Mr. Butler has been connected with many prominent works in Canada, and is a good man. One problem he will have to face is what changes are necessary to put the inter-Colonial on a better financial footing. Mr. Schrieber will have charge of the location, plans and terminals of the national transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific.

NO RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier told R. L. Borden in the House to-day there will be no railway subsidies this session. All legislation had been moved down except a certain resolution, of which he was not prepared to speak.

MEETING AT DETROIT.

Convention of International Longshoremen and Their Employers on the Great Lakes. Detroit, Mich., July 10.—With nearly 200 delegates present from ports in all parts of the country, the fourteenth annual convention of the International Longshoremen and their employers on the Great Lakes, was begun by President William Livingston, of the Longshoremen's Association, who made an address at the opening of the convention welcoming the delegates to the city. Reports from the credential committee, from D. J. Kestie and Secretary Barter, occupied a large part of to-day's sessions.

Secretary Barter's report showed the association to be in excellent financial condition, with an increase of six per cent on the delegates to the organization, which he declared to be the most important work confronting the members of the association.

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

Chicago, July 10.—The fifteenth convention of the American Whist League opened at the auditorium to-day with the starting of play for the Brooklyn trophy. Afternoon play will be held on Saturday. The prizes include players from all parts of the country. The Brooklyn trophy is for the auxiliary associations of the league, one of which is to be represented by 12 players. Play in the main event, the Hamilton trophy, which carries with it the national team of four champions, will start to-morrow afternoon, while play for the Minneapolis trophy, representing the pair championship, will begin on Wednesday evening.

INCREASED CHARGES.

Express Rates on E. & N. Have Advanced About Three Hundred Per Cent. One of the changes in connection with the taking over of the E. & N. by the C. P. R. is already being felt by shippers. The result is one not calculated to endear the company to Victorians as the express rates have gone up with a bound. Merchants and others having business along the line are now awaiting an advance in local freight rates also.

Shippers fear that the results of placing a monopoly in the hands of one company are to be felt with a vengeance on the Island.

Formerly the E. & N. Company conducted its own express business. Under that system the rates per hundred from Victoria to Nanaimo was 18c. Now the Dominion Express Company takes over the business under the C. P. R. The rate has gone up to 70 cents a hundred. The effect of this will be to increase the cost of shipping of perishable commodities, which must go by express. More serious even is the rumored advance in freight rates.

SOME CHANGES IN RAILWAY DEPARTMENT

M. J. BUTLER WILL BE MADE DEPUTY MINISTER

The Inter Colonial Will Engage His Attention—C. Schrieber to Be Consulting Engineer.

Ottawa, July 10.—Collingwood Schrieber is to be appointed consulting engineer of the department of railways and canals, and M. J. Butler, who recently resigned from the position of assisting engineer of the national transcontinental railway, is to be deputy minister of railways and chief engineer of canals. Mr. Butler has been connected with many prominent works in Canada, and is a good man. One problem he will have to face is what changes are necessary to put the inter-Colonial on a better financial footing. THE TARIFF AND OTHER THINGS

