, was hiking after her lover, Jack Lightheart, Indian chief. She left here March 28. Less than a week later she was back. But not by her own free will. Officials at Chihuahua City had made her come. Her male attire, you see, had shocked them so!

Nancy, however, isn't discouraged. She's ready to start again just as soon as government red tape will permit. Miss Holmes came here from Bloomington, Ill. It wasn't long until she had fallen in love with Lightheart, Carlisle graduate. She was 25, and he was 22. But the difference in their ages meant nothing to them. All went well until Lightheart, who speaks English, Spanish, Chinese and several Indian dialects, loaned some money to white "friends" in Los Angeles. They never paid him back. Jack got disgusted and quit.

Nancy vows there was no trouble between them. He'll be forgiven for slipping out when she finds him, the girl insists.

The couple had intended living in central America. Lightheart probably is heading for there now. Nancy thinks he is. So she started out afoot to find him.

MISSION BAND EVENT ENJOYED

The Louise Lewin Mission Band held its annual Easter meeting and reception yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Fairville Methodist church, with a large number present. A programme was carried out under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur Long. Miss Gladys Scott presided. Rev. James M. Rice gave a short address to the band after the programme was concluded. The offering amounted to $13.65. Refreshments were served.

Recitations were given by Dorothy Rice, Mildred Crosby and Marie Lester. Marion Kirkpatrick sang a solo. Violet Graham, Bertha Linton, Evelyn Sergeant, Hazel Craft, Pansy Bannell, Helen Phillips and Vera Wayland gave a dialogue. A special feature of the programme was a motion song, given by five little girls in Japanese. They were Margaret Stout, Dorothy Rice, Mildred Crosby, Audrey Morrison and Hazel McCumber. Miss Edna Cheeseman and Miss Beatrice Craft presided over the tea cups. White roses were used for the floral decoration on the pretty tea table. Ruth Kelly, with the other girls mentioned, assisted in serving the guests. Miss Lillian Green of Brookville, who is visiting in Fairville, also assisted.

HUNG BY THUMBS FOR PUNISHMENT

(By Harold Matson.)

Boston.—A four-year-old boy, strung up by his thumbs, beaten with a broomstick until black welts covered his white little body, struck so hard that the bone in his left arm split—strung up by the thumbs until the cord cut away the flesh, baring the bone!

It is the unbelievable story of Billy Mehegan, but true. His bruised and battered body is the evidence. Billy, naturally a lively boy, is happily surprised to find that this sort of treatment is not the regular way to handle little boys. He is lying in the city hospital here, his broken arm in splints, his welted back healing under salve and bandages, his raw thumbs being soothed with more salve and soft things like cotton and the hands of kind nurses.

He couldn't play out of doors before. He could only watch other boys play from the window. And that was tiresome so he would invent his own games to play in-doors. But they were noisy and he would be whipped if he was noisy in the house.

So his little head finally came on the great delight of making paper airplanes to shoot out of the window. Then that too was forbidden. There was nothing to do but to be "seen and not heard." He dared to play the airplane game again. The temptation was too strong.

And for this little prank Billy paid dearly. He was suddenly tied by the thumbs to a long cord, and then lifted until the cord looped over a heavy screw-eye. Thus strung up, so that he could not touch the floor with his feet, Billy hung helplessly while a broomstick was brought down on his body, blow after blow. Once it struck his arm and there was a terrible pain.

Finally the blows were stopped, but Billy hung there for a half hour. Then he was let down. He doesn't remember more, but according to the confession to the police Billy was again strung up for a half hour.

"That is the sort of punishment I was given when I was a child," his mother told the police.

But it is not the sort of punishment Billy will ever suffer again. The nurse in his jail. The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children will prosecute her. And Billy, lying safely in a hospital cot, will go back to his father, Edward Mehegan, of Roxbury.

"And play out of doors!" Billy reminds you.

KING OPENS EXHIBITION AT WEMBLEY, ENG.

"The dominions, India, the colonies, the protectorates and the mandate territories under your care have joined together in the great task of presenting the picture of your commonwealth of nations.
"The exhibition is thus the work of the whole empire, and it shows the craftsmanship and agricultural skill, the trading and transportation organizations of all our peoples and all our territories.
"It gives also a living picture of the history of the empire and its present structure. It will suggest to the world, I truly believe, that the most powerful agency of civilization has its heart set upon peaceful aims and the good of mankind.
"The lighter side of the organization of a great exhibition has not been neglected. It is essential to the success of an enterprise such as this that it should be attractive, that it should encourage the desire for amusement as well as for education. Sports, entertainments, music and arrangements for the comfort of our visitors have been carefully planned.

Results Hoped For
"As president I wish to express my gratitude to those who have helped in this great undertaking—to those men of great vision who are responsible for the first proposal for the exhibition, made before the war to the representatives of the dominions, of India and the colonies.
"The great work has been carried through with splendid loyalty and energy. I hope, Sir, that the result of this exhibition will be to impress vividly upon all the peoples of your empire the advice you have given to them on more than one occasion—that they should be fully awake to their responsibilities as heirs of so glorious an heritage and that they should be in a position to develop the resources of the empire for the benefit of the British race, for the benefit of those other races which have accepted our guardianship over their destinies, and for the benefit of mankind generally."