The Canadian Minister of Finance had little of importance to announce in his annual budget speech delivered in Parliament yesterday. The revenue of the country continues buoyant, prosperity is general throughout the land, and the prospects for the future are brighter than ever. Expenditures are increasing, and must continue to increase with the growing responsibilities of the country. In accordance with sentiments of Canadians and the demands of the Mother Country, we are assuming the burdens of national defence. Such a policy must necessarily involve a considerable addition to the annual expenditure of money. The manning and equipment of the principal defences of Canada at Esquimaux and Halifax cannot be undertaken without incurring a substantial addition to expenditures. In the development of this policy of relieving the home government of all responsibility in connection with our works of national defence, the increase of the permanent forces of the Dominion becomes imperative. And as a necessary corollary to the augmentation of our somewhat insignificant standing army we must place our militia forces in the most efficient state possible. This is a matter that has engaged the attention of the Minister of Militia, Sir Frederick Jordan, ever since he was called into the councils of the government of the country. In the days of the protectionist party, when the tariff was regarded as an instrument for the stifling of trade for the benefit of a few favored manufacturers and not as a means of fostering legitimate business of the country and of raising an adequate revenue for the government of the country, the militia was neglected and allowed to become disorganized and next to useless for the purposes for which it was designed. Annual drills had been abandoned on the plea of lack of funds. When the Laurier administration assumed power in 1896 its first business was to institute a thorough investigation into the fiscal system, to find out with some degree of exactitude the effect of protective duties upon trade and commerce, and to substitute for the crude and ill-conceived scheme of protection a thoroughly scientific tariff. The effect of the Fielding tariff was immediately stimulative. The business of the country went forward with a bound and has continued to steadily improve. Regularly recurring deficits were changed into annual surpluses. There has been ample revenue for all purposes. The outlook for the future was so hopeful that the government felt that the time had come for the most important step to be taken in the development of the northern portion of the country—for the opening up of the comparatively unknown north—for preparation for the incoming of the population which is going to elevate Canada to a place amongst the great nations of the world. The construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific will involve considerable additions to the national expenditures. But such additions to our liabilities will never be felt. The carrying out of the work itself will add immensely to the population and correspondingly augment the revenue. After the line is completed the Dominion will have an enormous asset in the roadbed from Winnipeg to the Atlantic Ocean. There will be no immense land grant looked up as the property of the company. Exemptions from taxation, local, provincial, or national, will not hamper the operations of municipalities or provinces. The prospects, on the contrary, are that the progress of the Dominion from the time surveys are completed and the work of construction is actively undertaken will be without a parallel, except in the case of the American West. And the future of our own province of British Columbia will be the brightest of all. With the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway opening up and developing the golden districts of the North, creating a new and important city on its seaboard and exploiting the rapidly increasing trade with the Asiatic continent and the Great Northern Railway making strenuous efforts to reach the present coast cities on the south, the people of British Columbia would appear to have sufficient justification for the spirit of optimism that is rapidly gathering force. The Conservative opposition at Ottawa to the Hill line is not explainable upon any hypothesis except that of ill-temper and malice against British Columbia for retaining a solid column of Liberals to Parliament at the late general elections. Hon. George E. Foster has not given up his attempt to defeat the efforts of the Liberal members who are so stubbornly fighting the battle of British Columbia. He has once more succeeded in taking the measure out. But the ex-Finance Minister has probably shot his last bolt. As for the tariff generally, the only important changes are intended to give necessary protection to the growing industries of British Columbia. For many years the Liberal party entertained the belief that the people of the United States could be brought to see the importance to their country of the removal of restrictions to trade with Canada. That was a mistaken belief, as events have demonstrated. Under the circumstances there is but one course the people of Canada will tolerate. If the tariff walls on this side of the border were levelled down such industries as have grown up would be smothered by the competition of the highly protected trusts of the United States. In consequence we must cast theories to the winds and meet conditions as we find them. Another tariff investigation will be held during the coming Parliamentary recess, and the duties will thereafter be adjusted to fit the conditions as they appear to the experts who will compose the commission. The recommendations will include one for the establishment of a fiscal system involving favored treatment to such nations as treat Canada favorably and discrimination against the nations which treat her unfavorably. The agitation that has arisen in China against American goods because of the discrimination against the subjects of the Oriental Empire has occasioned a considerable amount of disquiet in the United States. We venture to think that a maximum tariff in Canada against American goods will create a spirit of introspection amongst the protectionist statesmen of the republic.

THE OMNIPOTENT PRESS.

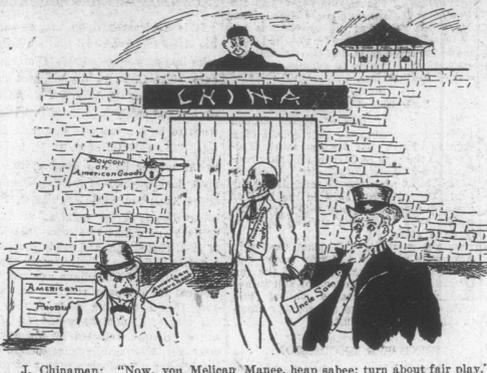

We have had the members of the American Mining Institute of Engineers with us for a few days drinking in the joy and bliss of life in the climate and amongst the scenery that are the nearest to perfection on this great American continent. Right jolly fellows and able men the engineers were. They avowed that they never had a more joyous time in their lives. We believe them. And the pleasure and profit of intercourse and communion were not one-sided. Association with the engineers was profitable to us for the time being, and we may be permitted to indulge the hope that the visit will not be barren of future results. To-day we are to be honored by a visit from a not less distinguished, and, we think we may venture to say, a far more influential body of gentlemen than the mining engineers, the newspaper correspondents of Washington, D. C., the political centre of the United States. Possibly some of the gentlemen of the press of the United States hold the opinion—we have seen it expressed in print—that Washington is the political centre of the world. There is no doubt that the American capital is a point of considerable importance. Neither can there be any questioning the fact that under the rule of that "angel of peace," as one inspired writer in a British newspaper has called President Roosevelt, the weight of Washington political influence is rapidly increasing. But the vital political power at Washington is not the strenuous president, but the modest and unassuming press writers who prosecute their labors in secret. At least we have the authority of some great after dinner speaker for this—one Chauncey M. Depew, we think. So if it be important that we should have the good opinion and the kind word of the members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, it is certainly of some consequence for us to gain the favor of the powers behind the great political throne at Washington. The engineers' good word will be listened to by perhaps a few hundred people. The correspondents at Washington communicate with the understanding of millions every day. They are men worth cultivating. We are delighted to have them with us. We hope they may have as good a time as we are sure those who are privileged to meet with will have. The Times had intended to do its best to promote pleasant relations between the United States and Canada and to cultivate the goodwill of the arbiters of the destinies of nations by doing something worth while for the press men. The Colonist, for the first time in its life of many years, got ahead of us. If we had been permitted the ordering of things we should have provided something more substantial for the visitors than mere vapor. But that is in our contemporary's line. At the same time, just to prove that the Times are not at all chagrined over this first scoop, we shall honor the Colonist by partaking of such hospitality as it has to offer.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Bert Hendrickson, a logger, was drowned on Sunday last in a lake on Valdez Island, near Granite Point. The deceased was employed at the Peterson Timber Company's camp, and went out fishing. As he did not return, search was made and his pipe and cap were found on the shore. The water was dragged, but up to the time of the steamer Cassiar Thursday that a huge bush fire was blazing on Valdez Island, near Granite Point. The flames approached dangerously close to King's logging camp and the men turned out and fought them for a couple of days, succeeding in driving them back.

SCIENTIFIC POINT OF IMPORTANCE

A SEASIDE STATION ON THE WEST COAST

Professor Conway McMillan and Students About to Start Their Course at Port Renfrew

Although perhaps imperfectly realized, Vancouver Island during the last few years, has been receiving excellent advertisement in the world of science as represented on this continent and in Europe. Few Victorians, doubtless, are aware of the fact that several newly discovered specimens of plant life have been described from the West Coast in a number of authoritative scientific journals; that every year thousands of illustrated pamphlets are distributed through the United States drawing attention to the advantages to be derived by students from the courses in geology, zoology and forestry which are given at the seaside station at Port Renfrew. Such, however, is the case, and Professor Conway McMillan, of Minnesota University, who has this in hand, should be warmly encouraged in his efforts to make the station a point of importance in the realm of science. Professor McMillan is now in the city with members of his party to be about to start for the West Coast to embark on the annual course. His contingent this year numbers thirty one, an increase over the total of last year. This is the fifth year of the station, and up to this time it has been abundantly attended with the most gratifying success. The Sea Side station has been often erroneously described as the West Coast "botanical station." Botany, however, is but one phase of the study, the other departments being geology, zoology and forestry. Three courses are given in marine vegetable life, one in botany, one in ichthyology, one in bacteriology, one in a study on confers, one in marine zoology, one in embryology, and two in geology. The students who make this trip to the West Coast fall from various parts of the United States. Professor McMillan would like to see some Canadians among them, but so far only one gentleman from Nelson, has taken the course. Their six weeks' sojourn there at this time of the year benefits them in every way. Their fund of knowledge in the various 'ologies is materially increased, while their vigorous habits, breezes and the healthful open-air life knock out "brain fog" and transform the students into new people. The purposes of the station are to give a high school level from various subjects outlined; to offer research work to candidates for an advanced degree in botany or geology, such work being accepted by these departments in the University of Minnesota; to furnish a general course to college students preparing to teach or wishing to take up back work in natural science; to give an opportunity to high school teachers to collect, name, describe and preserve plants and animal material for their own laboratories; to provide lectures, demonstrations and field excursions for grade teachers who wish to become familiar with correct methods in nature study; to make opportunities for teachers to become acquainted under peculiarly agreeable conditions with members of their own profession and to give an extended period of healthful recreation and rest under natural and inspiring conditions by the ocean.

SHINING LIGHTS OF FOURTH ESTATE

THEY PAID VISITORS A VISIT FRIDAY

Entertained to a Drive and Smoker at Oak Bay - Splendid Speeches by the Visitors.

(From Saturday's Daily.) Unfortunately "circumstances over which they had no control" prevented the Washington Press Correspondents from spending more than one night in this city. They arrived on the steamer Princess Victoria yesterday afternoon...

The Washington Press Correspondents are a very powerful body. They represent some of the big metropolitan dailies at the United States federal capital. It is their duty to keep millions of people in rapport with political conditions...

Among the visitors was Richard Lee Fearn, editorial correspondent of the New York Tribune, the paper controlled by Whitehall. United States ambassador at the court of St. James, in succession to Joseph Choate...

At Oak Bay Hotel the visitors were the guests of a splendid dinner. The dinner was given by the Victoria Yacht Club...

Then there is H. G. Gardner, of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, who speaks to an almost boundless constituency, and there is no question that he is the man to do it. Unobtrusively in manner he nevertheless strikes one as being exceptionally well equipped with grammar...

Erskine, is also manager for Ames Holden. Mr. Johnson is very anxious to have the board of trade co-operate with the Winnipeg body in getting a satisfactory insolvency law passed...

Mr. O'Brien then went on to remark upon the unanimity of feeling which actuated the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, whose fundamental principles were one, and who shared the same magnificent heritage of individual freedom...

This tour of the Washington correspondents was under the auspices of the Western Canadian Immigration Association, and the management of the secretary, Theodore M. Knappen...

At Oak Bay Hotel the visitors were the guests of a splendid dinner. The dinner was given by the Victoria Yacht Club, and was somewhat of a novelty to many of the visitors...

Mr. O'Brien was a man of wit, with a ready wit, with a ready wit, with a ready wit. He was a man of wit, with a ready wit, with a ready wit...

Then there is H. G. Gardner, of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, who speaks to an almost boundless constituency, and there is no question that he is the man to do it...

Cy. Warman, the author, did not come to the coast. His name is on the list, and then retraced his steps. Business pressure it is said impelled him to cut his journey short...

height of her glory is not to be compared. Well may we believe that the power has dotted the surface of the globe with her possessions...

Mr. O'Brien then went on to remark upon the unanimity of feeling which actuated the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, whose fundamental principles were one...