The King's Speech
In reply, the King said:
"It gives me the greatest pleasure and satisfaction to come here with the Queen for the purpose of opening the British Empire Exhibition. Our heartiest congratulations are due to the board of management, to the executive council and to all who have worked with and under them for the marvelous organization and industry, which produced this triumphant result.
"I am happy to welcome the representatives, official and unofficial, of my dominions beyond the seas, and to express the pleasure we all feel that they are taking part in today's opening ceremony.
"You have said that your object has been to produce a picture of our commonwealth of nations. No one can doubt that this has been fully attained. The exhibition may be said to represent to us the whole empire in little, containing within its 220 acres of ground a vivid model of the architecture, art and industry of all the races which come under the British flag.
"It represents to the world a graphic illustration of that spirit of free and tolerant co-operation which inspired peoples of different races, creeds and ways of thought, to unite in a single commonwealth and contribute their varying national gifts to one great end.

Is Shock Taking?
"This exhibition will enable us to take stock of the resources, actual and potential, of the empire as a whole, and to consider where these exist and how they can best be developed and utilized; to take counsel together as to how the peoples can co-operate to supply one another's needs and promote the national well-being.
"It stands for co-ordination of our scientific knowledge and common effort to overcome disease, and to better the difficult conditions which still surround life in many parts of the empire.
"Think for example of the scientific work accomplished in recent years for the prevention and treatment of tropical diseases. And it is easy to imagine how greatly the exhibition can contribute toward the progress of our tropical territories and development of the unexplored capacities of the empire.
"Our thoughts go back to the great exhibition of 1851 associated for all time with the memories of Queen Victoria and her Prince Consort and the brilliant hopes of the growth of international peace and friendship with which it was inaugurated.
"Our object here is not quite so ambitious and for that very reason is perhaps more hopeful of attainment. We believe the exhibition will bring the peoples of the empire to a better knowledge of how to meet their reciprocal wants and aspirations, and, where brotherly feeling and the habit of united action already exist, the growth of inter-imperial trade will make the bonds of sympathy yet closer, and stronger.

The Family Estate.
"Business relations between strangers may or may not lead to friendship; co-operation between brothers for better development of the family estate can hardly fail to promote family affection.
"And we hope further that the success of the exhibition may bring lasting benefits not to the empire only, but to mankind in general. No nation or group of nations can isolate itself from the main stream of modern commerce, and if this exhibition leads to greater development of the material resources of the empire and expansion of trade, it will at the same time be aiding the economic life of the world from the disorganization caused by the war.
"I declare the British Empire Exhibition open, and I pray that by the blessing of God it may conduce to the unity and prosperity of all my peoples and to the peace and well-being of the world."

Policy of Buy In Maritimes Is Urged On Our People

MERCHANTS HEAR BOOST ADDRESS

J. D. McKenna, M. L. A., Stresses Doctrine of Faith in Ourselves.

MEANS PROGRESS

Retail Association Chooses H. Mont Jones as New President.

The importance of the Maritime Province people having faith in themselves and manifesting their confidence in the patronizing of home industries was strongly stressed last night at the annual meeting of the St. John branch of the Retail Merchants' Association by J. D. McKenna, M. L. A., Mayor of Sussex, who was the principal speaker. The reports of the officers showed that last year had been a prosperous one and prospects for the coming year were bright.