This morning they left on the Princess Victoria on their return journey, which will end about July 16th, when they will reach Washington.

EXCISED PAPERS OF WATER REPORT Times Reveals to People What Civic Censors Attempted to Withhold From Them - Some Interesting Clauses.

For the information of the public the Times this afternoon publishes those portions of Water Expert Adams's report to the city council, which were excised from the copies handed to the press a short time ago...

The question is, however, purely speculative and conditional on many uncertainties. As a matter of fact the tramway company in April, 1904, applied for a prospective profit per annum of $3,598...

Still, dealing with the question of power, the report says (and this statement is repeated in the next twelve pages, "lifted" by the censors): "If we assume for our present purpose that the developed supply of water for power purposes will all be required in the next twelve years as before suggested..."

As to the wisdom of spending so much money on the water supply, the report says: "The degree of probability of this being realized will appear in the course of this study."

It appears at present that there is no considerable demand in Victoria save for much satisfaction. While if the city is able to secure possession of the property at a reasonable price it will have...

Before inquiring as to whether the prospect of the city of Victoria becoming a purchaser of water adds to the value of the property, the conclusions thus far derived which have a bearing upon the question are as follows: (1) The actual investment presumably without interest is $238,168; (2) the amount which would probably have cost the city to construct is $327,915; (3) the actual investment charging 6 per cent of interest at 6 per cent to investment, $405,598; (4) the amount which would have cost the city to construct, $489,000.

As a power proposition it certainly is not worth to cost $327,915. If the investors should receive a sum as would return them their money and 6 per cent compounded annually, that is $405,598, they would have reason for much satisfaction. While if the city is able to secure possession of the property at a reasonable price it will have...

secured a very desirable water supply sufficient for a large city. The revenue would be derived under the terms of the contract proposed between the city of Victoria and the B. C. E. Ry. Co. on the basis of water consumed in 1904, would pay 4 per cent on about $295,000, and when the entire supply of 13.3 million gallons daily is used would pay 4 per cent on $372,000.

"In view of all the foregoing, I am of the opinion that the entire holdings of the Esquimalt Water Company on Goldstream are of the reasonable value of not less than $295,000 and not more than $400,000.

"The field for negotiation lies between these sums, and the mean of $350,000 is about as near the fair and reasonable value, in view of all the circumstances, as can be determined."

It is quite evident from the foregoing that Mr. Adams was made aware of the celebrated "secret contract" with the tramway company giving the latter an exclusive monopoly of the power generated at Goldstream. He does not include in the revenue the city would derive from the sale of power to any other user...

By rent ..... $ 175 00 By water rates ..... 15,589 70 Miscellaneous courses, being an exceptional item, 3/4 only included ..... 431 20 Total ..... $16,195 90

These figures indicate an economical management. Capitalizing the amount at 6 per cent, we have as the capitalized value of the net earnings in the actual year the sum of $18,327, if capitalized on a 5 per cent basis the amount is $22,393.

"Municipal waterworks as a private venture are seldom profitable unless a considerable population is supplied, a deficiency being anticipated leading to loss of interest or returns insufficient in amount for some years after first construction. Where there is reasonable promise that a question of future growth will permit the recovery of such deficiencies in the future growth, such losses are not a serious matter, and are recoverable for a time being as a rule inseparable from the establishment of the properties may properly be considered a part of the investment, as has already been pointed out.

"The prosperity in question has been in operation since 1887-88, and in the past ten years the annual gross revenue has, according to the company's statements, been as shown on page 96. This statement shows an increase during the past ten years of $7,748, which represents an average annual increase of nearly 6 per cent. Whether or not this particular property, which by close management after being in operation sixteen years is paying about 5 1/2 per cent on the actual cost of its real estate and structures, will ever be able to earn a much better rate of return is a question of judgment to be determined in view of the general experience in other places of the rate already charged for water, the extent of necessary future investments, the probable cost of future operation, and the present value of the property at 6 per cent. It is worth no more than this to the city. I am therefore of the opinion that such is the value of the property."

TO WELCOME THE MINING ENGINEERS

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS BY DAWSON COMMITTEE

Will Be Met at White Horse by Delegates and Escorted to the Metropolis.

Dawson, Y. T., June 25.—What with the coming of the new commissioner and the visit of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, and the Fourth of July, Dawson will be on its feet for the first couple of weeks next month. Commissioner W. W. B. McInnes is expected to reach Skagway on Tuesday. He purposes to spend a couple of days at White Horse and to arrive in Dawson about July 3rd. He will probably be met on his way down the river by a party of well-wishers on a special steamer. The Canadian Club has arranged to give him a public banquet the evening after his arrival, and the commissioner has accepted the invitation by wire.

Very great interest has been taken in the visit of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. The secretary of the institute in his last letter to the reception committee here stated that eighty had then joined the party but he expected that others would join before the party left for the north.

Over a month ago a public meeting was held on the question of the reception of the distinguished visitors, and it was one of the largest and most influential meetings held here for a long time. All such leading merchants and heavy mining operators were present or represented. It was decided that the Federal government should be asked to contribute something to the expense of the reception. A committee waited upon Acting Commissioner Major Wood, and mentioned to him the hope of the public meeting that as much as $5,000 might be appropriated for the purpose. The major wired the request to the minister of the interior at Ottawa, and received a reply placing that sum to his credit.