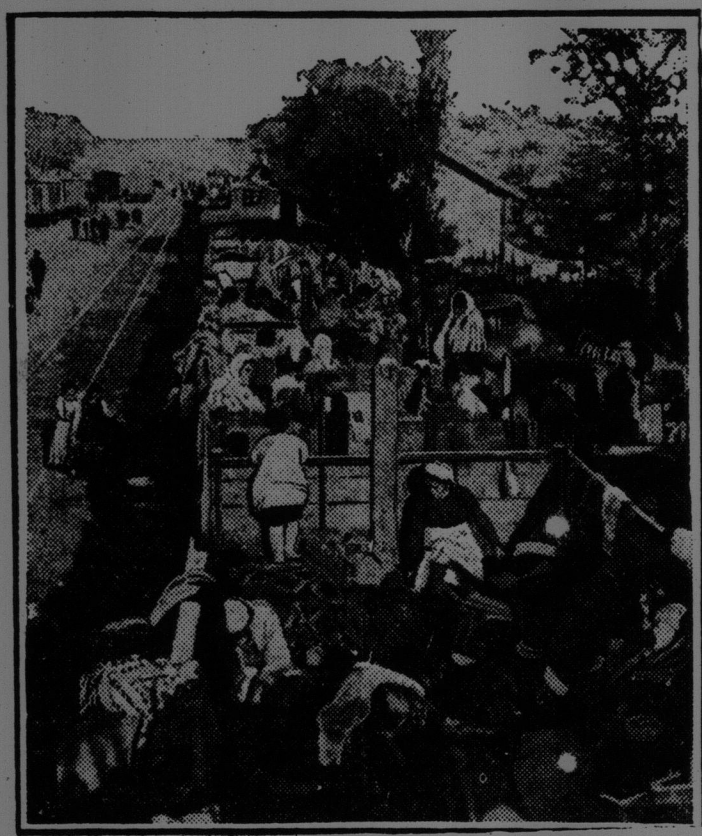

The secretary reported that during the year there had been 15 meetings of the executive committee, 21 meetings of the censor board and 24 section meetings. Two successful dinners had been given, and the co-operative sale had proved a big success. A short talk on the advisability of the members taking more interest in the fire insurance to which they were entitled as members of the organization, during which it was stated that the insurance companies made a larger profit than any other business, was given by one of the members. It was pointed out that last year the Province of New Brunswick the premiums collected were $2,288,531 and the losses were $1,486,787, a gross profit of 35 per cent. and for the Dominion the premiums were $52,970,683 and the losses $34,900,766, a gross profit of 33.2 per cent.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, S. L. Emerson; president, H. Mont Jones; 1st vice president, H. W. Hixson; 2nd vice president, C. R. Wasson; secretary, J. H. Marry; treasurer, P. M. Levine; chairman advisory board, J. H. Vaughan. Advisory board: H. P. Magnusson, P. A. Dykeman, A. V. Wright, S. E. Fisher, A. N. McLean, M. E. Grass, A. O. Skinner, C. H. Smythe, H. H. Scott, F. S. Thomas, LeRoy Wilson, H. D. Everett, H. C. Brown, B. McPherson, F. W. Daniel, A. E. Everett, J. M. Magee, M. O'Leary, S. C. Webb, G. W. Tapley. H. Mont Jones, newly elected president, then took the chair and thanked the members for the honor conferred on him. He urged on the members good attendance at the meetings and the taking part in the discussions. Votes of thanks to the retiring president and secretary were unanimously adopted.

Mr. McKenna. The president then called on Mr. McKenna to address the meeting. Mr. McKenna said he came to them as a member of one of the Retail Merchants' Association, and he paid a tribute to the work of the provincial secretary, Miss Frances Alward, to whom he was due much of the success of the association. He had been introduced, he said, as proud to come from one of the banner counties of the province. The province had a great deal in common with St. John, and St. John had a great deal in common with the province and the neighboring provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. He believed the great lack in the people of the Maritime Provinces today was a lack of faith in themselves, and they were trying to sell to the rest of Canada something which they had not yet sold to themselves. It had not been any great trouble to sell western lands or mining stocks here, but when a real solid proposition, such as the new hotel, was placed before them it was hard to sell. He said that for every dollar spent in the Maritime Provinces boosting home industry, the retail merchant benefited, and in this connection he mentioned the increase in the potato shipments and importations of fertilizer through this port, both of which had meant the spending of thousands of dollars for labor here.

Buy at Home, He Urges. Referring to the competition of Portland, he pointed out that one of the handicaps under which the port of St. John operated was its side and top wharves, as against a free port at Portland. He stated that if only 30 per cent of the goods now purchased from outside were bought at home it would mean an increase of 30,000 families. In closing he urged his audience to buy first, goods made in New Brunswick.

On Death-Dotted Trek

Here are first and exclusive pictures of Greek families driven out of western Thrace by the Turks. For months, footsore, weary and starving; hundreds dying on route, they were on the march to Athens. Some few fortunate ones managed to ship their goods as freight, as shown in the above picture. Lack of water was the chief cause of death.

SUPREME COURT OF CANADA REVERSES B. DECISION IN THE NEVINS CASE

Matter Will be Carried to Privy Council, Says Mr. Mullin.

The highest court in the Empire will be asked to decide the Charles Nevins case which originated in St. John several months ago and which had worked its way through various courts from the local Probate Court to the Supreme Court of Canada yesterday, when Mr. Justice Duff dissenting, handed down a decision in favor of the appellant, Miss Susie Smith, the chief beneficiary under the will of the deceased, Mr. Charles Nevins. Special provisions regarding costs were embodied in the judgment.

According to a summary of the case given by Mr. Mullin last evening, the ordinary course of events in the case was as follows: On March 9, 1921, Mr. Nevins died in St. John at once but subsequently an untimed will was produced by Francis Kerr, barrister. By the terms of this executed document Miss Susie Smith was named as sole executrix, after the income of the estate should have been used during her lifetime by Mrs. Mary Givan, widow of the deceased, and Charles Nevins, Jr., of Chipman, George H. King, M. L. A., of Chipman, lumberman, whose agent in St. John Mr. Nevins was, heard of in the will and obtained a copy of it from Mr. Kerr. With this he went to see Miss Smith and told her that an unexecuted will had been found. He also happened to call on H. J. Mowatt, druggist, by whom Miss Smith was employed. He told Mr. Mowatt that Nevins had made a will but it was not executed and that Mowatt was a beneficiary to the extent of $10,000. He said that Mrs. Givan had requested him to take out administration. Mr. Mowatt made no remark to Mr. King at that time, Mr. Mullin said. Mrs. Givan died on May 15, 1921, a few months after her brother. But meantime, on April 5, Mr. King had been appointed administrator of the estate. On May 22, Mr. King received a telephone message from Mr. Mowatt saying he wanted to see him. Mr. King went to see him the same day, and falling that, goods made in the Maritime Provinces. He also urged that a delegation be sent to the west to combat the visit of the Portland delegation of business men and the activities of the board in seeking to advance the interests of the port.