These figures indicate an economical management. Capitalizing the amount at 6 per cent, we have as the capitalized value of the net earnings in the actual year the sum of $18,327, if capitalized on a 5 per cent basis the amount is $22,393.

"Municipal waterworks as a private venture are seldom profitable unless a considerable population is supplied, a deficiency being anticipated leading to loss of interest or returns insufficient in amount for some years after first construction. Where there is reasonable promise that a question of future growth will permit the recovery of such deficiencies in the future growth, such losses are not a serious matter, and are recoverable for a time being as a rule inseparable from the establishment of the properties may properly be considered a part of the investment, as has already been pointed out.

"The prosperity in question has been in operation since 1887-88, and in the past ten years the annual gross revenue has, according to the company's statements, been as shown on page 96. This statement shows an increase during the past ten years of $7,748, which represents an average annual increase of nearly 6 per cent. It is worth no more than this to the city. I am therefore of the opinion that such is the value of the property."

As a power proposition it certainly is not worth to cost $327,915. If the investors should receive a sum as would return them their money and 6 per cent compounded annually, that is $405,598, they would have reason for much satisfaction. While if the city is able to secure possession of the property at a reasonable price it will have...

In the past two months smallpox has broken out in nine different sections of the state of Washington, and more than forty cases have been reported to the board of health, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Of the nine outbreaks, seven have been traced to outside sources, and the other two have not been traced down. In view of the fact that there was not a case of the disease in the state during the month of April, Dr. Hog, secretary of the state board of health, attributes the present prevalence of the disease to the influx of travellers from outside states.

After spending Saturday afternoon viewing Vancouver, the party of Washington newspaper writers left for the East in the private cars Preston and Helton, which were attached to the Imperial Limited, says the Vancouver News-Advertiser. The party returned from Victoria at noon Saturday and was entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Vancouver by the Tourist Association. It was the intention to have given the correspondents a drive around the city and Stanley park, but some expressed a desire to inspect some of the principal industries. Accordingly, those who preferred the drive were shown the beauties of Vancouver's great attraction, while several industrial concerns were also visited.

South also said the constitution would likely be amended so that if deemed desirable the "annual" meeting of the society might be held only every two or every three years.

A gentleman who enjoys an early morning stroll, took in Beacon Hill park before breakfast on Sunday, and while resting on one of the seats near the pond admiring the recent addition to the duck family, noticed a small flock of mischievous crows hovering around. As soon as the little birds saw the man, they pounced upon them and carried off four of the infant water birds, and would have done for the balance of the flock had the man not intervened. He reported the matter to a man whom he took for one of the keepers, and was informed that the crows of the park had to be protected as well as the ducks. That gentleman is wondering whether the park commissioners consider the crows a greater acquisition than the ducks.

Before the committee Monday Ald. Malone and Gillett, of the public works committee, met the board of school trustees in the office of the secretary, R. J. Steel. The object of the meeting was to effect a compromise on the subject of repairs to the public school building required during the current year, says the News.

The object of the meeting was not attained. The trustees are a unit in their demand for adequate improvements that will make the present building possible for use until the city can afford respectable quarters.

Ald. Malone dwelt on the small improvements that might be made, and suggested that it was unfair of the board to ask for funds in the middle of the year without warning.

He was promptly reminded that the board's first communication to the council in January had stated clearly that only a new building was the present necessity for extensive and expensive repairs to the present building.

As representative of the council, Ald. Malone was further reminded that the trustees are elected by the people to administer school affairs including finances, and that the council's unsolicited advice and attempts to control the action of the board were considered improper.

Later the members of the board decided unanimously to resist the action of the council, and to demand, if necessary, the submission of a by-law to the ratepayers.

P. C. MacGregor and Mrs. MacGregor returned on Saturday evening from East Weymouth, where they spent ten days visiting at John Dan's residence.

THEY ALL DAVE TO SEE VICTORIA

MORE TOURISTS THIS SEASON THAN EVER

Transportation Officials Say That Traffic This Year Doubles Last Year's Total.

(From Monday's Daily.)

It was with some surprise that a Times representative learned from Messrs. Fearn and O'Brien, of the Washington press correspondents, who were here on the advertised city in western America. Both gentlemen said that they had heard a great deal of the place in recent times. Articles describing it had appeared in many of the large dailies, and people who had visited it never wearied of the employment of superlatives, in expatiating upon its charms. Both these scribes, who, by the way, are at the top of their profession, had been in the United States national capital, were kind enough to say that what they had heard and read of Victoria was entirely justified. Of course, these people will take the stand that common courtesy would impel the visitors to hand-out a few fragrant bouquets to the place while they were its guests, but that is a mistaken impression. Messrs. O'Brien and Fearn did not like the city, they would say so, and in unequivocal terms.