CLOSING TO BE IN THEATRE. The High School closing on June 23 will be held in the Imperial Theatre through the kindness of W. H. Golding, the manager, and the Keith interests. The closing was held in the Imperial last year for the first time. The High School assembly hall is large enough to seat only the pupils and when the closing exercises were held in the Assembly Hall many parents were unable to attend. Powder formerly had a tendency to deteriorate while at sea, causing much difficulty to naval craft.

HOUSING IS BIGGEST PROBLEM BEFORE THE BRITISH CABINET

Need Quick Action, But Apparently No Way to Secure It.

London, April 23.—(United Press).—Wanted, immediately, half a million new houses to relieve the dwelling-shortage in England! However, a smaller number would be gratefully accepted, if only they could be secured quickly. That represents one of the most serious problems the MacDonald Labor Government confronts, and one of the most serious any English Government will confront for several years. Some fast serious ultimate consequences unless this unrest is stilled. Since the war, England has attempted encouragement of dwelling construction by payments of subsidies to builders. The results have been inadequate—a mere drop in the bucket by comparison with the needs. Authorities here say that general social unrest is being increased more directly by the housing shortage than by any other single factor. Some fast serious ultimate consequences unless this unrest is stilled.

New plans are now being formulated, but admittedly no plan can get quick action, or at least quick enough action. The Government has no magic wand or Aladdin's lamps whereby several hundred thousand houses can be brought into existence out of thin air overnight. All plans being formulated necessarily contemplate some years for realization, and meanwhile three or four million people, or more, are persistently demanding that the Government give them relief—that is, more houses. The Government can't—at once. It will probably be some years before any Government plans can relieve, to any substantial degree, the housing shortage in England.

Will endure or discontent win the race? The ill-housed masses, while grumbling, carry on until more houses are built, or vent their discontent in violence. The English housing shortage, in its present acute stage, is a war inheritance. England simply is short all the houses that it should have been built from 1914 to 1919 if there had been no war—plus the shortage resulting from slow-down construction during the few years after the war—and, again, plus the shortage caused by the war. The shortage is not only in the smaller towns but in the larger cities as well. The housing shortage is no worse, according to officials here, in London, Liverpool, Manchester and other large cities than it is in the smaller manufacturing, mining and industrial centres. The cities are not only overcrowded and congested and overcrowded, but in proportion to total population, not more so than the poorer quarters. With the exception of occasional villages and small towns the housing shortage is a national problem, and the effort of the Government will be to get building done everywhere, in both small places and cities.

4 CIVIL CASES ARE ENTERED ON SPRING DOCKET

For First Time in Years no Criminal Business is Before the Court

Woodstock, April 23.—Circuit Court opened this afternoon, Mr. Justice Crockett presiding. For the first time in years there was no criminal business before the court. Four civil cases were entered on the docket which was as follows: The American Agricultural Chemical Company vs. E. J. Crawford, M. L. Hayward for defendant. Frank M. Brown vs. William White et al. Jones and Jones for plaintiff, J. C. and R. P. Hartley for defendants. Kenneth Dalling vs. F. L. Estabrook & Co., J. C. and R. P. Hartley for plaintiff, L. E. Copp for defendant. William H. Everett vs. E. Jennie Williams, executrix, F. C. Squires for plaintiff, L. E. Young for defendant. In the first case a judgment was entered by consent for the plaintiff for $270.88 and costs. Applications to postpone the third and fourth cases were allowed. The case of Brown vs. White was taken up this afternoon. This is a case of trespass involving the title to land and will probably take two or three days. The balance of the jury in the present case was empaneled.

Neil MacLaughlin, pastor, read the address and made the presentation on behalf of the members of the Sunday School and the Young People's Association, with which organizations Mr. Robertson has been closely associated and in which he will be greatly missed. Both expressed their regrets at leaving and their gratitude for the gifts.

PADDING SHOWN IN HOME BANK RETURN

Liabilities $9,000,000 More Than Assets, Exclusive of Capital and Reserve.

Toronto, April 22.—The Royal Commission investigating the affairs of the Home Bank of Canada sitting here today was told by G. T. Clarkson, liquidator of the bank, that the excess of liabilities over assets was nine and a half million dollars plus the capital and reserve funds of the bank. It was also informed that since 1916 there had been returns each year which showed the profits to be much more than they actually were. In one year there was what one counsel called "an over-statement" of $800,000. Another counsel preferred to call it "padding" the report to the extent named. Letters Are Presented. Sir Thomas White, former Minister of Finance for Canada, presented the correspondence between himself and others on Home Bank affairs during his regime as Minister of Finance. The letters are in addition to those already before the commission which were on the public file of his department. The letters will be cross-examined on these letters at Ottawa Thursday.

Mr. Peterson examined as to what should have been the attitude of an auditor called to examine the bank accounts in 1916 admitted that he should have found many accounts to have been "serious." It developed during the evidence of Mr. Clarkson that many loans were made by the bank as for back as 1906, from which not a cent of interest was collected and yet in the report to the Government his interest would give me one-sixth interest to the bank during the year.

CHANCEY DEPEW'S NEW TODAY

No Longevity Fads for Him—How He Missed $150,000,000.

On the eve of his nineteenth birthday anniversary Chancey M. Depew last Sunday discussed politics, the oil scandals, the Japanese situation, inventions, longevity, monkey glands, war and peace, interplanetary communication and how he almost made $150,000,000. The anniversary of his birth at Peekskill on April 28, 1884, says the New York Herald-Tribune will be Wednesday. He said he would celebrate it by attending to business at his office at the Grand Central Terminal "as usual" and would have a little dinner with his wife at their home, 27 West Fifty-fourth street. As he talked, Mr. Depew sat at a desk in his library, toying with a small silver paper cutter. Over his head there stretched a bust of a man in a revolving bookcase the back of a large stuffed albatross, and on his right, on the mantelpiece, reposed a bust of Washington Irving, both given to him years ago as tokens of affection. At the outset Mr. Depew said he was a delegate to the Republican National Convention and he was going to Cleveland to attend it. He had missed only two Republican conventions since Lincoln was renominated in 1861 and he wasn't going to miss another, he said. Regrets Japanese Dispute. Discussing the Senate's adoption of the Japanese exclusion amendment to the immigration bill, Mr. Depew said: "Personally I feel that the good relations with Japan achieved at the Washington conference ought to be maintained. If regulation of Japanese immigration can be attained by a gentlemen's agreement, as the bill proposes, and without irritating and animosity. No doubt this country is against Asiatic colonization here, and restriction ought to be accomplished with regard to Japan's dignity as a first class power. "The greatest need of the world is peace. The worst calamity that could happen would be war. I think we have had our last great war. New inventions are making war impossible. They are taking all the glory out of it. There is no glory in being gassed. Scorn Fads of Longevity. "I am often asked what do I think of the chances of prolonging life? Well, I do not think much of monkey glands, or food fads, or special breathing. Discovery is along the lines of preventive measures. Whole populations have been saved from yellow fever and hook worm by preventive measures. The average life is longer than it was fifty years ago. "When I look back at what has been invented in my time—telephones, radio, airplanes, and so on—I am amazed. There is no limit to the possibility of human endeavor. We cease to marvel, because the marvelous has become commonplace. The limits of our imagination have been removed. I do not know that I will ever communicate with the inhabitants of other worlds, but it would be rash to predict that we never would. "Take the telephone. Bell's father-in-law, who held the patents in 1866, came to me and said he was hard up. He said that if I gave him $10,000 he would give me one-sixth interest in the Bell telephone. I went to William Orton, then president of the Western Union. He told me to have nothing to do with the telephone, that it was only a toy and never would be of any practical use. I have since figured up that if I had taken that one-sixth interest and held on to like a Dutchman I would have made money. "But I'm not sorry that I didn't make all that money. If I had I might have killed myself with high living, might I? How—how? So I think I got the better of that deal."

FLAGS FLY IN HONOR OF ST. GEORGE

England's Patron Saint is Honored the World Over Today.

OBSERVANCE HERE

Local Society of St. George Will Have Dinner Tonight.

So long as England lives or an Englishman breathes, the memory of St. George will be honored, as it is being honored today. This is the day observed as the anniversary of England's patron saint, all has been honored for 123 years in St. John by the Society of St. George, and each recurring year adds to the pride of the members, because ever the Cross of St. George goes forward in the march of Christian civilization, and the ideals of Englishmen gain greater influence in the world.

In St. John today flags are flying and this evening the annual dinner of St. George's Society will serve to recall the ancient glories and exalt the present standing of the race of Englishman. St. George The following is from an article by Howard Ruff, honorary secretary Royal Society of St. George, London, on the English race: "The identity of St. George, the special patron of chivalry, has been clearly established. Briefly, he was of Greek origin and Christian parentage, and born at Lydda in Palestine, in the beautiful vale of Sharon (famous for its roses) on April 23, A. D. 270. He held high military command under the Roman Emperor Diocletian, during whose reign he died a Christian martyr at Nicomedia in Asia Minor, on the anniversary of his birth (Good Friday) A. D. 303. He was married to a noble place of his birth. Although the memory of St. George was highly revered by the valorous King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table—in Saxton times—and by our chivalrous crusading King Richard I, it was King Edward III, who was crowned in 1327, who found the historical 'Patron of the right noble realm of England' founding his royal name in 1347 the Noble Order of the Garter—the Blue Ribbon of Chivalry. It is surmised that St. George was sent as a mission to England, at that time Constantine, the joint emperor with Diocletian held his court at his capital city of York (Eboracum). Constantine was a native of Helios, a British princess, born at Colchester and the borough seal (over 500 years old) brought to Lydda, the place of birth, and interred with great pomp and ceremony. Now if we look at the map of Asia Minor we can easily allow the course of the vessel bearing the remains of St. George. Starting from Nicomedia, at the eastern extremity of what is now the Sea of Marmora, the vessel would sail through the Dardanelles, afterwards known as St. George's Arm, and call at the southern shore of St. George's Bay to the beautiful city of Beirut, whose inhabitants were, and still are, mostly Christians, and where, and in the district many churches were built in honor of our saint. Arriving at Joppa, there are but nine miles inland to Lydda, one of the most beautiful spots in all Palestine, replete with the remains of the Patron Saint of England; Sharon, as recorded in Holy Writ, was celebrated for its roses and may not be far from this fact reasonably infer that the rose—the lovely queen of flowers—has so happily associated with our patron saint, because, as it ever will remain, the national emblem of England? This is the story of St. George, who has been eliminated the captivating and beautiful legend of the combat with the dragon, which symbolizes the dual triumph of Christianity over paganism and of good over evil. Should the evidence adduced be deemed inconclusive, it follows that much of ancient history must be regarded as unintelligible and fabulous. Gibbon, the great historian of the Roman empire, unaccountably confused St. George with George, the fraudulent army contractor, who by devious ways ultimately became the Arian Archbishop of Alexandria, where his infamous conduct caused him to be slain by his own people nearly six years after the death of our patron. Those who have adopted the careless and sneering assertions of Gibbon, have, I fancy, done so because they (Continued on page 15, second column)