As a matter of fact Victoria has become somewhat of a model municipal advertising. Of late many a journal has drawn the attention of its readers to the reputation the city has won in this respect. It is a question of money that has a dozen cities on the continent have conducted such a thoroughly organized campaign of advertising, and the results are becoming more strikingly patent every day. Take this year for instance, the secretary of the local tourist association, by simple computation, estimates that the amount of money that has been expended in Victoria in consequence of the tourist traffic will total between eight hundred thousand and a million dollars. He arrived at this aggregate on a basis of 50 cents for each person who has been in the city in consequence of the tourist traffic.

The travel to Victoria already has doubled that of last year, and he is remembered that this city's chief glory is its later summer and fall. The travel from both Vancouver and the Sound has increased, and the number of people who see in the increase over former years the promise of a still larger amount next year. All the hotels are feeling the effect of the steadily increasing number of tourists, and the proprietors, who are doing well, while those engaged in the service of the tourists are doing better. The number of people who are coming to Victoria for the purpose of seeing the city is increasing, and the number of people who are coming to Victoria for the purpose of seeing the city is increasing.

BASEBALL. NO CHANGE MADE.

Geo. Russell, president of the local baseball club, has received a letter from W. H. Lucas, president of the Northwestern League, dated July 6th, in which the latter assures Mr. Russell that nothing has been done with respect to the transfer of the Victoria franchise to Spokane.

President Lucas thinks that the whole talk has originated with an application made in the courts of Spokane to break a certain injunction taken out a year ago prohibiting Mr. Lucas from having anything to do with baseball in that city.

Spokane has applied for admission to the Northwestern League, but as to taking definite action, President Lucas says nothing has been done.

Mr. Russell thinks that the baseball situation may yet be solved in a satisfactory way as far as Victoria is concerned. If the franchise leaves here it will not be for lack of energy on the part of Mr. Russell. President Lucas has expressed his opinion of the local president in the most flattering manner.

It is pointed out that the loss of the team from Victoria would be a decided blow to the future of the game here.

There are advantages to be derived from having a team here which has not occurred to many. This is in the way of advertising the city. From day to day, throughout the season, daily papers contain the record of Victoria's team as a member of the league, and thus an advertisement is given the city daily throughout the country.

Mr. Russell has not yet exhausted his resources, and will make a vigorous effort to put the team in first class condition by the 15th of August. He believes will yet become a first class baseball center. In this he asks the co-operation of the citizens.

Most of the players on the team are loath to leave Victoria, and are prepared to make sacrifices to stay.

WON IN THE NINTH.

Vancouver won the game with Bellingham in the Terminal City yesterday in the ninth inning. The score was four to three. Vancouver made three runs in the fourth and Bellingham evened up in the sixth, and there was nothing doing until the last half of the ninth. Moller was struck out and McCloskey was put out in a very foolish attempt to steal third. Ward got to first on a single and made third on Weaver's two-bagger. He stumbled and did not see that Kelsey was fumbling the ball. McCloskey and his entire outfit pulled at him to come home and he made good by coming home, but it was on Kelsey's error. The score by innings follows: Vancouver.....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 1-4 Hills.....2 0 1 2 1 1 0 8-11 Bellingham.....0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0-3 Hits.....10 11 10 Errors.....1 2 0 league match at the Royal City says: The New Westminster senior team defeated the Victoria twelve at Queen's park on Saturday afternoon by 6 goals to 4. The home team was composed of five intermediates and seven seniors, and the boys in red had no difficulty in defeating the Capitals. The visitors had a very strong defence, but the home was weak and lost several good chances to score by erratic passing. The home team played rather rough in the last half and the reserves, B. H. Chayne, was altogether too lenient with some of the local players. For Victoria's S. Lorimer was the star and he played a magnificent game at point. Eric, in goal, also played well and made several sensational stops.

STEADILY IMPROVING. Members of the Victoria club and all interested in the welfare of the local team are very much delighted with the excellent showing the Victoria stick handles made in their match with the Westminister stalwarts at the Royal City on Saturday. The margin, only two goals, shows that the Victorians are improving steadily and that they have a splendid chance for the second place in the league, providing they continue to hold together and practice faithfully. Next Saturday the Seattle team, which only the other day defeated Vancouver, will meet the home twelve at Oak Bay. Then, according to those who know the conditions thoroughly, there will be the keenest struggle and prettiest exhibition of the season.

THE OAR. N. P. A. O. REGATTA. Preparations for the N. P. A. O. regatta, which will be held on Esquimalt harbor on the 11th and 12th of August, are proceeding apace. As the affair is being placed in Victoria it is under the auspices of the James Bay Athletic Association, which has charge of all the arrangements. It has been decided to bring off the different events of the local club's annual regatta on the same occasion, so that the regatta will last two days. The selection of Esquimalt harbor has everywhere been favorably commented upon. The personnel of the respective local crews was decided upon at a recent meeting of the regatta committee of the J. B. A. A. It is as follows: Senior fours—Kennedy (stroke), Finlayson, Austin, Donaldson (bow). Senior doubles—O'Sullivan and Kennedy. Senior single—DeBriary. Junior fours—McLean (stroke), Browne, Jenkinson, Dresser (bow). Junior doubles—Nixon and Dillabough; Finlayson and Donaldson. Senior singles—P. J. Andrew. It is announced that Ed. Gloss and W. Patten, of Portland, will participate in the senior singles. They will compete against the local champion, DeBriary, for the Pacific Coast cup.

THE SPOON SHOOT.

In the spoon shoot at Clover Point on Saturday some very respectable scores were recorded, considering that it was the long ranges at which the shooting took place. Sergt. Carr had the highest net score with 88, which included a "possible" at 300 yards.

The shooting next Saturday will be at the short ranges, and this will be the last general practice previous to the provincial matches which will commence on July 20th.

GOVERNOR M'INNES WELCOMED IN NORTH

Reception Given Him Upon Arrival at White Horse on His Way to Dawson.

At White Horse on Thursday evening, June 29th, a cordial reception was accorded Commissioner W. W. B. McInnes on his arrival. A smoker was tendered him, presided over by Robert Lorne.

As the newly-appointed commissioner took his place on the platform he was greeted with continued applause.

The following address was presented to him: "The law is no respecter of persons even when the persons happen to be judges, and therefore unless His Honor Judge Leamy is Greenwood, keeps an appointment for examination at the office of Mr. Registrar Beck, of Vancouver, within the next ten days, he will stand in need of being committed to jail for contempt of the Supreme court."

Years ago, in the days before Judge Leamy assumed the ermine, judgment was given against him in the County court for $217. Last March he was summoned to attend before Mr. Registrar Beck, of Vancouver, for examination. He failed to do so, both then and later. On Saturday morning in Supreme court chambers here, Mr. Justice Morrison was asked to make an order of committal. His Lordship, however, decided to give Judge Leamy another ten days' grace."

THE NEW WESTMINSTER CORRESPONDENT OF THE VANCOUVER WORLD SAYS: "The law is no respecter of persons even when the persons happen to be judges, and therefore unless His Honor Judge Leamy is Greenwood, keeps an appointment for examination at the office of Mr. Registrar Beck, of Vancouver, within the next ten days, he will stand in need of being committed to jail for contempt of the Supreme court."

Years ago, in the days before Judge Leamy assumed the ermine, judgment was given against him in the County court for $217. Last March he was summoned to attend before Mr. Registrar Beck, of Vancouver, for examination. He failed to do so, both then and later. On Saturday morning in Supreme court chambers here, Mr. Justice Morrison was asked to make an order of committal. His Lordship, however, decided to give Judge Leamy another ten days' grace."

Giving Satisfaction Everywhere—English Gentleman in California Pines to Be Among His Own People Again

The Victoria Daily Times has issued a sixty-page, profusely illustrated "coming of age" edition, to celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of the establishment of the newspaper.

Rossland Miner. To celebrate its "coming of age," the Victoria Times has issued a special number giving a review of the province, its resources and attractions. The composition, the engraving and the printing of this special issue were all done in the Times building, and the Times has good reason to be proud of the excellence of the work in all departments.

The Victoria Times celebrates its 21st birthday in a 44-page profusely illustrated and interestingly written "age" number. With its own excellent engraving department, it was easy for the Times to turn out a number which would set the poor country publisher a-linging.

The Victoria Daily Times having attained its majority has celebrated the event by issuing an "Of Age" edition, giving a review of the province, its resources and attractions.

The body of Edward Scaling was found in a small bay in Esquimalt harbor early on Friday morning. The deceased was about twenty-five years of age, and his death was undoubtedly accidental.

Edward Scaling's Body Found in a Bay in Esquimalt Harbor.

The body of Edward Scaling was found in a small bay in Esquimalt harbor early on Friday morning. The deceased was about twenty-five years of age, and his death was undoubtedly accidental.

He had been employed by the G. E. R. for some time on various steamers. While the Danube lay in Esquimalt harbor Scaling acted as watchman.

On Wednesday he spoke of going for a swim, and asked with reference to a good place for going in bathing. Later he took a boat from the steamer and rowed over to the bay, where his body was recovered from the water.

Thursday night the boat was noticed with no one in it and half filled with water. Upon investigation the young man's clothes were found in the boat.

On Friday morning Murray and Constable Cox, of the provincial police, made a search of the place where the boat was found, using a drag in the hopes of recovering the body.

The remains were found, and everything pointed to an accident. He had taken off his clothes in the boat and put them in the water, and the boat struck a rock below the water as there were bruises above his eye and on the lower lip.

JOHN OLIVER ON GOVERNMENT'S POLICY

MEMBER FOR DELTA SCORED ADMINISTRATION

Faid Particular Attention to Kalen Island Scandal—Enthusiastic Meeting at Alberni.

Alberni, July 7.—A large and fairly representative meeting of residents of Alberni district was held in Huff's hall on six hours' notice last night to hear John Oliver, M. P., on the political situation.

He got a warm and enthusiastic reception. Mr. Oliver arrived here at noon on Thursday under the impression that Premier McBride, who is now touring the West Coast on the Queen City, would speak here last night.

Unfortunately the Conservative meeting was fixed for to-night (Friday), and Mr. Oliver, having engagements at other points, could not wait.

Mr. Oliver spoke for two hours, and delivered an energetic scathing denunciation of the present government. He traced their proceedings from the inception of "party line" and the formation of the ministry, showing the deception practiced by the Premier.