Record Stocks of Gasoline Reported

The steadily increasing rate of production and consumption of gasoline in the United States is indicated by the report of the Department of Interior on refinery statistics for February, which shows a total output of gasoline of 677,740,818 gallons, and a total average for 407,709,693 gallons. The daily average production of gasoline reported to the Bureau of Mines in February marked an increase of 10 per cent. over the average daily demand in February of last year, and an increase of 4.2 per cent. over the January daily output. The average daily demand for gasoline in February, 1924, showed an increase of 3.6 per cent. over the average daily demand for February, 1923. The largest stocks of gasoline on record, amounting to 1,374,221,898 gallons, were on hand at the refineries on March 1. The figures represent an increase over the previous month's storage figures of 171,674,008 gallons, or 14.3 per cent., and over the storage figures of a year ago of 245,861,181 gallons, or 21.6 per cent. The previous high record figure for gasoline stocks was 1,202,547,871 gallons, reported on hand April 30, 1923. The production of gasoline during the winter months is generally in excess of consumption and provides large stocks which supply the country during the summer motoring season.

BANKER SEES GOOD BUSINESS AHEAD

F. H. Rawson, After Visit to New York, Predicts Revival.

Chicago, April 23.—The year 1924 will not be better, than 1923. This is the opinion of Frederick H. Rawson, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Trust Company, who has just returned from a visit to New York. Mr. Rawson said that the financial and industrial conditions in New York are such that he does not see any place to cause any alarm, and from close contacts in the factories and business in New York he sees the East but that President Coolidge will be re-elected and that the country will be dominated and elected. "The year will undoubtedly be a good one," Mr. Rawson said, "in spite of the talk of some pessimists. Business is going now, the factories are running, and I can see no drop in the price of commodities that will be noticeable. The textile mills are not doing so well and the automobile industry has been hampered by a long winter and bad weather, which have retarded sales. Leaders in that field, however, feel that they will easily sell as many cars as they did last year. Then, of course, every presidential year has a certain amount of uncertainty, but the general feeling is that there will not be any change politically."

Indigestion and Heartburn Relieved at Once

Saskatchewan Lady Used DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Mrs. F. Orr Recommends Them to All Who Suffer. "I received your DODD'S Dyspepsia Tablets and have found them very helpful. I had been very bad for about three months with indigestion and heartburn and I found DODD'S Dyspepsia Tablets relieved me at once. This statement comes from Mrs. F. Orr, well known and respected resident of the stomach digestion. Cases which often cause pressure and pain near the heart are no longer formed, while that feeling of fullness and sense of weight at the top of the stomach rapidly goes less; flatulence and acidity decrease, so that all the contents of the stomach are absorbed in the system. Digestive troubles develop very quickly, but if the proper remedy is taken they can soon be arrested and completely overcome. The proper remedy is undoubtedly DODD'S Dyspepsia Tablets."

THE LATE W. H. CONROD.

Of the late W. H. Conrod the Dartmouth correspondent of the Halifax Echo says: "News of the death of Winburn H. Conrod, a former resident of Waverley, will come as a shock to many friends in Dartmouth. Mr. Conrod, who removed to St. John some years ago, was well known not only throughout the town and district but practically all over the province. He was connected with the eastern branch of the Canadian Government Railroad and had all his life been engaged in railroad work. The officers and members of Eastern Star Lodge A. F. and A. M. will come as a shock to many friends in Dartmouth and district."

CARPENTIER HAS HAD GOOD LUCK

Fate Has Been Kind to the Frenchman—Is Popular Boxer.

New York, April 23.—(United Press)—Fortune always has been very kind to Georges Carpentier.

After having been stopped by Jack Dempsey and knocked out by the false alarm Siki, Carpentier finds himself a most sought-after boxer instead of a wasted hero.

Promoters are fighting for Carpentier's contract and all of a sudden he again becomes the most talked-of boxer in the country.

Recently a smart and experienced promoter was asked to explain what there was about Carpentier, who is only an ordinary fighter, that makes him such a card, and he replied:

"He draws the women." Carpentier, it is almost certain, is coming out of retirement for the primary purpose of making money.

"When Carpentier was in this country," Tunney says, "I saw the box deal when Floyd Fitzsimmons, Chicago promoter, offered Billy Gibbons $20,000 for the contract.

"I'm the light heavyweight champion, whatever that means, and I have had a chance to get a thing out of it," Tunney says.

"If Gibbons beat Carpentier and I wanted to take his terms and it would not be more than another 12-1-2 per cent, I'd get some real money for my end.

"Carpentier had a fortune thrown in his lap and Tunney has to go to all kinds of extremities to get himself forced to the expenditure of about $5,000 out of his own pocket to get Carpentier signed to the articles.

Tom Gibbons, the most striking example in this country of bad breaks, against Carpentier's good breaks.

Next to Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons is the best card in the country, but he has to go around the provinces taking $1,000 and $2,000 fights because the good fighters will not meet him.

Gibbons was pushed out of two big purses in New York last year, for no other reason than luck went against him.

MORE PROBLEMS BY BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS. 1. If a ball is fair when it passes over the fence but later goes foul before passing out of the sight of the umpire, is it a home run or merely a foul ball?

ANSWERS. 1. The umpire judges a hit over the fence fair or foul according to its position when it finally passes from his view.

2. A batsman can be removed at any time in favor of a substitute hitter. The substitute simply taking the ball and strike count on the original batter.

3. A base always belongs to its original occupant unless he is forced to vacate.

4. The speed of a pitched ball is given no consideration when a batsman is hit. The question of the batsman going to first depends on whether or not the umpire believed he tried to avoid the pitch.

5. The fielder is charged with an error though the batsman is finally retired.

INSTITUTE BOYS GIVE EXCELLENT GYM DISPLAYS

Annual Review Repeated Tonight and Thursday at St. Vincent's.

Physical culture exercises interspersed with gymnastic displays of high merit comprised a strikingly interesting programme for the annual review of the Y. M. C. I. in St. Vincent's Auditorium last evening with a good number present despite the inclement weather.

The work of Walter Evans as the comedian for the show also deserves special mention. He filled the role of clown admirably and had a real thriller for the crowd as his masterpiece, placing three tables on each other and seating himself on a chair placed on the topmost table, he commenced rocking them. At each swing, a fall appeared imminent, but he kept the suspense well sustained until finally, tables, chair and the clown came down with a crash, the clown landing cleverly on his feet. This act often is featured on a vaudeville circuit and it was handled by Mr. Evans last evening exceptionally well.

The Salter's Hornpipe by 16 young boys dressed as sailors was interesting. The Indian club drill, the tumbling and pyramiding work were executed very well. The entire performance was under the direction of W. E. Stirling, physical director of the Institute and reflects great credit on him. It required a great deal of time and patience to handle all the details of the show, but the programme went through without a hitch.

There were 16 events on the programme and every one was good. Those performing were received with rounds of applause. Miss Anna McGarrigle and Miss Jessie McGarrigle were the pianists during the drills and selections were rendered during the evening by an orchestra directed by Frank O'Hara. George Stafford was stage manager, with Thomas Killen acting as assistant. John Fitzpatrick looked after the electrical effects, while Physical Director W. E. Stirling was in full charge of the performance.

The programme was as follows: Glee March, Massed Classes Dumbbell Exercises, Junior Classes Floor Pyramids, St. Peter's Class Indian Dance, Junior Class Vaulting Horse, Junior Leaders Juggling and Acrobatic Feats, Wood Drill, Charles Cromwell Tumbling Exhibition, Tumbling Troupe Salter's Hornpipe, Junior Boys Club Swinging, High School Parallel Bar Exercises, Bar Troupe Parallel Bar Pyramids, Picked Troupe Elephant Vaulting, Bar Troupe Free Hand Exercises, High School Horizontal Bar Exercises, Bar Troupe Horizontal Bar Pyramids, Bar Troupe Tumbling Exhibition.

Those taking part are to be commended on the grand performance and undoubtedly there will be large audiences for the next two nights.

FLAGS FLY IN HONOR OF SAINT GEORGE

(Continued from page 9.) found him a good writer whose position and general accuracy were unchallenged, and whose opinions upon so vexed a subject coincided with their own.

The Local Society, St. John, is today celebrating its 123rd anniversary, having been founded in 1802; it is noted for its objects of loyalty, patriotism and charity, and year by year recounts the old English traditions and recalls the glorious heritage of England and Englishmen. Always being ready to respond to any patriotic appeal, they raised more than $7,000 for the soldiers and their needs during the war; they are giving all the time to charity, and especially this winter have they assisted many unfortunate Englishmen who have found themselves here out of work or in want.

George's Day is celebrated by a dinner or ball and the gatherings are looked forward to as among the pleasant functions of the year. Tonight the annual dinner will be held at the Royal Hotel and next Sunday evening they will attend the annual service at the Mission Church when their chaplain, Rev. J. V. Young will preach. The officers are: President, R. G. Schofield; secretary, H. W. Rising, Lt. Colonel W. H. Harrison, D. S. O.; chaplain, Rev. J. V. Young, L. S. T.; treasurer, F. E. BOY'S BAD COLD TURNED TO BRONCHITIS

The frequency with which bronchitis develops into pneumonia is appreciated by very few mothers. The danger of pneumonia is probably well understood too, but how many mothers take into consideration that a neglected attack of bronchitis frequently leads to this dangerous disease. We would advise all mothers to give their children Dr. Wood's Norway Syrup the first moment they show any symptoms of a cold or cough, as by doing this they may save them from an attack of bronchitis or pneumonia.