Concluding, Mr. Oliver expressed great regret at not meeting the Premier, whom he had come expressly to meet. He thanked the people of Alberni for their cordial reception.

Chairman Dr. Watson called upon any Conservative present to reply if they desired to do so, but no one accepted the offer. A vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Alexander, seconded by Mr. Redford, and responded to by Mr. Bledsoe, was heartily tendered to Mr. Oliver, the whole meeting standing and singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Premier and party arrived here by the Queen City at midnight, and will hold a meeting to-night.

THE CITY MARKETS.

The markets this week show little or no change in staple products. In the department of fruit there are, of course, changes from day to day, so that it is difficult to quote prices.

Strawberries are still on the market although they are nearing the close of their season. Raspberries are coming in very plentifully, and the price has reached the standard of 10 cents retail.

Lemons have gone up in price. This is not due to local conditions, as it extends all along the coast. The rise is not ascribed to any failure in the crop, but rather to a corner having been affected in the fruit by southern dealers.

Logan berries are on the market. They are of fine quality and the supply is quite large, many local growers of fruit having within the past two years devoted considerable space to this new variety.

The retail markets are as follows: Hungarian Flour, Oglivie's Royal Household, Feas (old), per sack, 1.75; Oglivie's Royal Household, per bbl., 6.75; Lake of Woods, per sack, 1.75; Lake of Woods, per bbl., 6.75; Okanagan, per sack, 1.75; Okanagan, per bbl., 6.75; Currants, black and red, per lb., 8; Butter (creamer), per lb., 25; Eggs (ranch), per doz., 24; Chickens, per lb., 12.5; Ducks, per lb., 12.5; Hay, per ton, 16.00; Oats, per ton, 27.00; Peas (old), per ton, 45.00; Barley, per bbl., 28.00; Beef, per lb., 8; Mutton, per lb., 11; Pork, per lb., 11.

It is Doubtful if There Will Be Much Opposition in the Upper House.

Ottawa, July 8.—The champions of monopoly were forced to succumb in the House last evening, and the Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern railway bill was read a third time, and passed amid the cheers of Liberal Western members.

David Henderson gave an excuse for the course he took against the bill that certain newspapers in British Columbia opposed it. He first quoted the Province, Vancouver, which had written: "Duncan Ross—Does he know that the Canadian Pacific controls the stock of the Province?"

Mr. Henderson next quoted the Rossland Miner. Mr. Ross—Is he aware that the War Eagle controls the Rossland Miner, and that the War Eagle is controlled by the Canadian Pacific? He then quoted the Victoria Daily Times, which had written: "The Victoria Daily Times has issued a sixty-page, profusely illustrated 'coming of age' edition, to celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of the establishment of the newspaper."

AT LOSS OF WORDS. J. S. Henry Says It Is Impossible to Describe Impressions of Trip Through Canada.

Golden, B.C., July 6.—After two weeks steady travelling through Eastern Canada and broad wheat fields and cattle ranges of the Canadian West, during which they were feasted and feted at every turn, the Washington correspondents spent a restful day at Banff yesterday, visiting Bankhead, the new C. P. R. mining town, and the various points of interest which have made this beautiful spot a great summer resort.

The ride up the Bow Valley this morning, the first of the 600 miles of magnificence through which they will pass before reaching the Pacific Coast, was a delightful one, and everybody was charmed and impressed with the overpowering grandeur of the Rockies.

Mr. J. S. Henry, of the Philadelphia Press, says: "To describe the impressions of our trip through Canada would be impossible. It has been a wonderful revelation. Official advertising reports, graceful literature and attractive photographs all failed to convey the actual conditions we have met, or in any degree to picture the wonderful scenery."

"The Canadian Pacific railway, as the pioneer across this part of the continent, has been an epoch maker and contributed to the wealth and happiness of the world. The millions of acres of wheat that have come under our personal observation testify to the benefit the whole world has realized from the enterprise and foresight of the Canadian railroads. This wheat land can only be appreciated by the world as its product reach the markets. More statistics and illustrated reports cannot do justice to them. Personal visits such as we have had and the great cargoes of grain that furnish the food of nations bring a proper realization of the Rosedale, Ont., July 7.—(Special)—Mr. Samuel J. Crow, the well-known musician of this place, relates an experience that adds to the already great popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this locality.

"I suffered for years with kidney trouble," says Mr. Crow, "which became aggravated with every attack of cold and caused me much agony. The disease developed into gravel, when I was totally unfit for anything."

"I tried different remedies without the desired result and was in much misery when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, when to my astonishment and delight I immediately began to recover."

MUSIO EXAMINATION.

Conducted Locally by University of Toronto Will Be Held on Wednesday Next.

The University of Toronto local examination in music will be held on July 12th at Walt's music hall. A large number of candidates will present themselves for the practical piano examination.

Frank Welsman, the celebrated virtuoso, Toronto, will be the examiner. It is gratifying that much larger numbers of pupils passed the recent examination in theory, showing a decided improvement in the standard of music in Victoria during the past year.

This success is encouraging to local teachers, and proves that the instruction necessary for the University of Toronto examination is of the very highest order.