OCEAN FREIGHTS SHOW A DECLINE

Lower Rates on Coal From N. S. and Grain From Montreal.

New York, April 23.—Indications that the threatened British coal strike would be settled by negotiation tended toward causing a weakness in ship charters during the week just closed. Lower figures were accepted by many coal shippers were accepted by many owners. Several other factors aided in depressing the charter market. Following the recent activity, the coal market was quiet last week. Some shippers offered cargoes at $2.80 to $3 a ton to French Atlantic ports, and up to $3.40 a ton to Italy. The South American coal trade was quiet also, due to the increased number of available vessels. A price of $3.85 to the River Plate was fixed by one ship for May loading, but when another vessel followed this with a rate of $3.40 prices dropped to the lower figure.

CONFIRMS BELIEF CHAMPION LOST

Second Man on Foundered Schooner Likely was T. W. Bungay.

Doubt as to the identity of the small, two-masted schooner that foundered off Spencer's Island on Saturday last during a heavy storm with two men on board merged into practical certainty today that the ill-fated vessel was the schooner "Champion," bound for Windsor from St. John with a cargo of fertilizer, and that the two men on board were Captain Andrew Baxter and T. W. Bungay, deckhand.

Local shipping men pointed out that a distinguishing feature of the schooner "Champion" was the fact that her foremast was gone when she left her berth. When this was mentioned by Mr. McLellan, harbor master at Spencer's Island, this morning over the long distance telephone, Mr. McLellan said that the schooner that had gone down Saturday did not have any foremast.

He said he noticed this particularly. This is taken to be well-nigh conclusive evidence that it was the "Champion" that went to her doom.

While nothing of a definite nature has been discovered to establish the name of the man who sailed with Captain Baxter in the "Champion," records at the local clearance office at the Customs House show that the schooner cleared for Windsor, N. S., with two men for crew. One of these was Captain Baxter. Last evening, John Jackson, wholesale merchant on the South Wharf, received a letter from Bass River, Colchester County, N. S., addressed in his care for "T. W. Bungay, schooner 'Champion,' St. John, N. B." It is presumed, therefore, that it was Bungay who shipped with Captain Baxter. Along with the letter for Bungay came a letter addressed to Captain Baxter, postmarked "Delap's Cove," N. S.

In telephone communication with Bass River today, the Times-Star learned that a "T. W. Bungay" resides at Port Port-au-Pas, N. S., and that when he left there he was to go on a schooner. They were unable to say if that schooner was the "Champion." There are no telephones into Port Port-au-Pas.

Water Barrel Ashore.

Mr. McLellan said this morning from Spencer's Island that a water barrel had washed ashore in a small cove about five miles west of Spencer's Island. There were no marks on it to establish it was from the "Champion." Mr. McLellan said that practically all wreckage would float into West Advocate if the accident happened off Spencer's Island, owing to currents.

The Times-Star was in long distance telephone communication with Captain William Collins at West Advocate, who reported that up to noon no sign of any wreckage had been reported, although men were on the look-out. It is feared the ill-fated schooner has gone straight to the bottom.

READY TO RESUME.

The builders on the church at East St. John, who had been on strike since April 1 were prepared to resume this morning after reaching a compromise on Monday in the matter of wages with their employers. Weather conditions, however, prevented their taking up the work again, but a new start will be made as soon as the weather permits. While only four or five men were affected, there were several laborers employed at the church, but they were put on other work. The stone cutters also continued their operations and have now a good quantity of stone prepared ahead when the stone masons commence work.

Douglas W. Allan Succeeds George E. Carter in Passenger Department.

Douglas W. Allan has been appointed a traveling passenger agent of the C. P. R. with headquarters in St. John, succeeding George E. Carter, who was a former passenger agent in the New Brunswick district, and who recently was promoted to a position of chief clerk in the New York office.

Mr. Allan's appointment is a popular one. He has been with the C. P. R. for nearly nine years. He was first employed in the passenger department in St. John in a few days. Many friends will be pleased to learn of his well merited promotion and will wish him continued success.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "things might be wuss—mightn't they?"

"Meaning the weather?" queried the reporter. "I think there is room for argument as to that."

"I wasn't meanin' the weather," said Hiram—"but this old world of ours."

"I am listening," said the reporter.

"Well," said Hiram, "they haint had no rebellion in England yit. Then it looks as if France an' Germany is gonto git together an' settle up. Now comes President Coolidge an' says he wants another world conference. Uncle Sam is settin' up an' takin' notice agin. How many times in the last two or three months has the prophets had the world turned upside down? As far as I kin see we got more false prophets than they had in Bible times—and they had a lot in them days—we're told. I guess we needn't worry too much about what's gonto happen next—unless it's about what fool thing we're thinkin' about doin' ourselves. That's our main job—our job."
